THE KAISER'S GREATEST BLOW.

Falldown No. 1: He did not take Paris or get to Calais. Falldown No. 2: He did not put English sea trade in jeopardy, nor did his navy put the English navy out of business. Falldown No. 3: With all his missionary work, and all his dreams of German supremacy, teaching eastward to Constantinople, to Palestine, to Persia, of a German sphere of influence clear to the Indian Ocean, have been dashed forever. He may have wanted Belgium and Poland, but he wanted Constantinople more, ever so much more. It is Russia, not Germany, that gets a place in the sun of the Mediterranean—the warm sun that bathed in its light "the glory that was Greece, and the grandeur that was Rome."

THREE BRITISH SURVIVORS HELD TRENCH GALLANTLY

Forty Men at Isolated Point Fought Until All Were Killed or Wounded—Germans' Confidence Steadily Waning—Battlefront Is Vast Cemetery

LONDON, Feb. 26, 10:15 p.m.—The British official eye-witness, describing the fighting around Ypres, says: "In one trench, which became in the course of the fighting, more or less isolated, forty of our men continued to hold firm until every one of them either been killed or wounded. Eventually there were only three left who were capable of firing, and these three continued to hold the enemy at bay. In the meantime word was brought to those in the rear that their ammunition was nearly exhausted, and seven men, the strongest available, were selected to bring up as much ammunition as they could carry. These latter found the three wounded survivors still standing amid the bodies of their dead and disabled comrades and still firing steadily. The support, slender as it was, came in the nick of time, for at that moment the Germans launched another assault, which like the previous ones, was beaten off and the position was saved."

ENEMY'S CONFIDENCE GONE.

Quoting from letters, which he says were found on the bodies of German soldiers, in support of his statement, the "eye-witness" says: "There is no doubt that the feeling in Germany towards the war is changing. They probably are as determined as ever to fight to the last, but the early optimism and confidence are vanishing. It would appear also that the strain upon the enemy's manhood is having a depressing effect. "It is reported that even the reservists, who are suffering from ailments which would render them unfit for military service, are being called up, and that the supply of sound esprit reservists has been exhausted in some districts. Some letters speak of the calling up of the untrained Landsturm, which represents a large reserve still available, to make good the wastage of war."

French and British Staffs Confident of Ability to Hold Ground.

Canadian Press Despatch.

LONDON, Feb. 26, 10:50 p.m.—The continued progress which the French are said to be making in the Champagne district and the pressure which the allies, without attempting any great offensive, are declared to be bringing to bear on the German line in the west, have, according to news from Holland, induced the Germans to make another effort in the west before the allied forces reach their maximum strength.

Canadian Press Despatch.

LONDON, Feb. 26, 8:41 p.m.—The "Big Move Under Way." The opinion of the German general staff, which today simply said that there had been no change on either front, is taken in London as an indication that some big move such as that suggested is under way. It is declared that the allies are displaying no urgency of the ground must prove a great disadvantage to the Germans, and also all their new troops are not yet ready that they will be able to repel any new attack.

Mine Dragging Begins In Dardanelles Straits

Operations Are Carried Out Under Protection of Cruisers of Allied Fleet, None Having Sustained Serious Damage From Turkish Fire.

PARIS, Feb. 26, 5:55 p.m.—An official communication issued by the French minister of marine today confirms the demolition of the forts guarding the entrance to the Dardanelles, and says that mine dragging operations are now proceeding in the straits. The communication follows: "The bombardment of the forts at the entrance to the Dardanelles was resumed from a great distance yesterday at 8 o'clock in the morning. This was followed by a bombardment at shorter range. Four forts were completely destroyed; one of them was entirely fortified by the Germans. Mine dragging in the straits is being effected under the protection of the armored and other cruisers of the combined fleet."

ONE FORT IN FLAMES.

The Athens correspondent of the Havas Agency sends the following despatch regarding the bombardment of the forts at the entrance to the Dardanelles by the French and British fleets: "News received from the Island of Tenedos last night says that the bombardment of the Dardanelles continued with violence from nine o'clock in the morning until six in the evening. The fire from the forts was intense during part of the day, but diminished and ceased before midnight. "Fort Erthogroll, Sedd-el-Bahr and Orhanie suffered a great deal, especially Sedd-el-Bahr, which was on fire, the flames being seen from Tenedos. One of the allies' cruisers entered the strait during the evening and bombarded the forts for an hour. It then withdrew safely. "The result of the fire of the Turkish forts is not definitely known, but it appears to be established that none of the allies' vessels has been seriously damaged."

CRUISER PENETRATES STRAITS.

LONDON, Feb. 27, 12:33 a.m.—The Athens correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company, in a despatch dated Friday, says: "The bombardment of the exterior forts of the Dardanelles has resulted in the destruction of Forts Sedd-el-Bahr, Kum Kale and Orhanie, and remains on the interior forts. It departed undamaged."

Makes Statement in Inquiry Into Charges Against Unit Under Noble.

THOMPSON IS CALLED

Did Not Know About Buggy or Anything of Handbook.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Judge Denton stated at the Noble investigation yesterday afternoon at the city hall that he would not proceed on the "unnamed" charge against Noble. He had heard all the evidence proposed to be offered, he said, but unless there was something of a direct character that might come out from further evidence during the investigation, for instance as relative to promotions, etc., the charge would rest. No public good could come from hearing evidence on this point, as Noble has resigned, and the evidence given would neither strengthen nor weaken the case regarding discipline.

GERMANS MOVE CAUTIOUSLY IN NORTH POLAND

Taught by Previous Experience, Movement Against Russians Continues Slow.

AUSTRIANS HURRIED ON

Suspicious of Muscovite Generals Aroused by Sudden Change of Tactics.

BY FREDERICK RENNET

PETROGRAD, Feb. 26.—Fighting is now progressing over an extent of 260 miles, reaching from the Vistula's lower reaches, near Bodzanow, thru Przasnysz, Edvabno, Ossowetz, Shabin, and away to Olyta and Kovno. This front is already named the left bank of the Niemen front and right bank of the Bobr and Nirew fronts and the fighting with one small exception is all west of the line indicated by these rivers. Over the whole of this section the Germans are moving with deliberation and apparent hesitation, meaning of which may be discovered later, in strong contrast with the headlong character of the advance on other sections where the Germans apparently hoped to carry everything before them in one magnificent dash, marching in the lightest possible order and except near the Vistula without supports or an organized rear. There are suspicious points about many of the phenomena of this exceptional advance, and they are being carefully interpreted.

NEW AND ADVANCED TYPE 1-2-3-4-5 AND 6 TONS PACKARD MOTOR TRUCKS

THE Packard Company is the world's largest producer of high grade trucks.

The first three-ton Packard trucks, marketed seven years ago, are still in daily operation. The Packard trucks of various capacities, built in succeeding years, are still giving satisfactory service. At every stage of its progress, the Packard Company made the best that could be built.

The unequalled facilities for Packard research and development have now produced a line of trucks in which not a single known detail making for economy of operation and maintenance has been overlooked.

In design, materials and methods of manufacture, the new Packards are by far the most advanced in the motor transportation field.

The new models range in capacity from one to six tons inclusive. We want you to know all about these trucks. They will help solve your hauling problems.

GEOLOGIST AWARDED A VERY HIGH HONOR

FIRST AID FOR WEAK DIGESTION

Like Nearly Every Trouble Affecting Mankind Indigestion is Due to Poor Blood.

Almost everybody experiences times when the organs of digestion show painful signs of weakness. Some slight disturbance of the health starts the trouble; then the patient takes a dislike to food and all heavy pains in the abdomen give warning that the stomach is unable to do its proper work. Sometimes a false craving for food arises; if this is satisfied the result is additional torture—flatulence, a drowsy depression, sick headache and nausea are common signs of indigestion. The foolish practice of taking drastic, weakening purgatives at such times should be avoided. Indigestion arises from stomach weakness and the only effectual method of curing the trouble is to strengthen the feeble organs of digestion by supplying them with richer, purer blood. This is the true tonic treatment, by which natural method Dr. Williams' Pink Pills achieve great results. These pills make the rich, red blood needed to strengthen the stomach, thus imparting a healthy appetite and curing indigestion and other stomach disorders. Mr. Thos. Johnson, Hornford, N.S., says: "For five years I was a great sufferer from indigestion which wrecked me physically. I suffered so much that for days at a time I could not attend to my business. I had another episode so bad at times that I was afraid to lie down. I doctored and tried many medicines but with no benefit. I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advertised in a paper and I had trouble and decided to try them. I had not been taking them long before I found that I had at last hit upon the right medicine. The improvement in my health was constant, and after I had used ten or twelve boxes I could eat and digest all kinds of food, and I felt physically better than I had done for years. I shall never cease to praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for they proved a real blessing to me." You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NOT A FREE HAND IN MAKING RULES

Commission in Charge of Toronto-Hamilton Road Project Curbed.

URGED SUBMISSION
York County Representatives Want Larger Matters Settled Elsewhere.

The commission in charge of the Toronto-Hamilton good road project will not have a free hand in making traffic regulations, settling upon right of way and disposition of other important details. Representations from York County yesterday morning urged the submission of larger matters to the discretion of the railway board or the government itself, and this restriction will be incorporated in the new act. When the special committee handling the bill met in the morning Geo. S. Henry, of East York, argued against granting commission members greater powers than those now possessed by municipalities. The removal of trees from the highway or from adjoining land was not at present within municipal jurisdiction, and certainly commissioners should not have the right. That there was still a little township suspicion that the road was intended primarily for motor traffic was evidenced in the objection to the clause allowing regulation of traffic, and forbidding certain vehicles and animals on the pike. C. chairman Geo. Gooderham claimed emphatically that the prohibition was intended only for cattle drovers. The clause will be modified. Mr. Henry suggested that the commission debentures be subjected to a vote like those of municipalities, but it was shown that the men standing behind were advancing funds purely to promote the project, and at a loss to themselves. At the committee meeting on Wednesday interested municipalities will have opportunity to express their views, and the bill will go to the house in the afternoon.

