CASE IN HANDS OF JUDGE NOW

Thaw's Fate Still Undecided.

DECISION THURSDAY.

Jerome Declares He Believes Evelyn Thaw Deliberately Lied.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 7.—In a cell at the White Plains jail Harry K. Thaw awaits the decision that will hold him sane or declare him a lunatic. The hearing in the supreme court of his habeas corpus proceedings against the state of New York ended this afternoon when his attorney, Chas. Morchauer, summed up his case. District Attorney Jerome preceded Mr. Morchauer this morning. Justice Isaac N. Mills says that he will endeavor to hand down his decision on Thursday morning next. Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, the prisoner's mother, with her daughter Alice, the former Countess of Yarmouth, and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Thaw, will remain here until Harry's fate is settled. Their movements after that will be governed largely by Justice Mills' decision.

Thaw's mother and his brother and sister have missed a day in court since the hearing began, and Mrs. Thaw's statement shows that for this case against her son she will lose no time in trying to free him by other means. Though habeas corpus actions like the one just closed are open to Thaw indefinitely, it is likely that if Justice Mills rule against him he will hang his head next upon the state court of appeals.

An appeal to the tribunal from a decision of the appellate division upholding Justice Mills' refusal to lay the question of Thaw's sanity before a jury is now pending.

The summing up of District Attorney Jerome and Mr. Morchauer today were free from outside interruptions that characterized the two homicide trials.

The district attorney was particularly temperate. Mr. Jerome's personal attacks on him were without mention. Of Thaw himself Mr. Jerome spoke pitifully as "that poor boy." Other two witnesses among several hundred that testified at his trial and hearings were picked out by Jerome for rebuke. These were Evelyn Thaw and Dr. Britton D. Evans, Thaw's "chief" witness, who, out raising his voice, but in the frank language, the district attorney said that in his brief Thaw's pretty wife had "deliberately" lied. He attacked Dr. Evans after his admiring yesterday was not un- expected. In his summing up Mr. Morchauer's evidence was in detail more in detail. One of his arguments was a personal one that had not appeared at the hearing.

"I have been Mr. Thaw's attorney for a year," he said in substance, "and we have had a great many defeats. If he had been a great many times more stated; if he had any delusions regarding combinations against him, would not have got rid of me?"

Evelyn Thaw came in for condemnation from both attorneys. Mr. Morchauer said that the reluctance she expressed to testify at the hearing was all assumed. Thaw's pale face, he said, before she testified she had consulted with Austin Flint in Mr. Jerome's office and had formed a combination with the pale-faced attorney's husband, Mr. Morchauer concluded with a denunciation of Stanford White and an appeal for Thaw's mother that left tears on his own cheeks.

The district attorney's summary lasted an hour and thirty-five minutes. Mr. Morchauer talked two hours and fifty minutes. Mr. Mills emphasized his opinion of Mr. Jerome's conduct by reading a magazine straight through his argument.

When her son's attorney began she laid the pamphlet aside and listened intently. She and her son whispered together and twice Thaw wrote notes to his lawyer. Justice Mills allowed him to remain in the local jail until his application is decided. Thaw's successive attempts to obtain his release by habeas corpus proceedings have started talk of a movement to amend the state insanity law so as to define a certain period that must intervene between such efforts of a patient of a state asylum.

ENVOYS FROM SULTAN OF TURKEY BEAR NEWS TO THE POPE OF HIS ACCESSION TO THE THRONE

One of the most remarkable facts in connection with the recent change of Sultans in Turkey is the sending by Mohammed, V. of a special mission to Rome—announcing to Pius X. his elevation to the Ottoman throne. The mission composed of Ghaffi Pasha and Emin Bey, was received by his holiness on July 4. The papal audience was brief and solemn. Then the two Ottoman envoys were received by the secretary of state, Cardinal Merry del Val. The object of this diplomatic step on the part of the Young Turks was to establish direct relations with the Vatican for the protection of Catholics in the East and thus lessen interference of the powers, so while they waited to institute a Turkish legation near the pope, the Vatican authorities would create a pontifical legation at Constantinople. This picture was taken after the audience, and represents the Ottoman envoys at the Vatican attended by some of the papal Swiss guards.

