WEAK AND EASILY TIRED.

From the Moncton Transcript.

One of the happiest couples in Notre Dame, N. B., is Mr. Will Colborne and his wife. For the cause of so much happiness they are indebted in a great measure to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, by which Mrs. Colborne was quickly cured of a most stubborn malady.

This is how Mrs. Colborne tells the story of her illness and cure: "When I was three years old I had an attack of inflammation of the lungs from which for a long time I did not wholly recover. I was ever after a weak and delicate child, very languid, and the least exertion fatigued me. I was extremely nervous, my appetite was never good and my nights frequently sleepless. Growing up I felt my affliction less severe and as time went on I married. Shortly after my marriage all my old symptoms came back in an aggravated form. Nothing and could not sleep at all. My blood became thin and weak, and I felt dull and spiritless. I had no ambition, and the thought of moving about was distasteful to me. I was so easily fatigued that the exertion of walking upstairs almost overcame me, and I suffered from an almost constant bilious headache. My husband became alarmed at my condition and called in a doctor, though nothing beneficial resulted. I continued to grow worse, and acting on the earnest counsel of friends of my husband, procured six boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I began taking them according to directions. Almost immediately I felt a change, my appetite became keen and I ate my food with a relish. I began to sleep well and the color came back to my face. I became strong and could do my usual housework. All the tired feeling disappeared so that I felt like a new person. I have not since felt the least symptoms of my former trouble, nor have I any fears that I shall. I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a great blessing to mankind, and I strongly recommend them to all."

NERVOUS DISORDERS CURED.

From the Amherst, N. S., Sentinel.

The rugged and strong do not appreciate, to its full extent, the blessing of perfect health. It is only those who have passed through a trying illness who feel that health is a treasure to be prized more than silver and gold. Among those who have experienced the truth of this is Miss Sabra Kector, of West River, Amherst, N. S. This lady has passed through a trying and wearisome illness, from which happily relief was found through the medium of a medicine that has brought health and strength to thousands of others, and whose medicinal virtues will work equally good results in all cases where it is given a fair trial. Miss Kector says: "I feel it my duty to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they have done wonders for me. About two years ago I became very ill with a complication of diseases. I was suffering with indigestion, biliousness, and the resulting nervous disorders, such as sick headache, loss of appetite and flashes of heat and cold. I began doctoring, and, although I had the best of care, I seemed to grow worse every day. I slept but little, and when lying down would grow so hot and suffer from a sensation of smothering that I would find it necessary to arise. Then the extreme would come and I would shiver with cold. Time wore on and there was no improvement in my condition. I was not able to do any work about the house and even the exertion of moving about would tire me out. If I attempted to walk any distance or hurried in the least I would gasp for breath and could scarcely speak. I had a very poor appetite, and what I did eat did not seem to agree with me or furnish needed nourishment, and I also suffered with a severe pain in my back. During this time I tried many remedies, but they gave me no relief whatever. I had become so weak and my system was so run down that life was a burden to me."

At this stage my attention was directed to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as I determined to give them a trial. After using four boxes I felt so much better that hope and encouragement came to me once more. I continued the use of the Pills and found myself steadily gaining. By the time I had used four boxes more I had fully regained my health and strength, and I am not only able to my full share of household work, but also attend to my Sabbath school class and other church duties. I look upon Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a priceless boon to suffering humanity."

Ladies' Ailments.

Many women suffer in silence for honorable reasons. They alone know the pains which afflict them—continuously or at regular intervals. Agonizing backaches, headache, prostration; irregularity of vital functions; the change of life; weakness easily accounted for. All these things have been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They cannot harm the most delicate girl or woman advancing age.

A WORD OF CAUTION.

A few unscrupulous tradesmen—their cupidity excited by the great reputation of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—make up, or buy in the wholesale market, ready-made, some cheap pills, colored pink, which will sell as "Pink Pills," and offer as a substitute for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Such pills are a fraud. The receipt for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is known only to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company. All substitutes are therefore useless. To be sure of getting none but the genuine pills, purchasers should not ask for Pink Pills, but for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and see that they are given in a package, the wrapper around which is printed with red ink on white paper and bears the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Inside the wrapper are Dr. Williams' Directions for use. Pay no attention to any dealer who claims to have "the same thing under another name," or something else "just as good." In case of doubt it is better to write (inclosing price, 50 cents for one box or $2.50 for six boxes) to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

FAINT AND DIZZY.

Among the remarkable cures, which have followed the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is that of Mrs. Geo. N. Goddard, a well-known resident of Annapolis Station, N. B. Mrs. Goddard says: "For five years I was a sufferer from a most peculiar trouble, which seemed to baffle the skill of several physicians. The first symptoms of my trouble I cannot characterize better than by calling them blind spells, as my head would get so bad that I could not see, and a blindness would come over me. Then I would grow faint and dizzy and could not get about. My hands and arms would become perfectly numb and would sometimes remain in this condition for days. Latterly the attacks grew more frequent and more severe. I became so nervous and run down that life was indeed a burden to me. My appetite was very poor and I was pale and emaciated. As regular medical treatment made no improvement in my condition, some of my friends strongly urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and at last I consented to do so. I had only been taking them for a short time when there was a decided change for the better. My nervous system improved, I continued to gain weight, my nerves seemed to grow stronger. I gained in flesh and felt like a new woman. I know the load of misery from which

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have relieved me, and I am more than grateful and will never lose an opportunity for saying a good word for this grand medicine."

DEPRESSING HEADACHES AND WEAKNESS.

From the Alexandria News.

