Spent Countless Nights Unable to Rest or Sleep

Was Run Down and in Terribly Nervous Condition—By Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Gained Regularly.

In this letter is told once more the story which comes from many thousands of women. It is the story of exhausted nerves, of a run-down system and of all the accompanying misery of sleeplessness, headaches and loss of energy and vigor.

But there is a silver lining to this cloud. There is the light of new hope and courage which comes with the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This letter is so representative of the kind we are daily receiving that you can judge from it what you might expect from this treatment under similar circumstances.

Mrs. Conrad Schmidt, R. R. No. 1, Milverton, Ont., writes: "Two years ago last spring I was run down, had nervous prostration, and was in a terribly nervous condition. I could not sleep or eat. Could scarcely count the nights that I passed without sleep, and if I did eat, had sick headaches and vomiting spells. My limbs would swell so badly that it hurt me to walk. I would jump up in bed, awakened by bad dreams; in fact, I was so bad I thought I could not live, and started to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food without much hope.

"It was not long before I began to improve under this treatment, and I can truthfully say it has done me a world of good. It took some time to get the nervous system restored, but I kept right on using the Nerve Food regularly and gradually gained in health and strength. I have a fine baby boy now. He weighed 12 lbs. at birth, and though my friends were anxious after the condition I was in, I got over that fine, and now weigh 120 lbs. Before using the Nerve Food I was a mere skeleton."

You are not asked to expect miracles from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. But if you are willing to feed back your exhausted nerves to health and strength you can depend absolutely on this great food cure to produce the desired results. CHAPTER XXI.

If her soul had not been tried by danger, if persecution had not opened her inner eyes, and if she had not been brought into contact with Lionel's nobler and truer nature, she would not yet have been able to appreciate the degradation into which she had been swept and which was likely to carry her away.

Poor creature! she groped in vain through her experiences for some rock to catch hold of and cling to. All she could see was the ray of hope ahead of her that this storm would blow over and leave the future clear for a better life. She would continue her deception only as long as she must, and be true to Lionel in the future. That was her programme.

Lionel let nine o'clock pass by, and she knew that he intended to take no notice of the appointment with Lord Gree. It was a relief for the time, but she was sure that Lord Gree would not permit the matter to rest there, and the fear of what his next step would be kept her on the rack all through a sleepless night and into the next day. With it all, however, she was forced to appear to Lionel as if only the purest happiness reigned in her soul.

Then at last the moment came. She was wandering idly along the path that led to the brook, Lionel having left her side for a moment, and was trying to find a rest from the hideous part she was playing. The sunlight of a perfect morning was flickering through the restless leaves and dancing on the velvet lawn, and in the midst of her trouble she was thinking of the perfect peace there would be in life at the castle if it were not for the nightmare that brooded over her.

AT ALL STAGES OF LIFE

The Woman's Medicine. Good for All Ages. Mrs. Harold Smith's Experience.

Clarkburg, W. Va.—"I am writing to tell you the good your medicine has always done me and I hope my letter may be the means of helping some other suffering woman. When I was 19 years old I caught cold and had suppression for two months. I got so weak I could scarcely drag myself up the stairs. I went to two doctors, then my mother got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it. I never had any more trouble and got strong fast. Then I took it again before my little girl was born and it helped me a good deal and I give the Compound the credit for it. Then this spring I felt very badly again, but I took the Compound and have been well all summer. I cannot be grateful enough for your medicine."—Mrs. HAROLD M. SMITH, 470 Water Street, Clarkburg, W. Va.

For forty years it has been making women strong and well, and curing backache, nervousness, uterine and ovarian inflammation, weakness, displacements, irregularity and periodic pains.

nothing to do now but look after their little troubles. I will attend to it. Don't bother about it," and he thrust it into his pocket and led her along, not seeming to know whether he led her.

But after a little while he recovered his self-control and talked with her about a ride they were to take in the afternoon, when she was to try a new saddle horse he had bought for her. After that he was quite like himself, except for an occasional dark gleam in his eyes, which she would catch suddenly and then find gone. It was enough, however, and she knew that what had been postponed from last night was to occur on this.

The self-controlled intensity of Lionel's anger gave her a feeling of fear that she had never before experienced, and yet she had nothing to do but wait and smile.

During the ride in the afternoon, and at dinner afterward, Lionel was as witty and gay as in those days when he was the very light of London society; but Flora knew too much to be deceived, and she waited, waiting with a dull pain weighing heavily within her breast. It seemed as if something lay there, crushing down her heart.

She could see that he was watching the clock even as she was, and at a quarter before the hour of nine it seemed to her only natural that he should get up from the easy-chair, in which he had vainly been trying to seem at rest, and say, carelessly: "Excuse me for a little while, Flora, dear; I must go out to the stables."

It seemed to her even that she had known exactly what his excuse would be. As if the words he spoke had already been echoing in her own brain. "Don't be gone long, will you, Lionel?" she answered, with a smile, and then wondered how she had been able to smile.

"Oh, no," he replied, carelessly; but she had caught that terrible gleam in his eyes before he had turned his face away, and it left her haunted.

Lionel was gone! She was alone! When he came back—if he came back—what would he know that he did not already know? What did the next few minutes have in store for her?

Did Lionel know that Lord Gree would be armed? She started up to run after him and tell him. Then she dropped into her chair.

"I dare not say a word," she murmured, and so sat staring vacantly into the licking flames; thoughts, pictures, fancies, dreams filling her passive brain.

And so she sat, as if the world was peopled no more and only herself was left, until an unbidden picture of the wood rose up before her, and she could see two men struggling for life in its gloom. Now Lionel was holding the other by the throat and choking his base life out, and now it was Gree, with his malignant smile, who was looking down to where the blood was oozing from a tiny wound in Lionel's side.

The she bounded up with a cry that started herself, and her impulse was to run out to the wood and stand before the men and avow her wickedness, and not be forced to go through life with the stain of blood upon her. She had suffered enough from the evil she had already done; but to go through life wrestling with a phantom was more than she could bear to think of. But go out there, tell Lionel that her every word, her every care, had been a falsehood! Oh, no, she could not do that. Nor could she remain there and wait, wait for whatever terrible thing might happen.

At least she would go where she could listen and perhaps hear something carried on the night air from the spot. It was not so far away. With this in her mind she ran to her room, and from there she threaded the corridors until she was in the north wing of the castle, all silent and deserted, as if midnight had come too soon there. She stole into one of the bed-chambers and looked out of the window into the blackness of a moonless night.

She unfastened the casement, and softly pushed the window open. She thrust her head out, and listened. There was no sound save that of the frogs and the insects, but the voices of these seemed to hold mysteries for her as she strained her ears to hear, and they whispered strange things which she seemed to understand without knowing how.

Time did not exist for her then. She knew neither how long she leaned out into the black stillness, nor what she did or thought while she leaned. Only there came suddenly to her ears the sharp report of a pistol, then agonized cries, then dead silence, with the insects and the frogs mocking her.

The Wrong Man.

The gentle Elsie sat drearily in the gloaming in the front room. She was very miserable, for on the previous night she had had words with her own, and now she fears her haughty Harold will not call.