ONTARIO DOCTORS CAN TAKE CHARGE

Bill Drawn to Bring About Reciprocity With British and Canadian Physicians.

Hereafter all British physicians who come to practice in Ontario will enjoy the full benefits of a reciprocity in medical qualifications between Ontario and the old land. A bill brought down by the attorney-general yesterday is apparently drawn to clear up a difference which has been made the subject of much comment since Ontario doctors went to serve in British field and base hospitals.

The fact that no reciprocity in medical standing was recognized between the parts of the empire caused complaints that Canadian doctors were not allowed to assume charge of British hospitals. The new bill will obviate the difficulty.

Delay Occasioned. Another measure provides for the expeditious discharge of mortgages in cases where the mortgage cannot be found. At present much delay is occasioned in such cases.

A representation set "to remove doubts as to the boundaries of electoral districts" was introduced. It follows the redistribution of last session and will affect East Middlesex, the Wentworths and other ridings.

CAN ORDER REMEDY. Gas problems are facing several villages and a bill brought in yesterday by Wm. Jacques (Con.) is designed to bring relief. For ten years good natural gas was supplied, but in 1913 the company began to pump in sulphur gas and a protest has been made ever since. The act will widen the powers of the railway board so that they can order a remedy at once.

JAPANESE BANQUET. A banquet will be held at the Carlisle Hotel tonight by the Japanese firm of Sikk and Co., Bay street. The dinner is being given to the employees of the firm.

Goodbye Curling Iron! Better Method Found. Don't burn the life out of your hair with that instrument of torture, the curling iron. There is nothing that will so surely dry out and break off the hair, giving it that ragged, unkempt appearance. You will be glad to learn that you can keep your hair soft and curly by using a perfectly harmless liquid known to druggists as "alminole." You should apply this with a clean tooth brush before retiring and in the morning you will be most agreeably surprised with the effect. And this effect lasts for a considerable time, even in damp weather, so a small bottle goes a long way. Pure alminole is really beneficial to the hair and there is no greasiness, stickiness or anything unpleasant about it. It is a good idea to divide the hair into strands and fasten these one at a time, drawing the brush down the full length.

RECOGNIZE BRAVERY OF CANADIAN MEN

Legislature Assured That Soldiers Will Maintain the Honor of Ontario.

SEND RESOLUTION

Commemorate Day When Canadians First Fought on European Soil.

The Ontario Legislature will fittingly recognize the bravery and skill of her soldiers who fought this week on European soil for the first time in history. Members of the house on the news of the fray, and agreed that the records of the house should bear reference to the feelings of the province on this occasion. In addition a special resolution of congratulation to the Ontario brigade will be prepared and forwarded to Col. Mercer, who is in command. It will bear the stamp and seal of Ontario. Before the orders of the day were read, W. Towell, K.C., called attention to the historical nature of the incident, and stated that according to reliable reports Canadian soldiers had borne themselves with honor on their first experience under fire. It was but right that their names be placed on the roll of the province. He would be glad to second a motion forwarding a resolution. Hon. W. H. Hearst expressed himself as very pleased at the opportunity of sending a cable of appreciation of the services performed. The soldiers had shown themselves worthy of the best traditions of the British army. He made some reference to the particular sacrifices of men he knew and referred to the death of some on a field of honor. The following resolution was then prepared and given to the speaker to cable direct: "The legislative assembly of Ontario congratulates the officers and men of the Ontario brigade on their steadiness and valor when under fire for the first time in the present war, and gratefully recognizes the sacrifices they are making for our liberty as well as for the liberties of the world, and this legislature is fully assured that they will always maintain the honor of Canada and of the empire."

During the fighting several of the police and a major of the carabinieri were injured.

REVISED SYSTEM FOR FISHERMEN

Prepared by Ontario Government in View of Recent Controversies.

OBSERVE BOUNDARIES

Some Craft Must Keep Five Miles From Shore and Others Go Farther.

The Ontario Government has prepared a revised system of fishing regulations for Lake Erie, in view of the controversies which have arisen lately between gillnet and poundnet fishermen. By setting distinct boundaries of fishing grounds much of the trouble will be removed, and the powers of contending parties are slightly broadened. Former regulations are revoked and new royalties are chargeable. Gillnets fished from tugs east of a line drawn from the Port Stanley breakwater south to the boundary must be at least five miles from shore and those fished west of a line from the same place south to the boundary and up to a line due south from Point Pelee must not be set nearer than ten miles from the shore of the ridings of the Kents and West Elgin, and five miles from the riding of South Essex. Gasoline gillnetters must keep outside the five-mile limit and inside the coastline, retaining the licenses. Small or rowboats also observe the last regulations and must keep a mile away from poundnets.

THREATEN TO CLOSE ALL FLAG STATIONS

Railways Strongly Opposed to Suggestion of Affiliated Boards of Trade.

FINAL SESSION HELD
Increased Representation Wanted on Hydro-Electric Commission.

If the Dominion Railway Board should order the railways to carry goods to flag stations at their own risk, the companies will close all such stations and never reopen them. Such was the emphatic declaration of Delegate Martin of Hamilton, an official of the T. H. & B., before the closing session of the Associated Boards of Trade yesterday afternoon in the Toronto Board of Trade council chamber, Royal Bank building. A resolution came before the meeting, asking that the railways guarantee shipments to flag stations, and offer proper protection at destination. Hugh Blair, Col. McRea of Guelph, and others, supported the suggestion, and thought it was only a legitimate duty as common carriers to protect the consignees and shippers alike. Only for Passengers. Mr. Martin thought otherwise. Flag stations were intended for passengers only, and were never regarded as freight depots by the transportation companies. He blamed much of the loss on such shipments on tramps, who infested the flag stations and considered the unprotected handles dumped from trains legitimate loot. At present stations in Ontario average one every six miles, but they would disappear almost if such radical proposition as that suggested is taken by the railway board. He was finally decided to refer the matter to a committee of shippers, consigners and railway men. If no solution can be found then recourse will be had to Chairman Dutton and colleagues. Enlarge Hydro-Electric. R. A. McLeod of Kingston reopened the discussion on the motion that the hydro-electric enlarge its commission to include an Eastern Ontario member and to devote greater attention to the east. The three members at present composing the board represent mainly the central part of the province, the speaker declared. President Young ruled the motion sectional and it was amended, asking in its new form for generally enlarged representation on the hydro board. It was carried. On motion of J. W. Tyrrell of Hamilton it was decided to ask the Dominion and provincial governments and the municipal councils to make vacant land inside corporation limits productive. Over 400,000 bushels of potatoes could be thus grown in Ontario, where 2,800 acres of idle land are available. Another resolution was passed to memorialize the government to enact legislation making it impossible for the names of aliens to be placed on the voters' lists. Date is Changed. The members decided that it would be more advantageous to meet in November hereafter, and changed the date of the annual meeting to that month. The place of the next gathering was left in the hands of the executive for selection. Resolutions of appreciation were passed before adjournment to the Toronto Board of Trade and the retiring president, A. J. Young. The New Officers. R. Home Smith was elected president for 1915. Other officers are: R. E. Frost of Hamilton, first vice-president; R. Meek of Kingston, second vice-president; Wm. Taylor of Owen Sound, third vice-president, and F. G. Morley of Toronto, secretary-treasurer. The executive consists of A. Hewitt, Toronto; Lieut.-Col. W. R. Brock, Toronto; J. P. Black, Sudbury; D. L. Jemmett, Cobalt; W. B. Burgoyne, St. Catharines; D. B. Wood, Hamilton; Alex. Stewart, Guelph; P. Darragh, Collingwood; J. A. G. Gordon, Sanjour; W. J. Taylor, Woodstock; E. A. Horton, St. Thomas; L. J. Bisshaupt, Berlin.

BOARD OF TRADE AND NEW FREIGHT RATES

Transportation Committee Discuss Attitude Before the Dominion Railway Board.

As near as can be ascertained the board of trade does not lock with favor upon the proposal submitted by the railways as to the matter of rates. This was the only statement of the board of trade yesterday when asked for report on the deliberations of the transportation committee, which met during the afternoon to discuss the proposed increase in freight rates. The railway representatives laid the case before the committee some days ago and yesterday's meeting was held for the purpose of formulating a policy for the board of trade. Aside from the above ambiguous statement, however, by an official, no information as to the board's stand before the Dominion Railway Board next Monday was forthcoming. The committee comprises Messrs. Hugh Blain (chairman), Arthur Howland, Hugh Munro, J. W. Hobbs, D. O. Wood, C. R. Peckover, A. E. Clemons, G. A. Howell, J. D. Allan and Felix Howland.

Canadians Under Fire Casualties Reported

Hamilton Soldier Said to Have Been Recommended for Victoria Cross—Ottawa Has No Definite Word of Action Said to Have Been Fought This Week.

Conflicting stories of the Canadians being in action in Flanders came over the wires yesterday, but that they have been under fire is indicated by private messages received by relatives. James McFarlane of Marmora has received word that one of his sons who is serving with the Canadian contingent in France had been severely wounded but no details are given of the scene of engagement in which he took part. The only death reported from Ottawa to a late hour last night was that of Corp. E. L. Davey Thomas, who succumbed to enteric fever.

