Valuable Lessons Taught by Champagne and Neuve Chapelle Offensive.

GERMAN PLANS SPOILED
British Victory Prevented Big Success for Enemy at St. Eloi.

LONDON, April 2.—The official British observer with the French army compares in his latest report, which was issued tonight, the results achieved by the French offensive in Champagne with the object with which the operations were undertaken. The object, he says, was to keep a constant pressure on the German first line defences in order to affect the use by the Germans of the railway from Bazancourt to Chalons and to wear down their reserves of men and ammunition.

Postal Authorities Have Evidence of Plan to Swell Gold Reserves.

IRON FINGER RINGS
Number Addressed to German Sympathizers Intercepted at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, April 2.—The postal authorities here have held up a number of iron finger rings addressed to German sympathizers in Canada, and at the same time have unearthed a peculiar scheme to assist the "fatherland." The plan is being carried out by certain German newspapers in the United States. People are asked to send in their gold rings, which are sold to be forwarded to Germany, ostensibly to assist the Red Cross Fund, but it is believed to help swell the Kaiser's gold reserves.

None of the aviators was hit. All the machines returned to our lines.

BRITISH VESSEL TORPEDOED OFF COAST OF SPAIN
German Submarines Also Sank Norwegian Ship and Three Trawlers.

LONDON, April 2.—During the last 24 hours news has been received in London of the sinking of the British steamer Eston, the Norwegian barque Nor and three British trawlers by German submarines, and of the Dutch steamer Schieland, presumably by a mine. Seven sailors of the Schieland are missing.

OFF COAST OF SPAIN
A decided station in the range of operations of German submarines is indicated by a Lisbon despatch, to the effect that the U-28 has been operating off the coast of Spain. The British steamer Eston, which went down off Cape Finisterre, is said to have been torpedoed by the U-28. It carried more than 700 miles from Cape Finisterre to the nearest German submarine base. The cape is about 600 miles north of Gibraltar.

Dutch Ship Blown Up
The Dutch steamer Schieland was blown up yesterday morning in the North Sea at a point 24 miles from Spurn, on the east coast of England, at the entrance to the Humber. One of the vessel's crew was killed.

Killed by Explosion
The captain and seven other members of the crew were brought to Hull. Another boat with seven sailors three of whom were killed, was blown up last night after having been missing for a number of hours.

BRITAIN FIRMLY FACES THREATS OF RETALIATION
German Protest Against Treatment of Submarine Crews Answered.

LONDON, April 2.—A German protest and threat of reprisals on account of the treatment by Great Britain of the prisoners taken on board German submarines was made public here today. This protest was transmitted by Germany to Great Britain thru the United States.

PUT IN NAVAL BARRACKS
The foreign secretary, Sir Edward Grey, in his reply, said that the prisoners from German submarines had been placed in naval detention barracks and segregated from other war prisoners, but were being treated humanely and permitted to take exercise. Furthermore, the foreign secretary said, German prisoners in England are better fed and clothed than in their own country.

OFFICERS WELL FED
Cats Sold at Two Dollars and Dogs at Five Dollars for Food.

LONDON, April 2, 2.59 a.m.—The common soldier and the populace were the only sufferers from starvation in Peremyel; the officers had abundant food, wine and cigars to the last, according to The Times Peremyel correspondent. The correspondent declares that the available supplies were not economically expended, and that moreover the fortress was three times over-garrisoned.

GERMANS COMPELLED TO FALL BACK FROM NIEMEN IN HASTY RETREAT WITH HEAVY LOSSES—MORE HEIGHTS CARRIED BY STORM IN CARPATHIANS—AUSTRIAN EXPEDITION TO BESSARABIA CUT OFF AND SURVIVORS OF SEVERAL BATTALIONS CAPTURED.

LONDON, April 2, 10.05 p.m.—The Russians are now on the offensive along the whole of their front, from the Baltic Sea to the Rumanian border and in the Caucasus, and according to a Stockholm despatch they have concentrated an enormous number of soldiers on the coast of Finland to prevent any attempt by the Germans to land there.

Success in Uzak Pass.
The Russians have also taken the offensive against the German force in the region of Kozulovka, near the Uzak Pass, which has for so long been launching attacks against the Russian position. In that district a large number of prisoners are reported to have been captured.

NEW SUCCESS IN HILLS.
Special Cable to The Toronto World.
PETROGRAD, April 2.—The Russian columns which are advancing in the Carpathian Mountains are still carrying everything before them, the war office reporting tonight the capture of almost all the summits and an important range of heights of the Poltona range north of the Villages of Vestina, Berfahl, and Gornya. This offensive which gained these positions was concentrated chiefly on the Volsk-Michael front in the direction of Uzak Pass and the conduct of the Russian troops whose attacks nothing seems to be able to stop again proves one of the surprises of the war. The subjected to a violent fire of Austrian rifles, machine guns, and field artillery, the Russian infantry escalated escarpments covered with ice and after a long and bloody struggle, this same infantry carried this important range of heights with the bayonet. The battle was thus marked by the taking by assault of a front well organized for defence, including two entrenching hedges of barb wire and timber obstacles. Thirty-two officers and 2,300 men were taken prisoners by the Russians during the day.

Austrian Attack Repulsed.
Repulse of the Austrians with heavy losses in the region west of the railway to Mezolaborc is reported by the war office. The enemy recently concentrated forces in this region for the purpose of taking the offensive. The Russians blew up an Austrian sap in the region of Kozulovka and occupied a trench just above the sap.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

SAYS CANADIAN BOOTS WERE GOOD

But the Men Dried Them Before Roaring Fires After Wet Days.

NOT GIVEN FAIR CHANCE

Sergeant Bayliss of Mount Dennis Returns Home on Sick List.

Bitterly disappointed, but determined to have another try for the front, is the case of Sergeant Joe Bayliss, who has just arrived at Mount Dennis, having been invalided home after a severe attack of pneumonia.

Sergeant Bayliss left last fall with the 9th Mississauga Horse Infantry Company for Valcartier after spending about two days at Long Branch, when he acted as orderly-room sergeant. At Bustard Camp, said to have been the worst point on the plains in regard to rain and mud, the company became "B" Company of the 2nd Battalion, one of the Ontario regiments, and later was drafted into the 9th Battalion. This battalion continued to be billeted in tents until the departure for France, and for some time far from well, Sergeant Bayliss remained with the company till, breaking down before reaching the firing line, he, to his great disappointment, was sent to the base at Shorncliffe, thence to Tidwell, and finally sailed from Liverpool for the Misamis, to Halifax with other invalided soldiers.

including some of the wounded of the Princess Patricia's Regiment. Some little while ago, Sergeant Bayliss, the thrust of a bayonet, to tell of experience at the front, established the latter as in a class by themselves, to which, to their deep chagrin, the merely sick could not aspire.

