Toronto Sculler Wins His Heat For Diamond Sculls—Time Fast—Leander Put Out of Contest by the Harvard Crew

Henley-On-Thames, July 2.—The three Trans-Atlantic eight-oared crews—Winnipeg Rowing Club of Canada, Union Boat Club of Boston, and Harvard University defeated their English rivals early today in the races for the Grand Challenge Cup.

Eighteen carloads of steel arrived on June 15 for use on the new bridge across the Saskatchewan River at Twenty-fifth street. This bridge will involve an expenditure of nearly half-a-million dollars, and although large gangs of men are continually employed in its construction, it is not expected to be in operation until about the fall of 1915.

It is expected that the dominion government's huge interior elevator will be ready to handle the forthcoming harvest. The work is being rushed, a large number of men being engaged in its construction.

The American representative fared badly in the individual sculling contest of the Diamond Sculls, as Jas. Bayor, of the Boston Union Boat Club, the only one left in after the first round, was eliminated today by a giant Italian, Giuseppe Sinigaglia.

Robert Dibblee of Toronto, amateur sculling champion of America, was, however, successful over an Englishman, J. Lawrence Tann, and will row in the semi-final of the Diamond.

Today's Events. The day's programme opened with the first heat in the Grand Challenge Cup between Winnipeg and Thames. This was won quite easily by the Canadians in seven minutes, forty-five seconds.

Boston beat the London eight all the way in the next heat. The Americans led by a length and a half at half distance, and finished quite fresh four lengths ahead in seven minutes forty-eight seconds.

In the next heat Harvard beat Leander, but did not have such an easy time as Boston. The race was most exciting. Leander led at the start, rowing thirty-nine to Harvard's thirty-seven, but Harvard went up level at the islands, where the crews were coming into the straight. Then the Americans took the lead and won the fastest heat of the day by a length in seven minutes, thirty-seven seconds.

In the Diamond sculls Dibblee rowed a very fast race and was easily by a length in eight minutes, fifty-eight seconds. Ayer was beaten easily by Sinigaglia, being three lengths behind, although Sinigaglia steered badly. Time was nine minutes, thirty seconds. Williams beat his competitor Frispe by only a quarter of a length in nine minutes, twenty-nine seconds.

Henley on Thames, Eng., July 2.—The Winnipeg Rowing Club of Canada today defeated the Thames Rowing Club in the first heat of the Grand Challenge Cup at the Royal regatta, Winnipeg won by 1 1/2 lengths in 7 minutes, 28 seconds.

E. G. Williams, Vikings Club, beat G. P. Frispe, Agerecroft Rowing Club in G. P.'s series in the Diamond sculls. Harvard University second eight beat the Leander Boat Club in its heat in the Grand Challenge cup. The Union Boat Club, of Boston, eight, won by four lengths from London Rowing Club in its heat in the Grand Challenge Cup. The time was 7 minutes, 48 seconds.

James Bayer, of the Union Boat Club, of Boston, was beaten by Giuseppe Sinigaglia of the Lario Club, Como, Italy, in his heat of the Diamond Sculls. The Italian won by 3 lengths in 9 minutes, 30 seconds. In his heat yesterday, Robert Dibblee, of Toronto, defeated F. C. Scrutton, of the Vikings by a length in 8 minutes, 58 seconds.

LATER. All Four Beaten. Henley, June 2.—The Mayence Rowing Club of Germany, beaten by Jesus College, Cambridge in the fourth heat of the grand challenge cup. This puts all four English crews out of the Mayence regatta. The time was 7 minutes 22 seconds, the fastest of the day.

C. M. Stuart of Trinity Hall, Cambridge, beat D. H. L. Gollan of the Thames Rowing Club, in his heat in the Diamond sculls by a length in 9 minutes 33 seconds.

THE BUILDING WORK IN SASKATCHEWAN MORE BRISK

Saskatoon, Sask., July 2.—The building business at this city is quite active now. Important buildings are in course of erection and there is a marked increase in the permits taken out for residences.

A large store and office block, a cold storage warehouse, and a distributing warehouse for the Prairie City Oil Company figure prominently amongst the building permits taken out last month. In addition, the Canadian Township Properties, Ltd., have commenced the excavation of a basement upon which it is their intention to erect a handsome business block; a new residential basin is being built by the city council near the filtration plant, and the construction of an additional student's residence at the University of Saskatchewan is well under way. The latter has been rendered necessary by the increasing number of students, and about $800,000 will be spent in additions during the present year.

It is expected that the dominion government's huge interior elevator will be ready to handle the forthcoming harvest. The work is being rushed, a large number of men being engaged in its construction.

LONDON LODGINGS AT A PENNY A WEEK

London, July 2.—Lodgings at a penny a week are offered to the poor of Midhurst, in Sussex by Rev. F. Hatchell, vicar of the parish. He has turned an old vicarage over to this purpose. The penny a week secures a bed sitting-room in case of genuine poverty.

The reason for the penny rental scheme lies with the charity commissioners of the town, who have been letting the public almshouses to the highest bidder. The result has been that the very poor have been forced to pay more than they could afford for lodgings. To overcome official competition the vicar has started his penny lodgings.

MONUMENT RECALLS GREAT SEA DISASTER

Paris, July 2.—The radical cure of a certain one suffering from cretinism, a disease characterized by physical deformity and imbecility, was described at the Academy of Medicine by Doctor Voronoff, a well known surgeon.

The patient, a child of fourteen years, was attacked by myxoedema at the age of eight as an after-effect of scarlet fever. His physical and intellectual growth stopped. Six months ago Doctor Voronoff, in the presence of nineteen doctors, grafted on the child's neck the right lobe of the thyroid gland of a large baboon.

Almost immediately the patient began to improve and marked development took place in body and mind. While formerly the patient was apathetic and stupid he became active and quick-witted.

Members of the academy consider the operation of great importance and tending to confirm the great possibilities of constructive surgery. Introduced by Dr. Alexis Carrel, of New York, special interest in the case lies in the fact that this is said to be the first time that the grafting of an organ from a lower animal to a human has been successful.

