OUR YOUNG PEOPLE AND OUR SCHOOLS

Was the Subject of the Union Service at the Baptist Church Last Friday Evening—Able Address by Rev. Dr. Spidle

The concluding meeting of the "week of prayer" in Wolfville was held on Friday evening in the auditorium of the Baptist church, and was well attended and interesting. Rev. Dr. MacDonald, pastor of the church, presided and offered the opening prayer, and Rev. G. W. Miller read the scripture lesson in the second chapter of Titus. The subject for the meeting was "Our Young People and Our Schools" and Rev. Dr. Spidle, who is always heard with interest and profit, was chosen as the speaker.

It is always a pleasure, he said, to speak about our young people, because it is a well recognized fact that no finer material out of which to grow a high type of humanity exists anywhere on the face of this earth than is found in the young people of these Maritime Provinces. The Carnegie people have come to recognize this fact, and that is why they are willing to spend millions of dollars in helping us to furnish our young people with the very best educational advantages possible. In this we appreciate their good judgment and high-minded purpose.

It is one of the heartening aspects of our present situation to see our young people thoroughly alive to the need of education. Here in these Maritime Provinces where we are overstocked with colleges we do not recognize this fact so very keenly. But in localities in which colleges are not so numerous in proportion to population as they are here, colleges are crowded to overflowing. The problem with them is not to secure students but to know how to provide for those who are knocking at their doors for an education.

It may not be easy to see just how this situation has grown out of the recent war, and yet it has. Our condition in Canada today is very much like the conditions of ancient Greece just after her Persian Wars. Before those wars Greece was like a talented boy quite unconscious of his talents. The Wars came and shook Greece out of that condition by showing her what her latent possibilities were. The result was an intellectual awakening known as the Greek Renaissance when multitudes of youth clamored for an education, a clamor that brought the Sophists into existence to meet this popular demand. Very like this is Canada's condition today. Before the war we were quite unconscious of our possibilities. The war came, and shook us out of that condition. The result is a Canadian Renaissance.

Here we stand then, a great country with immense undeveloped natural resources on the one hand, and a race of young people having no superiors on the other hand, and our schools as the connecting links between these undeveloped resources and our young people. What kind of schools ought we to have then? Surely the best. And this applies not only to the content of knowledge that is to be taught in our schools and to the method by which this content is to be taught, but it applies also to the moral and spiritual atmosphere of our schools by means of which ideals of character and of service are formed. Recent history has shown us in a tragical way the iniquity of intellectual culture that is devoid of high moral motivation and high moral motivation as the power behind intellectual culture has always been challenged by two opposing forces, the force of selfishness and the force of worldliness. Man is by no means entirely selfish. He is born with high and noble altruistic impulses. But the tragedy of life is that our selfish impulses ever tend to outrun our altruistic impulses and thus convert us into monsters of selfishness. And with this there has ever been the tendency to place a higher value upon money than upon man so that in our enterprises we sacrifice the moral welfare of the race for the mere sake of material gain.

What our schools need to do is to place a curb upon these tendencies which rob intellectual culture of its true moral dynamic. I am not saying that education in and of itself can drive these twin devils of selfishness and worldliness out of the human soul, but what I am saying is this, that our schools from the lowest to the highest should seek to create in the minds of our young people a vision of the true Christian life which has these tendencies under control, and to create in their hearts a desire for that life, and to point them to the source of that life. The school that does this, in addition to a sound training of the intellect, is ministering most effectively in fitting our young people not only for service to Canada but for service in the wider sphere of the Kingdom of God.

An appropriate prayer by Rev. H. B. Camp and the benediction by Rev. R. F.

C. F. Crandall Takes Over Empire Rights to United Press

New York, Jan. 10.—The United Press has transferred the exclusive rights to its news service in the British Empire, subject to existing contracts, to a new company, organized and controlled by C. F. Crandall, of Montreal, under the name of The British United Press, Limited.

The new organization, with its own direct British cables and the United Press as the basis of its American and foreign news, will operate in Canada, Great Britain and the British dominions generally a specialized news service, supplementing rather than competing with existing services. Its head offices will be in Montreal.

C. F. Crandall, who is president and managing director of the new organization, was until recently editor of the Montreal Star and is the president and proprietor of the Dominion News Bureau. He was in charge of the tour of the Imperial Press Conference, a notable assembly of prominent British journalists under the chairmanship of Lord Burnham, which met in Canada in 1920 and made a comprehensive trip through the Dominion.

(Mr. Crandall is a son of Rev. Noble Crandall and Mrs. Crandall of this town, and a graduate of Acadia in the class of '99.—Ed.)

New York School Boy's Essay on Fruit

No fruit is more generally welcome than the apple. The choicest apples are for the most part eaten raw. The low quality is either canned or made into cider, from which in turn vinegar is made. Apples are one of the most wholesome of fruits. A fact that is recognized in the old rhyme

"An apple a day
Keeps the doctor away"

Apples are for the most part water, but the water they contain, however, and the iron makes them excellent regulators of the system. Dried or evaporated apples have a higher nutritive value than fresh, but not the refreshing tonic qualities.

Dixon brought to an end a most helpful meeting.

WOLFVILLE DEFEATS KENTVILLE

In Regular League Fixture—Score 9-4

Over six hundred hockey enthusiasts lined the boards at the Kentville Arena on Thursday evening of last week to witness the Kentville team go down to defeat at the hands of the Wolfville boys to the tune of 9 to 4. A special train carried the fans from Wolfville and eastern points, returning as far as Windsor after the game.

The Wolfville boys each and every one put up a fine brand of hockey, showing much improvement since their last exhibition. The presence of Waldron Kennedy at his old position at left wing strengthened the line-up considerably. Kennedy, although he has never been released by the Wolfville Club, for whom he was always played in the past, held a position on the Kentville team in their league game with Windsor on Jan. 1st. The M. P. B. A. A. U. of C. have since ruled that he is the property of the Wolfville Club only, for league games.

The Kentville team fell below the expectations of the fans, being outplayed and outclassed in every phase of the game. Wigmore was without a doubt their star, scoring all four goals. Walsh in goal played a steady game against fearful odds.

Wolfville opened the play with some real good stuff and reached their objective four times in quick succession. Kentville placed the rubber once, a matter of seconds before the period closed. In the second period play was more even Kentville scoring two to Wolfville's one. It looked for a moment as though a real game might develop, but when Wolfville took the ice for the finals their brand of hockey swept all before them and they had little difficulty in duplicating the first order of 4 to 1.

G. Smith, of Windsor, twirled the whistle. The Kentville Citizen's Band rendered excellent music during intermissions. The teams lined up as follows:

Wolfville	Kentville
Eagles	Walsh
Defence	Leslie
Scriven	Corbin
Harvey	Bishop
Centre	Hirtle
L. Wing	Wagner
W. Kennedy	Wagner
R. Wing	Leitch
Subs
Wolfville—Woodman, Rand
Kentville—Kilcup, Webb, Porter

King was also scheduled to substitute for Wolfville but unfortunately injured his ankle a few minutes before the game and was unable to play.

The removal of the place of publication of The Wesleyan, the organ of the Methodist church in the Maritime Provinces, from Truro, N. S., to Sackville, N. B. the home of Mount Allison University, is an interesting item of journalistic news. Rev. D. W. Johnson, the editor of The Wesleyan, was at one time in charge of the Methodist church here and later was stationed at Grand Pre. He has been a well beloved citizen of Truro and his residence there has been of great advantage to that town, and his removal will be much regretted. As secretary-treasurer of the Maritime Home for Girls, he has helped greatly in the instruction and deportment of those allotted to that valuable institution.

