Fine State of Affairs Revealed at City Council Meeting.

A fine little effort to put one over was uncovered at the Council meeting last night. The buildings and grounds committee, through the chairman, Ald. M. W. McEwen, recommended the appointment of Dr. J. W. Porter as dairy inspector.

The following was the report of the committee: "That this Council confirm the action of the Board of Health in appointing Dr. A. B. Cutcliffe as inspector of dairies for the year 1914 at a salary of $200; and in pursuance of the resolution of the Board of Health that a permanent official be appointed, we recommend the appointment of Dr. J. W. Porter at a salary of $400 a year, to commence January 1st, 1914, and that the city solicitor be instructed to prepare the necessary by-law.

Mayor Hartman Said That He Would Resign

If He Made One-Tenth Part of Mistakes Which the Police Department Did—An Interesting Exchange at Council.

The police got a raking over the coals at the City Council meeting last night as a result of the prosecution of a foreigner who had duly received his license from the civic authorities. Mayor Hartman put some ginger into things when he declared that the police could attend to everybody's business but their own.

It was T. Campbell, who was fined $6.35 and Ald. Spence moved that the fine be remitted. The man had a pedlar's license, granted by the license committee for 6 months. The party paid his money and did business as authorized by the license.

At this stage Ald. Hollinrake elicited the information that ice cream carts could be licensed. Ald. Spence thought that Campbell should get not only his fine, but his license fee back.

Mayor Hartman also went into the case. He declared that the prosecution was only a knock at the mayor. If he as mayor had made the tenth part of the mistakes the police department had he would resign his chair and hide his head in shame.

Quite a Row Over Seat in Paris Town Council

Mr. J. R. Layton Was Right on Deck and Put Up an Argument Against Being Fired From Body.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The regular monthly meeting of the council was held last night, those present being Mayor J. R. Layton, Messrs. Davidson, Aldermen Evans, Wells, Rehder, Fasken and Torrance. Ex-Deputy Reeve Layton was in his accustomed place at the table.

Among the other communications received were two from Mr. Layton in respect to declaring his seat vacant at the last regular meeting. It was moved by Ald. Fasken, seconded by Ald. Torrance, that Mr. Layton's communication be placed on file.

Mr. Layton based his defence on the fact that no effort had been made to fill the vacancy, and consequently they gave him no chance to regain his seat this year.

Mr. Layton said he had apprised the council of his intentions to be absent during July and August, and he had been informed each time by telephone that there was nothing of importance to come before the board and he had intended to be present.

Murphy, Tammany Leader, Prefers Always to Keep it.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Whether John A. Hennessy's charges against Tammany warrant an investigation was a question to be determined by the District Attorney's office to-day. According to arrangements Hennessy was due to confer with one of District Attorney Whitman's assistants in response to a subpoena, and if anything of a tangible nature developed, it was suggested that John Doe proceedings would result.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—According to a report received at the Hydrographic office in Washington from the Scandinavian, a British steamer, many icebergs were encountered at the beginning of October. The medium sized bergs were sighted on October 6 off Greenly Island, four bergs between Point Armlur and Cape Norman, three large bergs and several small ones five miles east of Belle Isle, and three other large bergs between 11 and 21 miles east of Belle Isle.

TROOPS RUSHED TO COLORADO MINES

Will Not Be Stampeded In Buying a Pulmotor

Alderman McFarland Says He Will Save Money if He Can on Purchase—The Expositor Receives a Showing-Up.

Ald. McFarland again announced at the city council last night that he wouldn't be stampeded into buying a pulmotor for the city, but he thought one would be here by January. He intended to save $50 on the purchase of the machine, if he could, and he believed he was right.

It was Ald. Sutch who started the ball rolling. He wanted to know if a pulmotor was to be purchased, and Ald. McFarland replied he had been informed one could be bought for $150, the original sum voted, because these instruments for certain purposes came in customs free.