The Canadian Associated Press sent the following cable under yesterday's date:

"We hear from an officer just returned from the front that the Canadians were in the trenches in the middle of this week, relieving English troops. The Canadians suffered the loss of three killed and 14 wounded."

"We give this with every reserve, there being no confirmation of the same in official quarters."

It was denied by the Canadian department of militia that a heavy casualty list was being held back to allow time for the relatives to be notified. Major-General Hughes said that he had not been advised that any other unit than the Princess Patricia's Light Infantry had taken part in the fighting.

Casualties Announced.

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—The following casualties among members of the Canadian expeditionary force were announced by the militia department to-night:

Death—Feb. 20, Corporal E. L. Davey Thomas, P.F.C.I., at No. 14 stationary hospital, Saint Omer, from enteric fever; next of kin, P. Davey Thomas, Avenue D, Ludgvan, Cornwall, Eng.

Seriously ill—Admitted to No. 14 stationary hospital, Pte. J. T. Leatherby, P.F.C.I., with cerebro-spinal meningitis; next of kin, J. T. Leatherby, 1174 Cottage, Tiewsey, Middlesex, Eng.

men in the city, including the members of city council, many civic officials, Exhibition board fire officials, etc. I contend it was criminal to send passes to firemen, why, it is criminal to send passes to the others. The sending of passes to firemen seems to be linked with their betting, but your honor can tell you that the firemen were betting on the races long before I sent the passes. I have admitted sending the passes and shall continue to send them until the fire department ask me not to. I did not send these passes to the firemen personally, but sent them to Secretary Alex. McGowan, who made the distribution."

Did Not Know It.

T. Herbert Lennox, K.C., counsel for defence, asked: Did you know Noble objected to men getting passes?

A.—No.

Q.—Did you know that these passes were not to be given after the first year?

A.—No.

Q.—You are the father of these charges?

A.—Well, I won't acknowledge that. Q.—Well, you took responsibility for two charges, one with regard to the slides on the buggy, and the other with reference to plumbing being done.

A.—Yes, that's so.

Mr. Geary then called Mrs. Mabel Foster.

Q.—Have you ever been in the Portland fire hall?

A.—Yes, on different occasions with Mrs. Peterson.

Q.—Were you in Rosach's room?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Who was with you?

A.—Mrs. Peterson and Rosach.

Q.—Did you have something to drink?

A.—Yes, a bottle of beer.

Q.—Was that the only time you had anything to drink there?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Where did the liquor come from?

A.—Rosach sent out for it.

Q.—Was Noble in the fire hall at the time?

A.—No.

Q.—Were you well acquainted with Rosach?

A.—Yes, I have known him about two years. He was a friend of the family.

Q.—Did you think it was improper to go into the fire hall?

A.—No, certainly not.

Q.—Did anything improper occur while you were there?

A.—No.

Q.—What day of the week was it?

A.—On a Wednesday night.

Arthur Brant, an employee of the Canadian Hotel Co., testified that he had taken bets for men at the factory to Rosach, but stated also that no one but Rosach knew of the bets.

Alice Brooker testified that she had made bets with Rosach, and had telephoned him once at the Portland fire hall.

Chief Thompson was called to the stand next. Mr. Geary questioned him first.

Q.—Did you know that Deputy Chief Noble had slides to cover letters on the buggy or auto?

A.—No, not until the charges were made.

Q.—When promotions were to be made did you make them?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you promote Noble?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Do you make promotions?

A.—I look over the list, and then took into consideration the man's qualifications, and made inquiries regarding him, and made my decision on service and merit.

Q.—Did you have Rosach up before you to discipline him?

A.—Yes, I got information that there was betting and a handbook being kept at Portland station from a very valuable source—I will not mention the name—and two men were sent to the fire hall to get the handbook. The first man I sent was not betting man, and that he needed his money for better purposes than putting it on the races. Rosach admitted betting, and said he had done it for years, but as to a handbook being kept, there was no truth in it. I did not discipline the men, I thought the men were not warrant it, but I told them not to do any more betting.

Mr. Lennox then took up the cross examination.

Q.—Did a brother of Fleming get on the fire department again after he had left?

A.—Yes, he was a very capable man, and I put him on without any recommendation by all means.

Q.—How many stations did Noble have in charge?

A.—Three, Portland, Queen and Colborne.

Q.—What men are responsible officers at Portland station?

A.—The captains and two lieutenants and the deputy.

Q.—The captains are responsible for the morality of the men, I suppose?

A.—Yes, they are with the men all the time.

Q.—The deputy, like yourself, then, is not in charge with the men as the captains and lieutenants?

A.—No, certainly not.

Q.—I am right if I say these men were trusted by you?

A.—That is my opinion.

Q.—While gambling is not forbidden in the fire hall?

A.—No, certainly not.

Q.—With the confidence you had in the men, are you satisfied that there was no gambling?

A.—I am satisfied there was no handbook kept, and no gambling, but there was betting, and I dealt with that.

As Mr. Lennox was going into sever- al questions regarding Mr. Noble's part in the fire department, Judge Denton called a halt, saying that no doubt Mr. Thompson would like to say a lot of things about Mr. Noble, it was not necessary.

At this point Mr. Geary jumped to his feet and said that if Mr. Lennox was going to dwell on the movements of Noble he would very much like to accommodate him by presenting "You Can't Bluff Me."

Mr. Lennox then replied: "You can't bluff me this, I am ready to have anything brought out."

"You have said a lot about me having detectives on the case, but you have not said anything with your own time. He is at the defense table now. It is James Forrest," said Mr. Geary.

Mr. Forrest, claims agent for the Toronto Police, then testified, and said: "It is not true, I have not said a word at this investigation, and I am not Mr. Geary's business if he says so."

Mr. Lennox substantiated Mr. Forrest's remarks, saying that he was in no way connected with the case.

Mr. Geary demanded an apology.

Judge Denton said that Mr. Forrest was not a detective.

"I will apologize to your honor if you wish, but not to Mr. Geary," said Forrest.

Mr. Denton will continue the investigation next Tuesday, March 2, at 2 o'clock.

Toronto's Greatest Art Sale Coming

Towards the end of next month Toronto will have a sale at public auction which has rarely been equaled in the capital of Ontario. It comprises a wonderful assortment of articles of value, objects of art, eastern antiques, artistic furniture, bric-a-brac and other valuable goods recently brought over from the continent of Europe and from Egypt. The sale will take place in the arena which has been secured for the purpose and will be preceded by opportunities for private and public inspection on dates to be later announced. Unless all anticipations are in error, this collection, in point of artistic quality and historic and antiquarian interest, will attract quite unusual public attention. Apart from the intrinsic value of the collection, running it is estimated, into six figures, the freight, insurance and customs duties alone amount to a large sum. That Toronto should have been selected as the scene of this sale is in itself a great compliment to the capital of Ontario.

PATRIOTISM and PRODUCTION

"I would urge the farmers of Canada to do their share in preventing the people of Great Britain from suffering want or privation."

HON. MARTIN BURRELL, Minister of Agriculture.

Fertilization and Thorough Cultivation Will Help the Empire

Patriotism and Production must go hand in hand. Great Britain and her Allies need food. Canada must help in supplying that need. You as a Canadian must do your share.

The soil is the basis of food production. Therefore, cultivation, proper fertilization and good seed are important factors. This does not seem very complex, but with the right crops on the right soil, this is the whole gospel of crop production.

Attend Your Conference

How can you better do your share for your work this year?

- (1) Attend your Conference.
- (2) Talk matters over with your neighbor farmers. Give help and get help.
- (3) Read the agricultural articles in the daily and weekly press and in the agricultural papers.
- (4) Write to the Canadian Department of Agriculture at Ottawa and your Provincial Department of Agriculture for information.

Germany, France, Belgium, Holland and Denmark have increased their food production enormously during the last twenty years through cultivation, fertilization and seed selection. These are the countries that are being either devastated or most seriously affected by this war. Now is Canada's opportunity as well as Canada's responsibility.

The German Kaiser has cut off the supply of potato fertilizers from the rest of the world. This does not mean that we are without all supplies. Canadian fertilizers are still available. Use those "Made-in-Canada."

Wash-water contains potash. Coal ashes are good for heavy soils. Wood ashes are rich in potash and lime. Save everything.

Every day counts in getting on to the land. Drain off all surface waters as early as possible. Do not wait for Spring. This may mean a week or two more for growth.

Perform every farming operation thoroughly. Do the ploughing, sowing, disc and harrow the land.

GERMAN SPIRIT IS WANING

"All the ground near the front line is played up with shells and fumes, and the remains of old trenches and graves. The whole place is a vast cemetery in which our trenches and those of the enemy wind in every direction."

This statement is made by the "eye-witness" in a description of the recent battles southeast of Ypres and of the country in which the armies are fighting.

"In a scattered spot," he continues, "there is a little graveyard where some of our own dead have been buried. Their graves have been carefully marked and a rough square of bricks have been placed around them. In front of the trenches, the German bodies still lie thick."

Gray Figures Litter Ground.

"At one point of the brickfields recently some 30 men tried to rush our line. At their head was a young German officer, who came on gallantly, waving his sword. He almost reached the barbed wire and then fell dead, and he lies there yet, with his sword in his hand, and all his 30 men about him."

"It is the same all along the front in this quarter. Everywhere still, gray figures can be seen lying, sometimes several rows together and sometimes singly or in two or three."

