ADDRESS TO MR. NEILLY

Retiring Pastor Of Dover Honored By His People

He Was Given A Purse Of Gold—A Popular Preacher

A pleasant evening was spent at the Manse in Dover, Wednesday evening, May 1st, where a number of the congregation from New St. Andrew's Church gathered and presented Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Neilly with a purse of gold. The address was as follows:

To Rev. and Mrs. Neilly: Dear Friends,—Before taking your departure from the Dover circuit, we deemed it a pleasant duty to call together a few of your friends in order to mark our appreciation of your presence in our midst during the five years just expired.

While we deeply regret your departure, we console ourselves with the knowledge of the fact that our loss will be Culloden's gain. During your sojourn here with us you have given proof, not only of perfect fitness for the work in the great vineyard, but of qualities and traits of character certainly worthy of emulation. We admire your methods and manners, your liberality, cheerful disposition and sense of humor, which render you all the more successful in the important work. We hope you will long be spared to adorn the pulpit, by your eloquence, to expound the texts of Scripture, to beacon the darkness of heaven and earth. We shall be pleased to learn of an uninterrupted success and welfare, which your natural abilities and studious habits certainly merit.

Hoping you will always have a pleasant remembrance of your intercourse with the people of the New St. Andrew's Church, we assure you of our good wishes for your welfare and happiness in your new field of labor, as a token of our esteem we deem it a privilege to render some little recognition of the kind regard and esteem in which you and Mrs. Neilly are held. Accept this purse, which, though inadequately expressing that esteem, we hope may serve to recall at any rate during your leisure moments the pleasant relations that have existed between pastor and people here. Into your new field of labor our respects and prayers accompany you, for wherever duty calls we shall find you under divine guidance.

Signed in behalf of the congregation of New St. Andrew's Church: MRS. WM. GLOVER. MR. WM. RICHMOND. Mr. Neilly thanked the people of New St. Andrew's congregation very heartily for their kind appreciation of his services during the five years he has been with them, as he had been so kindly treated by them. He wished them all every success in life and hoped to meet them again in the near future.

A FLAG THAT IS CANADIAN

W. K. Merrifield Offers Suggestion on a National Subject

Windsor Man's Idea Greatly Outdistanced—The Maple Leaf

To the Editor of The Planet: As some one in Windsor says it is time that Canada did away with our present non-descript flag, and decided on one that was descriptive of Canadian sentiment.

I do not think Canadians would be content to have a parody on the U. S. flag by having perpendicular stripes as suggested by the Windsorite.

The only flag that will appeal to Canadians is one that will retain all our national memories and at the same time express our national aspirations. For that purpose I would have the old Union Jack with a large maple leaf in the centre; and on the flag a sugar maple limb quartering across the flag, just touching the lower outer corner of the Jack, with leaves along the limb to represent the Provinces. The flag should be blue for the marine, and red for the land service.

These flags would agree with all our past and present sentiment, and also be unique and distinctive in appearance, with a beauty unsurpassed.

A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION

Heavy Loss Of Life And Hundreds Injured In Canton

Hong Kong, May 4.—Great destruction of life and property was caused at Canton Thursday evening by the explosion of a gunpowder magazine. Twenty-one bodies have already been recovered from the ruins. Hundreds of persons were injured. Fifteen buildings were raised, and over a hundred others were wrecked.

A section two hundred feet long of the massive city wall, was thrown down. The historical many-storied pagoda escaped with slight injuries. The officials and staffs of the hospitals are doing their best to succor the sufferers. In the Shamien suburb, where foreigners live, a terrific shock caused by the explosion was felt, but the residents were unharmed.

Some idea of the force of the explosion may be gathered from the fact that the roofs of houses a mile distant were blown off.

A number of important Chinese and foreign establishments were demolished.

The bodies recovered from the ruins near the magazine were shockingly mutilated. Many corpses of men and women were without heads.

The officer in charge of the magazine was among those killed, and when the body was recovered a pipe was found clutched in his hands, which suggests the possible cause of the explosion.

The financial losses are enormous.

HIS FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY

For Half Century Mr. Robert Cooper has Been a Chatham Merchant

He is Hale and Hearty and Still Has Keen Eye For Business

Hale and hearty, and in the full enjoyment of life, Mr. Robert Cooper, the veteran King street bookstore man, is to-day celebrating his semi-centennial anniversary as a business man in Chatham. Few men indeed can boast of being in business for half a century in one city or town, but Mr. Cooper is the exception which proves the rule.

Fifty years ago to-day, May 4th, 1857, Mr. Cooper first came to Chatham, where he was appointed agent for the Montreal Telegraph Co'y. His offices were situated in the upper portion of the Rankin building on the corner of King and Fourth streets. At that time Mr. McKenzie Ross ran a drygoods store directly beneath Mr. Cooper's offices.

MR. ROBERT COOPER.
Who Has Been in Business in Chatham For The Past Fifty Years.

"Very few of those who were in business here at that time, are alive and in Chatham to-day," Mr. Cooper told an interviewer who dropped in to congratulate him. "The only ones I know of who are here now are Mr. K. Urquhart and Mr. Jno. Hoan, who were both in the grocery business, Mr. Isaac Smith who conducted a merchant tailoring establishment, Mr. Geo. D. Ross and Mr. John Rice who both ran general stores, and Mr. W. R. Goin, builder; Capt. George Stringer, dealer in ship supplies; Mr. Albert Jahnke, furniture dealer, and Mr. John McKerrail."

In 1857, and for the three years following, was the beginning of hard times in Chatham. Conditions have changed since. At that time nobody could get a discount at the Bank. No loan companies existed at that time. Three years of bad crops followed, and only recovered in 1860."

Mr. Cooper has passed his 70th milestone, but in appearance, he is many years younger. During his residence he has taken a keen and active interest in the welfare of the city. He has served several very useful terms on the Public School Board.

VOLCANIC CO. CUT NATURAL GAS PRICES

The Volcanic Oil & Gas Company made the announcement to the press to-day, through their solicitor, that they are going to sell gas to manufacturers from now on for 12 cents per cubic foot. It was explained to the newspaper men that the Volcanic magnates felt that they should make certain concessions to the manufacturers of Chatham.

Messrs. Symmes and D. A. Goste were in the city yesterday, when it was decided that they should cut the price of gas used under boilers from 15 cents to 12 cents per thousand cubic feet.

They also announce that they intend to sell gas at rates to compete with any new companies who may pipe into Chatham at any time. Most of their new pipe has arrived, and the Graham and Richardson wells in Tilbury will be connected in five or six weeks at the least.

ANOTHER MINE FATALITY.

Three Men Killed and Six Injured This Time.

Johnstown, Pa., May 4.—Three men were killed and six others injured, three fatally, Thursday, in an accident in an ore mine at Riddlesburg, Bedford County. The men were all foreigners. A shifting crew placed a car on which the men had been unloading ore, on a trestle, while other cars were being placed.

When the engine backed to the main track it struck the car, which was derailed, and fell on top into a creek below.

SERIOUS RIOTS ON IN INDIA

An Angry Hindoo Mob Excited and Does Damage

Looted Post Office—Mission House Pillaged—The Agitators

Allahabad, British India, May 4.—Serious anti-European riots have occurred at Rawalpindi, Punjab.

A Hindu mob burned two bungalows, pillaged the mission church, looted the postoffice, burned a garage and all the motor cars in it, destroyed the plant of a power-house, and smashed the windows of the residences of many Europeans.

Armed police eventually obtained the upper hand and dispersed the rioters.

