Russians Show Treachery to British Forces at Tientsin

AND NOW HAS CHIP ON SHOULDER.

Seattle Negro Editor in Jail on Criminal Charge.

BLUFFING CHIEF OF POLICE.

Another Attempt to Capture Aguinaldo—Nome's Judge on Rack at Washington.

Tientsin, March 23, via Skagway, March 29.—Having reached an agreement, the Russian and British withdrew from the disputed railroad siding but the Russians suddenly returned and planted their country's flag all over the disputed territory and again retired leaving their national emblem behind them. This act on the part of Russia is construed as putting a chip on her shoulder and daring the British to knock it off. The action of the British is anxiously awaited but there is no doubt but that the flags will be pulled up. The situation is very serious.

Coon Editor in Trouble.

Seattle, March 24, via Skagway, March 29.—H. R. Clayton the negro editor of the Republican, has been arrested on a charge of criminal libel preferred by Chief of Police Meredith. Clayton is held in default of $500 bond which the police demand shall be put up in cash. As no one is permitted to see him it is considered an extraordinary high-handed proceeding and Chief Meredith is very apt to get into serious trouble over the matter.

Ah There, Aguinaldo!

Manila, March 23, via Skagway, March 29.—An expedition has been dispatched into the interior to capture Aguinaldo.

Ticklish for Noyes.

Washington, March 23, via Skagway, March 29.—The case of Judge Noyes of Nome, has been before the cabinet several times and the members nearly all favor his summary removal. The president and attorney general favor hearing the case in full before rendering a decision.

Attorney General Griggs has resigned his position.

McKeown Coming.

Skagway, March 29 —Ed McKeown who went to the Yukon with Major Walsh, left here yesterday for Dawson.

WHEN WILL ICE MOVE?

Much Speculation as to the Day and Hour.

The fact that there has been but little thawing weather during the past week has caused many who have money bet that the ice will move out of the river in front of Dawson during the first week in May to make efforts to "hedge" their bets. Others assert that they want no better assurance of an early opening of the river than the fact that the weather at present is as chilly as it is. They say that the cold weather will all be spent in a few more days and that when it gets warm it will be very warm, the heavy snow now on the ground will melt rapidly and the great volume of water produced thereby will cause the river ice to be torn from its moorings and carried away much earlier than last year when there was but little snow to melt, consequently but little surface water. It will be remembered that there was considerable warm weather during the month of March of last year and that by April first the snow had all departed except from the northern hillsides, and that shortly after the first of April the weather turned cooler and was quite chilly for two weeks or more; and yet, without the aid of surface water the ice moved from the river in front of Dawson at 4 o'clock on the morning of May 8th.

There are still hopes that money which says the ice will move during the first week in May is not lost, and only the time will say yet copper their bets.

KOYUKUK BOOMING

Interesting Down-River News Received by N. A. T. & T. Co.

Manager Delaney, of the N. A. T. & T. Co., is in receipt of an interesting letter from the agent of his company, Mr. H. R. Montefield, at Fort Yukon. He reports a scarcity of provisions at that point and states that Fort Hamlin a distance of 187 miles down the river has had to be drawn upon to supply several of the necessities of life. Mr. Montefield has received recent news from the Koyukuk which is very flattering for the possibilities of that country as it is evident that good pay has been struck there and the country is in a prosperous condition. Bettles the station at the head of navigation on the Koyukuk river it is thought will grow considerably and be the distributing point for a large district. Chandelier creek, a tributary of that river is thought to be a fine field for prospectors and a boom in that locality is looked for next summer.

MCDONALD SELECTED

To Represent Catholics on School Board.

At the council meeting last evening Mr. Justice Dugas and Mr. Prudhomme, the Catholic members of the council to whom had been left the nomination of the Catholic member of the board of education, proposed the name of Mr. Alex McDonald.

In making the nomination, Mr. Justice Dugas stated that he and Mr. Prudhomme had talked the nomination over and presented the name of Mr. McDonald as a compliment to him for the active interest he has taken in the development of the country, that he is a good Catholic and a capable man. On motion of Mr. Wilson, Mr. McDonald was unanimously elected a member of the board.

The ordinance as passed provides that the membership of the board shall consist of one member of the Yukon council and two additional members to be appointed by the council, one to be a Protestant and one to be a Catholic.

Mr. R. P. McLennan was appointed Protestant member of the board at the meeting a week ago and the appointment of Mr. McDonald last evening completes the membership of the board.

