HARRY STEELE SAW MAN NEAR WILLIAMS STORE THAT NIGHT

Became Somewhat Afraid Because of Manner in Which Stranger Looked at Him

There was little news today in the case of the murder of Harry L. Williams. The most important clue so far is said to be that published in the Times on Saturday with reference to a man seen standing against a pole a short distance from the scene of the murder. Today the Times learned another feature in connection with this incident.

On the night in question a boy named Harry Steele, who resides in Harrison street, came home from Seaside Park and before going to his home stood in the door of Mr. Williams' store from eleven o'clock until about ten minutes after. While there a man came along and stood close to him. He looked at the man and found him glaring at him in a manner which made him a bit frightened. Every time he glanced at the man he found him glaring at him and, beginning to feel afraid, he left the doorway and crossed to Harrison street and went home. When asked if he could give a description of the man he said no. He remembered that he wore a soft hat, was not very old and of about medium height.

Soon after this Mr. Gillen, whose story was published in the Times on Saturday, must have come along. He said he stood in the door for ten minutes after eleven until about twenty minutes after. He saw a man standing against a pole in front of Quinn & Company's and went towards him thinking it was an acquaintance. When he found out he was a stranger he continued to stand in the door and then took a street car for the city.

FIVE YEAR OLD GIRL DROWNED IN BRIDGETOWN POND

Younger Brother Only Witness to Fatality of Sunday Afternoon (Special to Times). Bridgetown, N. S., Aug. 20.—A sensational drowning accident at 2:15 marred the quietness of a Sunday afternoon in Bridgetown when Evelyn, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jefferson, fell in the pond, a small pond near the center of the town, and a depth of about five feet. The only witness of the accident was a younger brother, who was with his parents. It was impossible, owing to the muddy water, to recover the body until it came to the surface twenty-five minutes later, and was brought out by Leonard Dory, one of a crowd of spectators.

THE WESTERN WHEAT CRUP

Half a dozen motor parties from points down as far as Westfield, in addition to a happy hayrick party from Woodmont, and some in motor boats, went to Public Landing on Saturday evening for the week-end dance in the pretty pavilion behind the cedar trees. After the rain the evening was delightful. There will be two more of these dances, and in addition it is hoped to have a picnic and dance on the afternoon and dance on the afternoon and evening of Labor Day, as a fitting close to the season.

The Landing is one of the prettiest places along the river. Just now the country roadsides are ablaze with golden-rod and the summer vegetation is at the height of richness and beauty. It will be with unusual reluctance that the summer people will say good-bye to the river and its charms. Yesterday was a perfect midsummer day, and motor boats and motoring parties enjoyed it to the full.

The river people are not worried over needless days. With every kind of vegetable fresh from the garden, and with wild fruits to be had for the picking, they find a vegetarian diet quite to their liking.

BOY AND GIRL IN DANGER IN HARBOR

Tide and Wind Too Much For Juvenile Oarsman and Rescue Party Sets Out

The predicament of two small children, Ernest Frost, aged ten years, of 14 Drury Lane, and Elizabeth Leveson, aged eleven, of Union street, was brought to the attention of passengers on a trip of the ferry boat yesterday by Rev. W. E. Robinson. The children were in the middle of the harbor in a small row boat and were evidently making for West St. John. There was a strong tide running at the time and a wind blowing and despite the frantic efforts of the young Frost boy to handle the boat, it started to drift towards the wharf.

The lad stuck bravely to his task, but the running tide proved too much for him. When the ferry boat reached West St. John, E. D. Craig, gatekeeper of the West-side ferry service, and John McNulty set out from Charlton in a boat and the two youths were rescued. Policeman Gill took them to their respective homes. It is said that they were unharmed by their experience and a talk on the part of relatives and their rescuers impressing the danger on them would likely make them think twice before going in an open boat without some one experienced.

LIQUOR BUSINESS OR SCOTT ACT IN CHATHAM?

Chatham World.—During the last three or four years in Chatham liquor dealers have been fined at regular intervals only, unless when extra fines were imposed for violating the police regulations respecting closing at certain hours and on Sundays and election days, and the dealers naturally expected no or a lighter change of mind and method on the part of the civic rulers, and the question with them is, "What can we do with our stocks?"

They probably have from $100 to $1,000 worth of strong waters on hand, each, and must realize on it or suffer serious financial loss. They have good cause for complaining of the sudden change of policy on the part of those who they call the police.

What can they do with the stock on hand? It may cost them more in liquor business in new hands and unknown places—kitchens, cellars, blind pigs and dark corners—as it used to be when attempts were made to enforce the Scott Act to the letter.

GERMANS GIVE UP RIDGE WITHOUT STRIKING BLOW

Berlin, Aug. 20, via London.—The war office announces that the French, without fighting, have occupied the Talou ridge, on the Verdon front, east of the Meuse. The German high command says that Talou ridge was given up by the Teutons because this line of defence since last March had been occupied only by outposts.

