WHEN LOVE Came Too Late.

CHAPTER XXIV.

To the Man and the Coward.

"Forgive me, miss," she whispered, "but I love you, and my heart truly bleeds—"

For answer, Olivia laid her cold face against the girl's faithful one and let it rest there.

The time was up; the guests had gathered in the hall with the customary slippers and handkerchiefs of rice. The bride and bridegroom's carriage was at the door.

Pacing to and fro in the study was the old man who was now to lose his darling, only child, the pride, the joy, the solace of his life.

He, too, had borne up well through-out the trying day; but he was feeling that his strength to command himself was growing weaker; and he waited, longing, dreading, for the moment of farewell.

The best man hurried to and fro, glancing at his watch anxiously.

"Time's up," he said to Lord Carfield. "They'll lose the train if they don't mind. Where the deuce has the fellow got to?"

Lord Carfield looked up at the great hall clock.

"He went home to fetch something he had forgotten. That was—oh, an hour since; he should have returned long ago. Perhaps he is with the squire, or somewhere about the place."

The young fellow went to the study door and opened it, then closed it softly and reverently.

"No," he said, anxiously. "The squire is there—alone. Bradstone may be in the house; but I don't see how he could get in without our seeing him. But I'll look."

He was gone four or five minutes; then he came back looking still more worried and anxious.

"He's not in the place, confound him," he said. "I don't know what to do."

Aunt Amelia came fluttering out of the drawing-room with one elaborately embroidered slipper—which would have fitted a child of four, but which she fondly hoped would be mistaken for her own.

"Where's dear Olivia? Where's Bartley?" she sipped, with an hysterical little giggle. "Isn't it time they started? Why, what is the matter?" she demanded, looking from one to the other of the now silent and curious groups.

"Hang it all," said young Vernon, the best man, "I must do something or I shall get mad. Look here, I'll dash off to The Maples. If I find him there, I'll bring him; if I don't—I mean if he passes me on the way—tell him I've gone on to the station to take the tickets. Every moment will be of consequence. Don't be upset, Miss Vanley," he added to Aunt Amelia, who was already exhibiting signs of hysterics; "it's all right! I'll bet ten to one Mr. Bradstone will be here before I'm back," and he dashed off.

The study door opened and the squire looked out.

"Olivia," he said, "isn't—isn't the time up?"

Lord Carfield went to him, and putting his arm through his, drew him into the study again.

"There's a little delay, squire," he said. "There is plenty of time."

Five, ten, fifteen minutes passed, and then there came upon the air the sound of rapidly approaching wheels, a carriage stopped at the door, a groom sprang to the heads of the steaming horses, and Vernon jumped out. Then he turned, and the crowd watching from the hall, saw him help Bradstone out.

He was pale, but for two spots that burned like blood upon his cheeks, and his eyes glittered unnaturally.

"Hurrah! here they are!" said some one. "Look sharp, Bradstone!"

The two men came up the steps into the hall, Vernon with Bradstone's arm in his.

"I'm—I'm late, I'm afraid," stammered Bradstone; "the fact is I was kept by a most important letter involving thousands."

As he spoke, those nearest him noticed that his lips were dry, and that he smelled strongly of brandy. Vernon left him and ran to the study, and Lord Carfield, hearing the shout, came out and seized him by the arm.

"I've got him," whispered Vernon, "but—but—confound it, I have to say it! but—but I think the fellow is more than half drunk!"

"Impossible!" said Lord Carfield, in a low tone of horror.

"But—but I'm afraid it's true, my lord," said Vernon. "I've given him soda water, and made him bathe his head. Oh, Lord! it's too awful to think of! That sweet young creature!" and the young fellow uttered an oath which will probably be forgiven him.

Lord Carfield held the study door

HELP FOR WORKING WOMEN

Some Have to Keep on Until They Almost Drop. How Mrs. Conley Got Help.

Here is a letter from a woman who had to work, but was too weak and suffered too much to continue. How she regained health:—

Frankfort, Ky.—"I suffered so much with female weakness that I could not do my own work, had to hire it done. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I tried it. I took three bottles and I found it to be all you claim. Now I feel as well as ever. I did and am able to do all my own work again. I recommend it to any woman suffering from female weakness. You may publish my letter if you wish."—Mrs. JAMES COXLEY, 616 St. Clair St., Frankfort, Ky.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice.—It will be confidential.

In his hand.

"Keep him out of the squire's sight," he said, in a troubled voice. "I suppose she must go now with him. What can have come to him?"

"Oh, she must go," assented Vernon, despairingly. "Here"—to the footman—"tell Miss—confound it! I mean Mrs. Bradstone's maid—that the carriage is waiting. Be sharp."

The footman was hurrying across the hall, when, forcing his way through the crowd of guests, a man whom everybody recognized as the head keeper, caught him by the arm.

"The squire!" he said, breathlessly. "The squire! Where is he? At once! I must see him!"

