W. F. Maclean, M.P., appeared before the York Township Council yesterday on behalf of the ratepayers of the Don road, and asked that Frank Barber, engineer, prepare an estimate of the cost of a high level bridge across the West Don ravine at Eglington and Leslie streets.

A petition was presented at the last meeting of the township council on behalf of the ratepayers of the Don road, and asked that Frank Barber, engineer, prepare an estimate of the cost of a high level bridge across the West Don ravine at Eglington and Leslie streets.

Mr. Barber was so instructed. A petition was presented at the last meeting of the township council on behalf of the ratepayers of the Don road, and asked that Frank Barber, engineer, prepare an estimate of the cost of a high level bridge across the West Don ravine at Eglington and Leslie streets.

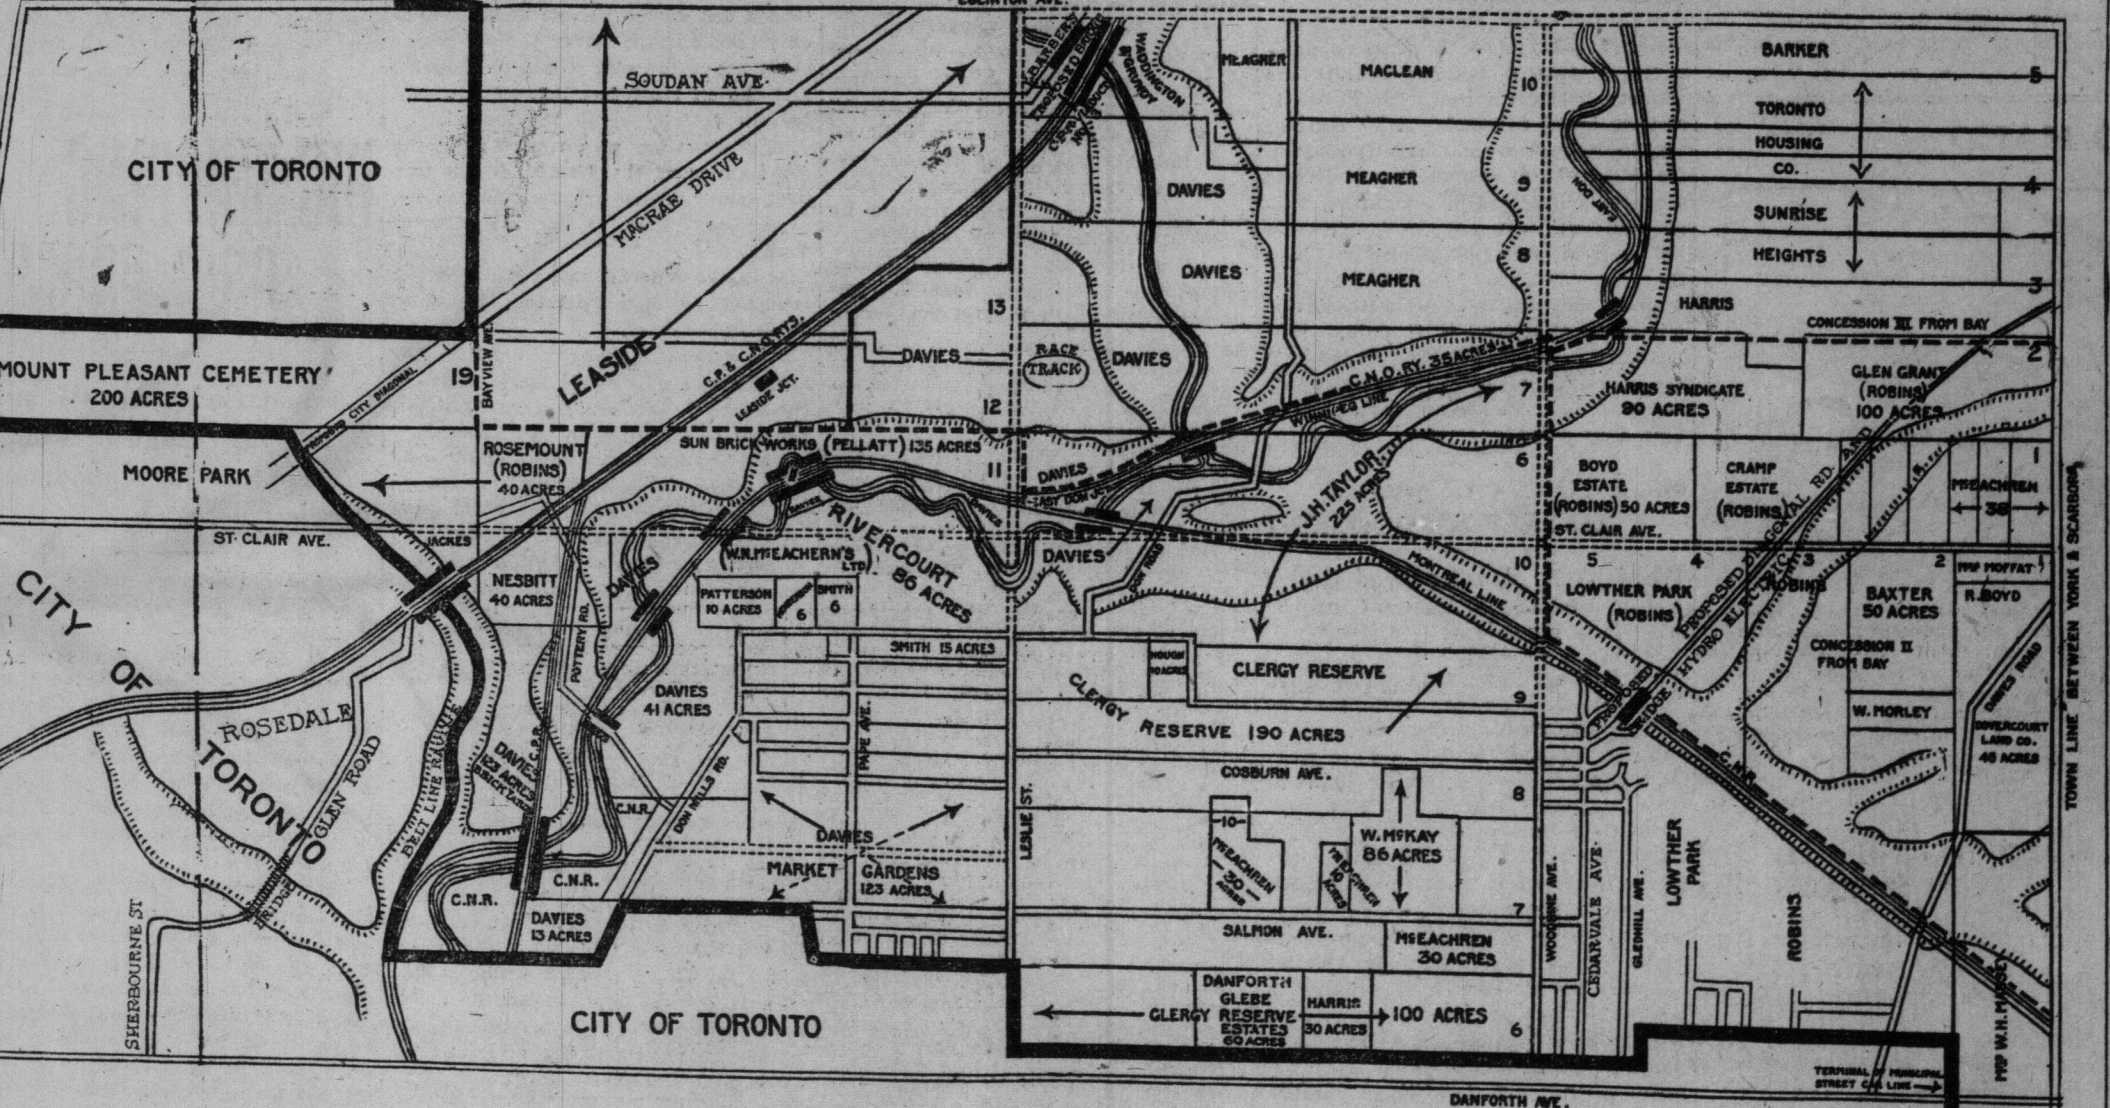

The deputation also asked that a nurse be appointed to attend the children of the poor in the neighborhood, in the summer months. If this were done it was claimed that it would greatly reduce infantile mortality, and would be a saving to the township. The matter will be taken up later.

John Patterson claimed that the council were treating the residents on the town line, between York and Scarborough, very unfairly in not compelling at that point, to complete the bridge, and that a poolroom should be on a business street. There was poor police supervision, and they thought it would be in the best interests of the inhabitants to refuse the license.

The question of these disagreeable odors will probably come up for discussion at the Ratepayers' Association meeting on Friday night in the Annette Street School. The mayor expected to be present and address the members on the transportation problem. While the meeting is called primarily for the discussion of transportation questions, if the present smells continue, there is little doubt that a vigorous protest will be raised as the citizens of ward seven are determined to have them stopped and have stated at their meetings that they will book no further trifling.