Forces of the Central Powers on the Roumanian front have driven back the Roumanians on both sides of the Oltuz Valley and in the direction of the Trotus Valley. As An American Sees Our Problem

The Race Problem and Description in Canada Finds Feeling Bitter

Sentiment in British Columbia as Bitter as in Quebec—A Comparison With Australia

Writing in the American Review of Reviews on the subject of conscription in British Columbia the opinion to the military service bill is all but bitter as it is in Quebec. In the course of a recent visit he found that it was opposed there not only by union labor, but by "earnest-minded men and women of the classes that elsewhere in the Dominion are generally in favor of conscription." The reason he says, that the people on the Pacific coast feel that they will be submerged by Japs and Chinese if many more of their men go overseas. They are wondering what is to become of white and highly-paid labor both now and after the war. He says that so strong has the feeling become that the name of Gould has been recruited for fruit-picking instead of the work being practically left to Chinese coolies as in the past.

Believes Unions Will Buck Mr. Douglas tells his readers what he well knows in Canada, namely, that the people of Quebec are strongly opposed to conscription, and will resist the enforcement of the act perhaps with violence. He also believes that organized labor will oppose the act, but probably he was misled by the inflammatory utterances of J. C. Watters and Alphonse Verreille, the labor leaders. Since these oracles spoke on the subject we have had much evidence that they do not concern union workmen. He believes that what happened in Australia as a result of the conscription referendum will happen in Canada. There will be dissension, unrest, quarrels, bitterness even between members of the same family and between neighbors who have been friendly heretofore. The border government he sees tottering to its fall, attacked in one quarter for not putting forth stronger efforts for winning the war, and on the other for its efforts on behalf of the Canadian army.

Two Hostile Races. The writer is convinced that anti-pathy has always existed between the French and English-speaking Canadians, and that their essential differences have been merely revealed and not created by the issues of the war. He says that in the course of traveling from one end of Canada to the other for ten years, he has never heard the native-born Canadian speak one good word of the Frenchman. He also tells us that politicians with axes to grind frequently put forth specimens of regard and esteem, but he is convinced that at heart the average English-speaking Canadian and the average French-Canadian are hostile. He sees an analogy between the state of affairs in Quebec representing the south of Ireland. The aspirations of some French-Canadians are like those of the Sinn Fein; separation. Quebec's leaders do not want to move outside the British Empire, but they desire to sever connection with Canada, to become an independent colony like Newfoundland.

A Feat of the Imagination. But in order to make Americans more thoroughly realize the Canadian situation he asks them to imagine a re-organized prosperous, orderly Mexico under American rule; the Mexicans to perpetuate their own laws, religion, language and customs, have all government papers and documents drawn up in Spanish, as well as English; apportion to Mexico adequate representation in Congress, with members from south of the Rio Grande allowed to deliver their speeches in Spanish; to imagine the re-organized English perfectly; to imagine a president—a Mexican—elected to office for term after term; realize for the most part the Mexicans would not have mixed or intermarried with the Americans. Then try to imagine that the recent conscription law passed by Congress had been made to apply to Mexico against the almost united will of that country. This, Mr. Douglas says, is almost an exact parallel to what has happened and is happening in Canada, and when we reflect upon it we marvel more and more at the tolerance of English-speaking Canadians.

A Clerical Dream. A quotation from La Croix, a Quebec publication with a circulation almost

KINGDON GOULD MAKES NO EXEMPTION CLAIM

Bride, Anxious for Him to do His Share in War, Thinks She Can Skimp Along in His Absence

(New York Times, Friday.) Kingdon Gould, son of George J. Gould, had not filed the affidavit necessary to support his claim for exemption from the draft up to noon yesterday, when the time limit expired, and his friends said last night that he had abandoned all thought of trying to avoid military service. Mr. Gould appeared before the Exemption Board at 7 o'clock on August 19, and received an exemption blank, at his request on the same day. His claim was based on the fact that he had a wife depending upon him for support. Early in the previous month Mr. Gould had married Miss Annunziata Camilla Maria Lucci, an Italian girl who had been studying art in New York, and his explanation of his request for an exemption blank was that he was poor as wealthy as many persons supposed, and his wife would be in financial straits if he went into the national army. The following day, however, Mr. Gould was quoted as saying that he thought his wife could "skimp through" even if he went into the army.

"Nobody has any idea of how my finances stand," he was quoted as saying. "I am not wealthy. People, it seems, merely think that the name of Gould is a shoo-in for that one has great wealth. The only thing in my mind (when he was asked for the exemption blank) was that I should like to see my wife skimp through in my absence. That led me to declare an intention to claim exemption."

He added that after talking the matter over with his wife, who was anxious for him to do his share in the war, he decided not to press his exemption claim. Under the law he would have been required to submit affidavits from his wife and a disinterested party alleging the dependency of his wife, but as he had filed neither of these affidavits yesterday, he is now in the army.

