B. L. BORDEN ON THE NAVAL POLICY

It had also pleased Liberal speakers and the Liberal press of this country to declare that the Conservative party is in alliance with the Nationalists, and if you work that out to its logical conclusion, then there cannot be any difference of opinion whatever on this naval question in Canada, because we are in alliance with the government and the Conservative party, and there is absolutely no difference of opinion.

Not in Alliance With Anybody. "Well, we are not in alliance with the government on this question. So far as our policy differs from theirs, if any proposals which the government brings down to parliament are in accordance with those we have announced, and for which we stand this year, as last year, then we will support those proposals which are consonant with our own policy. We are not in alliance with the Nationalists and we have been denounced by them even more strongly than we have been denounced by hon. gentlemen on the other side of the house. We will retract no part of our policy because Nationalist or Liberal agrees or disagrees with it."

The basis of the Conservative naval proposal, continued Mr. Borden, was to bring "immediate and effective aid to the mother country and the empire as a whole."

In his opinion the plain course of duty would be: The government should be in a position to know, if they take the proper action for that purpose, whether the conditions such as face the empire at this time in respect of naval defence are grave or not.

"If we were in power we would endeavor to find that out, to get a plain, unvarnished answer to the question, and if the answer to that question, based upon the report of the government of the mother country and of naval experts of the admiralty, were such-and-such, I think it would be such-and-such, and effective action by this country, then I would appeal to parliament for immediate and effective aid, and, if parliament said, 'No, we will not do it, I would appeal to the people of this country.'"

An Intolerable Condition. Canada's co-operation on a permanent basis in imperial defence involved large, wide considerations, asserted Mr. Borden, if Canada and the other dominions of the empire are to take their part as nations of this empire, in the defence of the empire as a whole, it is their duty, as well as their right, to do so.

"I do not think that that would be a tolerable condition. I do not think the people of Canada would for one moment consent to a condition in which they should have to contribute to the defence of the empire as a whole, no voice whatever in the councils of the empire relating to the peace of peace or war throughout the empire."

DISMISSED THE FOREMAN OF SECOND JURY IN CASE

Surely, You're NOT FOND Of Hard Work?

Corner Elliott Had a Lively Time With Mr. Puddy, Who Complains to Queen's Park.

"Mr. Foreman, I want to answer your remarks. In the first place, you had no right and no license to dismiss the jury."

With this bolt, Foreman Geo. Puddy of the second jury empaneled before Coroner J. E. Elliott to enquire into the death of Douglas Lucas, the lad killed in an elevator, began hostilities at the opening of the second inquest at the morgue yesterday afternoon.

"At this time no evidence had been taken, and Coroner Elliott had merely outlined the reason for the summoning of a second jury, and in so doing had explained the reason for the dismissal of the first jury Wednesday night, which had demanded an adjournment after once declaring themselves satisfied with the evidence as submitted."

"It is the duty of a jury to listen to the evidence produced before them; because the crown attorney and I are sworn to produce all the evidence," said the coroner.

"I have at times adjourned to let the jury inspect the premises, but that was in cases where it was too difficult for the witnesses to give a description. The crown attorney advises me that there is sufficient evidence in this case to make a decision."

"Mr. Foreman, Puddy got busy with his interruptions."

"A Lively Dialogue. "Mr. Foreman," said the coroner, "do you realize that this is a regularly constituted court of law, and that your action is contempt of court?"

"That's all right. But you had no right to dismiss that jury. Photos are inadequate, and I am not a coroner," said Dr. Elliott, once more, "that has nothing whatever to do with it."

"Yes, but I think—" "Mr. Foreman," "Mr. Puddy."

Then the foreman said, more decidedly than ever: "I object to your dismissing the jury, and I reserve the right to file an appeal."

Coroner Elliott retired with County Crown Attorney Baird to discuss the matter and upon his return remarked: "The Foreman is indeed that we will have to excuse the foreman from the jury, because he is not in a condition to carry out his oath."

