REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

ON THE

STATE OF THE LIBRARY OF PARLIAMENT.

---

To the House of Commons of Canada, in Parliament assembled.

The Report of the Librarian of Parliament respectfully sheweth:—

That during the past year continued efforts have been made to render the Law Division of the Library complete in all its branches, especially in view of the requirements of the Supreme Court, now in active operation; as well as for the use and behoof of members of the Legislature. Large purchases have been made since last Session, in French Jurisprudence; and comparatively little now remains to be done to place this important section of the Library upon a proper footing.

In order to facilitate reference to the Law Books, and to exhibit the full extent of this valuable collection, a classified Catalogue thereof has been prepared; with an alphabetical index of authors and subjects. This is now in the press, and will be ready for distribution in a few days.

This work will be followed, as soon as possible, by the issue of a similar Catalogue of the Books on Political and Social Science, and Political Economy—which, together with the Law Books, will embrace all the works in more immediate demand by those engaged in the business of legislation.

Considerable additions have likewise been made to all other sections of the Library, particularly in the French department. Some dissatisfaction was expressed last Session by French Canadian Members, at the serious deficiencies which were apparent in this portion of the Library. Accordingly, strenuous efforts have been made to remedy this defect; and a larger sum of money has been expended for French Books, during the past year, than has been customary of late; but not so as to exceed in the aggregate the limit of one-third of the Parliamentary Grant for the purchase of books for the past two years; which amount has been approved by the Joint Library Committee as a suitable and necessary proportion of expenditure for French Books.

A supplementary Catalogue of the additions to the Library within the year has been printed; but this does not include the numerous works on Law and Legislation which are entered in the Classified Law Catalogue above mentioned.

The usual lists of Works deposited under the Copyright Act, and of Donations received within the year, are hereunto appended.

Amongst these Donations, there are some which are deserving of a special mention.

(1.) The original photographic picture of the Fancy Dress Ball, that took place at Government House, in February, 1876; which has been generously presented to the Library by His Excellency the Governor General. This is a beautiful memento of a memorable event in Canadian social life; and an historical record of permanent interest, not only of the individuals who took part therein, but of the characters they severally assumed.

In making this costly and beautiful gift, Lord Dufferin has expressed a hope that it may "prove the precursor of many another artistic donation to the Art "Treasures of the Dominion, and a first step towards the establishment of a National "Picture Gallery." Your Librarian would venture to re-echo this desire, and to solicit, on behalf of all students and lovers of the Fine Arts in Canada, the judicious liberality of Parliament to aid in cultivating a sound and enlightened taste, throughout the Dominion, in this particular. A small annual grant, to be expended in the purchase of choice productions by native artists, would be a much appreciated boon, and a stimulus to native talent in this direction.

(2.) Through the good offices of Mr. Edward Allen, our London Agent, the Library has become the fortunate possessor of one of a limited number of issues of a great literary curiosity, namely, a copy of the Holy Bible, printed (from type previously set up), bound and forwarded from Oxford to London, in the space of twelve consecutive hours. The wonderful achievement was performed in commemoration of the four hundredth anniversary of the introduction of printing into England by William Caxton; and it is a striking memorial of the triumph and consummation of the arts of printing and binding since that epoch.

(3.) Another literary treasure of much intrinsic value, recently presented to the Library, is a copy of the Annotated Catalogue of all the works printed in relation to America, between the years 1482 and 1601, and which are to be found in the private library of the late John Carter Brown, of Providence, Rhode Island. This catalogue of a most precious and unique collection, was printed for private circulation only, in the most sumptuous style, and is enriched by bibliographical notes from the pen of the Honourable John Russell Bartlett, an accomplished American scholar, and with fac-similes of original title pages of some of the rarest books in America. This catalogue is so highly prized by collectors, that a copy of it has been known to fetch three hundred and twenty-five dollars at a book auction. The Library is indebted to the widow of the late Mr. John Carter Brown for this interesting volume.

In the last Report the number of volumes then in the Library was estimated at 83,883. About 4,998 volumes have been added during the year, making a total of 88,871.

All which is respectfully submitted.

ALPHEUS TODD,
Librarian of Parliament.

SECOND ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

INSPECTOR OF PENITENTIARIES

OF THE

DOMINION OF CANADA

FOR THE YEAR 1877.

To the Honourable R. LAFLAMME, Q.C.,
Minister of Justice.

SIR,—I have the honour, pursuant to the requirement of the Penitentiary Act, to lay before you my Third Report, as Inspector, upon the Penitentiaries of the Dominion ; and to submit in addition, the reports, the statistical and financial statements and tables which the officers of the several institutions under my supervision are called upon to furnish.

By an amendment to the Penitentiary Act of 1875, passed last Session of Parliament, the Report of the Inspector has been made to extend over the financial, instead of, as formally, over the calendar year. In order, then, to carry this enactment into effect, and to obviate a hiatus of six months from the close of the latter to the commencement of the former period, a Report for the broken half year, ending 30th June last, is necessary. To all intents and purposes, this Report is more of a pro forma nature than of a strictly official character, such as that usually presented in compliance with the Act. For the obvious reason of its scope, as to time, it cannot be expected that the statistical, financial and other tables and returns will serve for comparison with the previous or any other Report. As already stated, it is only intended to prevent a gap in the official records. It is gratifying to me to be able to state that our Penitentiaries continue to be administered very successfully and satisfactorily, considering the serious drawback at Kingston, St. John and Halifax, which the Wardens have to contend with in the dearth of suitable and remunerative employment for the convicts. Notwithstanding, the discipline and rules have been very well maintained in all the Institutions.

The Wardens and Chaplains have been zealous and active in promoting the well-being of those placed under their charge.

The other higher officers, as also those in subordinate rank, have been efficient and well-doing.

The conduct of the convicts has been satisfactory.

The number of convicts in the five Dominion Penitentiaries, on 31st December, 1876, was 1,048, and on 30th June, 1877, 1,081. and were thus distributed :—

The total increase is 33.

This steady addition to convict population is attributed, by the Wardens, to the financial depression for some years prevailing, and to the consequent difficulty of obtaining employment. I am sorry at being obliged to add, the number is still augmenting. In the month of February I made a special visit to St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, for the purpose of enquiring into an alleged robbery of a sum of money ($529) from the Accountant's office. A searching investigation, lasting over several days was made, in the course of which numerous witnesses were examined but no trace of the missing money was found. An error in the pay list for December discovered some time after the investigation, disclosed the fact that, $200 of the sum supposed to have been stolen, had been paid in salaries, for which the Accountant did not take credit in his books. The actual sum lost to the Penitentiary is $329. During the progress of the enquiry it appeared that three of the officers had been guilty of serious breach of the Penitentiary rules, and to avoid dismissal they resigned.

The re-organization commenced upon the appointment of the present Warden, was completed before 30th June. The staff has been relieved of officers who were inefficient through age or infirmity, or who had been negligent in the discharge of their duties. In their place, younger and more competent men have been employed and I am enabled to state from my own inspection and from what the Warden has reported, that the staff is fairly efficient and giving more satisfaction. A marked improvement in the conduct of the convicts, during the half year, was observable. The removal of several bad characters to Kingston tended, in some degree, to bring about this desirable result. The rules were better observed, the allotted work performed more cheerfully and industriously, and the general discipline more easily enforced since the removal of the batch of fifty in December, 1876. Their pernicious influence and example produced a bad effect.

The construction of the new wings had not been begun on 1st July, owing to the limited number of convicts, who were employed at other necessary work. The excavation for the foundations will, I expect, be completed before the opening of spring, when the buildings will be proceeded with under the direction of the Department of Public Works. Meanwhile, some important and much-needed work has been done. A roomy and substantial stone barn has been built, in which the hay, cereals, vegetable and root crops—products of the farm—can be housed. A number of acres in the quarry farm have been cleared of scrub and boulders and well drained. The road bed of the tramway to the quarries has been marked out and prepared for the laying of the sleepers and rails, now on the ground. Brick and lime have been burned in large quantities, both for sale and for the requirements of the new buildings. A large gang of prisoners were employed in cutting stone for the new extension. It is a great disadvantage that there is not sufficient accommodation for all the convicts belonging to the Province of Quebec, now in Kingston Penitentiary. Their labour here would be very valuable. The lack of hands will delay the completion of one of the new wings a year, or perhaps eighteen months, longer than had been contemplated by the Government. This, under the circumstances, is unavoidable.

The Warden is exerting himself, and with much success, to improve the morale and personel of his staff, and to enforce discipline and good order among the convicts.

He has considerable difficulty in procuring the class of officers suitable, and the frequent changes he is obliged to make tend greatly to embarrass his administration. Knowing his energy and determination, I am confident, in a little time, he will succeed in placing the institution on a proper footing. So far, he has effected a salutary change. The facts stated, and the practical observations offered by the Roman Catholic Chaplain—to whose Report I beg to direct your attention—will show how much the Warden has to contend with, especially as regards his officers. It is one of the serious drawbacks to the more complete reformation of convicts in a newly established Penitentiary especially, that the staff must necessarily include a majority of those who have had no experience of the duties or responsibilities which they undertake to assume. Under our system the efficiency of the officers and their influence, for or against the reformation of the convicts, entirely depend upon the selection made by the Wardens, and upon the supervision which they afterwards exercise over the employés. In the appointment of the two classes of officers, guards and keepers, whose duty it is to carry out the rules and discipline and to watch over the conduct of the prisoners, the Wardens are untrammelled. Political influence is not brought to bear upon these appointments to any extent that could embarrass or prevent the Wardens exercising their own judgment and right, under the law, in making choice of competent men. They have, also, the power to dismiss guards and keepers whenever there is occasion to do so; consequently, the fault is their own if they retain undeserving or incompetent officers in the service.

Since the opening of the Penitentiary at St. Vincent de Paul, in May, 1873, a large number of new and entirely inexperienced men have been employed. It requires much time and trouble to fit these novices for the discharge of their duties. This is all the more tedious and perplexing on account of the small number of those of long standing on the staff, who would be competent to drill and initiate the newly employed, as in the army. The same bar does not exist to the efficiency of the staff, at Kingston, St. John, or Halifax, the large majority of the officers having had many years experience. I entirely concur with the Chaplain's views—supported as they are so strongly by the authority of men who have studied the matter attentively—upon the necessity of Penitentiary officers being specially trained for the service. Like the Penal Prison or the proper classification of convicts, I think, in time, the outlay necessary would be repaid to the country by the good which officers properly educated for appointments in the Penitentiaries would effect, I would be only too glad if the Government take the same view.

The semi-annual inspection of St. John and Halifax Penitentiaries was made in March and April.

The administration was being carried out at St. John Penitentiary as well as could be expected, taking into account the unfavorable position in which the Warden is placed. I have reference, chiefly, to the over-crowded state of the prison, and to the fact of the penitentiary being still made to serve the purpose of a common jail. I found about 70 more prisoners than the penitentiary can provide cells for. This large number of human beings, many of them full of sores and loathsome diseases, are huddled together at night into an open space on the top of the cell block, where make-shift bunks, packed side by side, are supplied. The lives of the convicts, who are under the special care and keeping of the Government, are endangered by this over-crowding. The morality, too, of those who are brought into close companionship and association, under cover of night, is not likely to be improved. Among the short term prisoners were youths whose ages range from 13 to 16. It is lamentable to see boys of tender years in constant contact with criminal adults. What else can be expected, in process of time, than the graduation of these youths into convicts? This result seems inevitable, unless, by the establishment of a reformatory, the Local Government reserve them from a penitentiary career before it be too late.

The Warden, under my instructions, notified, in writing, the Police Magistrates of St. John and Portland to discontinue sending short term prisoners to the penitentiary until more accommodation could be secured by the discharge of prisoners already confined, upon expiration of their sentences. Nevertheless, there is no abatement of the crowding process. Happily, thus far, the sanitary condition of the penitentiary is good. How long this immunity from epidemic may last, who can tell? Should a contagious disease break out, the consequences must be serious, as their is no hospital or suitable building for the treatment of infectious maladies. The surgeon has, again and again, expressed his fears of such a calamity happening, more particularly in summer. In the event of such a visitation, I do not see any other alternative than to throw open the gate and turn adrift the short term prisoners. Their attention must entail fatal results.

Very many of the short term prisoners spend their time comparatively idle, the more so in winter, when they cannot be employed at stone-breaking—which I instructed the Warden to introduce last year—at which they work until the severity of the weather prevents such labor out of doors. It is no easy task for the Warden to find occupation for the large number of prisoners in his charge, and consequently the difficulty of enforcing proper discipline can be easily seen. The appointment of a Chief Keeper last year, without, however, any increase of salary, has tended materially to enable the Warden to carry out his administration with more success than formerly.

At the period of my visit, the stock of manufactured articles was largely in excess of the demand. This was caused by an over supply in the market of the same goods imported from the States. In May the demand became brisk, and the heavy surplus had been greatly reduced when the disastrous fire of 20th June occurred. The loss then to the Government, by the destruction of manufactured goods stored in the Penitentiary warehouse, and of the office furniture, was about $2,250. In order to carry on the sales it was found necessary to rent an office in a convenient part of the city, where the accountant attends to his duties of keeping the books and receiving orders and payment for goods. The old buildings at the penitentiary formerly used as a residence by the Warden, and of late years falling in to decay, has been restored at trifling cost, and answers well as a store house for the manufactures.