MINER'S LIEN ORDINANCE

Passed First and Second Reading and Referred.

Councilman Wilson's ordinance establishing a miner's lien on claims and dumps was submitted to the council last night by the legal adviser.

The ordinance as drafted provides for a miner's priority of claim over all judgments, executions, assignments, garnishments, or attachments which have been made or issued after such lien arises. The miner is also given priority of claim over all payment or advances made on account of any transfer or mortgage after notice of such lien having been made has been given in writing by the miner to the person making such payment.

The lien does not affect or prejudice the rights of any person having a mortgage or other charge upon the claim or output made and recorded prior to the commencement of the work in respect of which the lien is made.

The ordinance as drafted is long and contains many provisions. In some respects it is said to conflict with the federal statutes and a question has arisen as to whether or not, if passed, it will be held valid.

The ordinance passed its first and second reading last night and will be introduced at the next meeting for final reading and discussion when the legal adviser will be requested to be present to give his opinion on questions in doubt.

Prof. Parkes' Benefit.

Prof. Parkes, the wondrous man, is to be given a benefit Sunday night at the Savoy theater on which occasion he will display for the first time many original and valuable moving pictures which have been photographed by him. Parkes is a genius in his line of business and the views which he has taken of scenes in the Klondike are the only ones which have been developed successfully, both the Edison and the Stoddard lecture pictures having proven a failure.

The machine which he uses in "grinding in" moving pictures is the smallest ever made and is the only machine which can be carried about by one man. It is remarkable in its construction as the gearing wheels are made from discs cut from a mastodon's tooth, a cigar box being utilized in that part of the machine in which the lens is mounted and the body of the apparatus was made from a cracker box. Next summer Prof. Parkes will leave for the outside where he will display his pictures in the big cities of America and continue on a journey around the world.

It is to be hoped that a big house will witness the entertainment Sunday night.

COMING AND GOING.

Dick Case and Frank Rafael will meet tonight in a 10-round go at the Savoy. The contest will commence at 9:30 p. m. sharp.

Henry W. Brown and wife of Bonanza, Miss E. Kelly, of Circle City, and Floyd S. Wilson, of Dawson, are among the arrivals at the McDonald hotel this morning.

Special Power of Attorney forms for sale at the Nugget office.

STAMPEDING EPIDEMIC

Good Thing for the Country But Looks Silly.

Stampeding has become epidemic in the Klondike and would-be claim owners are liable at any moment to dash off on a 50 or 100 mile run on the strength of an unauthenticated whisper that three cents to the pan was found on the left fork of Lickempinch, but when that stream is reached some old lone prospector is found at work. He has not struck bedrock nor found a color, but, like all prospectors, his belief is firm that he will strike a big thing further down. The result is that Lickempinch is staked from one end to the other and three tiers back. Then the stamper returns to Dawson and the next day it leaks out that a concession on the headwaters of Pushfinger has been thrown open and, without waiting for confirmation of the report, there is another rush and two days later the recorder's window is eagerly sought by locators.

There is nothing leads up to the general development of a country so surely as the indiscriminate stampeding, but to the casual observer who is too lazy to participate in one they look very foolish.

The Mills.

The C. O. stage arrived last night, bringing 27 sacks of mail, 13 of which were for Dawson and five for lower river points.

Five passengers also came in on the stage including J. M. Rowan, Eva Baker, James McCallum, F. C. Schrader and J. McKillup.

This was the best trip of the year, the weather was mild all the way down and the trail except in a few places in good condition and everyone on the stage enjoyed the ride immensely.

KID WEST IS HERE

Arrived Last Night in Custody of Detective Seeley and Guards.

LOANED TO DOMINION GOVERNMENT

By State of Washington Where He Is a Convict.

WILL TESTIFY IN O'BRIEN CASE

No Stranger to Dawson Jail, Having Done Time for Theft in '99

He Met O'Brien Here.

Heavily shackled and under strong guard "Kid" West arrived in Dawson between 6 and 7 o'clock last night. Detective Seeley for the Dominion government being in charge of the party.

Officers Treadwell and Cudley guarded West on the journey. One of the officers is said to be from the state of Washington, the other a member of the N. W. M. P.

