FURTHER SUCCESSES BY BELGIANS AGAINST INVADING GERMAN HOSTS

FURTHER GREAT LOSSES BY GERMANS AT LIEGE; FRENCH SEND TROOPS

Fighting Has Been Terrific -- Armistice Not Granted at Last Report--Montenegro Now in State of War Against Austria

Brussels, Aug. 8.—(Via London 6 a. m.)—The War Office has issued an official statement, saying that 125,000 Germans participated in the assault on the fort at Liege, but that they completely failed to make any impression on the fortifications. It is declared that three army corps engaged in the attack, were cut up and rendered useless.

Vienna, Aug. 8.—The Montenegro government has informed the Austrian minister that Montenegro considers itself in a state of war with Austria. As a consequence the Austrian minister has left Cetinje.

Paris, Aug. 8.—It was officially announced today that a Serbian army has occupied Fortcha in Bosnia. Fortcha is thirty miles southeast of Sarajevo.

Desperate Fighting

Brussels, Aug. 8.—The entire German army of invasion, comprising the seventh, ninth and tenth corps, made a desperate assault on Liege and its fortifications today. General Von Emmich was in command at the front, and the fighting is reported of the most desperate character.

Off Maine Coast?

Eastport, Aug. 8.—Considerable excitement was caused in this city and Lubec when C. H. Clark, of Lubec, received a message from the Associated Press to be on the look-out for a German and French warship which were supposed to be chasing each other along the coast of Maine, ready for battle as soon as they caught sight of each other. No such craft have as yet put in their appearance in these waters.

GERMAN ARMY CORPS REPORTED IN RETREAT

London, Aug. 8.—A despatch to the "Post" from Brussels says that King Albert has issued an order to the army complimenting the bravery of the defenders of Liege against the greatly superior numbers. The heroic defence, he said, will live forever in the memory of the nation. His Majesty also sends greetings to the French army, which is coming to the aid of the Belgians.

It is said that the German Seventh Army Corps is retreating towards Aix-La-Chapelle.

AUSTRIANS DRIVEN OUT OF SERVA

Nish, Aug. 8.—Not a single Austrian soldier is now on Serbian soil, it was officially stated at the War Office today. The Austrians have been repulsed at Semendria and all other points. The crown prince, heading the main division of the Serbian army, today assumed the offensive, directing a determined attack upon the Austrian army.

sources that no decision has been reached with regard to the request of the Germans for an armistice, and, moreover, that the battle at Liege is continuing.

London, Aug. 8.—The correspondent of the "Daily Mail" at Brussels says that up to 5 o'clock last night an armistice had not been granted as requested by the Germans, but that the fighting at Liege had ceased for several hours before. A thousand Belgian wounded have arrived at Brussels. The German bombardment of Liege was so severe that it necessitated the departure of the population. The Germans, the correspondent says, retired because they were exhausted by the attacks, which they had made for two days and were in danger of being wiped out by the fire of the Belgian forts. The Belgian losses were great, but less than those of the Germans. Many Belgian officers were killed. One cannot exaggerate, the correspondent says, the heroism of the Belgians or the superb valor and skill of General Lemans, governor and commandant of Liege.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Secretary of War Garrison yesterday issued a statement to set at rest doubts as to the opening of the Panama Canal on August 15. "There is no reason at present known on the Isthmus or to the secretary of war," said the secretary, "as to why the canal should not be opened on that date to vessels not needing more than thirty feet of water."

Guard C. P. R. Line

Calgary, Alb., Aug. 8.—Steps are being taken by the C. P. R. authorities here to guard the main line of the Alberta division. Yesterday a force of ninety men were sworn in for duty as special constables.

ASK ITALY TO JOIN AGAINST GERMANY

London, Aug. 8.—The "Standard," "Daily Mail" and other papers today appeal to Italy to abandon her neutrality and come to the assistance of England and France against "The common enemy of Europe."

Can't Leave New York

New York, Aug. 8.—The German recruits here apparently have despaired of getting back to the Fatherland. There are 56,000 stranded in New York. They were notified yesterday to return to their homes until further notice. Similar instructions were given to 10,000 Austrians and several hundred Dutch reservists.

Germans in London

London, Aug. 8.—The police have arrested a large number of Germans. About fifty were rounded up yesterday. The police raided the German monotypers at Salford and seized rifles and ammunition. Thirty-two Germans at the plant were arrested. Bow street police station is housing a small armory of weapons which have been taken from the homes of Germans.

Several large German stores and restaurants display signs announcing that "The proprietor is a naturalized British subject." A few German shops in the suburbs have been closed. No instance of Germans being mobbed or assaulted has been reported, and there have been

Portugal Stands by England

Lisbon, Portugal, Aug. 8.—Parliament today adopted a resolution announcing its intention to stand by England in the present.

The Portuguese warships were ordered to prepare for a coast-wise cruise, and the War Office ordered the mobilization of three army divisions.

English Troops Landing On French Soil is Report

Paris, Aug. 8.—It is officially announced today that English troops are disembarking on French soil. The point of disembarkation is not revealed. The disembarkation was made and in the direction of French officers, who spoke English fluently. It was witnessed by a crowd that cheered the Englishmen.

only a few cases where they have been insulted. All cross channel steamer service was suspended today.

LONDON'S CHINATOWN

Raids on Opium Dens Disclose Sordid Conditions

London, Aug. 8.—Raids on the opium dens in London's Chinatown, a district near the docks, have thrown new light on this sordid quarter, which is little known until nineteen Chinese were brought recently to the police court. The place is a mass of opium dens and gambling houses, where the Chinese sailors of the oriental ships in port have been robbed of their earnings. There are about 800 of these sailors and cabin boys in port at a time.

Charitable societies are now organizing a fund to build in this district a hotel, social club and institute with classes in English and seamanship. Arrangements will also be made by which the sailors may send home part of their earnings. The name of the new organization is the Chinese Merchant Service Guild.

RELICS OF NAPOLEON

Paris, Aug. 8.—Some interesting Napoleonic relics have been placed, by order of the Paris courts, in the keeping of the Carnavalet Museum. They consist of a sword given by Napoleon to General Basso, bearing the inscription: "To Governor-General Basso with thanks from the city of Dantzig, 1808."

These relics were deposited by their owner in the hands of a woman who had undertaken to sell them. As they were neither sold nor returned, however, the matter came before the tribunal, which decided that they should be placed in the Carnavalet Museum pending judgment.

PLATE BEEF HAS GONE UP $10 A BARREL

In the last ten days, while advances have been made in flour, sugar, and other staples, one of the most notable successions has been made by plate beef, which with a jump of $3 a barrel today, makes an advance of $10 a barrel since the declaration of war. It is now quoted at $34 a barrel.

Short cuts pork is advanced $3, making it now $32 a barrel. All lines of canned goods were advanced this morning, on orders of the Dominion Canners, two and a half cents a dozen. No change was quoted in flour or sugar today, but the millers still decline to give quotations on the former, and prices have been withdrawn on other articles as well.

The trenches at Liege are reported filled four and five deep with German dead.

The German cruiser Augsburg is reported sunk in the bombardment of Libau.

THORNE LODGE INSTALLATION

At a largely attended meeting of Thorne Lodge, I. O. G. T. Lodge Deputy, Henry McEachern, installed the following officers:—F. A. Cunningham, C.T.; Mrs. A. Brown, V.T.; Walter Brown, secretary; Miss A. Ayer, asst. secretary; R. A. Brown, treasurer; M. N. White, marshal; Mrs. E. N. Stockford, D.M.; J. A. Collins, guard; J. D. McEachern, sent.; Mrs. M. N. White, chap.; Jos. McKenzie, P.C.T.; Miss Sadie Lunn, organist. The committee looking after the arrangements for entertaining the grand lodge, which will meet in this city on Tuesday, 18th inst., reported progress, and that a large number of delegates had already signified their intention of attending its sessions.

YARMOUTH BOATS OFF ROUTE

The Canadian registered steamers Prince Arthur and Prince George will be replaced on the Yarmouth-Boston route by the steamers North Star and Governor Cobb, of the Eastern S. S. Line. It is understood that this is done on account of the insurance.

WANTED COAL BUT THEY WERE SEIZED INSTEAD

German Steamers Taken in Charge by Italians--Germans Bombarding Libau and Fortresses Badly Damaged

London, Aug. 8.—(4.52 a. m.)—A despatch from Milan to the "Chronicle" says that the Italian authorities at Genoa have seized two German trans-Atlantic vessels, the Molite and the Koenig Albert. It is explained that action was taken when the captains demanded a supply of coal, though they already had coal aboard.

GERMAN STEAMER RAN UP BRITISH FLAG

Shanghai, Aug. 8.—Russian warships have captured the German merchantman Sabine Rickmers at the mouth of the Amur River. The Delke Rickmers, another German merchantman, after an exciting run from Hong Kong, arrived here safely today, and found shelter behind an island. On the voyage here she sighted a British cruiser and forthwith ran up a British flag.

Further Mention of Naval Battle

Amsterdam, Aug. 8.—The "Telegraph" reports the receipt of a wireless message announcing that a German cruiser is en route for Ymuden, bringing ten men who were wounded in a naval battle.

Bombardment of Libau

Stockholm, Aug. 8 (via London, 4.10 a. m.)—The captain of a schooner which has arrived here from Libau, having sailed from the Russian port on August 4, reports a heavy bombardment of Libau by the German fleet, and that the fortresses were badly damaged.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 8 (via London)—The Austrian merchant steamer Stella has been captured by Russian warships.

