CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 27—Chicago has imposed a midnight curfew law for unescorted girls up to 18 years of age. The Puritan Fathers probably would be shocked by the mildness of such a restriction. It reveals to a somewhat startled public that a great many young girls generally are roaming the streets after midnight. It also indicates the restraint with which modern authorities apply legal curbs to flaming youth of the cities.

Do Not Think Idea of Using Vocational Building for High School Feasible

AS SCHOOL opening day, next Monday, draws near, activity increases in the Board of School Trustees' office, where parents are registering their children for permits to enter the primary grades. Up to noon today 773 names had been entered and permits granted, all applicants having been vaccinated. It looks like a record-breaking entry this year if the volume keeps up to the last minute.

HIGH SCHOOL CROWDING

Asked if he thought there would be an overcrowding of the Union street High School building as in previous years, Dr. Worrell could not say. He would rather wait until the school opens in an appearance Monday, for it is possible the number indicated by the grade 8 list would not be fully realized when classes were being organized for the advanced studies.

REPAIRS TO BUILDINGS

The school buildings in need of repair have been attended to in the last eight weeks of off-time, and there have been some installations of school furniture and accessories. Renovation and thorough cleaning has been done in some of the older buildings. However, there has been no extensive physical change.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Both Dr. Worrell and Dr. Myles, in answering a question as to the possibility of part of the new Vocational School being utilized for North End Union street scholars if the Union street building was found to be inadequate for this year's classes, said that such a procedure would be impossible. The government grants towards the cost of the big structure are the split between the school management would not permit of local school matters being introduced. They held the opinion that any suggestion of this kind was at the present outside the question, much as it might be regretted.

LAPOINTE HOLDS MEIGHEN TO BLAME FOR DOUCET STATEMENTS

FORMER JUSTICE MINISTER OPENS ONTARIO TOUR

Criticizes Advice Given Governor-General on Dissolution Matter

Canadian Press BRANTFORD, Ont., Aug. 27.—Declaring that he did not hold A. J. Doucet, responsible for his statements concerning the launch Margaret, but rather Premier Arthur Meighen, who had been on the platform, when Mr. Doucet's statement was made, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former Minister of Justice, opened his Ontario tour last evening.

He spoke in the interests of W. Ross Macdonald, Liberal candidate in Brantford, and T. Scott Davison, Liberal-Progressive candidate in Brant. He was accompanied by Hon. J. A. Robb, Senator A. C. Hardy, and Senator Archie McCord, all of whom spoke briefly.

Stating that the important issues of the campaign were those which the citizens themselves decided, Mr. Lapointe recalled that the Liberal administration, after the last general election, had been called a "rump" government. But it was not a "shadow" government, he said, with but one minister sworn in. And the "rump" government, he said, defeated the "shadow" government three times.

In Picking Out a Husband, Girls, Pass Up the Gift Love-maker, Say "No" to the Jealous Man, the Spender and the Tightwad, but Cleave to the Man Who is Cheerful and Tactful and Who is Chivalrous to All Women.

A GIRL asks me how she can tell whether a man will make a good husband or not. Well, if I were a young woman confronted with the problem of choosing the man with whom I expected to spend the next thirty or forty years, I should carefully observe whether he had, or had not, the following earmarks:

DOROTHY DIX

I SHOULD not say "yes" to the man who told me the first time I met him that he fell in love with me at sight and that I was the ideal woman for whom he had been searching all his life.

FOR I should know that he was one of the gift love-makers who fancies his own line of sentimental twaddle, and that he will hand it out to every good-looking female he meets, until he is a doddering old grandpa. Nor would I marry the man who was a kissing bug and a petter, for he is of the amorous type who will always be a petticoat chaser, and along about 80 he is liable to have a brainstorm and elope with a flapper.

"EASY come, easy go" is true of love as well as money. The man who calls every woman "dearie" holds no woman really dear.

I SHOULD want a man for a husband who felt that his love was such a precious thing, a thing so valuable that he was chary in bestowing it on any woman—not a man who threw it about as if it were merely chicken feed.

I WERE picking out a husband, I would note carefully how much of a go-getter he was. He would not have to be rich, I would rather marry a young man who had started with nothing and worked up to a salary of 2500 a year by his own efforts, than one whose rich papa made him an allowance of $25,000 a year, for I should know that the poor boy was on his way to success, while the chances were that the rich boy was never going anywhere.

ALSO, I should know that the chances were that if I married the poor boy I would likely be a rich man's wife by the time I was 50, and really needed money, while if I married the rich man's son, he would probably spend all the money his father left him, and we would be one of the miserable, forlorn seen-better-days couple by the time we were old.

NO MATTER how fascinating he was, I would say "no" to the temperamental youth who was always changing from one occupation to another because he would never find anything exactly suited to his taste.

NOR would I marry a man who had never been able to support himself or shown any ability to get along or who had never saved a cent. I should know that God had given me no ability to work miracles, and that I would never be able to turn a slacker into a hustler. For the man who lacks energy and push before marriage is going to lack them even more abundantly after marriage.

IF I WERE choosing a husband, I should take a good, long searching look into his eyes to see if there was anything green in them, and if I found him jealous, I wouldn't marry him if he were the last man on earth. Better a million times to be an old maid than a wife who is hounded by her husband's doubts and suspicions, and who has to furnish an alibi for every hour of the day.

