Morrissy Bridge Is Again Rammed By Freight Steamer

NEW BRIDGE AGAIN FACES REVOLUTION

PROVINCE WILL LABEL SHIP OWNER
Damage is Reported Greater Than in Accident in Year 1922
ENGINEER PROBES
More Than $30,000 Damage
is Said to Follow Accident Today.

(Special to The Times).
Chatham, N. B., Aug. 10.—For the second time within a little more than a year the Morrissy Bridge, which spans the Miramichi at Nelson was badly damaged this morning by being rammed by a steamer. Today's accident occurred when the Norwegian steamer Widdingham was passing through the draw and, caught in the swift current,
the vessel crashed into the draw, damaging it seriously and from present reports about thirty feet of the ice-fender.
As a result of the accident, the Provincial Government has decided to libel
the steamer and the chief bridge engineer will come here this evening to look after the Province's interests. It is expected that the bridge will be out of commission for at least two months.
Experts from Montreal are being brought here to look after repairs.
When the bridge was damaged last year, the cost of repairs amounted to about $20,000 and from present reports
it is indicated that the damage done today will be equally as costly if not more so.

Province Takes Action.
Fredericton, Aug. 10.—Hon. P. J.
Vassal, Premier and Minister of Public Works, announced this morning that he would libel the British steamer Widdingham, for the damage caused to the Morrissy Bridge at Nelson. The steamer, when she struck the draw, span and its fender, seriously damaging both. The libel proceedings will start at once. A. R. Wetmore, Chief Bridge Engineer, will start for Newcastle tonight to make a personal investigation.

This is the second successive year that the bridge has been struck by a steamer. On the 4th, 1922, the Canadian Squatter of the C. G. M. Co., struck the draw while it was closed
and caused damage which was not repaired for a long time.
The reports here indicate that the Widdingham was approaching at an angle and not straight toward the opening as she should have. A pilot was in charge. The fender of the bridge which was built to prevent damage in such cases was smashed and the open draw span resting on the cribwork hit afterward. The steamer had loaded part of her cargo at Sullivan's Mill and was enroute to Douglastown to complete cargo.
Reports also indicate that the damage is greater than in 1922. The span is several feet of centre but is still holding in position.

efeller left an estate with a gross
value of $102,584,000 after deductions
yesterday in the report of the state

tions for administration expenses,
debts, funeral expenses and commissions to executors. Mr. Rockefeller died on June 24, 1922, had numerous debts of several million dollars each.

taxes amounted to more than $16,
000,000.

Bandits Blow Bank

here today that early yesterday morning five bandits, armed and masked,
blew up the safe of the Banque Nationale at Yamaska East, and succeeded in escaping with $50,000 in bills and negotiable securities. The men were seen hurrying in a car in the direction

lightest month to date this year for fire losses, according to the Monetary Times estimate. The total for Canada was $2,047,000 compared with $3,

Cardinal Richelmy, Archbishop of

Red Squirrel Swims
The Niagara Falls
Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 10.—A red squirrel successfully swam the rapids below the American falls yesterday and saved itself from going over the cataract to death. The squirrel fell into the stream from a log a few hundred yards above the brink of the cataract and was swept out in the current. It made a great distance out in the river and clung to it.
Rescue workers secured a long ladder and saved it out to the rock thinking the squirrel would scramble to shore. But it plunged into the stream, landing on the mainland shore after a desperate struggle, only a few feet from the brink of the falls.

FEAR FOR SAFETY
OF OIL TANKER
Wreckage Found North of Colon — Not Heard From
For Month.
Panama, Aug. 10.—Shipping circles
here fear that the United States tanker Swift Star, bound from San Pedro, Calif., to Fall River, Mass., with a cargo of crude oil, has been lost at sea with her crew of thirty men.
Drifting wreckage marked with the vessel's name was found by mariners off San Andres Island 250 miles north of Colon, while fishing boats from that island report that damaged lifeboats
were seen drifting off the coast on July 22.
The fishermen also found a floating ice chest marked "Swift Star." The chest contained the body of a man.
The sea for some distance around was oil stained. The Swift Star passed through the Panama Canal on July 13.
Shipping records show that the tanker Swift Star has been heard from since she left the canal. The vessel, commanded by Captain Richard Pratt, left San Pedro for Fall River on June 30, carrying 100,000 barrels of crude oil.

ATTACKS BRITISH
FOREIGN POLICY
Ramsay MacDonald Says Labor Party Determined to Make Change.
(Canadian Press)
London, Aug. 10.—Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the Labor opposition in the House of Commons, says the Labor party is determined to change Great Britain's method of conducting business with other nations.
In an article in the New Leader
Magazine he condemns what he stigmatizes as the bureaucracy of the British foreign office with its "queer mentality and subservient selection of agents, with its work in secluded rooms though some pursuit of alchemy were being conducted by mystic signs at astral times."
MacDonald is going to Constantinople,
but he insists that his proposed journey is being taken with a view to the future and is to be purely for recreation. He will decline to take part in any political demonstrations, he declared. In fact he will alter his arrangements if such participation were forced upon him.

