CANADA. The East-Ontario and the Maritime Provinces.

From A Correspondent to the London Times. MARCH 20th. The brains and pith and marrow of the country are still in the Eastern Provinces; that these are still the centre of political force, of the country's progress, wealth, and culture, of those decisive characteristics which have given Canada its strong individuality, and will, for many years to come, chiefly mould its future; that, in fact, the North-West is but a yesterday's offshoot and creation of the sturdy life which has been steadily growing up for a long time in the East.

It would therefore leave a very strong impression on readers in other parts of the Empire to lay the emphasis, in discussing Canada's affairs, on the West, to the exclusion of the East. An opposite course would at the present moment be more just. The great possibilities of the prairie country have impressed the imagination of people at a distance, and have made it, during the last few years, rather unduly overvalued.

As far as political and social power goes, the latter constitute by far the greater part of Canada. Of 80 members of the Dominion Senate 72 come from the east and but eight from the west of Lake Superior. In the House of Commons the proportion is 200 to 15, while of the Western representatives themselves, excluding those of British Columbia, a large majority were born and bred in the East.

These figures will enable the reader to form in his own mind some fair balance of the relative present proportions and influence of the two sections of the country.

Nor must it be thought that the developments of the future belong to the West alone. All the Eastern Provinces still have large unoccupied areas, while their resources are much more varied than those of the somewhat monotonous West. Eastern Canada is a country of seacoast, islands, peninsulas, great rivers, and lakes; of splendid fisheries; of varied scenery and climate; of coal, timber, iron, and gold; precisely that combination of condition and resources which history has proved most favourable to human progress.

Passing by the Province of Quebec for the present, as requiring individual treatment, I go on to the Maritime Provinces—New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island. Here the industrial position during the last 15 or 20 years has been very peculiar. For a long time the chief industries, those which occupied the great mass of the population, were lumbering, shipbuilding, and fishing. The finest pine timber has now become partially exhausted. Spruce timber, which at present constitutes the principal export, grows on soil not very well suited for agriculture, reproduces itself rapidly if the forests are protected from fire, and will therefore remain a permanent industry, though not one capable of maintaining a large population. Besides, the timber trade is very uncertain, and subject to serious fluctuations from variation of snowfall and flood.

The substitution of iron for wood in shipbuilding has had a disastrous effect upon several formerly prosperous communities. Places like St. John and Yarmouth, which 25 years ago had more tonnage afloat in proportion to population than any places of equal size in the world, have seen the carrying trade which brought them wealth gradually slipping away without chance of recovery, and in the effort to maintain an almost hopeless contest many large shipping firms have come to grief.

The fishing and agricultural industries have been seriously affected by American legislation in the case of agriculture chiefly from want of organizing capacity among the people to meet new conditions.

All these circumstances have weighed heavily against the provinces. The destruction by fire in 1877 of nearly the whole city of St. John, and the consequent ruin, though in many cases delayed a few years, of its leading commercial firms made the situation more precarious. The falling off of the West Indian trade left Halifax for a time without one of its chief means of support, but this is now again reviving. The facts which I have mentioned are quite sufficient to account for severe depression in any communities not having extraordinary industry. But there has been a lack, among the mass of the people, even of such energy as might fairly have been expected. There is perfectly manifest to the observer who has the opportunity of making comparisons with other communities, but would require too much space to discuss fully here. Partly a business fatalism, the offspring, I think, of long subjection to the ineluctable chances of the lumber and fishing industries; partly careless habits of farm work induced by the same employment; partly the hope constantly indulged of help from some god's hand thrust out from the political machine; this, perhaps, embodies in the fewest possible words what one wishes to express. Surely nowhere in our side British Empire, or in any other country, have so much talent, effort, and time been spent in trying to squeeze public and private prosperity out of politics as in

Lady Henry Somerset at Home in London.

Her Work and How She Does It. BY FRANCES E. WILLARD. Resident of the World's W. C. T. U.

It would be inaccurate to speak of Lady Henry Somerset as being especially at home in London, though she has a house there always open and ready when it suits her convenience to occupy the same for days or weeks. Her beautiful Castle of Eastnor is over a hundred miles from the Babel of the metropolis, and her charming seat at Reigate Priory is more than twenty miles from the modern Babylon. She often says that two of the cardinal principles of her life until within a few years were these: First, I will live in the country; second I will not travel.