On the Atlantic

New York, Aug. 8.—The report of German cruisers off the Atlantic coast was revived by incoming steamers last night. The captain of the steamer Denbigh Hall, for Oran, Algeria, said he heard code messages between German warships during the last four days. The Canadian liner Lusitania reported to have been pursued by German cruisers on her way to Europe, sent back on the Atlantic.

SWISS HOTELS ARE DIVIDED EARNERS

Geneva, Aug. 8.—Authoritative statistics just published show that the hotel business is the largest industry of Switzerland. It employs 43,000 persons. The average profits are 25 per cent. annually on the capital invested; the figures being, capital, $200,000,000, and earnings, $50,000,000.

SEVEN REGIMENTS SURRENDER?

London, Aug. 8.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Brussels says that a division of German cavalry which had succeeded in fording the Meuse to the north of Liege, was surprised and practically annihilated by Belgian cavalry and infantry, supported by a battery of light artillery. The German rout was complete. Seven German regiments surrendered.

Germans Reported To Have Landed Army In Finland

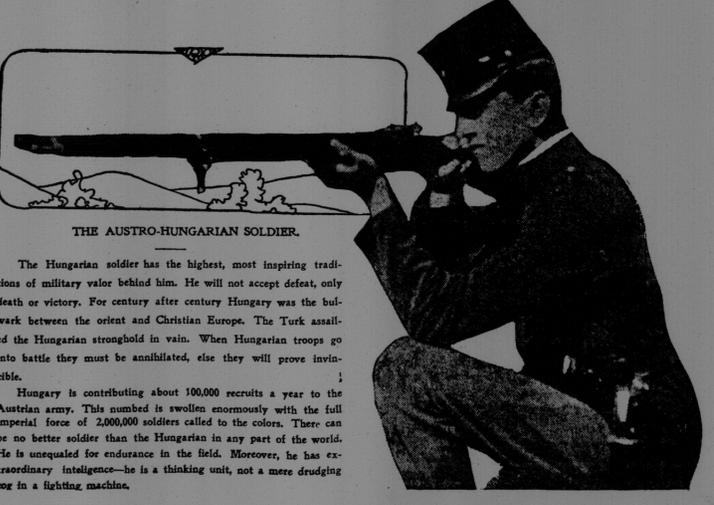

Copenhagen, Aug. 8.—It is reported here that a German invading army numbering 40,000 men landed at Ekman, Finland, and is now marching against the capital, Helsinki. This expedition it is considered certain here, has St. Petersburg for its objective.

SERVIAN---THE MEN BEHIND THE GUNS---AUSTRIAN

THE SERBIAN SOLDIER.

Servia presents to its foes 500,000 able-bodied fighting men, in whom the love of liberty has reigned since babyhood, who have heard the songs of patriotism every hour, in school, in church, in workshop, field or market place. They are all of one race and one religion, with interests so much in common that every Serbian, from the lowest to the highest, feels himself a brother to all his countrymen. When forces are recruited, old men, grandfathers, from 65 to 70 years of age, step into the ranks. But the Serbian fighting force must not be measured alone by her men under the arms. Consider the women—they are wonderful! In order that every man in the army shall bring a rifle to bear on the firing line, these big, stalwart farm women do most of the heavy commissary work and ammunition loading at the rear.

THE AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN SOLDIER.

The Hungarian soldier has the highest, most inspiring traditions of military valor behind him. He will not accept defeat, only death or victory. For century after century Hungary was the bulwark between the orient and Christian Europe. The Turk assailed the Hungarian stronghold in vain. When Hungarian troops go into battle they must be annihilated, else they will prove invincible. Hungary is contributing about 100,000 recruits a year to the Austrian army. This number is swollen enormously with the full imperial force of 2,000,000 soldiers called to the colors. There can be no better soldier than the Hungarian in any part of the world. He is unequalled for endurance in the field. Moreover, he has extraordinary intelligence—he is a thinking unit, not a mere drudging cog in a fighting machine.

PLEATED TUNIC SKIRT

of this skirt. To make it requires 4 1/2 yards of 44-inch material for the bodice tunic and 4 1/2 yards, same width, for side-pleated skirt.

The latest exponent of the Russian tunic is a pleated effect, both box and side-pleats being used. The long tunic seems most in demand just now, but if the shorter length is desired the lower part of the pattern may be cut off on a crossline of double "oo" perforations.

For the benefit of the home dress-maker who has not had much experience, directions for making both the box and side-pleated effects are given. For the former, first pleat, creasing on lines of slot perforations; bring folded edges each side of lines of small "oo" perforations and bring folded edge near center-back to center; stitch as illustrated and press. Close back seam from large "oo" perforation to lower edge; finish edges above for placket. Adjust a webbing or a straight strip of canvas 2 inches wide to position underneath upper edge of tunic for a stay; stitch upper edges together.

For the side-pleated tunic, pleat, creasing on lines just as was done in the case of the box-pleats. Bring folded edges to corresponding lines of small "oo" perforations and bring folded edge near center-back to center; stitch as illustrated and press. Close back seam from large "oo" perforations to lower edge; finish edges above for placket. Adjust a webbing or a straight strip of canvas 2 inches wide to position underneath upper edge of tunic for a stay; stitch upper edges together.

Broadcloth, crepe de Chine, voile, Delhi silk, netting and all of the latest materials are suited to the development. Fill in this blank and mail it with price of pattern, 15c.

GREAT CITIES IMPROVE

One of the most striking features of the history of the great cities during the last 80 years is the improvement in the conditions making for healthier and longer life. According to Professor William B. Bailey of Yale, in a recent article in the Independent, it appears that in no city of a million people or more save Moscow, in Europe or America, has there been a decrease of less than 20 per cent in the death-rate within the period given.

In Berlin the decrease was 41.5 per cent from a rate of 26.5 to one of 14.7. New York improved from 27.5 to 16.1. Chicago from 21.8 to 16.1. Philadelphia from 22.8 to 16.8. St. Petersburg from 24.2 to 16.7. London from 20.9 to 12.7. Vienna from 22.8 to 24.1. The change in backward Moscow was from 38.8 to 26.9.

"It was an Englishman who once said that since the cities were so much more unhealthy than the country districts, he wondered why people had never thought of building their cities in the country."

"That is what we are trying to do at present. We are making parks and playgrounds in our cities, we are building tenement houses in which the light and air can enter every room, and we are trying to give the people of the cities some of the advantages of country life. At the same time, by means of trolleys and social centres, we are trying to bring to the people of the country some of the advantages of city life."

This is a spirit that may well actuate every city planner of improvements. Much has been done but much more remains to be done. City congestion is the thing that now stands in the way of complete success in bettering city life.

the son of an Ayrshire laborer, in the Battersea district of London, on whose death his widow kept the wolf from the door by taking in washing. John began to earn his living when little more than a child, in a candle factory, then put in three years in house service as a page-boy in buttons; and on becoming too big for that job, developed into a mechanic. His calling as such took him to the Congo Valley, and the Gold Coast. He taught him something of seafaring life as an officer, and afterwards an engineer on a tramp steamer in the West African trade, and brought him to Spain and other foreign countries in the service of London firms of contractors. As a labor leader and agitator he was sentenced in 1888 to six weeks imprisonment, after a trial at the Old Bailey in connection with the Trafalgar Square riots. He was defended on that occasion by a lawyer of no particular prospects, either at the bar or in politics, but whose name was Herbert Asquith, now prime minister.

John Burns alienated many of his old labor friends and supporters by accepting cabinet office, and membership of the Privy Council and by going to court in a gold-embroidered uniform, white knee breeches, white silk stockings, a white-feathered cocked hat, and a sword. He is likely to recover the good will of his former constituents by his sacrifice of all these fine feathers, his office and his emoluments, for declining to countenance a foreign war, to which the labor element of England has shown itself to be averse.

Both Sir George and his wife, Lady Maud, have long been personal friends of the Kaiser, who is a great admirer of Lady Maud, particularly of her superb contralto voice, which is never heard to such advantage as in old English ballads. In fact, Lady Maud and her husband, at his special request, have always been included in the house parties and other entertainments organized in his honor on the occasion of his numerous visits to England.

Lady Maud's marriage was a love match in the best sense of the word, and encountered a considerable amount of opposition, for George Warrender, when he finally secured her hand in 1876, was a young lieutenant in the royal navy, without any particular prospects, being a younger son of a wealthy family.

Four days after Lady Maud's wedding, her husband was hurried off post-haste to join his ship at Hong Kong, as war had broken out between China and Japan, his bride was left to follow on later alone. At Hong Kong her position was made very uncomfortable by the refusal of Lady Fremantle, wife of the commanding admiral, to meet her at any entertainment, lest she should be obliged to give her precedence as the daughter of an earl. Queen Victoria happened to hear of this and, having known Lady Maud as a child, had George Warrender transferred to her royal yacht, bringing him home from the east by the latter's baronetcy and very extensive estates in Scotland.

ANOTHER GOOD BILL BY MUSICAL REVUE PLAYERS NEXT WEEK

Mack's Musical Revue still continues to be the most popular attraction in the city, the seating capacity of the Opera House being taxed at several performances during the last week. Commencing Monday a complete change in programme will be made, with many new novelties in the way of song numbers, scenic and electrical features, tango dancing, the very latest popular song hits, and a new one act play by Miss Akerstrom, the whole forming a two-hour continuous entertainment worth many times the small price of admission.
The latest war bulletins are continually being posted on the board in the lobby and are read from the stage at every performance.
The Lango contest comes this week, several local couples having entered their names as contestants for the beautiful prize offered by the management.

