

Development of Falls' Power Not a Feasible Proposition.

Report Prepared for the Sun by an Expert Engineer, Throws Cold Water on the Scheme—It Would be Enormously Expensive.

That the development of the power at the reversing falls is not a feasible, or even practical proposition, is the opinion of an expert engineer...

He says: "I have looked into this whole question very carefully, and have spent a lot of thought on it, but as yet I have not been able to work out a feasible scheme for developing the power at the falls..."

—New Church For Halifax

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 4.—Yesterday's investigation into the tack combine methods was again chiefly confined to the reading of extracts from minutes to show how the association carried on its business.

The polling system adopted by the association was explained. All members of the association were limited to a certain output of goods, and if any one of them exceeded the amount, the firm had to pay 15 per cent. to pool on the additional output.

Prices were fixed according to arrangements, and were fixed so as to be standards so that everyone was manufacturing practically the same thing. The case was adjourned till Friday.

TARIFF COMMISSION MEETS AT FREDERICTON.

Several of the Leading Business Men Ask for Change of Tariff—Dr. Inch Asks That Articles Necessary for the Encouraging of Fine Arts be Admitted Free of Duty.

FREDERICTON, Jan. 4.—The tariff commission held a session here at the City Council Chamber this afternoon. The train from Newcastle being over two hours late, it was after three o'clock before the business was taken up.

Mr. Fielding, who presided, regretted the delay caused by the late arrival of the train, and first called upon Wm. Lemont.

Mr. Lemont complained of the section of the customs act regarding the importation of crockery. Under the section as it now stood a rebate of duty was allowed on all breakage to crockery over 25 per cent. of its value.

The commission stated that it was the first time the matter had been brought to their attention. Mr. Lemont also criticized the duty on crates containing crockery.

Mr. Fielding said that the tariff on steel for the manufacturing of peevies and cant dogs be made free, the same as steel for axes.

MR. ALLAN DISCUSSES PORT OF ST. JOHN Says Neither of Two Big Turbiners Can Come Here Until Facilities Are Improved.

(Montreal Herald.) "I am advised that the overhaul of our turbine steamship Victorian is proceeding so satisfactorily that she may recommence running in the mail service in February, leaving Liverpool probably on the 22nd; the Victorian we expect to put on the route a couple of weeks later, but neither of the two big turbiners can go to St. John," added Hugh A. Allan this morning when interviewed as to statements made in the press of the maritime provinces.

"It is not a question of the Allan line trying to avoid St. John and Halifax or another port at all," said Mr. Allan. "The decision is a matter of necessity in the case of these two turbine steamships as a result of our experiences when they were on their maiden voyages to the port last April. Then the Victorian was drawing 26 ft. 6 in. of water forward and 28 ft. 6 in. at low water there was only 21 feet of water alongside the wharf forward and 30 feet at the depths varying along her 540 feet of length. Soundings taken recently show that though the conditions are not the same as they were last April, and may be next April, it would be out of the question to run the risk of subjecting vessels of so large a draught and so great a length to the strain likely to be placed upon them. Their own weight is nearly 12,000 tons, quite apart from coal and cargo, and the reports of the captains of both vessels would not justify us in sending them to St. John until the accommodation of the port is made far more suitable and less risky."

"The railway facilities are of course greater at St. John, and those who are criticizing our action as prejudicial to the port evidently forget that though the turbiners are so much longer and larger, they do not carry one-half the cargo of vessels like the Sicilian and Corinthian, while the Pretorian carries more than double what the swifter turbines do, built on finer lines, with greater passenger accommodation. As a matter of fact, the turbiners would mean less work for St. John than do the vessels which are taking their places."

Asked as to the mail contract, Mr. Allan declined to make any statement while the arrangement of details was still pending with the government, but the basis of the negotiations, he added, was upon a five and not a ten years' term of renewal. For a similar reason, Hugh Allan said, he could not make any statement as to the size and speed of the two new turbine steamships, for which plans were, however, in course of preparation. The performance of the Victorian and Victorian during the coming season are expected to bear evidences of the experience gained last year, which have suggested various improvements now being put into effect.

BALFOUR ISSUES HIS ELECTION ADDRESS. Expresses Want of Confidence in Sir Edward Grey as Foreign Secretary-- Chamberlain Plunges Into Campaign With Old Time Ardor.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Arthur J. Balfour, the former premier, issued his election address tonight. In it he says that the country knows the members of the present government chiefly as critics and that their criticism has been sometimes singularly unscrupulous and perverse as in the case of Chinese labor and other matters. After referring to the adherence of the new ministry to honor rule for Ireland and to the disestablishment of the Church of Wales, the address says: "One thing the liberals regard as immutable, however the bonds of international trade may have changed, is the fiscal policy of the country. I take the more conservative view holding that the time has arrived to adapt England's fiscal policy to the changing conditions of a changing world. Should you return the unionist party to power it is to the reform of the fiscal system that its attention ought first to be directed."

WOLFEVILLE NEWS. Sudden Death of Mrs. James Bigelow.

James Bigelow. Several Weddings in the Near Future.—Mr. and Mrs. Levi Eaton Celebrated Golden Wedding.

WOLFEVILLE, N. S., Jan. 1.—The first day of the new year finds mild weather and perfect sleighing throughout the valley. The community was shocked this morning at the news that Mrs. James Bigelow had passed away on Sunday morning at the home of her father-in-law, J. W. Bigelow, on Main street, at a short illness of heart trouble. She was a Miss Bishop of New Minas and her sudden death will be a great surprise to a large circle of friends. She leaves no children.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Robert Chisholm, Main street, Wolfeville, when his second daughter, Miss Margaret Chisholm, was united in marriage to Victor Eaton of Canning. They will reside at Canning, where the groom is engaged in business.

