

Patenaude Howled Down When He Spoke in Montreal

Audience Gave Respectful Hearing to Sir Robert Borden When He Spoke on National Service, but Hooted French-Canadian Minister

Montreal, Dec. 6.—Sir Robert Borden to-night opened his National Service campaign with what promised at first to be a magnificent meeting in the Monument Nationale. It developed into something like a bear garden. The Prime Minister came into Quebec with an eloquent and straightforward message to the manhood and womanhood of the province, and personally he was well received. His colleagues on the other hand, were subjected to frequent interruptions. The meeting opened with the National Anthem and "O Canada," while the band of the 244th Kitchener's Own Battalion, and sung by over two thousand men.

Ludger Gravel, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and H. B. Walker, president of the Board of Trade, spoke briefly in introducing the subject of national service. Mr. Walker observing sarcastically that there were in Canada "a great many people doing nothing, and doing it well." He predicted a long struggle.

Sir Robert Borden was given an ovation on rising, the band again playing "O Canada," while the audience stood and cheered. Sir Robert opened his remarks in French, his use of the provincial language being received with another round of enthusiastic applause.

Delivering his main address in English, the Prime Minister spoke first of the justice of the British and allied cause, of the fate that would have been well deserved had not the British people responded to the call and of the splendid effort already put forward by the army of the country. "Do not mistake me," he said, "I have not come to make a recruiting speech, but to address you in the interest of national service. This meant, he said, that every man should give whatever service he could to the State. The Prime Minister's explanation of the object and plan of national service was listened to attentively, with occasional applause. The Prime Minister concluded with an earnest tribute to those who had fallen and with a declaration that the Canadian people wanted no peace that was not victorious. He sat down amid prolonged applause while the band played "Rule Britannia."

A Different Reception If the hearing given to the Prime Minister was respectful and on the whole sympathetic, the reception given to Hon. E. L. Patenaude, Minister of Inland Revenue, was very different. There had been rumors before the meeting of an organized movement by Laval students to spoil the meeting. The gallery was filled with young men of apparently military age, apparently bent on mischief. These young men followed nearly every sentence of the Minister of Inland Revenue with boos and hisses. They represented, it is stated, the younger element of political clubs in Montreal hostile to the Government, but it is difficult to say positively that they actually represented any particular organization.

The hall was numerous, if not well, policed, but interruptions, calls and hoots continued through Mr. Patenaude's speech. The Minister spoke in French, urging national service as a high patriotic duty, but his appeal was interrupted and drowned in hisses and hoots. He persisted in his address for 15 or 20 minutes, but the last part of his speech was drowned completely.

The band then played the Belgian National Anthem, which was received in silence. Then a man in a box, got up and said: "My friends in the gallery, you have given me a very good idea of what the Kaiser would do if he had been here." This remark elicited more hoots.

ONTARIO MEN AMONG WINNERS

J. Lloyd Jones, of Burford, Takes Prize at Chicago Stock Exhibition

Chicago, Dec. 7.—The Canadian colony was prominent again yesterday among the winning exhibitors at the International Stock Exposition. The judges of sheep are expected to finish their work to-day. All the Ontario exhibitors have won their usual share of the blue ribbons. Among the Canadian sheep men who have prize winners in the sheep-houses are Peter Arkell and Sons, Teswater; J. Lloyd Jones, Burford; John Kelly and Sons, Shakespeare; F. B. Gosnell, Highgate; H. M. Lee, Highgate, and Robert McEwen, of London.

Mayor Cane, who has been mayor of Newmarket for the past twenty-seven years, told his associates after a council meeting that he would not stand for re-election. He thinks that it is time for another man to hold the post.

Don't Bake

It is penny wise and pound foolish to do your own baking when Butter, eggs, etc., are so high in price. Baking as we do hundreds of dozens and buying all the ingredients in large quantities, we are in a position to sell them at a price that is much cheaper than you can possibly make them for. Then you have an assortment of the best cakes and pastry to choose from, not only is the quality right but you are saved the trouble and annoyance incidental to baking.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wright's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Everybody using this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application of two, your hair becomes beautifully thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wright's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delicate toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

ALLIES PLEDGED TO THEIR WAR AIMS

Declares Berlin Journal, Which Holds Out No Hope Of Early Peace

Amsterdam, Dec. 6.—The Berlin Voerwaerts, the organ of the German Socialists, in an article headed, "Peace Blind," throws cold water on those who believe that peace is near.

The paper says: "We must be reconciled to the bitter truth that our enemies are too deeply pledged to their war aims to see anything else. They are peace blind. The worst calamities are not to be spared the European people, but one consolation remains and that is that harsh rulers do not rule for long. When even their strong men do not admit their failure."

A Berlin despatch says that the war aims of the German Radicals, as set forth by Prof. Doormann, leader of the Radical party in the Reichstag, are as follows: "We do not reject negotiations if our rulers believe them necessary from a military or economic point of view. We cannot permit the contents of a treaty to be the cause of a new war. We must get back all our colonies. Germany must be assured of her right to exist independently and to develop as she chooses."