I regret being obliged to again report that the profit derived from convict labor employed in manufacturing is not as large as could be desired. The expenditure for raw material during the five years ending 31st December, 1877, was as follows:—

|  |             |
|--|-------------|
| 1st January to 30th June, 1873.....      | $1,619 36  |
| 1st July, 1873, to 30th June, 1874 ..... | 11,752 69   |
| 1st July, 1874, to 30th June, 1875 ..... | 12,044 54   |
| 1st July, 1875, to 30th June, 1876 ..... | 8,892 52    |
| 1st July, 1876, to 30th June, 1877 ..... | 7,696 36    |
|  | $42,005 47 |

The receipts in those years were as follows:—

|  |             |
|--|-------------|
| 1st January, 1873, to 30th June, 1873..... | $7,425 40  |
| 1st July, 1873, to 30th June, 1874 .....   | 18,976 09   |
| 1st July, 1874, to 30th June, 1875 .....   | 16,756 24   |
| 1st July, 1875, to 30th June, 1876 .....   | 18,998 43   |
| 1st July, 1876, to 30th June, 1877 .....   | 14,189 60   |
|  | $76,345 76 |

The profit margin is narrow compared with the outlay. The most definite instructions have been given to the Warden respecting the issue of raw material for manufacture, and the strictest economy has been enjoined. The close examination which I make into these particulars in the course of my inspections lead to the conclusion that these instructions are carried out very faithfully. This being the case, it may naturally be asked, why a larger revenue is not derived from manufactures. A few reasons may be given, namely: The keen competition in the market, on account of the large supply of surplus stock of the same articles manufactured in the States; the great wear and tear of tools and machinery in the hands of convicts; the necessary loss incurred by bad material being furnished, the defects being undetected when received; and the unavoidable waste on account of unsuitable storage and by convicts, despite the closest supervision of the Trade Instructors. No matter what care and watchfulness may be exercised in directing the labour of convicts, it were idle to expect the same remunerative results derivable from the labour of free men. This is obvious. Effort, on the one hand, being stimulated by payment and the certainty of personal benefit; on the other, compulsory, it is, for the most part, made grudgingly and to the extent only that is necessary to avoid punishment or the forfeiture of privileges gained.

But it may reasonably be said that manufactures in a penitentiary should be conducted with the same regard to profit and with the same advantageous results as by business men outside. Furthermore, that the books should show, at a glance, every entry that the most expert statist or financier could look for. This may be done, and, I presume could be done by remodelling the whole Penitentiary system, and particularly the mode of keeping the books now adopted, upon which so much time and pains were bestowed, under the direction of the Government. It would be also necessary to this end that the paramount qualification of the Warden should be his journal and ledger experience; his ability to grind dollars and cents out of the convicts under his charge. No matter if he be deficient in judgment, common sense, experience in dealing with convicts, that he be sour-tempered, wanting in self-respect, firmness, or a humane disposition—all these or any of them are secondary attributes in the estimation of many who discuss this matter, when put in comparison with his business aptitude. The accountants must be either dispensed with in toto, or take other and new lessons from the Inspector of Finance, or some other more advanced preceptor, who will show them how to divide the value of a spade or an axe into fractional parts, and to credit the parts to remunerative or unremunerative labour, according as the implement has been used. Trade Instructors, too, must be multiplied, in order that convicts may reach a high standard as mechanics, and yield a large profit from their labour. Wherever in the United States convict labour is farmed out to contractors, a sufficient number of foremen or skilled mechanics take charge of the works and are constantly employed in supervising and instructing the convicts. Moreover, in appointing the chief officers of the penitentiaries, all considerations of party or political nature, which have for so many years influenced these appointments, must be set aside, unless the Government find in a supporter the right man. It will be seen, then, that a great deal must be done, and much of it not of a very easy, convenient, or inexpensive character, before the Penitentiaries can be placed on the same footing as outside establishments conducted by business men.

But why carry on manufactories in this or any other Penitentiary if they do not pay? For three reasons. First—Because all the machinery and material necessary was handed over here with the Penitentiary, at the time of Confederation; and, I take it, the Government of the day instructed that manufactures should be continued. Secondly—They afford work to the majority of the convicts for whom it would be no easy matter otherwise to find employment. Thirdly—They habituate those employed to industry, and prepare them, when liberated, to earn a livelihood at similar work. I might add fourthly, but not primarily, to endeavour to realize some profit, were that possible, with the means at hand.

En route to Halifax I remained over at Dorchester to see how the new Penitentiary in course of erection was progressing. The site is admirable for a Penitentiary; indeed it would be difficult to find one more suitable. As far as I could judge, the building is being constructed in the best and most solid manner possible. When completed, I feel sure it will be a fine structure. I considered it proper to offer some suggestions to the Chief Architect, Mr. Scott, which I believe have been approved of and will be adopted.

I have nothing special to remark about Halifax Penitentiary, beyond the fact that, as at St. John, the sale of brooms has fallen off very much, and for the same cause that operated last March at the other Maritime Penitentiary. It was necessary, therefore, to ease off the manufacture of brooms, to prevent a heavy stock accumulating, and to make only such grades as can be readily sold. I gave the necessary instructions to the Warden, who has acted upon them.

The conduct of the staff was reported to be satisfactory.

The health of the officers and prisoners was very good, as were also the conduct and industry of the convicts.

Kingston Penitentiary was inspected in April, upon my return from the Maritime Provinces.

The administration was conducted with great success and ability. The Warden devotes the same, if not more zeal to his duties than he would exercise in the management of his own business.

The conduct of the subordinate officers was good.

The sanitary state of the institution was gratifying.

The conduct of the prisoners, taken all in all, as also their industry, afforded general satisfaction to the Warden, the chaplains and the officers more immediately in charge of the convicts.

The difficulty of finding employment for the large number of convicts was still experienced. Withal, the Warden managed to keep every convict who was able to work at some occupation or other. Quarrying, stone-breaking, stone-cutting and farming are the chief sources of out-door employment. The shoe, tailor, carpenter and blacksmith shops furnish work to a large number inside. No proposal has been made for convict labour, nor was any contract made outside of those entered into with the Government. Beyond the work done for the Public Works Department, and the sale of rubble and cut stone there is no source of revenue.

It is to be regretted that manufactures which might be introduced into this Penitentiary, such as the castings for the rolling stock of Government railways, the construction of freight cars, flat and box, and the making of flannel, uniform cloth and blankets, not only for convicts in all the Penitentiaries, but also for the North-West Mounted Police and Militia, cannot be undertaken. The existence of the Government workshops at Moncton, N.B., stands in the way of the former, and the outlay upon the necessary machinery, for convict as against free labour, prevents the latter enterprise. Under these circumstances it is manifestly impracticable for the Warden to do more for the increase of the revenue. If there be little or no employment of a remunerative nature from within or without, the revenue must fall short of the expenditure out of all proportion. Though the money equivalent received for convict labour at this Penitentiary is not so large as the expenditure and number of convicts would warrant one to expect, yet, under the unfavourable circumstances indicated, the revenue is considerable. The unremunerative labour should not, meanwhile, be lost sight of. If it do not bring money into the Treasury it contributes in a large degree money's worth, by enhancing the value of Government property, by the performance of work which carries a money value the world over, and for which credit is invariably taken in the Penal Prisons of Great Britain, Ireland and the States.

The Female Prison is a model of cleanliness, order, industry and discipline. The Matron and her Deputy well understand their duties and faithfully discharge them.

After inspecting the Penitentiary, I visited Rockwood Asylum, which was soon to pass over to the Provincial Government.

Beyond the fact that I found the ventilation improved in the passages, dormitories and day wards on the male side of the institution, than on previous visits, I have no special remark to make.

No visit was made, up to 30th June, to Manitoba Penitentiary.

The necessity of an inspection was frequently urged by the Warden, the Assistant Receiver-General, who paid the accounts, and it was also represented by me to the Deputy Minister of Justice. The late Minister of Justice, when considering the estimates for the current financial year, appeared to think it advisable that a visit should be made after the removal of the convicts from Stone Fort to the new Penitentiary at Stony Mountain. In the Annual Report for 1875, p. 24, and in that for 1876, p. 20, I set forth the urgency of a visit, in view of acquiring that personal and practical knowledge of the administration and belongings of the institution indispensable to the proper direction of its affairs.

The payment of the accounts for supplies, and all other expenditure connected with the Penitentiary has been under the control and management of the Finance Department up to 1st July last.

The transfer of the convicts to Stony Mountain was made on 2nd February last.

Though the expense is large, compared with the number of convicts, I do not see how a reduction can be made.

No complaints against the officers or prisoners reached me up to the close of the half-year. It is to be concluded their conduct has been good.

In the last Annual Report the leading features of our Penitentiary system were briefly glanced at. In view of discussing it at some further length, and of considering to what further extent the Irish or Crofton system can be adopted, as well as to meet objections made from time to time, I beg leave here to quote a few paragraphs from that Report, as follows:—

“It may be described as the mixed system, congregate and cellular combined.

“The convicts are employed in associated labour during the day, and are confined in separate cells at night.

“They are not classified into distinct divisions, as in Russia, Belgium, Denmark and other countries of Europe. They are definitely classed on the books of the institution according to their conduct and industry.

“An exact mark system is carried out in all the Penitentiaries.

“It was contemplated some years ago to erect a penal prison contiguous to the Kingston Penitentiary, where convicts convicted more than once, and incorrigible characters, would be isolated, under a cellular or solitary system, from the better-behaved class. The idea was abandoned. Why, I cannot say. Very likely the conviction was felt that the experiment would be attended with the results it produced wherever tried, namely, the weakening of the will and mental powers of the prisoners, upon which their reformation mainly depends.

“There cannot be a second opinion as to the benefit that would be produced from a strict classification of convicts. If the construction and arrangements of the Penitentiaries permitted the isolation of those who have been confined more than one term in the Penitentiary, or whose conduct and character are bad, from the well-inclined prisoner, the work of reformation would be much advanced. Experience shows that a large number is committed to the Penitentiaries, upon conviction of a first offence. Their previous reputation has been good; they were, perhaps, betrayed into the commission of crime unwarily. They sincerely repent their fault, and they are firmly resolved to avoid its repetition. Such prisoners, as well as those who have given proof, while in the Penitentiary, of radical reformation and good dispositions, must, under existing arrangements, consort with the murderer, the burglar, and the habitual criminal. There is no help for it. They meet together, the good and the bad, the penitent and the callous, in the chapel, the school, the refectory and at work. There is no means of keeping them apart. This, manifestly, has a demoralizing tendency, and is calculated to lower the self-respect and to produce discontent among the better-disposed class of convicts.

“The question arises, what is to be done? Where lies the remedy? It may be possible to make provision for such isolation as would answer at St. Vincent de Paul, in making the permanent extensions, as also in the new Penitentiary for the Maritime Provinces. The separation can doubtless be effected in Manitoba and British Columbia, where the number of convicts is comparatively so small. I cannot see it could be done at Kingston, unless by constructing the penal prison before mentioned. The outlay would be repaid by the good to be effected.

“The means used to stimulate the convict to good conduct and industry are the hope of Executive clemency, and certain privileges during his sentence. Among these may be mentioned the remission of one-sixth of his term of imprisonment, “ while a well-behaved and industrious convict can obtain, by securing the maximum number of good marks—75 per month—a distinctive mark on his clothing which indicates the class to which he belongs; and an increased money gratuity on discharge, paid out of a fund appropriated by Parliament for the purpose. He is, moreover, allowed certain other favours which are much appreciated, such as small ration of tobacco weekly; permission to see and correspond with friends more freely; a light in his cell; books from the library; and employment less rough or penal. The punishment for breaches of rule and discipline, which chiefly consist in acts of insubordination, quarrelling, planning escapes, laziness, and violation of silence, are total or partial loss of remission time, according to the gravity of the offence; deprivation of good conduct mark on clothing; reduction in class; confinement in dark cell, not to exceed six consecutive nights; low diet, not to exceed nine consecutive meals; deprivation of light; coarse work; confinement in the dungeon with such diet as the Surgeon shall prescribe as sufficient, regard being had to the constitution of the prisoner and the duration of his confinement; corporal punishment with the sanction of the Surgeon. The dungeon and the cats are resorted to only in extreme cases, and when other means of correction are found to be inefficient.

“ All reports against convicts are entered and signed by the officers who make them in a book provided for that purpose, which is examined by the Inspector at each of his visits

“ It is the duty of the Warden to enquire into every report made against convicts, to hear the evidence in their presence, and to award such punishment, if the offence be proved, as it will justify; but, in no case, to be inflicted until one day will have elapsed after the report has been received.

“ A record of all punishments is kept, and is embodied in the statistics furnished from each Penitentiary to the Inspector for the Annual Report to the Minister of Justice.”

It will be seen, from the foregoing quotation, by any one acquainted with the Crofton or Irish system, that such features of that system as could have been, up to this date, copied, are markedly prominent in the régime of Dominion Penitentiaries. Everyone having at heart the interest of our penal institutions and the well-being of their unhappy inmates, must desire the adoption, sooner or later, of that deservedly extolled and practically beneficial code, as fully as practicable. To do more than has been done, would involve the outlay of a large amount of money. It is not possible, in any of the Penitentiaries, to isolate the convicts, in the first stage after admission, as prescribed in the Crofton plan. The cells are unsuited for solitary labour of any kind, particularly at Kingston, where they are too small—7 ft. by 2 ft. 8—darksome, having only borrowed light; while the classification required in the associate stage is simply cut of the question within the precincts of the Penitentiaries, as they are now constructed. To adapt them to the Irish system they must be remodelled at great expense. It cannot be disputed that the proper classification of convicts is highly important and tends greatly to their reformation. Of this fact, I became convinced long before paying an official visit to any Penitentiary. This conviction has since gained strength with the experience I have acquired, and hence my reference to it in the last Report. The question is, whether the Government would feel warranted in undertaking the necessary expenditures to assimilate, still further, our's to the Irish system. In view of the financial depression prevailing, and the additional burden that would be imposed, by adopting that system, I think any agitation of the subject, at present, premature. The change required for the introduction of the Crofton system would not be confined to the almost complete alterations which the Penitentiaries should undergo. It would be further necessary—to carry out the system in its entirety and in a most essential particular—to establish in Ontario, Quebec and one of the Maritime Provinces, a similar institution to that at Lusk or Philipstown, where convicts in the advanced stage would be employed at practical farming, and where restraint would be merely nominal. While this last stage has been found quite practicable in Ireland, where the extent of territory, compared with that of Canada, is exceedingly limited, and where the public organization is so thorough and extensive that a probationary convict or ticket-of-leave man is almost as much under surveillance as though he were inside prison walls, it is doubtful whether these prison farms could be constituted part of a Penitentiary system in Canada. The inducement to escape, which the certainty, almost, of evading re-capture holds out, cannot be resisted by the majority of convicts, no matter how tried or well conducted. The attainment of liberty is their constant thought. It would, therefore, need as much vigilance and activity on the part of the officers to persuade those at the model or industrial farm to remain and take advantage of the opportunities provided for them, as it does to prevent the convicts employed on the farm at Kingston or St. Vincent de Paul farm from running away.

