REMORSE and REPENTANCE.
OR
For Daisie's Sake

CHAPTER XVIII.
"BE KIND TO ME."

"Of course," continued her tormenter, "my duty is plain. I should denounce Royall's cowardly murder to the law, and let him suffer for his crime. But that would not restore my poor cousin to life."

"No," faltered Daisie, almost appealingly, in her horror of the woman's trying to fasten such a crime on Dallas, for she felt in her heart he was innocent.

"But my first thought is to soothe my cousin's dying hours. The doctor has told me that he may die tonight or to-morrow, or longer for days in misery. There is even one single chance of his recovery—the chance of a strong constitution triumphing over his terrible wound. You see, I am quite frank with you, Daisie."

"Yes, and I see you have some faint hope of your cousin's recovery. I hope, indeed, that he may live."

"You need not wish that, Daisie. He would rather die than live without your love."

There was a brief silence. The midnight hour was very still. They could hear the tide booming in upon the shore, the solemn, mysterious voice of the sea. "Too poor" Daisie it seemed to murmur of despair.

"Do you see what I am trying to get at, Daisie? Do you understand me? In my regret for the terrible mistake I made in uniting your fate to Royall's, in my sorrow for my poor boy, and my wish to secure his happiness, I am willing to make a bargain with you—the strangest bargain ever made—to shield a cruel murderer for the sake of his victim. Grant me this boon, Daisie. Be true to Royall for the brief span of his life—whether long or short—give him the obedience of a wife, and I, on my part, will keep your lover's terrible secret, and let him go free, his only punishment his accusing conscience."

Again silence, and Daisie felt as if the last fold of the serpent were wound around her, crushing her to death.

She cried desperately:
"Dallas did not do it—never, never!"

Youth and Age

THERE is no time in woman's life that she cannot benefit by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in order to keep up the supply of pure, rich blood and to ensure a healthful condition of the nervous system.

Headaches, neuralgia, sleeplessness, nervous spells, irritability, tired, worn-out feelings, soon disappear when the vigor and energy of the nerves are restored by the use of this great food cure.

"I saw him with my own eyes," Mrs. Fleming returned, with cold malice, and waited for the answer.

Meanwhile, Daisie asked herself, in anguish, if she could bind herself by such a terrible promise—to give up her lover, whom she believed innocent; her lover, whom she loved with the passion of her life—and bind herself to Royall Sherwood for the time that he should live.

"And who knows but that he may recover? This woman may be deceiving me to gain her point," whispered her heart; and she remained silent so long that Mrs. Fleming exclaimed impatiently:
"Well, what do you say? What will you do?"

Daisie's beautiful violet eyes, now dark with emotion, brimmed with tears as she cried piteously:
"Oh, give me a little time to decide—until to-morrow!"

"You wish to warn Dallas Bain that his crime is known, that he may escape!" sharply.

"No—no, for he is innocent, and if accused can no doubt prove it!" the girl cried proudly.

"How? By an alibi? How long had he left you when you were called home?" demanded the widow suspiciously, fearing the failure of her scheme.

But Daisie's answer set her fears at rest.

"No, I could not prove an alibi for Dallas, because he left me at my door as soon as he had taken me home; but of course he went straight to his hotel, and can no doubt prove where he was at the time you thought you saw him here. Oh, believe me, you have made a terrible mistake in imputing this deed to him. Why should he wish to kill your cousin to set me free, when he knew that the law would break my fetters so easily?" pleaded Daisie wildly.

"It was jealous malice. He feared that Royall might persuade you to remain his wife."

"Ah, no; for Dallas knew my love too well," began Daisie; but they were interrupted by a tap on the door to summon them to Royall, who had awakened.

Mrs. Fleming whispered pleadingly:
"Oh, Daisie, be kind to my poor cousin. Tell him you will stay with him as long as he lives."

"I will be kind to him, yes; how could I be harsh with him now? But I will make no rash promises," the young girl returned, with sudden spirit.

"At least, promise not to hold any communication with Mr. Bain until to-morrow."

"I can make no promise," Daisie reiterated, so resolutely that the arch schemer had to give up her point, and proceeded in sullen silence to the presence of the dying man.

He was awake and conscious, his eyes turning to the door with a look of yearning.

Daisie's tender heart was touched with pity as she gazed on the pallid, pain-drawn face, and she softly touched his hand while she whispered:
"I am so sorry!"

Then she saw that they had all gone out into the hall, except the widow, leaving them alone with the sufferer. She felt herself pushed gently into a chair by Mrs. Fleming, who whispered:
"I pray you be kind to him."

"Be kind to me," echoed Royall faintly, as his cousin withdrew to the window, and his sunken blue eyes searched her face wistfully for some sign of tenderness.

It was a cruel position for any girl to be placed in. Daisie felt its pathos in the depths of her tender heart, that ached for the dying man, who had given her his love in vain.

She whispered again, with a broken sob:
"Oh, I am so sorry for you!"

A faint, tremulous smile illumined his features, and he groped for her hand.

She let him have it, and he pressed it feebly, whispering:
"You are not angry now?"

"No," she answered solemnly, out of the depths of her pity. "Do we not forgive everything to the dying?"

And surely he looked like a dying man, under the light of a flickering lamp.

"Bless you!" he murmured, in that faint voice, and added: "You will stay with me to the end?"

It was the same petition Mrs. Fleming had offered, and she started and trembled with the same alarm.

"The end! What would it be?"

The widow had frankly hinted that he had a slight chance for continued life.

And if they extorted from her this ambiguous promise to stay till the end, and he lived, what then? Would they hold her to this promise?

She knew in her heart that he would do it; that he would hold her forever against her beloved. So she dare not promise.

A nervous tremor shook her form, and she faltered:
"I will stay till to-morrow."

His eyes searched hers with wistful reproach.

"But, dear one, I may not die to-morrow. The physician says I may go out like the flame of a candle tonight, or I may linger on for days. Can you deny me the comfort of your presence till the last hour? Can you be so cruel, when I have loved you so?"

His strained voice broke in a gasp, and he lay looking at her pitifully, love and sorrow in his anguished eyes. It pierced her heart with pity, but she dared not yield, for fear of the uncertain future.

Yet she had a tender heart, and it ached with sympathy, though she had to steel herself for his prayer.

"Cruel, cruel!" he sighed reproachfully, and she shrank as if a blow.

"How can you be so hard and unfeeling?" demanded his cousin, approaching. "Do you not see how you excite him by your refusals? And it is so little that he asks—simply to stay with him till the last hour, that may come sooner than any one expects. See how humbly he sues, when, as your husband, he has a right to command your obedience."

"I do not acknowledge that claim!" Daisie cried, with a flashing eye.

"Nor do I urge it," Royall Sherwood faltered quickly. "I waive all rights, if I have any, and ask your stay for sweet pity's sake."

That humility touched her heart as no arrogant demands could have done, and it made it all the harder for her to withstand their appeals.

But, bracing herself for a supreme effort, she reiterated:
"I—I really cannot stay any longer than to-morrow. I am compelled to return to New York to my work. I—I have written that I am coming."

"That makes no difference," began Mrs. Fleming, but paused in consternation as a slight young figure dashed across the floor to Daisie, and a tremulous voice cried excitedly:
"Cruel, hard-hearted girl! You shall not refuse his prayer! Will you let a man die of heartbreak when your kindness would save his life?"

CHAPTER XIX.
—STRANGE EMOTION.

It was the little, dark-eyed beauty, Annette Janowitz, who had been listening by the door for some minutes, and now, unable to restrain her excitement, rushed to Daisie's side with a passionate protest:

"Would you let a man die of heartbreak when your kindness would save his life?"

Annette was terribly excited. Her slight frame trembled with emotion, and her large black eyes gleamed like stars out of her pale face, wasted and worn from recent illness. Her expression was one of the keenest anguish.

Daisie looked up in wonder at her little friend, faltering:
"Oh, Annette, how came you here at this midnight hour? Who told you what had happened?"

The words produced a terrible effect on the little brunette.

She gasped for breath, and turned as ashen pale as the dying man on the bed, seeming as if about to sink to the floor, until Mrs. Fleming hurriedly forced her into a chair.

Produce and Provisions.

(From Saturday's Trade Review.)