Bible Sunday in Toronto

Toronto, Dec. 6.—In connection with Bible Sunday, or annual bible review day, which will be observed next Sunday, December 10th, statistics compiled here show that there has been a large increase in the circulation and study of the bible since the war began. The issue of bibles, in whole or in part, by the British and Foreign Bible Society the last year was 11,955,000 copies, those of the American Bible Society over 7,000,000; those of the National Bible Society of Scotland and of the Continental Bible Societies over 4,000,000.

If to these are added the issues of the private bible publishing houses, there will be a total of more than 25,000,000 copies of the scriptures, in whole or in part, published in the past year. This is seven million more than the total estimated issue in 1913. A noteworthy feature is that the circulation in the English language has doubled since the outbreak of the war. The bible, or portions of it, is now translated in 600 languages, 18 new languages having been added since the war, by the British Society. If the estimated number of bibles issued by the Roman Catholic and Greek churches and the Hebrew scriptures among Jews be added to the foregoing totals, the aggregate of last year will be 40,000,000 copies against 28,000,000 or 30,000,000 in 1913.

MUNITION SMASH KILLS TWENTY-SIX

Explosion in London Factory Will, However, Not Affect Output

London, Dec. 6.—Twenty-six women were killed and about thirty injured by an explosion in a munitions factory last night, according to an official announcement, which adds that the effect of the accident upon the munitions output will be negligible.

Official figures from the mines of district 18, Fernie, yesterday, show that 99 per cent. of the men are now at work pending the settlement by a government committee of their claims for increased pay.

ITALY PREPARED FOR LONG FIGHT

Has Now 2,100 Munition Factories in Full Blast

WILL MAINTAIN The War Until Noble and Essential Objects Are Attained

Rome, Dec. 6.—The allies do not desire to force Greece into war, nor do they support any anti-dynamic movement in Greece, asserted Premier Bassili in his report on the war delivered before the Chamber of Deputies yesterday.

Premier Bassili reiterated the determination of Italy to maintain the war with her allies until the restoration of Belgium, Serbia and Montenegro was accomplished. His report at this "the noble and essential object of the war."

At the close of his speech he sent a message of greeting to "our valiant Latin sister, Roumania," trusting for her final success. The premier's speech was very long, and in it he recapitulated the whole history of Italy's participation in the war and enumerated the reasons which induced King Victor to enter into the struggle.

As a proof that Italy was prepared to push her operations vigorously the premier announced that there were now 2,100 factories working on munition material, the workers being one-fifth women, whose participation both in industries and agriculture was increasing daily.

The premier declared that victory would ensure the equilibrium on the Eastern Mediterranean, which he termed one of the chief foundations of Italian policy. He said that Valona would be Italy's strategic post on the Adriatic, from which would radiate her future commercial expansion in the Balkans.

BRITISH TANKS NOW IN DOBRUDJA

Have Taken Part in Fighting There, But None Have Been Lost

London, Dec. 7.—Commander Locker Lampson, who has been in three actions on the Dobrudja front with British naval armored cars, has been wounded, says Reuters' despatch adds that six British petty officers are missing, but that none of the cars have been lost.

Roumanians Will Save Crops

London, Dec. 7.—Since the hostilities against Roumania began 100,000 Roumanians have been brought to German prison camps, according to the Exchange Telegraph Company, quoting The Berlin Lokal Anzeiger. The paper attributes to German military authorities the belief that the Roumanians in tend to withdraw from Moldavia, abandoning the whole of Wallachia. By this step they would have only a one hundred mile front to defend. The Lokal Anzeiger reports that prior to its capture, Bucharest was nearly deserted, and the city was uninjured.

An Iron Cross For Civilians

London, Dec. 7.—The German Emperor has established a decoration for civilians such as munition workers similar to the Iron Cross, according to a Copenhagen despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, quoting The Berlin Lokal Anzeiger.

Provincial Liberal newspapers like The Manchester Guardian and The Liverpool Post, make a plea to the Liberals to give the government a fair chance, as it is generally assumed that it is the embodiment of British determination to win the war.

As far as the cabinet is concerned, the new premier has a nucleus in A. Bonar Law, Lord Derby, Lord Curzon, Sir Frederick E. Smith and Sir Edward Carson, while Viscount Reading, the lord chief justice, is expected to join the ministry.

Mr. Lloyd-George is now endeavoring to form a ministry. The prospect of a solution of the crisis are being discussed by the government.

Mr. Bonar Law was of course assured of the cordial support of Mr. Lloyd-George. There was no certainty about the welcome which would be extended to him by the other Liberal members of the late cabinet.

Mr. Bonar Law apparently took the view that a stable administration under his leadership could be formed without a considerable Liberal representation.

The office obviously marked for Mr. Asquith in the Bonar Law administration was that of Lord Chamberlain.

Mr. Asquith's return from the palace he called a meeting of his chief Liberal colleagues in Downing street.

London, Dec. 7.—Purchase by the government of all essential imported food stuffs, the commanding of control of all home products and the placing of supplies on ships, and the placing of supplies on the retail market at prices which would give to the consumer the full benefit of these measures, was advocated to-day at the National conference of Trade Unionists.

