General News.

Musquash, May 21.—On Wednesday, the 13th, inst., a very pretty double wedding took place at St. Anne's Episcopal church, Musquash.

The contracting parties were the nephews of the Rev. J. R. Martins, the Messrs. Wm. and Sydney Martins, late of London, Eng. and the Misses Rashleigh and Bowden of the same place.

The grooms were attended by the Messrs. Leonard Daw of London, Eng. and Earnest Shepherd of this place. The brides were attended by the Misses Ethel Williams, cousin of the grooms, and Miss Evelyn Boone of Oak Bay, N. B. The brides were prettily attired in cream alpaca, with long tulle veils and orange blossoms, and carried bouquets of white carnations. The ceremony was performed by the rector, uncle to the grooms. The brides were given away by Mr. Chas. Spinney, church warden. The ceremony opened with "The voice that breathed o'er Eden," and after the joining of hands, "Oh, perfect Love All Human Love Excelling" was rendered by the choir. A large congregation assembled to witness the ceremony, after which the guests repaired to the rectory, where a reception was held. The contracting parties were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents.

Quebec, Que., May 22.—Sir John French and his party, including Col. Lessard, who will accompany him on his tour through Canada, left town at 4.30 p. m. today for Toronto.
Among the places to be visited by Sir John are Hamilton, Montreal, Kingston, Ottawa, Halifax, St. John, N. B., Niagra, Niagra Falls and Petawawa, Calgary, Laggan, Regina, Sewell, Winnipeg and again Petawawa.
Sir John will be in Quebec again on May 30 and 31, during which time will inspect the permanent corps here as well as the forts and arsenals. He leaves on his return to England on July 8, sailing from Quebec.

Ottawa, Ont., May 22.—Two of the injured in the Hull explosion of a fortnight ago succumbed today. Geo. Coleman, aged 19, of Wrightville, Que., who was struck on the knee by a flying stone, seemed to be recovering, but blood poisoning developed and he was removed from the hospital to his home to die. Arthur Gornau, aged 22, of Hull, had his spine injured, but his recovery from the first seemed hopeless. The death list is now eleven.

King George and Emperor William, after kneeling together beside the bier of Edward the Peacemaker, rose and stood for a moment with clasped hands. It is a good omen. These two men wield a tremendous influence in the matter of the peace of the world. The incident at Westminster Hall will not be lost upon the people of Britain and Germany. Lovers of peace everywhere will hope that the most cordial relations between the two great nations may be encouraged by the King and Emperor.

Chatham World: The Miramichi Mill has shut down. The pay of the men is two weeks in arrears. Manager Spaulding says some new machinery is to be installed and repairs made, and he expects the mill to start up again in about two weeks.

Miramichi stream drivers did not get all the logs into safe waters when the streams were high and all the conditions favorable, and the cold weather caused the brooks to fall. Some of the logs will probably not be got out this spring, dams are needed to hold water for such emergencies.

Montreal, May 23.—Prof. Todd of Amherst College, Mass., landed his balloon in St. Hyacinthe today after a 12 hour trip from North Adams, making the distance of 200 miles. He is after the cup offered for the balloonist who would come nearest the Dominion Square, Montreal from any point in New York, Connecticut or Massachusetts during 1909 or 1910.

Paris, May 21.—A report of a conversation which Emperor William had with M. Dehon in London reproduced here states that the Emperor was exceedingly cordial towards the French foreign minister and told the latter that the great powers in the interests of humanity should remain closely united and form a pacific confederation.

Salt Lake City, May 22: Sunday morning slumber of this city's residents was disturbed by a violent rocking of the earth the seismograph at the state university recording a disturbance of thirty.

The earthquake was sharp and caused considerable damage to crockery, chimneys and old houses. The tremor was local, being confined with a radius of fifty miles.

Boston, Mass., May 20. The funeral procession of King Edward was reviewed from a balloon in London today by W. H. Gannett, an Augusta, Me., publisher, according to a despatch received tonight by Chas. Clifton, of this city. Mr. Gannett made a fine ascension at Paris also on Tuesday last.

Invention Will Make Automobiles Cheaper

Pittsburg, May 23.—Another invention rivaling in importance that of the air brake has been completed by George Westinghouse. It is known as the air spring, and by it Mr. Westinghouse asserts that the expense of running all rubber-tired vehicles will be decreased at least 50 per cent, since the rubber tire may now be dispensed with. It is claimed for the new invention that it will ultimately reduce the price of automobiles one-half. For many months Mr. Westinghouse has been working night and day on the air spring idea.

The new air spring idea, which is now being tried out in Pittsburg is a series of plungers working on air cushions, on the same principle as an elevator plunger. The air spring is placed under each corner of the frame of an automobile and takes the shock in with greater ease than does the rubber tire now in use. Each spring for an automobile is a cylinder about three in. in diameter and perhaps ten inches long, the plunger connected with the automobile frame working up and down as increasing or diminishing weight requires. It is claimed by Mr. Westinghouse that an automobile fitted with solid steel tires and with the air springs rides more easily than does the rubber tired automobile of today. The Westinghouse interests are fitting up automobiles with solid tires, and the air springs in demonstrations.

A spinster's face is sure to light up if she strikes a match.

Halley's comet arrived on time. When it found out the capital the 'sensational' newspapers were making out of it, it felt small. Well, it certainly 'looked the part.'

THE RIGHT BOY.

Employer to Applicant: Are you truthful?

'Y-E-S, but not so's to queer your business.'—L. M.

Curious Charley—Do nuts grow on trees father?

Father—They do, my son.

Curious Charley—Then what tree does the doughnut grow on?

Father—The 'nuttree' my son.

Many citizens are improving their properties about town this year. The individual effort being made by St. George residents to improve the appearance of the town is making itself apparent in the tidiness of the community as a whole.

Let everyone attend the band concert on Friday night. A good band is a town's best asset. Our attendance will not only help them out financially but it will encourage them also.

Friday was generally observed throughout the town in commemoration of our late King. It is a deplorable fact some of our citizens were unpatriotic to carry on their places of business throughout the entire day. A number of our local sportsmen enjoyed the day on fishing trip. This is hardly in accordance with the purpose for which the day was to be observed.

How Read Found Himself

When Herbert recovered his memory he was working as a painter with a number of other men on the side of a house in Buenos Ayres. This was the statement made a few days ago to a friend of the family by a near relative of Herbert Read, whose mysterious disappearance in November last aroused such interest throughout the Maritime Provinces and the search of whom occupied several months covering an immense stretch of territory.

This relative said that when young Read awoke from the mental sleep into which he had fallen he found that he was still possessed of about half the $250 he had in his pocket when he left Montreal, so that, figuring his expenses while on the way to South America, he probably had not more than half any been stolen from him. The money in his possession when he came to was in Canadian bills, so he could not have earned it in the meantime. Herbert Read's recollection of what transpired while he lost time and identity is of the most meagre and uncertain nature, it is said, although he remembers very clearly all that took place subsequent to his illness. That his complete balance was not recovered all at once is indicated by the fact that, although having money in his possession, he did not write or make a letter which he would have, realized it in a normal condition, must take several weeks to reach his family. Had he been mentally acute he would have realized his family's mental anguish because of his mysterious absence and would have wired in order to allay their distress as soon as possible.