Codfish.—Very little taken at St. John's this week owing to uncertainty about price and feeling against strict cull which brings the average price down to about $5.50 a quintal. Holders are looking for better prices later and relaxation in severity of the cull. The total shipments from Newfoundland this week amounted to 25,865 quintals, 14,975 qtls. from St. John's and 11,590 from outports. From this port the Nina Lee took 2,700 quintals for Seville, Madeline Constance 7,045 qtls. for Barbadoes, and the s.s. Rosalind 3,330 qtls. to New York. The Eva A. Moulton took 5,702 qtls. from Burgeo, the Josie and Phoebe sailed from Rencontre for Oporto with about 3,000 qtls. and the Ethel Carvell 4,180 qtls. from Ramea for Oporto for Penney & Sons.

Cod Liver Oil.—The competition with Norwegian Oil in the foreign markets is still very keen and the price continues to decline. With Norwegian Medicinal Oil at its present value it is impossible to pay more than $1.90 per gallon for ordinary Refined Oil, and we fear that but little Oil could be sold at even this figure. (Extract from local circular.)

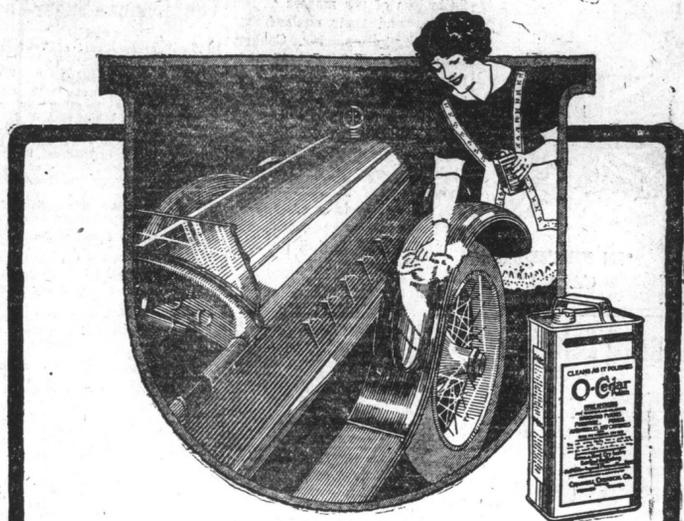

Cod Oil.—Supplies have been coming forward more freely. If the present conditions prevailing in the foreign markets continue then prices will have to go still lower. The fall in the value of the pound sterling has made it impossible to sell to the United Kingdom and unless there is a decided improvement in sterling exchange we do not expect to see much New Oil go there. British Cod Oil is quoted in Great Britain at less than equivalent of $1.50. For Nfd. Oil, we would not advise anyone to expect to get over $200 per ton delivered in St. John's.

Lobsters.—By the s.s. Rosalind 100 cases were shipped to New York this week. The total catch is about 10,500 cases and to date one-third of it has been shipped. Dealers here have their urgent orders filled and will not stock up at $25.00. "The outlook," said one leading exporter to the Trade Review yesterday, "will not justify us in giving more than $20.00 per case and if we do not think it is possible to get more than that price to-day in St. John's."

Beef.—Prices quoted last week are unchanged and there are no new developments in the situation; the local wholesale price holds at $35.00 to $38.00 per barrel for leading brands, and $29.00 to $34.00 for other qualities. There is a Plate Beef even selling as low as $22.00 per barrel wholesale. The recent shipment of large quantities of beef from Argentina to Germany, will, it is thought, have a stiffening effect on the American beef market as it will be so much removed from the competition on this side of the Atlantic. The advance of 70 cents a barrel on freight rates on the 26th inst. will also add to the cost of future importations.

Pork.—Advices received from American sources during the week indicate a steady and quiet market. Prices show no change in the local market since last issue. Packers report that the demand takes off the market from day to day enough of pork products to maintain the strength of the situation. The demand, however, is not encroaching on the supply to such an extent as would lead to any hope of a marked receding of stocks. There is a supply of 11 million pounds over last year's supply but the shortage in other meats about equalizes the situation and sustains the prices. St. John's prices for Ham $40.00 for Ham Butt, Short Mess and Family, three qualities $42.00 to $44.00 wholesale.

Flour.—There are so far no actual prices quoted by the large Manitoba Mills although some parties have wired from Winnipeg predicting a decline of $1.50 per barrel. We expect to see cheaper flour in October, but the reduction may not be as great as some optimists expect. Stocks held in the city now are small and there will likely be a run for choice brands in a few weeks, when dry fish buyers

PICTURE your car as you first saw it, with dazzling radiance—that's how it will look when cleaned and polished the O-Cedar way.

First remove mud and grease, by washing with water. Then wet a piece of cheese-cloth—squeez out surplus water, pour on as much O-Cedar as the cloth contains water. Thus a soft lather is formed.

Finally, a little rubbing with a dry cloth produces a hard, dry brilliance that will last. What little dust may settle on it, can easily be removed with an O-Cedar Duster.

 BELFAST, Sept. 5. Tormoran coastguard station, near Waterford, was blown up yesterday by a party of armed and masked men. Before destroying the station the raiders disarmed two men in charge.

RABBIS' TRIBUTE TO BRITAIN.
 MONTREAL, Sept. 5. "Available is that teacher in Jewish life who serves in any pulpit under the British flag," said Rev. S. S. Wise, rabbi of the Free Synagogue, New York, in an address here last night. "The British flag has been the loved symbol of the Jewish people for centuries."

DEADLOCK IN TRANSIT STRIKE.
 NEW YORK, Sept. 5. With the Brooklyn rapid transit officials declaring that eight hundred men had resumed work, the strike leaders insisting that the ranks of strikers were intact, the deadlock continues to-day in New York's big street railway strike.

REGAINING COMMERCIAL SUPREMACY.
 LONDON, Sept. 5. Great Britain is well on the way to regain the commercial position she held before the war, according to the official monthly survey, issued by the American Chamber of Commerce, held here. The opinion is based on the July returns of the Board of Trade, which shows Britain's adverse trade balance of eight million pounds, as compared with thirty-four million pounds for June.

PLAGUE AT SCUTARI.
 CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 5. Four cases of plague have been discovered in Turkish Government barracks at Scutari, across the Bosphorus from the city. The Allied Sanitary Commission has forbidden landing at Scutari.

GERMANS MAKING DELIVERY.
 PARIS, Sept. 5. The French Government announces that the Germans have delivered one million six hundred thousand tons of coal during August, under the provisions of the Spa agreement. They

LABOUR TROUBLES IN ITALY.
 PARIS, Sept. 5. Dealing with the situation created by the seizure of factories by metal workers in several Italian cities, Havas Agency despatch from Rome to-day says: "The Government, although conscious of the seriousness of the situation, is continuing to refrain from regarding the present demonstration too gravely, retaining confidence in the good sense of the workers and the conciliatory spirit of the employers." In Milan the police drove off a party of workers which was attempting to seize control of a factory. Employers and workers at Viareggio have reached an agreement and work will be resumed immediately.

AQUITANIA'S QUICK PASSAGE.
 CHERBOURG, Sept. 5. The Aquitania arrived here five days, seventeen hours and twenty-seven minutes out from New York, one hour and twenty-seven minutes short of the record for the western trip made by the Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse in January, 1900.

FELIX DIAZ NOW.
 MEXICO CITY, Sept. 5. Revolutionary activities of followers of Felix Diaz, nephew of the former President Diaz, have begun in the state of Vera Cruz, according to press despatches reaching here.

FIRE IN OTTAWA.
 OTTAWA, Sept. 5. A fire which broke out early this morning, destroyed Gladstone Ave. Rink and the Producers Dairy Ltd. stables, bounded by Gladstone Ave., Percy St., Bay St. and Florence Street, a smoking ruin to-day and fourteen families are temporarily homeless. The total damage will amount to about $150,000, of which somewhat over half the amount is covered by insurance.

SERIOUS STREET CAR ACCIDENT.
 FAIRMONT, W. Va., Sept. 5. Six persons were killed, an equal number probably fatally injured, and many others more or less seriously hurt in a street car accident here to-day.

PREMIER REPLIES TO MAYOR.
 LUCERNE, Sept. 5. Premier Lloyd George has replied in the negative to a message of Mayor Hyman of New York urging the Premier to release Mayor MacSweeney of Cork from prison. The Premier in his reply, despatched yesterday stated politely but firmly, that he could not interfere with the course of justice and law.