The town is now patrolled by a squadron of 10th Hussars. The outbreak is attributed to the incendiary influence of a number of well-known agitators, who have been making speeches throughout the Punjab, and who are also held responsible for the recent outbreak at Lahore.

Rawalpindi is a fortified town of the Punjab, capital of the Rawalpindi division and district. It is situated forty-seven miles from Attock, an important strategic position on the Indus, and has a population of about 90,000.

Rawalpindi is the administrative capital of the division and district of its own name between the Indus and Jhilam, on the railway from Lahore to Peshawar. There are an arsenal, a fort, a fine public park, several European churches, and the headquarters of the Punjab Northern State Railroad. Transit trade is carried on with Cashmere and Afghanistan. The Sikhs surrendered there, and in 1858 a great durbar or review was held.

CORRECTION

Dear The Planet.—Will you kindly correct the announcement of my marriage in your issue of 30th April. While I did not supply the news to The Planet, I readily admit the responsibility of that great paper in gathering news that were well founded in fact. Moreover, I wish to thank The Planet for its flattering and graceful references to myself personally in the published announcement. The old Planet is courteous and considerate in anything the parties entirely satisfactory for reasons entirely satisfactory to me. For the future, I ask for this correction because my arms are nearly wrenched off with thousands of too previous warm congratulations that may come in handy after a short while.

SOCIETY

THE HOSPITAL DANCE:

One of the most picturesque events of the season, without doubt, was the hop which came off last Thursday night in the spacious auditorium of the Elks' Club. The evening was a huge success both in point of attendance and enjoyment. The affair was given under the auspices of the ladies of the January Club of the Public General Hospital Assisting Society, and it is a source of pleasure to learn that a neat sum was realized above the expenses, to assist the ladies in their work.

It was a charming dance, and when the hour of closing arrived, there were not many in the hall who were by any means ready to depart, and even after the last extra, they were still applauding. Finzel's orchestra, which is a great favorite for such affairs in this city, were very obliging, and did their utmost to satisfy the wishes of the happy crowd, and they succeeded admirably.

One of the prettiest features of the evening, was the presence of many of this year's charming debutantes. The younger element were there in large numbers, and their evident enjoyment of the dance lent a freshness and animation to the scene which otherwise would have been lacking. There were several naughty little girls of this "not out" class who had stolen away from formalities for the occasion, and to them it was an evening of the very greatest interest. It was noticed that, although these have not been ceremoniously introduced to the affairs of society, their presence was by no means a disappointment to the men who were seeking out the best dances. It was a matter of some amusement to many of the older people present to notice that there was one happy young "not out" who would have had to refuse even a small encore to her best young gentleman friend, had he happened on the scene very late in the evening.

When the guests entered the ball room, they were received by Mrs. Rispin, President of the January Club, and Mrs. J. C. Pritchard. Mrs. Rispin's enviable reputation as an ideal hostess, suffered no injury during the evening. She looked stunning in a beautiful and becoming gown of black lace. Mrs. Pritchard wore white, in which she appeared to exceptional advantage. Associated with these two ladies as chaperones were Mrs. D. S. Paterson, who wore black net; Mrs. Stegmann in black, handsomely jetted; Mrs. Shackleton in black with white trimmings; Mrs. O. L. Lewis in a steel colored silk; Mrs. Witherspoon in blue Princess brocade; Mrs. Williams in black and blue; Mrs. Montgomery, in an exquisite gown of white lace over white; Mrs. Mac, Gardiner, in an etamine Princess gown trimmed with pearls; Mrs. Fleming, in a green silk; Mrs. Bole, in white and black; Mrs. Gordon in white organdie; and Mrs. H. S. Clements in a stylish Princess gown of white.

Among the debutantes to whom the evening was made interesting and enjoyable was Miss Helen Rispin. It was Miss Rispin's first big dance, and her popularity and beauty were more than once commented upon. She is one of the first girls of Chatham. She was dressed in a white silk and lace effect. Miss Mary Shannon, another of this season's charming debutantes, made a very pretty and attractive appearance in white crepe de chene. Miss Kathlene Hennessey looked very pretty in a smart pink gown; Miss Ida Stephens in white, pink and rosebuds; Miss Mary McKough in a brilliant costume of white chiffon; Miss Susie Taylor in organdie; Miss Dora Campbell in a becoming blue silk; Miss Phillimore, in a graceful white net; Miss Queenie Taylor in an expensive white satin; Miss Binnie Greening in white silk; Miss Binnie Greening in white silk; Miss Gemmill in white point de sprite and pink; Miss Bole in a green silk; Miss Rankin in white trimmed with Irish point lace; Miss Massey in a blue silk and Miss Alice Massey in a white organdie; Miss Brady in white; Miss Brooks in white; Miss Bell Smith in a handsome old rose creation; Miss Gilles in a blue voile; Miss Paterson in a black over white; Miss Flossie Butler in white lavender and organdie, and many, many others. It would be impossible to give minute and adequate descriptions of the many beautiful gowns, nor the ease and grace with which they were worn. The gentlemen were those who usually attend such functions, and to them also the dance was a most enjoyable one. The ladies under whose auspices the affair was given are to be generously complimented upon the success of the evening.

LITERARY

The April number of Journal of Modern Construction is a special Summer Cottage number, several pages being devoted to plans, etc., of beautiful cottages, ranging in price from one thousand to five thousand dollars.

A specialty is also made of window designs, a good article on The Art of Lighting the House being contributed by George W. Burridge, Architect. Roof Framing, New Methods in Construction, New Materials in Building, and Modern Fire Prevention Methods, all receive attention. There is another House Plan given, with description, contractor's bid and itemized bill of lumber and mill work. This department alone should prove of such value to architects and builders as to make The Journal of Modern Construction indispensable to them. It is published by Max L. Keith, of Minneapolis, at $2 per annum.

Many of the magazines have been devoted space lately to The Girl who Works for Her Living. The April number of the Home Magazine takes the other side of the question, Having Money What Shall I Do? There are several papers on Gardening, that will be found both interesting and useful. Stencil Ornamentation is a comparatively new occupation, which is well described and illustrated that the novice will find no difficulty in undertaking this effective work. The latest spring fashions and millinery are discussed by good authorities. There are plenty of fascinating stories and other features which go to make up a good spring number.

Published by The Bobs-Merrill Co., Indianapolis, at $1 per annum.

Change in United States Subscription Rates

The Planet, in common with all other newspapers of Canada, has been notified by the Postoffice department at Ottawa that on and after May 8th next, the rate of postage on papers entering the United States will be changed from one-half price of the Daily Planet sent to the cent for every four ounces or fraction of four ounces.

This means that single papers entering the United States will each require one-cent postage, that parcels of papers sent to one office will be four cents a pound.

In view of this, after May 8th the price of The Planet sent to the United States will be $5 per annum. There is a reduction in the actual price of the paper of over $1, as the postage the publishers will be obliged to pay will be $3.12 a year on each subscription. The Weekly Planet will be $1.50 per annum, strictly in advance.

ALWAYS A MYSTERY.

Women will always be a mystery. That's right; see the way they take to bridge, and one of the rules of the game is that you mustn't talk.

Unnecessary friction with your fellows takes from life's force, but the necessary friction adds to it.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.