London's Beauty Writers

Weekly Selections from Noted Beauty Experts Writing for the English Press. Simple and Effective Methods.
By OGGAN ARNOLD, Special Correspondent, London, Eng.
Each week in this department I will endeavor, by careful clipping from the London papers, to keep my Colonial readers informed on the latest and best advice of the London beauty experts. Owing to the persistent demand most London newspapers and periodicals are now devoting much space to the papers and periodicals of beauty culture. Many of them now employ high salaried experts to advise and instruct in methods most efficient for enhancing or restoring beauty of face and figure. I append herewith a few clippings obtained from Canadian chemists or druggists, so far as I am told. Look out for more lists next week. I shall endeavor to keep right up to date.
A Strange Shampoo.
A young woman eviled for her beautiful glossy hair declared she never washes it with soap or artificial shampoo powders. Instead she makes her own shampoo by dissolving a teaspoonful of salicylic acid in a cup of hot water. "I make my chemist get the salicylic for me," said she. "It comes only in small packages, enough to make up twenty or thirty individual shampoos, and it smells so good I could almost eat it." Certainly this little lady's hair did look wonderful even if she has strange ideas of a shampoo.
Wonderful Growth of Hair.
"Long ago I made a resolution to try and obtain a real hair grower. My own former hair, now perfectly after tedious experimenting, has had the effect of giving me a wealth of hair that is surprising. Obtain from your druggist an original package of boraxum and mix with this eight of bay rum. Rub this into the scalp night and morning with the finger tips. It sets the hair-roots tingling with new life."
Secret of Beauty Doctors.
If you now transpire that the mysterious white paste used so successfully by many beauty specialists for rubbing the skin, objectionable hairy growths is nothing more than powdered boraxum, which can be found in any drug store. With phenol, which is powdered boraxum, mix a little coarse hairy surface; apply and in two or three minutes rub off, wash the skin, and it will be free from hair or blennish.
To Lengthen Eyelashes.
Eyelashes will be greatly beautified if manganine be applied at hair-roots with Thumb and forefinger. A few such treatments make them grow long, silky and thick and lustrous by merely rubbing continually on, but be careful, and don't get any where no hair is wanted.
No Powder Necessary.
If you can hope for nothing better than an imitation of a real complexion. Take my advice. Get from your druggist some ordinary dentine and dissolve in a little water; then you will have the real, yet inexpensive lotion, which seems a part of even under the most trying conditions. To prepare the face and neck for an evening in a hot ballroom there is nothing to equal this simple and harmless lotion.
Goodbye to Curling Iron!
Don't burn the life out of your hair with that instrument of torture, the curling iron. You can keep your hair beautifully wavy and curly by using a perfectly harmless liquid known to the drug trade as "silicinate." You need only apply a little with a clean tooth brush before retiring each night in the morning you will most agreeably surprised with the effect. And this wondrous state for a week or two, depending upon the weather, so a small bottle lasts a long time and is quite economical in use. Pure silicinate is really beneficial to the hair and it leaves no greasiness, stickiness or streaks.

STILL AWAITING NEWS.

The veil has not yet been lifted in the North Sea, and the world still waits with keen anxiety for news from that quarter. Has the British fleet been able to locate the enemy, or has the latter sought shelter by way of the Kiel Canal?

So far as the land fighting is concerned, the Germans appear to have been completely unsuccessful in their attack upon Liege, and to have suffered very considerable loss. We are told that an official statement from Berlin describes the attack on Liege merely as an "act of heroism," but one that will have no influence on the larger operations of the German army.

Some rioters entirely escaped the attention of the police, and one man charged with rioting, appears to have had no difficulty in escaping after he was arrested. All this does not increase public respect for the police department.

Word comes from Ottawa that a second Canadian contingent is likely, and this appears to be quite probable, since the immense resources of Germany will doubtless render the struggle a very severe one, even if it is not greatly prolonged. We can hardly conceive of the war lasting several years, as has been suggested by some authorities, for the simple reason that the sinews of war would be exhausted. Military writers have agreed that Germany could not have continued the Franco-Prussian war another three months, although it had lasted in all but little more than six months.

A PAGE OF HISTORY

In the early sixties Austria was the most important element in the loose confederacy of Germanic states. A new power was, however, rising in the north, and in 1866 the Prussians under the leadership of Bismarck successfully challenged Austria's domination.

The announcement that the International Railway from Campbellton to St. Leonard, and the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Railway from Sackville to Cape Tormentine, have been taken over as part of the Intercolonial system will give great satisfaction to the patrons of these roads, and it may be hoped a similar policy will be pursued at an early date in relation to some other branch lines.

Readers of The Times should read carefully and thoughtfully Mr. Carrville Fleming's article in the matter of the graft fund collected from the lumber operators. It is not pleasant reading, but the elections of this province must face the situation, and when opportunity offers decide whether they approve or disapprove of those who are responsible for the condition of affairs in relation to the timber leases and the St. John Valley Railway.

The Playgrounds Association has decided to carry out that article in its Constitution which declares its purpose to be "to equip and maintain winter as well as summer playgrounds, places of recreation and social centres, and to supervise and control them." With Mr. C. D. Howard as director, the Association should not only be able to do very effective work, and bring about a wider use of the school buildings, but it should receive the hearty support of the citizens in its work.

David Smith, quartermaster sergeant of the Gordon Highlanders a famous Scottish regiment, who has been in the city on furlough for the last few days with the intention also of buying a farm in New Brunswick to settle, has been called home to rejoin his regiment. He had been on furlough little more than ten days when it was cut short by the declaration of war.

At the meeting of the King's Daughters' Guild yesterday afternoon reports from committees showed progress, particularly the food and fuel fund which was said to be going ahead most satisfactorily.

Allan Lines Atlantic and Victorian of the Atlantic fleet have been requisitioned by the government, but the company state that their other sailings will be made on schedule.

Poor "Teddy" Payne's death, leaves a big gap in the ranks of London's comedians. His health had been very bad for some time, but he was very plucky, and only a few weeks ago he was telling us some of his amusing experiences.

Years ago he was engaged almost at the last minute to play the part of Mephistopheles in Faust Up-to-Date. The man who had originally been cast for the part was a big man, much bigger than Teddy, but the latter had to wear the clothes that had been made for the other, as there was no time to get a new set.

"The result was," said Teddy, exaggerating gaily, "that when I got into the things it took my dresser a quarter of an hour to find me in them. You see, the other chap was tall, and broad to match. In fact, he was so stout that when his dresser tried to walk round him he required a sandwich to eat on the way to save him from starvation!"

A. R. FENWICK'S PAPER.

A. R. Fenwick will start a weekly newspaper in Tacoma within the next three weeks. Mr. Fenwick is a brother of the late Mr. Fenwick, who started his career as a journalist on the St. John Telegraph about a quarter of a century ago and has since that time held down the editorial chair in several leading United States newspapers.

Mr. Fenwick is a resident of Berkeley, California, where he has a son attending the university at that place. He was in Kings County a few months ago visiting relatives.

Where Shall I Invest My Money?

This is a question that often bothers us when we have any surplus money. Some people are born rich and do not have to provide for independence, others are looking for investments that will bring them in good dividends. The Silver Black Fox Industry in P. E. Island has made thousands of investors wealthy. In 1913 alone, 30 companies paid to their shareholders an average cash dividend of 105 p. c. Is there any other industry that would do this? 1914 dividends will be even greater than before. Now is the time to invest. Send in your application today to the

St. Lawrence Silver Black Fox Co, Ltd. Head Office—Charlottetown, P. E. Island

Foxes Capitalized at $17,000 PER PAIR. This capitalization included all expenses for the first year up to September 1, 1913. In other words, the breeding stock will be ranch, cared for, fed and all expenses paid for the first year without any cost whatever to the shareholders. Instead of paying the 10 per cent to 18 1/8 per cent. increase charge paid to most ranches this money will go directly into the pocket of the investor.

Your Investment is Protected. Each director is placing practically all his fox investments in this enterprise and the directors have their interests so involved in this ranch that they cannot afford to let their interest and watchful care lapse for a moment. The best breeding stock has been secured and one of the strongest, safest and most convenient ranches yet established is being erected and equipped.

Directors ARE Reliable Men. This is a most important feature when you consider that these are the men that you must look to for a square deal. Read the list over carefully and you will certainly conclude that an investment here is as safe with better prospects than money in the bank. This Company has only a limited amount of stock for sale. Secure yours today. This is a gilt-edged proposition.

Wm. Moran, Secretary-Treasurer. I hereby make application for shares of the capital stock of the St. Lawrence Silver Black Fox Co. Ltd., Charlottetown, P. E. Island and enclose $ being 20 per cent. of the amount and agree to pay the balance on or before the first of August, 1914. Should stock not be allowed it is understood that all money paid by me will be returned in full.