Doctor Voronoff attributes his success to special technique as a result of experiments in grafting. In the opinion of these who have followed the experiment, mere cretinism condemned to a mere vegetative existence may, under the new treatment, be transformed to useful members of society.

Hardly had the Titanic catastrophe become a matter of history till the terrible loss of life was almost duplicated when the Empress of Ireland went down with her many human lives near Father Point. The picture shows the model for a memorial which is to be erected at the pier head at Liverpool to the engineers of the Titanic.

AT LORNEVILLE. The large crowd of visitors from the city had a most enjoyable day at Sea View Hotel, Lorneville, yesterday. Many automobiles and carriage parties made that their objective point and the hotel car made half a dozen round trips with the guests.

NEW ORDER IN EFFECT. The day light saving scheme invented by Commissioner Potts for the benefit of the work and the workmen on the city street crushing plant went into effect this morning. The first gang went out at three a. m. and the second at four a. m. They were kept on until nine o'clock in and they will work until nine o'clock this evening.

EXPERIENCE OF JAPANESE EMPHASIZES NECESSITY OF OBSERVING THE RULES. The way in which a person should not regard a street car was clearly demonstrated at the corner of King and Charlotte street on Tuesday evening, when a Chinese resident of the city disregarded two of the most important rules of "safety first" and received a severe shaking up.

He was sitting in the front seat of one of the open cars on the Haymarket square line, with his back to the motor-man. When the car was nearing the head of King street, the Chinese broke the first rule by alighting while the car was in motion, but nothing out of the ordinary might have happened had he not taken care that he was facing the proper direction. Hardly had his heels touched the pavement than he was picked up from the street, badly stunned and feeling queer sore. To make matters worse he fell on an umbrella which he was carrying and put it entirely out of business.

There is a moral to this story, but it hardly necessary to point out to the average individual where the moral lies.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED. T. McCaig & Sons' ball players accepted the challenge of the Phoenix Foundry team for a game of baseball on the Barrack square on Saturday afternoon at half past two o'clock.

GREAT CATCHES OF SALMON ON THE NORTH SHORE REPORTED. Although the salmon fishing in the north of the province was considered abnormally poor at the first of the season, the fish are coming more plentiful now, according to a hotel keeper from the Metapedia Valley, who was in the city this morning. Salmon, he said, was now selling on the Gaspe coast as high as seven cents a pound, and the amount shipped from the stations along the Restigouche and Metapedia rivers was enormous. About a car load of fish, weighing between two and three tons, was sent out from Metapedia almost every day. About one-third of this would be private shipments from sportsmen who control the fishing rights of the Metapedia and Restigouche rivers, while the balance would be from the nets of the fishermen along the coast.

London Sweltered on Dominion Day

Ninety in the Shade—In Other Parts of England Storm Did Great Damage and Loss of Life

London, July 2.—Yesterday the mercury here rose to 91 degrees in the sun and 80 in the shade. These were record figures for a first of July, the previous highest shade temperature for that date being 88, registered in 1881. Moreover, yesterday was the hottest day London has known since August 1911, when 97 in the shade was recorded.

Londoners, however, are taking comfort from the fact that the heat wave shows signs of breaking. The barometer is falling and the official forecast predicts thunderstorms and much cooler weather. As a matter of fact, thunderstorms of great violence, with torrential rain, swept over the northern, middle and other districts yesterday, doing much damage to cereal crops and causing some loss of life.

WAS IMPOSING SCENE AT TRIESTE

Bodies of Murdered Duke and Wife Taken Ashore

Trieste, July 2.—An imposing demonstration today accompanied the landing of the bodies of the assassinated Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife. The entire community thronged the shore or took up positions on board craft in the harbor. On the San Carlo wharf a large space had been kept clear for two catafalques in gold and black. On the left stood generals and admirals and other officers of the army and navy. On the right were the governors of the maritime provinces and many other state and municipal officials in brilliant uniforms.

An enormous gathering of members of the Catholic clergy of Trieste and the clergy of other denominations had assembled and behind them was drawn up a naval guard of honor while the whole square was lined by students.

The two coffins, shrouded with national flags, were transferred from the battleship to a barge draped with black, which was towed by a tender to show amid artillery salutes and the tolling of the church bells. The guard of honor presented arms as the coffins were carried to the catafalques followed by the members of the households of the late archduke and duchess. Right Rev. Andrew Karlin, Bishop of Trieste, assisted by a large number of clergy, blessed the bodies and a long procession was then formed.

The two coffins were placed on two hearse cars drawn by six horses. Seven coaches filled with swaths behind the hearse marched members of the household and the provincial government and a long procession of military officers, civil officials and delegations of all kinds with two companies of soldiers in full dress.

On its way to the Southern Railway station where the bodies were to be conveyed to Vienna the procession passed between dense masses of people. All men stood with uncovered heads and most of the women wore mourning. Lines of infantry and blue-jackets aided by municipal guards and firemen were drawn up along the whole route. The buildings were mostly draped with black and all business houses had been closed. The coffins reached the railway station at half past nine and military honors were there rendered by a detachment of a composite regiment of Slovenians and Herzegovians. Naval petty officers placed the coffins on a railway car which had been arranged as a mortuary chapel. Bishop Tryphon Pedersoli pronounced another blessing and the doors of the car were sealed.

The members of the suites of the dead archduke and duchess entered their cars and the train left for Vienna where it is expected to arrive at ten o'clock this evening.

Vienna, July 2.—The solemn ceremony of blessing the bodies of the murdered archduke and duchess is to be performed this evening in the parish church of the Hofburg in the presence of Emperor Francis Joseph, members of the imperial family, Prince Henry of Prussia and other royal personages. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was an emerald and pearl brooch and to the groomsmen gold cuff links. The bride received a check from her father. The numerous gifts, including a chair from the pupils of the school, testified to the popularity of the bride and groom.