I SHOULD know that I would soon come to hate a husband who had no faith in me, no belief in my honor and loyalty, and who kept me terrorized with dread of the scenes I would have with him every time I engaged in conversation with an old man friend on the street, or danced with a man at a ball.

IF I WERE picking out a husband, I would observe how a man handles his money.

I SHOULD pass up the man who was a waster, and who lived beyond his means. I would not bind up my fortunes with those of the young chap who was buying a motorcar on the installment plan, for I should know that the wife of such a man spends her life staving off the bill collector and trying to ramp those to whom they owe money. Nor would I care to tackle the job of trying to make a happy home in a house on which the mortgage was never lifted, and where debt was a perpetual guest at the fireside.

NEITHER would I marry a tightwad. I should say "no, no, no" to the man who took me to the cheapest movies, when he took me out at all; who thought a sandwich a feast; who never remembered an anniversary, and who carried his small change in a purse with a Yale lock on it that took so much time to open that somebody else always did the paying when we went out with a crowd.

I SHOULD know that such a man as that always doles out pennies to his wife, that he thinks clothes grow on her back, and that from the altar to the grave she has one long bitter, losing fight with him about the money to run the family upon.

IF I WERE picking out a husband, I should observe a man's general attitude toward his life.

I SHOULD note whether he was fussy about little things; about his food, about the weather, about the inevitable little annoyances and disappointments of everyday living, and I should say "no" to him if he flew into a temper or went into a silent groan every time anything displeased him.

BUT if he took everything calmly and cheerfully and philosophically; if he could depend upon him always to show common sense and generosity and tact; if he jollied people along instead of cursing and abusing them, I should say, "Yes, sir, and thank you, too." If he asked me to be his wife, for I should know that that sort of a man is easy to live with, and makes matrimony a glad, sweet song for the woman to whom he is married.

IF I WERE picking out a husband, I would pay the most particular attention to the way the man treated other women. I should observe how he treated old women, and poor, shabby, working women. If he was disdainful of women, if he sneered at their opinions; if he thought they were only designed by nature to be men's playthings and slaves, I would have none of him, because I would know that he would be a tyrant and that when my youth and beauty were gone he would also go.

BUT if he was tender and chivalrous to all women, if he was as polite to the woman who worked with him as he was to his hostess, if he was even more considerate to an old woman than to a young one, I would know that he would make the kind of a husband that keeps a woman thanking God she has got him, and I would snare him by fair means or foul to the altar if I could.

OH, IT isn't so hard to tell what sort of a man will make a good husband! The earmarks are there for all to note who have eyes to see them.

Satin Is One of Autumn's Favorite Fabrics

NO FABRIC for general wear is more popular than satin. And black seems to be favored above colors. And among those who are wearing it are both maids and matrons, short women and tall, stout and slim. Touches of color add interest to most of these black satin gowns and the various methods of applying this color makes an interesting study. In the three frocks pictured above, different methods are employed. In the dress pictured at the right, dolman lines are used with the accompanying much discussed blouse treatment. A high waistline is also shown embellished with Chinese embroidery. The embroidery also appears on the full length sleeves, while the collar is simply tied with bow and long ends of self material. Buttons are also used in a decorative touch on the cuffs and hips. A coat dress also of black satin (center) has a wide panel as well as collar and cuffs of silver cloth embroidered in bright colors. This frock is belted and is intended for afternoon wear. The third frock (left) has a basque affair with close fitting bodice ending at a normal waistline. The skirt is full and gathered on to the bodice and the sleeves are full in the upper section with a close fitting cuff. Black satin is embroidered in this frock, too, but is com-

BEHIND THE SCREEN

IN THESE days when the feminine figure is the top of the hour, a luncheon table, afternoon tea and on the street car, Eleanor Boardman's dress is a study in itself. Her dress is perhaps cannot attain beauty of features are able to cultivate grace and poise which will to a large extent help to draw attention from their lack of comeliness.

Miss Boardman doesn't advocate rigid diet to produce avert lines in place of too plump contours. Her advice is to exercise.

EXERCISE! Exercise, and still more exercise. Fifteen minutes a day of good strenuous calisthenics if faithfully adhered to day in and day out will bring a graceful carriage and well poised movements to the most awkward person, at least so says the stately Eleanor. And she ought to know, for movie actresses spend a large portion of their time keeping in physical trim. The statement that all women who wear those few extra pounds and that suspicion of a double chin. They know that too strict a diet is likely to undermine their health.

Those who champion setting up exercises which tend to give that youthful silhouette and the bearing of a queen are legion in Hollywood.

Fashion Fancies.

THIS DRESS IS IDEAL FOR THE LARGER WOMAN

Long lines tend to slenderize the larger woman, and this dress, with its V neck and longwise pleats, is the ideal model for the unduly stout.

It is of tan crepe de chine, with flat pleats running from the yoke to the hem. The scarf tie, vestee and pocket tops are of tan crepe de chine.

Of course, any shades and color combinations would look equally well and it is a good model for the woman who has difficulty in finding the right clothes.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaels

Time was when at proud youth's best, I wanted many things: I asked of Earth its rarest, best, youth's dreams soar up on wings. No mansion seemed too fair for me, no place too high or great; but years have brought sobriety and taught man's true estate. Today, on looking back, I smile at many a once-sought boon; so children may, a little while, go crying for the moon. Time was my wants kept piling up and in life's dining-hall I grasped at every offered cup, athirst for one and all. But years slipped past me and today my wants are, oh! so few, a little time for work and play, a home and friendship true. Yet I have still a grasping hand, for these few things I name, outweigh all wealth of any land, all riches, honor, fame!

