PEACE CONFERENCE WORKING FOR RUSSIAN SETTLEMENT
Moderates Victorious Over Radicals in Trades and Labor Elections

EMPIRE WILL HAVE MANY DELEGATES AT CONFERENCE

The Enlarged Representation Means No Predominance in Actual Strength. A CANADIAN PANEL Four Ministers Will Constitute, and Will Be Drawn as Required.

Paris, Jan. 16.—(Special cable from John W. Dufco).—Sir Robert Borden, who came to Paris last Saturday, accompanied by a portion of his staff, will be joined today by his colleagues and other members of the mission in readiness for the formal constitution of the inter-allied peace conference on Saturday. Lloyd Harris and Frank Jones of the trade mission arrived last night. The Canadian mission will thus be reassembled here at British headquarters, with the exception of Mr. Draper, who is attending an important conference in London.

There has thus been ample opportunity for the presentation of the views of all parts of the British Empire and the result is seen in the satisfactory solution of the question of representation of the British Dominions in the conference.

Domestic Representation. The decision to give special representation to the British Dominions is accepted graciously by the Paris press, although its effect will be to give the British Empire at the full meeting of the conference 14 delegates. It is pointed out in the press that this enlarged representation means no predominance in actual strength, since the decisions of the conference will be determined not by voting powers, but by agreement.

TRAVEL TO EUROPE RAPIDLY INCREASES

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 16.—Civilian travel to Europe has opened in earnest. The department of external affairs is flooded with applications for passports. They are coming in lately at the rate of well over a hundred a day, and there is an accumulation of about a thousand with which the officials of the department have been unable to deal, as far as the Dominion Government is concerned, no passport is required for a person wishing to leave the country. But on arrival overseas the traveler must produce a passport as evidence of his bona-fides before he will be permitted to land. Before any person can leave the United Kingdom, permission must be obtained from the foreign office. Most of the traffic from Canada to Europe is, apparently, that of soldiers' relations.

GOVERNMENT WILL NOW GET PROFITS

No More Fortunes Out of Liquor Vendors' Ships. WOULD TAKE CHANCE Knowing of Change, Local Men Invest in One of Licenses.

When the provincial government cancels the license of the liquor vendors and takes over the business of dispensing liquor for medicinal purposes the vendors' stocks will be bought up by the government at market price. It is further understood that the present vendors of whom there are seven in the province, will be appointed as government agents to handle sales and will be paid a fixed salary. It is not known how many dispensaries will be opened, but as far as Toronto is concerned the government will probably open one in each ward.

Another local man who has taken a chance on the new system is John Doggett, who is a local man from the west. He has taken a chance on the new system by investing in one of the vendors' licenses, which he secured about that time. The government, as far as can be learned, decided to cancel the present vendors' licenses and initiate a dispensary system of their own as far back as last November. This knowledge, however, did not prevent several local men from risking their investment in one of the vendors' licenses, which they secured about that time.

Hourly reports, containing a new service, are received in Omsk direct from the French wireless station at Lyons, France. Outgoing communication will be inaugurated soon. The material was then brought down the Ob and Irish Rivers to Omsk. The boat was stranded three times on the voyage down the river in territory, dominated by the Bolsheviki but the party succeeded in getting away successfully.

MODERATES' GAIN OF SEATS SHOWS LABOR SENTIMENT

O'Leary Beats Ultra-Radical for Presidency by Large Majority. PRESS CRITICISM New Delegates Denied Vote, Fearing Anti-Democratic Prejudice.

Arthur O'Leary, Moderate, was last night elected by a large majority to the presidency of the Trades and Labor Council, winning against his opponent, R. C. Brown, ultra-radical, by a vote of 162 to 95. The newly-elected executive committee comprises John Doggett, elected because of his popularity with the nineteen unions represented in the building trades league; R. H. Cox, Moderate, who topped the poll; James Scott, Moderate, and John Sutherland, Moderate.

James MacMillan, a member of the Brotherhood of Carpenters, and also a member of the G.W.A., was elected as one of the evening papers excluded from the meeting. He desired to protest against the report in which the ultra-radicals in a statement which it quoted as coming from Peter MacMillan, detrimental to the soldiers, which was never uttered by that name. A better friend of the soldiers will not be found among the delegates, said Delegate MacMillan. "Let me further say that a death may soon be at the door of that paper. Both Mr. and Mrs. MacMillan are seriously ill. The motion was ruled out as unconstitutional."