PREMIER LEAVES LUCERNE.
 LUCERNE, Sept. 5. The visit of Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain to Lucerne ended to-day. Accompanied by his wife and twenty-four persons the Premier left on a special train at ten o'clock this morning for Zermatt.

MACSWEENEY'S CONDITION.
 LONDON, Sept. 5. Terence MacSweeney, Mayor of Cork, entered the twenty-fourth day of his hunger strike in Brixton prison to-day after a fairly restful night. His brother, Sean MacSweeney, remained at his bedside all night. To-night the Mayor's condition was unchanged. He was a trifle brighter towards noon, but his wife, who spent the afternoon with him, reported this evening he was again in pain and suffering from depression.

OTHER HUNGER-STRIKERS.
 BELFAST, Sept. 5. Eleven hunger strikers in Cork jail this afternoon entered the twenty-sixth day of their abstinence from food, having subsisted only on water for this entire period. The condition of one of the prisoners, Michael O'Keilly, is critical, and he is unable to speak to visitors. The period these men have gone without food is a record for Irish political prisoners. The longest previous hunger strike occurred in Wormwood Scrubs prison in England last April and lasted twenty-three days.

LITHUANIANS ATTACK POLES.
 WARSAW, Sept. 5. An attack on Polish forces by Lithuanians with machine guns and artillery in the region of Sejmy, thirty miles northwest of Grodno, is announced in Polish reports from the northern front. Reports declare the attack was unprovoked and that the Lithuanians had received orders to occupy Augustown. It is also announced that negotiations regarding the frontier in future relations of Poland and Lithuania have been broken off, and that Polish delegates are returning to Warsaw. It is understood the Lithuanian government places responsibility for hostilities on the Poles, asserting that the Lithuanians were compelled to defend themselves. The Poles on the other hand, claim that the Lithuanians opened fire first.

Sugar.—No change in the situation this week. There is a nervous feeling amongst the holders of high priced regulated sugar, and an idea gaining ground that public indignation at being obliged to pay 10 cents a pound for sugar more than they should, may lead to some practical and definite action with a view to getting cheaper sugar. It is said that sugar can be landed here to-day for 19 1/2 cents if the barrier of the Food Control Board was removed. Messrs. Harvey & Co., in their last circular repudiated any connection with the high priced sugar and said that the Board acted against their wishes and against their advice. Messrs. Geo. Knowling, Ltd., have advertised sugar at 23 cents per pound.

Molasses.—The Madeline Constance arrived this week from Barbados with 300 puncheons, 40 barrels and 100 half barrels of molasses. The price is unchanged, viz., $1.80 per gallon for Fancy and $1.65 to $1.70 for choice, wholesale, thence three cents and barrels five cents over these prices. The imports to St. John's is now about 6,500 puncheons as against 3,164 this time last year. We understand that there are two or three cargoes yet to come.

Potatoes.—New local potatoes were sold this week as low as $7.00 per barrel, just half the price of a month ago. They will be lower still as the fall advances. The crop is an abundant one both in Newfoundland and Canada and that we shall see much lower prices is best indicated by the fact that potatoes are selling this week in Montreal at $3.80 a barrel. The St. John's retail price is down as low as 20 cents in some stores and at the doors from farmers.

Dried Fruits.—The opening prices for California Raisins are so high that local buyers are refusing to handle them. Quotations for new fruit Spanish Raisins are named this week, and are also higher than last Coaker's Communism.

The Advocate represents some earlier remarks of ours, about the proposed "State" Bank as "a reprehensible scrawl," and lauds the Honourable Mr. Coaker for the sincerity of his motives. He "offers no apology for his conduct," we are told, "and sincerity is his impelling motive." It seems to be considered necessary by the Advocate to dish up this nauseating stuff to the public about three times each week, either to flatter the subject thereof or to delude his followers. It really is not of vital importance whether Mr. Coaker is sincere or otherwise, for a sincere crank can do just as much harm as an insincere agitator. The vital question in this connection is—would a State Bank be beneficial or otherwise?

The opponents to the policy being pursued in fishery matters by Mr. Coaker are represented by the Advocate as supporters of "lethargy and inaction," and the Telegram is asked to discover their motives. The motives for such a policy would be of as little vital importance as those of Mr. Coaker, for if such a policy were proposed, the vital question again would be—is it likely to be beneficial or otherwise? But nobody proposes lethargy or inaction. The exporters merely demand freedom, and Mr. Coaker exercises autocracy; they wish to act in their own way, while he desires to compel them to act in his; they seek to follow the usual methods of their trade and business, and he seeks to impose his crude theories upon them.

In Russia the same thing is taking place to-day. Communist theories of trade are being forced upon the people by Lenin and Trotsky through Soviets: capital is destroyed; men of substance are expropriated; and all power is centralized in the hands of dictators to the infinite loss of the masses of the people, and their enslavement and subjugation. Mr. Coaker, with the assistance of his pawns, is undermining the trade and prosperity of this Colony, and there is as little freedom for capital, capitalists and individual energy in Newfoundland to-day as in Russia. Why should the ancient liberty of action of our people be subordinated to the whims and phantasies of a self-constructed dictator?

Fatal No. 2.

Under the dust cloud of the cry of "better cure" for the foreign markets, the fishermen of Newfoundland, to use a vulgarism, are going to "get it in the neck" this fall. They will get it between No. 1 and No. 2. A thing is done so insidiously that they will never know what struck 'em till it is all over and they have their receipt. They must grin and bear it because it is all in the interest of better cure. There will be more men sent into hungry houses the coming winter by the hope of "better cure" than were ruined the time of the Bank Crash. It is evidence that a man can be starved to "better cure."

C. of E. Flower Service Held Yesterday.

A large congregation attended the annual flower service in the C. of E. cemetery yesterday afternoon. The service was taken by Rev. Canon Jeeves and A. B. Stirling. His Lordship Bishop White delivered a practical address on the hope of resurrection, the entertaining of a cheerful view of death and the duty of keeping the resting place of the dead in fitting condition. Among the clergy present were Revs. Canon Smith, Bolt, Field, Facey, J. Brinton and (Capt.) Clayton and the rectors of the city parishes. St. Thomas's choir led the singing, which was very effective and inspiring. The children of the different Sunday Schools, with many others of the congregation, placed beautiful floral tributes on the graves of departed relatives and friends. A collection, amounting to a large sum, was taken in aid of the cemetery funds.

Congregational Church Service.

At the Congregational Church last evening, the Rev. Dr. Fedley preached his closing sermon. The church was filled; he service was bright and the sermon inspiring. Miss Marguerite Mitchell's rendering of the solo "Pater Noster," was of exceptional beauty. Dr. Fedley's subject was the Trumpet's Call, and its clarion notes will resound long after he has left our shores. He pictured mankind to-day as in the Slough of Despond. There were two goals, as in Bunyan's day, the City of Destruction and the Celestial City. The decision must be made. His remarks were timely; they were the words of a thinker, a student and an optimist. The proceedings at the Lambert Conference he referred to with intense joy. The unity of Christ's Church, he believed, to be no longer a pleasant dream, but a probability. His appeal for co-operation, and for union in aim and effort fell on sympathetic ears. The address was delivered without manuscript or notes and its publication would be appreciated by members of all churches, and no abbreviated report could do justice to it. Dr. and Mrs. Fedley return to-morrow to their home in Montreal. The Rev. Mr. Johnson, of Berwick, N.S., will occupy the pulpit for the next two months.

Fifty-six Years Ago.

Monday morning, Sept. 6th, 1864. Thos. Kenna, of Carboneau, and John Murphy, of Bay-de-Verde District, were drowned whilst fishing at Cannon Rock near Battle Harbor. Old timers will remember this date as being one of the heaviest storms on the Labrador coast.

The Hickman Sugar Case

In the Supreme Court of Newfoundland.

(Crown Side.) Application was made to the Chief Justice Saturday morning by Mr. Morine, K.C., on behalf of A. E. Hickman & Co., Ltd., for a Mandamus to compel the issue of a warrant by the Acting Collector of Customs, for unloading two hundred barrels of sugar, which arrived by the s.s. Rosalind on Thursday.