A NEW TRIAL FOR EDWARD F. COLE. State of Maine Will Again Press Murder Charge.

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 2.—Edward F. Cole, formerly of Hillsboro, N. B., was in the Supreme Court for a short time this morning when the Maine criminal term opened and listened to his lawyer, Scott Wilson, and County Attorney Eaton, as they arranged the date of his second trial for the murder of his townsmen, John F. Steeves, which the state alleges took place near Portland last spring.

Cole was tried in September term of the same court but the jury failed to agree, dividing equally on the subject of his guilt. In view of the strength of the alibi then brought out by the defense, it had been supposed that the state would not go to trial a second time, and the motion for a day made this morning is taken to mean that the state will attack the case set up by Scott Wilson, who again appears for Cole.

The County Attorney had nothing to say on this point today, but often in a previous trial he expressed himself as positive of the guilt of Cole. He was mistaken as to the date when they saw and talked with the accused in Portland, and that, instead of the day of the murder, it was either the night before or the day after. It is probable that the state will, in the second trial, attempt to establish this, and that new evidence along these lines will be introduced.

Cole looked received in court today. He is stouter than before, and appears to be cheerful and hopeful of acquittal. No day was set for the trial, but it was agreed that it should be taken up after the close of the term's docket had been disposed of, which will bring it on about the last of this month.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR LOBSTER FISHERY. Eastport People Predict a Good Season—Say that the Fish Are Plentiful.

EASTPORT, Me., Jan. 1.—Early in the month when open time commences on the lobster fishery, people here are predicting a very bright outlook for the lobster fishery. It is stouter than before, and appears to be cheerful and hopeful of acquittal. No day was set for the trial, but it was agreed that it should be taken up after the close of the term's docket had been disposed of, which will bring it on about the last of this month.

A GREETING. To the Christian and temperance workers of New Brunswick, fellow laborers, Greeting.

One year ago I was actively laboring among you. For this great kindness with which you treated me and for the valuable aid which you so cheerfully rendered, I most heartily thank you. But the year 1905 with all its privileges, opportunities, failures and successes, has passed. Now as we stand upon the threshold of 1906 what is our programme? An honorable retreat is impossible, a state of inactivity would be alike disgraceful to ourselves and dishonouring to the noble cause which we have espoused. There is clearly then only one course to pursue. We must inaugurate and energetically prosecute a most vigorous and aggressive campaign along this line.

When the several committees representing the various organizations interested meet as they will shortly, some line of action will doubtless be taken, the adoption of which will contribute materially to the permanent and substantial advancement of our work. Neither of the present provincial political parties has shown any disposition to adopt the reforms which are essential to the peculiar position of this province. Though territorially New Brunswick is larger than either Belgium, Holland, Switzerland, Servia or Greece, and though half the size of England and Wales, and though not much smaller than Ireland or Scotland, and while slightly larger than the four states of New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Rhode Island combined, yet the sparse-ness of our population is coupled with the fact that there is constantly going on a considerable emigration from this province to both the United States and our own Great Northwest. These facts prove conclusively that the most rigid economy should be observed in the administration of our provincial affairs. Among other much needed reforms we should demand a substantial reduction in the membership and salaries of both the executive and legislative branches of the government, reform in our educational system, prohibition of the liquor traffic, a vote to women in politics, and a policy of general progress. In case either of the present political parties will adopt these reforms then a new organization to be known as the anti-bribery and patriotic league should be started at once.

Thanking you Mr. Editor for the space you have so kindly given me and with best wishes for you and your numerous readers, I remain yours respectfully, MICHAEL KELLY, St. Martins, N. B., Jan. 1, 1906.

With New Blood In the Arteries. YOU WILL FEEL NEW VIGOR AND CONFIDENCE THROUGHOUT THE WHOLE BODY. DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

Do you know what it is to feel vigorous to feel young and hearty and vigorous to feel full of energy and ambition to enjoy work and look forward hopefully and confidently to the future? This is the natural way to feel when your nerves are in good health and your nerves are in good health when they are supplied with the elements which constitute new blood and new vitality. Not in any miraculous way—not after the first dose or first box, it may be, but when your system has been gradually built up—your blood enriched and new vitality and vigor instilled into the nerves.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a wonderful medicine, but its wonders are accomplished in Nature's way, by thoroughly restoring the elements lacking in a rundown body. No other treatment for the nerves acts in exactly this way. Some relief by dosing the nerves—some by excessive stimulation. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food brings about lasting beneficial results by forming new, rich blood and creating new nerve force.

FRENZIED FATHER MURDERS FAMILY Kills Wife, Daughter and Son, Then Suicides.

ROCHESTER, Mich., Jan. 2.—Alarmed by the deserted appearance of the farm house of Clarence A. Barnum, here, neighbors broke into the house today and found Barnum, his wife, his daughter Louise, aged 23, and his son Chester, aged 15, all lying dead. The wife and son and daughter had apparently been murdered with an axe, and the body of the wife and the fact that his head was almost entirely blown off, showed how far Barnum had met his end.