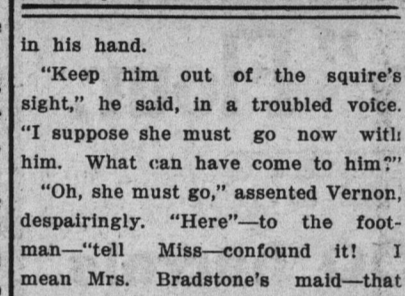

"S—sh!" warned the footman, "don't make that noise, Browne. You can't see him now!"

"I must—Lord Carfield."

The earl came forward.

"What is it, Browne? Why are you so excited? What's the matter?"

"Beg pardon, my lord," said the man, agitatedly. "It's murder; that's what's the matter."

—and was just lyin' asleep; but when I stooped down to wake her, I saw that she was—dead."

A thrill of horror ran through the group of silent listeners. Death is a grim visitor at all seasons; but at a marriage feast!

"Dead!" echoed the earl.

"Yes, my lord; quite dead. There weren't no difficulty in telling how, for there was the wound in her side plain enough. She'd been shot, squire; shot."

Bessie's hand closed more tightly on Olivia's.

"I called out for help, squire, and then—"

He stopped and hesitated, like a man reluctant to go farther.

"Go on," said the earl, gravely.

"Well, my lord, a gentleman came up. I—I think he was waiting near. I—I don't know; but he came up at once. He—he—says to me"—he stopped again and looked troubled—"Go for the constable, Browne. You'll find him at the entrance to the lawn. I'll wait and watch here. I—I ran off at once, and I found the policeman and sent him to the wood, and—and then I came on here."

There was a moment's silence, then Lord Carfield said, solemnly:

"Who was this gentleman, Browne?"

The keeper opened his lips, and, glancing round, hesitated.

"Am I to say, squire?" he asked.

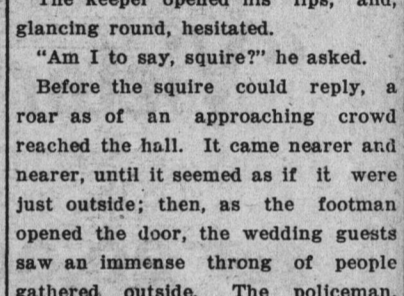

Before the squire could reply, a roar as of an approaching crowd reached the hall. It came nearer and nearer, until it seemed as if it were just outside; then, as the footman opened the door, the wedding guests saw an immense throng of people gathered outside. The policeman, with another man beside him, separated themselves from the mass, and walked into the hall.

A thrill of surprise ran through the spectators, for the man beside whom the policeman stood so closely and watchfully was Harold Faradene.

His ordinarily pale face was graver than usual, but it was perfectly calm, and he looked round and met the curious gaze of those about him with a calm steadfastness. For a moment only, as he saw Olivia on the staircase, his eyes wavered and his lips trembled; then he seemed to recover himself, and stood silent and self-possessed.

"Faradene!" exclaimed the squire. "What is this?" and he went toward him agitatedly.

If Faradene intended responding, the constable prevented him. Almost stepping in between him and the squire, he said, respectfully enough, but firmly:

CHAPTER XXV.

For Another's Sake.

"Murder!" It is an awful word. No wonder that a shudder ran through the gayly dressed guests. Even Aunt Amelia may be excused for falling into hysterics, which, of course, she did instantly.

Lord Carfield stepped forward and held up his hand to the keeper, warningly; but the warning gesture came too late. Miss Amelia's shrieks were ringing through the vaulted hall, and at the head of the stairs, looking down upon the scene of confusion and consternation, stood Olivia. Bessie was by her side with her traveling wrap over her arm, and instinctively she stretched out her hand and grasped her mistress. So the two girls stood and waited.

"Now, my man," said Lord Carfield, sternly, "if you haven't taken leave of your senses, tell me what has happened."

The keeper looked round, confused in his excitement by the crowd of anxious faces, and still more by the sight of the squire, who came forward and stood beside the earl.

"Shall we go in the library?" whispered Lord Carfield.

The squire shook his head and glanced round.

"It is too late now," he replied, in as low a tone. "He may as well speak out before them now. Go on, Browne."

The keeper touched his front lock. "I beg your pardon, squire, but I'm skeard-like. It—it come so sudden. I was passing through the wood to the big tent, when I see it lying on the ground just by the felled oak there—"

"Saw what?" said the earl.

"The woman, my lord," replied Browne, with a shudder. "I—I thought, seein' as she was a stranger, that—beggin' your pardon, my lord—she might have had too much drink in the tent—some of 'em has, you see

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 14. A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that food riots occurred in Hamburg on Saturday evening. According to Berlin reports a mob of angry women raided the shops which had been closed owing to a shortage of meat and vegetables, while another crowd demonstrated before the town hall, shouting "Down with the Junkers; down with the people's torturers." Thirty-seven women were arrested. Two policemen were badly injured by stones thrown from windows.

THE MEN HOLDING OUT.

