AN IMPORTANT COAL FIND ON A YORK COUNTY FARM

Councillor Clarence N. Goodspeed of Penniac, Discovers Anthracite Coal—Scientists Believe the Find to Be an Important One—Other News From Fredericton

Fredericton, May 15.—(Special)—The highway board for the parish of St. Mary's is probably the first in the province to complete organization. It is composed of Councillors Goodspeed and Pond and Peter McLagan. They met Thursday and elected Mr. Pond chairman. The parish was divided into sixteen districts.

Mr. Goodspeed was in the city yesterday with a sample of anthracite coal which he plowed up on his farm a few days ago. He showed the sample to Dr. Hamilton of the Normal School who pronounced it anthracite coal without question. Dr. Bailey was also shown the sample and promised to visit

Pennac next week and make an examination of the locality where the find was made. Mr. Goodspeed says he plowed up a large quantity of the coal and that the strata vary in size like the coal brought here from Pennsylvania. It is believed that the find is an important one.

MADE LOVE TO MANY WOMEN American Don Juan Sentenced to Five Years in Missouri Penitentiary.

Kansas City, Mo., May 15.—(Special)—Charles E. Nord, the twentieth century Don Juan, who made love to women in different parts of the United States, Canada, Europe, Asia and Africa, for the purpose of inducing them to part with their money, was sentenced yesterday to five years in Missouri penitentiary.

Mrs. Hamilton, a Frankfort milliner, was chosen as the witness whose testimony should form the basis of a case against Nord. Mrs. Hamilton testified that Nord's trial on the charge of obtaining money from love letters to her, Nord induced her to sell her home and her store and give the proceeds to him to use as a case against Nord was fraudulently obtained yesterday when he stood at the bar and heard Judge Lathrop pronounce sentence, which is the maximum for the offence.

SEEDING GENERAL BUT RATHER LATE In Some Sections Little Farm Work Has Yet Been Done—Weather Now Very Favorable

Winnipeg, Man., May 15.—Seeding is now general all over Western Canada, but there are yet a few localities where the ground is too wet. On May 8 either snow or rain fell throughout Manitoba and Eastern Saskatchewan, delaying operations for two or three days, but since then the weather has cleared up and the land is drying beautifully.

In Southern Alberta seeding is practically completed, but in the northern portions of that province it will be completed by about May 20. In some localities in Alberta the winter wheat has suffered from the cold spells, but it is not feared from what harm has been done. In Manitoba and Saskatchewan conditions are very similar, seeding being at least three weeks later than under ordinary conditions, and rainfall reports show the average already twenty-five per cent. The Winnipeg World's Fair Committee, which contoured the West, saw the backward condition of the crop and several petitions were filed in that province but five per cent of the seeding has been completed, but there are more favorable districts. It is doubtful if all the wheat will be sown with the best weather conditions. Publicity boards and interested parties are endeavoring to hide the real conditions as to everyone who has toured the country, but the conditions are most unfavorable, but with good weather a fair crop can be expected, with a greater total yield than last year.

The varieties of wheat grown in Western Canada require from 110 to 120 days to reach maturity, and this period will bring the harvest time well into September, leaving the ripening wheat exposed to the inevitable frosts during the end of August.

CIVILIZATION AND INSANITY

Advancing Civilization Has Brought Increased Insanity in Japan.

Chicago, May 15.—Advancing civilization is bringing increased insanity in Japan according to Dr. K. Saito, director of the Aojami Hospital for the insane in Tokio. "Fifty years ago," he said, "insanity in Japan was very rare. Thirty years ago it began to increase and after the Chinese war there was further increase. The increase was even more marked after the war with Russia. I believe that as civilization advances in Japan insanity becomes more general, due to the struggle for existence."

Dr. Saito is making a tour of the world inspecting hospitals for the insane. The water in the river here fell four inches last night. The weather continues cloudy but there has been no rain.

"STOP THAT WAILING!" "Gypsy" Smith Calls Down Toronto Woman at Revival Meeting.

Toronto, Ont., May 15.—(Special)—While Gypsy Smith, the evangelist, was speaking at a revival here a woman in the audience gave vent to a long drawn hysterical wail.