Another voice in Gleggarry county is willing to swell the chorus of praise to the restorative value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the township of Lancaster lives Kingston, Rory McCrimmon the wife of a well-known farmer. Years ago she became subject to severe headaches, intermittent in occurrence and more or less painful in character. The advance of time saw no improvement. In the spring of 1894 her ailment assumed a more serious form, depressing headaches and extreme weakness. In this condition she consulted one of the best physicians in the vicinity, and after numerous visits and much medicine there was no improvement. Before the summer was gone, with the hope of obtaining better results, a visit to Caledonia Springs was made. The visit lasted about three weeks, but, unfortunately for Mrs. McCrimmon, there was no discernible improvement arising therefrom. By this time the fame of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had reached her, and she was seized with a desire to share in their worth. The experiment was duly entered upon and faithfully carried out, until the looked-for results came. The persistent headache, which defied the skill of doctors, has vanished, lost vigor is recovered, and the general health so completely restored that Mrs. McCrimmon has been able to work and go about with comfort as she has not been able to do for years. Unmistakably Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for her what other things failed to do. Since the first use of the pills Mrs. McCrimmon has recommended them to others and occasionally taken them herself to advantage. Money spent in the purchase of health cannot be ill spent.

The annual convention of the Lambton Sabbath School Association, which will meet this year in Alvinston Oct. 20 and 21, promises to be the most interesting ever held by that organization.

Besides a number of the workers of the county, the following names appear on the programme: Rev. S. Standfield, of Detroit; R. T. C. Scott, of St. Thomas; Rev. H. H. Kimball, of Alvinston; and Rev. W. H. Crews, of Parkhill. Each school in the county is asked to appoint delegates and send their names to Miss F. MacKinnon, Alvinston.

At the anniversary meeting of Victoria Methodist Church, Chatham, on Monday evening, Rev. H. W. Crews made an important announcement.

When J. Knaggs died some time ago he left his property to the Methodist mission board, with a bequest to the Bible Society. His widow was allowed to live in the house, but the property will go to her the power of disposing of the money or any part of it, as she chooses while she is alive.

Mrs. Knaggs gave Victoria Avenue Church $2,000. Upon her death the legality of the bequest was questioned, the mission board contesting that under the will of Mr. Knaggs the board was entitled to all the money.

Victoria Avenue Church held that the transfer of the $2,000 to them was legal, and a suit involving that amount was brought.

The matter was heard yesterday, and has decided to drop proceedings, and this is the happy announcement.

Mrs. Crews made the announcement that the $2,000 will go to the Victoria Avenue Church.

Early on the morning of Aug. 30 last a barn situated in the township of North Easthope, and owned by Jacob Wilhelm, V.S., of Shakespeare, was destroyed by fire.

There were suspicions of incendiarism at the time, and as the building and contents were insured in the Southwestern Mutual for $1,200, the directors of that company took steps to find the culprit.

Investigation by the police led to the arrest of Wilhelm himself, and on Saturday, Fred L. Hess, a brother-in-law of Wilhelm, who was supposed to be mixed up in the affair, was brought in Chicago. Both men were brought before the police magistrate at Stratford on Tuesday, when Hess turned Queen's evidence, and admitted having fired the barn by placing a lighted candle among the hay.

He claimed it was done according to arrangement with Wilhelm, who was hard up, and concluded the insurance money would be of more use to him than the barn. Hess was to get $100 for the fire. He was working in Galt at the time, and drove from there for the purpose of fulfilling the agreement, and shortly after left for Chicago on money furnished by Wilhelm.

The death occurred on Monday, at Echo Place, near Brantford, of Mr. Daniel Mott, an old and respected resident of that locality. Deceased slept peacefully away at the great age of 94 years. A number of overcoats and articles were taken from bags in the sheds.

In trying to get the dog off the track, Gotham lost his balance and fell under the wheels of the car. His body was dragged for about six rods, and was terribly mangled.

Jesuit Fathers Preparing a New Mission Ship.

Departure of the Schooner Nellie O. Thurston.

The Bicycle Sledge for the Klondike Just Patented—A New Eldorado.

San Francisco, Oct. 14.—The Jesuit fathers are preparing to build a new ship for the Yukon River to replace the one they formerly had, but which at the time of the rush a few months ago was purchased by miners as a last means of reaching the gold fields.

SHE'S OFF!

New York, N. Y., Oct. 13.—The gold seekers bound for Alaska on the new two-masted Gloucester fishing schooner, Nellie G. Thurston, did not succeed in getting to sea Sunday, as they expected. The vessel was delayed by an unfavorable wind.

The schooner bearing its expedition, composed of thirteen men and a wind-bound, yesterday having the pretentious title of the Pacific Mining and Trading Company, after leaving Erie Basin Sunday afternoon for her voyage around the "Horn" to Cook's Inlet, Alaska, to gather in the gold lying loose around there only got as far as the west bank of the lower bay, where she has since been lying, and the wind-bound. Yesterday morning, the wind veering around southeasterly, she set sail and passed out by Sandy Hook at 8:25 o'clock.

OVER THE DALTON TRAIL.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 14.—Henry Romain, who returned from Cook's Inlet, having sold a mining claim on Hunter's creek, states that 100 head of cattle got in over the Dalton trail, but that other cattle en route will be blocked out by snow. Romain says a number of men with light outfits succeeded in crossing the trail. Their supplies are limited and the men may suffer before winter ends.

THE BICYCLE SLEDGE.

New York, Oct. 14.—The newest thing for the Klondike is the bicycle sledge. It was patented last week by Charles F. Wagoner, of Eagle Lake, Minn., and is calculated to be a boon to the argonauts who are seeking yellow wealth in the frozen regions of the north.

Not only is the gold region a far journey from civilization, but the diggings themselves are located on the Klondike and other tributaries of the Yukon river. Food and other supplies have to be carried by dog sledges, and this method is both slow and expensive, the dogs requiring a considerable share of the provender for themselves.

With the bicycle sledge, however, the gold seeker will be independent of animals for drag, and packing. With comfort and ease he can pedal along over frozen lake and mountain snow, permitting himself to swiftly coast down declivities. When there is opportunity, he may even bolt a sail and utilize the Arctic breezes for propulsion. The sledge is propelled like a bicycle, with pedals and a sprocket wheel, and is only a few feet long, which is provided with teeth to catch the ice. It is estimated that these sledges will travel, when urged, at the rate of 25 miles an hour.

