more untrue, more absurd, more suicidal has never been asserted. It cannot be more absurd, but it is infinitely more dangerous, than your doctrine of transubstantiation. Although the refutation yon have written, yet there are other principles Among those is the principle involved in your theory of the church. As the paragraph which master? you mark 5, contains the great outline of your church theory, I will here quote it entire :

"5. But twelve apostles, invested with equal authority might disturb the order and deteat the object which their ford hath appointed them to establish and secure. His singdom was to be one; united in itself. His sheep were be comprised in " one fold," under " one shepherd," and not under twelve. Accordingly, out of the twelve, being all Apostles, and as such equal in dignity and authority, He selected one, Peter; and in addition to the Apostleship which he enjoyed like the others, conferred on him special, singular, and individual prerogative and power, which had not been conferred on the other e even, either singu-larly or collectively; and, as onr Lord had said many the Apostles as such, including Petat, and some things

Mr. which are required for their effectual working, I O'Brien, on entering the railway station, asked for a second-class ticket to Limerick, which was given to him. In paying for his fare the clerk observed a great tremor in his hand, and an excitement in his manner, calculated to rouse suspicion. The money which was given him was ixpence more than sufficient, but so great was Mr. O'Brien's agitation, that he neglected to take it up, and was recalled by the clerk for that purpose. On his return, he asked which was the right platform, and being told, he crossed the railway, and proceeded to a space of ground adjoining, to prevent observation .- There he was at once taken into custody by Hulme, who, having called on him in the Queen's name to surrender himself, seized him by the right arm. Hulme and Hanniver were in the act of removing O'Brien, when five of the constabulary, who happened to be in the neighbourhood, arrived and assisted in conveying Mr. O'Brien to-wards the Bridewell. On the road they met the military under the command of Gen. Macdonald, and the police under the command of sub-inspector Bracken. The prisoner thus escorted was forthwith transmitted to the Bridewell, where he remained about two hours. The intelligence of his apprehension spread like wildfire through the town. Groups of people collected in the streets, and it was evident that a moment's delay would have produced such a forment as would not be alloyed without serious consequences. Thanks, however, to the discretion of government in employing so energetic and experienced an officer as General Macdonald, any chance of an attempt at rescue was avoided by the despatch and completeness of his arrange-ments. The streets and the railway station were at once cleared of the populace by strong patrols of police and cavalry. The old veteran himself went from doo. to door, insisting that they should be closed, and that the inmates should retire. And yet there never was a time when it was more needful that the interest of the church in the study of the Bible should rise to the intensity misunderstood. There never was a time, and there never was a land, in which higher obligation devolved on individual Christians to be apt in the Scriptures; for here it is believed that errors may safely have free scope if Reason and Revelation are left free to combat them. There tian Church that circumcision did to the Jewish. never was a time when larger numbers were disposed to assume the Christian name, of whom Paul would say, if he were now on the earth, 1 tell you, even weeping, they are the enemies of the Cross of Christ, whose god is Seusuality or Philosophy, who put ceremonies in the place of Christ, or boast that they aim to be Christs themselves ! And if such foes of our blessed religion come upon us, and find the great mass of the professing church unskillful in the knowledge of God's word, and uninterested in attaining it, the scene will be like that of Ai where Joshua rent his clothes and fell on the earh, and cried in bitterness, "O Lord, what shall I say when Israel Abraham. turneth her back upon her enemies?" If men of anti-christian spirit are strong in their organizations, in their priesthoods, in their worldly ambition, in their enmity to revealed truth, and if the followers of Christ are weak in the use of their appointed weapons, whatever we may believe as to the last grand issue, the contest in our own time will turn out as it did in the days of Eli, when the ark of God was taken, when the sons and daughters of Philistia prolonged their