During the discussion, Charles G. Ammon, of the British trades union league, made a violent attack on David Lloyd George, who, he charged, had "lied to the trades union congress and sold his political faith."

While the conference was in progress, the Labor members of the House of Commons, including the members of the Independent Labor party, were summoned to a conference with Mr. Lloyd George.

Dr. Dey set forth a constitution that had been prepared by the clergyman of Simcoe, and it was adopted on motion of Revs. Fitch of Waterford and Kendall of Delhi.

A resolution was passed requesting local and county recruiting committees to co-operate with the league as to the nature of Sunday recruiting meetings during the coming campaign.

The league earnestly requests that the recruiting leagues and all others engaged in the work of recruiting, recruit men of military age only, and that defectives be rejected.

THE SITUATION

Berlin announces the capture of Bucharest and there is no reason to doubt that the event has occurred.

The life of another bright young Brantford man has been given for the great cause in the passing of Lieut. Harold Brewster, K.C.

German papers say they will welcome fresh blood at the head of affairs in Great Britain, so that the new-comers will speedily realize that an offer of peace is the only solution.

The British Political Crisis Lloyd-George has accepted the task of trying to form a new ministry and in this effort he will have the co-operation of Mr. Bonar Law, the Conservative leader.

On the other hand, by common consent, the name of Lloyd George stands out ahead of all others for achievement in connection with the war.

QUEBEC ONCE MORE Premier Borden last evening in Montreal, delivered the first of a series of addresses, which he is to give on behalf of National service.

On Saturday morning, at 4 30, the Board of Trade is to be held to-morrow afternoon to discuss the proposed by-laws to be submitted to the people on the hydro electric and gas questions.

The whole thing breathed of the spirit which has disgraced Quebec ever since hostilities started. The people there—that is the bulk of them—have not only been remiss in their plain duty, but in addition, they have taken the stand that the existing struggle is none of Canada's affair.

Bourassa, one of the leading traitors in the matter, has written articles in which he has depicted French Canadians in Ontario as oppressed to a far worse extent than anything the Huns have ever attempted, and his articles have been freely quoted in the Fatherland, where apathy is quoted with glee.

There ought to be some way of getting at the whole box and dice of them.

Lloyd George

Continued from page one. Ask of his political career before this is generally admitted, and even some of his staunchest supporters, which include all the Tory press, abstain from prophesying success while some indicate doubt as to whether he will triumph over the great obstacles confronting him.

The Times, which hails Lloyd George's nomination to the premiership as the only practical and straightforward way to end the crisis, says: "The outcome cannot be foretold. This, however, can be said: Lloyd George has a far better chance of forming a government than Bonar Law."

Mon Healed Courage "Only a man of lion-hearted courage would face them. He has no organized following in the House of Commons and no party machine to help him, whilst the situation of affairs, whether at home or abroad, is not by any means cheerful. But the very boldness of the enterprise may win the sympathy of the British democracy, in which case lack of support from the party machines will be immaterial."

There is a consensus of opinion among political correspondents that the principal Unionist statesmen will be willing to help the new prime minister, but that he cannot expect any assistance from his old Liberal colleagues, who, according to the Times, are resolved to support Mr. Asquith through thick and thin. The attitude of Labor is being canvassed and Lloyd George's friends in the press say that the reports of Labor's hostility are greatly exaggerated.

War Cabinet and Council in One The Liberal Daily Chronicle says that Mr. Lloyd-George is forming a government the cabinet will consist of not more than a half-dozen men, who will constitute a war cabinet and a war council in one, and that all the other ministers will be outside the cabinet.

Mr. Lloyd-George's object, says the Chronicle, is to form not a coalition representing the old or new party, but a war government. Conservatives and Liberals will be represented in it and, says the newspaper, also Laborites, to whose cooperation the greatest importance is attached. Tentative Cabinet The Chronicle says that Mr. Lloyd-George doubtless would like to include in the Irish Nationalist in the cabinet, but that the situation of the Home Rule controversy forbids it.

David Lloyd-George, Andrew Bonar Law, Sir Edward Carson, Earl Curzon, Winston Churchill, Viscount Milner and Sir Frederick Edward Smith. The Chronicle says that the Earl of Derby will probably be leader in the House of Lords, that Earl Curzon is likely to succeed Viscount Grey as foreign secretary and that Viscount Reading probably will be Stanfield's Undersecretary at Broadbent.

Athens Thrown Into Disorder

Continued from page one. Princess Ypsilanti, a Hungarian, encouraged the soldiers and the house eventually was broken into and Mr. Bonar Law a man 73 years old, was brought out. He was spat upon and Princess Ypsilanti clapped her hands when soldiers prodded the aged man with bayonets. Blood was streaming from his head and on his clothes were other signs of wounds.

A loud laugh was heard from several women with Princess Ypsilanti on the beard from the aged man's face and even a Royalist was heard to remark: "That's barbaric! It would be better to kill him." Mr. Bonar Law, suffering from his wounds, was dragged through the streets to be examined. Eventually he was permitted to accompany his wife to his home. His house is wrecked and looted and not a window remains unbroken.

