When demagroupes sought to lead the people astray he entered the lists against them. Refusing alike threats and the prospects of greater political honor he stood true to the integrity of the Dominion. Mr. Thompson, whom HerMajesty had been pleased to honor with the time of Sir John Thompson—[cheers]—was without a superior on the floor of Parliament.
The caders of the Liberal party were recently in this district and had proposed a policy.
Mr. Laurier and Sir Richard Cartwright had once more asked the people for their confidence.
Old Mortality used to go around scraping the moss from tombstones so that Time might not efface the records there written. It was, however, not prudent for the Liberal leaders to do such as this. Their rule when in power was Cheers.]
The Liberal leaders were now advocating Unrestricted Reciprocity with the United States. He was in favor of friendly trade relations with that country and the Conservative party had ever been. Time and time again and that party sought friendship in lead with their neighbors to the south. The Liberal leaders were not steady advocates of Reciprocity. First they were Free Traders, then a short time after Protectionists, then Commercial Unionists and now their reviews.

nercial Unionists and now their cry arestricted Reciprocity. The Liberals' Kaoka. Some time ago when the Liberals were in bower and the tea and coffee were taxed, the power and the tea and coffee were taxed. The people burnt crusts and made their beverage from that, but when the Conservative party same into power and removed the Lax there was no more use for burnt crusts. Nevertheless some good people of St. Thomas contrived a scheme of providing a new beverage. The stuff was put up in neat, packages and the dictionary was ransacked for a name. Finally one was found about an inch long, the meaning of which nebody knew. It was Kaoka, and everybody from St. Thomas to the Pacific in the west and the Athantic in the east commenced to buy Kaoka. But a chemist analysed the Kaoka and found it to be a good deal like the burnt crusts. It was burnt bread and sugar and so it would be found that this Unrestricted Reciprocity meant just about the same as John Thompson, Minister of Justice. Sir Hector was a novelty to a large majority of the addience; Sir John Thompson was in the county two years ago, and at that time made himself well known.

Hagersville, situated on the confines of the New Credit Indian reserve, did itself proud to-day. The village streets were gay with flaunting bunting and flags, several mottoes were strung across the main thoroughfare and plenty of music was furnished by three bands; The colored band from Canfield, the Live Oak Hose Band of Dunnville and the Live Oak Hose Band of Dunnville and the Caledonis band. There was no lack of onthusiasm throughout the entire afternoon, and the sun went down this evening at the close of one of the pleasantest, if not the most imp riant, political gathering ever held in the historical county of Haldimand. The weather could not possibily have been finer.

visit to Ontario and the enthusiastic way in which he had been received. Sir George Cartier may have had a French heart but it was a true heart, a sincere heart, and a loyal heart to the Queen. Sir George was a twin brother of the Grand Old Man. [Hear, hear.] Sir John had a very tender memory for his dedeparted friend. Tears came to the Chieftnia's eyes when memories of Sir George were resulted. He, as a leader in Quebec—in which position his compatriots had placed him—was following Sir George's course, not indeed with the hope of gaining such popularity but with the same earnest desire for the weal of the land. DR. MONTAGUE'S OVATION.

A Specia That Had the Leyal Ring About it all Through.

Chairman Snider first introduced the member of the county to the audience. He was received with a quantity of applause that made the whole grove echo.

Dr. Moutague spoke with pride of the success of the demonstration. He had been sanguine of its success but he did not dream that it would assume such gigantic proportions. Though he would be ungrateful if he did not thank his friends who promoted the demonstration, and the great host of people present for their attendance, he did not vainly think that; and poople on both sides of politics were say.

C. M. Sugar-Coated.

He spoke on Unrestricted Reciprocity. He said it was sugar-coated Commercial Union. [Laughter.]
Discussing President Cleveland's message he said that they should be collected and calm.

The speches of Dr. Montague and the two Ministers were attentively listened to throughout by the audience. Adam Brown, Mr. McCulla, Mr. McKay, Mr. Boyle and Dr. Sinclair then made brief addresses and added to the information and bursts of loyalty that had already been showered upon the audience. Then there was music by the bands, plenty of cheering and hurrahing, the Ministers were presented with big boquets and the plonic was wound up by overybody joining in singing "God Save the Queen."

When Sir Hector got his boquet he evinced a spirit of joility. He reminded the hundreds of young ladies present that he was a widower, advised the young men of Haldimand to make their opportunities, and said some other sweet things in his own peculiar way.

The refreshment stalls on the east side of the Dairy Hall have been enlarged and improved, and will have been enlarged and improved, and will have a number of small tables for the convenience of visitors who may wish to sit down for a few minutes to a light lunch. The main building is being thoroughly cleaned and the Dining, Dairy, Carlage, Agricultural and Horticultural Halls are being cleaned and painted. All the other sheds and buildings are being thoroughly overhauled and put in order.