Holeproof Gives You Something New

To add grace to pretty legs Holeproof offers a new number with the silk above the knee. You'll be amazed at the difference it makes in appearance, happily combining service and sheerness which is so much desired. Fashion now demands it.

Holeproof is following the new short dresses with longer stockings. This new number described below will have a 23-inch silk leg, giving care-free smartness otherwise impossible.

—plus these 5 Famous Style Points

Now you are offered two new features in fine hosiery. Greater style is gained and charm made more alluring. Once more Holeproof leads the way to being fashionably correct. Yet don't forget the five style points that made this hosiery famous. Each is important.

[1] Exquisite clearness. In sheer chiffons lack of evenness through uniformly even thread. The charm of it in cheaper silk causes unsightly shadow rings. So at greater cost Holeproof selects silk in China, judged finest of all oriental grades.

[2] Correct Paris shades. Paris authorities select the newest colors. A unique scientific dyeing process keeps them clear and bright. Holeproof's anti-fade treatment protects from fading.

[3] Superlative transparency, even in the heavier weights. There is no cloudiness, no streaking. First the silk is tested, then it undergoes the special Holeproof treatment.

[4] No loose ends. Loose threads mar appearance. So Holeproof carefully trims the inside of each stocking by hand.

[5] No imperfections. Style vanishes with imperfections. And here Holeproof safeguards you by nine separate inspections. It is a fact that few other fine hose are so uniformly perfect.

Now see the styles described below in new Paris shades. At all Holeproof shops.

MISS KIOKE'S CHOSEN SOLOIST BY SHUBERTS

Japanese Young Lady Has Many Friends in Saint John

Miss Hisako Kioke, winsome little Japanese soprano, heard in this city last season and who has a wide circle of friends here because of her summer visits as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. French, Orange street, is soon to embark upon her professional music career for which she has been in training several years in New York. Word received by friends in this city states she has been selected by the Shuberts to sing the role of Yum Yum in the Three Little Maids trio of Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera, "The Mikado," now playing in Chicago.

GRAND OPERA LATER

However, this is only a preliminary introduction, it would appear, as she is to have a grand opera appearance at a future date, undoubtedly in the name role of Madame Butterfly. At a recent audition before the musical critics of the Shubert interests and a number of prominent operatic people, Miss Kioke is said to have created a mild furor by her singing of that difficult and artistically acting part of a highly dramatic order and proved a surprisingly artistic combination with her delightful soprano voice. Her work in the pathetic scene at the conclusion of Puccini's brilliant work was commended by some of the critics to have been nothing short of remarkable in an artist so young and professionally inexperienced.

SUDDENLY CALLED AWAY

Miss Kioke was called to the States from Saint John about a fortnight ago because of these professional business developments. It was being arranged that she should be heard again in the Imperial Theatre, but the beginning of her stage work prevented. The young artist is the daughter of a prominent Tokio household, her father being a wealthy Japanese. She has been in vocal training for several years under the direction of one of New York's best teachers and of late seasons has been studying the art of a prominent recent Chicago papers contain many complimentary references to Miss Kioke's singing and her appearance in the York Times of late published her portrait in its supplement, titling it "The New Madame Butterfly."

RELEASE OF $25,000 SEIZED LIQUOR CARGO IS INVESTIGATED

MARGARET CAPT. STATES RULING WAS REVERSED

BACKS STATEMENTS ABOUT N. S. TRAFFIC

Lecoupee Tells of Alterations Made on Customs Vessel in 1922

HALIFAX, Aug. 26.—"I reckoned it was adding insult to injury to have to do it," Captain Lecoupee, of the customs steamer Margaret, told the Lemieux Commission this afternoon when asked about the liquor ship W. C. Kennedy.

The captain told Commissioner Sir Francois Lemieux that he had captured the W. C. Kennedy in 1923 with 806 cases of Scotch whisky on board, worth $25,000, had landed this valuable cargo safely at Quebec, and one year later had been instructed by the Department of Customs at Ottawa to proceed to Quebec, load the cargo, bring it down to Halifax and transfer it to its former owners. The captain told W. F. O'Connor, K. C., who was conducting his examination, that this had been a sore point with him ever since.

The seizure had been made in Northumberland Straits, and the reason given by the department for returning the cargo was that these waters were extra-territorial.

POSITION REVERSED.

"Until the W. C. Kennedy was seized, the ruling of the Department had been that the Northumberland Straits comprised territorial waters, but upon the been regularly rendered by the steward of the vessel.

EXAMINATION CONTINUED.

Examination of Captain Lecoupee, of the steamer Margaret, was continued when the customs commission resumed this afternoon. He told of having taken down the Gulf of St. Lawrence in August, 1922. The minister went down to Sydney and returned.

The Margaret, said Captain Lecoupee, wintered that year at Sorel, Que., and in May, 1923, she proceeded to Montreal to take Mr. Bureau on board.

During the interval the vessel had been equipped with two bathrooms, at a cost of $2,480. New beds, quilts and bed linen had been bought.

"At whose request were these bathrooms put in?" asked R. L. Calder, K. C.

"I presume at the request of the minister," replied the captain. He said that no luxuries were bought, just necessities.

TO ACCOMMODATE GUESTS.