Another List The Daily News, on the other hand, gives as a "careless list" for the new cabinet. David Lloyd-George, Mr. Bonar Law, Sir Edward Carson, Sir Frederick Cawley, the Earl of Derby, Arthur Henderson, William Bruce, Viscount Reading and Viscount Milner. Sir Frederick Grace is now parliamentary secretary for the home office.

GIRLS! ACT NOW! HAIR COMING OUT MEANS DANDRUFF

Save your hair! Beautify it! It is only a matter of using a little Danderine occasionally to keep your hair healthy, beautiful, soft, lustrous, wavy and free from dandruff. It is easy and inexpensive to have pretty, charming hair and lots of it. Just get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine from your druggist and apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower; destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

David Lloyd-George, Now Premier of Great Britain

David Lloyd-George who has accepted the premiership of Great Britain, was born in Manchester, Eng., on January 17, 1863, of Welsh parents, and is consequently in his fifty-fourth year. His father was a schoolmaster, who died while David was an infant. He was raised by his uncle in Wales and knew extreme poverty. He secured a limited education, but obtained an apprenticeship in a law office and finally succeeded in securing his law degree.

He was first elected to the Commons in 1890 and quickly became prominent as a debater on the Liberal side when Campbell-Bannerman became premier in 1905 on the overthrow of the Conservative government. Lloyd-George entered the cabinet as president of the board of Trade and made a great success of the work.

On the death of the premier in 1908 Mr. Asquith became head of the government and Lloyd-George succeeded to the chancellorship which post he held through the Liberal administration, and during the coalition government period until he became minister of munitions, and, on the death of Lord Kitchener, minister of war.

He is a small man, physically, but a giant intellectually and of untiring energy. He has always been the friend of the common people and among reforms advocated by him since he became minister are old age pensions, the national insurance bill, establishment of the Welsh church, the land, hill and the tax reform bill.

His energy as minister of munitions was shown in the tremendous increase in the output of implements of war. In strange contrast to his leadership in the prosecution of the war is the fact that his first political prominence came through his attack on the pro-war party during the South African War. His campaign was so unpopular that at Birmingham for instance, he was sought by a riotous mob and was able to escape only by disguising himself in a policeman's uniform. Now he has been named premier of England's war government.

Mr. Lloyd-George is the father of two daughters and two sons. Both sons are at the front.

THE RIGHT HON. D. LLOYD-GEORGE.

TWELVE CASES FOR COUNTY COURT

Lengthy Grist Will be Heard Here Next Week—Three Jury Cases

Thirteen cases in all are slated to come up before His Honor Judge Hardy at the sittings of the county court to be held at the Court House on Tuesday, December the 12th. One of these has however been settled out of court, leaving twelve in which decisions will have to be rendered. Three of these will be tried by jury while the balance are to be non jury cases.

The first of the jury cases is that in which the Cockshutt Plow Co. are suing George Giesinger, who resides in the village of Stayner, in the county of Simcoe, for the payment of $293.63, due on two notes.

A suitable adjustment has been arrived at, out of court, in the case vs. Hunt and Coulter case, and the matter will therefore not come up.

Mrs. Electa E. Easton of Burford claims $50 damages and the costs of the case as compensation for the loss sustained by her in a transaction into which she entered with Charles E. Ingelby, a contractor of Brantford. The plaintiff purchased a car from Ingelby on the understanding that it was in good condition, but later found that such was not the case. The defendant states that the car, a Studebaker, was in good condition when disposed of by him for the sum of $250 cash, a promissory note to the value of $100 at a date yet to be decided upon, and Brewer and Heyd for the plaintiff and Harley and Sweet for the defendant are the respective counsel.

The transfer of a farm in the 7th concession township of Burford, presents a very involved case, the principals being, Lorne Cameron, plaintiff, H. Clegg, Dugan Campbell, and William Johnston, defendants. The matter was thrashed out in a previous trial, a decision given, the case appealed and a new trial ordered. W. A. Hollinrake is acting for Cameron, D. E. Sinclair for Clegg and Campbell, and Harley and Sweet for Johnston.

B. Bell and Son, a business concern of Toronto, are taking action against the Patterson Auto Sales Company of St. George, claiming damages of $500 or in the alternative, the return of the money paid for an automobile purchased by them from the defendants which did not meet the requirements, together with the return of a bill of exchange and $150 damages.

Harley and Sweet for the plaintiff and Kerr and Thomson for the defendant are the solicitors taking part in the case.

The Albertine Hardmortar Company of Paris and Toronto, are suing Mr. E. S. Cates for the recovery of $155.53 being the balance due them for amounts for goods supplied to the defendant.

The plaintiff is being represented by Smoke and Smoke, and the defendant by G. G. Plaxton.

The Smeaton v. Cleator case is the outgrowth of a property exchange, that took place on the 17th of August, 1912. After exercising an option which he had on a farm belonging to the defendant, the plaintiff claims that he found that a clause had been inserted in the agreement illegally, reserving a part of the property for the defendant.

