AMERICAN SHELLS SMASHING INTO METZ

City Which Germany Stole From France in 1870 Likely To Fall.

FORMIDABLE HUN FORTS ALREADY UNDER FIRE

Civilians Have Been Injured in the City Although Present Attack Is Strictly Limited To Fortifications.

By Wilbur Forrest. (Special Cable to the Tribune and Standard, Copyright, 1918, by New York Tribune, Inc.)

With the American Army in Lorraine, Sept. 23.—The Americans are occasionally shelling the fortifications of the German stronghold of Metz. From a high observation post I have been able to look along the Moselle River in the Valley of Moselle, as it winds and curves from France into Germany. Distinctly in the distance lies Metz with its great single-spired cathedral projecting into the sky while by its shimmering light could be seen the chimneys with tumble buildings sitting beneath them in the river valley. On the right and left of the city great hills which climb almost abruptly from the suburbs told where the formidable German forts of Metz sit in guard of the city which was stolen from France in 1870. The bursts of late afternoon sunshine through the shifting clouds brought out the small white houses on the hillside and equally discernible were the forbidding black gun positions of these hill fortresses.

Port Wagner was nearest our observation post and it was this fort the Americans shelled. The heavy crash of cannons behind us, the scream of missile over our heads, then the faint black smoke burst on the fort and we were told by the watch that from France to Germany it took something like thirty-seven seconds.

CLERGYMAN IS ARRESTED AS A DRAFT EVADER

Windsor, Ontario, Has a Sensation in the Arrest of Prominent Methodist Divine.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 23.—Rev. George Kersey, pastor of the Howard Avenue Methodist Church, was turned over to the military officers, to be sent to London, this afternoon, as a defaulter, under the M. S. A. He was arrested Saturday, but freed temporarily to take charge of his services Sunday. He registered under the national registration act and had been categorized "A" by a medical board, but had failed to comply with the provisions of the Military Service Act. He is single, but is said to be above the age limit of the class for service thus far. It is claimed that he failed to comply through ignorance.

CONSERVATIVES AVOID A WAR-TIME ELECTION

Woodstock, Ont., Sept. 23.—Nominations were held this afternoon for the North Oxford vacancy in the Ontario Legislature. John A. Calder, the Liberal nominee, was the only candidate proposed, and was declared duly elected for the seat by the deputy returning officer, E. L. Sutherland.

APPALLING CONDITION IN RUSSIA

Stories of Wholesale Slaughter of Former Officers "Dangerous To Soviet" Told By Refugees.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Stories of wholesale slaughter of responsible people and former officers because they are "dangerous to the Soviet," are told in further accounts reaching the state department today of the reign of terror in Russian cities against which the American government has called upon all civilized nations to protest. All persons coming out of Russia are said to bring reports of the existence of appalling conditions. One detail is that the former officers are shot at night in the collars, the guns being muffled with silencers. One Peter, head of the Bolshevik extraordinary commission against counter-revolutions, is said to sign death warrants without reading the papers. The latest reports indicate that the British and French consul generals in Moscow are under arrest in their houses. American Consul General Poole is at liberty and permitted to visit his colleagues. Mr. Poole, today's report says, is being generally praised for his courageous and vigorous action.

FRENCH ARMY NOW ON LEFT BANK OF THE OISE

German Evacuated Venduill and General Debeney's Men Completed Conquest of That Sector.

With the French Army in France, Sept. 23.—(2:30 p.m. by the Associated Press)—The French now hold the left bank of the Oise for more than half the distance from Laferre to Moy.

General Debeney's troops captured the woods north of Ly-Pontaine last evening, and his patrols went through Venduill to the Oise. The Germans had evacuated Venduill under menace of being cornered there with their backs to the river by the French advancing toward the river in the region of Ly-Pontaine. The French about the same time reached the quarries just north of Travecy, which completed the conquest of the west bank of the Oise in that region.

Canada Adopts Allied War Loaf

Twenty Per Cent of Substitutes Must Be Used With Wheat Flour — Food Board Issues Memorandum.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—Canada has adopted the Allied war loaf. Twenty per cent. of substitutes must be used with wheat flour.

Announcing this policy, an official memorandum says:

"The Canada Food Board, after full consideration of the matter, has adopted the policy of the Allied food controllers' resolution, as far as wheat products are concerned, and will use the Allied loaf. This means that twenty per cent. of substitutes must be used with wheat flour. The government heartily approves this policy. While the crops in Europe and the United States have been, considering everything, excellent, this year, and while there is a sufficiency of food in sight to meet our requirements for the next twelve months, nevertheless there is the greatest need for conservation, particularly in flour and wheat, for the purpose of creating a reserve sufficient against widespread unfavorable harvests or other unfavorable food conditions next year. The government, therefore, hopes the people of Canada will heartily and loyally assist to this end by using in their households, the amount of substitutes required under the regulations."

ALLENBY'S FORCES MAKE A CLEAN SWEEP OF TURKS

Victory in Palestine Most Complete of Any Reported Since Outbreak of War.

THE HOLY LAND FREE OF THE "UNBELIEVER"

Wonderful Success Comes To British — 25,000 Prisoners Already Counted and It Is Believed Whole Turkish Army Will Be Wiped Out.

By Arthur S. Draper. (Special cable to the New York Tribune and the St. John Standard.) (Copyright, 1918, New York Tribune, Inc.)

London, Sept. 23.—The news from the minor fronts is exceptionally fine. With today's reports the story of the destruction of the Turkish seventh and eighth armies in Palestine is almost complete. Allenby has shorted the Turkish army and has already gathered in 25,000 of the 43,000 Turks south of Nazareth and west of the Jordan. Allowing for the killed and wounded, who are not included in the 25,000, it is plain that the British general has made a clean sweep.

Guns numbering 260, and stores of ammunition, clothing, food and transport vehicles have been captured. It is possible that the haul of prisoners eventually may number more than 35,000. Falkenhayn, whose headquarters are at Aleppo, has suffered a grave defeat. No enemy army before has been so humbled in this war.

With the capture of Jisr Damieh, the Turks' last exit is closed. From the Balkan front the news is almost equally as good. The first Bulgarian army now faces possible disaster. Its communication with the forces based on Dolran has been cut by the Serbo-French forces. Unless it can make a wide detour and cross the Vardar some twenty miles above Demirkap, which the Allies hold, the Bulgarian first army is threatened with destruction.

Though the Germans were helping the Bulgars, they were unable to stem the advance, and Saturday the Uskub Railway was cut. Another line from Gradsko to Prilep has been cut. In six days the Serbs have advanced forty miles.

QUEBEC DID WELL IN K. OF C. DRIVE

Private subscriptions in this city amounted to $25,000; the Quebec city council, $5,000; Quebec provincial government, $25,000; Three Rivers, over $7,000; La Tuque, $2,500. The town of Lewis has not yet been heard from nor the rural districts but the committee state that excellent results are looked for over night.

Constantinople Is Heavily Bombed By British Airmen

London, Sept. 23.—Constantinople was bombed by the British Royal Air Force Friday and Saturday of last week, according to an official communication issued by the Admiralty tonight. The statement says: "The Greeks co-operated in the bombing of Constantinople on Sept. 20 and 21, and dropped thousands of leaflets into Stamboul. A balloon shot down in the European operations in flames, set fire to three hangars, which were burned out."

JAPS TAKE SIBERIAN CITY AND 2,000 AUSTRO-GERMANS

War Summary By The A. P.

New York, Sept. 23.—The Associated Press tonight issued the following: Hard days are everywhere upon the Teutonic allies.

In Palestine the Turks are all but absolutely crushed; in Macedonia the Entente forces are harrying their foes and threatening them with similar disaster; in France the British and French troops slowly, but surely, are eating their way into the vitals of the German defensive positions, the collapse of which would result in important changes all along the western battle-front and in Eastern Siberia the Japanese have made additional strides forward in the process of reclaiming that territory for the Russians.

In all the theatres of the war the Entente Allies have the initiative in their hands and are pressing their advantage rigorously. The Germans and their allies nowhere are able to do more than stand on the defensive. And in Palestine and Macedonia their efforts in this respect have proved sorry ones.

From north of Jerusalem to the Sea of Galilee in the territory lying between the River Jordan and the Mediterranean Sea, the Ottoman forces have been caught by the swift drive of the British General Allenby's armies and virtually annihilated. Added to the heavy casualties suffered by the Turks hordes of them were made prisoners, and many more are wandering bewildered, without leaders, in the hills, eventually to be brought in to swell the "great total." At last accounts more than 25,000 of the Sultan's soldiers and 280 guns and large quantities of war stores were in British hands.

To add to the demoralization of the Turkish morale, Allied aviators are carrying out successful bombing raids against Constantinople. Over a front of eighty miles in Continued on page two.

First Notable Success of Allied Campaign in Siberia.

London, Sept. 23.—(By The Associated Press)—Blagoviestchensk, capital of the Siberian province of Amur and Alexievsk has been occupied by Japanese cavalry, according to information received by the Japanese embassy. Two thousand Austro-Germans were taken prisoner. They laid down their arms at Kokka.

The information, which was given out by the Japanese military attaché, is to the effect that Blagoviestchensk and Alexievsk were occupied by Japanese cavalry converging from Khabarovsk and Tselistlar September 18. Troops moving up the Amur river reached Blagoviestchensk the following day.