Some time ago, when the present Queen of England was Princess of Wales and her children were very small, they were staying at a quiet watering-place. Once, on returning from a short sail, one of the little princesses was walking up the plank. An old sailor instinctively said: "Take care, little lady. The child drew herself up haughtily and said: "I'm not a lady, I'm a princess! The Princess Wales, who overheard the kindly injunction and the rather ill-bred reply, said quickly: "Tell the good sailor you are not a little lady yet, but you hope to be some day."—Montreal Star.

FORMER CHATHAM BOY ARRANGES BIG DEAL

The Ford Manufacturing Company, one of the youngest of the Ford concerns, was yesterday acquired by the Ford Motor Company, and will in the future be consolidated with the extensive Ford interests. The Ford Manufacturing Company was incorporated in November, 1905. Its business was the manufacture of motors under contract with the parent company, as well as the making of other parts of the Ford four-cylinder runabout. The company was the infant of the Ford factories, and while its entire stock and control was vested in Mr. Ford and some of his associates in the older company, several of the shareholders in the latter were not interested in the subsidiary concern.

The deal amalgamating the extensive interests was made by James Couzens, secretary-treasurer of the Ford Motor Company, and the amount of money involved was in excess of $500,000.

The transaction is a preliminary to the great improvements to be made during the coming year by the Fords in the plant. On the sixty acres recently acquired at Highland Park will be established, it is said, an automobile plant which will be the largest in the world and twice as big as any now in existence.—Detroit Free Press.

Secretary-Treasurer James Couzens mentioned in the above article, was formerly of this city, and was at one time a member of The Planet staff. He is a son of J. J. Couzens, the well known Colborne street coal and cement merchant. His many friends here will be pleased to learn of the success he is meeting with in the business world.

MARKETS

The market this morning was very small and quiet, and prices were higher if anything. The outside market especially was tight.

"The Most Delicious Pastry I Ever Tasted"

THAT'S the verdict when "Kent Mills" Gold Medal Flour is used. It's the most perfect pastry flour in existence—the kind you ought to have in your pantry.
"Kent Mills" Gold Medal Flour is a combination of best Manitoba Wheat with the finest Ontario Red Winter Wheat.
By our method of blending we use the milder, more delicately flavored Red Winter Wheat Flour to dilute the strength of the stronger, more nutritious Manitoba.

All Manitoba Flour is too strong for pastry. When used alone it makes pies and cakes that are inclined to be heavy, soggy, stomach-worriers.
But pastry made from "Kent Mills" Gold Medal Flour is beyond compare.
It's light and flaky, irresistibly tempting. My! how tasty—and so easily digested.

FASHION NOTES.

New Sailor Hat—Blouse Styles—Popular Linen Collar.
Fine white chip sailor hats show the broad low crown worn some years ago, and it is worth noting how many are touched up with velvet and wings of orange or flame color.
Wide stitched plaits are found on tailor made blouses. They are arranged so as to allow for the drooping shoulder effect which is found on all bodices, plain or elaborate.
A dull blue and white striped cloth made with a modified empire waist and trimmed with bias bands of the material is an excellent model.
Linen collars are very popular—not alone the embroidered ones, but those of plain linen. Some very dainty effects are seen in the shops, and this revived style brings into vogue an endless variety of fancy neckwear.
A pretty bow is of fine white linen, with four pear shaped ends, two a trifle larger than the other two, and all of them buttoned in white wash cotton and sprinkled with French dots. When put together with a tiny cross overpiece in the middle they form a Prilled bosom plaits, with or without the stocks, jabot and little bows, are great favorites.

Pale putty and pongee tones are smart and attractive. Pongee in natural color showing double linked rings of blue, red, green or brown are worthy of attention as frock material, and there is a stylish pongee barred with a fine line of brown.

Bankers Discuss Money Orders.
Montreal, Que., May 3.—The regular quarterly meeting of the Canadian Bankers' Association took place here yesterday at the Bank of Montreal, the president, Mr. E. S. Clouston in the chair. The chief question under discussion was the issuing of money orders by the several banks, and, although it is understood that some of the members are not very favorable to the plan adopted two or three years ago, it is said that a majority still favor the continuance of the project and everything will be done to make the system as perfect as possible.

Prayer in the Morning.

The morning is the gate of the day and should be well guarded with prayer. It is one of the threads on which the day's actions are strung and should be well knotted with devotion. If we felt more the majesty of life, we should be more careful of its mornings. He who rushes from his bed to his business and as though he had not put on his clothes or cleansed his face and as unwise as though he dashed into battle without arms or armor. Be it ours to bathe in the softly flowing river of communion with God before the heat of the wilderness and the burden of the way begin to oppress it.—Charles H. Spurgeon.

INTERNATIONAL S. S. LESSON FOR TO-MORROW.

(By Dr. R. A. Torrey.)

Joseph the Wise Ruler in Egypt. Gen. 41, 38-48.

Golden Text—"If any of you lack wisdom let him ask of God."—Jos. 1, 5.

Joseph was now about 30 years of age, had spent two years in prison and learned many lessons of faith, patience and strength; God was now going to promote him to power; he had not lost any of his faith during these dark days when he seemed forgotten of God and men; he was not soured or embittered by the hardship his fidelity to his Heavenly Father had brought upon him. His path to a throne had been a rough one, but when he had reached it he found the cross as nothing in comparison to his gain of a crown, and all things had been working together for good himself and all men. Even the forgetfulness of the butler was in Joseph's favor, for his recollection of Joseph just occurred at the opportune moment.

Joseph's humility, faith and loyalty to God were known by the first words addressed to Pharaoh, he was not ashamed to confess God before this heathen potentate. His interpretation of the dreams at once commands Pharaoh's confidence. His suggestions were discreet and shrewd and he may have had his own promotion in prospect. Pharaoh struck the secret of Joseph's wisdom—a man in whom the Spirit of God is. A spirit-filled man is always the man to put in authority. Pharaoh had better sense in selecting this deacon or ruler than many modern churches or political parties. Pharaoh regarded Joseph as the most discreet of men, because he was taught of God—V. 30—and Joseph's way of becoming wise is open to all men. See golden text.

Verse 43—Every knee was to bow to Joseph. Here again we have a type of Christ, who can make men, once slaves of sin, through faith and His grace, fit to sit with Him on His throne.
Verse 45-49—Pharaoh gave Joseph an Egyptian name, which implied he was "the saviour of the world," he fed the world's famine; Jesus feeds the soul's famine; both were exalted to save—Acts 5, 31.
A Gentile bride was given Joseph, his brethren rejoiced in him, as His church is now given to our Lord.

Jose provided for coming years of famine, when grain was plentiful, and no doubt unbelievers grumbled at him for being a fool, but his faith in God's word paid well; he was ready when the evil day came. We have a clear warning as he had of the evil days that are coming. Let us take heed, and take Christ, and they shall not be evil, but eternal joy.

PE-RU-NA RELIEVES AFTER-EFFECTS OF LA GRIPPE.

La Grippe Sows the Seed of Chronic Catarrh, Indigestion, Nervous Prostration and a Host of Ailments Too Numerous to Mention.

PERUNA is a remedy for the after-effects of la grippe.

Nearly every person who has had the grip during the past winter finds himself left with some chronic catarrhal condition more or less intolerable.

It may be a hacking cough, or a tired, all-worn-out feeling.

Sometimes indigestion appears and hangs on in spite of all remedies.

A short course of Peruna removes all these symptoms and puts the patient right again.

We have a multitude of testimonials along this line.

La Grippe Leaves a Case of Systemic Catarrh.

Judge Horatio J. Goss, Hartwell, Ga., writes:

"Some five or six years ago I had a very severe spell of grippe which left me with systemic catarrh."