Fuddy declared his willingness to retire, but that he would be escorted out by a policeman. Later he came merely as a spectator, with the right of the general public. He was again requested by the crown attorney to leave, and did so.

The same evidence as that heard on Wednesday night was then reheard, and the jury, after considering it, returned a verdict of manslaughter. Lucas came to his death by accident, and recommended that only qualified persons be allowed to operate elevators, and that a report be made regarding the condition of the land, and elevator, to be posted in a conspicuous place."

Complains to Mr. Foy. Mr. Puddy was felt disposed to carry the matter further and instructed his solicitor, H. J. Smith, to report the facts to the attorney-general, which was done in a letter sent late yesterday, which declares that Mr. Puddy regards the dismissal of the jury as "extraordinary procedure, and as a very high-handed proceeding."

The paragraph of the letter dealing with the alleged mistreatment reads: "The jury was empaneled by the same coroner who had dismissed the jury, which was appointed foreman, and upon expressing the view that he complains he was forthwith dismissed from the jury and ejected from the jury-room by the constables."

The letter makes no mention of the fact that Mr. Puddy first questioned the coroner's right to dismiss the jury, which he had no concern, and that it was upon the ground that he was obstructing the business of the court that the jury was dismissed.

Those upon yesterday's jury were: Andrew Thompson, 273 Carlton-street; Alexander Weir, 102 Front-street; Jas. Important Innovation Decided Upon by Provincial Secretary and Approved by Minister of Justice.

A parole board is to be constituted in connection with the new Central Prison at Guelph, and while the personnel of the board has been decided upon by the provincial secretary, he prefers not to make the names public until they have been consulted and have consented to act.

The work will involve some time and attention, and does not carry with it remuneration beyond repayment of out-of-pocket expenses. The board, however, is most important to our whole prison scheme," said Hon. Mr. Hanna.

CANADIAN CIVICS ARE DISCUSSED BY DR. CHOWN

Duty of Municipal Authorities to Seek the Best, Instead of the Cheapest, School Teachers.

Rev. Dr. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist Church, commenced a series of five addresses at Victoria University last night, on Canadian civics. The course is a portion of the winter course of the citizenship department of the educational night classes.

Dr. Chown explained that his opening address was to outline the problems, duties and opportunities of Canadian citizens and to examine the methods of federal, provincial and municipal government, so that their discussion in the press and elsewhere could be more thoroughly appreciated.

The lecturer gave a comprehensive historical review of different forms of government, and the evolution of the present Canadian method of government. He pointed out the special difficulties and importance of meeting the problems as they arose, and increased in the Dominion, owing to the differences of race and religion in the older, and stages of development in the newer provinces.

As an illustration, Dr. Chown said the history of the Manitoba schools afforded ample evidence that such problems as that of the education of the youth of the country were of paramount importance and demanded the most careful study. He regarded the educational issue as second to none in its importance, and believed that when the vital need of adequate instruction for the boys and girls of Canada was more generally recognized, municipal authorities would see to it that the present false economy of endeavoring to get school teachers at the cheapest possible rates would be abandoned, and the plan which would secure the best qualified men and women possible for this fundamental civic obligation.

Dr. Chown will deal with some other specific phase of Canadian citizenship on Thursday evening, when an address will follow by Field Secretary J. W. Atkins of the department of temperance and moral reform.

R. W. Ailin, M.A., secretary of the Anglican S.S. Commission, has just returned from a visit to Ottawa and Montreal. He attended a mass meeting of the Montreal Deseray Association on Monday night, and on Tuesday addressed a meeting of the Ottawa Diocesan Sunday Schools. The Archdeacon and Canon Kittson, were also present at the latter meeting.

NEW COMMERCIAL SCHOOL SHOULD TEACH LANGUAGES

As Well as Business Law—Dr. Embree's Suggestions to Trustees—P. S. Principal Resigns.