Seated by a train just pulling out of the C. P. R. station on Royce avenue last night about 7 o'clock, a team of horses which were being driven westerly along Dundas street by Arthur Raven of 462 Durie street, became unmanageable, dashed across the curb and down Weston street. Two bicycles, which were leaning against the curb, were knocked over and trampled out of shape by the horses in their mad career, and the driver was thrown from his seat to the road by Dr. Mathewson of Dundas street was summoned and Raven was found to have sustained a fractured ankle in addition to many minor bruises and cuts. The runaway team was stopped by some redoubtable men near a block away.

THE PROPOSED ANNEXATION NORTH OF DANFORTH

Last week a petition was presented to the mayor, asking the board of control to recommend to the council the annexation of the district north of Danforth avenue. The Board for approval or otherwise, as the majority of ratepayers are found for or against. The territory is defined in the petition as follows: Beginning at the northeast corner branch road to the York and Scarborough town line, south on the town line to the city limits—about 2000 acres.

The large owners are Robert Davies, over 300 acres; Anglican rectories, 250 acres; J. H. Taylor, 120 acres; Harris Syndicate, 50 acres; Wm. McKay, 70 acres; The map shows the township up to Eglington avenue; also the proposed bridge alongside the C.P.R.'s bridge over the West Don at Eglington and Leslie streets.

What Does Spring Mean to School Children Today?

By Winifred Black

Winifred Black

THEY'RE building a brand new kind of schoolhouse out on the Pacific coast. They have play yards like the old-fashioned play ground, and besides that they have great covered play rooms to be used in rainy weather; and there's another kind of play ground on the roof, a regular garden with pergolas and vines and trees in tubs, and everything but waiters to make it look like the real thing.

What We "Don't" Do Now.

They don't "pass the water" any more, even in hot weather. They have hygienic filters, and everybody brings a separate cup, and there's a set and determined time for drinking, and no other time at all.

