A WEEKLY NEWS LETTER.

LABOR REPRESENTATION PERMANENT.

JUST at the present time the word reconstruction enters largely into our vocabulary. The advance of the Victory Loan programme, the statesman and all expounders utilize reconstruction propaganda as the need of the hour, and a realization of this truth is accepted. In Ontario, particularly, the Legislative machinery is actually in course of reconstruction and to the average mind would appear to be almost in a state of chaos, owing to the conflicting conditions in representation.

The majority is in the hands of Ontario's tillers of the soil. To the workers it is now apparent they have decided to make for strength by the linking up of their forces with the elected representatives of Labor. Whether this course will make for a permanency and unity of political action, time alone may determine. It is an experiment and all experiments must bear the test of time to prove the mettle. It is, however, the only move that could be safely undertaken and the very fact of coalition will tend to make for a strengthening of the common cause idea prevalent during the campaign.

In some directions it has been asserted that even the success of the Labor forces was merely a flash in the pan, and that as a party their term of life is to be of short duration. To bolster up this mistaken idea the mushroom growth of the "Knights of Labor," or the "Patrons of Industry" is cited, cases which, however, bear no analogy and do not merit serious consideration.

Whatever may be the eventual fate of the party now in the majority in the Ontario House, so long as it is linked up with the movement of the worker and co-operative action maintained there is no doubt of its stability with extension. On the other hand the Labor representatives have a key stone in the International Trade Union Movement, continued possession of which means continuity of a workers' party with the ups and downs incidental thereto.

The Ontario workers' party has drawn upon only some of its front line forces, its reserve strength is limited only by the number that industry may employ. The situation is reached that the voice of the worker will be heard in direct representation, the key stone being the financially and numerically strong International Trade Union Movement as fostered by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Coxey's army was a pilgrimage party, a shadow passing in the night, to show its objection to conditions, but the workers' party whether in Ontario or in any other part of the world is permanently camping on a direct representation policy, and ideas to the contrary are born of a fallacy blind to events.

MINERS' THREATENED STRIKE.

WITH the threatened strike of half a million miners throughout the whole of the bituminous field called for Saturday, November 1, we in Canada are apt to lose sight of the fact, that in the event of no settlement the native sons of the eastern section of this Dominion become involved thereby. It is quite natural that the large preponderance in number of the workers in the soft coal fields being citizens of the United States, we may forget that a trouble across the border means a proportionate degree for this country.

Meetings in conference between the two parties were held as far back as September 25, at Buffalo, N. Y., Acting President Lewis presenting the miners' demands as formulated at the Cleveland convention. The operators refused to consider the demands, claiming same as being of too extravagant a nature. Another conference was later held at Philadelphia with the operators offering concessions, which were, however, rejected.

The connection of our Nova Scotia miners with these requests, the officers state, was made when the Cleveland convention decided that these demands covered the whole of the bituminous fields, and whatever course is adopted by the United Mine Workers of the States is to be followed by their brother trade unionists in Nova Scotia. Formerly it has been claimed that our eastern miners have not been paid the same rates as prevailed across the line, but if the rank and file are advised by their officers there is now no question that this state of affairs will longer be in existence.

The operators of Nova Scotia, according to the miners' president, are at the present time paying a minimum wage of $3.11 and $3.25 per day. An inauguration of a minimum wage for common labor of $3.40 per day is now to be asked. It is very apparent that lacking settlement of this trouble is of very serious import and as the United Mine Workers have expressed their willingness to again enter negotiations it is in the public weal that the operators should exhibit again the conference spirit to avert the dislocation which is bound to ensue, and which will be felt proportionately by the miners involved, in Canada as in the United States.

POLITICS and PEOPLE THROUGH THE TELESCOPE OF LABOR

By Special Correspondent. As predicted, the triumph of the Farmers has swept the Federal by-elections in Ontario. The Liberal Government carried all three seats where they had candidates, Glengarry, Carleton and Assiniboia. If the Government candidate in North Ontario had not died on the eve of election, necessitating a postponement, they would undoubtedly have captured all three ridings. They defeated both of the old line parties. In Glengarry and Carleton they overwhelmed candidates of the Bothamers and the Assiniboia they defeated a Liberal candidate, Hon. W. R. Motherwell, ex-Minister of Agriculture. In every case the majority ran into the thousands and in Carleton and Assiniboia the opponents of the Farmers lost their deposits.