He wanted to know if he could save $50, he intended to do so, even on a pulmotor. There was a lot of unnecessary talk about the Expositor. If those who were pushing it strongly, would put their hand in their own pocket they would be doing well. It was quite possible a pulmotor would be here by January elections.

Ald. Spence thereupon paid his compliment to The Expositor. The pulmotor agitation was deliberately kept up because it was something akin to a red cloak with Gai marked thereon. It was time the Expositor found out that there were other people who had brains in this community.

DIAZ JUMPS ON THE RESCUE SHIP

Kept at Vera Cruz by U. S. For Such Purposes.

Others May Want to Escape Strong Hand of Huerta.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The Gunboat Wheeling, because of her light draft, has been held at Vera Cruz with the single purpose of affording refuge to political fugitives as well as officials of the American embassy or other Americans or foreigners who might be in distress.

Officials here say that there is no question whatever of the right of the commander to extend an asylum to such a fugitive as Diaz as there have been many precedents to support such action.

In South American countries and notably in Chile and in Peru where, in recent years the right of asylum has been claimed and exercised, it has always been found possible for the United States Minister or consul to secure from the titular government a pledge of safe conduct for the fugitives from their place of hiding to the American ship. In the case of Diaz, however, it is believed that the Washington Government was prepared to go farther, if necessary and to furnish a marine guard, basing such an assertion of extra-territorial authority in the general allegation of the existence of a state of anarchy, recognized by international law as a sufficient warrant for the exercise of such precautions.

It is presumed that once on the Wheeling, General Diaz would be soon transported to one of the battleships in the outer harbor to remain until he can be transferred to one of the merchant steamers bound for another port.

Wesley Church Epworth League

A very enjoyable time was spent last evening by the young people of Wesley League. The meeting was in charge of the Social committee, Mrs. Collins being convener. A splendid programme was arranged for the occasion. It consisted of two excellent selections from Miss Waterhouse, a solo by Mr. L. Merrill, a recitation by L. Chambers, and a solo by Mrs. Marlett. Mr. Porter, the church organist, gave an instrumental selection, followed by an address by the chairman, Mr. Geo. Wedlake, which was full of good advice to the young people of the church. Dainty refreshments were served. The room was beautifully decorated and a vote of thanks was tendered to the president, Mr. E. Collins, and his wife, for their hard work. The affair was greatly enjoyed by the large number present and was one of the best meetings in the history of the league.

Brant Chapter Of the I.O.D.E.

A good deal of business was disposed of. Committees were arranged to visit the Sanatorium each month, that for November being Misses Scarle and Van Norman. Mrs. Bruce Gordon, who was a delegate at the meeting of the Amalgamated Hospital Aid Societies, held in Stratford, told of what other organizations are doing and how they raise their funds. Miss Scarle, who represented the Brant Chapter at the annual meeting in Winnipeg, reported a wonderful growth in numbers and influence of the Daughters of the Empire in Canada, and the work done by Chapters in different parts of the Dominion. As the next regular meeting, falls on the birthday of Brant, it was decided to have a Brant programme.

DUFFERINS GLAD TO HAVE COLONEL

The Men Were Enthusiastic Last Night—An Inspection Held.

Lieut.-Col. Howard, assumed command of the Dufferin Rifles again at the weekly parade after an absence of some weeks in Europe. The officers, sergeants and men were all pleased to see the Colonel back again, and he was greeted on all sides by a warm handshake and "Welcome home, Colonel!" Colonel Howard looked the picture of health, and was in the best of spirits.

The Regiment was in good shape last night, and the parade state numbered 386.

Lieut.-Col. Moore, commander of the 4th division, in company with Major McCordick, inspected the regiment. Some of the companies were put through company drill, and some the sections and some skirmishing work. Major Genet put the regiment through the manual exercises, and Major Ashton the firing exercises.

After the inspection, Lieut.-Col. Moore made a short address during which he congratulated the officers commanding for the magnificent showing the regiment made. The Dufferin Rifles, Col. Moore stated, will compare favorably with any of the other city corps.