She hears a step, a ring, a voice she knows, and someone speaking to the servant in the hall.

She will not wait until a light is brought, but gently calls "Come in!"

The visitor enters, and with a sigh of awful volume, the fair Elsie casts herself into his arms and softly murmurs:

"Oh, my darling, I'm so glad you've come! I have so wanted to make it up and settle."

And he of the embrace remarked: "Well, miss, it's very nice of you, and I'm very glad, too, that you're going to settle up at last."

LIGHT, HEAT, COMFORT!

The proprietor of one of the best known multiple shopping systems is credited with saying, "Give me any old shop, in any old street, and I'll guarantee to make it in twelve months the most widely known and best frequented shop in the district." He was asked to explain. Holding up three fingers he said, "I believe in the trinity of LIGHT, WARMTH, COMFORT. I should disentangle the moths until the candle drew them, I should bring them into a warm, comfortable shop, filled with a soft, pleasing radiance, and the rest is—well, mere child's play."

Mixed metaphors, perhaps, but expressive. Now we can more than imagine the kind of shop this well-known individual would open, for we pass it in almost every town—always a landmark to the street. No one fails to notice it. There is an indefinable air of welcome and invitation as one stands for a moment on the pathway and lets one's gaze travel inside it. The subdued, restful lighting effect that so charms because of its very unobtrusiveness, the absence of dark corners, the intangible feeling that if one would step inside one would be sure of experiencing a delicious sense of warmth and comfort and cheerfulness—all these are part of its appeal. Truly a shop with an individuality.

We cordially invite all progressive business men to visit our showroom and see our latest Lighting and Heating Appliances, by the adoption of which the ideal outline in the above extract from a London paper may be easily secured. Our new RADIO X. Lamp and GASTEAM Radiators fill all light and heat requirements.

Kaiser's Views Disgust Friend.

Paris, Jan. 28.—The Matin prints the following, written by Count Meger, former secretary and confidant of Don Carlos, and now a leading member of the Carlist party, the sympathies of which are strongly pro-German.

"I was at Frohsdorf when the war broke out. I was then Germanophile, and was pleased over the prospects of German success, on which I counted. I hurried to Vienna, and the first thing I saw was the secret document written by the German Emperor to the Emperor of Austria to inform him of the order given to carry on a work of extermination.

Only Two Months.

"My soul is bursting with grief," wrote the Kaiser, "but it is absolutely necessary to put everything to fire and sword; men and women, children and aged, must be slaughtered; not a single tree must be left upright, not a roof intact. With such a system of terror, the only one to be followed against a people so debased as the French, it is certain that the war will not last two months, while proceeding with humanitarian consideration, it might be prolonged for years. I am having recourse, then, whatever it may cost me, to this method, which in spite of appearances will greatly diminish bloodshed.

"Such atrocious words made the first breach in my admiration for Germany. A few days later I read in an evening paper a speech delivered by the Kaiser to his soldiers in which he declared that he had learned that two French military doctors had entered Metz and poisoned the garrison wells with cholera microbes. Then I understood that such a man was not only cruel but a shameless liar and calculator."

The flavor and juiciness of meats depend almost as much on the method of cooking as on the quality of the meat.

Chicago Man's Suicide.

FOLLOWS A DOUBLE MURDER.
 New York, Jan. 28.—Nathan Pullman, suspected of having murdered his wife and daughter after coming here from Chicago, ended his life yesterday by jumping from the third storey window of a Third Avenue Hotel. Pullman's skull was fractured. He was hurried to the Flower Hospital, where he died ten minutes later. Pullman was identified by papers found on his body.

Following a dinner and theatre party celebrating their husband and father's return from Chicago, the bodies of Mrs. Rebecca Pullman, 50 and her daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Basel, 25, their skulls crushed in with an axe, were found in the living room of their Bronx home early today. Pullman disappeared several hours before the bodies were found.

None of the Pullman's relatives knew of any family quarrel that could have led to the murder of the two women.

The only explanation the police or members of the family could conceive to-day was that Pullman had suddenly become insane.

Police found in Pullman's clothes a letter, addressed to the "newspapers and everybody," and reading, in part: "Good-bye, ta-ta, everybody. I guess I will make good. I am going away on a long journey. Ta-ta again, and ta-ta once more."

In a rambling, disjointed manner, the writer advised the people "not to worry over these two," as they were now better off, and "there is no good in making a fuss over something that cannot be helped." There was no signature to the note.

Pullman's body was later positively identified by Sydney Schubin, a relative.

 By FRED T. JANE.

Will there be a big naval battle before the end of the war?
 I am asked to write an answer to this question. Put in these words, one is driven to reply that it depends on what is understood by the word "battle."

On land there has been incessant fighting for nearly eighteen months, yet there has not been a single "battle" in the old sense of the word.

Similarly on the sea things have hitherto tended to be of the nature of skirmishes rather than set fights. No battleship has once engaged another battleship, and even when—as on the Dogger Bank—battle-cruisers fought each other, there was no stand-up fight on the old lines. Things have altered much during the last few years, and sea-fights now are apt to be lost and won before a shot is fired.

If, however, the question be put in another form, such as "Will the German Fleet come out?" then I answer that I believe that it will, and that once having come it will never return. But that does not necessarily mean a spectacular fight on Trafalgar or Tushima lines, Dreadnought hammering Dreadnought, till one side is annihilated in the crash of a titanic struggle.

What Our Submarines Will Do.

More probable it is that our submarines (in which we have now an overwhelming superiority) will slaughter the German Dreadnoughts while our battle fleet hangs round waiting to mop up the pieces. There is no poetry in modern naval warfare; scientific slaughter is now the order of the day.

And as to how and why the Germans will come out, this will probably be due to the pressure of public opinion in the Vaterland rather than to any strategical objective.

Germany has spent enormous sums in creating that Navy, which at present lies idle in the Kiel Canal. From the Kaiser's point of view an unbeaten fleet is some kind of asset to bargain with in case of land failure, or to do something with in case of victory.

As a business proposition this is sound enough, or would be, but for the fact that the German people have for years been taught that both in ships and men they are better than any other.

It is quite untrue, of course, but they have been told the lie so often that the majority of them honestly believe it. And so—when the land pressure grows too severe, there will probably be a frantic demand for a last sporting hazard on the sea—a demand so insistent that the Kaiser will be unable to resist it.

Destruction, Sure and Certain.

Indeed, when it is realized that the game is up, the Kaiser himself may be driven to lead his fleet to destruction, the fleet being his special toy and he the man who first told his people, "Our future lies on the water." It will be but poetic justice if this be his doom—to go to perdition with the fleet which he created of set purpose to destroy us.

That it will be destruction for the Germans is sure and certain. We are about three to one against them in Dreadnoughts, every British Dreadnought's crew inured with eighteen months of hardship while the Germans have grown fat and lazy in harbor.

In submarines our superiority must be quite ten to one—possibly more. It is inadvisable to attempt to give exact figures. In all subsidiary craft, from battle-cruisers to destroyers, the superiority rests with us—thanks to the Navy League.