The House of Commons is still grinding away at the Grand Trunk Bill. It has passed the second reading and is now in the committee stage. However, as the bill has been endorsed by Hon. T. A. C. Crerar, leader of the Centre group, the Government is not expected to have any serious opposition to the measure among the Senators and the present outlook is that unless there are some amendments the bill will be defeated.

The senatorial opposition consists of two groups. There are first those who are opposed to the whole principle of public ownership. They are fighting the measure on the grounds that it largely consists of Quebec Senators, who are influenced by the campaign which is being waged against the measure by the anti-Government forces in Montreal. The second class consists of those who approve of the principle of the purchase of the Grand Trunk, but are not satisfied with the terms. They are insisting that the bill should be amended so that the purchase award will be reviewed by Parliament. If this amendment was made to the bill—and it is reasonable to expect it to be—

Here's To Woman.

Once Our Superior, Now Our Equal.—Cain.

URGES WOMEN TO GET BEHIND MACHINISTS' AUXILIARY. The correspondent of the Machinists' Monthly Journal, Mrs. N. F. Singer, says in the October issue regarding conditions in Toronto: "Just a few lines to let the sisters know how our local is progressing. Owing to the illness of our husband, we were away from home for more than two months, and when I wrote my last article I was not in touch with all that our members were doing. However, in all reports they were keeping up the good work, having initiated more initiatives next meeting, so that is encouraging."

Now that the holiday season is upon us, we may be able to settle down to business and all work for the good of the organization. There is a great field of labor in this city. I am sorry to say there are hundreds of lady friends of our brother machinists here who do not belong to the Auxiliary. They may wonder why it is a question I cannot answer. We are organized to help the I. A. of M. in every way possible and never miss an opportunity to do so, which I feel sure the brothers here appreciate. Yet we could accomplish much more if our membership was larger. Further, I believe it the duty of every brother machinist who has organized Labor at heart to do all he can to contribute to the welfare of the great need for organization and to influence them to join the Ladies' Auxiliary.

The Metal Trades of this city have just passed through a hard struggle and I believe had the wives of the men who returned to work before a settlement was reached been members of our auxiliary and understood the labor movement better, such a condition would not have prevailed. There would have been greater encouragement in many machinists to remain firm until victory was won. Every member of the Metal Trades was assured of that if they stood together. Of course, we are in very case. Now this strike is past we have learned many lessons through it. One important thing is better organization to strengthen our forces.

I hope, brother machinists, you will not overlook the fact that it is necessary to have the women in your home in this labor movement. It is the only hope for the workers. Even though your ladies are not active workers there is no reason why they should not carry an auxiliary card. I wish every machinist would read my article and then make an effort to comply with my request. Our members were very much pleased to have you visit our Langille, President of Moncton auxiliary. It is the first time we have had the privilege of meeting the sisters from this local. I greatly regret that being absent from home I did not have the pleasure of meeting her. We are always pleased to welcome our sisters. I was very much pleased to read so many articles in the September Journal and agree with your sister that we all benefit by hearing what other auxiliaries are doing. The space allotted us in the Journal, yet many of us do not show it. I hope the day is not far distant when every auxiliary will have a press correspondent who will keep us informed of their work. I know some of our locals could make very encouraging reports. I feel sure our International President appreciates all the good things the press correspondent of her own auxiliary said about her. It brings so much to cheer us on our way when we feel our efforts are appreciated. We extend our good wishes to all members of the I. A. of M. and the ladies' auxiliary.

WOMEN PAID LOW WAGE.

The District of Columbia minimum wage board finds that 85.3 per cent of the women employed in Washington's hotels and restaurants who receive a straight minimum wage receive less than $14 a week, and 17 per cent receive less than $10 a week. In the restaurants

JAPANESE WORKERS TO ORGANIZE.

The time has arrived when the workmen in Japan have found it imperative to organize trade unions. It is clear that they have raised their standard of living. At present there are no unions in Japan and the workman is forced to accept whatever pay his employer may decide to give. The Japanese Government has endorsed the move of the workman to organize.

A caucus of Government Senators will be held on Wednesday to discuss the bill which has come to some agreement if possible. However the anti-Government ownership opponents are so determined to defeat the bill that it is doubtful if they would agree to any concessions. There are rumors that if the bill is defeated the Government will go to the country. However, such threats do not have much weight in the minds of the people. In view of the recent Ontario elections and the Federal by-elections there is not much likelihood of any appeal to the country.