Col. Moore stated that he was sorry some of the companies were not up to strength. The Colonel again congratulated the officers and men of the regiment, stating that he hoped they would make even a better showing on the night of the annual inspection.

After the inspection, Lieut.-Col. Moore told one of the officers that the words of command should be given more distinctly, as it is hard for the men to execute the commands when they are not called out clear and distinct.

The brass band was rather weak last night, only 21 musicians being on parade. The parade state was as follows:

ANOTHER DAY ON WITNESS STAND

Mrs. Jennie May Eaton is Charged With Husband's Murder.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 28.—Another day of cross-examination was in prospect for Mrs. Jennie May Eaton to-day when she returned to the witness stand in her trial for the alleged murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph Giles Eaton. Although District Attorney Barker questioned the defendant for six hours yesterday, he did not reach the death of the admiral. It was thought that the whole of to-day's session would be required for him to attempt to pull to pieces her direct testimony regarding the circumstances surrounding her husband's death, which she claims was due to an overdose of a drug which he had been in the habit of using.

Balfour Church Anniversary Very Fittingly Celebrated Last Evening.

In connection with anniversary exercises at Balfour Street Presbyterian Church, fully 100 members of the church and former members, and friends, gathered last evening in the church. By numerous speeches their minds were carried back to happenings in connection with the church. The evening was very suitably called "Reminiscences Evening."

Rev. J. A. Wilson of Hamilton, the first pastor of the church, from a diary which he had kept while pastor of the church, gave many very interesting reminiscences.

Very interesting and pleasing addresses were given by Dr. Nichol Sr., Mr. George Kippax, Mr. Alfred Hunt and Mr. George Butler.

Solos were very acceptably rendered by Mr. George Hunt and Miss Anguish. The First Baptist male Quartet rendered several numbers.

At the conclusion of the very excellent program lunch was served. The church was dedicated in 1899. Throughout the years of its existence much has been accomplished for the Master.

The Sunday school will have been in existence 50 years at this time next year. It was quite generally hinted last night that the golden anniversary would be suitably observed.

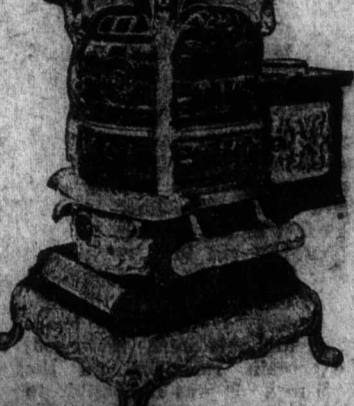

It was much regretted that the pastor of the church, Rev. J. M. White-law, was absent through illness.

Rich Men Insure

Insured for $412,403

The largest life insurance claim paid in 1912 on this continent was $412,403, on the life of Charles Silverson of New Ulm, Minn., and the second was $350,000 on the life of T. T. Reid of Montclair, N.J.

The above extract is from a recent issue of a Toronto paper. All those men knew the value of life insurance, and availed themselves of its benefits—and what is true of them is true of almost every successful business man.

Since you must realize the necessity of making provision for your old age, if you live, or for your family in the event of your early death, can you do better than follow the example of such shrewd, prosperous men?

Our booklet, "A Few Facts," explains why you should place your insurance with The Imperial Life. Write for a copy today—it is very interesting and it's free.

WORLD'S FAIR IN CANADA.

Canada of late has loomed so large in the opinion and the attention of the people of the old land, that there has been talk over there of the appropriate idea to have a world's fair in the Dominion in 1917.

Lord Strathcona, still young and energetic at 95, is enthusiastic over the scheme, and during the course of an interview, said: "Certainly I most heartily approve of the proposed World's Fair in Canada in 1917. It must be on a scale worthy in every respect of Canada's importance as a nation."

After fifty years of Confederation all Canadians will combine to make it a success. Whatever city is chosen as a site, I feel confident that all other places will lend loyal and unsolicited support.

It will be the first time in the history of the world that a daughter nation of Britain has reached the jubilee of her birth. The event is certain to attract world-wide attention to Canada.