The British Navy League never talked about "The Day," as did its German rival. For one member that our Navy League had, the German concern numbered ten. But, like Gideon's little army, our Navy League saw to it that the British Navy was kept up. If few they were they fought the fight and foiled the naval dreams of the Kaiser.

Haps' Navy League Will Force Matters.
 The numerical strength of the German Navy League which will probably eventually force the Kaiser's fleet to come out is well over a million. Our Navy League in its palmy days probably never had more than 20,000 members, men and women—or rather, perhaps, I should say, women and men, for it was the fair sex which did most of the work.

It sounds far-fetched, of course, but, all the same, it is no exaggeration to say that a handful of Englishwomen are mainly responsible for the coming fate of the Kaiser's navy. All honor to them!

Here enters another factor. When Villeneuve was sent out to meet Nelson at Trafalgar by orders of Napoleon, he knew right well that he was going to destruction. But he went.

Ten years or so ago, when Rodjstvensky was sent with the Baltic Fleet as a last effort against Togo and Japan, he knew that too, was going to destruction. But he went.

So, also, I take it, will the Germans go. They will know well enough of the useless sacrifice to which they are going—but they will go. And as like as not they will go cheerfully, in order to win our esteem! Which sounds strange, but so things are!

There is a thing known as "The Brotherhood of the Seas." And that brotherhood is this, that you love the man you have killed or maimed, and, equally so, he loves the man who has hammered him.

In neither Fleet probably is there a single officer or man animated by anything of the nature of personal hate. The Fleets will kill each other merely for the sake of personal esteem.

Consequently, even though the pressure of German public opinion failed, even though all diplomacy demanded that the German Navy should remain safely in harbor to the bitter end, I believe that the German Navy will come out and die at our hands, and all over this "Brotherhood of the Seas."

Of the German Army, the least said is the soonest mended. We know its vile atrocities. In the matter of Belgium it has—to its own thinking—excused itself on the grounds of "necessity." Whether or no we believe this, it does.

German Sailors Not Blackguards.
 For the rest, however, it has against it innumerable crimes which admit of no palliation.

But of the German navy as a whole none speak ill. It has (or had) its blackguards like those who massacred the Lusitania and other lesser ships.

On the other side of the scale were men like Captain von Muller of the Emden, who conducted war as officers and gentlemen.

In doing so they were certainly not "Prussians"—it is doubtful if they were "good Germans" in the Kaiser's ideal. Still, when all is said and done, the German Navy has for years modelled itself on the British Navy and sought to follow British ideals.

On that account I am of opinion that it will follow the British model, and believe that it is better to die fighting than to face an inglorious surrender. Our Admiral Cradock, who perished off Chile fighting against Von Spee, set the example. He might have run away; but preferred to die for the honour of the flag, much as Sir Richard Grenville did in Elizabethan days.

And I think I may say that this is how the British Navy hopes that the German High Sea Fleet will end. It will prefer to kill the enemy as sailormen. It hopes that they will die like men.

German Fleet May Mutiny.
 It does not believe in abusing the enemy. It desires to destroy them, leaving the abuse to others. And from what I know of the German Navy, I think that rather than face tame surrender, it will, if need be, mutiny and come out to "die like men and fall like one of the princes."

There is some Psalm in the Bible which puts it that way.
 The German Army, as indicated, is beyond the pale. But the German Navy is a copy of the British Navy and so has imbibed certain ideals which the Prussianized German Army lacks.

Our Navy will kill them without mercy till they throw up the sponge; thereafter save them from death as much as may be.

It may be a hard thing for the general public to understand, but it is a matter of sportsmen vs. sportsmen. The Germans, when they come out, will get their grief, but our men as they kill them will love them for coming out to death.—Pearson's Weekly.

Zam-Buk Cured in Two Months.

After 2 Year Useless Treatment.

The healing power of Zam-Buk is so much greater than that of other ointments, that it has cured in many cases when all other ointments have failed. One such instance is that of Mr. Earle E. Gardner, of Marquis, Sask., who writes: "For two years I suffered with a bad attack of salt-rheum on my feet. During those two years I tried every known remedy, but could find nothing that would cure the disease. Then I heard of Zam-Buk, and commenced using it. After the first few applications I noticed an improvement, and this encouraged me to continue. Although I had suffered for two years, after only two months' treatment with Zam-Buk I am completely cured."

Zam-Buk is equally good for eczema, ulcers, abscesses, blood-poisoning, piles, cold sores, chapped hands, chilblains, eruptions, etc. At all drug stores, 50c. box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Pongo Was Ship That Captured Appam.

Statement Made by Captain Harrison, Former Master of the British Steamer.

New York, Feb. 6.—The German raider which captured the British steamship Appam was the Pongo, according to Captain H. C. Harrison, former master of the Appam, who arrived here yesterday from Norfolk on the steamship Hamilton. With Captain Harrison were his officers and crew, numbering 150, who probably will be sent to England on the White Star liner Baltic.

Captain Harrison said he had no other recourse than to surrender when he discovered the warlike character of the ship which stopped him. When the cruiser was less than two ship lengths away, he was ordered to board her, with his deck officers and a number of his men. The name of the raider, he declared, appeared in plain English on the navigation charts hanging in the vessel's pilot house and chart room, where he was summoned by the commander.

"I had little time to make observations," Captain Harrison said. "With my men I was ordered below decks and kept there for two days with the crews taken from ships previously sunk. While I talked with our guards, and many of them spoke plain English well, they gave no information."

"When I was placed on board my ship, I found it in full possession of the Germans. Bombs had been planted on the bridge, in the chart house and in the engine room, and I was told that at the first sign of trouble they would be exploded and the ship sent to the bottom."

"Nothing was taken from the Appam except a shipment of gold bars from West Africa, valued at $150,000. I have no complaint to make of the way we were treated by the Germans. I was invited by Lieut. Berge each evening at six o'clock to have a West African cocktail with him. This was served to us in what was, before our capture, my cabin. I was not allowed on the bridge or in the chart room."

Use "Tiz" for Sore, Tired, Aching Feet

No more puffed-up, burning, sweaty, calloused feet or corns.

Just take your shoes off and then put these weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your feet will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture. Get a 25 cent box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

CLOSING OF MUSEUMS AND PICTURE GALLERIES.

LONDON, To-day. Premier Asquith, yesterday, received an influential deputation, who called upon him to urge the reconsideration by the Government of the closing of museums and picture galleries. Recently there have been many strong protests against the closing of the institutions. Asquith, in reply to the appeal of the deputation, said there was necessity for every possible economy during the war which was being fought under unprecedented conditions. He announced with certain restrictions the National Gallery, National Museum and Victoria Albert Museum, so far as the popular portions of them were concerned and the reading room of the British Museum, would still be available for public use, but that beyond these concessions he could give no hope that the Government would recede from its decision to close them.

NO ENVOY TO WASHINGTON.

LONDON, To-day. An official of the Foreign Office said that as far as he knew there was no truth in the report that a special envoy would be sent to Washington. The report probably is the outgrowth of an editorial suggestion of the Manchester Guardian, that Viscount Bryce or Arthur J. Balfour, First Lord of the Admiralty, be sent on a mission to Washington with full powers to adjust the blockade controversy between the British and American Governments.