Don't Strike Too Often

A warning to Labor not to abuse its power by using it in a manner opposed to public good, was the keynote of an address on "The Psychology of Labor" delivered by P. M. Anderson, K.C., recently, when he addressed a large meeting of the People's Forum, Regina. He argued that there are times when it is right to strike, but often he said, a strike is an abuse of power, and in any struggle Labor should remember that there are three parties to the capital, labor and the great mass of the public—to be considered.

"Once Labor secures power it is necessary, if it wishes to grow and obtain the confidence of the people, that it should exercise that power in a fair and just way," the speaker declared. "If that power is abused it must chaos all through. By far the great majority of public opinion, perhaps 90 per cent, was favorable to the strike when Labor took the wrong course it tended to alienate this great mass of public opinion." The Labor movement is making great strides, and Mr. Anderson said, it is an interesting fact that there would within five years be a Labor Government in England, either under Henderson or Clynes, or possibly under Lloyd George, who might go them one better. Labor Government in England, he thought, would be a good thing. The speaker predicted still higher wages.

Across the Atlantic.

What Our Brothers in the Motherland Are Doing.

RAILWAY STRIKE COST BRITAIN £10,000,000. The approximate cost of the recent railway strike to the British Treasury was £10,000,000 sterling, according to an announcement made by the Chancellor of the Exchequer in the House of Commons. The Chancellor added that the public campaign against the strike cost the Government more than £2,000,000. And the railwaymen won despite it all.

SAYS LABOR STANDS FOR CONSTITUTION.

Hon. Arthur Henderson, discussing labor's imperial policy in the periodical "Overseas," writes: "Labor is certainly not a Little Englander in the sense of being indifferent to the potential utility of this great alliance of free states which the Empire in its best days represented. Labor stands in all its traditions for the principle which has made the real strength of the Empire a mutual conciliation through self-government."

BRITISH LABOR WANTS DECREASE IN H. C. OF L.

The high cost of living took a leading part in the discussion at a meeting of the Miners' Federation last week in Birmingham. It was made by Robert Smilie and Frank Hodges, who declared that since the Government's scheme of taxing excess profits has been operating, articles of consumption had increased eight per cent, making them 125 per cent higher than the pre-war price. The speaker said that the Government encouraged excess profits in order to fill the exchequer. The opinion was expressed by the speakers that excess profits should be devoted to a reduction in price instead of going into the treasury. The meeting decided to make arrangements for a special Labor Congress to draft a policy to bring about a reduction in the high cost of living. A delegate advocated an ultimatum from the Trades Union Congress, threatening a stoppage of production if prices were not reduced 10 per cent, within three months.

WANT VOICE IN CONTROL OF RAILROADS.

"Railway employees ask a share in the management of the companies and it is hoped the companies will consider this proposal," said J. H. Thomas, secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, in a speech at Derby recently. He expressed the belief that railway employees could contribute to the management by reason of their experience and ability, and in this capacity their services would be valuable to the railroads and the country.

ENGLISH STEEL STRIKERS BACK.

The four months' strike at the Ebbw Vale, Dowlais and Tredegar steel works ended peacefully. The men struck for 15 a week. The settlement gives 14 10 shillings as the basic rate. This means the resumption of work by 12,000 steelworkers.

THE OLD CARPENTER TO HIS SAW

Many years I've had these now, old friend, My weary hand and weary eye, What weary hours did we together spend, From Monday's sunrise, until Saturday. Both you and I are now grown old, And I too shall be cast away, To die and perish in the cold, Of the poor workman's Winter day. Both you and I have worn out all the steel, And brightness of your younger days of gleam; The temper of the metal now has fled, Our edge and teeth are gone, we cannot see. Both you and I are now grown old, Together we've not long to stay, Our bows will turn us in the cold, Together, an some Winter's day. You'll dull and senseless, feel no want of bread, I—curst with life—can feel starvation's sting; You'll have human feelings, Christian Brotherhood? To think it we would be but fools, I, perhaps, may be "sold off" today; Both you and I are now grown old, To be worn out and cast away. —Drury, in the Carpenter.