In making the application, Mr. Morine read the following Affidavit:

I, Calvert C. Pratt, of St. John's, Merchant, make oath and say as follows: 1. I am a Director of A. E. Hickman & Co., Ltd., General Importers, doing business at St. John's in the Island of Newfoundland. 2. The said A. E. Hickman & Co., Ltd., caused a shipment of two hundred (200) barrels of Sugar to be sent to the port of St. John's from New York by the s.s. Rosalind, which steamer arrived at St. John's on the 2nd day of September inst., with the said Sugar on board.

Prior to the arrival of the said steamer as aforesaid, the said Company caused an application to be made to the Food Control Board for a permit to import the said Sugar into this Colony, and in reply to said application received the following:—

Nfld. Food Control Board, St. John's, Aug. 28, 19. Messrs. A. E. Hickman & Co., Ltd., City.

Dear Sirs.—In reply to your favor of even date, we beg to say that as the Food Board has taken over the Sugar business and have sufficient supplies, we are sorry that we cannot permit you to import sugar just now.

Enclosed please find copy of the Sugar Regulations.

Yours truly, Nfld. Food Control Board, (Sgd.) per C. Stone.

On the afternoon of the 2nd inst. the said Company caused proper Entries to be delivered to the Acting Collector of the Customs Department in St. John's. Mr. W. R. Stirling, and referred to the proper amount of Custom duty payable thereon, and the said W. R. Stirling, being the proper officer, refused to grant a warrant for the said Sugar, and the said Sugar further into this Colony, according to the Provisions of Section 29 of Chapter 22 of the Consolidated Statutes of Newfoundland. This refusal, giving as his reason for refusing, that he is under instructions not to do so without orders of the Food Control Board.

The said Sugar is urgently required by the said Company for the purpose of its business, in order that the same may be sold for consumption within this Colony, and the said Sugar is likely to be attended by loss and damage to the said Company.

CALVERT C. PRATT, Sworn at St. John's this 3rd day of Sept., A.D., 1920, before me.

Mr. Summers, the Deputy Minister of Justice, appeared for the Customs Department, and asked for a postponement to the hearing until Tuesday. Mr. Morine objected to a postponement longer than Monday, on the ground that in the present state of the Sugar market, the importers might suffer damage by delay. Postponement until Tuesday was granted.

It will be noted that the Food Control Board actually refuses to permit sugar to be imported. This Board was formed to stop profiteering, to prevent hoarding, and to procure a sufficiency of food for the people. But it has itself become a profiteer, a hoarder, and the cause of scarcity. The Board is determined at all costs to keep up the price of sugar. The course of the Government, which is the responsible party.

Ethel Dickinson Monument.

The Ethel Dickinson Monument which arrived by S.S. Digby last week, will be an ornament to Cavendish Square, where it will shortly be erected by the efforts of the people. The shaft is of polished Aberdeen Granite, octagonal shaped, and rises gracefully from a well proportioned base. The total height is 25 feet. On the base are the following inscriptions: Front—"This shaft, surmounted by the world-emblem of Sacrifice, is set up by a grateful public in memory of Ethel Dickinson, who died on Sept. 6th, 1918, at the great epidemic of 1918, gave her life while tending patients at King George the Fifth Institute, St. John's."

Lowering Brazil Price.

The Advisory Board, thoroughly alarmed over the condition of the fish markets in Brazil, as they well might be, has decided on lowering to 90¢ the price of fish there fixed by Mr. Coaker's Regulations, which stipulated that the minimum price should be 100¢ for old fish. Sir John Crosbie warned the exporters long ago that this price could not be maintained, and the sequel shows that he was right. The six cargoes of Nfld. fish in the Brazil market would stay there till they rotted before this price could possibly be secured. No one knew this better than Mr. W. S. Moore and Mr. C. R. Duder. The cargoes will now sell at a much lower price than could have been got early in the season.

DIAMOND DUST Nothing But the Truth—Without Fear or Favour.

(Special to Diamond Dust, Evening Telegram.)

GRAND FALLS, Sept. 4. The St. John's All-Stars succeeded in grabbing the second game of the series at Grand Falls on Saturday afternoon by a score of 16 to 14. Heavy hitting and packages of bones were responsible for the big scores. Great things were expected of Sharpe in the box for the papermen, but he was decidedly on edge and passed 6 apiece. Quiet was our star batter recorded for the All Stars and 10 for Grand Falls. Hartnett and DeMers figured in the errors' box for 2 apiece. Quick was our star batter with 2 hits. Canning and DeMers replaced Donnelly and Cahill in the third. Hall and Clouston replaced Murphy in the fourth. Sharpe and Joe Murphy for the papermen had a three bagger each, and Searles a two base hit. Grand Falls refused to play the third game, claiming that their men were too tired. Matter will have to be referred to the Trustee for their decision whether St. John's can claim this third game, as Manager Orr had his men on the field all ready to play and he is putting in a lien on this third clash through Grand Falls defaulting. Canning and Hall had 3 strikeouts each and Dunn 2. We leave at midnight for home.

Our was a quiet harbour town, nestled here in the bay; But Grand Falls changed it overnight. Since coming here to play. The citizens are all het up. Their thoughts soar like the birds. The old cup holders get the razz. Folks speak in baseball words.

St. George's is the "Polo" grounds. Where ball fans come in flocks; From north and south—and east and west. To see Foran in the box. You got to hand it to the Importers' Association after all. At doubleless great inconvenience and a probable loss, they have acceded to the League's request to close the stores at 5 o'clock this and to-morrow afternoon, in order to enable the public to witness the local world's series for the championship of Newfoundland. That their action is appreciated by the fans and players goes without saying.

The third game (or will it be the fourth?) will therefore be played to-night at St. George's Field, commencing promptly at 5.45. Messrs. Chesman and McHenry will be in control. John B. has not yet decided who will go on the hurling hill for the All Stars, but doubtless there will be room for the whole five city twirlers, as the St. John's fans who accompanied the party assure us that Grand Falls have it all over us when it comes to knocking the cover off the spread. With one game each to their credit, the clash to-night should furnish the most interesting game ever played here. In order to help defray the enormous expenses, the gate fee will be 25 cents, with the same admission to the grandstand. There are no reserved seats, just first come first served.

We hear that the dance promoted at Grand Falls by the All Star right fielder was the most prominent social event of the season, and he made a most delightful host. The famous Edison orchestra produced the music with a soul, and all who attended spent a very pleasant evening. It's a pity our local Vernon Castle cannot be induced to give an encore here for the stay-at-homes.

The next game will be on to-morrow evening at the same hour, and on Wednesday one game will be played in the morning and the final in the afternoon. To-morrow night the visitors will be the guests of the C.C.C. Band at their big dance, where an enjoyable time is assured. I'd rather be a Could Be. If I could not be an ARB. For a Could Be is a May Be. With a chance of touching par. I'd rather be a Has Been. That a Might Have Been by far; For a Might Have Been has never been. But a Has was once an Are.

Prisoner Rescued by Mob

Shortly after midnight Saturday, Constables Pittman and McCue were called to the King Cafe, where a stewed up disturbance was in progress. Officers tried to quiet the disturber who was having a time of it in demolishing the furnishings of the place; they were, however, compelled to arrest him. Getting their man nearly to the police station, a crowd of ten or more friends rushed the policemen, and taking the prisoner placed him in a cab, compelling the driver to proceed to the West end of the city.

Susu's Passengers.

Abbott, Miss J. Flynn, H. Cook, Duder, J. C. Crosbie, Jr., in saloon and 7 second class.

Charged With Assault.

The s.s. Tafna, Capt. Hugh Hughes, had to put into port Saturday, to land one of her crew a stoker, named Simmons, who while the ship was off Cape Race, attempted to drown the second steward whose name is Hamon. The accused was manacled to the ship's rail when she arrived at port, after a deposition had been made by the captain of the ship, he was taken to the lockup by the police. Before court this morning, he was charged with assault and using threatened language.

Aristocratic Stetson Velours; dignified Stetson Soft Felts; Christy's, Borsalinos from way across the water. America, England, Italy contributed their finest products, from the hands of master hatters, making this a wonderful showing of the World's Best Hats.

And every Kearney Hat sold must suit.

We would not tamper with the finely blocked lines of such famous hats, would not impair their fit, by selling you an ill-looking, ill-fitting hat. There is little need of this, such a marvellous range of styles and sizes are here that the "right hat" comes easy.