It will be recalled that when young Mr. Read returned to New Brunswick both he and his relatives declined to discuss the case. It is now thought there was really little they could tell beyond the fact that the young man did not know how he reached Buenos Ayres, and the case will probably continue to be regarded simply as one of temporary loss of memory and identity, examples of which are frequently reported from month to month in the world's news.

Sir Charles' Gift to Amherst Hospital.

Amherst, May 8.—In response to a letter to Sir Charles Tupper Bart, in reference to Highland View Hospital, Rev. A. D. Steele, D. D., received a reply enclosing a check for $500 towards the endowment fund of the hospital. Sir Charles states that he had been confined to his home at Birley, England, for some time with an attack of bronchitis. He reports that Lady Tupper's health is much improved, but does not think she will ever be able to cross the Atlantic again. He asks particularly about Geo. B. Cullen, Ph. D., who he notices has recently been appointed President of Acadia College, and whose father and grandfather were intimate friends of Sir Charles. Reference was made from all the pulpits today to the King's death at the West Baptist Church. The pastor, Rev. P. S. Stackhouse, preached in the morning an appropriate sermon. Rev. D. A. Steele, D. D. followed with a brief address reading the proclamation of Earl Grey. He emphasized the national fact, which prevailed in England, that the King is never dead, one being proclaimed king as the other died, thus saving the country from the throes of election as under a Republican Government.

Home Reading Columns

Don't relate to the tired husband all trifling details of home life.

Don't tell your husband all your troubles; don't tell them to anyone; forget them.

Don't withhold from your children the only heritage that you can give, contentment and faith.

Don't ask for a new gown the day you remember it to be "office check-day."

Don't let your anxiety to get to church on time on Sunday morning make you cross to your entire family for the entire day.

Don't think you possess all the business knowledge in the family, and that the husband's life as well as business will prove a failure if you fail to follow your advice.

Don't let your husband make a beggar of you. The woman who takes money from her husband's pockets steals only her own self-respect. Men are reasonable creatures and will generally accord their wives the treatment they expect and require.

If you want to keep your children away from sin you can only do so by making their home attractive. You can preach sermons, advocate reforms and denounce wickedness and yet your children will be captivated by the glittering saloons of sin, unless you make your home brighter than any other place on earth to them. Gather all the charms you possibly can into your home. If you can afford it, bring books and pictures and cheerful entertainments to the household. But above all, teach these children not by half an hour, twice a year on the Sabbath day, but day after day, and every day teach them that religion is a great gladness, that it throws chains of gold about the neck, that it takes no spring from the foot, no blitheness from the heart, no sparkle from the eye, no ring from the laughter, but that "her ways are ways of pleasantness and all her paths are peace."

It is her own fault if a woman is unloved and neglected. That is a harsh statement to make, but it is a fact. Moral man is a weeping who can no more resist kindness than a rose can resist the sun. It is a weak helpless woman's duty to make herself attractive and pretty in the very face of discouragement. Call it hypocrisy, tact, finesse, or by any other term, but she must turn in the edges and make allies instead of antagonists of the people about her. Spotless neatness, becoming feminine attire, truth, kindness, cheerfulness, love, and the loyalty that restrains her from speaking ill of her neighbors will make many a woman lovely, even though she lacks beauty.

The effort at "pleasing mother" should be cultivated in the childish heart early in life they should begin the cultivation of thought and effort with reference to the gratification of her wishes and of making her happy. If they would do this they would find daily opportunities for speaking kind words and rendering such helpful services and showing such noble traits of character in their dealings with others, as would gladden the heart and lighten the cares of mother in a way too often little thought of. If boys, if girls, could but realize their indebtedness to their mothers, they certainly would generally be very much more anxious about pleasing them. The great men of the world, who have acknowledged their great indebtedness to their mothers, took a great delight in pleasing them. But most of all their noble lives, their courage in doing right and their honorable achievements in public life were especially pleasing to their noble mothers. Hardly a higher tribute can be paid to any young man's success in life than "It pleased his mother."

A CONTENTED SPIRIT

Remember, if you have only what is called an ordinary home, that the great deliverers of the world have all come from such a home. And there may be seated reading at your evening stand a child who shall be potent for the ages. Just unroll the scroll of men mighty in church and state, and you will find they nearly all came from log runs out in the third or in all history cabin or poor homes of fourth generation of extraordinary people amount to anything. Columbus from a weaver's hut, Demosthenes from a cutler's cellar, Bloomfield and Missionary Carey from a shoemaker's bench, Arkwright from a barber's shop and he whose name is high over all in earth and air and sky from a manger.

Let us all be content with such things as we have. God is just as good, in what he keeps away from us as in what he gives us. Even a knot may be useful if it is at the end of a thread. The spider draws poison out of a thistle, but happiness is a heavenly elixir and the contented spirit extracts it not from the rhododendron of the hills, but from the lily of the valley.

There is not a man in our city, however indifferent to the claims of Christianity, who would want to rear his family here if there were no churches or church influence, for he at once recognizes them as the guardians of the morals of the community. What would be the condition of this community at the end of the next year if from the time until then the churches were closed? To what extent would life and property be safe? And yet, with all the organized agencies of the church, the devil too frequently holds high carnival. What might we not expect if wholly divested of these good influences.

Selling Stamps and Tickets by Machine

The slot machine is now used for selling almost anything smaller in size than a battleship. But it has hitherto never been successfully adopted to the selling of postage stamps. The reason is to be found in our peculiar coinage. We have two cent stamps and three cent stamps, but no two-cent or three-cent pieces. Some inventors have tried to overcome the difficulty by selling to stamps for five cents. Apart from the fact that only a single stamp may be needed at the moment, it is disturbing to pay five cents for what is plainly intended to bring only four. The Postal Department has been experimenting with a machine that seems to overcome the difficulty very ingeniously—for it sells a stamp for two cents, and two cents only. Realizing that his machine had to perform all functions of a skilled post-office clerk, the inventor has all but provided it with a brain. A mutilated coin, a piece of foreign money, or the brass slug that circulates so widely in the West is promptly rejected. In other words, the coin is mechanically tested before it is allowed to pass muster. This instrument inserted through the slot, in order to operate ratches and levers so as to expel stamps without even the brass pretense of a coin, are unable to thread the tortuous passage and to avoid the obstacles that have been proved.

ACADIA UNIVERSITY.

The Acadia Baccalaureate sermon will be delivered this year on Sunday, May 29, in college hall, by Dr. R. S. McArthur, of the Calvary Baptist church, New York. Prof. Cross, of Newton Theological Seminary, will give the annual address before the College Y. M. C. A. in the evening. Dr. Hall of Truro, will give the address to the graduating class of the seminary. Much to the regret of all Miss Eliza Wells, vice-principal of the Seminary, is resigning her position on account of her health. The graduating class of the seminary numbers 42. The annual reunion of the alumnus society of Acadia Seminary will be held on Tuesday evening.

Rev. George Barton Cutten, president of Acadia arrived in the city on Monday from Boston. President Cutten says there will be a general shake-up in the university faculty next year as a result of which two or three chairs will be rendered vacant. While away he visited Yale University, his alma mater, and completed arrangements for a Yale man to come to Acadia and act as an athletic instructor.

Dr. Cutten says the year just closing at Acadia has been a most successful one in every way. The graduating class numbers thirty-six, the same as that of the University of New Brunswick.

