PURE PARIS GREEN AT TAYLORS'. COME TO THE GREAT JULY SALE.—SWIFTS'. HARVEST HOME festivals are already being arranged.

THE OPPONENTS OF OILED STREETS are exceedingly quiet these days. AS the sun is to the moon, so is the main blonde to the peroxide.

NEUTRAL SHIPS in the war zone might do something with the safety first movement.

THERE are women who put on airs because that is about all they have handy to put on.

IT is announced that a $250,000 temperance hotel will be put up at London with 200 rooms.

ATTEND the great clothing sale at SWIFTS'.

VON JAGOW may have had a "jag on" when he penned the reply to the U. S. note on the Lusitania.

Now that the U. S. has shut off the German wireless station the plant will change its name from Sayville to Saidville.

EVERY time the Germans don't get Warsaw they come back to try for Calais, and every time they don't get Calais they return for Warsaw.

BIG EGGS are still in evidence. One 7 x 8 inches in circumference laid by a Columbian Wyandotte is on exhibition in the Agricultural Office window at Petrolia.

TAYLOR develops and prints for amateur photographers.

THE hardest working man in town in summer is the printer; He sets more m's in summer than of course, he does in winter.

ON account of anniversary services being held in Wyoming Baptist church, there will be no service in the Watford Baptist church next Sunday evening.

THREE Ford cars arrived for Ray Morningstar last Friday but he was so busy superintending the building of his new garage that he passed the cars on to another dealer.

IF you need a rug or carpet come to SWIFTS' July Sale.

SCORES of young men in Lambton are frittering away their spare time when they ought to be acting the part of men anxious to do their little "bit" in defence of Anglo-Saxon civilization.

A committee appointed by the directors to solicit special prizes for the fall fair will call on business men and others next week. Think up the prizes you intend to donate and be ready for the solicitors when they call.

HAROLD LAWRENCE, formerly of Watford, was married last week at Detroit to Miss Lucy Stocker of that city. No particulars are to hand. The many friends of the groom extend congratulations in which the Guide-Advocate joins.

THE annual picnic of Trinity Church Sunday School was held in the Driving Park on Thursday afternoon. There was a big attendance of children and friends and the little ones enjoyed the races and other sports immensely, especially the lunch.

TAYLOR'S sell Webb's Chocolate for coating home-made candies.

WHAT about our civic holiday? Is it not about time the date was fixed? An excursion to Sarnia under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Patriotic Society would draw a big crowd and be the means of raising considerable money for comforts and necessities for our brave boys at the front.

IN the official war dispatches on Monday mention is made of Sergt. Claude Newell for bravery. He succeeded in carrying bombs to the firing line after several others had been killed in an attempt to do so, in the engagement on June 15th. Lambton boys are certainly covering themselves with laurels.

PEOPLE from a distance were surprised on Monday. They are coming again.—SWIFTS' Sale.

THE concert under the auspices of the 27th Regt. held in the Armory on Monday night was fairly well patronized. An excellent program was presented by artists from Toronto, including Harry Bennett the comedian and Jean Anderson. Thirde in comic songs, duets and humorous sketches and some excellent songs and dances by little Margie Monroe. The regiment will have a small sum to their credit from the venture.

ON Monday Mr. F. J. Hughes received a letter from Mr. J. C. Brown, vice-president of the Norris State Bank, Burdette, Kansas, enclosing a cheque for $20.00, which Mr. Brown wished given to the Treasurer of the Watford Patriotic Fund. It was immediately handed over to Mr. F. O. McIlveen by Mr. Hughes, and is thankfully received by the Association. Mr. Brown is a native of Watford, being born somewhere near the spot where the Guide-Advocate now stands. After being away from the town for so long a time his generous donation to the town's patriotic fund is doubly appreciated.

Boys' and men's straw hats 15c, 20c and 30c—half price.—SWIFTS' Sale.

ATTEND the shirt sale at SWIFTS'.

WHAT has become of the Swastika Club? THE Orillia Packet says that town would not willingly go back to unoled streets.

THE German rear was severely cut up the other day. That is usually the place where the kicks are coming.

AN ancient and run-down automobile looks as ancient and run down as the Sphinx, but right there the resemblance ceases.

HOUSEKEEPERS wonder if the shrinkage in the size of the radish and asparagus lunch is due to the war or some other mysterious cause.

A FRENCHMAN has been punished for selling to the Germans articles used in the communion service. The Frenchman probably thought the enemy needed all the religion he could get.

TAYLOR carries a complete line of camera supplies, Ansco and Ensign films, Cyko paper ac., in all sizes.

ONE notion of a genuine optimist is the man who is convinced that some day Henry Ford will divide $100,000,000 among the men who have never owned automobiles.

WHEN the Dominion Government contributed $5000 to the Canadian National Exhibition prize list this year the officials insisted upon adding extra classes for poultry, eggs and live stock.

THE July meeting of the I.O.D.E. will be held at the home of Mrs. Baird, on Wednesday afternoon, 21st inst., and will take the form of a garden party. Ten cents admission fee, to go for patriotic purposes. Quotations on "country life." Members are asked to bring friends.—S.E.C.

THE worst thing that can befall a young man is to fall hopelessly in debt, and to a young married man it is doubly dangerous. Young man, live within your income if it is not more than a tuppence! The old maxim, "It is not what you make, but what you save that makes men rich," is as true as gospel.

A NEW use for alfalfa has been discovered. Its sprasses have long been sung as a feed for four-footed beasts, but an American doctor who has been experimenting now comes forward and claims that it is a panacea for indigestion and mental depression in the human family. According to this doctor it is administered as a tincture and imparts an appetite that cannot be satisfied and while stimulating does not intoxicate. Alfalfa should now put it all over two-percent. beer and Peruna.

MISS MARGARET SAUNDERS, of Watford, who has been on the staff of the London, England, Chronicle since last autumn, is going to Belgium shortly with her friend, Madame Innis-Taylor, to help distribute supplies to the stricken Belgians. In the last number of the Ladies' Pictorial there is an article on Mrs. Innis-Taylor and the work she is doing, with a splendid photograph of "the famous Canadian singer." She has often visited Watford with Miss Saunders and has here a wide circle of friends.

MONDAY was "Tag Day" in Watford and the wise ones secured a tag early in the day. The young Ladies' Patriotic Society took advantage of the large crowd and tagged every man in sight with a view of raising funds for our boys at the front. Some of the young ladies secured substantial amounts by their labor of love, and $138 will be added to the bank account of the society. The ordinary manilla tag was used, printed in red with cross in centre. Only a very few men were so un-patriotic as to refuse to contribute a small sum for such a laudable purpose.

WHITE lawn aprons 19c.—SWIFTS' July Sale.

At a special meeting of the Board of Education held on Tuesday evening an entire new staff of High School teachers was engaged. Mr. T. H. Follick, M. A., is the new principal. He is a graduate of Victoria University and a specialist in Science. He has had 25 years experience in St. Marys, Cobourg, Port Perry and Athens, and comes highly recommended. His salary will be $1500. Mr. Arthur R. Brown, B. A., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Brown, of Watford, has been engaged as Mathematical master at a salary of $1,000. Mr. Brown has had charge of the school at Birch Hills, Sask., for several years and has taken a prominent part in school matters in that province. Two Watford ladies have been selected for the other positions, Miss McCaw at $1050 and Miss Mitchell at $1000. These ladies have taught here for some years and resigned several months ago to take a much needed rest.

ONE of the most pleasing and gratifying sights of a drive through the country these days is to see field after field of magnificent wheat, just beginning to assume that golden tint which tells us that the harvest will soon be upon us. Canada this year has the greatest area of wheat in her history. A Government bulletin gives the amount of land sown at 12,896,000 acres, which will yield a crop of over 257,000,000 bushels. The three northwestern provinces of course outstrip all the others, Saskatchewan leading with 6,642,100 acres, Manitoba following with 3,166,900 and Alberta with 2,850,700 acres. Ontario shows a great increase, and in Lambton county the area is much greater. From everywhere come reports of first-class crops, and the average per acre appears to be at least 15 per cent. greater than last year.

CLOTHING at SWIFTS' July Sale.

TAYLOR for good value in hammocks. UNUSUAL interest attaches this year, among the agriculturists, to the new competition for field grains at the Canadian National Exhibition.

A MEETING of the Young Ladies Patriotic Society will be held in the Armory on Monday evening at 8 p.m. A full attendance requested.

JUST as we go to press we are informed that Mr. Follick, whose application for High School principal was accepted by the Board, has obtained another position at $100 more salary.