While bringing up her son, Henry Somerset, now nearly nineteen years of age and about to enter Oxford University, Lady Henry adhered strictly to these rules. But she has now become so much involved in temperance work and the philanthropies closely associated with that great reform that she has been obliged to restate her principles. This she has not done in so many words, but in action. The change is to the following effect: First, I have no home; second, I am obliged to be on the wing, and the round earth is my parish. For Lady Henry is Vice-President at large of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and letters come to her from every nook and corner of the earth urging her presence and help in the foundation of national and local unions. From seventy-five to one hundred letters a day and from a dozen to twenty-telegrams must be taken care of as a mere incident of her greatly preoccupied life. Engagements with leaders with whom conference is desirable occupy much time; her conferences with women whom she desires to enlighten take her out through the towns and cities of Great Britain, and her attendance at great mass-meetings in the strategic centres makes the final draft upon her strength.

All these first, exclusive of an immense business which she insists upon knowing the "true inwardness." Her estates at Eastnor are fifteen miles in length, and the number of her tenants there, at Reigate, and in Somers Town, London, is very large. Besides this she has the care of her relations in the middle class, which is so well defined in England. But the health, education and interests of her son are paramount to all other considerations. He is a fine young fellow, over six feet tall, and resembles his mother in general appearance, having the same dark eyes, dark hair, and fresh complexion; he is devotedly attached to her, and is an exemplary young man in the purposes and habits of his life.

Lady Henry has each of her three homes well supplied with servants and kept open the year round, as she can never tell to which she may wish to go on account of her own engagements or in order to entertain friends. She does a great deal in the way of giving holidays, vacations, and outings to those who otherwise would not know what a pleasant thing these variations are in the lives of those who have not the money to provide themselves with such pleasures.

Like all other English women of her antecedents and training, Lady Henry sits up late at night, and hence rises late in the morning, taking a light French breakfast in bed between eight and nine, and having breakfast about ten, lunch between one and two, tea at five, and dinner anywhere between six and eight o'clock. She reads her innumerable letters as rapidly as they come, unless they are purely routine letters, when they go to her secretary.

Lady Henry sits with stenographers all day long, unless she is obliged, which is usually the case, to attend committees or fulfill engagements. Her greatest deprivation is the lack of time to go to books, as she has always been devoted to books, it is pathetic to see her put a copy Tennyson, Wordsworth, Drummond, or Matthew Arnold in her travelling bag, hoping to get a few minutes to read on the train or in the intervals of meeting. She works as busily on the cars as in her office, and has immense power of concentration, so that she throws off letters, articles, paragraphs, speeches, with remarkable facility. Perhaps nothing in the study of her life strikes one as more characteristic than that she should have become such an expert in writing, speaking, organizing, and conducting the forces of a reform movement on a great scale, when all her life until the last few years was spent in a manner so totally different; for she was wont to live at Eastnor Castle or Reigate Priory, spending a great deal of time in the open air, following the hounds, visiting old castles, and reading with a persistence of friends.

Her life was then wholly one of self-direction; now she is impelled by the exigencies of a movement which involves hundreds of thousands of co-workers.

To be continued. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures coughs, Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures colds, Wood's Norway Pine Syrup heals the lungs.

FAHM AND TURF.

—Professor Massey says that rich, moist soil is the main cause of hollow hearted potatoes.

—Green Mountain Maid has seven descendants in the 2-10 list. They are Arion, 2-07; Sunol, 2-08; Fantasy, 2-08; Palo Alto, 2-08; Little Albert, 2-10; W. Wood, 2-08; and Diablo, 2-09. All of these trace to her through Electioneer.

—An out of town dealer advertises fifty Canadian horses. It is quite probable that not one tenth part of them ever saw Canadian soil, but the "ad." caters to a popular demand.—Spirit of the Hub.

—An Ontario horseman says: The want of the present day is first-class horses. How can farmers raise them? Only by breeding from proper sires. Something should be done to prevent so many scrub stallions from travelling. Should not horsemen petition the Government to license property-bred horses and do away with so many culls. This surely would be one good move towards growing a saleable horse.

—Says a correspondent of the Turf, Form and Home: Parties in River John are trying to get back the stallion Uncle Sam for the coming season. The old fellow, though 28 years old, is still hale and hearty, and if his owners agree to part with him he will be well patronized as breeders have learned to appreciate him, a lesson which they might have learned long ago, with advantage to themselves.