Scene of Devastation.

"This description might serve with a few minor alterations for many of the localities along our front where the fighting has centered around some wood, a village or line of trenches. It is as if each had been swept by a withering blast before which every object, whether a work of nature or of man, had crumbled into ruins or become twisted and deformed, and even the very ground itself looks as if it had been shaken by a violent convulsion of nature."

Knee Deep in Mud.

"To the south of the Ypres-Comines canal," says the "eye-witness," "the ground, although there are some enclosures comparatively open, to the north of it, however, there are many woods, and these have become a tangle of fallen trees interwoven with shell craters. It is added to the hardships of such fighting, the troops have been attacking on ground in which they sink up to their knees in mud."

Dashing Attacks.

"Despite all these drawbacks," continues the observer, "counter-attacks have been carried out with such resolution that in nearly all cases the original line has been regained. On the night of Feb. 15, as our troops were in one of these trenches, his guns suddenly opened a tremendous fire. Our men were in the open at some distance from the Germans at that time, and being thus taken at a disadvantage, their chance of success looked small. Without a moment's delay, however, the attacking line broke into a double column, and bounding through the mud, burst into the German trench."

DAVIES CASE IN HANDS OF JURY

All Evidence Taken Yesterday and Address to Court Held for Today.

emphasis on the point that if there was provocation a charge of murder might be reduced to manslaughter, but the provocation must be sufficient to show that the person charged was deprived of self-control.

Home Training Good. The crown proceeded to prove its case relying on the witness heard at the trial and the statement made by the accused to Inspector of Detectives Kennedy on the night of the shooting.

For the defence, H. H. Dewart, K.C., called the girl's brother-in-law, Edward Fairchild, who told of her complaint to him on the Sunday that Mr. Massey had kissed her twice and that she was afraid of him.

Dr. A. J. Harrington was the next witness and he swore to the original condition of the accused, as ascertained by himself and another physician. Carrie Davies was then called to the stand, and under the guidance of Mr. Dewart, she told her story. She said she was 18 years old and had been born in Bedfordshire, coming to Canada from Aldershot, where her father, she said, had been a pensioner of the British army, who had seen service in South Africa and had been disabled, leaving her mother to support six of a family including herself, the youngest being three and a half years old.

She entered Mrs. Massey's service as soon as she came out and from her wages of $14 she had paid back to her sister, Mrs. Fairchild, the passage money amounting to $48. After that she sent money home to her mother regularly, sometimes $10 and at other times $5 of her monthly salary. Her work being satisfactory, the Masseys had raised her wages to $15 a month and later to $18.

Party in House. On Friday night before the shooting she said there was a party in the house, to which Mr. Massey had invited about a dozen of his friends. She ordered, cooked the dinner and served it. Liquors were served, of which all partook, and she said they went home about 12 o'clock, giving three cheers for Mr. Massey as they were leaving.

Mr. Massey thanked her for her work. On Saturday there was nothing unusual, but on Sunday at 1.30 after dinner, Mrs. Massey came down in her bath-robe, thanked her again and offered her a shawl made of pearls. It was too big for her and she suggested that she take it to Eator's and have it made smaller.

Then he talked to her about the party and the conduct of one lady guest and himself, which he asked her if she had noticed. He asked her if she heard any kissing going on and if she had not to tell Mary Rooney, a friend of hers in service at another house. She caught her by the hands and kissed her twice, saying that he liked little girls. He was trembling and very much excited, and she struggled and broke away from him, going to the kitchen.

She heard him turn the water on in the bathroom and then he called to her to come upstairs to make his bed. In the bedroom he took out some of Mrs. Massey's clothing and asked her how she would like to wear it. He approached her again, but she struggled away from him to her own room, where she dressed herself and locked the door, going from the house to the home of her sister-in-law on Morley avenue.

Mr. Massey was not home when she got back that night. On Monday morning she prepared his breakfast and called him and then she hid in the cellar until she heard him leave by the front door. All day, she said, she was frightened and unable to work, because she was afraid of what might happen. He was a man who meant to do what he said.

That evening when the newsboy came to the door enquiring for Mr. Massey, she looked out when the boy said: "He's coming up the road." "I guess it was then I lost control of myself," she said, "and I thought of what he was going to do. I was thinking of him doing me harm. I thought of defending myself, and went for the revolver that was hanging in the little boy's room."

She had no thought of getting it before that nor had she ever used it before. "So you went upstairs," continued Mr. Dewart. "Yes, and I took the revolver and six cartridges. It held five, and the other one I took to my bedroom. I put them in the revolver as I was going downstairs, thinking all the time that he would do me harm."

"Then what happened?" "I got two steps down. The door opened and I fired."

"Then I turned and ran and I was pulling the trigger all the time, but the revolver did not seem to work."

She said she remembered firing again on the doorstep, thinking all the time that "he would do me harm" until some one called "stop it" and she came to her senses. Then she ran up to her room, but she did not realize that she had shot Mr. Massey until she heard someone in the police station say that he was dead.

Mr. DuVernet cross-examined the girl on parts of her story, eliciting the statement that she had gone back to the Massey house after her brother-in-law's warning because Mrs. Massey had told her she would be home and it was her duty to be there when she arrived.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

Hundreds of People Have Found "Fruit-a-tives" Their Only Help.

READ THIS LETTER

Superintendent of Sunday School in Toronto Tells How He Cured Himself of Chronic Rheumatism After Suffering for Years.

55 DOVERCOURT ROAD, Oct. 1, 1913. "For a long time, I have thought of writing you regarding what I term a most remarkable cure effected by your remedy 'Fruit-a-tives' I suffered from Rheumatism, especially in my hands. I have spent a lot of money without any good results. I have taken 'Fruit-a-tives' for 13 months now, and am pleased to tell you that I am cured. All the enlargement has not left my hands and perhaps never will, but the soreness is all gone and I can do any kind of work. I have gained 35 pounds in 13 months."

R. A. WAUGH.

Rheumatism is no longer the dreaded disease it once was. Rheumatism is no longer one of the "incurable diseases." "Fruit-a-tives" has proved its marvelous powers over Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, and all such diseases which arise from some derangement of stomach, bowels, kidneys or skin.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c, or purchased on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

DETECTIVE LOCATED MAN THRU MIRROR

Memory for Faces Brought About Arrest of Edward Phillips.

AUSTRIAN RESERVIST

Man and Woman From Montreal Charged With Being Vagrants.

The memory for faces, possessed by members of the Toronto Detective Department, was demonstrated yesterday when Detective Levitt arrested Edward Phillips, 321 West Richmond St. There was a warrant sworn out for his arrest by Fuddy Bros. in July, 1911.

While passing a store at the corner of Bay and Queen streets in the afternoon, the detective, who had figured in the Drendo murder, saw a reflection in a mirror in the store that brought back memories of when he served as an acting detective at the Court Street Police station. When the man came to the street he recognized him as the man who was wanted on the warrant sworn out by Fuddy Bros.

Austrian Reservist. When Detectives Taylor and Twigg arrested Danilo Kaproue, 1283 Parliament street, yesterday, on a charge of vagrancy they found in his pocket a card that identified him as being an Austrian reservist. With him was arrested Mrs. Nastalia Daniel, of the same address.

Also the two were arrested on the nominal charge of vagrancy it is believed that Kaproue ran away with the woman from Montreal. It is likely the reservist will be interned.

Fire in Parliament Buildings. A small fire that was supposed to have been started by mice caused quite a volume of smoke at the parliament buildings shortly before seven o'clock last night. A waste paper basket and a quantity of paper was burned.

Lewis Hineford was arrested by Detective Armstrong on Adelaide St. yesterday afternoon on the request of the police of Galveston, Texas. Hineford skipped a $100 bond in the American city where he was being held on a charge of theft.

Contrary to the usual course, Henry Lasher put up his wife's house and furniture as security for his name to that of Mrs. Lasher. Now the crown has this house and its furnishings on its hands instead of the $2000 Crown Attorney Hughes stated yesterday that this is the first time he has known any person to put up real estate as security for bail in order to skip out.

For begging by handing around cards, Alfred was fined $10 and costs or ninety days in jail by Magistrate Denton in the police court yesterday. He was examined by doctors in the medical health office and found to be suffering from a certain disease. He will be treated at the jail hospital.

David Dickson was sentenced to ninety days in jail on a charge of keeping a common gambling house. He was arrested at 124 Laplante avenue last week. A transfer to the jail farm will be requested, as he is suffering from tuberculosis.

Mrs. Sarah Praticella was sentenced in the women's police court yesterday to fifteen days in jail by Magistrate Denton on a charge of stealing a diamond ring from the Robert Simpson Company. The ring was valued at $100.

Herbert Smith and Morris Reason were sentenced to ninety days in jail yesterday on a charge of selling forged milk tickets. They were employed by the Oakville Dairy.

George Boyd was sentenced to thirty days in jail by Magistrate Denton yesterday on a charge of assaulting his wife.

EX-BACHELORS DINE FORMER COMPANION. The ex-bachelors of Parkdale gave a complimentary dinner to Joseph Boyd of Auckland, New Zealand, former member of the Carlis-Rite last night.

The table decorations were indeed very elaborate and unique. A stucco garden in which played a real water fountain formed a charming setting. There were about twenty five present.

Mr. Boyd is here developing trade relations between New Zealand and Australia and Canada in certain lines.