TORONTO VETS WANT ANOTHER REFERENDUM. AMENDED. The Government has decided to hold a referendum on the subject of the franchise for ex-servicemen, and their dependents, inasmuch as Premier Healey gave a definite promise that the referendum would not be taken until all soldiers were home from overseas, and whereas over 10,000 soldiers were still overseas and besides a large number who were home were not allowed to exercise their franchise, the league emphatically protest against the recent referendum. This is the resolution passed unanimously Monday night at the regular meeting of the Veterans' League of Toronto, comprising the Grand Army of Canada, the Army and Navy Veterans of Canada, and His Majesty's Army and Navy Veterans, held at St. James Parish Hall. On these lines it was decided to ask for a new referendum.

ONLY 3,000 CANADIANS NOW REMAIN IN ENGLAND.

Only some 3,000 Canadians remain in England, most of them being hospital cases or married men, who, for family reasons, have been prevented from returning up to the present time. To all intents and purposes the demobilization is complete. There remain in London and in some of the depleted counties a number of staff officers who are supervising the final records and putting the finishing touches to the work overseas.

SASKATOON VETS WANT ACT.

In a determined effort to reduce the high cost of living and to make the formation of co-operative trading societies possible, the Saskatoon Great War Veterans have decided to make representations to the Provincial Government to have the Agricultural Co-operative Association Act amended to enable them to form a similar society in that city. This action was taken at a meeting recently following a representation from the executive which had discussed the question more fully.

OTTAWA.

TRADES COUNCIL EXECUTIVE VISITS HOSPITAL SITES.

On Saturday last the members of the executive of the Allied Trades Labor Council of Ottawa visited the various proposed sites of the Civic Hospital. The executive was invited by the City Fathers to make a visit and report to the Council on the different sites. The party consisted of President Pat Green, Secretary Wm. Lodge (chairman of the executive), Chas. Smith, C. W. Lewis, Wm. McDowell and Donald A. P. Hayden, editor of the Canadian Labor Press and member of the Hospital Board. The Mayor placed his car at the disposal of the labor men and also the Business Agent of the Carpenters. All the sites were visited and a report will be made in due course to the City Council.

"FRANK" LAFORTUNE GETS BIGGER VOTE.

Many changes in the results of the provincial election and referendum, made by the official returns Monday, were due to some deputies having counted spoiled ballots. In a number of cases the deputies had made their reports from memory on election night. After the official count, Mr. Louis Coté, returning officer, gave out the following figures for the Ottawa: Pinard, official 6,984; first count 7,239. Lafortune, official 3,735; first count 3,271. Burocher, official 1,204; first count 1,357. Mr. Pinard's majority over his nearest opponent is slightly reduced. In the official count Mr. Pinard lost 315 votes and Mr. Lafortune gained 354 votes. Mr. Burocher now has 83 votes less than after the first count. Mr. J. A. Pinard was formally declared elected by Mr. Coté after the count had been totted. The official returns will be sent to the Clerk of the Peace.

I.L.P. TO BE REORGANIZED.

When the workers of the City of Ottawa entered the political arena at the recent Ontario general election they did so with no organization. We had a branch of the Independent Labor Party in Ontario but owing to many reasons no active part was taken in it by the bulk of the working men and women here. The success of the campaign just closed has awakened the working men and women to the needs of organization and with this in view the Independent Labor Party have called a mass meeting of the workers and their friends in the Carpenters' Hall, 115 Sparks street, for Monday night, next, at eight o'clock. Every man and woman interested in Labor politics is invited to attend.

TORONTO TO HAVE BROTHERHOOD CO-OP. STORE.

Mr. Will Hobson, grand vice-president of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance-of-Way Employees and Railroad Shop Laborers, was in Ottawa last week on official business in connection with the chain of co-operative stores his organization propose opening throughout the Dominion. Plans have already been completed for stores at Toronto and Detroit.

HAMILTON.

LABOR LIVES IN VALE OF CHUCKLES.

It is little to be wondered that the members and friends of the Hamilton Independent Labor Party last week lived in a "vale of chuckles and gloats." The sweeping triumph of Messrs. Rollo and Halrow, I. L. P. candidates in both the city ridings; Messrs. Biggs and Crockett, U.F.O.-I.L.P. candidates North and South Westward; and the eleven out-and-out I. L. P. candidates throughout the province, occasioned the jubilation. The overthrow of the Hearst administration and the reduced number of elected Liberal members in the new Parliament also added much to the Laborites' elation. Everybody is now rejoicing in the Independent Labor Party in Hamilton and Labor's scuttle into Queen's Park "open door" on Monday, October 26th, is going to mean a decided numerical addition to the Ontario Labor Party membership.