With us, always, "the customer must be satisfied."

Gala Day At Grand Falls.

His Excellency Governor Harris at The Paper City--Investiture And Presentation of Medals--G. W. V. A's Appreciation of Mr. N. Pike's Work--The Governor's Thoughtful Address--Short Musical Programme.

The following is a brief account of His Excellency the Governor's visit to Grand Falls. This long-promised visit had been repeatedly postponed for various reasons, but is now an accomplished fact.

His Excellency, who had been visiting Newfoundland, was brought up by the N.D. Co's engine, being met on arrival by a delegation of officers and members of the Grand Falls G.W.V.A., including Capt. Cooper and William C. Standford, Nugent, Corbett, Barr and Hopson.

In the evening a public meeting, held in the newly enlarged Town Hall, the meeting proper being presided by a public investiture and presentation of medals.

Under the auspices of the G.W.V.A. the meeting was presided over by a public investiture and presentation of medals.

The following is a list of the medals and decorations presented:

Mr. J. Goodyear received the Military Cross won by her son Hedley in the fighting with the Canadian forces.

Mr. J. Porter received the 1914-1915 Star.

Mr. N. Pike received the 1914-1915 Star.

President of the Association, of which I understand the Grand Falls Association is a branch--it was in conjunction with Captain Cooper, Lieut. Williamson and others that expressed the wish that I should come up here to have a straight talk with the Association.

Now as regards the men who have this evening received decorations and medals, let me say that while they have reached the highest level of achievement, yet I am quite sure that among the G.W.V.A. there are many who have done equally well, and yet did not receive any special decoration.

The difficulty in this war has to my mind been to decide who did deserve more than many others where all have been heroes many times over.

And I know the sacrifices many of you made in leaving your homes, your wives and your children, yet to those men who were capable of such sacrifice I say another thing, and that is remember you were performing a duty to yourself in going to the war; you were citizens who could choose; you had an obligation as free men to support the State of Freedom.

And similarly when you come back you also have a duty to the community. I say then it will be times when a returned soldier finds it hard to settle down, he wants to be travelling round the world; he pines for that wider, bigger life which he has experienced.

Now in order to get that I think you must have what is expected in a word which I do not often use--for it is apt to become a cant word--vision.

For First Time in Years She is Enjoying Meals

Mrs. Brown Says She Never Sits Down At The Table Without Thanking Tanlac.

"For the first time in years I am able to eat a hearty meal without suffering afterwards, and I can never sit down to the table without feeling grateful to Tanlac," said Mrs. W. R. Brown, of 37 Rottenburg St., Halifax, Nova Scotia, recently.

"Before taking Tanlac I had suffered for four or five years from a bad case of indigestion. My appetite was very poor, and often I would go to the table and just drink a cup of tea and not eat a thing. I dared not eat anything at all heavy, as I always suffered agonies afterwards, and in fact after nearly every meal I bloated up with gas and felt the sharpest kind of pains in the pit of my stomach. I hardly knew what it was to be without a headache and had awful spells of dizziness, when everything seemed to be swimming about before me. I worried a great deal about my condition and was very nervous and hardly got a good night's sleep. I had so little strength or energy it was all I could do to get up in the morning. I worked done at all. I felt tired and worn out all the time and there were times when I got so broken down I just had to take to my bed."

"But thanks to Tanlac all these miseries are past and now I am as well as I ever was in my life. My appetite is splendid and I can eat just anything I want and never suffer from gas or pains of any kind. I never have a headache now or a spell of dizziness. My nerves are steady and I sleep soundly every night, never waking up till morning. It is certainly a pleasure to tell of what Tanlac has done for me. From now on I never expect to be without a bottle in the house."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors; by Reg. Sullivan, Pouch Cove; Sound Island Store, Sound Island; Dennis Flynn, Avondale; J. J. O'Brien, Cape Royce; J. W. Smith, Baine Harbor; W. A. Burdock, Belloram; John Morey, Fermeuse; Mrs. Jos. Quinn, Renew--advt.

Polities In Its True Meaning

Now that brings me up to a subject about which I spoke to the G.W.V.A. in St. John's, namely, politics and their relation to the State. I would like to say a few words to you also, because this is a matter to which I attach great importance. Unfortunately in Newfoundland the term politics has been abused; more than in many places it has been applied in a petty narrow sense; and to most men it stands for an attempt to get in a position which gives a "pull" in one or another. But that is all wrong. Don't get mixed up with that. "Politics" in its proper sense is one of the first duties of a citizen after providing for his family. If you look at the word which I use, it means the general improvement of the State in which you live. And if you will only aim at the good of those around you, you will find that the Government shall be obliged to secure that good then you will find that good results will follow. What I say then is "fit yourselves to utilize a healthy political power."

Visiten and Inter-dependence.

Now in order to get that I think you must have what is expected in a word which I do not often use--for it is apt to become a cant word--vision.

What does it mean? I had an illustration of it last night. I was walking along from St. Peter's Bank with a young official of the Company and he said, "Don't you think it would be a great thing for us to have this road opened up?" We went on to talk of the possibility of a road from Grand Falls to Botwood with houses all along that road where people will come and live in the summer. Now that is vision. It is a thing that may come and ought to come and when it comes you will all be proud of it. But I am going to mention another thing that I want you to realise and that is that you are all part of a great scheme. I was looking over the estuary at Botwood this morning; the waters looked calm and peaceful, there was not a cloud in the sky, and yet as I looked beyond the estuary I could see the burnt ground over which the fire had raged down to Norris Arm, destroying so much of the beauty of the country beyond and out of sight--a contrast which carried a lesson. What was the relation of each part to the whole? Then I realised that these little houses all round the Arm are in touch with the world which are doing here in Grand Falls. That while steamers are looking for the Old Country; the United Kingdom is waiting anxiously for results; you in Grand Falls are relying upon what they are doing at Botwood, and the people of Botwood are relying upon what you are doing in Grand Falls, and not only that but you are all doing something which re-echoes and rings back on the whole life of London. I want you to understand that you are all inter-dependent and you cannot throw aside your responsibility for others for one moment. In this respect I am bound to say that I think Grand Falls is a particularly good foster-mother. You men are having a chance which is denied to other citizens in other parts of the colony; you are nothing but praise for the way in which the work of the A.N.D. Company is being carried out in the daily work we see round us here. I can see that in the future you are developing towards an attainment which you might not reach in any other part of the Colony and perhaps in few parts of the world; each one of you has his part to perform in this development; each one of you will be the better if he conscientiously devotes himself to aiding the Company to do its great and good work as ever it can.

W.P.A. and Child Welfare.

And now from you I turn to the W.P.A. of whom the President and Vice-President are sitting here; and I think in turning to them my first duty is to say how very sorry my wife will be not to have been able to be here to-night. Both my wife and my daughter would have taken the greatest pleasure in coming here. But I can give you a message from her. There is a scheme which is very near my wife's heart, that of Child Welfare, and nothing can be of greater moment to all of us than the care of the children; for the children of to-day are going to be the men and women of the future. This is a cause which I commend to you ladies of the W.P.A. Not that you are asked to give up very much of your time, but you would be asked to see to it that the mothers and the guardians of the children are instructed in the difficulties of rearing and training, so that there is not a child in Grand Falls that suffers from want of proper training or medical attendance of any kind.

Duty and Compensation.

I will now say a few words to you all, and I think you will not be surprised if I lay stress on this point--that we all of us owe a duty to one another and are dependent on one another. Once again I urge you to try and remember the responsibility that rests upon you all and each of you; not one man or one woman does an act which does not react on others. I have lately been reading a Swedish Novel and in that novel two things struck me as well worth repeating to all--first of all that every act of ours may have unimagined results, often of heavy sorrow, to the unborn children of the future; we owe such a duty to one another that we have a duty to work which we have not to restrain ourselves to all things; and another lesson is that as we carry out that responsibility to one another and observe that need of remembering what we do, what we think of others, we should try and remember that not one thing that we do honestly and earnestly is thrown away in the long run; the possibility of our doing others have their good effect. Taking an instance from myself again. When I went down to Botwood this morning I went first to the office and looked in and thought they had gone to dinner and that I would find Mr. Arkle somewhere else. I went on down for a while and then I found that they were working here all the time. I had been told that I was to throw away all that time and energy. Yet it was not thrown away, for I met men down below and found other points of interest which quite compensated me.