THIS TIME ARRESTED FOR SHOOTING AT WIFE

Quebec, Aug. 20.—Lynch Ross, who last winter was charged with criminally setting fire to his home at Rimouski, his daughter perished in the fire, is again behind the bars. Yesterday he shot at his wife when she refused to return to live with him and surrender the children. The woman was saved by her sister, which deflected the course of the bullets. Ross is now in the Rimouski jail awaiting trial.

FORCING GERMAN AMERICANS TO FIGHT FOR THE KAISER

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 20.—News received here from Munich, Bavaria, is to the effect that some German-Americans are fighting with the Bavarians, some as volunteers and others under compulsion. Germany considering her nationals, wherever they may be naturalized, as real Germans. The advice says that the practice of forcing German-Americans into the fighting line has been general since the departure of the American representatives from Berlin.

HAVE NO WORD OF AMERICANS IN FIGHT

The war department at Washington denies a report that American troops in France had been in action. According to a London dispatch, the London Daily News published the statement that wounded American soldiers from the western front had just arrived at the hospital at Bath. Neither the war nor the navy departments had any information on the reported wounding of American troops.

TRAGEDY IN MAINE

Newport, Me., Aug. 20.—Newport people were greatly shocked on Saturday to learn that Mrs. Leon Folsom, sixteen-year-old wife of a young Newport farmer, himself twenty-three years of age, had been found dead in bed with a bullet wound in her head and breast, with her husband lying beside her apparently suffering from mortal wounds.

Circumstances surrounding the tragedy appear to indicate that Mr. Folsom shot his wife as she lay in bed, firing four shots which took effect in her head and breast, and then turned his pistol upon himself firing one shot through the right temple.

Memorial Service

The congregation of St. Mary's church, Waterloo street, last night honored the memory of three of its membership, Sergeant Fred Fish, Lance-Corporal George Boone and Private Harold Baker, who up their lives for the great principles for which Great Britain and her allies are fighting. These three make a total of twenty-one from St. Mary's who have died on the field of honor, and whose names appear engraved on the memorial tablet in the church.

The rector, Rev. R. T. McKim, made very fitting remarks on the occasion, extolling the noble and heroic traits which characterized these three young men. He drew a lesson from their lives and interwove, in his touching sermon, a picture of the vast strife in which might is pitted against right.

Lance-Corporal Boone went over with the first contingent and was wounded four times before his death. The other two went overseas with the 26th Battalion.

Features of the service were a solo by Miss Marjorie Lane and The Dead March in Saul, effectively rendered by the organist.

THE GERMAN FLEET

Visitor to Wilhelmshaven Reports Ships go Out Often But Never Venture Very Far

Copenhagen, Aug. 20.—The German fleet according to an informant of The Associated Press, who recently had been at Wilhelmshaven, justifies its name of High Sea Fleet by running out from Wilhelmshaven with considerable regularity, some times two or three times a week. The fleet makes only short trips, however, and never goes very far out to sea.

The High Sea Fleet usually leaves Wilhelmshaven in the evening and is back by early dinner time between eleven o'clock and noon on the following day. On a few occasions it has remained out longer, but only because thick weather set in, making a passage through the German mine fields dangerous and forcing it to remain in the shelter of Heligoland until the weather cleared.

A greater part of the time the battleships and cruisers comprising the fleet are anchored in security behind mine fields and nets and a triple line of pickets protecting the entrance to the base. Once in March the fleet had a considerable period of enforced repose when British mine layers taking advantage of thick weather, sowed the coast-

CHINA'S ACTION IN THE WAR WILL BE INDEPENDENT

Documents Relating to Conflict Indicate That Oriental Republic is Not to Associate Itself With Entente Powers

Peking, Aug. 14.—(Delayed)—China's declaration of war on Germany and Austria-Hungary, beginning at 10 a.m. on Tuesday and the other documents relating to the conflict do not mention the association of the Chinese republic with the Entente powers.

The declaration of war created little excitement in Peking or in other north China cities, the long discussion of the question having discounted its effect.

The Netherlands minister to China on Tuesday took over the Austrian and German troops at the Austrian and German barracks there without incident.

Regulations issued Tuesday by the Chinese government permit the departure of Germans and Austrians within five days. Registration within ten days is required to permit Austrians to continue doing business if it does not affect China's welfare.

The proclamation of war, which was signed by President Feng Kwo Chang, reviews China's efforts to induce Germany to modify her submarine policy.

It says that respect for international law and protection of the lives and property of Chinese citizens forced China to sever relations with Germany and now compelled China to declare war against Germany and Austria.

"Our people," says President Feng Kwo Chang, "have not yet recovered from the sufferings due to the recent political disturbances. Calamity again befalls us, I, as president of the republic, have a profound sympathy for our people when I consider their sufferings."

"I did not resort to this step until it seemed impossible to delay the momentous decision. I could not bear to think that the dignity of international law should be impaired through us, that our position in the family of nations should be undermined, or that the restoration of world peace and happiness should be retarded."

THE AMERICAN ARMY

The finest illustration we have had of American astuteness in connection with the war programme of the United States is found in the manner in which their army has been secured. Having decided to go into the war, the government allowed no time for argument and opposition, but went straight to the goal.