The arrangements for witnessing the fre-works have always been a source of anxiety to the management but this year they are dealing with the matter in a manner which appears to solve the difficulty, namely, a good view for the visitors, without injury to the grounds. In trant of the scenery a slight excavation has been made and this being levelled gives room for 2550 reserve seats, which will be protected by a four foot picket fence. Then the bank from the fence right to the main building is made to slope gently up, so that every one can see the display without inconvenience. The press arrangements are more complete than last year. There is ample accomodation for the city daily and weekly papers, as well as for provincial visitors. Arrangements were completed yesterday for the exhibition of cotton plants. They will be brought from Georgia by express and will appear exactly as they grow in the fields.

The grounds under Superintendent Chambers' care are now in all their summer beauty. No finer sight can be seen on this continent than some of the carpet flower beds on the west side. It will well repay visitors to view those flowers it nothing else were to be seen. Retaliation, even the threat of it, will have the effect of building up our own canals and seaports, and encouraging the steamship lines running to and from Canada.

Two of a Kind.

The Mail, in a sanctimonious way, rubs its hands and says Canadians must back up their Government, and then proceeds to argue the Yankee case even in stronger terms and with more casuistry than the Yankees themselves.

Mr. Laurier protests his loyalty and then strengthens the case of the Yankees by admitting that Canada has been offensive to her neighbors. He was also quite loyal in the Riel rebellion, but took the part of Riel and the rebels in Parliament and on the stump.

The common bond between Mr. Laurier and The Mail is that they are both Unrestricted Reciprocitarians.

The Globe net With Laurier.

From Yesterday's Globe.

Till Mr. Laurier disposes of the argument by which we yesterday maintained this opinion, we must, with all deference and good-will to him, maintain that he is wrong in alleging that the Fisheries policy of Canada has been unfriendly to the States. Obviously it was, as he says, veratious to Americans, but what option did they leave Canada except strict protection of her full rights according to her interpretation of the Convention of 1818? They refused to negotiate, though we gave them in 1885 a season's free fishing by way of showing our friendly spirit. It is, we think, true that the Ottawa Government officials were occasionally rather eager to make seizures when they might judiciously have winked. But our Government was really compelled by the aggressive American attitude to issue orders strictly guarding the entire Canadian tase. All its points are bound up together. No one will accuse The Globe of wishing to defend John A. Macdonald's Administration. But we approved in a general way of its Fish. to her interpretation of the Convention of 1818? They retused to negotiate, though we gave them in 1885 a season's free fishing by way of showing our friendly spirit. It is, we think, true that the totawa Government officials were occasionally rather eager to make seizures when they might judiciously have winked. But our Government was really compelled by the aggrassive American attitude to issue orders strictly quarding the entire Canadian rase. All its points are bound up together. No one will accuse The Globe of wishing to defend John A. Macdonald's Administration. But we approved in a general way of its Fisheries policy as one forced on Canada by the American attitude, and we still think that the Liberals, had they been in power at Ottawa-would have been compelled by the circumstances to take very much the same line. It was not a case in which the Government displayed great wisdom, is was one in which there was only the one course to take. What could Ministers do but stand on the Convention of 1818? There was no other guide for the purpose of turnishing umpires, allows such a state of things to come about that Manager Cushman was permitted to umpire a game of bail in his own city for his own club, and that club a contestant for the pennant? Of all places on earth where good umpires are necessary. Toronto leads.

From The Empire of Yesterday.

Mr. Laurier is an unfortunate politician—anfortunate from the standpoint of his own political interests, doubly unfortunate as the leader of a Canadian party. When the whole of Canada had been stirred to its profoundest depths by the introduction of a "Race and Revenge cry," the demand being made to punish the Canadian Government for executing the laws upon a rebel and a felon, Mr.
Laurier openly avowed his sympathy with the sebels and declared that he was ready to take ap arms in their defence. Now that political parties in the United States are being excited to the utmost in hostility to Canada; now that an anneable settlement of all past difficulties between the two countries has been ruthlessly torn to pieces, withsut provocation or just cause of any kind whatever, this Mr. Laurier takes up the cudgels for the foreigner and again turns upon his country! With protestations of love for Canada on his lipa, he opouly trengthous the hands of the enemy. Avowing The Musketcer at St. Thomas.

Wednesday Evening, Aug. 25.—The local stock market opened decidedly stronger all along the line of bank stocks, not one losing a point, and the great majority gaining several. A much stronger feeling prevalled, and the slight discouraging superances of yesterday were completely swept away in the morning session. There were no transactions in bank stocks in the morning. In the afternoon the only deal in bank stock was in Commerce. North West Land and Canada Permanent sold freely. Prices remained firm and in some stocks higher than in the morning.