The appearance of the house indicated that the family had just finished breakfast today when the insane and murderous frenzy of the father broke out. Evidently there had been a terrific struggle as the mother and children lay on the floor. The dining room table was all bespattered with blood, even the ceiling. Under the dining room table lay the father's body, a gun across his knees. Apparently he had tried to shoot himself in the mouth before pulling the trigger. Extra cartridges stood on the sideboard as if in readiness to overtake any members of the family who might succeed in escaping the murderous axe. There was blood on the handle of the axe, but the blade had been washed. In the dining room, where the body of the father was found, lay also that of the daughter. The son's corpse was in the kitchen. It is thought that the boy was the first attacked, that the mother was killed in the woodshed of the daughter. The father turned to the dining room, where the disturbance apparently had begun. The wife and son and daughter all had their heads terribly cut and crushed with the axe.

DAUGHTER TURNS MOTHER OUT TO DIE. Revolting Cruelty of Prince Edward Island Couple.

CHARLOTTETOWN, Jan. 2.—The body of an aged woman, named Mary McDonald, nee Mary Stimpson, was found in the back field of James Moore, St. Peter's, a few evenings ago. On Dr. McLaughlin, the St. Peter's coroner, being informed he decided to hold an inquest, and summoned a jury. After viewing the body several witnesses were examined, who stated that her daughter and son-in-law had turned her out and refused to admit her some few days before, during which time she begged from house to house, and having gotten astray wandered about through the night till exhausted, then spread her shawl on the ground and lay down to die. The jury brought a verdict of death from exposure and strongly censured her daughter.

EMINENT PRIEST DEAD. NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The very Rev. Dr. James Dougherty, rector of St. Gabriel's Roman Catholic church in this city, died suddenly Sunday morning. Heart disease was the direct cause of death, says the Times. Father Dougherty was born in Roundout, N. Y., 32 years ago. He was educated at St. Johns College, Fordham and St. Sulpice Seminary, Montreal. He was ordained in Troy in 1867. His first charge was that of St. Joseph's at Kingsbury, where he was rector until afterword founded the Holy Name church at Wilbur, N. Y. In 1887 Father Dougherty came to St. Monica's church in this city. In 1902 he was transferred to St. Gabriel's.

It is not possible to say that the country knows the members of the present government chiefly as critics and that their criticism has been sometimes singularly unscrupulous and perverse as in the case of Chinese labor and other matters. Joseph Chamberlain has plunged into the campaign with all his old time ardor. In the face of considerable opposition he delivered two vigorous speeches at Birmingham today and is scheduled to speak in a number of the large towns during the ensuing week. Mr. Balfour contents himself with a quieter fight, and is confining his en-agains officials re the care of Hope Young, I wish to say that the letter was a private one written with no thought that it would ever get into the hands of any newspaper, and that no such thing was ever intended. The officials did the best they could, more especially the jailer and his family, who have been unremitting in their care of the unfortunate prisoner. B. G. MONROE.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 29.—Lieutenant Eduard Scharrer, of Stuttgart, Germany, and Miss Wilhelmina Busch, daughter of Adolphus Busch, a brewer, will be married on New Year's Day at the Busch mansion. The announcement was made to-day by Edward A. Faust, representing the Busch family. This announcement is the sequel of an interrupted elopement to Belleville, Ill. Mr. Scharrer and Miss Busch were the Illinois town on Wednesday, intending to be quietly married. On their arrival in Belleville "Miss Busch telephoned to her father and told him of her intention.

"If you intend to be married," he answered over the wire, "come back to St. Louis and be married at home. I have no objection to Mr. Scharrer as a son-in-law."

When Adolphus Busch was first informed that Mr. Scharrer had written "Mr. and Mrs. Scharrer" on the register of a hotel in Belleville, he said: "That trip to Belleville was a lark. Registering as 'Mr. and Mrs. Scharrer' was Mr. Scharrer's German idea of a form a fund for Hope Young's defense had been used in part by Prosecuting Attorney Dennison and Deputy Sheriff Burnham to pay off some of the expenses of the previous trial, said the report in an utter satisfaction from beginning to end and without the slightest foundation. Mr. Monroe stated that he was in no way responsible for its origin and was prepared to sign any statement. It is probable that the local authorities at Digby will ask for an investigation by the government into the whole matter, including the treatment and care of Hope Young since her arrest.

Mr. Monroe gave out the following signed statement: "The statement appearing in today's papers from Boston referring to Hope Young's trial fund is quite without ever made respecting Mr. Dennison nor Mr. Burnham and would not be true if made."

SENATOR CHURCH.

The death of Senator Church makes a second vacancy in the Nova Scotia senate representation, as the place of Senator Black has not yet been filled. Hon. Charles E. Church died on his seventy-first birthday. He was a school teacher and afterwards a merchant in Lunenburg previous to his election to the house of commons in 1872. Defeated in his second federal contest, he was elected to the legislature in 1882, the year in which the Thompson government was defeated. When Mr. Phips organized his government Mr. Church was made provincial secretary. Later Mr. Phips gave place to Mr. Fielding, who himself became provincial secretary. Mr. Church taking public works and mines. He remained twenty years one of the three heads of departments in the Nova Scotia government. In 1902 it was thought desirable to make a change, and Mr. Church was called to the senate. At that time his health had greatly failed, and he took no active part in the proceedings at Ottawa. In fact it could never be said that he was a man of great energy or power. The general view was that the scandals which were disclosed in his department were largely due to the fact that he did not keep the control in his own hands, but allowed his colleagues to farm out his patronage to local politicians of the baser and more corrupt sort. Personally Mr. Church was an amiable and well-intentioned public man. Had he been a stronger, more vigilant, more determined minister, his administration would have spared the Cape Breton scandals and other incidents which discredited the department of public works in his day.

STILL RAVING.