PLATFORM, NOT PARTY, IS THE COUNT.

As was to be expected, last Friday's session of the Central Branch I.L.P., the first since election day, was a bumper. When President Harry Bourne called the meeting to order the Labor hall was crowded. Members-elect, Const. G. H. Halrow and W. R. Rollo, to the legislature were accorded an ovation by the assembly. While the "iron is hot" the members decided to inaugurate a membership campaign. It is thought about 2,000 members can be enrolled. H. G. Foster, Geo. Pilon and G. H. Henney were appointed to devise ways and means of launching a membership campaign. During his discussion regarding the formation of a new Government, W. R. Rollo, member for West Hamilton, stated that in his opinion the party counts for little, but the platform counted for every thing. He was quite favorable to a coalition with another party, provided the other party would inaugurate a membership campaign. He pointed out that the I. L. P. platform was not a party platform, but a program. He stated that the party was not a party, but a program. He stated that the party was not a party, but a program. He stated that the party was not a party, but a program.

HAMILTON'S NEWSY ITEMS.

Vincent DePalco, fifth vice-president, International Hod Carriers, Builders and General Laborers' Union, is performing remarkably good organizing work in Hamilton. After persistent attempts, he succeeded, four weeks ago, in organizing a local union. He was assisted by Organizer J. A. Flett, A. F. of L., and the Trades and Labor Council organization committee; H. G. Foster being very prominent. The local union has now a membership of over 200. Thirty-four members were added as a result of an open meeting held in the Bricklayers' hall last Friday night. Subject to the ratification of the Building Trades Council, the members thereon an increased scale of wages, which will be submitted to the union in a few days. The next May 1. The rates are as follows: Common laborers, sewer and foundation diggers, present rate 45 and 55 cents per hour; minimum of 55 cents per hour; building laborers, including bricklayers, masons, carpenters and plumbers, present rate 50 to 65 cents per hour. Mortar mixers and mortar carriers, by hod or wheelbarrow, present rate, 50 to 65 cents per hour; minimum of 55 cents per hour; plasterers, laborers, present rate 60 to 75 cents per hour; minimum of 70 cents per hour; foreman laborers, present rate 60 to 75 cents per hour; minimum of 75 cents per hour.

MONCTON TRADES COUNCIL.

Some fifty labor men, including the four Labor aldermen of Moncton and seven aldermen and officers of the Amalgamated Labor Council of the city, were present at the last regular bi-monthly meeting of the Amalgamated Labor Council of Moncton. The meeting was most interesting and an enthusiastic one, and a large amount of business was transacted. The city assessment for 1920 was discussed, and the Dominion Labor Party. This joint committee has been employed for a fortnight or more on the ranging of a slate that would be most acceptable to all concerned. The committee was appointed to look into the matter of changing the assessment law. A committee of five were appointed by Geo. J. McClure, chairman. A committee of seven were appointed to submit a slate for next civic election.

HALIFAX TEAMSTERS SEEK INCREASES.

The Halifax Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Helpers and Stablemen's local 845, of the International Brotherhood, which includes in its membership, Dartmouth, as well as city workers, have just requested the employers, owing to the high cost of living and rising rents, for an increase and intimate that should any committee from the union, they will be pleased to confer with them any evening after 6 o'clock. The wage schedule submitted with the request is as follows: For 1 ton truck auto and over $30 per week; under 1 ton truck, $25; helper on auto truck $20. From 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. to be time and a half for all over time, also Sundays and holidays. Teamsters—Drivers of single teams $20 per week, and double $25, helpers on teams $10 and stablemen $12. The wages scheduled are for a 5-hour day, 7 a.m. to noon, and until 5 p.m. with time and a half from 6 p.m. until 10. Double time from 10 p.m. to 7 a.m., and Sundays and statutory holidays. The schedule requested to be put in force after the 31st of this month. The employers have the matter under consideration and have not yet announced their decision.

ST. JOHN LABOR DIFFICULTIES SETTLED.

At St. John last week the directors and the employes of the Bedford Construction Company signed a contract binding both to abide by the recent finding of the conciliation board. The finding granted a five-cent per hour increase to the employes above previous rates with time and a half for all over time and Sunday and holiday work. The board also found that all men who had been laid off were to be reinstated.

MOORE URGES LABOR TO STAND TOGETHER.