SONG RECITAL

By Miss Ruth MacDonald in Home Town a Great Success

The Song Recital given by Miss Ruth MacDonald was one of the most pleasing and most artistic musical events the people of Wolfville enjoyed for many a day. It speaks well for her popularity and ability when so large a number of people would go out in severe weather to hear her in a song recital. But such was the case when in spite of the worst storm of the year the Opera House was well filled last Friday evening. Before the first number had been finished it was evident that the audience was to be well paid for braving the elements. Miss MacDonald revealed a voice of superb quality and knows well how to use it. There were no distracting mannerisms and the ease with which she sang was felt by the audience and prepared them for the rest of the song.

The programme was well arranged. The first number was "Never told her love", by Haydn, the opening number and was superbly done. "My Mother bids me bind my hair", by Haydn, "Oh, quand je dors", by Lully, and "Oh, Had I Jubal's Lyre", by Lully, completed the first group. What a pleasure it is to hear a song in French and understand what is sung. Although the French nasal sounds were somewhat exaggerated at times, one could overlook that when the words were intelligible to the audience and the singing in French was not merely public vocalizing.

The second group consisting of French songs was followed by a group of English songs, ending with Goodart's "A Fair-weather Marketing". This was a humorous song exceptionally well done. It makes you wonder what would happen if the singer forgot the sequence. The much praise cannot be said of the singing of the "Piano, Piano Canto Pio", by Verdi. In this Miss MacDonald proved herself an Artist. The tones were beautiful, the florid passages clear and rhythmically perfect. The last group consisted of Modern Songs. In these what has been already said was emphasized and proved. Miss MacDonald is an Artist.

What of the Accompanist? Are Accompanists a necessary evil or are they of value as contributors to the artistry of the program? Mrs. Skill proved to be an excellent accompanist. Her playing was sympathetic and at all times in perfect harmony with the voice, giving the proper balance and harmonic support. Her playing was clear, technic brilliant and she approved herself as possessing the necessary personality and training for a skillful accompanist. It was altogether an evening of rare enjoyment.—C. J. F.

Miss Ruth Blaisdell MacDonald, who gave a song recital in Wolfville, Jan. 12th, possesses a beautiful soprano voice, and is an artist of the first order. Her voice is free from constriction and is superb in quality, and her mezzo voce is luscious. She interpreted the difficult songs on her program in a manner possible to none but a real artist. Her versatility was excellent, and her many friends hope it will not be long before she is heard again in recital in Wolfville.—W. A. J.

Do not forget to attend the Wabasso Cotton demonstration at C. H. Porter's store, one week, Jan. 20th to 27th.

ACADIA LOSES TO N. S. TECH.

In Fast Game of Hockey in Local Rink—Score 10-4

The Nova Scotia Technical College defeated Acadia in a fast, clean game of hockey at Evangeline Rink last Friday evening. The ice was in excellent condition and the playing was exceedingly fast and more even than the score would indicate. Dunn, Winter and Elliott starred for the visitors, while Clarke, Morrison and Hirtle were probably the best for the locals. Despite their defeat, the Acadians played a good game.

Tech started off with a rush but the play fluctuated for some time without either side being able to score. The play consisted of brilliant rushes. At last Elliott shot one which landed in Acadia's nets. Another brilliant rush by Dunn resulted in the second for the visitors before the period ended.

The second period started out with the same superior playing but this time it was in Acadia's favor and had it not been for O'Brien's excellent work, the home team might have scored several times. At last Dunn scored for the visitors and in a little while got another goal for Tech. The playing continued fast, but Tech managed to put in her fifth goal during the period.

Soon after Quinn was put in the "cooler" and the second period ended with the score 6-0 in favor of Tech. The third period started with a rush by Winter, which resulted in another goal. In another rush Tech scored again but the locals worked up and put in their first. In a few minutes Hirtle shot Acadia's second on a pass from Blenkhorn. Once more Hirtle scored and after some hard playing, Elliott scored again for the visitors. The fast combination of the Acadians was broken and Dunn scored the next for his side. Again the locals rallied and scored, making the final score 10 to 4.

The line-up was as follows:
Tech.—O'Brien, goal; Crowdis, Dunn, defence; Wipier, Elliott, Gilbert, forwards.

Acadia.—Elderkin, goal; Murray, Clarke, defence; Hirtle, Morrison, Blenkhorn, forwards.

A REAL OLD FASHIONED WINTER

The present winter has been an unusually boisterous one with one storm closely following upon the heels of another. Each week since winter actually set in has been featured by a snowstorm of great intensity, and last week there were two. One came on Wednesday and the public was congratulating itself that it was over without a serious blockade when on Friday night snow began falling again accompanied by a bitter north-east wind. This latter storm continued almost unceasingly until Monday by which time the roads were in a practically impassible condition.

On the Dominion Atlantic Railway scenes similar to those who remember the terrific storms of the winter of 1905 were enacted. The storm worked from Yarmouth on Friday afternoon. By Friday night and Saturday morning it was general all the way along the line and continued in some places exceedingly bad Sunday morning, especially where the snow was drifting over the dykes. Three plows with gangs of men working from Yarmouth, Kentville and Halifax all day Saturday, Saturday night and Sunday, had so cleared the line that trains were able to run on Monday, the first since Friday. Monday's trains were however very irregular in their time, the morning express from Halifax being three hours late, and the afternoon express from Yarmouth not arriving here until seven the next morning. By Tuesday the line was cleared so that the trains were on time again.

We are grateful to the many friends and supporters of the V. O. N.; to Miss White for her valuable help in connection with the special class for backward children; to the Presbyterian Church for a quilt; to the Methodist Church for a quilt; to Mrs. DeWitt for toys and baby furniture given to the nurse to sell, the proceeds of which helped pay the expense of taking children to the Eye Clinic in Kentville, and helped to supply (Continued on Page 8.)

ANNUAL REPORT

Of the Wolfville Branch V. O. N. for 1922

The secretary begs leave to submit the following report:—

The Wolfville Branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses has completed its first full year with a splendid record of faithful service on the part of our nurse who has made herself indispensable to the town. We cannot praise too highly Miss Harry's untiring devotion to every phase of the work, her forcefulness, resourcefulness and tact.

The Social Work accomplished has been of the following nature:—

Two over-crowded and unsanitary houses have been cleared of occupants, one of which was made sanitary; the other remains unoccupied.

Dirty and neglected children, some of whom had never attended school, have been cleaned, and decently clad and are in attendance at the public school or at a special school opened to meet their particular needs.

One case of unusual interest might be cited. Within a few months after entering the special school, a girl of eleven years was transformed from a state of apparent stupidity and degradation to one of mental alertness and self-respect, as a result of the efforts exerted in her behalf.

Special care has been given the poor when required.

One mother ill with tuberculosis was sent to a sanatorium for four months where her condition improved wonderfully. The V. O. N. Emergency Fund, a statement of which appears below, supplied the funds necessary.

Another mother needing surgical care was sent to Westwood Hospital for three weeks, her expenses amounting to $75.00 being paid by special contributions solicited by the nurse from individuals interested.

In another case, a sick father was sent to hospital and his family given aid, the town and the I. O. D. E. sharing in this expense.

A mother suffering from eye-strain requiring treatment, was sent to a specialist and fitted with glasses. Half of the expense she paid herself, the I. O. D. E. completing the amount due.

Our public school children have received the following free treatment:

In connection with follow-up work of the Eye Clinic, twelve children had tonsils and adenoids removed. The doctors gave their services in these cases, and the other expenses were defrayed by the I. O. D. E. and the Red Cross Society.

Eight children were taken to the Eye Clinic in Kentville where the necessary glasses were supplied and paid for by the County Red Cross Society.

