MEAT PRICES DOWN; AND FISH PRICES UP

Dealers Say Boycott Will Defeat Its Own Ends

But Meanwhile Beef is Selling at Five Cents a Pound Less Than It Was a Week Ago.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Meat prices were down in local retail markets today and dealers reported not too brisk demand at the reduced rates.

Uptown districts were placarded with "Eat No Meat" injunctions in big type, and in Madison Square the "Gotham Meat Party" emissaries held a series of pre-revolutionary days when "The Parties" were popular, called a mass meeting in an effort to give added impetus to the anti-meat movement.

Buyers of Sunday supplies today could get porthouse steak for 24 cents, sirloin for 18c. and prime ribs for about the same. These are reductions of from four to five cents a pound. Pork was correspondingly cheaper, and so were eggs and butter.

The United States Fish Commission, in a statement given out here today, deny the most popular charge that the reductions would be anything more than temporary.

THREE FLOORS COLLAPSE, MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 28.—Two scores of workmen employed in reconstructing the old Savoy Building had a mighty close call just before three o'clock this afternoon, when three floors and a 20-foot section of a wall facing on Adelaide street collapsed without warning. The only man hurt was James Wilson of Parliament street, and he so little that he was able to continue working the rest of the day. His escape was more miraculous than that of the rest, as he was cleaning bricks on the ground floor when debris tumbled on him. When the dust had cleared away the other crowded around, and seeing him in the wreck, thought him dead. They helped him out, and after shoring himself he decided he was uninjured.

COULDN'T GET WORK, HE ENDS HIS LIFE

TORONTO, Jan. 28.—Dependent because he could not get work to support his wife and children, Thomas Miller, a boiler-maker, went into the cellar of his home, Cherry street, this morning, and hanged himself. He used a short piece of clothes line and fastened it to a beam in the ceiling. When his son found him life was extinct, and the body was swinging with the toes almost touching the cellar floor.

CAMPBELL TO BE CHAIRMAN

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—The report that when A. W. Campbell becomes deputy minister of railways and canals, Mr. Pottinger will be the chief officer of the railway, independent in his management, and that the late constituted board will, if not entirely abolished, have its powers considerably reduced, is unfounded. Campbell will be made chairman of the board of management, and the board will continue along its present lines.

Ask Her This Question

"Do you know of any woman who ever received any benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

If any woman who is suffering with any ailment peculiar to her sex will ask her neighbors this question, she will be surprised at the result. There is hardly a community in this country where women cannot be found who have been restored to health by this famous old remedy, made exclusively from a simple formula of roots and herbs.

During the past 30 years we have published thousands of letters from these grateful women who have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and never in all that time have we published a testimonial without the writer's special permission. Never have we knowingly published a testimonial that was not truthful and genuine. Here is one just received a few days ago. If anyone doubts that this is a true and honest statement of a woman's experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound write and ask her.

Canifton, Ont.—"I had been a great sufferer for five years. One doctor told me it was ulcers of the uterus, and another told me it was a fibroid tumor. No one knows what I suffered. I would always be worse at certain periods, and never was regular, and the bearing-down pains were terrible. I was very ill in bed, and the doctor told me I would have to have an operation, and that I might die during the operation. I wrote to my sister about it and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Through personal experience I have found it the best medicine in the world for female troubles, for it has cured me, and I did not have to have the operation after all. The Compound also helped me while passing through Change of Life."—Mrs. Letitia Blair, Canifton, Ontario.

Any woman who is sick and suffering is foolish surely not to give such a medicine as this a trial. Why should it not do her as much good as it did Mrs. Blair.

W. G. ALLISON WINS THE PRIZE

Second Prize Won by R. E. Armstrong

Hundreds of Capital Slogans Were Received—Here are Some of Them.

The committee selected to choose the winners in the slogan contest of The Sun and Star have awarded the prizes as follows:

First prize: "A BIGGER AND BETTER ST. JOHN" submitted by Walter C. Allison of this city.

Second prize: "A GREATER ST. JOHN — A GREATER CANADA," by R. E. Armstrong of St. Andrews.

In announcing this contest a few weeks ago The Sun described what it wanted, a slogan, a phrase of progress, a battery. Something that will hold the gospel of go-ahead down to half a dozen words in a sentence that will hit home like a hammer blow.

The response came hundreds in number with hardly any two of them expressing the same idea. Chances among the many and varied phrases submitted has been very difficult, but the ones chosen seemed to the committee best to indicate the line along which those are working, who are endeavoring to help St. John.

The harbor, of course, attracted the consideration of the majority of the contestants, and many of the slogans based on this idea were forcible and timely, and The Sun hopes to be able to use them with advantage in the future.

Following are a few of those which though not winning prizes, take a prominent place in the first rank of inspiring watch words for those who would help St. John.

St. John: Canada's Chief Commercial Channel.
St. John: where Push Produces Permanent Prosperity.
St. John: The All-the-year-round Commercial artery of Canada.
We're in the Van of Progress; everybody push St. John.
Keep your eye on St. John. Watch it grow.
St. John: the Eastern Gate of Canada.
St. John's opportunity is your opportunity.
Everyone on for a Greater St. John.
St. John, N. B., is going to snow; watch it grow.
The snow is on—Forward St. John.
St. John first—Canada forever.
Greater St. John; no prejudice, jealousy or politics.
All together, Educate, Agitate, Operate.
Good homes, good health, and famous water.

Up and on for a Greater St. John.
Canada's All-the-year-round-Revolutionary Gateway of Trade.
St. John Beckons Big Business Brains.
St. John, N. B., "Toasts" it—don't let it down.
Keep up the gas; we hold the outer gate.
Greater St. John lure us on.
St. John, the Natural Entrance to the Magnet of the Civilized World, Canada.
St. John the Golden Gate of Canada.
St. John, whose very water-falls climb up.

TWO AGED SPINSTERS BRUTALLY ASSAULTED

(Special to The Sun.)
HEAVYLOCK, Ont., Jan. 28.—A "decently" crime was committed about eight miles from here, near Norwood, when two aged spinsters, who had been living alone for over thirty years, and un molested as they were inoffensive, were brutally assaulted by a man who collected at their door for a dinner. One of the women is at death's door, and the other is suffering from a wound on the head.