"The bathrooms were for the accommodation of guests, not for the crew," asked Mr. Calder.

"Yes," replied the captain. He explained that the staterooms and bathrooms were locked up, unless there were guests on board.

On July 12, 1923, he said, he had taken on Mr. Bureau at Three Rivers for a trip in the course of which Charlottetown and the Magdalen Islands were visited. The vessel was absent from the 12th to the 28th, when it returned to Three Rivers.

OFFICERS CONFERRED WITH.

Captain Lecoupee replied that he was of this opinion because Mr. Bureau had conferred with officers of outposts, etc. He agreed with Mr. Calder that the route of the vessel was under the direction of the minister on these trips.

Mr. Calder asked the witness to explain his greatest difficulties in catching smugglers.

"My greatest difficulty is the law covering smuggling and the three-mile limit," he replied.

"Why the three mile limit?" asked the commissioner.

SMUGGLERS OUTSIDE.

"Because the smugglers keep outside the limit," he replied. He had no jurisdiction outside the three mile limit, even though a Canadian vessel was involved. He thought that some provisions should be made so that run-runners with foreign clearance, hovering just outside the three mile limit for more than forty-eight hours should be seized and searched. He knew of cases in which run-runners had hovered outside the three mile limit for two months and a half.

"Have you ever seized liquor which to your knowledge, was manufactured in Canada?" asked Mr. Calder.

"Not to my knowledge."

SORE ABOUT SCHOONER.

W. F. O'Connor, K. C., continued the examination. He asked the captain if it was not a fact that the case which he was "most sore about," was in connection with the schooner W. C. Kennedy. The captain replied that he felt "sore" about this case. It was one of the biggest seizures he had ever made—806 cases worth $25,000. He had taken this cargo to Quebec, and then, one year after, he had been ordered to call for it, bring it down to Halifax and put it on board a run-runner.

SONS ENGLAND VISIT PLANNED FOR SATURDAY

Saint John Members to Make Call on Moncton Brethren

Final arrangements for the fraternal visit of the Saint John Sons of England to the Moncton members of Shaftesbury Lodge, No. 208, in Moncton on Saturday were made at the meeting of Marlborough Lodge held in the lodge rooms, Market building, last night with W. F. H. E. Thompson in the chair. Latest word received from the Moncton lodge told of the extensive preparations being made in the railway city to welcome the visitors from Saint John and promised most hospitable treatment in Moncton.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the party of at least 42, who will make the journey by automobile, the cars would leave King street east at 3:30 on Saturday afternoon. Instructions were given to the members to be early on the spot as plans were being made to get away as soon as possible.

The Moncton members had announced their intention of driving out by automobile to meet the Saint John delegation some distance from Moncton and accompany them on their entry into the city.

The Moncton lodge has a companion lodge of the Daughters and Maids of England, Jubilee, No. 29, the members of which are to have part in entertaining the fraternal visitors.

As some of the Saint John members will be accompanied by their wives a number will make the journey by train and it was announced last evening that for parties of ten a special reduction in fare had been granted.

DECORATION DAY.

At the meeting of last night plans were also made for the holding of the annual decoration day ceremonies. This decoration will take place on Sept. 12 and a special committee was appointed to make necessary preliminary arrangements. The lodge rooms are to be opened for receiving gifts of flowers before the decoration day.

CONCERT PLANNED

Women's Hospital Aid Seeks Funds for Maternity Wing For Hospital

The Women's Hospital Aid at a special meeting yesterday afternoon made preliminary arrangements for the evening concert which William Heughebaert, eminent Scottish actor singer, will give in the last week in September for the benefit of the Hospital Aid's fund for a maternity wing of the General Public Hospital.

Mrs. J. J. Stothard, president, was in the chair. She announced that the aid had been freely given the use of the Imperial theatre with its orchestra and organ for the concert and very hearty thanks were extended to the manager, W. H. Golding, for his very generous and kind assistance, which he had stated had been accorded in view of the very worthy object for which the concert was being held. The only responsibility which the aid has in undertaking to dispose of large numbers.

It was reported that Mrs. J. V. McLellan, of the Board of Commissioners of the hospital, had already sold 100 tickets for the concert and had asked for more to sell.

It was decided to ask various societies and organizations in the city to assist in the sale of tickets and pledge support of the concert.

SPEAK AT LOCH LOMOND

The Liberal candidates in Saint John-Albert electoral district addressed a well attended and representative gathering in Loch Lomond last evening and were well received. Supporting the candidates, R. T. Hayes and W. M. Ryan, was Dr. W. P. Brodric. The chairman of the evening, George McCafferty, introduced the speakers.

BAND CONCERT ENJOYED.

The City Cornet Band, under the direction of Bandmaster Frank Waddington, rendered an excellent program of music from King Square stand last night and delighted a large number of people.

HAS GUNS; NO AMMUNITION

HALIFAX, Aug. 26.—The customs steamer Margaret is equipped with Vickers-Maxim, six pounder guns, but they are obsolete. There is no ammunition, and it is not manufactured now for this type of gun. The guns have been practically obsolete ever since the vessel was returned to the customs by the department of the naval service after the war in 1919.

This was brought out before the customs probe today, when Captain Lecoupee of the Margaret was on the stand.

R. L. Calder, K. C., asked the captain if he did not find these conditions "very embarrassing" when he was chasing run-runners.

"No, I never had any trouble that way," the captain replied.