Our local dentists visited the public school, examined the children's teeth and reported the results to the parents. One child whose teeth were in a bad state was given free treatment by Dr. Leslie Eaton. This meant twelve fillings and other work.

Our nurse has made 222 visits to school children at their homes and believes that the majority have responded well to the advice and help given.

The following out-of-town work has received the attention of our nurse:—3 maternity cases, 14 operations, 5 medical cases.

The magnitude of the year's work may be comprehended when we realize that in a town with a population of 1,743 the grand total of visits made was 2,551 of which 1,506 were nursing visits. The free visits numbered 1,656. There were 94 telephone consultations, 18 night visits, 239 social service, 17 school inspections, 250 visits to infants, and 10 days of continuous nursing. The total number of cases nursed during the year was 159, mortality being but 6.

At Christmas the families of the poor were generously provided with baskets of provisions, and with stockings filled for the children, the nurse giving her advice and direction in this work.

The appreciation of Miss Harry's work in the town has been shown in the result of the recent house to house canvass which brought in $623.95, notwithstanding that this was the second appeal of the kind made in 1922, the first coming in January when our organization was only two months old, the second taking place on December 4th.

We began 1922 with balance on hand of $26.26. We ended with a balance of $569.34.

We are grateful to the many friends and supporters of the V. O. N.; to Miss White for her valuable help in connection with the special class for backward children; to the Presbyterian Church for a quilt; to the Methodist Church for a quilt; to Mrs. DeWitt for toys and baby furniture given to the nurse to sell, the proceeds of which helped pay the expense of taking children to the Eye Clinic in Kentville, and helped to supply (Continued on Page 8.)

BETTER ACCOMMODATION REQUIRED

There is no doubt but that in view of the additional amount of business that has of late been transacted at the Town Hall more accommodation is required. As things are now arranged we do not see how it is possible for the clerk to get through with his duties. With only one office—which he has to share with auditors, assessors, revisors, committees generally—it is no wonder that things are often in a jumble. There should at least be one room under the entire control of the Electric Commission, with a clerk to look expressly after the affairs of that department. It is poor economy to attempt to carry on under present conditions, and the first duty of the incoming Council should be to put things in better shape.

A NEEDED SERVICE

Some provision for a bulletin stating the actual time for the arrival and departure of trains would be a great boon to citizens. If this were posted in some prominent place on Main street the convenience would be great. Here is a chance for the Town Council or Board of Trade to perform a service that would be widely appreciated. At present there is sometimes difficulty in securing this important information and during the summer months especially, when the travel is greater, there are always many complaints. THE ACADIAN is not knocking anybody on account of this omission and we do not know who is to blame, but we are convinced of the need of something being done and hence our suggestion to the railway authorities and public spirited institutions.

One of the results of the recent severe snowstorm has been the re-appearance of the snowshoe which has been little in evidence during recent winters. By its use the pedestrian is able to make long trips over otherwise impassable roads with comfort. It is quite surprising to find so many of our people familiar with snowshoes and it would be well for more to undertake their use. Snowshoeing is a splendid winter pastime and one that can be put to a practical use during such a season as the present.

To settle a dispute regarding the date of the snow blockade during the winter of 1905 the files of THE ACADIAN for that year were consulted and it was found that the first train, after traffic on the railroad was resumed, got through on Sunday, Feb. 26th. The snowfall of this winter is unusually heavy but is yet far from what it was during that memorable winter when fences and even apple trees were completely submerged in some places, and roads were impassable for weeks.

WINDSOR'S PROTEST WAS UPHELD

The Kennedy Brothers Are Not Eligible to Play With Kentville

Kentville, January 11.—At a meeting of the executive of the Valley Hockey League held here tonight, previous to the Kentville-Wolfville game, several matters which have occasioned a great deal of wrangling were disposed of. It was decided, because of the thirty day residence clause, that the Kennedy brothers, who have performed with the Kentville team in a number of league games, were ineligible to compete with that team, and if they wished to continue in the game would have to turn out with Wolfville, which is the last team they played with. Because of the fact that both of these players are now, however, residents of Kentville, it was decided that they would be eligible to play with the Kentville team in exhibition games. The protest of the Windsor team against Kentville, based on the fact that the Kennedys played with the Kentville team was upheld, but the protest of Canning against Wolfville was disallowed.

MARRIED AT TRURO

(From the Truro Citizen)
The Maritime Home for Girls was the scene of a very happy event on Wednesday evening, Jan. 10, when one of the popular girls of the Home, Miss Vera May Coldwell, daughter of Burpee Coldwell, Gaspereau, Kings county, was married to Rodney A. Davison, also of Gaspereau. The assembly room had been tastefully arranged for the occasion with potted plants and paintings.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of the teachers and pupils. Rev. Brice D. Knott, B. A., of the Immanuel Baptist church, was the officiating clergyman. Promptly at the hour appointed, the bride, becomingly gowned in silk and georgette, and carrying a bridal bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern, entered the room to the strains of Lphengrin's bridal march played by Miss Josephine Strothard, superintendent of the Home. Miss Martha Coldwell, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, while Clarence Walsh, of Gaspereau, did the honors of groomsmen. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played at the close of the nuptials.

After congratulations a dainty lunch was served.

A "shower" was given the bride by teachers and pupils on Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Davison left the Home amid a shower of rice, accompanied by an old boot for good luck.

They left Truro Thursday morning for Gaspereau where Mr. Davison has a farm. The best of good wishes of the Maritime Home teachers and pupils follow them.

INTERPRETATION OF LAW AGAINST GAMBLING AS IT AFFECTS PUNCH BOARDS

The Social Service Council believes in the square deal. Many people unwittingly make themselves liable to criminal prosecution. They persuade themselves, or permit others to persuade them, that certain transactions are not gambling and not illegal. This has been the case in regard to Punch Boards, etc. Dealers in these things have too often succeeded in persuading persons to buy and operate these schemes, who would not, for anything, want to be classed as criminals; and who, if they knew the law, would have nothing to do with them. There will, however, be some who are ready to take chances on any scheme that offers big profits for little outlay.

Following the statement of the law, as published last week, we wish to call your attention to the Deputy Attorney's opinion as published below. We believe that no honorable person will allow himself to become guilty of running a gambling device who clearly understands the law. We appeal to all good citizens on behalf of weak persons who will gamble at every opportunity, and on behalf of our young people who have snares enough to counter, to do their utmost to stamp out this pernicious evil which has been on the increase of late years.

Deputy Attorney General's Opinion
"I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 30th instant asking your opinion with reference to the amendment passed this year to Section 236 of the Criminal Code.

I think that the sale of collar buttons for a small sum, the purchaser getting the privilege of using a punch board is within Section 236 (e) of the Criminal Code and possible within Section 236 (b). When the purchaser buys he buys 2 collar buttons and the right to use a punch board. The case of Taylor versus Smetten, 11 Queen's Bench Division page 207, would seem to be in point. In that case packets of tea were sold for 2-6d. Each package contained a coupon entitling the purchaser to a prize, the prizes being of great variety. The tea was admitted to be worth the price paid, but nevertheless the court held that the transaction was a lottery within the meaning of the English Lottery Act. I quote the following from the judgement of Hawkins J.

In buying a package, the purchaser treated and considered it as a purchase of the tea and the coupon, whatever its value might turn out to be. In other words bought the tea coupled with the chance of getting something of value by way of a prize, but without any idea of what the prize might be. In making his purchase he exercised no choice what he got he got without any opinion or action of his own free will, but as the result of mere chance or accident.

The English law differs from ours, but the principle as stated by Hawkins, J. would seem to be applicable here."