"Kid" West, who is now the property of the state of Washington, being sentenced to serve five years in the penitentiary for theft committed in Seattle, has been borrowed by the Dominion government for the purpose of giving evidence in the case of Geo. O'Brien, who, since early in January of last year has been in custody, first on suspicion and later on the charge of having committed the triple murder at Minto on Christmas day of '99, when, after being repeatedly shot, the bodies of Fred H. Clayton, Lynn Reile and Lineman Olson were presumably robbed and consigned through an open place in the ice to the waters of the Yukon which yielded up its dead the following June.

This is not West's first visit to Dawson, neither is it the first time the strong door of the Dawson jail has been closed and locked behind him, he having served a term of several months here in the former part of the year '99 for theft, O'Brien being a convict at the same time and on a similar charge. Whether or not the two men met there for the first time is not known, but it has since been said that while fellow sufferers in the expiation of crime they concocted a plan for conducting a "road agency" on the river trail the following winter. On his release from jail sometime during the summer of '99 West left Dawson, going out, it is said, by way of the lower river, his alleged arrangement with O'Brien being to meet the latter either in Dawson or up the river after the close of navigation. It is further said that West did not arrive on schedule time and that O'Brien, feeling that the time for hay making had arrived, took the road himself and, many believe with a partner who was killed in the fight on Christmas day or wounded and was later killed by O'Brien to escape the detection that would have surely followed his caring for a wounded partner on the trail. While this was being enacted "Kid" West was in Skagway awaiting news from O'Brien which he later received, the nature of the news

AN IMPORTANT MATTER.

The matter of bringing excursionists to Dawson during the coming summer is of sufficient importance to justify earnest consideration on the part of the Board of Trade and other local organizations. Excursion managers are always looking for new routes of travel and certainly nothing could prove more attractive to the average excursionist than a journey down the Yukon to Dawson during the time when the cleanup season is at its height. The inconveniences of travel on the river have been reduced to a minimum. With the proper connections arranged as would be done in such a case, no greater difficulties would attend the trip from Vancouver or Seattle to Dawson than occur on ordinary excursion journeys.

The steamboat accommodations on the river between Dawson and Whitehorse have reached a degree of efficiency which would admit of handling a series of excursion parties without any difficulty.

It will be readily seen that certain and valuable material advantage would accrue to Dawson and the territory generally should some such plan be carried into effect. The class of people who would take advantage of an opportunity to visit this city and the adjacent mining districts, would contain many on the lookout for investment, and all would of necessity contribute more or less toward increasing the amount of money in local circulation.

These direct benefits, however, would be only slight in comparison with the indirect results which would ensue. No better method of spreading broadcast the truth respecting the extent and wealth of our resources could be suggested, than a plan for bringing people in direct contact with the same. Men will believe what they see, when they will look with more or less askance upon what they read. An excursion or two into Dawson this summer will bring into the country a class of people whose presence here and acquaintance with the country would result beneficially in a number of ways. Such a movement undertaken in the proper manner could, we believe, be pushed to a successful conclusion without serious difficulty.

ADULTERATED DUST.

Adulteration of gold dust is becoming a nuisance. For a time last fall after an effort had been made to reduce the rate of valuation of gold dust from $16 per ounce to $15 per ounce, there was a noticeable improvement in the quality of dust in general circulation. Black sand disappeared almost entirely for a while and in consequence anyone who accepted dust had reasonable assurance that he was receiving approximately, at least, the amount to which he was entitled.

Gradually, however, the old system of adulterating dust with sand and other foreign matter has been resumed until the article known as "commercial dust" has come again into general diapente.

There is no obligation upon anyone to accept sand in payment for anything. Every grain of sand so accepted, means the transaction of so much business for a purely fictional consideration. It would be a wise idea if the plan of running a magnet through gold dust before accepting it should be generally adopted.

There is no necessity of submitting to such imposition as is involved in receiving dust which may run from five per cent to fifteen per cent black sand and if the merchants of the town would stand together in refusing to accept or pay out such dust the difficulty would soon be obviated.

A leading editorial in the News last evening was entitled "By Way of Explanation and Apology to the Reader." It is an exceptional issue when the News does not make an explanation or apology to someone.

The automobile as a means of transportation over the Yukon country has not proven the success which was hoped for it. Someone should bring in an airship.

Dawson will boast of a great many vegetable and flower gardens during the summer. More evidences of civilization.

IT MEANT QUARTZ

In Ottawa Order Concerning Royalty Reduction.