THE hydro by-law was passed by Petrolia ratepayers on Wednesday. The vote stood 385 for the bylaw and 10 against. This is the first hydro bylaw passed in Lambton. The town will use 500 horse power and pay $36.25 per horsepower.

SUMMER SHOES at a bargain. All light summer goods must be cleared out this month and we will make the price sell them quick. For high grade shoes of all kinds, men, women or children, we guarantee the best stock procurable.—P. DODDS & SON.

ABOUT two hundred people, principally ladies, attended the recital given by the pupils of Miss Margaret Hume in the Armory on Friday evening. The fine execution and grasp of ideas of composer and teacher showed thorough training of the pupils. They were assisted in the program by Mrs. Bier, of Kingscourt, who sang two very pleasing solos, and Miss McIntosh, of Wyoming, who charmed the audience with two exceedingly well executed violin solos. Both ladies were enthusiastically encored. The following piano pupils took part: Miss Marie Roche, Miss Muriel Taylor, Miss Vera Swift, Miss Esther Weight, Miss Ethel Carroll, Miss Helen Hamilton, Master Harold Roche, Master Valore Dodds. Mrs. W. G. Connolly presided, and Reeve Kerward gave a short address. At the close of the recital the Young Ladies Patriotic Society served ice cream and cake, and the proceeds of the sale together with the silver collection netted over $25.00 for patriotic purposes.

LIEUT. STAPLEFORD writes to his wife under date of June 29th from the 2nd Red Cross Hospital, Rouen. He says that all his wounds except his right leg are doing nicely. He is suffering much from this, his foot being badly crushed, and although it has been operated on and some of the bones taken out it still gives him much pain. It is possible that he may lose the foot, yet the doctors are hopeful that it may be saved. He will remain in the Rouen hospital until he can be moved to England. He praises the nurses for their kindness and attention. Bury Binks, who is in that city, goes occasionally to see him. Lieut. Stapleford was wounded in the first German trench and he remarks that it took him several hours to crawl back to his own trench. He says:—"We lost 700 men and 21 officers in 30 minutes. I was one of three that left our own trench that ever returned alive. We must have killed at least 1000 Germans. They fight like devils." Lieut. Stapleford sends some extracts from English papers giving reports of the engagement, which are very eulogistic, giving great credit to the Canadian troops.

Highway Robbery

Herbert Sadler and Norman Holdren, two youths 15 and 17 years old respectively, were brought before A. G. Brown, J.P., on Wednesday morning and charged with highway robbery. They were committed for trial and taken to Sarnia in the afternoon.

As Mrs. O'Meara was walking along Warwick street towards her home on Tuesday evening about 6.30 she was met by the two prisoners, who snatched her purse and, running through the town, went east on the railway track. The alarm being given, Chief Chatterton and Co. Constable Elliot went in pursuit in Roche's auto, and others went down the track to head off the fugitives. They were captured near the iron bridge and the empty hand bag was found later in the creek. They were brought to town and placed in the lockup.

Sadler and Holdren are youths lately out from the old land and had been placed in positions with Brooke farmers the day before. They remained at work only one-half day and then came into town. As the evidence against them is conclusive, they will likely be given a term in jail or be deported.

The chase after the culprits was a lively one and caused quite a ripple of excitement for a short time.

BROOKE

On Sunday afternoon last the members L. O. L. 1029 turned out to attend divine service in Christ church, Sutorville, where the rector, Rev. S. P. Irwin, B.A., preached an interesting and very forcible sermon from Acts 15: 26, "Men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ." The address was listened to with great attention, and the lessons included should be productive of much good, not only to the Orange brethren, but to all who listened to it. The choir rendered appropriate music. The church was well filled.

Pte. Vernon H. Woods who assists at one of the base hospitals, in a letter to Mrs. Wallace Watson, 12th line, written on June 17th says:—"Last night we were receiving wounded as usual. I was in the dressing tent and all of a sudden I heard some one say "Is Verne Woods here?" I looked around and recognized Harry Whittitt. It seemed good to see Watford boy I knew well, although we have had many through our hands. Harry was wounded but not seriously, a small wound in the left arm from shrapnel but a couple of weeks at the base will fix him up. After he had his wound dressed I took him to my tent and made him as comfortable as possible. I am sure he talked for two hours straight about Watford people."

The Rev. Robt. Herbert, of Preston, will (D.V.) preach, morning and evening, in St. Mary's church, Warwick, and afternoon in St. Paul's church, Wisbeach, next Sunday, July 18th.

Mr. John Dolan was operated on as soon as he arrived at St. Joseph's hospital and is in a very grave condition. The last report received from the specialist, Dr. Stevenson, is that he has taken a favorable turn and hopes are now entertained for his recovery.

The next meeting of the Red Cross Workers' Union, on Wednesday July 21, is to be at Mrs. Isaac Newell's 6th line. We are asking for a towel shower, those bringing towels, cheese cloth, pillow cases and sheets, please launder, as it has to be done before sending them to the Red Cross Society.

The July meeting of the Warwick branch of the Zenana Bible and Medical Mission will be held at the home of Mrs. D. Falloon, Warwick Village, on Monday, July 19th, at 2.30 p.m. The meeting is for prayer and study only and all ladies who are interested in Indian missions are heartily invited to be present.

The meeting of the Red Cross Workers Union at Mrs. Geo. Mitchell's on Wednesday last was quite a success. We packed and sent to the Red Cross 2 quilts, 4 sheets, 15 pillow-cases, 12 bed quilts, 9 dozen and 5 cheese cloth handkerchiefs, 23 face cloths, 2 pair socks, 35 yards bandages and card safety pins.—S.E.C.

A meeting of the Women's Patriotic League will be held at the home of Mrs. John Carroll, 12 Sideroad and 2nd line south, on Wednesday, July 21st. Contributions of money, sheets, pillows, cases, towels, old linen and cotton are asked for. The need is great for all kinds of hospital supplies, so let us be generous to the poor soldiers who have done so much for us.

After being in poor health for some time Mr. Joseph Eastabrook passed away on Sunday last in his 57th year. The funeral was held on Tuesday from the family residence, lot 26, con. 5, N. E. R. to the Watford cemetery. Service was held at the house at 2 o'clock and was conducted by Rev. H. L. Diehl, of Kerwood, and the bearers were six nephews. Deceased leaves a widow and one son, Lloyd, at home, and one daughter, Mrs. Orville Doan, of Watford.

A patriotic social, under the auspices of the I. D. K. baseball team, assisted by the Ladies' Sewing Circle of Kingscourt, will be held on Friday, July 23rd, on Mr. John McCormick's lawn, Kingscourt. A baseball match between the I. D. K. and Sutorville teams called at 6 p.m., after which supper will be served. Watford land who are interested in an excellent program of music will be furnished. Mr. John Farrell will be chairman and speeches will be given by J. E. Armstrong, M.P., Dr. Martyn, M.P.P., Dr. Pickering, H. J. Pettypiece, R. Stirett, R. J. McCormick and others. Admission 25c. and 10c. Everybody welcome.

The Women's Patriotic League held a very successful meeting at the home of Mrs. Stewart Smith on Wednesday afternoon. There were 50 persons present and a splendid amount of Red Cross work was accomplished. That the interest in Red Cross work is growing is manifested by the donations in cash and goods and general interest taken in the work by the ladies of the township. The cash donated amounted to $13.60, which will be expended for hospital supplies. A dainty lunch of sandwiches, cake and tea was served, bringing the meeting to an enjoyable close. The bale packed contained 7 quilts, 14 pillows and cases, 19 hospital night shirts, 24 towels, 24 sheets, a quantity of old cotton.

The Western Fair

The management of the Western Fair of London, Ont., is very busy arranging for the big Exhibition which takes place this year September 10th to 18th. On account of the military authorities using the grounds and buildings during the winter, a large amount of work is necessary to be done, but the Board of Directors were only too glad to help in any way in these war times. The new steel grand stand is in course of erection and will be completed in good time. It is 340 feet long by 80 feet wide and will seat 5,000 people, every sitting being a good one. It is of steel construction on cement footings, and absolute safety to the public was the first thing considered in its erection. There will be three twenty-foot entrances through the grand stand to the paddock in front. A certain number of sittings will be in the reserved section at 50c, and the balance will be the same price as other years, 25c. There will be an excellent program of attractions. Prize lists, entry forms and all information obtained by writing the Secretary, A. M. Hunt, London, Ontario.

WOMAN SUFFERED TEN YEARS

From Female Ills—Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Belleville, N.S., Canada.—"I doctored for ten years for female troubles and did not get well. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. I write now to tell you that I am cured. You can publish my letter as a testimonial."