RAILWAY SUES
Estate of Owner Pays For Damage to Train Which Struck Auto.
Danville, Ill., Aug. 10.—The estate
of Harper Daniels, deceased, has paid
the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad Co. $1,000 damages for injury to its property when a northbound passenger train struck Daniels' automobile
near Bismarck, this county, June 9, 1916, killing Daniels and wrecking the train. The widow of the engineer, Chas.
Everhart, who died from scalds recieved in the wreck secured a judgment against the Daniels estate for $2,500
which was paid about five years ago.
The suit of the railroad company against the estate was compromised in June last. This is said to have been the first suit of the kind ever instituted by a railroad company.

the close of the case in which Ralph

than a week, George Murray, Pictou,

BERLIN SHOP
KEEPERS PUT
ON PADLOCK
Close All Day to Protest
Prohibition of Price Adjustment.
VISITORS HELD UP
Unable to Cash Their Checks
— All Currency at a Premium.
(Canadian Press)
Berlin, Aug. 10.—Retail establishments of every kind in Berlin except those dealing in foodstuffs, yesterday
gave an exhibition of passive resistance of their own by remaining closed.
The protest demonstration was aimed at an official ruling which prevents retailers from adjusting their prices
to the fluctuation in the mark, a condition which they claim leaves them without protection against currency depreciation or ability to replenish their stocks.
The movement to fix prices and wages on the basis of a gold unit is rapidly spreading, especially in the cases of wage workers in all lines of industry, who are demanding payment of wages on a gold standard basis. The movement is meeting with the approval of employers generally. They have declared the workers are entitled to such protection pending the government's ability to establish the mark on a fixed basis.

TOURISTS LA TROUBLE.
Berlin, Aug. 10.—Tourists, who for a while enjoyed the experience of handling millions of marks daily, have begun to depart for other lands in great numbers rather than endure the inconveniences caused by the current exchange rate.
Many visitors who have been planning for two or three days to leave Germany were unable to do so yesterday, as it was impossible for them to realize upon their checks and they are virtually impounded at the hotels
where they give notes for their meals.
Currency of all kinds is at a premium. Business yesterday at the Reichsbank so far as supplying currency was concerned, was at a standstill.
The Reichsbank has promised relief
for today.
Demand Cuno's Resignation.
Berlin, Aug. 10.—The Communists were active again yesterday. Prior to the sitting of the Reichstag various Social Democratic deputies and demanded the resignation of Chancellor Cuno and his cabinet. They threatened to strike or to adopt passive resistance to enforce their demand. It is not expected, however, that the move of the Communists will have any effect on the vote of confidence in Chancellor Cuno,
which will probably be taken today.
In the Reichstag former Chancellor Mueller said he considered the time had arrived for Germany to apply for admission into the League of Nations, "but not in tow of British policies."

provincial election, John Hancock, barber, of Galt, yesterday filed an election petition against the return of Earl Hornum, of Preston, Labor member elect, by a majority of 15.
The Conservative said that, as a matter of fact, Hornum did not get an actual majority, and that if improper ballots were rejected, Mercer would be elected.

making very favorable progress
towards recovery and it is expected that he will return to his office soon.

beth Grad, aged 5, accidentally hanged herself yesterday. A pall on which she stood to look through a hole in the barn got knocked away and the girl was left hanging with her head in the hole.

Admits Leading Band
That Murdered Villa
Mexico City, Aug. 10.—Attorney General Delhuena announced last evening that President Obregon had received a letter signed by Jesus Salas, a member of the lower house
of the legislature from Durango, confessing that he led the band that killed Francisco Villa, near Parraly, on July 20. The letter said that the former bandit leader was murdered in order to avenge his numerous victims.
President Obregon sent the letter
to the attorney general for investigation.

SUICIDE VERDICT
IN N. S. INQUEST
Jury Says Cheggogin Woman
Died Through Act of her Own.
(Special to The Times).
Yarmouth, N. S., Aug. 10.—The inquest held over the body of late Mrs.
Wilbur Lyons who was found drowned yesterday morning at Cheggogin was concluded last night. A verdict was returned by the jury that the deceased came to her death through an act of her own. The autopsy failed to reveal anything of a suspicious nature.
Two young men walking on the banks of Cheggogin river yesterday found the dead body of the seventeen year old wife of Wilbur Lyons, she was lying on the bank, her face in the water, and was quite dead. Members of the Lyons family said they had been in ill-health several months
but had appeared bright on Wednesday. Her husband, who is employed on a neighboring farm, visited his home late in the evening and spent some time alone with his wife, leaving her to return to his place of employment.

until last evening to make arrangements
to meet this bill.

duty at the court of St. James. He declined there had been anything in the conference that would indicate that President Coolidge intended to follow different policies than those followed by his predecessor.

day to mourn the death of President Harding. Hundreds who could not be accommodated within the sanctuary of the ancient cathedral lined the streets and squares in the vicinity of the Parliament buildings and social life of the country arrived for the service. That the overflow crowd gathered in the Abbey yard
where it heard the funeral music played on the great organ.
The U. S. embassy distributed 1,200 available seats yesterday morning and was obliged later to decline
the requests of hundreds of tourists who sought tickets of admission.

The unreserved sections of the Abbey were filled hours before noon
as the congregation of ticket holders was being seated, the organ played Chopin's "funeral march" and at the Dead For 3 Minutes, Ontario

Man Brought Back To Life
(Canadian Press.)
London, Ont., Aug. 10.—Some days ago, a London man, 55 years of age, died of shock on the operating table at St. Joseph's Hospital, where he was being treated by Dr. Percy Banghart, for an advanced condition of cancer.
For three minutes his heart and lungs ceased to function and to all expert knowledge he was dead.
Dr. Banghart injected a strong solution of adrenalin directly into the man's heart and within a few minutes he revived, emerging even from the anaes-thetic. The operation was completed without anaesthetic and today the man is taking nourishment and in a satisfactory condition.
Others have been revived with adrenalin in London hospitals, but in all previous cases life was prolonged only a few hours.

