Now this is precisely what grieves me. I believed that the first cannon shot fired by the United States against our troops would be a signal for the union and fraternity of all Spaniards, as all are equally affected by the insult of the United States. Am I mistaken? Certain parliamentary groups are in disagreement with the government, and have the pretension to make conditions in return for their support. They thus paralyze our efforts and diminish the strength which is indispensable to the government in such difficult times. Some are even intriguing, some are full of reticence, and all has been done in the name of the fatherland. Attempts have even been made to assail the monarchy, without their authors appearing Havana Maintained - Circular to imagine for a moment that this is weakening to the country, lowering to the prestige of the flag, tending to discouragement of the troops, and encouragement of our enemies.

The painful monotony of the story was broken this morning by the lists of victims killed and wounded in the attempts to obtain food. In Ciudad Real and in almost every town of the province of that name there were very serious disorders, and the outbreaks were only quelled by the military. Now

EPISODE OF CAMP LIFE. New York, May 10.-Tents were swept away, flags whipped into ribbons, and sentries blown from their feet, by a terrible gale which howled through Camp Black, at Hempstead Plains, during the early hours of Sunday. Groping about in torrents of rain, and drenched to the skin, a quarter of the camp's population was left uncovered. In the fury of the storm men plunged through the mud of the camp streets in the darkness, tripping in the meshes of the tent ropes and saw thir surroundings only by blinding flashes of lightning. There were no serious casualties.

WHY SO FEW AMERICANS WERE INJURED.

Washington, May 10.-The remarkable disparity between the casualties on the American and Spanish ships, as shown by the Dewey reports, is a source of special comment, and the military attache of one of the embassies said such a disparity probably was without a parallel in history. Nunez left for New York, where he will make a report to President Palma. The results of his trip are guarded with much care, but it is said that his party found no difficulty in establishing communication with the Cuban commanders in the field. It is understood that Gen. Nunez will continue organizing parties of Cubans to go to the front and will have command of the united Cubans other than those already in the field under Garcia and Gomez.

The Retail Grocers' Association met last night, with President R. A. Jones in the chair and a large number of members present.

A communication from the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, in reference to the forming of a branch in London, was discussed. Mr. W. H. The association took no action, the feeling being that the matter was not of interest to the association as a body. Many of the members, however, expressed their willingness to sign the petition.

Why Delay Providing an All-Canadian Route to the Gold Fields?

The earliest measure of the Government during the present session of the Dominion Parliament had for its object the confirming of the contract with Messrs. Mackenzie & Mann to provide an all-Canadian route to the Yukon gold fields. The proposal was to utilize the navigation of the Stikine River was secured by the treaty of St. Petersburg and renewed by the treaty of Washington, and also as far as it was navigable in British Columbia. Then a railway was to be constructed from Glenora to Teslin, so as to connect the navigable waters of the Stikine with the navigable waters of the Yukon. Thus the Government intended to provide easy access to the Yukon country. This arrangement was only temporary, because the contract contemplated the extension of the railway southward to some point upon the Pacific coast. within Canadian territory. The scheme, if carried out, would have been of very great advantage to this country, because it would have enormously reduced the cost of ingress to the Yukon country, and it would have greatly reduced the cost of living in that distant portion of the Dominion. It would also have served to build up a town of no inconsiderable extent, in wealth and population, upon the Pacific coast of British Columbia. It would have brought virtually all the traffic to the Yukon through a lengthy stretch of Canadian territory, a good deal of which is known to be rich in minerals. and the whole of which is supposed o be a mineral country.

The plan of the Government of Cana, if carried out, would have imed no charge whatsoever upon the nadian treasury. The whole cost of construction would have been limits of the country which it was pro-But the Canadian Senate, in the end, ship-an attitude so extreme that no have been disposed to take. The result admision into the country during the present season have now become next to impossible, and thousands who would have gone to the Yukon, by the Canadian route, and whose labors would have increased the customs revenue by some millions of dollars, have remained away, to the loss of the public treasury. Then the impulse given to immigration into the western part of nomenally large, has been checked; and will again commence flowing strongly in that direction.