LONDON, Sept. 14. A conference between representatives of the railway companies and their employees who had been in session for the past two days in London, broke up to-day because of the men's refusal to entertain the companies' offers to their insistence upon a ten shillings advance in pay which they had demanded and which they refused to grant. On the front between Arras and Ypres, artillery and trench mortars were active. This morning the enemy fired Canonettes near Mount Sorrel, and exploded a mine near Neuville St. Vaast. There was considerable aerial fighting. Two hostile machines were brought down in flames, and another was driven to the ground. One of our aeroplanes is missing.

FRENCH SUCCESS CREATES ENTHUSIASM.

LONDON, Sept. 14. The big bite the French took out of the German front on Tuesday is given great prominence by newspapers here and commented upon with great enthusiasm. Every French success arouses immense enthusiasm in the British army and makes our men almost as happy as if they had done it themselves. One of the correspondents with the army in France telegraphs: "I believe the French feeling towards us is as cordial as ours towards them. I doubt if ever in history two Allies worked together with such perfect unanimity or with more ungrudging admiration each for the other's gallantry." The British

PREMIER BRIAND ADDRESSES CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES.

PARIS, Sept. 14. In addressing the Chamber of Deputies on the military and diplomatic situation, Premier Briand this afternoon laid stress upon the close cooperation among the Allies against the common enemy. The Premier reviewed the circumstances leading up to the two most recent important developments of the war, Roumania's declaration of war against Austria and the Italian declaration of war upon Germany, and declared that this again confirmation is given to our determination to practice most intimately each day a unity of action along a united front. The Allies, combining and co-ordinating their efforts in close collaboration, have determined the evolution of war along these lines. The German empires find themselves reduced to the defensive, the initiative of the operations has escaped them. After a reference to the natural reasons for Roumania's intervention, Premier Briand referred to the Army in Salonika as follows: "I am in close union with our efforts. The armies in Salonika will fulfill the mission confided to them. Already on that front, as on others, action is developing according to the plans of the general staffs. The action of the Allies will be developed in all ways necessary to dissipate the Oriental dream of the Central Empires. Events will follow their inexorable course in the Balkans, and Turkey and Bulgaria will learn each in its turn that it is dangerous for a country in abandoning traditional friendship to subordinate itself to the anti designs of a country without scruples."

GERMAN ATTEMPTS FAIL.

PARIS, Sept. 14. The Germans made vigorous efforts last night to drive the French from the territory captured recently on the Somme and Verdun fronts. The war office to-day announced, but without result. Several assaults were made north and south of the Somme and east of the Meuse at Vaux and Chapitre Wood.

WANTS FORCES COMBINED.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14. Colonel Repington, the military expert of the Times, commenting upon the Russian General Kurpatkin's recent statement that it is necessary that the Allies combine their men and guns to better advantage than hitherto, says it deserves careful consideration. If on the completion of our own orders, he writes, we can do only if we have reached the limit of expansion of our own armies. These alternatives suggest a number of considerations. Fish Embargo at Greece.

With reference to the fish embargo at Greece about which Mr. R. B. Job, President of the Board of Trade, wired Sir E. P. Morris at London a few days ago, the following reply has been received: "The embargo follows that in force in the United Kingdom. The export of fish is prohibited from the United Kingdom to all European countries, except France, Russia, Spain, Portugal and Italy. The prohibition is to prevent food-stuffs reaching the enemy through neutral countries. The prohibition may, however, be mitigated by the grant of licenses. There need be no hardship if the arrangements made as to the granting of licenses be carried out. All that is necessary is for the British consignees to satisfy the British Minister at Athens as to the disposal of the fish, and provided there is nothing against the consignees, the British Minister will cable recommending the shipments and the Secretary of State will cable the Governor. I leave Liverpool on Friday. Send further cables, if any, to the Colonial Secretary."

BRILLIANT PICTURES AT THE NICKEL.

The week-end programme at the Nickel Theatre is even better than the other nights of this week. "The Diamond on the Sky" will be continued. The chapter is entitled "A Mind in the Past." Lotie Pickford and Irving Cummings will be seen in some very clever acting. Then there is the powerful three-act social melodrama entitled "Gingerbread Bull" which is produced by the Hells players. In addition to these grand pictures Charlie Chaplin as "The Tramp" will be seen. To-morrow there will be a big matinee for children when extra films will be shown for the benefit of the little ones. All patrons should make an effort to attend this performance.

MORE TYPHOID REPORTED.

Within the past week four cases of diphtheria and one of typhoid were reported to the Public Health authorities. The last mentioned case is in the fourth in the same house on the Southside road. The outbreak originated through the drinking of water out of a well which had been in use over a quarter of a century. Another resident in the same neighborhood is now under observation for typhoid.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Kindly grant space in your columns for the purpose of airing a genuine grievance caused by the perpetration of a piece of gross injustice on the coopers of this country by the powers that be which will never give place to the powers that were if they follow their hand in the manner which I am going to make public.