ANOTHER ITALIAN IN THIS PROVINCE WILL FACE MURDER CHARGE

WOODSTOCK, N. B., Aug. 8.—As the result of a drunken fracas, one of a gang of about twenty-five Italians was shot at four times by one of his compatriots at about 11.30 o'clock tonight at Beechwood, which is on the St. John River, a short distance from Centreville. The Italian is not expected to recover, and murder will probably be the outcome of the affair.

The report which have reached Woodstock are as yet meagre, but it has been learned that the crew of Italian was engaged in the construction work of the C. P. R. This afternoon, it appears, they all began drinking, and by night every one of the Italians was very much under the influence of liquor. Late this evening a row occurred over some unknown matter, and ere much time was given for consideration, one of the Italians took aim and deliberately shot at one of his compatriots with a revolver four times in quick succession. The man was said to have aimed well, and was supposed to have been accustomed to handling revolvers, as the bullets, it was said, lodged in the unfortunate man's head. The wounded Italian was given what medical attendance was possible to be given, but at midnight it was stated that not the slightest hopes were held out for the Italian's recovery.

SPRINGHILL NOW THE CENTRE OF INTEREST

U. M. W. Weakening at Sydney Mines—Parade a Tame Affair—Harris Back.

HALIFAX, Aug. 8.—President R. E. Harris of the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Co., who returned from England Saturday in company with General Manager Thomas Cantley, say that they had concluded satisfactory arrangements for the sale of the balance of their bonds in London. Asked as to the prospect of a dividend in common stock, Mr. Harris said: "I told the shareholders at the annual meeting that the question of dividends would be dealt with when we had got over finances. I have no doubt that before the year is out the board will deal with that question in a way that will be perfectly satisfactory to the shareholders."

STONEY, Aug. 8.—Springhill is now the centre of interest in the struggle between the United Mine Workers of America are waging to secure control of the coal trade of Nova Scotia. Similar action, it is expected, will be taken for the international executive to take what steps necessary. International Vice President McCullough is the real directing force in the present fight. It is expected that Springhill, accompanied by a number of other U. M. W. officials and before tomorrow night it is expected a strike will be called there. The main cause being the refusal of the management to recognize the American organization. Similar action, it is expected, will be taken at Sydney about the first of next week on the return of U. M. W. heads from Cambridge at Nova Scotia Steel Company in common with other operators throughout the province refuse to recognize that organization. Should the present plans of the U. M. W. not miscarry by ten days' time the only coal field in the province that will not be in the throes of industrial warfare will be Pictou district, and even in that stronghold of the P. W. A. agents of the international organization are at work endeavoring to convert miners to their cause.

Forces Not Large. SYDNEY MINES, N. S., Aug. 8.—For the past ten days preparations were on foot by the U. M. W. of America here to hold a labor demonstration before tomorrow night it is expected place last night, and if the U. M. W. A. showed in all their strength, as no doubt it was their intention to do, then the police force of the town would be called Saturday evening was not called to inspire very much confidence among the sympathizers of that organization. Scores of men made actual count of number in parade. Not counting bandmen the total number of men in line of march was 175. A significant feature of this parade, as the comment made by many of the onlookers that only twenty Cape Breton miners were in the line of march, the presence of various countries and nationalities. The best of order prevailed.

BREAD SUPPLY IS EXHAUSTED NOW. LONDON, Eng., Aug. 8.—The acute stage reached by the dispute between Turkey and Greece over Crete is causing anxiety in the European capitals such as always accompanies any diplomatic difficulty in that quarter of Europe, but as M. Iwalsky, the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, said in an interview at Cowes last Tuesday, if there is an awkward development in the situation, Europe will see that no mischievous effects result therefrom, there is no idea that hostilities will result and every belief is that a satisfactory settlement will be reached. It appears now that Turkey has not proposed anything in the form of an ultimatum to Greece, but has confined herself to verbal protests.