of the Government are, but in our opinion it would be in the public interest if, with the aid of a money subsidy deeply interested in this all-Canadian route to the Yukon, the Dominion Gov ernment would make one further attempt to secure a practical settlement of the question. The Senate of Canada has inflicted a most serious blow on the prosperity of the West, and upon the public revenues. Every part of Canada will suffer by what has been done, but the loss will be more severely felt in British Columbia than in any other section of the Dominion. We should not be surprised if at the end of the year large purchases made by Brit-1sh Columbia merchants in London, Toronto, Montreal and elsewhere remained unsold. But if so they will have chiefly to blame two of the gentlemen, who sit from that Province in the Senate of Canada. No doubt a great deal of feeling has been evoked against them and against their colleagues who constitute the majority that rejected the Government proposition. But we believe we are not mistaken in asserting that for the mischief which will be done to so large a section of our people, directly and indirectly, the whole country will wholly clear the Government and its supporters, even f no action should now be taken. The Liberal representatives will be gudged not by the evil done by their opponents so much as the good done by themselves, and they must depend upon the

It also must be borne in mind that the current of immigration flowing into a country like the Yukon assists enormously in furnishing the state with the revenues required, and assists in settling many other sections of the country than that in which large mineral deposits are found. We hope, therefore, before Parliament rises that. without any serious addition to the public burdens, a practical means of through United States territory, which rapid ingress to the gold fields of the Yukon, through Canadian territory, will be arranged for.

> Canada at the Paris Exhibition, Parliament has very properly granted a preliminary vote of money in order that the Minister of Agriculture, acting for the Canadian Government may make early arrangements to have the Dominion adequately represented at the great international exhibition in Paris in 1900. The vote of $20,000 was not granted, however, without a strong protest by Hon. Mr. Foster, ex-Finance Minister, Dr. Sproule, and other members of the Opposition, "He (Hon. Mr. Fisher) wants this money so that if anything turns up he may be able to catch occasion by the forelock," remarked Mr. Foster, in a sarcastic vein; "but if all the Ministers are going to get $20,000 votes for what may possibly turn up two years before the event, we shall have to revise the traditions of Parliament in that respect. * * * There is nothing that can be gathered and shared for two years. I am not opposing Canada having an exhibit there, but I am questioning the utility of having so large a vote when there is nothing in the field."

It is apparent that Mr. Foster was unduly anxious to find fault with the porne by a subsidy in land within the preparations of the Government. They are not being made a moment too soon, as Professors Robertson and Saunders and Dr. Dawson, who advised the Mintook up a position of extreme partisan- ister on the subject, could have told him. The fact is that the Dominion one supposed at the beginning that and Provincial Governments, the manany member of either House would ufacturers, and others who intend to participate in the exhibition, will have has been that the chances of obtaining to get to work at once with their preparations, or they will be hopelessly behind their rivals

Thus, there can be no eleventh hour making up of the minds of exhibitors, such as one would infer from Mr. Foster's comments to be the proper course. The exhibitor, whether provincial or private, must settle all his plans and submit his detailed apfrom British Columbia, a province most plication, on the chance of its being accepted within the next few months. For it is evident that the authorities, whether those of France or of Canada and other countries, must have a reasonable time to decide on the acceptance or refusal of applications, and to settle the details of allotment.

Hon. Mr. Fisher does well to say that one of the first things required to be settled is as to whether Canada shall be allotted a much larger space than the 12,000 feet officially granted to her out of 60,000 feet awarded to India and the British colonies. As the Minister of Agriculture pointed out, we had 60,000 feet for Canada at the Chicago Exhibition, and our Government has applied for the same amount of room at Paris. It is none too much in which to show to advantage the natural and prepared products of this great Dominion. But it is very doubtful if the Dominion, or any of the other countries-for nearly all are protesting against the smallness of the space allotted to themwill be able to better the conditions. Though a large part of the Champs Elysees has been added to the site, and though the broad river fronts on each side of the Seine will be included, besides the Esplanade des Invalides, the unfortunate fact remains, as was pointed out by the editor of Engineering, that the size conviction of the public that they have done their duty rather than upon the of the buildings will be but little, if Indignation that their opponents have any, greater than it was in 1889, while the requirements for space will be indefinitely larger, and the vast industries of Germany will, for the first time in many years, claim a proper recognition in the French capital. Russia, it is said, will be allotted the place of honor among the foreign guests, and the imperial display will be worthy of herself and of her ally, the great republic. A pavilion of much magnificence will be erected on the grounds for the Czar and Czarina. The small Swiss Republic has voted $300,000 for its representation at the great show; and the preliminary vote of Belgium is sufficient to indicate that the attention shown by France last year will be repaid in Great Britain will, of course, fill a central space with evidences of her marvelous position as the productive center of a great empire. And it is well that Canada, her greatest offshoot, should do no discredit to herself or to the motherland in the exhibit that she makes. Millions of visitors will view and inspect the products of our farms, mines, forests, and facories, and be impressed with them in proportion as they are properly collected and placed on view. And as in these later years the eyes of the civilized world have been directed to our importance as a land possessing rich and unbounded undeveloped natural resources, the opportunity is rightly being seized by the Minister of Agriculture to obtain another first-class advertisement for the Dominion, which will well repay us.

