STORY OF LOVE, INTRIGUE AND REVENGE

CHAPTER XXIV.

"You will hear all in time, my Gertrude," answered Dolores. "When Lord Rhysworth had been dead two years, I married Sir Karl Allamorne, your father, Gertrude. I had been acquainted with him before my first marriage. He loved me very much indeed, and I loved him. Now comes the part of my story," Dolores continued, "that I do not care to tell. Lola de Ferras loved Sir Karl, and always hoped that one day she would become Lady Allamorne, but Sir Karl had never thought of her in that way. She was very angry about my marriage. She came to see me, and she insulted me very cruelly, she said that I had stolen her lover, and that, if I had not come between them, he would have married her. It was a most unpleasant scene, and at its termination she made a terrible vow that she would have her revenge, even if she waited years for it. Ah, my children, she had it. No home was ever happier than ours; no wife was ever so blessed, so beloved! You, my Gertrude, were born; and I do not think the sun ever shone on such a household. I could never tell you what Sir Karl was to me. He loved you both so dearly; he never made the least difference between you. It is Sir Karl whom you remember, Kathleen, not your own father. Our home was an earthly paradise; my father spent the greater part of his time with us. I always had a strange dread that our happiness was too great to last. I told Sir Karl so, but he laughed my fears away. I must inform you that in the meantime Lola had gone away. After awhile news came that madame was dead, and after that her very name seemed to be forgotten in the neighborhood. One morning—oh, my children, just as the serpent entered Eden—a letter came from Lola de Ferras to Sir Karl. I was seated at the table with my husband, my father, and you, my two children, happy—ah, Heaven, who so happy as I? I have never been happy since, and I never shall be again. Sometimes," added Dolores, "I am wicked enough to think that unless Sir Karl is with me in heaven I shall never be happy even there. Oh, my children, what am I saying? But I loved him so!" And her fair head drooped on her child's, the child who was so inexpressibly dear to her because she had her father's face. "The sunlight has never appeared so bright; the flowers have lacked their perfume; everything has seemed changed to me since that day," she said, with a bitter, long-drawn sigh. "When my father died," she continued, "I could bear the disgrace no longer. I gave up Scarsdale, my home, my friends, even my name, and came hither, where I hoped to be able to forget my sorrow and live in peace—forget the shame that in England was ever present with me. You will find the shame and sorrow follow you as it did me, and that people will regard you with kindly pity. Ah, give me anything rather than that."

"But, mamma," said Kathleen, "we have no cause for shame; we had nothing to do with what happened."

"It falls and rests on us just the same," she replied. "A deserted wife! Ah, children, when you know more of the world, you will understand all that that means! A deserted wife is branded even by the pity and compassion she excites."

Then Sir Karl's daughter rose from her mother's side and stood erect in the white moonlight. She raised her clear, delicate face to the sky. She had been a child when she knelt in the long grass two hours before; she was a woman now, with the light of a high resolve on her face.

"Mamma," she said, "have you the two letters written by this woman? Will you show them to me?"

"I will. I have your father's portrait, too. I have not looked at it for sixteen years; but I will show it to you."

"Thank you. And during these years you have not heard one word of the man who loved you and his children so dearly?"

"No—not one, Gertrude."

Gertrude lowered her childlike face to her mother.

"And you believe, mamma, that for sixteen years he has been with—with this rival of yours?"

"I must believe it, Gertrude. Surely, if he had been anywhere in the wide world but with her, he would have written to me. Why should he not? We parted on the most loving terms."

"But, mamma, that argument cuts both ways. If you parted on such loving terms, so much the less reason is there for deserting you in such a fashion."

Dolores looked in bewilderment at the child; she had never viewed the matter in that light before.

"Mamma," said the girl, with a grave solemnity, that startled Dolores, "I do not believe it—I will not believe it. If my father was the good and honorable man you describe him, would one hour's interview with a person for whom you say he had little affection or respect make him false to his whole life—false to you and to us? A thousand times no! If the whole world swore to me that my father was guilty, I would maintain his innocence as I would maintain the truth of Heaven. He is innocent, mamma," continued Gertrude, "as surely as the stars shine in the sky above us. Oh, how could you who loved him have believed him otherwise?" She turned and pointed to the river. You might as well say that suddenly and without course that water became black as ink. Oh, mamma, how could you believe that my father was false?"

"What else could I do, Gertrude, my child?"

"Do? Trust him! I am only his child, and I do not remember one line of his dear face, but I would scorn to believe him guilty on the word of such a woman as that."

"Oh, child," said Dolores, faintly, "you have a golden heart!"

The depths of her soul were stirred it was as though an angel stood before her and spoke for the long-lost man. From the hour in which she had accepted her husband's guilt as a matter of course.

"But Gertrude," she said, piteously, "do you not see that is the only possible explanation of his absence? If he is elsewhere, why has he not written to me? He must have known that, loving him as I did, every hour of his absence would be torture to me and, if he is not under baneful influence, I repeat, why has he not written to me?"

"I do not know. You will say, mamma, that reason or judgment does not enter into my counsels. I go by my instinct, by my feeling, by the voice of my own heart, and I know he is innocent—innocent as you or I."

Dolores' fair head dropped on her breast; she felt repudiated by the firm faith of her daughter.

"I am sure of this," said Gertrude, her fair face glowing with excitement—"that the truth will be discovered one day. If murder will out, innocence will be vindicated. My father's name will yet be as unsullied as the stars in the heavens. Rely upon it, mamma, there has been some where or other a terrible mistake."

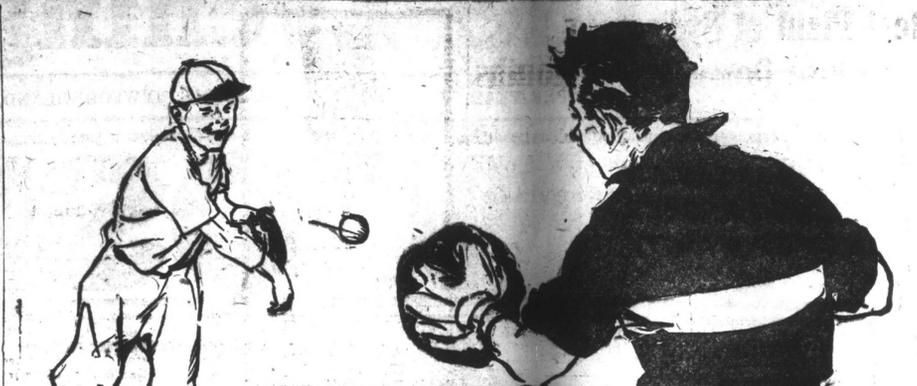

Could it be possible? A terrible mistake! In what way? Dolores knew Lola's writing only too well. Her husband had vanished—there was no doubt about that.

What mistake could there be? Was it possible that she had allowed her jealousy to be too easily roused, that she had been quick to judge and condemn? But every one else had judged Sir Karl in the same manner. Almost before she had time to form a thought herself, she had read the story in a dozen different journals, in a hundred different faces, had heard it in a hundred different voices. How could she be mistaken?

"Innocence will be vindicated," repeated Gertrude. "I know there are people so weak of faith that they think Heaven does not interfere with the concerns of this lower world. If the falling of a sparrow be a matter of moment, of how much greater importance is the character of a man? Mamma, I believe most solemnly that what we thought chance—the dropping of that lady's purse—was the very finger of Providence. For sixteen years men and women have believed my father guilty; but something tells me that the terrible mystery will be cleared up. I will devote my life to the task of clearing my father's name."

And again Dolores murmured: "You have a golden heart, Gertrude! You are so like him!"

MRS. COFFMAN ILL SEVEN YEARS

Saved from an Operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sidell, Ill.—"I was a nervous wreck. I was suffering from a pain in my left side, which was almost unbearable, and I could not even let the bed clothing rest on my body at night. I had been sick for seven years, but not so bad until the last eighteen months, and had become so run-down that I cared for nobody, and would rather have died than live. I couldn't do my work without help, and the doctors told me that an operation was all there was left. I would not consent to that, so my husband brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged me to take it. I have taken fourteen bottles of it and I feel ten years younger. Life is full of hope. I do all my housework and had a large garden this year. I never will be without the Vegetable Compound in the house, and when my two little girls reach womanhood I intend to teach them to take it. I am never too busy to tell some suffering sister of my help, and please use my name and letter to spread the good news of Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine."