With the men of military age and fitness it was a case of come or be fetched, and they came. The New York Times tells how successfully the policy is being carried out. It says:

"More significant than the fact that a few cowards here and there are trying to escape the military draft is the stirring fact presented in the news columns of the Sunday Times, with statistics in proof, that since April 1 more than 1,200,000 men have volunteered for service in the army, navy and marine corps of the United States. Many of these men were rejected by the recruiting officers because they could not pass the rigid physical examinations.

But that is their patriotism is beyond all question. Doubtless the failure to pass, in many cases, has impelled the men to take better care of their bodies, and to overcome their physical defects, so that they may be accepted for military service later on. In spite of the many rejections of volunteers, this country now has equipped and under arms, more than 800,000 men. This number, of course, does not include the men already selected for the national army, the National Guard, the Marine

Discovery, on Red Head Beach

Yesterday, Clears up Mystery Surrounding Fate of Young Pilot Who Disappeared on July 18

Almost beyond recognition, the body of Robert J. Doherty, the young pilot who disappeared on July 18, was found yesterday afternoon on the shore at Red Head.

The body was found by Joseph Nichols, 174 St. Patrick street, when he was walking along the beach. It was badly decomposed and appeared to have been on the beach for two or three weeks. Identification would have been impossible had it not been for a card and some letters addressed to "Robert J. Doherty," found in the pocket of the coat. The rain coat, which he wore when last seen, practically covered the body.

The body was found at the "Old Battery," and the policemen had to carry it for three-quarters of a mile before reaching the undertaker's conveyance. After it was brought to the city the body was given over to Fitzpatrick Bros., who were instructed by the family to make burial arrangements.

At eight o'clock last evening the sad news was telephoned to Mrs. Doherty, the widow, and to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doherty, the father and mother, who are at Westfield.

Pilot Doherty disappeared on July 18. He was last seen alive on his way to his boat at the Pettungill wharf where he believed the watchman on duty. His hat was found in the boat the next day, but there was no trace of him. He was then supposed to have fallen off the boat into the water and had been drowned. Besides his parents, a wife and three small children survive. Pilot Doherty was one of the younger pilots, but was reputed to be one of the best at the port.

Five Juveniles Under Arrest

Five juveniles were rounded up by the police over the week-end and it is believed that many of the recent break-ins may be explained as a result of their arrest. Three of the youths were arrested for breaking and entering the office of J. S. Gibson & Company, in Union street, on Saturday night, and making away with about $2. Many of the recent break-ins reported to the police have been charged against these boys and it is said that they have admitted some of them.

The other two were arrested yesterday afternoon at about 2 o'clock, at the store of the St. John Commission & Supply Company at 15 Sydney street. They gained entrance to the store from an alley at the rear of Sydney street, and were caught red handed by the police. Later in the afternoon more of the fire were arrested in Pond street, and the rest of the gang were arrested in Pond street and in the North End, and were conveyed to the central station.

The captivity that they were enduring evidently did not affect their spirits, for they were singing at the police station last evening and seemed to be enjoying life generally.

The boy, who was detained in Halifax at the request of Chief Simpson, was brought to the city on Saturday night, and is arrested on a warrant for stealing a purse of $47.25 on Aug. 9, the property of Thomas Graham, of this city.

AFTER MANY DELAYS CONSCRIPTION BILL RUSHED THROUGH THE HOUSE

Senate Amendments Sprung on Saturday Afternoon at Slimly Attended Session—To Force Passage of Franchise Bill?

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—Three months after Sir Robert Borden first announced the government conscription policy the military service bill has finally completed its leisurely course through parliament. As soon as his excellency, the governor-general appends his signature to the measure, it will be ready for enforcement if the government so wills it. The three senate amendments were confirmed by the house of commons without division at Saturday's sitting.

The conclusion of conscription's parliamentary progress was not devoid of interest and significance. Most of the members gathered for another of the customary week-end working days devoted to desultory plodding through supply, were manifestly taken by surprise when the premier called for the consideration of senate amendments to the military service act. Sir Robert Borden, himself, appeared a bit nervous, but Hon. Robt. Rogers, sitting to his right, displayed a large and satisfied grin.

Not a French-Canadian member, outside of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, was at the moment in the chamber. A faint smile of understanding played momentarily across the face of the Liberal leader as he turned to his desk and proceeded to turn up the conscription bill, but he made no comment. Many rumors had kept the corridors buzzing the previous twenty hours. Possibly he had cognizance of some of them. Some time late Friday afternoon or Friday evening Hon. Rogers had left his office and marched to that of the Premier. It was said that the minister of public works went upon a mission, and that he represented seventy-one Conservative signers of his recent testimonial, and more. It was reported that he had one to demand from the premier "an end of delay," that he was voicing an insistent mandate from in-surgent members that negotiations and an open alliance with the Borden administration. His renunciation as a Liberal candidate in Red Deer was to say the least, decidedly unlikely in any event. It has been rumored for some time past that, whom he had surrounded himself. Liberals such as Hon. A. B. Hudson, of the Manitoba government, Hon. James A. Calder, of Saskatchewan, and Dr. J. H. Ross, N. W. Rowell, leader of the Ontario provincial Liberals, chief whips, F. F. Pardee, of the parliamentary Liberal party, F. B. Carvell, the New Brunswick stalwart, A. K. MacLean and others, were singled out by name as among those who had declined the "honor" of serving in a Borden cabinet under existing circumstances and with its existing associations.