A Lubec clerk tells this story of his pet cat: The man was wheeling wood and to protect his hands wore a pair of mittens. When he had finished his work he threw the mittens on the wheelbarrow and went into the house. The cat played about for a while and then being convinced that his master was not coming back, took the mittens in his mouth and carried them into the house.

300,000,000 is put by U. S. Into Canada

Toronto, May 15.—Though Canadian banks have more than $200,000,000 on deposit in New York, capitalists in the American metropolises are tardy investors in Canadian development. Most of the American capital in the Dominion is supplied by Philadelphia and Boston. London is the chief financier of Canadian enterprises. A movement is on foot to get more New Yorkers interested in Canadian mills, mines and timber projects.

The following figures, compiled by an expert for the government show the amount of United States capital invested in Canadian industrial enterprises:

British Columbia mines, mills, timber and land	$102,000,000
Eastern Canadian enterprises	100,000,000
Alberta mines, land and timber	15,000,000
Packing plants (by the Beef Trust group)	5,000,000
Agricultural implements (Agricultural Machine Trust)	2,000,000
Railroads	50,000,000
East-coast Canadian pulp enterprises	20,000,000
East and West Coast and Great fisheries	10,000,000
Total	$304,000,000

The greatest amount of United States money is flowing into Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. A tract of 48,000 acres of timber land in the Cowichan Valley, forty miles north of Victoria, has been sold to a New York company for $1,500,000. This means, it is announced, an extension of twenty-two miles of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway. San Francisco men have control of 21,000 acres of timber and coal lands on Graham Island. American capital going heavily into the development of coal mines in the Kootenay district of British Columbia on Crow's Neck Pass and McGillivray Creek. The money is mostly from Minneapolis and Spokane. New Yorkers have acquired the highland Buckeye-United Mines group near Ainsworth. They have also got the Fife mines. Duluth men have taken over the Queen mine. Spokane capitalists have bought the Lucky Jim mine.

In British Columbia 75 per cent of the timber licenses are held by Americans. These total 17,000 at $3,000 each, or $51,000,000. Half of the crown grants and leases are held by Americans. In the interior, two-thirds and on the coast one-third of the lumber mills are backed by United States capital. The United States Steel Corporation has bought the Nickel Plate mine. The Guggenheims are in the Atlin district and Ruffner; Americans control the British Columbia Copper Company and the Dominion Copper Company. The International Harvester Company is reaching out into Regina and Saskatoon; the Saskatchewan Flour Mills at Moose Jaw are backed by United States capital.

Thoughts for Every Day.

Sunday—"Do as you would be done by" is an excellent maxim to keep in mind.

Monday—"If you show this world a cheerful front, the world will put on its best smile for you."

Tuesday—"If your heart is full of love and sympathy, the flowers of tenderness and gratitude will spring up wherever you go."

Wednesday—"Sometimes all we need to do, in order to appreciate our friends, is to go right away from them for a time in their true perspective."

Thursday—"A compliment is not less, but more, relished when it is from a member of one's family than when it is a tribute won from a stranger."

Friday—"The chief means towards a joyous life is to believe that life was given us that we may rejoice in it. If your joy has ended, make an effort to find out wherein you have erred."

Saturday—"Try to take pleasure in the success of other people. If you find that someone else has succeeded where you have failed, try not let the pang of jealousy assail you."

Pains of women, head pains, or any pain stopped in 20 minutes sure, with Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets. See full formulae on 25c. Box. Sold by all dealers.

Mrs. Gabbie (to her new washwoman) "My husband has descended from one of the finest houses in the land." Mrs. Mulchey—"An phwat is he, carrier?"

A Pernicious Proverb.
The Real Facts in the Case.

One of the commonest of English proverbs is, "Feed a cold and starve a fever,"—advice which has helped fill many a churchyard.

The fallacy lies in assuming that a cold and a fever are different. As a matter of fact, a cold is a fever.

When the organs of elimination, especially the bowels, lungs and skin, become congested or clogged, a "cold" with increased temperature results. The poisons accumulate and the familiar symptoms are felt. A similar effect is produced by infection, or "catching" a cold.

Father Morrissey's method was to stimulate the organs to do their duty, without giving them extra work by over-crowding. The good priest-physician believed in assisting Nature to cure.

His famous prescription, No. 10, for Lung Tonic, may now be procured everywhere in Quebec or the Maritime Provinces. This Lung Tonic is made of Nature's own roots and herbs, and contains no opium or other dangerous drugs. Take it in time, hasten recovery, and build up the system against future attacks.

Is Playing Golf at Eighty-Nine?

Halifax, April 25.—A passenger by the last English mail steamer had just before leaving, visited the Right Hon. Sir Charles Tupper. During the visit he played a number of well-contested games of billiards with the nonagenarian statesman, who has been made honorary president of the local golf club, whose links stretch up to the house of Sir Charles at Bisleigh Heath, where the grand old man lengthens out his days by "putting" at "clock golf" near his own door. He is as vigorous and interested as ever in Canadian and English politics.

The numerous friends of Lady Tupper will be glad to learn that though somewhat pale she is as chatty and pleasant as of yore.

Two active and prominent Canadian nonagenarians are now fairly on the way to the one hundred year winning post—one a baron and the other a baronet. Sir Charles may be considered handicapped in the race by the two small letters at the end of his title. Would it not be a graceful act for a liberal government to recommend placing him where Baron Tupper and Baron Strathcona would increase the prominence of Canada in the eyes of the world—both well able yet to speak for the empire?

If your Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are weak, try at least a few doses only of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover a cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drag the Stomach, nor drug the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes quickly to the weak and failing nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organs must of necessity falter. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success in leading druggists everywhere to give it universal preference. A test will surely tell. Sold by all dealers.

The "Arabian Nights."

The collection of tales called the "Thousand and one Nights," or the "Arabian Nights," is of unknown date and authorship. It was first made known in Europe about the end of the seventeenth century by Antoine Galland, who was employed by Colbert to collect manuscripts in the east. The copy of the Arabic manuscript brought by Galland from Syria contained a marginal note dated 1584, and from internal evidence the middle of the fifteenth century has been fixed upon as the probable period of the composition of the work. Some of the tales were evidently borrowed by the writer from other authors, and Von Hammer identifies at least the plot and some of the stories of the "Arabian Nights" with an earlier collection in Persian called the "Thousand and one Stories."

Reliable Evidence.

A housewife, living in a suburban neighborhood some years ago to keep books on all the family's outgoes, but in such a way that her husband's liberty in personal expenditure should not be invaded. The latter had been handling most of his salary to her, keeping out five or ten dollars weekly for his own uses. She paid rent, table expenses, bought her own and the children's clothes, and put the surplus in a savings bank.

When the new plan was proposed she opened a checking account at the local bank, and had him make over his salary check to her order each week, depositing the whole in one, and handing him whatever cash he asked for as pocket money. Then, with a small sum in cash for herself, she had no loose currency to watch, as all other outgoes were paid by check and her check-stubs were made a complete record. Each week when her husband handed her his check he gave an accounting of pocket money.

This is a complete family cost system along modern lines. It shows what goes out week by week, and will yield masses of figures on any item for a month or year, and permit one year to be compared with another. The whole value of a cost system is in comparison, revealing margins of waste, and showing up items that can be cut down. It has resulted in marked economies. They have quit paying rent and are buying a home. Table expenses have been cut, as also useless luxuries that did not seem important when only a few cents daily were spent on them, but which were well worth cutting out when they learned what they cost in a year.