F. E. BARRET,
Assoc. Secretary of Social Service Council of N. S.

A FEW PLAIN WORDS

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN:
Dear Mr. Editor,—The evidences of a generous supply of "booze", either home-brewed or otherwise, in this vicinity ought to provoke a little interest on the part of the town authorities. The results have been decidedly apparent at times all through the past year, and the bringing into court of some poor unfortunate occasionally and imposing a fine upon him has had little effect in mitigating the evil. Some more heroic action is needed and those who at the time of the last civic elections stood for "an immediate revision of the town by-laws and the rigid enforcement of law within the town" if consistent ought to get busy at once. Some of the offenders at least are not unknown and it is about time that an example was made of them. This dilly-dallying with unlawfulness and crime is not creditable to a town like Wolfville, and its citizens expect those who they place in positions of responsibility to be impartial when it comes to carrying out the laws which in their oath of office they have promised to enforce.

"I Was a Fright!"

"Nothing I Could Take Made Me Any Fatter."

"Up to the time I was seventeen years old, I believe that I was the most miserable and unhappy girl that ever lived. Honestly, I was a sight. I was the most ungainly looking creature you ever saw. I was thin and scrawny—straight up and down. My height was five feet nine inches and I weighed exactly ninety-one and three quarter pounds. No matter what kind of clothes I put on I looked like a fright. I was clumsy and awkward. I used to stand before the glass and study my features. I found I had a good nose, good eyes and a good mouth, but my cheeks were sunken and my face looked like a skull with a piece of parchment stretched over it. But nothing I could do or take made me any fatter. Men rarely even glanced at me. When they did, they merely gave me a casual, amused or pitying look,—an expression which I am sure meant, 'why is a being like that allowed to live?' I used to lie awake at night for hours at a time wondering why there were so many beautiful girls in the world and I was so hideous. I met a friend of mine one day, Elsie W. and I hardly knew her. While she had never been as thin as I was, a year or more ago she ran me a close second, but when I met her she had taken on flesh and had developed into a fine handsome girl with one of the prettiest figures I had ever seen. I asked her what had caused the big change. She said Carnol. She told me she had been taking it regularly for the last three months and that from the first week of taking it she had begun to put on flesh. I was so encouraged by what she said that I couldn't get to the druggist fast enough. I bought a bottle and since then I have been taking it regularly. It has made the greatest change in me you ever saw. I now weigh 165 pounds and all my friends tell me what a wonderful figure I have and I know that I am admired. Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money."

Have An Extension Telephone Installed At Your Sickbed

When you're sick, it's bad enough to submit to restrictions imposed by doctor's orders without being worried by other restraints not the least bit necessary.

You may, willingly enough perhaps, remain among the blankets because the doctor says you must.

But when he hasn't forbidden attention to business and social affairs, you find it a real trial to entrust them to the management of others more or less efficient.

Why not manage these affairs direct by personal word of mouth, and avoid that trial?

It is easily done.

Have a desk extension telephone installed by your bedside.

Then all you have to do is stretch out your arm, bring the Telephone to your lips and say your say.

You'll find the mental relief you experience do good like a medicine.

WISE WORDS ON PROHIBITION

In the "Review of Reviews", London, Mr. Godfrey Wiseman contributes a valuable article on Prohibition, in which he makes the following observations: "We owe the Americans 800 millions. We are content to be known as the debtor, and all we have to do in order to regain our self-respect is to swear off liquor for two years. "America is dry with some damp spots. And that is better than being wringing wet like our own country. "Gross mis-statements of the effects of Prohibition have been reproduced in our rather simple press. The people who believe that drugs have in an appreciable degree taken the place of liquor will be relieved anything, but the truth will be realized one of these days by many of our people when they find, as the result of Prohibition, the Americans working better, playing better, living better, and saving better, goals and penitentiaries closed all over the United States, and the American people in a position to compete more severely with us than ever before. With their usual business acumen, the American sees this advantage and means to maintain it by maintaining Prohibition. At least that is the opinion of many who discern the signs of the times, among whom we may certainly class the Solicitor-General, Mr. James M. Beck, who says, "If Prohibition were now to be submitted to the people by a referendum, the best opinion is that the law would be overwhelmingly sustained."—Forward.

FRESH LIGHT UPON FLIGHT OF ACADIANS

(Montreal Star.) Many of the most popularly accepted ideas regarding the flight of the Acadians from their homeland and their settlement in the Southern States of America are upset by historical evidence collected on the spot in recent years, as was shown by Ed. Montet, a member of the Louisiana Historical Society, lecturing to the Montreal Historical Society in the St. Sulpice Library, Wednesday evening. From reports of an official census taken in 1790, Mr. Montet showed that there were then no less than 600 Acadians established on the banks of the Mississippi River, and 3,400 in the Teche country. The migration of Acadians to Louisiana, he showed, can be traced by documentary evidence as far back as 1755, the year in which the deportation took place. These first Acadian refugees came from the Georgia and Carolina groups. They were followed by the Pennsylvania groups in 1757, and those of Maryland in 1758 and 1759. Most of those who went to Louisiana between 1760 and 1780 came from the West Indies drawn by the news of the success of their compatriots. They multiplied as rapidly in Louisiana as they had done in their homeland, and today constitute the overwhelming majority in at least ten counties of that State. Names of villages, parishes and counties, the customs of the people of Louisiana all smack of the French origin, French civil law obtains in the courts, and enactments of the State Parliament are published in the two languages.

ROBERT LAIRD BORDEN

(Prize Winning Essay in THE ACADIAN'S Biographical Contest) The Dominion of Canada from end to end has felt the impress of noted men born in our own provinces. Conspicuous among them is the name of Sir Robert Laird Borden, G. C. M. G., P. C., K. C., born at the historic village of Grand Pre, Kings County, on June 25th, 1854. He received his early education at Acadia Villa afterwards studying at Queens University and St. Francis Xavier. Choosing the study of law as a profession, he rose rapidly in it, holding, at the time of his entrance into the political arena, a commanding position at the Bar in the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia, and the Supreme Court of Canada, where his wide and accurate knowledge of the law, the calm and logical workings of his mind, as evidenced by the deliberation and distinctness of his measured speech, made him a most formidable opponent. When in 1896 Sir Chas. Tupper at the advanced age of seventy-five was called to the Premiership of Canada, R. L. Borden was in reality "the man behind the gun" and during Sir Wilfred Laurier's administration, 1898-1911, he was Leader of the Opposition. In 1911 he succeeded Laurier as Premier and during the strenuous years of 1914-1918 he bore the responsibility for the administration of Canadian affairs, overcoming the enormous difficulties in such a way as to entitle him a place among Canada's Immortals. No political leader since the days of Confederation was confronted with such perplexing and momentous questions of state, as those, which world conditions thrust upon him. The struggles over Confederation, the issues about Reciprocity, the disturbance described as the North West Rebellion, the problems of the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Railways, the racial and separate School questions, all sink into insignificance when we think about the Empire's very existence being threatened, and the world's civilization being at stake. An American paper aptly spoke of the Canadian Premier of those days as "picked up out of the arm-chair of peace, and placed as driver of the chariot of war," and history will register the verdict that he played the part to the end with magnificent success. He represented Canada in the Imperial War Cabinet, being the first Dominion Statesman to be honoured with a summons to attend the meetings of the British Cabinet, and it is a great compliment to Canada, as well as to her eminent ability, that (since his resignation from office) he was called by the British Government to act in a judicial capacity in regard to questions of vast importance that have arisen in reference to the oil fields of Peru, S. A., where British interests are at stake. Lord Northcliffe on the editorial page of the London Daily Mail stated "I have met many Prime Ministers, and I say unhesitatingly that Sir Robert Borden is the greatest Prime Minister I have ever met and in saying this I do not exclude such giants as Lord Salisbury and Sir John MacDonald, the grand old man of Canada"

If during his administration he was at times underestimated by his supporters, and maligned by his opponents, he has enjoyed a steadily increasing honour throughout the British Empire and in all allied countries. What the judgement of others is to day, the judgement of Canadians will be in the future.—Written by Miss Adelaide Cogswell, Port Williams.