RIGHT MERRY TIME AT BIRTHDAY PARTY. A right merry time was enjoyed last night when Master Oswald Wright, son of George A. Wright, proprietor of the Walker House, gave a dinner party to 42 school mates, in celebrating his tenth birthday. The banquet hall at the Walker House was gaily decorated. In the centre of the room, on a raised platform, around which the festive hour was arranged, was a replica of a novelty farm yard as originated by President Taft. A splendid menu, headed by consommé alphabet, and a monster birthday cake with ten candles, delighted the little folks. Mayor Church was an honored guest. LECTURE ON DESIGN AT ART ASSOCIATION. J. W. Chester Gave Address Which was Illustrated by Handsome Views. At the Women's Art Association a lecture on "Design," by J. W. Chester of the staff of the Technical School, was of exceptional merit, the large colored sketches shown adding greatly to its interest. The lecture was given before the Arts and Crafts Guild. The beautiful singing of Miss Jeffrey on the last program was most appreciated, and she had to respond to an enthusiastic recall. The young ladies assisting were: The Misses Katie and Marjory Richey, Leslie Gooderham, Helen and Norma Sutherland. FRANCE LOST TORPEDO BOAT DESTROYER, DAGUE. Canadian Press Despatch. PARIS, Feb. 26.—An official announcement follows: "The French torpedo boat destroyer Dague, while escorting a convoy with provisions for Montenegro, struck an Austrian mine off the port of Antivari (Montenegro) on February 24, and sank. "Thirty-eight of the crew disappeared. The accident did not hinder finishing the work of provisioning and the return of the convoy. "The French cruiser Desaix made a demonstration against Akabah (Arabis) on Feb. 23. A landing party aided by the ship's cannon, dispersed and put to flight a small band of Turks occupying the village. "The Dague was laid down in 1911. She was a vessel of 720 tons, 256 feet in length.

The World's Greatest Automobile Trade-Mark. The Hudson Triangle has become great because of the car behind it. From the "Triangle on the Radiator" to the electric tail light, every atom of the car has been through the crucible of the Hudson Engineering Board.

Only accident or misuse can prevent a Hudson owner getting 100 per cent. pleasure and service from his car. In the hands of tens of thousands of users, the world over, its supremacy is demonstrated daily.

The Company Behind the Trade-Mark

The Hudson Motor Car Company is as famous as the Hudson Car. Its marvelous success has come from giving the public what it wants at the price it wants.

The "Triangle on the Radiator" is the signature of the Hudson Motor Car Company. Buyers accept it as a bond guaranteeing in their car everything needed to make it as good an automobile as the world's best engineering skill can produce.

Come—see the Hudson Six-40 and Six-54. The cars that have swept competition aside like cobwebs. At $2200 and up these cars, with the famous "Triangle on the Radiator" are outselling everything else on the market.

Dangers of Inequity

We believe that no man in Canada who understands the great issues at stake in the present war would hesitate about giving all he has if it were necessary to final victory, but there are many, at the same time, who do not fully grasp the importance of the issue raised, and whose minds are not cleared by what they conceive to be the injustice with which circumstances arising out of the war happen to bear upon them.

This is all the more necessary since there will be problems arising after the war is over which will be even more complex and more difficult of settlement than those which now confront us, and unless the leaders of society gain the confidence of the rank and file of the citizenry on every hand will be aggravated. There is not the slightest use in accusing one set of people or another set, or one section of society or another set, for the difficulties that exist and which have to be met. The attempt to make political party capital, or to gain repute for one class of the community over another in dealing with affairs will not help matters. When the deluge is upon us it should not, in our superior-orientation and under what we are fond of describing as Christian influences, be necessary for the weak, the helpless or the timid to "stand by." It is the plain duty of those who are in power or who have authority, to set the highest example of service, of self-sacrifice, and of public spirit.

To many these reflections may appear trite and commonplace, or beside the mark. But the fact is that while the principle they involve is generally admitted, it is just as generally omitted in practice. Hence the necessity of urging and insisting upon the fairest application of just principles of government and the closest adherence to fair and just methods in administration. The temper of the times is not one that requires the calling of "Wolf," whether there be "wolf" or not. It is apparent to observers that grave economic conditions must succeed the vast expenditures of the war. The Dominion, the province, the city are all in a state of what may be described as super-bankruptcy, unable to carry on without credits which depend less on commercial considerations than upon national and imperial feeling and the dictates of patriotism. These corporate bodies are unable to realize their assets, and their insolvency is only remedied by the necessities of their creditors. But the individual debtor finds himself in exactly the same case, and he rarely understands why generally recognized principles should not apply to him as well as to the community of which he is an integral part. He may fail to see that it is the health of the individual that warrants the trust reposed in the body politic. But the individual feels that he merits some consideration. Hence the demand for moratorium legislation, and hence also the cry for absolute equity in the adjustment of taxation.

We have constantly been bringing before our readers the inequity of the method in which the Assessment Act is ignored instead of being enforced according to its terms. Nowhere more than in Toronto, perhaps, is this apparent, but there is no strict enforcement of its provisions anywhere that we are aware of in the province. Sir James Whitney was never tired of asserting that if the act was enforced there would be no demand or need of a demand for tax reform. While this may not be entirely the case it is undoubtedly true that a strict reading of the act would do away with many of the present anomalies and injustices. The thirty per cent. exemption which property holders are said to be given in Toronto leaves openings for all kinds of inequities. The act says that all real property shall be assessed at its actual value. When various officials proceed to take thirty per cent. off this, the result, as has been shown

CHOOSING THE CASKET.

BASSANIO: "Let me choose; For as I am, I live upon the rack." —"Merchant of Venice," Act III., Scene II.

is that property is taxed at anywhere from forty to one hundred and thirty-five per cent of its value. It has also been shown that the small holder invariably gets the highest percentage of assessment. Now that the province has undertaken to share in the taxation raised through this assessment it is more than ever the duty of the attorney-general or some other minister of the crown to see that the Assessment Act is properly administered. It is an inequitable, an injurious and debasing system which prompts the citizen to reflect that his millionaire neighbor is exempted $300,000 or more in his assessment while he of the small property is assessed at its actual value. He begins to think that he must get justice for himself, that he must get even, and these are the first steps to revolt. We do not believe, as we said in the beginning, that any man will grudge the mill on the dollar which the province has imposed for war purposes, but when the little man knows, as he does know, that he is paying more in proportion than the big man, he pays with less heart and patriotic enthusiasm.

Nothing Doing

It was admitted during the discussion on the nickel question by the Associated Boards of Trade that it would be nine months or a year before a report would be brought in by the commission which the Ontario Government has promised to appoint. The commission is still on the way, and we can only hope that the delay shall not be unduly prolonged. The Boards of Trade have asked for men who will be non-political, practical and thoroughly impartial. The government should not leave the impression that such men are difficult to find. But it must be a grave disappointment to all who are watching the trend of imperial affairs to hear that the Ontario Government have after all only given the people a staff-off in this most important question. We grant that all parties to the discussion were willing to accept the assurance that no nickel was being exported from the United States to Germany, but we have not Canada nor Ontario to thank for that assurance. So far all that Ontario or Canada has done is to let the nickel trust do what it pleased.

Germany Taking the Count

Now that the shadow of defeat is steadily creeping over Germany the kaiser and his satellites are doing their best to convince neutral nations that they have been wickedly misled regarding the German lust for world dominion. Germany, neutral nations are told, was eminently peaceful in her views and outlook, and is now fighting for her very existence against a coalition of selfish enemies that are jealous of her "kultur," of her progress and of her efficiency. This effort to present the Prussian war party as much maligned apostles of peace, civilization and international law is too fantastic to receive or deserve credence. It is directly disproved by the events and correspondence that preceded the kaiser's declaration of war, and no less by the whole course of German policy both before and after Austria became the catspaw of German ambition. Undoubtedly the most severe blow the kaiser has yet received in this epoch-making conflict is the declaration made by Sir Edward Grey that the British Government is in sympathy with Russia's desire for free access to the Mediterranean Sea, and that the form of its realization will be settled in the terms of peace. Important as the foreign secretary's intimation was as marking an entire change in the relations of the United Kingdom to the Russian Empire it is of more striking interest as being in effect a notification to the kaiser that Germany's path to that sea and to Asia Minor is finally barred, bolted and closed. All the results of his assiduous courting of the decadent Turk, all his plans and schemes for the expansion of German influence and power through Turkey in Asia and towards the Persian Gulf go irretrievably by the board. In German eyes the present war became inevitable when the Balkan states drove the Turkish armies out of Europe and divided up its territory. The second Balkan war is now known to have been the consequence of Austrian intrigues, and would, beyond peradventure, have been the preliminary to Austrian interference at that time but for the fact that the enlargement of the Kiel Canal was still under way. That reconstructed undertaking was opened by the kaiser on June 24, 1914, the Austrian Archduke and his wife were assassinated on June 28, Austria launched her ultimatum to Serbia on July 23, and on August 1 Germany declared war on Russia and started the European conflagration. The German Government confidently relied upon information supplied by its ambassador in London to the effect that Britain would not enter the war even if the neutrality of Belgium were violated. It was convinced that the triple alliance was more than a match for France and Russia, that at one blow the Balkan states could be brought into the German sphere, and that Germany would obtain freedom of access both to the Mediterranean and to Asia Minor and thence ultimately to the Persian Gulf. Russia would thus be for ever balked in its effort to be recognized as the head of the Slav nations of eastern Europe. From what has since happened it is evident that Germany too aimed at the incorporation of Russian Poland and Lithuania, and so further relegating Russia to the position of an Asiatic power. Such, the World thinks, was the kaiser's dream that has now been rudely dispelled. Not Russia but German ambitions will be circumscribed meantime, and it is for the good of Europe in its present extremity. Russia has gained her place in the sun, and it justifies itself by making common cause with the western powers and smaller nations of Europe in establishing a system of international law backed by an international police force created and maintained to punish unjustifiable aggression, and which will have moved forward appreciably towards the newer and better age.