The Golden Year.

Well, I think I have done; but I give you one more word. You have heard some of you of the Golden Age; and I daresay you have been tempted to think that you would like to live in that Golden Age. Then look at a poem of Tennyson's. I cannot finish better than by quoting those fine words, where in discussing the meaning of the Golden Age, James and his kindness and the returned soldiers for their appreciation. A short musical programme next followed as under:

Selection--S. A. Band.
Song--Lieut. F. Cornick.
Selection--S. A. Band.
Song--Mrs. T. E. Loder.
Song--Lieut. H. Baird.

A vote of thanks to H.E. was then moved by Mr. T. F. Judge and seconded by Capt. Williamson, and was carried with acclamation. The playing of the National Anthem brought the proceedings to a close.

Without doubt this is the largest public meeting ever held in Grand Falls, and the thanks of the Committee are due to all who assisted in any way, and especially to the ladies and gentlemen who obliged with songs at short notice. To the bandmaster King and his accomplished musicians, and to Mr. J. Judge and the ushers at the Hall.

His Excellency, by his engaging personality, endeared himself once to all, and we look forward with the most pleasant anticipation to future visits.

Sugar Speculators.

(Halifax Morning Chronicle.)

If the sugar speculators are caught in the drop in prices, there will be no tears of compassion for them from the great consuming public. Thanks to the "break" in the American market, the people at last have the promise of relief. Sugar is on the toboggan slide. The saddest thing about the tumbling of sugar prices in the States, from the Canadian point of view, is that some of the sugar is the product of Canadian refineries, which exported it to the States to get the benefit of the exchange.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

THE WHAT-SHOULD-I-DO-IF-PERSON.

"Oh, I'm dead to-day! I lay awake over two hours last night planning what we should do about our house in the Fall." So a neighbor explained a series of yawns to me the other day. "You're going to give your house up?" "Oh, no," she said "not if we can help it. But if they raise the rent too much, we'll have to, and I was planning what we would do if they did raise it. I simply couldn't sleep and I thought I might as well think of that as anything."

In the first place, I wonder if that last statement ought not to be inverted to get the proper relation between cause and effect. As everyone knows, nothing is so fatal to getting back to sleep when you wake up in the night as letting your mind get started on any form of plan.

Things Never Look Right In The Night.

In the second place, I wonder how much constructive planning she did to compensate for her "deadness." Everyone knows that one's reactions and angle of vision in the middle of the night are not likely to be wholly normal. One is inclined to pessimism.

One thing. A fever ache from an obstinate splinter, that next morning will be entirely forgotten, becomes in the night a sure harbinger of blood poisoning. A fear that Aunt Maria will descend upon one the same week-end that one is going to entertain one's most distinguished guests of the summer, becomes a veritable certainty in the night watches. Therefore, plans made in the middle of the night usually have to be reconsidered the next day.

And, in the third place—and hereby I tangs my tale—wasn't it a great waste of energy to plan what they will do if—?

Usually the Foundation Is Torn Down.

Isn't it a waste of energy 99 times out of a hundred to construct these elaborate plans on a hypothetical foundation that half the time is torn down by the actual development of events? And in the majority of other cases when the foundation holds, one still has time enough to make plans after one knows just where one stands; and one might just as well do it then instead of doing it twice—once before one knows and once after.

(I think this is a peculiarly feminine line trick—this planning what one will do if—, I have heard it said that every woman has it planned out exactly what she would do if her husband died, and I believe it. But I can't imagine a man making such plans.)

The Never-Wants-To-Make-Any-Plans Person.

Of course there is a type which goes to the opposite extreme from the what-shall-I-do-if person. This is the type of person who never wants to make a plan five minutes ahead because he (it usually is a "he") doesn't like to be bound. At the last minute he and everyone tied to him often have to put up with uncomfortable and makeshift conditions which he could have altered by a little planning.

The golden mean, as always, lies between these two extremes. And, as always, each extreme is perfectly sure he represents it. To return to Mr. Walpole once more, "If the angels have a sense of humor, how we must divert them!"

THE "GRUB" PEST.

To prevent damage to plants and shrubs a simple remedy is a weak solution of Sulphate of Ammonia. Use 1/4 oz. of Sulphate to one gallon of water. On no account use a stronger solution or you may "burn" the plants.

We have a limited quantity of Sulphate of Ammonia at our Showroom, Oke Building. Full instructions given with each package.

Nfld. Scotch Cured Herring.

Indications at this time point to a remarkably dull market, due to the fact that there are practically no offerings of new pack, owing to the failure of producers to dispose of all the stock put up during the year 1919. Some handlers of Newfoundland herring have been feeling around the market to ascertain at what prices new pack can be secured, but up to this writing there have not been any movements of stock. It has simply been talk. One Newfoundland house with representatives in this city, declined an offer of $15 per barrel for 6,000 packages. The reason for turning down the offer was that the representative here not being familiar with conditions in Newfoundland at present, decided not to do anything until the return of his associate from St. John's.

Late advices are to the effect that a few recent sales were made in the New York market, some as low as $7.50 per barrel. The opinion is expressed in many quarters that packing Scotch cured herring in Newfoundland is a thing of the past.

TOIL OR TURMOIL.

I hope, in our campaigning, we won't disturb the map; too often we are straining to open up a scrap; too often, in the clangor of windsmith and haranguer, and 'other wild slapper, we swat the other chap. Too oft we quit our labors, neglect our growing beans, to wrangle with the neighbors o'er what this campaign means; and it were better, saner, to be a strict abstainer from tricks of the campaigner, and raise a lot of greens. The winter's drawing closer, the summer's almost spent, and wind won't pay the grocer, and talk won't pay the rent; and when the wolf is yelling before your humble dwelling, all kinds of want foretelling, your lost hours you'll lament. I hear the statesmen bellow, I see them paw the soil, but I'm the prudent fellow who sticks to useful toil; and when the snow is falling, and stormy winds are howling, and kids for grub are calling, I'll have a cow to boil. I'm morking in the garden, I'm earning useful rocks; perhaps I'll vote for Cox; but while the spuds are growing each day will see me hoing, not idly to-and-froing to hand out roasts or cocks.

A New Czarism.

Bolshevism in practice is a new Czarism bolstered up by the army of old Czarist spies whom it has enlisted and who are a constant threat to everyone not a Communist, and founded on a revolutionary economic theory. The people are compelled to work by "harsh discipline." There is a legal eight-hour day in Russia, but wages are so low that men are forced to do other work in their spare time. Private commerce is forbidden, and there is "an amount of buying and selling which far exceeds what happens in capitalist countries. It takes up a great deal of time that might be more profitably employed; and, being illegal, it places practically the whole population of Moscow at the mercy of the police."

Codfish Weak in Nova Scotia.

Discussing the Halifax fishing industry, the Herald of that city says: "Cod, the mainstay of the fishermen, are down to almost pre-war prices and are practically unsalable. Several schooners have come to Halifax with lots of dried fish and have had to return without disposing of them. Opposed to this, the cost of all fishing gear has trebled or quadrupled." In conversation with a Herald representative a prominent fish dealer of this city cited a strong reason for the falling off of the export trade in dried fish and the consequent fall in price. The colored people of the South, he said, are so much better off to-day than a few years ago that they are not satisfied with fish for a regular diet, but look for something which they consider more fastidious. While the shore fisheries are now especially being considered, the same cry of poor prices and high equipment comes from the deep sea men, but these are in perhaps a better position to bear a poor season than the shore men. Their catches are also poorer this year than usual, but, nevertheless, their average is fair and they would have no protest if only the market were a little stronger. There are some cases, however, of absolute failure. One recent arrival from the banks did not stock enough to pay the cook and gave it up, at least for this year.—Fishing Gazette.

An Act to Provide for the Better Obtaining of Information Respecting the Codfishery.