IN THE NEVERSINK RIVER.

Mother and Daughter Drowned While Returning From a Wedding.

Madison, N. Y., Oct. 13.—The circumstances of the drowning of Mrs. Archibald O'Neill and her 17-year-old daughter Clara at midnight last night were not learned until today. Archibald O'Neill, with his wife and daughter, and William F. O'Neill, a lawyer from New York, was driving home last night from Mountaingle, where the party had been attending a wedding.

It was very dark when Denis-ton's Ford, on the Neversink River, was reached. The ford is at all times dangerous, and the motor, swollen with recent rains, when in mid-stream the horses broke and the horses bolted. The wagon upset and the O'Neills were thrown into the river. Mrs. O'Neill and her daughter were drowned.

LAMBTON ASSIZES.

Sarnia, Oct. 14.—At the Lambton assizes on Tuesday, an Indian named Zavore was tried before Chancellor Boyd on the charge of rape. He was discharged by the judge, as the husband of complainant had offered to settle with the accused for $315. A man named Flegg was also similarly charged, the young woman being Louisa Zavore, aged 16 years. He was acquitted, the girl having sworn in her testimony as to the circumstances under which the offense was committed.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

First International Gathering of the Society.

Many Prominent Divines and Laymen Taking Part in the Proceedings.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Delegates to the International Brotherhood of St. Andrew are arriving in large numbers. Seldom, if ever, has this city entertained a gathering of men of such high intellectual and moral caliber. Canon Gore, Lord Bishop of Rochester, Cyril Allington are household names in the Episcopal Church; Edward Edgewood, of Toronto, and Vashan Rogers, of Kingston, president and vice-president respectively of the Canadian Brotherhood. The Lord Bishop of Huron, Bishop Leonard of Utah, Bishop Tuttle of Missouri, Dr. Sturges (president), J. McMath, of Kansas; Edward Billings, of Boston (head of the Wells Institute for Workmen); John M. Locke, the well-known hymn-writer, of Chicago; Palmer Cox, Hector Baxter, of Minneapolis; Bishop Dean of Albany, and the Rev. Dr. F. J. Nesbitt, Archbishop of the West Indies, and Jacob A. Ellis, author of "How the Old Half-Lives" are among the distinguished visitors who will attend the convention. This convention is the first international gathering in the brotherhood's history. Henceforth it is expected that the growth on English soil will be more rapid than here. The brotherhood there at present is in its infancy, and the field there is larger, on account of the greater number of church parishes and communicants.

This morning a number of business meetings of national councils and of the international committee were held behind closed doors. Routine and other matters of no interest to the general public were considered. This afternoon devotional services, known as "quiet hours," were held at St. Paul's Church, presided over by Canon Gore, of Westminster. This evening there will be an informal meeting of delegates, followed by a conference of members of the national councils.

PRESBYTERIAN HOME MISSIONS.

Work in the Klondike—Grants and Appointments Made by the Executive.

Toronto, Oct. 14.—The executive of the home mission committee of the Presbyterian Church met yesterday in St. Andrew's Church. The claims passed for mission work done in the various Presbyterian churches during the summer months included the following: Presbyteries of Quebec, $374; Montreal, $379; Ottawa, $1,199; Lanark, Renfrew, $1,099; Brockville, $86; Kingston, $1,838; Saugeen, $104; Guelph, $106; Paris, $52; London, $45.75; Chatham, $111; Sarnia, $82; and others, including Manitoba, the Northwest and British Columbia, making a total of $28,325.

The following appointments were made of missionaries to different fields for the coming winter and for longer periods: Presbytery of Quebec, Rev. J. A. Black, Rev. J. M. Callan, Messrs. F. O. McMahon and J. D. Morrow; Presbytery of Montreal, Rev. C. Mc-

Renfrew, Rev. James Giehrst, W. H. Wilson, J. A. Leith, G. A. Ferguson, J. B. Boyd and W. Miller; Presbytery of Ottawa, Rev. Alf. Logan, D. J. Craig; Presbytery of Kingston, Rev. C. A. McDonald, Rev. D. W. Walker; Presbytery of London, Rev. J. Anderson; Presbytery of Chatham, Rev. A. McGregor.

The special case of Casselman, that has suffered so much by recent fires, was brought before the committee for special help promised next year, if necessary, in the pressing circumstances of the case.

Dr. Robertson referred to the necessity of following up the great rush of miners and gold seekers to the Klondike with efficient missionaries. He stated the steps taken in the appointment of the Rev. Mr. Dickie, the first one that had been sent out, and that next spring other missionaries must follow, which, with the demand for more laborers in the Rossland mining districts, will call for greatly increased contributions for home missions on the part of the church.

There was read an application from the Northwest Synod, asking that the amount promised them for the present year be increased. It was agreed to take no action in the matter at the present meeting of the executive.

The following resolution was adopted: "That it be an instruction to all missionaries in charge of work, and to British churches to prepare and send to Rev. C. W. Gordon, Windsor, a list of the names of the missionaries before the end of February and end of August, reports descriptive of their work, and of the names of the various home mission committees be urged to use all diligence to have this done."

It was agreed to have prepared and issued a leaflet, showing the progress of home mission work throughout the Dominion, and a committee was appointed to attend to this matter.

A large amount of routine business was transacted, and the committee adjourned to meet again in March next, or, if necessary, at an earlier date, if called by any emergency.

BUFFALO RAISING.

A Novel Industry in Wisconsin State.

Durand, Wis., Oct. 14.—Albert and Charles Huber, living a few miles south of this city, have a herd of about 25 full-blood bison and some is crossed bulls and heifers, bison and native cow.