Kokka, where the Austro-Germans laid down their arms, is on the right bank of the Amur opposite Blagoviestchensk.

Another enemy formation has retreated to the upper reaches of the Zoya river.

BELGIAN ARMY AGAIN ON DECK

Belgians on Yser Resisting German Attack With the Energy of 1914.

Paris, Sept. 23.—The Belgian official statement issued tonight says: "During the last two nights the enemy artillery was very active along the whole region north of the Yser, where he carried out harassing fires and shelled our batteries and communications. Our artillery replied energetically."

A vigorous attack attempted against one of our outposts on the night of September 21-22 completely failed against our fire. The same night several of our cantonments were bombed by airplanes."

SERBIANS TAKE 10,000 PRISONERS

London, Sept. 23.—(5:20 p.m. Macedonia)—The Serbians have captured between nine thousand and one hundred and twenty guns, the Evening Standard says it learns.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Serbian forces in Macedonia reached the Vardar River last Saturday and besides cutting the railroad line to Saloniki there they also crossed the Cerina River and cut the road at Deonauville, Gradsko and Prilep, the principal communications with the German army. This information is contained in the Serbian official statement for yesterday received tonight by the Serbian legation. The statement says:

"In a victorious advance forcing the retreat of all Bulgarian and German reserves the Serbian army on September 21, had reached the Vardar River. It has already begun to transfer certain detachments to the left side of the river and by that means cutting the principal railway line which connects the Serbian town of Skopje (Uskub) with Saloniki. Some of the Serbian troops have crossed the Cerina River and have cut the road at Deonauville, Gradsko and Prilep, the principal communications of the German-Bulgarian army."

"The strategic advantages, owing to the interruption of the enemy's principal communications as well as the complete piercing of the enemy's front are enormous and begin to have an influence on the neighboring sectors."

"From September 15 to the 22nd the Serbian army has advanced in a straight line 65 kilometers. Some of the infantry troops, after emerging from the mountain have advanced up to forty kilometers daily. A number of prisoners and quantities of war material captured are constantly increasing."

"RODDY" LEMIEUX DIED MAN'S DEATH

Montreal, Sept. 23.—Hon. Roderic Lemieux, formerly postmaster general in the Laurier government, whose son "Roddy" was killed in action on the 29th of August last, has received from the chaplain of the regiment, Captain J. J. Desjardins, a letter describing his son's last moments.

The letter says in part: "On the 28th August Roddy went over the top and was encouraging his men to attack when he was struck by a bullet in the abdomen. The surgeon declared the wound fatal. On the 29th the last rites of the church were administered and his last words were: 'Dites leur que j'ai fait mon devoir' (tell them I did my duty.) To the nurse he said 'give mother my love. Tell her I have done a man's part.'"

SQUEEZING THE PINNERS TIGHTER ON ST. QUENTIN

Enemy Strongholds Have Also Been Cleared Out on Line To Cambrai in Successful Local Actions.

London, Sept. 23.—The British have captured a German strong point northeast of Epehy, which has resisted for several days, according to Field Marshal Haig's report from headquarters tonight.

The statement says: "By a successful local operation this morning northeast of Epehy we captured a German strong point which had been stubbornly defended for the past three days."

"North of this locality a hostile counter-attack in the morning succeeded in entering our positions at one point, where a party of the enemy is still holding out. Elsewhere the attack was repulsed."

The British have also captured some ground southeast of Villers-Guislain, on the front southwest of Cambrai, and have cleared out several enemy strongholds northeast of Ronsoy after hard fighting which lasted the greater part of Sunday night.

"The Germans last evening delivered a counter-attack at Berthaucourt, near Fontenay, supported by heavy artillery fire. A sharp infantry engagement followed in which the Germans pushed forward into some of the British defences. An immediate counter-attack, however, completely restored the situation."

Aviators Active.

London, Sept. 23.—The British official communication dealing with aerial operations on the western front, issued tonight says:

"Four of our bombs were dropped on the Valenciennes air-drome."

"With the British Army in France, Sept. 23.—The continuous efforts of the enemy to dislodge the British from their positions about Epehy, which gravely threaten the Hindenburg line, have resulted in hard local fighting with the odds in favor of the British. The British troops have clung tenaciously to their new defences, while the weary and weakened Germans keep desperately hammering at them. The engagements reported along the remainder of the front have been of little consequence."

Mr. Gompers, who was first received alone, had a chat with the king on the subject of labor problems and the mission of the American labor leader to England. Subsequently the king saw all the members of the mission together. Queen Mary joined them later.

"Their Majesties engaged in conversation with the members of the mission for more than an hour both expressing high appreciation of the attitude of labor toward the war and wishing the visitors a safe return home."

BRITISH SUCCESS IN PALESTINE COMPLETE

The Whole Turkish Army Is or Will Be In The Casualty Lists

Allenby Has Trapped 40,000 For Whom There Is No Means of Escape—The Quickest Clean-Up of the Entire War—Turks Deprived of Holy Land—25,000 Prisoners Already Counted.

London, Sept. 23.—(4 p.m.)—Twenty-five thousand Turkish prisoners and 250 guns had been counted up to yesterday evening by General Allenby's forces pushing northward through Palestine, according to an official statement issued today by the war office.

The war office announcement says that the 7th and 8th Turkish armies have virtually ceased to exist. The entire transport of these two armies was captured by the British.

London, Sept. 23.—Reports from the Palestine front this afternoon indicate that none of the Turkish forces of at least 40,000 men trapped by the British through the seizure of the last of the passages of the Jordan can possibly get away.

Virtually the entire Turkish force is or will be accounted for in killed, wounded and prisoners. Hundreds of stragglers are being found wandering about in the mountainous country aimlessly, without a leader or a purpose.

The Turks had seven divisions south of Nazareth and west of the Jordan, but the exact total cannot be determined owing to the weakness of the totals of the different units varying. The total of 25,000 prisoners reported, however, is believed to be far less than the final count will show, as at last reports prisoners were still being brought out.

The clean-up effected by General Allenby, which is pointed to here as the quickest and most complete of the entire war, is counted as having definitely deprived the Turks of Palestine. In addition, besides the personnel of their army, the defeat has cost them an immense amount of war material. So far as is known the Turks on this front, only had four airplanes, and these four have been captured.

London, Sept. 23.—The victory of General Allenby, in Palestine, is hailed as a model in conception and execution. It is the most complete of any hitherto attained by the Allies in any theatre. General Allenby's consummate use of cavalry is especially praised by military critics here. The immediate effect of the victory is the liberation of the Holy Land, for it is anticipated that General Allenby will have little difficulty in entirely clearing Northern Palestine and be able to relieve his communications by establishing a sea base at Haifa, whence the railway runs to Beisan and Damascus. Thus, the whole Turkish railway system in Southern Syria is controlled by the Anglo-French forces in Palestine.

The Turkish disaster is bound to have the most profound reaction in Constantinople and Sofia, and compromise the situation of the Turks in Mesopotamia. It will likely terminate the Turkish adventures in Persia and the Caucasus.

New York Jews to Celebrate.

New York, Sept. 23.—The liberation of Palestine by the British forces, will be celebrated here by a demonstration at Carnegie Hall next Sunday night, at which Secretary of the Navy Daniels is expected to speak. It was announced today by the Zionist Council of Greater New York.

Significance is added to the celebration, the council says, by the fact that the Jewish legion, probably including the American contingent, is actively participating in the Palestine drive, which so far has liberated all of Samaria and parts of Lower Galilee. The capture of Kfar Saba has brought relief to 3,000 starving Jewish refugees, who fled before the advancing Turks to that place, it is stated.

British raids of fifteen miles farther north will result in liberation of all the Jewish colonies in Palestine with the exception of a few farms located near Lake Kinnereth, the statement adds.

BURIAN HAS NOT GIVEN UP PEACE HOPES

Austrian Foreign Minister Not Surprised at Allied Action.

DID NOT EXPECT AN ACCEPTANCE AT ONCE

But Feels Sure His Proposals For Peace Conference will Bear Good Results in Future.

Amsterdam, Sept. 23.—(By the A.P.)—In an interview with Theodore Wolf in the Berlin Tageblatt, Baron Burian, Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, said he was not surprised at the reception of his peace note, naturally he did not suppose that the Entente would straight away declare readiness to enter into peace negotiations.

"In a situation like the present," declared the minister, "it is sometimes necessary to clarify things by means of a reagent. The note was such a reagent. It has already produced remarkable phenomena and will do so still more in the near future.

"Very extraordinary, for instance, was the remarkable rapidity of President Wilson's reply. Clearly President Wilson wanted to anticipate the other Entente governments. He always had the ambition to be a world arbitrator, and has not abandoned that ambition since the United States entered the war as the result of the U-boat warfare. Hence he sent out his fourteen points, and in addition, twice four, that is, altogether, twenty-two, which are to be authoritative for the new arrangement of the world.

"I do not suggest that he is insincere, but one could instance many cases where America herself has fulfilled against the principles he formulated, for example, the treatment of Columbia and the seizure of Texas. But, after all, large regions were thereby opened to civilization. I will only say that it does not do to be always contrasting our actions with the views expressed by President Wilson's points."

Baron Burian attributed President Wilson's haste in reply to his desire to prevent an agreement between Great Britain and France, and declared that it would serve no purpose to reply to speeches like Mr. Balfour's and Premier Clemenceau's.