Why, the teachers would die of horror to have thirsty little boys and restless little girls drinking every other minute or so.

Do you remember the first day along in April when the hens in the yard next to the schoolhouse came out of the barn and walked around in the wet ground, and talked about the weather?

There was one old white rooster that I used to know who knew more about the weather than all the government bureaus in the world.

He told us about it, too, and we always understood what he said.

When he hopped up on to the edge of the sawbuck and made a few remarks, we knew that the Spring Beauties were coming up down in Churchville Woods just as sure as anything. And when he flew to the top follow him there, we knew that Johnny Sheahan would come to school in the morning with a bunch of Fussy Willows for the teacher and that the Barnard boys would have their pockets full of Slippery Allum to chew before the week was up.

April Fun in Other Days.

No, I didn't mean Slippery Elm. That's the thing we learned about in the botany class. I meant Slippery Allum that you stripped of the tree and chewed, just because you could. Of course, you pretended you liked it, but there was nothing to it but slipperiness after all.

What a lot of things we used to pretend we liked in those days when we went to the old-fashioned schoolhouse.

Sorrel—how hard did you have to work to keep from making a face when you chewed Sorrel and made believe to like it?

Cheese—they grew on little weeds down close to the path, rather musty little things they were; and how wise you felt when you broke off the stem of a Milkweed and went back the next day and showed your city cousin what good gum it made, if you let it dry long enough.

Somehow that particular piece of Milkweed gum never was just exactly right. But the next time you tried it it was going to be.

That first day in April I was talking about—shall you ever forget it? Martha Clafin always was the first one to ask the teacher if she couldn't open the window. And when Martha Clafin did that all the girls came back in the afternoon with gingham dresses or new ribbons in their hair or something to make them feel "different." And all the boys appeared with a baseball or a bat or a glove, and somebody began to play "Andy Andy Over" at noon.

I wonder how they tell about spring in these new, hygienic, up-to-the-minute schoolhouses. I suppose they look at the almanac.

Somehow I suppose I'm frightfully ungenerous. But somehow I'm just stupid enough to be glad that I had another way of finding out about it. I wonder if the Churchills still have a white rooster to tell the school children next door the news? I'd go a good many weary miles to sit again in my little seat at the end of the row in the little old-fashioned schoolhouse and hear him tell it.

Useful Hints for the Housewife

By Ann Marie Lloyd

STRAWBERRIES and the styles of 1890 are contemporaneous events in American history. It was in the same year that women were wearing the quaint modes which have been revived this season with such charming success that strawberry market culture was first undertaken in the United States.

Was it Emerson or another of the New England thinkers who said there might have been a better berry created than the strawberry, but if so, he had never eaten it?

Any way the first true American berries came from Cambridge, Mass., being raised in the gardens of Charles M. Hovey in the year 1838 or 1837. At that time Mr. Emerson was living in Concord, and creating a distinct strain in the literary life of this country and Europe.

With the early shipments from the sunny southland and the late invoices from Nova Scotia and northern latitudes the strawberry season has been delightfully lengthened during the past decade, and extends from the New Year to mid-summer with a short extra season in the fall.

Berries are growing more delicious each day—for the summer berries are invariably the best flavored—and different ways to serve the fruit are welcome to the housewife, though all the culinary skill of the world's cooks has failed to improve the original flavor.

It is to be questioned whether strawberries are ever more appealing than when piled, unspiced, and served on a bed of their own leaves, accompanied by a snowy mound of powdered sugar into which each berry is tenderly dipped before being eaten. Nor is there any surer way to judge the epicure than by his manner of eating strawberries.

Preserved strawberries are the response to the natural wish of all friends of the fruit to prolong indefinitely the joys of the berries. There is a knack in successful preservation. Here is the rule of a famous New England cook:

Four pounds of berries and two pounds of sugar. Arrange berries and sugar in a bowl on a trivet in a boiler two-thirds full of water. Cover and cook till the water in the boiler boils vigorously. Remove the jars, and if the berries have settled, fill from another jar and seal.

PREPARING FOR MIDDLE AGE

Jane Cowl

"Learn How to Retire Gracefully," Says Jane Cowl

By ELEANOR AMES

THE paths of growing old is largely a matter of temperament. Growing old gracefully is an acquired art. Enjoy your triumphs while you may, and when, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for you to step down from the throne which youth occupies so majestically, do it with a cheerful heart and a smiling face and have a store of happy memories to brighten your life in another phase of existence.

That is the gist of some very wise and excellent advice which Jane Cowl, called "the most beautiful woman on the American stage," gave me in a recent interview.

It was advice aimed particularly at actresses, but it applies with equal wisdom to all women, for age is no respecter of professions.

Miss Cowl, now at the zenith of her success, says she will never remain on the stage in defeat.

"I am advised to have the good sense to retire when the time comes that it is best for me to do so," she said. "I have worked hard to succeed and I mean to go on working as hard as my mind and strength permit. I am grateful and happy for what has come to me. But I think it will be beautiful if I can retire before the public has the chance to say, or even to think, 'Jane Cowl is growing old.'"

"It is far better to retire in the heyday of her own success, and to face the inevitable disillusionment and heartache which come to those who hang on too long. There are few Bernhardt's in any walk of life. Feeble youth is the rarest thing in the world. It belongs only to the supreme genius.

"I know some women, on the stage and off, can never afford to retire from active business, but that is one of the tragedies of life. There are innumerable women in all professions and in business who must go on and on earning money whether they want to or not. They are the real heroines. If they can keep up the illusion of youth when youth is gone, they should receive all praise.