THE HAPPY VALLEY Writing from Merkhannville to a friend in St. John, George Scott says: "I have been reading in the papers right along of the shortage in the strawberry crop. In this happy valley there has been no such complaint. Ever since they were ripe we have been eating them three times a day and I went out to the fields yesterday and was astonished to find they were so plentiful as just as plentiful as ever. They are really the largest wild berries I ever saw. Indeed I have seen cultivated berries on the St. John market no larger than many. The raspberries and blueberries are now ripening fast, and these will also be very plentiful. Every bush here and every hazel bush by the roadside is loaded with nuts, and the apples are very thick on the trees. Two or three weeks ago the farmers here were fearing the hay would be a partial failure, but the frequent rains since with the intervals of warm sunshine, have brought it on wonderfully. Very few of them have begun cutting yet, as it is still growing, and the outlook is for at least a good average crop. The grain and all sorts of root crops look splendid although there are spots where the turnips have not done as well as usual."

THE SLAV RACE -- ITS ORIGIN AND WHERE IT IS NOW

Just as primitive people recognized as for the man whom they could not understand, the great world war that threatens will be a clash of tongues. The Slav is fighting for his language and his race. He is pitted against the Teuton.

Mr. Carvell's Argument a Telling Arraignment Of Premier Flemming His Summing up of Evidence in Timber Lands Inquiry Drives Home Charges—Adjournment for a Week—Mr. Carvell Still Insists Upon Production of Railway Books

The sensational inquiry into the Dugal charges against Premier Flemming in connection with the extortion of a large fund of money from the holders of leases of crown timber lands came to a climax yesterday afternoon.

Failing the appearance of W. H. Berry, who, apart from the premier is the man best qualified to tell the story, the case was declared closed and the arguments of counsel on both sides were heard.

At the morning session the case for Mr. Dugal was opened by Mr. Stevens who reviewed the evidence and outlined the case as he presented it.

Mr. Teed followed very briefly arguing that the case hinged upon the charge of extortion and that no extortion had been shown.

George W. Fowler made the principal argument for Mr. Flemming and, apparently feeling that arguments were not sufficient, closed with a plea for sympathy for the man against whom the charges are directed.

In a masterly address, clear and clean-cut, logical from start to finish, built on the solid foundation of facts produced in the evidence, Mr. Carvell closed the case for the complainants.

The classification of the lands and the fixing of the bonus were left in the hands of two men, Premier Flemming and W. H. Berry, the two men whose names were afterwards the most prominent in connection with the collection of the fund.

That the fund was collected at such a time and under such circumstances, Mr. Carvell argued, was enough to point to it as evidence of bribery and corruption rather than as the voluntary contributions of friends of the government.

The charge of extortion was upheld by the counsel with the argument that any demand for money by a man in Berry's position was one which could not be disregarded by those of whom the demand was made without the possibility of serious consequences to themselves. In these circumstances the simplest request became extortion.

From this Mr. Carvell proceeded with his illuminating exposition of the evidence showing detail after detail together in harmony until out of the disconnected stories told by various witnesses, Mr. Flemming among them, he pieced together the picture of Flemming the arch-conspirator plotting and planning to secure the results which were afterwards accomplished.

When the court adjourned last evening it was with the understanding that they should not resume until Friday of next week when the Valley railway charges will be taken up. Mr. Carvell again served notice upon the commission that he could not complete his case without the books of the New York office and that he would not close the case until they are produced.

When the afternoon session opened, Mr. Fowler concluded his argument, pleading that the contributions were merely a campaign fund, that as such they were not blameworthy and that if improper methods were used in the collection, Mr. Flemming was not to blame and not responsible.

Mr. Carvell, after a reference to the speech of Mr. Fowler as an able political declamation, said he would begin his argument from the point of view of the point of law that the timber licenses of the province would have expired in 1913 and that prior to legislation they would then have reverted to the province. They were, outside the dominion subsidies, the only great source of revenue to the province and accounted for one-third of the total revenue. By the legislation that was passed in 1913, the ownership of the timber lands would have been handed over to the ten lessees for twenty or thirty years, on the payment of the bonus which was to be fixed by July 1st. The handing over could be done at the "ipse dixit" of one man, Hon. J. K. Flemming.

There was only three months for the classification of the lands. In that time Mr. Berry went round getting some sort of information about the lands. Mr. Flemming knew that by the act only three months were allowed and he knew that the spring months were not the months to get round for classification. When he saw the advance copy of the act, Mr. Carvell said he was in Ottawa and at the time thought there was some special reason for the proposal.

It had been argued that the question of the contributions was one of a political nature, but when the lumbermen of the province were asked on the eve of the renewal of their licenses to contribute in the way that had been done it removed the matter from politics.

There was no record of any one man who had given evidence that he was asked to have volunteered a dollar of the money until asked by Berry. Not a dollar of the money was asked for or contributed until after the Barker House meeting on June 20, between Berry, Flemming, Brankley and Teed. It was claimed that prior to that Mr. Flemming knew from Berry that a fund was to be raised. It might be said that Mr. Carvell's judgment Mr. Berry did what he was told to do or what he thought would be accepted by his superiors.

Chairman—Would you go so far as to say that it was the relationship that made the extortion?

Mr. Carvell—"I think a man in the position of Berry, while in the position to create in the minds of the lumbermen the idea that some benefit or damage might accrue, asking for money or refusing, made it extortion. It was what was operating in the minds of the donors when they agreed that we have to consider."

Judge Wells—Admitting that the money was for a campaign fund would it be extortion?

Mr. Carvell—"Yes, because the idea that the donor would get into his head would be that he was contributing to a campaign fund that was wanted by the head of the department. The reasons for the extortion would be the same."

Chairman—You say that to get a man to the point where he says he will contribute because it is a benefit to him is extortion?

Mr. Carvell—"Yes, if it came from an official like Mr. Berry."

Mr. Flemming's Position.

Having dealt with the evidence of Messrs. Fenderson, Rundle and Jones—Mr. Carvell went on to show the part taken by Mr. Flemming. He said: "Right at the outset I say that in my judgment the strongest evidence against Mr. Flemming in the whole case is the evidence which we have not got in the presence of W. H. Berry. There is no counsel telling us and the people of this country that the chief officer of the department, a man with whom he had held the most confidential relationship, with whom he went to St. Stephen on McAdam on June 8 and who left on June 8—It is no use telling us that he left without Mr. Flemming's knowledge or consent. There is no use his saying he did not have a hand in getting the man out of the country and keeping him out. The best evidence of that is when I asked him 'Will you sign a telegram come back' he refused with indignation. I know that this is not positive and that it is circumstantial evidence but you had to be used with indignation. I know that this is not positive and that it is circumstantial evidence so strong that if we were in a criminal case before any judge in the land he would instruct the jury to take this as evidence in coming to their verdict. You have only one side of the story. There are only two men in the world who can tell you the actual facts of the payment of money. One is James K. Flemming the man who is charged and who is fighting for his political life and the other W. H. Berry, the man who has fled his country. Mr. Flemming is fighting for his political life and he tells you half of the story. The other one has no political life at all and whose position has gone, who has got away from the court and we have no means of learning what he would say upon oath."

Mr. Flemming says that Mr. Berry came to him some time in June and said the lumbermen were waiting for him to take the money. Well, I don't say that is a falsehood so far as Mr. Flemming is concerned but I think it is as a falsehood he told Mr. Flemming. All the evidence is that the lumbermen contributed because Berry wanted them to. Judge Wells—Is there evidence that they had spoken to Berry before the date?

Mr. Carvell—"No not until June 25. The only person whose evidence is unsatisfactory in that respect is Fenderson. Mr. Carvell then quoted the evidence given by Mr. Fenderson which left the date in doubt. With that possible exception, however, Mr. Carvell said that none of the lumbermen were approached before June 25 or even June 26."

What Flemming Told Berry.

Going on Mr. Carvell said: Mr. Flemming on that occasion (the conversation with Mr. Berry) said he told Mr. Berry that he would put up a job for him for you to receive it. I can quite understand Mr. Flemming saying that. The man who put up a job for this sort are capable of something more. You cannot hear that without coming to the conclusion that there was something else also. It would not be necessary for him to give instructions to Berry to go and collect the money at the rate of $15,000. Nor to say that if he did not contribute they would not get their licenses renewed, anything which shows that Berry went out and gathered in this money with the knowledge of Mr. Flemming is sufficient to make the requirements of a commission."

Answering a question by the chairman Mr. Carvell said there was an element of extortion in the fact that the lands were to be classified and the lumbermen were under the impression that they might have the control of their lands, if they contributed for twenty or thirty years. He had watched Mr. Flemming, he said, very carefully, and all he had said was that he had nothing to do with handling the money or in getting it but he did not say that he had anything to do with getting up the scheme.

After Berry saw Mr. Flemming first he did not tell him anything. Mr. Berry then said to Berry that he had seen him at home and saw his intimate friend, Mr. E. R. Teed and he agreed to act as treasurer of the fund. He did not tell Berry to touch the money but he said in effect, "you must not touch it but if it is to be collected the man to take it is Teed, he is a good man for that." It is preposterous and nonsense to say as Mr. Flemming did that he did not know the money was being collected.

Why for a man holding the position of premier of the province when his chief scaler comes to him and says the lumbermen want to contribute to a fund, who goes home and sees to it that there must be a fund, he is ready to act as treasurer and who then says to Berry 'My friend, Teed will take care of the money' and when Berry goes out and collects the money, it is absurd to claim that Mr. Flemming did not direct Berry.

In support of this Mr. Carvell read part of Mr. Brankley's evidence. He said that up to June 20 Mr. Flemming had had at least three conversations with Mr. Berry. The four men all appeared at the interview in the Barker House at Fredericton between June 20 and 26. Mr. Flemming said he told Berry he was not to touch the money but he said in effect that Berry was the man who telephoned to him to come to Fredericton to see the premier. When Mr. Flemming said that he was not informed until June 20 or 25 or what he did think when Mr. Berry brought Teed and Brankley to him at Fredericton and into his own room."