SOME DOUBT ABOUT IT

A reception was given by the Medical Club in Philadelphia in honor of Sir Lauder Brunton, a noted English physician, and in course of the evening he was engaged in a discussion of nervous ill temper. After he had described the beneficial effects of various drugs upon nervous ill temper he said:

"I remember a middle-aged woman of most nervous disposition who told me with tears in her eyes how she had once said to her husband:

"John, I know I am cross at times. I know that you find me unkind often. Sometimes perhaps you think I do not love you. But, John, remember, when such unhappy thoughts assail you that if I had my life to live over again I'd marry you just the same."

"I'm not so sure of that," John replied shortly.—Philadelphia Press.

MILLIONS LOST BY CHEAP POSTAGE

Rep. Greene, of Mass., Gives Figures That Are Startling.

Floods of Pleas for New Classification of Magazine Rates—What the Editors Say.

Should it be a mail subsidy for the extension of the trade of the United States or a "magazine subsidy" for the enrichment of the magazine publishers is the way in which the two questions are being put up to Congress. Ship subsidy men who have been seeking ever support of Congress for years without result are aroused over the discovery that money has been poured out to the aid of the magazine through the medium of the Postoffice department.

Rep. William S. Greene, of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, has been making ever deductions as the result of the agitation over magazine postage. Rep. Greene finds that if $46,000,000 less at which second class matter, of which magazines form a large part, had been applied to the "mail subsidy" proposed by Rep. Taft, the result would have been startling.

Only $2,500,000 is asked for mail subsidy this year. Should the loss on second-class mail matter be devoted to ship subsidy at the rate upon which it is planned to have the government enter, it would be sufficient to continue the mail subsidy for a quarter of a century.

Going a little further they have turned back to the "pages" of the Hanna-Payne Ship Subsidy bill. This was the greatest ever proposed to Congress and aroused a storm of protest. It called for $9,000,000 a year. The loss of the department in carrying of second class matter, if checked for a single year would have kept going for four years this radical departure to which Basketfuls of briefs and petitions are being sent to Congress on the question of increasing the rates on magazines. Magazines are greatly agitated over the prospect of losing the "subsidy" which they have long enjoyed. They are good at figures, and are quick to compute the difference between what they are paying and what they are getting. It costs the Postoffice department to perform the service which takes the magazine from the publisher's office to the home.

Next week will witness the real opening of the fight, with the magazine editor, if he is not to be left in the lurch, will more evenly distribute the cost of the delivery of magazines. As a meeting of the National Publishers Association is to be held in New York during the week the question of magazine rates will likely be well in the front in Washington during the next seven days.

What Rufus Harris Says of Dodd's Kidney Pills

AFTER TRYING FIVE DOCTORS FOR HIS KIDNEY DISEASE HE FOUND RELIEF IN THE GREAT CANADIAN KIDNEY REMEDY.

THE MUSTACHE

Ridiculed in England When It First Came into Fashion.

The custom of wearing mustaches did not prevail in France until the reign of Louis Philippe, when it became obligatory in the whole French army. In England the mustache was worn by business after the peace of 1815, and it was not until the close of the Crimean war that English civilians as well as English soldiers in general wore hair on the lip.

Shortly after the mustache came into favor among gentlemen Horace Mayhew was passing through an English country town and was immediately noted and followed by a small army of children, who pointed to his lip and called out derisively:

"He's got whiskers under his snout! He's got whiskers under his snout!" For a long time the mustache was the subject of raillery, even after it was becoming common, and the famous caricaturist Leech printed in Punch a picture of two old fashioned women who, when they were spoken to by bearded railway guards, fell on their knees and cried out:

"He's got that we have, gentlemen, but spare our lives!"—Westminster Gazette.

"How does that man always manage to appear as the leader of you people?" "I suppose," answered Farmer Corn-tossel, "that it's simply because he's smart enough to get ahead of us."—Washington Star.

GERMANY REPRIEVED.

Germany has had an impression that she was quite capable of arranging her own affairs and that whatever changes seemed desirable in her tariff relations with other countries might be made by herself. Apparently this is not the view taken at Washington, for the announcement is now made that the U. S. State Department will graciously permit Germany to take a breathing spell for fuller consideration of requests recently made. The present commercial agreement between the United States and Germany expires on February 7th, at which time the German general tariff will be applied against American goods unless a new agreement is arranged. For some years, the future relations between these two countries have been under consideration and commissions composed of experts have studied the whole situation with a view to introducing whatever tariff changes may be deemed desirable.

On the American side a demand was made that United States beef and cattle be admitted to Germany free of duty. This suggestion was promptly turned down by Germany, as the Agrarian party in the administration supports the view that German farmers are capable of supplying the empire with beef. When this suggestion was rejected the State Department at Washington repeated the request in rather more forcible terms and indeed practically demanded that this condition be incorporated in the new agreement. Germany politely but with every show of firmness, refused to submit to coercion, and intimated that if there was any further talk of free beef, negotiations might be considered at an end. This of course meant a tariff war, and as United States tariff on German amounts to some $300,000,000 annually, any dispute would have a very serious effect on international commerce. Under these circumstances the leading commercial organizations of the country hastened to the State Department of the State, with their advice that the demand on Germany should not be pressed. They expressed a fear of future developments. The intimation was also received from the Beef Trust that it had no need of the German market. It is able to sell its products to good advantage in the markets now open, and home consumption is increasing so rapidly that before very long there will be little beef available for export. After hearing these messages, the State Department very graciously notified Berlin that Germany need not necessarily include free beef in the agreement covering future commercial relations with the United States. Germany would not insist on this point. Germany is no doubt greatly relieved that she is still permitted to conduct her own affairs.

A DESIRABLE COURSE.