He intimated that he would be pleased to accept the presidency if asked. The project is in part a sequel to the 1912 Canadian tour of British manufacturers, organized and conducted by Mr. Leonard Palmer.

The idea would certainly seem to be one well worthy of consideration. It is difficult to imagine how anything could be devised to still better advertise this great Dominion.

Mr. John A. Cooper, a Toronto editor, and Mr. Arthur Hawkes (both, by-the-by, Conservatives) have constituted themselves a committee of two to instruct the people of Canada what they should do with regard to the navy matter.

find nothing to inspect. The exploit of the pupils of the Garneau school, who walked out when the inspector came around on Thursday has set every French parent talking, and the word has been passed around that the inspector is not to be recognized in his official capacity.

The English section of the Separate school board do not like the idea of losing the government grant of $5,000. The members held a meeting last night, but nothing was done. Another meeting will be held before Monday.

"The parents have taken the bit in their teeth and have ordered their children to do as they have done; the school board is in no way responsible. It would make no difference if they sent a squad of police along to compel the pupils to stay; they would defy the inspector in some way equally as forcible. I expect the result will be the same in all the schools that the inspector enters."

"As I understand it, when an inspector enters a French school he will be politely told by the teacher that the regulations are being lived up to, but that French is the official language of communication between the teacher and pupils," continued Mr. Genest.

The chairman had not heard of any attempt to assault or in any way show violence to Inspector Summerby. He could not see how the trustees could go against the trustees by taking away the annual grant, for he claimed there was no neglect of duty on their part.

"What nature is the action to take?" asked the newspaperman. "Hard to say," was the short answer. "They might cut off the grant."

"I don't know, and it's none of my affair what the outcome is. My duty is to inspect the schools of this district, and see that they are complying with the regulations. I have no idea as to what will be done in this case."

And this is with regard to a government which according to the Toronto Globe and other Grit sheets had betrayed the English tongue in the matter.

In commenting on the above The Toronto Star (Liberal) says: "All this indignation seems to have been excited by the exercise by the Ontario Government of its control over education. The Separate School Board threatens to sue the government for the grant. An appeal is made from Provincial to Dominion law. There are all the elements of a complicated dispute, legal, constitutional and political. But so far as public opinion goes, it will not be easy to convince the people of Ontario that it is a hardship to call for the teaching of English in our schools and to withhold the provincial grant if English is not taught."

McBride of British Columbia said that he did not regard the navy as a party question. Accordingly he wished to voice the feeling of the people of his province, that said question should come before all others and that assistance should be immediate. That's the talk.

A fine tribute has been paid to the scheme of prison reform inaugurated at Guelph by Hon. Mr. Hanna, in the visit there of a special German commission named by the Kaiser to look into the method pursued.

Says the Southern Lumberman, a paper published in the States: "The only thing that keeps us Democrats from carrying out our campaign promise to reduce the cost of living is the constantly advancing price of foodstuffs."

An eminent German doctor declares that the Friedmann tuberculosis treatment has proved a success in many cases and publicly exhibited some of his own patients in proof of the statement. In other words the remedy has not turned turtle after all.

This paper has no desire to criticize the pulmotor as such, but the attempt to arouse false hopes as to its infallibility is not warranted. On a recent occasion in Toronto, the newspaper record in connection with the death of a girl there that "even the pulmotor failed."

Earl Grey's scheme for a single and impressive building in London to be used jointly for official and commercial purposes by all the overseas dominions, certainly constitutes a most impressive project. Anyone who has visited the British metropolis is well aware of the fact that the scattered and unpretentious quarters of Canada, Australia and the rest, is a laborious piece of business.

A central and impressive structure such as that designed would serve as a constant and beneficial reminder of the greater Britain beyond the seas.