—Mrs. Ida M. Coffman, R. R. 2, Sidell, Ill.

and that the people would break their hearts if the Government left them.

Just fancy if they were to go out and the Unionist Government come in. We might send the Bolsheviks home again, and shake hands with our friends from across the sea instead. We might stop giving doles to foreigners and keep them for our own people. We might build some houses instead of talking about them.

We might put back the McKenna duties and safeguard our industries for our own workers.

The unemployment problem was worse to-day than a year ago. In the case of the cotton trade, the greatest of our export trades, he was told that 90,000 men were out of work and many more were on short time.

Our iron and steel industry was not back to its pre-war position, although Belgium, France, and the United States were in either as good or a better position.

Unless something was done to give a stimulus to our trade this country was faced by disaster. What was the Government going to do about it? If they did nothing the country would not wait for them to go out; it would kick them out.

Fashions and Fads.

Leaves of gold tissue suggest the Empire waistline on a slim frock of black chiffon.

Very narrow gold fringe is used on a frock of amber crepe, embroidered in gold beads.

A charming evening slipper of white and gold brocade is embroidered in gold beads.

Strands of jet, reaching to hip length, make a cape-back for a slim frock of black silk.

Black taffeta edges the brim of a wide hat of lesthon, to wear with a sheer summer frock.

A scalloped fish of crisp white organdie is worn on a frock of apple-green organdie.

The very fashionable, small felt hat may be quite severe in its lines, or else softly crushed.

Black pumps, with or without buckles, are among the most fashionable for daytime wear.

U. S. Destroyers Will Patrol Route of Fliers—Sufficiency of Guarantee Holds up the Conference—Saskatchewan Declares Against Prohibition.

STEEL PLANT TO CLOSE FOR 90 DAYS.

HALIFAX, July 24. A despatch from Sydney received here this afternoon, states President Wolvin of the British Empire Steel Corporation has announced the Sydney Steel Plant would close down for at least ninety days, beginning August 9th.

WOLVIN'S STATEMENT.

SYDNEY, N.S., July 24. A ninety day tie-up of the British Empire Steel Corporation Steel Plant at Sydney, was announced by President R. M. Wolvin in an official statement given out to-day. The shut down of operations will be effective from August 9th. "A severe depression arising from lack of buying orders is now general in the steel industry," the statement says. "Both in America and Europe, and steel works have been forced to close or to drastically cut down production on both continents. Every effort has failed to provide further business and the financial resources of the Corporation have been strained in efforts to provide employment." The statement adds, "the increased cost of coal in Great Britain makes the cost of producing iron and steel at Sydney higher than the prices at which Canadian consumers can buy steel products from Belgium and France, delivered with customs duties paid, action by the Government in properly adjusting the customs tariff on imported steel, so as to give this industry and Canadian labor the same percentage of protection it enjoyed before the war, would result in keeping the steel plant in full operation, particularly the rod mill, which would have been making the rods that have been imported in large quantities this year."

CONVOY OF DESTROYERS FOR FLIERS.

NEWPORT, R.I., July 24. The destroyers Lawrence, Cowdran, Barry and McFarland, which will form part of the cordon to patrol the route of the army fliers on their trans-Atlantic crossing, left here to-day to take their posts on the Iceland to Nova Scotia legs. They will be joined at Boston by the destroyer Charles Auburn and at Halifax by the cruiser Milwaukee. The latter is carrying a seaplane which will be available in an emergency.

WAY OUT WILL BE FOUND.

LONDON, July 24. Efforts to surmount the impasse in the inter-Allied Conference, regarding sufficiency of guarantee for 'proposed $40,000,000 loan to Germany, to-day occupied the attention of the delegates with the belief uppermost that a solution would be found before many hours. While the French are maintaining the sanctity of the Versailles Treaty and International Bankers are equally firm in their demands for definite guarantees to satisfy investors who will be asked to launch Experts' plan, it is the opinion to-day that a way out of the entanglement will be found shortly.

TEN KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO.

OAKHARBOUR, Ohio, July 24. Ten persons were killed and ten others injured, some seriously, last night when the New York Central passenger train crashed into an automobile truck at a grade crossing outside this village. There were 26 persons in the truck. They had been on a day's outing at Sand Beach, Lake Erie, and were returning home when the accident occurred. The dead are all of Attica, Ohio, except the driver who was from Willard, Ohio. Eyewitnesses declare the driver of the car stopped the machine at the railroad crossing, gave ahead to scan the tracks and apparently failed to see the approaching train. He is said to have got back to the truck and have driven on the track directly ahead of the train which was bound for Toledo, from Cleveland. The force of the collision carried the wreckage of the truck 300 feet down the track, hurling the bodies in every direction and scattered splintered wood and splintered metal for many feet.

THE SOURCE OF INSPIRATION.

LONDON, July 24. Lord Dawson of Penn., a famous physician, from his seat in the House of Lords declared the purest literature, art and music were impossible on ginger beer. He was speaking on the bill promoted by the Bishop of Oxford, which is an elaborate and ingenious device for introducing local option which might eventually be enlarged into prohibition. Take a social gathering with, for some reason or other, a drab outlook, declared Lord Dawson, a small quantity of alcohol soon altered that. We ought to be very careful to do nothing to diminish cheerfulness of the people.

HOME BANK DIRECTORS' TRIAL IN SEPTEMBER.

TORONTO, July 24. It was announced here to-day that the Directors and officials of the Home Bank of Canada, charged in connection with the suspension of that institution last August, will face trial before Judge Coatsworth, senior Judge of the County of York, on the afternoon of September 9th. According to the crown authorities the original charges in the indictment will stand, but proceedings will not be taken against A. E. Calvert, who was acting manager of the Bank at the time of suspension. He will likely be used by the Crown as one of the principal witnesses.

SASKATCHEWAN'S MAJORITY FOR MODERATION.

REGINA, July 24. With 2202 polls out of 2581 in the Province having reported, the figures in the Liquor Plebiscite show a majority for moderation of 32,692. The majority in favour of straight government control as opposed to the beer clause is 8315. A reduction in the moderation lead during the past twenty-four hours is accounted for by the receipt of official figures from a number of constituencies, some of the figures being at variance with the returns of election night.

BARRISTER GIVEN 9 MONTHS FOR PERJURY.

HALIFAX, July 24. W. L. Kennedy, Barrister, of Truro, N.S., was sentenced to nine months in jail by Judge Wallace in the County Court here to-day for perjury. The offence was committed during the civil hearing in the Supreme Court.

JAPAN'S POLICY TOWARDS RUS. SIA.

TOKYO, July 24. A new policy towards Russia, on which it is believed the Government would be willing to grant recognition to Soviet Government, was adopted by the Cabinet at an extraordinary session to-day.

RADIO TO LINK UP DEPENDENCIES.

OTTAWA, July 24. Radio stations are to be established near Montreal and Vancouver, as links in the empire wireless programme, as the result of arrangements just completed between the British Government, the Dept. of Marine and Fisheries of Canada, and the affiliated Marconi Companies. The stations, which are to be short wave or "beam" stations, will be owned and operated by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of Canada, will have a guarantee operating speed of 100 words per minute, and will cost approximately $3,000,000 each. Licenses have been issued by the Department permitting the Marconi Company to proceed promptly with the work.

AUSTRALIA TO HAVE EXHIBITION.

SYDNEY, Australia, July 24. A great International Exhibition in Australia is proposed. It is believed that such an exhibition would prove a great advantage to the Commonwealth and would attract a large number of visitors from all parts of the world.

BETHLEHEM PASSES DIVIDEND ON COMMON.

NEW YORK, July 24. The Directors of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation to-day omitted the regular quarterly dividend of $125 a share on the common stock due at this time. The total income of the Corporation for the second quarter of the year amounted to $7,400,894, as compared with $10,549,149 in the preceding three months. The Surplus after dividends and charges was $203,167 contrasted with $1,197,283 the first quarter.

ARCTIC WENT HEAVY SEA.

HALIFAX, July 24. Rumours of disaster to the explor-tion steamer Arctic, Captain Bernier, which sailed some time ago for the far north, were thought to be explained by advices from the Marconi Station at Glace Bay, stating that four days ago the Arctic shipped a huge sea which put out her fires. There was no serious damage and the vessel soon proceeded. The advices stated the Marconi station expected a further communication to-day.