Be it enacted by the Governor, the Legislative Council and House of Assembly, in Legislative Session convened, as follows:—

1. The Master or owner of every ship, vessel, schooner, craft or boat which shall arrive at any port in Newfoundland from fishing in any of the places following, that is to say, on the Banks, on the Coast of Labrador, in the Straits of Belle Isle, or elsewhere out of Newfoundland, and on the coast of Newfoundland in the District of St. Barbe, shall within 48 hours after arrival at his destination report by telegraph at the expense of the Department from the nearest telegraph station to the Department of Marine and Fisheries at St. John's and the nearest Customs Officer, stating the quantity in quintals of fish on board such vessel.
2. As a part of said report the said Master or owner shall state whether the number of quintals reported is reckoned as of dry fish, Labrador fish, salt bulk or green fish, or otherwise as the case may be; and shall state whether it is the intention of such master or owner to cure such fish (if the same be not cured) as soft Labrador, dry Labrador, or dry Shors.
3. If any such Master or owner shall fail to report as aforesaid or shall wilfully report incorrectly, he shall be liable to a penalty of not less than $10.00 or more than $100.00 to be recovered in a summary manner before any Stipendiary Magistrate; or in default of payment, to imprisonment not exceeding one month.
4. In publishing information or statistics of the fisheries, the Minister of Marine and Fisheries shall not be bound to make public the name or catch of any specific ship, vessel, craft or boat.
5. Every licensed exporter of codfish shall report to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries on the last day of every month, or within 48 hours thereafter, stating the quantity and quality of all fish then held in store by such exporter. The said report shall be verified by affidavit, and the said Minister shall not publish or allow any person whatsoever (except in pursuance of legal process) to have access to any such report; but the sum total of the quantities and qualities so reported shall be intimated by the Minister of Marine and Fisheries to the President of the Newfoundland Board of Trade for the information and use of the Trade generally.
6. If any such exporter shall fail to report as hereinbefore provided, or shall knowingly make any false or incorrect report, he shall be liable to a penalty of not exceeding $1,000.00, which may be recovered in a summary manner before any Stipendiary Magistrate, or in default of payment, to imprisonment for a period not exceeding three months.
7. If any person publishes, writes or disseminates any false information or statistics respecting the quantity of codfish caught or held in store, or otherwise in Newfoundland or exported, he shall upon conviction be liable to a penalty not exceeding One Hundred Dollars or imprisonment for a period not exceeding one month for each offence.
8. All penalties recovered under this Chapter shall be paid to the Minister of Finance and Customs for the use of the Colony.
9. Any person aggrieved by any conviction under this Act may appeal to the next Session of the Supreme Court in St. John's or on Circuit upon giving notice within fourteen days of his intention so to appeal.
10. This Act may be cited for all purposes as "The Codfish Report Act, 1920."

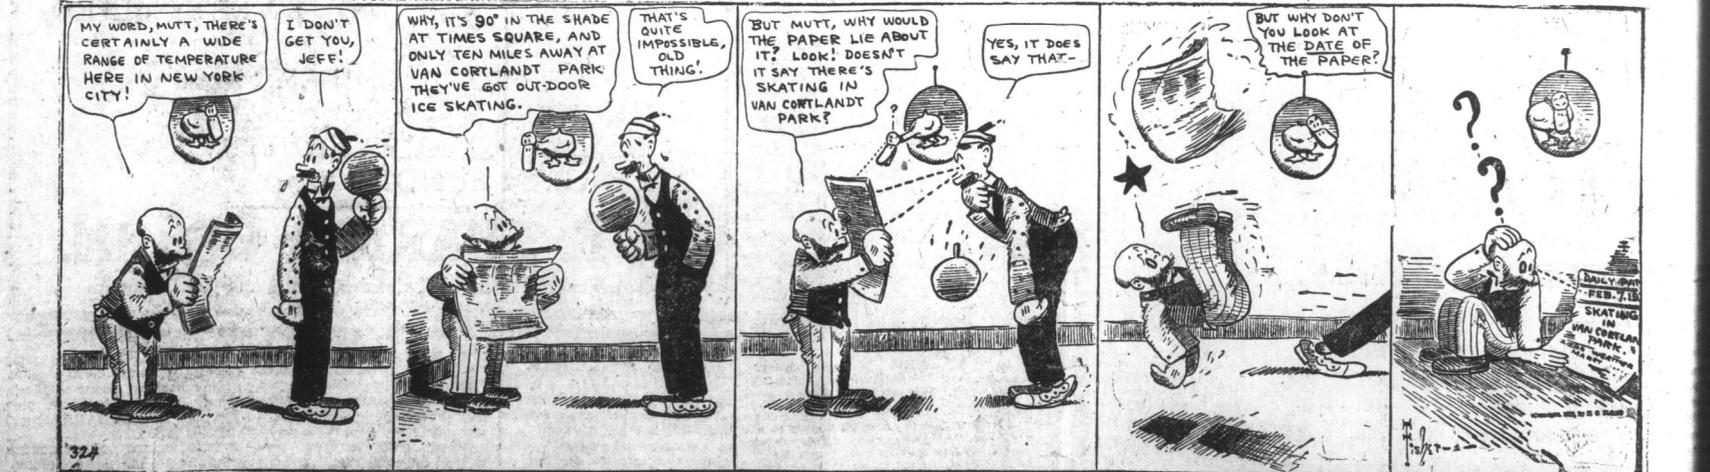

Household Notes.

A small cup of fine-grained sugar is equal to a full cup of a coarser-grained sugar.
Always wipe lamb chops with a damp cloth to remove any bits of bone clinging to them.
Serve tiny triangles of buttered toast sprinkled with minced parsley with the fish balls.
Use a pitcher to fill small jelly glasses and the hot jelly will not spill over the edges.
The soup for luncheon should be served in bouillon cups, and eaten with bouillon spoons.
Serve vanilla ice cream in halves of chilled muskmelons. Sprinkle cream with cinnamon.
When making peach short-cake, butter the biscuit dough well before spreading with peaches.

SPECULATION?

When you trade in the New York markets you do not necessarily speculate. Only those investors speculate who blindly buy any old stocks that enjoy a passing popularity, or as a result of a "friendly" tip or purely as a gamble of the hit-or-miss variety.

The investor who uses his own thinking power and judgment as well as his brokers, and selects only meritorious issues with good histories and intrinsic values, does not speculate, but invests, and by taking advantage of low markets that pertain periodically, he invests wisely indeed.

On request, we can name you a dozen or more such stocks that at present prices are surely good investments.

The Rev. Hugh Pedley.

(I. C. M.)
The name of Pedley has long been a household word in Newfoundland, and the history of the Dominion owes much to it. Of late this name has been revived in an especial manner by the visit to our city of the Rev. Hugh Pedley, son of the historian—and by his ministrations at the Queen's Road Congregation Church.

For some six months Mr. Pedley has been in our midst, and his labours have had a lasting impression upon those who have had the privilege of hearing him, and associating with him; and now that he is about to take his departure from us, we wish to record our appreciation of his work. We do this because of the work's sake, and especially so because of the grandeur of character, and depth of soul, which the Rev. gentleman has displayed. Of course this was expected of him; but sometimes expectations are not realized; and in this critical age none escape adverse comment—though adverse comment may be better than flattery.

"Viator," who is one of our ablest local writers, has paid worthy tribute to Mr. Pedley; and we heartily concur in all that "Viator" has said, and we could afford to have more men of Mr. Pedley's stamp. His visit to us, after an absence of half a century, has not only renewed the name, but it has enhanced the value of the history which his father wrote; because we now have some idea of the class of man which his father must have been. Thus we are the better of Mr. Pedley's visit, and the space of fifty years has been spanned by his good work among us.

Of all men, clergymen exert the greatest influence upon society; and their duties ever stand for the betterment of the state. Inasmuch as they are great, so is their work great—and inasmuch as they are weak, so is their work weak. Mr. Pedley impressed us as being a strong man in his calling; for not only has nature endowed him with gifts, but education has favoured him, and experience has mellowed him; and because of these traits he gains the confidence of his hearers, and imparts dignity to his office. This was very manifest in his closing discourse last evening, and all who were present must have found help and inspiration.

With all who have met Mr. Pedley, we join in wishing him a safe return to his home; and we assure him that while Newfoundland in general has been greatly benefited in the past by the history which his respected father wrote, St. John's has been equally benefited in the present, by the visit which the historian's son has paid us.

Obituary.

AGNES RENNE.