George Delbridge is taking action against the Township of Brantford, J. W. Grummett and Peter Greenwood, who he claims are responsible for his land becoming flooded with water. In compensation he claims $500 damages, plus the costs of the case. Brewster and Heyd for the plaintiff and Messrs. A. E. Watts, Harley and Sweet, and W. M. Charlton are the respective counsel.

Another transfer of land presents an involved case, in which the plaintiff is taking action against Messrs. Gordon Critenden, and the real estate firm of Wilson and Shaver, to recover $500 damages done to a farm that she bought, and from which lumber and other articles were removed without her knowledge. Brewster and Heyd are acting on behalf of the plaintiff and Messrs. Sanderson, Norwich, and M. E. McEwen for the defendants.

The Bank of Hamilton on behalf of the creditors of William E. Day, are taking action to set aside the transaction by which the said W. E. Day transferred his property to his wife to escape a writ issued against him. Jones and Hewitt are representing the Bank and Ferguson and McDonald of Toronto, the defendant.

Levi Walker is suing T. W. Ellis for the payment of a note made out in favor of the Sterling Investment Company, which fell due on the 23rd of April, 1911. The principal together with interest now amounts to $560. Brewster and Heyd, and Campbell and Shannon are the respective counsel.

William S. Armstrong, a farmer of Burford, is taking action against John Coel, another farmer of that section, to recover damages incurred by him as the result of a collision in which the principals of this case were involved in some time ago. Each claim that reckless driving on the part of the other was responsible for the accident, in which Armstrong's horse was killed, his buggy damaged, and himself injured. He asks for $200. Brewster and Heyd on behalf of the plaintiff, and Kelly and Porter for the defendant, are the counsel.

The last case for the sitting is that in which the Cockshutt Plow Company are suing Wm. Edgerton and R. H. Edgar, for the sum of $126.50 which is due on goods supplied.

Transportation Committee of Board of Trade

A very important meeting of the Transportation Committee of the Board of Trade was held yesterday afternoon in the office of the secretary at the Court House in connection with application of the railway companies to increase the charges for demurrage on cars from $1.00 a day to $4 per day, and also for the cancellation of the additional free time now allowed on certain commodities being unloaded from cars. The hearing of the application is to be held in Toronto next Monday morning, and it was decided that representation of the Board of Trade should be made on that occasion.

In regard to a notice received from the Grand Trunk to the effect that the Sheddin Forwarding Company propose advancing their cartage rates in Brantford on small packages, from twenty to twenty-three cents each and on less than car lots, from three to three and a half cents per hundred pounds, to become effective on March 1st next, it was pointed out that if the Sheddin Company would adopt a more moderate rate, they could very well afford to do the work for even less than is now the case, instead of asking for higher rates.

In regard to the adoption of rules and conditions of carriage of proposed Canadian freight classification to be dealt with by the Board of Dominion Railway Commissioners on December 31st, it was decided to submit to the Railway Commissioners that the company's have not complied with the request of the Commissioners. Also that the time is agreed that the Railway Commissioners should be asked to postpone the hearing for a few months.

DEATH OF QUANT CHARACTER

Jakey Butt, Formerly of This City, Passes Away in London

London, Dec. 7.—John Butt, better known as "Jakey" Butt, a well-known local character, died yesterday at Victoria Hospital, aged 50. He became ill a few weeks ago and was sent to the hospital on order of Mayor Stevenson.

He was the son of William Butt, of 181 Maitland street, an old Imperial army soldier, being a member of the 59th Lincoln Regiment, which was wrecked on Lake Erie in the 50's, Mr. Butt being one of the few survivors. The regiment was at Brantford for some time, "Jakey" coming here from that city with his father.

"Jakey" who was well known as a dancer and closer at the annual Irish picnics at Port Stanley, had many of the attributes of a gentleman. He despised a thief, and enjoyed administering a thrashing to the man who would use profanity or filthy language in the presence of a woman.

"Jakey" was born at Aldershot, Eng.

times, with a population of nearly 300,000 was frequently alluded to as the "Paris of the East." It covers an area in excess of 20 square miles, contains the royal residence, the government buildings, and other notable structures, and is the centre of considerable trade.

Simultaneously with the announcement of the fall of Bucharest came the news of the capture of the important railroad junction of Ploesti, north of the capital, the conquest of which places in the hands of the invaders the last railroad in the west and gives to them the head of the line running northward to Jassy, where the capital of Rumania is now situated.

The fall of Ploesti, perhaps, is of even greater importance than that of Bucharest. Ploesti is the centre of the great oil districts of Prahova Valley. Unless the Rumanians have been able to destroy or disable the oil wells, machinery and stores of oil the Germans will get a much-needed prize. Moreover, in the Prahova valley they are on the line of retreat of a portion of the Rumanian second army.

Paris, Dec. 7.—The news of the fall of Bucharest was received here with sorrow, although it had been regarded as inevitable since the battle of the Argechu was lost. "We understand perfectly," says The Post-Journal, "what the Rumanians are suffering for we too have to associate ourselves all the more with their grief since we realize with bitterness of spirit that we are equally responsible for the catastrophe which was not due entirely to the military abilities of the enemy's leaders."