Mr. Calder assured him that the commission would try to get him good guns.

seizure of the Kennedy, they reversed their position without apparently referring the matter to the justice department at all," remarked R. L. Calder, K. C., one of the Commission counsel.

The entire afternoon was devoted to examination of the Margaret's master and he will be further examined tomorrow morning by L. A. Forsyth, counsel for Hon. Jacques Bureau.

Mr. O'Connor questioned the captain at some length in regard to trips made on the vessel by Mr. Bureau.

INTERVIEW CITED.

He drew the attention of the witness to an interview given by him (Captain Lecoupee) at the close of the navigation season of 1922. In this the captain was reported as saying that liquor smugglers on the Nova Scotia coast were engaged on such a large scale that they were actually in one another's way. The captain, it was reported, had told the newspaper that he estimated the number of schooners engaged in the rum traffic at 225.

"Were conditions as bad as you said?" asked Mr. O'Connor.

"I can safely say they were," replied the witness.

Mr. O'Connor then took the captain through the log of the vessel for that year in order to ascertain how the Margaret had dealt with such conditions.

FAULT OF DEPARTMENT.

The captain explained a delay of about a week in getting started by saying that "it must have been the fault of the department." He said also that one trip taken by Mr. Bureau and W. F. Wilson, chief preventive officer, up the St. Lawrence, was to demonstrate the oil-burning engines newly installed on the ship. Mr. O'Connor suggested that it was nearly the month of August, 1923, before the Margaret really got out on her patrol along the coast of Nova Scotia, to hunt for the run-runners which the captain said were so numerous, and the captain agreed that this was partly true.

TRIP OF BUREAU.

During this summer, according to the log, Mr. Bureau had made an inspection trip to Charlottetown, the Magdalen Islands and North Sydney.

During the course of the hearing, the captain was asked whether or not Premier McEwen had made election speeches from the deck of the Margaret in 1921. He said positively that no speeches had been made. The bill amounting to $68 for meals served to the McEwen party while on board had

FORMER U. S. AIRMEN ACTIVE AGAINST NICARAGUAN REBELS

MAKE ATTACKS ON GUN-RUNNING MEXICAN SHIP

Drop Bombs on Vessel But Are Driven Off by Machine Guns

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Aug. 27.—Capt. J. C. Rutledge and L. J. Gray, former United States aviators and now masters in the Nicaragua constabulary, within the past two days have made airplane attacks on a gun-running vessel flying the Mexican flag.

Scouting along the Pacific coast of Nicaragua in search of revolutionary forces, the aviators located the vessel off Corinto, and began dropping bombs. The ship put to sea closely followed by the airplane. One bomb exploded near the ship, but caused no damage.

Returning to Corinto Wednesday night, the aviators again discovered the vessel at Cosiguina, near the Gulf of Fonseca, discharging arms. The aviators dropped three bombs near the ship, and used their machine gun, only to be met with a return fire from machine guns and rifles.

Revolutionary forces, numbering 150, have overpowered the small garrison at Cosiguina, killing four men and have begun a march inland with arms obtained from the vessel attacked by the aviators. The government has sent a force of 1,600 soldiers with light artillery, to meet the revolutionists and a shuttle is expected at any time.

CLEMENCEAU'S LETTER DRAWS LONDON TALK

Considered Tiger's Thrust at U. S. May Have Results

LONDON, Aug. 27.—After reading his open letter to President Coolidge, none may doubt why Clemenceau is called "The Tiger." As a masterpiece of sarcasm it should rank in the annals of epistolary duelling with Dr. Johnson's famous letter to Lord Chesterfield. Even the Middle West can hardly miss the innuendo of Clemenceau's reminder that "France is not for sale, even to her friends," which reveals the Tiger's claws unheated for the first time since his retirement after peace conferences remember the German who attended at Versailles on that historic occasion.

But Marion is no longer obscure. The accident of circumstances that brought her to Broadway, it is thought, was not so fortuitous as it first appeared. The Tiger's thrust at America, though treated in Washington as the impotence of senility, may have results.

Ontario Man Sets Example In Boosting N. B. Attractions

"JUST SAY that's from a better New Brunswick than any New Brunswick you have in the province." Thus remarked the head of a large Ontario manufacturing concern yesterday as he handed $10 to the managing editor of the Times-Star as a contribution toward the N. B. Tourist Association's campaign for funds.

When the money was handed over to W. E. Anderson, secretary-manager of the Tourist Association, he declared that he would like to see every New Brunswicker display the same kind of spirit, and get solidly behind the movement to boost the tourist traffic.

To the Editor of the Times-Star. Sir—Though it might be considered odd to draw comparison between qualities of citizenship such as in my mind at this time. A SIMPLE RECORD OF FACT

OF INTEREST TO THE MOTORISTS OF CANADA

ON February 15th—just six months ago—we raised the curtain on a merchandising success that has no counterpart in the annals of modern business. It was then that we revealed the record of our four-year search for the ideal motor lubricant, and announced the culmination of that search in the development of a new and wonderful refining process. At once the attention of the motoring world was focussed upon Marvelube Motor Oil, by reason of the positive assurances we gave to trade and public that it would prove a revelation in lubricating efficiency.

On April 20th, Marvelube went on sale across Canada. On that very day it became apparent that our high claims had awakened the interest of car owners to an extent never achieved for any other oil product. That first day our Dealers and Service Stations set new records in crank-case fillings for customers anxious to get the lubrication benefits which we had told them Marvelube would ensure.