If there is any representative British officer in the Dominion, or any Canadian statesman, who has not been roundly "cussed at" by Sir Charles Tupper, now is his time to stand up and be counted. He is an oddity.

OUR NORTHERN NEIGHBOR. [Cleveland Plaindealer.]

Canada is prosperous these days, and the present war will, if anything, add to its prosperity. All classes seem to have plenty to do, a good kind of immigrants are coming, and the foreign trade is increasing rapidly. Canada's prosperity, of course, helps the United States, for Canada is a good customer, and the more money it has to buy with the more we are likely to sell to it. That Canada wishes to be on good terms with the United States is shown in the fact that a special commission. er has been appointed in the person of the Canadian Minister of Marine to go to Washington and arrange for a conference to settle the questions at issue between the two countries. That the United States will welcome any advances which have for their object the strengthening the bonds of amity between the peoples goes without saving. Made Baby Kick and Scream. Had to Wrap Her Hands and Put Her on the Table to Dress. Would Tear Her Face and Arms Almost to Pieces. Grew Worse Under All Remedies.

CUTICURA CURED HER

When my little girl was six months old, she had Eczema. We had used cold creams and all kinds of remedies, but nothing did her any good; in fact she kept getting worse. I used to wrap her hands up, and when I would dress her, I had to put her on the table, for I could not hold her. She would kick and scream, and, when she could, she would tear her face and arms almost to pieces.

I used four boxes of CUTICURA (ointment), two cakes of CUTICURA SOAP, and gave her the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and she was cured, and I see no traces of the humor left. I can truthfully say that they have saved her life, and any one suffering as she did, I should advise n to give CUTICURA a fair trial.

Mr. Casey's Bill Passes the House Minus the Compensation Clause - Sir Charles Tupper's Grievance.

Ottawa, May 10 .- In the House of Commons yesterday, Sir Charles Tupper moved the adjournment of the house in order to deny the accuracy of a report sent from Ottawa to the Halifax Chronicle that Mr. Wm. Farwell had stated before the Drummond County Railway investigating committee that he (Sir Charles) had written a letter to Mr. Pope, M.P., before the elections of 1896, offering to buy the road for $2,500,000 if his party were returned to power. Sir Charles said the same correspondent had reported the eeting for the Toronto Globe and the Halifax Chronicle. The Globe's report was fair, so that the correspondent knew he was falsifying the evidence when he wired his report to the Chronicle. Sir Wilfrid Laurier made it plain that the opposition leader acknowledged the fairness of the Globe report, and advised him to appear before the Drummond County committee and deny any other press reports to which he took exception.

Sir Charles--I propose to ask the ommittee to call me to give evidence. This statement in the Chronicle in reference to myself is simply false; there is not a particle of foundation for it. A general discussion ensued as to the accuracy or the inaccuracy of press refair to good, $4 75 to $5; culls, $4 25 to ports sent out from Ottawa, Mr. Davin being amongst the loudest to complain of misrepresentation. Mr. Lister drew the attention of the Conservative members to the sins of their own press in this respect. Mr. Foster was fair enough to state, on information which had meantime been conveyed to him, that the evidence was not taken down, or the Globe report written by the correspondent of the Chronicle, and that the latter, upon discovering that an error had been made, immediately telegraphed his paper, correcting whatever inaccurate statements had been made.

The Hamilton Smith Yukon Railway via the Dalton Trail from deep water navigation on Lynn Canal to the nava second reading in the senate yester-

by a vote of 23 to 18, Senators Bellerose, Temple, Macdonald (B. C.), and Parley voting with the government. In speaking to his motion, Hon. David Mills said he had the same serious objection to urge against the bill as when he moved the six months' many reasons. The government had brought down a bill to provide for the construction of an all-Canadian route into the Yukon, but the senate had rejected that bill. That road would, if built, have retained to Canada the control of the Yukon country. Senator Lougheed, in advocating the Hamilton Smith offer, proposed to hand over the means of ingress to the country and the control of the trade to people who were not Canadians. It was true the majority of the senate had refused to assist in the construction of an all-Canadian road, as the government proposed, but he did not think the senate would commit itself to a proposition calculated to favor the annexation of a portion of Canadian territory to the United States. The construction of this railway would kill any possibility of an all-Canadian road being built and would build up the coast towns now in the possession of the United States. Every vote recorded in favor of this bill was a vote against Canadian interests and in favor of the United States. He Hon. She ordered them out, and Smith flew into a passion and smashed everything he laid his hands on-tables, chairs, the carpet, and ending up by choking Mrs. Shephard's little damage she estimated at $51. The ship struck at the east end of the island, three miles from the light. Those on board, who included the captain's wife and three children, were got ashore after daylight, most of them on the breeches-buoy, and in the remainder in the ship's boats. The crew and captain's family had a thrilling experience. The ship bumped over two bars and stranded on a third. The night was thick and the sea running heavily. Those on the wreck had great difficulty in getting ashore, but were saved with the assistance of the island officials. The Crofton Hall was bound from Dundee for New York, in ballast. She was an iron ship of 2,040 tons, and owned by Charles G. Dunn, Liverpool.