"A friend advised me to try your Peruna, which I did, and was immediately benefited."

"The third bottle completed the cure."

Holds Pe-ru-na in High Esteem.

Miss Ernestine Durocher, 2813 Notre Dame, St. Henri, Montreal, Can., writes:

"During several years I experienced much inconvenience on account of weakness and heart trouble."

"The best doctors treated me, but without success."

"A year ago I commenced to take Peruna."

"I persevered with it regularly and a change took place more rapidly than I expected. To-day I am entirely cured."

"I hold Peruna in the highest esteem and I am always ready to speak a good word in its favor. I owe my cure to Peruna."

Pe-ru-na Was Recommended by One of My Friends.

Mr. N. Besenham, 126 rue Notre Dame, Lachine, P. Q., writes:

"I tried the famous remedy, Peruna, which was recommended to me by one of my friends, E. Pilon."

"I have not been without this valuable remedy for seven months, and now I see that I am entirely cured."

"Formerly, on lying down I was unable to breathe through my nose and I never passed a day without headache."

"To-day I experience none of these symptoms and this is due to Peruna."

evening at the Rectory.

The Woman's Auxiliary will meet on Thursday.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic or lingering coughs, bronchitis, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and adds the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherry root, promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure, however, acute, chronic, catarrhal and chronic cough, throat with hoarseness. In acute cough it is not so effective. It is in the lingering, hacking cough, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best natural products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is indigestion or catarrh of the stomach, it is a most efficient preparation. It will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores."

Sent to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

Mr. J. A. Goyer, president La Pharmacie Lactoneuse, 1089 Terri St., Montreal, Can., writes:

"I can highly recommend your inestimable preparation, Peruna, to all those who suffer from the bad after-effects of la grippe."

"Two bottles of Peruna have brought to me a complete cure of that sickness, and it has sold as the best tonic for the system that I have ever experienced."

Head and Stomach Were Affected by Catarrh.

Miss Olive Perrault, 8734 rue Albert, Montreal, Can., writes:

"I write you a word to congratulate you on your famous remedy, Peruna. I tried other remedies, but my cold did not get any better, and I feared I was becoming consumptive."

"The condition of my head and stomach was very annoying. I had coughed day and night for three months, as the result of a cold which I had contracted from sudden change of temperature."

"My brother advised me to try Peruna and I did so, for he was cured by Peruna. I took it regularly and improved steadily. I have now taken three bottles of it and am completely cured."

W. W. SNIDER, REAL ESTATE DEALER, HAS A BEAUTIFUL NEW COTTAGE FOR SALE IN THE VICINITY OF THE DEFIANCE IRON WORKS AND WHEEL WORKS, ON EASY TERMS.

The many old friends of the Rev. J. Wilson Smith will be pleased to know that he and his family are well, from a letter written from his home in Cambridge, Scotland, and received this week. His stay in this city for several months over thirty years ago remains as one of the brightest spots in the lives of a large number of persons who have consistently followed his teachings. It would hardly have been possible for any minister of the Gospel to have been more beloved by his hearers than was the Rev. Mr. Smith.

Fire Chief Pritchard made several tests of the fire engine yesterday. Except for a weakness in a couple of the rivets, the engine was found to be in good shape, and it is estimated it has enough to throw water about 240 feet. The engine is now at Park Bros., where the weak rivets are being repaired.

In going over some old papers a few days ago Kenneth Campbell came across the successful tender for the erection of the First Presbyterian church, now occupied by the Martin carriage works. It is dated 1851 and is from Cyrus Merriam, and the price was $375. Dr. Robertson and Henry Eberts are given as his sureties.

MUSICAL

THE GALLOWAY PIANO RECITAL.

For some time the music lovers of our city have looked forward with pleasurable anticipations to Mr. Jas. Galloway's piano recital, and judging from the hearty applause and words of commendation from the audience that filled Christ Church Hall last evening, Mr. Galloway fully demonstrated his ability as a piano virtuoso of the first rank. His playing is characterized by extreme delicacy of touch, refined phrasing and most artistic tone-shading in the soft passages, while the forte passages were given with vigor and abandon and, moreover, with a sustained volume of tone as is rarely met with. The magnificent Grand piano by Heintzman & Company was taxed to its capacity, but afforded a most proper vehicle for Mr. Galloway's heroic efforts.

The long and varied program was received with every mark of approbation. Miss May Peate, contralto; Mr. E. T. Jones, violinist, and Mr. G. F. Moss, baritone, contributed in a marked degree to the success of the entertainment, and shared the honors with Mr. Galloway.

In the movement from the Sonata Pathétique, probably the finest Bach ever wrote, from the first grand chord in C minor, to the climax of the Allegro, Mr. Galloway demonstrated his wonderful mastery of the instrument. His interpretation was bold and at the same time according to the accepted traditions and his execution most brilliant. By request he added the Andante from the same number and was forced to respond to an encore.

Miss May Peate has a beautiful contralto voice of great flexibility and exquisite quality and fully demonstrated her ability to use it in an artistic manner in Carlo Roma's beautiful little song "A Little While."

The next number, Svendsen's Romance in G, has never been given in Chatham before, when Svendsen, one of the greatest of modern composers, wrote this beautiful and exceedingly difficult romance he excelled himself. Mr. Jones as the soloist did this number full justice and gave an excellent interpretation. He responded to an encore with Schumann's beautiful little tone-picture "Abendlied."

In the fourth number Mr. Galloway showed his ability as a composer—in a smata movement composed by himself in a most delightful theme received most artistic treatment.

Mr. Moss showed a baritone voice of phrasing quality in his rendition of Robyn's beautiful little ballad "Answer."

The sixth number, "Love's Coronation," by Miss May Peate, is deserving of special mention. Miss Peate excelled herself in this grand song of Florence Aylward's. Her rendition showed evidence of most careful training and was a decided tribute to Miss Peate's ability as a cultured vocalist. She responded to an encore with a little gem of Guy D'Hardelot's, "I Hid My Love."

The group of piano solos, comprising the seventh number, is deserving of special mention—

(a) Rachmininoff's prelude in C sharp minor, in which the theme of three notes receives wonderful treatment at the hands of the composer, was beautifully rendered.

(b) Mr. Galloway excelled himself in Mendelssohn's beautiful "Andante" and Rondo Capriccioso. In this number the technical difficulties usually preclude its performance in public except by artists of unusual ability, but Mr. Galloway apparently revels in difficulties of this kind and gave this number with a fire and spirit that called for hearty applause.

(c) The Liszt arrangement of Schumann's beautiful "Love Song" was beautifully rendered, the exquisite cadenza being played with a fairy-like grace.

(d) Moszkowski's "Etincelles" is deserving of mention, although rarely played, the soloist was forced to respond to an encore.

The eighth number was the "Andante" from Wieniawski's second violin concert, and in this Mr. Jones demonstrated his ability as a violinist. This piece gives ample scope for the display of pure intonation and singing quality of tone and the soloist did this number and responded to a hearty encore with Jenner's beautiful "Romance Poétique."

Mr. Moss rendered Tchaikovsky's songs, "A Plaiding" and "Don Juan's Serenade" in good style. Special mention might be made of the accompanist to the second number.

The concluding number, Chopin's "Polonaise in E flat," was Mr. Galloway's culminating effort. In this number the technical difficulties are tremendous, but the soloist apparently made light of them and gave this number with great brilliancy, and was forced to respond to an encore.

Mrs. Milton Bogart was down for two numbers, but owing to illness was unable to appear, much to the regret of the audience.