Large Number of Concealed Weapons Have Been Recovered by Authorities. NO STREET MEETINGS Majority Socialists Have Installed New Government at Oldenburg.

Berlin, Jan. 15.—The systematic search of the Moabit district of Berlin by the government forces continued. More than 2,000 rifles, four machine guns and an uncounted number of revolvers already have been recovered. The authorities intend to extend the search to other sections of the city. Herr Noke, the military commander of Berlin, has issued a decree pointing out that the troops assembled in Berlin under his orders are not counter-revolutionary tools, but merely intended to restore the previous order. All street gatherings have been prohibited and the inhabitants have been admonished to keep off the streets, especially after dark. The public has also been informed that telephone services will soon be employed almost entirely for military and police purposes and the public is requested to limit its use of the telephone to the smallest minimum.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS IN TREATY FORM

Draft of Covenant Brings Together Main Features of Plans Proposed. Paris, Jan. 16.—The draft of the league of nations in the form of treaty enactments has now proceeded much further than generally supposed as a result of recent conferences between Lord Robert Cecil, Secretary Lansing and Colonel House, at which the best features of the various projects were embodied in concrete form of enactment. This is called a covenant, instead of a treaty, and re-embraces 13 articles and eight supplementary provisions which bring together the main features of all the plans presented.

DRY UNITED STATES IS NOW ASSURED
Two States Over Number Rejected Vote for Federal Prohibition Amendment. Washington, Jan. 16.—Ratification today of the federal constitutional prohibition amendment made the United States the first great power to take legislative action to permanently stop the liquor traffic. Nebraska's vote gave the necessary affirmative three-fourths majority of the states to make effective the amendment submitted by congress in December, 1917. It was followed by similar action in the legislatures of Missouri and Wyoming, making 23 states in all which have approved a "dry" America. Affirmative action by some ten state legislatures yet to act is predicted by prohibition advocates.

Will Be One of the Earliest Subjects to Be Taken Under Consideration. FRANCE STANDING FIRM Committee of Press Representatives Appointed to Formulate Position.

Paris, Jan. 16.—The meeting of the supreme war council at the foreign office this morning occupying two hours, was the only formal gathering of the peace delegates today. As summed up in the official communique the Russian situation was the conference's relations with the press were the only subjects treated. After the meeting President Wilson, Premier Lloyd George, Secretary Lansing and Mr. Balfour remained for some time in the ante-chamber of M. Fichon's office in earnest conversation. The discussion of the Russian situation appears to have been confined to agreement to exchange available information, the determination to have a joint examination of the subject, as stated in the official communique, indicates that the Russian situation will be one of the subjects to be taken under the earliest consideration. Premier Clemenceau declared today that the French Government had no intention of changing its policy with regard to Russia.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed.

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmit (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a small quantity of sugar; stir and dissolve. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmit is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

SOCIAL SERVICE CONGRESS MEETS

Joint Council of Employers and Employees Gains Advocacy.

Things to be done for the reconstruction of society were dealt with under various angles at the meeting of the Social Service Congress yesterday afternoon.

R. Parsons, ex-president of the Manufacturers' Association, asked how we could employ our definition of democracy to the relationship between the employer and employee.

Free education for all, free text books, government by the people and by order-in-council, more time to get in touch with nature and enjoy life and happiness were the things advocated by Mr. Moore as the means of bringing about prosperity for the country.

Dr. Samuel Zane Batten of Philadelphia said industry must be viewed in its relation to men and society. A thing is good for society that helps the coming up of the people out of subjection to a place of honor.

Hon. Dr. Cody, who presided at the evening session of the Social Welfare Congress, when the "New Social Order" was discussed, said that world reconstruction must begin by reconstruction of the individual.

The Women's Historical Society met yesterday at the Sherbourne House Club when Prof. Young of Trinity College spoke on the granting of lands in Upper Canada.