It seems some person or body some time back represented, or to be correct misrepresented, to the Government that Scotch style herring barrels to the amount required could not be procured in this Colony and on the strength of this fable the Government set to work and immediately removed the duty on the barrels, with the result that thousands have been injured in the Balkans, and Turkey and Bulgaria, and to the benefit of the workers across the water. Now, sir, what are the facts? All the barrels required are more can be manufactured right here and good barrels at that (provided they are headed up by practical men after being packed and not by Jerry-masters with American axes). As a proof a visit can be made to cooperages in this city and there are hundreds of barrels made on speculation, and now owing to the unfair action of the Government they are left on the hands of the coopers with the deplorable fact of city men left idle, whilst the coopers of Canada are busy and receiving the Newfoundland money which should be spent amongst the residents of the country.

In my opinion, sir, there are two reasons for the above mentioned misrepresentation. One of them is that herring packers wanted to be in a position to keep the price of barrels at a low figure in competition with the part of manufacturers would achieve this object without resorting to the usual methods referred to. The other reason I intend to keep secret for the present but will probably make public if this affair which is manifestly unfair and an atrocious injustice is not soon remedied and the coopers given their place in the sun, for if there are any more deserving body of men to be in Newfoundland, excepting the fishermen, they are the coopers, for the tireless energy displayed by them in their daily avocation must certainly lead to a worthy breakdown of the imagine the rivers of ink which would be spilled if the owners of the Clothing and Shoe and other Factories were treated in this high-handed and unjust manner; Naval Heroes
Return on Furlough.

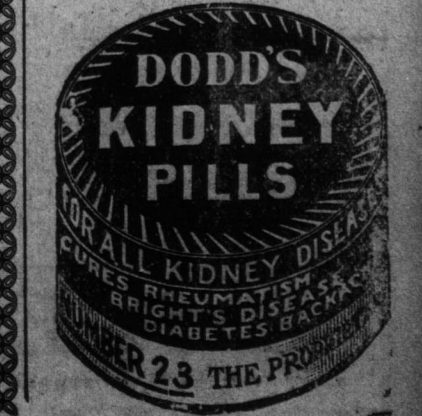

By the s.s. Stephano which reached port yesterday afternoon nine Naval Reservists returned on furlough. Their names are: J. Hill, Griquet, French Shore; Patrick Walsh, Fermeuse; A. Hussey, Upper Island Cove; Walter Marsh, Dunfield, T.B.; Geo. M. Tull, St. George's; Thos. Purcell, St. Philip's; P. White, Loo Cove, B.B.; Walter Strickland, Frenchman's Cove, Carling; Allan Nofall, Broad Cove, B. D. V. The Ladies Reception Committee were at Harvey & Co's. coastal wharf to receive the boys in blue. After being greeted the men were lined up and addressed by J. A. Clift, Esq., who on behalf of the Reception Committee and the country at large extended to the sailors a right royal welcome home and thanked them for the valuable services they had rendered the Empire. The men were then placed in automobiles and driven to Government House, where in the absence of His Excellency the Governor Sir Joseph Outerbridge received and entertained the returned heroes. The men reported on board H. M. S. Briton yesterday afternoon and were granted one month's furlough. All of the men have seen active service in the Dardanelles and in the North Sea and have qualified as able seamen and sea-man gunners. Naval Gunner J. Hill of H. M. S. Tiver served 14 months in the Dardanelles and passed through several stiff engagements, escaping the Turkish shelling, but unfortunately received a severe scalding while in the act of bringing a bucket of hot water from the engine room to the main deck. He was attended by the ship's doctor and on reaching England entered Ramsgate Hospital where he remained five weeks; discharged from there he entered the gunnery school at Chatham, but after a short while in training he developed scarlet fever and was again sent to hospital for one and a half months. While in the fever hospital he was attacked by kidney disease and was later sent to Scotland for another month and a half, after which he was granted furlough. Reservist Walter Strickland of Frenchman's Cove was for the past twenty months attached to H. M. S. Orontava, an armed liner, and did patrol work in the North Sea. Although not taking an active part in the Jutland fight, his ship did some important work within sound and sight of the guns. On July 3rd he was sent to the Royal Infirmary at Glasgow, suffering from influenza, but was discharged on the 29th of the same month. In company with the others he left Chatham for home on September 4th.

Hot Weather Philosophy.

In this hot weather it will make us feel a little more comfortable to think of cool things, like snow and ice. So, first let us remember that there is a wet season ahead, but after that the snowy and frosty season. We shall have to be out in all kinds of weather, and the only way to enjoy life under all the different conditions is to be comfortably clad. For instance, if your feet are encased in nice, stylish, well-fitting Bear Brand Rubber Shoes, the state of the streets will not worry you in the slightest degree. Of course, nobody is buying rubber shoes just yet, but the time will soon come, and then, isn't it better to buy one good, well-fitting pair that will last you the greater part of the winter, rather than half-dozen pairs of shoddy shoes, that you will always find broken on the mornings that the slush is inches high?

Tourist Traffic.