Municipal Council

The regular meeting of the City Council was held yesterday afternoon. Deputy Mayor Martin presided and Councillors Outerbridge, Collier, Ryan and Dowden were present.

After the minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed, the following matters received attention. R. F. Horwood, on behalf of the Methodist College Board of Governors, called attention to the present condition of the retaining walls adjoining the college property, and pointed out the need of having same repaired, etc. This was referred to the City Engineer.

The Proprietors of the several Moving Picture Theatres in the city forwarded a petition, asking that the present tax on gross receipts of such entertainments be removed. The Council regrets it cannot accede to this request.

The communications of W. Gosse, Plymouth Road, and F. Bursell, New Gower Street, with regard to road conditions, were referred to the City Engineer.

A petition was read from J. J. Carter, F. J. Roll and other citizens, asking that motorists be prevented from using the Old Railway Track, which is much frequented by pedestrians. A similar matter was the subject of discussion some years ago, and it was ordered that records in connection with same be looked up. The matter of reserving the Southside Road on Sundays and holidays for pedestrian use only was also talked over, and is to be taken up with the Newfoundland Motor Association.

The Minister of Public Works asked that the moneys collected account fees for Registration of Motor Cars, be handed over to the Newfoundland Road Commission. Up to June 30th, some $18,000.00 has been collected, and it was ordered that a cheque for $12,000.00 be forwarded the Road Commission as its proportion of this amount.

Mr. George R. Parsons offered to supply an Orchestra—which he suggested should be installed in Bannerman Park—for the sum of $1,000.00. No action was taken in the matter.

The Newfoundland Motor Association offer to supply, at their own expense, a sufficient quantity of Tarvia to oil the Toppal Road in the vicinity of the Sanatorium, if the Council would place at their disposal the apparatus used in connection with this work, as was done last year. This was agreed to.

Attention was called to the danger to motorists through overhanging boughs of a tree near St. Clare's Hospital, LeMarchant Road. The Engineer was instructed to inquire into the matter.

Mr. John English was appointed instructor at the Long Pond Swimming Pool.

In the matter of a complaint made by a resident of Denary Avenue with regard to the unsanitary condition of stable near his dwelling, it was ordered that this be taken up with the Medical Officer of Health.

During the past week, some persons unknown broke into Bannerman Park after closing hours, destroying the locks on the gates, and also those binding the playground apparatus for the night. Such vandalism cannot be too severely dealt with, and it is hoped to have the guilty parties located. Many matters in connection with the repairing of roads, oiling of streets, etc., were discussed, and instructions as to further work of this kind were issued.

Attention was called to the fact that

Legislative Council

OFFICIAL SYNOPSIS.

THURSDAY, July 24.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.
Hon. President read communication from his Excellency the Governor announcing the appointment of the following to be the Internal Economy Committee of the Legislature, namely: Hon. President of the Legislative Council, Hon. A. B. Morine, K.C., Hon. S. Milley, the Speaker of the House of Assembly, the Prime Minister, the Colonial Secretary, the Attorney General.

Honourable members visited Government House and presented the Address in Reply to the Speech from his Excellency had been pleased to deliver at the opening session.

The House resumed and the Clerk read his Excellency the Governor's reply to Address.

On motion of Hon. Mr. Gibbs, the Bill entitled, "An Act to amend Chapter 7 of 11 George V., entitled 'An Act to authorize the Montreal Trust Company to do business in the Colony of Newfoundland,'" was read a first time and ordered to be read a second time on to-morrow.

Second reading of Bill entitled "An Act to amend Chapter 86 of the Consolidated Statutes (Third Series) entitled 'Of Stipendiary Magistrates and Justice of the Peace'."

Hon. Mr. Morine in moving the second reading of this Bill, pointed out that it was for the purpose of giving Stipendiary Magistrates jurisdiction as such over the whole Island and its dependencies. There had been difficulty in that Magistrates named in their commission for certain districts or places had no jurisdiction elsewhere and the Department of Justice had on occasion to send men from other places outside their jurisdictions. For instance some time ago the Magistrate had to be sent from Grand Falls to Bonavista Bay for a certain case and when the matter had come before the Courts later it was contended that he had no jurisdiction. The Bill provides that any Magistrate though still residing in his own district would have jurisdiction over the whole Island.

Sir P. T. McGrath thought that whilst this was a step in the right direction, we should also consider the fact that at the present time we have too many Magistrates in the Island. In 1898 there were 18 Magistrates whose salaries came to the sum of $13,850, but at the present time we have 31 Magistrates who are paid the sum of $37,700. The population of the country has since that time increased by about 25 per cent whilst the number of Magistrates has increased 70 per cent and their salaries doubled. Now that the country has such improved means of communication and travel and that people have, we might say, become somewhat morally improved, there should not be any need for such a large number of Magistrates. He wished it to be understood that this was not a criticism of any particular Government and more especially the present Government. Every new Government for a long number of years has had to give Magistries to political supporters and it is time now that some of these positions be done away with, and as some of the present Magistrates pass away, steps should be gradually taken to remedy the state of affairs. Even within the past two or three weeks it is true that some have resigned their positions and others have been appointed. As regards the movement that has been mentioned in the Lower House and in the press regarding the re-distribution of seats, he thought this deserved every consideration. Last week at Ottawa there was a Bill introduced for the redistribution of seats and they now have a House composed almost entirely of one man seats, the only exceptions being Halifax and St. John, and in South Africa where the recent elections were held there were 135 one man constituencies. The sooner we have this system introduced in this country the better for all, and with this in use it would be possible for a Magistrate to be assigned to a political district and so greatly reduce the number.

Appreciation of Firemen's Work

(Copy)
Chas. H. Hutchings, Esq., K.C.,
Inspector General Constabulary,
City.

"Dear Sir—I would like to congratulate you and your Fire Department on the splendid work of one of your Motor Pumper at a fire which occurred at my country residence some weeks ago while I was absent from the city. Without the slightest doubt, the bungalow adjoining the building which was destroyed would also have been burned, as well as the surrounding trees, had it not been for the wonderful work of the Pumper which in this one instance alone saved many thousands of dollars worth of property, and it is only another instance to show your wisdom in equipping your splendid Department with such modern fire fighting apparatus.

Please convey my sincere thanks to your Department for their splendid work and really astonishing promptness in responding to the call. Will you be good enough to accept the enclosed small cheque for distribution amongst the men, or as a contribution to any fund of theirs, whichever you may think fit. I am,
Yours faithfully,
(Sgd.) T. A. MACNAB,
St. John's, July 22nd, 1924.

(Copy)
Fire-Fighters' Acknowledgment.
T. A. MacNab, Esq.,
City.

Dear Sir—On behalf of the members of the Fire Department I beg to thank you very sincerely for your generous recognition of their services at your country residence near Brookfield Bridge some time ago. Permit me also to express my appreciation of your very complimentary reference to the Pumper. To motor nearly four miles and save the outhouse, in which the fire broke out, from total destruction, not to speak of the main residence, is a feat in which I take much pride. Every day I feel increasingly assured that the introduction of modern fire-fighting apparatus has been more than justified.

On Monday morning the speed with which the aerial ladder reached the Bell Street fire saved at least three, if not five lives. If we had to throw horses to get to the scene, even at their quickest speed, one of the worst fire fatalities in our history would have undoubtedly occurred.

Yours sincerely,
(Sgd.) CHAS. H. HUTCHINGS,
Inspector General Constabulary.