Fertilization and Thoro Cultivation

Into the Agricultural War Book issued by the Hon. Martin Burrell, Dominion minister of agriculture, have been compressed many articles containing much valuable information for Canadian farmers. At this crisis of the British Empire's history, "patriotism and production" are really interchangeable terms. The men who are fighting at the front to maintain British ideals are risking life and limb for the cause. The forty-five millions of people in the motherland who are willingly giving their nearest and dearest for the country's and the Empire's cause are no less doing their duty worthily and well as they are dependent on the maintenance of food imports and the overseas Dominions that are the granary of the empire must make it their duty to see that food supplies are sufficiently available. Germany up to the outbreak of the war practically had a monopoly of the world's supply of potash. Farmers who want to know what this means should write the department of agriculture for a copy of Dr. F. T. Shutt's exhaustive study of the question. But those who are provided with the War Book—some indeed should be without this publication—will find some informing extracts in its pages. An article on "Fertilizers" contains extracts from Dr. Shutt's report dealing with the value of liquid manure and wood ashes as a substitute for the expensive compound. Indeed, it is shown that these easily secured products are of greater service for plant nutrition.

In this issue of The World the Canadian department of agriculture calls attention in another column to the present need of Canada. It is in substance that it is the duty of the Canadian farmer to produce greater and better crops this year. To keep him in increasing crop production the department has had the War Book compiled and has included advice by the best experts on the best methods of securing that result. What causes special concern is the loss of plant food thru the waste of liquid manure and the neglect of unrotted manure on these and other points every effort has been made to place at the disposal of the farmer all the available facts gathered from actual experience and observation.

"THE CALL TO ARMS."

Madam Marie Tasse, who is well-known as a charming member of Ottawa society, has composed a really marvellous marching song to words by Miss Laura McCully, M.A., entitled "The Call to Arms." There is a fine and vigorous ring about the music and it is not of the stereotyped order of war songs. The accompaniment, while not difficult, is an excellent support to the martial melody which ranges from D to G, and there is a scholarly quality in the writing which will commend it to musicians, while it does not detract from the popularity of the piece. It should become a general favorite on the concert platform and generally in the ranks.

SEEKS OWNERSHIP OF HER OWN GIRL

Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis Asks for Writ of Habeas Corpus.

ARRESTED FOR SPY

Absentee Figures in Case Heard at Osgoode Hall.

Before Mr. Justice Sutherland, at Osgoode Hall yesterday, Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, widow of Toronto, made application to get back her little daughter Gwendoline, whom she has not seen since August, 1912. Mrs. Lewis stated that she supported the little girl, who is four years of age, from the date of its father's death, when it was two years and three months old. In 1913 she brought the child from England to Canada, and left it with Mrs. Gurnore, in London, Ont. At that time she was not able to make a home for the child, but she had no intention of abandoning her.

From Toronto she wrote to London to enquire for her little girl, but receiving no reply, she proceeded to the home of Mrs. Gurnore, only to find that the child had been placed in the Children's Aid in December, 1914. On Christmas Eve, 1914, Arthur B. Small provided a home for the child, and she now asks for a writ of habeas corpus against Mr. Small.

Mention was made in a judgment of Justice Middleton of the arrest of Jean Franck Armand, a British subject, and his incorporation in Germany, as a French spy. Armand lived in Montreal, and he was mortgagee of Toronto property owned by Amos Worthington, and sold by him to Charles McMullen. The agreement for sale called for the property being free of all encumbrances. Owing to the absence of Armand, his interest under the mortgage could not be cleared by the vendor, and he brought the court to find a way to clear off the encumbrance on the property, so that it could be sold.

BERLIN BUSINESS MEN VICTIMS OF SWINDLER

Strange Man Bought Goods and Paid for Them With Worthless Cheques.

Special to The Toronto World. BERLIN, Ont., Feb. 26.—The separate school board of this city has deferred to erect a new two-storey school at a cost of $20,000. The police are looking for a swindler who defrauded several business men this week by buying goods and issuing cheques which turned out to be worthless. Frank Shub, Toronto, was the name attached to the cheques. Militiamen here are making enquiries about the non-arrival of equipment for the 108th Regiment, organized last September. Thru the efforts of this regiment 150 men have been accepted for service with the Canadian expeditionary force.

The Witworn Tours to California for the San Francisco and San Diego Expositions should appeal strongly to those wishing to enjoy the advantages of a specially conducted tour; an additional attraction in this connection is the fact that each tour will be limited in number, thus giving the conductor an opportunity to give individual attention to each member of the party.

Public Schools Boys' Swimming Tourney

Parents and teachers of Toronto's public school boys will have an opportunity to witness the athletic and aquatic ability of their progenies at the public school tournament to be held at the West End Y.M.C.A. on Saturday, March 13, in the morning. The program includes senior and junior basketball games, tug of war and a swimming meet, in which all the schools may participate. Prizes pending will be awarded the schools for the basketball championships and for the tug of war, individual ribbon prizes are offered for the swimming events, except the team race, for which there will be a school prize. An entry fee of fifty cents per basketball team and tug of war team will be charged. This will entitle the competitors to admission morning afternoon and evening. An entry fee of ten cents will be placed on the swimming events, and will admit to all except the relay race for school teams of four boys each. The team entry fee for this event will be fifty cents. It is proposed to make this tournament an annual event, and judging by the interest manifested by some schools already it will be a welcome addition to the athletic life of the schools. THREE PLATERS FROM OAKVILLE

Mr. Giddings' Horses Are Reported to Have Wintered Well—Three Yearlings.

OAKVILLE, Feb. 26.—The stable of thoroughbreds of Harry Giddings wintered well. Mr. Giddings has three eligibles for the King's Plate, but only one two-year-old this season, a chestnut filly by Bassettlaw—My Honey, which is a sister to Beehive. This will be the stable's only nomination for the Coronation Stakes. The King's Plate candidates are: Harry Bassett II, b.c., by Bassettlaw—My Honey, brother to Beehive; Otero, b.c., by Bassettlaw—Cuba Free, and Hair Law, b.c., by Bassettlaw—Better Half. The latter was not raced last year, but won one of his three races as a two-year-old. Harry Bassett II, gave promise of being the best colt ever raised at Cedar Grove Farm early last spring. He failed to race up to his work on looks, however, and was required to be beaten, and is still in the maiden class. Hearts of Oak will again be rebed. The other horses that carry the Giddings colors are Ondranon and Ondranida. Mr. Giddings has weeded out his string after racing closed at Woodbine last fall. Sorota was disposed of to O. K. Miller; Martalena, now a three-year-old, was sold to Fred Hutchinson, and J. Hyman is now the owner of Oakdene, a three-year-old bay filly, sister to St. Bass. Several of the brood mares have also been sold, including Better Half, Coquelua, Cuba Free and My Maryland. The yearlings at the Giddings farm number three, all by Bassettlaw, the dams of which are Lady Bets, My Maryland and Beehive. Last year's King's Plate winner, has been retired from the turf, and will be in the stud. Beehive will take the place of his dead sire, the St. Simon horse, Bassettlaw.

TWENTIETH ANNUAL WHIST CONGRESS

The twentieth annual Whist Congress of the Canadian Whist League will be held at the King Edward Hotel, beginning at 2 p.m., on Thursday, April 1, and continuing until Saturday evening. All whist players are invited to attend this congress. The competition for the Goodall, Hay and Arnsden Trophies will attract the best players from all parts of Canada, while many of the crack exponents of the game are expected from the United States to take part in the big International trophy contest. This contest was won by H. L. Frost of Hamilton and S. S. Lenz of New York last year. There will also be games for mixed pairs and ladies' pairs, as well as compass games at each of the eight sessions.

BASKETBALL.

James Preston of Stratford, the former Etobicoke hockey player, will referee the big game on Saturday night between West End Y and Hamilton. As Hamilton would not agree to a local man, Mr. Preston was appointed by the president of the Ontario Basketball Association to handle the game. The West Enders are out to win from the first whistle, and will certainly make things interesting for the visitors.

His reported execution was said to have been due to an attempt to surrender to the British at Kakamas the forces under his command.

