NINETEENTH YEAR

JURY IS LOCKED UP; MUCH SPECULATION.

Had Been Out Three Hours When Court Arose Till Today.

BRILLIANT ADDRESSES WERE DELIVERED

Lawyer Porter, on Behalf of Ponton, Has Made a Name for Himself.

B. B. Osler, Q. C., Sustained His Reputation as a Lion Among Criminal Lawyers When He Presented the Strong Points of the Crown's Case—Justice Ferguson's Charge, Somewhat Against Ponton and Mackle All Through, a Masterpiece of Detail—His Lordship Made Nothing and Showed What He Thought Was Corroboration of the Evidence of Pare and Holden—The Intense Interest in the Case is Incomprehensible to an Outsider—The Verdict To-day.

Napanee, Dec. 2.—(Special).—To-day was constables' day, and a tired lot they are to-night. It was also the home stretch of the trial. It began with a clever, incisive, sympathetic appeal to the jurors by G. Gus Porter, who is the recipient of congratulations on all sides. He showed possibilities of great things in store for him in his chosen calling, and his mastery and address is worthy of unqualified praise and approval. His adroit reiteration of "Billy Ponton is an innocent man," and his appeal to the hearts of the jurors when he mentioned the prisoner's mother, were incidents of dramatic force. He has done his duty by his client.

Mr. Osler was calm and logical, as he always is, and sustained his reputation as the ablest criminal counsel in Canada to-day. His presentation of the Crown's case was fair and convincing, and entirely devoid of sentimental rhetoric. He dealt with hard facts in a purely judicial way, and taught the silent points of the case to the jurors, so that the simplest could comprehend. At the conclusion of his address he was visibly affected, and there was a murmur in the room that would mean applause anywhere else.

The judge's charge was calmly but forcibly delivered, and showed his keen grasp of every little of evidence. It was somewhat against the prisoners, and entirely devoid of sentimental rhetoric. He dealt with hard facts in a purely judicial way, and taught the silent points of the case to the jurors, so that the simplest could comprehend. At the conclusion of his address he was visibly affected, and there was a murmur in the room that would mean applause anywhere else.

The townsfolk are out in the streets and in the hotel corridors. The Paisley Hotel is jammed to the doors. Speculation on the jury's verdict is rife, but perhaps a trifle premature.

At 8 o'clock the court room was as thickly thronged as jammed in a box. A solid mass of people jammed the court corridors, and the only means of ingress was a foot-hold push. There were persons in the court that had come early in the morning and had remained till 8 o'clock, and were prepared to stay all night. The interest in the case is incomprehensible to anyone outside the town. A political election night is a game of nations compared with the white-hot enthusiasm and popular feeling for Billy Ponton, expressed on every hand. A man who had expressed opinions opposed to the popular one is in danger of a hostile and he has bought a cane.

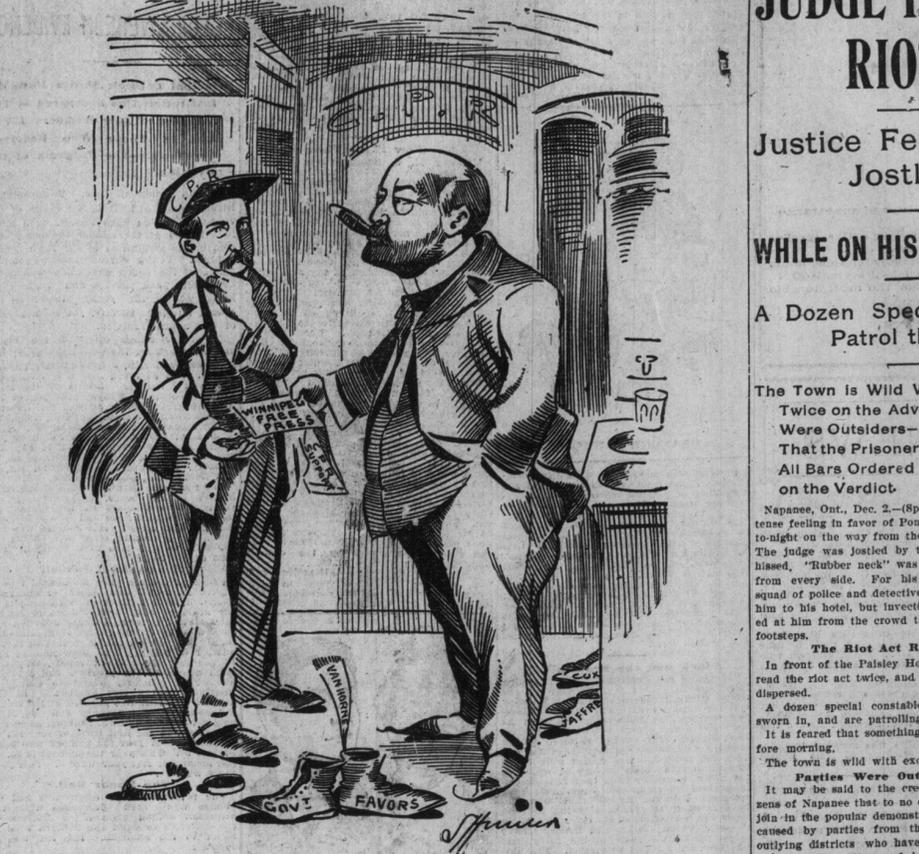

The court adjourned at 8:10 to meet tomorrow morning at 9. The jury is locked up in the Court House, and is closely guarded by a legion of black-robed till to-morrow.