According to Major Barton, physical director of the University of Toronto, the recent dissatisfaction among the students on account of having still to do military drill, was because of the wearing of a uniform.

Automobilists seem to take considerable pleasure in speeding over the Bloor street viaduct. Constable Crowson, who has charge of the traffic on this section, has caught nearly 100 exceeding the legal speed limit.

A 250-pound weight in the clock on the Yonge street fire hall fell 40 feet on Wednesday evening when a cable parted. As the weight was in a tube it went to the bottom without causing any damage.

The Toronto World

FOUNDED 1880. A morning newspaper published every day in the year by The World Newspaper Company of Toronto, Limited.

FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 17.

A Better Law and the Way to Enforce It.

"To overcome abuses in the giving of prescriptions, to prevent unnecessary inconvenience to those legitimately requiring liquor for medicinal purposes, to eliminate all private gain and ensure a supply of pure liquor to those who are entitled under the law to purchase it," the Ontario Government, speaking through Premier Sir William Hearst, has decided to abolish root and branch the license system in Ontario and furnish those entitled to buy, the liquor they need from government dispensaries.

So far, so good. The World has fearlessly exposed the faults, perhaps inherent, and at any rate too apparent, in the administration of the Ontario Temperance Act in so far as that administration depended upon the license system. We commend the government for its decision to do away with that system altogether, and with no license holders to supervise and protect we see no reason why the provincial board of license commissioners should linger superfluous on the stage.

As we have before pointed out, the responsibility for enforcing the prohibitory law should be squarely placed upon the attorney-general, or some other member of the government. In the United States the commissioner of internal revenue will be charged with the enforcement of the prohibitory legislation by congress, which goes into effect on July 1st.

He has already asked congress for one thousand additional deputies and an appropriation of twenty million dollars. He will thus be enabled to employ attorneys, agents and inspectors, and he will have to assist him the Attorney-General of the United States with his district attorneys and deputy marshals in every state.

A big hunk of verbiage will be torn out of the long-winded Ontario Temperance Act when all those sections relating to the licensed vendors are repealed. It would therefore be a good time to rewrite the act. What we want is a declaration of policy, and somebody made responsible for carrying out that policy, and wide regulatory powers conferred to the government. Why do we need to use thirty thousand words to make a prohibition statute for Ontario?

The United States is going to have prohibition by amendment which will last for all time, and the war-time prohibition act is no longer so important. Nevertheless we quote it to show how prohibitory law can be put into three hundred words and be just as effective as the thirty thousand words were employed. Nation-wide prohibition was secured in the United States by a proviso, or "rider" tacked on an appropriation bill, which read as follows:

Provided that from and after the date of the approval of this act and during the continuance of the present war it shall be unlawful to sell, furnish or transport distilled spirits for beverage purposes, and no distilled spirits held in bond at the date of the approval of this act, no tools, fruits materials or feeds shall during the continuance of the present war, be used in the production of malt or vinous liquors for beverage purposes.

And the president is hereby authorized and directed to prescribe any and all rules and regulations deemed necessary to carry the foregoing provisions into effect, and anyone who willfully violates any of the foregoing provisions or any rule or regulation made to carry the same into effect shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $5000 or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or both.

The commissioner of internal revenue and all other officers of the United States shall have all the powers for the enforcement of the foregoing provisions which are conferred by law for the enforcement of the existing law relating to the manufacture, sale and transportation of intoxicating liquors, and the revenue laws of the United States or otherwise.

Stick!

The town council of Burlington, Ontario, holds a momentous meeting this afternoon. The Radial Railway Co. is apparently ready to resume its passenger service between Hamilton and Burlington, but it would like to have the little town which has fought so bravely for its rights make some kind of a compromise or surrender. It is proposed that the bylaw remain intact, but that higher fares be permitted for one year.

The town offered three months ago voluntarily to pay higher fares for one year in order to help the company out of its financial embarrassment. The company would have nothing of this offer, but demanded the repeal of the bylaw. To enforce its command all passenger service was discontinued.

Now the Radial Railway finds itself in a dilemma. If it be solvent, it must run the cars or see its officers in jail. If it be insolvent the Hydro-Electric will at once take over and operate the line between Hamilton and Oakville. Hence the company is ready and anxious to resume its passenger service at the fares prescribed by law.