A few years ago, when Dr. White announced his intention of retiring from the mayoralty, an effort was made to have him accept nomination as an alderman candidate. It was felt that in view of the experience he had gained during his term of office as chief magistrate, he would be a particularly valuable member of the council. Dr. White admitted the general truth of these arguments, but declined to renounce, pleading that he had already devoted a reasonable share of his time to civic affairs. Today Mayor Bullock is in the same position as Dr. White was a few years ago. Mr. Bullock has displayed marked ability in handling the city's financial affairs and as mayor has conducted the sessions of the Council and administered the duties of his office in a most creditable manner. He has accumulated information and has acquired a degree of ability in handling the work of the corporation which should not be lost to the city. There is no instance on record of one who has passed through the mayor's chair returning to the Council as an alderman. The majority is looked upon to some extent as a reward for earlier services, the highest honor that can be bestowed, and, having attained it, citizens have always been content to pass from active participation in aldermanic duties. Yet it would be a pleasing thing if those few who are thus selected for the highest honor because of their ability and the confidence imposed by them by their fellow citizens, could remain as members of the Council. Mayor Bullock would be setting an excellent example by nominating, as has been suggested, as alderman-at-large or as representative of one of the wards for which he can qualify.

WATER PRESSURE.

The statement is made by several insurance men and firemen that the water pressure was poor at yesterday morning's fire. It is intimated that in spite of definite orders from the Common Council, Mr. Murdoch has permitted a return to the dual service to which so much objection was taken. Mr. Murdoch, on the other hand, asserts that direct service is and has been in operation; that there has been no manipulation and that the pressure was sufficient.

It is a fact admitted by Mr. Murdoch himself, that when the first long lines of hose were laid, the pressure for a few moments was rather weak. It steadily improved, and the engineer's contention is that the water took some little time to force its way through the long stretches of hose. When free passage had been secured, there was ample pressure. The firemen say that not until the engines got to work were the streams of water really effective. Mr. Murdoch should know. He has that expert knowledge which the firemen have not, and which even insurance men do not always possess. Every time a hydrant is opened and the water falls, on the instant, to blow the nozzle off the hose, someone rises to remark that "Murdoch has been doctoring the pipes again." This is getting to be an old story now, and it is time the charge was disposed of once for all. Either Mr. Murdoch is deliberately violating his pledges and disregarding the instructions of those who have given him their confidence, or else the others are talking through their hats. Frankly, the Star believes that all these charges are without foundation. An excuse may, however, be needed to justify an advance in insurance rates.

SATURDAY SERMONETTE

GROWING PAINS.

We have all had them, at least all who have grown. Every little boy has them in his arms and legs. Every little girl in her limbs (the four of them) and we can remember how we could not sleep because we had the toothache all over us, and when we cried out with the pain, and were told that they were "growing pains" we were comforted and even said that we had them, for we wanted to grow up and be big. Perhaps everything that grows has growing pains, even oysters. Growth in knowledge is not without pain. We remember the aching of the cane and the stinging of the ferns, and how to comfort us we were told that the pain we felt was only growing pain. We were growing wise all the time.

The state, the city, the town cannot grow without pain. Public enterprise does not grow without pain. New streets and city improvements do not grow without pain. Reforms are painful for the reformers.

Civilization has advanced slowly, painfully, for there can be no growth without pain. The "old order" does not change and pass away and give place to the new without traveling in pain. Truth wins her victories over error only through struggle and pain. No country grows into prosperity without protest and pain. Laws do not grow purer and wiser without opposition and pain. A hand without pain is a dead, barren hand.

An absence of pain means stagnation or death. It is so in church life, growth, prosperity does not come without friction and pain. If the church is a painless church, it is a sign that it is a lifeless church. Where there is rigorous, progressive life there is opposition. The non-progressive will oppose all progress. The new church edifice does not take the place of the old dilapidated one without pain. There can be no mental growth without growing pains. And there can be no death of the old wicked life and birth of the new and agony that accompanies every soul that is born into the kingdom of life.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Do you study human nature? I don't mean just casually observe its eccentricities and occasionally make wise or otherwise comments upon them. I mean really study human nature just as diligently and scientifically as you once studied your arithmetic or your Latin verbs.

It makes no difference whether your position is that of business man or school teacher or stenographer or opera singer or bookbinder or lady-hunting-for-a-husband or policeman or crumb bucket man, you will find that there is no knowledge on earth so valuable as knowledge of human nature.

I wish it were possible to establish a course in human nature in all the colleges in the land. Indeed, I wish it could be established and made a compulsory course. I think that if that were done there would hardly be one graduate but, looking back over his college career, would say: "That's the most valuable study I took up in my whole four years."

The husband of Alice Freeman Palmer, the first and most famous president of Wellesley College, in writing of his wife's skill in managing her household affairs, said: "No doubt in order to select a good servant one should be a good judge of human nature; but indeed he who is not will hardly find case in any of the relations of life."

Several times I have seen a plain girl become far more popular than most of her pretty friends simply through her knowledge of human nature—especially nature.

Even the newsboy who can size up his prospective customers sells more papers than the boy who treats them all alike. For instance, one day I saw a newsboy cleverly appeal to a dignified-looking young woman and sell her a paper after two or three of his ilk had waved their hands in her face quite in vain.

How did he do it? Well, instead of shoving at her or thrusting a paper at her as he would have done at a business man, he evidently sized her up, and addressed her accordingly. "Would I offend you by asking what paper you wish?" he politely inquired.

The young lady admitted that she wouldn't be offended and bought the paper. Most of us are subconscious students of human nature, of course. We half unconsciously shape our actions and speech by our estimates of our friends and associates.

But that is not enough. The man who possesses definite knowledge on any subject is always better off than the man with vague ideas. And the man and woman who deliberately study the people with whom they come in contact are more likely

ENTRANCE FORGED TO BURNING HOUSE

Forcible entrance was made into the house of A. B. Lyons, Carlton Street, yesterday afternoon to prevent the spread of a fire started in a couch upon which Mr. Lyons had been smoking up to the time when he left the house twenty minutes before the fire was discovered. The family on the flat above was alarmed by the spreading of smoke through the house.