It may be asked, is the prospective good likely to be derived from the adoption of the Irish system, so great as to justify the cost of the experiment? I candidly admit my inability to answer this question; were I to attempt a reply, it would be merely conjectural, and that is of little value. To speak accurately and intelligently of the Crofton system, one would require to see it in actual operation. It should be carefully studied and examined in Mountjoy Prison or Spike Island. Thus it could be judged how far more and to what advantage it might be introduced into Canada. To advocate its adoption upon the superficial knowledge of its working which may be acquired by reading up Miss Carpenter or Van Holtzendorff, or dipping here and there into Reports, however well got up, were, to use very moderate language, imprudent, not to say presumptuous. Yet, you will find persons who, with the smattering knowledge derived from such sources, will speak as authoritatively, nay, as dogmatically on the Crofton or any other system, as if they had been charged with its working for half a lifetime. It will scarcely be credited that some who dogmatize so flippantly on penal systems, have never had an hour's practical experience of their working.

The cardinal object to be effected in our penal institutions is the reformation of the criminal. This is above and beyond every consideration. If the acquisition of revenue can be combined with this great work, all the better; but that revenue should be the sole and prominent aim of convict administration, as some sapient critics seem to think, is a principle as vicious as it is barbarous, and is being justly exploded.

It may happen that the reformation of the criminal is not so effectively accomplished under our milder, as under the more rigorous Crofton system. Who can tell? Perhaps it would not be going too far to assert that the kind and considerate treatment which our convicts receive, and the aids furnished them to become self-respecting, self-reliant and industrious, tend as much to produce a salutary change of heart and disposition, as the harsher discipline of Mountjoy or Spike Island.

To arrive at anything like a fair conclusion, on this point, we should consider the relative condition, character and surroundings of the convicts in Ireland and in Canada. In the former country, unhappily, want and oppression swell the criminal ranks, which are mainly recruited from among the impoverished classes, in town and country. These classes, as a rule, are ground down and cowed down, from youth to manhood, and from manhood to old age, by some agency or other. They are constantly the objects of police vigilance or espionage. Could there be more fitting subjects for the operation, with every hope of success, of the Crofton system? In the majority of cases—if we except the deprivation of liberty and the degradation—Irish convicts cannot but regard Mountjoy or Spike Island as an improvement upon the wretched condition to which they have been almost invariably reduced by causes over which they had no control. Half-starved and broken-spirited, the sparse diet of the first stage is a boon; the improved rations of the intermediate or associate stage, a luxury; and the comparative liberty and earnings of the farm, a favour to be highly appreciated. Without doubt, these circumstances predispose the minds of the convicts, by their subduing and chastening effects, to good dispositions and ultimate reformation, under the influence of the admirable system so suited to those subjected to its operation.

How is it in Canada? Few of our convicts are goaded on to crime by the same causes which lead to its perpetration in Ireland. Here, with few if any exceptions, they have tasted the sweets of true and rational liberty. Here, they have enjoyed the benefit of just laws and benign government. Nine-tenths, it may be affirmed, are criminals with less provocation and excuse than in Ireland. Here, there is "bread and work for all" in the normal state of things, who are disposed to live by "honest labour." Who can say that our less rigorous penal system does not possess equal terrors, and does not punish, relatively, with as much severity, such a class of convicts as the Crofton system does those who come under its administration, in Ireland? When a man feels compelled to acknowledge to himself that he is an inmate of a Penitentiary through his own fault; when he cannot excuse himself to his own accusing conscience by even the erroneous pretext that he had been forced into the commission of crime by poverty, starvation or oppression of any kind, then, indeed, he suffers all the horrors of penal life; then, with judicious and mild treatment, may it not be hoped, that his heart will be softened and reformation ensue? "Ah!" the superficial theorist may object, "he is not isolated in solitary confinement; he has "no period of his sentence allotted for reflection and for forming good resolutions; "he is too well fed, too comfortably clad; he is bribed by remission time, by good "conduct marks to behave well; in a word, he is better off than many an honest "hard-working man outside the Penitentiary." This objection may appear on the surface to have some force. Let us examine it. First, he is not isolated, &c. What do you call the long, silent and dreary hours which elapse from nightfall of a winter evening until the grey dawn of the following morning, when the convict leaves his solitary cell to begin the labours of the day? Is not this isolation enough, lasting over periods of from two to twenty years, and sometimes for life? Has he not time for sober thought and good resolutions in the solitude of his cell, and in the silence which pervades the quarry, the workshop or the stone heap? A month's or even a week's experience would convince the most sceptical that the period of isolation is ample.

Secondly, he is too well fed, too comfortably clothed. Not more so than a humane Government has prescribed and sanctioned. Does hunger or cold contribute to a salutary change of heart and fructify in reformation? Or, is it not more reasonable to suppose that a sufficiency of food, plain and wholesome, and of raiment, will lead to better dispositions and produce the desired effect? It is a new idea to make converts by pinching the inner and outward man, through the painful process of a craving appetite and a shivering frame. Some think that voluntary mortification, though irksome to flesh and blood, is good for the soul; but it is not very clear that a convict subjected to this ordeal volens volens, all the year round, will progress much in moral advancement. Besides, while the criminal is discharging his debt to offended justice and outraged society by labour, by the deprivation of liberty and the many trials and humiliations incidental to his condition, he is, so to speak, the ward of the State, whose duty it is to treat him humanely, and to protect him against such severity or ill-usage as would impair his health. It is for this end the State provides surgeons, hospitals, medical comforts, and such sanitary arrangements as are essential to ward off disease and its fatal consequence. Would it be consistent to do all this and, at the same time, destroy the convict's constitution by the slow but no less sure inroads of cold and hunger? It is, to the disgrace of our common humanity, a well-known fact, that convicts are treated more like brutes than sentient beings, and that, too, in countries which boast of their superior enlightenment and civilization, and which abound in all manner of benevolent, philanthropic and religious organizations. Is this just or even politic? Does the criminal, with shattered health and wasted frame, emerge from his prison house a better, a reformed man? Or does he not go forth breathing vengeance, deep and bitter, against the laws and society which subjected him to usage all but inhuman? If opportunity and the means serve he will take that revenge. The outer man is changed, sadly changed, for the worse, and so, too, is the heart. Even the observant visitor of a few hours to our leading Penitentiary, can see that the work of reformation goes on silently, almost imperceptibly, no matter what may be said to the contrary. The late Miss Carpenter—no light authority on criminal and penal institutions—paid a visit to Kingston in the summer of 1873. It was evening when the party arrived at the Penitentiary. The prisoners were being mustered in the yard, after their day's work, in order to proceed to their cells for the night. Miss Carpenter expressed a wish to see them all, and, at my request, the Warden was pleased to have them assembled in the refectory. The good lady stood near the door and closely scrutinized each one as he filed past her. When all had taken their places she walked between the rows still scanning every individual keenly, her examination resulted in her declaring subsequently, that in all her experience in Great Britain and Ireland, on the Continent, in Australia, New Zealand or the United States, she had not seen so large a number of men who bore less the impress of crime on the countenance. Intelligent visitors have oft and again endorsed this opinion of the deceased philanthropist. Now, if, as we are led to believe, the face be the index of the mind, must it not be reasonably inferred, even from this outward sign, that evil passions and propensities are being subdued, and that reformation is effected under our Penitentiary system? But beside this facial evidence, there is further proof furnished by the books of the Penitentiaries in which are recorded the conduct and industry and the offences committed by the convicts against the rules and regulations. These are, as a rule, of so trivial a nature, that in our best-conducted academies or colleges they would escape with slight censure if at all noticed. Very seldom, indeed, are grave faults committed. Moreover the number of re-commitments is a reliable test of the efficacy of our system. Taking, then, the Kingston Penitentiary, the most extensive and containing the largest number of convicts, and the following is the result during the last five years:—

| Year.      | Number Discharged. | Number Recommitted. | Number per cent.  |
|------------|--------------------|---------------------|-------------------|
| 1873       | 185                | 26                  | 14 $\frac{1}{18}$ |
| 1874       | 135                | 16                  | 12                |
| 1875       | 152                | 25                  | 16 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| 1876       | 143                | 31                  | 21 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| 1877       | 231                | 20                  | 8 $\frac{1}{3}$   |
| Total..... | 846                | 118                 | 14                |

Fourteen per cent. of recommitments can scarcely be considered too high an average.

After much reflection upon the relative merits of the Crofton and our own system, I have reached the conclusion that the former is admirably adapted to the condition of things in Ireland; while the latter is suited to Canada, and, for the reasons stated, is as good as can be looked for, under existing circumstances. If, I repeat, the Government think it advisable and expedient to incur the expenditure requisite for the proper classification of convicts, a much-needed and most important reform can be effected.

I would venture to remark that the reform of the criminal class, to be radical and efficacious, should begin in the common gaol. There the good old maxim, principiis obsta, check the first symptoms, may be effectually followed. In vain is medicine prepared, when, by delay, the disease has taken deep root. Half rations, and the isolation of the Crofton system would, no doubt, produce better effects upon the novices in crime than the criminal who has reached so advanced a goal in his downward career as the Penitentiary. It is true that their are bad men in the Penitentiaries ; men so callous and wicked, that mild treatment and kindness are lost upon them ; I am happy to say the number is comparatively small. These receive exceptional treatment, so far as the circumstances of the Penitentiaries permit; whenever they misconduct themselves, they have to suffer some one or other of the punishments which the Warden has the power to inflict. But the exceptional cases do not establish an argument in favour of severe and rigorous discipline towards all, indiscriminately, neither do they prove that the system is faulty.

With reference to the management of the financial affairs of the Penitentiaries, I beg to state that it is conducted honestly and to the best of their ability by the Wardens. If the system of keeping the books be defective, the Wardens or Accountants are not to blame; it is, as has been established under the direction and sanction of the Finance Department. From it no departure can be made without the authority of the Government. As stated elsewhere, it was inaugurated and supervised by a gentleman who enjoys a high reputation in the public service as an accountant and expert in financial science, who spent much time and took great pains to indoctrinate properly the several accountants into the method which has been adopted. As far as I am competent to judge, I think the finances of the several Penitentiaries are prudently and economically managed. A few trifling improvements for purposes of analysis might, perhaps, be made; but such defects are too insignificant to call for any condemnation of a system with which no fault has been found by the Audit Department.

In this, as in all other matters connected with the Penitentiaries, the responsible officers, so far as I am aware, can meet full and searching enquiry.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your very obedient servant,

J. G. MOYLAN.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY.

REPORT OF THE WARDEN FOR SIX MONTHS ENDING 30TH JUNE, 1877.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY, 30th June, 1877.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my Seventh Report of the management of the Kingston Penitentiary, with the usual Returns for the past six months.

This report is submitted now for the purpose of, in future, making the Penitentiary year begin and end with the fiscal year; an arrangement which will, I think, be found advantageous in many respects.

There remained in this Penitentiary on 31st December, 1876, 685 males and 18 females—total 703.

Received since from common jails, 69 males and 7 females; from Rockwood Lunatic Asylum 23 males and one female; from St. John Penitentiary 2 males. Total received during the six months, 102. These added to 703 made a grand total of 805.

Discharged during the six months by expiration of sentence, 79 males and 3 females; by pardon, 18 males and one female; sent to Rockwood Asylum, 3 males; died, 6 males. Total discharges and died, 110, which deducted from 805, leaves remaining in the Penitentiary, at 12 o'clock p.m., on 30th June, 1877—males 673; females 22; total 695.

The accompanying returns shew the value of labour performed by the convicts to be, during the six months, $52,766.91 a large portion of which has been on Dominion Government account. I entered into an arrangement with the Department of Public Works, during last winter, to make all the iron doors, locks and gratings for the new Penitentiary in course of construction for the Maritime Provinces, at Dorchester, New Brunswick. Also to supply all the stone, dressed and undressed, for the new Educational block in connection with the Military College at Point Frederick. This work will afford profitable labour for a large number of convicts during the summer, and although there is no cash return for these contracts, the Government receives money value.

There are also several other minor contracts in hand for the Government which, with the two I have mentioned, will make the labour of the convicts for 1877 quite as profitable as when that labour was almost wholly let to contractors.

Many useful and extensive works connected with the Prison have been carried on, and great improvements made.

Generally speaking the convicts work well, and their conduct on the whole has been very good. Of course we have some "hard cases," but the greater number of this class are either frivolous youths or men of defective intellects, who are scarcely responsible for their shortcomings.

The arrangement just completed of returning to the Penitentiary the criminal insane who had been confined at Rockwood, will I am sure, be attended with economical results so far as the Dominion Government is concerned. The permanent accommodation now in course of preparation for this unfortunate class of criminals, within the Penitentiary walls, will be found more convenient, and quite as good in every respect as could be procured in any Asylum in the Province.

The temporary quarters assigned to the insane in the Prison Hospital, are healthful and commodious.

The attention devoted to the sanitary condition of this institution has produced the most satisfactory results. Fever and dysentery have almost wholly disappeared. No doubt the comparative content which prevails amongst the convicts has also a good effect upon their health; I treat them kindly, but not with too much indulgence; a discrimination which I find it difficult to make some of my officers understand. The great majority of the convicts appreciate generous treatment, and I believe strive to deserve it. But in a Penitentiary where the system of associated labour exists there are many opportunities for bad men to pollute and degrade their better-inclined fellows. In connection with a large prison like this a separate building should be provided for the worst class of criminals, who should be kept constantly confined in separate cells, wholly apart from their fellows, such solitary or separate confinement section of a prison would have a deterrent effect upon the most unruly.