Dr. Embree, inspector of high schools, reported to the school management yesterday that night sessions of technical school work be held in schools in all parts of the city, instead of at one centre only, as at present. He was glad to see that preparations for such work were being started in both Riv. redale and Humber-side colleges.

He also declared that the present method of teaching commercial work in the Technical School should be discontinued, and hoped that when the commercial high school project was finally realized the teaching would be strictly of a business, and not of a literary kind. Especially should the teaching of the languages be of a practical nature. "Some time ago," said Dr. Embree, "a German invoice came to my notice. I showed it to many of our high school graduates, and none of them could decipher it. Eventually it was translated with the aid of some dictionaries in the college library."

He also hoped the commercial class would be a culture class, and would teach business law and the French, German and Spanish languages. Then the graduate would be well equipped for every kind of work.

After Dr. Embree had finished reading his report, it was decided to let the matter stand until Tuesday evening.

Because he is now getting $1600 a year, John M. Field, principal of Godrich Collegiate, declined to teach history and geography here at a salary commencing at $1400. Dr. Embree favored raising the minimum to $1600, but it was decided to advertise the vacancy again.

Harry Gray, principal of the St. Clair Avenue Public School, asked that his resignation be accepted and that he be made assistant principal in some other school. The committee decided to relieve him of his duties immediately, continuing his full salary until Dec. 31. P. G. Wright, assistant principal of Lansdowne School, was appointed in his place. Inspector Hughes said it was hard to get a good man to stay in so small a school permanently, but he could easily get a woman to fill the place.

Widow, Despondent, Suicides.

Mrs. Annie Fitzgerald, a widow, living with her daughter on the Kingston-road, was found in a shed in rear of her home in a dying condition yesterday. Her daughter, summoned Dr. Walker, but she was dead before he arrived. She had been ill for two months and was despondent. She had taken carbolic acid.

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 24.—W. G. Brown, a G. T. R. fireman, residing in this city, this afternoon was the victim of an accident which will probably result fatally. He was squeezed between two cars, and suffered terrible injuries.

Y. W. C. Guild Notes.

Members of the guild are invited to a social this evening in the parlors, with games, music and refreshments. Dr. Skinner Gordon will address the regular Sunday afternoon meeting at 4:15. Miss Trewin will be the soloist. Tea served and all women welcome.

HORSES WITHOUT DRIVERS.

Results of Training Them to Do Routine Work. Horses, marching sedately and without the direction of a driver from one end of a block to the other, receiving a load of concrete at one end, turning without an order and drawing the load to the other end of the block, where it was needed for street repairing work, kept a crowd constantly on the watch in Ridgeway-avenue, near West Twenty-sixth-street. The work was being repaired at that point and half a dozen of these self-driven horses were at work for several days.

They were grey old codgers, most of them, and their intelligence was the result of many years of work. In the middle of the street, half-way between the point where the dumping carts were loaded and where the paving was going on, stood a man who kept the line going up one side of the street and down the other with a few words to each horse as it went by.

"It's all a matter of practice and training," said J. R. Hoyes, who kept the line moving from his position in the centre of the street. "We have had those same animals working for us for several years and after a horse finds out what is wanted, why, he'll do it all right so long as it isn't anything awfully hard. Now that horse there," pointing to a dappled animal, "he didn't catch on for a good while, but he knows his business now, all right. But the one behind him there learned fast. They are just like people that way."

"The only trouble is that if we ever drive them down this way again they would want to start in that back and forth business again, and you'd probably have to use the whip to get them out of the block."—Chicago Daily News.

TECHNICAL SCHOOL REORGANIZATION.

Nothing so important has been suggested in educational circles for some time as the proposal to appoint Chancellor McKay of McMaster University principal of the Technical School.

EAST END DESSERT.

The Only Player-Piano with an Aluminum Action. - A Distinctive Instrument.

The swelling and shrinkage of wood which take place with climatic changes open up minute passages through which the air escapes, and if leakage of air takes place, then the action immediately deteriorates. The Aluminum Action in the Heintzman & Co. Player-Piano provides against this common weakness of other Player-Pianos.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE.