Swedish Farm Laborers Union Will Also Strike. STOCKHOLM, Aug. 7.—The government has published a proclamation enjoining both sides to the dispute to avoid further violations of contracts. After regretting that the government offer of mediation had not been accepted the proclamation expressed the hope that the leaders themselves would settle all differences.

BERRY PICKERS START DANGEROUS BUSH FIRE. BANGOR, Me., Aug. 8.—Fire started by careless berry-pickers on Sunday morning threatened to destroy 2,000 acres of valuable timber land in Essex street, the property of P. H. Coombs, F. H. Burdick, F. W. Wilson and Mrs. Mary A. Collins. There is no water pressure in the vicinity and for hours hundreds of volunteers worked with buckets and axes until the danger was over. The actual loss will be small. On Sunday afternoon lightning struck a stable in South Brewer, destroying it and burning three horses and four dogs. The stable was owned by the Eastern Manufacturing Company and the loss is about $3,000.

HURD PETERS, FOR MANY YEARS CITY ENGINEER, IS DEAD AT AGE OF 78 YEARS

Death of Consulting Engineer of City, Took Place Last Night at About 9 O'clock

The death of Hurd Peters, C. E., consulting engineer of the city, took place last night at about 9 o'clock... The death was unexpected. This office held until the spring of the present year, when he was made consulting engineer, being succeeded as city engineer by William Murdoch.

During his active career of forty-eight years in connection with the Public Works Department of St. John, the late Mr. Peters designed and carried out many improvements to the city. Perhaps his greatest works were accomplished late in life, consisting of the designing of the Sand Point docks and the reconstruction of Union street, West Side, which slid into the harbor as a result of dredging operations.

The deceased was survived by a widow, Elizabeth, and one son, Fred Peters, who is now in the city. He was one of the incorporators and a member of the first Council of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers. He was also connected with the militia of the province, retiring from service with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, having been commanding officer of the Second Battalion, St. John County Militia.

Mr. Louis Nelson, proprietor of the St. John Hotel, died yesterday suddenly early last evening... He was taken ill while in the store at the corner of Charlotte and St. James street, he was suddenly taken ill, being seized with what was apparently a stroke of paralysis. All possible medical assistance was given the man, but all seemed useless and death appeared to be inevitable.

Mr. Nelson has been proprietor of the St. John Hotel for some time, and his character was well liked by his many acquaintances. The deceased leaves three daughters, two sons and two brothers.

STICK TO IT Until Coffee Hits You Hard

It is about as well to advise people to stick to coffee until they get it hard enough, so that they will never forget their experience, although it is rather unpleasant to have to look back to a half dozen years of invalidism, money and opportunity thrown away, which is really the terrible price paid for the weakest kind of a "mess of pottage."

Wife Divorces FOXHALL KEENE

Her Counter Claim is Upheld—His Suit Dismissed

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 9.—Through a decision handed down here on July 3 last by Circuit Judge Watts Parker, Mrs. Mary L. Keene got an absolute divorce from Foxhall F. Keene at New York, son of Jas. F. Keene, the Wall Street broker. According to the attorney, Mrs. Keene's charge of abandonment was sustained by evidence introduced by deposition and the petition filed by Keene asking for divorce was dismissed. The counter claim of the wife was upheld.

At no time either before or since filing her counter claim has Mrs. Keene been in Kentucky. She answered the petition of her husband and filed her own claim through Attorney George S. Shanklin. Keene has not been in Kentucky for a year or more, his interests being looked after by Attorneys Allen and Duncan.

The information given out by the attorneys today was that Mrs. Keene had filed suit for divorce in New York, but that after Keene had established a legal residence in this state she withdrew the petition and filed a counter claim here, which she had the right to do under the laws of Kentucky, which permit one party to take such action in a divorce case as long as the other party is under the jurisdiction of the court.

STICK TO IT Until Coffee Hits You Hard

It is about as well to advise people to stick to coffee until they get it hard enough, so that they will never forget their experience, although it is rather unpleasant to have to look back to a half dozen years of invalidism, money and opportunity thrown away, which is really the terrible price paid for the weakest kind of a "mess of pottage."