Fire broke out in the residence of John Christopher, Head Tide, last ev-

were totally destroyed. The fire spread to the woods and, driven by a high northwest gale, was making considerable progress. Robert Mair's barn also caught fire, but the Campbell chemical saved it. The loss will be heavy as little was saved from the house and the barn was full of this year's hay crop.
A small fire developed yesterday afternoon in the W. H. Miller Co's lumber yard, but was extinguished before much damage was done.

NOT SO HUNGRY AT THAT. In Prince William street just after dinner today a husky person confided to a Times reporter that he had drunk not wisely but certainly too well, and his sole ambition now was to get a meal and get back to his job. He was no bigger or hungrier, but he was hungry and broke. After a rapid calculation in mental arithmetic the reporter decided that he became confident that he directed the way toward a restaurant. The exhilaration of motion had a remarkable effect. The husky person's appetite at once began to leaven. Half a block had not been covered when the reporter was told that the spot cash would be better than a meal. Did he get it? Not from the reporter.

CAUSE & CURE
A CAUSE MUST BE ADJUSTED, MADE
CHIROPRACTIC

CHIROPRACTIC is based on fundamental, natural laws. The organs of the body are the motors, the nerves are power lines which carry vital energy or life to all parts of the body. Impingement or pinching of the nerves interferes with their life-carrying power and disease is the result. The Chiropactor adjusts the nerves with their life-carrying power and the impinged nerves are freed. The flow of life enters the part diseased, and normal functions are resumed and health restored. The Chiropactor way is Nature's way.

THE THIRD ALARM
DREW BIG CROWDS
Astounding Melodrama of a Fireman's Family, a Faithful Fire Horse and a Conflagration.

That the average theatre-goer—to be broader, the average person—likes the good old human-interest story, the yarn with the heart punch and plenty of adventure, was proven beyond a doubt by the way the town turned out to see the Imperial feature "The Third Alarm" last night, and the afternoon for that matter. The picture is certainly crammed with excitement and fervid love affairs, the love of the son for the high-toned doctor's daughter, the love of the old fireman for his family and his discarded horse-rod.

It was learned that the man was carrying a suit case and this, it was said, was something Mr. Everett usually took with him.

Court Proceedings in Portland—Interesting Career of Joseph Coram.

A case of some interest here is before the court in Portland, Me., where Joseph A. Coram has filed a bankruptcy petition listing debts of $200,000.

It was said that 20 years ago Mr. Coram was worth $25,000,000, the greater part of which he lost in the panic of 1907. A little before that he had given his wife $400,000 in cash and securities, which she testified had been practically all spent.

Mr. Coram was born in St. John, a son of George Coram, the latter a brother of Hon. Joseph Coram. The family moved from this city when the children were small and have resided in the United States ever since.

"Joseph A. Coram, for many years a Boston business man, making his home in Brookline, has had a long career in various business enterprises. He was perhaps best known in his mining company ventures and the lumber business. He was born in St. John, N. B. For a time he was Canadian agent of the North-western Life Insurance business with his father under the firm name of G. and J. Coram. His next venture was in the soap business in Bangor, Me., which he later moved to Lowell.

"It was while in the latter city that Coram became interested in iron mining in New Hampshire. There for several years he was a real estate dealer in Minneapolis, Minn. In 1886 he went to Butte, Mont., and organized the Butte & Boston Mining Company, the Davis-Daly Copper Company and the Mexico Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company. He was director in the Coram Lumber Company, the Montana Coal & Coke Company, and the Bingham Consolidated Mining Company. For many years he maintained an office at 60 State street, Boston."

tirely disappeared from our social life. The road to matrimony is paved with easy instalments, and the instalment salesman is the very god of love.

And Then the Awakening. The question is, how long will this state of things continue? At the present time, it is still possible for a young man to be dangled into matrimony, and to awake to realities only at the mournful sound of the chattering set descending the stairs under the rude urgency of the instalment delivery man.

These then are the sole conditions upon which matrimony is possible for eight out of every ten young men. For there are few modern girls so besotted with love as to be willing to accept marriage without a chesterfield set, a refectory table, a victrola, a floor lamp and a set of anvils.

There is no reason, indeed, why the bride should blithely claim exemption to all the taxes involved in matrimony. In the old days she provided a dowry, and the dowry, did its part in furnishing the new home.

Without hesitation Mr. Dickason took a "header" into the water, and swam out to them. He supported them on the upturned canoe and began to work it towards shore. In the meantime Dr. Manning had seen what was transpiring and pushed off from shore to offer what assistance he could but by this time Mr. Dickason had succeeded in getting the canoe into shallow water and the ladies were able to stand.

Mr. Dickason, who is the president of the Pandemic Outing Association, would say nothing of the brave deed. The information was gleaned from other sources. His plucky act received the whole-hearted commendation and admiration which it merited.

CLIVE DICKASON SAVES LIVES ON ST. JOHN RIVER

Rescues Mrs. Rothesay McLaughlin and Daughter, Upset from Canoe. An act of true heroism was performed on Wednesday morning in the St. John river off Pandemic. Two lives were saved and this is how it came about.

Clive Dickason, a member of the staff of George E. Barbour, Co. Ltd., did not come in town on Wednesday but intended to devote a part of the day to effecting repairs to his boat which was anchored just off shore from the summer residence of Dr. James Manning. He was in his boat when he noticed a canoe which had come down river from Ingallside and which contained Mrs. Rothesay McLaughlin and her daughter, Jean.