Another Woman Recovers. Auburn, N. Y.—"I suffered from nervousness for ten years, and had such organic pains that sometimes I would lie in bed four days at a time, could not eat or sleep and did not want anyone to talk to me or bother me at all. Sometimes I would suffer for seven hours at a time. Different doctors did the best they could for me until four months ago I began giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and now I am in good health."

The above are only two of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which show clearly what great things Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound does for those who suffer from woman's ills.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

NOTE AND COMMENT

This is from the Calgary Herald: "A Baptist minister says that the West has gone dance crazy. Which is true in quite another sense than he intended. The West is crazy dancing to the tune of the money-lenders who want their money back."

Those who criticize the British navy for the part it has played in this war know nothing of what it means to be able to say that not an enemy ship of commerce is today on the seas, and not a German above-water fighting ship dares to come out of hiding. Britain rules the waves.

"The Canadian Division are some of the finest troops of the English Army, and I have heard on all sides from my own people nothing but the highest praise for the military character of these men, as well for their courage and their tenacity as for their discipline," says a special correspondent of the Cologne Gazette.

To the average person who is unacquainted with the operation and details of the mining industry the sight of a miner carrying a cage with a live bird in it into a mine calls forth a question as to why the workman carries the little bird. When the facts are known it is readily understood. Scientists have found that when noxious gases are present in mines in such proportions as to endanger human life the little bird will give the warning long before the miner himself is made aware of the fact through his own senses.

A PRETTY ROOM.

How to Handle a Scheme of Decoration For a Dining Room.

GRAY AND BLUE AND ROSE.

Satisfactorily Furnished Chamber Combines and Contrasts Warm and Cold Colors—Neutral One Toned Wall Paper Creates Excellent Setting For Pictures.

Nothing expresses character or temperament more openly or ingenuously than the choice of color, for each color in the spectrum represents a different idea, from the high light of yellow down through the cool greens and blues on one side and the warm orange and reds on the other to the shadowy, mysterious hues of violet. People choose as their favorite color either that which best expresses them or, in some mysterious way, its exact opposite or complement.

Color has been named the "voice of art," and, like the voice, it differs in each individual. No two people ever express themselves exactly in the same way through color, as no two people ever have precisely the same voice in tonation.

Color is personal and individual, and by its thoughtful use many things may be expressed.

A well furnished room combines and contrasts the warm and cold colors, the cold generally serving as a background against which the warmer tones are displayed. A background must not be stronger either in color or decoration than the object to be shown. This accounts for the wall decorated with a neutral one toned wall paper which creates such an excellent setting for pictures, besides displaying the furnishings of the room to the best advantage. Do not forget, however, that the entire room is itself only a background for the social life which it contains, and the scheme of decoration must be subordinated to that idea. The occupants of a room are more important, or should be, than the furnishings.

To create a harmonious setting the tones must be closely keyed, with no large areas of intense color to distract the eye. Indeed, the color scheme of a room may be said to be successful when no one tone springs out to strike the eye before the rest of the room is perceived. A perfect balance of color is restful, while spots which distract the mind are not.

If intense color is to be used it must be confined to very small areas, balanced by larger areas of much less intensity. To create a harmonious setting the tones must be closely keyed, with no large areas of intense color to distract the eye. Indeed, the color scheme of a room may be said to be successful when no one tone springs out to strike the eye before the rest of the room is perceived. A perfect balance of color is restful, while spots which distract the mind are not.

tenstry, and as color-emphasizes form the objects thus perceived must be beautiful in line and interestingly placed.

The interest of a room centers in the lower part, about the level of the eye, which renders absurd any attention drawn to the upper portion of the walls. Complementary or opposing colors should never be used together in their full intensity. A pure blue and a pure orange have no relationship as they stand, but if they are neutralized, which means that a portion of the orange dye is mixed into the blue, and some of the blue into the orange, there result two softly beautiful tones which are entirely harmonious.

Attention has often been called to the vivid coloring and strong contrasts of nature, where against the bluest of skies the intense red, yellow and green of the autumn trees blend so beautifully. It is true that the atmosphere, bathing all these colors in its light, seems to create, especially where the magic of distance is added, a harmony of colors which within doors would never be tolerated.

In the dining room shown in the illustration the neutral tones, the cold tones, are used for the background, blue and gray paper hangs upon the walls, the rug is blue and gray, and the furniture is painted a pale gray. The color is in the lamp shade, which is of rose, the cushions in the chairs and the pictures upon the walls, which are gay splashes of color, sunsets and sunrises—color enough in this room to make it glow even before the rose colored shade is illumined for the night.

GET RID OF BOARDERS.

Dairy Cows That Do Not Pay For Their Keep Should Be Banished.

"At least one-eighth of the dairy herds in New York may return an annual net loss to their owners." This is the conclusion of investigators of Cornell Agricultural college from the figures secured in Jefferson county, N. Y. Year long records were obtained for fifty-three dairy herds in that county. Facts were gathered about the quantity and quality of milk and butter fat produced, the costs of feed and equipment, the profit or losses and various other items.

While seven of the fifty-three herds were kept at an aggregate loss of more than $1,300, or an average loss of $100 apiece, the average profit on all herds was 31 cents on the hundred pounds of milk, and the average net profit on each cow in a year was $20.39. These figures indicate that the farmer may make under favorable conditions a little less than two-thirds of a cent on a quart of milk.

The principal cause of loss in dairying is the keeping of cows which do not pay for the food they eat. They have come to be known as lady boarders and serve their most profitable use, according to the dairy experts, when converted into meat and hides. The one way to insure their elimination from the herd, experts say, is to determine the yield of each cow by weight of milk and by the use of the Babcock test for the butter fat content. The correction of cow testing associations is urged upon dairy farmers.

A Common Dairy Loss.

A dairy cow weighing 1,000 pounds voids about twelve tons of solid and liquid manure in a year, worth, on the basis of the elements of fertility contained, about $30. The liquid manure is worth 60 per cent of the whole and is usually a total loss.

Economy of the Dairy Cow.

There is no question as to the economy of the dairy cow as a producer of human food. None of our domestic animals can produce similar values from the same quantity of digestible food. The Holstein cow Mild Henry produced at the Kansas experiment station in one year 2,471 pounds of milk solids. A prime steer weighing 1,250 pounds under test at the Missouri experiment station was found, when chemically analyzed, to have produced in total solids 547 pounds. These total solids included the entire carcass of the steer, a very large per cent of which cannot be used as food. Every ounce of the material produced by the cow was edible, and the total quantity was nearly five times as great as that contained in the whole body of the steer.

Milk the Cow Early.

Milk early and turn the dairy cows to grass in time for them to do the grazing before it grows so hot. They then can lie in the shade and enjoy chewing their cuds during the hottest portion of the day. It will mean greater comfort for the cows and more milk in the pail at evening.—Farm and Fireside.

The Profitable Cow.

The cow takes a lot of feed on the farm that cannot be marketed at the best of prices and turns it into a commodity that is always in demand and that brings the top price and can be marketed most economically.

Test the Dairy Cows.

Cow testing pays because it points out to you the profitable and the unprofitable cows. It is only possible to put dairying on a profitable basis when the unprofitable cows are taken from the herd.

DAIRY and CREAMERY

DAIRY HERD IMPROVEMENT.

Weighing and Testing the Only Sure Method to Pursue.

When I started dairying twenty years ago I had Shorthorn cows, and, like others, I used a bull costing about $20 or $30 without regard to milking qualities, which I knew nothing about. writes a correspondent of the Iowa Homestead. They had to be dark red and beefy, and I kept right on with that kind of stock.

I finally got to reading about weighing and testing milk. I was milking eleven cows, and those eleven cows were giving only eighty-eight pounds of milk daily. Now, there are many good cows in the beef cattle that are of a pronounced dairy type. The trouble lies a great deal in trying to get those straight backed, beefy animals.

To start with, I was a very poor cow man, for I was not satisfied to get

The Ayrshire breed of dairy cattle has attained great popularity in America in recent years because of the beauty of the cow, her ability to thrive and grow fat on poor, rough pastures and feed and because of the fact that she produces large quantities of milk. The first Ayrshire cow to produce over 20,000 pounds of milk in a year was Jean Armour, which made 20,174 pounds of milk and 747 pounds of butter fat. The cow pictured is an Ayrshire.

right down to business; but, being on a small farm and seeing the folly of wearing myself out and not accomplishing anything but just raising plain cows that are sold at all farm sales with the claim that they will give six to eight gallons of milk daily, and which, when put over the scales, tell a far different story, I decided to make a change. My first real change was when I bought a pure bred dairy bull calf to cross on those common cows. The first cross was great. When those grade heifers came fresh they gave more than their dams and tested better. In the meantime I bought a pure bred heifer, and after that the natural thing happened—those grades must go as fast as registered stock could be added.