An excellent point in her scheme is that regular family expenses are kept in one account, and both husband and wife find ways of economizing, while the husband's personal spending as well as the wife's are always kept in two other accounts.

Once every two or three months she makes up totals. If clear cash money runs to unusual figures, she never charges the other with extravagance or says anything about it—the person responsible is left to cut it down.

The Reasoning of Rastus

Representative Longfellow, of Ohio, tells of a negro who brought three sons to town on election day in a fourth town in Ohio.

"Hello, Rastus," said a man who knew the negro, "what are you doing here?"

"I's jist projectin' 'round to see how's 'lection."

In the afternoon the same man met Rastus again. "How you vote?" Rastus inquired.

"Yassir, I's voted, an' my boss, they voted."

"How did you vote?"

"Well, boss, it was dis'er way. I meets a Republican on th' street an' he gibs me 'leven dollars to vote his ticket. An' I meets a Democrat an' he gibs me seven dollars to vote his ticket. So I voted for th' Democrat."

"But the Republican gave you the most money."

"Yassir, dat's jist th' p'int. I voted for them Democrats because they was least corrupt."

HOME TRUTHS.

James Watson, of Indiana, former Republican whip of the House of Representatives and unsuccessful candidate for Governor of Indiana in 1908, has since his retirement from public life, devoted much of his time to lecturing.

The lecture bureau that engages him put out a circular containing comment of the press and public on Watson's ability as an orator, he being a fine speaker. There were commendations from various public men also, and a nifty line of testimonials.

Watson's own son found one of the circulars and read it carefully, without comment during the parol. After he had finished the boy looked up at the father and said: "Hah, p p p d d d, I know you as well as we do, do they?"

Subscribe for Your Home Paper

A man who was too economical to subscribe for his home paper sent his little boy to borrow the copy from his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a four-dollar stand of bees and in ten minutes looked like a warty summer squash. His cries reached his father who ran to his assistance and falling to notice a barbed wire fence, ran into it, breaking it down, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and running a five-dollar pair of pants. The cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and put her nose in the garden and started eating the green corn. Hearing the racket the wife ran and upset a four-gallon churn of rich cream into a basket of kites and a dozen dollars' worth of eggs. In a hurry she dropped a twenty-five-dollar set of false teeth, the baby, left alone, crawled through the spilled cream and into the parlor, ruining a twenty-dollar carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the dog broke up eleven setting hens and the calves got out and chewed the tails off four fine shires.

New York, N. Y., May 17.—Memorial services for Ruth Wheeler, the stenographer, for whose murder Albert Wolter was hanged in the electric chair, were held today in the Ascension memorial church where Ruth attended Sunday school. The principal service was delivered by Frank Moss, the district attorney, who conducted the prosecution of Wolter. In dying to save her honor, said Mr. Moss, Ruth Wheeler accomplished more than a hundred sermons.

Members of Ruth's Sunday school presented to the church a memorial altar basin to be used in the Sunday school. Mrs. Emily Wheeler and her two daughters, Pearl and Adelaide, sat weeping in the church during the service.

The Truth About P. E. I. Prohibition.

"Prohibition does not prohibit," is the constant cry of those who are piqued by Prohibition, and those who, without looking up the facts, or even using a little common sense thinking exceptant prohibition statements without a question as to their origin. Prince Edward Island is the only province of Canada which has a Provincial prohibitory law. A recent number of the Charlottetown Guardian deals editorially with the matter thus:

The law has proved to be most beneficial in this city. In the old days, with 20,000 less people we kept 16 policemen. Now we have but 6—one on duty at the police station at night, another there by day, and only two by night about the city.

All evils predicted to result from Prohibition have failed to materialize. It was said prohibition would only lead to more drunkenness; that we should have no decent hotels; that it would injure trade and so on. We have reduced the arrests for drunkenness to one-fourth or one-fifth of what there were under license trade is better and larger, payments more prompt, we have better hotels, "better streets and sidewalks, better fire and light service than ever before. Few bars have been confined and former opponents converted to prohibition.

There is the support of all the betterment of the people, and of the clergy, Protestant and Catholic alike. "It has made good." No political party and no man of either party among our city members of the Legislature has in seven years past, or will now propose to repeal it. Year after year it has been strengthened by amendments proposed by the temperance people. The Inspector in this city was appointed on the recommendation of the Temperance Alliance.

The liquor interest has almost ceased to be a political factor in the city or province. Some liquor is imported, for the province has not the power to prohibit the importation. Tourists, travellers and sailors bring it in here, and at Summerside and the smaller outposts. Some dishonest druggists and opticians have trouble for a time, but convictions and exposures have checked this. Many a poor drunkard has lived to bless the prohibitory law, while wives and children bless it too. The temperance bill unanimously declare it to be the best weapon yet placed in their hands with which to fight the liquor trade.

In 1877 the population was about the same in Charlottetown as now. At that time they had 42 licensed places and 10 policemen. The magistrate at that time asked for more because of the prevalence of drunkenness, vice and crime. Violence and disorder prevailed to such an extent that it was not safe for women and children to walk the streets. The number of convictions traceable to drink was 72. After six years of prohibition, the stipendiary magistrate says: "No bars, no open saloons, practically no crime. Prohibitory law most satisfactory." The chief of police says there is nothing in the cry that prohibition does not prohibit. He has just got six patrol men now; just before the introduction of the law he had 13. The city clerk says in the year 1892 there were 322 convictions for drunkenness, in 1907 there were only 97.

Some people love long who have loved only a little while.

Do not see trying to help a man by doing what he does not want. He generally is trying to get the most of a good thing, from him to it.

"Long Live The King!"

With the passing of King Edward King George appears. His life of 45 has been one of preparation for the important position. He has received education among the people over whom he now rules. He comes to the throne in the prime of life being born on June 3rd 1865. To administer the affairs of 400,000,000 people is a heavy responsibility but his education and teaching has well prepared him for the task, and a loyal people will make it easy for him. He knows his people. While still in his teens he as midshipman visited most of the countries of the world. Before he was 20 he had advanced in rank in the navy and has taken first class in seamanship, navigation, torpedo, gunnery and pilotage. At 23 he was in command of a torpedo boat and had paid visits to the Sultan of Stamboul, King of Greece and the Kediwe at Cairo. Upon three occasions at least he has visited the Dominion of Canada. In 1883 as Prince George, in 1901 as Duke of Cornwall and York and again as the Prince of Wales in 1908 when he visited Quebec during the Quebec Centenary celebration where he won the hearts of all. His statesmanlike addresses delivered in the different cities visited caused his people to expect much from him as King. While King George V. with his more retiring disposition may not enjoy the wide spread popularity of his democratic father, yet he gives promise of winning the confidence of his people to the same extent as did his father and grandfather. Queen Mary has already won the hearts of the English people by her unselfish efforts. Like the New Testament Deceas she has been full of good work, with her own hands making coats and garments for the poor. She promises to be one of the most popular of British Queens. All honor to our gracious Queen: "Long live the King."

To Have Some C. P. R. Hustle.