It was claimed that the premier had started a new quest, in association with Sir Clifford Sifton and Hon. Arthur Meighen, that Sir Clifford had gone west to pick out suitable grain growers for cabinet overtures, that Senator Robertson was to be offered the portfolio of labor, that Messrs. J. G. Turiff and Hugh Guthrie were to be urged to represent Liberals in parliament and that Dr. Michael Clark, who was relinquishing the Liberal nomination in his constituency of Red Deer, was to be secured to conduct a platform campaign for the Borden government throughout the country in the election campaign. Meanwhile the conscription bill was to wait. On the top of the means came the insurgency of conscriptionist Conservatives and the visit of Mr. Rogers to the premier.

Unexpected in Commons.

Then came the premier's unexpected move at Saturday's sitting of the commons. He submitted the three senate amendments to the conscription bill for the consideration of the house. Two of these were technical and clerical, the insertion of a definition of the word "tribunal" for the Yukon territory. The third was the amendment which provided that "no conviction for an offence under the conscription act shall be a bar to the prosecution if the consent is given and approved by the minister of justice of Canada."

Mr. E. Knowles, Moose Jaw, had a question. Mr. Knowles is somewhat of a parliamentary wisp. His criticism buzzes ominously and every once in a while he inserts a question which stings. The members were all attention when the Moose Jaw man arose and gravely announced that he desired to put a question to the premier. He asked what had been the cause of the delay. Nine days, he pointed out, had elapsed since the senate had finished with the bill and sent it back to the commons. Why had the premier waited, with such an important measure, for these nine days?

Sir Robert Borden was momentarily nonplussed, so nonplussed, in fact, that he delivered himself of the absurd explanation that he was "not aware of any particular reason except that other business was engaging the attention of the house," and "in any event the bill cannot go into force until it is signed by the governor-general." This latter explanation naturally caused a laugh.

Dr. Clark's Move no Surprise.

Dr. Michael Clark, of Red Deer, erstwhile Liberal, formally announced on Saturday that he would not again be a Liberal candidate in Red Deer. In announcing his decision to the Liberal executive of his riding, Dr. Clark declared that he will "give general support to the government."

The announcement causes no surprise to the Liberal members here. It has been known for more than a year past, long before conscription was announced, that Dr. Clark's political affiliations were leading him steadily towards an open alliance with the Borden administration. His renunciation as a Liberal candidate in Red Deer was to say the least, decidedly unlikely in any event. It has been rumored for some time past that, whom he had surrounded himself. Liberals such as Hon. A. B. Hudson, of the Manitoba government, Hon. James A. Calder, of Saskatchewan, and Dr. J. H. Ross, N. W. Rowell, leader of the Ontario provincial Liberals, chief whips, F. F. Pardee, of the parliamentary Liberal party, F. B. Carvell, the New Brunswick stalwart, A. K. The members were all attention when the Moose Jaw man arose and gravely announced that he desired to put a question to the premier. He asked what had been the cause of the delay. Nine days, he pointed out, had elapsed since the senate had finished with the bill and sent it back to the commons. Why had the premier waited, with such an important measure, for these nine days?

Sir Robert Borden was momentarily nonplussed, so nonplussed, in fact, that he delivered himself of the absurd explanation that he was "not aware of any particular reason except that other business was engaging the attention of the house," and "in any event the bill cannot go into force until it is signed by the governor-general." This latter explanation naturally caused a laugh.

Dr. Clark's Move no Surprise.

Dr. Michael Clark, of Red Deer, erstwhile Liberal, formally announced on Saturday that he would not again be a Liberal candidate in Red Deer. In announcing his decision to the Liberal executive of his riding, Dr. Clark declared that he will "give general support to the government."

The announcement causes no surprise to the Liberal members here. It has been known for more than a year past, long

There is now every indication that the government will bring down, prior to dissolution and election, a franchise bill—and a fairly stiff one, too. The government itself may not be aware of the fact, and Premier Borden may not yet have reached a decision. Conservatives in the house have, however, decided upon this course of action, and at present they have the bit in their mouth and Hon. Robert Rogers for their leader de facto.

They are determined upon a franchise bill which will disfranchise all naturalized citizens and their children for a certain number of years, the time of its duration to be specified. The strong feeling was made manifest in the house at Saturday's sitting when R. B. Bennett (Calgary), speaking during the discussion of the Northwest Mounted Police estimates, protested against the diminution of that force. It was needed, he declared, amid pronounced approval, to cope with alien enemies. In more than a dozen cases recently, the Calgary man declared, barns and crops had been destroyed, presumably by "the enemy within our gates."