Without hesitation Mr. Dickason took a "header" into the water, and swam out to them. He supported them on the upturned canoe and began to work it towards shore. In the meantime Dr. Manning had seen what was transpiring and pushed off from shore to offer what assistance he could but by this time Mr. Dickason had succeeded in getting the canoe into shallow water and the ladies were able to stand.

London, August 10.—(By Science Service).—As an anaesthetic for children undergoing dental operations, one administration of ethyl chloride will equal three of nitrous oxide gas in effectiveness, Dr. Samuel P. Opinions of others have been against the use of ethyl chloride, but he declared that it has been used successfully by a long chain of resident physicians of his hospital staff since 1885, many of them being new to the administration of this anaesthetic, and none of them specialists.

CALVIN COOLIDGE JR. IS PAID $3.50 FOR DAY'S WORK ON TOBACCO FARM

14-Year-Old Son of New President Working in Holidays.

Boston, Aug. 10.—Up on the tobacco farm of Dickinson & Day at Hatfield, Mass., Calvin Coolidge, Jr., fourteen-year-old son of the President of the United States, is daily sweating away under the broiling summer sun, bundling up tobacco leaves and placing them on laths to dry in the sheds.

Khaki trousers, worn shoes and a collared shirt are the clothes of the Coolidge heir, who is taciturn and silent like his father and shuns publicity. He is a slender, blue-eyed youth of a few athletic and active disposition. A few days ago young Calvin, wearing his khaki, Edward Baker, of Northampton, came to the farm and asked the manager for a job. They wanted to work for the remainder of the school vacation period in order to earn some pocket money and also develop their muscles.

Unidentified to Employers. The manager signed up the boys for work in the fields and sheds at the rate of $3.00 a day for nine hours' work. Mr. Day and Mr. Dickinson were entirely unaware that they had hired a son of Calvin Coolidge. Later they were astonished to learn that the son of the President was on their pay roll.

Knowledge of his father's elevation to Chief Executive of the nation made no difference to young Calvin so far as his work on the tobacco farm is concerned. He is on the job early each day.

Both young Coolidge and young Baker live in Northampton and get up at daybreak each morning, partake of a hearty breakfast at their respective homes, meet at a specially designated central point, and then ride together on their bicycles eight miles to the tobacco farm.

They carry their lunch with them in tin dinner pails and return home at 7 o'clock in the evening. Calvin Jr. is as tanned as an Indian and is a typical, happy, carefree American boy. About twenty other boys are working on the farm and the manner and spirit of the Coolidge boy make similar awards in succeeding years.

Carries Water Half Mile. On the first day he went to work he was told that, as he was the newest boy on the job, he would have to carry the drinking water. He followed directions and took a five-gallon stage jug to a farm house a half mile away and returned with the water.

Mr. Day said that young Coolidge was a good worker and is earning his pay. He said he never had a boy who seemed to be so fond of hard work and to get so much enjoyment out of the tasks set before him as young Calvin does.

Young Coolidge refuses to comment on his father's acts or plans. When Mr. Day said to him "So your father is a President of the United States now?" Young Calvin answered: "Yes, sir, I suppose he is. Which one of the sheds do you want me to tackle first this morning, Mr. Day?"

Calvin and his brother, John, will return to school in the fall at the Academy in September. Before he went to work at Hatfield, Calvin, with his brother, visited the White House, his grandfather, Colonel John C. Coolidge, in Plymouth, Vt., and assisted in haying and working in the garden.

NINETY-EIGHT OUT OF EVERY HUNDRED WOMEN

Who have tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for ailments peculiar to their sex, are benefited by it. What a marvelous record for any medicine to hold! Over 98,000 women replied to a questionnaire recently sent out by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., of Colburn, Ont., 98 per cent of whom distinctly stated that they had been benefited or restored to health by this oil-finished root and herb medicine. "This" is the most wonderful record for efficiency, and should induce every woman who suffers from ailments peculiar to her sex to give it a fair trial.

WOMAN RELIEF WORKER SAILS IN STERAGE TO SAVE FUNDS

New York, Aug. 10.—Dr. Esther Lovejoy, Chairman of the Executive Board of the American Women's Hospital in Europe, sailed on the Cunarder Mauretania, in the third class, for Cherbourg and will travel via Paris to Athens to resume direction of the 21 relief hospitals in Greece which are taking care of the women and children driven from Asia Minor by the Turks. Speaking of her accommodations on the ship, Dr. Lovejoy said she had returned to America in the third class on the solar system. It takes light only about seven years to travel from this recognized neighbor to the earth. Incidentally, Epilion is classified by the Harvard astronomers as a decided dwarf as far as stars go.

DISCOVER SECOND CLOSEST VISIBLE STAR IN UNIVERSE

Cambridge, Mass., Aug. 10.—(By Science Service).—A star that is nearer to the sun than any other star visible to the naked eye, except Alpha Centauri, has been discovered at the Harvard College Observatory by examination of its spectrum recorded on photographic plates, according to an announcement by Dr. Harlow Shapiro, director.

Its name is Epilion Indi and it is only some 42,000,000,000 miles away from the solar system. It takes light only about seven years to travel from this recognized neighbor to the earth. Incidentally, Epilion is classified by the Harvard astronomers as a decided dwarf as far as stars go.

Alpha Centauri is 4.2 light years away, while brilliant Sirius, now displaced as second nearest star, is 8.8 years away when light travelling 186,000 miles a second is taken as a yardstick.