By May 1st, Marvelube sales had attained such proportions as to reveal a most gratifying readiness on the part of the Motoring Public to accept our claims at their full face value. From every one of our twelve Sales Divisions came reports of a demand so vastly in excess of our most optimistic anticipations as to constitute evidence of a public confidence seldom vouchsafed to any commercial institution.

By June 1st—to meet this unforeseen demand—we had doubled our plant capacity.

And yet today, in spite of intensive efforts to place adequate stocks at all our Sales Outlets, we still occasionally hear from Dealers and Service Stations that they have had to report themselves "temporarily sold out on certain grades"—and this in spite of the fact that we have been producing Marvelube at a rate sufficient to fill a demand far in excess of our total Motor Oil sales for 1925.

The proved effect of Marvelube—in smoothness and economy of car operation—has so amply justified all the claims we made at the time of its introduction, that today we find the great body of Canadian Motorists not only using Marvelube, but actively encouraging their friends to enjoy the advantages of this greater lubricant.

Accepted at first "on faith" by motorists who realized we would not jeopardize our reputation by the slightest exaggeration of the actual facts, Marvelube is to-day dominating the oil trade of Canada by reason of actual results achieved in daily use in at least three hundred thousand crank-cases. There is no longer need for claim making. Marvelube now has a record of claim proving whereby even the ultra-sceptical must be convinced.

To complete the record of Marvelube's dramatic success, we now have on file official endorsements of this great oil discovery by the manufacturers of seventy-nine per cent. of the motor cars used in Canada. Marvelube, having been subjected by them to searching tests, has received unqualified endorsement as a Motor Oil of low carbon-content, low-cold test, infinitesimal sulphur content, unique resistance to emulsification and amazing ability to retain its "body" under the most severe operating conditions.

In thanking the manufacturers of motor cars who have so frankly endorsed Marvelube, and in expressing our appreciation to the public for their prompt acceptance of the new oil, we reiterate, for the benefit of those who have not yet tried it, the unqualified statement that Marvelube is different from and superior to any other lubricant that has heretofore been offered to the motoring public.

By securing the exclusive use of Peruvian Crude, we placed ourselves in possession of the most valuable raw material for the making of lubricating oil that has ever been wrested from the oil fields of the world.

By discovering and perfecting the Marvelube process of refining, we so enhanced the inherent properties of that great crude as to be able to offer an oil possessing new and distinct properties and revealing a superiority to any other lubricant hitherto produced.

There is only one Marvelube, and the benefit of its use can easily be proved to any motorist's satisfaction by filling his crank-case with the correct grade and observing the result.

Morning Stock Letter

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The market continues to show improvement. Yesterday morning we said the market was stronger than it appeared. There was considerable pressure on various stocks from time to time, but if the market was to have a big break at this stage, we believe it would have already materialized. Enough ammunition has been furnished to allow them to break stocks and to bring out liquidation if the booming act of the market's action in the past several weeks shows that the market is to part with their stocks when the market is weak. We think the trend is toward distinctly higher prices, at the same time there may be a continuation of pressure here and there in the stock market.

It is a feature of the market, with wild and erratic fluctuations. The view is that the market is in a state of transition. The market is in a state of transition. The market is in a state of transition.

Mrs. C. F. Avaré of Moncton, who was among the visitors, was present at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Purdy in Moncton, 64 years ago. Mrs. Joseph Davis of Port Elgin who also attended the ceremony, was not able to be present in Amherst on Saturday.

The members of the family who took part in the anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Purdy, Clarence street; Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Purdy, Saint John; Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Purdy and daughter, Port Lawrence; Mrs. Aubrey Copp of Calgary; the only daughter was not able to come east for the anniversary.

MANY ATTENDED AN ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

Amherst Paper's References to Parents of Saint John Man

In its report of the 64th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Woodford Purdy at Amherst, parents of F. S. Purdy, Saint John grocer, the Amherst News says scores of people from Moncton, Saint John, Sussex, Point de Bute, New York, Port Elgin, Shemogue, Wallace, Port Lawrence, Shediac, and other centres, including friends from Amherst, paid their respects and delivered congratulations. Mr. Purdy will be 84 years old in October, and Mrs. Purdy will be 88 in November. They have three sons and one daughter, all living, and 16 grandchildren and twelve great-grandchildren. Mr. Purdy was the son of the late Samuel Purdy of Port Lawrence, and a grandson of one of the three original Purdy brothers, who settled in Cumberland, at the time of the American revolution—coming from Westchester, New York. Mrs. Purdy is a daughter of the late Lewis Wells of Wallace.

While the anniversary was not marked by any particular celebration, Mrs. Purdy was presented with numerous floral bouquets by visiting friends and relatives, and in the evening when a large number had gathered, refreshments were served.

Mr. Purdy took active interest in the arrangements. Mr. Purdy is somewhat hard of hearing while in the last year Mrs. Purdy's eye sight has been falling slightly. Nevertheless they follow local affairs with keenness.

Canada Electric Company

LIMITED Twenty-five Year 6 1/2% First Mortgage Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

Dated March 1st, 1926. Due March 1st, 1951.

Capitalization Authorized Issued. Twenty-five year 6 1/2% First Mortgage Gold Bonds (this issue) $500,000 $450,000. Common Stock 500,000 450,000.