JAMES H. CORBETT AMONG ABSENTEES

Contractor Named in $10,000 Payment to Premier

WANTED AT INQUIRY

Son on the Stand Tell of Father's Departure For United States— Asked Mr. Corbett Not to Summon Him

Fredricton, July 1—The principal feature of the evidence given at the Dugal inquiry on Tuesday afternoon was the announcement that James H. Corbett, contractor who was named in the charges as having paid $10,000 to Premier Fleming, left the country about the time the commission organized and is still in the United States. His son, who was on the stand tell of a letter from his father in which the latter asked the witness to request Mr. Corbett to refrain from summoning him and asking witness to see Premier Fleming. When the session opened David W. Brown, division engineer was recalled to give some additional information about his section of the railway. Hermann Corbett swore that he was a member of the firm of James H. Corbett & Sons, who has a contract for the building of the Valley railway between Fredericton and Gagetown. Their company was incorporated in Pennsylvania and James H. Corbett was its president, while he (the witness) was the manager. Charles L. Morgan is the secretary-treasurer. The contract on the Valley railway was managed entirely here and he personally had power to issue checks. Mr. Corbett gave an account of the work already accomplished by his firm amounting to about $490,000 up to April 3.

Mr. Corbett—Is your father, James H. Corbett, still president of your company at the present time?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—Where is he now?

A—In Kittington (Penn.).

Q—How long since you heard from him?

A—About two weeks ago, I think. I had a telegram while in Boston.

Q—Was he any other way in Canada at the present time?

A—Yes. We have a contract on the Wells-Cana line.

Q—Have you any knowledge of his whereabouts about June 4?

A—I have no knowledge.

Q—Are all your books of accounts with regard to this contract here?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—All your letters, and telegrams since May, 1912.

A—Yes, sir.

Q—Have you transferred any letters, telegrams, documents of any kind from this office to James H. Corbett?

A—No, sir.

Q—Do you know if your father is aware that he was required here as a witness?

A—I have never heard him say so.

Mr. Corbett—I can well believe that. At this point Mr. Teed objected vigorously to the line of evidence and the chairman of the commission took a hand in the questioning.

Chairman McKeown—Do you know when your father will be back?

A—I am sure I do not know.

Mr. Corbett repeated the question, "Do you know if your father is aware that he is required here as a witness?"

Mr. Teed, who asked his question, said that he did not think Mr. Corbett had any right to satisfy his curiosity on this point.

Mr. Corbett—If I had not any curiosity, I probably would not have had this inquiry. This is a most vital part of the investigation and we require this witness. He is charged with paying $10,000 to Premier Fleming in order to secure his contract.

The question was then repeated and the commission overruled Mr. Teed's objections.

Mr. Corbett—I am not aware if my father is aware that he is required here as a witness.

Q—Have you received any letters or telegrams from your father since this inquiry started?

A—Yes.

Mr. Teed still continuing to object to evidence upon this point. Chairman McKeown said: "I think James H. Corbett should be here, if his presence is required. Any contractor that is doing work for the province should be here to give his evidence."

Mr. Teed did not agree with this view of the matter.

Mr. Corbett—I might as well be plain about this matter. I want to know where he is.

Skin Peeling Nature's Aid to New Complexion

Ordinary mercurized wax is a natural beautifier. By its use the devitalized surface skin, it merely hardens Nature's work. Dr. Chase's second skin, however, gradually to view, exhibits the healthy, youthful complexion. This is because the capillaries are thus brought nearer the surface, they are wind or dirt. This wax is uncolored by sun, and it does not dry out, it is put on, and it is like cold cream, when it is used, it is completed in from seven to ten days, and it is not marked by any marks from day to day, or cause discoloration.

A face bath to remove wrinkles, made by dissolving an ounce of powdered salicylic acid in a half pint of water, is another tonic property smooth out wrinkles in accordance with Nature's own process.

Not a Corn

Last week that foot had corns. But the owner read of Blue-jay.

That's the story folks have told about sixty million corns. And tens of thousands tell it every day.

Some of them used to pain corns, merely to relieve. Some of them tried the old-time treatments until they gave up in disgust.

Now never again will they suffer from corns. When one appears, Blue-jay goes on it.

There's no more pain. The corn is forgotten. In two days they lift it out. No soreness, no pain, no trouble.

That sounds too good to be true. But remember, please, that a million corns a month are ended in this Blue-jay way.

Why don't you let it put an end to yours?

with the work on this contract until Mr. Corbett appears.

Geo. W. Fowles—That, your honor, is a matter for future consideration.

Chairman McKeown—Of course, such a matter is entirely in the hands of the government.

The argument continued between Mr. Teed and Mr. Corbett as to the admissibility of the contents of the letter, Mr. Corbett contending that by writing it he made it relevant and the witness burning it made it suspicious.

Chairman McKeown—For my part I think this evidence should be admitted. I think the witness should tell the contents of the letter.

Mr. Corbett—Witness, answer the question.

Mr. Corbett—He asked me to see you (Mr. Corbett) and request you not to subpoena him as a witness at this inquiry and he also asked me to go and see Mr. Fleming.

Mr. Corbett—Why more did he say about Mr. Fleming?

Mr. Teed objected formally.

Chairman McKeown—This is nothing more than giving the contents of the letter.

Mr. Teed still continued to object.

Mr. Corbett—Why should there be any objection to this letter? Why should there be so much objection anyway? Is there anything between Premier Fleming and James H. Corbett that must be hidden?

Chairman McKeown—I think the evidence should be admitted.

Commissioner Fisher—I also think that we should have it. It seems to me to be in the public interest that we should know all there is to be known about this matter.

Mr. Corbett, answering the question—"He did not tell me what to say to Mr. Fleming."

Mr. Corbett—Did you go to see Mr. Fleming?

Mr. Corbett—No, I did not.

Mr. Teed cross-examined the witness for a few moments upon some claims that his firm might have against the company for extra work and the commission adjourned until Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the same place.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

The Royal Commission finds itself handicapped in the investigation into the Dugal charges concerning the timber leases by the fact that a most important witness, Mr. W. H. Berry, who is an official of the provincial government, is in the United States and has paid no attention to the request that he appear and testify.

The Royal Commission is handicapped in the inquiry into the charges concerning the Valley Railway because a most important witness, Mr. James H. Corbett, who has a very large contract with the provincial government, is also in the United States and has indicated that he does not wish to appear and give evidence.