SOMETHING FOR MERCHANTS TO THINK ABOUT!

Name ten merchant princes who never advertised. No? Name nine, then. Six? Two? One. Why, what is the meaning of this? Your knowledge of history and current affairs is comprehensive; your memory is excellent. Why, then, can't you name the great leaders of commerce who built up their enterprises WITHOUT ADVERTISING? It's never been done, has it? On the other hand, great commercial successes, since the dawn of history, have been erected largely by advertising, of one sort or another. And as the means of advertising improved, the number and extent of business enterprises increased correspondingly. Cause and Effect. But this has to do with big city successes, you say? Wrong again. Read below. Newspapers come first on the advertising budget of Fred P. Mann, Devils Lake, N. D., country merchant, whose store does nearly a million dollar business a year. This much he told retail dealers who gathered at Boulder, Mont., last week for their annual convention. He sends out grocery specials and personal letters. Mr. Mann, known the country over for achievements in building a million dollar store business in a small community, started in business with $75 capital. Through a wholesale house he was given "time" on $1,600 stock. A newspaper friend urged him to tell the public about what he had to sell through newspaper columns. He did this when other merchants were satisfied to carry only a card in the local paper. The first year Mr. Mann did a business of $23,000. He continued to use newspaper space judiciously and has kept at it ever since. Now the fixtures in his store alone are valued at $40,000. Mr. Mann said that after taking the presidency of the North Dakota association, he sent out questionnaires from which he learned that seventy-five per cent. of the merchants of that state did not advertise and that ten per cent. advertised only because they wanted to help out their local papers. At the same time, he said the mail order houses were sending seventy-two carloads of catalogues into the state and it was reported by wholesale houses that seventy-two per cent. of the merchants were insolvent. He said he took up a campaign to induce the country merchants to go on a cash basis and to advertise, and he has since succeeded in bringing 200 of them around to his system. Mr. Merchant, you don't have to do business in Dakota nor belong to Mr. Mann's association to do business under his system. Start now. Right here in your own town. TODAY. Your publishing friend is trying to help you when he lays down his own money to furnish you with a big advertising service like THIS.

Did You Ever Stop to Think ?

- THAT it takes real co-operation between the head of a business, the ad man and the clerks to make a bigger business. That advertising is the poser that brings the customer. THAT too much attention cannot be paid to careful, persistent advertising. THAT some merchants advertise themselves more than they do their merchandise. THAT merchandise is what they have to sell. THAT good service, good goods and good prices, plus good advertising is what will make any merchant's business better. THAT if that is kept up it will give the merchant plenty of personal advertising. THAT THE MERCHANT WHO CONTINUES TO IGNORE THE BENEFITS OF ADVERTISING IS JUST BUYING GREASE TO OIL HIS OWN FAILURE. THAT the man who succeeds in business is no great wonder, he is just the man who went ahead while the other fellows sat around and said it could not be done. THAT the customer knows that the secret of economical buying is information he will find in the advertising columns. THAT THE THOROUGHNESS BY WHICH THE PRINTED PAER COVERS A COMMUNITY GIVES AN OPPORTUNITY TO REACH EVERY FAMILY. THAT IF YOU HAVE ANYTHING TO SELL LET THE PEOPLE KNOW WHAT AND WHERE AND WHEN TO BUY IT.

Mr. H. W. Phinney returned on Tuesday from a business trip to Toronto.

Mr. J. Elliot Smith was at Middleton this week attending the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association.

Dr. F. W. Patterson, the new President of Acadia University, arrived from Winnipeg on Wednesday to enter upon his duties here.

Miss Ruth B. MacDonald has been spending the week with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. H. MacDonald, before returning to New York.

Mr. A. M. Wheaton, manager of the Acadia Creamery, has been in Truro this week attending the meetings of the Provincial Dairymen's Association.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Evans left on Wednesday morning for Florida, where they will spend the balance of the winter. Their many Wolfville friends will join THE ACADIAN in wishing them a safe and pleasant journey.

Miss Helen Starr recently received an appointment as French teacher on the Faculty of Mary Institute, St. Louis, Mo. This is one of the finest Day Schools for girls in the southwest, and Miss Starr is to be congratulated on her appointment.

Mr. A. D. Borden, who has been spending some weeks at his home here, left on Wednesday for Providence, R. I., to resume his duties. Mrs. Borden and little son intended to accompany him as far as Sackville, N. B., on the way to the former's old home in Charlottetown, but were obliged to defer their visit until a later date on account of the interference with railway communications caused by the storm.

Rev. Austen T. Kempton, D. D., has been granted a three months leave of absence by his Church in Cambridge, Mass., to visit the Holy Land and Egypt. He will sail from New York on Jan. 20 with a party of 500 on the "Homeric". He will go up the Nile 450 miles and visit Karnac, Luxor and the new tomb of the king that has recently been discovered, go across Europe, spend three days on the battlefields in France and sail for home on the "Majestic" arriving in New York April 18.

GREENWICH NEWS

Mr. George L. Bishop, our Councillor, attended the session of the Municipal Council, held at Kentville on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

We understand Mr. Edgar Forsythe has sold his farm on the "Ridge" to a Mr. Gowe, of Halifax, who plans to take possession in April.

Mrs. Harris Forsythe, our newest bride, was "at home" to friends last Thursday afternoon. She was assisted in receiving by her husband's mother, Mrs. J. E. Forsythe. Mrs. Edgar Forsythe and Mrs. Hazen Bishop, with their two daintily dressed little assistants, Evelyn Forsythe and Olive Bishop, had charge of serving in the dining-room and welcoming guests at the door. Beautiful Chrysanthemums with ferns gave a pretty decorative touch to both parlour and dining room.

Mr. Alfred Burpee, who has been a guest of his sister, Mrs. A. R. Forsythe, for some time, left last Thursday morning to return to his home in New Brunswick.

Miss Breatrice Bowles, of Grafton, who visited at the home of her aunt, Mrs. G. L. Bishop, over a week, returned home last Friday morning.

Our plumbers, Mr. Byron Cox and Mr. Lee Bishop, were called to thaw frozen pipes for the first time of the season, on last Friday morning.

A good meeting of the Community League was held Friday evening, even though a disagreeable storm prevailed. The President, Rev. Mr. Hemmeon, came up from Wolfville and gave his lecture, subject that evening being, "Problems and losses of the defeated Nations". It was thoroughly enjoyed by all present, and as usual in this series of Lectures, was interesting, educative and humorous. Weather permitting, a crowded hall should be at each lecture night of the League. This week's meeting will be "Social Night". A good and pleasant evening may be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. George I. Fraser, are visiting at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Ray Fraser, Canaan.

Mr. Gil Rand, of Wolfville, is now at work at Port Williams station, being employed by Mr. T. A. Pearson.

Mrs. Brenton L. Merry and baby, Eugene Andrew, left for her home in Bear River on Monday morning's express which did not arrive until 2 o'clock in afternoon, owing to a heavy road after the big storm on Saturday. Mrs. Merry was accompanied by her sister, Miss Esther Pearson, who will spend some time with her.

We Believe In Wolfville, The Town Beautiful

Present conditions are none too good but don't blame "hard times" altogether. Blame rather our own despondency and lack of faith.

For the love of Wolfville "Brace up"! this is the wrong time to get down hearted. Why worry? Compare our conditions with those of other towns, see our dozens of advantages, consider our wonderful possibilities. Your pessimism will vanish.