My experience is in favor of pure bred for the reason that ten or twelve good cows should easily make a man on a small farm $1,200, counting butter fat and increase of calves at an average of $50 each, which is not too high, for I sell them at one month old for that, the bull calves.

It is not best for a man that has no experience to buy too heavily of registered stock. The best way is to select your favorite breed—Holsteins, Ayrshires, Guernseys or Jerseys; they are all good—and place at the head of the herd a good registered bull, as good as circumstances will permit, for the bull is more than half the herd, as his influence is on your future cows in your entire herd.

AROUND THE DAIRY.

The good milker is the cow that turns the most feed into the largest flow of good, rich, healthful milk.

Certainty is the fundamental necessity in dairying. Don't guess at results but know what you are doing.

Milk that has once been spoiled by dirt or foul odor can never be restored by straining or any other method.

It is seldom that a good cow is too high in price. If she is really a worthy animal you can afford to buy her.

Irregularity in the work of the dairy means loss.

HANDLING CREAM FOR BEST RESULTS

Some people have the mistaken idea that sour cream tests higher than sweet cream, says the Kansas Farmer. Those of this belief might be tempted to hold cream until it became unduly sour in order to get more money from the creamery. In the long run the result would be quite the opposite. Only the cow can put butter fat into cream, and the sour cream accurately tested will contain no more butter fat than will sweet cream. It is to the interest of every cream producer to get the product to the buttermaker in the best condition possible. If all did this better butter could be made and as a result better prices paid for cream.

Many on the farms are still following the practice of making butter and selling it. Good butter can be made on the farm, but it is the exception to the general rule. It means a lot of hard, slavish work for the women and unless the farm is really equipped so that butter can be made that will compete with creamery butter, there is no profit in following this method.

As the summer season comes on the difficulties of making good butter un-

The Brown Swiss as a breed are plain, substantial and rather fleshy. The cows have large, well shaped udders and uniform teats. In disposition the breed is especially quiet and docile and easily handled. While in Switzerland the breed is considered dual purpose, in America the Brown Swiss breeders are developing the animals along dairy lines. The majority of the cows can be counted on to average about 6,000 to 7,000 pounds of 4 per cent milk. The bull shown is a fine specimen of the Brown Swiss breed.

der average farm conditions will increase. Those who have been churning during the winter are apt to continue into the summer season from mere force of habit. The handling and selling of cream is simplicity itself in comparison with the making of butter. The average housewife on the farm has all the work she can possibly attend to during the busy season of the year without continuing this extra burden. Selling cream will not only bring in more money for the butter fat produced, but it will greatly lighten the labor of the housewife. This is a good time to begin to handle cream in an up to date manner.

Hard and soft 'corns both yield to Holloway's Corn Cure, which is entirely safe to use, and certain and satisfactory in its action.

MACHINE GUNS.

These Deadly Weapons Fire Some 700 Bullets a Minute.

The machine gun, which pours forth a direct hail of small caliber bullets, is one of the deadliest weapons of modern warfare.

From the clumsy Gatling gun has come the modern "automatic," mounted on a light tripod, and weighing less than forty pounds. All the armies use these guns, which, although they vary somewhat in type, are essentially alike in their mechanism and in their effectiveness.

In the Benet-Mercie automatic machine gun of the French army a metal feed strip, or clip, that contains thirty ordinary army rifle cartridges is inserted in a slot on the right side of the gun. As the trigger is pulled the bolt mechanism is released and, guided by the main firing spring, pushes a cartridge into the rifle chamber.

The instant the cartridge is in place the breech mechanism locks and the charge is exploded. On its way through the rifle barrel, a little of the gas from the exploded powder is diverted through a hole in the side of the barrel, and so acts on a piston as to force the bolt mechanism back and to compress the main spring.

In returning, the bolt mechanism pulls the empty shell from the chamber and throws it out below, so that it does not interfere with the new cartridge that is now forced in from above.

The mechanism is so perfect that the operation described takes place in a small fraction of a second, and the bullets issue from the mouth of this deadly weapon at the rate of seven hundred a minute.—Youth's Companion.

ACCIDENTAL DISCOVERIES.

Origin of Starch From Corn and of Silver Plating.

How to make starch from corn (maize) was discovered accidentally by Thomas Kingsford, a mechanic. One day he threw a mess of cornmeal mush into a garbage pail. His wife emptied some lye into the same pail, and in the morning when he emptied the pail he was astonished to find a small quantity of starch at the bottom.

Thomas Bolsover, a Sheffield mechanic, was mending the handle of a knife made of copper and silver. He saw these metals fuse together and the idea of silver plating was born in his mind. He laid a thin plate of silver on a heavier one of copper and heated them till the edge of the silver began to melt. He took them from the fire, let them cool slightly, then rolled and hammered them to the desired thickness. This was the origin of "Sheffield plate," all of which was made in this way until electroplating was invented.

Cornelius Dubbel left a bottle of aqua regia (a mixture of nitric and muriatic acids) on a shelf. It fell over, the acid ran down over a window and dropped into a bottle containing an extract of cochineal. This turned to a vivid scarlet. Dubbel found that the acid had dissolved some of the tin of the window casing and the combination had produced the new color. A few experiments added the most brilliant color to the list of dyes.

The accident by which Roentgen discovered the X rays is too recent to need repeating now.—New York World.

Sammy's Wisdom.

It was never a happy day for Sammy's painstaking father when his young hopeful's school report arrived. As for Sammy himself—well, he was a philosopher.

The awful day had come once more, and father was in the lowest depths of misery.

"Sammy, Sammy," he groaned, "why is it that you are at the bottom of your class again?"

"What does it matter, father, whether I am at the top or the bottom?" queried that wise youth. "They teach the same at both ends, you know."—London Tit-Bits.

Cutworms And How to Fight Them

Farmers, market gardeners and others who cultivate the soil will be pleased to know that the Entomological Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, has issued a 31 paged bulletin (No. 10) on "Cutworms and their Control", prepared by Mr. Arthur Gibson, Chief Assistant Entomologist. In the introduction it is stated that cutworms as a class rank in importance with such well known pests as the San Jose Scale, the Codling Moth and the Hessian fly, all of which are among our most destructive insect enemies. There are certainly few insects which, year after year, inflict such widespread damage as the various caterpillars known commonly as cutworms. The annual loss occasioned by these insects in Canada amounts to hundreds of thousands of dollars. In the bulletin the methods of controlling cutworms are discussed fully. Under "Preventive Measures" the value of clean cultivation is referred to as well as the placing of bands of tin or paper around plants which are set out. "Remedial Measures" include descriptions of various poisoned baits to destroy the cutworms, directions for the making of proper furrows or ditches to prevent the advance of armies of cutworms, etc. Fifteen common kinds of cutworms are described in popular detail and much information given on the habits and life-history of the various species. The bulletin is fully illustrated, the figures being clear and well chosen. Altogether there are 20 illustrations of cutworms, cutworm moths, injury to plants, etc. Copies of this new publication may be had free of charge on application to the Chief of the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. Enquiries regarding these insects or other kinds which are found to be injuring crops, should be addressed to The Entomologist, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The war may be slow and tedious but there is no doubt as to the final outcome. This is the decision of nearly all observers—neutral and otherwise.

In Kansas, with three times the population of Manitoba, they are seriously thinking of doing away with the Legislature. That body has given offence by freak legislation. Last winter for example, a law was passed forbidding any woman under 45 to use rouge and false hair; the saving clause amounts to nothing, because no woman of Kansas will admit that she is over the age limit.

The Philadelphia General Hospital reports that in the narcotic ward 250 drug fiends of both sexes have been successfully treated since March 1. The facts so far are encouraging. It would be interesting to know how many of the cured persons kept away from old haunts and companions in temptation after leaving the hospital. As one observer notes, the effectiveness of a cure for a bad habit depends largely on the willingness of the victim to remain cured.

Practically all the Canadian Pacific Railway shops will be turned into ammunition factories, according to a statement by Sir Thomas Shaanessey, who has just returned from a conference with Lord Kitchener. Guns and shells will be sold at cost to the government and the railway will make no profit on them. Production of railway supplies will be curtailed until the required supply of munitions has been reached.