An order in council dated Ottawa, February 20th amending section 53 A of the regulations by providing that the royalty to be charged on the output of quartz mining claims shall not exceed five per cent.

The order reads as follows: Privy Council, Canada, Ottawa, Feb. 20, 1901.

His Excellency in Council;

Whereas section 53 A of the regulations for the disposal of quartz mining claims, established by order in council of the 21st March, 1898, as amended by subsequent orders in council, provides that the patent for a mining location shall reserve to the crown forever whatever royalty may hereafter be imposed on the sales of the products of all mines therein, and the same royalty shall be collected on the sales which may be made prior to the issue of patent.

And whereas it is now deemed advisable to provide for the maximum royalty which may be imposed on the sales of the products of mines.

And whereas, sub clause 2 of section 43 A of the aforesaid regulations provides that if application is made for a certificate of improvements, any person claiming an adverse right shall within a certain specified time commence legal action to determine the question of the right of possession, and shall file a copy of the writ, information, bill of complaint, or other initiatory proceeding with the mining recorder, and shall prosecute such action with reasonable diligence to final judgment; and section 69 of the said regulations provides that the gold commissioner and the mining recorders shall each have the power to hear and determine all disputes with regard to mining property subject to appeal.

And whereas, a seeming discrepancy exists between these two last named sections of the said regulations, and it is represented that the effect of section 69 would appear to take from the courts any jurisdiction in regard to mining matters while section 43 A would appear to refer directly to the courts of the land:

And whereas, it is not the intention that any dispute which may arise with respect to quartz mining claims prior to the issue of patent should be referred to any court other than that having jurisdiction in mining matters.

Therefore, his excellency, by and with the advice of the king's privy council for Canada, is pleased to order that section 53 A of the regulations for the disposal of quartz mining claims, before mentioned, shall be and the same is hereby amended by inserting after the word "therein" the following: "Such royalty, however, not to exceed five per cent."

His excellency is further pleased to order that section 43 A of the said regulations shall be and is hereby amended by inserting after the words "legal action" the following: "As provided by section 79 of these regulations."

(Signed) JOHN J. M'GEE,
Clerk of the Privy Council.

I hereby certify that the foregoing order in council was received in my office March 29th, was posted therein March 29th, and that the said order in council came into force March 29th, 1901.

(Signed) J. LANGLOIS BELL,
Assistant Gold Commissioner.

Mr. Pattullo was asked this morning if this was the order referred to in the telegram recently received by the A. E. Co., and which was published a short time ago. He said that no further order had been received and no intimation had as yet been received to the effect that the royalty on the output of placer mines had been reduced. It is his opinion that the above order is the one referred to. For, he said, the question is one of such vital interest to everyone that if the royalty on the placer output had been reduced, there would in all probability have been a number of private wires sent in to the large mine holders and commercial houses as well as the banks, who are interested in the subject.

Strathcona's Horse.

Strathcona's Horse possesses a pet which is rabidly "khaki." This is "Jacko," a monkey given to one of the squadrons by a lady when the corps was operating at Potchefstroom. To anyone in khaki "Jacko" is all that friendliness should be; to anyone not clad in the garb he is one of the funies. An advance made by our artist to pat him resulted in her hat being torn and a piece bitten out of her dress. The monkey is four years of age, and is as mischievous as a monkey four-year-old can be. So outrageous were his pranks on board the voyage home that at last the captain, driven to desperation by having hay made in his cabin by the pet, threatened to have "Jacko" thrown overboard. However, he has survived to see London, and has been carefully tended in Kensington barracks by Sergeant Hawes, who acts as his keeper.

"Jacko" is not the only pet owned by Strathcona's Horse. The regiment also boasts a goat and one of the most forbidding bulldogs that has ever shown teeth. The dog is "Peterboro Ben," and was brought from Canada a youngster, and will return to his native shores a fully-grown bull, and a dog-of-war to boot.

The visit of Strathcona's Horse to London has brought the corps two special distinctions. One is the honor of being the first regiment to receive the South African war medal at the hands of King Edward VII. The medal, which commemorates the service of the army in the unfortunately still current campaign, has, on the obverse side, the head of the late revered queen, surrounded by the ever familiar word, "Victoria, Regina et Imperatrix." On the reverse side is a figure of Britannia holding out a wreath of laurels to an advancing body of soldiers. In the background the masts or ships typify the navy. Below are the words, "South Africa." The ribbon is striped in orange, dark blue and red. The other distinction which has fallen upon the gallant Canadians is the no less glorious one of being the first regiment to be presented with the king's color, in recognition of services rendered on the field of battle. This color is a Union Jack of silk, trimmed with gold, and having gold tassels, and, at the top of the staff, a gold crown surmounted by a lion. To the flagstaff is fixed a silver plate, engraved with a crown, and this inscription: "Presented by His Majesty the King-Emperor to Lord Strathcona's Corps, in recognition of services rendered to the empire in South Africa, 1900." - Daily Graphic.