—The British government in India has gone into the dairy business, to the extent of establishing dairy farms in places where troops are stationed, for their exclusive benefit. Frequent outbreaks of enteric fever have been traced to polluted milk supply, the dairy farms were established with a manifest gain in the health of the troops. The farms have generally proved self-sustaining, and that at Allahabad shows a profit.

—A novel system of breeding horses, cattle and sheep is reported from Australia. The brand is kept at the required heat by the action of electricity from storage batteries. From these a flexible tube carries the electric energy to the brand, which is heated from within. It is claimed that this brand is perfectly safe, that it marks without a blotch and is kept at a uniform temperature.

—A horse has just as much sense of humor as a man. A friend of mine, a physician, in a neighboring city, had a horse that was a practical joker. He used to tie the animal in front of his office, and at that point the gutter was depressed, and in wet weather there was usually a pool of water there. The horse would stand quietly until some passer-by was opposite him on the pavement, then raise his forefoot and with a sudden stamp splash the muddy water over him from head to foot. Whenever he succeeded in accomplishing his purpose he would squeal and dance in the most enthusiastic manner, evidently in enjoyment of the joke. His peculiarity became so well known that no one would pass where he was tied, but would cross the street rather than be splashed.—Ex.

Salaries of Public Officials.

The new Probate Act follows the principle adopted in the Registry Act and fixes the salaries for the judge and registrar as follows:

Table with 3 columns: County, Judge, Registrar. Rows include St. John, Kings, Queens, Sunbury, Carleton, Victoria, Restigouche, Gloucester, Northumberland, Kent, Westmorland, Albert, Charlotte.

The fees are to be paid in law stamps to be supplied by the government. Salaries are to be paid half yearly in July and January, provided this whole amount of fees paid throughout the province during the six preceding months amount to half the yearly payment of salaries. In case this is insufficient the counties paying the full amount will receive the salary in full and others proportionately. The act creates an official called the public procurator, who shall, if requested by an executor or administrator, attend any hearing for the passing of accounts or the sale or leasing of lands in which a decree or order may be made affecting the rights of any infant party. The public procurator shall be paid at the rate of fifteen dollars per day and mileage by the party at whose instance he attends.

"Pembroke." Miss Wilkin's latest story of New England life, was completed in HARPER'S WEEKLY for April 14th. The interest of the early chapters, continued to the very end, the denouement being natural, yet a surprise, and the story, as a whole, confirms the popular verdict that it is the finest picture yet given of rural New England life.

A LITTLE GERMAN BAND of six instruments paid Sackville a visit Monday. They came from the west and left for Moncton.

MILLINERY.—Miss J. Jordan has opened a millinery establishment at Boltonhouse Corner. Her aid will be found in another column.

STYRENE was there.—There was guile in the pen and deceit in the heart of the Port Egin correspondent to the Times who wrote recently that Rev. D. J. Allen of Sackville, was "in town". However worthy and exemplary a young man Dave may be he is not a clergyman.

A DASTARDLY TRICK.—On Monday 16th inst. after the fire was built in the furnace of the engine at Woodpoint quarries, in the temporary absence of the engineer, someone entered and turned the cocks so as to let the water run out of the boiler. The fire was very hot and the boiler would have been badly injured if the attempt had not been discovered before the water was all out.

SWORN IN.—Mr. James A. Vanwart, was sworn in judge of the Supreme court at his residence, Fredericton, at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon by Judge Tuck.

Mr. Albert T. Dunn, M. P. P. was on Saturday sworn in as a member of the local executive in the place Mr. H. A. Connell, resigned.

McGILL GLEE CLUB.—The Glee Club of McGill college which consists of twenty seven members will give a concert in Music Hall on Saturday evening May 5. They have a continental reputation and it was only by special efforts that they were induced to come here. In addition to the harp and vocal music Mr. Joseph Venble the celebrated Montreal tenor will sing. The club visits Halifax, Charlottetown, and St. John during the trip.

C. B. McDONNELL ARRESTED.—C. B. McDONNELL, editor of the Plain Dealer, was placed under arrest by Deputy Sheriff Bowers, of Dorchester, on the indictment of the grand jury, and taken to Dorchester Saturday morning. His case will come up at the next regular sitting of the county court in June. The charge laid is that he published obscene literature.

Mr. ALLEN.—The Baccalaureate sermon will be preached this year by Rev. E. B. Moore of Halifax on Sunday May 27.

Mr. ALLEN.—It is rumored that Prof. Landon will not return next year having been offered a larger salary elsewhere.