The situation within the Conservative party in parliament seemed to be rapidly nearing a crisis. Premier Borden, Sir Thomas White and Hon. Arthur Meighen, and Sir Clifford Sifton, are understood to be working out a compromise, while the bulk of the Conservative members of the house, restive under procrastination and delay, are rapidly drifting to the standard of Hon. Robert Rogers. It looks as though Mr. Rogers now command the situation.

Some Exceptions Taken.

In the house, Saturday, some exception was taken to the conscription bill, providing that no conviction for an offence against the act shall be a bar to the prosecution if the consent is given and approved by the minister of justice of Canada. Opposition members feared that this might lead to the institution of many prosecutions which would not be followed up.

Sir Robert Borden maintained, however, that there could be no serious objection to the bill, and pointed out that no one arrested by summary process could be kept in confinement for any considerable period of time.

There was an interesting debate on an additional vote for the maintenance of the Northwest Mounted Police force.

Hon. Frank Oliver and W. E. Knowles maintained that since the force has been relieved of ordinary police duties, throughout the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta, the members of the force have not enough to do to keep the busy, they said, that many of them found their work irksome and would be glad to be relieved for service at the front.

Sir Robert Borden explained that it had been considered advisable to restrict the policy to patrol work because of the fear of untoward developments in the west. Since the advent of the United States into the war this danger had been lessened, Sir Robert offered to send to Commissioner Perry the observations made in the house with the request that he should make a report on present conditions.

Some headway was made with the voting of the supplementary estimates before the house rose for the day at 6 o'clock.

When the house met, E. M. MacDonald asked the prime minister whether a Canadian soldier who enlisted in a British force was entitled to a Canadian pension. Cases of this kind had been brought to his attention and it was desirable that there should be a statement of the government policy.

The prime minister replied that he could not say off-hand whether the act applied in such cases or not. He was the opinion of a Canadian who enlisted in the Canadian forces and was later promoted or transferred to the imperial forces would be entitled to a Canadian pension, but in such a case as that cited by Mr. MacDonald, he was not sure, but would get the information and give it to him later.

The amendments to the military service act which had been added by the senate then came up for consideration. These amendments were three in number and as follows:

(1)—A definition that the word "tribunal" used in the bill meant a tribunal constituted under the act.

(2)—Provision that the judge of the territorial court should constitute the appeal tribunal for the Yukon territory.

(3)—That no conviction for an offence against the act shall be a bar to the prosecution if the consent is given and approved by the minister of justice of Canada.

There were some slight objections to the third amendment on the ground that it was an unwise proceeding to permit a prosecution to proceed at all when the judge was not in a position to render a decision or register a conviction without the consent of the minister of justice.

Treat Chafing After the Bath by Applying Dr. Chase's Ointment

THIS rule has been adopted by many mothers, and is becoming general, because of the splendid results obtained. Pore-clogging powders have had their day. While they absorbed moisture, they have proved of absolutely no healing value. Permanent injury was often done to the skin by clogging the pores.

In contrast, Dr. Chase's Ointment is antiseptic, soothing and healing. It promptly destroys germs of disease, and therefore prevents the development of eczema or other skin diseases from which so many children suffer.

This ointment affords relief from chafing and skin irritation, and restores the soft, smooth, velvety texture of the skin. It is, therefore, a fine habit to use Dr. Chase's Ointment after the bath.

BOY SCOUTS HUT AT FRENCH FRONT

Captain the Rev. A. P. Shattford Tells of Its Use For Content and Recreation

An interesting report has been received by the Boy Scouts Association from Captain, the Rev. Allan P. Shattford, with the Canadian Forces in France, regarding the use which is being made of the large recreation tent which was erected in the Canadian lines through the medium of ten cent subscriptions from the Canadian Boy Scouts. The tent was first used for a time when the Canadians were stationed in the Ypres salient and was later moved with them to the Somme front. A flag which flew over it for nearly four months, up till the end of the battle of the Somme last fall, was brought to Ottawa by Captain Shattford last winter.

Writing from France under date of June 21, Captain Shattford says: "The recreation tent has been in continuous service since that time, being used chiefly for sleeping billets for men who otherwise would have been compelled to sleep outside in the open. The tent has been under fire on several occasions, and has been punctured by flying shrapnel several times. By the explosion of a mine, it was so badly damaged that it had to be removed. At present it occupies a position as near the line as the authorities will permit, and is in the most forward area of any cantonment. It has been of inestimable value to our social work, and we wish again to place on record our appreciation of the generosity of the Boy Scouts of Canada in having supplied us with the tent."

THE GREEN BACKS

Why the United States bank notes are printed with green backs is not generally known, although there is a most excellent reason for it. The great drawback to paper currency, says the Baltimore American, is the likelihood of its being counterfeited, and therefore experts are constantly at work to contrive ways of making it impossible to copy such bills.