The work on the new railway bridge at Tilsonburg is making more rapid progress, and the steel tubes are being rapidly placed in position.

Today will be inaugurated the Duluth to Parry Sound by steamer, and by rail from Parry Sound to Coteau, thence by water to Montreal. The management of the G. T. R. has decided to construct 250 refrigerator cars for the general service of the system. They will be built in the Montreal shops, and are to be ready for the fall trade.

The arrangement for a new service the Wabash over the G. T. R. will not go into effect on Monday next, as intended, but will be postponed for a couple of weeks. The G. T. R. track, it is said, is not in proper shape yet. During his recent visit to Point Edward and vicinity, General Manager Hays corroborated his statement in recent correspondence that it would be but a short time before work on the roundhouse at the tunnel would be commenced and the work pushed with all possible speed. It is also learned from a reliable source that negotiations are in progress for a further use of the Point Edward 10undhouse by a manufacturing industry, which will take possession when the Grand Trunk moves out. No particulars are forthcoming, but it is gleaned that the G. T. This was relieved when the second dispatch, dated Wednesday, was publish-

The version given of Sunday's engagement was about what the European public had been led to expect, and served to confirm the English estimate of the behavior of American officers and men. London is speculating as to what has happened since the McCulioch left the fleet, but nobody seems to doubt that Commodore Dewey is still master of the situation, and will remain so until reinforced by troops from San Francisco.

Interest is already turning to Porto Rico, where the British public has been led to expect the next important move in the great game which America is forcing to a speedy conclusion. The pinion is becoming widespread, not only in England but at all continental centers, that the war will be brought to an end within a few weeks. The point chiefly in doubt is the question whether Spain will be able to submit to the inevitable without sacrificing the dynasty and the monarchy itself in anarchy and revolution. It is this problem which, undoubtedly, is engaging the serious consideration of official Europe.

There are all manner of stories regarding the probable measures the powers may take to avert such a disaster from Spain. The Arena, a usually well-informed paper in Rome, says that England took the lead in proposing to the powers collective intervention be tween Spain and the United States, immediately after the first battle of any importance, which ever way the issue might go. The Agenzia Libera, which is often inspired by the Italian foreign office, declares that the Arena is right, and that the scheme was spoiled by the refusal of Russia and Austria to join unless the other powers agreed to send troops into Spain in the event of a revolution menacing the safety of Statements agreeing more or less with these two Italian stories have been in circulation in all the European capi-"Mabin," he said, then, putting his hand lightly on her arm, "let Mrs. Dale go in. I want to speak to you."

The Wabash Railway Company is importing five locomotives into Windsor for use on the Air Line. The duty late as last evening, that England, so late as last evening, that England, so far from taking the initiative, has steadfastly declined to have anything to do with it.

It is, moreover, a positive fact that England has been asked, this week, to join in a naval demonstration in the through grain transit system from West Indies and emphatically refused. The object of the demonstration, as explained to this government, is ostensibly to show both belligerents that there are other people in the world besides Americans who are interested in the conflict and desire its early termination. But it would really be directed against the United States alone. It was contemplated last week to send five ships of the channel fleet to Cuban waters for instructional purposes, pure and simple, and instructions to that effect were cabled to Gibraltar. In the ordinary routine course, Mr. Goschen mentioned what was being done, in quite a casual way, to his colleagues in the cabinet, and they, with three exceptions, insisted that such a proceeding at such a moment would be sure to be misunderstood by Europe and America. Mr. Goschen, cheerfully deferring to the views of the other ministers, had the orders telegraphically cancelled.

The exceptions referred to are said to have been the Duke of Devonshire, Earl Cadogan and Lord James Here-

It may be said once for all that the British cabinet has steadfastly resisted all temptations to interfere between the belligerents; nor will the British Government be found on the wrong side when, as is not unlikely, Europe may claim some voice in the settlement of the terms of peace. If the United States should decide to keep the not say her nay.