The counsel for Premier Fleming put every possible objection in the way of bringing out the evidence concerning Mr. Corbett, but the commission overruled all objections and the chairman significantly observed not only that Mr. Corbett should return and give evidence, but that the commission might well recommend to the government that it should not go on with work on the Corbett contract until Mr. Corbett did appear.

It is an extraordinary state of affairs that important witnesses should be in the United States when their evidence is wanted, especially when one of them is a government official and the other a government contractor. In view of the facts what becomes of the assertion that the government is eager to have the Dugal charges thoroughly investigated? One would naturally assume that the government would have little difficulty in securing the presence of its own official and a contractor doing business with the government, if there is nothing in the evidence of these gentlemen which it would like to have concealed.

The people of the province will naturally ask why the government does not prove its sincerity by taking every possible step to produce these important witnesses. The views so clearly expressed by the chairman of the commission and by Mr. Fisher is shared by the people at large. They want to hear what Mr. Corbett has to say, and they also desire to hear from Mr. Berry.

Some very interesting evidence was given on Saturday by Mr. William J. Scott, who had tie and lumber contracts. Although Mr. Scott was required to put up a deposit he did not do so, and yet obtained the contract. The evidence further shows that he had a partner, Mr. George F. Burt, who has been engaged in Premier Fleming's department and associated with Mr. W. H. Berry in classifying the crown lands. Mr. Burt derived considerable profit from the partnership with Mr. Scott, and then received $1,500 to retire from the partnership.

According to the evidence the man who got out the ties received cents each for them. Mr. Scott paid 20 cents for them and the railway paid 40 cents. The middlemen in this transaction appear to have done very well. That of course has nothing to do with the charges against Mr. Fleming, but it throws an interesting side-light on Valley Railway affairs.

The announcement that the members of the Royal Commission intend to make a personal inspection of the Valley Railway will be received with general satisfaction. Their report upon it will be awaited with universal interest. In the meantime what does the provincial government propose to do about Mr. W. H. Berry and Mr. James H. Corbett?

Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes will visit Sussex. Fortunately for one or both Mr. George W. Fowler, M. P., is busy in Fredericton.

If President Huerta has really declared that half the people of Mexico will die before he yields up the power he now holds he is the greatest enemy of his country who dwells either within or without her borders.

A bill has passed the state senate in Massachusetts providing a term of six months in jail for any man who acts on the street any woman or girl with whom he is not acquainted. The bill passed without a dissenting voice.

We will not be able to sing "Good-bye Summer" at least until summer arrives. When Dominion Day finds us wearing overcoats or sitting around the fire there is a little reason to complain about the freaks of the weather man.

A French military balloon carrying nine persons has remained in the air thirty-five hours. The feats of the airmen have ceased to occasion any surprise. The progress in the conquest of the air during the last two years has been remarkable.

News of the death of Hon. George A. Murchie of Calais will be heard with regret in New Brunswick as well as in Maine. Mr. Murchie was actively identified with lumbering operations both in this province and the neighboring state for many years. His father was also a very extensive lumberman and in his time one of the most prominent citizens of the border towns. Mr. George A.

Murchie had been very active in Maine politics for many years, and besides being a man of great capacity he was also a man of high character and universally respected.

Ontario fruit growers are realizing the benefit of co-operation. A letter from St. Catharines says:—"Fruit growers of the Grimsby and Niagara District have decided to co-operate for the purpose of cutting out the middlemen in the sale of fruit. It is understood that twenty retail stores are being opened in Toronto for this season's trade."

Last year the United States treasury department placed government deposits in national banks in the chief agricultural sections to facilitate the harvesting and marketing of the grain and cotton crops. This prevented any strain upon the general money market during the crop season. It is said the same policy will be adopted this year.

An article in Bradstreet's raises the question of the relation of the automobile to the housing problem. Has the desire to possess an automobile affected the real estate market and the building trade? Obviously the man of small means who buys an automobile and keeps it in running shape will not have so much money to put in the savings bank toward the provision of a home of his own. There can be no doubt whatever that the modern demand for luxuries eats up a great deal of money that might otherwise be put into a home for the family, or in the savings bank to provide for a rainy day.

They have what is called a Boy Bettement movement in Presque Isle, Maine. At a meeting held this week one of the speakers said: "In regard to schools, there would seem to be two things to do, keep those in school who should be there, and do something for the education of those who must drop out. A further study of the defective and illiterate is desirable and it is suggested that a special committee be appointed for this work." Evidently the citizens of the Maine town realize the importance of looking after their boys and girls. In the town of Madras, Maine, the Village Improvement Society has purchased an eight acre field to be converted into a playground for the boys and girls, and it will be fitted up for baseball, tennis and other games. The rapid spread of the playground movement is a significant sign of the times.

THE HOLIDAY

While the weather yesterday afternoon brightened considerably and caused some hours of the day to be enjoyable, the holiday was half spent by the time the sun appeared. The event from an atmospheric standpoint, at least, was not altogether a memorable success. However, many persons enjoyed the holiday, particularly at the various suburban resorts where every house had its visitors for the day and many motor boat and automobile parties were enjoyed. About the city the day was spent quietly, with the various theatres proving the greatest centre of interest.

At the Perna, Bay Shore, an enjoyable garden party was held by the Practice Boys. The Temple Band excursion to Brown's Falls was largely attended. A banquet about fifty young people of Trinity church enjoyed a private outing, and at Westfield a large gathering was present to see the water and field sports in the afternoon, and to attend the ball given by the Westfield Outing Association in the evening.

At St. Stephen, yesterday there was a big celebration in honor of the day. A parade, which included representations from the four border towns, was held through the streets in the morning, and afterwards there was a fine programme of sports. Horse races were held in the afternoon.

A LAUGH IN CHURCH

(Emily Huntington Miller) She sat on the sliding cushion, The dear wet woman of four; Her feet in their shiny slippers Hung dangling above the floor, She meant to be good; she had promised And so, with her big brown eyes She stared at the meeting-house windows, And counted the crawling flies.

She looked far up at the preacher; But she thought of the honey-bees Droning away in the blossoms That whitened the cherry trees; She thought of her wicker basket Where, curled, in a dusky heap, Three sleek rook puppies, with fringing ears, Lay snuggled and fast asleep.