"No one can judge of another's position. So many women have responsibilities of which nothing is known. They are never in a position to save anything to make their old age lighter or brighter. But for them I would wish the philosophical state of mind which enables them to accept the inevitable and content themselves on the sidelines when another has the spotlight where they once basked. I would have them reach that stage of content where they can smile without a pang the fortune of their suppliants in the center of the stage.

"There are many women who have few responsibilities and good incomes. To those I would say: Take the advice I am giving to myself. Save your money and lay up for the future. Then when the right time comes, step down and have a graceful and happy middle and old age.

"Mary Anderson de Navarro is such a delightful example of the actress who knew when to retire. She, of course, had the chance to make a brilliant marriage and took advantage of it. Hundreds of actresses—hundreds of business women—have good marital opportunities, only to throw them aside and go on chasing the great will-o'-the-wisp of popularity, or fame.

"I wish they might see the lovely English home of the actress who had so beautiful a place in the hearts of America. It has trees and gardens and flowers, surrounding a wonderful old house, and there Mary Anderson lives with her children, the happiest and most charming of matrons.

"I am not a pessimist. But I do believe in looking any situation in the face. And there is no concealing the fact that youth, with its fresh enthusiasm and its belief in the future, will take the strongest place in the hearts of the public.

"Nothing is more pathetic than to see a woman of more than mature years making a final desperate stand against the onslaught of time. How much finer is the one who can meet the years with a smiling face, and in tranquil manner, knowing that she has other work to do, and that the work she once did can be better done by the younger woman.

"By retirement I don't mean going into obscurity. I mean stepping out of the picture into some more secure and just as useful position, instead of standing with defiance when the hour of dominion has rightfully passed. And I DO believe in marriage. If the right man comes along, I say to any girl, don't refuse to share his name and his home."

"You can go away if you want to. I've money enough in the bank. When my vacation of two weeks comes I'll join you."

"Now I was sure Mary would instantly repeat my offer, made in a spirit of wounded pride. It has always been my firm belief that no woman is entitled to more vacation than her husband, unless she has small children to whom the trip will be of helpful advantage, or because her own health demands it. In all other circumstances I can't see why she shouldn't stay at home and make life livable for him. He'll go with her when he can and that's sufficient. The woman who abandons her husband to town solitude, when he isn't one who makes a joyful good-bye to the train, makes me tired.

"Just as soon as I had reluctantly repeated my offer to Mary, she flew over and kissed me most enthusiastically on the forehead. Mary's kisses are warm, when she has just gained a point. The warmth behind them, however, is not of the sort that coincides with my old-fashioned notions of wifely love.

"Peter, she cooed, 'you are a dear! I've been getting my clothes ready for a week or so, but I didn't dare speak of it before. You won't be lonely, will you?'"

"Oh, no," said I. "Certainly not. I can smoke and think and sleep and read. Where are you going?"

"Up to Marner's Lake," said Mary happily. "Everybody we know is up there."

"Do women flock to resorts because they're honestly tired, or merely because it's fashionable? Whatever the reason, I insist that it's selfish."

Secrets of Health and Happiness

The Tone of Your Voice Seldom Shows Your Vigor

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B. M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

EVERYBODY'S voice has a meaning all its own. The high-pitched, raucous voice of the harbingers of spring, calling "Strawberries! Strawberries! Strawberries!" cannot be mistaken for the old London street cry.

Ever since Mrs. Isaac put one over on the patriarch back in the days of Genesis, when the well-meaning high-pitched voice of the patriarch said: "The voice is Jacob's voice, but the hands are the hands of Esau," the tones from the throat have had a significance more than that of mere recognition.

When a dry, hoarse, metallic voice calls the alert physician on the 'phone, he begins to think of partially paralyzed vocal cords, a laryngitis, an aneurism, or bulging of the aorta—the largest artery in your melancholy anatomy—or, bad 'cess to it, the last stages of tuberculosis.

A commoner fallacy does not prevail among the Great American People than the one which considers the otherwise well individual with a hoarse voice to have "tuberculosis" or "consumption of the throat."

When this ultra-Grand Marshal of the Military Chronic Maladies, to wit, tuberculosis, infects the woebegone victim, the poor chap is always between a hawk and a buzzard, but nowadays rarely has such a degree of the infelicitous ailment as to cause throat and voice disturbances.

Hoarseness No Symptom. In fine, there are hundreds of busy doctors who never have seen any one so far gone as to have "tuberculous laryngitis," as it is called.

Amazing, perhaps, it is, yet throat consumption occurs only in the most advanced examples of this miserable disease. A physician has yet to appear who ever saw an early instance of tuberculosis arise with a permanent change of the voice.

Happily, in the present great preventive era, a crisp, soft, faint voice need not remain under the pall of your suspicions.

You may be sure, weep, as the lady with the thermometer under her tongue does, for the voiceless who have known the crown without the cross of glory, but luckily such tears need not be seriously shed for the still, small voice.

A few can touch the magic string. And noisy fame is proud to win them. Alas, for those that never sing. And die with all their music in them."

Each Voice Different. The voices of turtle doves, the billing and cooing of the mother to her as yet unborn babe, has a richer meaning far than the language of the coming later.

Even though a lion aggravates his voice like Bottom, so that he will roar you as gently as a kitten, you could scarcely mistake the jungle beast for a bird.

Your voice through the telephone over a thousand miles away cannot be mistaken for another's. Man is, after all, the "nightingale," whose feathers were plucked off by a Lacedaemonian, namely, "all voice and nothing else."