With regard to the date of despatching the note, he said: "There was complete agreement between us and Germany. There were certain divergencies of opinion, but they did not concern the date of despatching the note. We do not want to reproach ourselves later with having neglected anything. The note has had the subsidiary effect of dragging into the light of day the situation in the opposing camp and its non-success will prevent me from further following the road entered upon. We shall take the next step when the time seems suitable, and always in the fullest accord with our allies."

GOMPERS STANDS FIRMLY AGAINST TALKS WITH ENEMY

By Arthur S. Draper.

(Special Cable to The Tribune and St. John Standard, Copyright, 1918, New York Tribune, Inc.) London, Sept. 23. (Delayed)—After today's session of the International Labor Conference, Samuel Gompers declared to me that he had purposely omitted from his war aims speech any reference to a conference with enemy workers, because he saw no use in introducing this controversial question at this stage of the proceedings.

"But," he added, "if anyone proposes such a meeting he will soon see where the American delegates stand. I think our visits had a great effect among the working men in England, that is the real trade unionists. I don't think there is now any danger of talking against any intervention, which advocates of such a proceeding are now very proud of the fact that they wanted to do so."

"My wish has been to reach the real working man and not follow merely the froth at the top of the British labor movement. We cannot prevent them doing what they wish to do, but no one can coerce us. I have not changed in my loyalty to labor, I could not change even if I would, for it is the very breath of my soul. We are for the Allies with all our hearts, but first of all we are for Americans and nobody can make us do anything we do not want to do."

Americans Have Not Retreated.

Mr. Henderson said in replying to the question of whether he considered an omission by Mr. Gompers of any reference to conferences with enemy delegates as a retreat from their former position.

"The Americans have not retreated or changed their views in any way, but if they decide not to bring up this controversial point, there is no reason why we should do so on our side and the situation will stand that any meeting with the enemy delegates must comply with the conditions adopted by the Blackpool Congress.

The delegates at today's session unanimously agreed that the Allies should not adopt a purely negative attitude towards the Austrian peace note, and called upon the Entente governments to subscribe to President Wilson's fourteen points for peace, thereby "adopting a policy of clearness and moderation as opposed to a policy dictated by changes of the wind."

MONGTON LAD A "LOTHARIO" AND A THIEF

Special to The Standard.

Moncton, N.B., Sept. 23.—Vernon McAulay, a young man about 25 years of age, who had been employed in the Sumner Company's warehouse, has disappeared, and the police today were told a long tale of his alleged misdeeds by a young woman, with whom he had been living as man and wife.

McAulay came here about two months ago from New Glasgow. He was accompanied by a young woman named Pauline Hollis, and they have since been boarding a few miles out of town. On Sunday, McAulay suddenly left town, leaving the girl behind.

To the police she told her story, which was to the effect that McAulay had burglarized places in New Glasgow, and also had stolen goods from the Sumner warehouse, where he was employed. She further informed the police that she and McAulay weren't married, but that the latter had a wife in New Glasgow.

Today the police searched the house at Cook's Brook, where McAulay lived, and found the articles that were stolen from the Sumner Company's warehouse.

The Hollis girl told the police that McAulay burglarized the Carmichael residence in New Glasgow, and also a store in Trenton. She alleged that he stole $107.00 in July, from "Candy Land," in New Glasgow. Chief Rideout has wired the information to New Glasgow. The whereabouts of McAulay are unknown.

Med Jonah, a watchman in the shell factory, was arrested today charged with stealing goods from the shell bondhouse. He pleaded guilty, and is being held for sentence.

WAR SUMMARY

Southern Serbia from Monastir to Lake Doiran, the Entente troops are vigorously assailing the Bulgarians and Germans. Already in the swift drive in the centre a great spearhead has been pushed by the Serbians across the Istib-Pripet Road, cutting communications between the Bulgarian army and the northeast of Monastir and that in the Lake Doiran region. Unofficial reports are to the effect that the Serbs have taken between 9,000 and 10,000 prisoners and 120 guns.

In the region between Monastir and the Vardar the enemy troops are in full retreat before the Italian, French and Serbian, while west of Doiran the British are steadily hammering their way forward, driving the enemy northward, toward the Bulgarian front.

Already the entire enemy line from Doiran to a point west of the Vardar has been evacuated. This force of the enemy, with the withdrawal to the north severed, seemingly is in danger of an enveloping movement unless it turns sharply eastward and presses into Bulgaria through the mountains.

Not so spectacular, but of vital importance, have been the operations of the French and British from the south of St. Quentin to Cambrai. Both the French General Debenney and Field Marshal Haig have won highly essential ground in the manoeuvre which have as their objectives the obliteration of the Hindenburg line, the capture of St. Quentin and the turning of the German line at Laon.

South of St. Quentin the French have advanced their line to the west bank of the Oise Canal over a front of three miles, and now completely outflank St. Quentin on the south of Laferre on the north. Meanwhile Field Marshal Haig north of St. Quentin around the village of Epehy has taken strong positions from the enemy.

Jerome, Ariz., Sept. 23.—Two persons were killed and two wounded in a clash between Americans and Mexicans today near the properties of the United Verde Copper Company here.

Horace A. Harris, a mine guard, was killed by an unidentified Mexican and in the fighting which followed Americans killed the murderer.

CONSIDERABLE STIFFENING OF THE GERMAN MORALE

The Germans, Slow To Accept Rebuff, And Are Still Manoeuvring Politically

Approach of Reichstag's Opening Finds Morale of Army and People Improved—Peace Party Gaining Strength As Result of General Unrest.

AN IMPERTINENT PROPOSAL FOR AN ALLEGED LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Clerical Member of Reichstag Submits Scheme and Invites Criticism—No Possibility of Allies Considering Peace Until Germans Abandon Their Present Frame of Mind.

(By Arthur S. Draper)
(Special to the New York Tribune and the St. John Standard.)
(Copyright, 1918, New York Tribune, Inc.)

London, Sept. 22.—Though the Allied governments made flat refusal to the Austrian note, the political manoeuvring of the Central Powers has not come to an end. The main committee of the Reichstag met Friday, while the Reichstag itself is scheduled to reassemble on October 1. When the Socialist "Vorwarts" uses language of the Pan-German party in commenting on the Allied reply to the peace offer, it is plain that the morale of the Germans has been stiffened considerably.

But the present directors of Germany evidently contemplate making changes in the government which they think will counteract the German unrest. The Germans have recovered from the ease of fright with which they were seized a month ago. They are recovering some of their confidence which had dropped rather low while their armies were retreating on many fronts and the Allies were capturing thousands of prisoners daily. German morale has improved both on the battle and home fronts. Unless this fact is recognized and admitted the Allied peoples are in danger of experiencing some disappointments in the next few months. The German army won't surrender tomorrow, and the German people, not to mention their rulers, are not prepared to accept the terms which the Allies would demand.

Unrest in Germany. state or takes up arms without having applied to the arbitration court or awaited its judgment, or which takes up arms instead of accepting its judgment.

Stipulations. Members of the league would undertake to cut down and steadily reduce their land, naval and aerial forces, according to a fixed standard to be agreed upon. They would undertake not to use their forces for any other objects than the maintenance of internal order, defence of their territory against attack and for joint execution of the league's mandates.

Bread rations are to be increased on October 1, and a special effort is being made to improve the economic situation, especially among the poorer classes. Germany is clearing houses, though some of it will occupy new places. The Entente leaders are not underestimating the strength of Germany, and there are no longer any foolish stories concerning starvation and revolution. Anyone who doubts German power and courage needs only to talk with the British soldiers who have been fighting on the plains of Picardy.

No Collapse Before Christmas. Anyone who expects a collapse of the German home front before Christmas is doomed to disappointment. The Reichstag is almost certain to play a part in the peace manoeuvring, but with no more success than has attended Karl's efforts, because neither side is ready to consider peace.

Although Europe will have a rough winter, sheer momentum will carry the war into next spring. Though the Entente has the upper hand of the submarine, the shipping situation is still a troublesome problem. Industrial unrest in England is slowly disappearing, but is still a cause for worry.

An Impertinent Proposal. Amsterdam, Sept. 22.—A draft of a constitution for a league of nations, worked out in detail by Mathias Erzberger, clerical member of the German Reichstag, is published in the "Vorwarts" of Berlin. It is taken from a book entitled "The League of Nations—the way to peace," which Erzberger will publish soon.

The first section of this constitution, dealing with the organization of such a league, says:

"Any sovereign state can enter the league, which shall be considered to have been formed when the following powers are among those who have announced adherence:—Germany, Great Britain, France, the United States and Russia."

No Colonial Troops. Members of the league would renounce the raising of troops in colonial territories. All states with colonies situated in Africa would be perpetually neutral states.

The third section, dealing with the league's executive department, provides that, in event of offences members will proceed against the violator of the constitution, first by severance of diplomatic relations; second, complete isolation of the offender by closing frontiers to imports, exports, postal and railroad traffic, and third, in given circumstances by blockade. The same measures would be taken against any hostile menace of a federated state from a non-member. Should the offending state cross its frontiers with hostile intent against one or more members of the league, joint military and marine assistance would be given.

Erzberger invites criticisms of his plan, as well as practical counter proposals.