All Burlington has to do is to hold fast to her position. The cars will run, and run at the old fares if Burlington stands firm. We hope the town council, even tho it be a pro-radial council, will stand by Burlington at today's meeting.

Let Burlington stick and let the agitation go on to take over the whole Cataract outfit, notwithstanding the bogey man of The Hamilton Herald!

IDA AND THE BOLSHEVIKS

By IDA L. WEBSTER.

Yesterday Toronto had the pleasure of witnessing an action which is the very greatest incentive to Bolshevism. That was when Magistrate Kingsford sentenced Cheesman to six months in Burwash prison, charged with having in his possession seditious literature.

So far as we can learn there is no reason for the bench to believe that these documents were circulated by Cheesman, in fact, we understand that all the evidence was summed up in the fact that he had the stuff in his room, but that was explained when they said that he was merely the tool of older and wiser heads.

In any case it does seem as if the magistrate might have used his power to have the case aside, or rather postponed for a month until he was able to ascertain what course was going to be pursued by Ottawa. However, he is of the type which apparently does not do that sort of thing, and carrying the law out to the letter must be his middle name.

This present case just goes to show how hopeless a city is, if it is run down with old-timers. The city hall is positively clogged with that kind of people, and there is no sense or justice in it. It is the world does not want some one pass a law whereby men would be retired automatically when they outgrow their usefulness.

Mr. Kingsford was a "sledge" one morning and it was a crime. In the first place, he did not seem to be able to read the various documents which were handed to him. This was evidently owing to the fact that he is a fearfully short-sighted. Added to that, the men who were in the court room—that is the detectives, lawyers and the judge—did not seem to be paying attention to him or his order. If he shouted for attention once he must have done so fifteen times, but he might as well have saved his breath, because he certainly did not make any impression upon those who were gathered together.

Now, you know that if a magistrate was equal to being on the job that kind of thing would not happen. He would be able to preserve perfect order at all times, and what is more to the point, not a man who entered the court would dare to smile at him. They might smile with him, but then that is such an entirely different thing.

Yesterday this same judge showed that his methods were, to say the least, antique. Any man who deliberately shakes up a city when all that it needs is to be set to the flames is just the smallest amount of encouragement is certainly not diplomatic enough for an after-the-war magistrate. The trouble of today must be handled with gloves and not made over the lot, and British fair play must not be held up like a flag of truce whenever anyone makes a blunder.

The law has recently been changed, and as it stands now it would have allowed of Magistrate Kingsford referring the case back for four or five weeks. In this hope he would have been able to get a report from the officials at Ottawa, and he would also have had a chance to fasten the crime more securely upon the prisoner. The outburst which occurred yesterday, if this particular magistrate, or any other for that matter, judge showed of what may prove to be the very wildest kind of Bolshevism by quoting passages from his law books to the multitudes then he is very much mistaken. I cannot be done.

At the same time offenders must be slighted, but there must be some slight show of intelligence used in the work, because if things are going to go on as they have started this will be one beautiful place to live in a few months. The feeling is being changed, and there is no use trying to down it with the mailed fist. Those methods are not all that conducive to a peaceful nation, only hope for a quiet "spell," but strive for one.

Ruth Tells Brian She Is Going Back to Work

CHAPTER CXL.

Strangely, during all this time neither Ruth nor Brian had discussed her working, neither had business affairs been mentioned. Ruth had not given up her plan of furnishing the office she had looked at for Brian, but he was still in no condition to work, perhaps would not be for several weeks.

So while she still had the refusal of the place, she would surprise him when he was able to work. Brian may have thought, because of her aunt's presence in their home—because of her kindness to him, that Ruth had given up her position permanently; or having her with him constantly, he may not have thought of it at all. It was Brian's way to dismiss unpleasant subjects from his mind.

And Ruth's work had always been an unpleasant subject for him. So it was with a certain sense of shock that he heard Ruth say one morning: "I'm not so well now, Brian. I will go back to the shop tomorrow. Mr. Mandel has been more than kind to let me off so long. Most employers would have sacked me long ago, but one else and I should have been out."