The proprietors of Zam-Buk have reason to believe that certain unscrupulous dealers are attempting to hand out to some customers who ask for Zam-Buk some preparation other than Zam-Buk, but on which their profit is greater. At least one case has been brought to light where one of these harmful substitutes—without the least resembling Zam-Buk in its composition—when applied by the purchaser, set up acute irritation; and blood-poison was only averted by applying the genuine Zam-Buk.

Cheap Sponge Cake.

Sponge cake can not, like other cakes, be made with an egg substitute. But it can be made with plain "rots," in fact is lighter, hence better from the standpoint of the baker, and more quickly accepted by you, than when made with fresh eggs. But sponge cake is the only baker's production of which this is true, and while the sponge cake business is quite respectably large, a graft having to do with one of its ingredients alone would not be alarming. But when it becomes possible to deodorize and doctor eggs at any stage of deterioration (except the musty egg, which no ingenuity can disguise, and one of which will flavor American cake), the bad egg business becomes well worth going into. And then, also, it becomes well worth crushing out.

cause of the efforts of Diaz to saddle upon the nation a successor of his own choice. This, it is declared, decided many Mexicans to undertake the struggle for a recovery of popular sovereignty.

"If I were the father," continued Justice Meredith, "would I not be writing the letter telling the girl to strangle the child?"

"Crowley wanted to introduce evidence at that trial that the girl had been intimate with other men, and she was doing this as a result of being hypnotized by him, she was being notified by many other people," he contended.

"If one set of evidence," added Mr. Crowley, "showed the domination and power of McNulty over this girl, who was represented as taken from her parents and placed in a prison, locked up in a stable in Orelia, with no one to see, no one to help, surely the other was."

Further, he pointed out that it was not said to the jury that there was absolutely no corroboration. "Could you," he asked Justice McLarn, "the corroboration may have been weak, but it was corroborative of the child."

"I don't know as to that," observed Mr. Crowley. "There was another child, and it was got rid of, but not by murder."

"Don't you think that the fact that notes were passing between McNulty and the girl, and that McNulty indicated that there was something behind it all?" asked Mr. Justice Garrow.

"It might show that McNulty was behind the infant, as was undoubtedly the case, wanted his assistance in disposing of the body and the girl, and the girl," he might be charged with being an accessory after the fact, but not with the murder itself."

MINE PROMISES WIFE

Mrs. H. J. Baldwin of Toronto is Reported to Be Suing Prominent New York Society Woman.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—The American to-day says Mrs. Jacob M. Ehrlich, the "Little Lady in the Gray Automobile," a familiar figure in almost every police court in the city as prosecutor of cruel truck drivers, plays the unaccustomed part of defendant in a suit for slander scheduled shortly to be staged in the supreme court.

"We served Mrs. Ehrlich with the papers in the suit to-day," said Jesse S. Epstein, the plaintiff's attorney, last evening. "She has drawn up the papers in another suit for $10,000 against Mr. Ehrlich on the grounds that she has also circulated the charge that my client was a bad woman and thief. Her suits will be prosecuted to the limit."

The accounts of Mrs. Baldwin and Mrs. Ehrlich of the events which led up to the suit differ radically. According to the latter, she was performing a social visit in New York in the latter part of last summer. Mr. Ehrlich, president of the Union Gas and Electric Fixture Co. of this city, owns mining properties 250 miles north of Toronto.

Three weeks ago, according to Mrs. Baldwin, she and her husband came to New York and engaged a suite at the Hotel Buckingham on Fifth-avenue. A day or two later, Mrs. Baldwin says, the Ehrlichs came to the hotel and begged her husband and herself to make their home with them during their stay in the metropolis.

"You can talk your stationery with you," Mrs. Ehrlich is alleged to have assured her guest. Mrs. Baldwin says she agreed to this, and the two went on a long return Mrs. Baldwin says she went to her room. A short time afterward she missed her purse, but, surmising her husband had found it in the trunk of the machine and would keep it for her, she says she neglected mentioning the matter until the next morning.