WIFE IS KISSED, AND HER HUSBAND SUES
 Dr. George W. McFadden Asks Money Damages from Everett T. Nock
CRIMINAL ACTION FIRST
 PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11.—Because she alleges, Everett T. Nock, a well-known Philadelphia real estate dealer, threw his arms about the neck of Mrs. Katherine McFadden, and tried to kiss her, Dr. Geo. W. McFadden, her husband, a young dentist, of No. 1836 Sixth street, yesterday brought suit for $4,000 damages.
 Mrs. Katherine McFadden's attorney, obtained a capias for Nock's arrest from Judge Auditor, with bail fixed at $500.
 The civil action follows six weeks after a criminal action which was brought against Nock by Mrs. McFadden for the same offense. Nock was held in lieu of bond for $10,000, and was released yesterday by Magistrate Harris. This suit was brought from the public at the time, but was revealed by the civil proceedings yesterday.
 Service of papers in the first case, which is a highly sensational struggle in the office of Dr. McFadden, 109 South Sixth street, with whom Mrs. McFadden is associated in business, was made yesterday by Magistrate Harris. This suit was brought from the public at the time, but was revealed by the civil proceedings yesterday.
 Nock, who lives in Chester avenue, near Fifty-second street, is middle aged, is the father of a family and bears a good reputation in his neighborhood. According to the proceedings yesterday, Mrs. McFadden applied at the office of Dr. McFadden, on June 21, to inspect apartments which were for rent. The defendant took her to a building a few blocks from the office, while in the empty room on the second floor it is alleged, Nock threw his arms about Mrs. McFadden's neck and attempted to kiss her. Mrs. McFadden is said to have resented his actions and insisted on being permitted to leave the building.

 Send Name and Address Today - - - You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.
 I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, falling memory, and lame back, brought on by excessive, unnatural drains, or the failure of health, that has cured so many weak and nervous men right in their own homes without any additional help of medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and vitality, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.
 This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest, easiest and most effective remedy ever put together.
 I think I owe it to my fellow-men to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop dragging himself with harmful medicine, and get a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $5.00 to $50.00 merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

The Right Foundation of Health
 Proper food is the foundation of health. Food is the fuel of life. If it is not of the right kind, it will not only fail to give us the energy and strength we need, but it will also be a source of trouble and disease. The proper way to get our food is to eat it in a plain, ordinary, sealed envelope, free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $5.00 to $50.00 merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

WORLD'S BEST AGRICULTURAL RANGE

THE ECONOMICS OF THE BRACING END

Much has been said and written during recent years in the effort to impress on the minds of farmers the fact that yields must be maintained and largely increased if the world is not to face a shortage in the staple foods.

The selling end of the farmer's business is little understood by the farmer himself, and it will avail him nothing save hard labor to produce more per acre unless he is able to hold for himself the legitimate producer's profit.

This is to start with his land enough. If a man does not know what it costs to produce a given article and it costs him to produce it, he is in a poor position to act as a salesman of his wares.

The question of dockage, screening, shipment of grain, and the time to sell above all, the matter of having enough ready cash on hand to take the time of marketing a matter of choice and not compulsion—all these enter into the problem of getting just net returns.

These are the vital problems in farming that every farmer should be alive to and understand. As long as a man feels the pinch of hunger, so long as he is harassed by debts and the knowledge that he and his family are not getting out of life reasonable enjoyment he will not be over-mindful of the needs of his business.

There is an account of a farmer who thought he was fertilizing for a good crop of wheat, but he got only three and one-half bushels to four bushels to the acre.

This is an enlightening comment on the difficulty. The soil worked and fertilized at the rate of about 200 pounds of complete fertilizer per acre, was devoid of humus, without which no soil will be productive.

Make a note of it that these ten essential elements that are absolutely essential to plant growth. If any one of these is lacking, the plant cannot use the others.

The onion, the leek, and the vegetable asparagus are garden plants which are sold in a variety of sizes, and the sorghum and milo are crops that are planted in the autumn at a stocking for winter food material.

It will be seen from what has been said that there are at least two very important times in the life of the plant, looked at in the light of a food producer for man.