Such soft, warm bodies to cuddle, Such queer little hearts to beat, Such swift, red tongues to kiss you, Such sprawling, cushiony feet! She should feel in her clasping fingers The touch of the satiny skin, And a cold, wet nose exploring The dimples under her chin.

Then a sudden apple of laughter Ran over her parted lips, So swift that she could not catch it, And a cold, wet nose exploring The dimples under her chin. The people whispered, "Bless the child." As each one waked from a nap; But the dear wet woman hid her face For shame in her mother's lap.

About ten years ago I took a thorough treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, using altogether 21 boxes, and since then can eat anything, have been freed from headaches, and my health has been greatly improved in every way. I gained 14 pounds in weight, and feel sure I owe everything to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You may use this letter, and my neighbors can tell you of my condition before using this treatment."

BLINDNESS

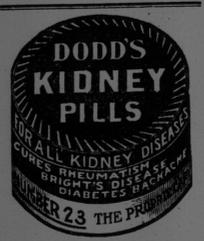

OF VIRTUE

All English Company Will Present Cosmo Hamilton's Great Play at the Opera House Three Nights Next Week and Wednesday Matinee - Seat Sale Opens Tomorrow Morning

"Blindness of Virtue" is conceded to be the best and most interesting production that Opera House patrons will have an opportunity of seeing this season, and consequently the three evening performances, beginning Monday next and Wednesday matinee, will doubtless be well patronized. The splendid aggregation of English players who will present the fine play are arousing equal interest to the production itself. It is absolutely the same cast which played the London Little Theatre an entire year, and includes F. Gatenby Bell, who has been playing with Sir George Alexander for several years; A. Hamilton Gibbs, Ralph Kimpfner, Miss Mary Auld, Miss Helen Parsons, Miss Marjorie Stiles, and Gladys Hoperton from the Theatre Royal, Drury Lane, His Majesty's and the St. James theatres. Beginning Monday St. John theatre-goers will for three days enjoy a real metropolitan production interpreted by metropolitan players, in fact the very best procurable for the work in question.

DIE ON GUILLOTINE

German Woman and Lover Give Lives For Murder

DIFFERENT IN FRANCE

There Woman Poisoner of Her Father and Brother Was Saved From Death and Given Life in Penal Servitude

Paris, July 2.—By a curious coincidence the same day that saw a female prisoner guillotined in Germany saw a female prisoner's sentence to death commuted by President Poincare to life-long penal servitude. The French woman was a peasant who had abandoned two illegitimate children and poisoned her father with arsenic because he refused to give her money to continue her dissolute life. Her brother tried to reclaim her and died of the same poison a week later. At her trial a lawyer pleaded that she was mentally unbalanced, but the jury, knowing well that she would not be put to death, found her guilty of murder without any extenuating circumstances. The German woman, Madeline Wendel, aged 41, had been married to a mushroom grower for many years, when she met a laborer named Wirth two years younger than herself. She became his mistress and brought him to live in her house. Soon the lover's chief idea was how to get rid of the husband. Three times they put poison in his food but prompt medical intervention saved him. The fourth time an enormous dose of arsenic (the same poison as the French woman used) placed in cheese proved fatal. The woman and her accomplice were condemned to death at Straasburg, Alsace-Lorraine. Both firmly believed the sentence would be commuted, the woman basing her hope on the fact that she was a cripple, having a wooden leg. But the Kaiser refused to interfere and in accordance with German law, the public prosecutor informed them that their request had been refused and that the death penalty would be inflicted in twenty-four hours. With bare the news with calmness, asked permission to kiss his mother, begged her pardon for having become a murderer through love and asked her to forgive him. He took a bottle of wine with each of his last meals, ate well and slept quietly. When Madeline Wendel learned that she must die she burst into tears, threw herself at the public prosecutor's feet and begged him to save her life. She swore that she regretted her crime and long after the official left her cell she continued to cry "Pardon! Pardon!"

The executioner, Siller, a horse slaughterer, was dressed in a frock coat and wore a high hat. He was a stout, cheerful looking man, in no way disturbed by the role he was about to play. His two assistants, more simply dressed, with soft hats, were men of strength. As the clock struck six Madeline Wendel appeared, as she was to be executed first. She was borne by two chaplains, as she was not allowed to use the wooden leg, without which she could not walk alone. Everybody bared his head. The chaplain stepped forward before the representative of the public prosecutor, who hastily read the sentence of death. The condemned woman had not as yet seen the guillotine, but she began to moan. As soon as the sentence was read the chaplain turned toward the table where the candles burned and placed the crucifix in her hands. They were beginning to recite prayers.

When the magistrate suddenly ordered: "Gentlemen, do your duty!" The two assistants, who were behind the chaplain, seized the woman, placed her against the swinging board of the guillotine and quickly fastened two straps, one round the calf and one near the elbows. The leather cutting into her flesh seemed to awaken her to consciousness of what was being done. She seemed for the first time to see the guillotine and shrieked, "Oh, God! Protect me!" The swinging plank turned, bringing the head into position, the knife fell, and all was over in a few moments. Ten minutes later Wirth was brought into the little court. He was pale, but cool. "I regret my crime," he declared when he had heard his sentence read. He refused the crucifix and stood calmly before the guillotine. An hour later the decapitated bodies of the lovers left the prison in the same cart.

VITALITY REGAINED

KIDNEYS CURED

Health Restored By "Fruit-a-lives"

Hagersville, Ont., Aug. 28, 1913. "About two years ago I found my kidneys in a very bad state. My kidneys and liver were not doing their work, and I became all run-down. I felt the need of some good remedy, and having seen "Fruit-a-lives" advertised, I decided to try them. Their effect, I found more than satisfactory. Their action was mild and the results all that could have been expected. My liver and kidneys resumed their normal action after I had taken upwards of a dozen boxes, and I regained my old time vitality. Today, I am as well as the best health I have ever enjoyed, and I unhesitatingly give you this testimonial for publication if you wish." B. A. KELLY. In hundreds of letters received by the Fruit-a-lives Company, the same expression is used "Fruit-a-lives is the best kidney remedy in the world. At any rate, these tablets have proved the best to the hundreds of men and women who have been cured by taking them. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

FOX COMPANY DIVIDENDS

Charlottetown, P. E. I., June 29. To the Editor of the Times, St. John, N. B.