Then she says Mrs. Ehrlich flew into a rage and "in the presence of diverse persons" called out names. These charges, alleges Mrs. Baldwin, were repeated by Mr. Ehrlich.

After this scene Mrs. Baldwin declares she and her husband immediately left the Ehrlich house.

The second and third acts of the play, she says, were played in the room of the hotel where she and her husband were staying. She says she saw the Ehrlichs in the room of the hotel where she and her husband were staying.

"I will say now, however, that these people never stopped here a single day, nor did we ever stop with them in Toronto. Up to two weeks ago we never saw Mrs. Ehrlich in New York, and Mrs. Baldwin claims to have seen her in the automobile, but the rest of her story is a fabrication."

During the fourth act a plot to liberate the young prince is matured in the gardens of Schoenbrunn at the castle of Vienna. The plot is matured in the gardens of Schoenbrunn at the castle of Vienna.

Never, it is said, has Sarah been more graceful, younger, more inspired. It is said that the new Parisian comic opera, "A Bridal Trip," in which Gracia Van Studdford will be seen at the Royal Alexandra Theatre on Monday night and all week, is a return to the good old "Ermine" and "Robin Hood" days.

The Story of "L'Aiglon." Madame Sarah Bernhardt, the world's most notable actress, comes to the theatre to-night for her farewell tour of America. That those unfamiliar with the French language may be enabled the better to follow the play, the following outline of "L'Aiglon," (The Eaglet) which is to-night's bill, is given.

"L'Aiglon," which is by Edmond Rostand, was written expressly for the memories of his husband and her inter- Madama Bernhardt, and the other Madama Bernhardt, the play opens much of its greatness and popularity.

"L'Aiglon" is an epic in historical monologue, whose dramatic force is in the story of an imprisoned hero, a captive eaglet; the melancholy combat and failure of a frail son of genius, who dies at last "a hostage for all the heroes whose blood has stained Napoleon's battlefields."

The great play has for its setting a royal palace of Austria, 1821, the year of the emperor's coronation. "L'Aiglon" (The Eaglet), is Francis Charles Joseph Bonaparte, son of Napoleon I, Duke of Reichstadt, and grandson of the Austrian Emperor. The play is divided into six acts. There is neither love nor comedy in any of them.

The first act shows the lightness and gaiety of Maria Louisa and the court of France, who surround the young duke, and leave him no liberty but to grieve and despair. Two Bonapartist conspirators are introduced as a result of a letter from Paris, in which the duke declares his intention of escaping.

The second and third acts are played in the room of the hotel where she and her husband were staying. She says she saw the Ehrlichs in the room of the hotel where she and her husband were staying.

"I will say now, however, that these people never stopped here a single day, nor did we ever stop with them in Toronto. Up to two weeks ago we never saw Mrs. Ehrlich in New York, and Mrs. Baldwin claims to have seen her in the automobile, but the rest of her story is a fabrication."

MORE PARK PROPERTIES ARE BEING CONSIDERED

City Will Make an Offer For Tract on Brock-Avenue—Doings at the City Hall.

AT THE CITY HALL TO-DAY.

Several propositions for acquiring land for parks and playground purposes were considered by the parks committee yesterday. The assessment commissioner reported upon the proposal to buy 2 1/2 acres bounded by Brock-ave., Frankish-ave. and Middleton-st., and the rear of a row of houses on Sheridan-ave., part of the Denison estate recently acquired by Frank Phillips, who wants $30,000 for it. The commissioner placed the outside value at $31,000. Parks Commissioner Wilson concurred. If the offer is accepted, a special meeting will be held to-day to sanction the purchase. The assessment commissioner will report on a piece of land west of Bathurst-street and north of Davenport-rd., which has been suggested by Ald. Graham as a good buy for park purposes, and the parks and assessment commissioners will report on Ald. Phelan's motion to acquire the McElenan property, between Kingston-rd. and Gerrard-st. A by-law will be drafted for the closing of a 65 foot strip of land extending from Davenport-rd. to Austin Terrace, a roadway that has never been used. It will be converted to park purposes.