Most of us go to extremes, one way or the other, in pasturing grass. Some crowd so much stock on to a few acres that the poor animals are unable to gnaw the ground in order to obtain a bite of the short grass.

Other farmers hold the stock of the grass till it grows so high that it becomes coarse and tough. This tends to exhaust the fertility of the soil.

There's a "just right" way to pasture. Allow just enough stock to eat to keep the grass cropped sufficiently low to insure a new growth.

A sprayer has more than paid me, and I would not want to raise apples without spraying. About fifteen years ago we started to spray and we all ways had a fair crop of apples, and there is not one year that we did not have apples to sell.

We started in with a barrel pump, but as we planted more and more trees each year it gave me more spraying and that is not an easy job in the summer time, especially in hot weather.

I have read a great deal about a fine mist spray, and I think it would be all right on a level plain where a man could use a tower, but in our part of the country where it is so hilly, you cannot tell a tower from a dry.

One mistake common to most of us that we plant the trees too close together. It is a good idea to have the trees in rows, and to have a low row of trees between the rows.

I have found the lever saw done in one summer. I use Bordeaux mixture and white arsenic which I think is better than Paris green. I also used arsenate of lead at one time and I think it sticks better than white arsenic, at least it did on that hand job, for it was a hard job to get it off our hands and faces.

AGRICULTURE

ONLINE PROFESSOR AT WORK WITH THE LEGUME BACTERIA

Use of Artificial Cultures is Strongly Advised. Interesting Account of the Methods Used in Great Britain.

SOMETHING ABOUT PLANT CUTTINGS

BY C. P. GILLETTE

The authorities at the Ontario Agricultural College report gratifying results from the use of artificial cultures in the propagation of legume bacteria.

Aside from the contributions to the knowledge regarding the morphology, cultural characteristics, etc., of the organism, we feel that perhaps the most important point is the demonstration of the great practicality of the use of artificial culture for inoculation purposes.

These are the vital problems in farming that every farmer should be alive to and understand. As long as a man feels the pinch of hunger, so long as he is harassed by debts and the knowledge that he and his family are not getting out of life reasonable enjoyment he will not be over-mindful of the needs of his business.

There is an account of a farmer who thought he was fertilizing for a good crop of wheat, but he got only three and one-half bushels to four bushels to the acre.

This is an enlightening comment on the difficulty. The soil worked and fertilized at the rate of about 200 pounds of complete fertilizer per acre, was devoid of humus, without which no soil will be productive.

Make a note of it that these ten essential elements that are absolutely essential to plant growth. If any one of these is lacking, the plant cannot use the others.

The onion, the leek, and the vegetable asparagus are garden plants which are sold in a variety of sizes, and the sorghum and milo are crops that are planted in the autumn at a stocking for winter food material.

It will be seen from what has been said that there are at least two very important times in the life of the plant, looked at in the light of a food producer for man.

Most of us go to extremes, one way or the other, in pasturing grass. Some crowd so much stock on to a few acres that the poor animals are unable to gnaw the ground in order to obtain a bite of the short grass.

Other farmers hold the stock of the grass till it grows so high that it becomes coarse and tough. This tends to exhaust the fertility of the soil.

There's a "just right" way to pasture. Allow just enough stock to eat to keep the grass cropped sufficiently low to insure a new growth.

PRESERVATION OF EGGS AS IT IS DONE IN SCOTLAND

Interesting Account of the Methods Used in Great Britain.

CANADIAN INCUBATOR TESTS

BY W. H. FORRISH

A correspondent who lives at Dumfries, Scotland, makes the following interesting report of a simple method of preserving eggs on the British Isles, which has been followed with satisfactory results for several years.

The great fluctuation in the price of fresh eggs in Great Britain, ranging from 10 cents per dozen in winter to 50 and 75 cents per dozen in white and green seasons, has led to the development of artificial methods of preservation.

Aside from the contributions to the knowledge regarding the morphology, cultural characteristics, etc., of the organism, we feel that perhaps the most important point is the demonstration of the great practicality of the use of artificial culture for inoculation purposes.

There are four reasons for abolishing the fly pest: The comfort of the cows, the loss of flies, the shrinkage of milk and the interests of the consumer.