A COLUMN FOR WOMEN

Fashions and Fads

Evidently the crystal bugle with its half sister, the gold bugle, is to supply much of the trimming this season. It is from a quarter to a half an inch long, and is pendant from tulle net and chiffon cloth. Blouses of brocade are being worn with the high-waisted tailored suits and long coats to complete the strict costume. They are veiled with net and chiffon in the color of the suit and are most attractive. Net bands, handsomely embroidered in floss or straw, when on a waist of the same color, look as though the pattern were done on the waist itself. Another device is flowers embroidered in dull colors on ecru lace. Coming in with the flat collars is an Enigma, an ornament that is gaining a great deal of favor. It is in the form of the long, rather wide barette, made of gold or silver lattice work or beque pearls or rhinestones framed in metal.

Household Hints

In preparing chestnuts for a vegetable, boil in the shells and remove and peel with great care to prevent burning. When a room reeks of tobacco smoke set a bowl of cold water somewhere in the room and the odour will soon be absorbed. A substantial little supper dish may be made of scrambled eggs, sprinkled liberally with Parmesan or grated American cheese. To clean white fur rub in a paste made of corn meal and gasoline, and shake it out well. This must not be done near the fire. Butternuts makes a delicious filling for dates as anything to be fried. A candy made of maple sugar and butter nuts cannot be excelled. In making creamed oysters, use all the liquor from the oysters in place of some of the milk. This quite changes the flavor of the dish. Never use sand soap on paint. Wipe with a cloth dipped in thick suds of white soap and rinse with a clean cloth wrung from hot water. Sugar or shortening retards the rising of dough, and rolls made with them will not be so high and puffy as of dough made with yeast. If a pig is to be roasted, let it lie for a quarter of an hour in cold water before stuffing, and then carefully wipe it out with a soft cloth. Mix boxes with sugar, let it dry and scatter where ants are most troublesome. They will soon disappear. Turnip is also a good remedy. Take a round piece of cloth, run a rubber in it and keep it over the top of the meat chopper. No dust can get in and it will always be ready for use. For frying or covering the top of entrees, use breadcrumbs instead of crushed crumbs, as they have a less of a fat taint and do not get so soggy. When pie dough is left over, cut in strips about an inch wide, sprinkle with butter, sugar and cinnamon, roll up like jelly roll and bake a light brown.

LADEES SHIRTSWAIST. Paris Fashion. No. 3165—All Seams Allowed. The charming adaptability of this design is shown in the large view where the removable chemise is made of fancy net, while the rest of the garment is made of old rose silk costume. Soutache of a deeper shade and a satin girdle supply the garniture. The tapering arrangement of the side tucks back and front give a graceful looseness to the figure, and the close-fitting sleeves may be made with an opening at the wrist to facilitate the passing through of the hand. Salt, tricot, net, lightweight cloth, navy-silk, velvet, linen, madras, French walting, chambray or Scotch gingham may be used for the development of this design. The pattern is cut in six sizes, from 32 to 42 inches, bust measure. For 38 bust, the shirtings requires 2 1/2 yards of material 38 inches wide. An illustrated 1/4 yard of all-over lace 1 1/2 inches wide was used for the removable chemise. Price of Pattern, 10 cents.

GOLD RIDERS.

The Aurohuacos of Colombia worship the Yellow Metal. Infesting the snow clad slopes of sun kissed Aborquetia, "the Sentinel," one of the highest peaks in the Sierra de San Marta, in Northern Colombia, is one of the strangest tribes of Indians known to ethnologists—the Aurohuacos. Their name means "hidden gold," or "gold hidden," and that is just what they are. They worship the yellow metal, dividing their devotions between gold and the sun.

PUTS BALLINGER IN A BAD LIGHT

Evidence of Glavis Before Inquiry

Says Secretary Asked Him to Let Up on Case in Which Heavy Contributors Were Involved.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—The proceedings in the Ballinger-Pinchot inquiry which, up to this time, have consisted largely of reading into the record of the inquiry, the various letters, telegrams, etc., which heretofore have been made public in a message transmitted to the senate by President Taft, took on a livelier aspect today when Louis H. Glavis, continuing his testimony against Secretary Ballinger, related various interviews he had with the secretary of the interior while he was in and out of the government service.

Mr. Glavis declared that in one of these interviews in October, 1908, Mr. Ballinger told him he was having a hard time trying to collect campaign contributions and that two men involved in the Cunningham claims who had been liberal contributors in the past declined to contribute because they were angry at not being granted patents for the Alaska coal lands.

One of the most interesting developments of the day was the distribution of a quantity of press matter which purported to interpret and point out the significance of the testimony thus far given at the inquiry.

The important developments of the morning session today were, and they went on to state that the proceedings had placed Secretary Ballinger in an adverse light. It was said that the service would continue throughout the investigation.

Thomas S. Ship, former secretary to Senator Beveridge of Indiana, who resigned that position to become president of the Bureau of Forestry, claimed that he was one of the constant attendants at the hearing.

The morning session was devoted to an endeavor by the "prosecution" to show the haste with which Mr. Ballinger, as commissioner of the land office, issued the "proclamation" to clear listing for patent.

City Asks for Power to Convey Land and Ratification of Agreement—D.A.R. Wants More Time.

GREAT CLEARANCE SALE OF FURNITURE AT M. R. A.'s

An after stock-taking clean-up of furniture suitable for almost any room in the house. Bright, handsome, durable pieces of the regular M. R. A. high quality at an actual saving of practically 40 per cent. on every article offered.

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—The Canada Gazette will tomorrow contain a notice that St. John will apply to parliament for an act conferring a conveyance of land near the Ballast wharf from the city to F. C. Durant and for confirmation of an agreement between St. John and Mr. Durant.

Notice is given that the Dominion Atlantic Railway Company will apply to parliament for an extension of time within which the company may construct the North-Mountain division.

I devote more time to that end (advertising) than to any other branch. In my opinion, the whole science of retailing consists in getting people to come into your store. If you can accomplish that, the rest is comparatively easy.—A. F. Kennedy, N. Y.

COMMUTERS GET PROMISE OF BETTER TRAIN SERVICE

Northwest Outing Association Considered
Proposition of L. R. C. at Meeting
Last Night.