Sir,—There is great interest among many thousands of shareholders in the Prince Edward Island-Fox companies to learn what dividends they may expect in October next, and a number of the companies have by circular notified their shareholders what they hope to pay. Further information has been collected and published by the Charlottetown Guardian, the list embracing forty-six companies. Of these eight companies expect to pay 100 per cent. to 800 per cent., twenty-two companies from 50 per cent. to 100 per cent., nine companies from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent., and six companies from 15 per cent. to 25 per cent. Over the whole industry the average dividends will be somewhat less than those of last year, as there has not been so great an advance during the year in the selling prices for breeding stock, but the level of prices is quite up to that of last year and is firmly maintained. The result fully maintains the reputation of the silver-froed-breeding enterprise as the most lucrative live stock industry in the world. J. E. B. MCCREADY, Publicly Agent for P. E. I.

An Easy Way to Get Fat and be Strong

Good Advice for Thin Folks

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they are on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods, rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This master-stroke of modern chemistry is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh builders. Sargol aims through its re-generative, reconstructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to liberally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every advanced, broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Leading druggists of St. John and vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

Caution—While Sargol has given excellent results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles it should not be taken by those who do not wish to gain ten pounds or more.

Ringworm on Face in Scaly Spots. Around Mouth and Chin; Spread All Over Face in Big Disfiguring Blotches, Burning and Itchy. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Ringworm Disappeared.

Burns Church, N. B.—For about four years I was troubled with ringworm on my face. It first made its appearance in little scaly spots around my mouth and chin which would last for about a week, then would disappear and in two or three weeks time would appear again. As the little scales or scabs came off it would go like a cracked sore which was always increasing in size and eating into the flesh. It was always getting worse until it had spread all over my face in big disfiguring blotches which did not disappear at all. I tried all the known household remedies I could think of besides some recommended ones without any effect. A friend told me of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I obtained a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. The first application afforded relief. I washed with the Cuticura Soap and warm water as directed, then applied the Cuticura Ointment. In a week's time the ringworm had entirely disappeared. (Signed) Miss Marie E. Morrison, May 28, 1913. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. For a liberal free sample of each, with 25-c. book, send post-card to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 1, Boston, U. Athletic Events For Saint John Boys For The Summer Months

Preparations have been about completed for the organization of the boys of the city, ranging in age from ten to sixteen years, into an athletic body for the summer months. The boys will be under the supervision of C. D. Howard, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. and supervisor of sports for older boys. The series of sports which will be run in co-operation with the activities of the Playground Association, will start on Tuesday next on the Marathon grounds, on Wednesday, at the Barrack grounds, on Thursday, on Queen Square, West Side, and on Friday on the East End League grounds. One session will be held on each of the grounds every week, on the same day as the first one. The boys of the city will be registered at the grounds nearest the district in which they live and will be allowed to compete only on those grounds. They will be divided into two classes according to age; those between fourteen and sixteen years composing class A, and those between ten and thirteen Class B. The boys' records throughout the summer will be kept and prizes awarded to those with the highest number of points. The business men of the city have entered into the spirit of the movement and are endeavoring to have generously donated a variety of articles for prizes. For equipping the grounds, Murray & Gregory have agreed to construct three sets of jumping standards and the Christie Woodworking Co. have donated another, while Col. J. L. McAvity, of the McLean & Holt Co., is having eight shots, four of twelve pounds and four of sixteen pounds each, cast.

The City Worker Has Poor Eyes

This is especially true of the office worker, "the inside man" at any employment. The reason is natural. His eyes are constantly employed at close work. The muscles required for such accommodation are overworked and the other muscles do not get exercise enough, consequently the power of accommodation—which is necessary for good vision—is weakened. That's one reason why more people wear glasses now than formerly, and why many who are not wearing glasses should. It is surprising to find what great comfort and improved sight and health properly fitted glasses bring. You can have your eyes examined scientifically at Sharpe's, and secure at a reasonable price accurately ground glasses to correct the defect in vision, should the examination show you need glasses.

COLONEL HUGHES

AT CAMP SUSSEX; IS WELL PLEASED

(Special to Times.) Sussex, July 2—Colonel Sam Hughes, minister of militia, arrived in Sussex this morning at 9.30 o'clock, made a hurried inspection of the militia camp, conferred with George W. Fowler, M. P., and left at 2.15 o'clock this afternoon for Charlottetown. He was accompanied by Col. Lord Brooke and Col. Victor Williams in full regimentals. After the inspection Col. Hughes expressed himself as being greatly pleased with the showing made by the soldiers on the camp grounds. He said the inspection showed them to be well drilled, well versed in military tactics, and also showed up well in the muster for inspection. He would not say how they compared with other camps in Canada which he had inspected. During the morning Col. Hughes was in private conference with Mr. Fowler, member from Kings-Albert, and although the subject of the militia was not known, it is supposed to relate to the matter of a change in the location of the camp grounds from Sussex to McGivney's. When asked what his plans were today on charges connected with window smashing, the colonel was not disposed to say anything on the matter.

HONOR FOR REPORTER

New York Herald Tribune For Staff Man, Fatally Hurt But Who Saw That Paper "Got the Story". A bronze tablet, commemorating the heroism of Gregory T. Hume, a reporter for the New York World, who was fatally hurt in the Stamford railroad wreck on June 12, 1913, but saw it that his paper "got the story," was placed in the city room of the World the other day.

The tablet was erected through subscriptions of the young man's associates on the staff, and executed by the Gorham Company. It is fixed in such a position that each World reporter starting out upon his assignment will see it and be reminded of Mr. Hume's loyalty and bravery.

The young reporter was returning on the day of the wreck after a visit to his parents' country home at Pine Orchard, Conn. He was in a motor car, and was the first section of the Boston-New York express. They stopped at Stamford to take on an electric locomotive. The second section of the train, running at high speed, crashed into the first, tore the antiquated wooden Pullman to pieces and fatally injured six persons.