There is good reason to believe that Ambassador Hay has actually received assurances, unofficial but none the less valuable and reliable, that if any European power or combination of powers seeks in any way to limit the money value or territorial extent of America's compensations for the cost and worry of this righteous war, England will place herself openly and resolutely on America's side.

The British cabinet has received from its naval and military advisers and taken into consideration at two meetings forecasts of the probable course of the war. These forecasts agree that after Porto Rico has been captured and the Spanish fleet in Cuban waters has been dispersed, Admiral Sampson will be sent with a strong squadron to seize the Canary Islands, and that the departure of that squadron across the Atlantic will be the signal for Spain to invoke the intercession of the powers. Downing street expects that peace will be signed before the end of July. There has not been time for the truth about the situation in Spain, since the Manila disaster became known, to reach London by post, telegrams being utterly unreliable. All ccounts agree that the demoralization of all classes is complete and almost pathetic. The utter incompetence, stupidity and venality of the politicians of all parties have been startlingly exposed by the existing crisis. One writer says that the mere fact that all eyes are now turned to Weyler as a possible saviour of his country from anarchy shows how low Spain has fallen. No one, in his sane moments, would place any confidence in this unheroic individual, but the country is no longer sane. The government knows it, and has promptly clapped on the strait-waistcoat of martial law. As soon as that can be thrown off the spectators will see to what a pitch of madness Spaniards have been driven by the supineness, indifference and incompetence of their rulers.

If a foreign army were encamped outside of Madrid, greater precautions could not be made to receive it than have been taken to check the uprising of the populace, indignant at the in-capacity of its rulers. The government still feels confident, however, in its servile majority within the chamber, and in the fidelity of the troops. Probworld is Dr. R. v. Pierce's Common Sense abily never before was there such a gathering of unknown, brainless, servile individuals within the Spanish popular chamber as constitutes Sagasta's fnajority. They have not even the sense to vote silently and hold their ongues. Their inane interruptions are really meant to call attention to their individual willingness to die for the government, and just afford such men as Robledo and Mella opportunities for those sharp retorts which are even more damaging than any set speeches. Premier Sagasta has many hardships to contend against, but the worst is the crass stupidity of his following. Equally broken is his second reed, the fidelity of the army. The army is faithful, but its fidelity is to Spain, not to the incapables who have handed her over powerless to the enemy. It is pitiful to think that Weyler is now the occupant of a patriotic niche but so it is. His movements are closely watched, and none need be surprised to hear that he has been placed under arrest. Such a step would, however, only precipitate events, not prevent them. The main safety of the government lies in the apparently irreconcilable of the various sections that are its enemies.

Since the Manila defeat became known the tone of the Madrid press has changed. There are no more railings against the pork butchers, no gibes at the American army, chiefly composed of farm hands, and her fleet manned by mercenaries and foreigners; no more satirical references to the personal appearance of prominent American statesmen. Every editorial now breathes the fire of vengeance, and sometimes the frenzy of "If the selfishness of the great rage. powers and their forgetfulness of right and justice," exclaims the Imparcial, "should cause us to be deprived of the means and space in which to wield the sword, we shall fall fighting with our nails dug in the flesh of the giant's arm that is attempting to overpower us, and our teeth fixed in his face. Up, then, with all our might to confront the days of mourning! Up, with indomitable vigor and courage to slay the enemy and to wash the gory decks of Reina Christina, Castilla and Several changes in the regulations were made. The rule relating to dairy preeds was altered by making it compulsory to have the milking done not earlier than 7 o'clock in the evening preceding the day of judging, instead of 4 o'clock on the morning of judging The time for closing entries for cattle, sheep and swine was fixed for Wednesday preceding the opening of the fair, instead of Thursday. A special effort will be made to make the parade of prize cattle a greater attraction than ever. On behalf of the fair board, Col. Gartshore, the president, said that in cases where exhibitors needed extra help to bring out their prize-winners

Merinos were struck off the prize list for sheep. It was asked that a second prize should be added to each class for boars and sows, two years and over. There are now seven classes, and as the request would mean an additional expenditure of $225 in prizes, with practi- ness. cally no increase in the entrance fees, the committee could not see its way clear to comply. It was decided to award only first and second prizes in any section where there is only one exhibitor. The local pork packers asked the mmittee to open a class for "singers." Secretary Browne was instructed to notify the packers that if they would offer prizes the board would augment the amount. Mr. Richard Gibson, of Delaware, gave notice that he would move at the annual meeting that the prizes in the cattle department should be "pooled" and awarded according to the number of entries in each class.