REGARDING SANITATION.

Board of Health Considering Measures for Public Good.

A meeting of the board of health was held Tuesday afternoon in the commissioner's office, at which it was decided to recommend to the Yukon council that a cable and scows be used to deposit the garbage in the Klondike river as soon as the ice begins to break. The ice in the Klondike river breaks up sooner than in the Yukon and garbage deposited there, it is thought would be carried out into the current of the Yukon.

The medical health officer reported that the vaccination was completed for the present and that he was getting the returns from the various public vaccinators.

A cabin which during the smallpox epidemic was used as a hospital on Gold Run was recommended to be burned as being the most efficacious method of destroying any infectious which might exist.

In respect to the erection of a slaughter house by Mr. A. R. Cameron the commissioner said he understood that a report was to have been made to the medical health officer in this matter. It was recommended that the refuse from the slaughter house be buried and otherwise that the ordinance respecting slaughter houses be strictly enforced. The members present were Messrs. Ogilvie, O'Brien and McArthur.

A Pleasant Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner Townsend's cozy little home on Fifth avenue between Fifth and Sixth streets was the scene of a progressive whist and otherwise pleasant entertainment last night, four tables being operated from 9:30 until 12 o'clock when the result was announced, followed by the awarding of beautiful, unique and appropriate prizes, after which elegant refreshments were served. As host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. Townsend are not excelled in Dawson.

A Good Pay Streak.

A. M. Kilgore and Harry Landall recently received good word from their claims 16a and 16b Lindow creek a tributary of the right fork of Bear creek. Messrs. Kilgore and Landall staked these claims last fall and had men prospecting them during the winter. A paystreak four feet in depth and about 30 feet wide, running all the way from $1.25 to $2.50 to the bucket has been located. The men are naturally very much elated with their success and are making preparation for extensive work this summer.

How She Lost a Thousand.

"I've just lost a thousand dollars," said the girl with the pensive face casually.

"Well, it's hard to keep track of such a small sum in ones purse, was the rejoinder the sarcastic young woman in the Morris chair made.

The pensive girl's nose wrinkled in disdain. "It was this way," she explained: "I was coming home with one of the latest novels my friend on the North Side had lent me. The book I carried was brand new, and I was going through a department store and happened to stop and look at some books in the book department. It was then I thought of it. They are always on the lookout for shoplifters, you know, and it suddenly occurred to me that it was quite likely I would feel the heavy hand of a house detective on my shoulder as I walked out of the store. In fact, I didn't quite see how a detective who was doing his duty could avoid nabbing me. There I was loitering around the books and intending to walk away with a brand new, unwrapped novel under my arm. What grounds would the detective have for believing I hadn't stolen it? I decided to remonstrate gently but firmly with him. He would scoff. Thereupon I would consent to be led away. I would demand being taken to the manager. I would state my case to him in a quiet, ladylike, haughty manner which would cow him, so different would it be from the usual hysterical threats of the real shoplifters. He would be convinced and apologize and hope it was all right. Then I would smile frostily and make no move toward going. 'Oh, no,' I would say, 'it is not all right. You know perfectly well what a box you and your bright detective have got yourselves into. I have a good damage case against this store and I intend to put it in the hands of my lawyer. Either that and the annoying publicity for you or you sit down and sign a check for $1000 and hand it to me.' Of course he would be glad to get out of it for a paltry thousand, and then I would depart, planning a summer trip to Europe."

The fascinated audience listened breathlessly.

The pensive girl drew a long, long sigh. "But the horrid house detective let me walk out right under his nose, and I flashed the book in his very face. I could have hit him, I was so mad."

"It was a shame!" sympathized the listening chorus.—Chicago News.

ROUTINE WORK OF COUNCIL

Rush of Business Necessitates Continued Meeting

Which Will Be Held Tonight When Delayed Ordinances Will Be Read and Considered.