Stacy J. Edson was the man who, in 1867, invented the green ink that Uncle Sam uses on his bank bills. The ink, which was patented, is antiphotographic—that is, it cannot be photographed, nor can counterfeiter's inks be made to resemble it. The secret of the ingredients of the ink, of course, is carefully preserved.

ALL GOOD ACTS IN NEW OPERA HOUSE BILL

Bright and Varied Vaudeville Attractions and Entertaining Chapter of Serial

A bright and varied programme of vaudeville acts is included in the bill at the Opera House this week. There is an abundance of comedy, good singing, instrumental selections, juggling feats of unusual merit and a magician and ventriloquist who gave a stellar performance. On the whole the programme rivals any presented in the past. The first act is titled "Gee Whizz" and it is as much of a novelty as the title would indicate. The performer is a clever juggler, who presents an act entirely new and highly entertaining. Some of his most difficult feats are done with miniature pool table, removing a cloth from a table without upsetting any of the dishes and extinguishing a candle as he leaps over a table. He received a grand ovation when he concluded his act. Douglas and Morton entertained the audience with a humorous conversation. Their jokes and funny expressions evoked much merriment and the act made quite a hit. One of the members gave a recitation which was well received. The Musical Macks were heard in vocal solos, cornet and trombone selections and they received a good share of the applause. The male member is a clever cornetist and played solos in a manner which won well merited applause. His partner proved to be a good singer in addition to an accomplished trombone player. The Three O'Connor Sisters made a decided hit. They are singers whose voices blend in a manner most pleasing and for a trio they would be hard to beat. Their selection of songs was good and their act was one of the most popular on the programme. Douglas and Morton gave a demonstration of mind reading and later some humorous ventriloquism which was pleasing. The closing feature of this act won well merited applause. This week's episode of "Gloria's Romance," featuring Billie Burke, was also entertaining. The serial is very popular with the majority of patrons and all are anxious to learn how it winds up.

Should Be in Big Leagues Chicago, Aug. 18.—President Charles Weeghman of the Cubs returned today from Toronto where he witnessed the exhibition game between the Cubs and Detroit. He was greatly pleased with the result and amazed at the size of the attendance. "There were more than 10,000 paid admissions, and besides this number there were present many soldiers," said President Weeghman. "It is my belief that Toronto is a real big league city. How the American League can retain a city like Washington in its circuit and keep out a place like Toronto is more than I can understand."

SOME PITCHERS ARE GOOD HITTERS

Eight Twirlers in the American League Are Batting .250 or Better

New York, Aug. 18.—Pitchers who not only are willing to hit, but who can take a crack at a baseball with some of the best of hitters, are becoming more frequent in the major leagues. Time was, a short time ago, when pitchers carried a bat to the plate merely because it was done, and a time at bat had to be there. Now there are eight pitchers in the American league who are batting .250 or better and in the National league there are ten.

Babe Ruth of the Red Sox, is the best stickler of the pitchers in either league, but Dutch Reuther, Cincinnati, Walter Johnson, Red Russell and Ray Caldwell are considered excellent batsmen. Any one of them is likely to be called on to do pinch hitting for his club. Larry Cheney, of the Dodgers, is a good hitter. Dick Rudolph, of the Braves, never shirks a time at bat, and he has a team mate of the same sort in George Tyler. Sherrod Smith, of the Dodgers, would rather win a game with a hit than by a stellar pitching performance. Grover Alexander is considered a dangerous batsman. Nearly all the Yankee pitchers are good hitters. George Mogridge and Ray Caldwell perhaps are the best, but Al Russell has out-hit both of them this year. Claude Hendrix, of the Cubs, is respected by pitchers as a hard, long hitter—one who is just as likely to knock a baseball out of the lot as not. Mel Wolfgang, of the White Sox, although small, has plenty of courage at bat and makes his hits. Jack Coombs' hitting is an asset added to his pitching ability. Clarence Mitchell, of the Reds, not only can pitch a good game, but he can outfield or play first base and gets his regular safe ones. There are plenty of others—perhaps more of the hitting kind of pitchers than the game ever knew before. Lee Fohl declares that if the White Sox win a pennant this year it will be through unfair tactics. He charges every White Sox pitcher with disguising balls. White Sox pitcher with disguising balls, all have the tell-tale black spot, where some substance has been used to shine them. It isn't improbable that Fohl is right, for Dave Danforth is credited with having discovered the "shin ball" while with Louisville and taking it with him to Chicago.

FRANCE'S GRACEFUL TRIBUTE

(Vancouver World.) The Times states that the French president has presented to Mr. Asquith, in honor of the late Lieutenant Raymond Asquith, a diploma similar to that which is given to every French family which has lost a son or relative at the front. The diploma, which is a very handsome piece of work by M. Charles Copier, and includes a reproduction of the famous "Marseillaise" relief on the Arc de Triomphe, bears the inscription:

To the Memory of RAYMOND ASQUITH who died in the cause of Freedom and Humanity. September 15, 1910. With the Homage and Gratitude of the French Nation. The President of the Republic R. POINCAIRE.