About fifty members of the association attended the meeting. A. E. Fisher was in the chair. The proposition of the L. R. C. was presented to the meeting. The first section provided that suburban tickets be good only on suburban trains. The second section contained the following schedule for suburban trains:

Leave St. John—7 a.m., 9 a.m., 12:15 p.m., 4:15 p.m., 7:40 p.m. (On Saturdays a train will leave at 1:15 p.m. instead of 12:15 p.m.)
Arrive at St. John—7:45 a.m., 11:15 a.m., 3:30 p.m., 4:15 p.m., 8:20 p.m.
Discussion followed. It was the general opinion that the proposed express connecting with the Boston express should stop at suburban stations. It was pointed out that many suburban travelers residing on the line of the L. R. C. used the Boston train, and that it would be necessary to catch the Boston train in order to catch the Boston train. With the exception of this feature the schedule was eminently satisfactory, and was to be met by the suburbanites.

A greatly improved suburban train service on the Intercolonial next summer is expected, the railway officials have offered the suburbanites a schedule that will provide the best service ever given on the line. The Northwest Outing Association at a meeting last night in the Board of Trade rooms considered the proposition of the railway. The only fault found with the schedule of suburban trains was the proposal that No. 9 train which reaches St. John at 4:15 a.m. be not allowed to stop at suburban stations. The suburbanites claim that if this train does not stop at any station it will be necessary for those who live along the Kennebecasis who may want to travel on the Boston train which leaves St. John at 4:45 a.m., to spend the night in St. John in order to catch the train. This view of the matter is to be brought to the notice of the L. R. C. authorities and an effort made to have the train made available for suburbanites as in the past. The Association also discussed plans for improving Northport. The building of a pavilion and boathouse will be undertaken in the spring, and additional tennis courts are to be laid out.

SPECIAL NOTICE

BETTER THAN SPANKING
Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. MRS. M. G. GUMMERS, Box 87, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

WANT TIME EXTENDED.

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—The Dominion Atlantic Railway Company is applying to parliament for an act extending the time in which the company may commence and complete the construction of the North Mountain division of the road.

WAR TO BREAK IN EAST IN TWO YEARS

German Expert Looks for War in the Far East

Peace of Portsmouth Cannot Last Much
Beyond 1912, Gen. von der Bock Thinks.

In the light of the report recently published by M. Gieseler, a member of the industrial delegation in the Russian council of empire, respecting the increase of Japanese armaments, a summary of which was cabled to New York Sun at the time, an article in the Deutsche Review by Gen. von der Bock, one of Germany's most brilliant military commanders, possessing great interest, inasmuch as both authorities believe that peace between Russia and Japan cannot be preserved beyond the close of the year 1912.

It is not, von der Bock's opinion that any immediate outbreak of hostilities need be feared, but in view of the persistent preparations of both powers he is inclined to think that the peace of Portsmouth cannot last much longer than another two years.

The troops which Russia possessed in the Far East at the close of the war, he says, have been largely strengthened, so that at the present time they cannot be short of a peace footing of 200,000 men, a force which it would be difficult to break out easily and speedily be raised to 300,000 without drawing a single soldier from European Russia.

Another important fact noted by Gen. von der Bock is the strengthening of the defenses of Vladivostok, which has been raised to the rank of a first class fortress. But the weightiest item in the development of Russian power in the Far East, according to this writer, will be the decision to build the Amur railway.

The third item, in view of the importance of this railway, has undoubtedly devoted the necessary funds. The Russian government's decision to double the track of the Siberian line is a step the gravity of which cannot be over-rated.

Japan, freed for the present from maritime cares, is similarly engaged in strengthening her position on land. The 13 divisions of her army, which were broken out have been raised to 18, so that at the present moment her army on a war footing would consist of 500,000 men and 150,000 horses. And there is no lack of men in the Mikado's empire, Gen. von der Bock believes that were war to be declared a million Japanese soldiers could take the field within a few weeks.

A most important factor in the altering circumstances is the renaissance of the Chinese military power. Japanese instructions, sworn in, China and are swiftly building up a mighty military engine as their ally.

The original plan of the Chinese government was to form 38 divisions, each of 10,000 men, and to have this entire force ready to take the field before the year 1912, but it is perfectly evident from the reports which have filtered through to Europe that the huge army will be ready by 1913, or ten years earlier than was originally intended.

Gen. von der Bock is inclined to believe from the reports of German officers who have recently visited China that in 1912 the Chinese will possess a well equipped army of half a million men, the greater part armed with modern weapons and with a discipline and organization infinitely superior to anything which China has hitherto produced. Gen. von der Bock thinks that Japan's policy of Asia for the Atlantic, with Japan at the head of the coalition of the yellow races, will then be within measurable distance of realization.

He regards the situation as extremely serious and asserts that M. Stolypin, the Russian premier, and Gen. Suchomlinov, the minister of War, view it in a most pessimistic light.

GIRL BRIDE LOST AFTER POLICE RAID

Black Hand Agents Thought to Have Abducted Mrs. Camelo Morato for Revenge.

ST. Y. Y. Jan. 28.—Italians, banded in a criminal organization, are held responsible for the strange disappearance of Mrs. Camelo Morato, a bride, only sixteen years old, for a month she has been missing.

Grief on the part of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Morato, on Saturday, they called upon the police to aid them in finding their daughter and the belief that she had been abducted to New York, where she was being held captive, Dread of the Black Hand also had held Giacomo Morato, the girl's husband, silent.

Behind the splitting away of the girl is said to be a raid which was made by the authorities on an Italian resort at West Rye. West Rye is a settlement of some four hundred Italians, in which many of that race, when pushed by the course of events in New York, find a place of rest and safety. When the raid was made two women were taken. They were sent to the Bedford Reformatory. A man who was known as proprietor of the place disappeared after $1,000 had been deposited as bail.

Word was given that any person who appeared as a witness against any of the defendants would be visited by the wrath of the Black Hand. The Italians, terrified, held their tongues and knew nothing. This reticence has made it impossible to learn just what connection the disappearance of the girl has with the raid. Her parents were reputed to be substantial, quiet persons. Nothing in the record of any of the family can be found to give any other theory than that of forcible abduction can be applied to her case.