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

Dear Annie Laurie: I have been going out with a man for the last year in the same place. He has told me all about her, and he writes to her and goes to see her two or three times a year.

He is not in love with her. He wants to kiss me, and yet by doing so he thinks he is deceiving her.

What should I do about it? Should I allow him to kiss me, or should I give him up altogether? I don't want to do that, but I want to do what is right.

POOR little Anxious, I'm afraid this man of yours isn't yours at all. And no one else's—but his own. He isn't telling you the truth, can't you see that, you poor little girl? If he is not in love with you and doesn't pretend to be how can he deceive her by making love to you?

You're a pretty, probably an interesting, and he likes to have a nice attractive girl to take out with him, and so he takes you out and fibs to you about the other girl.

The only thing for him to do is to make up his mind which girl he likes the best—tell the other one the truth—and do that with her. But that is what that sort of man will never do.

He'll go on fibbing to you and telling stories to the other girl, and by and by there'll be a third girl, and then a fourth, and the first thing all four of you know he'll be married to somebody you never heard of—and she's the one to give you that sort of man keeps that sort of thing up as long as he lives. Give him up, Anxious, and give him up now.

As a Clown Sees Us

By Harry LaPearl

Premier Clown of the New York Hippodrome.

NO home today is complete without a slapstick. In a great many ways it is handier than a hairpin, because the man of the house knows but few of the several hundred possibilities of the instrument.

With a slapstick in the first and most important place, a man is certain to feel more comfortable; he has a handy something, and he can swing hard and make a loud noise with it, even though he does no damage.

The hard swing will relieve his muscular tension—something the doctors are writing long screeds about now and to which they are attributing most of the ills of the world—and he will make himself heard! For the moment he will make an impression. Success at last.

Of course, this is the prime feature of the adaptable slapstick. We clowns have long carried ours home with us, and, as a class, we probably think ourselves masters of our own destiny, with more reason than most men. There are other uses for the ancient funmaker—such as a burglar alarm, a cat problem solver, a parlor entertainer, a prop for most anything, etc. But these are incidental; the purchaser of a first-class slapstick will quickly discover its many uses.

What I must emphasize, in defence of my sex, is the beauty of the "success" noted in my second paragraph. With the rest of the household down to the cook gadding to morning hostessia, it is high time the tired business man asserts himself. How else than with the handy slapstick can he do it with less danger to himself and less damage to his family and household furniture?

Take a lesson from the Pharaonic Order of Phools, gentlemen slaves to the chase any one is doing it—excuse. Pursuing something the doctors are writing long screeds about now and to which they are attributing most of the ills of the world—and he will make himself heard! For the moment he will make an impression. Success at last.

Half the battle is won. With such an implement in your several articles would you yourself possessed of a nerve that would win medals from any Mexican general. Now say it and let the girls mark all your commas, periods and exclamations.

If this procedure doesn't work, we phools must have something you lack.

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By Leona Dalrymple

Author of the new novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as judges.

The truth about "the girl in the cage" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with growing interest.

A Seasonable Excuse. "The weather," said Mary with the air of a martyr, "is certainly getting on my nerves. I'm a wreck."

"You don't look it," I suggested with husbandly frankness. "Your color's good and you're not under weight."

"Did you ever see a man," demanded Mary superciliously, "who would admit that his wife was tired out?"

"Are you tired out?" I inquired incredulously.

"Well, exclaimed Mary indignantly, 'I should think I am! You ought to know better than to ask 'Haven't I done all my own work, Peter, for over a year, when I never had to do a jot of housework before I was married? I've even ironed the handkerchiefs now and then when Sarah couldn't get through.'"

"Both Militant. 'I understand they have fought ever since they married for reasons of state.' 'Why not? He is a soldier and she is a suffragette.'"

Better Than No Reason. "Those European monarchs always have to marry for reasons of state." "Well, they have more reasons than the average American."

Did He Tell the Truth? Gobang—How did Whinsky lose his reputation for veracity? "I asked—He answered his wife's question as to how he liked her new hat."

CONNAUGHT CUP ENTRIES ASKED FOR

T. and D. Windy Meeting—
Caleys Exonerated and Given Points Over Thistles.

A general meeting of the T. & D. F.A. was held last night at Occident Hall, and a tremendous lot of discussion ensued in but a few decisions being made. Already the delegates are beginning to waste the time of the officers with unnecessary and superfluous talk. If some of them could only listen to their queries "on points of information" they would hold their peace.

F. Adey was elected a member of the Irish international selection committee and all entries for the Connaught Cup and the Ontario series which will be run jointly this year, must be made once to the T. & D. secretary, as he must inform the F.A. secretary before the eighth of June, who will be competing for the Ontario series and two dollars for the Connaught Cup series. It is expected that a large number of testas will try this year, and the interest in the series should be keener than ever.

The question of retaining players in regard to accidents was discussed, and the secretaries of the clubs were instructed to inform the president of the association of their players and the number of men who would come under a system so in- stalled. A question was raised as to whether or not a player who had been suspended could play in a practice game or not, and it was decided to ask the O. F. A. for a ruling on this matter.

The council met afterwards, and the case of Hunter of Thistles was set over to the next week. Christie claimed the points in the game with the Hamilton club but it was left over until next week owing to a misunderstanding. Caledonians were granted the points in the game with Thistles, as it was clearly shown that they had received more than twelve hours' notice instead of the five hours' notice demanded. According to a version that appeared in our paper on Saturday Caleys were acting above the board but under the true facts this altered the case considerably. The council adjourned at a late hour, and will meet tonight at the same place.