The Man Responsible.

"Now," said Mr. Carvell, "how can anyone say he was not the Alpha and Omega of the whole transaction. When the principals met they went at once to the premier's room and Mr. Flemming said to Mr. Brankley 'Anything Mr. Berry tells you about the money is all right.' Then Flemming went out and Berry said to Brankley, 'This is the

KAISER STAKED ALL AND LOST

(Special Cable to N. Y. Herald from London Resident Correspondent.)

With the war there has come to England a great feeling of relief that the worst is known and decisive steps have been taken.

In France the firm stand taken by England, leading to the declaration of war, has been hailed as an actual opportunity of salvation.

In Russia, gloom has been swept away by the fact that the British empire has found its true place in the alignment of nations.

In Berlin the fact that Britain has cast her lot with the other members of the Triple Entente undoubtedly had a heart-breaking effect on Emperor William.

The fact that Germany declared war on England before England declared war on Germany does not indicate that the country would have been better off in the preliminaries to this unparalleled trouble there has been a singular mis-calculation of the underlying forces.

William II. could not possibly have dreamed that Austria-Hungary's attempt to force Russia into the field as an open antagonist. He could not have dreamed France would be attacked and defeated quickly or he is gone, horse, foot and gun.

This irresistible destiny drove him into France in a hurry, and all the while Germany's ambassador in London, Prince von Bernstorff, with honeyed words was seeking to persuade the Liberal government to remain neutral.

World's Greatest Gambler.

Those who have looked on before now the German emperor must be the greatest gambler in the world. He staked his empire, his army, his navy, his crown and that same irresistible destiny that has dragged his dominating, strong will, and the Liberal government should be willing to fight to the bitter end, there was no fight in it at all.

So, at the last moment, to save his face, he made war upon Great Britain, and that he could not retreat, and in England surely would declare war upon Germany.

German policy is being executed wherever the English tongue is spoken. The statement is made here that Germany, in order to frighten the English financial interests, actually spent $10,000,000 bearing stocks during the two or three days preceding the closing of the Stock Exchange.

Mr. Fensholt, an American authority, has offered to the military authorities of the United States, in Northampton for the reception of the users of her house and grounds of thousands of bombs and rifles.

There is another thing. A great deal has been made of the fact that Mr. Flemming has received no benefit. But in the first place we know of no $15,000 in his lumber, and if you want any evidence that Mr. Flemming was a whole beginning and end of it this was a man (Mr. Teed) you are to pay the money as if Mr. Flemming said, "You will pay the money to Mr. Teed. Mr. Flemming took the direction of this matter from the beginning. He named the treasurer and after he had been telephoned to he ratified the arrangement by consent. Flemming sent for Teed through Berry and Berry sent for Brankley and when they came together in his room he said the money should be given to Teed. He took charge right up to this point.

It is true that not a dollar had been paid or promised but Mr. Flemming had set the whole machine moving and had laid the trap and brought the whole conspiracy up to the point and then he sends indicating that the prospect of a German uprising right in the city of London has not been entirely a dream on the part of E. Phillips Oppenheim and novelists of that type.

The German ambassador, on his final call at the Foreign Office, when he was handed his passports, looked every inch a broken man. He was hollow-eyed and careworn, like one who had waged a great battle and lost. He had failed, just as the German ambassador, Baron von Schoen, had failed in his attempt to overawe the French ministry, and as Count Fourates had failed to wheedle Russia into abandoning her mobilization.

The war spirit is blazing through every street in London. The call to arms is in the very air. Long lines of parades are marching through a hundred streets, each parade preceded by policemen, and the Union Jack is being waved by thousands of hands. In many instances the English and French colors are being waved together.

Around Whitehall great crowds alternately sing the Marseillaise and God Save the King.

One of the favorite shouts is: "Shall we be saved by German sausages? No-o-o-o!"

Vehicles of all sorts, express vans, beer wagons, automobile trucks, have been requisitioned by the territorials, and whenever one of these wagons passes along, guarded by four slight young soldiers, an enormous crowd falls in behind, shouting for France and the King.

Use of Explosive Bombs.

Criticism is being indulged in for the use by Germany and France of projectiles and other explosives thrown from balloons and airships, the impression being that this is prohibited by the Hague conference treaty, to most of the terms of which Germany and France are signatories. Neither Germany nor France, however, signed the clause prohibiting the use of explosives from airships.

The only countries signatory to that clause are Great Britain, the United States, China, Holland, Bolivia, Salvador and Haiti.

Such a startling change does the drum beat make that it is entirely probable that the spectacle may be repeated soon of Irish volunteers and Ulster volunteers fighting side by side.

This may be the result of John Redmond's announcement in the house of commons that the Ulster Volunteers will be ready to fight with Ulster in the empire's time of need.

The statement has gone like a flame through Ireland. All differences have been sunk. The Unionists and Nationalists have toasted each other in Ireland and Sir Edward Carson has been busily engaged ascertaining how best his hundred thousand Ulster volunteers might be utilized.

In competent diplomatic quarters it is regarded as certain that Germany has been deliberately working for war for weeks past.

Mrs. Irene Osgood, an American authority, has offered to the military authorities of the United States, in Northampton for the reception of the users of her house and grounds of thousands of bombs and rifles.

There is another thing. A great deal has been made of the fact that Mr. Flemming has received no benefit. his men out. He who now wraps the cloak of innocence about him sent the men out to relieve the lumbermen of $100,000 just before he was going to renew their licenses.

"And yet," said Mr. Carvell with infinite scorn, "we are asked to believe that Mr. Flemming was not the man who directed the whole thing."

"I have no word against Mr. R. Teed," went on counsel for Mr. Dugal. "I don't think there is a man who honestly and sincerely regrets his transactions more than does Mr. Teed. I feel it is my duty to say this. He and I have been townsmen ever since we were young men and I in the fact that when Mr. Teed thought he was about to pass out of this world handed the whole thing lock, stock and barrel to Mr. Flemming and Mr. Flemming had the money under his control and subject to his direction for five or six weeks during the winter."

A Sordid Tale.

"I do not wish to say anything harsh. I have tried to present this case all through as a lawyer and as counsel for Mr. Dugal. But I submit that the tale told here has been a sordid one as I have ever heard disclosed in a court of law. It is a tale of a man who listened to from witnesses, Mr. Flemming must have been cognizant of this thing that Berry was doing and directly or tacitly told Berry to go ahead and put the seal of his approbation upon every act which Berry was going to do before he did it. But he took care to find others to handle so large a sum. He did not allow Berry to get the money but he said, 'Go ahead but you must not handle it. E. R. Teed is the only man I can trust to handle it.'"

"It may be a hard matter for Mr. Flemming but I have no alternative and it is not my concern but from the evidence I cannot conceive how it will be possible to bring in a report other than that these charges have been proved from the beginning to the very end."

The chairman then announced that the commission would adjourn until Friday next, at 10 o'clock.

The chairman asked if the evidence in the Valley railway case would take up much time. Mr. Carvell replied that there had not been any attempt made to get the books of the commission and he would be pretty hard thing to say, but he did not believe any one of the other side when they said they could not get the books. He would like to see Mr. Gould brought back and ask him why.

"Let us get an adjournment long enough," added Mr. Carvell, with some warmth. "Let the government of this country do its duty and order the books to be brought here, and we will close the argument in one day. This is no man (Mr. Teed) you are to pay the money as if Mr. Flemming said, 'You will pay the money to Mr. Teed. Mr. Flemming took the direction of this matter from the beginning. He named the treasurer and after he had been telephoned to he ratified the arrangement by consent. MRS. WILLIAMS' LONG SICKNESS

Yields to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Elkhart, Ind.—"I suffered for fourteen years from organic inflammation, female weakness, pain and irregularities. The pains in my sides were increased by walking or standing on my feet and I had such awful bearing down feelings, was depressed in spirit and became thin, pale with dull, heavy eyes. I had no relief. I decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial and also the Sanative Wash. I have now used the remedies for four months and cannot express my thanks for what they have done for me. If these lines will be of any benefit you have my permission to publish them."—Mrs. RADIE WILLIAMS, 465 James Street, Elkhart, Indiana. Lydia E. Why Actresses Never Grow Old

(Theatrical World)

Nothing concerning the profession seems more puzzling to the doctor old public than the perpetual youth of our favorite actresses. How often we hear remarks like "Why, I saw her as Juliet forty years ago and she doesn't look a year older now!" Of course allowance is made for make-up, but when they see us off the stage at close range, they need another explanation.

How strange women generally haven't learned the secret of keeping the face young! How simple a matter to get an ounce of mercuric iodine at the drug store, apply it like cold cream, and in the morning wash it off. We know how this gradually, imperceptibly, absorbs old outside, keeping the complexion new and fresh, free from fine lines, sallowness or over-ripeness. We know, too, that this mercuric iodine wax is the reason actresses don't wear patches, liver spots, pimples and the like. Why don't our sisters on the other side of the footlights learn the reason, and profit by it?

SEVEN FIREMEN IN MONTREAL ARE HURT

Montreal, Aug. 8.—Seven firemen were hurt tonight at a $100,000 fire at the City Ice Company's plant in Duke street. Firemen Parker, in a brand, has received a fracture of the skull and internal injuries. The injuries were caused by the roof falling in.