All Records Broken by Red Cross Ships.
To-morrow, Sept. 16th, as previously mentioned, the summer schedule for the Red Cross steamers Stephano and Florizal comes to an end. The Stephano, which arrived here yesterday afternoon brought 116 tourists. The heat in New York when the Stephano left was sweltering, the summer being exceptionally long there this season. Necks and Waists.

By RUTH CAMERON.

A friend of mine who was trying to decide between two suits honored my judgment by calling on me for help.

One suit had been marked down from thirty-five to twenty-five dollars and had some handsome embroidery on it. The other was a straight, twenty-five dollar value.

And yet, without hesitation, I advised her to buy the latter.

Why? Because it had a more becoming waist line.

It Made Her Look III Proportioned.

She is a rather short woman. The more expensive suit was made with a belt somewhat below her waist line.

The result was to make her look short and not well proportioned.

To my mind the two most important features about a suit or dress are the position of the waist line and the opening at the neck.

Every woman ought to study her figure and know just what kind of belt line gives her the best proportions and refuse to be cajoled by the demands of style or by the allurements of costly material or handsome trimming to accept the wrong line.

Slim People Look Well in High Waist Lines.

Slim people usually look well with the high waist line, while plump people are better off with the long line from shoulder to hip, but height and other characteristics help determine this matter, so generalities are dangerous. The rule for every woman is "Know thyself."

Just as an unbecoming waist line spoils the effect of the figure, so an unbecoming opening at the neck mars the effect of the face.

Never buy a suit or gown or blouse without studying this feature.

What Shape Neck is Most Becoming to You?

My favorite white blouse is one for which I paid a dollar and fifteen cents. People often say how becoming it is without realizing that that is just because it has an unusually good V-shaped neck. One should know whether one can best wear the V, the round, or the square neck, and then one should carefully inspect the effect of the individual garment, for slight differences in lines make big differences in effect.

These are little things, I know, and some will say, "We have not time to be so fussy about little things." But it is not so much a matter of time as of intelligence.

You may even save time, for if you know what type of thing becomes you, you will know definitely what to look for instead of looking vaguely for "something becoming."

Times are Busy at Grand Falls.

From Mr. N. W. Gillingham, of the A.N.D. Co., Ltd. staff, Grand Falls, who arrived in town from the paper city by Wednesday's express, we learn that just at present times are very busy at that place. Something over 200 men are engaged exclusively on construction work. Large additions are being made to the paper mills and when finished the output of paper and sulphite pulp will be considerably increased. A larger amount of wood will be cut this coming winter for the manufacture of paper than in former years, and beginning in October large gangs of men will be given employment at Badger and Millertown during the logging operations, and from present appearances the A.N.D. Co., Ltd. boats this coming winter.

A New York paper of a recent date says: The British steamer Thetis, a battered veteran of the seas, formerly a sealer of the coast of Labrador and sent on the Greely relief expedition to the Far North, and later bought by the United States Government for the coast guard service in the North Pacific, arrived in port to-day from San Francisco on her way to her old hunting grounds.

After many years of service in the North Pacific the sturdy old Thetis recently was sold at a government auction sale at San Francisco to Nova Scotia owners.

TRASK—PETRIE.

At St. Mary's Cathedral yesterday morning was celebrated a quiet but pretty wedding when Rev. Father Quinn officiated at the marriage, at 6:30 o'clock of Miss Gertrude Jean, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Petrie, of St. John's, Nfld., and William H. Trask, son of L. M. Trask, of Halifax.

The bride looked charming in a tailor-made suit of navy blue with saxe white hat. She carried a mother-of-pearl prayer book. She was attended by Miss Helen Trask, sister of the groom, who wore a blue suit with white hat. Burton L. Trask, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

Many gifts were received. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl pendant, to the bridesmaid an pearl ring, and to the best man an amethyst stick-pin.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Trask, who have the best wishes of a large number of friends, left for a trip through Annapolis Valley. Returning they will remain guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Trask, 169 Henry St., for a few weeks, afterwards returning to St. John's, Nfld., to take up their permanent residence, where Mr. Trask holds the position of manager of the L. M. Trask Company's office—Halifax Recorder, Sept. 8th.

Obituary.

It is with deep feelings of regret we chronicle the death of our little friend Annie Delaney, who died at Riverhead, St. Mary's, on the 2nd inst., after a long and painful illness, borne with remarkable patience and fortified for one of her tender years.—She was in her fourteenth year, but was more like one many years older she was so sensible and good. She had been an inmate of the General Hospital on two occasions, where both doctors and nurses did all that was possible for her and she often spoke of their kindness to her. But her case was hopeless from the first. She was greatly beloved by all who knew her; she was of a gentle, lovable disposition that endeared her to all. To her sorrowing parents we offer our heartfelt sympathy.—Com.

Rod and Gun.

In his story "Two Bags of Wild Ducks," in the September number of Rod and Gun, which is now on the news-stands, Bonnycastle Dale, the naturalist writer and contributor to many Canadian as well as American journals, compares shooting with the gun to shooting with the camera.