Submarine Sunk. Three days out from Liverpool the Misanable was conveyed by a British destroyer, which, one day out, reported the sinking of a German submarine. During these days all men in uniform were kept below decks.

Sergeant Bayliss expresses himself enthusiastically regarding the qualities of the Canadian soldier. While zeal, tempered at first to exertion, and the breaking of records in marching, at the end of the marching and discipline were splendid. When it came to the final review before the King, the men compared favorably, says Sergeant Bayliss, with the best of the British army could produce.

Great activity prevailed even when the Canadian contingent left for France in providing quarters for soldiers all over the Plains and in other parts. Buildings, each for the accommodation of about 50 soldiers, were being erected in all directions, and the short journey from London to the port of embarkation for France, no less than four camps, with railways in connection, were passed.

Had Good Boots. Sergeant Bayliss has a good word for the boots issued to the contingent at Valcartier. He himself has brought back the two pairs issued to and worn through by him. With one pair, the soles have only now shown signs of being worn thru. In many cases by a being worn thru. In many cases by a being worn thru.

Several matters of local interest will be discussed at a meeting of the Todmorden Ratepayers' Association, to be held in St. Andrew's Parish Hall on Monday night. The question of reduction in the Hydro rates is the principal topic under consideration in the district at the present time, the residents claiming that their rates should be reduced as well as those in the city.

Some action in this regard will probably be taken by the association. The sewer and police protection questions being discussed.

JUST TWENTY CENTS FOR BRICKLAYERS

Charge That Union Rates Are Not Being Paid on School Building.

At the last meeting of the North Toronto Ratepayers' Association, devoted largely to the discussion of educational matters and attended by Chairman Hodgson and William Houston, the charge was made that workmen employed on the high and public schools of the city, more particularly in the north end, were not receiving the union rate of wages. It was also charged that a number of foreigners were being employed on the completion of the Davisville Public and North Toronto High Schools.

The chairman of the board stated that if any case of this kind came before the members and charges were proven, an investigation would follow and the contractor dealt with.

It is now stated that bricklayers on the Davisville Public School are working for 20 cents an hour, while the foreman receives 25 cents; concrete mixers, 25 cents an hour, and the foreman, 20 cents. Carpenters on the North Toronto High School are working for 25 cents an hour, and a fact that is arousing a good deal of resentment is that the foreman on the Davisville School comes from Kentucky.

It is proposed to go at once to the city hall, place the matter before the proper authorities, and demand not only an increase in the rate paid, but the payment of back wages.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been spoiled. Besides, it takes off dandruff, keeps itching and falling hair, and you just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wych's Sage and Sulphur is the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

The fines totaled $118 even money.

DUTY FALLS UPON EVERY CANADIAN

Sick and Wounded Must Be Cared For and Will Be.

FURTHER CALL MADE.

Red Cross Society Needs Assistance to Cope With Situation.

The list of casualties that appear regularly in the Canadian newspapers cannot fail to bring home the grim realities and tragedy of war and the duty that falls upon each citizen of this country to take his or her share in the burden that all must bear in order that the cause may triumph in the end. The soldiers have not only borne their baptism of fire but have taken a prominent part in the greatest single engagement since the battle of the Marne. The casualties are heavy; but not too heavy for the splendid results that were gained, and the bravery and steadiness of the brave soldiers from the Dominion have won the admiration of the h-foemed British soldiers, from the commander-in-chief down to the humble Tommy.

The appeal of the Red Cross Society never went out to the people of Canada with greater fervor or encouragement than today, and it is impossible to sufficiently impress upon the men and women of the country the great need for further assistance and encouragement. The hospitals that the people of Canada have equipped by their generosity have now within their walls to health in order that they may be able once more to take their places on the battle line. Their thoughts are turning to their loved ones across the broad expanse of water that separates them from the homes they left, and they are looking to the men and women of Canada to do their share and do it in a larger measure than ever before.

The Canadian Red Cross Society believes that the money will be forthcoming, however large may be the sum required. The war presses upon all classes, but all classes cheerfully acknowledge their debt to the wounded. It is a debt of honor and a debt of duty. It is a debt, besides, of gratitude and love. These men have given their life blood for the sake of Canada and the Empire. Canada will not weary of tending them in their homes. If this country is to stand according to their abilities, and the remotest parts of the Dominion have contributed to the Red Cross.

The generosity with which the people of Canada have given to the needs of the Red Cross Society has been a pleasure to them in it, and their satisfaction with the work they have done is not lessened by the fact that their money has been applied, and that the remotest parts of the Dominion have contributed to the Red Cross.

NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

FADS IN HOSIERY FOR THIS SEASON

Must Harmonize With Shades of Shoe Uppers and Worn.

MANY TONES ARE USED

Sand, Putty, Green and Blue Will Be Extensively Featured.

Fads in hosiery promise to enjoy popularity this season, for foot gear which grows more and more fanciful, must have attractive alk hose in accompaniment. In the first place, there will be a number of novel shades introduced, for one of the first dictates of fashion is that hosiery must match identically the color employed in the "uppers." When pearl-topped boots are worn the same shade must be procured for hosiery, and this holds good in every instance.

Accordingly smart shades including sand, putty, all tones of green and blue will be greatly featured, and many unique designs will be favored. Very conspicuous are the black and white fads, which show large checker-board effects, stripes and flowered designs.

The "stock" effects are good, worked on colors in black and strappings of military aspect are promised in hosiery to be worn with the summer shoes of extremely low cut. Small crests on the instep are featured also for low shoes and for evening wear, some very elegant models employ beaded effects in many colored brilliants.

The vine patterns and even snake "twists" are considered chic, while the half-and-half effects and plaid designs will be featured for winter forms on occasions when the silk tights is worn.

MANY SPLENDID NUMBERS.

Free Victoria Recital This Afternoon at Heintzman Hall.

"The Palms," sung by Caruso, will be the Easter selection at the Free Victoria Recital in the Recital Hall of the Y. O. L. F. of Heintzman and Co., Ltd., Heintzman Hall, 183-185-187 Yonge street, this afternoon, 2.35 to 3.45. This is only one of the many numbers on the program.

FUNDS FOR EQUIPMENT.

As there has been some confusion regarding contributions which have been made for the equipment and the laboratory purposes of the University General Hospital, it has been determined to consolidate the fund so that subscriptions should henceforth be made payable to the general fund for the No. 4 Canadian General Hospital (University of Toronto). Contributions may be sent either to Dr. M. Primrose, secretary of the medical faculty, or to Mrs. F. M. G. Starr, treasurer of the ladies' committee, 1122 College street.

BOOKS ON GARDENING.

For the seventh year the Public Reference Library anticipates the wants of Toronto citizens by gathering in one place, and accessible to all, the books, pamphlets and catalogues which may help to make the front garden beautiful and the back garden productive. There are hundreds of books on gardening in the circulating libraries, but the new Reference Library is a special collection, which may be seen at any time between 10 a.m. and 3.30 p.m.