LIBERAL CAMPAIGN MATTER NOT PUBLISHED DURING WAR TIME

Ottawa, Aug. 7.—The following announcement has been made by the publication headquarters of the Liberal party:

"In a statement given to the press Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Liberal leader, emphasized the fact that in the present time of crisis there should be 'a truce to party strife.' In full accordance with the view, the central Liberal information office will not publish during the present crisis any matter which might be calculated to embarrass the government at a time of national danger. Comment which otherwise might very properly be made upon a number of Canadian political questions will be withheld until a more fitting time.

"The Liberal leaders believe that in following such a policy in regard to their official publications, they will have the approval of all patriotic Canadians.

WAR INCREASES THE COST OF DRINKING

Prices of Champagnes, Wines and Brandies Go Up

MAY GO HIGHER SOON

Canadian Stocks Are Reported Low, Insurance Rates High, While Further Supplies Are Shut Off by European War

(Montreal Gazette.)

War will come home in all its horrors to thirsty citizens of Canada who do not care to stake their dough with such home made beverages as rye whiskey or beer, since it has been decided already to raise the price of most of the more luxurious liquors, with a prospect that further increases will go into force in the near future. This increase has already started on its way to boost the cost of high drinking, and both wholesale, retail and treating prices are likely to follow suit. If the price per drink does not go up there will probably be a still further reduction in the size of individual portions so that the ultimate result will be the same—a "longer" war.

While liquor quotations are in almost as unsettled a condition as the war news they are on the upgrade. On Monday afternoon a meeting of the leading importers of French wines and spirits and other delectable throat polishes was held, when the situation was discussed, both from the point of view of supply and demand, and also that of insurance.

It was later stated by Messrs. Hudon & Hebert that it had been decided to raise the price of all wines and brandies by $1 a case. This general increase covers the long known champagne, brandies, burgundies, claret, sherris, etc. Even the favorite morning quencher, Holland gin, the familiar demer, has gone up $1 a case. A slight relief however, is offered by the fact that this general raise does not apply to Scotch whiskey. Some of these have only been raised half a dollar a case, while the more expensive brands have been assessed their full dollar increase.

These increases, it was stated, would mean that retailers would have to pay from five to ten cents per bottle more, and would probably in turn charge their customers from ten to fifteen cents a bottle additional. What the bartender will do remains to be seen.

Further Increase Likely.

"Further than that," it was announced "these increases are merely temporary. The position of the liquor trade at present is rather difficult. Stocks in Canada are lower than usual, since the supplies usually brought in during the spring are pretty well used up, and the fall supply has not yet arrived. Now, owing to the war, we cannot rely upon getting in further stocks from France. We called orders last week, and received a reply that the goods could not be sent because the ships were used for transporting troops. As matters now stand, no one can say when we shall be able to replenish our stocks, and it is quite likely that prices will go very much higher if the war continues."

While these prices were given for ordinary wines it is probable that the charge for expensive brands such as champagne and burgundy will go up much more.

Macaroni Costs More

In addition to these increases there will be a general rise in price on what are known as Mediterranean goods, which come from the centre of the part of Europe that is now or will be occupied by hostile armies. French macaroni has gone up a cent, to nine cents a pound, and gasoline has been raised ten cents to forty-five cents a pound. Raisins have gone up a cent a pound and nuts five cents. Various other small increases have been made. Since these are all in the wholesale trade it is likely that by the time they sift through to the retailers and jobbers to the ultimate consumer, they will be considerably increased.

It was stated at the offices of Messrs. L. A. Wilson & Co., that this increase was not merely because stocks were low and supplies hard to get, but that war risks meant such a heavy insurance that prices must go up.

"Insurance rates have been going up steadily since the war scare started," it was stated, "and they bill fair to keep on rising. There have already been additional insurance charges running from five to ten per cent. This on a brandy such as Hennessy means an extra cost of around $1 a case, running to $1.75 on the shipping price of champagne, so it can easily be seen that wholesalers and retailers must raise their prices to meet the conditions. Should war continue it is by no means unlikely that there will be a shortage in the finer wines and liquors which will mean very high prices."

MIRAMICHI BRIDGE

Newcastle Advocate—Work at the new Miramichi bridge, under the superintendence of Mr. McMahon, is progressing with all possible speed. Confirm Report Of Slaughter at Liege

Germans Asked For Day of Respite to Bury Dead—May Be Second Contingent From Canada—Refugees in Berlin

London, Aug. 8.—3.30 a. m.—(Associated Press Bulletin)—A despatch to the Post from Brussels says that the Belgians have granted the armistice for twenty-four hours requested by the Germans and that the latter are now collecting their wounded and burying their dead. The Germans have withdrawn to a less exposed position, where they can recuperate.

On the authority of the Belgian war minister, the German casualties in the battle around Liege number 25,000 according to their own admission.

An official statement, issued from Berlin, described the attempt on the Liege fortress as unsuccessful and the assault of the Germans as "a unique act of heroism," and that it will have not the slightest influence on the larger operations of the German army.

France has 400,000 troops along the frontier and men and officers show a cheerful and determined spirit. A defeat of a Bavarian corps by a French raiding party is also reported.

The British government has established an official press bureau for the purpose of handing out news of the war placing in charge F. E. Smith, a prominent Unionist and anti-home ruler.

The Canadian government has been surprised to receive offers from more than enough men and officers, trained in the Royal navy, but not reservists to man the Niobe and the Canadian cruiser will be put in commission at once.

All offers of provincial and private aid in raising and equipping regiments have been accepted by the Canadian government and it is likely that a second contingent in addition to the 21,000 now being raised will be sent forward.

BRITISH REFUGEES IN BERLIN.

Berlin, (via London), Aug. 7, 5.30 p. m.—(Associated Press)—James W. Gerard, the American ambassador to Germany, today called an appeal to the British public to send funds for the relief of the "great number of British subjects—English, Canadian, Irish and others—left in my charge. "Many of the refugees," the ambassador said, "are young girls, without relations or friends, and with only enough money to get themselves for a very short time. The temper of the people may make it hard for these poor people to find lodging in Berlin, even if they have funds. Many already had been arrested as alleged spies."

Mr. Gerard added that Sir Edward Goschen, the British ambassador, had asked him to advance the British subjects money up to the amount of $5,000 on the credit of the British government.

"But where am I to get the cash?" Ambassador Gerard asked. "We ourselves, at the American embassy, have only a little store of money, as the war came so suddenly."

Ottawa, Aug. 7.—Reports received by the militia department this afternoon, indicate that the enlistment all over Canada is proceeding smoothly, and the numbers who are applying bear out the forecast made some days ago that far more than the total number actually required will be mobilized. Together there will be 25,000 men mobilized at Quebec, and of these 21,000 will be sent across the Atlantic as soon as the need from the imperial government.

There will be ample work for the militia department this evening, for garrison and patrol duty. The regulars will be supplemented by the militia, and also available, a second army contingent from the dominion. According to the opinion of military authorities here, there is a strong probability that a second army contingent will be needed from here.

Military experts believe that there will be no serious shortage of men for garrison and patrol duty. The regulars will be supplemented by the militia, and also available, a second army contingent from the dominion. According to the opinion of military authorities here, there is a strong probability that a second army contingent will be needed from here.

Pay and Pensions.

One of the problems which have met the recruiting officers and which have been referred to Ottawa for consideration, that of pay, pensions, insurance and the care of families dependent upon the war, is being actively service will apply as soon as the troops are under arms. For privates it is one dollar per day.

There is now a pension act on the statute books, and there is no question but that pensions will be granted to the families of those who are killed, to those who are incapacitated, and that there will be a form of remuneration to compensate for wounds received. There will be special legislation in this respect for the South African war, Lord Strathcona being personally responsible for the insuring of one of the contingents.

The offers received from New Brunswick, Manitoba, Calgary and from Mr. Hamilton Gault, the Montreal millionaire, to raise and equip supplementary regiments at their own expense as well as all the other offers of assistance from public or private sources, have all been accepted. Any additional regiments that are raised by such means will be supplementary to the main force of 21,000 men to be raised by the government authorities.

St. John's Position.

Special precautions are being taken to strengthen the forces at Halifax, Sydney and Esquimaux, and additional troops are being sent there. For service of this kind the department is not waiting to raise troops by the volunteer system, but is ordering out whole militia units, under the provisions of the Militia act. In the case of St. John, which is exposed to attack from any cruiser of the enemy,

CANADIAN HORSES ARE GOING TO WAR

Remount Officers From Great Britain and France

National Bureau Instructed to Collect Supply—War Office Agrees to Allow France to Share

(Montreal Gazette.)

With the outbreak of hostilities between Great Britain and Germany, the National Live Stock Exchange is actively preparing to collect as many Canadian cavalry horses and remounts as possible, so as to be ready to meet the demand from Canada, Great Britain and France. This organization of work has been going on for some days, and it is expected that by the time the army officers reach Canada they will find everything ready for them. The mistakes that were made before the South African war have been used as a lesson, and this time it is promised that there will be a supply of cavalry chargers, remounts and artillery horses that will be a credit to Canada.

The following cable was yesterday received from the representative of the National Live Stock Exchange at London at the company's offices in the Imperial Bank building:

"Am in close touch with the War Office. If England decides on war British remount officers will leave immediately for Montreal."

It is expected that the following cable was received from Commandant Felice:

"Paris, Aug. 8.—Will come to get horses. Be ready."