"Duck Days on Pitt Meadows" describes a duck shooting expedition in another Province, that of British Columbia. "A Bit of Selkirk Bush" is a humorous sketch of an expedition through the Selkirk hills.

"With Dad in the Forests of Quebec" tells something about the good hunting and shooting that is to be had in that Province. The magazine for September is replete with stories of interest to the lover of the out-of-doors and the special departments devoted to Guns and Ammunition, Conservation, Fishing Notes, The Kennel, etc. are also of particular interest. This representative Canadian sportsman's magazine is published at Woodstock by W. J. Taylor, Limited.

Your Boys and Girls.

It has often been declared that the sound of running water has the effect of lulling one to sleep, but in India the mothers go much further than this and make their babies sleep by letting a small stream of water flow directly on their little heads.

Such means seem almost incredible, and one might think colds and other ailments would result that would kill the babies, but apparently this novel lullaby has no harmful effects upon the native infants, and they lie sleeping for hours with a stream of water flowing directly upon their little heads.

This is done by the native mothers in the vicinity of Simla. There the women do a great deal of field work and must leave their babies alone. Few of the women can afford caretakers, and so they resort to what they consider the next best thing.

AT THE CRESCENT.

The Crescent Picture Palace presents a big variety show to-day: "The Grimacing Skull," a great 3-reel feature produced by the Selig Co. "Just Gold," a strong exciting drama with Dorothy Gish and Lionel Barrymore. "Bungle's Elopement," a very laughable farce with all the Vim Comedy Co. Mr. Sam Rose, baritone, sings "Baby Shoes" a beautiful ballad. Professor McCarthy presides at the Piano. The usual big matinee on Saturday afternoon; send the children, extra pictures.

A delicious sauce for a huckleberry pudding is a thin sauce of butter and sugar made into a syrup with a little flour and flavored with lemon or vinegar juice and a dash of nutmeg.

Everyday Etiquette.

"When I accompany a young lady and her mother to a place of entertainment, ought I to walk beside the young lady or between the two. Where the walk is narrow should I precede the ladies or follow them?" Should the younger lady or the older precede me when the walk is only wide enough for two.

"It looks better for the man to walk on the outside but there is nothing improper in his walking between the two women. Whether he should precede or follow depends on circumstances. If it is a rough, muddy or stony way he may suggest that he lead off ahead in order to warn the ladies of any obstacle. If it is brightly lighted, smooth way he may fall behind. Common sense is really the guide in such matters," advised his father.

HALICZ TAKEN.

LONDON, To-Day. Despatches from Petrograd indicate the Russians have captured Halicz, the key to Lemberg.

BOWSER BEATEN IN B. C.

VANCOUVER, B.C., To-Day. The Bowser Government has gone down to defeat. So far the returns are not full enough to determine definitely, but it looks as if about ten Conservatives would survive the election. Premier Bowser himself was defeated. Prohibition was carried, although the vote is closer than expected, and the suffrage bill was also carried.

WAR REVIEW.

LONDON, To-Day. On the Bethune road to the north and south of Bouchevaine the Germans, according to Paris, have vainly attacked the newly won trench positions in the hope of retaining their transport lines north, but all their efforts have been without success and the French have maintained all their gains. Except for recapture of bombardments and a slight advance by the French by a bombing attack near Belloy-en-Santerres, south of the Somme, the situation elsewhere on the entire front in France and Belgium remains unchanged. The Teutonic allies are continuing their advance in the Dobruja sector of Roumania, according to Berlin and Sofia. Across the mountains in Transylvania the Roumanians have attacked west and east of Hermannstadt, but were repulsed, says the Vienna War Office. In the Carpathians the Russians attacked vigorously the forces of the Central Powers at Sometree, Ludova and Hapul, storming the position after a heavy preparatory bombardment. Their efforts to drive forward, however, were stopped with sanguinary losses, according to Vienna. On the Macedonian front considerable heavy fighting has taken place, but with results beclouded owing to the variant reports by the different war chancelleries. The Serbs in the lake Ostrovo region are declared by Paris to have made appreciable progress against the Bulgarians, while both Berlin and Sofia report bombardments in this vicinity, but mention gains for neither side.

SERBIANS DRIVE BACK BULGARS.

SALONIKA, To-Day. The Serbians are successfully pushing the Bulgarians back at several points on their section of the Salonika front, according to an official statement issued at the Serbian headquarters today. The text of the statement is: Our offensive continued yesterday on the entire front with complete success. According to statements of prisoners the intensity and precision of our artillery fire inflicted heavy losses on the enemy. At many points the Bulgarians are retiring under pressure of our infantry which is successfully occupying enemy positions. Our action continues energetically.

FIRE AT SARNIA.

VERY LATEST!

IMPORTANT ALLIED VICTORIES IN MACEDONIA.