The Perfect Pie

(By Peter McArthur)
Probably no dish that ever appeared on our tables has caused so much burning as the pie—and I do not mean by that to suggest the connection between heartburn and indigestion. The pie with the hunting case crust has eclipsed many a honey-moon. The unsuccessful pie has been the uncharted rock on the sea of matrimony, the slough of despond on the straight and narrow path. But the good pie, the perfect pie has been from time immemorial the peace-maker, the healer of lovers' quarrels. The great outstanding fact of married life is that man wants pie. As Scott did not exactly say: "Lives there a man with soul so dead, Who never to his wife hath said: 'I wish that you would learn to bake Pies like my mother used to make.'"

But I have known a man to do even worse than that. I have known a man to say to his wife: "I wish you could make pies like your mother used to make." In that way he rebuked her and made friends with his mother-in-law, a feat of diplomacy never equalled in the chancelleries of Europe.

But the question has been raised: "What kind of pie was it that mother used to make? What was her master-piece?"

There is no need of any dispute on this subject. Just wait till you find one of those old fashioned pie-making mothers and listen to what she is singing to the grandchild on her knee.

"Can she make a cherry pie?
Billy Boy, Billy Boy!
Can she make a cherry pie,
Charming Billy?
She can make a cherry pie
While a cat can wink its eye.
But she's a young thing and can't leave her mother."

When the biggest cherry trees that are now laden with ruddy fruit were mere seedlings, that song was as popular as Tipperary is to-day, and there are still merry grandmothers who sing it to their marriageable grandsons when they go a-wooing. In the good old days before there were pie factories where pies are made by machines and should be eaten by machines the making of a cherry pie was the ultimate test of a housekeeper. No girl was accounted worthy of a home who could not make a perfect cherry pie.

And this is the season of the cherry pie! Let me whisper something. Every girl should show that she is able to make cherry pies. Every love-lorn boy should see that the girl he loves is able to make them. A word to the wise is sufficient—though in this case a word to the foolish might be more appropriate.

Parkhill civic holiday July 21st.

Dr. A. D. McEachran, formerly of Glencoe, died in Detroit, Saturday. He was 41 years old.

Robt. Johnston, aged 80, who came from Ireland to Euphemia in 1845, passed away last week.

Rev. W. L. Nichol, B. A., of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Parkhill, was married June 24th to Miss Wingate, of Toronto.

Fred Billings, the Strathroy bank clerk who stole $1,000 from his employers, got a sentence of four months in the reformatory.

For the first time in 22 years the Petrolia K. of P. have called off their annual excursion to Detroit on civic holiday.

A. Carson, P. M. agent at Sarnia, and daughter, Miss Maude Carson of Detroit, are on an extended visit to friends and relatives in the west.

The Kerwood Board of Trade are making arrangements to run a monster excursion to Sarnia on August 18th from all points on the Sarnia branch.

The Hyatt well, 6th con., Ennisville, after being drilled to a depth of 4048 ft. has been declared a dry hole and the pipe is being pulled. This is the deepest test well drilled in Canada to date.

Malcolm C. Campbell, collector of customs at Glencoe, and one of the town's most prominent and esteemed citizens, passed away at his home on Monday of last week, after an illness of some weeks with anemia.

A colored parson and his wife, who "lost their church and parsonage by fire," called on Glencoe people on Monday. Similar visits have been about as regular as the seven-year locusts.—Transcript.

Wheatley ratepayers turned down the by-law to provide for the erection of an addition to the public school by a vote of 22 to 111.

The school board now wants the opponents of the by-law to make a move to provide the necessary accommodation.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brown, of Somers, celebrated their diamond wedding lately having been married in 1855. No death has broken the ranks of the family during these 60 years and all the children, grandchildren and great grandchildren were in attendance at the anniversary.

John H. Wilson, residing near Ridgetown, stretched a barbed wire across the entrance to his place to keep his horses off the road while they pastured nights in the lane. Mr. and Mrs. John Barrett in an auto wishing to call at Mr. Wilson's turned quite sharply after dark from the roadway into the lane. The wire caught the wind shield and tore it off the car and, catching Mr. Barrett in the neck, made nasty wounds that required seven stitches to close. The wire also cut Mrs. Barrett's face, tore a piece of flesh from her ear and some hair from her head.

Two hundred hogs were vaccinated in Anderson township last week. Two experts in the treatment of swine plague, used the serum treatment for the prevention of hog cholera on some two hundred hogs placed at the disposal of these experts in an arrangement between G. R. Cottrell, the Managing Director of the Ontario Fruitlands, Ltd., and the Canadian Dept. of Animal Husbandry.

Two shots were given each hog, under the hind leg, and the results of the experiment will be watched with interest, for upon it depends whether the serum treatment will become a recognized means of preventing this wasteful disease in Canada.

Euphemia Farmer Shot

Never before in the annals of Euphemia has the demise of a resident caused more sorrow than that of R. H. Hart, which occurred sometime Tuesday morning by charge from shot gun. Mr. Hart was a great man for his gun, and as usual had taken it with him to the corn field; not returning at noon hour, his youngest son was sent after him, and found him in the woods shot, dead—life being considered instantaneous. Coroner Kelly was summoned and considered an inquest not necessary.

The homicide theory has some credence but as Mr. Hart had not apparently an enemy in the world there is a condition we do not wish to dwell on. He had many friends, and was a prosperous farmer, but the brightest of minds have done things hard to fathom.

A widow and four children survive him, to whom we extend our sincerest sympathy in this, their very sad bereavement.—Bothwell Times.

Sarnia letter carries have a half holiday Saturday afternoons, during July and August.

FRUIT BULLETIN

A Lesson From the Clock

A CLOCK that strikes is better than a non-striking clock. It tells us the time through our ears as well as through our eyes. It saves our steps. It signals, spurs us on, arouses us, speaks to us in the dark and from far away. It is useful far beyond the usefulness of the silent clock.

So with business that advertisers. A shop or store that sends out its message to us in the form of advertisements in our newspaper serves us far beyond the shop or store that is silent—that must be visited before its service or merchandise can be known.

The shop or store that advertises saves our time and money, etc. Speaks to us at the right time, rouses us to attention, and stirs us to action. We buy more as the result of advertising, and we buy from advertisers.

To the Merchants of Watford

Put a striker—an attention-getter, an arouser, a stimulator—on your business. In other words—advertise. Strike often and regularly by weekly advertisements in the Guide-Advocate.

Toronto
Toronto, July 13.—Receipts at the Union stockyards today were 532 cattle, 135 calves, 670 hogs and 332 sheep and lambs.

Light receipts to-day and mostly common to medium quality. Trade very slow and drabby and 25c to 30c lower for commoner grades. Half-fat cows in particular suffered from the decline. Heavy steers and choice butcher steers and heifers and choice fat cows held firm at unchanged prices, but there were but few of this class in to-day's offerings. There was slightly better demand for stockers at the easier prices. Choice milk cows firm and in good demand. Good veal calves steady.

Spring lambs 1c higher. Light sheep steady to firm.

Hogs steady at $9.50 off cars; 4c less for stags and 2c less for sows.

Bowels Almost Paralyzed
"Fruit-a-lives" Relieved

St. Boniface de Shawinigan, P.Q.
February 27, 1914.
"After suffering with terrible Constipation for over 2 years, 'Fruit-a-lives' relieved me. While a student at Berthier College, I became very ill and was forced to leave. Severe pains across the abdomen continually tortured me and my digestion became paralyzed. Some one advised me to take 'Fruit-a-lives' and at once I felt a great improvement. After taking four or five boxes, I was completely relieved and have never had any return of this trouble." MAGLOIRE PAQUIN.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Pearl of the Crossroads

How She Met Her Fate.

By FREDERICK BRIGGS
Copyright by Frank A. Munsey Co.

Some one said that a sailor man was good for nothing but to chase about the world and send people presents. Pearl Smith had known this all her life, though perhaps she had never resolved it into just that expression.

She drew the line at having more than one man on the same ship. Still, this was not at all inconvenient, for there were sometimes no less than fourteen men-of-war, besides a score of merchant ships, in the crossroads of the Pacific at one time.

The girl came by the prosaic name of Smith because her father's name had been something else in some other country. He came to Honolulu before the cable was in good working order and remained. Marrying a half caste Kanaka girl, he had kept a sailor's boarding house on King's road since Pearl was a baby. The presents had been coming in since the little girl was big enough to climb on a sailor's knee, and their volume increased with her size. She was grown up at fourteen.

To see her then was like being wakened from a sweet sleep on a balmy afternoon by having great clusters of red, red roses pressed to one's cheeks. Young men popping in at the Crossroads swore that they would never go to sea again, only to ship with the next tide for the Indian ocean in search of a pearl to match her skin.