MANY INSPIRED BY SERMON AND SONG

Good Friday Services of Salvation Army Were Well Attended.

HELD A BIG PARADE

Headed by Bands, Great Column Marched to Massey Hall.

Massey Hall, with every seat occupied, presented an imposing scene at the Good Friday service yesterday morning, conducted by the Salvation Army, 1840 strong. This huge service and review, which has now become an annual celebration, has during the past ten years attracted widespread attention, and the capacity audience which filled the hall long before the time of commencing was sufficient proof of the popularity of the army and all its efforts.

Previous to the service a monster parade was organized at 9.15 o'clock, the marching ground being the armories, under the command of Lieut. Col. Taylor. During the formation of the procession, in which the complete army, including Commissioner Richards, officers, corps and bands, marched in six sections, a grand serenade was given by the bands, under the leadership of Bandmaster Palmer.

Commencing at 9.55 o'clock the procession left the armories for the route of parade along Albert street to Yonge street, up Yonge to Wilton avenue to Church street, west of Shuter to Massey Hall, accompanied by fitting music rendered by the various bands.

The service at Massey Hall was a credit in every respect. The platform which was occupied by specially invited guests and all officers of the rank of major and upwards, was handsomely decorated with lovely palms and presenting a unique design and setting of aerially lighted pieces required through the program.

An unusual feature was the use of three powerful stereopticon lanterns on a screen 60 feet wide, upon which were thrown many handsome and magnificent slides and all officers of the rank of major and upwards, was handsomely decorated with lovely palms and presenting a unique design and setting of aerially lighted pieces required through the program.

Songs and Sermon. The first congregational song "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross" was interpreted in full by beautifully colored slides, this and the following songs being accompanied by 300 instrumentalists. Following an impressive selection "The Wondrous Cross" by the massed bands. Major Wm. C. Arnold, rendered the sacred solo "A Voice from Calvary."

One of the most effective numbers of the entire program was an impressive and stirring song, "Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone?" The children marched, frocked in pure white, and carrying a banner, lighting their places in an immense gold cross, illuminated with 250 lights. The cross was banked with palms and flowers and surrounded by the adult choir of 200 voices.

The scripture portions were read by Col. Gaskin and the fine service closed by a powerful and inspiring address by Commissioner Richards who chose as his text "He Saved Others, Himself He Cannot Save." Two of the Salvation Army members who have offered themselves for their country's service, were on the platform. Following an impressive selection "The Wondrous Cross" by the massed bands. Major Wm. C. Arnold, rendered the sacred solo "A Voice from Calvary."

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By LEONA DALRYMPLE

Author of the new novel, "Diane the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by the M. T. Barbell and Co. as judge.

Notice and Vanity.

A MAN may be perfectly good-humored even when he is not looking quite so well as he might. Not so a woman. And, conversely, a consciousness of an unusual good appearance does not affect a man's spirits as it does a woman's. It is much more likely to depend upon his appetite. Walking to the restaurant that morning I was cranky because I was decidedly hungry. Mary was in jubilant spirits because her gown fitted wonderfully and she knew she looked well.

"Peter!" she whispered once.

"Yes?"

"Do you see that man turn and look at me?"

"No."

"Well, I did."

"An 'Eye Compliment'?"

Mary walked on with a sort of defiant satisfaction that annoyed me a little. So often a woman seems to resent the bold, careless stare of the admiring male when in reality it panders to her vanity. I said as much to Mary and her color rose rather guiltily.

"You're simply cranky," she said loftily, "because it's so warm."

"I'm not cranky," I snapped, knowing very well that I was.

Mary shrugged prettily. In a less pretty gown her shrug would have been a shade less gracefully insolent and self-assured.

"Women," I said suddenly, "frequently choose to imagine that men are staring at them when they're not. I once knew a girl who was always persisting in accusing casual male pedestrians of flirtatious advances. She had a crafty imagination. You sound silly!"

"I'm not trying to be clever."

"You mean you don't have to try?"

Peter Began Pardon.

"I meant nothing of the sort. And that girl I spoke of once insisted that she was on the back of a trolley car winked at her, and her escort hailed the trolley, dragged off the offender and thrashed him, only to have his doubts of the man's guilt and the girl's truthfulness."

"Peter, I thought you disliked harping on a subject."

"I'm not harping. I'm merely pointing a moral. I dislike that daintily egotistical femineity that sweeps every street with insinuating eyes."

"Bosh!" said my wife, and all at once it did sound bosh to me, too.

Looking back I felt that I had been wrong and making something of a fool of myself.

"Mary," I said contritely, "I do feel rather warm and cranky and fussy. I beg your pardon."

"It's all right, Peter," said my wife graciously. And I saw her glance with satisfaction again at her gown. I felt that I could thank its beautiful designer for her ready forgiveness, though why my cranky hunger made me do so I don't know.

"Very well, then," said Mary. "We'll smoke the pipe of peace, shall we? And where are we going to lunch?"

SPRING PLANTING

A GREAT many things are planted in Spring. There is digging in the soil, and a lot of fussy business with flower pots. But really, garden spades and pots and seeds and sprouts don't always mean much WORK. It depends on who is doing the working. It is possible to take advantage of planting time to plant THOUGHTS as well as things. Thoughts grow, too. Marvellous blossoms spring from them—thorns, also, to be sure, but you can't have your roses without them. Anyway, you may be sure that HE is planting against the future, probably with an impatience to have the thought sprig grow very quickly. And SHE, with the best intentions at the beginning, joins very often in DREAMS. But Spring Time is Dream Time.

Do the "Stitches" of Life Loom Large?

By WINIFRED BLACK

Copyright, 1915, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

WE stood in the great art gallery together, the Little Girl and I.

The Little Girl's hair is braided down her back, and she is just at the age when no skirt in the world stays long enough for her over two weeks at a time.

She is in fractions, and she hates them, and she knows that Buenos Ayres is the capital of something or other. And she likes blue the best of all the colors, and she thinks "Lorna Doone" is the greatest book that was ever written, and she'd rather read the "Lady of Shalott" than to make her bed or dust her room, and she can do the cross stitch and the French knot, and she doesn't care a thing about whom she's going to marry, only he must have dark eyes and a flashing smile.

How it turned the arms of the great windmill, how it blew the cloaks and caught the skirts of the women who were struggling up the hill against it! It sang, it shrieked, it laughed, it called, it threatened, it wooed—the wind in the picture.

The Little Girl stood very still a very long time and looked and looked.

"Oh!" she said, "oh! let's come tomorrow and see the wind again."

But when we were at the other end of the gallery, quite far from the picture where the wind sang, the Little Girl stopped short.

"I don't understand," she said, "the little girl in the picture, the one with the brown cloak. You couldn't see how her dress was made, there were no stitches in it."