"Take that sister out, if she can't believe it is the spirit to make a row like that, for the spirit is orderly. I can do with a hearty 'Hallelujah' or 'Hallelujah,' but I don't believe in anything that produces confusion or gives the enemy a chance. It's blasphemy. If there is anything about the holy spirit and His power it is intelligence, sanity and reason, just as mine are as here."

ASEPTO makes clothes whiter, fresher, cleaner, than any soap can make them. Sterilizes everything it comes in contact with—is perfectly odorless. For washing clothes, bedding and various fabrics, dishes, pots and pans, use one tablespoonful of ASEPTO to a bucket of water. After the wash, pour the wash-water into the sink—and sink and drain pipes will be completely disinfected. Inevitable in cases of infectious diseases, as ASEPTO kills all disease germs present in the bedding and dishes used in the sick-room. ASEPTO costs but 5 cts. a package—but whenever compared with ordinary washing compounds ASEPTO would be dirt cheap at double the price.

ASEPTO has been analyzed by eminent physicians and found to be all we claim for it.

"His name is Quintance," Cormoy replied readily. "Stephen Quintance. He told me when I first met him he had just come from Africa to New York to marry his cousin because she was a millionaire. He had told me a lot of hot air too about his travels—where he could get a lot of diamonds whenever he wanted to, and so on. Tonight he said he had found her and she was a peach—the same one he told us about at the club. And so he is going to marry her."

"But how is he going to do that, if Des Reves has married her first?"

"He's a damned impostor!" cried Quintance. "His mind made up on that point at least, and quite unable to contain himself. Cormoy looked at him in surprise, so strained and tense was his tone."

"He's a damned impostor! He's impersonating another man. I must do something to stop it."

"I knew Stephen Quintance," he went on excitedly, "and that scoundrel's trying to pass for him. If you see him again, Cormoy, had out where he lives and tell him to get out of your mind. It's a matter of the most urgent importance to me. I'll tell you the rest of the trouble some other time. Here's the Rue St. Roch. I won't ask you to stay, but I must take it over with O'Ferral first, and—"

He shook hands hastily, jumped out as the cab stopped at his door.

"You won't forget, J. J.," he urged anxiously. "It will be the very greatest favor that you can do me to let me know where I can lay hands on that fellow."

He ran upstairs, his mind in a frenzy. Could it be possible that Mike Quintance's adopted daughter was now the Duchess des Reves? That was surely too good a piece of good fortune to be true. He had heard by all he knew, it seemed but too probable.

He chattered into O'Ferral's rooms in an agony of belated enlightenment. They were empty. He found on his own parlor table a note from his friend which said, "Have been called away. Don't know when I may get back."

CHAPTER XX
THE PRODIGAL GOES BACK TO HIS HUSKS—AT THE BRISTOL.

"May I telephone in the morning to inquire how you are?" The Duc des Reves asked wistfully of his wife as he bade her good-night in the corridor of the Ellys opposite the ladies' boudoir. There he met her when she had arrived at the palace, and she had forbidden him to see her further on her departure, not being to afford him opportunity for any less polite leave-taking.

"Yes, if you wish to do so," she answered without much interest, and having bowed to him, went her way.

He watched the slender figure disappear down the broad passage, the pale silk cloak she wore outlined against the crimson carpet between two thickets of green plants overtopped by tall palms. And then he turned reluctantly back to the salon, to spend another half hour there as he had promised her that he would. It hurt him that she should deem necessary such precaution against his following her, and yet he could not blame her. He would prove to her presently that she might henceforth trust him even as he was ready to trust her.

He had been greatly gratified by the reception they had met at the hands of society, knowing how little he himself had done to earn any of the most prized tolerance. Their first evening together had been a great success to all outward seeming, and beyond that he need not yet aspire. In time he would show his world that even such a prodigal as he had been might make a model husband, and at the moment he must baffle its curiosity as to the wife for whose sweet sake he had undertaken that radical change. He stayed for a full half-hour, meeting inquiries and congratulations alike with a bland courtesy which irritated his former intimates to a degree.

When he reached his room in the Rue St. Honoré, Jules Chevreil was absent and that annoyed him. A sudden detestation of the over-luxurious atmosphere there overcame him. It was too reminiscent of much that he would find have forgotten. He resolved, in his newfound ambition, to give them up, and also to rid himself of Chevreil at the first opportunity. The fellow knew far too much about him, had of late grown very insolent in his knowledge. And, rather than incur delay in his own reformation, he would remove from that place of evil memories on the instant. He found a suit-case, was packing it with his own hands, when Jules came sauntering in from the garage where he had been cleaning

EVENING GOWN OF EMBROIDERED NET.