The news that the C. P. R. has acquired control of the Dominion Atlantic should be welcomed by all who desire to see the Maritime Provinces progress. The Canadian Pacific Railway has been much criticized in the west and a few odd imprecations have been bestowed on it in this province. In the RECORD'S judgment the Canadian Pacific Railway is the greatest asset that Canada has. It is the most progressive railway in the world, and is probably, all things considered the most influential. It does things. It has made the Canadian west and while the people of the prairies like to kick, we must not lose sight of the fact that without the Canadian Pacific, there never would have been any west. Now this enterprising corporation is taking a firm hold of the transportation question in Nova Scotia and we may look for development in the great fruit districts of the Cornwallis and Annapolis valleys. This means business for the east, and the C. P. R. will see to it that the population in the section served by it does not stand still. There should also be a great impetus given to the tourist trade and while rumors are at all times open to considerable doubt, the feeling seems to be that the Canadian Pacific hotel system will be extended in this direction, including St. John. The Winter Port's outlook is bright but not the least promising is the good news concerning the C. P. R. expansion. One thing that stands out prominently in the history of the Canadian Pacific in its intense Canadianism. It has made St. John an important city and it promises to do more for it. That means progress for all New Brunswick. That the new line of railway to be operated by the C. P. R. is in Nova Scotia, after all, a matter of small amount. It is gratifying to see such progress in any part of the Maritime Provinces and we predict for the territory about to be served by the C. P. R. substantial progress within a few years. Kings Co. Record.

OBITUARY.

MRS. EZETTE S. MARSH

The death occurred on Saturday, May 21st, of Ezette S. Marsh at the advanced age of 82 years. The deceased has been a resident of the town for a number of years and will be much missed by her many friends. She had been in ill health for some time, but her death came as a shock to the community. Although not a member of the church, she was an adherent of the Baptist congregation and previous to her sickness was a regular attendant of the services of that church. She was the daughter of Benjamin and Catherine Milliken who resided at Fredericton. She is survived by a daughter, Catherine of this town and two sisters Mrs. A. J. Seelye of St. George, and Mrs. J. Keever of Monticella, Penn., and three brothers Jesse of this town, Edward of Vancouver and B. F. Milliken of Eastport, Me. The funeral took place at 4 o'clock on Monday afternoon from her late residence on Portage St. and was largely attended by prominent residents of the town testifying to the esteem in which the deceased lady was held. The services at the home and grave were conducted by Rev. E. V. Buchanan. The music was supplied by the members of the Baptist choir who rendered two selections, "Shall we gather at the River," and "Come unto Me." A quartette consisting of Messrs. Cawley, Choiset, Young and Kent sang "Nearer, my God to Thee," at the grave. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the sorrowing ones in their sad bereavement.

JAMES SOUTHARD.

A well known and highly respected citizen passed away on Friday last in the person of Mr. James Southard. Deceased was 80 years of age and has lived in St. George for the past fifty years. Previous to his coming to St. George he made his home in Maine. He is survived by a widow and three sons, William, James and Sylvester all of this town, and three daughters Mrs. Chas. Epps and Mrs. George Murray of St. George and Mrs. Martin Burns of New Hampshire. The deceased has been in failing health for the past few months and his death was not unexpected.

He was a good citizen and will be much missed by his many friends. He was an adherent of the Roman Catholic faith.

The funeral was held Sunday from his late residence, Rev. Father Carson officiating.

STEPHEN LYNCH

The death occurred, at his home here, after a few weeks illness, of Mr. Stephen Lynch, one of St. George's most highly respected citizens, on Monday evening at the age of 67 years. He leaves to mourn, one son, Mr. Harry Lynch, of Vermont, who, with his wife, arrived here a short time ago, also two daughters Mrs. John O'Malley, of Vermont, and Mrs. Barney McCarty, of this town, who have the sympathy of the whole community in their bereavement. The funeral takes place this morning, interment being in the Roman Catholic cemetery. Rev. Father Carson will officiate.

King Edward as a Farmer

As was the case with his father, the King was always greatly interested in agriculture. As Prince of Wales his six hundred cultivated acres at Sandringham were farmed on scientific principles. Every known improvement in machinery was introduced there, with the result that the crops were as near perfection as it was possible to have them.

He looked a genuine farmer as he tramped through the fields in true Norfolk garb of tweed and gaiters, and it did not require much attention to find from his conversation that he quite understood what he was talking about.

There were many interesting sights at Sandringham besides the farm proper. It is a beautiful estate of eight acres. There are parks, stables and kennels, all models of their kind. The King had a hobby, and so had the Queen, and the latter has made with her own hands many a good honest pot of creamery Norfolk butter.

CORRESPONDENCE

Mr. Editor,

Pennfield is not altogether wiped out yet neither by Halley's comet nor by any other disease, although a lot of pretty good citizens have been removed to the regret and sorrow of many during the past few months. The loss is great.

The people that are left are busily engaged in farming—doing what they can to meet the needs of the future.

The fishing prospects are about as usual. 'Maybe there will be plenty of fish and maybe there will not be many.' There is one thing Pennfield has in its favor, and that is plenty of good air, of course the stomach acquires something more.

In this community desolation prevails as to up-to-date gossip and the effects of rum run so where to be seen. There is no noise of any kind here during seven days out of the week, not even the sound of a hammer. All is still as a church yard, every fellow to himself and for himself.

Those who are not Christians are almost as good morally.

The Baptist Church is progressing rapidly in the work of religion. The Sunday School and the Y. P. U. are doing finely. Progression is the watchword. The wife of the Rev. I. N. Thorne, pastor, is the chief spirit in the movement.

Sunday the 15th and 22nd the pastor baptized general young belonging to the S. S. and Bible class so the work goes on.

We regret his removal from us so soon to take place.

Another pastor will be needed in the near future.

And then what we need next is the cattle law, that will help to keep neighbors good and Christians from swearing.

Sincerely,
ONE IN THE PLACE.
Pennfield, N. B., May 23.

Rickard Chosen Referee.

Tex Rickard, associated with Jack Gleason in the promotion of the Jeffries and Johnson contest, and who came into prominence four years ago, when he engineered the Gans-Nelson fight at Goldfield, Nevada, was selected on Monday to referee the fight between the two heavyweights on July 3 at Emeryville.

In accepting the place, however, the Nevada promoter made it clear that he would step aside if Jeffries and Johnson agreed on another.

This settlement came when it looked as if the meeting to select a referee would end in another deadlock, and after bitter words had passed between Johnson and Sam Berger, Jeff's manager.

Very Comforting.

During a charge in the last Boer War, the following incident is said to have occurred:

One of the men got his thumb shot off, and turning to his chum, an Irishman, ejaculated: "Whatever shall I do? I am done for life."

Pat, taking things somewhat coolly, and thinking his chum was making a fuss over a mere trifle, responded solemnly, "Sure and that's nothing to make a fuss about. Here's poor Sam Jones wid his head cut off, an' not a word is he sayin'!"

Quite Mistaken.

When Mark Twain was a young and struggling newspaper writer in San Francisco, a lady of his acquaintance saw him one day with a cigar-box under his arm, looking in at a shop window.

"Mr. Clemens," said she, "I always see you with a cigar-box under your arm. I am afraid you are smoking too much."

"It isn't," said Mark. "I'm moving again."

His Advice.

"I have been thinkin' about gittin' married," said a member of his flock to Father Williams. "You reckon I could git a marriage license for a dozen watermelons?"

"I reckon you could," replied Brother Williams. "But my wholesome advice ter you is ter eat de watermelons."