PARIS, To-Day. The Entente Allies have won a series of successes on the Macedonian front, the War Office announced today. French, British and Serbian forces operating at different points have broken through the Bulgarian defenses. The French have captured positions half a mile deep over a front of a mile. A brilliant victory for the Serbians over the Bulgarians was scored after a battle lasting several days west of Lake Ostrovo, near the western end of the fighting front. The British success was effected west of the Vardar, near the centre of the Entente front, where they captured important positions. The lines forced by the French were to the east of the Vardar. East of the Vardar the Serbians captured twenty-five cannon and a large number of prisoners, as yet uncounted. The Bulgarians after their defeat, says the statement, retired for a distance of 12 miles.

FRENCH TAKE TRENCHES ON SOMME.

PARIS, To-Day. North of the Somme the French last night captured a series of German trenches and advanced as far as the village of Raucourt, the War Office announced today. On the Verdun front two German attacks were repulsed.

BRITISH ATTACK ALONG WHOLE FRONT.

LONDON, To-Day. The British returned to the attack on the Somme front last night, charging over a sector of about six miles. The War Office announced today that they had advanced from 2,000 to 3,000 yards and are continuing to progress. The attack was made along the whole British front, over which the heaviest fighting has been in progress recently. The British advanced on the line from Blueaur Wood between Combes and Gimchy to a point north of the Albert Spaigame highway.

CELEBRATE SILVER WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Blackall celebrated their silver wedding at their home yesterday, and were the recipients of many presents and congratulations from their numerous friends. Mr. Blackall, as is well known, holds the responsible position of Supt. of Education of C. E. Schools in Newfoundland, and was for upwards of 20 years Headmaster of Bishop Field College. Since the outbreak of hostilities Mr. Blackall has rendered invaluable services to the Empire as a member of the Recruiting Committee. It was only yesterday that he had reason to refer to Mr. Blackall's work along the south and west coasts, where good results are shown every week. The Telegram wishes Mr. and Mrs. Blackall many more years of married happiness.

SLEEPING IN A TENT. Sleeping in a tent is a tried and tested method of getting close to nature and the domestic mosquito. For some reason which science has never been able to ascertain, the American mosquito operates at his best in a well tent which has been swathed in netting. Many a man has left an airtight chamber two flights up, where he was free from mosquitoes and breath, and sought refuge in a tent out in the yard, only to arise in the morning decorated with the pink art craft of the nomadic mosquito and the treacherous red ant.

A 7 by 9 tent which has been put up by a sixteen-year-old son who was in a hurry to go fishing is an inviting place to sleep in during a rain storm. After it has rained for a while the tent will lose the waterproof qualities it left the factory with and begin to allow lean, penetrating streams of water to wriggle down the necks of the sleepers. If it rains hard the water will also crawl under the tent and collect in a large, damp body on the floor, so that anybody who gets out of bed to tie up the west flap will have no trouble in telling what it is at once. More internal rheumatism has been caused by sleeping in a water-soaked state in a tent which was guaranteed to stand off a cloudburst than from any other cause except putting vinegar into the breakfast food.

Owing to the lack of space in the average tent, the spring cot is used as a substitute for beds. As nobody ever manufactured a cot that was over five feet long, the result is that several of the male members of the family are obliged to allow their feet to hang

Western Notes.

(From the Western Star.)

One hundred and forty carloads of limestone, being 2,500 tons, have been shipped from the limestone quarries at Patricia Mountain, on the Humber, this morning up to 9th September. From sixteen to eighteen men have been employed there since the latter part of May. The best month to date was July, when 43 carloads were shipped. The whole of the output of this quarry goes to Grand Falls and is used at the paper mills of that town. It is expected to pass the three thousand ton mark this month.

C. M. Jack, of Halifax, N.S., spent six weeks fishing Upper and Lower Humber rivers. He caught a great many salmon and had excellent sport. Mr. Jack saw a bull and cow moose at Adie's Pond; the animals were about three years old, and in excellent condition. Mr. Jack thoroughly enjoyed the trip. He returns home today.

Herring, the real old fashion Labrador kind, are plentiful all along the Labrador side of the Straits of Bellefleur. Codfish are plentiful at Bellefleur from a regular trip to Battle Harbor. There is also a good sign of herring along the Newfoundland side of Straits. Codfish are plentiful at Bellefleur, Cape Charles, Henley Hr., Forteau, and when bait can be obtained fishermen load their boats. Scud are scarce, and the fishermen are using herring as bait. The Ethie made a quick voyage this time though she experienced very bad weather, high winds and terrific rain storm throughout the run north. Coming south, however, there was a complete change in the weather, and the nights particularly were beautiful, and all on board much enjoyed the trip.

Semi-circular skirts are graceful and unusually becoming. Nothing is better for practical waists than crepe de chine.

The Tent Sleeper is an Early Riser. Owing to the Milkman, the Ice Man and the Insomniac Rooster.