This gorgeous costume comes from Margaine Lacroix, whose specialty is evening wear of the most pronounced and luxurious character. There is a fitted under frock of pale pink satin which trails about the feet, and over this satin slip falls a tunic made of five panels of richly embroidered net, the weight of the bead embroideries and the heavy fringes at the bottom of each panel making the tunic hang straight and in slender lines from the shoulders. Across bust and arms are festoons of tiny roses in ruffled shades of pale sapphire blue and dull pink.

MANY CANADIANS ATTEND BIG BANQUET IN NEW YORK

Hon. Frank Oliver, Speaking of Canada's Progress, Tells of the Development of the Western Country and of the St. Lawrence Route, Which Will Soon Put New York in Second Place.

New York, May 14—Canadian men of affairs and many "just Canadians" but loyal Canadians nevertheless, numbering in all about 600, met at the Hotel Astor tonight to dine and to enjoy good cheer and old stories at the annual dinner of the Canadian Club of New York. Among those present were: Hon. Frank Oliver, Canadian minister of the interior, the Rev. Dr. Donald C. MacLeod, of Washington (D. C.); Geo. E. Blacklock, of Toronto, and W. G. Sealey, member of the Canadian parliament, Hamilton (Ont.).

It was expected that Vice-President Sherman would speak but he could not be present.

Mr. Oliver declared that Canadians mean to equip the St. Lawrence shipping route so as to excel that by New York.

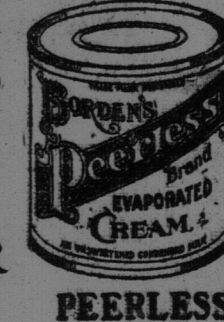

"The records prove that the occupation of the Canadian wheat fields is by far the most economic development now in progress not only in America but in the world," he said.

"But because as individuals, we are glad of the New York market competition with that of the St. Lawrence in the export of our wheat we are not less determined as Canadians to equip the St. Lawrence route not only to compete with but excel that of New York, not only for the carriage of Canadian wheat, but for the carriage of United States wheat as well."

In conclusion, he said that "the development of the Canadian wheat fields is an achievement of which Canadians may well be proud. But their pride is not in the number of bushels of wheat, nor in its quality. It is in the fact that national resources not only to compete with but excel those of the United States, and that Canadian ideals of life and work and government have been proved equal to such achievement."

Among those at the guest table were: E. Fabre Surveyor, president of the Canadian Club of Montreal; Eric Armour, vice-president of the Canadian Club of Toronto; Hon. d'Arcy Scott, president of the Canadian Club of Ottawa; K. G. Raymond, president of the Canadian Club of Brandon (Ont.); John D. Davidson, president of the Canadian Club of St. Thomas (Ont.); George E. Blacklock, Toronto; Sir James Grant, Ottawa; Hugh Guthrie, M. P., Guelph (Ont.); Senator John V. Ellis, St. John (N. B.); and Alexander B. Graham, of the Canadian Club of Boston. Canada as a sister nation of the United States and standing in support of the principle of arbitration in settling international differences, was forecasted by the Rev. Donald C. MacLeod in his address. His theme was "The Canadian in the United States, and he said in part: "The Canadian in the United States, together with his complement, the American in Canada, is bound to become a conspicuous

NEW COURT HOUSE FOR WODSTOCK

The municipal council of Carleton county are calling for tenders for a new court house, to be erected in Woodstock. This new building will be welcomed by all who have any legal business in Carleton county as many inconveniences have been complained of by those attending in the present court house, which is more than two miles away from the town.

The new court house will be erected in Main street, on the lot of land next to the record office. The new building will be connected with the record office and will carry out the same style of architecture. It will be a two-story building with a height of eighty-three feet and will have a depth of ninety-eight feet. It will be entered through an archway and stone entrance corresponding to the entrance of the record office. To the right and left of the entrance hall will be large offices and a petty jury room. The court room will be a large spacious chamber situated at the end of the hall. It will be about fifty-two feet square and will have a twenty-four foot high ceiling, finished at the junction of the walls with a heavy ornamental plaster cove. The ceiling will be painted with matched beams. The walls will be broken into panels by large plaster pilasters finished with ornamental plaster capitals. To a very thirty thousand franc, and it would be interesting to catch another glimpse of Madame's wealthy friends. They may be more communicative since their expensive interview. I'll take a cab to the Blue Rabbit on the chances of running across them there.