REAL SAWLOGS WITHIN FIVE MILES OF CITY

About Half Million Feet Being Cut at Torreyburn.

A 22-INCH BUTT Big Tree on Site of Home of 1845—Interesting History.

Any man who has seen Keith Barber in a walking match any time within the last forty years has only to be told that Mr. Barber is still in an almost aggressive state of health, and he will understand what happened to a Times man last evening.

It all came about in the most innocent way in the world. The newspaper man, Mr. Barber, had a little about being in the woods with Lord Lovat, and Mr. Barber casually remarked that some big trees were being cut in his woods at Torreyburn.

A logging chance within five miles of St. John, with big trees, looked promising. The Times man invited himself to sup with Mr. Barber last evening and the story. It took over two hours to get the facts, and every time the reporter showed signs of fatigue, Mr. Barber stepped out for another sawlog and directed attention to something ahead. When at last the visitor sank down on the doorstep after the ordeal was over, and felt for his pipe, he would have testified that Mr. Barber had a million acres of woods, and ten miles of river shore.

Of course that would not be an accurate statement, but if any citizen, not particularly accustomed to walking, should aspire to follow Mr. Barber for two or three hours on a warm day, he would be astonished at his guide's moderation—especially if his guide were geared for walking and he in addition to the golf course, the club possesses tennis courts and a swimming pool.

But the story was worth the effort. It is a fact that about half a million feet of logs are being cut off every day in the woods of Torreyburn—five miles from the city and dragged to the shore of the Kennebec. Mr. Barber is not a particularly active man, but he is a sportsman and he is still in good health.

The property had not been logged for many years, but it is still in good shape. The stretch of woods with smaller trees and very little undergrowth, presenting a picture of natural regeneration goes steadily on. Moreover, all the big trees are not being cut, but are being preserved as a good supply of young and some older hardwood on that side, extending for at least a mile along the shore of the Kennebec.

It was necessary to get out these big trees, because the bud-wood had attacked some of them. It did not get into the trunk, but it cleaned up the tops, and all through the woods dead or dying trees and some small spruces were scattered about. Mr. Barber had a good supply of young trees, and he was very particular about the quality of his wood.

Concrete will set satisfactorily under water.

The Story of a Girl Wrongfully Accused of Being Thief in His Store.

The late John Wanamaker's vigilance to preserve the good will of his great business is well illustrated by an incident related recently by a fellow merchant of Philadelphia who said: "Some time ago, a married woman from the ordinary walks of life was shopping in the great Philadelphia store, and having her pocketbook down on the counter walked away, forgetting it until she had gotten half way to the store door. Vexed with herself for such carelessness, she hurried back to the counter, picked the pocketbook up quickly and hurried to the door. As she stepped away from the store door a plain-clothes man, wearing a cap and a long coat, stepped alongside, took her arm and said, 'Come along, madam.'"

TO STAGE PAGEANT ON ARMISTICE DAY

St. John Men Will Take Part in Big Boston Effort.

VIMY CAMP LEADS

Roy St. C. Edwards, Commander, on Visit to Old Home.

Roy St. C. Edwards, commander of the Vimy Camp, E. F. Boston, and sergeant-major of the old 28th, is in the city, and will spend a week with Col. McAvity. The three principal offices in Vimy Camp are held by St. John men, E. A. Belding being senior vice commander and George Moore, treasurer. The camp has six hundred members, all C. E. F. men, and its membership is still growing. On July 4, at the parade for dedication of squares, Vimy Camp turned out more men in uniform than the mechanics. Two squares in Revere were named after Canadian veterans, and there is another in Boston itself. On Monday this year the Vimy men with their colors headed the Second Division in the parade. The purpose of the camp is to keep the veterans in touch with each other and to see that no Canadian veteran is in distress in Boston or neighboring towns.

On Nov. 12, Armistice Day, there will be the greatest demonstration ever staged by Canadians in Boston. It will take the form of a patriotic pageant, in the great Mechanics Hall, and between two and three hundred women will participate. Vimy Camp is staging the affair, but has the full cooperation of the Canadian Club, Victoria Club, Overseas Club, Daughters and Sons of St. George, the Highland Dress Organization, the British, Canadian, the American Overseas Club, the Scottish Clans and some others.

The pageant will take place in a room in an old chateau in France. The Canadian walking wounded enter from the trenches, led by a pipe. They are received by Canadian Red Cross nurses. The wounded men lie around despondent, wondering why they are here. Two fairies enter and move among them, telling them Canada is on the way. Then enters Canada in full regalia, escorted by soldiers, and followed by each of the provinces in distinctive garb, each carrying an appropriate gift. They go among the wounded to assure them Canada has not forgotten. But more is needed, and soldiers and summons all her Dominion and Colonies to the colors. These troops, from Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India and the rest, in their national costumes.

Next come France, Belgium, Italy, Serbia and the other Allies, in national costume, each as their national anthem is played. But where is America? In comes Columbia and the pageant ends with a grand march and the British band develops a chorionist tell the story. Mrs. Charles E. Cowan, formerly of Tuxedo, Nova Scotia, wrote the best of the pageant. Among the patrons are Lord Byng, who, however, will not be able to attend; Gov. Cox, Mayor Carley and other notable men. The programme will contain the story in brief of the Canadian forces and their battles.

This pageant will do much to make the Canadians better acquainted with the fund raised will enable Vimy Camp to care more effectively for veterans in distress or out of work. Vimy Camp already has a fine reputation in this line of work.