From the letter to us of the Hon. Walter G. Mitchell, K.C., President of the Company, we summarize as follows: COMPANY—The Canada Electric Company, Limited, supplies an important industrial and mining territory in North Western Nova Scotia, including the towns of Amherst and Springhill, and contiguous territories, in addition to the two Cumberland County coal fields. The total population supplied is 20,000.

PROPERTIES—The Company's plants consist of a 2000 kilowatts (2,700 horse-power) generating plant at Chignecto, N.S. A new plant, with an ultimate capacity of 4,000 kilowatts (5,200 horsepower) is now in the course of construction at Maccan. On its completion substantial economies will be effected in the present cost of generation of power. The new power house is a thoroughly modern structure, completely equipped for the burning of pulverized coal, with modern boilers and machinery, and specially designed to use the cheap fuel available.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE—The proceeds of the present issue will be used for the financing of the new plant at Maccan and to redeem a presently outstanding issue of $300,000 of First Mortgage Bonds.

EARNINGS—Net earnings, available for bond interest, are estimated as follows: 1926 $43,000. 1927 95,000. 1928 124,000.

This compares with bond interest requirements of $29,250. During the past ten years, including the earnings derived only from the original plant, net earnings available for bond interest have averaged $41,289., and for the past four years $44,911. The bond interest on the old plant has, therefore, been earned on an average of over 1 1/2 times interest requirement of the new issue.

Under the Nova Scotia Public Utilities Act, the Company is entitled to earn an 8% interest return on the capital value of its plant and 4% depreciation on same. Based on the Board of Commissioners of Public Utilities' valuation of the present plant, the Company's assets, after completion of the new construction, will exceed $800,000.

SINKING FUND—A Cumulative Sinking Fund of 2% commencing March 1st, 1928, is calculated to retire the entire issue by maturity.

All legal details in connection with this issue will be passed on by our Solicitors, Messrs. Logan & Smiley, Amherst, N.S.

It is expected that Definitive Bonds will be ready for delivery on or about September 9th, 1926.

PRICE: 100 and accrued interest, yielding 6 1/2%

PIRATES AGAIN UP IN LEAGUE SEE-SAW

CARDS SHARE 2ND PLACE WITH CINCINNATI

Bush's String of 25 Scoreless Innings Broken by Fluke Homer

NEW YORK, Aug. 27—The trim Buccoer craft was in the forefront again today in the mad race for honors in the National League race, with a four-point margin, the measure of league superiority most of this week.

Yesterday the St. Louis Cardinals were proud possessors of that measure of a half-game margin, but that was before the Phillies, hitherto considerably battered about by the rest of the league, suddenly came to life and edged out a 3 to 2 victory. When Cincinnati kept on its merry way by trimming Dazzy Vance and Brooklyn, 3 to 1, the Cardinals found they had not only lost the leadership, but must share second place with Cincinnati.

PITTSBURG SLUGGING.

The Pittsburgh nine, spurred to the attack by six hits by Paul Waner, slugging outfielder from the coast, slammed the offerings of four New York pitchers to win the start of a three-game series, 15 to 7.

Fitcher Wertz gave the Boston Braves their only run when he broke Guy Bush's string of 25 scoreless innings, with a fluke home run that hopped over centred fence.

The Philadelphia Athletics made game of Rookie Ballou, St. Louis acquisition from Washington, by winning two games from him, although he pitched but 3 2-3 of the 28 innings necessary to give the Athletics the double win. The first was decided 8 to 6 in 11 innings, and the second 4 to 3 in 12.

SENATORS TAKE TWO.

The Senators likewise took two from Chicago, 9 to 3 and 1-0. Right in the heart of the fray were Washington's splendid old-timers, Walter Johnson and Stanley Coveleskie, and both pitched a winning game.

Cleveland and Boston ran into mud flats and had to call off their pasture, the only other engagement scheduled in the American during the day.

Toronto made it nine straight by taking the double-header from Newark, 3 to 2 and 3 to 1, and now leads the Baltimore Orioles by six games in the International League. The Syracuse Stars again proved a thorn in the birds' side by taking two games from the champions, 6 to 4 and 8 to 0.

Rochester defeated Jersey twice, and Buffalo defeated Jersey City.

AUSTRALIANS SCORE 386 RUNS IN INNINGS

CANTERBURY, Eng., Aug. 26—The Australian scored 386 runs in their first innings against the County of Kent.

The Antipodean cricketers stayed in all day, the last man of the team only being disposed of a minute or two before time was called. Kent scored 221 in their first innings. The match will be concluded tomorrow.

Diamond Disputes Leided

ON INFIELD by what are rights of runners to advance?

When umpire rules batted ball an infield fly with first and second or first, second and third occupied, with less than two out, the batsman is automatically retired.

Due to the fact that major leagues once differed on this rule, it is confusing to some.

The rights of runners to advance on an infield fly are the same as on any other fly ball that is caught or muffed.

If ball is caught, runners must return to their bases to escape being retired. If muffed, they can run at their peril.

There is no difference as to proper advancement of runners, between an infield or outfield fly.

CHICAGO BOUTS.

Gamble Without Risk

If you can get together a few hundred or a few thousand here is an opportunity to invest it safely and profitably with a chance—and a mighty good chance at that—more than double your money in a very short time.

Nothing shady about the proposition. It is safe and honest and capable of earnings beyond the ordinary, while waiting for the big profit. Your security? The best of Real Estate, Cash and other assets.

Why the secrecy? Simply this—there are certain features that it does not seem advisable to make generally known.