The Duc slept badly in unaccustomed quarters, and missed Jules' ministrations in the morning, as Jules had known he would. But he refrained from citing for his former servant, as he was much inclined to do, and spent the forenoon in aimless anticipation of the time when he might telephone the hotel des Reves, that came at last and he rang up, asking that Madame la Duchesse might speak with him. When he was told that she had returned since leaving the hotel the night before, his heart almost stopped beating.

He called up the head of the household, and had swift permission made into all that had happened since she had first arrived there from the Rue des Trois Freres. He was told that her maid had gone to the Ellys for her, in his own motor, because one of the only carriage pair had fallen suddenly and broken. No he, his other mistress nor maid had from that moment been heard of. He cut the hotel des Reves off, and called up his agent, the chauffeur, knowing nothing. He had been off duty, by Monsieur's permission, on the previous evening. The car in question had certainly been used. It was clean now as he had left it. Monsieur called up the Ellys, and begged speech with the groom of the gateway there. The groom of the gateway remembered distinctly that Madame la Duchesse had driven off in a scarlet auto instead of the carriage and pair expected. OPPORTUNITIES

The visitor to most American cities returns to St. John with a feeling that very much more should be done here to make this city more clean and attractive in appearance. It is falling to one's local pride to be compelled to admit that in this matter of cleanliness and attention to outward appearances our neighbors have us at a disadvantage.

It is especially true with regard to the tenement houses which so many of the people live. Not only are many of them dirty in appearance and very inconvenient, but they are ill-lighted and unsanitary. Many of them should be torn down. They are only occupied because people have no choice.

One should shudder to think what may happen to the local Conservative organ when parliament has risen and Mr. Crockett and Dr. Daniel have ceased to pour forth denunciations of the minister of public works.

ST. JOHN AMATEURS TO PRODUCE A PLAY

St. John Dramatic Club Will Be Seen in the Opera House in June, in a New Farce Comedy

At a meeting of the executive of the St. John Dramatic Club yesterday it was decided to engage Theodora H. Bird to present a farce comedy in the Opera House on June 17 and 18. Dates have been booked with the Opera House management and rehearsals will start in about three weeks when Mr. Bird will have completed his season with the Kirk Brown company.

The play will be new to St. John audiences and some novel and effective specialties will be included. Most of the members of the club who contributed to the success of Caprice and A Sailor's Sweetheart, are available and it is said the new production will afford them an excellent opportunity to add to their laurels.