Work on the new Art Building of which cuts appear on another page will begin this week.

Perry's concerts on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings were well attended, though Tuesday's disagreeable weather probably kept some at home. The audiences were delighted with the skillful rendering and clear explanation of the pieces and gave repeated encores. The best of order prevailed.

A meeting under the auspices of the Mt. Allison mission band will be held in Beethoven Hall on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The programme will consist of solos, quartettes and choruses by the College choir and addresses by Mrs. Dalpe and Mr. Peters. A silver collection will be taken.

SHIPING.—The first vessel to leave this port this season will be schr. Alta with deals for St. John. She will return to Sackville with freight. Schr. Alaska is loading laths here for New York for Rhodes Curry & Co. of Amherst. The Alaska wintered here and has undergone extensive repairs.

The Moncton Dock delegation to Ottawa consists of Messrs John L. Harris, Captain Coonan, Mayor Sumner, Capt. Wright, and Dr. E. B. Chandler. Editor Hawke of the Transcript, who has been at Ottawa, some days was also appointed. Objections being raised he declined to accept.

ALLEGED ELOPEMENT.—The upper end of town is somewhat excited over an alleged elopement. A reporter could not verify the assertion beyond the fact that the woman, who has a husband, has rather suddenly left town. She kept a boarding house, among her lodgers being an I. C. R. employe. One of the family who now occupies the house vacated by the woman in question says that last week she sold out her furniture and on Saturday night left on the C. P. R. for the west. The man who is reported to figure in the elopement worked in the I. C. R. shops, but the latter end of last week drew his bag wages and is also said to have left the town on Saturday.—Transcript.

ON A TOUR.—One of the I. C. R. employes occasionally goes on a tour and sometimes has the consequences as mentioned in the matter is that the "blow outs" are getting serious. The second in a fortnight occurred Monday. The engine was attached to the Quebec express and started off in a lively manner. Apparently it was in good trim, but before reaching Coldbrook it began to give evidences of its condition. The engineer had occasion to blow the whistle and turned on the steam for the purpose. The train came clear and shrill, strong to say, could not be stopped. Pretty soon the passengers began to wonder what was the matter. The noise made them nervous and apprehensive of danger, but there was none. The great rush of steam through the open valve soon used up the supply and the engine was unable to go on. She was brought back and a new engine put on the train. Over an hour's delay was occasioned, and those who had started out to catch the earlier train at Hampton missed their connection.—Globe.

Local.

THE MICHIGAN ASSAULT CASE mentioned last week has been settled out of court.

A BRASS BAND Act enforcement would be of great benefit to Sackville just now. On Sunday last at least five men were reading about the main street of the village in a disgraceful state of intoxication.

THE SUNDAY TRAVELERS in Ireland had rather a rough passage on account of ice. Capt. Crozier was thrown down at times by the violence of the storm and severely injured but he is now recovering.

ON THE STRAITS.—The Northumberland made her first trip last Friday between Charlottetown and Pt. du Chene. She was unable to call at Summerside on account of ice. The I. C. R. is now accepting freight for the island by way of Pt. du Chene.

THE PLAINDEALER of Moncton has again made its appearance dated April 21 and mildly inquires "are we obscure today." Mr. MacDougal believes he will have no difficulty in establishing his innocence before the county court in June.

The steamer Miramichi leaves Moncton for Summerside for her first trip this season, Saturday 28th inst.

CONCERT AT DORCHESTER.—Messrs. Costin and Barber give their Athletic concert at Dorchester on Saturday evening. These amateurs are better in their profession than many of the professionals interested in athletic or feats of strength and skill will be well pleased with the exhibition. The literary part looked like a success and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn their loss.

His FOOT CRUSHED.—Henry Pascal young son of Mr. Henry Pascal, of Harcourt, on Saturday afternoon attempted to board Con. E. Dwyer's special from Campbellton while in motion, but missed his footing and fell on the rails the cars passing over one of his feet and crushing it. His mother and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn their loss.

DEATH.—On the 21st inst., Wm. R. Wood, of Shediac, received a telegram announcing the death on April 10, of his eldest sister, Mrs. B. B. McKay, at city hospital, N. Y., where she had undergone an operation for cancer. Deceased leaves a husband, four children one male, two girls and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn their loss.