The Court Room Besieged. The court room was besieged by eager townsfolk long before the hour of opening. Commercial travelers found it impossible to do business and, with their impatient customers, knocked into the court. Mr. B. B. Osler, Q. C., was on deck ten minutes before the trial.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

J. T. Niblock Alleged to Have Signed Another Man's Name to an Insurance Certificate.
Ottawa, Dec. 2.—J. T. Niblock, manager of the Ottawa branch of the London Life Insurance Company, is in custody, charged with forgery. He was arrested by Detective Flanagan and taken to the police station this afternoon. The story is as follows: Niblock, being manager of the branch, received all moneys for the payment of death claims. A number of claims were sent into the head office of a shady nature, and Mr. Niblock, in order to get the money, came down to investigate. He found things to be so suspicious that he placed the matter in the hands of Detective Flanagan. This was about a week ago, and up to this time there had been no suspicion attached to the manager, since suspicion, it is said, pointed very strongly towards another clerk. The detective, however, started off on his own lines and, making a forged death claim, succeeded in tracing it directly to Niblock. The claim in question is a certificate of the death of Robert Ogilby, aged 38, who is supposed to have died of consumption, at 125 Sparks-street, on Feb. 25, 1908. The certificate is signed J. L. Chabot, attending physician, and the signature witnessed by J. T. Niblock. Dr. Chabot pronounces the signature a forgery, and says he never saw the alleged Chabot.

The circular letter the collectors of customs throughout Canada, which has just been issued by Sir Henri Joly de Lotbiniere, has caused a great deal of talk of certain cigar manufacturers and dealers. In future the inspectors are instructed to refuse to pass cigars, put in boxes labeled in imitation of imported cigars. G. W. Muller, of King-street, merchant, upon whose complaint the order was issued, says that many thousands of cigars are sold under H. JUDGE IS INSULTED; RIOT ACT IS READ.

Justice Ferguson is Hissed and Jostled by the Mob

WHILE ON HIS WAY FROM THE BANK TRIAL

A Dozen Special Constables Sworn in to Patrol the Streets of Napanee.

The Town is Wild With Excitement—The Riot Act Was Read Twice on the Advice of Mr. Osler—The Rioters, It is Said, Were Outsiders—Judge Did Not Make the Usual Statement That the Prisoners Should Have the Benefit of Any Doubt—All Bars Ordered to be Closed Sharp on Time—Bets Made on the Verdict.

Napanee, Ont., Dec. 2.—(Special).—The intense feeling in favor of Ponton took shape to-night on the way from the Court House. The judge was jostled by the crowd and hissed, "Rubber neck" was hurled at him from every side. For his protection a squad of police and detectives accompanied him to his hotel, but inmates were hurled at him from the crowd that dogged his footsteps.

The Riot Act Read. In front of the Paisley House the sheriff read the riot act twice, and had the crowd dispersed.

A dozen special constables have been sworn in, and are patrolling the streets. It is feared that something will occur before morning.

The town is wild with excitement. It may be said to the credit of the citizens of Napanee that to no extent did they join in the popular demonstration. It was caused by parties from the outside and outlying districts who have come to town to hear the verdict and have what they might call a good time.

At Midnight. Midnight—for three hours, crowds surged along the streets, and made the night hideous with their yells and blowing tin horns. The crowd sang "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town To-night," and gave the call, "What's the matter with Ponton?" "He's all right!"

The license inspector, Howe, went around to all the hotels and ordered all the bars closed at 11 o'clock sharp. He was on the spot to see that his mandate was obeyed.

Alex. Crawford on Guard. Judge Ferguson took the outbreak of feeling coolly, and after his return to the hotel walked across the street to the barbershop, accompanied by stalwart Stenographer Crawford. A man in the shop attempted to accost the judge, but was prevented by his Highland bodyguard.

At 12 o'clock, outside of a row small, noisy knots of men gathered on the streets, the town was quiet. No more disturbance is anticipated to-night, though grave fears are held of what to-morrow may bring forth.

Bets on the Issue. Big bets are being made on the probable issue of the trial, and everywhere Billy Ponton is declared to be innocent. The police declare they can put their hands upon the ringleaders of the riot, but think it best to let the matter drop.

Among the citizens of the town the affair is spoken of with intense indignation and sorrow. The riot act was read on the advice of B. B. Osler, Q.C.

Who Pays the Piper?

Any tailor who will give you credit will give credit to others less honest than you, and whom do you suppose pays for those who don't pay?