The games and results for Saturday: First Division. Davenport v. Eatons—E. Nichols, Don Valley v. Parkville—F. J. Malch, Pioneers v. Devonians—L. J. Malch, Sunderland v. Thistles—N. J. Que's Park will hold a committee meeting tonight at 205 St. George street, at 8.15, and the players will train on Thursday evening at Victoria College, at 7.30. Barcoas will train at their clubrooms tonight at eight o'clock.

Parkville request all their players, both junior and senior, out for practice tonight. Tomorrow night is general meeting night.

The name of the new secretary of the British United is R. Partridge, 66 River street.

Horses Take Steady Gallops at Woodbine

Nearly all the horses were out and given steady gallops at the Woodbine track yesterday. The track has been a little cuppy, but is rapidly getting into form. This morning will workout day for the majority of the big stables, and there should be some doings.

Plate Glass was breezed $\frac{3}{4}$ in 1:19; Fountain Play mile in 1:45 2-5; Liberty Hall $\frac{3}{4}$ in 1:13 1-5. The rest of the string were breezed thru the stretch.

Mazouls was sent a mile and did it in most impressive fashion. The fractional time was 24 2-5, 50 1-5, 1:17 3-5, mile time in 1:45 3-5 under wraps all the way.

The Seagram stable is expected today. Preparations were being made yesterday for their arrival.

The brushing of the jumps was commenced on Saturday, and the schooling of the jumpers will commence right away.

The Walker string were breezed thru the stretch, but no fast work.

Henrie's string were out and galloped slow work, several of them were breezed a $\frac{3}{4}$ or $\frac{1}{2}$.

Yorkville breezed $\frac{3}{4}$ in .51 2-5, nice and handy.

E. P. E. A. SEASON OPENS AT HAMILTON

Toronto Beat Hamilton Unit—Hilton's Resignation Accepted.

The Eastern Professional Football Association opened their season at Hamilton Saturday when the Toronto team defeated the Hamilton United eleven by the score of 2 to 1. The game was officially opened and the pros. have a great pitch there for the enjoyment of the game.

After the tussle a meeting of the association was held, and after a lengthy discussion, it was decided to accept Mr. W. Hilton's resignation as president of the Queen City Football Club, in his absence. The Queen City Club were given seven days in which to revoke their list of officers, so as to avoid the penalty of expulsion if the decision is not lived up to.

The question of meeting the O. F. A. regarding affiliation, was discussed, and it was decided to forward them the amount of $10, as requested, to defray the necessary expenses of calling the delegates together.

A large crowd watched Robertson's defeat the Elm street at Riverdale Park, by 4 goals to nil.

Elm street won the toss and set the candy men to play with a strong sun shining in their eyes. Robertson's were soon attacking and the scoring, long before Clark opened the scoring. A little later Bedford added a second from a corner kick, taken by McMahon. From the goal kick Robertson's forwards worked down prettily and Wilson had the satisfaction of scoring a third goal against his old team. The Elm street defence were unable to hold the nippy forwards of Robertson's. Wilson passed to Hutchinson, 25 yards out, and scored a brilliant goal, this also being one of Elm street's last season players. Robertson's were still attacking when the whistle blew for half-time, with the score: Robertson's 4, Elm street 0.

The second half commenced by Robertson's attacking. Elm street defence were hard put to in holding the forwards. Pugh was cautioned for kicking Hutchinson. From now mid-field play followed and neither team being able to secure again, the game ended with Robertson's easy winners by 4 goals.

The teams: Robertson's: Ryecroft, Williams, Russell, Leedham to come, McKenna, Bedford, Clark, Wilson, Hutchinson, McMahon. Elm Street: Horne, McIntyre, Dressell, Farrow, Pugh, Thorn, Layton, Farrington, Reed, Mitchell, Ewing.

Hamilton and Bradford want to play inter-city matches and have written to the O. F. A. for permission.

Two more Ottawa professionals have applied for reinstatement. Bytown has returned to the Simon pures for 24 hours.

Secretary Robertson has sent out a mail vote query regarding the accept-

EDUCATION SYSTEM NEEDS REFORMING

Chairman of Dominion Commission Says Canada is Thirty Years Behind.

COUNTRY COMPLACENT

Belief That Our Schools Are Best in World is "All Tommy Rot."

Special to The Toronto World.

BROCKVILLE, May 2.—"To put ourselves on the back and say we are the greatest people in the world; that we lead the world in education, and that our schools are the best in the world, is all Tommy-rot—and of the rottenest kind."

So declared Dr. J. W. Robertson in a public address delivered under the auspices of the Brockville Board of Trade on the subject of industrial training and technical education. As chairman of the recent Dominion Technical Commission, he addressed fairly blistered means. His address fairly blistered the complacent self-satisfaction of Canadians in their educational system. After an extended and exhaustive tour of investigation in Great Britain, the United States, Denmark, Germany and France, he says Canada is thirty years behind the times, and that it is necessary for her to sit up and reform her system. With a few local exceptions, he characterized it as hopelessly out of date. It is only by seeing what other nations are doing, he stated, that Canadians can realize the great distance in the rear in which the country stands in the modern race.

Industrial training and technical education, according to Dr. Robertson's ideas, means the preparation necessary for the intelligent discharge of life-work and the training that is required for the most citizenship.

Store and Hotel Gutted. A frame building on King street, occupied by John Hunter, a butcher, was gutted by fire and its contents destroyed. The blaze had its origin between a refrigerator and the wall, and is thought to have been due to a lighted cigarette or cigar stub. The loss is partially covered by insurance. The building is situated in the congested downtown district, but the firemen confined the conflagration to it.