Morato's husband, has always been well supplied with funds. He did not report the absence of his wife and was silent upon the subject until her parents, distracted by the fear that she had met a horrible fate, called upon the authorities for aid.

LINER BREAKS DOWN AFTER LEAVING PORT

Hesperian Anchors Off Island Until Repairs are Made.

The steamer Hesperian of the Allan Line, which sailed from Sand Point under C. P. H. charter yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, broke down off Partridge Island a short time after sailing. The injury was to the liner's engines, a minor part being broken.

One of the bright and attractive events of the week in a social line was held at the home of W. P. Bonnell, 66 Queen Square. On this occasion the parlors and hall were thrown into one large and elegant banquet hall, which was filled to its utmost capacity with guests assembled to hear the most popular lecture on Scotland by Rev. Dr. Campbell. Mr. Malcolm gave a Scotch selection which was most enthusiastically enjoyed. Piano and vocal solos by Misses Biederman and Nease.

The injury was slight but sufficient to delay the steamer until 5 p. m.

As soon as the liner hove to a tug was summoned and word of the injury sent to Sand Point. Meanwhile the Hesperian dropped anchor off the island and many who noticed her lying there wondered what was the cause of the delay. The tug Lord Kitchener was used to convey materials and workmen to the steamer. The Union Foundry of West Side furnished both. Repairs were made in a short time and the steamer got under way after a delay of about six hours.

The Hesperian is commanded by Capt. Main. She carries forty-five saloon, fifty-five second class and two hundred third class passengers.

An Encouraging Message

I have a message of hope and good cheer, of encouragement and inspiration to every suffering woman. I have endured the tortures of female troubles and the consequent despondency and mental agony almost to the point of despair, and I have been restored from this condition to a state of vigorous health, and to the happy, exhilarating frame of mind which accompanies physical well being. This change has been brought about wholly by the use of ORANGE LILY.

In addition I have had the privilege and pleasure of inducing multitudes of other suffering women to give ORANGE LILY a trial, and have received thousands of enthusiastic acknowledgments of the blessings it has brought to them. The following is a sample:

TRURO, N. S., April 5, 1909.
Dear Mrs. Currah—Your very kind letter was received yesterday. In reply to your question about my health, I am thankful to say that I am very well. As I have never given you a statement of my case you may be interested in it. For several years I have suffered untold agonies. This suffering was continuous. The first Sunday in November, I felt one pain increasing and so did not go to my room. The rest of the family did go, and soon after the forcing down pains seized me and I had to remain on the floor until their return. I was in great pain all night and was very sick for a whole week.

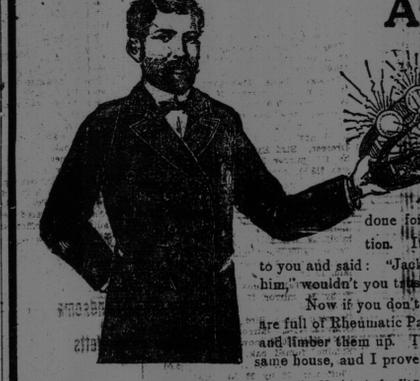

Then Mrs. L. came to see me and told me of your wonderful medicine. I got my husband to send for it right away, as I was too sick to write myself. My doctor could do nothing for me. I have used 5 boxes of ORANGE LILY, have had three months of good rest, and am now well, never better in my life. I have not had the old pains since. I often ask my husband if it is myself that is going round and doing my own work, can scarcely believe it. It brings tears of joy to my eyes. I could shout it to all the world. I cannot speak enough of its praise.

Your friend, MRS. E. H. F. RECEIVING, as I do, dozens of such reports each day, I am impelled to make known to my suffering sisters the merits of ORANGE LILY. It is a strictly local treatment and is applied directly to the affected organs, its curative elements are absorbed into the congested tissues, expelling the stagnant, foreign matter which has been irritating the membrane and oppressing the nerves, and a growing feeling of physical and mental relief is noticeable almost from the start. If you have been afflicted with this disease, you will find that the Free Trial is a positive, scientific remedy, and even if you use no more than the Free Trial treatment you will be very materially benefited.

FREE TRIAL OFFER
I want every reader of this, who suffers in any way from painful monthly periods, irregularities, leucorrhoea, inflammation or congestion of the womb, pain in the back, etc., to send me their address, and I will forward at once, without charge, 30 days' treatment. If your case is far advanced it may entirely cure you, and in any event it will do you much good. I am so earnest in making this statement, and so positive that it is true, that I trust every sufferer who reads this notice will take advantage of my offer and get cured at home, without a doctor's aid. Address, enclosing 1 stamp, Mrs. FRANCES E. CURRAH, Windsor, Ont.

MEN! I WANT TO TALK TO YOU ABOUT THIS BELT

I want to talk to men who have pains and aches, who feel run down physically, who realize that the old "fire" and energy which was so evident in youth is absent now; men who can't stand the amount of exertion they could years ago. I want you if that means you—to see what I have done for others who were just as "bald" off. That's my introduction. If a friend in whom you had confidence presented some one to you and said: "Jack, here's Brown; he has made good with me and I trust him," wouldn't you trust him too?

Now if you don't feel right, I can cure you with my Electric Belt. If you are full of Rheumatic Pains, I can knock them out. I can pour oil into your joints and limber them up. I have often said that pain and electricity can't live in the same house, and I prove it every day.

Mr. A. S. Mace, Justice of the Peace and Police Magistrate for Kings county, N. B., writes me on Oct. 13th from Norton, N. B., as follows: "Dear Sir—Replying to your favor will say that your belt has given me good satisfaction. I might say further that I think mine was a good case to help, being troubled with it sick headache, and very bad pains in my head and not able to sleep more than half of the night. I am pleased to say that after wearing your Belt for a while, I sleep better, and my sick spells grow longer between. The current generated by the battery was fine and soothing and gave me good satisfaction in a great many ways."