It is unnecessary for me to theorize on the best mode of managing criminals, about which there is very great diversity of opinion. Practical experience and a conscientious and fearless discharge of duty are the best monitors, and by such I strive to be guided in the performance of my duties here.

I submit the usual Returns which contain in detail full information on all matters connected with the prison.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

JOHN CREIGHTON,
Warden.

SURGEON'S REPORT.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY,

26th October, 1877.

SIR,—I have the honour to present my Report for the half-year ending 30th June, 1877.

The usual tables of statistics herewith annexed, will enable you to judge of the hospital work during the half-year.

Considering the population of the prison, and the physical condition of a large proportion of the convicts when admitted, it is a matter of surprise and also of thankfulness that a much larger number do not become inmates of the hospital.

That the men are so healthy and vigorous, must, under Providence, be attributed to the unwearied vigilance and attention paid to all that concerns their surroundings. Laxity in hygienic matters would very soon result, in a place like this, in the spread of diseases of the most virulent character.

The convicts, on the whole, are kept vigorous and healthy. The food, clothing, and work are of the most favourable kind; in fact so satisfactory in most cases to the men themselves, that they manifest it not only in their appearance, but in expressions, at times, of thankfulness.

It will be observed that for the above period, we have had but the ordinary class of diseases, and, comparatively, but few deaths.

The number prescribed for daily, exclusive of hospital patients, amounts to 1,234, for the half-year.

Mr. Halliday continues his duties as Hospital Overseer in the most praiseworthy manner. I find him a thoroughly efficient aid.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient Servant,

M. LOVELL, M.D.,
Surgeon, K. P.

J. G. MOYLAN, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries.

MATRON'S REPORT.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY,
30th June, 1877.

SIR,—I have the honour of submitting for your information my Report on the condition of the Female Department of this Institution, from the 1st January to the 30th June instant.

There were under my charge on the 1st January last eighteen female convicts; since then, seven have been received and one insane convict returned from Rockwood Asylum in consequence of that institution being transferred to the Ontario Government on the 30th June last; three have been discharged by remission of sentence, and one was pardoned; leaving twenty-two remaining at this date.

The female convicts have been regular in their attendance at school, and they have displayed a laudable desire to avail themselves of the means of improvement placed within their reach.

The system of allowing prisoners to shorten the sentence imposed upon them by industry and good conduct, has had a most beneficial effect upon their behaviour as may be ascertained on reference to the return of punishments imposed during the half-year, sent herewith—one prisoner only having been twice reported.

The efforts of both Chaplains to improve the inmates in their knowledge of the duty required from them by their Creator, have been very successful, and their instructions have been attentively and improvingly heard by the prisoners. In conclusion, I herewith furnish you with a return of work performed in this department; also the value thereof, viz:—

PROTESTANT CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY, 30th June, 1877.

MY DEAR SIR,—In presenting this Report I have but little to remark. The duties have been duly performed. The number under my charge has hardly altered, the discharges, pardons and deaths being almost balanced by the new convictions. I commenced the half-year with a few over four hundred, and concluded with a few less. Five were removed by death, two by typhoid fever, one by heart disease, one by goitre, and the last by old age. Three out of the five had been but a short time in the prison, and I may remark that, as far as my observation goes, the greater part of the deaths that occur are of men who have been but a few months in prison, and who bring in with them constitutions weakened by hard living.

During the half-year I paid 1,176 visits to convicts in hospital and instructed 550 in my Bible classes.

I am,

Yours respectfully,

C. E. CARTWRIGHT,

Chaplain.

J. G. MOYLAN, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

CATHOLIC CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY, 16th Oct., 1877.

SIR,—I have now the honour of placing before you a six months' report. This report will bring us up to the 1st of July, which date is to be henceforth the commencement of the statistical as well as fiscal year.

In presenting this report I am happy to be able to speak, as in former years, most favorably of the workings of this institution. The officers of all grades appear to live in perfect harmony—all desirous of making the Penitentiary not only a place of punishment for crime but also a place of reformation. This harmony and good will among officers is producing the best results.

The school and library continue to do the same amount of good as in the past. The most ample opportunity is afforded me to instruct, in matters of religion, those under my care—many, I am happy to say, profit by these instructions.

The Penitentiary has been not only free from epidemics of every kind, but also, at least among the Catholics, unusually free from sickness. We had one death among the Catholic prisoners. Although the poor fellow cared but little for religion in his health, he was most penitent during his illness, and having received all the consolations of religion was perfectly resigned to die.

The following statement will show the movement of Catholic prisoners during the six months:—

Two of those sent to the Asylum were sent from St. John Penitentiary for that purpose.

All of which is respectfully submitted by

P. A. TWOHEY, Pt.,

Inspector of Penitentiaries, Ottawa.

 SCHOOL MASTER'S REPORT.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY.

SIR.—I have the honour to submit my half-yearly report on the state of the school for the half year ending the 30th of June, 1877.

Branches taught.

Reading, writing and arithmetic:—

|   |       |
|---|-------|
| Average daily attendance .....                      | 108   |
| In first book, reading only .....                   | 34    |
| In second book, reading and learning to write ..... | 39    |
| In third book, reading, writing and ciphering.....  | 35    |
|   | — 108 |

And, as in my last Report, I respectfully beg leave to state that the progress made by the pupils has been very satisfactory; and many thanks are due the Chaplains for their frequent visits. Also to my assistant teachers, for their zeal in improving those under their charge.

Respectfully submitted.

By your most obedient servant,

J. B. P. MATHEWSON,
School Master.

JOHN CREIGHTON, Esq.,
Warden.

ROCKWOOD ASYLUM.

ROCKWOOD ASYLUM,
KINGSTON, 27th September, 1877.

SIR.—As you inform me that the Honourable the Minister of Justice will require a Report from me of this Asylum and its operations for the six months, extending from the 1st January to the 1st of July of the present year, I willingly sit down to prepare it.

You are aware that by the determination of the Parliaments of the Dominion and Province this Asylum was transferred to Ontario on the 1st day of July last.

I am very glad, on public grounds, that the transfer has at last taken place, not that I am pleased to be no longer a Dominion officer, but because the Minister of Justice did not feel disposed for years past to recommend money to be voted to either finish the building or repair our dilapidated walls and fences, as it was quite evident the Asylum property must soon pass into the hands of the Province. I must say, however, that I never asked a grant for the maintenance or material comfort or amusement of the patients at any time that was not cheerfully supplied.

My labour has already been very materially lightened by the Province having appointed a very efficient Assistant Superintendent, otherwise my seriously injured health would not have permitted me to continue, even for the present, in charge of the Asylum.

In drafting a Report for the winter season principally, there is not anything of interest to state in reference to the farm or out-door labour, nor will the expenditure sheet appear equivalent to that for the other six months of the year. Two items of expenditure are very materially affected by the season—I mean coal and clothing. In the winter season we consume vastly more coal, yet, this is purchased in the summer season, so that no item appears in the expenditure sheet for it for the six months to which it refers; and in the winter season the heaviest and most expensive clothing is worn, yet, the largest outlay for it occurs in the autumn, so that the table will not show the actual cost of those two items for the time specified.

I will frame sufficient tables to explain the working of the Asylum, so far as the movements of the patients are concerned, not only for the six months, but also since the Asylum was first opened; and tables seven, eight and nine will give a full history of all the convicts that became insane in the Provincial Penitentiary, from 25th June, 1835, to 1st July, 1877.

These last tables are of great interest, and I think the Physician of the Penitentiary will continue, from year to year, to frame similar ones.

I may here be permitted to write that, in reviewing my past official career, my energies have always been directed to the conscientious and faithful discharge of my duties; and it is very pleasing to know that my conduct has always met the full approval of the Government of the day.

As my connexion with the Dominion Government, as far as my official duties are concerned, will for the present now cease, I beg leave to return my cordial thanks for all past favours received.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

JOHN R. DICKSON, M.D., F.R.C.S.E.

Medical Superintendent.

Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY.

22nd September, 1877.

SIR,—Agreeably to your instructions, I have the honor of submitting to you the following report upon the management of St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, during the period of time elapsed between the 31st December, 1876, and the 30th June, 1877, being the last six months of the fiscal year 1876-77.

My report is accompanied by the returns and statistics usually required with the annual report, and embraces all the important acts of administration done during that period.

The number of prisoners received during the six months ending the 30th June last, has been less than for the six months of the preceding year. There were received in 1876, seventy-five (75); in 1877, sixty-two (62); showing a decrease of thirteen for the same period of time. On the 31st December, 1876, the total number of prisoners was one hundred and eighty-two (182). On the 30th June, 1877, it reached two hundred and twenty-five (225); being an increase of forty-three (43). During the six months which have just elapsed, nineteen (19) prisoners were set at liberty; ten (10) by the completion of their terms of sentence, nine (9) by pardon. Of the sixty-two (62) prisoners received, one (1) was a prisoner who had escaped in 1875, and was recaptured after fifteen months absence; sixty-one (61) coming from the various judicial districts.

The District of Montreal is charged with forty-five (45); Richelieu with five (5); Quebec with four (4); and the other districts with one each of the sixty-two (62) prisoners received during the six months ending on the 30th June last. Fifty-eight (58) belong to the Roman Catholic Church, and four (4) to the Church of England; of those received, five (5) were to undergo a second imprisonment, and one of them had been set free by pardon on the 21st August, 1876.

Discipline has been vigorously maintained since the 31st of December last. The officers charged with the surveillance of the prisoners have, in general, faithfully reported violations of the rules and regulations of the prison by the prisoners, and the offences committed were punished with proper severity, as is shown by the table of punishments inflicted during that period of time. On referring to that table, you will, nevertheless, perceive that the means of repression adopted have been less severe, if not less frequent. Flogging was only administered once, and that upon two prisoners upon whom I had exhausted, up to that time, all the kinds of punishment permitted by law, without effecting any change or improvement in their conduct. Silence has been strictly observed in the dining hall, the dormitories, the chapels, whenever the prisoners were assembled there, and during the working hours. Violation of this rule was not permitted to a greater extent than necessity or circumstances demanded. During the six months which has just elapsed, the management of the Penitentiary has been carried on in the midst of most satisfactory tranquillity and security. No plottings, no mutinous conduct of a serious character. I can assert, fearlessly, that it would be difficult to find in any Penitentiary the occupants more submissive to the regulations, and more respectful towards those in authority.

The remission of punishment granted by law to prisoners whose conduct has been good, and the royal prerogative exercised in favor of a certain number, have powerfully assisted, in my opinion, in producing the excellent results obtained.

Since I was put in charge of the management of the Penitentiary, I have endeavoured to put the law into execution, in such a manner as to accord with its tenor and its spirit. If the well conducted prisoners have been enabled to enjoy the beneficent provisions of the law by obtaining a remission of their sentences, those whose conduct has not been considered satisfactory, have had to lose the advantages granted by the law. The firmness which I have employed in the application of this rule has produced a marked effect upon the behaviour of a good number of prisoners whose bad conduct had been previously reported to me every day.

 ESCAPES.

The attempts to escape have not been frequent during the six months which have just ended. I have but one to mention, that of the prisoner Joseph Mariar, which occurred on the 16th May last. This attempt did not end successfully. The runaway was captured at but a short distance off, by the guard, Joseph Demers, to whom I here desire to offer my congratulations, for the courage and devotion of which he gave proof on that occasion, as well as on others which preceded it.

WORKS.

I have given to the organization and the intelligent direction of the work, all the attention which my various duties admitted of. I have not been always earnestly seconded by the officers placed at the head of certain Departments, who sometimes showed themselves apathetic or negligent. The officer charged with the direction of a department, should himself be active, laborious, and a strict observer of the rules of discipline, if he wishes to inculcate the habit of order and work on the prisoners placed under his control.

I should, however, make allowance for the difficulties which are met with in the execution of the work. The workshops were not at first provided with the requisite tools; and up to the present time laborious and difficult work has had to be done by hand. So far, no machinery has been introduced into our workshops, in order to facilitate and simplify the work. In the Estimates for the year 1877-78, the purchase of an engine and some pieces of machinery of urgent necessity, were provided for, and this want will disappear before long. The work of the prisoners may appear less productive than might be desired; but it is fair to take into consideration the varied nature of the work to be executed, with the numerous and ever-increasing needs of the institution.

The prisoners employed in the workshops generally like their work, and I make it a rule to send out of the shops those whose habits and conduct are not satisfactory. I make them look upon the permission to learn a trade as a privilege and a reward for good conduct. If a prisoner is guilty of any grave offence in a workshop, I know of no more effective punishment than to condemn him to more rigorous work for a more or less limited time. The industrious and well conducted prisoners generally receive a reward at the expiration of their sentence, which has the effect of greatly stimulating their courage and their energy in the work; instead of giving them a sum of money as a gratuity, I give them tools or implements, of which they have the greatest need, in order to gain a livelihood in the trade which they have learned before being set at liberty, in addition to the sum of money which they need to return to their families.

There are but few experienced workmen among the prisoners employed in the various workshops, the largest number of those who have been received not having learned any trade before undergoing the punishment to which they had been condemned.

INSTRUCTION.

The school is well conducted, and the prisoners make very satisfactory progress in it. The frequent visits of the Chaplains and the Warden give them encouragement and excite a spirit of zeal among them. The completion of the new cells has rendered it possible for me to place the school in the hall (previously used as a hospital) and of increasing the number of those who attend it. I have also replaced the old tables and benches so long in use, by others more appropriate to the requirements of that important department.

Prisoners who do not attend the school get permission to have books, copy books &c., and to work at self instruction in the evening in their cells.

The library is always well attended, the books are kept in order, and their number has been increased.

SANITARY CONDITION.

The report of the physicians proves that the health of the prisoners has been better than ever during the six months which have just elapsed. The number of sick admitted to the infirmary has been less, although the number of prisoners has increased. No case of epidemic or contagious disease has occurred during the past six months, and no death has been recorded. This excellent result has been aided by the hygienic precautions adopted last year, and by the constant attention given to cleanliness, the clothing and the food of the prisoners. An accident which happened to one of the prisoners employed in the construction of the new cells has had no melancholy result.