London's Opinion. London, Sept. 22.—The article by Mathias Erzberger on the league of nations, just published in Berlin, is looked upon here as another move in the enemy's peace offensive. "Herr Erzberger," says the West-

An Atlantic Port, Sept. 23.—A large German submarine, which was lying in wait for trans-Atlantic vessels, 500 miles off the American coast, is believed to have been put out of commission, and perhaps sunk, by the United States shipping board steamer, Nansmond.

The encounter, according to the Nansmond's master, Captain Wm. MacLeod, began at 12.45 p.m., September 19, and lasted 45 minutes. Thirty-four shots were fired by the submarine, the third of which, a six inch shell, fired at a three mile range, was followed by the eruption from the submarine of a cloud of black smoke mingled with sulphur. Immediately afterwards had shown only her periscope, bobbed to the surface, and made slowly off. Captain MacLeod and his men are of the opinion that they scored a damaging hit.

BULGARS APPROVE PLANS OF VIENNA

Say Proposal Corresponds Entirely With Aspirations of Bulgarian People.

Amsterdam, Sept. 23.—Bulgaria's reply to the Austrian peace note says among other things: "This initiative corresponds entirely with the aspirations of the Bulgarian government and people. The Bulgarian government hasten to express their readiness to send delegates to such a conference. We seek neither conquest nor the establishment of hegemony over our neighbors."

The note concludes with an expression of sympathy with President Wilson's views on the settlement of Balkan conflicts in accordance with the rights of nationalities.

PERSHING'S MESSAGE TO U. S. LABOR MEN

"With Organized Labor Behind Us Victory Is Assured" Cables American Commander.

New York, Sept. 23.—A cable message from General Pershing, in which he asserted that "with organized labor behind us, victory is assured," was received here tonight by the New York State Federation of Labor, in reply to a pledge of support recently sent to the American commander.

The cable message thanked the federation for its congratulations on the St. Mihiel victory, and its promise to keep an uninterrupted supply of war materials moving overseas.

Minister Gazette, "is not a man whom we can trust, but his appearance as an official despatch sent out from the Prussian art is always interesting, if only as an indication of the mood of his masters."

The newspaper recalls that last year this contrast leader presented himself as the author of the famous Reichstag resolutions waiving annexations and indemnities, "which were thrown into the scrap heap at Brest-Litovsk and their ashes scattered by the winds when the March offensive appeared to be developing favorably."

PLANNING TO CONSERVE THE FUEL SUPPLY

Fuel Controller Holds Conference At Ottawa With Representatives of Canadian Industry.

Ottawa, Sept. 22.—A conference and investigation extending over some days has just been concluded between C. A. Magrath, fuel controller for Canada, and representatives of clay-working, cement, phonograph, musical instrument, automobile, enamelware, florists, window glass and brewing industries. The conference was also attended by Mr. J. E. Walsh, transportation manager, Canadian Manufacturers' Association, of Toronto.

At the close of the conference representatives of the various industries submitted written statements dealing with the whole question of fuel consumption, and the special conditions surrounding each industry. These representations are now receiving the careful consideration of the fuel controller, and after certain further information on the subject has been gathered and compiled he will make his ruling as to the measure of restriction that will be imposed in each case.

Shortly before the conference the fuel controller met representatives of the Canadian railways, with a view to discussing fuel economies in the operation of Canada's transportation system. The whole subject was carefully canvassed and Mr. Magrath was gratified to find that economies have already been brought into force which, it is anticipated, will result in savings of approximately 50 per cent. of the amount by which Canada's bituminous coal supply for the current coal year has been reduced. It is expected that the restriction of industries of a less essential character will result in a further saving, which will render a sufficient tonnage of industrial coal available for necessary industrial work.

CANADIANS IN U. S. ASK EXEMPTION

More Than 500 Applications Already Under the "Slackers" Treaty.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—Five hundred applications for exemption from military service under the "slackers" treaty, have been received from Canadians resident in the United States. Under the terms of the treaty, Canadians in the States or Americans resident in Canada and liable to military service, must either report for duty or claim exemption. In the case of Canadian residents over the border, claims for exemption are forwarded to the British embassy in Washington and thence passed on here, where they are examined by L. J. Loranger, of the military service council, recently appointed superior court judge at Joliette, Que. Mr. Loranger is adjudicating on the claims at the instance of the British embassy.

From claims so far examined, it is expected that perhaps fifty per cent. will be granted. In the main, the procedure follows that of exemption tribunals established in Canada and the military service act.

LAUNCHING OF THE WAR MATANE

Quebec, Sept. 23.—The War Matane, the fourth standard wooden steamer built by the Quinlan and Robertson at their Limoulin yards on the St. Charles River, was launched successfully at 5.30 o'clock tonight amidst the tooting of horns, factory and railroad engine whistles. The War Matane, which was christened by Mrs. W. J. Morton, wife of W. J. Morton, chief engineer of the marine engines department, of the Imperial Munitions Board, is a 3,000 ton steamer measuring 261 feet. Her keel was laid on May 15 and she took to the water slightly over four months later.

ITALIANS AND FRENCH BRING IN PRISONERS

Austrian Positions Destroyed in Fighting on Asiago Plateau—Many Prisoners Taken.

Rome, Sept. 23.—On the Asiago Plateau, on the Italian mountain front, French troops in a local attack have destroyed and damaged the Austrian defensive systems east of Mont Stemel, says the war office official announcement today. The French captured 100 prisoners and five machine guns. In a raid north of Asiago the British troops brought back prisoners. The statement reads:

"Artillery activity was intense at times along the Piave. There was a harassing fire at several points on the remainder of the front. In the Ledro Valley we drove back an enemy patrol, and captured an outpost."

"On the Asiago Plateau the French carried out a brilliant local attack to the east of Mont Stemel this morning. They penetrated deeply into the enemy lines, destroyed and damaged their defensive systems and inflicted heavy losses on the garrison. One hundred prisoners were taken as well as five machine guns. A British party brought back prisoners captured in a daring raid into the hostile lines north of Asiago. Two hostile airplanes were brought down."

GHASTLY FIND NEAR QUEBEC

Quebec, Q. Sept. 23.—Laborers Saturday unearthed two human skulls and other bones, near the Old Church at Lauzon. It is believed these are the skeletons of British soldiers interred there some two hundred years ago, for, some time ago old time cannon balls and other relics were found there.

A LAND OF DESOLATION.

It is reported from Washington, as published elsewhere in this morning's issue of The Standard, that travellers escaping from Russia report the existence of an appalling condition. Responsible men are being executed because they are suspected of being in opposition to the Soviet government and altogether that once great country is in a state of absolute chaos.
But Russia will not commence to feel the full weight of the misery brought about by the Bolshevik successes until winter sets in. What that country will then be like is a picture of which no one who has not lived there since the adoption of Bolshevik rule can form the slightest conception.
Even the carefully prepared Bolshevik news, which is, in addition, censored by Germany, since Germany controls the telegraph lines, gives us an idea of riot and bloodshed, anarchy and terrorism, famine and pillage, which seems the last step in the disintegration of a people.
But when these horrors are added the horrors of a winter without food or clothing, except such as can be taken by force from their possessors; when in many districts food will not be in existence even in the form of force; when to the universal reign of anarchy is added the daily threat of execution at the whim of irresponsible bodies of self-appointed judges, without scruple, without intelligence, who are merely the expression in the highest degree of criminal brutality, the picture of residence in the Russia of today must remain indescribable.
Some hint of it is given by James Keeley, the former proprietor of the Chicago Herald, who has been conducting an investigation of conditions in Russia for the United States Government.

SPANISH INFLUENZA.

What is popularly called "Spanish influenza" is now prevalent in several sections of the United States. Where the disease has appeared cases have been numerous, says The Detroit Free Press, but the mortality is low. An epidemic of influenza swept Spain and invaded several other countries last winter. From medical investigations it has been determined that the malady is an acute form of la grippe, which more than a quarter of a century ago was epidemic first in China, then in Russia, and eventually swept over the civilized world. At its first appearance la grippe caused many deaths. As it came to be better understood and treated it lessened in virulence year by year. It seems in this recurrence to have regained some of its old severity.
Dr. Rupert Blue, of the United States health service, has lately made a telegraphic survey of the situation in the United States and has sent out instructions and warnings to physicians and people, that the ailment may be so combated as to reduce its ravages to the lowest possible terms.
Dr. Blue finds the onset of the disease is rapid, after infection requiring only one or two days for full development. He urges isolation of sufferers, disinfection of respiratory passages, and says:
"First, there is a chill, then fever, with temperature from 101 to 103, headache, backache, redness and running of the eyes, pains and aches all over the body and general prostration. Persons so attacked should go to their homes at once, get to bed without delay and immediately call a physician.
"Treatment under direction of the physician is simple, but important, consisting principally of rest in bed, fresh air, abundant food, with Dover's powder for the relief of pain. Convalescence requires careful management to avoid serious complications, such as bronchial pneumonia.
"The disease may be avoided by two concurrent methods: First, keep out of crowds, if possible; second, constantly disinfect nose and throat. In addition see that all bodily functions are kept normal.
In the earlier years of la grippe pandemics many persons went to their physicians and received directions for the use of coal-tar remedies as preventives, with considerable success. This method is again being followed in many places.

EXIT OF J. C. WATTERS.