Commandant Felice is a director of the National Exchange, which is working with the National Bureau of Breeding in the present emergency. He is an expert cavalry officer in the French army, and was a judge of cavalry horses and remounts at the last Montreal horse show and at Madison Square Garden. He knows Canada well, and owns a ranch in Alberta.

It is expected that the British and French remount officers will arrive in Montreal in a week or ten days, and every effort is being made to have a supply of suitable horses ready, so that they can get through with their work with the minimum of delay.

"Telegrams were received from the bureau yesterday from all over Canada, and it is stated that an excellent show can be made in the way of remounts, reports having come in from the Maritime Provinces, Quebec, Ontario and the west as far as the ranching country in British Columbia.

As it is to be expected, the work is being carried on from a patriotic as well as a business standpoint. Last night D. Raymond, a director of the Bureau of Breeding, gave the free use of his farm at Dorval as a collecting point for remounts, which will be kept in the open air all the time, as this is the best way to prepare them for the stern work they will have to engage in.

Lord Edward Seymour, who is acting for both the bureau and the exchange, sent in a long report from Alberta last night promising splendid returns from that province.

Government Aids Work.

M. J. O'Brien telephoned from Ottawa that Retnew and that vicinity could supply 200 excellent war horses at short notice, and that these could have the run of one of his farms pending shipment to Montreal. He also stated that Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes men there has been a large number of outside persons who want to enter the service.

It is expected that about 400 men will go from this city with the 20,000 men for foreign service. The selection of this number, it is expected, will be made by the middle of this evening at the army and will continue all during Sunday until Tuesday. Besides these 200

Local Volunteers.

It was announced late last night that 200 men of the 62nd regiment had volunteered for service. The medical test for fitness is to start this evening at the army and will continue all during Sunday until Tuesday. Besides these 200 had promised to give a section of the Petawawa camp reserve for the assembling of remounts, while the Minister of Militia was perfectly willing that France should be helped out with horses, a view shared by the British War Office.

It is stated that the Canadian horses will go to form a reserve, to take the places of the thousands of horses that will inevitably be incapacitated during the early stages of the war. Both France and Great Britain have sufficient horses for mobilization purposes, while England can if necessary increase her supply by impressment. War, however, fairly eats up horses and the latest arrival is not counted upon to last more than thirty days, so that the gaps must be continually filled up. Since the arrival of the automobile and auto truck the emergency supply for English and French reserves has been so thinned that Canada will do a real service to the allies in the present war.

Good Supply Ready.

By the recent census, specially taken for the British War Office, it was shown that Canada could collect between 20,000 and 30,000 horses fit for military purposes, and have a large number of these ready within a week or two. This mobilization will be immediately undertaken.

The National Exchange Board is peculiarly fitted to handle the remount business here for Canada, Great Britain and France. It is under agreement to give first choice to Canada, then to Great Britain, while both countries in the present emergency, have agreed that five Canadians and two French-Canadians, its Canadian members being M. J. O'Brien, Baron de la Rue du Can, Sir Rodolphe Forget, Col. J. J. Riley, Col. H. J. Mackie, D. Raymond, F. W. Rous and J. F. Ryan, most of whom have been for years connected with the

THE ARMY WORM HERE

Sussex Record—An invasion of the army worm has been experienced in Sussex. The insects are destroying everything green on the camp grounds and are marching in an easterly direction. HAS MEAKINS WED DANCER?

Report Says Prince of "Merry Widow" Is Married

NEWS OF MARGARET FIELD

She Was Kirk Brown's Leading Lady—Local Men Who Have Won Fame in The Theatrical World

Whether the following is the yarn of a press agent or not, cannot be said, but it may be of interest to play-goers here who recall the dashing young prince of "The Merry Widow," when he sang in the Opera House a few seasons ago—

New York learned just this week, that while in St. Petersburg last month, Charles Meakins, of "Merry Widow" fame, had visited the American consul and wedded a dancer known professionally as Perot, but in the family Bible as Cynthia Enoo. The two had been acquainted a long time. On his trip from Germany to St. Petersburg he noticed as he crossed the frontier at Willy that soldiers were stationed along each side of the tracks about 100 yards apart, their rifles raised ready for instant use. The military stood with their backs to the train.

All the way to St. Petersburg, a two days' journey, the soldiers lined the tracks. Russian news is carefully censored, and it was not until yesterday that Meakins learned the answer. A band of anarchists, it seems, were lying in wait to assassinate the czar on his journey from Odessa. They had already exploded a bomb under the train ahead of the one on which Meakins was traveling and fearful loss of life had followed. The czar was traveling on the train behind the one on which Meakins was a passenger.

Margaret Field's stock company, under the management of Harry March, ended the run of stock at the Colonnade Park Theatre at Jamestown, N. Y., last week and opened the regular tour this week on the road. "The Awakening of Helena Richter" was the opening play. Miss Field formerly played leads with Kirk Brown for many years and was a prime favorite in St. John.

Two St. John men who have become distinguished in the theatrical world in the republic to the south, Thomas Lewis (McGuire), and W. F. Carleton, left this week on their return to New York, after a pleasant visit to their native city. Mr. Carleton has been visiting relatives here and is no stranger because of fairly frequent visits, but Mr. Lewis, or McGuire, as his name properly is, has not been in St. John for about forty years. He is now a comedian of note in stage circles, last season having an important role in "High Jinks," a leading New York hit. He has also played in such other successes as "The Little Millionaire," "Sunshine Girl," "The Yankee Prince," "Little Johnnie Jones" and other musical comedy hits, besides having a most creditable career in minstrel and vaudeville circles. He has relatives in St. John, and met many friends who remembered him from his youth.

A graceful tribute was paid this week by the management of the Mack's Musical Revue at the Opera House to the audience, which nightly crowd the theatre, in that tableaux of a patriotic nature were given, and choruses of British national songs rendered by the visitors who are for the most part American. There was the very best of good feeling shown, and the audiences all seemed to appreciate to the fullest extent the action of the management in arranging the touches of English nationalism in song and tableau. The pantomimic pose representing England's army and navy was particularly effective, and its presentation with the Union Jack waving gaily was the signal for a loud and prolonged outburst of applause at every performance. One thing is certain, the management of the company, and the players themselves added greatly to their already well established popularity, by the numbers given and the surrounding scenic effects.

Henry W. Savage will operate an original method of routing his two companies in his operetta, "Sart" the coming season. While one is running in a big city the other will be appearing in adjacent territory. Thus, during the run of "Sart" at the Colonial Theatre in Boston the operetta will also be touring New England. When it is in Chicago it will be presented in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin.

Bernard Granville, who is playing at present in "The Passing Show of 1914" at the Winter Garden will be starred in the autumn by the Mosses Shubert in a new musical play. The engagement will be played at some theatre other than the Winter Garden.

Selwyn and Company have arranged to produce Edwin Milton Royle's new play, "Peace and Quiet," which is described as a novelty farce. At one time it was reported that William Faversham was to produce the play. "Florence Webster," who scored a hit in "The Climax" in St. John a few seasons ago has joined the Royster-Dudley Opera company at the Cape Theatre, Portland, Me. as prima donna, opening in "Naughty Marietta." A large and representative audience gave her an enthusiastic welcome. She will appear soon in "Mlle. Modiste."

Charles H. Roskam, who was here with them, and who has piloted the fortunes of the Chicago Stock company for many years, became attached to Wildwood, New Jersey, during a late engagement there that he invested in a beautiful home. Norber Dorente and Clara Belle Prase (Mrs. Dorente). Mr. Roskam's leading man and leading woman, who are well known in St. John, also fell for the lure of the sea, and have taken permanent apartments.

Geraldine Bonner and Hutcheson Boyd have won the $1,000 prize in the Morocco play contest which was inaugurated early last season for the best play by American authors. Miss Bonner and Mr. Boyd collaborated on a comedy called "Lady Elton," which was the choice of the judges of the contest. Elmer Harris, Richard Barry and Mr. Morocco. More than 8,000 manuscripts were submitted.

"Tipping the Winner" from the pen of George Hollitt, an English playwright, is the comedy selected for Edith Taliaferro as a co-starring vehicle with her sister. It is rumored that Charles Frohman's engagement of Marie Lohr means that she will be Mrs. Flo Ziegfeld's successor. Will poor Billie Burke now have to enter "The Passing Show?"

Hall Calne will be in New York in the fall for the premiere of the dramatization of his "The Woman Thou Gavest Me."

After devoting his attentions to vaudeville playlets for two seasons Paul Armstrong has written a play "The Heart of a Thief" which is to be produced by Charles Frohman early in October. Miss Martha Hedman will return next week from London, where she has been playing to complete plans for the principal woman's part.

Eugene Walter's play, produced last spring under the title of "A Plain Woman" will be known hereafter as "The Better Way."

Klaw & Erlanger have engaged Mme. Bertha Kalish for the part of Yvette in Eugene Brieux's play, "The Judge's Robe," which will produce in the autumn. This is the role played by Rene in Paris during the successful run of M. Brieux's drama in the French capital.

Anne Sutherland has been engaged by A. H. Woods for the principal woman's part, playing opposite Lew Fields, in "The High Cost of Loving."

Stephen Phillips' tragedy, "The Sin of David" produced in London last week by H. B. Irvine, received much praise from the critics.