When the lunatics forego their to discuss the bill of fare, there is grief in every bosom for they see a vacant chair. "Where is Harry Thaw?" they question; "we have missed him for a while, we have missed his gentle presence, we have missed his grinning smile. Lonesome is the place without him, and our games all spiritless; we are sighing for our playmate—bring our little Harry back!" And the keepers, sad and lonely, turn away to hide a tear; they, too, miss the youth who cheered them in the golden yesteryears. Put away his safety razor, put away his fountain pen! Put in lavender his necktie; he will need them never again! From the place that knew and loved him, little Harry's skipped and gone; and the bird of grief broods darkly over mournful Matteawan. When attorneys cease their jawing, he may grace your halls once more! After forty years of lawing, he may totter to your door! But the present generation will be dead and underground ere his joyous peals of laughter through your corridors resound! Till that time, O grim asylum, you may weep for him in vain! Put away his box of talcum, put away his lacquered cane!

"What Is the Fear of Death Like! I Don't Know!" Says Captain Inch, Hero of the Volturmo

---"I've Never Felt It!"

(By W. H. Alburn) NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—"When I climbed aboard the Kroonland with my dog Jack," said Capt. Inch, hero of the Volturmo, "Capt. Kreibohm, of that vessel, at once said to me: 'Captain, I wish you'd tell me now, what the fear of death is like.' 'Why?' I answered, 'I do not know. I've never felt it.' The only fear I felt on the Volturmo was for my passengers. It never occurred to me that I wouldn't pull through somehow!"

"We were sitting late at night in a quiet little restaurant off lower Broadway—Capt. Francis James Daniel Inch and I," he said. "The Volturmo was for my passengers. It never occurred to me that I wouldn't pull through somehow!"

"I've been sailing the seas for 20 years," he continued. "I'm 3 now. I started at 16 as apprentice on a sailing vessel, the Towy, only 210 tons. On the first voyage we lived on one pound of salt beef and one pound of flour a day. The meat shrank half in cooking. We caught and ate sharks for variety. The trip from Mexico to Falmouth, England, took us 86 days and we landed with half a barrel of flour and ten lbs. of beef left."

"I'm no hero," he stammered. "It's all in the day's work. Any good sailor would do what I did."

T. R. officials, but he suggested that he call the fire department. In conclusion I wish to state that I am not in the habit of sending in false alarms, or instigating others to do so, and I am of the opinion that the author employed an extremely cheap means to gratify a personal dislike in his effort to cast ridicule upon one who was honestly endeavoring to follow the teachings embodied in the Golden Rule.

A Kick About Coal Quality

"Did you ever save any lives?" "Not one," he replied—forgetting the hundreds from the Volturmo. Then he remembered, and laughed. "I wasn't born to be drowned. On my first trip I tumbled into the sea at Rotterdam while tending the ship off the dock with a landspike. I sank three times, then a sailor yanked me up by the hair."

"I can't swim, you see. I've never had enough confidence in myself. 'Once I was learning to swim in Madagascar. I had hold of an oar, to help, when somebody yelled, 'Shark! Shark!' I could touch bottom, and jumped in towards shore just as a shark snapped that oar in two."

"There isn't much to tell about my life. In a few years I was second mate, then first mate. I sailed around the world three times. At the end of nine years I had my captain's certificate. I have commanded the Volturmo one year. When the fire broke out in my room in the Volturmo I ran in, and saved that certificate, and he took it with pride from his inside pocket."

"That's my chief treasure, except Jack. He's my dog, I shut him up when the fire broke out so he would not get into the fire. Then when I felt the ship, I got him, put a life-preserver around him and carried him off with me. I gave him to Capt. Kreibohm. His name's Jack Volturmo now."

"And are you going back to sea now, with all those horrors fresh in your mind?" I asked. "His eyes flashed his stooped shoulders straightened. 'I'm a sailor,' he said, biting off his words. 'Give me a ship and I'll go to sea to-morrow.'"

"But your family?" "There's the little wife in London and there's the children—Edward, he's 6; Clarence, he's 4, and little Lillian, 14 months old." "She is an Englishwoman and I am an Englishman. She'll say as I say."

NEW ZEALAND DECIDES ON NAVY

British Navy Had to Withdraw Ships, Hence the Action.