That J. C. Watters was not re-elected to the presidency of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress did not come as a surprise for reports from that gathering during the two or three days preceding the election of officers foreshadowed that there would be a change. His successor, Thomas Moore of Niagara, who defeated Mr. Watters by a substantial majority, represents the safe and sane elements of Canadian unionism and his election is a good omen for the upbuilding of organized labor in Canada upon a stable and enduring basis.
Ex-President Watters is an ultra-radical and a Socialist, rather than a

Some man was standing on the corner yesterday afternoon giving out little sampl bottles of cologne to whoever went past, so I went past and he gave me one, being such good cologne you could smell it all the way throo the cork, and I went around the block and came back and went past him again with my cap pulled away down for a disguise, and he handed me another bottle, and I went around the block again and started to go past him with my cap on backwards, and the man sed, Wat, you still, agen?
Meaning he had saw throo my disguise the first time, and he wouldn't give me any more, and I went home with the 2 bottles of cologne, thinking, G, I know, I'll put some on me and go around and let Mary Watkins smell me.
And I took the cork out of one bottle and sprinkled all the cologne on my hair and clothes, not being much of it but smelling as if there was a lot more, me thinking, Maybe I better put the other bottle on for good measure.
Wich I did, and I went around to Mary Watkins house and Mary Watkins was setting on the front steps, and I sat down alongside of her without saying anything about the cologne, and she didnt say anything and I sat closer on account of thinking maybe it didnt reach that far, and she kept on not saying anything, so I sat still closer, and she sed, Why dont you push me off the steps wile youre about it?
Me not saying anything, and after a wile I sed, Do you smell anything?
Serteny, do you think I'm deff' sed Mary Watkins. Meaning nobody couldnt help smelling it, and I sed, Its cologne, did you smell it all the time?
Yes, but I didnt know wat it was, and I didnt say anything because I didnt want to hurt your feelings, sed Mary Watkins. And she kept on moving further away without saying w, and pritty soon I got up, saying, Well, I gess I got to go home now. Her not telling me not to, and I did had to eat suppr in the back yard and hang my clothes up on the clothes line all nite and give my hair a bath, and now you cant smell it unless you come rite up to about 2 feet of me.

OUR TASK IS CLEAR.

Our task in Russia is clear. The work of our troops is to help Russia to free herself from the Germans, and to restore to her people liberty of action. We cannot, and must not, impose on Russia any particular political system, nor can we, while engaged in the work to which we have set our hand, allow ourselves to be entangled with any particular faction, or permit anything we do to prejudice the free reconstruction of Russia. For instance, we are being assured, and shall be assured, on the one hand, that only a monarchy can save Russia; on the other hand, that the Russian people will have nothing but a republic, and in pleading with the Allies the partisans of each theory will be tempted to urge that their opponents are tainted with pro-Germanism. But it would be a very great misfortune if the Allies were to allow the directness of their aim to be impaired by considerations of this kind. They know that there are both monarchists and republicans who have been most stubbornly pro-Ally, and there are monarchists and republicans who in one way or another have displayed German sympathies. The issue as between a monarchy and a republic in Russia is not one on which the Allies can, ought, or are even likely to make a declaration, still less to take action.
And it would be dangerous to let the view become prevalent that we, in our military and economic action in Russia, are working for or against either one of these strong currents of feeling. It would be equally dangerous if the Allies were to let themselves be persuaded into imagining that one movement is necessarily pro-Ally and the other necessarily pro-German. Our only course is to be impartial in bulk and in detail.
According to the terms of the British proclamation, we have no intention of imposing any political system. Our concern is with Russia, and we shall achieve a real political success if we can hold together all pro-Ally elements, of whatever political coloring, until the main task is accomplished.

NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY DRIVE

Want Many More Workers and Graders For Sphagnum Moss—Girls Forming Circles To Help.

The Natural History Society is starting a drive in the city for sphagnum moss graders, as many more workers are needed for this work. As soon as the volunteer workers are taken in, night classes will be formed in grading and sorting the moss. The Natural History girls who have been at the sphagnum moss bog have returned again, and are forming circles to help in the grading and sorting operations.

William McIntosh, accompanied by a party of girls of the Natural History Society, who have been spending a few days at the sphagnum moss bog at Nepesic, returned to the city yesterday. They stated that the heavy rains of Saturday hindered them from getting as large a quantity of the moss as they expected. During the picking on Sunday the girls were sometimes over their knees in water, and as the moss was practically all under the surface, they had a disagreeable time of it.

UNVEILING AT THE COURT HOUSE

Bronze Tablet Will Be Unveiled This Afternoon To Memory of Elias Hardy.

This afternoon at three o'clock, a bronze tablet to the memory of Elias Hardy, the second common clerk of the city of St. John, will be unveiled at the Court House. The chief speaker will be Chief Justice McKown.

Mr. Hardy was the second common clerk of St. John City, and with William Davidson, represented Northumberland County in the first Provincial Assembly. In the second House Mr. Hardy was one of the representatives of St. John City and County. He was born near London and was called to the bar at Westminster Hall. For several years before, and during the revolutionary war, 1776-1783, he practiced law in New York City. In 1784 he came to St. John, where he soon attained prominence in most walks of life. He was the Recorder of St. John from 1790 to 1798, when he died. His predecessor, Bartholomew Crandell, was the first Recorder.

His remains were interred in the old burying ground, Sydney Street. Soon after Mr. Hardy's death his wife and four children returned to New York City, where Mrs. Hardy's father resided.

The inscription on the memorial is as follows:—

In an Unmarked Grave Rests All That Was Mortal

ELIAS HARDY, Who Died in This City, Dec. 25th, 1798.

A Loyal Son of the Land of His Emersion, and William Murdoch, was appointed to attend to the work. David H. Waterbury was appointed to the committee at a later date, a vacancy occurring by the death of Mr. Murdoch.

Mr. Hardy was a prominent Mason and was active in organizing the first lodge in St. John. The officers were installed on Tuesday, Sept. 21, 1784, 134 years ago.

ANOTHER ROBBERY

Leonard Fisheries, Ltd., Britain street, was the scene of a robbery early Sunday morning or late Saturday evening.

This break constitutes the third one for the week-end. The above, the Gardner robbery and the break late St. Peter's school, where little damage was done.

THE GREAT IBSEN'S GREATEST PLAY

"A Doll's House" a Powerful Domestic Problem Story At the Imperial.

Can a woman, reared as a doll child, have an idea of her own? This is a question that has been the subject of much conflicting argument by psychologists, as well as dramatists, the world over. In "A Doll's House," one of the most famous of the Henrik Ibsen plays, the question has been answered with fidelity to truth, in the affirmative.

"A Doll's House" has been pictured for Elsie Ferguson, the famous dramatic star, who is appearing at the Imperial as Nora Helmer, the wife of a poor lawyer, who falls ill and for whom she commits a forgery in order to provide funds, without the aid of which, his death is inevitable. For eight years the lives under the shadow of exposure as a doll wife, and when disgrace comes her husband is about to discard her, despite her self-sacrificing course in his behalf, when a letter reaches him containing the incriminating evidence against his wife. With the fear of disgrace gone, the husband's manner changes and he seeks to retiate his doll wife to her lost place in his household. Her troubles have transformed her sentiments and ideas, and she leaves her husband, convinced that they are mistaken and that happiness for both lies in their separation.

Miss Ferguson is excellently supported in this play by H. E. Herbert, Alexander H. Shannon, Ethel Grey Terry, Warren Cook, Zaida Crosby and Mrs. R. S. Anderson. The production is a remarkable one for sustained dramatic strength and power and held the great crowds of Monday in the very closest attention until the surprising denouement. Miss Ferguson was wonderful, so were Misses Sieber and Shannon, not to mention the five children. Many people have been heard to say they never could fathom Ibsen's stories, but "A Doll's House" as pictured is very explicit and understandable.

The war pictures this change of bill are illustrative of the great drive now on at the Victoria street church, and actually show the capture of Chateau Thierry, Mutt and Jeff as aviators and a Drew comedy round out a splendid bill.

"A Doll's House," etc. will be on only once this afternoon, the big feature being the final item in the programme so that those having cards for the Edison recital at 4.30 may enjoy both attractions. Tonight the hours are 7 and 8.45.

FISH WEIRS BADLY DAMAGED BY STORM

Bay Shore and Red Head Weirs Suffered Most—Sardines From Dipper Harbor and Westport Arrive.

That the heavy storm of last Saturday did considerable damage to the weirs on the Bay Shore and at Red Head, amounting in some cases to a thousand dollars, was the statement made to the Standard last night by Beulah Watts, fishery inspector. He added that the storm broke up the weirs so that there are probably no more than three or four left between St. John and Dipperville.

As to sardine fishing, he stated that the fish were still fighting shy of local waters, though there was a small run of them at Grand Manan, and as the season was getting late he didn't think that there would be any large catches. He stated that 35 hogheads of sardines from Dipper Harbor and six from Westport had come in yesterday, destined for the Booth Fisheries Company's plant on the West Side.

COMMON COUNCIL MET IN COMMITTEE

Com. Hilyard Regretted His Remarks About German Money and Unions Had Given Offence—Com. McLellan Stands "Pat" Re Police.

At the common council committee meeting yesterday, Commissioner Bullock was given authority to purchase material for the repairs to the McLeod and Pettinell wharves, Commissioner Hilyard expressed regret that his remarks regarding German money had given offence to the returned soldiers and stated that he did not mean the local union but his remarks were intended to apply generally all over the world.

Mr. Hilyard mentioned that on Saturday morning in the absence of Commissioner McLellan he had given permission to Captain Blanchard to go ahead with the repairs to the exhibition building, and Commissioner McLellan promised to look into the matter at once.