"She was too far away," said I. "See, the woman across the gallery there? There are stitches in her dress, too, but you cannot see them from here."

"Oh," said the Little Girl, quite joyously, "oh, I see! But why don't we see the hem?"

I explained to the Little Girl as best I could that the artist could not put everything into a picture.

In the first place he could only put into it the things that he actually saw, and he probably didn't see the hem at all.

If he had seen the hem he would be a tailor, and not an artist.

And in the second place, if he did see the stitches and did try to put them into his picture, all we should have would be a picture of stitches with a girl behind them.

Life's Big Picture.

We talked and talked about it, and it was very interesting; there were so many ways to look at it. And afterward, when the Little Girl was curled up in a corner of the divan reading "Lorna Doone," I thought a good deal about it.

That's what's the matter with so many of us so much of the time, isn't it?

We see so much of the stitches that we can't get the general effect of the dress. And as for the sunshine and the whirr of the bird's wings in the air, we don't even know they are there.

The little things, the little, necessary, stupid, uninteresting, useful things, new life is sewed together with them!

We must see them, we must do them, we must know that they are there, but oh, how foolish we are to see them so clearly that the rest of the picture is nothing but a background.

The little faults of the one you love, how large they loom sometimes.

I've seen the hour when I was so annoyed with a man for drinking his soup the wrong way that I forgot he was a brave soul, making a splendid struggle to live a hard life bravely.

I've seen the day when the way a woman sat in her chair made such an impression upon me that I didn't stop to realize that she was a heroine and a martyr.

Little stitches, little stitches! I let them get into the way of the whole picture.

What will it look like, the great picture we call life, when the Great Artist is done with it, I wonder?

Will it be full of the wind and the sun and the whirr of the wings of birds? Will there be a smile in it and the lift of a song and the beat of a kind heart, or will it be full of stitches?

How interesting it is to wonder about it!

Secrets of Health and Happiness

"Spring Fever" a Contrast of Ills and Easter Time

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B. M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

EASTER bespeaks the awakening of nature from the indolence, sluggish hibernation and cold death of winter.

The glorious exhalation of vitality, health and spirit now assumes an exuberance in the human heart that not even spring fever, tired feelings, or sulphur and molasses can utterly and completely rout out. The reaction from the very austerities of Lent and the forbidden exposure to the wintry icicles which hung by the wall stimulate the flagging, ragged fabric of your physiology.

Curious to tell, the tenacious old fallacy of "tired nerves" and "nervous exhaustion," "spring fever" and "tired feelings" still encourages the quack and charlatan to dispense huge carboys of spring "tonics" and "blood purifiers" to his own great profit and amusement. Each spring these perpetuated errors work havoc among good and kindly old-fashioned folk. They hug their delusions so vigorously to their bosoms that the medicine man with something yellow, sweet and pleasant to sell has only to put on labels to fit the demand. And lo! shakals begin to pour into his coffers as water gushed from the rock smitten by the magic staff of Moses.

Nerves Cannot Tire.

Physiologists to a man will tell you that a nerve does not become tired. Nerves are the very last of the tissue to become fatigued. Why, you may remove the nerves from market frogs, and beat them, send electricity through them, and torment the fibres to your heart's content, yet they will not show fatigue or exhaustion.

As a matter of fact, everything is exaggerated in this world or minimized by comparison. Blue eyes are made more blue by blue apparel. Knock-knees look worse if the child has rosettes or ribbons on the outside of his knees. If all watches are set at London time in New York and yours is correct, western time, you will quickly be convinced that the others are right and you are wrong.

Three Best Doctors.

Where everybody is cheerful, any one who throws cold water into the assembly by a narration of his own gloom becomes a much more egregious bore than would appear if the others were equal nuisances.

It must be plain from all of this that when you have a mild discomfort, are somewhat out-of-sorts, or feel otherwise ill-like the birds chirping to feel the fountain of youth spring up cheerily round about, to note the great and enticing sunlight and balmy zephyrs calling you Christ-like to over-extend your powers of the flesh, all of this and the other stirring blandishments of budding nature make your aches seem all the more irksome and feverish. In a word, you pay a more attentive devotion to your emotions and sensations. Diary of a Well-Dressed Girl

By SYLVIA GERARD

Solving the Problem of Rainy Day Hats in Novel Ways.

I had only been the "wise man" who carries an umbrella when the sun is shining my pretty blue straw hat trimmed with ostrich tips would not have been ruined in yesterday's shower. Mother's hat does not seem much the worse for the wetting, but mine's beyond redemption.

We were calling on the Carttons, and started home about 5, when a shower suddenly came up, and we were drenched before we reached the next house, where the Tenners live.

When I arrived home and took off my hat I there and then resolved to trim several hats which would be suitable to wear in rainy weather.

In the morning paper I saw a sale of untrimmed hats advertised, so started downtown posthaste to invest in a few. Once the quality proved to be all that was stated in the ad, and there was a great variety of colors and shapes. So many of them were becoming that I bought five, and the entire collection cost less than I would have paid for two hats ordinarily.

One is a smart turban of dark blue Milan straw with the brim sharply turned up at one side, and a narrow straight brim on the other. I bought a quantity of white grosgrain ribbon, an inch and a quarter in width, and pleated it to form a frill. With this I edged the brim and a bow of dark blue, dull silk which trims the front. No amount of dampness can harm this hat, and it is very smart besides.

A taupe-colored, flat turban of rough straw appealed to me so strongly that I simply could not pass it by. The milliner suggested that I trim it with roses in dull tones of rose and gray. I followed her advice and placed the roses flat against the brim, and I have a colorful hat to don when the skies weep. Black and white always has been a favorite combination of mine, and when I saw a small hat with a bowl-shaped crown of dull, black straw I immediately saw it trimmed with white.

I was afraid that the brim of this hat would be too narrow, but it was decidedly becoming when I tried it on. The trimming was a simple matter. About the base of the crown I used a band of narrow white moire ribbon tied in a flat bow at the back with the long ends hanging over the edge of the brim.

Directly in front I posed two slender white wings which tower high above the crown. It is one of the smartest street hats I've seen anywhere, and there isn't a thing on it that water can harm.

A sailor hat trimmed with a quill is the most becoming tailored hat I can wear, so I bought one of dull green straw with tan upper brim.

Then I trimmed it with a tan-colored quill, placing it flat against the brim on one side. It will look well with my plain linen frocks this summer, and if I'm caught in a shower will not lose its beauty.

I think the "Kitty McKay" suffers with its flat crown and straight, narrow brims are the dearest things that have appeared in millinery for a long time. They just seem to harmonize perfectly with the taffeta frocks with their wide skirts and short, loose jackets. The one I selected is of white hemp with a black under brim. I decorated the crown with a garland of dark blue and red silk applique roses, and it is a hat that would pass for any French model.

Rainy day hats are so easily trimmed that every one should have two or three. I'll never buy mine again.