Knights of Columbus To Start Boys' Branch

The Knights of Columbus, at their forty-first annual convention in Montreal, decided yesterday to launch a new movement for boys under the name of Columbus Esquires. The movement will be conducted through the 2,800 centres of the organization. About $60,000 will be expended in the education of two men from each metropolitan centre who will take special courses for two years in boy leadership. In no case will a branch of the organization be established without the consent of the Bishop of the Diocese. The movement is distinctly not in competition with the Boy Scouts.

The convention sent a message of good will to President Coolidge on behalf of the 80,000 members of the order.

WOMEN GET SOME ADVICE AS TO THEIR AMBITIONS IN ATHLETICS

For the Majority Sport Should be Largely for Recreation Only.

(Charles D. Wardlaw, Instructor in Athletics at Columbia University, in N. Y. Sun.) That women have made remarkable progress in all branches of athletic sports during the last ten years is well known to every one. Whereas in 1913 the girl who was proficient in basketball, baseball, hockey, golf, tennis or track was the exception, now, in 1923, she is the rule. It is not surprising, therefore, that the modern girl's opportunity for happiness is being sought in athletics.

The question is "Why should woman be so much interested in athletics and what are the best sports for her?" She should be permitted to indulge in all sports to the limit of her individual ability. The whole subject of physical education, and the brotherhood, too, have been earnestly discussing this problem since the last Olympic games. There are extremists, some in Boston and others in California, but there are many "open-minded conservatives." I may call them, who, living and teaching somewhere in between, have a sane middle view.

There is no avoiding the truth that motherhood is "the first duty of woman," but we must not lose sight of the fact that under modern conditions, which involve small families, it is the duty of a woman to be able to take care of her own life. There is a long stretch of time before and after that can be devoted to activities other than the bearing of children. We cannot claim, as some would, that only those exercises, recreation or corrective, which develop the woman for this function should form part of her bodily training. True, in her earlier years this should be the governing and controlling factor. As she grows older, however, she should be permitted to take up any sport which she finds healthful and enjoyable. It is not the duty of the physical educator to plan what her exercises should include. There may be a long period after motherhood when recreation and health is the aim, and at this time the only question she needs ask is, "Will this exercise too severe a strain upon me?"

Applying all this, we may well inquire, "To what extent should women indulge in athletic pursuits?" With sane thinking the reply will come. As such an extent that recreation will be provided and healthful living assured. If a panoply of sports is to be made lower down in the pan, but the best ones serve as an incentive to the shakier, bringing the poorer ones up to a more desirable form. So in the great field of athletics there are women whose ability brings them to the surface and to universal recognition. They are the incentive to encourage those who have been less fortunate in their progress. If physically so formed that they can stand the more severe training they should be permitted to try their skill in wider competition. But the limit of their activity should be such sports as are beneficial to woman-kind. At best the experts in sports can be comparatively few, for though the great mass immediately below may have produced satisfactory results, that they can absolutely excel.

Women as well as men should be permitted to develop skill in the activities which they undertake, but they should never forget that what is undertaken by them should not necessarily be the emulation of man's physical activities, that is, the development of large muscle or the ability to stand long, untraced physical strain. These are not necessary either for the function of motherhood or for recreation. There is a tremendous field for the development of these activities which lead to this purely masculine development should be barred at least to the adolescent girl.

ADDITIONAL CONTRACTOR TO SPEED THE WORK

Civic Power Commission's Recommendation to the Council.

To ask authorization of the Common Council to divide the work of erecting the distribution system, placing another contractor at work, in an effort to complete it in a shorter time, was made work impossible, was the decision arrived at by the Civic Power Commission yesterday afternoon. This was on motion of Mayor Fisher, seconded by John Flood. It was also decided to notify the Common Council of the first unit of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton is under way.

New equipment at the Rouge power house will furnish the motive power for the flat electrified unit of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton. At this power house the original capacity is being doubled. The present generating system, consisting of 12,500 kilowatt turbine generators, is being replaced by eight turbine generators each rated at 30,000 kilowatt amperes. The steel work on three of the giant stacks is already completed, and one of the turbines, among the largest in the world, is near completion.

Besides this addition at the Rouge plant, the new plan calls for the building of locomotives, the construction of thirteen and a quarter miles of double track between the River Rouge plant and the Flat Rock yards, and many minor changes.

The new electric locomotives for the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton for freight service will weigh 360 tons. They will have a normal capacity of producing 5,000 horsepower for an hour. They will have sixteen driving axles and will develop 198,000 pounds drawbar pull at twenty-five miles an hour. Their maximum speed will be forty-five miles an hour.

Recent reports of net earnings on the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton, made to the Interstate Commerce Commission, indicate for 1923 that the road should earn more than was paid for it by Henry Ford.

AMERICANS SHOW ORIGINALITY OVER CHOOSING NAMES

The town of Peculiar, Mo., has explained the peculiarity of its name. It is fanciful of course, but it is the result of a resolution adopted by the town council, expressing the opinion that the inability of the residents there to choose a name for their community was "mighty peculiar" writes F.H. Collier in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

While the task for exploring early origins is manifesting itself late, the genesis of "Braddock," Mo., might be looked up. Then there is Nonchalant, Kan., Sandy Mush, N.C. and Goose Ankle, Ark.

Ford's Railroad To Be Electrified

Westinghouse Company Gets Contract for the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton.