Miss Peate very kindly consented to sing on very short notice, that her singing was fully appreciated goes without saying.

Mr. Galloway played the accompanists throughout the evening in his usual masterful way, and he and his assistants are worthy of every credit. Chatham is to be congratulated on the acquisition of Mr. Galloway to local musical circles, and it is to be hoped that he will again favor us at an early date.

THE AWFUL BIG CATS

They Are the Most Dangerous of All Wild Animals.

TIGERS MERCILESS DEMONS.

While Easy to Handle and Quick to Learn, When Aroused They Are Fiends Incarnate—Panthers, Jaguars and Leopards Are Treacherous.

"Of all wild animals," writes A. W. Bolker in Appleton's Magazine, "including the rhinoceros with his frightful charge and his dreadful horn, including the rogue elephant with his unbounded strength, his marvelous cunning and his villainous trunk, and including that gray shaggy rogue, the American grizzly, with his rib crushing hug, his ponderous paw and his hot, reeking maw, no beast is as dangerous to man as any one of the big cats.

"For, besides the mouth provided with teeth that can crunch through the leg bone of a man as if it were a pipestem, each foot is provided with five pointed claws, pointed like needles and from three to four and a half inches long. As the beast strikes with these he draws the claws in, keeping hold of muscles and tendons and ligaments and tearing them out of the flesh until they snap like rubber bands, so that unless the victim succumbs it will be months and months and sometimes years and years before he can regain use of an injured member.

"But not only do these talons tear viciously. Curious to say, although the claws are needle pointed and the edges are dull as the tip of a little finger, a cut with one of these hooks is like the cut of a dagger. On one occasion in Bostock's trained wild animal show a Bengal tigress made a sweep at a European black bear, cut through the six inch thick fur of the bear and cut three parallel strips two feet long and six inches deep and clean as razor slashes to the very backbone of the bear.

"As a matter of fact, the dexterity of one of these big cats' claws is astounding. Here is a curious accident which happened to Bostock when he undertook personally to break in a 'rogue' tiger that had 'gone bad.' Provided with sole leather guards worn next the skin and covering the fleshy part of the leg from the groin to the knee, he entered the arena with the bad one and was attacked and wounded. His trousers were slashed in one spot just big enough to admit a single claw, an undergarment showed two similar and the sole leather guard three similar cuts, while the flesh was torn an inch deep in four places three inches long.

"Still another instance showing the marvelous quickness of claw happened in the same show when the trainer in charge of a leopard group was saved in the nick of time from a rogue which had tried to pull him down by climbing up on him. The arm of this man showed between wrist and elbow alone twenty-six wounds varying from a quarter of an inch deep and an inch long to one inch deep and four inches long.

"Of all the big cats, including that magnificent jungle monarch of night, the lion, and including those beautifully spotted orange and black villains, the jaguar and the leopard, and their cousin, that noiseless, lightning swift traitor, the panther, trainers prefer to handle the tiger.

"This is contrary to the popular belief which credits the tiger as the most bloodthirsty of all wild beasts. The tiger is, however, the quickest to learn and the easiest to handle. Whereas the tiger always remains a nervous, high strung brute, after a time a lion becomes phlegmatic and lazy and requires urging, which is apt to cause trouble.

"Whereas the tiger is a demon incarnate and merciless once aroused, he is at least an honest fighter that gives ample warning when about to attack and only as a rare exception attacks a man from behind, unlike the jaguar, the leopard and the panther, which are treacherous and almost invariably attack when a back is turned.

"Again, of all this dangerous family the nature of the tiger comes nearest that of an ordinary house cat, and, always comparatively, the tiger it is that is most appreciative once the master has succeeded in establishing his truce. Then, like the domestic cat, he likes to brush up against the person of his trainer, loves to have his back rubbed and groomed and the top of his head scratched to soothe the everlasting itch between the ears, while he emits pure of satisfaction, forgetting that the least unforeseen accident may arouse murderous instincts that would in a twinkling convert the friendly meeting into a shambles."

Proved It.
Rich Uncle—You might as well stop mooning about Miss Beauty. She hasn't been in love with you after all. She's been after the money she thought you would inherit from me. Nephew—Impossible! What makes you think so? Rich Uncle—I have proposed to her myself and been accepted.—Tit-Bits.

The Only Way.
Patient (a shrewish woman, to doctor)—Perhaps, doctor, you can tell me some way of making my husband happy.
Doctor—I only know one—get him a divorce.—Slovo.

Trout, salmon, goldfish and pike are believed never to sleep, but only to rest periodically.

Where Do the Cents Go?

Nobody knows what becomes of the millions on millions of cents that are minted annually, the production varying from 25,000,000 to 90,000,000 per annum. They simply vanish from sight and are gone forever. The phenomenon seems strange and is not easily accounted for. People say, "What becomes of all the pence?" That is easily answered. First, some corrode, and thus are transformed into nothing that is recognizable. A copper cent, on the other hand, is indestructible, comparatively speaking. But the solution of the problem seems to be that cents are subject to more accidents than any other coins. They change hands ten times as often as dimes, for example, and, being of small value, they are not cared for.

A Difficulty.

were kept warm and comfortable last winter by Hecla Furnaces. They chose the Hecla in preference to all others, because it is the only furnace that cannot leak gas, smoke or dust into the house through the joints between the iron and steel.

Hecla Fused Joints, which are covered by patents and which are used exclusively in Hecla Furnaces, guarantee this sanitary and healthful condition. There are no bolts to work loose or cement to dry and drop out. Fused joints are the only permanent joints.

The Hecla Furnace, here illustrated, shows the galvanized casing turned back, giving a view of the corrugated tin lining and of the Fused Joints.

Fused Joints keep the air in a house always sweet and pure, and free from any taint of smoke or gas.

Water Pan is placed where it will evaporate the right amount of water to keep a springlike atmosphere in the house.

The Old Parish Clerk.

"F. C." writes to T. P.'s Weekly: In a very quaint old church, standing in a village about three miles from the Town of Derby, I remember, going back some 70 years, a clerk who played the clarinet in a band, up in a gallery some distance from the desk where he read the responses. The old parson, who was not the most patient of mortals, did not always wait long enough to give the clerk time to reach his post, so it not unfrequently happened he had to join in the responses as he walked from the foot of the stairs that led up to the gallery where the band assembled. We boys of a neighboring boarding school had much difficulty in keeping our gravity, as may well be supposed. After the reading of the psalms for the day, a hymn was given out, and away the clerk had to stalk to join the band in the gallery. Some times on the Sunday morning for change we boys were marched to Kedleston Hall to attend the service in the private chapel. The vicar, the Hon. Alfred Curzon, who did duty, was an ancestor of the present Lord Curzon, the late Governor-General of India. The clerk had a twofold duty to perform, one being the charge of the boys of the neighboring villages, who sat on forms arranged on either side of the reading desk. He was armed with a long wand, and during the reading of the service, if a youngster misbehaved, the clerk noddled him. Another duty was added to this. He had to walk to a raised-in space at the west end of the church to give out the hymns some instrumentalists were gathered there to accompany.