"You mean—you are going back?" "Why, yes, of course." "But you're bright; pretending not to notice his hesitancy, although she had been acutely conscious of it. Then: "You didn't expect me to be idle all day, did you? You do not need me now; my work certainly must have suffered while I have been away. Don't look like that, Brian! You knew I was going back, didn't you?"

"I haven't thought about it." The answer was slowly given. "You imagine I had given up my position because my work must have suffered while I have been away. Don't look like that, Brian! You knew I was going back, didn't you?" "I haven't thought about it." The answer was slowly given.

"I thought—because your aunt—" "You imagine I had given up my position because my work must have suffered while I have been away. Don't look like that, Brian! You knew I was going back, didn't you?" "I haven't thought about it." The answer was slowly given.

"I have saved some, Ruth. You would take none of my pay and I have saved a good half the money. You didn't think we could live on what you earned, did you?" "I don't blame you for thinking I can't support you, Ruth. But perhaps I'm not so well now, Brian. I am so much happier working. Ruth saw she had distressed him by her question and hastened to make amends.

"I know I never made you very happy, Ruth, but I told Mollie before I left that I was going to, after I got home. That was coming back to you for you and the kid. So he had talked his plans over with Mollie King! That was the one thing that had impressed Ruth.

Mollie's name had been mentioned but once or twice since he returned—only when he told of the work the nurses were doing "over there" or when he had answered some questions put by Mollie's friend, Mrs. Curtis. Now the mention of the girl who had been the cause of much of Ruth's unhappiness affected her perhaps more than was either sensible or reasonable.

"We must not get into a discussion over my work," Ruth said as she bit her lip to keep back words she longed to say about Mollie King. Bitter words that she knew would only estrange them.

"No—evidently it is to go on just as before I went away. I had hoped—" "Don't be silly, Brian. My work interferes in any way with you or what you can do, I am earning a great deal—for a woman, more than many men. We can have many pleasures as well as comforts that we couldn't otherwise. You get well and get down to an office. You won't mind then."

"I shall always mind, Ruth." "Nonsense!" "Perhaps I am foolish, but I can't help it. I almost wish—" The unfinished sentence conveyed nothing to Ruth, who was not looking at Brian at the time. Had she, she might have been enlightened by his expression—one of such discouragement such real distress, that it surely would have told her something at least of his disappointment.

"Was there any evidence of the offense charged to go to the jury?" Question answered in the affirmative, and conviction affirmed.

TWO HUNDRED GALLON CHARGE UNDER O.T.A.

Kenneth Randall, the hockey player, was acquitted in yesterday's police court of the charge of receiving stolen goods.

Last Saturday George Dowle was sentenced to six months at the jail farm on a charge of selling tickets for a fake concert in aid of the Soldiers' Aid Commission. He appeared in police court yesterday on a charge of bigamy and was sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary. His "marriage" with a fourteen-year-old girl took place a year after his first one.

William Klein, an old man, was charged with a breach of the O.T.A. promise $50 he delivered the goods. Robert Anderson, a liverman, testified that he had made five trips in all and had brought in about 200 gallons for which he had received $10 a trip from Klein.

The case was adjourned until the 22nd.

SICK SOLDIER STRIKES HIS SERGEANT-MAJOR

Decision was reserved by a district court martial held yesterday in the case of Pte. Samuel Charles Morgan, colored, who was charged with striking a superior officer, Sergt.-Major E. H. Holder, when the latter ordered him to be put in detention.

Morgan said that he was sick at the time and had asked to be paraded before a medical officer, which the sergeant-major had refused, stating that it was too late in the day. Two days after the soldier was stricken with influenza and pneumonia.

Cpl. Butcher, president of the court, decreed that if a soldier is sick, no man, not even the O.C., has the right to order him to be put into the guard room. "If the man was sick he might have died," said the colonel.

SALVATION ARMY ENLISTS SUPPORT

Factory Superintendents and Industry Appeal to City Workers.

Superintendents of factories and representatives of industrial workers of the city who are helping in the Salvation Army appeal for $250,000, to be launched during Jan. 21-24, met in the King Edward Hotel last night to complete their organization. The appeal is made to secure funds to continue the work of the Salvation Army for the soldiers who are returning and the general work of the institution in caring for the needy of Canada. The campaign was endorsed by prominent citizens, who pointed out the need and the spirit of service which has been manifest in the acts of the Salvation Army.