Simple Easter Desserts for the Children

By ANN MARIE LLOYD

REALLY it is not every one who knows how to make an ordinary rice pudding. If it is properly cooked it is perfectly delicious, but when served in the ordinary way I don't wonder so many children dislike and refuse it.

Butter a deep pie dish very liberally. Lay at the bottom enough rice to cover 2 to 3 grains thick. Pour in one pint of a half of new milk, flavored to your taste, on the evening before the pudding is wanted. Set the dish aside so that the rice may get thoroughly well soaked. In warm weather, when the milk is likely to turn, it should be boiled before use.

Next morning, put the pudding in a very moderate oven, and leave it there for one hour and a half, at least, so that the rice may swell very gradually. Ten minutes before it is wanted, take it out of the oven, stand it on the rack,

The Good-Night Story

THE HIDDEN NESTS :: By Vernon Merry

THE children of the Clark family were very much disappointed when their mother said that there would be no colored eggs for Easter.

"The hens are not laying very well this spring," she said, "and there is just enough in the basket to cook for breakfast and to do the baking."

If they had not been good and thoughtful children they might have cried, but they knew that if it were possible for their mother to buy eggs she would not have told them that they would have to do without.

The children could not help feeling disappointed, but they went out into the orchard, away from the house, out on the edge of the farm, so that their mother could not see that they felt a tiny bit sorry.

"I wish I hadn't taken the money out of my bank to buy a new baseball bat and glove," said Teddy. "It would have bought five dozens of eggs."

Just then they heard a hen cackle, and turned around in time to see her running from beneath the currant bushes which bordered one side of the orchard.

The children all made a rush for the bushes, Teddy leading the way, closely followed by the other two.

He parted the branches, and there in the thick grass saw a nest with 14 eggs in it.

They quickly gathered the eggs and put them in Peggy's apron, and, being wise children, they followed the row of bushes in search of more nests, and found two others.

Laughing and shouting they carried the treasure to their mother, who was as pleased as they that the Easter baskets would now have the brightly-colored eggs which had made them so lovely the previous year.

"One of the beautiful Easter angels must have told the hens to hide their nests so that we could have eggs," said Peggy as she carefully lifted the eggs from her apron into the large basket.

"I shouldn't be a bit surprised if that is how it happened," answered her mother.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a young man, 19 years old, and am in love with a girl seven years my senior. Am I old enough to get married? Will it per week support two? Please advise me as soon as possible. My parents like her.

JOSEPH B.

YOU are scarcely old enough to marry, and it is always inadvisable to marry a woman so much your senior. Besides which it would never do to marry on $7 a week. It is hard enough for one person to live on that amount.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: We are girl friends, both 15 years old. We go with two nice fellows, who take us all about. But our mothers object to our going with them, as we are so young. They take us to the rink or dancing nearly every evening, and get very jealous if we skate or dance with other boys. Do you think we are right to keep company with these boys? ANXIOUS FRIENDS.

IT is all right to go with these boys some of the time, but I would not go with them all of the time, as you seem to be doing. Girls of your age should not have any certain man who takes up all of her time.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am in love with a nice young man who does not speak to me, and it almost breaks my heart to think of it. If you could help me out any way I wish you would. He has not spoken to me for six months, which seems like six years to me. To tell you the truth I could not tell you what we are mad over. SORRY.

FIGHT Principals Take it Easy

WISE LATE ARRIVALS AT HAVANA SAY JESS WILLARD HAS NO CHANCE

Johnson Will Box McVey Six Hard Exhibition Rounds Today Under Protest — Negro is Satisfied With His Condition.

HAVANA, April 2.—Jack Johnson and Jess Willard today worked out for their championship fight on Monday between heavy downpours of rain today. The storm and a high wind made the task unpleasant, the both eased up as a matter of course. The roadwork in the early morning was light, owing to the wet and slippery roads. The exercise at the afternoon exhibitions was of a harder nature, particularly in the case of Willard.

The challenger went thru his stunt in a sawdust covered ring before a large holiday crowd, each one of whom paid forty cents admission. Willard boxed three rounds each with Hemphill, Savage and Monahan, showing unusually good form. His fighting was the best he has shown thus far. He tried using the crouch this afternoon. He was fast with his left, occasionally using his right, and actually slugged Savage and Monahan at times. After the boxing he wrestled and threw the medicine ball.

Johnson worked this afternoon before a moving picture machine, describing the regular ring for a restricted space on the floor. He boxed eight rounds with Mills, Scott and Bell. His final round, which was with Bell, lasted eight minutes, and the champion joked with the spectators as he finished, showing no sign of exhaustion. Johnson's mastery boxing skill is a marvel to the Havana people.

Willard's Chance.

Former pugilists among the late arrivals claim that Willard, while physically perfect, has absolutely no chance before the champion. They declare that the challenger can win only by taking unlimited punishment, outgassing and outlasting the negro.

There is much uneasiness among members of the fight syndicate over Johnson's insistence that he box six hard rounds on Saturday. Apparently no amount of argument can change the champion's mind. He has told those of the public who have bet on him are entitled to get a final line on his fine condition. The box, Saturday, he asserts, of course, will not be a fight, but a hard exhibition. He declares that as champion he can and should be able to protect himself against all comers at all times, and that he could not let a retiree and give others a chance at the title.

Johnson says he wants to return to France with Johnson, where, he expects, if Johnson is still champion, he will turn the title over to him. Johnson's retirement from the ring, Johnson states that he will retire, but is not certain that he will give the championship to McVey, as Jim Jeffries did to Marvin Hart.

Johnson's Improvement.

The champion's continued improvement with the little public work which he has done has given rise to a story of secret training which Johnson denies with a laugh. It is reported that he has been boxing on his roof at daybreak with McVey, but the latter also denies the report. When advised by his friends to do still more work Johnson replied: "I am the best judge of my condition and I am satisfied. I know that I can fight three hours at a stretch if necessary."

Some of the camp followers say they are not sure whether Johnson is in such shape as he claims. They say that while the champion is in splendid appearance, they cannot tell his actual physical condition, since they have seen no test fight. They assert that they are sure to be slower on the offense and defence than he was when he fought Jim Jeffries. The battle, they believe, will go 20 rounds at least, and they express the opinion that Willard will enter the ring an even money favorite.

JOHNSON-WILLARD IN ARENA.

The Johnson-Willard fight returns will be given at the Arena Monday at noon. By special arrangement a direct wire from the ring will be installed in the Arena, giving the actual account in detail as the championship battle is being fought in Havana. One of the cleverest operators will have charge of the machine, so that a full and accurate description will be given. The interest in the fight being taken in the contest the big Arena should be well filled. Popular prices will prevail. The doors will be open at 12 o'clock.