No even a member of our own Company can get credit here, nor buy a garment at less than its fixed price.

We have no losses to make up at the expense of those who pay. No "cut prices" to favorites, to average up at the expense of those who don't know values.

Your protection lies in this, as well as in the fact that we buy for cash, and neither seek nor grant favors.

About half the tailor's price is enough for us, thus:

$30.00 and $35.00 Suits for... $20.00

$25.00 Suits for... $18.00

$22.50 Suits for... $15.00

$20.00 Suits for... $12.00

Your money back if dissatisfied.

CHICAGO WHEAT WAS EASY

Considerable Liquidation in December Option.

May Delivery Now Quoted at a Cent Premium Over This Month's Option-European Wheat Supply and Requirements-Wheat Under the Snow in Dakota-Notes and Gossip.

Friday Evening, Dec. 2.

Liverpool wheat was steady to strong today, futures closing unchanged to 1/4d per cental above yesterday's final quotations.

Paris wheat closed steady to 5 centimes lower for the day, with flour 10 centimes lower to 10 centimes higher.

Antwerp wheat advanced 1/2 centimes.

Chicago's wheat market exhibited little strength today.

Foundation of this month's delivery, and at the close the market option showed a premium of a full cent over December.

Beard's news as to the crop in Russia and Argentina was to hand.

Liverpool market closed 1/4d to 3/4d per cental to-day, Chicago corn was tolerably firm.

Peas rose 1d at Liverpool.

Lard is 1d higher at Liverpool.

Total clearances to-day: Wheat and flour equal to 866,000 bushels, corn 1,250,000 bushels.

Exports at New York to-day: Flour 19,120 barrels and 10,885 sacks; wheat 186,575 bushels.

Sixty loads of wheat were reported worked for export at the seaboard to-day.

Liverpool wheat receipts past three days 100,000 centals, including 110,000 centals of American. Make, same time, 175,200 centals.

Primary wheat receipts to-day 1,285,000 bushels, corn 381,000 bushels.

Minneapolis reports sales of 90,000 bushels of hour yesterday, and it is expected that point will show a decrease for this week of 500,000 bushels in wheat stocks.

Car receipts of grain at Chicago to-day: Wheat 140,000 bushels, corn 150,000 bushels, for Saturday; wheat 130,000 bushels, corn 140,000 bushels.

Wheat receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth to-day 120,000 bushels, against 750 the same day of 1892.

Argentine wheat shipments this week were 8000 bushels against none last week and none the corresponding week of last year. Corn shipments 544,000 bushels, against 588,000 bushels last week and none the corresponding week of last year.

Reins throughout the greater part of California have greatly benefited the growing grain and pasture and have enabled a good deal of renewed plowing and seeding to be accomplished.

The receipts of wheat at western primary markets during the first four days of this week amounted to nearly 6,400,000 bushels. The shipments from Duluth for four days were enormous, reaching 3,200,000 bushels.

New York reports that freight engagements were made there on Thursday for 62 loads of wheat, against 15 for the corresponding week of last year.

Adelaide ports. This is a strong indication that Russia is not selling freely.

Wheat Supply for Europe.

Berbohm, Nov. 18, makes the world's shipments of wheat to the importing countries of Europe for the 15 weeks ending Nov. 12, 12,885,000 quarters, of which 5,850,000 quarters were shipped to the United Kingdom and 7,000,000 quarters to the Continent. The United Kingdom has been receiving less, and the Continent more than estimated requirements. Berbohm makes the aggregate shipments slightly in excess of the united requirements of the importing countries to United Kingdom are considerably larger in recent weeks than earlier in the season. It is expected that firm receipts will now begin to show a gradual but light weekly decrease. Berbohm shows that the average wheat crop of Russia in a preceding seven years was 46,000,000 quarters, average of the present year 48,000,000 quarters. He says that the crop in 1893 is 66,500,000 quarters, from which Russia, if necessary, could spare 20,000,000 quarters, but probably will not ship over 12,000,000 quarters, as that is all that importing countries will require from Russia, and many of the holders in that country will prefer to recontract the reserves, rather than accept probable current prices.

He says that there seems to be a general disinclination to buy for future delivery, because of the expectation of large supplies from Russia and Argentina in the spring.

Froomhall's Odessa correspondent cables that the rivers in South Russia are still open, and the arrivals of grain from the interior are fair. Navigation at St. Petersburg is about closing. The reports from Argentina and Australia are conflicting.

Under the Snow.

The Chicago Daily Bulletin reports that thousands of acres of wheat in stock in North Dakota were caught by the recent snow storm and rendered unfit for milling.

A St. Paul dealer estimates that about ten million bushels of wheat are now under the snow. This wheat was not sown and the rains prevented it from being sown for several weeks, and this was followed by the snow, which prevents it from being threshed at all. Along the line of the Reading Railroad over 1000 cars loaded with flour are side-tracked because of the scarcity of space in ocean vessels.