About six years ago they were hunting in the western part of North Dakota and succeeded in capturing six three young bison, a bull and two cows, and these they brought to their farm here. The animals grew and thrived amazingly, and are pastured in an enclosure of about 400 acres, running down to the valley of Rose Creek, where they have ample room and shelter. Experiments were early made with crossed breeds, and it has now been found that the cross is very successful, the half-breed combining the docility of the domestic animals with the endurance and large size of the bison. They are also very fine fur producers, and grow to maturity in less time than domestic cattle. The flesh of crossed animals is very palatable, and the fur has all the good qualities of the native animal, and is softer and more silky. The crossed bloods can also stand far more exposure in winter than can the native cow.

A 5-year-old son of Mr. Stephen Lebour, while playing on the canal bank at Cornwall fell in and was drowned.

"Ancient Mariners" and Their Protests.
 We observe that some of the inland mariners who edit Conservative newspapers in Ontario are telling their readers that in the matter of dealing with harbor works, Mr. Tarte, Minister of Public Works, "seems to set his own opinion above those of the business communities that are interested in harbor improvements." "Even in his own city of Montreal," says one of these sapient critics—"the London Free Press"—"Mr. Tarte withholds the universal voice of the commercial public in the matter of the new docks. They want them built in one place and he insists on going to the exact contrary of their wishes." This is indeed a story that ought to be told to the mariners. The Montreal Gazette, the Conservative organ in Montreal, being on the spot, and having no love for Mr. Tarte, has an altogether different story to tell. It discusses the recent conference between the Montreal harbor commissioners and the Premier and the Minister of Public Works, and says that on that occasion "every interest and every fact had its advocate. It would be difficult to say which received the most general support. All that was evident was that if the greatest good is to be had from the expenditure made on the harbor, the advice of an engineer who understands the river and the traffic and the conditions under which the traffic has to be carried on must be taken and adhered to. Boards of trade and chambers of commerce, and even harbor commissioners, only seem capable of coming to a disagreement, and of muddling those who would approach the subject with an unbiased mind. In plain English, the meeting was not creditable to Montreal's business community. Mr. Tarte showed that he took a broad view of the importance of the country as a whole of the St. Lawrence route, and of Montreal's harbor as the meeting place of the ocean and inland craft. . . The best favor the Minister of Public Works can do Montreal just now is to sanction the beginning on plan 19, modified as competent engineers may recommend, and carried out, as to the number of piers, to the extent of the financial provision the harbor authorities can safely make." This is practically what Mr.
 Tarte has proposed. He has professed to act in this matter, as well as upon that of the Port Stanley harbor, on the advice of the responsible engineer of the Dominion, and he has done right, even by the confession of the leading Conservative journal of Montreal, but that will not deter Conservative editors in Ontario from denouncing the Minister of Public Works as headstrong and incapable. Nothing that he does will meet their views. They live to be dissatisfied.

Sportsmen beware! The man is abroad who mistakes his companion for an animal, and shoots him. He may be found in your party.

Women are not now entering the Provincial University in as great numbers as formerly. In 1891, ninety young ladies were in attendance; this year there are but twenty-eight. Of these one-half are Toronto girls.

Practical Farmers at the Helm.
 Hon. Sydney Fisher, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, visited Halifax, and delivered an address at the exhibition there. This is what the Presbyterian Witness, a non-political paper, says about it: "It is well we have now a Minister of Agriculture—a practical farmer, a member of the Government whose thought and skill and influence will be devoted to the promotion of the most important of all our industries.
 Hon. Mr. Fisher is a practical farmer, and he is proving that his office is no sinecure. His remarks at the exhibition on Monday were timely, and worthy of attention." It is fortunate for Ontario that in the Ontario Administration, as well as in the Ottawa Government, there is a practical and progressive farmer at the head of the Agricultural Department. Hon. John Dryden, in his Provincial field, is doing as much for the country as any representative man in the same sphere on the continent.

The many friends of Mr. A. T. Wood, senior M. P. for Hamilton, will be glad to hear that he has arrived home, and that he is steadily recovering from his recent severe cold, contracted while in British Columbia, and expects soon to be himself again.

Grand Trunk Enterprise.
 The Grand Trunk Railway management has made an important strike in getting full control of the Vermont Central Railway. By this deal, the company will now have a line of its own, extending from Chicago to Boston, thereby giving it great advantages in securing through passengers and freight. The G. T. R. manager and his associates are live men.

Whether or not the clerk Ponton accused of the sensational robbery of the Napanee bank, is guilty, remains to be seen. But one fact stands out in bold relief. It is that the bank manager and the expert police authorities suspected him of the crime from the first, basing their opinion on the fact that he was a young man who was in recept of a fair salary, yet was living beyond his means, being a borrower, secretly, of bank funds. Here is a hint to other young men in like positions of trust. Let them live within their incomes, no matter how small. They will then be less likely to be tempted to take that which does not belong to them. They will enjoy the respect of their fellows, and will not, if innocent, be likely to lie under suspicion when crime is perpetrated in their neighborhood.

The wife of Governor Atkinson of West Virginia has been on trial for forgery, but the jury failed to agree.
 This result, while not entirely satisfactory to the husband of the accused, at least relieves him of the possible delicate task of having to pronounce upon an application for a pardon for his young, pretty, impulsive helpmeet.

The Fire Record.
 Up to the end of September, the fire loss in Canada and the United States this year amounted to $30,413,700, being $10,000,000 less than in the same nine months of 1896; and $16,000,000 less than for the similar period of 1895. The forest fires in October will unfortunately fatten out the record to a very considerable extent.

The Parkhill Independent, a journal started four years ago, which supported the P. P. A. candidates in the last Ontario elections has discontinued publication. One paper was enough for a place the size of Parkhill anyway, and the business men of the town had the wisdom to recognize the fact.