All of the newspapers say that the event must be a lesson to the allies which ought to spur them on to more rapid and energetic action and above all to the organization and effective use of their common resources. The commentators, while generally gloomy, make the point that the Rumanians, having abandoned Bucharest, have now a much better chance of holding out until the allies come to their relief. But Ploesti there appears no probability of saving the oil fields, which is considered the worst feature of the situation.

Some consolation is derived from Swiss despatches which report that notwithstanding the German victories in Rumania, the German business men in Bucharest have not yet been forced to sell their goods at the lowest prices since the war—the Zurich bureau.

215TH RECEIVE LIST OF NAMES

Registration of Eligibles Continues Throughout Three Counties

Another enthusiastic meeting was held in Simcoe yesterday to arrange the steps to be taken in Norfolk county to raise the required number of men. Over one hundred representative residents of the county were present and it was decided to place the entire question in the hands of the county patriotic league, which carried on the work last year by extending its scope to include recruiting. Lt. Col. W. O. Morris, stated this morning that he aimed to raise twelve hundred men to allow for wastage, so that when the training was completed, and the final armament made, the battalion would be able to proceed overseas at full strength.

"There are scores and scores of eligibles in this city alone, all of whom we intend to approach," declared Col. Morris. Captain McKegney was sent to-day to take charge of the five or six men who are carrying on recruiting in Norfolk county, and to generally supervise the affairs of the battalion in that section. When an efficient organization has got under way in Hamilton, an officer will also be sent there to take charge of recruiting. When fifty or sixty men have been secured from Norfolk they will be quartered in the Armories in Simcoe to stimulate enlistment in that section.

The attempt to reach all eligibles in the three counties is gradually becoming more workable, in Brantford a system of actual registration is in operation, in both the city of Brantford and the town of Paris, as well as in the rural districts. Practically the same system is being adopted in the other two counties, where the names of all available men are being secured and forwarded to the 215th here. Some lists have already come to hand and will be acted on in the near future.

Trades and Favors Won

Stirring Address Delivered Last Evening by the Equal Suffrage League

The weekly session of the Trades and Labor Council which was last night in their rooms in the Hamilton building was of a particularly interesting nature, the evening being given over to a discussion of the merits of the women's suffrage movement. Two representatives of the Equal Suffrage Club, Mrs. S. W. Secord and Grady Garvin spoke on the subject, and in an eloquent manner presented their side of the question. An encouraging sign of the broadmindedness with which the matter was dealt with by the delegates who were in attendance, the support which they voted themselves to give to the movement.

The question of revising the constitution of the Trades and Labor Council to the extent of changing some clauses was brought up by delegate Brown. A special committee of three was appointed to deal with the matter.

An extract from a New York paper was read by the president dealing with steps being taken that city to combat the high cost of living. Boycotts are being instituted against eggs and other products, with the support of Mitchell.

More Police.
President Noble reported on the recent addition of three members to the police force. He understood that with the introduction of this system, the work of the force would be lessened. The extra allowed to the detectives, for consideration, was also brought into consideration. Delegate Symonds stated that an honest officer well worth the salary given the Mr. Cayless.

Stephen Cayless reported on progress being made by him in his candidature in the coming election. He thought that there was an urgent need for reform in the city, and that it was his duty to do his duty he had nothing to fear from his fellow men. He was willing to enter municipal life but he was not interested in his fellowmen, but that it was his duty to do so, hence was willing to put up a tough fight. He cited several instances that had recently come to his notice. The case of cost on the G.T.R. trucks was a peculiar case—the conditions which some people lived, drove to such actions.

Property Qualification.
The property qualifications, necessary to enter the legislature, were severely condemned, several speakers speaking on the question. The system was referred to as a progress.

The average status of municipal councils was below that in cases of such societies as the Trades and Labor councils and the measure thereof.

Women's Suffrage
President Noble was pleased to see ladies in the meeting for the time. The object of the count was to make the hall place of gathering for the citizens of Brantford interested in municipal questions.

Mrs. Secord
Although pleased at the engagement given, Mrs. S. W. thought that it was really necessary to speak on equal franchise the society supporting that movement was assured of the aid and support of the Trades and Labor Council.

The weekly session of the Trades and Labor Council which was held last night in the rooms in the Bank of Hamilton building was of a particularly interesting nature, the evening being given over to a discussion of the merits of the women's suffrage movement.

Two representatives of the Equal Franchise Club, Mrs. S. W. Secord and Miss Grady Garvin spoke on the subject, and in an eloquent manner presented their side of the question.

An encouraging sign of the times was indicated in the openness and broadmindedness with which the matter was dealt with by the delegates who were in attendance, and the support which they vouchsafed themselves to give to the movement.

The question of revising the constitution of the Trades and Labor Council to the extent of changing some of the clauses which were proposed by Brown. A special committee of three was appointed to deal with the matter.

An extract from a New York paper was read by the president, dealing with steps being taken in that city to combat the high cost of living. Boycotts are being instituted against eggs and other dairy products, with the support of Mayor Mitchell.