Leut.-Col. W. S. Dinick, the chairman, outlined the campaign. A house-to-house canvass will be conducted by 350 members of the Great War Veterans. An attempt would be made to reach all factories in order to give all an opportunity to contribute.

The Kiwanis Club will conduct the industrial appeal in the factories of this city. Col. Dinick asked the co-operation of all in his efforts. A consolidated fund campaign had not been practicable. Sir Edmund Walker, honorary treasurer of Salvation Army appeal, stated that the case came before the people on its own merits for assistance in the great work undertaken by the Salvation Army. "The Salvation Army," he said, "is an arm of society which has extended its usefulness to almost every country of the world. When you realize there is a society helpful to the drunkard, to the individual and nation, it may be trusted absolutely that the dollar which you give will go farther than the dollar given to almost any other social machinery that you may think of. It is an instrument which exercises efficiency in the greatest degree. We are making an appeal for a body that has been working at the front ever since the war broke out."

He referred also to the wonderful work performed in Canada. He pointed out the needs of the returning men, which the state did not always meet. He made an appeal for liberal contributions to the Salvation Army fund. Even the pennies of the children, he added, would be welcome. The campaign was well organized and was found to succeed. Toronto has raised a quarter of the money in all former campaigns, and she would not fall this time.

Humanizing. Norman Sommerville said that there was not an institution which had found a reputation for good as the Salvation Army. He regarded the Christianizing, humanizing institution as the greatest need of the world. The campaign needs there will develop a spirit of service that will leave this community a thousand times better than it found it. "Tonight there are 1,000 men sleeping on cots provided by the Salvation Army, 20,000 men a month, the crown, while Frank Hughes and if this money is provided there peared for the accused.

Izzy Meyer, who was tried in the assizes before Justice Masten "on a serious charge, was found not guilty last night. Peter White, K.C., acted for the defence. The jury returned a verdict of acquittal. The case was adjourned until the 22nd.

"SPORTING LIFE" TWO DAYS MORE

British Racing Story Pleases Large Crowds for Many Days.

Large crowds are still the rule at every performance of Maurice Tourneur's special production of the famous Drury Lane melodrama, "Sporting Life," which finishes its extended run at the Allen on Saturday night.

Seldom has there been a motion picture production of such magnitude as "Sporting Life." Produced on a lavish scale this film has been declared by both critics and public to be the greatest of the year, replete with thrills and action.

An absorbing story runs through the entire drama. The romantic element is provided by the Earl of Woodstock, who is in love with the daughter of his chief trainer.

Thrill follows thrill in rapid succession, which keeps one expectant at all times. One of the most notable achievements of this tremendous melodrama is the scenes showing the famous Derby Day at Epsom, the greatest event of the year in English sporting circles.

In the latest and most stylish gowns, add to the setting for the running of the Derby.

PEACE DELEGATES STILL UNDECIDED

casual. A detachment of troops will pay honors to the arriving delegates, and Stephen Pichon, the French foreign minister, will receive the various delegations. The meeting will begin at 3 o'clock sharp.

The plenipotentiaries will sit around a horse-shoe table, the middle part of the table being reserved for officers. The delegation will be grouped by states in alphabetical order, as they appear in the Almanach de Gotha.

When all are seated, President Boincain will enter and take the presidential armchair to make the opening address. It is understood that he will refer to the tragic epoch ending so gloriously for the entente, and which for four years upheaved the world. It is expected also he will refer to the immense task of universal reconstruction which must be the work of the conference, and the high ideals of justice which will be observed during the deliberation of the peace congress. He will then conclude by declaring the session open, and will withdraw.

Clemenceau in the Chair. Premier Clemenceau will take his place in the chair as chief of the French delegation, this being his right as the congress is meeting in the capital of France. He will request the assembly to elect officers, which, besides a president, will include viceregents and a general secretary. Regulations for the congress will then be read. It is expected they will be ratified as they stand, after which they will be made public.