We are boosting Wolfville a little bit harder every day, the Spring campaign is in course of preparation, and together we can put Wolfville on the map as "the Gateway to the Evangeline Land" and the "Residential town of the Maritimes".

We want listings for the Spring. Now is the time to list property for sale or rental, and here the place to list it.

The Sir Robert Borden Chapter of the I. O. D. E. held their regular meeting on Tuesday of last week in Parish Hall. The officers for the ensuing year were nominated by ballot and will be elected at the annual business meeting in March. A splendid address on "Citizenship" was given by Prof. A. B. Balcom. Tea was served, at which the teachers of the public school were the guests of the Society.

It is reported that two little schoolgirls, Faithful Snooks and Samantha Piper, caused their friends not a little uneasiness on Wednesday afternoon by getting "lost". The little misses went on a snowshoeing trip and exceeded their objective. Their failure to report at home at supper time caused real alarm and a searching party was organized. After a diligent search the lost were found and conveyed to their homes with adequate rejoicing.

Lecture on Better English

While the storm was at its height last Saturday THE ACADIAN was informed by Mr. Clarence Spinney, of N. H. Phinney Ltd., that two sleek robins had been seen by him that day and for several days near his residence on Gaspeaux avenue. Numerous other cases of robins having been seen in and near town are also reported—all of which goes to prove that these favorite songsters have been previously deceived by the prediction of an "open" winter.

The efficiency of Westwood Hospital has been further increased by the addition of a nurses' home which was recently built adjoining the hospital on the south. The home consists of a very cozy sitting room and matron's room on the first floor, with rooms for the nurse on the second floor. This addition increases the capacity of the hospital by three more beds, making it the better able to serve the increasing needs of the community.

From Yale, Karl E. Mason, of Wolfville, gave a paper on "Experiments on Metamorphosis."

Tuesday was nomination day for the three by-elections in Nova Scotia, in Kings, Halifax and Antigonish counties. There being no opposition in either of these constituencies the government candidates were declared elected. The failure to contest these seats is said to be due not so much to the popularity of the Murray government as to the fact that the elections were brought on at the worst season of the year and at the shortest possible notice, which prevented the possibility of securing a fair verdict from the electorate of these counties.

CONGREGATIONAL BUSINESS MEETING

The congregation of St. Andrew's (Presbyterian) church held its annual meeting on Wednesday evening, when the reports of the various departments of church activity were presented and the managing board and other officials for the current year were appointed.

The attendance was good and a lively interest in the affairs of the congregation was manifest. Mayor Sutherland was called to the chair and Major J. A. Macpherson acted as secretary for the evening.

From the various reports presented it was shown that during the past year nearly $5000 had been raised for all purposes, and the managers were able to show a small surplus after a slight amount of arrearages had been paid. During the year the stipend of the minister was increased to $1800, an electric blower for the organ had been installed and other work undertaken.

The Managers of the present year were elected as follows: J. Elliot Smith, Major J. A. Macpherson, P. W. Davidson, Dr. William Grant, Geo. A. Chase, J. W. Smith and J. C. Mitchell. Other officers appointed were: G. S. Bauld, Alex. Sutherland and J. C. Mitchell, ushers; Dr. Grant, J. C. Mitchell, James Northover, Reginald Smith and Nelson Grant, plate collectors; B. O. Davidson and Dr. Grant, auditors.

Votes of thanks to the retiring managers, the choir, to Mrs. Russel Forbes for her splendid service in providing floral contributions during the year, to the chairman of the meeting, and others were unanimously passed.

SOUND ADVICE

A London magistrate gave good advice to an old man brought before him. He advised the unhappy old man to seek the society of children so that he might absorb something of their brightness and joyousness and become young again.

It has often been noticed that teachers of the young, and those much in association with children, retain youth and hopefulness longer than most people, so the magistrate's advice was sound. Age is sometimes afraid of youth, and youth is often afraid of age; but each has a great deal to give and to get from the other, and love between the old and young is often the best and most beautiful of all.

WILL ENGLAND TAKE OVER NORMANDY FOR PAYMENT OF FRENCH DEBT?

A great movement has been started among the descendants of the Normans in Great Britain, Canada and the United States to demand that England at once occupy Normandy, after the fashion of the French occupancy of German territory, in payment of the French debt due England.

These Norman families descended from the former dukes, princes, nobles and bourgeois of Normandy, from the time of William, the Conqueror of 1066 to the time of the Royalist exiles driven from their homes by the terrorists of the French revolution of 1792, are being organized into "The Society for the Restoration of the Ducal Province of Normandy" to its former place as a duchy of the British Monarchy.

This Society was founded soon after the celebration at Rouen in 1911 of the 1,000th anniversary of the founding of the province of Normandy in 911 by the treaty concluded at St. Clair-sur-L'Eppe, when Rollo, Prince of the Normans at the instance of Haganon de Forsyth, general and councillor of the Emperor Charles, was recognized as Duke of Normandy to hold his fief of the Empire.

It is well-known how his successor, William, the Conqueror in 1066 established the Norman rule and constitution in England and united the two countries. And so the descendants of the Anglo-Normans are rapidly being recruited in this Society in Britain, Canada and the United States. Three-fourths of the French in Canada are also of the Norman race.

Among the most energetic of the officers of this Society in the Middle West is Dr. Charles Burt Lyman of Rockford, Ill., recently made a Knight of the Order of St. Jean de Latran by command of the Pope; he is a principal member of the leading historical societies in the United States. He is now extending the membership of this Society throughout his district of Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. He himself is a descendant of William, the Conqueror, of Robert, Duke of Normandy, and of some of the Plantagenets who succeeded as Dukes of that Province.

The representative of that Society at Washington is Thomas Scott Forsyth, a Seigneur of Canada and a descendant of the Imperial general and councillor Haganon de Forsyth, before mentioned in the Treaty of 911 at the founding of Normandy.

It has been thought that it was largely by the influence of this Society that President Harding commanded the withdrawal of the U. S. troops from Germany to manifest displeasure at the French seizure of the Ruhr district. It is said that Harding is descended from the English Fitz-Hardings who are of Norman lineage.

The Society will shortly present a demand on the British Government in the name of the founders of the British monarchy and of the British people for the immediate release of Normandy from the control of the French republic (which republic has broken the treaty by which that English king who was the last Duke of Normandy, ceded that province to the Crown of France (Louis XII) despite the protest of the best of the Normans).

The Society will soon be strong enough in number and influence to count on the British occupancy of Normandy and to take an active part in the movement, and by this means to cancel the debt which France owes Britain, whose burden now falls on the tax-payers of the British Empire. The province will then be restored as a duchy under the Crown of England, with its ancient constitution and government of the Estates as former-

HOW TO LOSE YOUR FRIENDS

Don't keep your appointments. But if you do pay a visit, criticize everything, including the food.

Always wriggle out of doing a favor or a good turn.

But readily accept any favors bestowed upon you. If the opportunity of doing you a favor should be withheld, go and tell everybody what a selfish person your friend is.

Never think of lending a penny to a hard-up friend.

Borrow books. Spoil the covers, mark the pages, and put them high up on an out-of-the-way shelf where the lender won't see them.

Don't dream of answering letters. When you next meet, explain that you are a poor correspondent. You will be believed.

Make an appointment and put it off at the last moment.

If you are a man, smoke your friend's tobacco and invariably have none to offer in return.

If you are a woman, first of all ask to see all your friend's new dresses, and then pass disparaging remarks on them.

When you drop in unexpectedly, be sure it is a wet day, and have your dog with you. The dog will be muddy, but, then, it's not your furniture.

When you call, outstay your welcome by several hours. The atmosphere will become gradually chilly, but, all the same, the supper will taste just as good.