CHARLES M. HAYS; THE MAN AND HIS DAY'S WORK

It is said that Charles M. Hays is the only man in Canada who has refused knighthood. If he is not the only one that has refused the honor, it is safe to say that the list is not a lengthy one. His refusal can probably be traced to two sources. In the first place, he is a democratic gentleman with simple tastes, unassuming manners and a hatred of all forms of snobbery and display. Then a second reason may lie in the early associations of Mr. Hays with English aristocracy. It is a well-known fact that when Mr. Hays took charge of the Grand Trunk he found conditions as far from pleasant as could be imagined. The Grand Trunk was financed, built and operated by English capital. It was, therefore, a comfortable berth for younger sons of the English nobility and for members of English families who failed to make good at home. The Grand Trunk was a sort of refuge for misty and disoriented Englishmen and it fell to the lot of Mr. Hays to house-clean. This was a work which he disliked, but it had to be done. He was responsible to the shareholders, so he set to work and weeded out a lot of useless English houses who were merely drawing their pay and getting in the way of men who could work. Mr. Hays was born in Rock Island, Illinois, in 1836, and is another example of the American railroad man who has made good in Canada. At the age of seventeen he entered the service of the Atlantic & Pacific Railway Company at St. Louis, and ever since has been passing away operating, building and managing railroads. He has successively been in the service of the Missouri Pacific, the Western, the Southern Pacific, and the Great Northern. In 1886 he was general manager of the Wabash Western Railway and held the position until 1893, when he came to Canada as general manager of the Grand Trunk. He remained here for six years and was then made president of the Southern Pacific, with its 10,000 miles of road. After a year in that position he resigned and returned to Canada as vice-president of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. In 1904 he was appointed president of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, an organization which will shortly span Canada with its freight and passenger trains, and become our second great continental railway. To build this road was no easy task, and would have caused many a less successful man to pause. There was a charter to secure from the Dominion government. This necessitated that the members of parliament must see the vision, too, and be convinced of the same. It required that he should float bonds in London and raise money for the project. And here was a difficulty. For many years before the Hays regime the Grand Trunk had failed to pay its way and make good. This was largely changed under Mr. Hays' management, but there was still a lingering suspicion that the bond and stock holders would not be well taken care of, and it was Mr. Hays' task to create confidence, arouse enthusiasm and secure the sinews of war. Then Mr. Hays was named as one of the directors of the old Grand Trunk system, and, on the other, took new Board of Directors of the Grand Trunk Pacific and to the parliament and people of Canada. Certainly it was not an easy or enviable position he assumed. And yet he set resolutely to work to plan, project and build a line of railway to 5,000 miles of branch lines. While he has had able assistants, the bulk of the responsibility has of necessity fallen upon his own shoulders. He has gone over the whole route, he has seen to the securing of charters, to the letting of contracts, to the raising of money and to the securing of good men to carry on the work. One day he is in London floating bonds. The next he is in New York securing plans for hotels along the route; the next he is in Ottawa in consultation with the government; then in Winnipeg of Vancouver settling disagreements with local governments, or perhaps he is in Prince Rupert seeing to the laying out of a model city, or on the wide western prairies seeing that the miles of steel are being properly laid, or in the Rockies personally superintending the selection of the lowest and easiest grade to the coast. His

Catarth Cured or Money Back

The cause of Catarth is a germ. It multiplies in the lining of the nose and throat, spreads to the bronchial tubes and finally reaches the lungs. Cough syrup can't follow to the lungs—it goes to the stomach, and fails to cure—Catarthozone is inhaled. It goes everywhere—gets right after the germ—kills them—breaks the soreness—stops discharge and hacking—cures every trace of Catarth. New Health for School Girls

A girl's health to be sacrificed in order that she may pass high at examination time? Is her future happiness to be risked for a few marks? Too many pale, weak girls are to be found in our schools and colleges, over-strained, their nervous systems at the most critical time of their growth and development. Their blood is thin and watery and their nerves are exhausted. They cannot bear the idea of dropping out for a rest and letting their rivals get ahead of them and this is not necessary if Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food is used, for this treatment has been equal as a means of forming new, red blood and new nerve cells. Mrs. S. A. Boney, 92 Charlotte St., Brantford, Ont., writes: "My daughter was going to school and she seemed to tell on her nervous system. She was bothered a great deal with headache, became very nervous and was easily irritated and excited. I procured a box of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food for her and soon began to notice a marked improvement in her health. Her color became better, the headaches were absent and her nervous system was strengthened. I consider Dr. Chase's Nerve Food splendid medicine for children."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food

This great restorative is not a quick cure but a natural and certain one. Every dose goes to the formation of pure, rich blood—the foundation of all health and strength. Feeble nerve cells are aroused to new vigor, wastes and impurities are constructed, organs which were feeble and irregular in action assume their responsibilities and health and strength are restored. 50 cents a box, 2 for $1.00, all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto, Ontario. The genuine bears the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., the famous Receipt Book author.

GENERAL STRIKE THREATENED NOW

French Unions Vary in Favor of a Revolution—Fiery Speeches at Meeting of Trade Associations in Paris.

Paris, May 14.—The striking postal employees at a meeting this afternoon adopted resolutions appealing to the workmen's organizations to make common cause with them. The meeting was attended by M. Jataud, secretary of the electricians' union; M. Guérard, of the railroad men's organization; and other representatives of the workmen, who delivered inflammatory speeches, promised the postal employees immediate support, and threatened, if necessary, to place themselves under the direction of the revolutionary general federation of labor. These threats produced a big scare, but there is a strong suspicion here that the leaders in the movement are bluffing. The strike of the postmen itself apparently has lost ground. The rank and file of the men seemingly are convinced that the agitators are acting for their personal gain, and as the tools of the revolutionary proletarian organizations, and they hesitate to risk losing their permanent positions and pensions.