Superstitious people are talking of a connection between Halley's Comet and the death of the King. In 11 B. C. it appeared before the death of the Emperor Agrippa. In A. D. 218, Dion Cassius mentions it as a clear premonition of the death of Macrinus. In 451, it was thought to presage the death of Attila, King of the Huns, in 837 of Louis de Babonnaire, King of the Franks, in 1066 of Harold, King of England, and in 1223 of Phillip Augustus, king of France.

The "Champlain" monument which was shipped on Thursday last by Epps Dodds & Co. to be erected on Queen square, St. John, is being set up by Henry Meating and George Craig. The work is expected to be completed about the middle of this week. The monument is one of the largest ever shipped out of St. George, and the workmanship on the stone cannot be excelled in Canada. The monument weighs somewhere in the vicinity of 31,000 pounds.

Be sure and take in the musical entertainment on Friday evening May 27th, in Court's Hall, under the auspices of the St. George band class. Besides solo and duet by the best local talent there will be step dancing by Mr. Warren Nesbitt of St. Stephen Piano solos by Miss Jennie Meating who has just returned from a seven months course of music in Boston under Prof. Oarthy, and hand selections. Proceeds to help buy instruments and music; a dance will be held after the entertainment with music by the band orchestra of seven pieces and piano.

The annual intercollegiate track meet will be held at St. Stephen on Friday. The colleges represented will be the University of N. B., Mt. Allison and Acadia. The trophy is a silver cup which one team must win five times to come into permanent possession of same. Acadia has won it four times. U. N. B. twice and Mt. Allison once. Acadia in late years has had by far the best team, but this year is handicapped by the absence of Molan, her crack sprinter. U. N. B. and Mt. Allison each have strong teams and the meet is expected to be very close.

The St. John Telegraph is authority for the statement that last year seven thousand persons passed through that city to become permanent residents of the United States. This year, the average already reaches twenty per day. This is a rather serious state of affairs which should be taken up by the provincial and federal authorities. Neither authority alone can efficiently deal with the problem. The provinces are not in a position to pay the cost of transporting these people to the Canadian West, if that were considered advisable. The federal authorities have always refused to take any interest in the movement of population from one province to another because of these two chairs, the migrating maritime citizen falls down between them and lands in the United States.

We criticize the British authorities for their neglect in not directing British emigration to the colonies. But what better are we? We allow our citizens to stream into the United States without making the slightest effort to direct them to the newer parts of Canada. Some of them would go anyway, but if our governments were active some would remain at home and some would go to other provinces.

After all, we do not need the real problems of the country. We are making Canada a safe British birth then colonies, happy and happy-go-lucky.

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

You Won't Know the Place

Visitors to St. John at Exhibitions in past years are quite familiar with the general aspect of the Fair grounds—the buildings and general surroundings—but this year when Canada's National Exposition, the Dominion Fair, takes place from September 5th to 15th, the conditions, both outdoors and indoors, will be so greatly changed that former visitors will think they have arrived at a new place. Heretofore the open area between buildings has been exposed to the sea breezes of the Bay of Fundy, which at night, particularly, has frequently proven an uncomfortable condition; but hereafter the new Horticultural building, immense Grand Stand and Pike structures will close in the exposed side of the field, converting the grounds into a court of enclosure. The new Horticultural building, to be 150 feet long by 60 feet wide, and 3 stories in height, is planned to adjoin the wing of the Main Industrial building, running in an easterly direction towards Courtney Bay. The new Grand Stand, to be 208 feet by 40 deep, with accommodations for 1,750 people, is to be situated in the south-east corner of the area, nearly directly opposite the old Grand Stand, which has been torn down by the Dominion military authorities to make room for an armory. In past years the Pike or Midway attractions have been located directly in the path of patrons walking from the main buildings across the field to the Live-Stock display; but this year this open ground is to be reserved for specially new and original amusement features, while the Pike is laid out in the rear of the new Grand Stand, following a semi-circular course towards Amusement Halls. So many applications have been received for places on this avenue of amusement that visitors will certainly be drawn in this direction, not only by the blaze of white light, but by the sound of weird harmonies strung along bally-hoo men and side-show "barbers." There will be new horse barns, immense new cattle sheds, new piggy and sheep pens, also new accommodations for poultry and pet stock. The transportation exhibits are to be shown in the Military Drill Hall, which the Dominion Government has kindly placed at the disposal of the Exhibition Association. In the centre of the large ground space a stock display ring has been mapped out, in which horses will be exercised and competing animals demonstrated. This track will be one-sixth of a mile in circumference. On the whole, the Dominion fair will contain many surprises for those who have been familiar with St. John's Exhibitions in the past.

They had just got back from a trip abroad, and were telling some callers all about it. They had taken their motor, as the story abundantly shows. "And did you go through Berlin, too?" asked one of the callers. "I should love to see Berlin!" "Did we, dear?" said the wife to the husband. "Yes," replied the busy man, from behind his paper. "Don't you remember we bought some gasoline there?" "And Paris—did you stop in Paris?" continued the caller. "Did we, dear?" asked the wife of her better half. "Why, of course. Don't you know we busted a tire there and had to have a new one put on!"

HE TOOK THE CAKE.

A Story of William Black, the Revellot, and Mary Anderson.

One time when Mary Anderson was playing in the 'Winter's Tale,' in Dublin, William Black, the novelist, who was very intimate with Miss Anderson and her family, insisted upon assuming the part of one of the supers, who was dressed as a very old man with a venerable beard and locks and fell upon his shoulders.

When Black went upon the stage in this disguise he walked about among his fellow supers with unceasing restlessness, and, judging by the wild motions of his arms, seemed to be addressing to each in turn an impassioned harangue. The audience began to wonder who the new actor was and what he was doing in a play in which neither Shakespeare nor the stage managers ever intended him to appear.

Presently came the time when it was the business of Perdita to distribute flowers among whom the Black had his place. Miss Anderson, carrying on the practical jokes of the family circle, had prepared a surprise for this moment, and having distributed flowers among the less favored supers, she handed to Black a large cake crowned with a wreath of laurel, saying as she did so, 'You take it,' in allusion to his triumphs in the contest of wits at the supper table.

To her consternation, Black showed that he was quite prepared to carry out the jest, for, taking the cake from the hand of Perdita, he immediately distributed it in substantial portions to his hungry fellow supers, who, finding it to be of excellent quality, began to munch it greedily under the eyes of the house-Exchange.

Counting the Cash

A business man, whose chief expenditures are made by check, lets his daughter keep books on the change he spends out of pocket, largely with the purpose of teaching her something about accounts. Every night after dinner he counts his cash and compares the amount with last evening's amount, also specifying any money that has been added to his pocket money through the day. Then he enumerates all his expenditures for the day, item by item, and the girl sets them down. Ten per cent of what he has spent each day is credited to her and deposited to her account, while for the amount of every item that he is unable to remember he adds a like amount.

Pocket schemes are adaptable to the man or woman who receives money as well as to the one who spends it.

There is an old story of a merchant who had two pockets for money, into one putting all that was paid him, and out of the other paying all bills. This yarn is frequently told to illustrate the success of rudimentary bookkeeping, and to point a moral against too great detail in accounts, the narrator usually adding, vaguely, that that merchant died a millionaire.