The call, rallying the Labor forces to consolidate their strength to elect their own direct representatives to Parliament—Provincial and Federal—was sounded by Tom Moore, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, speaking at the Labor Temple, last Thursday. Mr. Moore's speech was but a brief one, in which he reviewed the sensational growth of the organized trades union movement, as well as its subsequent branching out as a political party. "We are practically disarmed," he declared, "if we leave the making of legislation in the hands of our employers or in the hands of the servants of corporations, and for that reason we had to take action. The Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, therefore, took the initiative and assisted in the formation of provincial political labor parties."

WESTERN CANADA

MOOSE JAW TRADES COUNCIL.

At the last regular meeting of the Moose Jaw Trades and Labor Council the question of further assistance to the street railway employes was discussed. After the strike some months ago, the merchants of the city agreed to pay the men an additional three cents and the Trades Council agreed to give an equal sum. The outcome of the discussion resulted in a committee of the trustees, the vice-president and two delegates being appointed to go into the matter with the street railway employes and settle the matter for good. Delegates McKinnon, Moose Jaw's representative on the provincial executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, gave a report of the meeting of the executive in Regina a short time ago. This meeting of the executive was to prepare legislation to lay before the Government. After an all-day session of preparation, they met Premier Martin and some of his officials and laid a short programme before them, some clauses of which were turned down and others accepted. The Dominion Government's housing scheme was one of the proposals that were discussed and which the government officials refused absolutely to have anything to do with. They said that it was a matter for the Federal Government or the municipalities to deal with. Another good brought out was that there was a money losing proposition and until some scheme was devised whereby that difficulty was overcome they did not think it would be looked into. The appointment of a Minister of Labor was urged, but nothing definite promised. A pledge was given that the question of incorporating all electors in the category of factories would be taken up and, if feasible, they would be so classed. The findings of the Minimum Wage Board were also discussed, but the delegates were informed that nothing could be done at the present time, as they were already in the hands of the government. The only change that could be made was the amendment of the act at some future date. The executive had also discussed

MOORE URGES LABOR TO STAND TOGETHER.

The call, rallying the Labor forces to consolidate their strength to elect their own direct representatives to Parliament—Provincial and Federal—was sounded by Tom Moore, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, speaking at the Labor Temple, last Thursday. Mr. Moore's speech was but a brief one, in which he reviewed the sensational growth of the organized trades union movement, as well as its subsequent branching out as a political party. "We are practically disarmed," he declared, "if we leave the making of legislation in the hands of our employers or in the hands of the servants of corporations, and for that reason we had to take action. The Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, therefore, took the initiative and assisted in the formation of provincial political labor parties."

MOOSE JAW TRADES COUNCIL.

At the last regular meeting of the Moose Jaw Trades and Labor Council the question of further assistance to the street railway employes was discussed. After the strike some months ago, the merchants of the city agreed to pay the men an additional three cents and the Trades Council agreed to give an equal sum. The outcome of the discussion resulted in a committee of the trustees, the vice-president and two delegates being appointed to go into the matter with the street railway employes and settle the matter for good. Delegates McKinnon, Moose Jaw's representative on the provincial executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, gave a report of the meeting of the executive in Regina a short time ago. This meeting of the executive was to prepare legislation to lay before the Government. After an all-day session of preparation, they met Premier Martin and some of his officials and laid a short programme before them, some clauses of which were turned down and others accepted. The Dominion Government's housing scheme was one of the proposals that were discussed and which the government officials refused absolutely to have anything to do with. They said that it was a matter for the Federal Government or the municipalities to deal with. Another good brought out was that there was a money losing proposition and until some scheme was devised whereby that difficulty was overcome they did not think it would be looked into. The appointment of a Minister of Labor was urged, but nothing definite promised. A pledge was given that the question of incorporating all electors in the category of factories would be taken up and, if feasible, they would be so classed. The findings of the Minimum Wage Board were also discussed, but the delegates were informed that nothing could be done at the present time, as they were already in the hands of the government. The only change that could be made was the amendment of the act at some future date. The executive had also discussed

Hitch Them Together

How many men would attempt to drive a team of horses in the above manner?

Yet that is exactly what is happening in many industries today.

Labor and Capital are pulling two different directions and blocking the road.

Would it not be better to hitch our horses together and speed along the good and bad roads to National prosperity with Labor and Capital joint teamsters in the Business Wagon?