Admiral Rojestevsky now declares through the press of his own country that when his fleet was in the Sea of Japan the British squadron in those waters was preparing to fall upon him in case he had defeated the Japanese. This utterly incompetent and probably crazy officer is apparently in the same frame of mind as when he was thrown into a pail by the Hull fishing fleet in the North Sea. It was apparent as soon as he was fairly on the way to the east that he was not fit to be at large with any weapons capable of inflicting injury on himself or other people. Whether it is safe to allow him a pen is a question for alienists to consider. One cannot see that his fanciful ideas are likely to do much harm. No one out of Russia is expected to take much notice of his charges, though British diplomacy may ask the court of St. Petersburg why a public officer is allowed to publish such slanders. Perhaps the gravest reflection contained in Rojestevsky's statement is contained in the suggestion that the British commander was fool enough to doubt for a moment that Togo would destroy the Russian fleet. Poor Rojestevsky! His pen is no mightier than his sword.

THE EDITOR IN THE CABINET.

In a signed article, Mr. Tarte says that he believes himself to be the senior French journalist in America. He admits that Mr. Dansereau became a newspaper man earlier than he, but Mr. Dansereau abandoned the profession for many years, holding the office of postmaster of Montreal. Mr. Tarte says that he never ceased to be a journalist. During the bustiest period of his administration of the department of public works he found time every day to write his article. There were many who suspected that Mr. Tarte wrote for La Patrie while he was a member of the Laurier cabinet, but his own political friends outside of Quebec always protested that it was unfair to connect the minister with the newspaper. It was even declared to be unfair to speak of La Patrie as Mr. Tarte's organ. Nevertheless that is what La Patrie was during the whole period when Mr. Tarte held office, and Mr. Tarte himself now affirms it.

TWO OF A KIND.

The case of Dan Gallery, ex-M. P., who has been unseated and disqualified for personal bribery, bribery by agents, and other offenses, is said to be the worst ever heard in a Canadian election court. It could hardly be worse than the record of that other Montreal politician, Mr. Brunet, who also was unseated and disqualified. In both cases there was unlimited persuasion and fraud of all sorts. Some of the things which interested Mr. Brunet went to jail. Those who labored for Mr. Gallery are yet to be punished.

THAT DISCOVERY.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been with the electors of Compton with the story of the British discovery of Canada during the Laurier regime. He said: "Canada up to nine years ago was known only as a small colony and hardly known at all outside of Canada itself. The people of Great Britain had a vague idea of Canada. They could tell you that it was somewhere on the continent of America and that it was noted for cold and snow." This fable has a basis of fact. It is not nearer true that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his own party had their eyes opened to the value of this country after they took office. Their previous ideas were somewhat similar to those which the premier attributed to the British. They thought Canada could not accomplish anything except by the favor of the rest of "the continent to which we belong."

In the city of Toronto the members of the school board are elected by popular vote at the same time as the mayor and aldermen. On New Year's day, when six trustees were elected, the largest vote, 11,977, was polled for Miss Clara Brett Martin, a lady with strong opinions on educational questions. The second highest candidate received 9,960 votes.

The Globe says: "The question that easily arises is, has it been discovered that an intercultural discoverer has been stealing public property? No doubt this question has arisen, and it has been followed by two others: 'What has been done with that employ?' 'What has been done with the officer who made the discovery?'"

Russia does not undertake to protect foreign lives and property in Russian cities, and disclaims responsibility for damages. This would seem to be a weak position for the government to take. The country is able neither to protect nor to pay.

That old-time liberal, Dr. Guerin, who caused inquiry to be made into the election of Mr. Gallery, may have had personal motives in attacking a member of his own party. But he did the country some service.

Regina is not the only Saskatchewan constituency in which ballot switching is charged. It is now contended that the coercive member-elect for Moose Jaw owes his return to the same expedient.

The new president of the New York Life is to receive only $50,000 a year. This is a small income compared with that of his predecessor, but it satisfies President Roosevelt.

THE OLD YEAR AND THE NEW

(By Rev. G. Flemmington, in the Wesleyan.) Old Year I love thee, tho' thou art leaving me; My heart is full of thee, O'er and sadder and fuller of care, Though thou didst bring with thee much to dishearten. Weariness, dreariness, fainting and fainting, yet do I love thee, old friend and faithful. Thou art His servant whom I own as Lord. What He thought best for me, that hast thou brought me; E'en in His providence, faithful His Word.

New Year I greet thee, tho' thou art strange to me; Thou, too, wilt teach me the will of my Lord. Thine is ministry fresh from the Father, Bringing me pleasure or pain at His Word. I do not fear thee, new friend, tho' stranger, God will be with me, my strength to renew. Thou wilt be gentle and loving and faithful, May I be strong and courageous and true! Point De Bute, N. B.

FELLOW FULL OF RYE

"Sing a song of pestilence, a fellow full of rye, four and twenty serpents dancing in his eye; when his eyes were opened he shouted for his life. Wasn't he a pretty chump to go before his wife? His hat was in the parlor, underneath the chair; his boots were in the hallway, his coat was on a chair, his trousers in the kitchen, his collar on a shelf, he hasn't any notion where he was himself. When the morn was breaking, someone heard him call—his head was on the leash, which was the best of all."—Exchange.

HUES FOR WOMEN WILL BE BRIGHT.

Gay Colors to Prevail in Hats and Gowns.