If the supper is not up to the mark, complain afterwards that those people are mean.

Look in at awkward moments, just when a meal is beginning, or when your friends are retiring for the night.

Talk about yourself and what you have done the whole time. You will weary them splendidly that way.

Never take a hint on these occasions.

Never take a hint on these occasions. Ignore snubs.

Always contradict their pet theories. Spread yourself about and appear very much at home.

To do this you only require a very thick skin, and your campaign will work admirably. You can always rest content in the knowledge that a fresh set of acquaintances are easily picked up.

BROADCASTING FROM CHURCH

A Baptist church in Shreveport, La., recently completed at a cost of $500,000 is the first church in the world to establish its own radio broadcasting station.

THE NEWSPAPER

There are some people, says a contemporary, who take the view that a newspaper is a garbage bucket into which anything may be dumped. Mistake No. 1. There are some people who think that a newspaper is published only to serve their selfish interest and throw the harpoon into the other fellow. Mistake No. 2. There are some people who think that a newspaper should print what is obviously advertising matter without a single cent of compensation. Mistake No. 3. There are many other similar mistakes with regard to the publication of a newspaper, but these will answer for the moment.

A newspaper is not duty bound to print anything that it doesn't want to print. There is no rule that requires it to print something of absolutely no news value just because somebody wants it printed. It is not obliged to effusively laud some person where laudation is not earned, nor to lambaste some individual where adverse criticism is not deserved. It is not printed for the purpose of satisfying selfish motives. There is not the remotest reason why it should give away its space to somebody who is running something for monetary benefit.

The mission of a newspaper is to print news of general interest. Advertising is not news. Something concerning a single individual is not news. An article skinning some private enemy or opponent is not news. Numerous other things of a like nature that find their way into a newspaper office are not news. It is not hard for a trained newspaper man to draw the distinguishing line. It is not hard for anybody to draw the will distinguishing line if they stop a moment and give the matter logical thought.

True it is that a newspaper gives away much, especially where charity is concerned, but it does not follow that the publisher should adopt charity as an established custom and open the door freely to all comers. Space is the only thing that a newspaper has to sell, and the publisher who gives it away is no wiser than the merchant who gives away a hat or a suit of clothes to the man who comes into his store and asks for them.—Ex.

Columbia New Process RECORDS

Melody unmarred by distracting noise!

Columbia discovers a process which produces records virtually free from objectionable surface noise.

As a phonograph owner you have always been annoyed by the swish, grinding and scratching noises of records. This "surface noise" has been considered impossible to remove. After years of experiment the Columbia Graphophone Company to-day presents to the world a record that is virtually noiseless.

An ultra fine surface

This record has been made possible by Columbia's patented laminated, or three-ply construction. The core or centre leaf in Columbia New Process Records, because it is absolutely distinct from the playing surfaces, is made of a harder, more durable substance. Over this rigid backbone are laid the two playing faces made of the new, ultra fine, ultra smooth surface fabric.

Just pure melody

With New Process Columbia Records you get all the real beauty of voice, all the exquisite delicate tones of the cello and the violin! You get melody unmarred by objectionable surface noise that has been considered impossible to remove until Columbia removed it!

Fully protected by patents

In no other record can you get the same wonderful degree of surface quietness and pure, uninterrupted music, for the simple reason that Columbia alone possesses the secret of making a material which, employed as a surface for phonograph records, obliterates obnoxious and intrusive surface sounds.

Here are two new dance records, New Process of course, and your dealer will gladly play them, or any other recent Columbia selections. You will be delighted by the clear reproduction of every note—nothing is lost by surface sound.

MILLIONAIRE CHUCKLES OVER SAVING A FEW DOLLARS

Millionaires hate to be "easy marks". They bitterly object to being fleeced simply because they are rich. I talked the other day with a business leader who once was private secretary to the late Ogden Mills, the multi-millionaire financier. Mr. Mills had a valuable watch which he always carried. O'fener than once he broke the mainspring. He was always careful personally to take the watch to have it repaired. He felt that he was overcharged every time. So one day he told his young secretary to take the watch and have a new mainspring put into it.

"Don't tell them the watch is mine," he warned the secretary.

When the watch was brought back he asked very eagerly, "How much did he charge?"

"Four dollars," he was told.

"Ha! ha!" he chuckled as a school boy, "I got the better of them this time. This is the first time I have had a mainspring put in this watch for less than two dollars."

The ex-secretary added that Mr. Mills was more tickled over thus saving a few dollars than he would have been over making $50,000 in an ordinary business deal.

A bootblack complained to me the other day, "The people that has a lot of money hold on to it." "Maybe that's why they have a lot," I replied, "Geel!" he exclaimed, "maybe there's something in that!"—B. C. Forbes, in Forbes Magazine (N. Y.).

THE LIVING WAGE PARADOX

In Alberta mines there are workers belonging to the United Mine Workers of America drawing a minimum of about $8 per day for seven and a half hours' work. In the cities and towns of the same territory there are men seeking work and willing to labor ten hours for $3 or $4. But they do not belong to the union and so cannot work on the production of the coal the West makes such good use of.

An interesting point is this: If the miners getting $8 a day are getting a "living wage" how about the workers at $3 a day—and what is the position of those who cannot get work at all? The "living wage" idea has a wide appeal in theory but it has no place in the inexorable laws of economics. Men are paid what they earn in labor or service, not what their desires or needs demand.

A "living wage" from the standpoint of organized labor means a purely imaginary amount that all workers in a given class would like to have in order to maintain a certain scale of living. What the given industry can pay is ignored. The Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia in a decision handed down recently made some interesting observations in declaring as unconstitutional the law of the district as regards minimum—or living—wages:

"A wage based upon competitive ability is just, and leads to frugality and honest industry, and inspires an ambition to attain the highest possible efficiency, while the equal wage paralyzes ambition and promotes prodigality and indolence. It takes away the strongest incentive to human labor, thrift, and works injustice to employee and employer alike, thus affecting injuriously the whole social and industrial fabric. Experience has demonstrated that a fixed minimum wage means, in the last analysis, a fixed wage; since the employer, being compelled to advance some to a wage higher than their earning capacity, will, to equalize the cost of operation, lower the wage of the more competent to the common basis."

It is not likely that proponents of the establishment of "living" wages by law or by union edict will be influenced by such considerations as these, but the impracticability and the undesirability of the arbitrary fixture of wages as shown by long experience will eventually defeat attempts in this direction.—Financial Post.

CONCENTRATED ENJOYMENT

During the year which has just commenced The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal plans to run at least ten stories in serial form. They will be the best obtainable, regardless of cost. In book form each story would cost the reader two dollars, which is all one has to pay for an entire year's subscription to The Family Herald and Weekly Star, containing the whole of the ten splendid stories and a great wealth of most absorbing matter—never before attempted in any paper. One must bear in mind also that these exclusive serial stories represent less than one-tenth of all the reading in this wonderful combination of a farm journal, home magazine and weekly digest of world news. The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal is the most economical journal for the home, because it satisfies every member of the family at a very low cost.

A subscription of only $2.00 sent in immediately to The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal will bring you the opening chapters of two great stories and "52 issues of concentrated enjoyment."

Why put shock absorbers on autos when pedestrians need them more.

WILL HAYS, FATTY ARBUCKLE, AND INVESTORS

The decision of Will H. Hays, general manager of the Movie World of America, to let "Fatty" Arbuckle try to "come back" is an event of considerable importance to investors with hundreds of millions of dollars staked in the industry, as well as to the regular nightly millions of patrons of the movie theatres. That same decision must be regarded as a bad business blunder, and a heavy blow to an industry that has developed more rapidly the last ten years than any other on this continent.