She was like Honolulu days. The shimmering softness of her skin matched the warm afternoon skies. Rich red lips, dimpled mouth. Tropic twilight lay behind her inky eyelashes, deepening to midnight in her long hair. Men-of-war's men and merchant sailors sent different presents. The navy men leaned toward fancy jewelry and manure sets, while the traders stuck to silk, uncut rubies, loose pearls, ivory fans and ostrich plumes.

This from the young men. To enumerate the junk that was dumped at the feet of this island goddess by silly old sea captains and others would be to copy the cargo bills of an East and West India tradesman. There were also a list of small animals and birds, with a number of arctic treasures appended. Pearl kept what she fancied, and her father sold the rest.

As for a girl accepting presents from a dozen men at the same time, it must be remembered that Pearl lived neither east of France nor west of Rome, which is only another way of saying that the girl was bred in a man's country, where anything a woman gets is so much for her gain and no less for her honor.

New admirers invariably meant more presents. But when a sailor man can jolly his superior officer and get anything he wants just for the asking women had better beware of him. When he stands six feet in his socks, laughs out of big blue eyes and conceals a cello note in a drawing voice so much the worse for the women. Heine—that was as far as they got with his name aboard ship, and it will suffice here—Heine was all of this and more. He was an American bluejacket, boat-skipper's mate of the destroyer Shark.

There is one amusement the Hawaiians have which Americans do not possess. We are enthusiastic surf bathers and are good swimmers, but a sight that is seen in Hawaiian waters is never seen on an American coast. A Hawaiian takes with him to the beach a board, usually about twice his length. This board he carries out as far as he can; then, placing himself on it, it bears him, forced by the waves, back again to the beach. Those who are not expert at this exercise may lie flat on the board, but those who are trained to it stand erect, balancing their bodies as they roll toward the shore.

He met Pearl at Waikiki beach. She was shooting the surf when Heine saw her first. Standing upright with outflung arms, she balanced on her polished board of kamani wood as it raced ahead of giant waves. Swift as the wave she dashed past the swimming sailor, but as the waters broke over his head he remembered every line of her beautiful body. The grace of her attitude struck him harder than the wave. Turning, he swam strongly toward the beach, where the spent roller had landed the fairy surf rider.

Half a dozen men were begging Pearl to be allowed to take her board out to the reef again, but she laughed them away with a flash of milk white teeth and struggled out alone. Heine met her a hundred fathoms from the beach, where the water came almost to his shoulders as he stood on the sand.

"I'll carry your board for you!" he cried as the girl broke through a wave almost upon him.

Startled, she turned her head, and the board slipped, striking on her flower mouth. As the blood came Heine caught her in his arms. The waves receding, shut the other bathers from view, and for ten seconds the sailor man held the girl close to his heart.

"My lip will swell!" she panted, struggling to free herself.

But Heine jolled her, just as he jolled the commanding officer of the Shark, and within half an hour she had checked her surt board and bathing costume at the bathhouse and was riding back to town with him, holding her handkerchief to the swelling lip.

Three days later the fleet was ready to sail. Dusk singers with their tiny guitars strummed the sad "Aloha Oe"—"Farewell"—in every street. Pearl managed her other admirers so that Heine might have the last evening. When the time came for a final good-bye Heine told her that he was coming back to Honolulu some day.

Pearl studied his face; then she pouted.

"That's what they all say!" The sailor's eyes danced as he kissed her bruised mouth; then he was gone. This time Pearl did not look for a present. She would have preferred the sailor back again. But the gift came. It was a brooch set with a genuine ruby. Heine bought the uncut stone from a lascar mess attendant. It cost him $65 to have it cut and polished, and the ruby was valuable.

"To match your lips—from Heine," was the word that came with the jewel.

Pearl's heart was filled with fear. Sailors who sent presents never came back. Did she not have cream and rose pearls from the remittance man in Ceylon and a black diamond to rival her eyes? There was only one other man whom she had longed to see again—an English mate who sent her a perfect pair of pigeon blood rubies from Bombay. The jewels were torn from the eyes of a Hindu god, and the Hindu tore the mate's eyes from his head in revenge. But Pearl did not know this. She fastened Heine's gift on her bosom and put the other jewels away.

Heine was discharged from the naval service shortly after his visit to Hawaii, and, without informing Pearl, he returned to Honolulu. He had served a jeweler's apprenticeship before entering the navy and soon found employment in a local store as an engraver. He purchased a little bungalow in Kalihi with the savings of his naval cruise, and kept one of the rooms in Honolulu as much as possible, wishing to avoid meeting his sweetheart until he could surprise her with a complete arrangement for housekeeping.

One day as he bent over his engraving tools his heart gave a great bound as Pearl's voice floated through the lattice partition. She was talking with the jeweler in the front of the store. Peering through the slats, Heine saw a number of jewel boxes spread out on the counter between them. The jeweler was speaking:

"Do you get all these as presents, Miss Smith?"
"Oh, of course. The sailors—they are so good to me," she laughed. "But what are they worth—pins, brooches, rings, watches and all?"
The ex-sailor sank back, stunned. A look crept into his face that his commanding officer had seen when his boatswain's mate reported "both anchors carried away, sir," as the disabled Shark wallowed with the wind toward the thundering rocks of Cape Flattery. Heine had trusted his anchors. Now he thought of his early training—of his sisters and the girls back in the Kansas home—his standards of honor for women.

was soon back at his bench. The next day he saw a real estate man and tried to sell his bungalow, as he intended to sail from Hawaii on the Mongolia, which was due, homeward bound, in two weeks.

A few days before the China mail came in Heine was startled again by his sweetheart's voice. He heard every word as she offered the pigeon blood rubies for sale. The jeweler was in ecstasies. The stones were flawless and perfectly matched. A deal was made for a beautiful diamond incrust watch in exchange for a number of jewels, including the rubies.

Heine had never seen the girl more beautiful. Her face, shaded by a wide hat of delicate straw and rich flowers, seemed touched with the brush of melancholy. Her neck was bare, and the point of the low V of her white gown was secured by a ruby brooch—his ruby.

"I'll take this one," she was saying, "and you must cut these words in the heart."
She stood there gazing wistfully at the watch for a long time. When she had left the store the jeweler brought it back to his engraver.

"Cut this one as soon as possible," he said, depositing the watch with the slip of words to be engraved.

Heine glanced at the slip. It read "To Heine—from Pearl."
Pushing back his stool, he sprang to his feet and faced the jeweler.

"I've been judging that little Kanaka girl all this time from a wrong standpoint!" he shouted; then, hatless and coatless, he dashed from the building.

"Heat's getting in its work," the jeweler mumbled to himself. "That's the trouble with these newcomers—can't stand the heat," and he shook his head sadly, for the newcomer was an excellent engraver, and he let the gin stone, Heine overtook the girl in front of the Young Hotel, and there, utterly oblivious of the staring public, he caught her again in his arms, kissing her perfect mouth, no longer bruised, but soft as a red hibiscus blossom.

BOOMERANG AEROPLANE.
Two Frenchmen Have Invented a Novel Flying Machine.

A flying machine that is neither aeroplane, balloon, helicopter, nor ornithopter is now being tried. It is called a gyropter, and is the invention of A. Papin and D. Rouilly.

Its principle is taken from a study of the movements of a boomerang and of the fall and flight of the seeds of the sycamore. This last is a one-bladed screw propeller turning about an imaginary axis and balanced by the weight of the seed grains so that it falls slowly like a parachute.

The gyropter is made up of a long body, with a head and a tail, turning on a curved axis and balanced by the distance from the head to the tail. The seat for the aviator at this centre of rotation remains immovable in the middle of the great boomers.

The thing is not unlike a great banjo, the neck of which is turned at a right angle and ends in a hole. It is built of wood, strengthened by interior braces, and covered inside and out with canvas.

It has neither front nor rear. It is a body turning upon itself, a propeller-blade thrown into the air and given equilibrium by part of another blade placed there to balance the weight of the motor. This motor works a turbine which sends a stream of air at tremendous speed into the interior of the apparatus, whence it issues from the curved end of the tail and by its pressure on the surrounding air sets up a rotary motion in the whole machine.

The motor is in the head. It is a rotary motor, with nine cylinders, making 1,200 revolutions a minute. The air rushes through a wide tube surrounding the aviator's seat. The latter is in a circular box on ball-bearings. The air penetrates a sort of antenna made of wood and revolving about its longitudinal axis at the will of the pilot. This ends in a curved pipe through which the air rushes with force enough to prevent the car from partaking in the whirling motion of the rest of the machine. This antenna is the rudder of the apparatus.