In acknowledging the presentation to M. Cambon, the French ambassador, through whom the diploma was forwarded, Mr. Asquith says: 10 Downing St. Whitehall, S. W. My Dear Ambassador: I am deeply touched by your most kind letter, and still more by the diploma which records in such moving terms the tribute of France to the service of my dear son. Will you be good enough to convey to your government my most grateful and profound appreciation? He died willingly and gladly in our common cause, and, terrible as is the sacrifice to me, I couldn't wish for him or any of my children a worthier end. Believe me, my dear Ambassador,

Poor Tubes Cost More Than You Pay. You must add to the cost price of a poor tube about half the value of the casing it ruins. For poor tubes do ruin casings. Poor tubes allow slow leakage of air. Slow leaks cause imperceptible, and so most dangerous, under-inflation. Under-inflation is the greatest of all tire enemies. These are the reasons we advise motorists to look carefully to their tubes. These are the reasons we put thousands of dollars into extra cost every year to build Goodyear Tubes by the lamination process. This is the right way to build tubes—to take highest quality rubber and roll it out tissue-thin for rigid inspection. Then to build up the flawless sheets, layer on layer, into a perfect tube, extra thick, extra-well fitted for its duties. And because greater mileages from Goodyear Tires will make friends for us, we advise the use of Goodyear Tubes. It is of value to you that Goodyear Tubes give additional value in long service and satisfaction. Remember the name Goodyear when you buy tubes. The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. of Canada Limited. Goodyear Tubes, along with Goodyear Tires and Tire-Saver Accessories, are easy to get from Goodyear Service Stations Dealers everywhere. GOOD YEAR MADE IN CANADA TUBES. ADELAIDE STREET PAVING
The work of repairing Adelaide street is progressing rapidly and it is expected that the grading crew will be through and will be ready to leave that street to commence operations in Sydney street by Wednesday or Thursday. NO INQUEST
Dr. F. L. Kenney, coroner, said this morning that he saw no reason for an inquest into the circumstances surrounding the death of Pilot Robert Doherty. The funeral will be tomorrow afternoon from the residence of his parents, 174 Sydney street.

VISITING PRIEST.
Rev. Zavier Liechtenberger of Detroit celebrated the early morning mass in the Cathedral yesterday and preached the sermon at the 11.15 o'clock mass. Father Zavier, as he is better known, has had a most interesting career, having spent twenty years in Central South Africa as a missionary, where he did excellent work. He is at present in the city owing to the illness of his brother, Father Joseph, in the St. John Infirmary. The latter has been assistant to Rev. Father LaPoint at Notre Dame, Kent county, N. B. He will remain here by the request of West St. John as the priest who so well looked after the affairs of the Carleton parish during Father O'Donnovan's last visit to Ireland.

PLANS BIGGER BRIDGE
Temporary repairs have been completed at the Auburn Lake road bridge by the city department of public works and the department is now considering plans for replacing the bridge with a much more suitable structure. Some time ago the city took up the matter of building a new bridge over the provincial department of public works with the suggestion that the expense be shared between them. At that time they decided that temporary repairs would be sufficient. These repairs have been effected and Commissioner Fisher is of the opinion that, when a time comes to rebuild the bridge, it should be on a larger scale than was suggested during the previous negotiations and he will take up the matter with the department at Fredericton.

HENRY ALFRED CRAFT

Mr. Craft, who was seventy-nine years of age, had been in poor health for the last few years, but took to his bed only a day or two ago. He was a lumber surveyor by occupation and for years was a valued employe of Stetson, Cutler & Company. Mr. Craft was a man of sterling character and was respected by all classes wherever known. He will be very much missed in the community in which he lived and more particularly in St. George's church, where he had held office for many years. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Helen Belyea of Bellefleur, and the son, Charles W. Craft, druggist, of Cambridge, Mass. The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon from St. George's church, where the service will be held at 2.30 o'clock.

In the circuit court this morning, Chief Justice McKeown delivered judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $1,800, the Woodstock Railway Light and Power Company vs. The Dominion Tanneries Limited. This suit was brought to recover the amount due for power and light, but the defendants tendered $1,000 in payment, alleging that they were entitled to the benefit of a contract which the plaintiff company had with J. D. Dickson & Co. to supply light and power at the rate of $1,000 per annum, which contract was assigned to the defendants when they took over the Dickson plant and business. At the trial A. B. Connell, K.C., appeared with F. B. Carvell, K.C., counsel for the plaintiff; and J. C. Hartley, K.C., with W. A. Ewing, K.C., for the defendant.

I was down town this morning and saw such a crowd going into EVERETT'S, I went in too.
If you need any furniture now's the time to buy it. They've just got in loads of new things. The Prices are so Low.
I didn't think I wanted anything more, but I just could not resist buying a new table and some chairs. I'm going back and get more things.
Come and go with me while the picking is good.
Your chum—HELEN
P.S. Let's go early tomorrow morning to