More Police. President Noble referred to the recent addition of three members to the police force. He understood that with the introduction of prohibition, the work of the police would be lessened. The extra $600 allowed to the detectives, for clothes yearly, was also brought into consideration. Delegate Symonds took the stand that an honest police force is well worth the salary given them.

Stephen Cayless reported on the progress being made by him in his candidature in the coming election. He thought that there was very urgent need for reform in the city. He took the view that if a man did his duty he had nothing to fear from his fellow men. He was reluctant to enter municipal life but in the interests of his fellowmen, thought that it was his duty to do so and hence was willing to put up a strenuous fight. He cited several instances that had recently come to his notice. The case of coal stealing on the G.T.R. tracks was a particular case—the conditions under which some people lived, drove them to such actions.

Property Qualification. The property qualifications necessary to enter the legislative body were severely condemned, several delegates speaking on the question. The system was referred to as a penalty on progress.

The average status of municipal councils was below that. In many cases, of such societies as the Trades and Labor Councils and the members thereof.

Women's Suffrage. President Noble was pleased to see ladies in the meeting for the first time. The object of the council, he stated, was to make the hall the place of gathering for the citizens of Brantford interested in municipal questions.

Mrs. Secord. Although pleased at the encouragement given, Mrs. S. W. Secord thought that it was really unnecessary to speak on equal franchise at the society supporting that movement was assured of the assistance and aid of the Trades and Labor Council.

The subject she had chosen, she stated, was the connection and difference in the women's and men's movements. The speaker approved of the plank in the platform of the Trades and Labor Council, that women should be represented on the various boards of the city, particularly on the library board, where literature on present day problems was not provided in ladies rooms.

After approaching the Librarian, however, some results have been obtained. Like all other great movements, the women's movement has appeared in many guises and in many parts of the world. There was a time when the woman's place was really in the home, because she could there support herself, but as she now lives under conditions where her living is provided by others, the situation should be altered. "Every woman should earn her own living, if not in her own home, then in the outside world, under no artificial restrictions." While moving among girls of the city, Mrs. Secord declared that she had met with a growing inclination to secure their rights and privileges. Many of the labors of women in the home has been eliminated not only by the innovation of labor saving devices, but also by improved conditions. Manual labor has been lightened as has also educational responsibilities. Families are now infinitely smaller than in previous times. "The demand is now, not for many men, but for fewer, and better equipped." On the contrary, men's labor has decreased morally, but in the balance is manifestly greater intellectual work. Mrs. Secord advocated free advantages of education, which she provided by the state. There are many things more important than property and wealth which, in her considerations in life. There is no more valuable piece of property than a child, which is a vaster asset to the nation than any inanimate object. There is also a demand for spiritual improvement in the execution of public affairs, to which women will contribute.

The reason advanced by many opponents to the movement, that women, as a whole, did not want the franchise, was quashed by the speaker on the ground that if those ignorant and careless were ignorant of the need, such was an entirely poor reason. "Women are naturally conservative, and afraid to venture into the unknown," but personally, the speaker was of the opinion that there was absolutely no objection in embarking on the side of the women's movement. Wherever the movement has appeared, it has been in the direction of increased responsibility. As an instance, the fight of the women for entrance into the professions, and the large increase in the number of women in the professions, was cited by Mrs. Secord.

Efficient System in the Military Postal Dept.

Method in Which Great Work Done by this Institution is Executed Is Interesting to All

Rev. F. C. Spurr, pastor of Regent's Park Baptist Church, London, has recently in a leading London journal described a military post office which has been built within a few weeks in Regent's Park, one of the great city's playgrounds. "This great wooden structure, covering an area of 150,000 sq. ft., sprang up as by magic. Within a few weeks it was commenced and completed. And to-day it is one of the important distributing centres of the parcels sent to the men at the front. It will be more important when another 50,000 sq. ft. have been added to it.

It is one of the most efficient pieces of home work done in connection with the war. The creation of a great army of men for foreign service has brought into existence a new and great postal problem. Millions of parcels are sent from Britain and the colonies to the men at the front in an incredibly large. But this is a light problem compared with that of the parcels. They come in millions from the uttermost ends of the earth. From India and our Oriental possessions, from remote corners of Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania and South Africa. From every town, city, village and hamlet of Great Britain and Ireland. So great is the number of parcels passing through this war time Post office that more than six hundred men are employed to handle them.

Letters Have Big Meanings. The bags containing parcels from the ends of the earth and at home reach this distributing centre in post office vans and war office lorries of which latter there are one hundred.

The moment they are unloaded upon the large receiving platform they become Army mails, and from that time the military authorities assume control of them, for they alone know where the boys are to be found. To the civilian sorter the mysterious letters written across the face of the parcels would convey nothing. "B.E." mean one of fifty places upon the Continent of Europe or in Asia or in Africa. Even to the military sorter the final destination of the parcel is unknown when at length the last process of sorting has been concluded and the sealed bags are ready for despatch.

For despatching parcels, the bags are unsorted. All that the distributors know is that bags labelled with a certain color go to this station and that other bags labelled with another color go to that station. The bags all pass into the land of mystery and over the transit there rests an impenetrable veil which is not lifted until they pass into other hands across the water. It is a perfect system, spy proof, treachery proof.