The hospital placed now on the third floor suffers much from want of ventilation. The system put into operation in order to ventilate the temporary cells should be applied to it as soon as possible.

LAST SIX MONTHS OPERATIONS.

On reference to the different tables accompanying this report, it will be easy for you to understand the nature and the importance of the works executed during the last six months. As you will see, they are numerous, and have increased. Besides the improvement made on the Catholic and Protestant chapels, the school room, the dormitories, the additions made to the workshops and sheds, serving to shelter the prisoners employed in stone cutting, I shall point out the most important among the works.

1st. The construction and completion of the sixty new cells ordered during last autumn, began in the month of December, 1876; they were completed about the end of the month of May. On the 1st of June all the prisoners placed up to that time in the dormitories which I had improvised for the purpose were removed to the cells. I should remark that the works were commenced and carried on during the most rigorous months in the year. Two thousand superficial feet of stone and eighty thousand bricks were used in the construction of these cells in a comparatively limited area.

2nd. The excavation of the ground selected for the building of a stone barn 110 feet in length by 40 feet in width, with a cellar of the same dimensions for vegetables. Sixteen hundred and eighty (1680) cubic yards of clay were taken out of this excavation. The mason work was begun immediately afterwards, and on the 30th June the walls were eight feet in height.

3rd. The preparation of a portion of the cut stone intended for the new building agreeably to the plans which were sent me by the Department of Public Works.

4th. The setting up of a steam pump for the purpose of emptying the quarry holes, so as to admit of working it in all seasons of the year. This pump, formerly made use of for the waterworks, having been later on reckoned insufficient, was utilized at the quarry by the authority of the Minister, and by the expenditure of an almost insignificant sum.

5th. The levelling and macadamizing of the road leading from the Penitentiary to the farm and the quarry. These works commenced last year were prosecuted this year, and the entire road is now completed in a manner to admit of loads being carried over it at all seasons of the year. A portion of the work expended on this road will be paid for by the owners of the neighbouring lands.

6th. Brick making and lime burning.

7th. The various improvements made on the farm by draining and improving the soil, and the erection of new cedar fences.

EXPENDITURE.

The total amount of the expenditure for the six months from the 31st December, 1876, to the 30th June, 1877, amounted to.. $28,761 32

For the corresponding six months of the year 1876, it amounted to..... 35,407 00

Decrease ..... $6,645 68

|  |           |
|--|-----------|
| The average number of prisoners confined in the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary for the same period of time having been 207 and the true expenditure being $27,391.37, the probable cost of each of them for the six months amounted to..... | $ 132 33 |
| For the corresponding six months in 1876, the cost of each prisoner amounted to.....   | $ 159 86 |
| Decrease in the expenditure for the six months in 1877, per prisoner.....  | $ 27 53  |

If I now deduct the value of the prisoners' work for the six months, which amounts to $15,521.60, which would reduce the expenditure to $11,869.77, the total amount of expenditure per prisoner for the last six months, would amount to $57.35, or $41.20 less per prisoner than during the six months of the preceding year.

This result proves that the expenditure might be reduced a little every year by introducing a small amount of economy in the management. With a greater number of prisoners, we might succeed, however, in reducing to a lower figure the expense for each of them.

REVENUE.

The Revenue for the six months ending the 30th June, 1877, amounted to..$1,873 40
For the six months ending 30th June, 1876. it amounted to..... 997 13

Being an increase in favour of of the six months of this year of..... $876 27

As you will see on reference to the table, the revenue is subject to a gradual increase. If the larger proportion of the prisoners' labor was not employed for the benefit of the Institution itself, the revenue would of necessity reach a much higher figure. The value of the prisoners' work, for the six months ending on the 30th June, reached the total of $15,521.60 or $5,204.62 more than for the first six months of the year 1876. The proceeds from the prisoners' work in 1875 did not much exceed the sum of $7,000.

This result will be a convincing proof, I hope, that the labour and industry of the prisoners in the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary are utilized to the greatest possible extent.

BUILDINGS.

The plans of the additions to be made to the existing prison, were sent to us by the Department of Public Works, and the necessary instructions were at once given to the heads of the Departments to prepare the requisite materials in order to begin the works. I regret that no provision was at the same time made for the building of a certain number of cells, large and well ventilated, where the prisoners when the usual means of punishment had failed to reclaim them, might be kept for several months of the year in a complete state of isolation. The punishment cells (dungeons) now in use, are small, damp, and badly ventilated; and, consequently, unfit for the purpose specified.

DRAINS.

The building of a drain of larger dimensions than the one now in existence should, of necessity, keep pace with the erection of the new buildings. The prison as it stands, with all its dependencies, only possesses, as a means of drainage, a tile pipe of 12 inches, which at the same time serves as an overflow waterpipe from the reservoirs. It will, therefore, become absolutely necessary to build a drain of a sufficient size, not only to receive the drainage from the buildings but also that from the prison-yard, of which certain portions are lower than the level upon which the present prison stands. It will be easy to build this new drain of stone or of brick, upon the land belonging to the Penitentiary and to give it a rapid fall as far as the river.

TRAMWAY.

The construction of this improvement, so indispensable, is now a certainty; Parliament having voted last session the sum included for that object in the Supplementary Estimates, I am in hopes that it will be possible, during the summer to procure the requisite materials, in order to begin its construction in the course of the year.

ACCOUNTANTS' OFFICE.

A fact deeply to be regretted took place at the commencement of January. The sum of 329 dollars was carried off from the cash-box of the Accountant, Mr. Dagneault, and all enquiries made afterwards were of no avail in leading to the discovery of the stolen money. The investigation ordered by the Minister of Justice, and conducted by you in the month of February last, if it failed in establishing the complicity of the suspected parties, has, nevertheless, yielded excellent results in favour of the management of the Penitentiary, in bringing abuses to light, which up to that time had not been unveiled.

STAFF.

Almost without exception the conduct and bearing of the officers has been satisfactory. I, of necessity, except those who, after the investigation held by you in the month of February last, placed their resignations into my hands. It was then painful for me to discover that some employees whom, up to that time, I had believed faithful, had so deliberately proved false to their duty. The facts unfolded and brought to your knowledge during that enquiry, and the serious consequences which resulted from it to the guilty parties, will have the effect, I have no doubt, of putting the other officers on their guard against similar abuses for the future.

Several changes have been made in the staff of the Penitentiary during the six months which have just passed. Some resigned in order to take elsewhere more lucrative situations, while others were discharged for incapacity, or for violation of the prison rules. It was consequently necessary for me, during that period, to have a good number of guards on probation, in order to overlook and put into force the rules of discipline, and put forth all their efforts and activity to ensure their being carried out. I have been strongly supported by the officers of the higher grades. The Catholic and Protestant chaplains continue to render important services towards the management of the Penitentiary. The influence which they exercise over the prisoners entrusted to their care, as regards their spiritual wants, contributes in a marked degree to the maintenance of discipline. I entertain much respect for them, and I make a point of respect being shewn to them both by the officers and by the prisoners. I have had but few promotions to make among the officers; but I have endeavored, on each occasion, to make them with all the impartiality and justice possible—always taking into consideration the services rendered, the integrity and capacity of the officer. I must admit that in the selection of new guards for the service, it is difficult to find well-qualified men. The officer entrusted with the guard of prisoners must possess, in addition to a sufficiency of education, an intelligent acquaintance with the work, and at the same time the energy and authority necessary to command the observance of discipline. If the work is not faithfully carried on, the rules for the maintenance of discipline will suffer.

I had occasion to verify this fact some months ago, and it will be unavoidably necessary for me to make some further changes, in order to ensure that the work shall ever have a productive direction, and discipline a firm and reasonable application.

CONCLUSION.

I cannot conclude this report, Sir, without offering you my thanks for the courtesy you have shown in your relations with me.

I have had the benefit of two visits from you at the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary during the last six months. I congratulate myself at having gained all the advantages which your experience and study, in this direction, could contribute towards the success of my management.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, 14th September, 1877.

SIR,—In accordance with an amendment passed during the last Session of Parliament, appointing the month of July instead of the month of January, as was customary, as the date for the transmission of the annual Penitentiary Reports to you, we hasten to act in accordance with that amendment by submitting to you our Report upon the sanitary condition of the Penitentiary of the Province of Quebec during the last six months.

We are happy to be able to inform you that the prisoners have enjoyed during the last six months better health than usual. There were fewer sick admitted to the infirmary than last year during the same period, although the number of prisoners has been greater. The institution has not been visited by any contagious disease. Further, we have had no death to record. One single accident happened during the month of April last. A prisoner employed in whitewashing the dormitory fell from a height of twenty feet, and in his fall he fractured the right forearm and received several contusions on the head. This prisoner is well again and has left the hospital.

The number of prescriptions issued to the prisoners for trifling complaints was 1,200. The annexed table will acquaint you with the names of the diseases treated, as well in the infirmary as in the cells. The number of sick admitted to the infirmary since the 1st of January last is 12. We see, with pleasure, that a new blacksmith shop is almost completed, and that soon the prisoners who are working in the old shop will no longer be in the midst of a vitiated atmosphere, as they are at the present time.

In closing this report, we think we ought to state that the hospital guardian, (Mr. McDermot) has fulfilled with continued zeal and intelligence the duties of his position; besides, he continues to exercise, on all occasions, much gentleness towards the sick prisoners who are under his care. The number of the prison officers who have been sick, and were visited at their dwellings, during the last six months, was twenty, entailing an absence of 120 days.

We have the honour to be, Sir,
Your humble servants,

J. PRATT,
J. T. POMINVILLE, } Joint Physicians.

REPORT OF THE CATHOLIC CHAPLAIN OF THE PENITENTIARY OF
ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, TO THE INSPECTOR OF PENITENTIARIES OF CANADA, &c., &c.

SIR,—This report, which I am compelled to prepare at once, on my return after an absence of several weeks, must of necessity be incomplete in its details. I had forgotten that the ordinary period for the Annual Reports on the Penitentiaries had been changed, and that these reports must, in future, be presented on the 1st July in place of the 1st January, as was the case before. This oversight on my part will compel me to set aside many notes I had taken. These notes, the fruits of my own study and personal experience, I should have been glad to embody in this report, convinced as I am that they might have proved useful.

My opinion as to the tenor of the reports which the Government requires us to make is, that they should be directed, not so much to setting forth what is done in our Penitentiaries, but also, and chiefly to suggesting the means we deem best calculated to promote the best possible government of our penal institutions. With a view to discharging that duty, I take the liberty of presenting my views on the few points following.

I shall offer these remarks with all the freedom and frankness to be expected from a person in my position. My views may not meet with the approval of every one—others may hold different opinions from mine. There is one point, however, in which I believe myself to be at one with all who take an interest in the management of our Penitentiaries, namely, the sincere desire that we all have to labour for the success of our penal institutions.

With these few remarks I shall enter at once into the subject-matter of this report, beginning with a word as to DISCIPLINE.

By discipline I understand the whole system of laws and rules in force in the Penitentiary, which laws and rules must be so made and applied as to act on the convict, to encourage him to do well, to turn him away from evil, and thus to change a perverted and dangerous character into a useful and respectable citizen.

Discipline in a Penitentiary must be directed not so much to punishing past faults as to preventing the culprit from falling into the same faults in the future.

On the system of discipline enforced depends then, in great part, the reformation of the criminal subjected to the ordeal of the Penitentiary. But it is not sufficient that the law and the rules be good in themselves, they must also be so applied as to accomplish the good which the Legislature has in view. Without such intelligent and conscientious application on the part of those called upon to enforce them, the best laws will become useless, and will never effect the amount of good we are entitled to expect from them. Hence the necessity of having in a Penitentiary good officials.

I am quite aware that it becomes me to use great reserve in treating a subject of such delicacy as this. Nevertheless, I must tell the truth. But in order that I may not be charged with asking too much from those whom the country entrusts with the reformation of hundreds of its citizens, I shall simply take the liberty of giving, in a condensed form, the opinions of a few of the most competent men who have written on the subject.

The National Congress, held at Cincinnati in 1870, expresses the following opinion: "In order to the success of any system, whatsoever it may be, you must have prison officials who have faith in the possibility of improving criminals; their hearts and minds must be wholly given to the work before them. For that reason they must receive an education fitting them for the discharge of their duties. There should be amongst them a system of gradation in rank, in responsibility and in emoluments, so arranged that a well-deserving officer might be promoted according to his merits, and not according to caprice or arbitrary rule."

The Central Administration of Prisons in Sweden does not hope for any solid reform in the Penitentiary system of the kingdom, nor for any serious effort at amendment on the part of convicts, so long as the staff of officials is not composed of men duly qualified for the work they have to do. The administration, in consequence, suggests that no person be admitted to form part of the prison staff without having received a course of instruction calculated to prepare him for the position he wishes to secure; in the same way as an engineer, a physician, a lawyer, &c., &c., who must learn the science adapted to the avocation they desire to adopt.

Mr. Petersen, Warden of the Penitentiary of Christiania, in Norway, thinks, like the Cincinnati Congress, that no prison will ever become a school of reformation so long as the officials are not animated by a sincere desire and intention of reforming the convicts, and a firm faith in the possibility of accomplishing that reformation.

Dr. Guillaume, Director of the Penitentiary of Neufchatel, in Switzerland, expresses the same idea, and says, moreover, that a single subordinate official may, by a want of tact and through ignorance, compromise and render useless the efforts of the best superior officials.

Mr. Stevens, Warden of the Penitentiary of Louraine, says: "Nothing can be more extraordinary and more opposed to the best interests of the prison service, than to take men, put them in uniform, and then entrust them with the carrying out of rules of which they know absolutely nothing."

Mr. James Freeman, in his remarks before the Penitentiary Congress in New York, says, amongst other things, that prison officials should be instructed in schools, and there taught the duties peculiar to their position. They ought to be selected only after an examination. Politics should have nothing to do with the government of prisons and the selection of the officials. Officials who do their duty should not be compelled to live under the fear of being dismissed the service on any change taking place in politics.