Santley's Jubilee.
It was in 1857 that Mr. Chas. Santley, the famous baritone, first sang in London. Consequently he is celebrating his jubilee this year, and is receiving many mementoes in honor of the occasion. Mr. Santley tells of an accident on the stage which nearly ended fatally. "It was in the season of 1851," he says, "when I was appearing in Ruy Blas at Covent Garden Theatre. Harrison and I were playing the last scene as it was arranged by Fechter. At the end of the duel Ruy Blas stabs Don Sallust and throws him through a window. Harrison—very incautiously, I think—would use a real dagger in this scene, and one night he really stabbed me in the side. Luckily I had sufficient presence of mind to put my hand behind me and withdraw the dagger as I fell, or I should undoubtedly have been killed. As it was, it was bad enough, for my doctor said that had I not been well covered with flesh the dagger would have penetrated my lungs."

A Sight.
"Do you know, I saw something remarkable just now," observed a broker to a friend in front of the Stock Exchange in Broad street.
"What was it?"
"I saw no fewer than five leading lawyers of the financial district walk past, and every one of them had his hands in his own pockets."

SUNSHINE FURNACE

The Sunshine way of placing coal in the furnace.

THE LARGE DOUBLE FEED DOORS

on the Sunshine furnace provide an opening deep and wide enough to admit great rough chunks of wood that would either have to be wasted, or chopped up for an ordinary furnace.

As for putting coal in the Sunshine, why, it's the easiest thing imaginable!

Such a generous opening would be next to impossible to miss. And you can easily deposit the coal in any spot you desire.

After you have experimented with small feed-doors, and hit the edge of the door frame a few times, you will recognize more completely the ease and advantage of the Sunshine method. The illustrations hint at the difference.

If you will examine the fire-pot of the Sunshine you will notice that the sides are straight up and down.

On many furnaces the fire-pots slope, forming a rest on which the ashes accumulate.

As ashes are non-conductors of heat they prevent the fire-pot from radiating as much heat as it should; they clog up the draft and deaden the fire.

But the Sunshine fire-pot is a wonderful radiator of heat. No ashes can cling to the straight, sheer sides of its fire-pot. The live, red-hot coals are always snug up to them. There is nothing to prevent the radiation of every unit of heat produced by the fuel.

The Sunshine is the most scientifically and perfectly constructed furnace. It radiates most heat with less consumption of fuel. It is the easiest-managed, cleanest, greatest labor and fuel economizer you can buy.

If your local dealer does not handle the Sunshine, write direct to us for Free Booklet.

FAMILY INTERFERENCE.

Rock on Which Many a Happy Matrimonial Ship Has Been Wrecked.

Many a good matrimonial ship, with its sunlit cargo of happiness and hope, has been wrecked on the rocks of family interference.

It is in the first years of married life that foreign interference is most trying and dangerous, and it is this very time when it is most conspicuous and dominant.

These early years are time of gradual adjustment to new conditions, the formative period of harmonizing with a new environment, of growth in mutual understanding, perhaps of meeting disappointment and of rising superior to it or of sadly revising golden dreams and unrealistic ideals, of taking trial balances on the ledger of happiness, of awakening to the wisdom of mutual concessions, of learning new lessons in the school of experience that can never be learned vicariously.

These are the problems of two that must be solved by them. They need only kindness, sympathy, generous co-operation.

There is no need for the family to remind the wife that the husband is not eighteen carat, that he will never make a fortune, that they fear greatly and then let their fear expand into a long catalogue of detail that fades away into the dim perspective of the unspoken.

After the goods are bought and sent home and cannot be returned what is the use of discouraging the purchaser? Why not point out some good points, something helpful and inspiring?

Sometimes the interference of families becomes even more active and aggressive than this, and because of a fancied grievance or a genuine opposition it actually comes between husband and wife and by harsh criticism or condemnation seeks to plant the seeds of discord between them.

Here instant loyalty of the one to the other should assert itself and refuse to listen to the voice. In an instinctive spirit of protection there should be a calm, dignified protest of what is essential should never be spoken and if of serious import should be expressed only in the presence of the one thus charged with what he or she should have the opportunity of denying or disproving before the weeds of suspicion have time to root themselves in the heart of the other.—Dellmeier.

WINDOW DRAPERY.

An English Scheme of Artistic Interior Decoration.

The following illustration with explanation from the fashionable English ladies' home paper, the London Queen, is presented here because of the suggestions it contains in the always interesting matter of window drapery:

"Here is a little sketch which I hope may be of use to you in the arrangement of the side curtains and casement blinds, which seems to puzzle you so much. It is from a window treated by Messrs. Story of High street, Kensington, with curtains and valance of shadow damask (a delightful all wool fabric reproduced from an old textile), with casement blinds of printed chaise cloth. You see, one set of curtains does not interfere in the least with the other set, as they are hung from different rods. The casement blinds have their own pulley arrangement for drawing and undrawing."

DON'T WANT TARIFF WAR.

Governments Will Have to Come to Terms Soon.

Washington, May 3.—The attitude of the French Government in declining to accept as sufficient for import purposes the tag of the Agricultural Department added to fresh meats, has convinced the United States State Department officials that the time has arrived when an effort must be made to reach a general agreement with France to govern the trade relations between the two Governments. It is believed that the present attitude of the French customs officials is the result of extreme conservatism, rather than any actual opposition to the American method of meat inspection and certification.

In view of the failure of Congress to assent to any of the reciprocity treaties to which the State Department had committed itself in principle, notably in the case of the pending French treaty, the officials are embarrassed in taking up a course of action that will prevent a general tariff war. Their course would have become easier had Congress, in declining to approve the French treaty, indicated what its own such definition of policy, the State Department is facing the necessity of framing some other method of dealing with the important question than the one which it favored at the beginning.

SUFFERED EIGHT YEARS FROM KIDNEYS

Doctor's said Female Trouble.

Mrs. Charles Lewis, Collingwood, Ont., writes: "For eight years I suffered from kidney complaint, and until twelve months ago doctors said I was suffering from 'Female Trouble.' Last November (1906), I was seriously ill, remaining in bed from kidney troubles. Finding doctor's medicine doing me no good, I purchased my husband a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, after having read of a case somewhat resembling mine. I commenced taking the doctor's medicine, and on second day a swelling commenced in my feet, legs and body. The following day I was so changed and swollen my husband in alarm, hastened to Mr. Johnson's drug store, who told him to tell me he thought the pills were drawing something out of the blood, and to keep on taking them. I did so, and after taking them a week, the swelling disappeared leaving me with a complexion free from pimples, tired, weary feeling gone, constipation from which I suffered for years, gone, pain in the back, gone, and a general feeling of joy and light heartedness. I have not felt since a child, took place in me.

My sister-in-law (Mrs. Bryan), seeing the action of Doan's Kidney Pills, and the change for good they accomplished in me, sent for a box and they completely cured her. When there is an opportunity of telling people what Doan's Kidney Pills did for us, we always take advantage of it, and tell them to give them a fair trial."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c. per box or 3 boxes for $1.25, for sale at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

Charged With Perjury.

Toronto, May 3.—In the preliminary investigation into a criminal charge, brought by Thomas Crawford against Murdoch McLeod of New Liskeard, was held. The charge arises out of the Lawson Mining Co. suit.

Mr. Crawford maintains that McLeod swore falsely when he gave in court certain dates upon which he said he made certain mineral discoveries in Coleman Township. These dates did not tally with those he inserted in affidavits of these discoveries.

The case will go to a jury.

The badge of honesty is on every wrapper of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its worth as an alternative and tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots, such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherry bark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which tells of well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Hays, Tholo, King, Scudder, Coe and Ellingwood that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in all "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the system.

ATTRACTIVE TRIFLES.

The Tailored Princess Gown—Styles in Silk Gloves.