Canada's liberty is now regarded as great. In India an editor has been sent to jail, according to the New Age of London, England, because he "wished India might become even as Canada, that most popular and socially satisfactory of all colonies." To us the punishment seems to be very hard.
 But the rulers of India hold that Canadians appreciate their freedom and will not misuse it, whereas in the great Eastern possession of Britain there seems to be a chronic fear lest the subject races, if allowed the liberty we possess, might inaugurate another mutiny, and take sides with the enemies of the Motherland. The disparity between the two countries ought to make Canadians fully appreciate the freedom which is theirs.

ONTARIO'S GOLD MINES.
 Mr. Blue Says the Mining Regulations Are Popular—A Good Record for Three Months.

Toronto, Oct. 13.—Mr. Archibald Blue, director of the bureau of mines, returned to the city yesterday from his trip to the north, where he has been organizing the new mining office that has been placed under the direction of Mr. B. Boyd, a son of Chancellor Boyd. Mr. Blue seems to be very well satisfied with his trip, for in his five days that he was at the office there were registered between 30 and 50 claims upon which discoveries had been made, and which had been regularly staked out by license-holders.
 He also issued during that time 107 miners' licenses; these, added to 35 issued in Toronto, make over 200 miners' licenses taken out since the new regulations went into effect about a month ago. Some of the license-holders have taken up two claims, as they are entitled to do, providing they are not under the same vein. Mr. Blue reports that the system of mining claims is very popular with the prospectors and miners, as it enables them to secure a claim at a very trifling expense. Among the many prospectors who have been up in that country is Lord Douglas of Hawick, who staked out some locations. A company, in which Col. Hildale is interested, is also concerned in some claims. This company, says Mr. Blue, will probably do some development work this fall. He heard of one vein from twenty to thirty feet wide which showed free gold in very promising quantities, some of the beautiful samples shown him being literally covered on the face with the precious metal.
 Many of the prospectors (so called) had had no experience whatever, and Mr. Blue was told that some of them never left their camps on Wawa Lake, but practical men, who were not afraid to go into the woods, he says, were in almost every case successful in making discoveries. This record Mr. Blue thinks is a very good one, considering that the country was not known to the goldseekers three months ago.

FOUR OF THEM.
 Troy, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Mrs. William J.
 Olinde, wife of a motorman on the Troy City Railroad, has given birth to four children—two boys and two girls —at her home in Albion, a suburb of this city. The mother and children are all doing well.

DIVORCES IN CANADA.
 Ottawa, Oct. 14.—The statistical year book, just published, shows that since Confederation Parliament has had 57 divorces, of which 40 were for Ontario couples, 14 for Quebec, 2 for Manitoba, and 1 for the Territories. Divorces suits have been operating in three provinces, with the result that 32 divorces were granted in Nova Scotia, 41 in New Brunswick and 21 in British Columbia.

Tragedy in Petrol.

John W. Chittick Hangs Himself in His Cell.
 An Old Resident of the Town and Well Known in the County.

Special to The Advertiser per G. N. W.
 Line.

Petrolia, Ont., Oct. 14.—John W. Chittick was put in the cell, being drunk and incapable, by Officer McRitchie, and was remanded on Saturday by Reeve Egan till Monday, the 15th. He was then brought before the mayor and sentenced to six months in jail.
 His friends in Trenton wanted him if the authorities would let him go. He was last seen alive at 12 o'clock last night, when he seemed in good spirits.
 He had eaten a good supper. Chittick was found by Officer McRitchie this morning a little after 6 o'clock dead, having hanged himself to the cell door with a small rope.

Deceased had been a resident of the town for a great many years, and was a smart and intelligent man, but drink got the best of him.

He at one time was a partner of Isdister & Chittick, liquor dealers, and was widely connected, and has relatives in several towns in Canada. An inquest will be held today.

FATAL ACCIDENTS.
 Two Children Cremated—Farm Laborer Struck by a Train—A Singular Combination.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 14.—Peter Case, a farm laborer, living in the township of East Flamboro, while walking on the G. T. R. tracks, between the Junction Cut and Waterdown, about 2:15 yesterday, was struck by a train and instantly killed.

Quebec, Oct. 14.—A terrible accident took place a day or two ago at St.
 Caesarian D'Arma, in the county of Bellechasse, when the two children of Mr. Fortunat Vallee were burned to death. The parents went out, leaving the little ones alone in the house.
 When the fire was discovered by the neighbors it was impossible to either enter the house or put out the flames.

New York, Oct. 13.—A singular train of fatalities in Brooklyn came to a climax yesterday. Michael McKusker, a saloon-keeper, died suddenly Sunday night of heart disease. An old-time friend, William Robinson, was so shocked at the news that he purchased pills green at the drug store of Andrew B. Shields and killed himself.

Robinson's sister went to Shields' drug store and upbraided Shields for having sold the poison to her brother. Shields was a sufferer from heart disease. He became excited at the charge and dropped dead.

DEARER COAL.
 Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Beginning with Tuesday the retail price of anthracite coal in this city was advanced to $5 for grate, and $5.25 for egg, stove and chestnut. These figures are to be maintained, or at least they will be if the promises of the coal men amount to anything.

SKAGWAY BEING DESERTED.
 Victoria, B. C., Oct. 14.—The steamer City of Topeka, from Alaska, brings news of the loss of the sealing schooner Annie C. Moore and her cargo of seal and provisions which she was carrying to Skagway. The crew had barely time to get their effects and get out in boats. Skagway is being deserted, even the gamblers getting out.

NEW STEAMSHIP SERVICE.
 San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 13.—Beginning Sunday, Oct. 21, a new steamship service will be inaugurated from Portland, Oregon, to Yokohama, and Shanghai and Hong Kong. Chinese line will be run in connection with the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company. The new steamship will constitute the service. The new service will be known as the Northern Pacific Steamship Company, Portland Line.

PURCH COUNTY ARSON CASE.
 Stratford, Ont., Oct. 14.—The North
 before the police magistrate yesterday.