STEAMER ASHORE-CREW SUPPOSED LOST.

LONDON, To-day. A despatch to Lloyd's says the British steamer Belford, which sailed on January 27th from Barry for New York in ballast, is ashore off the North Coast of Islay, Scotland. All aboard are supposed to have been lost. The Belford had been drifting since January 26th, and her position was reported by the Belford, a vessel of 2,216 tons. She was built in 1901 and owned by the Spelding and Marshall Shipping Company, Sunderland.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN THE HUN TARGET.

LONDON, To-day. A British official issued last night on the attack on the Kent Coast by German aeroplanes on Wednesday follows: The first raider appeared to have selected for his target a tramway car full of women and children. The first bomb fell on a road close behind the car and exploded without damage. The driver pulled up immediately and the passengers alighted. There was no panic, although the raider could be plainly seen circling round at a great height. Three more bombs dropped in an adjoining field. A second raider made an attack on a large girls' school. One bomb fell through the roof and exploded in the upper story, doing some material damage. Portions of the ceiling fell into the room below, where a class of small children was being held. One little girl was slightly cut on the foot, and a maid slightly injured. Three other bombs fell in the school grounds where two exploded without damage. The third failed to explode. Two other bombs were dropped in outlying parts of the town, causing slight material damage. A woman received some cuts on the cheek. Within a few minutes of the sighting of the hostile aircraft naval and military aeroplanes went in pursuit, but were unable to overtake them owing to the precipitate nature of their flight.

U.S. WAR SECRETARIES RESIGN.

WASHINGTON, To-day. Garrison, Secretary of War, to-day tendered his resignation to President Wilson. It was accepted. The refusal of the President to insist upon the acceptance of a continental army plan, generally opposed in Congress, and Garrison's disapproval of the Philippine Independence Bill as it passed the Senate, is understood to be the cause.

WHAT CAUSES COLDS?

This question is asked every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but often due to disordered blood or lack of important food-elements. In changing seasons fat-foods are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the system better able to withstand the varying elements. This is the important reason why Scott's Emulsion should always be taken for colds, and it does more—builds strength to prevent sickness. Scott's Emulsion contains Nature's rare strength building fats, so skillfully blended that the blood profits from every drop. It is free from harmful drugs. Sold at drug stores—always get the genuine.

Scott & Bowen, Toronto, Ont. 15-3 have been responsible for his decision to quit the Cabinet. The resignation of Henry C. Brookbridge, Assistant Secretary of War, is also announced.

PLAYING UP TO THE UNITED STATES.

WASHINGTON, To-day. Germany and Austria, through their Embassies, have notified the United States of their intention to treat armed merchantmen as warships after March 1st. That date was fixed to give the Entente Allies time to signify their intention toward the recent note of the United States, proposing the disarmament of all merchantmen.

PARIS (Official), 3 p.m. 10th.

In Artois an artillery duel was kept up from Hill 119 up to the Neuville-Thelus Road. A grenade attack enabled us to dislodge the Germans from a few of our trenches previously held by them. The Germans, at nightfall, launched against our Neuville-La Folie positions a heavy attack which was repulsed, the enemy only succeeding in gaining a foothold in one of the excavations we had captured recently. South of the Somme during local actions, effected yesterday and the day before, we captured about 60 prisoners, two quick-firing and a revolver cannon.

Official Midnight 10th.—In Artois during the day we continued to progress by means of grenades in Royaux, west of La Folie. Two German attacks directed against our positions west of Hill 140 completely failed. North of Neuville-Thelus Road, the enemy exploded a mine but we occupied the excavation. South of the Somme some German infantry attempting to débouch, was driven back by our cross fire. In Reauvaignes district our artillery destroyed a blockhouse and shelled German communications. In Champagne, a destructive fire opened by our batteries in the direction of Meuzil Hill, scored good results in Mortmare Forest.

Voivre.—A fierce bombardment of our batteries blew up a German ammunition depot to-day. The Germans fired two large calibre shells in the direction of Belfort. Our artillery immediately concentrated their fire on a point where the German battery was located, and we also shelled the military establishment of Dornach, southwest of Mulhausen.

February 11.—Roumanian troops to-day fired upon Bulgarian patrol parties who were trying to cross the frontier.

NEW CAMPAIGN OF SUBMARINE FRIGHTFULNESS.

LONDON, To-day. Although the new German memorandum reached the London morning papers too late for extended editorial comment, the manner in which it is featured in all the newspapers indicates the sensation it is likely to cause in England and the Allied countries. The Mail declares that it undoubtedly is Germany's long threatened reprisal for the Baralong incident and it gives it a seven column headline, reading "New U-boat murder campaign to start March 1st." The Mail comments that Germany has warned neutrals not to travel in Allied liners after March 1st. This claim indicates that our vessels are to be attacked without warning and doubtless represents reprisals for the Baralong incident. The German memorandum whines about our arming liners, the thing the Germans did before the war, and it talks as if hitherto pirates had warned their victims. The Times comments on President Wilson's diplomatic victory is no sooner announced than Germany puts forward another plea to allow her submarines to continue their piracy. The memorandum is a complaint against the perfectly legitimate and long practised right of our merchantmen to carry guns for defence. Germany has thus raised again the whole question of submarine warfare as affecting neutrals. The Daily Chronicle calls it "Germany's sink everything policy," and the Daily News remarks in bold type across its front page, immediately following the settlement of her dispute with American on the Lusitania, "Germany has seized on pretext for resuming her policy of submarine frightfulness."

SEIZED BY GERMANS.

LONDON, To-day. A Stockholm despatch to the Daily Telegraph, says that the Swedish s.s. Friga, with coffee and pieces of goods for Gothenburg, has been seized by the Germans, and taken into Swinemunde.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE A TURKISH AMBASSADOR.

PETROGRAD, Feb. 10. A despatch from Teheran says that Assin Bey, Turkish Ambassador to Persia, has been captured by a patrol of Cossacks near Kerevdi. Three companions who were taken prisoners at the same time as the Ambassador, have proved to be the Austrian Military Attaché, and two Austrian prisoners of war who had escaped from the Russians some time ago.

ARTILLERY BATTLE ON BELGIAN FRONT.

AMSTERDAM, To-day. A despatch from Ghent says: On the Belgian front between Ypres and Armentières a violent artillery battle has been in progress ten days and the Germans are very busy strengthening their lines, but opinion prevails that they have postponed a large offensive movement until the weather is more favorable. Allied armies are developing unprecedented activity and constantly shelling camps, artillery parks and military buildings now in the hands of the Germans.

A COUNCIL OF DIPLOMATS.