Mr. Hume, with his hips crushed and suffering from internal injuries, said as he was being carried to the hospital. "Call up the New York World and tell them there is a wreck here—a big story. Tell them I'm sorry I won't be able to work on it. I'm all smashed up. Call my mother, too."

He died in the Stamford Hospital the next morning.

RECEPTION FOR GRADUATES OF THE TWO HIGH SCHOOLS

Tuesday was the day of the "Sweet girl graduate," and right well it observed. After the exercises of the day, the graduating classes of the St. John and St. Vincent's High Schools were the guests of those who had preceded them in the classes, at enjoyable receptions. In the Assembly Hall of the High School the Alumni held their reception with Miss Jessie Lawson, president, and R. B. Emerson, chairman of the school board, as the reception committee. During the evening Miss Lawson presented to the valedictorian, Miss Hilda Stevens, a life member's pin, and Stanley Nason, on behalf of the graduating class, presented to the school a picture of the old Roman Forum. Miss Benton and Miss Vega Gronlund gave vocal solos, musical selections were given by the school orchestra, and dancing was enjoyed until about midnight, with Jones orchestra providing music. Dr. D. C. Malcolm was floor director. The Alumni placed themselves on record as approving of the social centres project, but did not favor using the high school for the purpose.

In Columbus Hall, Coburg street, the annual class dinner of St. Vincent's Alumnae was held with more than one hundred members present, and Mrs. James McMurray presiding. Those taking part in the programme were Miss O'Neil, Miss Dolan, Miss Annie McGuigan, Miss Harrington, Miss Genevieve Kullen, Miss Jean Walsh, Miss Nan McDade, Miss Josephine Slarry, Miss Geraldine Carleton, Miss King and Mrs. F. ST. JOHN SUGAR

Montreal Paper's Article On Local Refinery

SAYS IT IS GREAT PLANT

All That Remains Now is Linking up the Vast System and Eighty Seven Gangs Are Working to Finish

(Montreal Financial Times.)

St. John, N. B.—Within ninety days of the date of the issue of The Financial Times, unless something entirely unforeseen intervenes, operations will have commenced at the mammoth new plant of the Atlantic Sugar Refineries Company Limited. The essential buildings are practically complete and the machinery is practically installed. What remains to be done is to link up the component parts of the whole vast system, to test them out thoroughly and thereby bring on your raw sugar.

Eighty-seven separate gangs working under nearly as many separate contracts are hastening things along. The longest period any contractor has asked in which to complete his work is fifty-five days from the commencement of the present week. Making ample allowance for possible delays—say ten days—and allowing another twenty-five for formulating systems of manufacture and so on, the ninety days limit set by President F. H. Anson himself during a visit here this week does not seem unreasonable.

Once completed the dominion will have been enriched by one of the largest and most efficient sugar refining plants on the continent and certainly the largest in Canada.

Physical Situation

Efficiency appears to have been the watchword in planning and constructing the plant for the Atlantic Sugar Refineries. The physical situation itself, of the plant is excellent. On the one side is deep water, open to navigation twelve months in the year, and with a depth of thirty-five feet at low tide and fifty-seven feet at high tide, and on the other is railway connection. In a word, the raw material arrives by steamships at one door and the finished product starts by rail at the other with a minimum handling in between.

As a matter of fact the minimum of handling appears to be a thoroughly strong factor in the Atlantic Sugar Refineries process. From the time the raw sugar is deposited on the top floor of the huge ten story steel and concrete structure, it is never touched by hand—no might almost say is never seen by human eye—until it fetches up on the second floor a refined product ready for packing and shipping. Even then it is handled only as that term involves the processes of moving the machinery-packed product to its last journey to the consumer.

Miles of Copper Tubing

This is not a thesis on sugar refining. The mysteries of the art of sugar refining are too subtle for the lay mind. But the machinery by means of which the refining process is effected at the Atlantic Sugar Refineries is all very wonderful. Likewise, it is very complicated. The one thing that hits you most squarely in the eye is the vast amount of copper called into requisition. Here on one floor you see half a dozen large copper receptacles—technically known as vacuum pans—and leading from these what appears to be miles and miles of copper tubing through which various by-products pass. On another floor, mineral filtering arrangements and so on. An adjacent building is the boiler house in which will be generated the steam to operate the dynamos which in their turn, will serve to operate individual motors in the various units of the whole plant. That boiler house is in itself a thing to wonder at. Twenty-four fires generating steam to the extent of goodness knows how many horse-power will be tended by just two men! And it all looks so easy. The cost simply comes in at an upper floor to feed the automatic stokers on the room floor and the ashes just drop, through a hop below into dump cars. The capacity of the whole plant is one million pounds of manufactured sugar a day.

Fifty Shower Baths

That absolute cleanliness throughout the whole works will be a strong feature with the Atlantic Refineries. It is shown by the elaborate ventilating and other arrangements. No fewer than fifty shower baths are being installed for the use of employees in the various departments.

The building of the refinery has been a big thing for St. John. It has meant the circulation of considerable sums of money in the city during the time of construction and has given employment in one way or another to a large number of men. St. John people, however, appear to be inclined to believe that in the completion of the plant and the manufacture of sugar there will be a still bigger thing for the city.

Real Test of Cup Defenders Now To Come

POOR BASEBALL YEAR.

No Golden Harvest in 1914—The Races at the Henley Regatta—Play For The Davis Tennis Cup

New York, June 29.—With the various weaknesses developed in the tuning-up races corrected, the trio of cup defense yachts are about to enter upon the second stage of the America's cup preliminaries. Beginning off Newport will be held the first official tests of the Resolute, Vanitie and Defiance and the cup committee will base its final selection of a defender upon the result of these and subsequent races.

The early races both at Long Island and off Sandy Hook clearly indicated that of the trio the Resolute was the only yacht ready for the job. The necessary remodelling of spars and sails is completed and it is predicted that the future contests will be far closer and the victories more evenly divided.