BRITISH SHOE BEST FOR MILITARY USE
 Kingston Tanner Gives Expert Evidence at Soldiers' Boots Inquiry.
SPECIFICATIONS FAULTY
 Canadian Requirements Modified Owing to Scarcity of Leather.
 Canadian Press Despatch. OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—R. A. Pringle, K.C., was appointed examining counsel for the parliamentary committee of enquiry into Canadian militia boots at this morning's session of the committee. Mr. Pringle stated that he would be "fair and impartial" in his investigation.
 Col. Halleck, chairman of the departmental boot committee, put in written reports of the shoe investigations made locally by regimental boards of enquiry at different headquarters into the boots supplied. E. M. Macdonald said that Col. Leonard, officer commanding at London, had recently stated that the boots supplied to his men were "rotten." The report of the London board will be secured.
 Elmer Davis of Kingston was called. Mr. Davis who is a tanner, told the committee that "side leather" was the leather obtained from a cow as contrasted with the lighter quality obtained from a calf. The poor side of the "side leather" was "split leather," and was of inferior quality used in the manufacture of a cheap workman's boot. Mr. Davis identified four exhibit boots, samples respectively of the output of the Gauthier, Ames-Holden, Tetreault, and Western Shoe Companies as "side leather."
 Calfskin was ordinarily used for a dressy boot, but for a water-resisting boot for heavy wear "side leather," heavily impregnated with grease, was generally used and was, ordinarily speaking, better for the purpose.
Shoes of Heavy Calf.
 Mr. Davis said that last August, when the militia specifications were modified to allow the use of "side leather" instead of "winter calf," there had undoubtedly been a decided shortage of heavy calf on account of the stoppage of importations. Side leather, he said, would have been a reasonable substitute for the "winter calf," "split leather" would not.
 Chairman W. C. Middleton read the British specification calling for "leather, 5/8 to 6 ounces," as compared with the Canadian specification calling for "winter calf cut out of the centre of the skin."
British Specification Best.
 Mr. Davis said the English specification was infinitely superior for military purposes. It called for heavy leather, whereas there was nothing in the Canadian specification showing the weight required.
 Joseph Daoust, of Montreal, tanner and shoe manufacturer, examined the four samples of boots furnished by Ames-Holden, Tetreault, Gauthier and Western Shoe Companies. He testified that they were of side leather of fair quality and the soles were oak tanned as called for in the specification, except the Tetreault shoe, which had a "chemical tanner" inside.
 Mr. Daoust said that the calfskin asked for by the Canadian Militia Department was all right for parades, but useless for active service, whereas his own firm and others were supplying quantities of heavy cowhide for the British War Office.
 The inquiry adjourned until Tuesday.

STUDENTS WANTED FOR MACHINE GUN SECTION
 Twentieth Battalion Wants Variety Men to Recruit—Enlistment Progresses.
 According to Lieut. F. E. Morkill, commander of the machine gun section of the 20th Battalion, students are anxiously sought to join its ranks. This is in direct contradiction of rumors which stated that students are not desired. The university men were, he said, the class of recruits he was after. There has been a slight difficulty that the officers are not college men, but there is no remedy for this, as the N.C.O.'s have already been appointed and there is no way of getting rid of the men who have already been appointed. Lieut. Morkill stated that recruiting is progressing favorably among the students.

TORONTO'S OWN "LITTLE MARY"

YOU KNOW, OF COURSE, that Mary Pickford was born in Toronto, that she started her career as an actress here at the age of five, that she is the most popular girl in the silent drama, that she is being paid an enormous salary. But, do you know that Mary Pickford is the highest paid woman in the world, that her income this year will probably be a quarter million dollars, and that it may be a million?
 All these items of news about Mary Pickford, and many new ones, a really worth-while picture of her, and one of the place where she was born, are in The Sunday World, next Sunday.

Mary Pickford's mother, and Mary at the age of two. This picture is from the Sunday story about Toronto's queen of the screen.

Specific movements of stocks in the local market included sudden weakness in New York Central, with notable strength in the Colliers, Pacifics, Canadian Pacific, U. S. Steel, the Coppers and certain specialties.

Financial operations of the week included a moderate cash gain by local banks. Time money easier, with recent stiffening tendency, loans for three and four months being negotiated at 3 to 4 per cent.

Lively Discussion on Card Playing in Schools Also.

PASS RESOLUTION

Refusal of Permits for Social Functions to Be Reported in Future.

Dancing and card playing gave rise to lively discussion at the meeting of the properly constituted committee of the board of education yesterday afternoon.

Trustee C. A. B. Brown protested against the action of the sub-committee in refusing a permit for a social by the teachers and pupils of Frankland School.

Trustee Hodgson declared that he would never sign a permit where dancing or card playing was to be on the program and dancing formed the whole of the program for the Frankland School social.

By a vote of five to two the committee passed a resolution requiring all refusals of permits to be reported in future to the committee.

Chairman Hodgson intimated that he would have the dancing issue dealt with by the full board.

LIKE A LIVING SKELETON

Another Striking Cure by Dr. Cassell's Tablets

Tortured with Severe Chest Pains, Palpitation and Headache.

Almost Blind with Dizziness.

Could Retain Nothing on Her Stomach for Long.

Completely and Permanently Cured by DR. CASSELL'S TABLETS.

Here is a story which shows once again the extraordinary power of that famous British remedy, Dr. Cassell's Tablets, to restore the vital processes of the body, and thus to effect recovery in cases where cure was not even hoped for.

"I am a woman of middle age. I have borne 23 children in 25 years, and all my trouble dates from the birth of my last baby, five years ago. I was never the same after that. My strength went from me, and I began to suffer with pain in my chest and round my left side. So severe did this become that I could not bear the slightest pressure, and the pain in my side was terrible. I lost all appetite, and used to suffer from frightful headaches, and palpitation that was like an engine beating in my breast. I went almost blind with dizziness, and oh! so sick. Then came retching. Everything I ate I got turned, even a glass of water or a cup of tea. I was in bed for weeks at a time, and when I struggled up from my bed, I had soon to go back again. I got weaker and more wasted till I was

What is the explanation of these cures? How is it that Dr. Cassell's Tablets can restore health so surely? It is because they act as a health force, renewing vitality of nerve and body, and compelling healthy action of every life-process.

WEAK AND AILING BOY who was a martyr to Nerves.

Mr. Windle, of 5 Cambridge street, Blackburn, England, says: "For months little Jack was a little martyr to nerves, and he became so weak that he could hardly get about at all. Instead of playing himself he used to just sit and watch the other children play. And if I took him out for a little walk he was tired before we had gone many yards. But it was the low nervous state he was in that was his worst trouble. He would jump at a sound, and any unusual noise used to set him screaming. His appetite was very poor, and his flesh lost all firmness and became quite soft and flabby. He stopped it hurt him to get up again. Of course, we did everything we possibly could; we had bottles after bottle of medicine, but it did no good, in fact I thought the child was getting worse. One day my wife told me he had not used his left arm all day. This alarmed me; I began to fear that he would be crippled. However, with the help of a toy drum his health was no better, so as the ordinary methods of treatment had quite failed, I decided to try Dr. Cassell's Tablets. It was not long before Dr. Cassell's little fellow brightened up wonderfully. He got his appetite back, he is as bright and active as any child could be."

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation. If your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggy, and thin, mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, is the best remedy. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not so desirable, it is not so difficult to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

Why "Foreign Enclosures" Can't Harm "Clean" Wounds

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A JUDGMENT of $1000 was recently rendered against an eminent surgeon of the Johns Hopkins Hospital for leaving a piece of gauze bandage in the wound of a patient, and Mrs. George E. Bates, wife of the well known New Yorker, alleging carelessness of the surgeon, has filed a suit in the supreme court for $5000 damages against Columbia University as proprietor of the Sloane Hospital for Women.

Many Busy Hands. In any and in no way hurt the body beyond causing a few sensitive nicks. The reason a splinter, a rusty nail, a pin, or a needle that gets into your skin, causes your foot or your finger, causes damage, disease and death, is because of dirt and microbes that cling to them.

Answers to Health Questions

C. L. D.-Q-I am troubled with eczema on the feet and hands. It itches and scabs form. Will you kindly prescribe for me?

A-Apply to the feet and hands twice a day: Salicylic acid, 25 grains; starch, 25 grains; zinc oxide, 2 grams; vasoline, 1/2 ounce.

A DAILY READER-Q-My boy, 10 years old, is afflicted with headaches. I had glasses made for him, but they did no good. I give him half a headache powder when he gets a headache. Do you advise this?

A-Do not give him any more powder, but have him eat green vegetables, carrots, cabbage, celery, clear soups, spinach, figs, prunes, dates, fish, poultry, bran bread, and drink three quarts of water daily. Have his eyes re-examined thoroughly, and keep his bowels active. Also have his nose and throat examined.

A CONSTANT READER-Q-For the past year or more I have been bothered with itching all over my body. I would like to know what I can do to cure myself of this awful throb?

A-Apply at night: Calamine, 5/8 drams; zinc oxide, 2 drams; phenol, 1/4 dram; glycerine, 2 drams; lime water and rosewater enough to make 3 ounces.

Dr. Hirshberg will answer questions for readers of this paper, free of charge, by hypodermic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. Advice to Girls

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: One of the nicest boys I ever met is very angry at me. I wanted to tell him something important and I couldn't get him over the phone, so I wrote him a note from him. He said that his manager complained about his being called so many times on the telephone, and said that he didn't wish to speak to me again. It was awful to me, so I asked the manager of his office, and he said that he would make it all right.

Then I wrote a letter to the boy asking him to forgive me, and he said he would do so. I was so glad that I had made it all right. What if the young fellow had answered you politely at the phone and had then made fun of you to the others, and told his chum that he never saw a girl such a fool over a boy as you were over him. How would you have felt then?

What in the world did you call him up at his office for? Don't you know that a fellow of his age is paid for his time, and that every instant he takes of that time to devote to you or any other girl is stolen and may be charged up against him in the black books of the man who pays his salary?

And now what shall you do? I'll tell you what I'd do. I'd take my courage in my hand and the next time I met that young man I should walk straight up to him and say:

"Thank you for giving me a lesson. Tell him quite frankly that you never realized what you were doing, and that now that you do realize it you are glad he told you."

Tell him you were brought up outside the world of business and did not understand the rules of life there.

Don't cry; don't make a scene; don't even stammer or hesitate or seem embarrassed. Just speak frankly and simply and honestly as you would to another girl, and then let that young man severely alone. You'll have won his respect at least.

And whisper, little girl, when there's calling up to be done let it be the man who does it.