New York, Aug. 10.—Contracts aggregating $1,000,000 have been awarded to the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, it was announced today. The present generating system, including locomotives for the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton, Henry Ford's railroad. Preparation for the electrification of the first unit of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton is under way.

New equipment at the Rouge power house will furnish the motive power for the flat electrified unit of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton. At this power house the original capacity is being doubled. The present generating system, consisting of 12,500 kilowatt turbine generators, is being replaced by eight turbine generators each rated at 30,000 kilowatt amperes. The steel work on three of the giant stacks is already completed, and one of the turbines, among the largest in the world, is near completion.

Besides this addition at the Rouge plant, the new plan calls for the building of locomotives, the construction of thirteen and a quarter miles of double track between the River Rouge plant and the Flat Rock yards, and many minor changes.

CIVIC OPERA TO HAVE NEW STARS IN 1923 SEASON

Chicago, Aug. 7.—(By Mail).—Fernand Anseau, leading tenor in French opera, will make his American debut with the Chicago Civic Opera, which opens here November 8, according to the announcement made by the company. Arrangements are being made for the appearance of other brilliant guest artists, which will include Miss Louise Homer. She will appear in a limited number of performances including "Samson and Delilah."

Other stars included in the regular personnel of the company for the coming season will be Miss Garden, Amelia Galli Curd, Florence MacBeth, Mary McCormick, Cyrena Van Gordon, Georges Baklanoff, Tito Schipa, Edith Mason and Feodor Chaliapin, with Giorgio Polacco again present as musical director.

Boris Godunoff and "L'Africana," the latter by Meyerbeer, are announced as novelties in the 1923-24 season because they never before have been given by the Civic Opera Company. The role of Boris is said by critics to be one of Chaliapin's greatest. Among the revivals announced is that of "Ivanhoe," with Mary Garden in the title role. Miss Garden also will appear in the revival of Massenet's "Cleopatra."

Harry W. Beatty, technical director is spending the summer in Europe visiting the more famous opera houses of Zeyette, Germany and Italy in search of new ideas. He is said to be making a special study of proposed settings in Moussovsky's "Boris Godunoff," which has become popular with American audiences.

The opening of the operatic season November 8 is a departure from custom, as the season will open Thursday instead of the usual Monday and will run one and one-half weeks longer than the usual season of ten weeks. Announcement also was made that Adolph Bohm will be in charge of the ballet and that Miss Anna Ludmilla would return as premiere danseuse.

GETS RENT BACK, PAYS FINE

Tenant Evicted on Court's Advice Uses Money to Get Free.

New York, Aug. 8.—John Gloner of Yonkers, arrested on complaint of his landlord was found guilty of malicious mischief in Yonkers City Court and fined $5. He did not have the money, but his landlord came to his help.

Alfred Zeyette, the landlord, told the Judge, that Gloner, while under the influence of liquor, set some meat afire, so he took the oil stove away, fearing he would set the tenement house on fire. Then, he alleges, Gloner broke a window in his pocket and said, "Here's your month's rent money back. You can pay the fine out of that and move."

Gloner paid and left to find another home. The Italian freighter San Giuseppe, which went ashore on Monday night in the Strait of Canosa is resting easily and happily. The captain has refused all offers of assistance proffered by visiting tps.

CHANGES IN THEIR CASTS

"Merton" Said to Be the Only Success That Retains the Original.

(New York Times) With a new theatrical season rapidly looming up on the horizon, it is interesting to note how many of the present successful plays have changed the line-up of their casts and how many have not had a single shift. Since Channing Pollock's "The Fool" opened at the Times Square Theatre it has had no less than three actors playing the leading role of Daniel Gilehrat, unless one counts Richard Bennett, who made the role in Los Angeles, thus making it four. It has also had three leading women.

"Abe's Irish Rose" has had four virtually complete changes among its principals since it opened over a year ago. This may have been accentuated by the fact that the producer of the show has four companies now playing the piece in as many different cities. Even "Rain" one of the leading dramatic successes of the season, which some managers rejected because they could not see the possibilities in it, has had a new player, as Cyril Scott has lately been added to the cast. "Whispering Wires" underwent two changes in leading ladies. "Mary the 8th" had three different players in the role of the father and two in the part of the leading man.

"Kiki" and "So This is London" had changes in minor roles. "Polly Preferred" had a few slight shifts, if the substitution of one boy for another in the automaton scene is to be included. The cast of "Seventh Heaven" has not remained intact, for Austin Strong, the author, who used to beat a drum in the wings at the climax of the second act, does so no more. "You and I" has another player enacting the role of the son who did not open with the comedy.

"Merton of the Movies" is said to be the only play which has maintained its company unaltered. The fact that this comedy which has been playing since Nov. 18, 1922, has still virtually the same cast is considered exceptional by the press agent. The large number of extras in this comedy has remained unchanged—another exceptional incident.

The matter of the establishment of a board of consultation was discussed by the commissioners, but it was referred to Dr. Farris for a further report before anything definite would be decided upon. Nothing was done in the matter of appointing a second assistant.

County Hospital Board Gets Report re Infirm-ary Nurses.

A meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the St. John County Hospital was held yesterday afternoon in the County Secretary's office, with the president H. B. Schofield in the chair. Dr. Farris was granted leave of absence to attend the meeting of the New Brunswick Municipalities in Campbellton on August 21, 22, and 23.

Dr. Farris reported that the bread contract with the McLaughlin Estate had been renewed.