Witnesses were called to prove the ownership of the property, and the placing of the insurance in the South Eastern Mutual.

W. A. McCutcheon, of Galt, who roomed with Hess while there, testified to having seen him experimenting with candles, as to how long they would burn, and understood he was arranging to burn some building, but he did not know where.

Jas. Wilkie, of the same place, who accompanied Hess on his drive to the scene of the fire on the night of Oct.
 13, disclaimed any knowledge of his intention or what he had done, and said he knew nothing of the fire till a couple of weeks ago.

Few men understand women. When a woman is weak, sickly,
 nervous, fretful, irasci-ble and despondent, the average husband imagines that she is simply out of temper. An average husband will probably simply go out and leave her alone for awhile, "to have it out with herself." A bad husband is liable to go off and get drunk. The fact is that the poor wife is suffering from illness of a description that breaks a woman down sooner than anything else. Her back is weak and aches. Her sides stitch. She has pains and a dragging sensation in the abdomen.
 Her appetite is touchy and she suffers from nausea. She has sick headaches, riddling, dizziness, cold chills, flushings of heat, shortness of breath, palpitation, disturbed sleep, frightful dreams, irregular and nervous and trembling sensations.
 Her pain-tacked nerves are a continual torture.

A woman in this condition is suffering from weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs concerned in wifehood and motherhood. Dr. Pierce's Pa-vorite Prescription makes these organs strong and well. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It has transformed thousands of sickly, nervous, petulant, childless and unhappy women into happy, healthy, helpful, amiable wives and mothers. It banishes the discomforts of the period of prospective maternity and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. Good medicine dealers sell it, and honest druggist does not try to urge upon you an inferior substitute for a little extra profit.

 viser, a 102-page book, is a doctor-book, paper-covered, sent for one-cent stamp. It cov-

The White Face

I was recovering from an unusually sharp attack of influenza, followed by fever.

"Discover the most isolated village in England, and rest there; that is the only prescription that I can give you," said my doctor, rising from his chair. "You want a complete change of scene. Good-bye!"

The doctor's words brought to my mind the picture of a little village lying among hills; it was but a hazy recollection—a recollection, it seemed, of long ago, for I could remember neither the details of the picture, nor the name of the village. As I leaned back in my armchair—for I was still weak after my recent illness—I tried to recollect when and where I had seen this picture, but it was useless; I only knew that the scene was in Devonshire, and far remote from town or railway. This was unsatisfactory; though I could not faintly impress on my mind, had in some strange way fascinated me greatly.

Then I began a systematic hunt through portfolios, but it was a fruitless search, until suddenly I recollected that a guide to Devonshire lay in my bookshelf. In the center of this guide there was placed a slip of paper as a marker, and there in that place I found what I felt convinced was the word-painting of the village I sought; moreover there was the description of a little trout stream that bubbled its way through broken and heath.

"The very place for me!" I exclaimed, joyfully; for I never felt happier than when I had a red in my hand. The name of the village also attracted me. Dornery, yes, there was something in the sound that seemed to promise rest and quietude, and which I needed. So I decided that this village would be the resting place that my doctor had prescribed.

It was a hazy summer day in July when I arrived at Dornery, all the villagers—except the very old folk who remained sitting in their doorways—had gone out into the fields, hay-making, from the farm, and the village in which I was standing, I could see them ploughing their furrows into the hay and pile it upon a wagon that moved slowly at intervals.

All was very still; below me lay a great house dotted in front of his brick wall, basking in the sunshine; he was apparently asleep, and his head rested on his forearms, a long line of ducks waddled leisurely across the yard, and she stood knee-deep in a shady pond. In the cool of the evening I strolled through the village; there was the little gray church half hidden among the trees, a row of thatched cottages close by, with the village green in front, and just across the green there was a large red brick house, the lower part of which was hidden by a wall thickly covered with ivy, and a struggling yew tree threw its dark shadows upon the upper windows—perhaps that perhaps gave the house so melancholy and forlorn an appearance.

Leaving the village behind me, I climbed through the bracken on the hillside and passed through the fern-carpeted woods, and where occurred a series of events that changed, I believe, the whole course of my life. (To be continued.)

ing when a hand had drawn down the blind before my eyes.

But one day, when the afternoon sun was shining full in at the window, I saw that the pink glow, while falling upon the white face, caressed also the fair curls of the girl who stood at the window.

I saw that the girl's face and that of the carving were alike.

Until this moment I had thought that nothing could be more beautiful than the sculptured head, but now I knew, without a doubt, that I was wrong.

True, there was the same rippling hair curling low over the forehead of each face, but in life it was golden; there were the same lips, tenderly curved as Cupid's bow, but the lips of the carving were not rosy, nor were the eyes of the clearest blue.

On returning to the farm I hastened to ask the tenant if he knew who lived at the red brick house. It was the only red house in the village.

"Dunno!" was the reply, and then the farmer relapsed into silence. The expression of his face betrayed no interest in anything beyond cows and plow.

I tried again.

"You know which house I mean?" I said, raising my voice as if addressing a deaf man; "the large house overlooking the green there. You can see it through the trees."

Slowly the connection of red brick with this house dawned upon the farmer.

"Ah, yon house," he said, with deliberation. "To be sure, to be sure. When I heard you think of it there be two that live there; there's Miss Vernon, she lives there, and there's Miss Vernon, his daughter."

"They go about a good deal, I suppose, parishing?" and the answer came.

"Dunno!" But a sudden thought made him add: "Miss Vernon, she don't promise rest and quietude, and which I needed. So I decided that this village would be the resting place that my doctor had prescribed."

This seemed to be the sum total of his information on this subject; and the briefest of glances I saw that perhaps "beams of warm imagination" may in some way account for it; but I was hidden by a wall thickly covered with ivy, and a struggling yew tree threw its dark shadows upon the upper windows—perhaps that perhaps gave the house so melancholy and forlorn an appearance.