English Modiste Says Originality is Lacking, and That New Style is Needed.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—The touches of bright colors in feminine millinery noted during October and November are even more general in the trend of the fashion market for New York. There is a feeling of certainty among the milliners that the public will seize upon these bright colorings with avidity for spring. "A good instance of this state of things," the Draper's Record observes, "is found in the colors at present in vogue of the opera cloaks. Some are purple, especially dark purple, and in various shades of blue and green. Spanish laces are being singled out for special prominence in dyed form upon several evening dresses turned out during the present month. Spanish lace in purple, Burgundy, pink and a shade intended to suggest Chartrouse has appeared, and the confections in which dyed Spanish lace is so conspicuous a feature will be among the novel things talked to the south during the next few weeks." But "anarchy prevails in the realms of the modiste," said a famous creator of the most novel things talked to the south during the next few weeks. That means that there is not enough creative genius in this age of trifling inventions to originate an entirely new fashion.

"Since the grand coup of the tailored gown for women, dress has been singularly lacking in a true originality," said the modiste. "We of the sartorial world all know it, but we do not utter it, and we have failed, with the exception, perhaps, of the stuporous broad shouldered cloak born of the east, to produce a garment which suits our imposing modern beauties. The old styles do not suit the modern woman, with her fresh vigorous beauty. There's a fortune awaiting the man who evolves a new mode."

CAPT. PARTINGTON'S MUNIFICENT GIFT

Of £30,000 to Busy Paper-making Borough

For Erection and Endowment of a Nursing and Convalescent Home for Its Sick Poor.

The following paragraphs concerning Captain Edward Partington, from the World's Paper Trade Review, will be of interest to all who are connected with the paper trade. The town of Glossop is to be congratulated on the munificent gift of which it is about to become the recipient, as announced in the Review last week. No more appreciable Christmas present could have been given to the busy paper making borough than the sum of £30,000, which Captain Edward Partington has placed at its disposal for the erection and endowment of a nursing and convalescent home for the sick poor, and for the provision of trained nurses therefor. The gift is indeed a handsome one, and one which will be locally appreciated at its utmost value. One cannot help envying Captain Partington the splendid satisfaction he must experience in being the donor of such a valuable gift to a town with which he has been so long and so closely identified. It almost seems in itself a fitting reward for the efforts of a strenuous and honorable career.

Glossop, as will be well known to many, or perhaps, most persons connected with the paper trade, is a projected town in the High Peak district of Derbyshire. In respect of population—which numbered over 25,000 at the census of 1901—and industrial importance, it ranks next to Derby in the county of Derby, and the parish of Glossop is one of the largest in England. Its industries include, amongst others, cotton and woolen manufacture, calico printing, stone production and paper making. The last mentioned is in the hands of Captain Partington's firm, Olive and Partington, Ltd., who own and work the Turn Lee mills and Dover mills there.

Captain Partington has been aptly described as the "Napoleon" of the English paper trade, and he has fully justified the title. He has not only once over better success and affluence than he, and he has been the architect of his own fortune. He has known in his time what it was to walk the streets of London in a long, dark, and shabby coat, and to see the ragged and destitute children of the streets. He has seen the suffering and the need of the poor, and he has seen the need of the sick. He has seen the need of the convalescent, and he has seen the need of the aged. He has seen the need of the orphan, and he has seen the need of the widow. He has seen the need of the poor, and he has seen the need of the sick. He has seen the need of the convalescent, and he has seen the need of the aged. He has seen the need of the orphan, and he has seen the need of the widow.

DEFENDANT WAS ORDERED DISCHARGED

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—In the appellate division of the supreme court today a decision was rendered in the case of Harry Marcus, convicted on a charge of coercing Hyman Scheinbaum to enter into a written agreement with the H. Marcus Shipy Company not to become a member of the International Labor Union as a condition of securing employment with that concern. The judgment of conviction is reversed and the defendant ordered discharged.

The Wornout Nerves, The Weak Heart, The Tired Brain, The Wasted Strength.

What a multitude of women there are who feel that these words exactly suit their case! How many of them are they who have been on the go, year in and year out, attending to the daily household duties, looking after the wants of her children, and spending the rest of her time attending to social and church work. Is it any wonder then that sooner or later there comes a general collapse? The action of the heart becomes weak and palpitating, the nerves become unstrung, the brain feels in a whirl all the time and the usual force of vitality is lacking. It is at this time a woman should look after herself. If she does not, serious female disorders may set in and often cause weary months and years of helplessness and miserable suffering. What she wants is something to build up her system. For this purpose there is nothing so equal.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

They are the women's friend in every case of the kind. They will strengthen the weak heart, soothe the nervous system, and restore the brain, nerves, and vitality. Mrs. George Lohnes, Stanley Section, N.S., writes: "I was greatly troubled when I first began to feel that my heart was not in order, and I was so run down I could do nothing but sit in my bed. I bought two boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after taking them I feel better than I have in years. I am now strong and healthy again." Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box or $3 for six boxes. They can be had of any dealer who does not handle them, send direct to The Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

FIRST THE CATTLE THEN THE CHILDREN

Boston American Asks If It Wouldn't Be Nice If Children Should Become As Important As Cattle or Money.

The following is an editorial in Heart's Boston American: Here's a piece of news. Read it: "The cattle on the dominion experimental farms at Nappan, Nova Scotia, that have developed tuberculosis are not to be slaughtered. Dr. Rutherford, veterinary inspector general, has recommended that experiments be made in the hope of eradicating the disease by the fresh-air cure." It seems that we are making progress. The custom has been, when cattle showed signs of tuberculosis, to let them die, or, if the government agents got hold of them, to shoot them. There has been some improvement in plans and methods, according to the statements above. People know that fresh air will cure tuberculosis—if you add rest and sufficient food to the fresh air. Therefore, the cattle in Nova Scotia are to get the benefit of scientific discovery.