LONDON, To-day. A closing of the bonds between Italy and other Allies is considered certain to result from the French Premier Briand's mission to Italy. According to the general tenor of comment in the morning newspapers immediate results are expected. There will be lesser military co-operation in the Balkans. Italy it is said will send troops to Saloniki with the object of showing that there no longer exists any difference of policy among the Allies on account of special national questions, and that all such questions will equally interest the Allies, all of whom will co-operate for their common cause. Another result, which newspapers say is to come, will be the establishment of a Diplomatic Council of the Governments of the Allies with a seat in Paris on the lines of a Military Council. This Diplomatic Council is to be composed of all Ambassadors of the Allies in Paris with Premier Briand as President. A third result of Briand's visit is expected to be the increased participation of Italy in the manufacture of munitions, as Italy has a large amount of labour available for this purpose.

TURKISH HEIR ASSASSINATED BY HIS SUITE.

London, February 3.—The report that the heir to the Turkish throne, Yussuf Izzet, committed suicide is received with general incredulity by the British press although the report has been accompanied by circumstantial details. Thus a despatch to Reuters from Constantinople via Amsterdam says "the prince took his life by opening a vein in his left arm at 7.30 o'clock in the morning. A formal statement declaring that the deceased had met his death by suicide, was signed by all the principal doctors of Constantinople. It says further that the prince was buried with the customary ceremonies on the following morning in the tomb of Sultan Ahmed at Stamboul."

Revolted Against Young Turks.

Paris, February 3.—Yussuf Izzet, whatever may be said, was assassinated by his suite, by order of the committee of union and progress said Cherif Pasha, who with Prince Saah Edin, directs the principal movement of the Turkish opposition, to a reported for the Matin.

"Latterly Yussuf had revolted against the dictatorship of the Young Turks. He became dangerous and he has been removed. His successor and cousin, Valid Edin, is even more hostile to the Young Turks than was Yussuf. I should not like to make a prediction regarding the length of his life," says Cherif Pasha in conclusion.

Train Notes.

Yesterday's No. 1 left Arnold's Cove at 1.30 this morning. An express left Port aux Basques at 11 a.m. to-day for St. John's, bringing passengers and mail. The Southern Shore train arrived at 11.45 bringing several passengers, including Messrs. McCarthy, Roberts and White. The local by way of Briggs Junction reached town at 12.40; only one or two passengers came along.

"Libre Belgique" Still Defies the Germans.

Paris Published in Brussels Prints News the Foe Would Hide, and Pokes Fun at Them in Meticulous Manner—Its Editor Not Discovered.

Paris, Jan. 31.—From Brussels the news leaks out that in spite of the thousands of German spies in the city, the "Libre Belgique" has succeeded in publishing a new issue.

The boldness and wonderful tenacity of the mysterious Belgian patriots who continue, in spite of everything, to publish their daring paper, form an amusing and amazing side to the war.

The Germans, as soon as they had entered Brussels, took possession of all the newspapers. Very soon afterward the "Libre Belgique" appeared. Who was the editor? Where was it printed? No one has ever been able to find out, but it has had and still has the courage to print all the things which the Germans want to remain unknown.

Until now it has appeared in about sixty issues, that is to say almost weekly, and it has published documentary proofs of the German misdeeds, has criticized German bulletins of victories, and has prophesied from the start the inevitable downfall of Germany.

In the most merciless manner it teases the conquerors, stimulates the Belgians, gives publicity to the thousands of little tricks which the irrepressible street urchins of Brussels play on the Germans, and flays the Kaiser, the Military Governor and the German Generals in every issue.

It is said that von Gissing himself still receives a special copy with exasperating regularity, and invariably the Governor finds it on top of all of the other papers on his desk.

The Governor first promised a prize of 25,000 francs ($5,000) to any person who would betray the names of the editors and publishers, and the prize was raised to 50,000 francs.

BELOW THE STANDARD.

How do you feel to-day? Not quite right? Emergency a little below standard—not strong enough to make much exertion? perhaps a slight cough?

Nyal's Cod Liver Compound is what you need. Don't get frightened about those words "Cod Liver." You'd never know it from the taste.

It's a real tonic containing cod liver extract, extract of malt, wild cherry and hypophosphites—a splendid combination.

The cod liver extract builds you up—so does the extract of malt. The wild cherry soothes the bronchial tract and the hypophosphites supply phosphorus to the nervous system—just the thing it needs.

And the taste is pleasant. As an all round tonic, strength restorer and body-builder, you'll find nothing better than Nyal's Cod Liver Compound—so why look further? You will be pleased.

The price is one dollar.

Marshall Bros

Her Husband's Friend.

By RUTH CAMERON.

Do you ever praise your husband's friends? You, in this case, means wives, of course, but as all women are potential if not actual wives, I hope no woman will lay this article aside merely because she isn't at present of the matrimonial estate.

As for the men, well, I know all husbands will prick up their ears when they read that question, and bachelors don't matter.

The great complaisance which the average American husband shows in permitting his wife to select the friends with whom they shall spend most of their leisure time, and in entertaining and associating with her family rather than his, is something I have remarked upon before. I think it exists partly because in this country I believe the opposite true (abroad) the ties between a woman and her family are stronger than those between a man and his, and also because the American business man is so absorbed in his business that he leaves the arranging of all social relationships to his wife.

And This is The Reward He Gets.

But one aspect of this matter I do not either like or understand, and that is the antagonism the average wife seems to feel for her husband's masculine bachelor friends. Surely his complaisance deserves some better return. And yet I know many otherwise kind, thoughtful, unselfish women who reward their husband's complaisance in entertaining and associating with their friends by resenting the rare occasions when he wants to entertain his old-time friends.

Some Are Open In Their Dislike.

Others, while pretending to have no objection to their husbands' friends, are always making deprecatory comments upon them; still others do not even admit the dislike to themselves, but cannot keep it entirely out of their manner. There is no real graciousness in their welcome of the bachelor friend; they cannot keep the atmosphere of constraint from being palpable, nor entirely conceal their relaxation and relief when he is gone.

It is a strange and unworthy kind of jealousy, this, resentment of theirs. I do not like it. And they could give so much pleasure by a little decency and graciousness, a little tolerance.

One Woman Had Her Eyes Opened.

A young married friend of mine told me the other day of an experience of hers which gave rise to my first question. She had always disliked her husband's favorite bachelor friend—a man of great worth, unfortunately obscured by a diffident manner. Wife-like, she had taken no pains to conceal this dislike. By a circumstance enforced proximity she had grown to know this man better, and one day said something in praise of him to her husband. She said her husband's delight at the words of appreciation was really touching. "It opened my eyes," she said, "and since then I've tried to see the good instead of the bad in my husband's bachelor friends, and to see what a good time I could give them whenever they came instead of how few I could make their visits.

I can tell you, virtue has been doubly its own reward both in my husband's pleasure and in what I get out of it myself."

I hope her experience may open some other woman's eyes, too.

Department Stores.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Sivas."

Department stores were invented in the country villages, each of which has its "general store," in which clothing, plows, butter, coffins, magazines and ice-cream are dispensed. But of late years they have been so greatly enlarged and improved by the great cities that the visitors from the rural districts do not know them and are greatly impressed by the novelty of the idea.