There passed away at Cape Ray, district of Burgeo and LaPolle, in the latter days of August, an estimable lady in the person of Agnes, beloved wife of Ernest H. Renne, Canadian Government Lighthouse Keeper at that place. Deceased was a daughter of the late William Hickman of Chancel, for a number of years keeper of the lighthouse on Ireland Island at the entrance of LaPolle Bay, which entered through a paralytic stroke, which entered the brain, and was quite unexpected. The late Agnes Renne was well known to all visitors at Cape Ray, and her generous hospitality was proverbial, not alone to passing guests, but to the people of the settlement, who will miss the smiles and generosity of a most genial person and a veritable good Samaritan. Men, women and children alike will regret the passing of Agnes Renne, who was a veritable lady, and who lived in the service of her husband, three sons, three sisters, and two brothers, the Telegram extends most heartfelt sympathies. Interment took place at Cape Ray on Sunday 22nd August, when all that was mortal of a good wife, loving mother and friend of the poor was laid to rest in sure and certain hope of a glorious resurrection to eternal life.

"On that happy Easter morning,
All the graves their dead restore;
Father, sister, child and mother
Meet once more."

Shipping Notes.

S.S. Corunna is expected shortly with general cargo from Montreal. S.S. Borussia, 33 hours from Sydney with a cargo of coal to Moray and Co. reached port yesterday.

S.S. Canadian Miner sailed Saturday for Montreal.

The S.S. Venator has sailed for Halifax and Boston.

The schooners Ronald B. and Passover have returned to Greenspond from Belle Isle, with 1,000 and 800 quintals of codfish respectively.

The schooner Dazzle arrived yesterday to Campbell and McKay after a run of 15 days from Barbados.

S.S. Coban arrived yesterday from Sydney with a cargo of coal to the Reid Ndd. Co.

Schr. Miriam H. Capt. Doyle, which arrived here with a coal cargo, made an excellent round trip. From this port she went to Pernambuco, then to Barbados, from there to Turk's Island to load salt for Mahone Bay, and thence to Sydney to load for here.

S.S. Rosalind arrived at Halifax at 8 a.m. to-day.

S. S. Sable L. 46 hours from North Sydney arrived in port this morning.

S. S. Sierra de Fuentes, 2-1/2 days from Louisiana, picked up the American tern schooner W. H. Wooden, south of Grand Bank, in a disabled condition and towed her to port. The steamer is lumber laden and is bound to Bristol. She is now at the Furness Withy pier. The disabled schooner is a four master and is in ballast. She is 44 days out from St. Maria and was bound to New York. Her rudder head was carried away during a storm.

S.S. Tatra, 7 days from St. John, N.B., arrived to Bowring Brothers, lumber laden.

MIDWEST UTILITOR

The Multitude of Practical Ways the Midwest Utilitor Can be Used is Astonishing Farmers and Food Raisers the World Over

AND every day is discovering new uses for the Utilitor. It is literally making over the whole popular conception of profitable soil cultivation.

The Utilitor is both a small tractor and a 4 horse-power portable gas engine. It does the field work of one horse or mule, goes from chore to chore on its own power, never tires and operates for five cents an hour.

In all workable soil conditions it is dependable and un-failing. After months of research in all parts of the United States and after grueling tests, special hitches for each implement, and suitable rims for every possible soil condition have been perfected.

Keep abreast of power farming and power food raising development. The Utilitor is the latest word in this direction.

If you are an agricultural student, own a farm, truck garden, fruit orchard or country place you need the Utilitor. Complete information as to the design, construction, and any uses of the Utilitor that you may be interested in will be gladly sent on application.

Exchange and Finance.

To the average business man these days, the rate of exchange is of more or less daily interest, and for those who can take advantage of the difference in rates of exchange of various nations, this appears to be a favourable time to pay old debts. Borrowing $10,000,000 from banks in the United States, Bolivia has been enabled to liquidate an obligation to France of 56,608 francs. She cancelled the debt by the payment of approximately $4,000,000. At the normal rate of exchange 56,608 francs equal $10,924,378 in United States money. By this financial operation, Bolivia has by transferring her liabilities to France around the United States, made a saving of about $4,000,000, surely an easy way to make money.

Police Court.

A drunk was released. A fireman of the S.S. Tatra charged with assault on one of the crew. The Captain of the ship in giving his evidence said that the prisoner had the second steward half way over the rail of the ship and would have thrown him overboard but for his interference. The Captain had the man shackled, the prisoner then threatening to take his life also. The case was discontinued till 7.30 this afternoon so that the Counsel for the accused could prepare his case.

A drunk first time in, was released. A steward was charged with being drunk and disorderly in the King Cafe and breaking certain crockeryware, a charge of violently resisting, arrest was added to the first charges. Mr. W. J. Higgins represented the accused.

Chas. Fong giving evidence for the prosecution said man broke dishes, he messed up table, policemen coming in could not arrest him, he locked the door, the prisoner then broke the door's glass and broke up more of the dishes. The damages he estimated at $20. Owing to disturbance the people in cafe got mixed up and no money was collected for the meals, these were also to be included in the bill. In giving evidence Constable Pittman who made the arrest declared that the accused, being handcuffed did not assault him. Constable McCue gave somewhat similar evidence, excepting that during the rescue of the prisoner he lost his belt. The amount of the bill being uncertain, the accused was allowed to go on his own bond of $50 until an investigation is made.

Mrs. Jackson a resident of Barter's Hill was charged with keeping a house of ill fame. One of the principal witnesses in a similar case disposed of a few days ago, was called as a Crown witness, and gave evidence of a character which involved the names of 4 or 5 young men. A number of other men were mentioned as in the habit of visiting the place to have their fortunes told but their names were not disclosed. Two other witnesses were also called and substantiated the evidence of the first witness. The accused was fined $50.

DIFFICULTIES.
What if the road be long, the goal is richer for the struggle you have made.
Great joys which truly compensate the soul
Obtain their splendor from the price you paid;
There is no victory on earth so fair
As that which conquers danger and despair.

What if the task be hard, the pride is greater when at last the thing is done.
He who stands fast when he is sorely tired,
Knows happiness the day his battle's won;
Within the struggle all the glory lies—
Greater the odds, the greater is the prize.

The easy roads the multitude may fare,
The simple tasks a thousand hands can do,
Yet glory waits for men to do and dare,
While danger's challenged only by the few.
True victories take faith and strength,
And hold time.
High mountains always have been hard to climb.

Against the odds and obstacles of life
With heart undaunted fight unto the last.
You shall rejoice in every hour of strife
And thrill with pride when once the danger's past.
Within the difficulties which you meet,
Lies all which makes an honest victory sweet.

Cheaper Sugar.

Mr. A. E. Hickman deserves the thanks of the whole country in his efforts to get cheaper sugar for the public, as may be seen in the Mandamus application now before the Supreme Court. It is a monstrous state of affairs that the people of Newfoundland should be obliged to go on till next Spring paying 10 to 12 cents per pound more for sugar than they need pay, were it not for the bungling of the Food Control Board. The damage is done now irretrievably, as far as the general taxpayer is concerned, and we shall have to pay the money indirectly, anyhow. This is no reason why the people should be kept from getting cheaper sugar now that it is available.

Perfect Confidence Between Both Classes.

(Trade Review.)
Capt. Patten of Grand Bank, who has been in town for several weeks in connection with the Export of fish, says that the conditions that exist in the fishery on the South West Coast are so different to those on the East Coast and the North, that it is impossible to frame rules and regulations that would apply equitably all round. Their fishery begins earlier and the fish is ready for market six weeks' earlier than on the East Coast. The interests of the fishermen and the fish Exporters on the South West Coast are identical, and when you penalize or interfere with one class you injure the other.

There is perfect confidence and understanding between both classes and the underdogs are not understood by the fishermen of the South West Coast. There are no underdogs there and most of the Fish Exporters, having been fishermen, themselves at one time, are quite able to sympathize with the men, understand their viewpoint and avoid any class grievances that are so evident in the North and so easily worked upon by demagogues. If you hamper the merchants of Grand Bank, Fortune, Burin and Ramea, etc., in marketing their fish, the grievance at once touches every fisherman in these places, and they regard it as a personal attack on themselves. There are a few features in which is shown the difference between the West and the North, which everybody interested in the fishery ought to know.

working it successfully, but we see no possibility of a small Bank competing successfully with the diversified trade that we have in all parts of the world.

All the small Banks in England, Canada and the United States are being absorbed by the large ones, and there is just as much chance of getting a small local Bank to raise the price of fish as there is to try and put an idea of responsibility into the heads of some of our local politicians.