Tents are constructed of strong, fibrous materials which will keep out everything but the wind, rain and man-eating insects. When one thinks of the thousands of intrepid American families who go to roost every night in the summer in a dog tent, which is liable to cave in every time the wind gets above middle C, he will not fear that we are losing those heroic qualities which shone at Bunker Hill and the late Vicksburg convention. The tent sleeper is an early riser, owing to the milkman, the ice man and the insomniac rooster, and therefore the practice should be encouraged.

A Disgrace to a Civilized Community

IS BANNERMAN PARK, REPORTS SERGT. SMITH TO CITY FATHERS.

Immoral Scenes and Loose and Disorderly Conduct Going on Wholesale—Park Ordered to be Closed Early for Remainder of Season.

The weekly session of the City Council was held last night, Councilor Mullaly being the only absentee. Business was going along as usual and the temperature was about normal when a red hot letter was submitted to the meeting by Councilors Morris and Finncombe, who comprise the Bannerman Park Committee. The mislve was written by Sergt. Smith, who is engaged at the Park by the Council to keep order and look after the moral welfare of the place, and contained some startling disclosures. In strongest and plainest language conditions as they existed there were graphically described. Disorderly and immoral scenes were enacted nightly by a number of individuals of both sexes, who frequented the Park, reported the officer, who recommended that the Park be closed at seven o'clock each and every evening until the season closed the latter part of October. He added that this conduct was a disgrace to the city and a reflection on any civilized community. He was unable to cope with it singly, and it was at the risk of one's life to interfere. He cited an instance of an occasion recently, the night of a Sabbath Day, how he was compelled to go to the Regimental Headquarters and get the aid of a picket duty. Sergt. Smith concluded his report by stating that the keeping open of the Park till 10 p.m. was a mistake as far as he could see, and encouraging immoral.

Councilor Morris said that incredible as the Sergeant's report seemed it was nevertheless true, and he endorsed the recommendation that the Park be closed at 7 p.m. After a general discussion pro and con on the matter it was unanimously decided that both Bannerman and Victoria Parks close at 8.30 p.m. beginning Sunday night next.

Robert R. Parsons gave notice to serve Council with writ of mandamus compelling them to pass plans submitted for dwelling house north of McKay Street. Referred to Engineer.

Fenders were received for hay and oats. E. J. Horwood's being the lowest, was accepted.

The Salvation Army acknowledged receipt of permission to build citadel, Adelaide Street.

Wm. Field wrote stating that his horse, valued at from $200 to $300 fell into a rock cut while grazing near Windsor Lake and was seriously hurt. He asked Council for some compensation. Every member of the Board said he was sorry, but were not authorized to give expression in a tangible way, so Mr. Field's request was handed to the Solicitor.

P. Malone offered to clean up King's Bridge River and margin of Quidi Vidi Lake for $60. Referred to Sanitary Supervisor for report.

W. F. Canning acknowledged receipt of permission to connect with water pipe on Quidi Vidi Road.

Pennywell Road drains were complained of by G. Bagden. Referred to Sanitary Department.

Joe Wiseman, Carter's Hill will be given a few loads of gravel asked for.

Discussion then arose over the paving of drains and the considering of a request of an increase of salary for Jas. Maher. Referred to Engineer.

Dr. Burden complained of bad condition of Duckworth Street. Attended to.

G. H. Tucker asked leave to build annex to house in Gear Street. Must submit plans.

F. W. Bradshaw wrote about water entering his cellar. Referred to Engineer.

The Solicitor reported that the street railway company were liable for the cost of repairing that portion of the street occupied by the Company's track.

The Health Officer reported four cases of diphtheria and one of typhoid.

The Park Committee will consider a requisition for trees and shrubs.

A requisition was received from the Water Works department for supplies of pipe, and tenders will be asked. It was ordered to reduce the constant flow of water in horse troughs, as the water in Windsor Lake was constantly dropping.

W. F. Butler submitted plans of addition to house on Circular Road. Passed.

The Southside Road water sewer will be extended.

The City Engineer's report showed progress for the week.

The meeting closed at 10.15 p.m.

BUY YOUR Floor COVERINGS
—FROM—
BLAIR'S
Because they will Save you Money.

They are offering a big variety of patterns in the New American Floor Coverings at $1.10 yard.

You can buy these same Floor Cloths somewhere else for $1.20 and that is their usual price, but they say September being a kind of a quiet month they can easily cut more Floor Cloths than, so the cut in the price cuts two ways.

They say according to the prices the manufacturers are now quoting, these coverings would cost them all this much to land.

They show a big range of Hock and Floral Patterns, as they have the manufacturers of three different makers, viz.: Congoleums, Polyleums and Neponsets, and show the best patterns of each make. These are much better than cheap Floor Canvases, of which the cheapest to-day is about $1.00 per yard.

This is mainly because the basic material for Cheap Floor Canvases is Burlap or Brin, and the immediate demand for that is tremendous. It is estimated that for the making of sand bags and the wrapping of foodstuffs, etc., for the Army, that the British Government calls for sixty million square yards per week. Therefore the price of brin has more than doubled. But we are trying to help you all we can on prices, therefore remember—