The Pine View House at Pine View, on the St. Lawrence River, near T. I. Park, a well-known and popular summer hotel, was destroyed by fire, supposed to have originated from an overheated stovepipe. Several adjoining cottages were also burned, entailing a loss of over $20,000. This is the fourth summer hotel on the river to burn within ten years.

New Hydroplane. One of the A. G. Miles new racing hydroplanes has just been launched at Alexandria Bay, and her first trial was very satisfactory to the owner. The speed was not given out, but it is known that she is much faster than the P.D.Q. III, having no trouble in striking a 40-mile-per-hour clip. The craft was not pushed to her limit owing to the motor being new and must be turned up slowly.

Mr. Miles' other new boat will be launched when the motor is installed. It is thought she will be speedier, as she will carry an engine of about 300 horse-power. It is possible that both boats will be entered in the gold challenge cup races this summer on Lake George, under the colors of the Thousand Islands Yacht Club. At present six boats have entered for the contest, and strong hopes are entertained of bringing the trophy back to the Thousand Islands.

Two years, less one day, in the Central Prison was the sentence meted out by Judge McDonald to William Stevens, the self-confessed burglar of stores in North Augusta, Mallorytown and New Dublin.

PRaises ATTEMPTS TO SETTLE DISPUTE

Buenos Ayres Paper Lauds Steps Taken in Mexico and Panama Cases.

BUENOS AYRES, May 4.—The press of this city still comments editorially on the Mexican situation. La Prensa today commiserates the United States and Colombia on the treaty now before the Colombian Congress, providing for the settlement of the long-standing dispute over Panama, and says it should be sanctioned by both countries without delay. It puts an end to misunderstandings and opens the way for the compensation of material losses. From the political and economical standpoint, the paper continues, the present convention is equally advantageous to each country concerned.

RECORDER TO FINE MONTREAL LOAFERS

Ban Also Put on Park Disturbers and Spitting Fiends.

MONTREAL, May 4.—The spitters, park disturbers and loafers in future will get small comfort in the local recorder's court. A number of offenders today were all fined. "Montreal is no longer a city of loafers," said Recorder Simple. "It is quite impossible for ladies to walk on the streets in some parts of the town without being subjected to serious annoyance from this habit, and the thing must be stopped." Five dollars and costs is the preliminary stopping price.

B. C. MEDIATORS MAY COME HERE

Mexican Charge Says Toronto Would Be Ideal City to Hold Peace Negotiations.

Senor Terreros of the Washington Mexican embassy, who is making Toronto his temporary residence, expressed the opinion yesterday that Toronto would be a natural place for the A. B. C. powers peace commissioners to hold their conference. Mayor Hocken said in case the mediators selected Toronto, the municipal authorities would do anything they could to assist in the matter with the greatest pleasure.

of Toronto expressed by bylaw, the railway of the company shall not be constructed along, upon, above or below any highway as defined by the railway act, but notwithstanding anything in this section, the railway of the company may be constructed across any such highway or along or across any easement acquired for public works in said city, but only above or below such highway or easement and only after the levels, plans and specifications thereof are approved by the engineer for the time being of the said city, or such engineer as may be appointed for that purpose and the engineer for the time being of the company, and in the event of the said engineers failing to agree, by the board of railway commissioners for Canada.

Championed Railway's Cause. Mr. Lancaster, who has been in ill-health for some time, explained to the house that he had been ordered away by his physician, and while he would not ask to have his motion disposed of today, he desired to present his argument in its support. The section above quoted, he thought, was unnecessary and unjust. It virtually committed to the city council of Toronto a power inherent in the Dominion Parliament. All transportation development would be checked in Canada if any or every city could admit or exclude railways chartered by parliament.

Hon. George Graham said the house and the country would be glad to know that the chairman of the railway committee was about to take a much needed rest. He had been struck by Mr. Lancaster's devotion to public duty and said that the latter should have long before this taken some rest and recreation. On behalf of the opposition he was glad to pay this tribute to the chairman of the railway committee. As to the point involved in his motion, Mr. Graham said the City of Toronto had its own problems to solve and was rightly jealous of any encroachments upon its control of its own streets. At the same time the rest of the country had some rights which should be regarded.

Backed by Guthrie. Hugh Guthrie (South Wellington) declared he would heartily support Mr. Lancaster's motion. The road in question represented a large investment of capital, and would serve the people of many counties in Western Ontario. He submitted that it was an absurd contention that any city should arbitrarily exclude railways which had been built up to it under authority of parliament. The debate was then adjourned. The bill may come up again for consideration tomorrow evening or at Friday night's sitting, but as apparently many members desire to be heard on both sides, the bill may stand over until Monday next, when private bills will have the right of way.

WANT TO EXTEND PLANS FOR WINTER LIVE STOCK SHOW

Plans for the ultimate establishment of a live stock show in Toronto easily the peer of the great international show in Chicago are apparent in a letter from the officers of the Toronto winter live stock show, addressed to city council. In it is an estimate which places the grant for 1914 required of the city at $27,327.70. The total expenditure would be $44,927.70, but receipts would defray the difference.

Random Notes on the Mining Stocks.

The Denver Mining Record has this to say of Cobalt and Porcupine mining enterprise: "Cobalt mining enterprises produced silver ore to the value of $16,000,000 during 1913, a decrease of about a million dollars from the record for 1912."

P. Kirkgaard announces that the Cordova Mine, Labrador, will soon be in operation. Financial assistance has been provided by differences among the owners has been disposed of.