C. L. B. Cadets

The Church Lads Brigade were all settled down to camp life last night. Captain House, Camp Commandant, reports everybody well with following Officers on duty—Capt. Hayward Adj. Capt. N. French of No. 1 Company from Bay Roberts with twenty-five lads, Captain R. W. Sheppard of Portugal Cove with fifteen lads, Rev. A. Pittman, Camp Chaplain Dr. Burden is Chief Medical Officer and reports yesterday's camp 100 per cent efficient. Lieutenants Fred Reid and W. R. Moty, are also on duty making seven officers and 162 ranks sleeping under canvas last night. This is the largest camp in C.L.B. history. Acting Regimental Sergt-Major Best is a busy officer in consequence. Camp routine is as follows:—

- 5.45 a.m.—Reveille.
- 6.00 " —Cocoa
- 6.30 " —Washing and clean camp.
- 6.45 " —Company parade and sick parade.
- 7.45 " —Colours.
- 8.00 " —Breakfast.
- 9.00 " —Inspection.
- 9.15 " —Orderly Room.
- 9.30 " —Company parade and special class.
- 10.00 " —Guard Mounting.
- 11.00 " —Battalion Parade.
- 12.00 " —Bathing Parade.
- 1.00 p.m. —Dinner.
- 2.30 to 5—General leave.
- 5.30 " —Tea.
- 6.00 to 9—General leave.
- 7.00 " —Retreat.
- 9.00 " —Roll Call.
- 9.10 " —Prayers.
- 10.00 " —Lights Out.

All of which makes a busy day. Capt. House and staff are grateful to Messrs. The Colonial Cordage Company, Ayre and Sons, Ltd., Augustus Lester and The Royal Stores Ltd., for their trucks moving baggage yesterday to Topsail as well as to kind friends who motored in the lads. The camp will be electrically lighted and connected with long distance telephone to-day. Yesterday's visitors were—His Lordship the Mayor, Hon. Tasker Cook, Mr. H. D. Reid, and Mr. W. H. Pike, also Lieut. R. J. Mercer of Bay Roberts. Unfortunately Capt. House has had news cancelling the invitation from the Bell Island Company to be their guests next Thursday at the Wabana Church Garden Party. Major Lindsay had made all arrangements for camp so that it is a huge disappointment to the lads that the trip has been called off for reasons beyond Major Lindsay's control. Lieut. Fred Reid is Mess President of the Officers' Mess this Camp.

Prizes are needed for the annual camp sports next Wednesday. Hon. Tasker Cook has headed the list with a generous gift of five dollars. Old Comrade Edward Willis, the well known Baker of Duckworth Street and one of the oldest "old boys" of the first C.L.B. Camp has offered to supply all ranks on Sunday with a supply of sweet buns in memory of former happy camping days in company of gallant lads many of whom have passed out into the rays of the setting sun. Thanks Comrade for your donation. Everybody is well and happy and all is needed is fine weather.—Q.

Words of Wisdom

"I cannot see why any woman should toil and labour with unsatisfactory washing soap when this Pearline does the work with little trouble and expense." Pearline is becoming known as the great labour saving compound. Women who wash and scrub with Pearline never become tired and "all in" for Pearline requires but little effort. Pearline does the work. If this great time and labour saver cost ten dollars, it would be eagerly purchased, but when it costs only ten cents, it should be used in ever home. Ask your grocer for Pearline. If he hasn't stocked up yet, he can do so quickly by getting in touch with the local agent Gerald S. Doyle.—July 25.1f

NEW YORK, July 25.—The Carpenter and Tunney fight had an unsatisfactory finish last night and saw the K.O. of Carpenter in the 14th round. Carpenter claimed it was a foul punch to the stomach by a heavy right. The referee was unsatisfied but claimed that Carpenter jumped up while the blow was being delivered and thereby brought down the foul.

SINCLAIR OMTS COMMON DIVIDEND.

Directors Desir To Conserve Cash During Period Of Uncertainty—Six Months' Net Up 20% Over 1923 Period. (Boston News Bureau.) NEW YORK.—Directors of Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corp. have omitted the quarterly dividend of 50 cents on the common shares due at this time. Sinclair Consolidated common dividend, omitted Wednesday, has been paid regularly since initial 50 cents quarterly dividend was declared in June, 1922, making a total of eight quarterly disbursements of 50 cents a share each. In June, 1920, an 8% common stock dividend was declared and distributed being made in four quarterly payments of 2% each. Net earnings for six months to June 30 were more than $9,000,000. This amount is about 20% greater than earnings in first six months of 1923, and is within $1,000,000 of net earnings for entire year 1923. The corporation passed its peak in borrowing some time ago and bank loans are being reduced. No additional financing is contemplated. Statement issued by Sinclair Consolidated says it was opinion of directors that for the best interests of stockholders cash should be conserved during the present period of uncertainty in the oil industry. Accordingly the dividend of 50 cents on common was omitted. Regular quarterly dividend of $2 on the preferred stock was declared payable Aug. 15 to stock of record Aug. 1.

Master of the Fleet

(By JACKSTAFF.) Arranging the anchorage for the Fleet is one of the biggest undertakings connected with organizing a naval review. Upon the skill with which it is done depends largely the success of the review itself. "Station"—that is, correct distance apart—represents to a fleet what "dressing" does to a battalion on parade. Everything must be correct, to a hair's breadth almost, or the Fleet will not get from the King the approving signal which everybody in it looks forward to as the greatest compliment they could receive. A sailor himself, the King views the ships with a sailor's eye and "station keeping" is one of the things he observes most keenly. Other considerations beside that make anchorage a matter of first consequence. The ships, many of 30,000 tons, must have room to swing in security. Space has also to be provided for the safe passage of other vessels. When, as will happen at Portsmouth on July 23, what at 3 p.m. is a stretch of open water has by 4 p.m. been converted into a well-walled city with a population of 30,000 in its long streets, the traffic problem in these streets has to be thought out very carefully. Up and down them will go huge liners, the biggest in the world, taking thousands of people across the Atlantic and bringing many more thousands back. If a ship was out of station there might be a big disaster. So the first thing done after a review has been decided upon is to appoint a navigating expert as Master of the Fleet and charge him with the responsibility of preparing the anchorage. The Master of the Fleet gathers a staff of experts around him and they get to work. First they pore carefully over large charts which show every detail of the roadstead in which the Fleet is to moor, from the depth of the water at all states of the tide to the nature of the sea bottom. The names and particulars of each ship to be accommodated are supplied to them. With meticulous care they measure off distances and prepare a "chart of the Fleet," an anchoring plan on which is shown the position every ship must take up. Then comes the task of laying the charts. With their charts of the Fleet as a working drawing the experts go out to the roadstead and place a small buoy at the exact spot where each ship is to anchor. Pins are then sent to all the ships concerned, so that the navigating officer of each one of them may know which buoy he has to pick up, as pick it up he must with absolute accuracy when the time comes for him to "drop his mud-hook." Watching a review fleet come to anchor according to the chart is a fascinating sight. Each division of it steams in line and anchors by signal. In other words, the admiral leads them to their position. Then he gives the word and all anchors go down simultaneously with the regulation 500 yards between each ship. The result of Brookfield drawing—Prize: Lady's Bicycle—Won by W. Galton—Ticket No 206.—July 25.11

The Railway and the Commissioners.

The Railway Commissioners appointed by the Government are men who possess a thorough knowledge of the business of the country, and the conditions which have to be considered in order to provide an economical, and at the same time an efficient service, and we feel certain they will command the confidence of the country. In giving their services voluntarily, particularly for work of such an onerous character, they are deserving of the highest commendation, and although we do not hold with the appointment of officials to important positions without remuneration as a general practice, we are convinced that in this case the personnel of the Commission is ample justification of the wisdom of the Government in accepting their services, and the straitened financial condition of the country is a further sound reason for making an exception to the rule.

There are many serious problems to be tackled by the Commission, and there is one in particular which will not admit of delay. On Wednesday morning an accident happened to the express and two lives were lost as a result. The number of cases in which cars have left the rails during recent months is sufficient to warrant a thorough enquiry in order to ascertain the cause and to remedy the fault. The railway management has stated that a full investigation is being held into Wednesday's disaster. While we have every confidence in the officials in charge of operations, we consider that both in their interest and that of the public such an enquiry should be made by an impartial body of competent men.

That the operation of the railway has been attended with a remarkably small number of fatalities in the past is a matter to be thankful for, but because we have been fortunate is no reason why we should trust to a continuation of the same good fortune in the future. There is no intention to cast any reflection upon those responsible for the running of the service. They are carrying on under difficulties but if any of these difficulties can be removed or even lessened, and if any means can be devised whereby the lives of passengers and train hands can be further safeguarded, the necessity for holding an enquiry at once becomes imperative.