WELLINGTON, N. Z., Oct. 28.—The government of the Dominion of New Zealand decided today to adopt a policy of building a navy of its own on the same lines as of the Commonwealth of Australasia and to discontinue its subsidy to the Imperial British navy.

Premier William Ferguson Massey in announcing the reversal of the present system explained that the decision of the Government to assume the greater responsibility was due to the inability of the British admiralty to carry out its agreement of 1909 and station two cruisers of the Bristol type of 4,800 tons displacement in New Zealand waters, the Dominion bearing the cost of their upkeep.

The British admiralty had substituted for these two cruisers the Physic and the Pyramus of 2,135 tons displacement which were unsatisfactory to the Dominion and the Premier proposed to recommend to the New Zealand parliament an order for the construction in England in 1914 of a cruiser of the Bristol type at a cost of $6,000,000. This and other war vessels acquired by New Zealand, the premier said, would be under the administration of the Dominion in peace time, but would pass automatically into the control of the admiralty during war time or when they might be urgently needed.

But Why Want Bigger Marks? Japan has finally decided after experiments extending over some years, to put beef on the daily diet of her navy. The reason is that the men in those ships where beef has been given daily have an advantage in height of nearly three quarters of an inch over the average Japanese peasant, to whom meat is an unknown food.

A Consultation. Mayor Hartman, Ald. McFarland, City Clerk Leonard and Hydro Commissioner Ireland had a consultation this morning about the placing of the Hydro Electric lights on the north side of the market square. Local Legal. The following case came before four judges at Osgoode Hall yesterday: Caldwell v. Cockshutt; J. Harley for defendants; B. F. Justin, K. C. for plaintiff. Action by plaintiff, a farmer of Abbot township, for rescission of contract for purchase of an engine for cutting corn for ensilage on ground that it did not work properly; for return of plaintiffs' notes and cash paid by him, and for damages. At trial judgment was awarded plaintiff for $2 and return of two notes with costs. Appeal argued.

After the opening exercises and business had been discussed, the evening was given over to the literary convenor. Miss E. Bunell read a very touching story called "English Gentlemen," which is the story of Captain Scott's expedition to the South Pole. It gives in vivid details the account of the suffering which he and his companions endured and the brave manner in which they faced every obstacle. A short paper was also read by Miss Austin entitled "The Great Beyond." Durnig the evening a piano duet was rendered by Miss E. Buchanan, which was very much enjoyed by all. A membership contest was decided on, and Miss Barratt was appointed leader of the Blue Side and Mr. E. Goldstraw leader of the reds.

The rebuilding of the road leading to the House of Refuge and the building of the road leading from the House of Refuge to the Sanitarium is progressing favorably. Gravel is now being placed in the upper end of the road.

Fine Service. The Evangelistic service in Park Church last evening was one of great interest and blessing. Dr. Troy spoke on Daniel, twelve and verses two and three. "Many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life and some to everlasting shame, and they that be wise, shall shine as the brightness of the firmament." The large chorus choir did excellent work. The solos by Miss Kay and Mr. Roberts were greatly appreciated.

Kindly Act. Great praise is being bestowed upon Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Howarth, of the New American Hotel, to-day for first aid work, following the fall of a well-known Brantford resident yesterday on the pavement in front of their hotel. Everything possible was done to mend a nasty gash in the unfortunate man's ear, and he recovered quickly, although first taken to the hospital. A faint spell on the walk caused the fall.

In Liquidation. At a meeting of the directors of the Brantford Motor Truck Co., held yesterday afternoon, upon a resolution being carried, the company went into liquidation, and Mr. J. S. Dowling was appointed liquidator. Fifty thousand dollars was required to keep the business afloat, and, not caring to place this further amount in the business, the resolution was carried. Of course, the business will have to be disposed of, but as yet it is not known in what manner. A meeting will be held this afternoon.