The tailored princess gown has come to stay. It is found in rajah silk, pongee and taffeta as well as in cloth. It is usually trimmed with straps of the material edged with stitching or piping, with the occasional addition of buttons.

Long white silk gloves with the arm part embroidered in white or color with tiny posies are summer novelties. Ceinture buckles of pink coral have appliques of gold in empire design. Cameo brooches will be worn in schu of soft lace or lawn, thereby giving a quaint old fashioned effect that is very attractive.

Belts of heavy finished elastic with plain gold buckles are made in most of the modish hues and are especially good in the dark blues, colors never attractive in leather.

An exclusive style in woman's footwear is the Toga tie. It is a high pump made with four eyelets, through which broad grosgrain ribbon is laced and tied in a generous bow.

Whether a gown is made of silk, voile foulard or pongee, a jacket of the same will make it all the more attractive and useful, for this year Dame Fashion has decreed that a jacket of some kind must be worn, be the thermometer at its highest.

The dress pictured is of champagne liberty foulard dotted with golden brown spots. The color is one of the loveliest of the season and the gown one of those very useful ones that can be worn upon a number of occasions.

Princess Lace the Season's Favorite.

The Back Buttoned Blouse. Princess lace is one of the leaders among the finer mesh laces. It is an applique lace made on a foundation of fine Brussels net, upon which are applied in a suitable design hollon and point lace braids in different sizes.

Striking contrasts in colors are seen.

Navy blue with a touch of apple green and buff is a suggestion for a smart frock, the main color a rich deep blue. Pale covert cloth with touches of black satin in trimmings is popular for the tailor suit.

Gray in both light and dark shades is much used, while even in taffetas the rather strange but decidedly popular combination of gray and brown, either in stripes or plaids or changeable tones, is seen.

While many fancy silks and radiums, messalines and lousines are displayed in the shops, fancy has declared quite strongly for taffeta, rajah and foulard, with, of course, the omnipresent pongee.

All white will be the dominant costume for midsummer, but for spring, which means until July, colors will be more worn. The cotton voiles have taken such a strong hold on every one that the majority of costumes are being made up in their colors. Voiles will be worn for shirt waist suits as well as dressy frocks all summer.

WEALTHY BREWER ARRESTED.

Wanted in the United States for Arson and Perjury.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 3.—It turns out the arrest made Wednesday evening by Chief Mains and Officer McNamara of the Ontario Police, at the Clifton House, is an important one, as the man who registered as W. Warner, Toronto, is none other than Herman Bartells, the wealthy Auburn brewer who was convicted about a year ago of setting fire to his own brewery and about ten months ago jumped his bonds of $15,000.

Since his departure the grand jury of Cayuga County, New York State, found a true bill of perjury against Bartells, and it is on this charge that the authorities from Auburn, N. Y., for the past ten months have had detectives trailing him through Canada. Bartells has successfully evaded the sleuths of Montreal, Kingston, Brockville and Toronto.

The detection was made on the strength of a photograph sent the chief, and within one hour after he had registered at the Clifton Hotel, he was under arrest. Bartells strenuously protested he was not Bartells. The authorities at Auburn were telegraphed and a reply came to hold Bartells. Attorney E. W. Barrett and Under Sheriff Thomas Walker of Cayuga County, arrived here yesterday afternoon and went with Chief Mains to Bartells' cell. He recognized both the visitors and shook hands with them, admitting his identity, but announced he would not return to Auburn, and would fight extradition.

Since his arrest, he has been compromised with his bondsmen in settlement. The prisoner will be taken to Welland County jail to-day, pending extradition proceedings.

Some Senators Lose Part of Their Salary For Session.

Ottawa, May 3.—A novel point in the payment of sessional indemnity to Senators appointed during a session of Parliament has just been ruled upon by the Minister of Justice. His decision is that the statutory fine of $15 for each day a Senator is absent from the House must be imposed for each day of the session of the new Senator, whether the Senate was in session or not.

There are five Senators affected by the ruling, four of whom were appointed on Jan. 15 and one on March 12. Parliament met on Nov. 22 and they have been mulcted for every day from that date to the date of their appointment.

INDIAN LODGES.

Homes of the Savages in the Days of the Buffalo.

While in buffalo days some of the wild Indians of the plains occupied permanent dwellings during a part of the year, there were others who lived wholly in movable lodges.

These were made of buffalo skins tanned white and sewed together. They were of different sizes, the poor occupying smaller lodges, while the wealthy man, he who owned many horses, very likely had a large family and required a larger lodge. The size of a man's lodge was to some extent an indication of his wealth. Two horses were needed to drag the poles of a large lodge and one to carry the lodge itself, three horses for the transportation of the dwelling alone, to say nothing of the other property and the different members of the family.

A lodge of moderate size required eleven skins, and eighteen poles were needed to set it up. A sixteen skin lodge required twenty-two poles. The larger the lodge the greater was the number of poles needed. From the fact that they used an unusual number of poles in setting up their lodges it resulted that the Cheyennes had well stretched, nice looking lodges.

The northern Cheyennes declare that an odd number of hides was always used for the best lodges, and the number might range from eleven to twenty-one. The skins were sewed together with sinew thread. First, of course, the hides must be tanned, the hair removed and the skin softened. Then the Cheyenne woman held a sewing bee which was not unlike the bees of our ancestors in the early days of this country. She invited her friends to come and help her sew her lodge and provided them with refreshments.

Among them was always one woman especially skillful in cutting out the lodges, and she fitted the skins together before the women began to sew them.—Forest and Stream.

HOLDING A CAMERA.

Some Practical Suggestions to the Beginner in Photography.

One of the most important lessons for a beginner to learn is to hold the camera in the proper position during exposure. Whenever there are corners of buildings or other objects which give vertical lines the camera must be held absolutely level. If this is not done, the building in the picture will appear to be falling either backward or forward, according to the way in which the camera was tilted.

There are times, however, when the camera may be tilted to an advantage. In some cases it is an absolute necessity. For example, in photographs of clouds, waterfalls, balloons, etc., the camera may point upward, while in taking pictures of people swimming or bathing, children at work or play, etc., it may be pointed downward.

Very successful photographs of prominent speakers, parades, crowds, etc., have been taken when the camera was upside down. It makes no difference in the negative whether the camera is right side up or not. By holding the camera in the way suggested many a photographer has secured good pictures, while others who tried to use the camera in the usual way made absolute failures.

Often by holding the camera by the side of the body and pointing it backward one may secure pictures of children at play and of older people in natural poses without the knowledge of any members of the group.

Another warning to beginners is necessary. Do not try to take a time exposure while holding the camera in the hand. Even if the camera is held against the breast and respiration stopped the action of the heart is sufficient to cause the box to vibrate and spoil the picture.

Stripped at the Law.

Dickens describes in his novel "Bleak House" the woes of those who were involved in suits in the chancery court and the delays to which they were subjected before the English judicial procedure was reformed. Tradition says that an artist once represented the same idea in much less space. Two suitors in chancery, being reconciled to each other after a very tedious and expensive suit, applied to him to paint a device in commemoration of their return to peace and amity. He gave them entire satisfaction by painting them in the act of shaking hands—one clad in his shirt, the other without even that.

Wants More Than Beauty. The modern Englishman has more cool common sense than his grandfather. A beautiful woman attracts his eye, and he may have a passing fascination, but that feeling is only a transient one unless Miss Beauty has other recommendations. If he cannot get beauty combined with usefulness, he goes in for plainness.—London Women's Life.

Close Application.

"Now that you are about to go to college, my son, let me enjoy upon you to bear in mind one thing."