It would be an excellent thing, wouldn't it, if our city and national governments could look at the children as the cattle of Nova Scotia look at tuberculosis cattle? There are hundreds of thousands of children marching rapidly along the road to consumption and death. For one who dies of tuberculosis, the number of human beings in Nova Scotia are to get the benefit of scientific discovery.

There are hundreds of thousands of children marching rapidly along the road to consumption and death. For one who dies of tuberculosis, the number of human beings in Nova Scotia are to get the benefit of scientific discovery.

It would be creditable to civilization if a great rich city, with hundreds of millions of property, and hundreds of millionaires, should do as much for a tuberculous child as Nova Scotia proposes to do for its tuberculous cows. The child is not a piece of property, or cynically optimistic, or cynically optimistic.

MISER'S WIDOW HAS TO FIND IT ON SHORES OF LAKE—FEARS DISCOVERY.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—Fearing that robbers might find the hidden treasure left by her husband, who died two days ago, Mrs. Andrew Mattson, 62 years old, is keeping an anxious vigil at her weather beaten cabin on the shore of Lake Michigan at the foot of One Hundred and Third street. Mattson is supposed to have saved $3,000. Her husband's friends, who have been advised by a lawyer to search for the money, are now on the look out for the treasure. HALIFAX GETS SOME WARM ADVICE.

In a somewhat recent issue of some of the Halifax papers, in somewhat emphatic articles, they reiterate the sentiment (a good one in itself) "Halifax should put its shoulder to the wheel." This, of course, means as to the progressiveness of Halifax, that Halifax should progress, go forward, and do all sorts of clever things. Will Halifax papers allow us, just little us, to make a suggestion, as to some of the first principles in the much-wished-for progress of that city, which we humbly think, might possibly be for its ultimate advancement to know, let them get up in the morning within a reasonable time, to meet their customers. Let them answer letters, addressed to them at least within three days after getting them. Let an order for goods be filled and sent within a week anyway. Let them treat customers, old or to whom they make their living in a less supercilious manner, etc. These are but small matters, but they are small matters that make up the sum of life. "Great oaks drop of little acorns" grow, and little drops of water make the mighty ocean, and grains of sand the sea shore. As things are now in Halifax, and always have been, in fact, an order of goods, or an answer to a letter, can be sent much more quickly from St. John than from Halifax, and consequently coralling the trade, that Halifax might just as well have, while Halifax papers are still out there, say at about 10 o'clock, J. Marton, "Let us put our shoulder to the wheel," which they generally do at once, in some highly respected hotel. There are still other reasons which Halifax papers and Halifax people should get asking, from their country cousins, who have long suffered in the premises, and which information we think they will be much benefited by, if they wisely take it to heart. Mr. Otto A. Fleissner's KIDNEYS WERE SOAKED WITH CATARRH

Pe-ru-na Promptly Cured Him.

Mr. Otto A. Fleissner, American Episcopalian, late Chief of Col. W. J. Coady, (Buffalo Bill), now Chief at the Balmer Grand Hotel, Seattle, Wash., writes: "I suffered with kidney and bladder trouble until life did not seem worth living. I had tried many medicines, but did not get any relief until I took Pe-ru-na. It was really wonderful how much better I was after I had used this medicine only a week. I did not expect that it would help me permanently, but as long as it was doing me good I continued to use it. At the end of six months I found to my relief that it had rid my system of all poisons, and that I was cured to stay cured. You certainly have a splendid medicine and I gladly endorse it."—Otto A. Fleissner.

Catarrh of the Kidneys a Common Disease—Kidney Trouble Often Falls to Be Regarded as Catarrh by Physicians.

Catarrh of the kidneys is very common indeed. It is a pity that this fact is not better known to the physicians as well as to the people. People have kidney disease. They take some diuretic, hoping to get better. They never once think of catarrh. Kidney disease and catarrh are seldom associated in the minds of the people, and, also, they are not very often associated in the minds of the physicians. People have kidney disease. These men, with Mrs. Mattson's only son, started to patrol the beach near the house last evening. They aim to keep searchers away from the widow's fears are all the greater because her husband was a drinking man and talked to his friends about his money. Some time ago an acquaintance threatened to show where the treasure was hidden.

Mattson was called a miser. Before his death his wife begged him to tell where he had hidden his little fortune, but he was deaf to her entreaties. He also guarded his secret from all his relatives. Up to the time of his death he insisted that he would not tell where he had hidden his little fortune, but he was deaf to her entreaties. He also guarded his secret from all his relatives. Peruna strikes at the very centre of the difficulty by eradicating the catarrh from the kidneys. Catarrh is the cause of kidney difficulty. Remove the cause and you remove the effect. With unerring accuracy Peruna goes right to the source, the kidneys, and eradicates their work with perfect regularity. Thousands of testimonials from people who have had kidney diseases which had gone beyond the control of the physician are received by Dr. Hartman every year, giving Peruna the whole praise for marvelous cures.

Allusion has been made in the Canadian papers to the fact that the Canadian navy, and those who are acquiring progress achieved during the war in putting it on its proper footing. Grand Jur Finds No Bill Against Howard Camp.

Charge Against Dr. Preston Has Been Changed to Manslaughter—Thompson Forgery Case Dropped.

The monthly sitting of the circuit court opened at eleven Tuesday morning with His Honor Chief Justice Tuck presiding. The court room was crowded on account of the great interest taken in the criminal cases. His honor's charge to the grand jury in the case of Camp was strongly in favor of the prisoner and in the case of Dr. Preston strongly the other way. Both prisoners are indicted under the charge of manslaughter, the charge of murder, which was made in the police court being withdrawn.