In connection with the statement made by the Daily News this morning that the late Commissioners were paid $3000 each for their services, we have been asked to publish the following communication, to which, in justice to them, we are very glad to give space:—

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir.—We were much surprised to read in this morning's "News" that we had been paid by the late Government the sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000.00) each, for our services as Railway Commissioners, and desire to say that such statement is absolutely false, and that the total payment we received was one thousand dollars each, which was paid by the Railway Company.

Yours truly, W. W. HALFYARD, GEORGE SHEA, TASKER COOK. July 25th, 1924.

In the Day's News

Barl Haig, as commander of Britain's imperial forces, pays a graceful tribute to the valor of the Newfoundland troops who went to the World War. In coming to the insular dependency to attend the unveiling of a memorial. Out of but 350,000 people the little dominion—which is wholly independent of Canada—sent nearly 10,000 men into active service with the army and navy, and the fishing and sealing fleets on which the island dwellers depend for a livelihood were solely crippled by the absence of the young men. No nation in proportion to the number of its inhabitants gave more to the cause of the Allies than Newfoundland—a country, which means a great deal more to its people than the "rock, rag and bog" of the pessimist's description.—Public Ledger, July 1.

Fell From Motor Truck

Gerald, the 15-year-old son of Thos. O'Mara, was somewhat badly injured yesterday evening by falling from a motor truck on which he and a number of companions were driving. They were on their way to Sliding Rock, Renfrew's River. Young O'Mara who was sitting on the side of the truck was thrown off owing to the sudden swerving of the car. He hit on his head and received several minor bruises about the shoulders. On being taken home he was attended by Dr. Griener who ordered him to hospital, where an X-Ray examination was made. He is resting well to-day and no doubt will be all right in a few days time.

PEPPYS BEHIND THE SCENES.

July 24th.—Comes Povey to me in the highest glee, and is because he believes I will write of him no longer since people might confuse him with Mr. Povey, the Minister, that I met with but lately. I did give him the reason for keeping his good humor, however, telling him that I would write of him alone, and would make it clear to all that read my journal that it is not the person of whom I write. He very much at this, and tells me he will not have me to write of him in the bottle of port that he was made a present of last evening from his grandfather's cellar, if I do not promise to leave him be, which I would not do for all the port he has, having some very good stuff of mine own well hid at home.

Buying gasoline this day, to my great discontent, and the price of it raised 10 cents a gallon, and was only with the greatest difficulty that I could buy it at the old price. Methinks, however, it becomes us all not to grumble, but to support the Cabal, even at small cost to ourselves, that we may be better off for it another time. The House this day passes the Flour Mill Bill, and is now ready for debate in the Upper House, where like to pass without opposition. The Railway Commission and the Internal Economy Commission announced in the House and on the former there are now 5 members where before there were 3, but where the old Commission was paid some thousands of dollars, the new one gets no pay at all.

Sea Gull Tries Conclusions With A Motor Car

Last night, as a motor car was coming through Seal Cove, the occupants were somewhat alarmed by the sudden appearance of a large white object coming straight towards them, and an instant later hurling itself against the radiator. Upon stopping the car, they found that the cause of their scare was a very large sea gull, which had apparently been blinded by the glare and dashed itself to death.

In Memoriam

The saying, in the midst of Life we are in Death, was never more fully exemplified than in the passing of Will Perchard, who lost his life in the train accident on Tuesday last. The deceased entered the Post Office when only thirteen years old as Postal Carrier, and gave faithful service ever since, and for the last thirteen years has been Postal Clerk on the express train to Port aux Basques, a position that calls for arduous and continuous work during the thirty hours run across country. He was a general favorite with his co-workers in the Post Office and highly esteemed by the various Ministers of Posts and Mr. LeMessurier's Deputy Minister. Strict attention to duty was always Will Perchard's motto, and so he died at duty's post. He leaves to mourn a father, step-mother, wife and two young children, two sisters in the States and an uncle, Jos. Perchard, to whom the sympathy of the community will go out in their sad bereavement.

Cause of Derailment Unknown

RELATED PASSENGERS DUE MID-NIGHT.

Up to the present the Management of the Government Railway have refused to furnish particulars that would help to throw any light on the exact causes of the derailment which occurred at Cape Ray. Road officials from Humbermouth were present at the scene of the wreck yesterday, and after making an examination of the track reported that there was nothing wrong with the road bed or rails where the engine went off. The investigation is being continued, and further word is expected from Roadmaster Hartrey to-day. The main line where the derailment occurred was expected to be cleared up this morning. The passenger cars have been shunted back to Port aux Basques, and the repairs to the damaged road bed completed. The express with the Kyle's mail and passengers should get away about 1 p.m., and come along without any interruption.

Magistrate's Court

A 35-year-old labourer, Rossier's Lane, charged with being drunk, and also indecent exposure was fined $2 with the option of 7 days. A 41-year-old labourer, Brazil's Field, given in charge by his wife for being drunk and disorderly in his house and using threatening language toward her, was allowed to go. The wife failed to appear against him. A 26-year-old farmer, Foxtrap, C. B., was charged with first assaulting his father, second, doing malicious damage to property, third, using threatening language. This case was postponed until Saturday morning at 10.30. Sergt. A. Stapleton had two young men before court charging them with acting in a loose and disorderly manner on the public street. They were fined $2 each. A man for assaulting another named Brown was fined $2. A husband summoned by his wife for failing to support herself and two children during the past month was dismissed for want of prosecution.

The Trains

Yesterday's west bound express left Quarry at 7.30 this morning. The train with the Kyle's mail and passengers was not expected to get away from Port aux Basques until about 1 p.m. The delay is due to the uncertain arrival of the passenger cars which figured in the derailment. These cars are undamaged, and will be used to make up the full train equipment. The passengers of the wrecked express transferred to Tuesday's west bound train yesterday morning. The train left Cape Ray about noon, and there was considerable time lost while en route due to the fact that the train had to be backed up to Little River, a distance of nine miles, before the engine and cars could be re-arranged and placed in their proper order. Later word was received that the train left Badger Brook at 8 o'clock this morning, making good progress, and should reach the city by midnight.

The situation seems to be clearing up and an approaching solution foreseen says Haig.

PERSIAN REPLY TO JOINT NOTE UNSATISFACTORY.

LONDON, July 25. The Persian Government's reply to the collective note of representatives of all powers with regard to the killing of Robert W. Imbrie, the American Vice Consul at Teheran is considered to be most unsatisfactory according to a Teheran despatch to the Daily Mail. The Persian Government despatch says it will disclaim all responsibility for the incident, and make various excuses for the inaction of police. Among three hundred arrested since the crime is the anti-British agitator Mullah Khal Issadeh who has been deported. Owing to imputations that British Interligues were responsible for the death of the Consul, Imbrie, the Persian Premier has issued a warning that any one spreading rumors likely to cause trouble with friendly powers will be severely punished.

FRENCH CONFIDENT THAT A FORMULA WILL BE FOUND.

LONDON, July 25. Although Premier Theunis of Belgium and British and United States representatives at the Inter-Allied Conference are continuing to exercise to the utmost their powers of conciliation, the deadlock remains unbroken between Premier Herriot of France and the British and United States financiers over the formula by which to safeguard proposed loan to Germany. Before and after the King's garden party at Buckingham Palace yesterday, conferences and informal conversation were carried on in an effort to discover a formula which would be acceptable to all. Another long conference between M. Theunis and Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan and Company was typical of the efforts which are being made and the resources which are being exercised in the effort to restore the unanimity which characterized the earlier work of the Conference. "With so much good will," said French delegate "we shall find a way of solution of this dual problem of giving the bankers their proper guarantees, and at the same time maintain the sovereign rights of France according to the treaty of Versailles.

MONTREAL ROUSED BY ABDUCTION.

MONTREAL, July 25. Early this morning police and detectives are scouring the city and district in connection with one of the most audacious abductions that has ever occurred here. Never Felt so Cheap IN ALL HIS MORTAL LIFE.

A good story comes from New York concerning Mr. Woolworth—who he built the famous skyscraper there that is named after him, and who studied all America and a good part of Europe with cheap shops.

While he was a young man he appeared to give evidence against a prisoner in one of the accused was supposed to have committed a robbery, and the police had chased him

"I never felt so cheap in my life," he remarked ruefully to the judge, who was so delighted with the prisoner's ready wit that he let him off with a light sentence.

over several roofs. Just as he was about to make good his escape—crash!—he went through a skylight into one of Woolworth's "Five and Ten Cent Stores."