The Yukon council has more business now than it can accomplish. At every meeting petitions and communications present themselves in such numbers and require so much time for disposal that the councilmen find that they have no time to attend to the regular order of the day, which includes the reading and passing of ordinances. When the council adjourned last night it was decided to hold a special meeting tonight for the purpose of disposing of the ordinances now before it for consideration.

A large amount of routine business was disposed of last night.

A communication from L. L. James requesting permission to kill one moose per week during the summer to feed the men in his logging camp up the Klondike was read and referred to committee.

The manager of the Bank of British North America whose assessment for the year 1900 was placed at $300,000 sent in a communication stating that the assessment on the entire business on all the branches of the bank by the federal government was only $292,000, and he requested a rebate of $150,000 on an affidavit of the cashier to the effect that their business last year did not amount to more than that figure. The communication was referred to the finance committee. The Canadian Bank of Commerce, it was stated, would also put in a similar request, which would be considered at the same time.

Business in the tax collector's office is so rushing now that Mr. Ward Smith finds it impossible to take in the money offered in payment of taxes, so he asked the council to grant him an assistant. His request was granted and the appointment left to Commissioner Ogilvie.

Staff Sergeant Raven of Grand Forks, sent in a communication relative to the garbage pile at that place which he stated would be a nuisance when warm weather came unless burned. The matter was left in his hands with instructions to purchase coal oil and burn the same.

A communication from the citizens' committee relative to the drafting of a municipal ordinance and outlining a plan for incorporation was received.

On motion of Mr. Dugas, a committee of the whole council was appointed to meet and inquire into and report on the communication. The meeting will be held so that the report may be given at the next meeting.

An account for $144.61 was submitted by the comptroller for the draping of the courthouse at the time of the queen's death. Ordered paid.

The matter of procuring instruments for testing liquors brought into the territory was discussed, but as the council is in a state of uncertainty as to what will become of the liquor licenses, action was deferred.

The report of the committee on civil justice and miscellaneous matters was read and adopted.

The board of public works reported the appointment of Alex Anderson to the position of boiler inspector, his certificate and recommendations being the best. They also asked further time to look into the claim of Sutton for $3000 for extras said to be due him on his road contract. The report was adopted.

Mr. Wilson raised the question of the payment of 80 cents per hour for government laborers and was informed that that goes into effect the 1st of April. He then presented a motion that a memorial be prepared and sent to Ottawa requesting that a scale of wages be established for laborers in the Yukon of 80 cents per hour or $5 per day and board. The motion was laid over for one week.

The committee appointed by the Board of Trade at its meeting Wednesday night presented a communication asking that the matter of the licenses for transient traders be looked into. On motion of Mr. Dugas, a letter was ordered to be sent to Comptroller Lithgow asking for a report of the number of licenses issued to scows and peddlers last year with the names and amounts.

An ordinance was introduced regulating the practice of dentistry in the Yukon. The meeting adjourned to meet tonight.

MUCH MOOTED MEAT MATTER

Is Soup Bone of Contention Before Council.

The first of April is rapidly approaching and the days in which moose and caribou may be sold are numbered unless the committee appointed by the Yukon council last night to investigate the situation should make a favorable report extending the time.

A petition from the hunters and others interested in the traffic of game was presented to the council last evening requesting an extension of time in which to dispose of the meat on hand.

There is now on hand in the town a large amount of game which, if the ordinance be strictly enforced, would naturally have to be sacrificed.

At the same time the butchers, having large amounts invested in their stocks on hand, are petitioning for the immediate and strict enforcement of the ordinance.

Mr. Dugas in speaking on the question said: "If we could only be assured that the people would act perfectly honest in the matter and not take an undue advantage of our leniency, I would be perfectly willing to extend the time to allow for the disposal of the stock on hand. But we cannot be assured of that for there are no doubt a lot of people who would take an advantage of us and sell game killed after the time specified in the ordinance. We were asked to extend the time to April 1st, with the assurance that that would give plenty of time in which to dispose of the meat, which we did and now comes the request for a further extension of time. The difficulty of the question now is whether or not it is to the public interest to extend the time. If we are to change our ordinances every week or two we might just as well not make any. In this case we must proceed cautiously."

Commissioner Ogilvie's opinion on the subject was that what is now in cold storage or in town should be allowed to be sold, but that all other be barred.

