

TAFT HAS NOMINATION--ROOSEVELT A BAD SECOND

PRESIDENT CARRIES NATIONAL CONVENTION WHILE ADVERSARY'S FOLLOWERS DECLINE TO VOTE

Strenuous One To Head New Party

SUPPORTERS TENDER NOMINATION

Taft for President, Sherman Vice-president, is Republican Ticket--Former Secures 561 Votes Out of 1078, while 344 of Roosevelt's Delegates Refuse to Vote--Adjournment Marked by Uproar.

Convention Hall, Chicago, June 22.—With nearly 350 of the Roosevelt delegates declining to vote and hastening away at adjournment time to tender to Col. Theodore Roosevelt the nomination of a new party, the 15th republican national convention at the end of a long and tumultuous session, adjourned at 11:30 p. m.

H. Taft of Ohio, for president, and James Schoolcraft Sherman, of New York, for vice-president. President Taft received 561 of the 1,078 votes in the convention, or 21 more than a majority.

The decision of the Roosevelt people, under direction of their leader to refrain from voting left no other candidate near the president.

The announcement of the Taft victory was greeted with cheering from his adherents and groans and hisses from the opposition. When it became absolutely certain today that Mr. Taft would be nominated without great difficulty, the leaders of the convention decided to give him as a running mate his companion on the ticket in 1908.

All others dropped from the race and Mr. Sherman was the only candidate regularly placed before the convention. A motion from New Hampshire to make the nomination by acclamation was declared out of order. There were many scattering votes on the roll call.

The convention, amid much confusion, adjourned sine die.

At 10:30 there was an indication of a walk-out of Roosevelt delegates. As a rule they expressed their revolt by silence.

The detailed vote for president was: Taft, 561; Roosevelt, 107; LaFollette, 41; Cummins, 17; Hughes, 2; Not voting, 344; absent, 62.

At times during the balloting the convention was in great confusion.

The result of the voting for vice-president was: Sherman, 561; Merritt, 20; Hadley, 14; Beveridge, 2; Gillette, 1; absent, 71; present, but not voting, 352.

If the confusion just before adjournment a resolution was adopted giving the national committee power to declare vacant the seat of Roosevelt if the committee refusing to support the nominees of the regular convention of 1912.

Former President Theodore Roosevelt was nominated for president on an independent ticket tonight, in the dying hours of the republican national convention, in which he met defeat. Followers of Col. Roosevelt met in Orchestra Hall less than a mile from the coliseum and pledged their support to the former president. In accepting the nomination, Col. Roosevelt appealed to the people of all sections, regardless of party affiliations to stand with the founders of the new party, one whose cardinal principle, he said, was to be "Thou shalt not steal."

The informal nomination of Col. Roosevelt was said to be chiefly for the purpose of effecting a temporary organization. Beginning tomorrow when a call is to be issued for state convention in Illinois, the work of organization will be pushed forward rapidly, state by state. At a later time probably early in August, it is intended that a national convention shall be held.

Roosevelt in accepting nomination said he did so on the understanding that he would willingly step aside if it should be the desire of the new party, when organized, to select another standard bearer. The speech nominating Col. Roosevelt was made by Comptroller W. A. Frendargast who was to have presented the Colonel's name to the convention.

Dean W. Draper Lewis, of the University of Pennsylvania Law School, who was to make one of the second-

Property of Ira Earle Near Hampton Burned—Annual Meeting of Baptist District Closes.

Hampton, June 23.—Two barns belonging to Ira Earle, of Belleisle, were struck by lightning in the storm of Friday and totally destroyed by fire.

In rescuing the animals from the doomed buildings, Mr. and Mrs. Earle and their son were badly burned about the head and face.

The annual meeting of the sixth district of United Baptists closed its sessions on Saturday. The Rev. Dr. McIntyre ably presented the claims of the Maritime Baptist, and Rev. J. B. Ganong delivered an inspiring address on evangelistic work. Resolutions of thanks were unanimously adopted for the hearty welcome and hospitality extended to the delegates by the Hampton Village church and people, to the organist and choir for helpful music, and to the railway authorities for reduced rates.