THE SMALL POX SCARE.—Thomas Bryne son of James Bryne of Sussex returned home last week from a New York College where he had just graduated with high honors. He was unwell at the time and his illness proved to be smallpox contracted during a visit to the smallpox wards of a New York hospital just before his return. Every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease but if Dr. Bryne's illness should continue to spread in this province they could hardly have done more to bring this about than he did. After going to a small-pox hospital he had small-pox and was taken to St. John in a boat with many passengers on board, he remained there from Saturday until Monday, visiting all his friends and relatives and continuing to the convent to see his sister who is there. He then went on to Sussex, where he saw many people and after it was found that he had small-pox, his mother and sister left Sussex and went to live with friends at Norton. They were followed and quarantined. No further cases have been reported. Dr. Bryne is in a very critical condition.

FROM DARKEST AMHERST.—A number of young men and women from Amherst—presumably from the dark places for if not what must the dark places be—came over to Sackville last Wednesday to attend the Salvation army banquet and as one of the fair ones expressed it "paid this little town a visit for the first time." And indeed they did leave a fair crimson stain on the station platform, where two of the women engaged in a sanguinary struggle about 5 o'clock Thursday morning while waiting for a night freight. An eye witness states that the midnight air was filled with tumultuous murmur as well as with loud and shrill cries and the cries of the quiet citizens of Sackville rejoiced and made merry when these three Amherst picked up their escorts and departed for home and their daughterly deeds yet more to admiration the embryo toughs of Sackville. It was mentioned that on the same evening the Sackville youths also engaged in a battle like the knights of old to win the smiles of a fair and fickle dame.

STILL ANOTHER CONCERT, and a great treat. Sometimes in May the famous English boy soprano Roger Thornhill Sinclair, Solo Chorister of All Saints, London, and of the Royal College of Music may be heard by the citizens of Sackville. He has created a great sensation in Montreal and other cities of the west. He is only 13 years of age and sings the great soprano solos from the Messiah, the Creation, the Elijah, Shabbat Mater, etc. This is the first time that this kind of music has been heard here and we are sure it will be appreciated. The fact that he is accompanied by such a powerful chorus as the A. E. Harmonists of the first organists in Montreal is sufficient guarantee that he is all that is claimed for him. His reputation is endorsed by such names as Charles A. E. Harmon, George Grove, Wm. Stevenson, Hoyt, fellow of college of organists, and many others of the highest standing in England. He had great audiences every time he appeared recently in Montreal and the press notices are very warm in his praise.

ARBOR DAY.—Friday, May 18, has been appointed to be observed as Arbor Day in Inspector Smith's district No. 2.

THE CHURCH TEA.—The Church Tea which came off last Thursday evening, in Chignecto Hall was a decided success. With the aid of a few artistic people, spruce trees, Japanese lanterns, etc., the hall was transformed into a bower of beauty. The fancy table was covered with a fine display of beautiful and useful articles. The candy table received liberal patronage and before the evening was over nothing more could be obtained under the Japanese umbrella. Ice-cream was in great demand and the ladies behind this booth were kept constantly busy. Refreshments in costume, had a charming retreat and the well was always surrounded by some thirty admirers. Marsha Washington had the coolest, corn, imaginative and was very attentive to her numerous callers supplying them with tea and cake from old fashioned china. The games of the evening were very picturesque and those who had their fortunes revealed seemed well pleased with their results. The future was not the least attraction by any means was the tea. In was served in a portion of the hall set apart for the purpose. Many prizes were served in the most tempting manner. Dainty menu cards and Japanese napkins were furnished and the tables were laden with delicacies. At the close of the evening the cakes were auctioned off. The proceeds for the evening amounted to $150.

The large winding engine at the dismantled mine at Chignecto has been purchased for $2,000. The coal will be shipped from slope No. 2 and conveyed there by a hauling engine by the tail rope system.

The company is going to a large expense this spring for the purpose of increasing the capacity of the mines and cheapening production by the latest improved machinery.

The strike in local quarters is very much regretted as it will tend to discourage the company from pursuing the enterprise and spirited policy they have adopted.

In Deep Water. SOMETHING struck the Vicar in his daughter's appearance that day. He was a grim man, and generally he remarked little that did not concern his work.

What is the matter? enquired one of the company. 'I struck a false note,' she replied. 'Well, what of that?' said another. 'Nobody but Wagner would ever know it, and he's dead. Go ahead with the music.'

He began to sob. His knees shook. He wore no hat, and his grey hair was blowing about his head. The door slammed around him. Some of his parishioners gathered on the shore. The vicar sat on the ground, his head buried in his hands.