He landed plumb amongst a lot of goods, and the first thing he made out on recovering his wits was the sign: "Everything on this counter 5 cents."

House of Assembly Proceedings

The House met at 3 o'clock. His Honor the Speaker informed the House that he had received a communication from his Excellency the Governor that he would receive the Address in Reply presently. The Speaker therefore left the Chair and with the members proceeded to Government House, and the Address in Reply was presented. Returning to the House the following business was proceeded with:—

Committee on Ways and Means was deferred.

Several members gave notices of questions.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS.

Mr. Brown asked Hon. the Prime Minister if the Government has begun negotiations with any person or persons regarding the sale or operation of the Newfoundland Railroad, also if the person, or the Government, has been approached by any person, or persons, with a view to opening up negotiations along these lines.

The Prime Minister in reply stated that the answer to the whole of the question was in the negative.

Mr. Warren asked Hon. the Minister of Posts and Telegraphs how many motor boats are to do the work of the West in Fortune Bay, Hermitage Bay and Bay d'Espoir, if any of these motor boats have already taken up the service, what amount is being paid them or to be paid them, and to lay upon the table of the House a copy of the notices or letters asking for tenders for the services.

In the absence of the Minister of Posts and Telegraphs through illness, the Prime Minister tabled the following reply:—On July 17th the Postmistress was instructed by wire "Ask tenders for Mail Service. Garnish round to Belleoram after Portia arrives from St. John's. Also ask offer for motor boat Belleoram to Hr. Breton calling at all offices; Sagona and Brunette included."

In reply the postmistress stated an offer had been received for the Garnish route, or Fortune Bay proper, at $75.00 per trip, and the Department has received an offer for the Belleoram-Hr. Breton route at $60.00 per trip. There is already a motor ferry starting from Gaultois serving all offices in Bay d'Espoir and mails will be sent by that conveyance. At 25 fortnightly trips cost would be $3,510.

Mr. Hickman asked Hon. the Minister of Justice if any inquiry is being made into the circumstances surrounding the accident at Wabana, in which Robert Yetman of Bryant's Cove lost his life and other workmen were injured. Will there be a report before the close of this session?

In reply the Minister of Justice stated two enquiries were proceeding, one by the Government Engineer, and the other by the ministerial enquiry. He hoped to have both reports before the session closed.

Mr. Grimes asked the Minister of Public Works if any new appointments have been made in connection with his Department since he assumed office or are in contemplation of being made, and, if so, what are the reasons therefor?

The Minister of Public Works stated in reply that only one new appointment had been made, that of Mr. Penney to the caretakerhip of the Post Office at Carboneau, in place of Mr. B. Quinn.

The Speaker reported that he had received the names of the Internal Economy Commission for this session and the following names to the House:—The President of the Legislative Council, Hons. A. B. Morline and S. Milley, the Speaker of the House of Assembly, the Prime Minister, the Colonial Secretary and the Attorney General.

The House went into Committee on Supply and passed the whole of the remaining votes, rose and reported progress and asked leave to sit again.

Mr. Halfyard asked about the intention of the Government re the granting of timber licenses by public tender to the highest bidder. He thought the Act would have to be amended to permit of that procedure.

Sir John Crosbie in reply stated that Mr. Halfyard's contention was right, and the Government contemplated an amendment to the Act so as to enable them to put the new policy into force.

Mr. Halfyard also brought up the matter of cattle claims of people who had cattle killed on the railway track. He had a large number of such claims from people of Trinity Bay. He was in favour of a clause in the Manifesto of Sir Michael Cashin when he went to the country stating that these claims would be handled by the Government and taken out of the bands of the Field N.S. Co. Of course now that the railway was owned by the Government he expected to see this policy brought into effect.

The Prime Minister stated that this matter had been engaging the attention of the Government and the conclusion arrived at was that it was a matter for the railway people to deal with and not the Government.

The House then went into Committee on the Printing Bill. Brief comments were made by Messrs. Hibbs, Brown, Hickman and Grimes. They supported the principle of the Bill, but Mr. Hickman protested against the creation of a new department.

Pascoe Grenfell Panel

UNVEILED BY LORD MAYOR.

Mr. Pascoe Grenfell was a citizen of London in the latter part of the 18th and the beginning of the 19th century. When the Lord Mayor of London recently unveiled his portrait in panel form at the Royal Exchange many of his descendants were present. Among them were Field-Marshal Lord Grenfell and the Hon. Madeline Grenfell, Lord Desborough, Lord Chichester and the Dowager Lady Chichester, Bishop and Lady Mary Glynn, Lady Mildmay of Flete, Dr. Wilfred Grenfell (of Labrador fame), and Miss Kingsley.

Of Pascoe Grenfell's daughters, one married Charles Kingsley and another James Anthony Froude. The third daughter married Lord Sidney Godolphin Osborne, the well known writer in "The Times" over the initials "S.G.O." The fourth daughter married Mr. Glynn, the first Lord Wolverton, the head of Glynn's Bank, who took the leading part in developing the railways in their early days. Of his male descendants, three generations in succession have been directors of the Bank of England, and until a month ago the family still kept up their connection with the Governorship of the Royal Exchange Assurance. The donor of the panel—Mr. E. C. Grenfell—is a partner in the financial banking houses of Morgan Grenfell & Co., and J. P. Morgan & Co., and senior member of Parliament for the City of London.

The brief biography of Pascoe Grenfell was outlined by the Lord Mayor. He lived from 1761 until 1838, and was, according to the Dictionary of National Biography, "a zealous supporter of William Wilberforce on slavery questions, a vigilant observer on the actions of the Bank of England, and a great authority on finance. It was on account of his speeches in the House of Commons that the periodical publication of the accounts of the Bank was commenced." Mr. E. C. Grenfell, M.P., added these two stories of his ancestor: "His father once rescued from highwaymen an old gentleman, unknown to him, who proved to be Mr. Hope, of Amsterdam, and who, in gratitude of his deliverance, took his son—the subject of the panel—into his banking house. That was the beginning of his prosperity. The other story was equally picturesque. Pascoe Grenfell, then the Governor of the Royal Exchange Assurance, was an eye-witness to the destruction of the Exchange by fire in January, 1838. He went home, took to his bed, and died the same night."—London Times, July 3.

THE MODERN BARBER.

The old-time barber used to be a genial sort of cuss; He gathered up the gossip and he'd give it all to us. His language wasn't polished, and some epithets he'd use. To strengthen his opinions or to decorate the news. He'd snip and talk and snip, and now and then he'd let us see the ladies' pictures in the old Police Gazette.

The old-time barber didn't need an education vast. 'Twas enough to know the fighters of the present and the past; And in the baseball season he could get along right well With the home team's printed schedule and a yarn or two to tell. Then, as we waited for our turn, we never had to fret. We could look at all the ladies in the old Police Gazette.

But now the old-time barber and his shop have passed away; Men no longer talk with freedom when they visit him to-day. For the women folk are sitting round the room in every chair. And the modern barber's busy hobnobbing many a matron's hair. Now it's "Vogue" and the "Picture" that his waiting passers get. Instead of that old favorite, the pink Police Gazette!

The modern barber's had to learn a line of talk that's new; The language of the prae ring and the diamond will not do. Now he snips and chats of fashions, weddings, dinner parties, teas; And tells 'em who's been in to get their tresses bobbed for these. There is never talk of prize fight or a horse race or a bet. For his shop is now a parlor, where there's no Police Gazette.

Watch For "The Green Goddess"

COMING TO THE NICKEL NEXT WEEK.

That highly melodramatic story "The Green Goddess," by William Archer, has been transferred to the screen by the Distinctive Pictures Corporation and with George Arliss starred will be shown at the Nickel Theatre next week. As a play "The Green Goddess" enjoyed a run of two years at the Booth Theatre, New York, being one of the most successful stage offerings of the past decade. It is now meeting with equal success in London.

The picture version, which will be shown at the Nickel Theatre, has had a record-breaking run at the Sam H. Harris Theatre, New York, equalling in every way its popularity as a play. The sets for this photoplay are said to be unequalled for splendor, and the most elaborate ever constructed in an Eastern studio.