A department store is a mass meeting of various businesses under one roof, which makes it possible for one to buy fish, fiddles and fire extinguishers without hoisting an umbrella between each purchase. Department stores also sell goods very cheaply and never charge $3 for an article when they can mark it down to $2.96 and hold a great clearance sale. This policy has made these stores immensely popular and they have grown until some of them are as large as the Rock of Gibraltar and would undertake cheerfully to put in a full stock of these rocks in their basement notions departments if there was any call for them.

Department stores sell dry goods, jewelry, clothing, horse-blankets, cough syrup, canned soup, aeroplanes, false teeth, automobiles, cement walks, milch cows, motor boats, fancy vests, lightning rods, radium, artificial legs, piano players, celluloid ears, lingerie, tooth-brushes, elephant soap, diamond fairs, rat poison, family trees, tall trees and other articles too numerous to mention, but all set forth in large page advertisements which have made these stores the greatest patrons of literature in modern times. A medium-sized department store is a block square and twelve stories high, with restaurants, rest rooms, moving pictures, house physicians, guides, subway stations, chapels, hospitals, morgues and recreation parks on the roof. The greatest display of department stores in Chicago is on the east side of State Street, which is 12 stories high for half a mile and is never finished because there is always a grand opening sale at one end and a grand enlargement slaughter sale at the other.

Department stores are greatly beloved by women because of their bargain sales, which are held at special hours and form a charming substitute for a foot-ball, which is making athletes of American women. Men are not so partial to these stores, because of the great cruelties practiced on them by their wives. It is no uncommon thing to see an American man stand in the silk department of a department store for two hours with his arms full of bargains, waiting just a minute for his wife, who is trying on hats in the millinery department eight floors up and a half a block southeast.

King of Greece With the Enemy.

London, Jan. 29.—The Allies, who are practically preventing navigation of Greek shipping, and thus have stopped Austro-German submarine warfare in the Mediterranean, have secured convincing evidence to the effect that the Greek King has favored in every way possible way the operation of Austrian and German submarines which were based at Corfu, prior to the French occupation, and still are based at other Greek islands.

Submarines are also said to be based on the seaside of Constantine's villa in Athens, where gasoline is sequestered. All of this is part of the evidence in the Allies' hands, showing the Hellenic ruler's complicity with the Central Powers. Undoubtedly this evidence will be sensationally divulged at the opportune moment, and it is bound to have the climax in the Greek situation looked for in the immediate future.

The neutral diplomats who to-day forehanded an involuntary trip by King Constantine to France, added that he has reason to believe that the exile of the Montenegrin King and his family was not self-chosen, but had

Ugh! Acid Stomach, Sourness, Heartburn, Gas, Or Indigestion

The moment "Pape's Diapepsin" distress goes, reaches the stomach all

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, get this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

THE HAS-BEENS.

I read the papers every day, and oft encounter tales which show there's hope for every Jay who in life's battle fails. I've just been reading of a gent who joined the has-beens ranks, at fifty years without a cent, or credit at the banks. But undismayed he buckled down, refusing to be beat, and captured fortune and renown; he's now in Easy street. Men say that fellows down and out never leave the rocky track, but facts will show, beyond a doubt, that has-beens do come back. I know, for I who write this rhyme, when forty-odd years old, was down and out, without a dime, my whiskers full of mold. By black disaster I was trounced until I jarred my spine; I was a failure so pronounced I didn't need a sign. And after I had soaked my coat, I said (at forty-three), "I'll see if I can catch the goat that has escaped from me." I labored hard; I strained my dome, to do my daily grind, until in triumph I came home, my billy-goat behind. And any man who still has health may with the winners stack, and have a chance at fame and wealth—for has-beens do come back.

The Goat Outrage

CITY IMPOUNDER UP AGAIN

A solution to the problem of stealing the goats from Windsor Earle, of Battery Road, was found at last evening in the Central District Court when judgment was given against City Impounder Dessert (Duffett) and better known as goat-hauler.

The morning session of the court, which the Telegram referred to yesterday, adjourned at 1 p.m. and that time all the witnesses to plaintiff were examined by Higgs and Carter, counsel for plaintiff and defendant, respectively, and it was shown that Dessert's assistants visited Mrs. Earle's on the 22nd and 29th of December and took two goats the first and five the second.

Mrs. Earle swore that on the 22nd night she put up her goats in a window, badly frightened and looking down saw a man through a door at her. She and 3 children were in the house she dropped down a "white" and the burglars know she was hearing the retorts: "What's anything to-night?" "under weapon, Bill, and fire," etc. Other circumstances were stated at that juncture, at which Mrs. Earle, are too touching to detail. Constable Stamp gave testimony that he and his men, including Dessert, at Military Road with goats. The court asked Dessert why he was bringing them to the Sanitary and he replied that he was what to do with them. Witness D. Simms, witnesses for Dessert, admitted that they were on the first night. Hackett swore he was on the second occasion. All agreed that they were engaged to sort to help him, that the goats taken to a stable on Flower Street, slaughtered and that the portions of the goats for sale. The impounder offered a defence.

In summing up Mr. Hackett denied Dessert and suggested the strongest terms and proposed action should be taken against him for suggesting that the S. S. officers act for slaughtering and in the presence of others and that the Authorities take action.

The Goat Outrage.

CITY IMPOUNDER UP AGAINST IT.
A solution to the problem as to who stole the goats from Widow Mary Earle, of Battery Road, was arrived at last evening in the Central District Court when Judgment Dessert (alias Duffett) and better known as the goat-hauler.

The morning session of the Court, which the Telegram referred to yesterday, adjourned at 1 p.m. and up to that time all the witnesses for the plaintiff were examined by Messrs. Higgins and Carter, counsels for the plaintiff and defendant, respectively, and it was shown that Dessert and assistants visited Mrs. Earle's house on the 22nd and 29th of December last and took two goats the first time and five the second.

Mrs. Earle swore that on the second night she put up her bed-room window, badly frightened as she was, and looking down saw a man peeping through a door at her. Only herself and 3 children were in the house and she dropped down a "white end" to let the burglars know she was up, but on hearing the retorts: "We're out for anything to-night," "uncover that weapon, Bill, and fire," etc., she fainted. Other circumstances that happened at that juncture, as related by Mrs. Earle, are too touching to repeat. Constable Stamp and Doody gave testimony that they met three men, including Dessert, going up Military Road with goats. The officers asked Dessert why he was not bringing them to the Sanitary stables and he replied that he knew best what to do with them. W. Ring and D. Simms, witnesses for the defendant, admitted that they were with Dessert on the first night and J. Hackett swore he was with him on the second occasion. All three testified that they were engaged by Dessert to help him, that the goats were taken to a stable on Flower Hill and slaughtered and that they received portions of the goats for their trouble. The Impounder offered no defence.

In summing up Mr. Higgins condemned Dessert and associates in strongest terms and pointed out that action should and would likely be taken against him for burglary, also suggesting that the S. P. C. A. take action for slaughtering animals in the presence of others and that the Health Authorities take action for slaughtering without a license as well as for keeping a slaughter house within the city limits.