Larry Lajoie Greatest Of All Ball Players

CLEVELAND, April 2.—If Napoleon Lajoie has an admirer among the baseball men of the past and present, it is Malachi Kittredge, the veteran catcher, who now is making his residence in Cleveland. According to Kittredge, it was almost impossible to outguess the Frenchman when the latter was at his best. To illustrate his argument, Kittredge relates two anecdotes:

"When I was with Washington we had a left-hander named Jacobson," he said. "One day when we were playing Cleveland he told us before he took the field that he had solved Lajoie's weakness. "What is it?" we asked. "A curve ball, rather low," he told us. "Larry came up with three on, Jacobson gave him that slow curve, rather low. Larry swung. Away went the ball over Charley Jones' head. It hit the old center field fence out on Dunham avenue, bounded back and hit Jones on the head, knocking him down."

"Say," said Jones when he came in when the innings was over, "if when you pitch Larry's weakness to him and he hits it so hard it knocks an outfielder down after it hits the fence, I'd hate to be playing centre if you pitched one in his groove."

"Then there was Hunter Hill. We had him on third base. The third-basemen used to play a short left field when Napoleon Lajoie came to bat, and so did Hill the first few games he played against Cleveland. Larry, of course, took advantage of this and used to lay many a one down and beat it to first. This got Hill sore, and he came to us one day and announced he had studied Larry and could tell by his movements when the Frenchman intended to bunt.

"He won't fool me any more," said Hill. "I have him pegged, and you'll see me right on top of the plate by the time the ball leaves the bat." "He did it all right and Larry bounded one off his knees into the third-base bleachers. Larry got a home run, and Hill was out. He's the worst pitcher for five weeks. In fact, that blow he got practically put him out of the big leagues."

AT THE PRIZE FIGHTS.

SCENE—The reserved section of any club in the pro circuit promoting "boxing illustrations" on the night of a big fight. A preliminary bout is in progress between a pair of awkward pork-and-knives, who are getting worse every round.

High Tenor Voice—Open the door, somebody! Open the door!

A Rich Baritone—Open a window! movin' Tenor—Yes, yes! Give us air! I'm suffocatin'!

Basso-Profundo—Who did this to us, anyway?

Thin, Squeaky Voice—Where's the guy who put 'em on? He's the guy I wantah meet. Wait'll I see him.

Far-off Cry—Ain't there no law nor nothin'?

Rich Baritone—Constable! Police! Help!

Basso-Profundo—Don't give them guys no part o' my dollar.

Thin, Squeaky Voice—(as one of the fighters lands a wild swing)—He struck 'im! He struck 'im! Mier! Referee. By heavens, he struck 'im! He struck 'im!

Far-off Cry (as the preliminary comes to an end in a wild tumult)—Wait a minute, there—put 'em in a back room and let 'em fight it out!

Avoid Conflicts in Federal Schedule

CHICAGO, April 2.—The #215 Federal League schedule-makers have succeeded in wiping out fifty of the conflicts with teams of organized baseball, as they appeared on last year's schedule. Copies of the 1915 chart were filed today and will be made public probably April 7. Here and in St. Louis it was found practically impossible to reduce the number. The Chicago will compete with the Cubs 32 times and with the Sox 25. Similar found in St. Louis at Chicago, Pittsburg at Kansas City, Newark at Baltimore and Buffalo at Brooklyn. The first game at St. Louis will be April 17, with Chicago; at Pittsburg April 17, with Kansas City; at Newark in the morning at Newark, and Newark in the afternoon at Brooklyn. Baltimore plays two games at Buffalo, Kansas City two at Chicago, and Pittsburg two at St. Louis.

DAVENPORTS DRAW WITH SUNDERLAND T. and D. Season-Opens With Many Games on the Holiday—Scores, Comment. Despite a wretched ground, the eastern section being nothing more than a quagmire, some good play was seen at the first division T. and D. game between Sunderland and Davenport at Weston road yesterday afternoon, which resulted in a draw of two goals each. The result is a fair representation of the play, which showed that both teams have some excellent players, whose only faults were thru lack of practice.

THISTLES OPEN WITH VICTORY Thistles and Old Country met yesterday at Lappin avenue in the opening league game of the T. & D. season, before a large crowd of spectators. Thompson kicked off for Thistles, but Scott intercepted his pass, and immediately O.C.C. were down on Thistles' goal, but Campbell relieved the situation. Both teams were displaying surprising form and were a credit to their trainers. After twenty minutes play Riddy scored for O.C.C. from a foul he had outside the penalty area. Before the interval McLaren tied the score by a perfect cross. Half-time score: Thistles O.C.C. 1.

OVERSEAS LOSE OPENING GAME Wychood and Overseas met on Wychood's new ground before a good crowd of spectators. In the first half McCook scored the only goal for Wychood after cutting through the defence. It is safe to say that if his shooting is well sustained against the Germans when he goes to the front he is sure to bag a few. Half-time score: Wychood 1, Overseas 0.

ULSTER STRONG. Ulster defeated Hawatha at Eaton's field before a large crowd by the score of 3 to 0 in a Second Division game. There was no score at half time. In the second half Ulster had the best of the game and Allan scored about 15 minutes before the finish. Forsyth getting the other from a penalty. Savary, Adams, Allan and Forsyth were best for Ulster, while Boshier, McShelvie, George, Ingarfield and Taylor were the stars for Hawatha. The teams: Ulster: (2)—McCook, McNeill, Campbell, (3)—Savary, W. Field, Walker, Allan, Forsyth, Elliott. Hawatha: (4)—Boshier, Nicol, McShelvie, H. Williams, George, Lawson, Pagan, Ingarfield, Tipper, Bremer, Taylor. Referee—T. Clark.

Broadview Fish In Holiday Meet The Toronto Broadview Swimming Club ran off a very successful meet on Good Friday afternoon. Walter Moore and Charlie Maitland were second and third, respectively. Gordon Millen was first in the junior events, closely followed by Will Beatty and Jimmie Watt.

JESS WILLARD Latest photo of the 240 lb. Kansan who meets Johnson next Monday at Havana for the world's championship. If size and reach count for enough the title will surely change hands. But as Willard only met two men of any class in his life, losing to Gunboat Smith in 20 rounds and merely gaining the decision over Carl Morris in ten rounds, the negro's crown does not seem in danger.