Large Funeral. The funeral of the late William E. Fountain, which took place at Fairfield Plain yesterday afternoon was one of the largest ever witnessed in that part of the county. Service was held at Fairfield Plains Methodist church. Rev. Mr. Neil officiating. Quite a large number of neighbors and friends accompanied the remains to Mr. Hope cemetery this city, where a short service was held. A large number of representative Brantford people were awaiting there to pay their last respects to a splendid and worthy citizen.

The L. E. and N. Railway stated that as their grading had been completed on the specified section they were now entitled to receive one half their bonus and deliver the bonds for same. WORK RUSHED AT LORNE BRIDGE

First Work is to Keep the Water Out of the Way.

The West side of the armories at the foot of the Jubilee Terrace presents a warlike appearance. Here a number of men are digging "in the trenches" and throwing the clay on the outside of the steel "fortification" which was erected to keep back the water. When the long trench is dug the contractors will be fully fortified against any attack of their enemy, the water.

The construction of the cement retaining wall behind the "clay and steel fortifications" will be commenced in a few days. Electric lights have been strung along the "batterments" and a gang of men are working in the trenches night and day.

Men of many nationalities compose the digging force and citizens stand on the Lorne bridge to see that some of them are good soldiers. As the clay is very hard, the men can hardly be blamed for soldiering a little.

The Colonial. Manager Symons of the Colonial has a first-class bill for the first half of this week.

Colborne St. League. "A Man's Position in the Home" was the subject of a highly interesting paper given at the meeting of the Colborne Street Epworth League. The position of the man was very ably set out in these words, "A man should take his place emphatically and unquestionably as head of the household to be looked up to, revered and obeyed not as a tyrant, nor as a dogmatic rule-maker but as a father whose love, wisdom and ex-

The Newest and Best of Cloth Dresses

In serges, velvets, wool ratines, whipcords and Matelasse cloth, prices ranging from $5 to $55. These are all cut in the latest modes, and are the creations of some of the best-known designers in America.

At $5 we show a stylish little dress in serge, black, navy, brown, taupe and copen shades; trimmed with the new satin vest idea, with collars, cuffs and buttons to match the dress.

At $7.50 we have a dainty dress in all colors and materials, made with the draped skirt which appears on nearly all the costumes this year, with collars and cuffs of contrasting shapes of the same material and trimmed with French knot ornaments.

At $9.50 and $10 you will find a splendid assortment in all colors with the fascinating poplin effect on the skirt and a vest of broadcated velvet and shadow lace with button trimmings. Very modish dresses at a reasonable price.

At $12 and $12.50—A very beautiful line, showing the Oriental influence in a marked degree. The satin girde and cord and tassel trimming which falls over the hip is in the true Turkish style. The skirt is peg-top, which is distinctly proper, and the whole effect is one that the best designer would be proud of. They come in a bewildering variety of colors and materials.

You will also find the best in evening gowns, tea gowns, and afternoon dresses in our large stock. We will be charmed to show you the range.

Mayor Said

Ald. Spencer: "There was a little loophole open and the City Council got a crack."

Ald. Sutcliffe: "Give him a stand on the market for the remainder of the year."

Mayor Hartman: "They said up at the police court the license had been taken in 1888. Here it is, it is 1913. Police court accuracy?"

Ald. Spencer: "If it came about in the right way, if we had been called up; I would have been willing to say I had the matter straightened up amicably. If they throw it down the gaudnet to me, I'll take it up. Let them go to it. If they fine a man again who has a license we'll refund the fine."

Mr. H. S. Hewitt explained that at one of his, who had been driven off the market for selling peanuts had complained to him. The result was a case in court against Campbell and when it was called it was announced that neither defendant or lawyer would appear to testify. Accordingly a decision was given.

The Mayor: "My time was occupied at a civic committee meeting. It was just as valuable as that of the P.M. or Chief of Police. They could have adjourned the case in order to hear from me."

Thereupon the report was carried and the defendant got his fine back.

SOCIETY GENERALLY POOR BUSINESSMAN

Too Much Money Spent on Police, Etc.; Too Little on Education.