A news-stand proprietor in New York keeps money in three pockets. His stock of bills is varied, consisting of daily papers, magazines and novelties. There are returnable goods to be sent back, and the nature of his trade in daily papers makes it difficult to use a cash register. So he divides the stock into three groups—newspapers, periodicals and novelties. There is a pocket for each. Receipts are put away in the proper pocket, and payments for new stock in that particular group made out of it. No matter how fast he works, the money is all sorted and accounted for with no delay. Every night, by counting cash on hand for each group and roughly estimating stock on hand, he knows where he stands.

GENERAL NEWS.

It is estimated that the automobile for physicians' use, does the work of two horses in 40 per cent less time.

The honor of being the first woman Licentiate appointed by the Royal College of Physicians in England, has fallen to an Indian lady, Miss Dossibai Rustomji Cowaji Patel, who has just passed the required examinations.

The third fatal boating accident within a week took place in Halifax harbor on Monday, when John Douglas and Bert Himmelton, of Eastern Passage, lost their lives while returning from McNabs Island in a sail boat. They were moving under full sail when the boat struck a breakwater and capsized.

The fish catch in the Arctic ocean along the Siberian coasts amounts, each year, to about 40,000,000 pounds worth about $1,800,000. The yield of the Amur district is 80,000,000 pounds worth $1,400,000. These figures do not include the millions of pounds consumed by the local population and their dogs. All told, the annual fish catch of Asiatic Russia is 156,000,000 pounds worth $4,000,000.

The forty-fourth annual report of Dr. Barnardo's Homes, for the year ended Dec. 31 last, shows the total income for the year to be 263,009 pounds, of which 149,470 pounds was made up of donations, subscriptions, and collections for general purposes, 22,141 pounds for special buildings, etc., and 91,388 lbs. legacies. The total amount subscribed to the homes since their foundation by the late Dr. Barnardo in 1866 is 4,227,896 pounds.

Montreal May 15.—It is stated here that the Dominion of Canada Securities Company, composed of the Earl of Denbigh, John Howard, Agent-General of Nova Scotia in London, Sir Fred Gordon, Hon. A. K. McLean, and several London financiers have taken over the Dicky limits of Nova Scotia, and are about concluding a deal with the government of Nova Scotia for the immediate construction of the N. S. Eastern Railway, extending from Halifax to County Harbor and tapping the coal areas of Pictou County.

New York, May 15.—When the firemen were inspecting the ruins of a double tenement which was swept by fire in Brooklyn, early today, they came upon four burned bodies in a room in the top floor. The victims were Peter Layman, an Italian, his wife, Rosa and their two daughters, 12 and 8 years old. In the excitement occasioned by the fire the tenants trooped that the top floor was occupied and left the layman's home in flames and smoke. The cause of the fire is not known but is thought to have been set by an incendiary in a lower hall way.

Overheard on a down town car this morning—"Say, old man, you're looking very fit these days. What's in the air?" "It isn't in the air, it's in that new coffee we're using now. It brings a fellow up wonderfully. Just give it one good trial, and I'll bet when you're ordering coffee in the office you'll say—"Estimote's Coffee."

DISCUSSES "ALL-RED" ROUTE.

Will Benefit the Whole Empire, Says Hon. L. P. Brodeur.

"The question of the 'All-Red Route,'" said Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Canadian Minister of Marine and Fisheries, "is of the utmost importance to the British Empire. It is a subject upon which all politicians, irrespective of party, are unanimous. I notice that not a single opposition paper in Canada has adversely criticized Sir Wilfrid Laurier's proposal. It is not Canada alone, but the whole Empire, that will benefit by the All-Red Route. We are struggling in favor of the scheme, but it must not be thought that we are seeking it solely in order to benefit ourselves. Need I reiterate that the projected improved steamship service will bring the distant parts of the Empire nearer to the Mother Country.

Commercially and strategically the 'All-Red Route' has advantages over the Suez Canal route, and it must prove of enormous advantage to the Empire. Canada lies in a strategic position, and when she will be linked up more effectively with New Zealand and Australia on the one hand and with the British Islands on the other.

"We are building a second trans-continental railway—a Grand Trunk—which will have its terminal ports probably Prince Rupert town on the west and Halifax on the east. According to the terms of the contract it must be completed by 1911, and by then we hope that the inter-empire route will have passed beyond the realm of probability.

"The question is a big one, and we in Canada do not expect that a scheme so far-reaching can be settled off-hand in a few weeks. I have heard nothing that would lead me to think that there was a tendency on the part of the British Government or a section of the Ministerialists to disavow the approval given by Lord Elgin at the Conference. I understand that a committee of the British Ministers is now at work considering the project, leaving the question of the subsidies to be considered at a later date by a conference composed of representatives of the Home and various other governments interested. I cannot for a moment believe that either Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman or any member of the Liberal party has an intention to oppose an undertaking which would be of such great value to the commercial prosperity of the British Empire."

NEW SHRINE DEDICATED.

Memorial to Jesuit Fathers Killed by Iroquois Indians.

At Washausens, on Sturgeon Bay, about 1,000 "pilgrims" from various parts of Canada and the United States witnessed the dedication of a shrine to the memory of the Jesuit fathers, Lallemeant and Brebeuf, who were put to death by the Iroquois Indians in 1649.

The little chapel was solemnly blessed and dedicated under the title "St. Ignatius of the Martyrs" by Archbishop O'Connor, assisted by Fathers Barrelet, of Montreal, and Penetang, Birrel, of Peterboro, Hays of Brock, McKey of Brockton, and the Jesuit fathers in charge at Washausens. His Grace walked through the chapel sprinkling with holy water the seats, pictures and articles used in divine service, converting the place from an ordinary building to a house of God. After this all the priests united in chanting the litany of the saints. Solemn high mass was the next part of the service, then the sermon of the occasion by Rev. Father Moynis of Orillia.

St. Ignatius of the Martyrs is situated on what is known as Martyrs' Hill, called so on account of the belief that the summit of the hill was the exact spot on which the Indian carnage took place. It is of wood and is shaped somewhat after the fashion of a canopy in that, save for the sanctuary, it is not enclosed by walls, the roof being supported by pillars.

Standing among the vast assemblage were artists, lame persons and halt. Many of them had come a considerable distance to see a relic of their deformities in the intercession of two martyrs who were being honored.

No eulogies, however, are expected for a few days.

Lumber May Be Short.

New Brunswick lumbermen unite in the opinion that there will be not more than sixty or seventy-five per cent of the lumber cut on the St. John River this coming winter that there was last season, and there have been few, if any, men sent to the woods yet to prepare for the opening of operations. Wages will not be as large this year as they were last year. It is expected that $30 will be paid. The stringency in the money market is one of the reasons for the present doubtful outlook of the lumbering business. Lumbermen had that they have to pay larger interest on loans. Then a presidential year in the United States as a rule is a poor year for lumbering, and lumbermen on this side will watch with interest the result of the election. Then, again, the cut this year has been a heavy one, and the market is felt to be glutted, and will be more so at the end of the present sawing season.

Americans in Ontario.

There are only seven genuine United Statesers in Kingston entitled to the privilege of citizens of a foreign country in Canada. In all Ontario out of 1,000 or more persons of American birth, not more than 300 can register. The rest have lost their rights, as they were in Canada said to be business men. They must pay taxes, as they get Canadian protection and advantages. They had no taken the oath of allegiance, but through Canadian citizenship they were on property qualification, some of them also voting in United States elections. In Kingston there are 200 Americans, but only seventy-five registered. It is said that the demand for citizenship will shut out many more being in Canada from services on United States vessels.