The grand jury were as follows: Charles D. Jones (foreman), John F. Bullock, Charles M. Bostwick, James E. Cameron, Walter B. Campbell, B. J. Dowling, W. T. Gard, Edwin H. B. Flood, Nathaniel Brennan, Harry P. Hayward, Henry L. McGowan, Wm. Peters, Thos. L. Coughlan, Albert E. Trentoway, J. H. Brown, Charles M. Cross, Jonas Howe, F. H. Tippits, J. H. Doody.

The list of the petit jurors is as follows: Fred A. Young, James Seaton, Caleb Belyea, James W. Morrison, J. W. Gandy, Robert McAfee, H. M. McAlpine (absent), Solomon McConnell, John A. Stanton, Timothy O'Brien, Robert S. Orchard, Frank L. Potts, R. E. Smith, A. Allan Sharp, Rankin A. Sinclair, Alfred G. Staples, Joshua Stark and Wm. C. Magee.

1. Ingram vs. Brown, H. A. McKeown. 2. Smith vs. The John Chreston Co., Ltd. 3. Byrne vs. Bustin, Daniel Mullin, Murray vs. DeBury, Hanington, Teed & Hanington. Jury Cases—New Docket.

1. Adams vs. The City of Saint John, W. B. Wallace. 2. Wilkins vs. Wallace, Hazen & Raymond. 3. Lewis vs. Quirk, F. R. Chapman. After the trial had chosen Chas. D. Jones as their foreman, his honor addressed them, reviewing the cases which are to come up at this court.

The case of forgery brought against James H. Thompson by H. D. Barber for forging his name, upon consideration of the solicitor general will not be continued. His honor said that there was no evidence to say that Mr. Thompson had any intention of cheating.

The next two cases, said his honor, are those of King vs. James McCarthy and the King vs. Howard D. Camp, both by Magistrate Ritchie. This case was of a kind new to him, he said. The case of Buchanan's whiskey, said his honor, was known to the trade and to drinkers of whiskey. This was for an infringement of its label.

The next two were cases which had created great interest in the city, and doubtless through the province. These were the case of King vs. Dr. Preston and the King vs. Howard D. Camp. Camp is charged with manslaughter. This young man had been keeping company with the deceased Miss Clarks, a young lady of this city. He had had it in his mind to charge the implication of Camp in her death. It is charged that on the 13th of December he took to the house where Miss Clarks lived, a bottle of ergot. If the case was proved, it would seem that the ergot was purchased not to get an abortion, but to overcome its effects. "It does not seem," said his honor, "that the evidence would come in to charge the young man. If every young man who has done as this one did were to be indicted for manslaughter, the cases would be like a snow-bank. The penalties too small to hold the offenders. There is one case, however, of a more serious nature. He was not surprised that the public had looked upon the case of the doctor with horror. Parliament has stamped its disapproval of the extreme penalty of life imprisonment. All the evidence admitted in the magistrate's court would be put before the grand jury. He did not know how it would appear to him, when the case was being tried.

He had had it in his mind, continued his honor, to speak about the falling off in the birth rate, but he had decided to limit his attention to the case in hand. "Do you know that in these days a married woman who gives birth to but one child seems to think that she has done her full duty to the state," he declared. In closing, his honor said that he had now been 21 years on the bench, and it was his hope to be present yet again. He concluded by wishing the grand jury a happy New Year. After the grand jury retired his honor announced that if the grand jury had any return they could make it at one o'clock. Otherwise he would hear their return at four o'clock, as he was engaged meanwhile in chambers. The court will come up again today at eleven.

Shortly after four o'clock the grand jury returned to the court room and Charles D. Jones, foreman, reported that in the case of the King vs. Howard D. Camp the jury returned no bill. His honor said that as no bill had been found against Camp he should be discharged, and his bail released. As Camp was not in court, Mr. DeBury counsel for Camp, said he would notify him to come to court this morning and get his discharge. The court was then adjourned until this morning at 11 o'clock, when the grand jury will consider the evidence

N. B. Furniture Men Before the Tariff Commission

Ask For Free Oak, Walnut and Mahogany, More Duty on Manufactured Furniture and Protection Against Dumping.

(Special to the Sun.) NEWCASTLE, N. B., Jan. 2.—The tariff commission met at the town hall at eleven o'clock, Hon. Mr. Fielding presiding. O. G. Anderson, of the Anderson Furniture Company, was the first gentleman to appear before the commission. He made a lengthy statement of the furniture business and asked that a number of articles used in the manufacture of furniture and not manufactured in Canada, be placed on the free list. He thought that oak, walnut, and mahogany lumber should be placed on the free list as these were totally exhausted in Canada and had to be imported. He also advocated a higher tariff on manufactured furniture. This, he claimed, would not affect the local buyer as the output of the factories was larger than the demand was always.

In the export trade Canadian manufacturers had to compete with U. S. concerns which manufactured at less expense and had a better freight rate. The duty on raw material was a hindrance for this trade and should be removed. Mr. Fielding thought that this would be difficult as it would be hard to arrive at the quantity of this class of goods entering into the manufacture of such shipment. Mr. Anderson thought that this would be difficult as it would be hard to arrive at the quantity of this class of goods entering into the manufacture of such shipment.