The Hon. Richard Vaux, Chairman of the Inspectors of Penitentiaries of East Pennsylvania, expresses very much the same idea in his remarks on Penitentiary discipline.

Now, admitting the necessity of a staff such as is considered essential by the several authors just quoted, let us ask ourselves how we stand in this matter? I regret to state it, but certain facts which have occurred in the course of the last six months, have convinced me that some of our officials are far from being what they ought to be. I noticed that there existed between the convicts and certain officials a system of mutual protection, of such a nature that it seemed impossible to make them disclose the truth, even under oath.

Morality as well as discipline have been prejudicially affected by this state of things. I found it my duty, at the time, to call the attention of the authorities to facts in many ways to be regretted.

Since then there has been an improvement. Time will, I trust, banish the evil.

A perusal of the works of those who have written on Penitentiaries, will show the importance they attach to a careful selection of officials. On that selection depends almost entirely success in reforming the convict; all are agreed on that point. Now, in Canada, that selection is far from being made under conditions giving the necessary guarantees. Personal considerations, the claims of importunate friends, a certain tendency to favor one political party rather than another, account for the appointment of certain officials who are an obstacle rather than a help in the good work. No doubt, you can always adopt the radical remedy of dismissing an officer when you find that he does not do his duty; but it is a remedy which may be attended by as many drawbacks as the evil itself. Greater care in the selections to be made, not to dismiss a somewhat inefficient officer without having good reasons to believe that his place will not be filled by another still worse, to encourage, instruct and support willing officials,—such, in our opinion, is the way to avoid serious mishaps.

A most effectual means of encouraging good officers, and of stimulating those who are less zealous, is to pursue a just and equitable order in promotions from one position to another higher and more lucrative. Nothing discourages a good servant so much as to feel himself overlooked, and to see men step over him whom he knows to be less entitled than he himself to the favour granted. Length of service, capacity, services rendered, moral and religious conduct, and fidelity to duty; such should be the principal basis of every system of promotion. If, in place of following these rules of justice, an arbitrary course be followed, a thing good in itself, is changed into a cause of mutual hate, jealousies and trouble between the officials.

OBSERVANCE OF THE LAW AND OF THE RULES.

Since I am speaking of the officials, I may say at once, that each and all of the officials of the Penitentiary should know the laws and rules which it is their duty to enforce. Now, I know, by daily experience, that many of our officials have not sufficient knowledge of the laws and rules of Penitentiaries. As to the law, very few of them have read it; and the rules, drawn up, as they are, in English, and more or less intelligible, even for those who speak that language, are a dead letter for those who do not read English. Moreover, these rules are drawn up in so confused a way, that it is almost impossible to interpret them in a uniform manner, more particularly when it is remembered that those same rules were made specially for the Kingston Penitentiary, and imply buildings of a certain form. Hence, the impossibility of following out those rules in every point in a Penitentiary constructed on a different plan from that building. A new edition and a French translation of the rules, is therefore required.

The law, when once it is known, should be observed by all the officials, without exception. Let us for instance, take the rule which forbids any unauthorized communication with the convicts. If this simple rule, which every officer must follow, under pain of being dismissed from the service, were carried out, many difficulties would be obviated.

The rules require that the Penitentiary official shall fulfil his duty, and shall be a man without reproach, not only when on duty, but also honourable and without reproach in his private life. He shall be dismissed the service, say the Rules, if he frequents taverns, if he keeps company with persons of doubtful reputation, or if he does anything whatsoever unworthy of an official of the Institution. This one rule, if carried out, would have a far more salutary effect on the government of the Institution than the observance of certain rules of detail of far less consequence.

After having spoken of discipline and of the qualifications of those whose task it is to enforce it, I shall say a word on what I ought perhaps to have begun with—

RELIGION.

It is the element which must prevail in the application of any sound system of Penitentiary discipline. It is admitted by all that it is useless to strive to reform criminals without the influence of religion. It is the want of religious and moral education that produces criminals; it is by giving them that education they are to be brought back to the ways of virtue.

In order that religion may accomplish its mission, its liberty of action must be ensured. Those whose task it is to cause it to be accepted and practised, must be regarded with respect and consideration.

In Belgium, says Mr. Stevens, in his evidence before the French Parliamentary Commissioners in 1872, religious exercises and religious instruction are organized with the utmost care. Religion is considered the most important element in Penitentiary education and its most solid foundation.

Mrs. Coffin, a member of the Penitentiary Congress of New York and of the Board of Visitors of Prisons for females in Indiana, says: Education and religion are forces of incalculable power, * * * but religion is the only power which can extirpate an evil disposition. Therefore, religious instruction and practice are the most powerful means which can be used to effect the regeneration and reformation of the criminal.

Judge Barwick Baker, of Gloucestershire, in England, considers that the first and most important means of reforming criminals is to inculcate principles of virtue and good conduct. This teaching is within the sphere of the Ministers of Religion; but we are satisfied, he says, with doing the part of the shepherd's dog by driving back towards the fold and under the care of the Shepherd such sheep as are in danger of being lost in the desert and of becoming a prey to their own passions.

It is useless to multiply quotations. There is but one opinion on this head; and wherever the reformation of criminals has been undertaken the leading feature of every system of discipline has been the teaching and practice of religion.

But it must be borne in mind that in order to make the convict accept religion, it is not enough that the Minister of Religion alone should teach and practice religion. If the convicts perceive that those whose duty it is to guide them act after the manner of the Pharisees, teaching them to do what they say but not what they themselves do; if they hear certain pretended strong minds make a mockery of the teachings of religion; if they never see in the church those whose duty it is to shew them the way to it; if they hear uttered by those who are to give them good example, language calculated to rob them of any remnant of faith they may have in their hearts,—it would be as well to give up the idea of reforming criminals. In teaching religion, as in everything else, there must be unity of views and of means. Otherwise one single official may compromise everything, and cause the failure of the most wisely combined plans.

LABOUR.

Next to religion, the most important element of reform is labour. It is, at once the punishment and the remedy imposed by God himself on fallen man. "Thou shalt labour."

Mr. Michaud, in his Programme Penitentiare, says that assiduous and remunerative work is an essential auxiliary to the reformation of criminals.

In the Belgian Penitentiaries it is sought, above all, to teach to each convict a trade which will enable him to support himself after leaving the Penitentiary.

Mr. Stevens, whom we have already quoted, is of the opinion that convict labour should be directed not so much with a view to the profit to be derived by the State from his work as for the future advantage of the convict himself. Labour, he says again, should be so organized in prisons as to impart to punishment a moral and reformatory character.

Mr. Z. R. Brocknay, Superintendent of the Reformatory at Elmira, in the State of New York, says, when speaking of labour in prisons, that the labours of the day should be so distributed as not to leave a moment for idleness of body or mind, and should produce an amount of fatigue such as would induce a prompt, refreshing sleep.

Another writer, already quoted, says that labour is essential to the reformation of criminals. It is not only a means of support, but an aid to virtue. Unless a prisoner is taught labour, habits of order, and love for some kind of industry, he will fall back again into his faults.

The Director of a Penitentiary in Norway declares that the work of the convicts is his nightmare. Those of our prisoners who work, he says, conduct themselves well. The system of labour here is perhaps somewhat in need of that intelligent organization which renders it so powerful a helper in effecting the reformation of convicts. I have not as yet been able to understand the principle governing the distribution of trades amongst the convicts and the order in which the several classes of work are done.

Generally speaking, my opinion is that the want of a well-organized system leaves too much scope for idleness. The trades are not taught with sufficient care. Those who have already acquired knowledge are made use of, and but little attention is given to imparting knowledge to those who have not acquired it. The consequence is that many of our convicts leave the Penitentiary without knowing any trade which would enable them to earn their livelihood with ease. This is a want to be regretted and one that must be remedied. As an adjunct to good discipline, it is absolutely necessary to establish among the convicts a

CLASSIFICATION.

Without it no real reformation is to be expected. Moral separation by silence exists only in the rules. In practice, it appears to me to be an impossibility. It is necessary then to have recourse to another means in order to prevent corruption from spreading. That means—for I see no other—is an intelligent classification established on such a basis as will insure its success.

It was admitted by all the distinguished men who took part in the Penitentiary Congress, held in New York in 1876, that a classification was necessary. Opinions were somewhat more divided as to the mode of establishing that classification, so that it might not only prevent the spread of corruption, but, moreover, produce really beneficial results.

For my part I wish we could have here three great categories. First, the cellular system, in order to cause new comers to undergo a certain period of trial, and to keep the incorrigible in subjection. But the cells to be used for that purpose, must be so constructed as to furnish the convict with sufficient space and air to enable him to inhabit them without danger to his health. Convicts so isolated should, moreover, be enabled to engage in some kind of work compatible with their isolation.

In the second place, for the bulk of the convicts, I would have the system now in force; cells for the night, and work in common, with silence, during the day. Finally, to a third category might be allowed a common dormitory for the night, with some extraordinary privileges, such as a short conversation after the hour of work, different dress from the others, work of an easier kind, better diet, &c., &c. So long as something similar to what I have just recommended is not adopted, the results secured will ever remain more or less problematical.

Under this method of progressive classification the fate of each convict is, so to speak, in his own hands. He can, if he chooses, render his position such that it will but little worse than that of a prisoner on parole. On the other hand, this system would place in the hands of the authorities a power of action which they do not by any means now possess.

BUILDINGS.

But it is impossible to put into operation any system of classification whatever with the buildings we now have. Moreover, I regret that the plans of the new buildings are absolutely similar to those we already have. It is impossible, with such buildings, to make the least attempt at real and effectual classification. It is, therefore, desirable that those plans be modified so as to enable us to establish a system of classification as complete as possible.

The distribution of the buildings plays a most important part in the success or failure of discipline in a Penitentiary. One weak point, one single defect, one single faulty partition, may cause endless difficulties, and render fruitless the wisest measures.

For my part I am convinced that, if it is desired that we should be in a position to keep pace with the progress which has been made within the last few years in Penitentiary science, and to labor effectually for the amendment of the convicts, we must have buildings constructed on a different principle from those it is proposed to erect.

THE SCHOOL.

The school has been sensibly effected by the removals which it was impossible to avoid. Of late it has been on a better footing; the selection of those who are to attend has been made with more discernment, and discipline is better maintained.

The opportunity of studying is appreciated more than ever by the convicts, and permission to attend school is granted only to those who are anxious for instruction, and who conduct themselves in a satisfactory manner.

Generally speaking the schoolmasters do their duty. The head master, Mr. Mahar, does everything in his power to carry out the instructions given him by my colleague, or by me. His assistants also give proof of good will.

I attach great importance to the success of the school. Ignorance is the cause of many crimes. A good education is a preservative against the danger of a relapse. I do not think there is now a single Penitentiary in the world which has not its schools more or less thoroughly organized. There is still room for improvement at St. Vincent de Paul. Time and experience will perfect the good work already begun.

PROTECTION OF DISCHARGED CONVICTS.

This is a point which I merely mentioned in my report of last year. At the risk of being tedious I must return this year to this important subject.

There can be no complete penitentiary system without protection to discharged convicts, nor any sufficient security against relapse.

The charitable societies have for their object to follow up the convict after his discharge, to find him employment, and to assist him by counsel or by pecuniary help when he is in want. Wherever these societies have been established, they have done an incalculable amount of good, and have reduced the number of relapses to a very small figure. I am, therefore, of opinion that, if the Government would patronize an institution of this kind, it would be easy to cause it to work to advantage.

If this idea, Sir, appeared to you worthy of attention, I should make it my duty to attempt an organization, in relation to which I should submit a more detailed plan.

LIBRARY.

We have now the nucleus of a tolerably considerable library. I select books with the utmost care, and I notice with pleasure that the convicts are quite fond of reading.

The distribution of books is carried out with regularity. Each convict is free to select his own reading, and the Warden manages so that none of those who desire to procure books are deprived of the advantage of having them.

THE CHAPEL.

The chapel is clean and well kept. With the proposed enlargement it will suffice for future requirements. The offices are carried out with all possible solemnity. The chant is well executed. Generally speaking, I can say that the convicts like the church functions, and conduct themselves very well in the chapel.

I cannot close this Report without paying a well-merited tribute of praise to the ex-Minister of Justice, the Honorable Mr. Blake. During his too brief term of office as Minister of Justice, he imparted to the good government of the Penitentiaries an impulse of which we have experienced the salutary effects. Possessed of a rare mastery of legal science, and of a spirit of justice and independence which places him above the petty influences of party he invariably manifested, in dealing with the Penitentiary of St. Vincent de Paul, that he had in view but the accomplishment of good, and the rendering of justice to all.

The present honorable Minister will, doubtless, follow in the footsteps of his illustrious predecessor. An official order emanating from him, and his visit to the Penitentiary, are a warrant for his good intentions, and for the interest he takes in the good government of our penal institutions.

Moreover, Sir, being seconded in its efforts by a gentleman so eminently well qualified as yourself, the Government cannot fail to succeed in placing on a really effectual footing the institutions it has entrusted to your direction.

The Warden, and other officers in general, have always treated me with courtesy, and assisted me in accomplishing the little good I may have done.

With one single exception, I have every reason to be satisfied as to my good relations with all. Protestants and Catholics alike have always shewn me respect and confidence, for which I must offer them my most sincere thanks. I shall soon have been all but thirteen years Chaplain of St. Vincent de Paul, and during all that period I have met, in general, but good will and courtesy from everyone.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your very humble servant,
The Catholic Chaplain,

JOS. W. LECLERC

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, 1st July, 1877.

N.B.—I must state that I have drawn largely upon the Report of the Penitentiary Congress of New York, 1876, in the quotations made in this Report. The eminent writer on criminals, E. C. Winer, D.D., L.L.D., is the editor of that work—one of the most learned and elaborate I have ever read on the question of prisons.

ADDENDA.