Mr. W. G. P. Frizzell writes from Municipal Home, St. John, N. B., on Nov. 22: "Here are his words: 'Dear Sir—I wish to congratulate you on your success, in inventing such a blessing to mankind, as your Electric Belt. I should have written to you a long time before. I wore it only three weeks, then all the soreness in my back and thigh left us, and my bowels became regular. 'Warning you continued success in your business.' If it were not for the prejudice, due to the great number of fakes in the land, I would not be able to handle the business that would come to me. The 'Free Belt' fraud and the 'Free Drug' scheme, which are not free at all, or the 'Just as Good' Belt offered for a dollar or two, which gives no current at all, have made every sceptical, but I know that I have a good thing, and I'll hammer away until you know it. One thing every man ought to know is this: Your body is a machine. It is run by the steam in your blood and nerves. When you begin to break down in any way you are out of steam. That's just what I want to give you back."

I have a cure in every town. Tell me where you live and I will give you the name of a man I've cured. Tell me your trouble, and I will tell you honestly whether I can cure you or not. If I can't cure you I don't want your money. I have been in this business 24 years, and am the biggest man in it today by long odds, and I am growing yet, because I give every man all he pays for. Now, wouldn't you rather wear my life-giving appliance while you sleep every night, and feel its glowing warmth pouring into you, and feel yourself taking on a new lease of life with such application, than to slog your intestines up with a lot of nauseous drugs? Surely! Try me. Those suffering from Rheumatism, Lame Back, Lumbago, Varicose Veins, Nervous Debility, Constipation, Loss of Energy, resulting from exposure and excess in youth and mid-life-aged men, write to me. Offer me reasonable security and I will make a Man of you, and you can

CASTLE IN LONDON.

Good Clothes Count For Nothing If One Lives in W. C.

"I'd know you were an Englishman if I'd only seen you addressing an envelope," said the American.

Well, the address of an Englishman is a very important thing. As important as his pedigree. A good address, especially in London, is more highly respected than square meals, the highly respected than square meals, the highly respected than square meals.

There are, as has been explained, only certain parts of London in which one can live and be recognized. It is divided into districts, the most important of which bears the address London, W.

The next district in importance is S. W. (southwest). This includes Chelsea, where the aristocrats congregate, and South Kensington, where upper middle class fashionable folks live.

N. W. (northwest) includes Hampstead, St. John's Wood, Belles Park (one of the prettiest and healthiest parts of London, where wealthy city men reside, and the many large residences can boast beautiful gardens and lawns such as are unobtainable in any other part of London.

... next district, and one of the most densely populated in W. C. (west central). It is a word of boarding houses and being the most convenient part of London for railway stations, places of amusement and sightseeing generally, it is peopled with the most cosmopolitan set to be found anywhere in the world.

One of the puzzles of this address is that if you write W. C. after the recipient will probably not bother to call, but if you write N. S. such as such a place and add "Russell Square," that makes it all right. Russell Square is recognized, but west central is not.

On meeting new people the first thing they invariably ask is your address. If you are wearing a nice suit, they say you live in W. C. immediately ask you to dinner, but if you say west central the nice frock carries no weight, they simply say, "How very odd!" and talk about the weather—London Letter in New York Sun.

LIBERTY VERSUS GREENS.

A colored man from Georgia had lived in Washington but a few days when he was arrested for some slight violation of the city ordinances.

Upon hearing that the negro was in jail the secretary of the colored Y. M. C. A. secured the services of a minister to go with him and sign the prisoner's bail bond. They reached the jail shortly before noon and told the negro the object of their visit. In response to the proffered kindness he said:

"Well, sah, dey's a-gettin' dinnah ready, an' dey's cookin' greens, an' I would like to get some o' dem greens befo' I leaves dis place!"—Lippincott's.

CAPE HATTERAS

The Shifting Sands and Point of This Isolated Place.

There are few names more widely known in the United States for its beauties about which a greater ignorance prevails than Cape Hatteras. Situated on the coast of North Carolina, it is a sand beach from Cape Henry southwards at a right angle to the westward with the widest part of Hatteras about 10 miles long and the mainland and with the beach both west and north out into the ocean, its position is isolated.

Like all sand promontories, the point of the cape is always moving. An old wreck imbedded deep in the sand and showing only the stumps of her masts and bowsprit and the rusty skeletons of what were once her chain plates and dead eyes is now a quarter of a mile or more inland.

Twenty years ago she is said to have lain in the shallow, where she struck, or drifted ashore, the land now outside of her having been built up since by the action of the wind and waves.

Two features connected with the shifting of the sand are of interest to the fishermen. One is that of a member of the crew as sitting on a plank in run out over the side, the inner end caught under the lee washboards, while on the other end, with legs dangling over the water, the man acting as baiter, sits on this not in racing, mind you, but in every day sailing.

In moderate weather, when the sea is only lightly riding along, one man will stand up alongside the centerboard on the weather side and, facing outward, will steadily rock side to side, the other man will sit on the other side, and perhaps it does.

THE FINEST EMBROCATION

OPINIONS OF CHAMPION SPORTS

Hockey players, football players, and athletes in general are interested in Zeno-Balm because it has achieved so many successes, and is regarded by the leading athletes as the finest balm and embrocation.

A bad sprain, a cut, a nasty bruise—all heal quickly when Zeno-Balm is applied. Mr. Joe Kelley, the famous Toronto baseball "pro," is a great user of Zeno-Balm.

Some time later a horse was broken in the rear door of the D. McLaughlin stable establishment, on Prince William street an entrance was made, a desk was broken open, and the contents of the desk were stolen.

The strongest argument in the latter story is that the thief was the Currier Business University is the abundant proof produced that this school is a success in fitting young men and women, not exploiting them.

QUEER VILLAGES. Some Peculiar Ones That May Be Seen in England.

The English village is very dear to the hearts of poets and painters, and thousands of them are certainly charming. A few, however, are more amusing than anything else—

For instance, one which consists entirely of old railway carriages, even the chagel being composed of four horse trucks. Another village, with a population of 1,100 and taxed at the valuation of $8,000, has neither school, church, nor any public building, the only thing of the sort being a letter box on a pillar.