HEART BROKEN. WHY, you poor, little, foolish, selfish girl, you! What a miserable mess you have made for yourself to be sure.

But you have escaped lightly. Don't forget that very lightly, indeed.

What if the young fellow had answered you politely at the phone and had then made fun of you to the others, and told his chum that he never saw a girl such a fool over a boy as you were over him. How would you have felt then?

Diary of a Well-Dressed Girl

By SYLVIA GERARD

VARYING THE WARDROBE BY THE SEPARATE BLOUSE PLAN

ANN-LEE TILDEN, my cousin on the paternal side, came yesterday to spend the Lenten calm in our midst. We've all succumbed to her fascinations, and Dad said that he thought we had a lively addition to our family, and even if we were all "fitting on the same reputation" he supposed we'd have a pretty good time at home.

We hadn't seen Anne-Lee for years, and judging from her pictures, I feared that she was going to be a sit-on-the-sofa-and-sew-a-fine-seam sort of girl. She always appeared to be so faultlessly content and frothy.

To the contrary, she's a good sport, and her hair gets mussed up as much as any ordinary girl's.

She says we're quite new, for she had the same opinion of me, and dreaded her visit here. I'm not sure, but I think her company served to set our minds at ease, and now we're the best of pals.

She's an economical little creature, and keeps Dad entertained with her songs and caricatures, which are decidedly clever.

We went down to the office this morning to bring Dad home to lunch, and she snatched every one in the place and disrupted business generally.

I ought to be jealous, she's made such a hit with Dad, but I have him all to myself so much of the time that I can't afford to share him with a cousin now and then.

side beneath a flat bow of blue ribbon velvet. This relieves the plainness of the blouse and meets the requirements of fashion, it demands that high collars be worn.

The collars of Anne-Lee's blouses are open at the throat and stand up crisply about the back of the neck. She tries to "cage" her throat, insisting that she has a "breast" that she doesn't like to show, and in winter provides sandals and moccasins for indoor wear.

Plenty of rope-skipping, now that spring is approaching, dancing, running and hop-scotch should be indulged in. Never ask a child to "sit down and be quiet" if he is engaged in wholesome play.

Some of the simple stretching exercises for children under six are these:

1-Raise the arms straight above the head at full length, then bring them down level with the shoulders. Repeat this movement at least 20 times.

2-Stoop over as if playing "leap frog" with all knees, and try to touch the floor with the right and left hands alternately. Stop this exercise before the children become tired.

3-Raise the body on tiptoes and stretch the muscles. Then bring the heels back to the floor and the arms to the sides of the body. When the children show signs of fatigue stop this exercise.

Clara Morris Says THAT AN ACTRESS MUST PAY DEARLY FOR EVERY HOUR OF MARRIED HAPPINESS.

By CLARA MORRIS

SHOULD an actress marry? The question was asked with great gravity and earnestness, but I felt constrained to answer in Yankee fashion, by asking two more.

"Is an actress a woman?" "Well, should a woman marry?"

People don't bother about whether the woman drummer, lawyer, doctor or dressmaker marries or not. What's the worry about the woman actor?

Outsiders make the mistake of regarding the actress wholly from the professional standpoint. They should remember that she had the "senses, affections, passions" and natural instincts of a woman before she became an actress, and of the "eternal feminine" her femininity is the most exaggerated.

Now had the question been: "What is the chance of a married player for lasting domestic happiness?" the answer would have been sadly ready: "One in a thousand, or naught."

Marriage is a gamble for us all, but the theatrical vocation of Hymen does not get a square deal. In fact, she has to play her matrimonial game against marked cards, since that is what the manager's sad against married couples in his company, the public's dislike for married lovers, added to the natural "unsexiness" of male human nature really amounts to. So it rests with each individual actress.

If she wants her share of all that life can give of love and happiness-wants it so greatly she is ready, open-eyed, to pay the price in disillusionment, pain and sorrow-if she feels she can bluff extravagantly on an absurdly low hand, and believes herself to be a good loser, she may yield to the primal instinct of normal womanhood-let the profession go hang-and with her chosen mate hit to the altar.

When circumstances prove too strong, and the break comes, she puts the child into his place and proceeds to worship and to serve. A heavy burden in other's eyes, to her her shield, her strength, her joy, keeping her heart warm and spirit young to that day when she brings forward the stalwart son or fair-faced daughter she has reared and fitted for the start in life. Oh, yes, actresses should marry (God help them!) if they want to.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN MATRIMONY

By LEONA DALRYMPLE

Author of the new novel, "Diary of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by the M. K. Tarsell and S. B. McClure as Judges.

What Hugh Said. MARY'S voice had been telling me that I was a little bit of a pain about my heart that Hugh Jaynes' interest in my wife was not wholly unshared. Mary, in spite of my bombastic assertion to Joan, was not indifferent to his interest. I read that in her eyes, in her heightened color, in the very way she avowed my eyes that.

I was terribly hurt, of course-hurt enough to forget for the minute that my feet, too, had strayed from the wayside, but the keen barb of introspection whispered that my primal hurt was wounded vanity.

It was the elemental man of descent and ready in a passionate fit of resentment to fight my way back into the arms of my wife. Elemental, too, in that Mary had never looked so beautiful to me as she did tonight with the glorious mist of her hair hanging about her shoulders, and her fair, smooth cheeks flushed with excitement.

Sparks of Jealousy. And even in that first moment of my hurt I realized that Mary's innocent affection was my salvation. It saved me from Joan. Heaven alone knows how I should have felt if I were through my brief experience with Joan, feeling sure of my wife's utter fidelity. In all probabilities I should have gone home with the high erotic notion in my heart that I was one of Love's big martyrs-cruelly sacrificed-that Joan was my true mate, kept from me by a melodramatic Fate, and likely my open fidelity to my wife would have been labored and irritating to myself and her.

But Fate, dropping the spark of jealousy into my heart, had supplied me with a more rational way of escape. I saw clearly that it behooved me, in this first real crisis of my married life, to keep my head, for Mary plainly was ready to lose hers, and, therefore, when I spoke I kept my voice as quiet as possible. The more rationally we could talk the foolish thing over, the better for both of us.

Mary plainly was strung to the breaking point. One word of reproach from me and there would be hysterics to "So," I said in an evenly conversational tone, "you're not even going home with me, Mary? Is that what you mean?"

"No-no," said Mary, wildly, "I didn't, of course, mean that. I-oh, Peter, you don't know what I did mean!" "I think I know," I said. "You've made a big mistake in marrying me; that's it, isn't it? I don't understand and appreciate you. I haven't been kind. I've been overcritical, and you see no reason why you should go on wasting your life when there is some one perfectly willing to understand, sympathize and appreciate."

Mary Faces Fear. "Oh, Peter!" Mary's voice broke in a wild sob. It was, of course, merely a keen suspicion-this bromidic paraphrasing of an old, old argument, but to my frightened little wife it sounded uncannily like mind reading.

"Isn't that what Hugh said?" I asked. "Mary didn't answer. Her eyes were so angry that I felt a little sorry for her."

"And so," I went on, "after talking it all over very carefully tonight, 'Peter' 'Didn't you?' 'I-e-e-e.' 'It seems better if-'"

"If my wife," I said gently, "has gone so far as to think of divorce, why may I not say it?"

Mary shuddered.

Mary shuddered.

Mary shuddered.

Mary shuddered.

Mary shuddered.

Mary shuddered.

The Good Night Story

By Vernon Merry

THERE was once a king who was suffering from an incurable malady. All the learned doctors of the kingdom were called to his bedside, but not one was able to help him.

One night he dreamed that in a garden, at the end of the world, grew a golden rose, the mere sight of which would restore him to perfect health.

The next morning he called all his courtiers and bade them go in search of the rose. To the successful one he promised the hand of his daughter, the Princess Griselda.

Among the courtiers was a youth who was not very popular because he was silent and did not care to mingle with the gay revellers. For this reason he was called "Silent John."

He had always admired the lovely Princess, but being only the younger son of a count he knew that she would marry a noble of higher degree. So Silent John was overjoyed when he heard the King's proclamation and he started out determined to find the golden rose.

On, on he rode, until he reached a desolate country, and on the border of a desert came upon a fox that was dying of starvation. Silent John had only a small amount of food, but he gave half to the poor creature, and the grateful fox said: "Heed the others would not stop to aid me, so I let them beval on over the desert, when I could have directed them to take that road, which leads to the world's end."

"You have done for me, so follow it and in three days you will reach the garden wherein grows the rose, guarded by a fire-breathing dragon. When he rushes toward you throw this hazelnut-it is filled with magic-into his mouth. He will vanish immediately. Then pick the rose and leave before the giant, who owns the garden, catches you."

Then the fox disappeared and Silent John joyfully followed the beast's instructions. He found the garden, picked the rose and brought it to the King. Silent John wedded the princess and, as she had always loved him too, they lived happily to the end of their days.

Credit for You Means Employment For Canadian Workmen

Our House Furnishing Clubs are proving a great boon to hundreds of people who want to go on with their house furnishing, and yet do not care to make a big hole in their cash reserve.

By ordering their furnishings now, they keep employment normal, and whether the goods are all made in Canada or not, they are doing a great deal to keep the ship of state on an even keel. The Hon. W. T. White said in his budget speech:

"I look to the tariff principally for relief from existing financial conditions. Taxation imposed by increased customs duties would bear upon all classes of the community, and THUS ALL WOULD BE CONTRIBUTING TO THE COST OF THE WAR AND TO THE DEFENCE OF THE COUNTRY."