On the 1st January, the number of convicts was one hundred and eighty-two (182); of whom one hundred and forty-two (142) were Catholics.

Admitted since 1st January, sixty-two (62); of whom fifty-eight (58) were Catholics.

On the 30th June, we had two hundred and twenty-five (225); of whom one hundred and eighty-six (186) were Catholics.

Of the fifty-eight (58) Catholics admitted since the 1st January, nine (9) had already been in Penitentiary at Kingston or at St. Vincent de Paul, one (1) twice, eight (8) once.

Forty-three (43) had been in common jails, viz:—

Eleven (11) once (1).

Twelve (12) twice (2).

Six (6) three times (3).

Three (3) four times (4).

Four (4) six times (6).

One (1) seven times (7).

One (1) eight times (8).

Four (4) ten times (10).

One (1) forty times (40).

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, 29th August, 1877.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit to you the Report of the Protestant Chaplain of the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary for the half year ending June 30th, 1877.

The number of Protestant convicts is shewn in the following tabular statement :

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Number remaining on books Dec. 31st, 1876..... | 40  |
| Admitted up to June 30th, 1877 .....           | 4   |
|  | —44 |
| Discharged by expiration of sentence.....      | 2   |
| Pardoned .....                                 | 3   |
|  | — 5 |
|  | —   |
| Number remaining on books June 30th, 1877..... | 39  |

As I am only acting for the Protestant Chaplain, who is at present absent on leave in England, this Report may be wanting in many interesting points and suggestions which might otherwise have been embodied in it.

With regard to the behaviour of the convicts at chapel, &c., it has been, with some exceptions, all that could be desired. It has always been a great pleasure to me to attend the services in the Protestant chapel, where the behaviour of the convicts during divine worship, and in singing, responding, &c., is generally such as to put to shame many an outside congregation. For the general discipline and cleanliness of the Institution the Warden and officers deserve the highest praise.

There has been, I am happy to say, comparatively little serious sickness amongst the convicts, a fact which may be left to speak for itself. One of the convicts referred to in the Report of last year has since been pardoned.

The school still continues to improve; and it is with great pleasure that I commend the zealous efforts of Mr. Maher and his assistants. The men seem to take a real interest in learning, and the teachers in assisting them.

In concluding this Report I wish to do so with an expression of earnest thanks to the Warden and officers for their courtesy and kindness in doing all they possibly could to assist the Protestant Chaplain in his work.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your very obedient servant,

GEORGE ALLAN,
Acting Chaplain.

SCHOOLMASTER'S REPORT

From the January, 1877, to the 30th June, 1877.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY, P.Q.,
22nd Setepmber, 1877.

SIR,—In laying this Report before you, I am happy to say that the school is in a much better way of progressing than when you made your inspection last May; the accommodation was then anything but satisfactory, as you are already aware of it. The place where the school is now kept is comfortable, and has been lately furnished with new desks, &c., otherwise improved so as to produce happy results. The school at present cannot be more regularly attended.

The daily attendance is 80.

The branches taught are French and English, with reading, writing and arithmetic. 26 read in the first book, 13 in the second book, 15 in the third book, 26 write and cipher.

Books, slates, pens and all other requisites are always kept on hand for the use of the convicts in their cells, by having a written order from the Warden; every means being afforded them to learn, and I am happy to state that a large number of convicts, who, at their entry into this Penitentiary, did not even know the alphabet, could read and correspond tolerably well when leaving this prison.

The two Chaplains attend as usual; they are kind to pupils and teachers.

The Warden visits the school almost daily, and his presence contributes greatly to the attention the convicts manifest to their work. The Warden affords them every opportunity to learn, and is kind and just, at the same time very strict towards those who do not appreciate the privilege given them, their name being taken off the school-list as punishment.

In closing this Report, I must say that my assistant teachers are zealous in the discharge of their duty, as to the improvement of those under their charge.

I have the honour to remain, Sir,

Your most humble servant,

THOMAS MAHER,
Teacher.

J. G. MOYLAN, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

ST. JOHN PENITENTIARY,
1st July, 1877.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit this my semi-annual Report, from 1st January to 30th June, 1877, with statistics of this Institution during that time.

The daily average number of prisoners has been slightly increased, although the number now in the Penitentiary is about the same as on the 1st of January last.

The conduct of the convicts has been very good, except in a few instances; the number of punishments during the past six months has been large, and mostly inflicted on common prisoners, many of whom are the worst characters and from the lowest dens in the city of St. John, sent here for drunkenness and vagrancy.

During the winter, it was difficult to find employment for them; but, since the middle of March last, I have found work for all. I keep all the common prisoners that I consider not prudent to send out on the farm and not at any other work, in the yard, at stone-breaking.

The staff of officers have been, without exception, very vigilant and attentive, and discipline has been rigidly maintained as far as it is possible, considering there are from 50 to 75 prisoners in one room on the top of the block.

I have kept a gang farming since the 1st of April; they have planted a large lot of potatoes, onions, oats, &c., all of which now look very promising; there are between 10 and 12 acres under cultivation.

At the great fire in St. John on the 20th June last, this Institution lost about $2,250 worth of property, viz: $1,625 worth of stock, and $625 of furniture, including the safe; all the books now in use were saved, thanks to the Accountant and Warehouse Clerk. The old books and all accounts, and papers of all descriptions were destroyed. The large surplus stock we had on hand in March last is gone. The pails are all sold except the small quantity destroyed in the fire. The surplus stock of brooms had been reduced before the fire, from 1,300 dozen to 484; we have a very large stock of tubs on hand, but since the fire the demand has been very large for them. I will resume tub-making about the 1st of August.

I have, in accordance with your suggestion, rented a office in the city on Joseph B. Hamin; it is in the central part of the city, and very convenient. In accordance with your suggestion, I consulted with Mr. Scott, the Chief Architect of the Dominion, during his visit to St. John. He visited the Penitentiary, and advised me to keep the warehouse at the prison. I have had the old house at the north end of the prison finished, and it answers the purpose very well indeed.

The Accountant will attend the office in the city, and the Warehouse Clerk will remain at the prison, and have charge of the receipt and delivery of goods manufactured. The expenditure for the past six months has been $14,609.82; maintenance $11,964.14; manufactures $2,645.68.

All the long-term prisoners are still in the shops employed in making brooms, pails, &c.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

CHARLES KETCHUM,
Warden.

To JAMES G. MOYLAN, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

 PROTESTANT CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

JOHN, N.B., 1st July, 1877.

DEAR SIR,—Since my last Report, I have regularly attended to the duties of my office, except during a fortnight in the month of May, when I was laid aside by sickness.

The number of convicts under my pastoral care at present is 40, viz: 38 men and two women. And the number of short-time prisoners is 35, viz: 31 men and four women.

The library is in excellent order, under the superintendence of Mr. Burk, and the use of the books is much valued by the men. There is only one case of sickness, and it is not likely to prove fatal.

As my health is now quite restored, I hope still to be able efficiently and successfully to discharge the duties of my office. And my work is rendered the more encouraging to me, by the evident interest taken by the men in the religious services which I conduct.

The school is prospering under the hands of Mr. Burk, who is very diligent in his work.

I remain,
Very sincerely yours,

GEO. SCHOFIELD,
Protestant Chaplain.

J. G. MOYLAN, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

 CATHOLIC CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

St. JOHN, N.B., 4th July, 1877.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit for your inspection my semi-annual Report.

There are at present in the Provincial Penitentiary, 85 persons under my pastoral care; 73 males, and 12 females.

Nothing noteworthy has occurred since my last report. Religious exercises have been regularly given every Sunday, during which the prisoners, although the Chapel is far too small for the present number of worshippers, preserved good order and attention. Indeed, I am pleased to remark in several men, especially convicts, a sincere desire of corresponding with God's will, manifested to them by the various instructions they listen to. The Warden, very lately, called my attention to the fact, that the conduct of many among the Catholic convicts was irreproachable. It proves a great consolation for a pastor of souls when he sees that the Lord blesses his humble efforts in rescuing sinners from the abyss of perdition.

I beg to mention, that owing to the large increase of prisoners for the two last years, we want some prayer-books, and other instructive and religious books.

In concluding, I may state the school, taught by Mr. Burk, seems to be in a very progressive condition.

The Warden and the officers of the Penitentiary in general have exhibited towards me, in our frequent relations, great courtesy and affable dispositions.

I have the honour to be,
Your humble servant,

ANTOINE OUELLET,
Chaplain.

J. G. MOYLAN, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

SAINT JOHN PENITENTIARY,
4th July, 1877.

SIR,—The present number of prisoners is 18; four of whom are convicts; this number is very nearly the average since January. There are always three or four here little else than invalids; all behave well and generally do as well as they can. I have had no occasion to punish. Employment, as usual, prison-house work, cooking, washing, making and mending clothing, &c., &c., for themselves and male prisoners.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

(Signed) CATHERINE KEEFE,
Matron.

J. G. MOYLAN, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

ST. JOHN PENITENTIARY,
July 5th, 1877.

SIR,—I beg leave to report for the information of the Inspector, the condition of the school under my charge, in this Institution.

Since my last report the number in attendance has increased a little, the Register now showing a total of 22.

|  |    |
|--|----|
| Average daily attendance.....  | 22 |
| Learning to read and write, 15 } .....   | 22 |
| Learning to write and cipher, 7 } .....  |    |

| Nationalities—England, 2; Ireland, 1; Prince Edward Island, 1;United States, 2; New Brunswick, 16..... | 22 |

The conduct of those attending school has, with one or two exceptions, been most exemplary, and the desire to learn manifested by them is really praiseworthy.

I have nothing further to add.

I remain, Sir,
Yours respectfully,

D. BURKE,
Teacher.

HALIFAX PENITENTIARY,
31st August, 1877.

SIR,—Herewith please find my General Report for the six months' ending June 30th, and which records the operations of this prison for the last half year of 1876-77.

Owing to the illness and subsequent death of Mr. Pope, no Protestant Chaplain's report accompanies this. With this exception, I think you will find the rest satisfactory. If anything be wanting I shall promptly attend to any instructions you may be pleased to give in relation thereto.

I also send by this mail (parcel post), three drawings of the prison and ground, by Mr. Cotton, which give a fair idea of the buildings and locality.

Hoping you will find the several reports and statistics sufficiently comprehensive,

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

JOHN FLINN,
Warden.

HALIFAX PENITENTIARY,
1st July, 1877.

SIR,—In submitting to you this Report, which embraces the operations of the Penitentiary for the last six months, and which ends the fiscal year of 1876-77, it gives me great pleasure in being able to inform you that the working of the prison has been performed to my unqualified satisfaction.

The officers, one and all, are efficient, and have been thoroughly attentive to their respective duties.

The conduct of the prisoners, as a whole, has been very good, as may be seen by the comparatively light list of punishments inflicted; and, as it is, the main portion of these may be said to have been distributed among a clique of incorrigibles, who seem to monopolize the refractory element. However, even they are beginning to succumb, as they find that all they may expect from their insubordination are personal discomfort, loss of "rating" earnings, and remission.

Compared with that of the calendar year 1876, the daily average of prisoners for the last six months has been very large, being nearly seventy-five (75) against not quite sixty (60) as shown in the accompanying table. And I regret to add that very little in the way of paying industry has been available, to materially lighten this heavy burthen on the Government.

The Broom Department, which was once the source of considerable revenue, has, from various causes, ceased to be a paying business. What with general depression of trade and outside competition, we have been unable to hold our own in the market.

A like depression exists in the Shoe Department, as Yates & Co., the only city firm which gives us anything to do, have lately sent us very little work, and that at merely nominal prices. However, the transient custom and the work necessary for prison use, have kept a limited number of convicts profitably employed.

In consequence of the foregoing I have been enabled to put an unusually strong gang upon farm work, in which they have done good service, reclaiming a considerable space of ground, and putting it down in root crops, thereby greatly enhancing the value of the land, not only as regards its present yield, but also as to its future disposal.

I have to record the death of convicts John C. Douglas, who died in February, and of Joseph Yaco, who died in May of the present year.

Hoping that you will find the above, with accompanying sub-reports and table of statistics sufficiently comprehensive and satisfactory,

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

JOHN FLINN,
Warden.

CHARLES ROSS,
Chief Keeper and Store Keeper.

HALIFAX PENITENTIARY,
30th June, 1877.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following report, concerning health of convicts from January 1st to date. During the above named period, the sanitary condition of the prison was satisfactory, no disease of an eudemic or epidemic character prevailed, and although two deaths have to be recorded, in neither case could the unfortunate result be attributed in any way to faulty hygienic condition of the prison or its surroundings.

The whole number prescribed for was ninety-eight, of these six only were transferred to hospital, and of the latter, two died. One of them, the convict John C. Douglas, who had been almost constantly upon the sick-list for years, on account of an emphysematous condition of the lungs, was admitted on 11th January, and after prolonged suffering, died on the 2nd February. The other, Joseph Yasco (coloured), admitted 16th April, with Typhoid Pneumonia, and died 3rd May.

The following list exhibits the diseases treated, as well in the hospital as in the cells:—

ST. MARY, HALIFAX, 30th June, 1877.

SIR,—I have to thank you for the promptness with which my request for the enlargement of the chapel has been met. The increased accommodation is most useful. Since my last report the conduct of the Catholic prisoners has been, in general, satisfactory. Their number has not increased.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

T. J. DALY.

HALIFAX PENITENTIARY,

1st July, 1877.

SIR,—I beg to inform you that the pupils under my charge, for the last six months, have been very attentive to their studies, and have progressed accordingly. I may say that I have had no trouble with them arising from wilfulness or misconduct on their part: for which desirable state of things I am largely indebted to the kindness and support of the Warden and the chaplains.

There are at present twenty-two (22) on the school register, and these are in steady attendance. Of these:

|                                  |    |
|----------------------------------|----|
| Can read, write, and cipher..... | 13 |

| Can neither read nor write.....  | 3  |
|                                  | 22 |
| Total.....                       | 22 |

Since 1st January I have attended to the issue of 954 changes of books from the General Library.