Absolutely reliable and straight-forward business men are already interested, so you will be in good company. Some are interested simply in the earnings. Others accept the earnings but have an eye always on the big profit.

THE GOLDEN STRAIN

By PETER B. KYNE

It is the story of a young army officer who was handicapped by a "yellow streak," and how he was enabled to overcome his weakness when the supreme test came.

One of the big dramatic climaxes is a thrilling battle scene in which the famous Tenth Cavalry clashes with several hundred Apache Indians on the warpath. Kenneth Harlan and Madge Bellamy have the leading roles with Hobart Bosworth, Ann Pennington and a notable cast in support. Much of the action takes place near Fort Huachuca, Arizona, where the notorious Geronimo once ran amuck.

"The Golden Strain" is the screen version of one of Kyne's best stories and adds another to Victor Schertzinger's list of photoplay triumphs.

CANADIAN BAR ASSOCIATION

Sir James Aikins Praises Organization Which Meets Here Soon

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR OF MANITOBA IN CITY

Speaks of Value of Interchange of Visits of Lawyers

"There is nothing that exists in Canada or the Northern Hemisphere which is contributing so largely to its own, way to the development of the spirit of unity among the English speaking peoples as the Canadian Bar Association," declared Sir James Aikins, who arrived in Saint John today for the Canadian Bar Association annual meeting to be held here.

"This is a pretty broad statement to brood," Sir James continued, "but I challenge a successful contradiction of it."

TELLS WHY
Many would wonder why this was so, said Sir James. At various times during the 12 years that the association has been in existence, he went on, it had invited representatives of the American Bar Association. The British jurists, following their visit to Canada, went to the United States and addressed members of the bar there. Such harmony was created that as a result, in 1916, the British bar invited the Canadian Bar Association to go over to England as joint hosts with them to receive the American Bar Association.

The lawyers were the leaders in public affairs in the three countries, and so they spread that spirit of unity among the people where they dwelt. The members of the Canadian Bar Association were great public servants and the people should stand behind the association, Sir James said.

FRANSES ASSOCIATION.
The association, said Sir James, was a national one and its interests were to serve not itself, but Canada. There was no question of personal aggrandizement. It was a national organization of lawyers voluntarily formed to serve in all matters relative to the advancement of the law. Since the fifth century, the Canadian alone has been working for the betterment of the law, and the present generation was reaping the advantage of the work done in previous years.

SPEAKS OF WEST.
When asked as to conditions in the West, Sir James replied that general conditions there indicated stability and advance. The crops, were, as usual, good.

Sir James spoke of the importance of the peace here last week. Lord Darling better known as Mr. Justice Darling, Lord Darling, while not regularly on the Canadian side, is in the administration of justice in important cases. He was the presiding judge in the case of "Mr. A," which was tried in England a few years ago. Lady Aikins accompanied Sir James on his visit here.

MAKE INSPECTION OF PORT NEXT WEEK
Members of South Jersey Commission Come to Saint John Monday

Members of the recently constituted South Jersey port commission, which has supervision over about 10 miles of waterfront on Delaware River, centering about Camden, N. J., and who are now making a tour of Canadian ports, are expected to arrive here from Halifax on next Monday evening. Commissioner Bullock announced today that they were in Montreal during the first part of the week.

REASON FOR VISIT
Owing to the volume of traffic coming up the Delaware River into Philadelphia, it was decided to further improve the shipping facilities on the eastern bank of the river and so bring more advantages to New Jersey. For this reason a port commission was constituted a short time ago and its members came to Canada with the idea of gathering information that might be of service to them in building up their district and port.

ENGINE TROUBLE
The early suburban train, due in the city about 7:30 o'clock, "docked" at the Union Depot about 20 minutes late this morning, with many of the passengers feeling distinctly sea-sick. Trouble developed in the engine between Quispamsis and Fair Vale, and after stopping at the latter station for about 15 minutes, where an effort was made to cure the difficulty, the train resumed its journey to town. But it was a rather rough and jerky trip for those on board, with the result that many of the passengers were feeling ill.

SEE THE FALLS

At high tide the water of the Bay of Fundy reaches a higher level than the water of the Saint John River and forces its way through the gorge of the Falls, creating a "Falls" at low tide the water in the Bay becomes as low as the water in the river, and the fall of water is reversed and flows down river into the Bay.

At low tide, when the level in the Bay and River are about equal, the water at the Falls becomes smooth and the water flows down river into the Bay.

To fully appreciate this wonder of the world it should be seen at all three stages.

As Hiram Sees It
THE SETTLEMENT—Late every afternoon I see a fish and hawk fly down the river. He has a crusty ground—or water—ground—up in the forenoon an' back afore night. Yesterday while I was watchin' him he stopped, hovered fer a minute, an' dove down about a hundred feet or so an' went clean under the water. He was out agin in two seconds an' up an' away. I couldn't see whether he had a fish or not. I wonder how a hungry hawk feels when he misses the fish—an' how the fish feels if the hawk grabs him. They say fish is cold blooded—but I wonder if jist fer a minute one of 'em don't feel most scared to death when the hawk gets him. We got curious notions about the lower animals. I was readin' today how a man used his dog as a guard as he used himself—because he loved tripe birds that he kep' that dog to re-appear before sitting. Magistrate Ervin E. Williams in the Police Court this morning and were fined $8 each. A third, out on deposit, failed to appear and his deposit was forfeited.