Captain J. R. Thomson wrote asking what had been done about a letter he had written to the council reporting discourteous treatment on the part of driver Powell of the city ambulance. Commissioner McLellan said he had enquired into the matter and the driver claimed just the opposite to what Captain Thomson did, but the matter would be given a hearing.

A letter from John Willett, secretary of the New Brunswick Historical Society, asking the mayor send commissioners to attend the unveiling of a tablet to the memory of Elias Hardy at the Court House on Tuesday afternoon. On motion it was decided to accept the invitation.

Commissioner Bullock was authorized to purchase 30,000 feet of Douglas Fir and 25,000 feet of spruce deals for repairs to the McLeod and Pettinell wharves.

The matter of the police union was then brought up. Commissioner Hilyard said his remark about German money being behind strikes was meant as a general observation and not as a reflection on the local men. He had not been aware that any returned soldiers were on the police force and the statement did not apply to them. So far as his action in voting to endorse the action of the commissioner of safety he must stand by that.

Commissioner McLellan said he felt he was in the right and did not intend to recede one sixteenth of an inch from the stand taken. He also read a telegram from J. Cawdon, police commissioner of Ottawa as follows:—

"Re your letter, you are under a wrong impression concerning Minister of Labor, Sir Percy Sherwood states Minister of Labor is not at all in favor of police organization affiliating with labor unions. He has apparently been misinterpreted."

TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF TWO YOUNG MEN

Rev. A. J. O'Neill Spoke Feeling-ly on Death of Privates Quilty and Kindred.

At the half past ten mass in the Church of the Assumption, West Side, Sunday morning, Rev. A. J. O'Neill paid a tribute to the memory of two young men of the congregation, Ptes. Quilty and Kindred, who have given their lives in France.

"While it was not my privilege to know these young men personally," said the rector, "as they went to war before my occupancy of this charge, yet what I learn of them on all sides tells me they were model lads and estimable citizens as well as dutiful children of the Church. It will be a consolation to their bereaved loved ones to look back upon their careers with this knowledge, and to know also that they died in the noblest cause of all."

Father O'Neill asked the prayers of his congregation for the souls of the departed soldiers mentioned.

HIGHER PRICES WILL AFFECT NEWSPAPERS

One Company Claims It Should Receive $90 Per Ton To Meet Costs and Allow Profit.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—Strong indications of an advance in the price of newsprint paper, after October 1st, continued to be shown at the session of the Canadian newsprint inquiry this afternoon when the examination of Mr. Thomas McLaren, comptroller of the Fort Frances Pulp and Paper Company, was undertaken.

At one point it could have been officially reckoned that this company could receive $19 per ton, if all its costs and claims were proven. If such a figure was set, the paper controller said it would likely result in driving some western newspapers out of business.

Information relating to a threatened tie-up of Ottawa newspapers on account of a shortage of newsprint at the Booth Mill three weeks ago, was told of by Mr. Pringle.

In regard to the pre-war profits of the Fort Frances Co., the controller said that if a manufacturer had made sixteen or fifteen dollars per ton profit before the war in an ordinary competitive market, he felt he should be similarly compensated today on the same basis.

"If he received sixteen dollars over manufacturing costs then (before the war) why should he not get sixteen per ton now?" asked the controller, and later added: "Anything I say is only for the purpose of bringing out discussion."

"Sixteen dollars per ton profit on top of the average cost for the first seven months would bring the figure up to $17 per ton, and allowance of return on capital would have to be made that might add as much as thirteen more dollars per ton, or bring the cost to around ninety dollars."

"If the price reaches ninety dollars, it seems almost prohibitive," remarked the controller.

"Not for the newspapers," remarked Mr. Henderson.

"Yes, for the newspapers," replied Mr. Pringle. "Some of the city papers may be able to pay it, but the small ones have to go out of business."

Mr. Pringle asked of Mr. J. L. McNicholl, the official pulp and paper expert, as to the value of kraft pulp. The market price today, the expert said, was around $148 per ton. The suggestion was that mills, rather than continue manufacturing newsprint and having to supply Canadian newspapers with it at $57, might change over to the manufacture of kraft and other grades of paper. Here Mr. Pringle referred to the attitude of some of the mills which had already quit manufacturing newsprint paper and gone into other lines, that mills were contemplating it, he said.

"Even at the higher figure, we are only charging half what the federal trade commission allowed us to charge," said Mr. Thomas, in reply to Mr. Stewart's inquiry as to how the amount of depreciation had almost doubled.

During the examination of Mr. Thomas, the paper controller drew attention to a very acute situation which the Ottawa newspapers had been placed in about three weeks ago. Both the newspapers were practically out of paper, and supplies were not coming from John R. Booth. The paper controller was appealed to, and on investigation found that Mr. Booth had no newsprint on hand, or had exported it all.

"When I closed off the exports on him, Mr. Booth said that would not worry him, as he could manufacture other grades of paper. When I showed him my regulations, whereby he might be liable to a fine of $5,000 if he did not appear to disturb him greatly. Meanwhile, the newspapers were practically camping in my office imploring him to get them supplies of paper," said Mr. Pringle.

Mr. Booth finally agreed to supply paper up to the end of this month only, at the $57 rate. Mr. Thomas said that Mr. Booth had afterwards told him that he would not have agreed to continue supplying it if it had not been to help Mr. Pringle out of his difficulty.

"I realize it would be the greatest negligence on my part were I to allow the manufacturers to close down. I think Mr. Booth treated me very fairly. Indeed, he has grown tired of it a publisher running his business for him," said Mr. Pringle.

MAKING THE GERMANS PLY THEIR PICKS AND SHOVELS TO PREPARE DEFENCES FOR ALLIES TO SMASH

Condition of Captured Territory Shows That Enemy Has Been Frantically Active — Now He Has To Dig Elsewhere.

(By Caspar Whitney.) Special cable to the N. Y. Tribune and the St. John Standard. (Copyrighted, 1918, by the New York Tribune Inc.)

Paris, Sept. 21.—"Messieur, do you think the will of the good God will permit the Boche to go unpunished?" It was the agonized appeal of a woman digging in a rubbish heap of bricks and rafters, once her home. She stood alone in the sea of many piles of bricks now all that remained of a little town which the Germans deliriously blew up by electrically controlled mines from a safe distance as they retreated before the British. Back of her and the waste of ruins that had been wrought in Ham stretched the awful desolation of the Somme country, its trees splintered, its homes shattered, its ground and literally honeycombed with mine craters, shell holes and zigzagging trenches.

"What are you seeking?" I asked. "For my little Simone," she gasped. She had been one of those to remain during the Boche occupation, and on their retreat she had gone to the neighboring elevation to make sure of their retreat, leaving her five-year-old girl, Simone, playing at home. Then came the great explosion in the village behind her. And ever since she had been pathetically, heroically digging, digging for some sure evidence of the fate of her little daughter, digging until her mind had gone. "The Boche behind the 'peace' note."

Travelling through the British area I find that both officers and men are rejoicing over America's clear diagnosis and prompt dismissal of the Germanized peace note overture, feeling strongly that the decision between the German and Ally ideals should be reached on the battlefield, and that no parleying with the Boche should be tolerated before his unconditional surrender and following his complete military defeat.

The Britishers are not carried away by the recent comforting Ally success in the dangerous belief that "it will be over by winter," but on the contrary the consensus is that the Germans, although beaten back, are preparing to continue in the bitter end of the Ally advance beyond their own determined line. I find abounding confidence everywhere, but no delusions concerning the nature of the struggle ahead.

"We know that we are in for some jolly hard fighting and we do not expect the war to end this autumn," said a famous fighting general to me, "but we shall make the Boche fronting us wish it would."

One must ride over the reconquered Lyse, Ancre and Somme country and walk in the famous Quentz switch of the Hindenburg trench defence system to realize the enormous strength of these scientific, built and thoroughly equipped German line forts and the magnitude of the British task and the power and durability of their war engine in action. The problem of breaking the Hindenburg line which the British faced in 1917 is being achieved. The fall of this redoubtable switch has been the most important first step and quite the most notable in the series of recent Ally achievements.

180,000 Boches Captured. The alternating blows of the British armies have brought them approximately to the front they held six months ago. Within six weeks, during which time the Germans have employed fifty-three divisions, using one division to about every two miles and half of the front, they have lost 50,000 prisoners, making the total Ally capture since July 15, 180,000. With his divisions fit for the offensive reduced to fourteen, of which five are between the Oise and the sea, and the British menacing Cambrai, the French Legion and the American Briery, all under the master strategist Foch, it is small wonder that the Kaiser has loosed the Austrian peace offer.

Having so considerable a proportion of his force badly battered and increasingly fearful of the tanks, which, despite every device the Germans had adopted to stop them from breaking through their formidable belts of wire and machine gun redoubts, thus making way for the Ally infantry, which otherwise could only get through at a terrible cost, the Boches are withdrawing their artillery well to the rear and are using greatly increased numbers of long explosive shells from their long range cannon. The enemy, recoiling before the weight of the British blows, timed and delivered with great persisting force, is sending over his observation planes at the highest possible altitude and his combat planes are lurking in flecks back of his own lines, to fall on the British scouts who show tremendous shovelry activity in the way of successive new waves of rifle pits and support lines. The Boche is an industrious digger always, but now he is frantically erecting defences. While all signs indicate that the

from twenty-five to fifty guns. He is laying bomb traps in the deserted trenches, and mines in roads and gaps in the wire in a vain effort to check the British pressure. But, as the British say the Boches have not yet stopped them.