Leaving the village behind me, I climbed through the bracken on the hillside and passed through the fern-carpeted woods, and where occurred a series of events that changed, I believe, the whole course of my life. (To be continued.)

I looked—I know not why—a second time at one of the upper windows. I seemed to have an intuitive feeling that something unusual had met my eye, so I looked again.

Through the branches of the yew tree I could dimly discern a face of startling whiteness; I could not see if it was that of a man or of a woman, only that it was intensely white. At that moment a light flashed from the window, filling the space with a ruddy glow, and a hand drew down the blind.

I walked on silently and thoughtfully, and even after I had reached the farm house I still mused upon the amazing whiteness of that face.

The next morning I was roused early by the lowing of cattle in the farmyard; I leaped out of bed, threw up the window, and looked out. The dew lay sparkling upon the blades of grass that sprang up between the cobbles of the yard, and the sun was bursting through the morning mists.

It was the work of but few minutes to dress, to be out of the house and out into the lane.

Revering in the delights of an early rise in the country, I was keen to townsmen—I passed the red brick house all forgetful of the white face, the remembrance of which did not come back to me until my return, when I was close to the house, and then suddenly the red face flashed before me, I could see the white face gazing down upon me, and I saw that it was a beautiful face—the face of a girl carved in pure white marble, the hair parted in the center the curls rippled down on either side low over the forehead, the lips were half opened in a cherubic smile, and though the eyes were sightless, I could see they also must be very beautiful.

As I walked down to the farm I could see nothing, think of nothing, care for nothing but the beautiful marble face. A whole week passed by. Every day I had fished in the little trout stream, and every day, going to and from that stream, I had seen the white face gazing down from the window of the red brick house.

Yet all this time I had never seen a soul pass through the gates of the house, nor any appearance of life at the windows, except on that first even-

JOHNSTON BROS.'
Bread
Delivered all over the city.

In the Dining-Room.

FRIDAY, OCT. 15.
BREAKFAST—Grapes. Cream of wheat. Roast breast of lamb.
Hashed potatoes. Coffee.
LUNCHEON—Mock terrapin.
Bread and butter sandwiches.
Baked apples with cream. Cocoa.
DINNER—Beef tea. Toasted crackers. Baked whitefish.
Mashed potatoes. Stewed mushrooms. Spanish fruit pudding.
Coffee.

Cut out these recipes and paste them in a scrap-book.

Hashed Potatoes—Take six cold-boiled potatoes; mince them and season with a half-teaspoonful of salt and a saltspoonful of pepper, adding one-half cupful of milk or stock. Melt a tablespoonful of butter in an omelette pan, add the potatoes, spread evenly and set back where they will brown, then fold over like an omelette and serve. A little minced parsley or onion improves the dish.

Mock Terrapin—Season one-half of a calf's liver with small teaspoonful of salt, and fry slowly until brown; then cut it into small dice and dredge with flour. Add to the pan a teaspoonful of mixed mustard, two finely-chopped, hard-boiled eggs, two gills of boiling water, and a dash of pepper. Simmer two ounces of butter. Let this boil three minutes, then add one-half a gill of lemon-juice and serve very hot.

Beef Tea—To one pound of raw round steak, freed from fat and finely minced, add four drops of hydrochloric acid, let it sit in a fruit jar and set the jar into a kettle of cold water over a slow fire, and let it boil gently for three hours. Strain through a coarse strainer. Season with a half-teaspoonful of salt. As the most nutritive portion of the meat precipitates in the preparation do not strain too closely or exclude the sediment from the beef tea.

Stewed Mushrooms—Drop the mushrooms as cleaned into water made slightly acid with vinegar. Drain, slice thin, and to every quart add half a teaspoonful of cold water, a teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper. Simmer five minutes; add a tablespoonful of butter rubbed into a tablespoonful of flour. Remove as soon as it bubbles.

Spanish Fruit Pudding—Line a baking dish with a light puff of paste, add a layer of sliced peaches, a layer of sweet oranges, sliced, and a layer of sliced bananas. Stew two tablespoonful of sugar between each layer. Cover the dish with a light puff of paste and bake to a delicate brown. Use eight or ten peaches, three oranges and four bananas. Delicious.

October brings the mushroom, and few people are acquainted with its indescribable delicious flavor. If necessary do without some other luxury and give the mushroom a good trial this month.

Worth $10 a Bottle.
Any person who has used Nerville, the great pain cure, would not be without it if it cost $10 a bottle. A good thing is worth its weight in gold, and Nerville is the best remedy for all kinds of pain. It cures neuralgia in five minutes; toothache in one minute, lame back at one application; headache in a few minutes, and all pains just as rapidly.

No. 3 Committee.
Question of Granting Special Privileges Disposed Of.
Long Discussion in Regard to a Key—Other Small Matters Dealt With.
The market and fire committee of the city council met last night to dispose of a number of small matters.
The members present were: Ald. Mc-Callum (chairman), Hunt, Drea-ney, Taylor, Olmstead, Stevely, Chief Rose, Inspector Bell, Market Clerk Wilson, and Secretary Bell.
Ald. McDowell reported that he had, in accordance with the committee's instructions, purchased a $3 stove for Mr. Dean, the weigh scale clerk.
Regarding the proposed office for the market clerk, Ald. McCallum reported that he could see no place in Inspector Bell's office where the market clerk could be installed. At any rate, he was opposed to any alteration there.
Ald. Taylor—No, there is none too much room for two men now. It's bad Mr. Bell hasn't got a reception room for his visitors.
The matter was laid over in the meantime.
Market Clerk Wilson, in his report, said the weigh scales needed repairing.
One of the tenants had a duplicate key to the entrance to the cellar, and he recommended that this privilege be withdrawn. He explained that one man had lost two empty crates, and another had lost an hour looking for a crate's eggs. There were a lot of hard characters around, and it was not safe to allow too many keys.
Mr. George McDowell, the tenant in question, was before the committee.
He said it was a mere matter of jealousy, because some of the other tenants of the cellar, who had no use for keys, wanted them. He had been locking the doors in question for 25 years, and nothing had come astray. Nothing should be left out in the passage way, and if people were careless they should not complain if crates were put out of the way. He paid for his own gas, and was the only one who used it after the city had canceled the contract for the gas to light the cellar.
After some further discussion Mr.
McDowell was granted permission to retain the duplicate key.
Mr. McDowell said he had been billed by the treasurer with an account for $10 for ground rent for the medicine man, and asked for a remission.
Ald. Olmstead opposed the application on the ground that Mr. McDowell had received the same notice as the others to remove his building before Aug. 31, and if he had not done so he should pay the rent for June and July.
Ald. Drea-ney moved that $5 be remitted, but this was lost, and a motion carried to remit the full amount.
Ald. Hunt asked if the new seats being used by vendors of eggs and fruit.
Mr. Wilson replied that it was not likely they would be until next spring.
It was decided to do the necessary repairs to the weigh scales.
Ald. McCallum advised the purchasing of new wood racks, so that relief wood could be piled on racks both ends to view. The matter was referred to the council.