Mr. Fielding, "But you could tell what quantity was used in the manufacture of say 100 chairs, get a Canadian price, and then compare it with the price of the American article, and did not think lumbermen should be obliged to pay the high duty now existing." Mr. Fielding, "Cheap goods are not necessarily dumped into Canada. Because American furniture is cheap is no argument that it is dumped."

Mr. Anderson, stated a case of a Montreal merchant who had bought a quantity of goods at a discount of fifty per cent. Mr. Anderson was asked if all the articles mentioned by him were not manufactured in Canada and replied that all were, except that of an inferior article, and cheap veneers. Mr. Russell was the next to appear. He was satisfied with the present tariff and thought that Canada was prospering under its fostering care. He was more particularly interested in coal and the tariff on this suited him. D. Morrison made a statement in regard to the export of canned goods. He stated that there ought to be some understanding as to the appraising of the values of this class of goods and stated a case where the entries as made out by the shippers were not accepted and the values placed thirty per cent. higher.

Mr. Fielding, "We do not always accept American entries and statements of values." Mr. Morrison further stated that representations had been made to U. S. authorities but although previous and subsequent shipments were received at the entry values no rebate or satisfaction was ever obtained. Hon. J. P. Burchill stated that as he was in the lumber business the tariff did not affect him. His market was in England.

J. D. Craghan thought that the tariff was all right, but was of the opinion that some scheme for appraising should be inaugurated that would make it possible to appraise correctly. He had been annoyed by the return of entries several times of late. This was especially so on woollens imported from England, on which there was a preference. Would suggest that the higher rate be charged so that the appraiser could appraise correctly. Mr. Fielding—You are more particular about the proper appraising than the rate of duty. Mr. Craghan—Yes. P. Hennessy thought that the duty on foreign sugar should be reduced. He stated that recently a combine of the wholesale grocers had been formed who dictated to the Canadian manufacturers to whom they should sell, and as he was a retail and wholesale dealer he could not buy from the manufacturers as formerly, but had to buy from this combine or import sugar. This he had done, but thought that the duty should be reduced so that this combine would not be able to dictate to the trade. He bought Scotch sugar. Mr. Patterson—Do you buy as low as the combine? Mr. Hennessy—I do not know, but think I could sell to it at a price that would close a figure at certain times. Mr. Patterson—Did you apply to become a member of the combine or sue? Mr. Hennessy—Yes, but as I sell at retail I was not permitted to become a member.

Hon. J. P. Burchill again appeared before the commission and made a statement in reference to the pulp industry. He stated that while he did not advocate it, perhaps it would be advisable to place an export duty on pulp wood. He understood that in Ontario the government had done this. Mr. Fielding—"In Ontario the Ontario government makes a provision in its leases that there shall be a certain fee paid on pulp exported, which amounts to the same thing." Here the local government could do the same, as he understood that the government controlled most of the timber lands. O. Turgeon, M. P., of Gloucester, read a letter from the Adams Burns Co. stating that the duty on American pork was being reduced. He claimed that Canadian pork was not as good as the American article, and did not think lumbermen should be obliged to pay the high duty now existing.

John Betts brought up the question of the recent ruling by the U. S. government that fresh fish packed in less than one hundred packages are dutiable at fifty per cent. ad valorem, whereas that of more than one hundred packages at three-quarters of a cent per pound. This was a hardship on small shippers, but the large exporters got over this by shipping in bulk across the border and repacking it at the destination. Mr. Fielding stated that there are two sections to the U. S. tariff bearing on this, and according to Mr. Betts' remarks the appraisers when in doubt appraised by the section which would yield the most duty. He did not think it possible that much could be done unless a strong case was made out and presented to the U. S. government. Mr. Betts thought that by retaliating we might be able to bring them to their senses. He believed in retaliation. Nothing further was done during the day.

A man who was travelling through the Ozark Mountains on horseback stopped before a typical Arkansas farm to inquire the way. "What's the news?" asked the mountaineer, as he leaned his long beard thoughtfully. On finding that what had become a part of history was news to him, the traveller asked why he did not take some weekly or even monthly paper, some that he might keep in touch with the world at large. "I wish," said the old man, "when my pa died, ten years ago, he left me a stack of newspapers that high"—indicating a height of about three feet—"and I ain't done readin' of 'em yet."—Youth's Companion.

THE CHESAPEAKE AND THE SHANNON

Contributor to Halifax Recorder Gives a Sketch

On the Later History of These Famous Ships.

THE following account of the later history of the Chesapeake and Shannon is furnished by an occasional contributor to the Halifax Recorder. My reference in last week's letter to the guns being placed in Provincial buildings on both sides that had been taken in them by me in Africa. I have received a letter from a Boston gentleman inquiring about the size of the guns, etc. My informant at the station that he would convey the impressions on both sides that had been taken in them by me in Africa.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—"Build an airship, so find the north pole, and report by wireless telegraph and submarine cables the progress of your effort."

ALBERTO SANTOS-DUMONT OF PARIS will have charge of the construction of the airship and will act as its aeronautic director and pilot its voyage toward the north pole.

THE problem of reaching the north pole by means of an airship does not require high speed, and the present state of the art of aerial navigation by gas-buoyed and motor-driven ships is ample for the purpose.

THE airship will have an endurance of 100 hours, sufficient to enable it to remain aloft for the thirty days in the air. It will carry 5000 pounds of gasoline, and its distance from Spitzbergen Strait across the pole and thence Arctic Ocean to Alaska.

WALTER WELLMAN, who will have command of the airship expedition to the North Pole, was born at Mentor, Ohio, in 1878. He was a newspaper man at the age of sixteen and has been identified with many newspaper enterprises, including the establishment of The Citizen Evening Post.