Under the apparatus is a lens-shaped float, which acts as a cushion in descending and as a hub on which the machine revolves when started on the ground.

H. D. Reynolds, of New Scotland, recently drove into Ridgeway with a load of 45 bales of home-grown tobacco, which had been donated by the growers in his neighborhood for the use of the boys who are fighting the battles at the front. The tobacco is now being prepared at the headquarters and will be shipped from Ridgeway.

Here are something like five thousand Montenegrins who under no compulsion whatever have come to Canada from all parts of the United States in order to get to the firing lines. Some have travelled three thousand miles and face a further journey of double the distance. What an example to our own Canadians!

As we have before intimated the war has been particularly hard on the newspapers, and many are being carried on at a loss this year. It is an ironical turn of fate that the press which has done more than any other agency to promote optimism in trade circles, (and has done it gratis), should have so much support withdrawn from it at the present time.

To be fair with themselves the newspapers should cease to be a convenience for numberless organizations, which, although not moneymaking organizations pay willingly for everything necessary to their success, except newspaper publicity. Many papers, unable to stand the strain, have ceased to exist—and there will be others.—Thamesville Herald.

DAINTY GIFT FOR A BRIDE.

Give Her an Attractive Perfuming Cap For Wedding Gift.

If there is one place more than another where perfume is pardonable—may, even delightful in suggestion—that place is the coiffure. There is a freshness, an intoxicating charm, about beautiful hair delicately perfumed, but the fragrance must be carefully selected, for a heavy scent entirely spoils the suggestion, which should be one of elusive, impalpable sweetness. For the bride a most attractive little gift will be a perfuming cap. This cap is, of course, designed for general boudoir and breakfast wear, like any other cap of its kind, but there is special provision inside for the perfuming cap, attached by snap fasteners to the inner edge.

The boudoir cap is made of point d'esprit—inexpensive, but always daintily pretty—and frills of white net, which may be bought by the yard. A feature of the cap is the deep crown, which fits down over the head and ears, covering every bit of the hair. This crown is attached to a circular brim of point d'esprit, which is joined to the puffed crown under the upper fall of frilling, and the lower frill is sewed to the edge of this circular brim. The crown is made of a straight length of point d'esprit, shirred in two places under ribbon run beading and gathered to a three inch disk of the point d'esprit at the top. Rabbit-like ears of lace stick out at each side.

The perfume cap is of pale blue pussy willow silk, simply a large circle gathered at the edge and finished with an elastic run casing. Snap fasteners at intervals along this casing attach the perfume cap to the casing under the net cap. Cut the pussy willow circles in duplicate and slash one for several inches through its center. Face the edges of the slash and close with snap fasteners. The freshly perfumed layers of thin cotton may thus be inserted between the silk circles through the slash without disturbing the edges of the cap. Orris and violet make a delightful hair sachet, or orris alone may be used. Heliotrope and such heavy perfumes should be avoided.

Uses of Cheesecloth.
Cheesecloth has always been considered one of the housewife's first aids. Nearly every one uses it for cleaning purposes, and when one begins to devise uses for it they will be found a legion. It makes nice dishcloths, and two yards will make three oblong shaped cloths, which should be whipped around the edge and quilted from corner to corner. A large piece of it about a yard square makes a serviceable duster. The edges should be hemmed or turned in on the machine. If it is doubled or quartered, quilted and dipped in coal oil or placed in a tin lard can or box containing oil it will render as good service as any cloth you could buy. A piece placed over the pipe and under the radiator will prevent the dust of the room from passing to the cellar and dust from the cellar coming up. Several ruffles of cheesecloth attached to the handle of a wornout dish mop make a good duster. A piece of the cloth should always be kept in the sewing machine for cleaning it, as it leaves no lint and absorbs oil and grease. It is also fine for cleaning the stove. A fresh or clean piece can be well used for cleaning the electric bulbs and globes about the house. Some women prefer cheesecloth towels for cleaning silver, glassware and fine china.

USES FOR SODA.

When tins are hard to wash or when food has been burned on them put the dish on the stove, fill with cold water, add a teaspoonful of soda, bring the water to a boil, and the dish will wash easily.

Cold rainwater and soda will remove machine grease from washable fabrics. For headache or sour stomach take a half teaspoonful of soda in a little water. For dyspepsia a quarter of a teaspoonful of soda in a tumbler of water, drunk three or four times a day, gives relief.

Cover burns with a paste of soda and water with a damp cloth.

To keep gruel or milk sweet put in it a pinch of soda.

Weak soda water is excellent in cases of prickly heat or fever.

To restore the finish to furniture or woodwork wash it thoroughly with a solution of warm water and a little soda. Rinse well and wipe dry.

Lard that has become rancid may be sweetened by reboiling and adding a little soda.

Amazon Natives' "Wireless."

In the Juamaar region of the Amazon the natives use a crude system of wireless telegraphy, which, it is claimed, has been in operation for thousands of years. The transmitter found by an explorer was a hollowed trunk of a tree suspended from a horizontal pole stretched between two stumps. Inside the transmitter had been arranged much like a violin, and it was explained that when the instrument was struck smartly with a small rubber hammer a vibration was created that carried for miles over the hills. The receiver is very similar to the transmitter, except that it is placed on a hardwood platform, the base of the hollowed tree-trunk being grounded on the platform. When the message is struck in the neighboring village, sometimes thirty miles away, this receiver catches the vibrations, causing a jerky, singing sound. The sound system, it is said, can be read by the members of the tribe, and in this way news of victories and other happenings are told throughout the countryside.

The Craving For Salt.

If salt is not essential to life why do those who have little or none of it crave for it? You should see, as I have seen (writes a correspondent) an African village on the approach of white prospectors in the hope of obtaining salt. The men demanded it, the women clamored and the children cried for it. Even the coffee colored babies slung astride their mothers' backs thrust forth their tiny hands and devoured it as greedily as our English children do sweets. A spoonful of salt all around established amicable relations, and when it came later to bartering I found salt by far the most valuable medium. Value for value, salt procured three times as much as calico or fancy goods.—London Chronicle.

The Lost Donkey.

In Turkey they tell stories about Nasr-ed-Din and his donkey. Once upon a time when the donkey was lost Nasr-ed-Din went about seeking it, at the same time giving thanks as he went.
"Why do you give thanks?" asked his friend. "I see no cause for thankfulness."
"Cause enough," was the prompt reply. "Why, man alive, if I had been along with that donkey I'd have been lost, too."

It is usually safe to say that when a child is pale, sickly, peevish and restless, the cause is worms. These parasites range the stomach and intestines, causing serious disorders of the digestion and preventing the infant from deriving sustenance from food. Miller's Worm Powders, by destroying the worms, corrects these faults of the digestion and serves to restore the organs to healthy action.

Death of Mrs. John Auld
Strathroy, July 11.—Euphemia Willemina Murr, widow of John Auld of Warwick, died in the 86th year of her age. She was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, February 16, 1829, and was a daughter of the late Thomas Hay.
The family settled in the village of Errol, Lambton County, during the rebellion in 1837, and later removed to the village of Warwick in about 1840, when that village was the principal point on the London and Sarnia stage route.
In 1849, she was married to John Auld, who was then interested in a millinery business. He died on October 11, 1864.
In 1865 the family removed to Strathroy, where she conducted a millinery business for 34 years.
The family consisted of four children, of whom Mrs. H. Bentley and Mrs. (Dr.) Crouter are deceased.
John A. Auld, of the Amherstburg Echo, and Wm. H. Auld, of the Essex Free Press, are sons of deceased. Miss Effie E. Bentley, of Strathroy, is a granddaughter. The funeral took place on Wednesday morning to St. Marys Cemetery, Warwick Village.

ORANGE CELEBRATION IN WATFORD JULY TWELFTH

A Big Parade, A Festive Crowd, Lots of Good Music, Fine Weather and A General Good Time
Watford has had some big Orange celebrations, but the one on Monday last eclipsed all previous efforts in the number of lodges taking part, the size of the crowd attending the proceedings and the enthusiasm manifested, and the 25th anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne will long be remembered by every Orangeman who was present.

The weather in the forenoon was cloudy but pleasant, the copious showers on Sunday leaving a cool and exhilarating atmosphere, which was ideal for outdoor pleasure. The afternoon was rather warm, but not oppressively hot. The early morning trains brought in quite a few visitors and from that time on the crowd swelled until noon, at which time the streets were a larger crowd than at any celebration in the history of the place, with probably one exception—the Old Boys' Reunion.
Nothing was left undone to insure the comfort and entertainment of the visitors. Soon after one o'clock, the Marshall of the day, Bro. Jas. Gillard, D. of C. of the East Lambton County lodge, started to form the brethren in line. He was ably assisted by Bro. Cox, director of ceremonies for West Lambton. The procession was formed in front of the army and headed by the Watford citizens' band, proceeded by the way of McGregor, Front, Main and Simcoe streets to the park. It was the largest Orange procession ever held here, some 28 lodges being in line with two brass bands, two piccolo bands and a number of fifes and drums to furnish the music.