LACROSSE DELEGATES PASS MANY IMPORTANT AMENDMENTS Refuse to Change Date of Convention—W. McArthur is Elected Treasurer—Mann Cup Troubles Aired and Peaceful Solution of All Difficulty is Looked for—The Convention Dings. Yesterday's annual convention of the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association, held in Victoria Hall, was the most businesslike one of many years. All seemed fired with the ambition to do everything in their power to make the national game boom, and boom in earnest. Several important amendments were carried, and they were handled in a snappy manner. Much of the useless quibbling of former years was absent. Perhaps the most surprising procedure was the electing of a treasurer. The auditors suggested in their report that the office of the secretary-treasurer, formerly held by Frank Doyle, be divided, and that a treasurer be elected. The meeting then elected William McArthur, the popular goaler of the Young Toronto, to the position. Both Joe Lally and Francis Nelson spoke of the Mann Cup mix-up, and all parties were agreed that the warring parties should get together, and this looks probable. W. H. Merkleinger or Hanover retired from the second vice-presidency race, and this left Bert Brown of Fergus on in unopposed. There was some lively canvassing for the ten executive offices, and the following were the ones that succeeded: Theos. Henry, Brampton; Bert Booth, Orangeville; Eugene Dopp, Toronto; Ernie Doyle, Newmarket; James Dundas, Toronto; W. Gurney, Wingham; Chas. Hooking, Toronto; E. H. Johnston, London; Percy Lancaster, Havelsok, and John Ross, Toronto.

Inter-city soccer got away to a good start yesterday afternoon when All-Toronto defeated the Hamilton United team at the Scarborough Beach by a score of 3 to 1. ENEMY CREWS SEGREGATED

British prisoners of equal rank in Germany, and the Germans are not to be forced labor.

As the submarine crews have been engaged in sinking neutral merchant ships and in attacking British vessels, it is not surprising that they should be regarded as honorable opponents, but were offenders against the law of nations and common humanity.

The foreign secretary said that 1000 officers and men of the German navy had been rescued during the war, but that none from the British navy had been rescued by the Germans. However, he made no suggestion for a change.

Under date of March 20 the American ambassador wrote to Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, as follows:

"The American ambassador presents his compliments to your excellency and to the secretary of state at Washington, and in connection therewith transmits the hereto annexed text of a telegram, dated March 17, which Mr. Bryan has received from the German foreign office through the embassy at Berlin:

"According to notices appearing in the British press, the British admiralty is said to have made known its intention not to accord to the officers and crews of German submarines who have become prisoners of war, and especially not to concede to the officers the advantage of their rank."

"The German Government is of opinion that these reports are not correct, as the crews of the submarines engaged in the execution of orders given to them, and in doing this have solely fulfilled their military duties."

"As any notice in the press in question has become so numerous in the neutral press that an immediate explanation of the true facts appears to be of most urgent importance, if for no other reason than consideration of public opinion in Germany."

"The imperial foreign office, therefore, requests the American embassy to have an enquiry of the British government made by telegraph thru the medium of the American embassy in London as to whether and in what way they intend to treat the officers and crews of German submarines who have become prisoners in any respect worse than other prisoners of war."

Reprisals Threatened.

"Should this prove to be the case the request is added that, in the name of the German Government, the sharpest protest be lodged with the British Government against such proceedings and that no doubt be left that for each member of the crew of a submarine made prisoner the British army officer held as a prisoner of war in Germany will receive corresponding harsher treatment."

"The imperial foreign office would be grateful for information at the earliest convenience regarding the result of the steps taken."

Sir Edward Grey replied to the American ambassador under date of April 1 as follows:

"The secretary of state for foreign affairs presents his compliments to the United States ambassador, and with reference to his excellency's note of the 20th ultimo, respecting reports in the press upon the treatment of prisoners from German submarines, has the honor to state that he learns from the lords commissioners of the admiralty, that the officers and men who were rescued from German submarines, U-22 and U-23, have been placed in naval detention barracks in view of the necessity of their segregation from other prisoners of war.

"In these quarters they are treated with humanity, given the opportunity for exercise, provided with German books, subjected to no forced labor, and are lodged and clothed than British prisoners of equal rank now in Germany."

Not Honorable Opponents.

"As, however, the crews of the two German submarines in question before they were rescued from the sea were engaged in sinking innocent British and neutral merchant ships and wantonly killing non-combatants, they cannot be regarded as honorable opponents, but rather as persons who, at the behest of their government, have committed acts which are offences against the law of nations, and contrary to common humanity."

Majesty's government would also bring to the notice of the United States Government that during the present war more than 1000 officers and men of the German navy have been rescued from the sea, sometimes in spite of the danger to the rescuers, and sometimes to the prejudice of the British naval operations. No case has been known of any officer or man of the royal navy being rescued by Germans."

Under date of March 20 the American ambassador wrote to Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, as follows:

"The American ambassador presents his compliments to your excellency and to the secretary of state at Washington, and in connection therewith transmits the hereto annexed text of a telegram, dated March 17, which Mr. Bryan has received from the German foreign office through the embassy at Berlin:

"According to notices appearing in the British press, the British admiralty is said to have made known its intention not to accord to the officers and crews of German submarines who have become prisoners of war, and especially not to concede to the officers the advantage of their rank."

"The German Government is of opinion that these reports are not correct, as the crews of the submarines engaged in the execution of orders given to them, and in doing this have solely fulfilled their military duties."

"As any notice in the press in question has become so numerous in the neutral press that an immediate explanation of the true facts appears to be of most urgent importance, if for no other reason than consideration of public opinion in Germany."

"The imperial foreign office, therefore, requests the American embassy to have an enquiry of the British government made by telegraph thru the medium of the American embassy in London as to whether and in what way they intend to treat the officers and crews of German submarines who have become prisoners in any respect worse than other prisoners of war."

SHOOTING CHARGE AGAINST SOLDIER

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice Asks Report of Incident at Bermuda Harbor.

CLAIMS OUTSIDE AREA

Sentry Who Shot United States Citizen to Appear Before Court-Martial.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Sir Cecil Spring-Rice has asked the colonial secretary at Hamilton, Bermuda, for a full report of the shooting of George H. Montgomery of Buffalo, N.Y., by a sentry at Hamilton. The state department had under consideration today a mailed report from Wm. Allen, the American vice-consul, setting forth that the boat in which Mr. Montgomery was sailing was fifty yards outside of the prohibited limit when fired upon by a sentry. A non-commissioned officer and the sentry both have been ordered to appear before a court-martial, the result of which has not yet been learned.

The consular report states that Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery and two other women companions were sailing for the Aqueduct in Bermuda, one of the places frequented by sight-seers, and had approached the shore near a detention camp for German prisoners, merely to take about. The boatmen had passed the sentry's post, and were about to land when a shot was fired without warning. The report says: The bullet shattered the right foot of Mr. Montgomery. The foot had to be amputated and Mr. Montgomery is reported to be in a serious condition.

"Two valuable lessons, therefore, have been learned from the operations. The first is that the German front can be pierced. There were moments both in Champagne and Neuve Chapelle when the way was open when nothing more formidable than the weak resistance of sorely tried troops faced the attackers, and it does not follow because the hole was closed before advantage could be taken of it that this will be the case every time."

"The second lesson learned is that a serious attack on one point has an effect on the enemy's plans and fighting power at every other point. The British attack at Neuve Chapelle ruined the enemy's chances of a big success at St. Etienne. The French attacks at Perthes helped the British attack at Neuve Chapelle, and both these assisted the Russians to withstand the German offensive in the eastern theatre."