Mr. C. H. Hutchings, J. P., who presided, was equally strong in his criticisms of Dessert. He endorsed all that Mr. Higgins had said, intimating that the stealing of goats from the premises of a widow was not only dishonest, but outrageous and added that the City Council should move in the matter. As the present action was only a civil one, which he regretted, he could only assess damages and gave judgment for the plaintiff for $30 and costs.
A counter-action which had been taken by the Council for keeping goats within the city limits resulted in the Widow Earle being fined $2.

M. C. L. I.

The Institute held its usual weekly meeting last night, the attendance owing to weather conditions being the smallest for the season.

Subject for debate:—Resolved,—That the Average Young Man of Today has Greater Opportunities to Make Life a Financial Success than his Forefathers. Rev. H. Royle and Messrs. G. Rabbitts and W. Groushie supported the affirmative. Three main reasons for the increase of opportunities to make financial success were: 1st, rise of Democracy over old Feudal system; increase of wealth among general people instead of being held by the few; increase of manufactures and commercial pursuits and decline of farming and agriculture. These changes gave great opportunities for advancement among the average, and those of ability and perseverance had plenty scope for financial success. Better chance for investing money for good dividends and the fact that men of great wealth were spreading their money abroad in all kinds of industries, and commercial concerns make it possible as never before to succeed if one so desires. The great concerns and manufactures provide better chance for advancement than did the farms and fishing industries of earlier times.

Supporters of the negative were: Messrs. I. C. Morris and C. Woods. Strong reasons why advances for financial success were summed up as follows:—Increase of female help and cheaper labor owing to same; increase of monopolies and trusts; decrease of shipping numerically. While manufacturing and commercial industries had largely increased as compared with 50 years, still the increase in population was just as great and the taking on of female help where only men were employed before at cheaper wages made the chances to succeed considerably more difficult, only those of great ability and an unusual perseverance rising to what could be called financial success, which was not covered by merely making a living. Large steamers absorbing the freight trade thus cutting down small shipping and chances of vessel owners to make money. The same reason applying to trusts and monopolies.

A good many speakers took part in general discussion for pro and con. The negative side was upheld by small majority when vote was taken. Debate for next week:—Resolved,—That an Imperial System of Government, based on the Canadian System, would lead to a greater solidarity of the Empire.

Do not try to poach any but strictly fresh eggs.

AT THE CRESCENT.

The Crescent Picture Palace is showing a thrilling western feature to-day. "The Jest of Jealousy" is produced in two reels by the Selig Company and is a very exciting drama. "Capturing the Cook" is a Lubin comedy drama featuring Ethel Clayton and Joseph Kaufman. "The Oriental Ruby" is a mystery drama by the Biograph Company. One of the famous Jarr family comedy series is "Mr. Jarr Visits His Home Town," this is a great Vitagraph comedy with Rose Tapley and Paul Kelly. Mr. Dave Parks, the man with the voice, sings "To Lou" a special vaudeville feature. To-morrow the usual extra pictures will be shown at the big matinee. Send your children to the comfortable Crescent.

By special request, in addition to the regular number, Mr. Parks will sing: "My Sweet Adair" at the Crescent to-night.

AT THE NICKEL.

20,000 Germans Captured.
At the Nickel Theatre, to-day, will be shown another grand war picture, and the capture of 20,000 Germans as the result of the great French victory in Champagne. The Vitagraph artists appear in a three-part feature drama entitled "Miss Jekyll and Madame Hyde." This is a symbolic mystery drama featuring the well known actress Helen Gardner. "Fatty at the Seaside" is a rattling good comedy, and "Sally Castleton Southerner" is a beautiful war drama. To-morrow there will be the usual big matinee for the children, with extra pictures such as all will like. Send the little ones early, the doors open at 2 o'clock.

BRITISH THEATRE.

The British Theatre was well patronized last night, patrons being eager to see the fifth episode of the "Black Box." The next chapter of this intensely popular serial will be shown on Wednesday next. A most attractive programme is prepared for the week-end, which includes a stirring two-part drama entitled "The Doorway of Destruction." Francis Ford is the leading actor in this drama which aptly illustrates the pluck and heroism of the Irish soldier in battle. The battle scenes are set in India and are most thrilling and realistic. Ben Wilson and J. Warren Kerrigan, also famous stars, are seen in "The Clutch of the Emperor" and "A Bogus Bandit" respectively.

The comedy is by the sterling players and is entitled "The Butler's Busted Romance." On Saturday afternoon there will be a big continuous matinee including the "Black Box."

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderrine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.

The Recount.

Six more districts remain to be counted. Yesterday, Harbor Grace and Harbor Main were finished with these resulting figures:

Harbor Grace.	1,172
For Prohibition	182
Against Prohibition	40

Harbor Main.	333
For Prohibition	236
Against Prohibition	97

The H. M. Main recount is short one, there being but 619 votes. Thus far the net loss for prohibition is 15 votes. We erred slightly in our issue of yesterday as to the count of the Burin ballots. The recount tallied with the number of used and accepted ballots given in the report of the Returning Officer. The districts whose votes are yet to be counted are: Twillingate, Bonavista, Trinity, Brigus, Ferryland.

Your baby's career should be started by the nurse as follows: She washes out his eyes very gently with a piece of gauze dipped in a weak solution of boric acid. Then she rolls baby from head to foot with oil, rolls it up in a soft, warm blanket, lays it on its right side and then turns her attention to the mother.

Later she gives the baby its first sponge bath of warm water and pure soap. After the bath she washes out the mouth with gauze and a weak solution of boric acid and throws this piece of gauze away. With a second piece of gauze and more of the acid solution she then gives baby's eyes a second washing, dresses him, feeds him and tucks him away for his first sleep in perfect cleanliness and comfort.

CAPTURE IN NETS OF GERMAN SUBMARINES.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. Dr. Inglis, a Canadian Army surgeon, who arrived to-day on the liner Cameronia from Liverpool, declared that he had knowledge of the capture in British nets of seventeen German submarines. He was told by the crew of one had been shot or had been towed ashore. In regard to the other sixteen, he said he had been allowed to descend into this submarine, and had the bodies. To save them from suffocating, he said the commander had shot all his men, and himself. Apparently, Inglis and the British are now making use of glass bottom boats with more or less success, as scouting submarines, conjunction with the hydroplane. The glass used, he said, gave a view of the water to the depth of 50 or 60 feet.

SAILED FOR LIVERPOOL.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. The White Star liner Baltic sailed for Liverpool to-day with 223 members of the crews and forty officers of the six British ships captured by the German commerce raider, which brought the Appam into Appam and other officers of that ship remained behind awaiting the outcome of negotiations in the matter of the demand of the release of the vessel.

THE DRAKE-RONE STORY.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. The officers and passengers of the liner Evangelina, which arrived to-day from Bermuda, said that nothing was known in the island at the time they left of the reported capture of the German raider Rone by the British cruiser Drake. They said there were two British cruisers in the harbor of Hamilton when they sailed, but according to war practice their names were painted out, and they did not know their identity.

LIVER SHELL ARRIVES AT PLYMOUTH.