At Chartres and Dijon today the strikers, in view of the attitude taken by parliament in connection with the strike, voted to return to work. The government officials, here continue to express confidence that the entire movement is collapsing. It is pointed out by them that only 48,000 of the 300,000 railroad men, whose support was pledged the strikers today by M. Guérard, belong to the union, and that these members are mostly workmen and artisans employed in the shops.

It is reported tonight that the strikers in their desperation again are cutting the telegraph wires in Paris and the provinces. The meeting held here this afternoon was attended by 3,000 strikers and delegates from various workmen's unions. The strike leaders delivered highly incendiary speeches, in which they charged that the police and military precautions taken by the government proved that it was intended to "drive the strike movement in blood." They favored a direct appeal for an alliance with the workmen, with them in their fight, and amid great enthusiasm the strikers voted unanimously for an alliance with the workmen, "with all its consequences."

Immediately after the vote was taken, M. Guérard, the delegate of the railroad men's union, secretary of the syndicate of the immediate support of his union. He was followed by M. Passet, the secretary of the electricians' union, who also urged that his associates would give consideration to the question of an alliance with the postmen. Addresses were also made by M. Jataud, secretary of the syndicate of unions, and delegates from many other organizations, who declared that the workmen were all ready to join the strike. It was declared by the speakers that the moment had arrived for a solid revolutionary movement under the leadership of the workmen's unions for cooperation of unions, and delegates from many other organizations, who declared that the workmen were all ready to join the strike. It was declared by the speakers that the moment had arrived for a solid revolutionary movement under the leadership of the workmen's unions for cooperation of unions, and delegates from many other organizations, who declared that the workmen were all ready to join the strike.

Three Miles of Timber Land Destroyed Near Annapolis—People Fighting Flames Day and Night

Annapolis, N. S., May 14.—A fierce forest fire is raging back of Annapolis and thousands of dollars worth of valuable timber lands are threatened and the damage amounts to several thousand dollars. The fire started last night at about 11 o'clock and spread rapidly. The flames raced over the ground and by morning two miles had been covered and the course of the fire remained unchecked. All today the fire has been raging and tonight assistance is being rendered to the scene from Annapolis. Every available man from all the surrounding districts has been fighting the flames night and day. The fight still continues and unless some tonight the loss will be enormous.

Toronto, May 15.—From a happy little home of her own to a lonely one in the Fred. Victor Home for Friendless Girls, a dark-eyed French-Canadian waitress from Ottawa who came to Toronto with her sweetheart to be married.

The lovers breakfasted happily at a restaurant near the station, but as the girl refused to disclose, met another girl waiting for him at the station, and without the faintest misgiving she complied. She went to the ladies' waiting room and sat down to dream. The hours went by and her sweetheart did not come. Becoming disconcerted at last the girl went back to the waiting room and was found there by Policeman R. E. Burn, turning over a wedding ring with fingers that trembled as she told the constable of her trouble. She was sent to the home. Efforts will be made to secure her a position in the city, as she says she will not return to Ottawa.

JOURNALISTS FROM AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND ARE HAVING A SPLENDID TIME IN CANADA

Montreal, May 15.—Since their arrival in Victoria last Tuesday evening the journalists from Australia and New Zealand are having a splendid time in Canada. They are enjoying the hospitality of the Canadian pressmen and are being entertained at luncheon and theatre parties by the civic authorities and Canadian clubs and drivers around the beauty spots of those charming cities. They saw the grandeur of the six hundred miles of magnificent scenery which, as at the Coast, the ladies of the party, numbering seven, were presented to Regina greatly interested in the visit. The Regins, Bains and Port Arthur as guests of the Canadian Club and the C. P. R. steamship Keswatin will reach today by special train Tuesday afternoon.

TO SUFFER FROM HEADACHES MAKES LIFE MISERABLE

It takes a person that has had or is subject to headaches to describe the suffering which attends them. The majority of cases are caused by constipation and dyspepsia. The dull throbbing, the intense pain, sometimes in one part, sometimes in another, and then over the whole head, varying in its severity by the cause which brings it on, purely indigestion that there is something the matter with the stomach or bowels. To the fact that Burdock Blood Bitters reaches every part of the system is due its success in relieving and permanently curing headache. It has proven a specific for the malady in all its forms.