FAVERSHAM NOW FOR THE MOVIES

Accepts Offer of The All Star Feature Corporation

A LOCAL FAVORITE

Clara Kimball Young is Descendant of the Famous Actor, John Kemble—Once Was Member of T. D. Frawley Company

William Faversham has cabled his acceptance of an offer made for his debut in motion pictures with the All-Star Feature Corporation, under the direction of Augustus Thomas, director-general of that concern. Since his leaving America the All-Star Company has been in constant touch with Mr. Faversham by cable, and word has just been received through his representative that he has accepted and signed the contract tendered by the All-Star Company.

The subject chosen as a vehicle for this popular star is "The World," a spectacular drama which enjoyed, in years gone by, a pronounced success as a theatrical attraction. The chief character in this production will give Mr. Faversham every opportunity to display the dramatic accomplishments for which he is famed.

Mr. Faversham's first stage appearance was in 1885 in England, and a short time after that he came to America, where he appeared in "The Prince and the Pauper," and as Valentine Day in "Featherbrain." In 1889 and 1892 he played Prince Haldenwald in "Aristocracy" under the direction of Charles Frohman. He has been seen among other successes in "Lord and Lady Algy," "Brother Officers," "The Younger Son," "Diplomacy," and as Romeo with Maude Adams in "Romeo and Juliet." His first appearance as a star was made in 1901 at the Criterion Theatre as Don Caesar in "A Royal Rival."

Helen Holmes, the Kalem lead who plays opposite J. P. McGowan at Glendale, is going to add to her own "animal farm" in the large grounds of her home. The carpenters are busy making a series of cages to hold her pets and a special home is being constructed for "Stripes," a big sidewinder snake presented to her by an old prospector from Death Valley.

James Lackaye, who for some time has been a valued member of the Vitagraph players, has withdrawn from pictures to act in support of Lew Fields in "A Royal Rival."

Ned Burton who for the last fourteen months has been a member of the Pathe Freres Stock Company, has been engaged to play the part of Horigan, the grafting politician in "The Man of the Hour" now being filmed at Fort Lee, N. J., by the Peerless Features Film Company, the new organization of the Brady-Shubert-Edlar companies.

Clara Kimball Young, who is a popular Vitagraph player in St. John, was born in Chicago. Her father, Edward M. Kimball of Scotch-English extraction, is a native of Wisconsin. Edward Kimball is a descendant of John, who spelled the name Kemble. John Kemble is buried in Westminster Abbey. Both he and his sister, Mary Siddons, were famous English actors.

Miss Young's mother, whose maiden name was Pauline Grenier, was born in Chicago and came of Canadian-French parentage. She was a descendant of Lord and Lady de Beauron on her mother's side her mother being pure Parisian French. Miss Young received her education in Chicago at St. Xavier Academy and at a convent. She appeared in public for the first time at the age of three, when she was carried on in a scene during a play being presented by an old repertoire company. Her dramatic experience was obtained mostly in stock. She was with the T. Daniel Frawley Stock company, Seattle, Wash.; the Ellsworth Stock Co. at Reno and Goldfield, Nev., for a year and a half, and with the Orpheum Players, Philadelphia. Miss Young has played important parts in several road combinations, the most notable being Henry B. Harris' production of "The Skylark" her first venture in the musical comedy field. She has also appeared in vaudeville.

To drift into moving pictures was most natural, and her advent with the Vitagraph Company was made doubly easy because of her beauty and adaptability to the camera. J. Stuart Blackton, vice-president of the Vitagraph Company saw a photograph of Miss Young, recognized the fact that she was one of the few beautiful women who took an excellent photograph, and immediately cognized the fact that she was one of the few beautiful women who took an excellent photograph, and immediately cognized the fact that she was one of the few beautiful women who took an excellent photograph.

SAFETY CITY NEWS Safety First! The chauffeurs and drivers of vehicles of all kinds should be most careful when crossing city streets. If they do not regard for their own safety, they will not take any chance cutting across the tracks in front of moving street cars. Now will they continue to drive on the tracks in front of cars after the first warning clang of the bell. The Battle Cry is on! All over the country the people are of one voice in the fight for "Safety First." More than two years ago we were telling motorists that Safety was the First Consideration in buying tires. We knew then, as we know now, that Dunlop Traction Tread is the one tire which ensures Safety in automobilizing. Dunlop Traction Tread having settled the point of the motorist's Safety, the battle cry is now tending to the Safety of "the man on the street." But Dunlop Traction Tread while protecting the motorist in his car also protects the pedestrian, even if he is negligent in his own regard, because perfect control of the car means perfect control of the situation. The Master Tire is always master of events.

THE LUMBER TRADE (Montreal Journal of Commerce) Bangor, Me., Aug. 8.—Never within the memory of the oldest riverman, not even in the panic years and dull times of 1874-75, 1891-92, 1908 and 1912 and 1913 has the lumber trade on the Penobscot river been so utterly lifeless as it has been thus far this season or the port of Bangor so bare of sailing tonnage.

This summer there have been many days when no sailing vessels either arrived or sailed, and neither the stevedores, the tug boats or the ship news reporters have had much to do, while few sailors are seen in the streets, and long ago the lumber offices of Exchange street gave way to clothing stores and other establishments, and only one or two of the brokers and chandlers remain in business.

The lumber survey of the port, which in 1913 exceeded 246,000,000 feet, had fallen in 1914 to less than that. Thirty years ago, of the vessels that came to Bangor, about 1,200 passed through the draw-bridge to load or discharge cargoes in the Kennebec stream. In 1913 the number had dwindled to 102.

Competition of Canadian and southern lumber and introduction of other materials for construction have done much to displace eastern spruce in the big markets, but a great deal of spruce, hemlock and other Maine woods is still used, and neither Bangor nor any other Maine manufacturing centre is getting its share of the business.

Various explanations are offered for the almost complete collapse of the once great lumber trade of this port, but they are neither convincing nor consoling to the men along the river who continue to wonder and lament at the passing of the good and busy old days.

Rioter's Quick Escape About twenty minutes after he had been arrested by Night Detective Lucas yesterday afternoon, Frederick Northrup, a local boxer, charged with being in the crowd of rioters and doing damage during the recent strike of car employees, made his escape by jumping through the window of the Chief of Police, J. P. H. Teed, his counsel, came to the central station about twenty minutes after Northrup had been arrested, and was permitted to talk with the prisoner in the office of Chief Clark. As soon as the police had retired, Northrup bolted through one of the windows in the office and before the alarm could be given by Mr. Teed, was well out on the street. Pursuit was given by Lucas and Special Policeman Kennedy, but he eluded them. Chief Clark relieved Mr. Teed of any responsibility in the matter.

USE THE WANT AD. WAY

The Man In The Street

One of the awful consequences of the strife that blossomed in Europe is the fact that we may not hear any German bands for some time.

Perhaps before the end of the week many a gallant young lad will be forced to tear himself away from his lady-love and jump into a uniform.

That the war and the duty of Canadians in the defence of the Empire is the predominant thought in most minds at present was brought out in the police court yesterday morning.

"Do you want to go?" the magistrate asked.

"Yes, your honor," promptly replied the witness.

"Well I guess that will be all right," the magistrate answered.

Happy should he be, whose coal bin is full.

The worst of this war talk is that it furnishes the tonsorial artist who clips our paragonic hair with another monologue success.

Gee! But Carabjal, Carranza, and some of these Mexican "warriors" must be sore. They're only mentioned about once a week now.

Why was it necessary to tear up so much ground in Main street?

Think of what China has done for the promotion of baseball! News notes say she ships each year $80,000 worth of peanuts.

With beefsteak 40 cents a pound in London, liver must be a popular article of diet.

At last the reason has been given. A critical observer who has seen the second editions of the Standard during the last few days, says today that the news probably getting experience in preparation for the issue of a real extra.

Convention of Osteopaths to be held this year in Philadelphia. Presume they will parade in spinal column.

News note says "700,000,000 eggs laid last year by hens in Minnesota" of which are very likely still in cold storage.

German measles will probably be more unwelcome than ever now.

Whoever ordered so much of Main street torn up at once is having nice things said about him in that neighborhood.

Callaghan? Callaghan? That's a name the Germans can't pronounce.

Speaking of going from custody yesterday a morning paper says: "His pursuers took a car, and the refugee got a greater lead." Moral: When in a hurry don't take a street car, until the road repairs are finished.

After having read of the great "army of the unemployed" in the far west, we have decided not to go forth to gather in the golden grain this fall.

The man in the street was wondering if the residents of St. John would notice a bombardment of the city if it did occur after. Wouldn't most of the folk murmur "More Courtenay Bay blasts" and go on with their work?

Just think of the overwhelming majority that would be registered for a candidate who would include the "unfortunates" in his election platform.

Not On Major Powers' Staff

A little knowledge is good but more is better. A group of passengers were waiting at a suburban station yesterday morning for the night express from Halifax.

It did not come but finally a freight train in the opposite direction was passing one of the men on the station platform exchanged rapid semaphore signals by the use of his arms with the engineer. The driver replied in the same fashion and the suburban turned to his waiting companions with the reassuring remark: "It's all right; they will cross the express at the next station." Only ten minutes later was not had and his friends thanked him with evident admiration for his skill as a railway signaller. His triumph was short-lived however, for he had scarcely given the message when the freight slowed down enough for the other to catch the verbal translation of the message which was to the effect that the express was coming along two hours behind her schedule. The signaller's stock fell below par as his companions prepared for the long tramp to the city instead of a ten minutes wait for the express.