Will H. Hays as a prospective cleaner-up of the movies, was until this latest Arbuckle incident, probably the most valuable asset the industry possessed. He, or someone in like capacity, broadminded and with a good measure of autocratic power, was badly needed, for the frequent reports of unsavory occurrences were driving the public into a hostile mood and the industry into a shaky position, as a money-maker and a payer of dividends. The notoriety earned by Arbuckle should have been sufficient to keep him in retirement and the "director general" should have kept the lid down tight on the erstwhile popular comedian. He should have reached a conclusion on himself, not have allowed the public to be divided into two sharply opposed camps.

Shareholders in the motion picture industry have to take an interest in the ethical side of that industry just as shareholders in public utilities discovered years ago that they were concerned with the kind of service rendered to the patrons of such undertakings.—Financial Post.

PORT WILLIAMS HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Fred Wood, who has been quite ill for the last three weeks, is now convalescing.

Mr. A. H. Parish is confined to his home with a bad case of grippe.

The hockey match that was to have been played on Saturday between Port Williams and Grand Pre was called off on account of the storm.

We are having an abundance of snow. On Sunday morning fifty men were out breaking roads, the north and south roads being quite impassible, except for snowshoes. The poet Emerson must have had a winter like this in mind when he wrote:

"Announced by all the trumpets of the sky

Arrives the snow; and, driving o'er the fields,

Seems nowhere to alight; the white air hides hills and woods, the river and the heaven.

And veils the farm-house at the garden's end.

The sled and traveller stopped, the courier's feet

Delayed, all friends shut out, the house-mates sit

Around the radiant fireplace, enclosed in a tumultuous privacy of storm."

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute met at Citizens' Hall on Thursday afternoon. Mr. Stairs, of Wolfville, was present and spoke to the members in reference to the Children's Aid Society.

Rev. G. A. Logan, of Canard, gave a most interesting and instructive address on "Problems in the Near East". This was listened to with the greatest attention and appreciated by all. A vote of thanks was extended to the reverend gentleman by the Institute.

The class meeting of the "Loyal Workers" took place Thursday evening at the home of the President, Mrs. A. B. Rand. This is a most progressive S. S. class always "on the job". Last year they raised $149.00 (outside Sunday collections) for various worthy objects and donated and made up a large quantity of clothing for needy families. At this meeting they voted $50.00 towards the piano fund. Dainty refreshments were served when the business was concluded.

Service in the Baptist Church next Sunday will be at 11 a. m. The pastor (Rev. O. N. Chipman) will preach on the second commandment. Notwithstanding the drifted roads quite a large congregation were present last Sunday to listen to the first sermon of the series. It was both interesting and instructive.

The "Live Wires" S. S. class (Mr. McKinnon) had their annual sleigh drive last week, entertaining as their guests the girls of the "Busy Bees" class (Mrs. S. L. Gates). On the return from the drive they spent a social hour with refreshments at the home of their teacher.

Mrs. J. W. Harvey spent part of last week in Halifax, the guest of her sisters, Mrs. Hibbert and Mrs. Mosher.

Mr. Nathan Ellis, of the J. W. Harvey employ, returned to his work on Saturday after three weeks visit with his sister in Yarmouth.

Mrs. McCallum, who has been the guest of her niece, Mrs. D. Sutton, Church Street, returned to her home in Montreal on Tuesday. Mr. Roland Sutton accompanied her to St. John.

Miss Dewar is visiting at Starrs Point with Mr. and Mrs. Durell Sutton.

Miss Dorothy Hall, of Kentville, is spending the week with her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Gates.

Miss Edith Zwicker is entertaining her friend Miss Helen D'Counor, of Halifax.

Mr. M. K. Ellis has the building materials on hand for a home for one of his employees, to be begun as soon as weather permits. This will be the fourth tenement house on this large and progressive farm.

AN INTERESTING WEDDING

The following taken from a recent issue of a Bermuda paper will be read with interest by the many Wolfville friends of the bride:

The event of outstanding social importance during the present week was the marriage of Miss Ruth McKenzie Pitt, daughter of Mrs. Pitt, of "Ellerslie", Hamilton, and the late Hilton Pitt, to Mr. Stuart Alexander Burrows, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Burrows, of "Avodale," Hamilton. The ceremony took place at the Bermuda Cathedral at 3.30 p.m. on Thursday and was followed by a large reception at "Allerslie".

The bride, looking particularly charming in a gown of white Liberty satin, the keynote of which was simplicity, with court train and wearing a long veil of Brussels lace and wreath of orange blossoms, entered by the western door of the Cathedral to the strains of the Wedding March from Lohengrin. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses and was escorted by her brother-in-law, Mr. Don Masters. The Misses Dora Gilbert and Dorothy Darrell were in attendance as bridesmaids and little Miss Dorothy Pitt acted as flower girl and Master Jack Pitt as page.

The Bride was given away by her mother; the Groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Fred Burrows, as best man. The Rev. Canon Henry Marriott officiated and Mr. A. M. Purcell presided at the organ. The ushers were Messrs. Herman Walker, H. D. Butterfield, Jr., Morris Cooper, Edmund Zuill, Thaddeus Zuill, Bernard Walker and John Cox. "The Voice that Breathed o'er Eden" was sung before the marriage service and during the signing of the register hymn 378 "O Perfect Love" was rendered. The Bridal Party came down the aisle to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March and on emerging from the Cathedral passed under an arch of staves formed by the Girl Guides of which the Bride was a member. They drove, amidst a shower of rice and confetti to receive the good wishes of their many friends at "Ellerslie."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Alec Burrows are well known and very popular members of the younger set and the Mid-Ocean takes this opportunity of joining in the chorus of good wishes and congratulations with which their married life begins. Upon returning from St. Georges where at the St. George Hotel, their honeymoon is being spent, they will make their home at "Rockville," Pembroke.

Rarely if ever have we seen prettier frocks than those at the Burrows-Pitt wedding on Thursday afternoon. Many of them bore that air of distinction which it seems impossible for any costumiers except those of Paris and London to achieve. The bride's gown was from Liberty's and the graceful folds in which the long train fell from the shoulders were particularly pleasing. Mrs. Pitt was in brown with a hat to match and carried a bouquet of yellow narcissi. Mrs. Stuart Burrows looked well in white crepe de chine trimmed with blue beads and wore a very pretty feather trimmed hat. The bridesmaids looked charming. Miss Darrell's frock being of jade green and Miss Gilbert's of peach colour. They both wore grey picture hats. Mrs. Don Masters and Mrs. Chute looked sweetly pretty in white and brown respectively.

In the role of a shabby poor relation Wanda Hawley will be seen at the Opera House next Friday and Saturday in "The Love Charm". This is an original screen story prepared by Harvey O'Higgins, a well known short story writer. He has taken up the poor relation who makes up her mind that the spoiled young lady of the house in which she toils without thanks shall not have all the beaux and good times.

Miss Hawley shines in this picture. She creates two distinct types. First, as a sweet, old-fashioned girl, she wins a young man's love by forcibly reminding him of the mother he recalled when he was a little boy. Then when she learns that her aunt and cousin are displeased, she promises to alienate his affections in the same way, by making herself typical of something he hates. She accordingly assumes the role of a noisy, "jazzy" young person. Mr. O'Higgins makes use of his skill in laying bare the human soul. The star is excellently supported by Warner Baxter, a newcomer to the screen. "The Love Charm" is a delightful and charming picture.

There is no thirst quencher to equal a well made cup of MORSE'S TEA and the hotter it is the better. Particularly is this true in hot weather. Try a cup the next time you are very hot and very thirsty and see if you do not find this to be so. For a tea of an especially fine flavor use MORSE'S SELECTED ORANGE PEKOE.