FREEZING FLOWERS

From the Chicago Tribune: Freezing flowers to keep them fresh is a modern idea. They are picked in the bud and preserved by refrigeration while being transported. They can travel safely and they are found free of damage and when placed in water and left alone they slowly awaken and come into full bloom. It appears that experiments are being made in South Africa with a view to the packing them in this way in bulk at the packing time in their native country. The flowers undergo no deterioration from their color or in their longevity after immersion in water. Curiously enough growth suspended by refrigeration appears to resume so slowly that the blossoms thrive in a room for a considerably longer period than if placed there immediately after being cut from the garden. The process would also serve to introduce to our notice many beautiful members of the horticultural family with which we are unfamiliar, such plants as the gorgeous iris, which grows wild in luxurious profusion in South Africa, or those found on the slopes of the Andes in South America.

A NEW ZEALAND VOLCANO.

The volcano Ngauruhoe is an active eruption. Loud reports began at two o'clock on the morning of March 9, and the mountain burst out at eight o'clock, throwing out thick volumes of smoke and it has been continually in eruption since. Lava is running down the mountain and smoke and steam are rising to a height of between two and three hundred feet, obscuring Ruapehu. New geyzers appear to have broken out at the foot of Ruapehu. All the country round for many miles is covered with a thin layer of dust, and in some places the people cannot see for smoke and ashes.

NEWS FROM P. E. ISLAND

Delegates From Summerside Board of Trade, Report on Their Trip to Ottawa—Work to be Done by Government.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., May 15.—(Special Feature.) Joseph Roxy, and William Stewart, delegates from the Summerside board of trade, to Ottawa, in reporting the results at a meeting said they had interviewed the various departments on supplying the railway at Summerside with water from the town system, in the post office building, steamboat service between Montreal and Newfoundland with Summerside as a port of call and winter communication with the mainland.

Deputy Minister Butler, said the first matter would be recommended to the minister. The post office work would be undertaken next summer and Sir Frederick Borden promised to recommend an appropriation for the railway. The contract with the Montreal steamer stands for this year but when renewed would include Summerside as a port of call. As to winter communication it had been decided by the department that on the arrival of the new steamer Earl Grey, one of the present steamers would be employed on light house service in the Bay of Fundy. A solid Island delegation including Messrs. Hazard and four members and Senator Yao asked for one of the steamers on the western route. It was finally arranged that the Stanley would remain on the western route between Summerside and Tormentine as long as the Earl Grey and the Minto remained on the Charlottetown-Peter route after which the Stanley would go to the Bay of Fundy.

The second labour hatchery to be erected on the island began operation today at Georgetown. It will collect spawn from 30 factories.

Work is to be started today by Captain Reid of the Reid Wrecking Co. at floating the steamer Turret Bell stranded at St. Peter's. He worked at her last season with good results.

BOY CHARGED WITH BREAKING GLASS

George Guthro, one of the boys whose father was liberated from jail early in the week, where he was serving a term for interfering with messes of St. Peter's, to the magistrate by the order of the two boys and the report of the police that both were barely existing in the Gumbo quarters on Pond street, has been reported by Patrolmen Totten and Jones for maliciously demolishing a huge pane of glass in the Jewish synagogue on Carleton street, between ten and eleven o'clock last night. It is asserted that Alexander Moore witnessed Guthro's act in hurling a missile at the glass. This afternoon the magistrate will view the damage inflicted by Guthro and also by Oscar Beckwith and Douglas Walsh, who it is alleged broke an entire pane of stained glass on the western side of the synagogue, valued at approximately $40, on Thursday. If the magistrate deems the loss sufficient to warrant the proceedings against the boys in the nature of a preliminary examination, with the prospect of being committed for trial, the trio may be arrested. Monday is appointed for the hearing.

A CASE OF DESTITUTION

When Patrolmen Linton and Marshall entered a house at the Courtenay Bay extremity of Duke street last night in response to information from the neighbors they saw Mrs. Fred Lean and two children in destitute circumstances. They have subsisted on crusts of bread for two days and were without fire or proper apparel. As their neighbors are negroes who are not in prosperous circumstances they obtained little support from the outside. Lean was arrested last Monday for intoxication and is now serving thirty days. However, when at liberty he worked but little and preferred to frequent the south end dumps from which he gathered eatable refuse.—His wife has been the principal support of the household until recently, when she became ill.