FOUNDED THE PEDDLER.
Two Wellington Street Ladies Administered Deceased Troncing.

A peddler selling hair preparations and "Curling," got more than he had bargained for at a residence on Wellington street, not far from the Y. M.
C. A. building, last evening. After being told that his wares were not wanted, the saucy fellow refused to take "No" for an answer, and proceeded to make himself at home, much to the surprise of the lady and her daughter.
The fellow laid his hand on the old lady's shoulder, and the indignant young woman went forward to take knocked him unceremoniously out of the front door. At this juncture a kindly friend rode up on a wheel, dismounted, and took an active part in punning the peddler, when she had nervous. The fellow was glad enough to make his escape as soon as he was recovered sufficiently to stand on his feet, and ran away with his hat in his hand, while a small crowd had collected expressed their admiration for the woman. In which the ladies thumped the impudent intruder.
He needed no "curling" for his hair when he was laid out through with him.

It is alleged that this man has been decidedly impertinent in many sections of the city. The police will look after him.

London Sewer System.
To the Editor of The Advertiser:
The No. 2 committee of 1896 recommended the adoption of concrete pipes, to be put down on Maitland street, 10 inches in diameter, costing 22 cents per foot, 3 cents less per foot than glazed pipes, same diameter. The council of 1896 indorsed the action of the No. 2 committee. I will give twelve scientific reasons why London should use Portland cement concrete sewer pipes in their sewer construction.

1. Because they are manufactured in the city of London.

2. Because they are the best at production would remain in the city.

3. Because they are about twice as strong as glazed pipes, same diameter, and, when ripe, twice as strong.

4. Have a more perfect bore, and smoother than the average glazed pipes; deep sockets.

5. Made from materials that improve with age in the ground, and are practically indestructible.

6. No projecting collar or sockets below the line of pipe; has an even bearing throughout.

7. The water passing through and the frost has no effect upon concrete pipes.

8. They become as hard as the stones in the ground, as petrification is going on for a number of years, and are practically indestructible.

9. Cost less per foot than glazed pipes, same diameter. See accepted tenders for 1897.

10. Can be made almost any size, strength and shape required, to order.

11. No better raw material can be found in the Dominion of Canada than is to be found in London and suburbs for manufacturing concrete pipe.

12. Can be manufactured in London, with a fair show, all that is required for the whole sewer system, of any desired shape and strength, with straight and elbows, and the Corporation of the City of London can get all their wants supplied without going outside of the city limits. All that is wanted is a little common sense or a little business management, by giving their orders some time ahead of the time the pipes will be wanted. By so doing the concrete pipes would be well seasoned before going to the foundry, thus getting the best results, which would be more satisfactory to the manufacturer and to the ratepayers.
Yours truly,

MILITARY CHANGES.
Large Number of Officers to Be Retired —Commanders to Hold Office for Five Years Only.

A Toronto dispatch says: "The new time service regulations of the militia will have a wide reaching effect," said a local military man today. "There are some 40 officers in Canada who will be retired by it. Among those will be Lieut.-Col. G. T. Denison, Lieut.-Col.
Lindsay (London), Lieut.-Col. Davidson, Lieut.-Col. Tyrwhitt, Lieut.-Col.
O'Brien, Lieut.-Col. Smith and many other well-known officers."

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—A militia general order issued by the department provides that all appointments of commanding officers are for five years. An extension of time of office will be for three years, and will only be granted on the recommendation of the district officer commanding. No officer will be permitted to retain his command beyond the age limit for retirement.
Honorary chaplains and honorary colonels may be appointed, one for each regiment, provided that no expense to the public service is incurred. The appointment of lieutenant-colonels will be purely honorary, and will not give the right to command. Sanction for the appointment must come from headquarters.

AMALGAMATION DEPUTATION Appointed to Go to Toronto to Interview the Government Regarding the Annexation of Certain Lands.

The special committee of the city council, appointed to consider the amalgamation of certain property west of the city limits, met last night in response to a call by Chairman Hunt.
A letter was read by the chairman from Assistant Provincial Secretary Lundsen, as follows:

"Adverting to previous correspondence upon the subject of the desired issuing of a proclamation annexing to the city of London certain portions of the adjoining townships of London and Westminster, and having regard to the opposition which has been made to the issue of the proclamation, I am now directed by the provincial secretary to call your attention to a meeting for information, to be held on Tuesday, Oct. 19, at 11 o'clock, at his office, when he will hear all parties interested, whether in support or in opposition to the granting of the application."

The mayor advised the taking of the solicitor, and asked for power to take the engineer, if necessary.
It was decided that the deputation should consist of the mayor, solicitor, Ald. Hunt, Taylor, O'Meara, Drea-ney, Parnell and Stevely.