GERMAN FRONT IS VULNERABLE

withstand the French offensive were drawn from many parts of the German line, which indicates that the enemy has no central reserves that he can call up in case of an emergency.

"As regards ammunition, the German artillery has practised economy, which is unusual with them. On many days the shells did not go to keep down the fire of the French guns, although this meant heavier losses for their infantry in the trenches. This showed clearly that their supply of ammunition was not all that they could have wished, and an extra expenditure may well have made itself felt in the amount available on all parts of the German front.

"Two valuable lessons, therefore, have been learned from the operations. The first is that the German front can be pierced. NO EXTRA WEIGHT TO CARRY AROUND

Two Thousand Soldiers Hear Inspiring Good Friday Sermon.

TAKE SPECIAL COURSE

Training Class of Officers Will Go to Long Branch Today.

Owing to yesterday being Good Friday the training of the troops at Exhibition Park Camp was canceled. About two thousand of the men were away on special Easter leave, extending from Thursday evening to this morning. Another 2000 second contingent men will be permitted leave from today until early on Monday. The general public was barred out of the camp yesterday, but the soldiers were allowed to bring in relatives and special friends for a stroll around the grounds.

Nearly two thousand of the soldiers in camp attended the Good Friday service, held in the morning in the transportation building. The music was furnished by the band of the 19th Royal Grenadiers, under the leadership of Lieut. Waldron, and a very fine address was given by Hon. Capt. Rev. Dr. Gilmore, of McMaster University. His subject was a Good Friday one, "Christ Dying for Mankind." He said the men going forth to battle would not find the pack the heavier or the shoulder strap the tighter if they carried religion with them, as religion was the lightener of burdens, and the one essential in life. The service was taken by Hon. Major Rev. J. Russell Maclean, camp chaplain, and the lesson read by Hon. Capt. Rev. Thompson, chaplain of the artillery brigade.

Take Special Course

The special instruction class containing 38 officers and non-commissioned officers of the 3rd contingent, who are taking a 10 days' course at the camp, will put in the whole of today at the Long Branch Range. They will receive instruction in shooting, visual training and judging of distances. A number of officers and men of the second contingent have not yet completed their three instruction days against typhoid. They will be treated by the camp doctors today and on April 7 and April 12.

Enjoy Sacred Concert

There was a fine attendance of the troops at the Y.M.C.A. meeting in drills hall last evening. A sacred concert in keeping with Good Friday was given. H. Whitehead spoke on the work of the association. "Nonette," violinist, appearing at Shea's this week and "Tea-time" soloist, also at Shea's, were at the meeting and gave appropriate selections. W. H. Ball was chairman.

Last Honors Paid England's Greatest Financier by Nation's Representatives.

FUNERAL WAS SIMPLE

Crowds Lined Streets at Cortege Passed to Willesden Cemetery.

LONDON, April 2.—In accordance with his request, Baron Rothschild was buried quietly shortly after noon today at the Willesden Jewish Cemetery. Brief services were held at the late residence of the Baron in Piccadilly. The services were private, being attended only by the family and close friends. Outside the house there gathered a crowd of perhaps 4,000, among whom were many persons from the Jewish community in the east end. The body was taken from the house in a closed hearse, followed by motor cars containing the Baron's two sons, Colonel Walter and Charles, his brother Leopold, his son-in-law, Captain Olive Behrens and his nephews, Evelyn and Anthony. Earl Rosebery, a relative by marriage, also was among the mourners.

Paid Last Respects

As the funeral car passed the crowds bared their heads. King George was represented by Lord Annaly and Queen Mother Alexandra and Earl Howe. Others who attended the service were David Lloyd George, A. J. Balfour, Lord Reading, Lord Sandhurst, Lord Acheson, Lord Haldane, representatives of the various Jewish societies and most of the other leaders of the Jewish community. For a distance of half a mile outside the gates of the cemetery great crowds lined the road.

WOMEN DEPLORE SALE OF LIQUOR

Open Letter Sent Out by Toronto W. C. T. U. Calls for Immediate Action. An open letter has been issued by the Toronto Women's Christian Temperance Union. It deals with the temperance question and outlines what the union thinks should be done in regard to that matter. It is as follows: Because war conditions have caused such depression all over the empire and because patriotism demands the best we have, and are, therefore, we wish to state frankly that there is no time for the Province of Ontario to trifle with the restriction of liquor traffic.

WOMEN DEPLORE SALE OF LIQUOR

Canada is to hold on to the liquor traffic until she becomes drunk with wine. It behooves the women of this country to stand quietly and allow our fair name to bear the reproach of our sons the world over, that they are the slaves of a liquor traffic. We think not, and we declare it to be the duty of our government to be patriotic enough to stop the liquor traffic resulting from evil legislation. At least until the present war is over. With a conservative estimate of statistics given us, it is well within the mark to say that the liquor traffic costs this country more than $200,000,000 per year.

WOMEN DEPLORE SALE OF LIQUOR

The liquor paid for by the consumer amounts to over $100,000,000 per year. The cost of liquor thru loss of life, time, labor, police and court expenses, reformatories and jails amounts to over $90,000,000 per year. The revenue which comes from the liquor traffic and which we hear so much about is not more than $25,000,000 per year. This leaving a deficit of 100 million and cents to Canada of $175,000,000 per year. How long will the Canadian provinces wait before this revenue is applied to the Ontario debt? It will not be the last to respond to the spirit of the times and will prohibit the sale of liquor to every man, woman or child as long as this war continues.

WOMEN DEPLORE SALE OF LIQUOR

Canada is second to none in loyalty and devotion to the empire, and our own boys are noted in the homeland for their ability and adaptability in service. They will win distinction for courage and conduct if they are given a chance, and we cannot afford to bear the reproach which has been brought upon them and the country they serve because our government has broken faith with the motherhood of our land and has permitted the wet canteen to be reintroduced in the overseas encampments. The netting are realizing as never before that the ravages of the drink traffic are more to be dreaded than the devastations of war. Russia was the first to market this knowledge to do action, and has already proved its wisdom from both an economic and moral standpoint. The Scandinavian nations and France have passed measures of protection. Our enemies even are legislating for the good of their forces, because they believe the sobering effect of Canada to do action, and has already proved its wisdom from both an economic and moral standpoint. The Scandinavian nations and France have passed measures of protection. Our enemies even are legislating for the good of their forces, because they believe the sobering effect of Canada to do action, and has already proved its wisdom from both an economic and moral standpoint.

WOMEN DEPLORE SALE OF LIQUOR

Lloyd George says in a recent despatch: "Of the three enemies of Great Britain, Germany, Austria and drink, the latter is the greatest foe she has, and prohibition is at last a burning question in the mother country. It may be surprising to those provincial governments to know that there are Canadian mothers who are detaining their sons and husbands from the seat of war because of the