In support of Mr. Arliss in "The Green Goddess" is a distinguished cast. In the principal feminine role is the always gorgeous Alice Joyce. Incidentally this appearance marks Miss Joyce's return to the screen after several years' absence. David Fowell, remembered chiefly for his remarkable work in support of Mae Murray in "On With the Dance," has a wonderful part, as has Harry T. Morey, the former Vitagraph star. Others in the cast are Jetta Goudal, Ivan Simpson and William Worthington.

The direction of "The Green Goddess" was in the hands of Sidney Olcott, who acted in a similar capacity for Marion Davies in "Little Old New York." Forest Halsey, famous magazine writer and novelist, adapted the play to the screen. Oriental details were personally supervised by Roshanara, famous interpreter of East Indian Dances.

PUSHING YOUR PRIVILEGES.

A country neighbor of mine borrowed my telephone the other day. She had just discovered at 5.00 in the afternoon that she was out of mustard and wanted the store to send it up as she was going to have ham. The rules in that store are no delivery after four. Before that time they make three deliveries. But she pleaded with them, evidently with success, for she came out smiling and plainly pleased with herself.

"I don't believe they would have done that," she said, "but you know there's a rumor that there's a cash and carry store coming and they're so afraid they'll lose some of their trade. So I just made them understand that I should be very sorry if they didn't accompany me and they said they'd try to."

The store is half a mile away. The cost of delivery properly computed, without the man's time, will be from five to eight cents.

Now was that a square, decent thing to do?

Can You Beat It?
And to do over and over again, as I happen to know that woman does. On another occasion I was in this same shop when someone telephoned. The clerk came out of the booth with a grin on his face. "Can you beat it?" he inquired.

"It" proved to be the request of one of their women customers. She had bought a quart of ice cream (not packed) because she expected company. The company had not come and she wanted to have the man and team come and get that ice cream (they had already delivered it for her) and put it back in the freezer and then let her have it again the next day, when her company was coming.

What They Get Away With
"How can she have the face to ask that?" someone queried.
"Oh, she knows well do it because their automobiles with stuff; then when they find they're out of a yeast cake they'll telephone to 'C's for it." Of course no one could say that anyone hadn't a right to do that if he could get away with it. But there are people who don't do all the things they have that kind of a right to do, because some peculiar sense of decency and fitness and fairness inhibits them. What an awful nuisance (ideas are) Don't do us the least bit of good. And yet we hang onto them. Queer, isn't it?

SPOILING A KINDNESS.
I called on Charles H. Gander, and asked him for a loan. "So help me, A I e xander," I said, "I need a 'none.'" He sighed with cruel candor, "You make my spirit groan. The times are hard as thunder, and plunks are far between; I have small store of plunder, my bank account is lean, and it would seem a blunder to ask me for long green. My wife and children holler for 'kopecks from my till, and every passing caller, it seems, presents a bill; but here's a hard-earned dollar, your 'long felt want to fill." I went away repining, and shed a furtive tear, for Gander's plaintive whining was very sad to hear; one's features should be shining when busted friends are near. If one would do a favour, it should be done with zest; a kindness should not savor of gloom and thoughts depressed; produce a smile and wave her, and perpetrate a jest. But on a gladsome morrow the luck was mine again; I shook off all my sorrow, and brandished franc and

Political Scraps in Brazil
VARIETY THE SPICE OF LIFE.
The Situation Of Sao Paulo.

Friends of Brazil will read with great regret a state of revolution exists in and about Sao Paulo. Exporters to that country will also feel some anxiety as such events tend to depress business and effect the rates of exchange. The City of Sao Paulo with well over 65,000 inhabitants, is a modern progressive city, situated over 2,000 feet above the sea level. The railway connecting the State of Sao Paulo with the lowlands, built by an English Company, is a splendid engineering feat. From the year 1827 to 1836 no less than 493,535 Italians emigrated to Sao Paulo State, whilst throughout the Republic of Brazil, it is estimated the number reached 1,000,000. Since then the numbers have increased if anything. Many large industries are being run by Italians with Italian labor, and appear to be flourishing. Sao Paulo is the great coffee producing State of the Union, the crop being valued at about $18,000,000. The Port for Sao Paulo is Santos, which until recent years was considered one of the most unhealthy ports in South America. It was rarely if ever spoken of as a "clean port." However as the result of excellent work on the part of the health authorities, Santos is today healthy, and a port of considerable importance. It may surprise some of your readers to learn that from January to June 1921, the value of fish and fish products entering Santos was placed at $72,440, computed at the rate of exchange at that time. In years gone by, I understand Newfoundland exported fairly large quantities of codfish to Southern Brazil. Reverting to coffee—a very few years ago, the coffee planters suffered a severe setback by a frost which swept over the plantations. Frost in the tropics is very inconceivable to those sweltering in the heat of the low lying parts of the country.

An idea of the size of Brazil can be gained when one thinks of its area which is 3,298,870 square miles, with a 3,700 mile coast line, whilst the River Amazon has a length of 4,000 miles. It is very difficult to arrive at the exact population of Brazil which according to the 1920 census was 30,635,695. The system of taking the census is somewhat faulty, at the same time one has to realize that the inhabitants are scattered over a huge tract of country, many living in the forests far away from any village. The populace are invited rather than compelled to register and many of them fail to do so, partly because they fear the object of taking the census is for the purpose of registering the numbers of military age, and mainly because a great number are illiterate and fail to grasp the meaning of the numerous notices calling upon them to give the nearest Municipal authorities the required information. Although at the point there is no color distinction in Brazil, especially in the North where one often sees white troops officered by a colored gentleman, and families having some black members and some white, many predict that in years to come, the color question is bound to arise. Brazil has other problems to face, such as a possible parting of North and South, as the North, being so far away from the seat of the Government situated in the South, (one may say the extreme South) feels rightly or wrongly that all the "plums" are possessed by the Southern States.

The Union is comprised of 20 States each under a State Governor with a house of Deputies, along the same lines as the Great Republic of the North. Friction between the State Governors and the Federal authorities is often the cause of unrest. Although there are many very able men governing the States, it cannot be denied that at times some of them have defied the President and the Federal Government. One case in mind which demonstrated this, was an occasion when one of the Governors, although beaten at the polls, refused to resign his governorship. Whether he had cause to feel that the election was not quite "straight" history does not say. However he refused to resign, consequently a few warships were sent from Rio, and promptly bombarded the Governor's Palace. A few people were injured and it was found when the palace was more or less demolished, the Governor had taken refuge in one of the Consulates (the French I think) and escaped unhurt. It took time and money to rebuild the palace, and one imagines that less drastic measures would have met the case. Slavery was only abolished on 13th May, 1888, and the remains of the old slave markets can still be seen in parts of the North. Whilst in the South there are quite good educational facilities, the North enjoys no such advantages, and are consequently far behind in development.

Peculiar Form of Amusement.

So called revolutions are of frequent occurrence, so life is not dull for those who enjoy that particular form of amusement. Although there are revolts against the Government, the term revolution really does not apply. A better way of describing the affairs is "political scraps" as they really are the work of political agitators. During the past Presidential elections, trouble occurred in Rio and was ascribed to some Northern politicians. The facts however were that the rising was engineered by an army officer of high rank, who aspired to the Presidential chair. It appears the plans were fairly well laid, and the execution failed, but not until the garrison of one of the forts were either killed or severely wounded. Two forts and the officers training school were to have taken part in the fray, and it was timed to take place at a date when it was known the available warships were either due to dock or were receiving boiler repairs, so could not move. At "zero" one fort opened fire on some of the public buildings, the other however for some reason remained silent leaving one fort only to be dealt with by the authorities. Infantry were rushed to the spot, whilst bombing planes were employed. The bombing, however, did little or no damage, due, it is said, to the officers employed having certain sympathies for the garrison of the fort. The officer commanding the fort, or commanding the garrison at the time, managed to escape early in the game, leaving the troops to carry on the work. This they did only too faithfully fighting against great odds. The officer mentioned, I understand, was the son of the would be President, and was later arrested at his father's house. It was unfortunate that the Cadets were drawn into the affair, as it finished their chosen career on which many of them were rather keen, and they would have made good officers. For a time a state of excitement prevailed in Rio and the Officers' Club was closed, whilst many senior officers were put under arrest. Dr. Arthur da Silva Bernardes, who was President elect, had already done good work as a Governor of one of the States, and so he appears to have been popular in both Sao Paulo and Minas Geraes, one is at a loss to understand the cause of the present trouble. If it is true that the rebels number some 20,000 and occupy strategic positions favorable to them, it is quite conceivable they may hold out some time, as Brazil's standing army is small, although it is probably better equipped. Even those in parts of Brazil itself know less than the outside world of a rising, and during such times the censorship is very strict indeed, and somewhat annoying to business people, more especially to banks doing exchange work. An army officer is usually employed as Censor, and takes up his position in the cable offices. All code books, private and otherwise, must be produced together with a translation of the message. As some of the private code books are very complicated much time is lost in getting messages through, and no sooner has the code book left one's office than it may be wanted again. The inspection is undertaken very leisurely, and at times much unnecessary discussion takes place.