The matter of affiliation of the nurses of the St. John Infirmary with the County Hospital, for training in the care of tubercular patients came up for discussion, but owing to the fact that there is a shortage of nurses in the infirmary this year, the matter was left over till next year, when it is hoped that arrangements will be completed. The G. F. H. has affiliated with the County Hospital for this purpose and it is hoped to make a start in the near future.

F. R. TAYLOR, DISPUTING TAX BILL, ASKS FOR COURT OF APPEAL

City Solicitor to Give an Opinion; John Kenney Case.

Two tax appeals were heard by the Common Council this morning, one from F. R. Taylor, in respect to the valuation on his property in Germain street, and the other from John Kenney in respect to assessment on income. The first was laid over for an opinion from the city solicitor as to the authority of the council to appoint a court of appeal in real estate valuations, and the second was referred back to the Board of Assessors to take up with Mr. Kenney.

F. R. Taylor's Application.
Mr. Taylor said the assessors were required under the act to assess on the real and true value of all real estate and he contended the proper way to arrive at this valuation was to find out what a willing buyer would pay and what a willing seller would take for the property. He was assessed on a valuation of $28,000 and he contended that the real value was only about half of that amount. He was perfectly willing to have the council name any man in whom they had confidence, who had some knowledge of real estate conditions, to value the property and abide by the decision. The property had cost him $15,000, and he understood that Mr. McMillan $8,000 when it was built.

Mayor Fisher said that in an address given here by the chief assessor of Montreal that official had laid down the principle that the true valuation could not be ascertained by any one method, but several had to be considered.

Mr. Taylor contended that the City Council could, instead of hearing appeals themselves, appoint a Board of Appeals, of whom the County Court Judge should be one.

E. M. Olive, chairman of the Board of Assessors, said this was the same property, the same appeal, and from the same man as last year, and it had been dismissed at that time. The board felt the value was $28,000, and this had been the valuation for the last five years, the former owner making no objection to this valuation. They made up the valuation as follows: Land $8,000; garage, $5,000; house, $20,000. In connection with the appointment of a court of appeals, Mr. Olive said they could deal with personal property and income valuations.

As there was some question as to the power of the council to appoint this court of appeals it was decided to ask the city solicitor for an opinion. Just after the passing of the motion the city solicitor arrived at the committee room and said with real estate, but he would give a written opinion later.

Mr. Kenney's Case.

In the appeal of John Kenney the chairman of the Board of Assessors said if Mr. Kenney would present an affidavit that he had been advised by some of the county assessors that under the recent amendment to the Assessment Act he would be taxed on income in the county, he would consider the correction asked for.

The Mayor ruled out of order a motion to refer the matter back to the Board of Assessors, but on his decision being questioned the ruling was not sustained and the appeal was referred back.

Mr. Olive warned the council that if they started granting relief where statements had not been filed they would be busy from now until discount date.

AVENUE LOT SALE MAY GET INTO COURTS

Suggestion of Injunction or Case Before Appeals Judge.

Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, city solicitor, reported to the city council this morning that he had been spoken to by D. King Hazen in regard to the sale of the properties in Douglas avenue advertised for sale because of non-payment of the amount assessed for the installation of the sewer services and he had suggested that an injunction be secured by one of the parties to determine the right of the city to collect this amount, the other parties to pay in certified checks pending decision.

This met with the approval of the council but later in the discussion the city solicitor said he would suggest to Mr. Hazen that a case be taken directly to the Appeals Court.

The contention of Mr. Hazen is that a sufficient reason for requiring the entry to the sewers was not given and therefore the assessment was not valid. It was said by the commissioners that since the paving of the street several houses had been built and if these services had not been installed before the paving the street would have been to a large extent destroyed.

Catholic Grounds Readily Given For Methodist Fair

It has been said that religious prejudice has always found good material to feed on in the city of St. John. In the old days it was true, but the people of the South End will tell you it is true no longer. Here is St. John the Baptist church, Roman Catholic, extending a brotherly hand to Carmarthen street church, Methodist, and a glow of satisfaction pervading both congregations.

It came about in this way: The Carmarthen street church found it necessary to raise funds for needed repairs. The simplest way, since the congregation is not wealthy, seemed to be to hold a fair. But where?

Isaac Mercer thought he knew where. He called at the rectory of St. John the Baptist Church and asked for Father McDermott.

"If an 'ere," said Mr. Mercer, "to ask a favor for a struggling Methodist church around the corner."

The reply of Father McDermott was so prompt and cordial that Mr. Mercer was able to report at once that the problem of his church was solved in the happiest way; and next Wednesday afternoon and evening the Methodist fair will be held on St. John the Baptist grounds.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I went out in the suburbs the other evening and tried to follow a long-legged farmer through the woods and along the shore. He paced me for about twenty miles as near as I have been able to figure it out. He said it was just a brief stroll. I doubt his veracity. But the thing that irritated me was the conduct of the wild animals. At different places a squirrel chattered and jerked at me as I was trying to get over a log or through a tangle of young growth. Down on the shore a mink came out when I was slipping and sliding and hopping over the ledges of stone, and tantalized me dreadfully by pretending to play hide and seek. I believe they were in league with my guide. Today I am all joints and muscles—with bolts on them."

"Severus you right," said Hiram. "You orto be joy-ridin' in one of them there ottomobeds instid o' pretendin' you kin walk. I aint got no pity fer you. You town fellers comes out to the bush an' pretends you kin keep up with us farmers—but you can't do it. We kin give a scythe or an axe all day an' then walk the feed off you—yes, sir."

"I will not deny it," said the reporter. "Please help me to get up—thank you."