The enemy still holds Paschendaele, Messines Ridge, Cambrai, St. Quentin, Koblen Forest, Laon and the Chemin des Dames, which compose the bulwark of his west line. Cambrai and St. Quentin are the pivotal positions, and the loss of either would imperil the entire German line from Cambrai, carrying St. Quentin and Laon and turning the Aisne position. A break in his bulwark would force retirement on the Lille-Mets line, which in the course of time would be threatened at the eastern end by the Americans.

Saving Troops for New Stand. Identification of prisoners taken during the last week suggests that the Germans are using the same divisions repeatedly, with the idea of preserving fresh units for a later stand, while captured territory shows tremendous shovelry activity in the way of successive new waves of rifle pits and support lines. The Boche is an industrious digger always, but now he is frantically erecting defences. While all signs indicate that the

A NEW MAGAZINE for women! Why, already there were a dozen such, and the leading ones had twenty years and more of success behind them!

A new pattern for women! The pioneers in pattern making had already been forty years in the field!

Yet steadily, swiftly, the young publisher's unerring sense for the coming woman's interests, the designer's genius for line, and instinct for the American woman's taste in dress, made their impression.

Before long, women asked: "Where can we get patterns of these styles?" And so the Pictorial Review Pattern service was born.

In twenty years the new patterns had sprung far ahead of every other! "They are so practical," women insisted. These styles, which every one recognized were newer and better, had so few pieces to put together that the veriest amateur could fashion for herself a dress of distinction from them. And when Pictorial Review developed the plan of also furnishing cutting and construction guides with instructions of a simplicity hitherto unknown, the popularity of the patterns bounded ahead!

Today, Pictorial Review's peculiar appreciation of the taste of American women has placed their patterns in every city, town and village. Seven thousand stores offer Pictorial Review Patterns to women! 1,500,000 copies of Pictorial Review are bought by women every month! 2,000,000 Fashion Quarterlies each year! 42,000,000 Monthly Fashion Books are distributed yearly through Pictorial Review Pattern agents. Today more Pictorial Review patterns are bought by American women than any other pattern on the market.

Germany are now assembling at divisions for a counter-offensive, they must make ready at once to re-establish themselves, experts believe, or they will not get a chance, even though they develop strength to turn at bay for the attack, since the Ally plans include no recess for the Boche between blows.

Meanwhile the British have proved the vulnerability of the German supreme defensive trench system in the west by smashing through the strong est dirt and wire wall yet constructed. It is true the Boches are not yet done but the Allies have obtained a grip on the keystones of their military system, and it is only a question of time when they will have it down on their heads.

As a general whose repeated quick follow-up of blows that have sent the Germans reeling backward said to me: "We have the Boche going, and this is the time to keep hitting him fast and hard."

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble, Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and acid in the stomach accompanied by that flat, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and sourness out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no powder or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk—is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

RED TRIANGLE CLUB HAVE NEW QUARTERS

Will Leave Building on Breeze's Corner and Will Soon Be Found in Magee Building, Charlotte Street.

It has been learned that the Red Triangle Club will leave its quarters on the corner of King Square and Charlotte Street, and will take up more comfortable rooms in the Magee building on Charlotte Street. The present rooms have been found rather small for the very large number of soldiers who make it their home while off duty. Here the soldiers can find plenty of material to enable them to write letters home to relatives and friends. There are plenty of magazines and papers for the Tommies to read, and when there is a good attendance of soldiers, different societies throughout the city give excellent entertainments.

WEDDINGS

Cunningham-Walker.

A quiet wedding was celebrated at St. John the Baptist Church yesterday morning, when the pastor, Rev. F. J. McMurray, united in marriage Miss Jeanette Walker and William J. Cunningham. They were attended by Miss Sadie Cunningham and Harold Cunningham, sister and brother of the groom. Following a wedding breakfast, the happy couple left for a trip through the Maritime Provinces.

McGratton-McMullin.

St. George, Sept. 23.—A quiet wedding took place in St. George's Roman Catholic church at 8 a. m., on Monday, Sept. 23rd, when Rev. J. W. Holland united in marriage Miss Mary H. McMullin, eldest daughter of Mr. McGratton, and Mr. Neil McMullin, of the groom by his brother, Mr. Harry McGratton. After the wedding the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's parents where a dainty wedding breakfast was served, only immediate relatives participating. Mr. and Mrs. McGratton left on the morning train for a short wedding tour and on their return will reside in town. Their popularity was attested by the large array of beautiful presents received.

Carmichael-Boyd.

A very pretty, but quiet, wedding took place at the home of Mrs. L. D. Boyd, Sheba, N.B., when their eldest daughter, Ethel Estella, became the wife of Russell Carmichael, of Bridgeport, Conn., on Wednesday, Sept. 18, at 4 o'clock p. m. The bride looked very charming in white silk with bridal veil caught up with sweet peas and ferns, and carrying a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas and ferns as she came to the altar.

Miss Annie Boyd, sister of the bride, beautifully adorned in pink silk, rendered the wedding march.

Miss Della Carmichael, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, dressed in Copenhagen silk, and black hat, with shower bouquet of sweet peas and ferns.

Mr. Murray Boyd, brother of the bride, assisted the groom.

After receiving congratulations on the lawn, the happy couple entered the dining room, where a dainty supper was served. The evening was spent by the bride and groom in music, after which Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael left by auto for the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carmichael, Highfield.

Many beautiful presents were received, including silver, cut glass, linen and cash.

The bride's gift from her father was a handsome parlor clock, and from the groom's parents, cash. Mrs. Carmichael's gift to the bride was a silver mesh bag, to the groom a gold monogram bracelet, and to the bridesmaid a sapphire set tiepin.

Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael soon will leave for their future home in Bridgeport, Conn., U.S.A., where the groom is employed as foreman in the Remington Arms.

The report then reads:

"This conference is of the opinion that in conformity with article VI of President Wilson's fourteen points, the present efforts of the Allied governments to assist the Russian people must be influenced only by a desire to preserve liberty and democracy in order to obtain a durable peace in which the beneficial fruits of the Russian revolution shall be made permanent."

LISTEN TO THIS! SAYS CORNS LIFT RIGHT OUT NOW

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called Freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out with the fingers.

It is a sticky ether compound which dries the moment it is applied and simply dissolves the corn without irritating or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of Freezone will cost very little of any of the drug stores, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

Freezone is further warned that cutting of a corn is a suicidal habit.

Washing Won't Rid Head Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By this morning, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, healthy, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

LOGGIEVILLE

Loggievile, N.B., Sept. 21.—The very sad death of Serat. I. F. Manderson, which occurred at the Fredericton Military Hospital recently, has brought sadness to our town. Serat Manderson was a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Manderson, of this place. He immediately upon receipt of the news of their son's serious illness, they went to duty on the train for a considerable length of time. He arrived here on Friday's express, and the funeral was held on Sunday at 3 p.m. A most impressive service was conducted by Rev. F. W. Thompson, assisted by the choir of Knox Church. The hymns sung were "The man who once hath found abode within the secret place of God," "Does Jesus Care?" and "How bright these glorious spirits shine." The Organists attended the funeral in a body. The pallbearers were Wesley Dempsey, Ira McDougall, Will Healy, William Hornbrook, A. L. Babkir and Adam Stymist. Beautiful floral tributes adorned the casket, which was carried to the grave's edge wrapped in the Union Jack. Burial was made in the family plot in "Peace Grove." The circumstances surrounding the death of Serat Manderson were very touching indeed. He was a member of the 6th Battalion, and was on duty on the front lines for a considerable length of time. He made a specialty of sniping, and so distinguished himself in this line of work, that he was sent to Oklahoma, U.S.A., less than a year ago, as an instructor to American soldiers. He was recently granted a leave of absence to visit his parents here. On his way home he became ill and stopped in New York for a few days. Feeling somewhat better he continued his journey. He was obliged to make other short stops along the way. Upon arrival at Fredericton he was again taken to a hospital. He struggled hard to reach home, but the Fredericton doctors found his condition very serious, and knew there was no hope of his life. His relatives were at once notified. His sisters, Lulu and Jessie, who are engaged in hospital work in U.S.A., and also his parents, arrived at Fredericton in time to be on duty on the train for a few days. Frank was of a cheerful, genial disposition, and his light hearted manner will remain fresh in the memory of his friends. The sorrowing family have the sympathy of many in their bereavement. He is survived by his parents, four sisters, Lulu and Jessie of U.S.A., and Queenie and Muriel at home, and three brothers, Melvin, Wilson and Dudley, of this town.

HAD BEEN IMBIBING.

Two young chaps on Union Street, about 11:15 o'clock last night, were ambling up the street in a cautious manner. The agent of strong ardents wanted to a policeman, by the gentle zephyrs, caused him to give chase. But the young lads had their heads at the outset, and no doubt kept out of his way.

THE ROTARY CLUB.

The Rotary Club yesterday was addressed by Capt. Stokes, the new Y.M.C.A. secretary, himself a returned man, on the problem of the returned soldier. FINE WAR GARDEN.