Caught Between Fires.

One experience I had leaves a vivid impression on my mind, firstly because of the suddenness of the uproar, and secondly because in a moment I came almost in the direct line of fire, and much resentment being involved in a scrap so soon after our 1914-18 experiences. It was during an election campaign and some members of the band which escorted the successful candidate to the Governor's Palace, were returning by way of the main commercial street, when one of the opposing forces made a remark which was resented. Before one could say "knife" the shooting occurred. The police, knowing nothing of the cause of the outbreak opened fire on all and sundry, and practically ran amuck when one of their number was fired at from an office window and instantly killed. The trouble lasted for the best part of nine days during which time, as the Officer Commanding the Federal Troops would not guarantee the safety of commerce, business was done behind closed doors, and one had to more or less run the gauntlet in going to and from his place of business. Eventually the General commanding placed a squadron of cavalry in the streets and all was once again quiet. I do not remember any of the offenders being brought to justice. About the same time fighting was going on up country and troops were sent from Rio to go into the interior, as it was stated a mob of 1,000 were marching towards the city, burning villages on the way. It was rather interesting to study the troops and their equipment. The medical service was very badly off for transport, the ambulance being anything but inviting, and one could well imagine the discomfort the wounded would undergo in being evacuated. There appeared to be an absence of supply trains and so forth. The country these troops were to face was very difficult indeed, lacking roads or railways, whilst in parts water was unobtainable. The rebels knew the country from A to Z, and could subsist where the troops could not. The result was that little or nothing was accomplished, but the show of force was sufficient to bring the rebels to their senses. One felt very sorry for the troops who were undoubtedly a fine body of men, poorly kitted for a Tropical campaign, and their sufferings must have been almost unbearable.

The Experiences of a Free Lance.

An Englishman whom I knew very well had rather an unique experience with respect to South American revolutions. It appears he had fought during the South African war, after which he proceeded to Canada with the intention of making his fortune and returning in due course to the Old Country to settle down in comfort. He had not been there long before he and some of his pals who had also gone through the South African war (one of whom was a retired regular officer) noticed an advertisement in a paper which interested them somewhat. Satisfying their curiosity they learnt that the advertisement which was rather guardedly worded, called for volunteers to take part in a rising designed to overthrow the Brazilian Government of the day and restore the Monarchy. After having made an appointment with a gentleman from Brazil who was then in New York, they were told a large force was at their disposal on arrival at I—, which only needed leaders to carry them to victory. Most of them being young and out for adventure immediately came to terms. It was accordingly arranged that they should equip themselves with saddles, firearms and a few other necessary articles and take passage over at this late date it is perhaps advisable to suppress names for a northern Brazilian port. They were warned that it would be necessary for them to board the steamer in small parties and make as little show as possible. They decided that if they were questioned they would pose as members of a circus, which they actually did on arrival at their destination, where they created quite a stir in the small town which was to be their base. Here they purchased ponies and proceeded to play their part as rough riders, etc., etc. Knowing nothing of the language, and being approached by no one with reference to the venture, they were in rather an unenviable position. They, however, held a council of war and it was decided they would improve their time by cautiously looking about them and becoming posted with reference to the disposition of troops in the town, their quarters, etc. In case of alarm, they told off several of the party to immediately run to the barracks and remove the bolts of all the rifles within range, and endeavour to overpower the troops, after which they would retire up country (little knowing what that meant) and fight a rear-guard action until joined by the forces they supposed were lying low round and about them, only waiting for some signal to take part in the fighting. As days went by they became rather anxious, as they noted by certain signs that the police were taking quite an interest in their movements. A few days later they knew the time had arrived, as whilst exercising their horses without saddles, their quarters, etc. In case of movements, an unkind wind blew the saddle covers aside thus exposing the firearms on each saddle, and a small boy gave the alarm. This goes to show that the police authorities had "got wind" of the purpose of their visit. As soon as the alarm was given there was nothing for it but flight, which they proceeded to do. Two of their numbers were killed instantly, the remainder retiring into the bush. They did all possible to wreck the few wooden bridges, and also cut the telegraph wires. To make a long story short, they were eventually rounded up and cast into prison. Whilst awaiting trial and after they were treated with the greatest consideration, being allowed to do sea bathing under guard, and go into the town. However, they were all sentenced to death in due course, and spent the best part of a year awaiting the final act. In the meantime they had mastered the language, and became quite popular with their jailors and people in the small town. About this time there was a change in Government, and representation being made to the new administration, they resign. The story appeared in many of the American papers, but unfortunately was given away when they might have received quite a decent sum for it.

The Labrador Boundary

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—The Labrador Boundary dispute has now become "an hardy annual but few of us thought there was so much money being poured out in connection with it as appeared in the list tabled by the Minister of Customs yesterday. It is high time a halt was called to all this unnecessary expenditure. First let us look into the figures opposite the name of one of our carpet knights—Sir P. T. McGrath.

In 1921-22 he received ..... $6,950.00
 " 1922-23 " ..... 6,134.77
 " 1923-24 " ..... 6,770.52

Total for 3 years ..... $19,855.29

Now let us see how some of our ex-Prime Ministers fared (and they were many of late years). We will first take Mr. W. R. Warren.

In 1921-22 he received ..... $5,000.00
 " 1922-23 " ..... $,001.70
 " 1923-24 " ..... 3,500.00

Total for 3 years ..... $16,501.70

In 1922-23, Sir Richard Squires and Lord Marris both received sums of $50,000 each. Scores of others received sums ranging from $150 up to $15,000.00. Who said there was no gold in the Labrador? It must be there and tons of it, but only ex-Prime Ministers and Government officials know where to find it. In striking contrast with the above was the statement made by Sir John Crookshank, the Minister of Finance and Customs at a previous sitting of the House. He is quoted as saying that owing to the present condition of the Country's financial affairs and through their being removed illegally by order-in-Council, the duties taken off have to continue paying the duty on flour, pork, beef, etc. In the name of Heaven then let us hand this Labrador Boundary dispute (if dispute there be) over to some competent tribunal and be done with it. What the public want to see now is a "through" man up from the highest to the lowest.

Yours truly,
 TAXPAYER.

Mr. Kinsella on Overtime

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—The figures published from the report of the Hon. the Minister of Finance, as paid to several civil servants for the fiscal period of 1923 to 1924, include $100.00 to myself from the Department of Posts and Telegraphs, and I am glad of the opportunity to be able to set straight how I received this amount.

Supt. Kinsella of the Parcel Post Department died in November, 1922 and the present Superintendent, Mr. Galway, was not appointed till May, 1923. Previous to his lamented passing Mr. Kinsella had been absent from his office two months, thus the Superintendent's place was vacant for nine months during which time I did the work and this included four of the busiest months in the year at the Parcel Posts besides attending to my own duties.

The work involved for these nine months was about $150,000.00, the Superintendent's salary would have totalled $1,042.20, while I received $100.00 for this nine months period, or eleven dollars and eleven cents a month. In other words the government saved $942.20 by holding this position vacant for nine months.

At no time, sir, can the salaries paid the Postal officials or the perquisites (not known there) obtained, be held up to astonish the public. We are the most poorly paid officials in the civil service, and yet ours is the service that is the very public's own.

If there should be an opportunity at any time to earn one hundred dollars, or one hundred cents, and to turn it in a legitimate and perfectly honest way, is there any of the decent thinking public who will resent the poor paid Postal Official from getting this poor amount?

I think not, and to that public I leave the present explanation.

Yours very truly,
 F. J. KINSSELLA.