Hoping the above will be satisfactory, and with warmest gratitude for your personal kindness to me,

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

JOHN F. COTTON

HALIFAX PENITENTIARY,

July 1st, 1877.

SIR,—I beg to inform you that nothing worthy of special notice has transpired in my Department since I handed in my annual report for 1876.

The number of my charge (5) has neither increased nor diminished, and I am happy to say that they are generally better behaved than formerly.

They are all, more or less, engaged in useful work, connected with the prison.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

ELLEN FLINN,

Matron.

MANITOBA PENITENTIARY.

MANITOBA PENITENTIARY,
STONY MOUNTAIN, 24th September, 1877.

SIR,—I have the honour to state that in submitting a report of the proceedings in connection with the Manitoba Penitentiary, for the fiscal year ending 30th June, 1877, in accordance with your memorandum of instructions under date of September 7th, directing me in the matter, I find that this report bears a close resemblance in its record of events to my first annual report, written after the inauguration under my wardenship of the first and only penal institution in Manitoba and North-West Territories.

This six months history of work accomplished, is but a repetition on a larger scale of the story of my labours incidental to the time alluded to, and though in one way a past experience has considerably served me, yet so many new phases of affairs peculiar to the removal of an institution of this character, amidst circumstances native to this country, has rendered its management for the past half-year—(by presenting a series of events both unforeseen and difficult to meet) a period of marked anxiety to myself, and of extra solicitude on the part of all other officers under my control. And though the removal took place in the depth of winter, under the many obstacles attendant upon such an occasion, and the occupation of so isolated and remote a building, I have to congratulate myself on the total absence of any incident that might have tended to the unsuccessful completion of the undertaking.

On the 15th January last, I received instructions from the Department of Public Works, that the new Penitentiary was ready to be handed over, and on the 18th inst., acting as agent for this Department, I received over the building as directed. On the 31st of the same month, I practically took possession of the prison. For a detailed account of the transport of convicts from the Stone Fort to this place and the first occupation of the Penitentiary at Stony Mountain, I would refer you to my communication of 1st February last in which full particulars were given. The embodying of these details here is hardly permissible, the narrow limits of such a report as this forbidding their introduction.

My first duty after occupation, subsequent to the disposal of matters purely in connection with the safety of the convicts, was to direct the store-keeper to receive into his keeping all articles under the head of furnishing the property of the Prison, in whose charge they remained until released upon my own requisition instructing certain officers in charge of various departments throughout the buildings to receive them over for the special purposes. Inventory boards stating in full all articles furnished and in use, were provided, and hung up in each room; those are checked over weekly and reported upon directly to myself by the officers responsible, so that any loss or damage can at once be checked or detected.

I found it also necessary on my arrival here to alter to some extent the instructions to officers to meet the many contingencies arising out of the occupation of so large a building; everything being on an increased scale and no corresponding increase on the number of the staff, it demanded a greater degree of particularising to maintain a thorough system of discipline and order, so much had to be done in the way of necessary work upon which it was impossible to concentrate the whole available force, the nature of employment calling for the services of but few hands at any one spot, and the whole the while demanding a speedy completion, that dependence upon the regulations that previously obtained, would have proved unwise. To this end I issued boards of orders fully explaining the duties of officers severally, and had such posted for their guidance.

From the date of occupation up to the present time all convict labour has been mainly devoted to the cleaning of premises, &c., and completion of unfinished work within and about the Prison, which, together with the work upon the new farm and garden, has taxed our capacity in this regard to its fullest extent.

One of, if not the greatest source of anxiety in connection with the management of this institution, is the knowledge of the serious complications likely to ensue upon any possible accident by fire. The result of any calamity of this description cannot be over estimated. In event of loss or partial destruction of the Prison, the convicts could hardly fail to make good their escape, and if recaptured—their being no Prison in the Province other than this building for the safe keeping of so large a body of criminals, their detention would be a matter of the greatest difficulty, and to such an extent is the grave nature of this possibility felt, that on no occasion can I absent myself from the building without being beset by an anxiety that harasses me not a little. Towards the complete prevention of such a calamity, every possible precaution on my arrival here was at once taken. The fires throughout the building are cleaned monthly, and a certificate of such duty having been performed is handed in, in accordance with rules, by the chief guard. A visit of inspection is also made by the same official weekly, of dwelling occupied by officers outside the Prison, and a weekly fire drill by the staff and convicts has to be performed, so that all connected with the institution, should their services unfortunately be required, would at a moment's notice be ready to take the necessary steps, and severally perform their special duties without confusion. The water tanks upon the third story of the building are kept constantly filled, as are also the buckets provided for the purpose throughout the Prison.

Consequent upon instructions received from the Department in January last relative to the appointment of a medical man in place of Dr. Young, resigned, I made arrangements at an early date with Dr. Codd, of Winnipeg, whose bi-weekly visits to this institution in the prosecution of his professional duties, have been of a most satisfactory nature.

In regard to the permanent improvements which, notwithstanding the multiplicity of other demands upon the convict labour, the early disappearance of snow has permitted me to make, I would state that the prairie land broken up in the autumn, and to which reference was made in my last annual report, has been placed under cultivation. A separate plot has been set aside for, and cultivated as a kitchen garden, from which it is already most manifest a bountiful crop of vegetables will be taken, which though it must be regarded in the light of a rough experiment will not, I venture to hope, fail to be a highly remunerative one. The thirty acres of wheat and oats also, considering the limited amount of labour bestowed upon its cultivation, bears every promise of producing an average harvest.

In accordance with instructions, upon my application to the Department requesting the same, Mr. Pearce, D.L.S., made a survey of the Penitentiary reserve. This work was called for through the action of some of the neighbouring settlers claiming lands which proved, upon the completion of Mr. Pearce's survey, to be a part of the property actually belonging to the Government. The reserve is now laid out and staked in the usual way, which, until such time as the whole of it may be enclosed, will be sufficient impediment to prevent any further attempts at an encroachment.

The want of proper stable accommodation, work-shops, out-houses and suitable dwellings for the guards and their families, is a need greatly felt, the same being an actual necessity. All work in connection with these could easily be performed by the convicts themselves, the only extra assistance that would have to be procured would be the services of a competent mechanic to supervise the work of construction. This is a matter that I have already had occasion to allude to, and which would entail but a comparatively small outlay.

The bath-rooms and closets on the east side of building, upon which through previous communication you have already been informed, owing to there being no drain as yet constructed on that side of the prison, are useless. This is at present source of considerable discomfort and annoyance, likely to be the more felt upon the advent of inclement winter weather, and an omission in the construction of the Penitentiary that calls for a speedy remedy. The heavy rains that visited us this spring flooded the basement, whilst the water in the well rose forty feet above its ordinary level. I would also state that, apparently owing to something defective in the foundations of the building, a heavy rain invariably renders the female cells uninhabitable through dampness. It gives me pleasure, however, to remark upon the generally creditable appearance of the building; finished, it presents an imposing exterior, enhanced to no small degree by the commanding situation of its location. The short experience of a portion only of last winter, scarcely permitted of a fair opportunity for thoroughly testing the efficiency of the present mode of heating, but I am disposed to think, that the system now in use is hardly calculated to meet the requirements of a rigorous winter, and would suggest the expediency of having the building provided with a furnace, and so heated either with hot air or steam, which in reducing the expenditure under the heading of fuel, would also materially lessen the chance now incurred of accident through fire.

I anticipate in the ensuing year constant employment for convict labour in the way of work of improvements alone, apart from the many demands upon their service incidental to the first occupation of an establishment of this description.

The great necessity that exists for the erection of a prison wall, is also a matter to which I beg to draw your careful consideration. The Penitentiary stands upon a small plateau of rising ground, elevated above the general prairie level some fifty feet, entirely unprotected by enclosure of any kind, adjacent to a public highway, and open on all sides to uninterrupted communication from passers by, entailing a degree of vigilance on the part of the guards on duty, that admits of no relaxation. There are many other very apparent reasons why there should be as little delay as possible in the completion of this important construction.

Referring to the conduct of convicts during the half year expired, I would remark, speaking generally, that in so far as a marked absence from any grave offence is concerned, their conduct has been most satisfactory. I find that under a system of the strictest discipline, that is compatible and possible with the common dictates of humanity, the temptation to offend on the part of the convict, not only seldom presents itself, but, if so, is rarely embraced, for the reason that the benefit arising out of a perfect obedience to prison rules is so thoroughly impressed upon their minds, and in time appreciated, that a motive for transgression hardly ever suggests itself. To instance the extent to which the knowledge of attention to prison regulations works to the convicts advantage, I may mention the fact of a visit recently paid by a Sioux Indian (an ex-convict) to his two brothers, now undergoing a term of punishment in this institution, who exhorted them in a most earnest manner to implicit obedience to rules, relating his own experience of the advantage so gained, as a case in point.

The school class that was organized last year, for the especial benefit of Indians, has proved eminently successful. A return of the progress of the convicts comprising this, is weekly rendered by the officer in charge of the class. The expiration of the terms of punishment in the case of Indian prisoners is not unfrequently looked upon by themselves with positive regret. They enter ignorant and superstitious, and easily moulded for good or bad. The routine of prison life, and the opportunities constantly thrust upon them for moral and intellectual improvement, is seldom lost, and they leave, what in their case is virtually an adult reformatory, radically changed for the better, in almost every particular.

I cannot close this report without bringing before your notice the officers comprising the staff of this institution, without whose intelligent assistance and zeal, and great readiness on all occasions to work for the desired end, with an appreciation of the urgency that exists for the maintenance of a rigid discipline, the difficulties that beset the ordinary fulfilment of a trust such as I occupy, would have been greatly exaggerated, and would draw your attention to the peculiar position which these officials occupy in regard to their isolation from any social centres, and the need that exists for some means of lessening the monotony and tedium of their hours of leisure, and would suggest that a sum be placed at the disposal of the institution for the purchase of a library or some equally pleasant source of amusement.

I have to state that I have been visited as heretofore, by G. McMicken, Esq., the Assistant Receiver-General, for whose courtesy and kind offices on all occasions my thanks are due.

I cannot conclude without officially recognizing the timely advice extended to me by yourself at all seasons, and the kind manner in which my hands have been strengthened by your prompt interference in matters effecting the welfare of this institution, and can only regret that circumstances have prevented a personal inspection on your own part of the Manitoba Penitentiary; but have to trust that the occasion of such a visit is but temporarily delayed.

Herewith I enclose the usual returns, viz. :—

- No. 1. Statistical Return of prisoners committed from 1st January to 30th June, 1877.

J. L. BEDSON,
Warden.

STONY MOUNTAIN,
24th September, 1877.

REPORT OF THE CATHOLIC CHAPLAIN OF THE PENITENTIARY OF MANITOBA, FROM THE 1ST JANUARY TO 30TH JUNE, 1877.

WINNIPEG, 25th September, 1877.

SIR,—I am glad again to state in this report that, during that part of the year, I have been thoroughly satisfied with the conduct of the convicts under my pastoral charge, so for my different relations with the officers of the Penitentiary, who are always kind and polite to me, which, of course, renders my duties more easy. I must mention principally our good Warden, Mr. Bedson, whose sympathy to our work is so well known.

Since the convicts are in the new Penitentiary, at Stoney Mountain, I desire to express my gratification for the chapel put to our disposition

In most respects the experience of one year is so like that of another as to supply scanty materials for a report. It is sufficient to state that I am very satisfied on all accounts of the management of the Penitentiary.

During my absence, since last spring, the religious duties were carried out by Reverend Father Baudin, who is contented as I am.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,

Your very humble servant,

ALB. LACOMBE, Pt. O.M.I.,

Catholic Chaplain of the Penitentiary of Manitoba.

J. G. MOYLAN, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

REPORT OF THE PROTESTANT CHAPLAIN.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE, September 29th, 1877.

SIR,—I beg herewith to present my report as Protestant Chaplain for the year ending 30th June, 1877.

Since my appointment, which took place on the removal of the prisoners to the new Penitentiary, matters have gone on most satisfactorily. I have received the utmost kindness and hospitality at the hands of the Warden, and he has on all occasions afforded me every assistance and facility in his power in carrying out my duties.

The other officers have also shown me the utmost civility, and have always had the chapel and everything else in order at the proper time. The fact is, such perfect order prevails in every department, and every official knows so well his own duty, that things cannot fail to go on smoothly.

I have had regular services on Sundays, usually in the morning, except in two or three cases, when the weather and roads did not permit of my going. There are at present seventeen Protestant convicts who attend divine service. Their conduct during service is all that could be desired. They march in with all possible decorum, and reverently take their seats. When service commences they join in heartily in the responses and singing, and their attention during the sermon is most marked. The chapel is well arranged, its acoustic properties are good, and everything combines to make our services pleasant.

On Saturday evenings, and on Sunday after service, I often visit the convicts in their cells. I find those who can read supplied with Bibles, and it is intended, as soon as practicable, that tracts and other books on religious subjects be procured for distribution among them. I rejoice to state that some at least have professed to have experienced a change for the better in the state of their minds, and we can only trust and pray that God will bless our feeble efforts and do a real work among them.

I am, dear Sir,

Your obedient servant,

SAML. P. MATHESON,

Protestant Chaplain.

J. G. MOYLAN, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries, Ottawa.

* It has hitherto been the practice of the Company to make an official valuation of its Life Assurance liabilities at the end of periods of five years. The last of such valuations was made as for 31st December, 1874. The tables of mortality adopted as the bases of the calculations were the table of the Institute of Actuaries' known as H.M. (5) for life assurance policies, and that of the Equitable experience, by Griffith Davies, for annuity contracts. The rate of interest assumed was 3 per cent. per annum, at the date referred to the entire liability under existing Life Assurance and annuity engagements was found to be £1,647,239 8s. 6d. The increase of liability since that date has been carefully estimated and the amount of £1,956,782 16s. 0d., inserted in the above statement is fully adequate to cover the liabilities of the Life Assurance and annuity departments of the Company under contracts in force on 30th June, 1876.