Joseph Stanton of Albert street has a war garden of which he feels justly proud. He has raised a fine crop of vegetables of all kinds and among them some potatoes the seed of which were in the ground all winter. Last fall when gathering the potatoes some small ones were left in the hills as not worth picking and to the surprise of Mr. Stanton this spring these sprouted and grew just as well as the seed planted at the proper time and the crop from the ones in the ground all winter turned out to be just as well flavored and in every way equal to that of the spring planting.

VISITING BEER SHOPS.

Sub-inspectors McAnish and Garnett are again on the war path, and made an inspectional trip to North End last evening. They visited every beer shop to ascertain if any licenses were being observed, but reported the owners to be observing the law rigidly. They then visited all the beer shops along City Road, and had a like report as on those in the North End. Bootleggers, who were ubiquitous in a measure for the past few months, have caught a scent, and are gathering up their "grasses" and are now lying low.

HON. J. K. FLEMMING HERE YESTERDAY

Says Crops Have Been Good in Carleton County—People Getting Ready for the Victory Loan.

Hon. J. K. Flemming was a visitor to the city yesterday. Mr. Flemming's health has greatly improved in the last year, and he looks about as well as ever.

Asked about conditions in Carleton County, Mr. Flemming said the crops had been good, the grain crops particularly so. He had had a good average crop, and potatoes promised to turn out fairly well. Just at the present time, he said, the people were getting ready for the coming Victory Loan, and Carleton County proposed to do as well in this campaign as it did last year, when it provided the largest per capita subscription of any county in the province.

ANOTHER MASS MEETING OF LABOR REPRESENTATIVES HELD

Addresses Last Night By S. A. Jones of New York and J. A. Barry—Committee Appointed To Procure Signatures Favorable To Recall of Commissioner McLellan—Board of Trade To Be Asked To Put Candidate in Field To Run With Labor Representative.

Another mass meeting of the different Trades and Labor organizations was held in Oddfellows' Hall, last evening. About 250 representatives were present, and heard addresses previous to the business of the evening's session.

F. A. Campbell, Vice President of the Trades and Labor Council, who has been appointed chairman of the committee throughout the campaign, called the meeting to order at eight o'clock, and delivered a few words to the men before introducing S. A. Jones, now a visitor in the city, and who, at a former time, held the office of State Senator in the American Republic, representing New York State.

Mr. Jones, on arising, was given hearty applause, and delivered an address touching on "Labor and the War of Today." The speaker possesses a wide range of knowledge, and his vast experience in labor work has benefited him to give such an address as he delivered last evening.

In beginning, Mr. Jones alluded to all labor organizations, their aims, rights and purposes. But being quite unacquainted with the local situation, he would abstain from expressing any views on the question at issue, but would leave that matter in the hands of the Labor Unions of the city. However he alluded to the situation of the State Attorneys in New York, who were to form an organization. They, in so doing, would pull down the barrier which existed between the lawless element and the law-abiding citizens of a community.

His question was (applied to the local unions): "Are we right in asking the police be affiliated with the Trades and Labor Congress?" If so, alright, action at once was the outcome; but on the other hand the movement was based on the above theory, that of its righteousness. The police stand against robbers, thieves, murderers, etc., but regarding their right of unions, the question was up to the Trades and Labor in the city, and the speaker would not talk, leaving the decision in weightier hands than his. He then touched on the bonds of unity existing between Canada and the United States, and on the aim of the Allies, that of democracy, true in a sense to all freedom loving people, and lastly to the barriers which were overcome to gain their freedom from an unscrupulous foe. He hoped that the struggle would cease, and that the Allies would be the glorious victors, and forever wrench the bloody sword from the hands of the highest militarists seated in the blood of just enemies, who eventually would conquer and obtain a lasting peace. (Applause.)

J. A. Barry, legal adviser of the movement, was next called, and complimented the previous speaker on his stirring address, which was well worthy of the applause it gained. In continuing, Mr. Barry alluded to the remarks of Mr. Jones, which touched on the effects of State Attorneys who formed an organization. He then pointed out, that the state attorneys were elected by the people, and were responsible to the people, and their need of an organization would be an ultimate loss of confidence in those who had placed them in office, and who could not really with an organization detrimental to themselves. (Applause.)

OBTAINING OF RAW MATERIAL A BIG PROBLEM

Hon. J. A. Murray, who has just returned from a trip to the manufacturing centres of Ontario, was in the city yesterday. When seen at the Victoria Mr. Murray said things were booming in Ontario, the crops had been good and generally business was good.

On the other hand the police who attempted to form a union, known as the "Police Protective Association," were debarred from doing so even when all just means were resorted to, and the suggestion that the by-laws of their proposed organization be subject to the scrutiny of the commissioner and the chief constable, was disregarded, which by-laws emphatically were designed that these men would remain on their jobs in any labor disputes, unless they "voted" themselves into any troubles.

It was pointed out at the meeting last evening by one speaker, that the commissioner of public safety had been reported as saying: "The Minister of Labor is not in sympathy with the policemen forming a union," which idea was of their being affiliated with Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, and that he has been misinterpreted. What was said was that the Minister of Labor stated that there was nothing in the law to prohibit or restrain the police from forming a union to be identified with the Trades and Labor Congress. The panel that the policemen's organization wish to make is this: "It is legal for them to form a union affiliated with Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, as this information asked from the minister of labor, and given to the representatives at Quebec, stating there was not in his estimation, anything to render a police union illegal."

It was moved and seconded that a vote of thanks be accorded Mr. Jones for his trouble in addressing the meeting, which Mr. Jones replied, thanking the assembly in pleasing terms.

It was moved and seconded that C. H. Stevens be appointed secretary of the campaign committee. Carried. The meeting then proceeded to elect men who would visit the different wards with a list of the voters in their respective wards, and procure their assent, by signature, for a recall. This resulted in a man being appointed for each separate ward, and others were appointed to assist them in this duty.

It was then moved that a committee of two approach City Hall today, and in company with a stenographer, procure the lists of names of qualified voters in the last election.

Amenments made to this motion that the chairman be empowered to act as one of the committee, and he be empowered to name a second person himself, which was carried unanimously. Accordingly the names were proceeded this morning at City Hall.

JUG OF LIQUOR BURIED FOR YEARS

Found in Ruins of Old Cellar—Thought To Have Been There Thirty Years.

Officers McAnish and Garnett are working every day, as results show, the daily papers are scanned. However, a gentleman in the suburbs of the city whilst fixing up an old cellar wall made a find of a gold mine which contained a number of gallons of hard liquor. The jug was mossed over, so long had it remained in the rocks of the cellar walls; but the contents were found to be in perfect condition.

It is stated this liquor must have been in the cellar near 30 years, as no persons since that time have resided on the place, and no doubt the liquor would be quite mature. Another jug (broken) was found near the former, which presumably held a good quantity of the forbidden potent.

ST. JOHN FISHERMEN ARE HEAVY LOSERS

Have Expended Thousands of Dollars in Weirs—Sardine Herring Has Proven Complete Failure.

St. John fishermen are out a great amount of money this season on account of the poor fishing. The outlay of thousands of dollars was made in the building of weirs with the expectation of reaping a good harvest in fishing sardine, herring, but this has proven a complete failure, and only a few hoghead of this class of fish have been captured, when around this time of the season in previous years the fishermen were making very large catches, and were also making plenty of money. For a few years past St. John fishermen could not properly handle all of the large quantity of fish that came into the harbor or close vicinity, and almost all of the large schools of herring were reported in these waters. It was the signal for many fishermen to hasten here from down the bay points.

The catches were extremely large, and the fishermen made dollars by the thousands, and the carriers found brisk business in conveying the fish from St. John to the Eastport, Lubec and other canneries down the bay. Some of the fishermen, especially on the western side of the harbor put all of their hard savings into purchasing weirs, nets and other equipment, and worked night and day putting the weirs into shape, and also paid very high prices in some cases for the privileges of fishing, and the expected large schools of fish have not met in an appearance, with the result that their time and money is lost with little or no chance of getting any of it back. Men who built weirs were unable to work at any other business during the time because they had to look after their property daily and their first expenditure was not all, for there was that continual fear of some damaging their property, and there was a steady outlay for money in making repairs. It has proven a most disastrous season for the fishermen and the outlook is just as dark as ever since they will get no results for their large expenditure. In many cases the nets have been removed from the weirs, while the poles have been left standing, and should there come a good run of fish these nets will not be replaced on the poles again, but the fishermen are disheartened and are grieved that the long looked for good run of fish will not put in an appearance this season.

According to a despatch from Eastport yesterday, more herring reached the sardine factories in that vicinity in the past three days than for some months, but they were not caught about Passamaquoddy Bay as the summer school failed to put in an appearance and the supplies have been somewhat limited since May. The present catches of herring have been gathered up on the "West Coast" or further along Maine, where it is the rule usually for the fish to arrive live in the season when they have come from the Eastport section, but it makes little difference to the average sardine canner where the herring are brought, as the price of $25 a hoghead is the same everywhere for canners. It has not been a very prosperous season for the Canadian weir owners and boatmen, but a few owners of the boats, who have had their boats cleaned up a small fortune, so far this season when they were fortunate enough to gather up the herring that came into the neighboring bays.

A few motor boats were out on Friday of last week had fifty to sixty hogheads of fish each. These down the bay fishermen were no doubt lucky, and if the St. John men could only get a run like this they would feel quite satisfied, but present a whole season's outlay of money and labor has gone for nothing.