Providing St. Alban's Cathedral will pay the percentage of the cost of opening, curbing and graveling a 12-foot driveway thru St. Alban's square, from Howland to Albany-ave., the road will be cut. The object is to benefit the cathedral people who desire a more direct route to convenience funerals conducted from the church. Would Pave Ravine Drive. Ex-Solicitor Chisholm appeared for the Don Valley Brick Works, asking to use a short stretch of the North Rosedale Ravine drive for heavy hauling. The city's bylaws restrict heavy teaming on the ravine drive; but the company claim that they are so pocketed in that unless they can use the road, they are required to go a mile and a quarter out of their way. They agree to keep it in repair and to even pave it if necessary. The city solicitor was instructed to prepare a legal agreement.

The parks commissioner has decided that all civic employees who are engaged in climbing trees shall be paid a trifle higher scale than those working on the level, on account of the risk, and the committee decided to give men so engaged $7.25 a day after Jan. 1. They also agreed to pay the outside laborers for a half day on Saturdays, even when rain prevented their going to work at all.

To Prevent Accidents. In view of the numerous fatalities that have occurred lately thru accidents in freight elevators, Ald. Graham moved before the property committee yesterday that the city architect report on some manner of improving the conditions of freight elevators, trap doors, chutes, etc., in factories. The use of the St. Lawrence Arena will be granted to the Canadian Cement and Concrete Association for a convention and exhibition for $1000. They wanted free use. J. M. Wilkinson insists that for the annual free Xmas dinner to boys.

On account of the old town hall in West Toronto having been turned into a police station, the Masonic Temple in Ward seven will be rented at $5 a day for division court sessions. Queen-Street Extension. Ald. Sam McBride's proposal of extending Queen-st. along the north of the Grand Trunk tracks and thus obtaining a separate entrance into Hiram Park, is reported against by City Engineer Rust to the board of works, who will deal with the report to-day. Mr. Rust says the land damage would be very heavy. He outlines four proposals as follows: Subway at crossing, cost $145,917.41, grade of approach east and west 2 per cent; grade of approach west, 2 1/2 per cent; cost $118,070.80, grade of approach east and west, 2 per cent; cost $130,000, grade of approach east and west 2 1/2 per cent; cost $110,000, grade of approach 2 1/2 per cent, east, extension 2.5 per cent, east, west level, 2.5 per cent.

"If Ald. McBride's suggestion were adopted," says Mr. Rust, "we would only have one entrance to the sea wall and park driveway from Dowling-ave. to Indian-rd., the distance between these points being 4500 feet."

Ventilating Street Cars. Manager Fleming of the Toronto Railway Company yesterday gave instructions to all conductors that they pay particular attention to the ventilation of the cars. It was the result of a complaint made by a professional man that unless the cars were well ventilated, the regulations preventing man from standing on the back platform would prove an inconvenience. During the winter the company will, in addition to the present number of new cars, have out fifty more of the new type of cars.

The Board of Control. The board of control decided to defer action in connection with the additional grant asked by Western Hospital, pending the possible amalgamation of this institution with Grace Hospital.

A sympathetic consideration was promised a deputation from the East End Day Nursery, who asked that the usual grant of $250 be renewed. Rev. D. Wallace Christie said that 3500 babies had been cared for in the institution last year, while their mothers were working, which is an average of 20 a day.

The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board will hear the application of the Toronto Street Railway Co. re prohibiting smoking on the rear platforms of cars, on Dec. 1.

The city engineer recommends the following pavements: Paton-road, from Eglinton-ave. to Lansdowne; Eglinton-ave., from Buxton to north end; Robinson-st., from Palmerston-ave. to Euclid; Bellwoods-ave., from Arthur-street; Indian-road, from Rousevelt to Bloor.
