West Toronto elected Mr. Beatty, the Conservative Candidate for the Commons, when an election occurred there last summer, though by a greatly decreased majority as compared with the election of 1878. But shortly after the publication of the Pacific Railway Contract, the City Council, by a large vote passed resolutions against it. Following the meetings addressed by Mr. Blake and Sir Charles Tupper came the contest for the mayoralty. The Conservative Candidate was Mr. Close, recommended to the people as a Conservative by their great organ the Mail, who asked that he should be returned by an "old-fashioned Conservative majority." It would be satisfied with nothing less than this, as, otherwise, it would be claimed as a "Liberal reaction." Now, Mr. Close was the gentlemen who had been chosen to move the resolutions in favor of the Pacific Contract at Sir Charles Tupper's meeting and the result of the election for Mayor, was that the O! rapturous, o'erwhelming sight, In the vast Heavens revealed, Arching earth, winter-lad in white And what may lie concealed In the infinitude of space No ken of mortal man can trace!

Your voice, O! glorious stars, has gone O'er earth, a mystic sign, Ye tell of him who has his throne Where splendors grander shine, Ye tell of him who gave yon birth, God of the hosts of Heaven and earth. Ye tell of an Almighty hand, Earth's coronal of spheres! Whose power no creature can withstand Eternity whose years, Who ruleth and preserveth all Without whom to the ground can fall.

No chirping bird; ye tell how wise is the omgiscient mind Who could the universe devise, in order who could bind Harmonious, the myriad spheres, Rolling in space, through myriad years! Ye tell of love ineffable, Ye tell of love ineffable,
That God, the great eternal God
Should send his only Son to dwell
In this sin-blighted uan's abode
And die for those he came to save
And cheer, with hope's glad light, the grave.