"What is that, dad?"

"It is this, my boy—the greatest results are always achieved by close application."

Yes, indeed. A man may have a heart big enough to love two women at one time, but he ought to have more head.

A dwarf sees farther than the giant when he has the giant's shoulders to mount on.—Coleridge.

MAROONED ON LONELY SPOT.

Sixteen Men Held Prisoners for Ten Days in Lake Superior.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 3.—C. B. Robinson and fifteen men were marooned on a lonely spot in Lake Superior, off Point au Ferre, where the Pittsburgh Steamship Co. is putting up a coal dock. When the ice broke up the men were unable to get ashore, and for ten days they were prisoners and had to live on salt pork and potatoes. At times the men became tired of their imprisonment and attempted to reach shore over the drifting ice, but they were compelled to return, and one of them was rescued in an unconscious condition. The men were taken off by the steamer Waldo, which stopped for coal.

SPIRITUALISTIC VICTORY.

Archdeacon Wins Suit Against Maskelyne, the Conjuror.

London, May 3.—The suit of Archdeacon Colley against Maskelyne, the well-known conjuror, for libel in denying his right to the title of Archdeacon came to an end yesterday with a verdict of $375 damages for the Archdeacon.

Maskelyne had a counter-suit, in which he claimed $5,000 from Colley for fulfilling the conditions of a challenge issued by Colley to him to reproduce by the conjuror's art certain spiritualistic phenomena the genuineness of which Colley believed in and Maskelyne denied.

This suit was dismissed.

ARE YOU SUBJECT TO HEADACHE?

If you are, and have never tried Burdock Blood Bitters it will pay you to profit by the experience of others and give it a trial.

A healthy stomach, right acting liver and bowels that properly perform their important duties, will render anyone free from headache. If these organs are not in perfect condition, headache must follow. The proper course is obvious—restore the stomach, liver and bowels, to health, and headache cannot exist. For this purpose no medicine equals

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

It removes the cause of the headache by its splendid cleansing, strengthening and tonic properties, whereby the entire system is brought into healthy action. Miss Collins, Dubal, Letellier, Man., writes: "I suffered for fifteen years from sick headache. To the advice of a friend I was my complete cure, and it is with great pleasure that I testify to you that I have not suffered since using your wonderful remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters. I can recommend it as an efficacious remedy for sick headache, which caused me so much misery."

Jury Friendships.

"The eleven men in the world for whom I entertain a feeling of peculiar friendliness are those with whom I served on a jury once," said a broker. "There isn't any other human tie just like that existing among jurors in a criminal case. Where we are, twelve men, all perfect strangers to each other, with different tastes, temperaments and habits, picked up and bound together for days in the most trying circumstances. The hardships, the tragic phases of the trial, the revelation in a new light. Hitherto unsuspected traits crop out. We argue, we quarrel, we sympathize, we make up, in a manner that would surprise our closest friends. The responsibility that we share sets us apart from everybody else and establishes a bond of interest and sympathy that is pretty sure to last."

RATES FOR JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION.

Although the much-talked-of Exposition at Jamestown, Virginia, will not be officially opened until the 28th of this month, and probably not at its best until some time later, the special railroad rates are already announced by the Canadian Pacific Railway. There are special rates for season tickets, sixty-day tickets and thirty day tickets, from Toronto to Norfolk, Va., and return, from now daily until the last day of November.

Norfolk is reached by several different lines of railroads and steamboats; during the summer a particularly delightful journey, but the very variety of routes renders it difficult to give rates. There are too many. All Canadian Pacific agents will be glad to quote them and give full particulars of services, or write to C. B. Foster, District Passenger Agent C. P. R., Toronto.

LICENSE LAW IS AMENDED

The Planet's Suggestion is Adopted Relative to Petitions

Forbes Affair at Charing Cross Has Beneficial Results

The Great Home Journal has scored another victory, this time in having another legislation so amended as to be in accordance with liberty and British fair play.

Our readers will remember the fight this journal put up last year against the methods used in depriving Mr. Forbes, of Cedar Springs, of a liquor license. The Planet at the time did not express any views as to whether Mr. Forbes was or was not entitled to a license, but took the firm stand that if he was deprived of his license, that he and the public should have the privilege of learning how and why he should be deprived of such license.

It will be remembered that Mr. Forbes secured a sufficient signed petition for a license, but a dispute arose over the qualifications of some of the electors who had signed the Forbes certificate and the petition against granting him a license. In accordance with sub-section A, of section 14 of the Liquor License Act, the certificates were referred to Clerk Rieborough, of Harwich Tp., for his final decision. The Clerk gave his decision against the granting of a license, claiming that the certificate had been insufficiently signed by duly qualified electors. When asked to give the names stricken off the certificate he refused to divulge them, saying that as far as he was concerned, "the names would forever remain a secret."

The injustice of such a law, and the latitude which it gave to one individual, was at once pointed out by The Planet, which single-handed and in the hands of the fiercest opposition persistently called upon the Clerk to divulge the names he had taken off the certificate as those of unqualified voters. A minister of the Gospel even took up the wrangle, and tried by rather peculiar argument to prove that Mr. Forbes was getting a square deal, when his license was being taken from him without being told the why or the whereof of such action. Forbes openly challenged the Clerk to divulge the names, and offered to donate $100 towards the above-mentioned minister's church if his petition were found to be insufficiently signed. The Clerk, however, maintained a stubborn silence, and the names were never made known.

The last session of the Legislature saw the matter taken up in Parliament, through the representations made by Ward Stanworth. The amendment made reads as follows: "And he, (the Clerk) shall in such case report to the Board in writing signed by him, the number of duly qualified electors and of the resident electors respectively for the subdivision and the number of duly qualified electors who have signed the certificate or the petition as the case may be, and the number of such last mentioned electors who are resident as aforesaid, and in case he has disallowed any of the names upon such certificate HE SHALL IN SUCH REPORT GIVE SUCH NAMES AND STATE HIS REASONS FOR SUCH DISALLOWANCE, and unless appealed against as hereinafter mentioned, his report shall be final and conclusive."

The amendments to the Act also give the parties concerned the privilege of appealing on the Clerk's decision.

Another important feature of the amendments to the Liquor Act is

Cobalt, May 3.—J. G. Magee, the consulting engineer of the Blue Bell gold mines of Larder Lake, arrived here to-day with a bag of gold ore, weighing about two hundred pounds, taken from the Blue Bell properties. The free gold can be plainly seen in every piece. Assays taken here show close to $8,000 to the ton. Mr. Magee says he put in six inch shots at various places on the Blue Bell properties and found gold in every instance. Mr. Magee is on his way to Toronto to purchase boats and complete camping outfit in order to prepare for the stamp mill to be installed by the company at once. Mr. Magee will return to Larder Lake and take charge of and push the development of the Blue Bell properties.

Mr. Magee is a mining engineer of known reputation and reliability. He believes the Larder Lake district will prove one of the greatest gold fields in the world and that the Blue Bell will make a great record as a producer.

CAUGHT SMUGGLING SUITS FROM DETROIT

During the past week five Chatham ladies were caught in the act of trying to smuggle spring suits over from Detroit. They were taxed 35 per cent. on their purchases, but were given to understand that they would not get off so easily next time.

The authorities hint that in future all persons caught smuggling will have their purchases confiscated, and now that the summer excursions have commenced, the officers will be all the more on the alert. There is no necessity for local women taking chances with the law, when they can buy goods which are just as stylish and as up-to-date right here in Chatham.