The captains of the three sloops have invoked the aid of Norway and Sweden in defending the America's cup for Vanitie, Defiance and Resolute are all manned, forward of the mast, by descendants of the Norsemen. Years ago, America's cup defenders were manned with Penobscot Bay tars, mostly from Deer Island, but very few Yankee seamen have been seen on the cup yachts since the Vinal Haven crew on the Defender assisted in defeating the Valkyrie II.

Captain Christoffersen, Resolute, brought nearly a score of men from his native town of Bergen, Norway, far up near the lens of the midnight sun, while Captain Howell of the Defiance and former Captain Dennis of the Vanitie also recruited their crews with Scandinavians, although all handg give South Brooklyn as their halting port. They are a lively set of tars, these yellow haired, red checked sons of the Norwegian fjords, with muscles like iron and nerves of steel for it takes a cool head to occupy the masthead position on a cup defender, especially in a smart breeze and some sea, when chop topsails and spinnaker halyards caught in the standing rigging.

Every man on the three boats is a veteran, and with few exceptions all have worked a year and some of them five years under their respective skipper, Captain Howell of the Defiance took some of his men from the sloop Italmata, although some of them, with Commodore E. Walter Clark on the schooner Iolita, now the tender to the Defender.

BASEBALL Organized baseball and especially the major leagues will not look back on 1914 as a year of golden harvest. The summer rapidly approaching reports from all parts of the country are that attendance figures are dropping to an extremely low level. The advent of the new League is not generally given a contributing cause and it is known that the new organization is not any better supported than the older one. One authority, who, owing to his position has access to the returns, said recently: "I attribute the falling off of attendance to the general dullness in business. Baseball is like any other attraction that depends upon the public for support. It feels business depression and its receipts are an accurate barometer of financial conditions. I was recently told during a trip around the circuit that one city supporting a major league club had more than 17,000 untenanted houses, due to the fact that many of the working class had left in search of other employment. Conditions I found to be the same to some extent in other cities. Baseball has its lean years and under the circumstances it is not surprising that we should hear complaints."

BOAT RACING

The Union Boat Club's eight-oared crew which sailed from Boston recently to compete in the English Henley this week has made a favorable impression among the Thames river watermen. While it is admitted that the oarsmen do not create a particularly impressive picture on the river there is no denying that they drive the shell through the water at high speed. Being long and rather heavy, the oarsmen are inclined to be slow in getting under way. The eight has not made any records in time trials, but has covered the Henley distance on several occasions in time considered satisfactory under the conditions. Marked attention is now being paid to the catch and the finish. The aim is to get a hard, sharp, snappy catch, followed by an increasing pull through the water. To this end, the men are constantly told to drive their legs down hard once the oar is buried, and a speedier start is expected once the crew is accustomed to the new shell constructed by Sime, an English boat builder from whom Harvard has secured racing shells in recent years.

The advent of foreign entrants at Henley has stirred the English rowing authorities to renewed efforts toward securing the best home talent in order to defeat the invaders. Twelve entries have been made by United States, Canadian, German, Swiss and Italian rowing clubs, and it is considered quite likely that one or more of the Grand Challenge, Thames Challenge, Stewards' Challenge, and Diamond Sculls may go abroad as a result of these entries. Since 1872 more than eighty foreign crews have rowed in the English Henley on the Thames. Of this number ten have succeeded in winning temporary possession of one or another of these famous challenge trophies.

TENNIS

The withdrawal of the German tennis team from the 1914 Davis cup international play leaves Australasia easily placed in the upper half of the draw since, by defeating Canada, the Antipodeans enter the final round without further opposition. The English team, logical favorites in the lower half, will have to defeat both France and Belgium before securing entrance into the final round to be played at Boston on August 6th. The Belgian players are not considered as formidable as the French team, which will be composed of Decu-

CONRAD SAYS CORK FENDERS WOULD AVERT DAMAGE

Joseph Conrad, a distinguished author and authority on maritime affairs, in an article in the Illustrated London News, says that one cork fender would have saved the Empress of Ireland. Mr.

Conrad writes as one who has been seaman, mate and master for twenty years, holding his certificate under the Board of Trade. He says: "Two men with two fenders would have been better, but even the use of one would have made all the difference between a very damaging accident and downright disaster. By the time the cork fender had been squeezed between the liner's side and the bluff of the 'stortad' bow, the effect of the latter's reversed propeller would have been produced and the ships would have come apart with no more damage than, perhaps, bulged or started plates, and that above the water-line too, not enough to cause a leak, let alone a sinking."

Fort Fairfield News. Fort Fairfield, Me., June 30.—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Williams, Mrs. S. N. Richards and daughter, Miss Emma, and others who attended the Williams-Brewer wedding in Fredrickton, have arrived home, as have also Mr. and Mrs. Boardman S. Williams, the newly married couple.

Mrs. Wesley Hunt, of this town, and Miss Lena Sisson, of Andover, N. B., were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon, June 24, at the home of the bride, Rev. E. J. Jenkins of Hartland, N. B., assisted by Rev. S. M. Bowles of Fort Fairfield, officiated. Miss Sisson was a former chief operator at the central telephone office here.

Nelle Short, the little girl who made such a heroic effort last Saturday afternoon to save her playmate, little Lorna Hodgins, from drowning and as a result of her experience was taken to the General Public Hospital, was discharged from that institution yesterday quite recovered and has returned to her home.

Lord Nelson—Old England's Great Naval Hero

WITHOUT Horatio Nelson, England would have been invaded and perhaps conquered by Napoleon. At Trafalgar he smashed forever the French Emperor's hope of creating a naval power. Never was man more idolized and beloved—not only by all of England's people who breathlessly awaited news of his telling victories, but by every man of his fleet. A true Anglo-Saxon, he detested tyrannous powers and legislative usurpations of every kind. He was particularly opposed to prohibitive enactments governing the diet of his men, who, like him, enjoyed barley-malt brews, even as their fathers did for countless generations before. Good beer, according to Lord Nelson, has ever been good food. Budweiser Beer for 57 years has been the product of an institution holding the highest ideals known to the ancient art of brewing. The output, due to Quality and Purity, has increased every year until 7,500 men are daily required to keep pace with the public demand. Budweiser sales exceed any other beer by millions of bottles.