Upon the Gould Consolidated lease on the 200-foot level in the Kerr Lake, the vein which was struck at the 200-foot level in a crosscut from the bottom of a winze. The vein here is an inch and a half wide, and in places is 30 feet of drifting done appears to be much stronger than at the upper level.

Owing to the fact that the Dominion Reduction cannot take as much ore as it can produce, the Caribou-Cobalt is now sending its tons of ore a day to the Northern Customs Mill. The Northern Customs Mill is now treating the Caribou-Cobalt ore, and will take up their contract with the Chambers-Fordland on May 1.

The Green-Meehan Mine, at North Cobalt, is now in the hands of the secured creditor. The machinery and plant has been seized and will be sold for debt.

The United Mine Workers of America are slowly, but resolutely, reeling that they will not succeed in compelling the companies to accept their terms. The companies have already been filled, and more coal is being produced than can be sold.

The richest ore of ore from the Crown Mine, Ontario, is being sent to the sampling plant. It contains slightly better than twenty tons, and when the tonnage is taken from it in sampling the pulp will average 400 ounces to the ton. The car will be shipped to Saxony on the 10th inst. Reserve contract next week, and will probably mark the richest shipment of the year from the camp.

Goldfield Consolidated Company asked for an extension of time on its option on the controlling interest in the Ontario Consolidated. This was refused and the option was lapses.

Peterson Lake again monopolized the mining market, opening at 44 and jumping to 45, to react to 43, the closing dividend will be declared with a dividend in the form of a distribution of stock. It seems to be absolutely sure that when a dividend announcement is made the stock will go down. Of course, a reaction will be almost inevitable, but whether it will develop into a speculation will be hard to forecast.

There was a drive at Beaver yesterday, with the stock going to 2 1/2. There has not been a happening of late which would give reason for the decline, and if it is a market manipulation, the "shorts" will probably find that Beaver is a harder stock to get back to sea.

WHEAT ROSE ON FOREIGN BUYING

Export Demand Big Factor—Corn Also Scored an Advance.

CHICAGO, May 4.—Foreign buying here had an important bullish influence today on wheat. In the end the market was easy, but 3/4c to 1/2c higher.

In the wheat trade it was virtually conceded on both sides that the situation was a case of phenomenal harvest promise in this country for 1914, against fairly bullish conditions through the rest of the world.

Delay in Argentine shipments, a condition due to heavy rains starting abroad, made the corn market here stronger.

Provisions lost much of an early advance. The dullness of the cash trade offset to some extent the effect of grain strength and of the lighter run of hogs west.

IRISH TEACHERS MAY BE OUSTED

All Separate Schools in Ottawa May Become Bilingual Institutions.

Canadian Press Dispatch. OTTAWA, May 4.—Until argument is heard on the Ottawa Separate School injunction at Toronto, none of the teachers will receive any salary.

The board is enjoined from paying the salaries of any unqualified teachers, and Chairman Genet today took the ground that he did not know who came under that classification, and in the meantime would refuse to sign any salary cheques.

It was learned today also that the French majority of trustees would, in the event of the board being enjoined to live up to regulation 17, make every school in the city a bilingual institution, replacing all the Irish teachers who do not speak French. At present negotiations are under way with an order of Irish priests to come to Ottawa and take charge of the boys' schools under a year's permit from the department, giving them time to write on the qualifying examinations.

The French majority expects an important ruling to be promulgated by Cardinal Begin, after his return from the papal consistory, by which Irish ratepayers who are transferring their support to the public schools, will be debarred the sacraments of the church.

Concealed Cleaver in Clothing, and Slashed Painting Several Times.

Canadian Press Dispatch. LONDON, May 4.—The portrait of the novelist, by John Singer Sargent, was virtually ruined this afternoon by a suffragette.

The woman who committed the outrage gave her name as Mrs. Wood. She belongs to the group of militants called "The Wild Women."

With a butcher's cleaver, Mrs. Wood hacked at the painting, produced the cleaver from under her cloak, and slashed the picture several times before bystanders seized and stopped her.

The picture damaged by Mrs. Wood was one of the most prominent canvases at the exhibition.

Once More From New Brunswick Comes a Tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills

William Nash, Well-known Farmer, Tells How They Cured Him After Two Years Suffering.

MARCHBANK, King's County, N.B., May 4.—(Special).—After two years' suffering from kidney disease William Nash, a well-known farmer here, is a well man, and like many another in this neighborhood, he is shouting the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"My trouble started from a strain," Mr. Nash says, "and for two years it gradually grew worse. My appetite was fitful, I had dark circles around my eyes and my skin had a harsh, dry feeling and itched and burned at night."

He was troubled with headaches, cramps in the muscles and stiffness of the joints. Rheumatism finally developed and it was a sick man generally when I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. They helped me almost from the start and two boxes cured me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills simple cure sick kidneys. They cured Mr. Nash because every one of his ailments is a symptom of kidney disease. Anybody having such of these symptoms needs a kidney remedy, and the greatest of all kidney remedies is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

D. and Mrs. Falkner, have received promotions in the service of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, the former being appointed manager of the Louisa street branch, Toronto, and the latter manager of the bank at Vancouver, B.C. Their many friends in this section extend sincere congratulations.

Woman Shot to Death. CHATHAM, May 4.—Mrs. Alex. Phasant, an Indian woman living on the reserve at Moraviantown, was instantly killed yesterday when a charge from a shotgun entered her neck. Her husband was working with a shotgun when it exploded. A physician from Bothwell was called and an investigation is now being made. An investigation will likely be held.
