Poetry.

THE HUNTERS SONG.

BY ALICE CART.

I know a mountain high,
With its head against the sky,
Where the sturdy eagles fly
East and West—
There at morning's rubly gleam,
And in evening's purple beam,
I have heard the merrily scream
From the nest!

Oh, I love that mountain high,
With its head against the sky,
And the hungry merrily cry,
All forlorn!
For as winds went to and fro,
Cutting furrows through the snow,
In a hunter's lowly bow,
I was born.

O, I love the rocky glade,
Where my little brothers played,
Where together they are laid
In green beds;
With a water murmuring high
Its eternal lullaby,
And a blue strip of the sky
At their heads.

Miscellany.

Couldn't Tell.

A few evenings since a Mr. Slocum was reading an account of a dreadful accident which happened at the factory in Lowell, and which the newspaper had described in a great many words.

"I declare, wife, that was a fearful accident over to the mill," Mr. Slocum said.

"What is it about, Mr. Slocum?"

"I'll read the 'count, wife, and then you will know all about it."

Mr. S. began to read:

"Horrible and fatal accident.—It becomes our melancholy and painful duty to record the particulars of an accident that occurred at the mill in this place, yesterday afternoon, by which a human being in the prime of life was hurried to that bourne from which no traveller returns."

"Du tell!" exclaimed Mrs. S.

"Mr. David Jones, a workman, who has but few superfluous words, was superintending one of the large drums."

"I wonder if it was a brass drum, such as 'Epiphany Bunch' printed on?" said Mrs. Slocum.

"When he became entangled, the arms were drawn around the drum, and finally his whole body was drawn over the shaft at a fearful rate. When his situation was discovered he had revolved with immense velocity about fifteen minutes, his head and limbs striking a large beam with a distinct blow at each revolution."

"Four creature! how it must have hurt him!"

"When the machinery had been stopped it was found that Mr. Jones' arms and legs were mangled to a jelly."

"Well, didn't it kill him?" asked Mrs. Slocum, with increasing interest.

"Portions of the 'dura mater, cerebrum and cerebellum' in confused masses, were scattered about the floor; in short the gates of eternity had opened upon him."

Here Mr. Slocum paused to wipe his spectacles, and his wife seized the opportunity to press the question.

"Was the man killed?"

"I don't know—haven't come to that yet; you'll know when I've finished the piece."

And Mr. S. continued reading:

"It was evident that the man's form was taken down, that it was no longer tenanted by the immortal spirit; that the vital spark was extinct."

"Was the man killed?—that's what I want to come at," said Mrs. Slocum.

"I'll hate a little patience," said Mrs. S. eyeing his better half over his spectacles. "I presume we shall come upon it right away."

And he went on reading:

"This fatal casualty has cast a gloom over our city, and we trust that it will prove a warning to all persons who are called upon to regulate the most powerful machinery of our mills."

"Law," said Mrs. Slocum, perceiving that the narrative was ended, "now, I should like to know whether the man was killed or not."

Mr. Slocum looked puzzled. He scratched his head, scrutinized the article he had been perusing, and took a graceful survey of the paper.

"I declare wife," said he, "it's curious, but really the paper don't say!"

"Fiddle would never owe, and tell how would never pay!"

Col. Adelfson's Letter.

[To the Editor of the Globe.]

FREDERICTON, 11th July, 1867.

Sir,—I notice with satisfaction the "Reporter's" critique on the last letter of mine, which you were kind enough to publish, both on account of its courteous tone, and because by replying to it, I can at the same time discover "One of the Public" I wish, in all good-faith, to point out to the "Reporter" that not only has he not contradicted a single statement of mine, but that he is misinformed as to facts.

In taking York as an example, I selected a County known to the "Reporter" and myself, and which, from being the Headquarters of the Military and Militia Brigades, and the Station of a particularly smart Regiment, might naturally be supposed to enjoy peculiar advantages.

The "Reporter" wisely omits all notice of the three Battalions of York Militia, and only states that the fact that the Volunteers of Fredericton number less than one half of what they turned out two years ago, is not a conclusive proof of my argument. Sir, I could easily bring further and stronger proof, if I needed were.

The effective Volunteers of the Province only number 1,493, against 1,717 in 1864. The term "non-effective" as applied to Volunteers, I do not understand. The "Reporter" states, "as regards the Militia," "the number of well-drilled officers appears to have been added to," and their efficiency being tested by a Board of Examination.

Now, as the benefit in this case seems only to be apparent, and the Board involved the services of an officer of the 22nd, costing the Province a sum of $284.02. I shall have the Commanding Officers of the Battalions examined to state the probable advantages of this expensive test. The House Guards were raised and organized by the energy of individuals, not by the present Administration.