PLYMOUTH, Feb. 10. The steamer Silver Shell, from New York, which was in collision off Cape Cod with the Japanese steamer Asa Maru, on Feb. 1, arrived to-day with the crew of the Asa Maru on board. The Silver Shell's starboard was damaged. One of the plates had been pierced above water line, and her stern twisted port above and below the water line.

ST. PIERRE BULLETIN.

PARIS, Feb. 10. In Belgium, our heavy artillery continues to bombard Varban fort. Het Sas trenches. In Artois, the fighting is rather sharp until about 11 a.m. The German trenches, southwest of Hill 140, were shelled by our heavy artillery. An infantry attack against the positions. It was repulsed. Grenade fighting continues between Bois de Rheims. The German heavy artillery continues to bombard the enemy to evacuate a small post, southeast of St. Mihiel. Our batteries considerably damaged the German positions.

DEARBORN'S National Cream of Tartar Compound

MADE IN CANADA
Conforms to all the Government's Pure Food Laws, is PURER than Cream of Tartar, contains no LIME, SULPHATE OR FREE ACID; is slower in acting, does not release gas from Soda until actually in the oven, which is an advantage over Cream of Tartar, which starts to release the gas as soon as the dough is mixed.

Perfect Satisfaction Guaranteed.
RETAIL PRICES.

"Mesopotamia."

Mr. W. H. Jones of the Seaman's Institute, lectured at Canon Wood Hall last night to the members of St. Thomas's Weekly Bible Class, as his subject "Mesopotamia," which is at the present time attracting the attention of all. Despite the stormy night quite a large gathering of men were present, and were indeed well rewarded for venturing out. Owing to the absence of the Rector, Rev. Dr. Jones, who is confined to his room suffering from LaGrippe, Rev. Mr. Crickmore acted as chairman and introduced the lecturer. For upwards of an hour the lecturer took his audience all through Mesopotamia and surrounding countries and dealt very handsomely with its every aspect. The lecture was very educative and interesting, and those who had the pleasure of hearing it came away with a very greater knowledge of that interesting country than they ever had before. It is hoped before very long to have another such address from the learned lecturer. At the close of the lecture, Mr. Jones, Mr. Findlater and seconded by Mr. H. Cook, was tendered Mr. Jones by acclamation.

Farewell to Fr. O'Flaherty.

On Sunday January 29th, the members of the Altar Society of St. Joseph's, assembled in the Sacristy of the Parish Church, to offer their farewell greeting to their spiritual director and dearly loved priest, Father O'Flaherty. After the reading of the funeral address and the presentation of the accompanying gift, the Rev. Pastor spoke with a feeling, as to touch all present with his fatherly words of advice. He exhorted the members to continue their good work, and he hoped they would give to his successor, Father Rawlins, their cooperation and assistance in keeping beautiful God's Altar.

ADDRESS
To Rev. Wm. O'Flaherty, P. P., St. Ann's.
Rev. and Dear Father—
We, the members of the Altar Society, assembled on this occasion to convey to you our expressions of deepest affection and profound regret, over your departure from our midst. We know that your severance from this parish was not of your own request, but rather in obedience as a good priest to the commands of our Beloved Archbishop.
Your care and best efforts dear and rev. Father have always been for the spiritual and temporal welfare of your people. Your own sincere devotion and manifest piety which set for us such a good example, and have given to us and our families a greater incentive to our holier duties, have gained for you, dear Father, the highest tribute a priest can receive.
We would be more than ungrateful if we allowed this present, and to us most sorrowful occasion, to pass without bringing to you our hearts deepest affection for your devotion to our interests, both spiritual and temporal, and for the kindness and generosity which you have always shown to us. The beautiful altars and statues with many other little adornments with which you have beautified the Sanctuary, will always bring to our hearts, a fervent prayer for dear Father O'Flaherty, and we earnestly beg from you, dear Father, a continued remembrance when offering up the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, for the souls of our dear departed, and do not measure it by value, for hearts are richer than the purposes. Rather receive it as an expression of our goodwill and with it accept our ardent prayers and heartfelt good wishes for many long and happy years of health and success in the doing of God's work for which you are so nobly fitted.
Signed on behalf of the Society,
BRIDGET GOUGH, Pres.
ANASTASIA DALY, Sec.
St. Joseph's, Jan. 23rd, 1916.

How to Grow Hair.

The French are now placing on the market a preparation containing extract from Henna leaves, which is having a phenomenal sale. This preparation is called Salvia and is being sold with a guarantee to cure dandruff and to grow hair in abundance. Being daintily perfumed, Salvia makes a most pleasant dressing. Sold by your druggist. A large generous bottle for 50 cents.

THE EGYPTIAN CAMPAIGN.

A Geneva correspondent says that the Turkish expedition against Egypt appears to have been postponed, pending the completion of the railroad which is being constructed to the Egyptian frontier. Two train loads of munitions are arriving daily at Constantinople from Germany.

GERMAN GOVERNMENT WILL ISSUE MEMORANDUM.

BERLIN, Feb. 10. The German Government is about to issue a memorandum to neutral governments announcing that hereafter armed merchantmen belonging to countries at war with Germany will be considered and treated as warships. The Government contends that this measure is justified by explicit instructions by the British Admiralty to the merchantmen, which are said to be the object of the German authorities. These instructions, it is understood here, were that merchantmen should carry guns to attack submarines on sight. The German memorandum was communicated to American newspaper correspond-

Look at a Child's Tongue When Cross, Feverish and Sick

Take no chances! Move poisons from liver and bowels at once.
Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.
When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicate "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.
Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

B. I. S. Meet.

The Benevolent Irish Society held its 110th preliminary annual meeting last evening. Their President, the Hon. D. Ryan, presided and son, a considerable business was transacted. The reports of the various committees were read and showed the Society to be in excellent standing. The report of the Chairman of Schools, Mr. Jas. P. Crotty, was particularly pleasing, and assured of good work which the B.I.S. is doing in the cause of education. The result of the nomination of officers for the ensuing year gives the old board a clean election, no seat being contested. The officers are:

- President, Hon. J. D. Ryan.
- Vice-President, J. L. Slattery.
- 1st Asst. V.P., J. C. Pippy.
- 2nd Asst. V.P., P. Moore.
- Treasurer, J. Campbell.
- Secretary, T. P. Halley.
- Chairman of Schools, J. P. Crotty.
- Chairman of Charity, J. Maloney.
- Chairman Review and Correspondence, W. B. Comerford.
- Secretary of Schools, A. Doyle.

Investigation Concluded.

Berno, via Paris, Feb. 4.—The investigation into the charges that Colonel Karl Egli and Col. Maurice De Wintery officers of the General Staff, communicated to Germany information regarding French frontier positions has been concluded. Col. DeWintery, who made the investigation, recommends that the officers be sent to trial before the Military Court of the Fifth Division.

SAVE EVERY DOLLAR POSSIBLE!

England has just launched a campaign to encourage economy. This surely is a time when thrift should be our watchword. Instead of buying new garments, have the old ones French Dry Cleaned. You can easily cut down your dress bill about 35 p.c. Ask Messrs. NICHOLLE, INKPEN & CHAFE, our St. John's Agents, for further particulars.