Formal invitations to attend the first sitting were sent out last night by the French delegation to ambassadors and ministers of various countries. These invitations announce the number of representatives accorded to each country, and ask the diplomats to transmit invitations immediately to the person or persons chosen to attend.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS AT ALLEN NEXT WEEK

The ever-popular Douglas Fairbanks, most famous of screen stars, will be seen at the Allen next week in his latest Artcraft picture, "Arizona." This is a screen adaptation of the stage play of the same name by Augustus Thomas, dean of western writers, and it is said to surpass in every respect the spoken drama.

Fairbanks has been trying to secure the screen rights for this notable story for nearly a year, and he was only after Mr. Thomas had a consultation with the star that the deal was closed. The Fairbanks Company has produced this on a most lavish scale, and it is proclaimed the greatest of Fairbanks' offerings.

An all-star cast of supporting players will be seen in the "Arizona." This includes Theodore Roberts, Frank Campeau, Kathleen Kirham and Marjorie Daw.

As an added feature to the Allen program the management has been successful in procuring the services of Harold Jarvis, Toronto's most favorite tenor, who will sing at both the afternoon and evening performances. The engagement of Mr. Jarvis is a most notable one, as heretofore he has never appeared in a local theatre.

SHOW QUICK ACTION IN RADIAL MATTER

Council, in Resolution, Asks Hydro to Purchase, and Appoints Committee.

Hamilton, Jan. 16.—If the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario is agreeable to taking over the Hamilton Radial Electric line between Hamilton and Burlington, it will have the backing of the city council. So popular was the resolution presented by the board of control that it took the council just five minutes to endorse it.

Mr. J. A. McIntosh was the one doubtful member. He could see no sense in rushing headlong into this problem, pointing out that if the company did not want to sell, its pipe could not be bought.

Controller Peebles explained that endorsement by the council simply meant that a start would be made. Such action would not bind the council in any way, and anything the special committee did would first have to be approved by the council.

The city solicitor, F. R. Waddell, K.C., also stated that the council was not committing itself.

The city solicitor, F. R. Waddell, K.C., also stated that the council was not committing itself.

The resolution was:

1. Whereas the Hamilton Radial Electric Railway Company has ceased to give service over their line between Hamilton and Burlington, and have declared the company insolvent;

Whereas the cessation of service by said railway company has resulted in great inconvenience, discomfort and financial loss to the residents of this municipality, and much suffering to the permanent residents of Burlington Beach; and whereas the summer service given by said railway company has been entirely inadequate to the requirements of citizens of Hamilton and the citizens have thereby been largely deprived of the benefits of the beach as a summer recreation and pleasure resort by reason of lack of such railway accommodation;

Therefore be it resolved that the council of the corporation of the City of Hamilton request the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario to take over immediately and operate the portion of the Hamilton Radial Electric Railway between the City of Hamilton and the Town of Burlington, in such manner as will afford to the citizens of Hamilton proper and adequate railway accommodation to and over Burlington Beach to the Town of Burlington upon terms to be approved by the said council.

To Read Negotiations.

2. That a committee be appointed, consisting of Controllers Halrow, Jutten, Peebles and Alderman McQueenen, the city solicitor and the city clerk, to negotiate with the Hydro-Electric Commission of Ontario respecting the taking over and operation of the Hamilton Radial Electric Railway between the City of Hamilton and the Town of Burlington by the commission, the committee to report to the board of control; and that the committee be instructed to immediately proceed with such negotiations in order that railway accommodation may be afforded at the earliest date possible, so as to terminate the inconvenience, discomfort, suffering and financial loss caused by the discontinuance of the service of the Hamilton Radial Electric Railway in accordance with the provisions of the bylaw of the city respecting said railway.

BACK TO CIVVIES WHILE YOU WAIT

Is the Slogan of the SIMPSON MEN'S STORE

Regarding the Outfitting of Returned Soldiers and Men in Civilian Life

When you leave off your substantial, woolly khaki uniforms and don the new suit of civilian clothes, you should insist upon garments which for quality, warmth and service are the counterpart of khaki. This is where Simpson clothes come in. They afford similar comfort, warmth and service, and that's most essential these wintry days. And, furthermore, you get the most approved styles and handsomest patterns, yet you pay the rock-bottom price for whichever suit or overcoat you select.