A distinguished foreigner visiting Ripson Downs in Thackeray's company noticed many men dressed as sailors who were not, to native and experienced eyes, the real article.
"Ah," said the visitor, "these are, I suppose, what you call your British tars?"
"Oh, no," replied Thackeray, "only Ripson salts."

"See here, young man," said the irate father, "your college principal says he doesn't know of anything you would be likely to make a success of. Now, sir, I'd like to know what you intend to make of yourself?" "Give up father," replied the young man. "How do you expect me to answer a question that even a college professor cannot answer?"

The lady was about to deliver a temperance lecture and thought it well to get her information at first hand, so she interviewed a working man. "Is it true," she asked, "that you working men drink a great quantity of beer every day?"
"I don't know, ma'am," he replied; "it all depends. Some days I've seen me drink eighteen or twenty pints; while, on the other hand, some days, I've seen me drink quite a lot."

He rejoiced in the pleasing name of Wood, and prided himself on his jokes, and smart repartees. One day he met a friend whose name was Stone, and naturally a name like this was too good a chance to miss.
"Good morning, Mr. Stone," he said pleasantly; "and how is Mrs. Stone and all the little pebbles?"
"Quite well, thank you, Mr. Wood; and how is Mrs. Wood and all the little splinters?"

A giant and killed Scotsman recently made his appearance in a country village and was endeavoring to charm the locals to charity with selections on his bagpipes. A shaggy-haired man opened the front door of a house and beckoned to the minstrel "Go on a wee bit till just out here," he said, in an accent which told that he also was from the land of the heags. "My said mother's in a cretical condition oopstair. The doctor's we're noo, and says the pipes may save her life." Up and down in front of the house marched the brow Highland, discouraging music that might well have been incidental to a cat and dog fight. Presently the shaggy-haired man came out again. "Go on the 'Dead March' noo," he said. "Is the pair said lady gone?" questioned the piper. "Fu, as mair, we've saved mither," came the reply; "but we've killed the pair doctor."

The King's Birthday

ten days after that of Queen Victoria's historic May 24th, King Edward's birthday came in November, which was a poor time, so far as Canada's concerned, the weather at that time being too cold for holding enjoyment. Hence, in his reign it was customary to celebrate his birthday on May 24th. However, seeing the new king's fatal day comes at the most beautiful time of the year, it is possible the Empire will go back to the old custom of celebrating the Sovereign's birthday on the actual anniversary of his birth.

Moments With Marcus

Aurelius

Think it no shame to accept help. Thy work in life is to do thy duty like a soldier at the storming of a fortress. How then, if being halt and maimed thou canst not, of thyself, scale the battlements while with another's aid thou mayest?

Let not the future trouble thee; thou wilt encounter it, if need be, with the same sword of reason in thy hand that now serves thee against the present.

An electric storm passed over Lubeck about noon time Wednesday which lasted but a short time but was severe while it lasted. The lightning gave large number of the towns people a scare, but did little damage. Electric light bulbs were broken in C. L. Adams, store and at the can plant and in other places. At the can plant the machinery in part was put out of commission, and the machinist at the Seacoast plant was slightly stunned for a few moments. At the school house the lightning ran in vivid streams along the fire escapes starting the entire school. The lightning played in the rear end of a dump cart on Water street, and together with a heavy clap sent the horse dashing down the street followed by others. For a few seconds things were exceptionally lively through the entire town.—Calais Times.

Synopsis of Canadian North West Land Regulations.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North West Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved may be homesteaded by any person the sole head of a family, or male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section (160 acres, more or less). Application for homestead entry or inspection must be made in person by the applicant at the office of the local Agent or Sub-Agent.

An Application for entry or inspection made personally at any Sub-agent's office may be filed to the local Agent by the Sub-agent, at the expense of the applicant, and if the land applied for a recent on receipt of the telegram such application is to have priority and the land will be held until the necessary papers to complete the transaction are received by mail.

In case of "personation" the entry and only one application for inspection will be received from an individual until that application has been disposed of.

A homesteader whose entry is in good standing and not liable to cancellation, may, subject to approval of Department, relinquish it in favour of father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister, if eligible, but to no one else, on filing declaration of abandonment.

When an entry is summarily cancelled or voluntarily abandoned, subsequent to institution of cancellation proceedings, the applicant will lose any prior right of re-entry, should the land become vacant, or if entry has been granted it may be summarily cancelled.

When a section is required to perform the conditions under one of the following rules:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father or mother, if the father is deceased, of a homesteader resides upon a farm, in the vicinity of the land entered for by such homesteader the requirement as to residence may be satisfied by such person remaining with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirement may be satisfied by residence upon such land.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Silence!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which soon indicate. The thought of examination is abhorrent to them, and so they endure a condition of disease which slowly progresses from bad to worse.

It has been Dr. Pierce's privilege to cure a great many women who have found a refuge for modesty in his offer of FREE consultation by letter. His correspondence is held so secretly confidential, that even Dr. A. T. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores and regulates the womanly functions, dispels pain and builds up and puts the finishing touch of health on every weak woman who gives it a fair trial.

It makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

You can't afford to attempt a cure without first consulting for this non-dosable medicine or source connection.

MC2465 POOR DOCUMENT

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

Did you ever hear any one say they could not get good coffee except in the States?

I have heard it, scores of times, and it's one of the reasons that made me decide to go into the Coffee business.

Of the Americans who visit us in summer, hundreds take home a supply of Red Rose Tea because they have never used such good tea before. I determined to put up a coffee that would make for itself just as good a reputation. It has not been easy, but I am sure I have succeeded.

Estabrooks' Red Rose Coffee, put up in sealed tins is well, it's good coffee. You and your American friends will say so.

A good combination is Estabrooks' Coffee for breakfast and Red Rose Tea for other meals.

How he got Even.

A travelling man who stutters spent all afternoon in trying to sell a grouchy business man a bill of goods, and was not very successful.

As the salesman was locking up his grip the grouchy was impolite enough to observe in the presence of his clerks:

"You must find that impoliteness in your speech very inconvenient at times."

"Oh, no-no," replied the salesman, "I've you've has his p-peculiarly. S-stammering is mine. What's y-yours?"

"I am not aware that I have any," replied the merchant.

"I-do you stir y-your coffee with your right hand?" asked the salesman.

"Why, yes, of course," replied the merchant, a bit puzzled.

"W-well," went on the salesman, that's your p-peculiarly. Most people use a t-teaspoon."

PAINT PAINT

INVESTIGATE BEFORE YOU BUY!

In these days of sharp competition, it is well to know that you get what you pay for. There are so many brands of house paints on the market, now-a-days, advertised as "pure" (but little better than "dope"), that a man ought to investigate what he intends to buy. We suggest to those about to paint, to make a practical test and convince themselves. Buy a small can of and one of any other brand with which you may have been favorably impressed, selecting about the same colors, and paint a few feet. Carefully measure the paint, so that you use no more of one than you do of the other. Thus, with the conditions the same, you can determine for yourself which paint has the better body or covering capacity; which is the easier brushing out and has the better finish. If you do not decide in favor of The Martin-Senour 100 Per Cent Pure Paint, we will return the money paid for the can of the Pure Paint used in making the experiment. We have no doubt as to your decision, and are prepared to supply you with the BEST PAINT on the market.