Mr. Prudhomme thought that a committee should be appointed to investigate the matter to see in whose hands the meat is. He had heard there were a number of people who had speculated in the meat with full knowledge of the ordinance and of its going into effect on the 1st of April, but they had relied upon getting an extension of time to dispose of it.

Major Wood and Mr. Prudhomme were appointed a committee to report at the next meeting of the council. In the meantime the sale will be allowed to go on.

The question was also raised as to whether the restaurants would be allowed to serve game during the closed period. The question had not been raised at the time of the passing of the ordinance and Commissioner Ogilvie said that he had no idea of restricting such sale. No one opposed the question so restaurants and hotels will be allowed to serve game on their tables.

Police Court News.

In the police court yesterday afternoon the charge against J. H. Tomlinson of stealing lumber from the Canadian-Yukon Lumber Co., of which he was formerly manager, was dismissed. Another charge against Tomlinson of stealing a blanket from a woman by the name of Hunt was also dismissed. There were no cases before the court this forenoon.

John Flynn would be tried this afternoon on the charge of unlawfully selling whisky.

Health of Philippine Troops.

Washington, March 12.—Surgeon Gen. Sternberg has received a report from Col. Greenleaf, chief surgeon of the division of the Philippines, giving some interesting statistics in regard to the health of the army in that quarter. The report is dated Manila, January 15 last. At that time the strength of the command was 67,415, and the percentage of sick was 7.49. The consolidated weekly report of hospitals in Manila and the military hospitals in the division shows 2400 sick, of which 390 were cases of malarial fever, 326 dysentery, 253 wounds and injuries, etc. There were 83 deaths among the troops during the month ended January 15.

Col. Greenleaf says that he regards the health of the command as good.

KID WEST IS HERE.

being that the latter was in jail at Tagish. West at once conceived a bold scheme for releasing O'Brien by assaulting the guards on their way with the prisoner from Tagish to Dawson but his knowledge of the stuff of which members of the N. W. M. P. are made caused him to reconsider and pass up the proposition. It was while in Skagway, although not fully proven, that West sandbagged a woman named Gertie who was on her way out from Dawson and robbed her of money and jewelry to the value of $800. Later he went to Seattle and was soon in the toils for theft and a five years' engagement in the Walla Walla jute mills followed, from which place he was borrowed for the purpose of being brought here to testify in the case of his erstwhile fellow convict.

It is said that West was very averse to coming to Dawson and stated his determination to escape on the way down, but his safe delivery here last night and his present incarceration in the Dawson strong house shows that he reckoned without considering the vigilance of his body guard.

No trouble was experienced with him on the trip down the river during which there always rested upon him the watchful eye either of one of the party in whose custody he was or of some member of the police station where the night were passed. In reality West was in no more danger of escaping on the trip down the river than he is of walking out through the solid wall of the cell he now occupies in the jail.

The date for O'Brien's trial has not yet been fixed but it will probably be held soon. Detective McGuire who worked with the police in the case, and who is said to have made some interesting discoveries while O'Brien was confined in the Tagish jail, is here and ready to tell what he knows of the case.

TO EXPLORE THE ARCTICS

Geological Surveyor Schrader Here En Route North.

Mr. F. C. Schrader, a United States geologist who is leading a geological survey party for the head of the Koyukuk arrived in Dawson last evening by the stage.

Mr. Schrader, in speaking of his trip and its object to a Nugget representative today said: "Our destination is the unknown region between the head of the Koyukuk and the Arctic ocean. We will make a geological survey of the formation of the country with a view of ascertaining its mineral resources and also to gain all the information possible as to its topographic and geographic formations."

"Our route will extend down the Yukon to Fort Yukon, up the Chandlerier river, across the divide into the Koyukuk basin, then northward up some of the principal tributaries of the Koyukuk and across the Rocky mountain divide separating the drainage of the Yukon and Koyukuk rivers on the south and the Arctic ocean on the north. We hope to reach the divide by dog team and from there we will descend some unknown river to the Arctic coast. There is a large portion of the country we are to traverse that white man has never set his foot on and the drainage system on the other side of the divide is not even known."

"After we reach the coast we will extend our work westward from one to two hundred miles and if time presents we will return by way of the Koyukuk. If this, however, cannot be done we will take our way along the Arctic coast to Point Barrows where we will be able to catch a whaler."

There are eight men all told in Mr. Schrader's party, five of whom are ahead establishing a base of supplies. The balance of the party will meet them at Bergman on the Koyukuk and from thence the party will proceed together.