The 1,440 officers and men who have derived instruction at the Camp, owe it to the labors of the Militia Committee assembled in January 1865, not one of whom, I am certain, will say that their ideas have been fully carried out. The first Camp was intended to have the assistance of Capt. Nangle, 15th Foot, as Brigade Major, and a bugler and half a dozen drill instructors from the same regiment; the second Camp was to have no assistance at all; in place of which, the 15th regiment gave more assistance than ever at a charge of $847.20.

The "Reporter" correctly states that in my Report, I recommended the appointment of one officer, a store-keeper. In 1864-65, the paid Staff consisted of the Adjutant General at $800, and the Quartermaster General at $100 per annum. For this the Quartermaster General had charge of the stores—viz. 38, 30, and 100, and considerable frontage in the House of Commons. The Adjutant General conducted the whole of the other duties which were, at that time, quite as heavy as they are now.

When the necessity of the service permitted, he gladly availed himself of the services of a most efficient clerk; but this was paid by himself at the rate of $15 per month. I have previously stated that the whole Staff charges, whatsoever, amounted to $1,235.37, and the total expense for Militia and Volunteers to $8,946.92, including the former sum. The "Reporter" states that the "better organization" to which I take so much exception, only consisted of three extra officers at an aggregate salary of $1,400. This is pretty well, but it is very far from being the Auditor General's opinion, which is to the effect that during the year ending 31st October, 1866, the following Staff Officers were paid by the Province:—

1 Adjutant General,
1 Deputy do.,
1 do. Artillery,
1 Inspecting Field Officer,
1 Assistant General's Clerk,
1 Quartermaster General,
2 Storekeepers.

Total, 8

Now, although many of these gentlemen served only a portion of the year, some only for a couple of months, I find that they drew amongst them $4,173.48, exclusive of allowances for postage, stationery, telegrams, office rent, fuel, labor in stores, carpentering, washhand stuffs, &c., &c. Surely the "Reporter" can't mean that because I recommended the addition of one storekeeper to the establishment, I advocated a Staff of not at least larger than that of the Horse Guards, y-e-t, out of all proportion to the numerous duties which they performed for $30,0

It is estimated that the great naval review which occurred yesterday off Spithead cost £50,000 sterling. One gunboat was driven ashore during a rain-storm which prevailed at the time, but beyond this no accident occurred. The rain also interfered with the programme of the volunteers and the proposed illumination of the fleet in the evening.

The Hong Kong newspapers denounce the Cooly trade as practiced by the Portuguese. They state that personal punishment is often inflicted by them on Chinamen who refuse to ship and that other undue means are used to make them change their determination. They also give instances of kidnapping of girls and women who are carried off in various ways for infamous purposes. Men are violently carried off and shipped to South America as Coolies.

The papers call upon civilized nations to stop this horrible traffic, even if it should be necessary to displace the Portuguese engaged in it.

EASTERN BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.—The Ministers and Delegates from the Churches in connection with the Eastern Baptist Association, met in conference in the Baptist Church Hillside, on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday last. The Association organized by the appointment of Rev. Thomas Todd, Moderator, the Rev. A. B. McDonald and Rev. W. A. Carey, Secretaries, and Mr. Michael Gross, Treasurer. The business transacted was of the usual routine character, and all deliberations of the body were conducted in a spirit of harmony and conciliation. A very large number of visitors were present during the session.—[Eastern Advocate.]

At the recent sitting of the Circuit Court in Albert, the trial of Tingley Pye, for the murder of Freeman Tingley on board the "Ottawa," on the 13th March last, occupied attention for two days. The jury retired, and after an hour's absence, agreed on the following verdict:—

"The jury find the prisoner guilty of shooting Freeman Tingley on the 13th March last on board the vessel 'Ottawa,' but they acquit him of any felony on account of his being in sane at that time."

The Judge then ordered the prisoner to be kept in close confinement until the pleasure of the Governor be known.

Mr. Skinner conducted the case for the Crown, and Mr. A. L. Palmer for the prisoner.

THE STANDARDS.

ST. ANDREWS, JULY 24, 1867.

THE SPECIAL SESSIONS held on Friday last, in the Court House, was the largest and best attended meeting which we have seen for many years. The old, the new, and recently fledged Justices were present, and we may state that the Bench was well represented.

The questions for consideration affected in most instances the welfare of the County, sectional and general, and were as follows:—

1st. To adopt measures to meet the liabilities incurred by the School Committee of the Town District in St. Andrews.

2d. To provide means to pay the expense of procuring information to be submitted to the proper authorities, with a view of influencing the construction of the Intercolonial Railway by the erection of a Town Hall.

3d. To assess the Parish of St. David for the erection of a Town Hall.