D. E. C. Ashton, who has shown far more than a professional interest in the children of the public schools who have physical disabilities, expressed himself yesterday as being greatly pleased at the visit to Canada of Dr. Maximilian Grossmann of Plainfield, N.J., founder of the National Association for the Study and Education of Exceptional Children in the United States. Dr. Grossmann is in Toronto with a view to organizing a Canadian branch of the association.

Dr. Grossmann considers the education and care of the "exceptional" child not only from a "love of humanity" standpoint, but from an economic viewpoint. He argues that society is a "poor business man." He takes up the case of the child who is "feeble-minded" as the example, explaining that similar conditions exist in Canada, and shows where they spend $600,000,000 in education, churches, etc., and then $1,100,000,000 on police and protection. A little more investment in the first-named, he said, would keep down the second, and so prove a better business proposition.

Dr. Grossmann dislikes the word "feeble-minded" and says that undue emphasis has been placed upon it. The "feeble-minded" and says that undue were at most only two per cent. of those who were "different."

The "feeble-minded" should be put under custodial care as soon as possible and kept under such care all their lives," said the doctor. "The feeble-minded child is in danger and a danger to normal children when with them. In custodial care he will be taught such occupation as will pay for his maintenance. He will not be taught that which he cannot learn. He will learn that which he can do as well as a normal child. Open-air schools are in the right direction, and you are ahead of other cities in that respect in Toronto."

Dr. Grossmann stated that in the education of the "different child" the systems of to-day would have to be broken up. "I would have the child follow out what he is best adapted for. Twenty per cent of those students attending school are 'repeaters' in their classes, and the cost of the repeaters in the United States is $400,000 a year."

The object of the Association of which Dr. Grossmann is the founder is to promote the proper classification of the children of America (and the movement is even spreading to other countries) and to adopt the best methods of education that the children may not be a loss to mankind and to the State.

In speaking of local conditions, Dr. Ashton said that a child who is suffering from a cataract so badly that she cannot follow her studies in school will be operated on by Dr. Bell this week gratis. Her parents being poor. If the operation does not restore her sight, efforts will be made to get her into the School for Blind, where, by special instruction, she may be prevented from becoming a charge on the municipality in after years.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Nearly a million pounds of mail were piled up in the post offices and railroad stations of New York early to-day as a result of the sudden strike of the chauffeurs of the Postal Transfer Service, a corporation which has the contract for the transfer of the United States mail in New York and which handles on the average upwards of 5,000,000 pounds of mail every day. The strike was begun at 8 o'clock last night and grew gradually until at an early hour this morning all of 125 motor trucks operated by the Postal Transfer Service had been deserted. The motive was said to be to force recognition of the Chauffeurs and Stenographers' Union and to bring about a new arrangement of runs. The men complained that they were under constant danger of arrest for speeding their trucks at the rate required of them in order to catch trains and boats.

The postal authorities and officers of the postal transfer service bent every effort all night toward breaking the strike and to-day they were working about half of the trucks under strong police guard. Some disorder, however, arose to-day. The men who were trouble was the stoning of a strikebreaker and policemen on an auto-mail truck bound for the Pennsylvania station. The policeman drew his revolver and broke up the small mob, placing under arrest two men who said they were chauffeurs, but who did not admit they were connected with the strike.

Most of the mail affected is that to and from out-of-town points, as the greater part of the local mail is handled by pneumatic tube service. Postmaster Edward M. Morgan and John Masten, the general superintendent of the Transfer Service, declared that the place of every striking chauffeur would be filled by noon to-day and that within 24 hours practically normal conditions would be re-established. It was hinted that if necessary the United States troops would be called on to prevent disorder or further demoralization of the mail service.

For some time the mail chauffeurs had been mildly threatening to go on strike unless their union was recognized, but their desertion of their trucks occurred without warning. Their grievances had been brought to a head by Police Commissioner Waldo's orders for the arrest of mail chauffeurs who exceeded the speed limits, an order which arose from the fact that this year eight persons have been killed in the streets by mail trucks alone.