Ylough with, but a single inhabitant are not unknown, one of them being Skidaw, in Cumberland. The village consists of a few huts, because he cannot vote, there being no overseer to prepare a voters' list and no church, or any other public building, on which to publish one, as the law requires. The lonely rate payer in a Northumberland village has declined to contribute money to maintain the roads, remarking that the one he has is quite good enough for its use.

In the Isle of Ely, there is a little parish with about a dozen inhabitants that has no rates, as there are no roads or public institutions of any kind and consequently no expenses.

Rempton, near Bradford, can probably lay successful claim to the distinction of being the poorest village in the world, as it struggles along the road for a distance of seven miles.

"Some-times" a village will entirely disappear, having been built either on a hillside or in a bog.

THREE BURGLARIES TO SEAL'S ACCOUNT

Evidence Taken Against Young Englishman

Several Charged With Lolling About the Depot—Other Business in Police Court.

There was rather a busy session in the police and juvenile courts this morning, when drunks, thieves, trespassers and truants were dealt with by Magistrate Ritchie.

The drunks were fined four dollars each. Joseph McCarty, George Livingstone, Fred Kinsella and George Curran were reported for trespassing on the house for coachmen. Curran was not present as his father said he had left the city, the other three were present and pleaded guilty to being in the coachmen's house. McCarty and Livingstone were taken to the cells on a remand and a lesson. Kincaid was present with his father and said that he was in the coachmen's house for two hours and was waiting to see a teamster named Oldsworth. He was remanded for a time and told he was liable to a fine of $50.

Harry McDonald pleaded guilty to being drunk and obtaining a gold watch from Rogers' jewelry store on Charlotte street under false pretences. A clerk in the store said the timepiece was worth $12.50. McDonald asked the watch yesterday, got the watch and gave the name of his brother James McDonald, and the watch was charged.

The prisoner requested that the magistrate dispose of the case and he was remanded for sentence.

James Seal was charged with three burglaries. On Sunday, Jan. 23, he is charged with having entered Mrs. Margaret Stephens' house at 12 Waterloo street. Mrs. Stephens was at church when the break was made, and in addition to some money a quantity of jewelry was stolen. Some of the stolen articles were found in the defendant's trunk by Detective Killen.

Some time later a horse was broken in the rear door of the D. McLaughlin stable establishment, on Prince William street an entrance was made, a desk was broken open, and the contents of the desk were stolen.

The strongest argument in the latter story is that the thief was the Currier Business University is the abundant proof produced that this school is a success in fitting young men and women, not exploiting them.

QUEER VILLAGES. Some Peculiar Ones That May Be Seen in England.

The English village is very dear to the hearts of poets and painters, and thousands of them are certainly charming. A few, however, are more amusing than anything else—

For instance, one which consists entirely of old railway carriages, even the chagel being composed of four horse trucks. Another village, with a population of 1,100 and taxed at the valuation of $8,000, has neither school, church, nor any public building, the only thing of the sort being a letter box on a pillar.

Ylough with, but a single inhabitant are not unknown, one of them being Skidaw, in Cumberland. The village consists of a few huts, because he cannot vote, there being no overseer to prepare a voters' list and no church, or any other public building, on which to publish one, as the law requires. The lonely rate payer in a Northumberland village has declined to contribute money to maintain the roads, remarking that the one he has is quite good enough for its use.

In the Isle of Ely, there is a little parish with about a dozen inhabitants that has no rates, as there are no roads or public institutions of any kind and consequently no expenses.

Rempton, near Bradford, can probably lay successful claim to the distinction of being the poorest village in the world, as it struggles along the road for a distance of seven miles.

"Some-times" a village will entirely disappear, having been built either on a hillside or in a bog.

PREVENTION OF FIRES

How to Avoid Them by Taking Proper Precautions.

Avoid matches—These heads readily snap off. Scores of deaths and destroyed homes are traceable to this careless habit of smoking.

Lique stove polishes, of the kind sold by fakery are nearly always dangerous. Furniture polish should be used with great care too.

All cloths used in rubbing polished floors should be burned away from the house. Neither should they be thrown carelessly around at any time, as there is danger of spontaneous combustion.

Cleaning compounds are always dangerous. Never use benzine, gasoline or kerosene in any room where there is artificial light. These oils are extremely volatile, and their fumes catch fire at a great distance, the flames traveling back to the source. Explosions and scattered fire are the result.

Never drink or eat near a jet or stove. Be careful that no portieres or curtains are so hung that they can blow against the flame. Many fires are due to such carelessness.

When you retire for the night see that the doors in the house are closed. Open doors create a draft. Danger from a dumb waiter may be minimized by seeing that it is tightly closed at night.

When open fireplaces are in use the fire should be kept burning in the hearth and should not rest on wood. Each hearth should have a fine wire screen about 18 inches from the top. Put on the hair on end, his hands in the air.

"Tens!" cried Gascon, springing to his feet as he saw a disaster. "What is it with you, my friend?"

"The barbarian!" cried Gascon. "The barbarian! He was holding one chicken potpie!"

"But it is well, my friend," replied Gascon. "The barbarian is holding one chicken potpie!"

"We will provide ourselves with his desire. Run, Henri, quick! An apple pie will do the trick. Get the chicken saute. Pour it slowly. Set on with the cover. Heat it up. Monsieur le chef!"

"THE MAIN POINT." The strongest argument in the latter story is that the thief was the Currier Business University is the abundant proof produced that this school is a success in fitting young men and women, not exploiting them.

HAVE NOW RAISED $900 FOR SEAMEN'S MISSION

Some of the Ladies Will Continue Collecting on Monday—Still Have High Hopes.

The lady canvassers in aid of the Seamen's Institute building have succeeded in raising the sum to $900. Another report will be made this evening, when it is expected that the $1,000 mark will be passed. The management of the institute and the collectors are particularly well pleased with the success of the campaign. The weather during the canvass has not been favorable and several of the ladies plan to continue their visits on Monday. The committee have every hope that the debt of $100 will be nearly wiped out.