4th. To provide a sum of two hundred and fifty dollars for the survey of the line of Railroad from the St. Andrews line to the boundary of the Province towards Houlton.

Justice Cotterell, was appointed chairman, and filled the position with much ease and credit. The subjects were then taken up seriatim. The following Justices present:—

Justices Watson, Stevenson, S. H. Whitlock, Russell, Smith, Crilly, Smart, Gore, Donald, McElroy, Bradley, Hibbard, Callinan, Johnson, Magee, Rierdan, C. E. O. Hatheway, Hanson, Gillmore, Lynott, McCallum, Moore, Simpson, Murdoch, Mealy, Chipman, Rose, Stevens, Boyd, Stickney, King, Young, Street, Dick.

It was ORDERED.—That $400 of the Town fund be paid over to the School Committee of District No. 1, St. Andrews, to meet the liabilities incurred in providing School accommodation for said District, and the assessment now ordered for School purposes in the District when collected to be paid over to the Justices, the same to be done within twelve months.

Whereas, it is of great importance to the whole County of Charlotte, to procure the most complete information to be laid before the Parliament at Ottawa, in reference to the best route for the Intercolonial Railway, therefore

RESOLVED.—That this Court viewing the great benefit that would accrue to the County of Charlotte if the Intercolonial Railway should go by the Western route, deem it advisable, that the Grand Jury to meet in September next, be asked to recommend an assessment of $1,000 upon this County, and that the necessary legislation may be had therefor, that the same may be expended in procuring information to be laid before the Parliament at Ottawa; except $250 thereof to go in aid of individual subscription for the purpose of surveying the Branch Railroad from the St. Andrews Railway to the boundary of the Province towards Houlton, and that a Committee of Justices be appointed to expend and make due return of such expenditures.

On moving the above Resolution Justice Watson entered at length into the history of the Houlton Branch, and urged immediate action with reference to obtaining such statistical and other information as would have a bearing upon the Parliament and Government at Ottawa, to induce them to decide upon the Western route for the Intercolonial Railway. Mr. Watson's earnest manner and desire to benefit his native County, together with the convincing arguments he used, and facts which he adduced, gained him an attentive hearing, and frequent applause. After some few observations from other Justices the resolution passed unanimously with the exception of one voice, whose feeble opposition is scarcely worth alluding to. The meeting was harmonious, and one of the best we ever attended.

ORDERED.—That there be assessed upon the Parish of St. David, the sum of $300 towards the building of a Town Hall, in accordance with the Act of the Legislature providing for such assessment.

We have been furnished with the following comparative statement, and have much pleasure in publishing it, as it shows a most respectable increase in the earnings of our Railway. The loss in January and February arose from the heavy snow storms. The traffic in June we notice exceeded that of the E. & N. Railway by $2053.07! This speaks well for our Railway:—

A FIENDISH ACT.—We are informed that an old man named Knapp attempted to kill his wife on Saturday last at Mars Hill, Aroostook. He held her by the wrist and shot her a number of times, one ball passing through her hand, another grazing her temple, and a third striking near the heart. The last wound is dangerous, but it is thought she will recover. Knapp was arrested and confined in Houlton jail.

The Sackville Borderer says:—A letter was received here on Friday last from Illinois by the relatives of the late Mr. Andrew Kimball, (who left this village some years ago for that part of America) informing them of his sudden death, by being thrown from a wagon whilst he was driving a span of horses. The deceased had accumulated considerable property and was doing well.

FOUND DEAD.—Yesterday morning about 5 o'clock the body of Mr. Geo. M. Jack was found lying at the foot of a back flight of stairs in Mrs. Ansley's Boarding House, Germain street, cold and lifeless, head downward. Owing to the smallness of the stock of sound flour in St. John, caused by the caution of consignors in selling breadstuffs to a declining market, while the regular flour merchants trust to consignments to supply the market, flour has within the last week advanced in St. John from 50c to $1 a barrel according to grade. A flour does not advance in price at centres of supply, and the crops are unusually good, the advance can only be temporarily sustained.

It is ordered in Council, that any person who has procured Land under the Labor Act, (or his Assigns) before the 1st day of January, 1867, but has not yet received and improved as prescribed by the Regulations, may apply to have the same cancelled and the Lot advertised for sale by Public Auction, subject to the payment of the value of existing improvements, and if such person or his assigns be the purchaser, fifty per cent of the labor returned will be credited on the purchase.
It is further ordered, that all Sales before the 1st day of January, 1867, to persons under the Labor Act, and not yet granted, shall be cancelled on the 1st day of November, 1868, and the Lands then become vacant, unless such persons do previously perform the necessary conditions of payment, improvement, and residence, or avail themselves of the privilege above offered.