The bags arriving from everywhere are immediately opened, their contents examined and classified. The vast area of the one-story post office is divided into clearly marked sections. The general locality is first of all indicated. Australia has one section, New Zealand another, Canada another. Here the mails for the Egyptian Expeditionary force are dealt with; there for Salonica; yonder those for Mesopotamia, and again those for France. Then the sub-divisions begin. Enormous letters indicate in which further section the parcels should be placed. Open bags are placed on each section, and the appropriate parcels are dropped. For every unit on active service a bag is provided. The battalion, the regiment, the battery, the company, all is marked with the utmost distinctness. Little by little, by a double process of selection and elimination, the identity of the addressee of the parcel is arrived at, and in an amazingly short space of time he receives upon the battlefield or at the base or in hospital the gift designed for him. It is a miracle of system and of rapid despatch. The marvel is increased when it is remembered that incessant changes are continually in progress at the front. Units are moved and the address given by a boy to-day may not be his address in a week's time. Yet there is little or no delay in delivery even in these circumstances, since the telegraph continually keeps the authorities apprised of all changes in the locale of the units. It is the unit that is aimed at from this side; all details are completed on the other.

Parcels Are Re-packed. Two or three departments of this post office are peculiarly fascinating. One is the repacking department. One is the repacking department. One is the repacking department. One is the repacking department. One is the repacking department.

There are defects in the wrapping paper, which sometimes are used which are easily broken. It is no wonder that the contents of many boxes are reported as missing; the marvel is that the number is not much greater.

Here were parcels which had been sent on to Cairo to men who were no longer there, then forwarded to France again to miss their owners, and finally to arrive at this London base to be re-addressed to the men elsewhere, or worst of all to Australia, the lads having been killed in action. If those parcels could speak the single word "Blind." It has no reference to blasted vision. It is the corner where uncertain or insufficient addresses are scrutinized and if possible rectified. And it is surprising how many of these there are.

On Saturday night, on the eve of his departure to take up the practice of his profession in Toronto, Dr. S. M. Henry, mayor of Harrison, was tendered a complimentary banquet and presentation by the business men of Harrison. The chair was taken by W. D. McLellan, chairman of the board of education, who called upon Mr. Blackwood to read, on behalf of the citizens, a complimentary address, and George Gray to present the doctor with a finely fitted club bag for himself and with cut glass for Mrs. Henry.

SUBMARINE RAID ON MADEIRA

French Gunboat and Two Other Vessels Sunk Off Coast ISLAND BOMBARDED

Resulting in Death of 34 Persons—Small Damage.

London, Dec. 6.—The French gunboat Surprise has been sunk by German submarines at Funchal, Madeira, according to an announcement by the Portuguese Minister of Marine in a wireless despatch received here from Lisbon. Thirty-four of the crew of the gunboat perished. A few Portuguese were also killed aboard the steamers Kangaroo and Dacia, which were torpedoed, according to the despatch. A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Lisbon states that thirty-four persons were killed in the bombardment of Funchal. The submarines shelled the shore for two hours, especially the public buildings, but only small damage was done. The steamers Kangaroo and Dacia were torpedoed. The Dacia was a British cable-laying steamer of 1,866 tons, and was owned in London. The Kangaroo was a French steamer of 2,413 tons. Her home port was Havre. The gunboat Surprise was a vessel of 626 tons. She was 184 feet long, and carried a complement of 100 men. The Surprise was built in 1895. Shell Maderia's Capital. Paris, Dec. 6.—A despatch to the Havas Agency from Lisbon dated Monday says a submarine fired fifty shells at Funchal, capital of the island of Madeira. The population, frightened, fled, and only returned when the submarine departed in an intense fire from the fortress. The despatch states that the fire from the submarine struck a ship, killing six Portuguese sailors.

Trades and Labor Council

Continued from page seven. was a wedge into the province of all labor claimed by all women. The claim of equal pay for equal work, although a desirable condition, was meaningless unless equal opportunities of training were advanced to the difficulties of men in combating with underpaid women workers presented the ever present economic standpoint. From an economic standpoint, the matter being in the end the state will pay the bill, and this comes firstly from the pockets of the people.

LICK HANDS OF THE CANADIANS

Hungry Bosches Are Eager to be Taken Prisoners

London, Dec. 6.—Canadian officers recently returned from the front in Belgium, the scene of the development of bombing operations. One even declares that the right stands a fair chance of becoming obsolete. "Bombing is the only sure method of clearing a trench," he says. "Give me a live party with live aprons and I will go anywhere. One man will carry as many as sixteen bombs. What one can accomplish in the way of annihilation is wonderful. The time was when we lost many men because the Bosches were so deep in the dugout, but he is up to our methods of bombing him out, so does not hide as low down as formerly. One man taken in the last little bunch of prisoners declared on his way to the cage that he simply had held up his hands in taking his usual morning Swedish exercise. "Bombing is not so far as they used to be. They fairly lick our hands when we give them some of our food, which continues of the best."