All the lodges did not register, but the following were noted in the procession:—Beatty Lodge No. 514, the senior lodge in the county; Adelaide, No. 310; Arkona, No. 2339; Kettle Point, No. 2017; Warwick Village, No. 516; Forest, Oil Springs, No. 1151; Sarnia Huron, No. 916; Wainstead, No. 629; Lovelock, Nos. 2190 and 964; Sarnia Reserve, Nos. 671 and 608; Petrolia, Nos. 195 and 196; Jura; Wyoming, No. 964; Cornuna, No. 608; Brigden, No. 916; Broke, Nos. 1029, 746, 831; Plympton; Ebniskillen, No. 195; Watford, No. 505. Two bus loads of members of Ladies' Lodges headed the procession.

On the line of march were banners bearing the mottoes "In God We Trust," "My God, My Country and My King," "Equal Rights to All," "A United Canada," "Special Privileges to None," while a large "Welcome" banner was strung at the north and south ends of Main street. There was a profuse display of flags and bunting, which, with the gaily dressed crowd adorned with red and party-colored ribbons, made a pleasing and festive scene.
Arriving at the park, the vast crowd listened to some excellent speeches, delivered from a platform gaily decorated, erected in front of the grand stand. Col. Kenward, Reeve of Watford, was chairman, and extended a hearty welcome to all. Addresses were delivered by Co. Master W. Cully, of Forest; W. H. Stewart, of Rouleau, Sask., a past Co. Master; Rev. S. P. Irwin, Watford; J. E. Armstrong, M. P., Petrolia; Dr. Martyn, M.P.P., Alvinston; Rev. H. F. Kennedy, Warwick; R. J. McCormick, Warwick; Dr. Pickering, Forest; Rev. J. C. McCracken, Wyoming; S. Stapleton, Watford.

The speeches were interspersed by selections by the Indian Brass Band and the Watford Band, the former closing the program with the national anthem.
The lodges then re-formed and marched back to town.
The day was a big success in every way and all seemed to enjoy themselves.

NOTES
The exercises of the day were well managed and the smoothness with which the program was carried out reflects credit on those in charge.
No rain on this 12th.
It is estimated that over five thousand people were present.
Did you hear the bagpipes? Something unusual in an Orange parade.
The grandstand was packed from top to bottom, principally by ladies interested in the speeches.
The various bands supplied any amount of music of good quality, the Indian Band attracting considerable attention.
Petrolia and Brigden fife and drum bands did good service. The white uniforms of the latter made a conspicuous showing.
Many old friends met here on the 12th, and the hearty hand shakes and broad smiles testified to the pleasure of the meeting.
The four little Scotch dancers were warmly received and their performance caused a pleasant diversion in the speech program.
Sarnia sent quite a sprinkling of visitors, notwithstanding the fact that the Orangemen of that city passed by for an inferior celebration.
Members of the Wyoming Salvation Army held almost continuous service during the late afternoon and evening and had fair collections.
Visiting Orangemen were profuse in their praise of their reception. "No better place than Watford for the 12th" was the opinion on all sides.
Anyone who was not familiar with the music of "Tipperary," has no excuse now for not knowing that popular tune. It was played times without number.
The booths did a land office business all day. The young ladies who made their first business venture at the army corner were cleaned out of stock early in the evening and went home well satisfied with their undertaking.
The big crowd was a very well-behaved one. A few verdant youths tried to keep up with the callous old-timers in the amount of liquid refreshments taken, but could not stand the pressure. The Chief kept his eye on those who were inclined to imbibe wisely.
Joshua Saunders, of L. O. L. 505, was said to be the best dressed Orangeman in the parade. If a prize were given each year for the best-dressed lodge and to individual members where the entire lodge is not uniformed, it would prove a finding card and would be money well spent.
Wyoming lodge, No. 964, wishes to have the celebration of the Battle of the Boyne in Wyoming next year, and with that end in view distributed invitations to the assembled lodges. The invitation was signed by Rev. J. C. McCracken, W. M., E. Bailey, Secretary, and J. M. Wilson, reeve of Wyoming.
The big crowd had no difficulty in getting all they wanted to eat and drink. The hotel dining rooms were crowded during meal hours and the Methodist church dining hall accommodated hundreds of hungry pleasure seekers. They report that their receipts amounted to $26.65. The Presbyterian ladies also served lunch and added a nice sum to their bank account.
The Orangemen's concert in the Lyceum was well attended, and all present enjoyed themselves to the full. Bro. J. E. Armstrong, M.P., presided and introduced a program that gave the utmost satisfaction. Alice Dunbar kept the audience in peals of merriment by her quaint and humorous stories and character songs, and Bert Rose, the comedian, made their sides ache through laughter. Alther Thompson, Gladys Comber, Ben Walker and Posa Charlton are all clever dancers and received rounds of applause.
The baseball game between Forest and Alvinston for a $25 cash prize was one of the best games ever seen here and was a good attraction. Hundreds of people who could not get near enough to the speakers to hear a word turned their attention to the game and were rewarded by seeing a closely-contested and highly-exciting game. At the eleventh inning the score stood 1-1, the match being decided in the twelfth by Alvinston gaining another run. A second game was played later in the day, which resulted in a win for Alvinston by a score of 4-2.

Mr. Joseph McIntyre, of Camlachie, is the winner of the Photo Contest, inaugurated by the Lambton Publicity Association for the best fruit scene in Lambton County. The photo selected showed an apple tree heavily laden with luscious fruit and picking operations just about to commence. Other photos selected worthy of prizes were submitted by:
E. F. Augustine, Cairo, (Highly commended)
Mrs. Wm. Edwards, Brigden.
Reginald A. Wells, Thedford.
W. A. Anderson, Forest, (six photos)
There were in all about 50 photos submitted and the judges, Dr. Fairbank and R. Stritell, experienced some difficulty in making the selection.

Postage Revenue Decreased
At a meeting of the Canadian Post Card Association, held in the Board of Trade Chambers, Montreal, June 28th, the question of the war stamp on post cards was thoroughly discussed. The general opinion, backed up by actual figures of business done by the various members, showed that the charging of the extra cent on postcards has so cut down the use of cards that the government receipts from this source are materially smaller than before the stamp act took effect. The members of the Association are taking steps to gather accurate data, which will be presented to the Government.

NERVOUS CHILDREN

Hard Study and Too Little Exercise Leads to St. Vitus Dance

There is much criticism of modern educational methods that require too much work of school children, allowing them too little time for play and preventing sufficient out-of-door exercise. When the study of music or any other accomplishment, with the necessary practice, is added the strain is increased. Under these conditions the blood becomes impoverished and fails to nourish the nerves. The child becomes restless, and twitching of the muscles follow. Sometimes the child stumbles in walking and drops what it tries to hold. Pallor, listlessness and irritability are symptoms that early show that the blood and nerves are failing to meet the demands made upon them, and that St. Vitus dance has fastened its hold upon the child.

In this condition there is no tonic equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which build up the blood, strengthen the nerves and safely help to meet the demands of the growing child. Out-of-door exercise, nourishing food, plenty of sleep with these tonic pills will cure even the most severe cases of St. Vitus dance. We offer the following proof: "Up to the age of ten years," says Mrs. Johnson, of Hemford, N. S., "my son Calvin was as healthy and rugged as any child could be. Then he began to complain that his eyes hurt him, and of pains in the head, and began to fall back in his studies at school. Then I noticed a twitching of the muscles of his face and arms, and later his whole body seemed to be in constant motion. Our family physician was called in and pronounced the trouble a severe attack of St. Vitus dance. He was under the doctor's treatment for some three months but did not seem to improve. We had taken him from school, and were careful that nothing should excite him, but notwithstanding he grew worse, and the least start would bring on attacks of hysteria. This went on for some months until Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were brought to my attention, and we decided to give him this medicine. After using a few boxes there was a noticeable improvement, and by the time he had taken nine or ten boxes he had recovered his former good health. There has been no sign of a return of the trouble, and I can scarcely say how thankful we feel for the complete restoration of our son's health."

Parents who find their growing boys or girls becoming nervous should lose no time in giving them Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You may ward off an attack of St. Vitus dance, or if the trouble has reached that stage the Pills will effect a cure. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