The committee on church letters reported that 33 out of 48 churches showed 137 baptisms, 140 removals and a net increase of 123 members. The grouping of churches caused some discussion and a committee was appointed to confer with the fifth district and secure a rearrangement of churches on adjoining borders.

There were 45 delegates in attendance.

ing speeches, delivered tonight the address which he had prepared for the republican convention. Representatives of twenty-two states composed the authentic committee which informed Col. Roosevelt of his nomination, and in a sense stood as sponsors for the movement.

EIGHT DROWN WHEN A DOCK COLLAPSES

Two Hundred Excursionists Are Hurlled Into the Niagara River.

Failure of Telephone System Renders Communication Difficult but Horrible Disaster is Feared.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 23.—An excursion dock at Eagle, Grand Island, Niagara River, collapsed under the weight of a crowd tonight and at least 200 people were thrown into the Niagara River. Eight bodies have been recovered.

The party left Buffalo this morning on the steamer Henry Koerber with the barge Lottie Koerber in tow. The first news of the accident reached this city when Mrs. Miller, wife of the proprietor of the hotel at Eagle Park, telephoned. The telephone system failed shortly after and the place, which is on the Canadian branch of the river has been out of communication since.

Fix Brothers, owners of the excursion steamship lines to which the Henry Koerber and Lottie Koerber belong said late tonight that at least 200 persons were thrown into the water and that eight bodies have been recovered. The boats had carried one load back to Buffalo and were at the dock taking on the remainder when the accident occurred.

The excursionists were preparing to return to Buffalo after an outing to the park and between 350 and 400 persons were on the dock to take the steamer when the under pinning gave way and hurled those nearest the boat into the river.

The dock was V shaped with the landing place at the apex. It is at the foot of a high embankment and its approach is by a long flight of stairs. The current in the river at this point which is twelve miles above Niagara Falls, is eight miles.

The outing was under the auspices of Court Amherst, Lodge Number 232, I. O. F. of Blackrock, and was for the benefit of sick brothers.

Communication Difficult but Assistance is Finally Secured from Kentville—Insurance Covers About Half Value.

Special to The Standard.

Halifax, June 23.—Only three places of business are left standing in Canning on account of a fire which in two hours and a half this morning, almost swept away the entire business district of the town. The local fire department did its best in fighting the flames but was unable to cope with the conflagration.

An effort was made to obtain help from Kentville, but the telephone offices were closed on Sunday morning. A message was finally got through by telegraph and in 18 minutes a detachment from Kentville arrived by special train. By this time, however, the fire had run its course. It had extended east along Main street from the Cornwallis Trading Company's establishment to the post office, the building in which this is situated being only partially burned. The loss is about $65,000 with $23,000 insurance.

The establishments burned are those of the Cornwallis Trading Co., with a loss of $10,000; J. E. Kennedy, $6,500; A. D. Payzant, $40,000; E. Fred Northup, $1,000; R. W. Nantle, $3,000; Mrs. Burbridge, $500; D. M. Beckwith, $2,000; C. R. Dickie, $3,000. Willey Brewster, a boy from N. W. Eaton's store, had a leg broken at the fire.

Gloucester Will Return Four More COUNTY IS SOLID

Record of Provincial Government Guarantees Success of Its Candidates--Meetings Saturday Largely Attended.

Special to The Standard.

Bathurst, June 22.—That the elections in this county will result in the return of four more supporters of the government is assured by the fact that all the government meetings have been attended by crowds of electors, all of whom will support the honest and progressive administration of Hon. James K. Flemming. These meetings have been enthusiastic in the extreme, the desire to retain the honest Flemming administration being shown by the rounds of applause when the underhand methods of the old government were shown up.

This evening Dr. Landry and O. M. Melanson addressed a large and enthusiastic meeting at Pettrouche. This meeting was attended by an enormous crowd that showed its approval of honest government in no uncertain fashion. Both of the speakers dealt in a thorough manner with the mal-administration of the old regime, showing up the grafting methods of that period by comparing them with such desirable legislation as that which resulted in the breaking of the school book ring, the audit act, by which all expenditures are checked and the large increase in the collection of stumpage. Both speakers conclusively proved that the old government either allowed this stumpage money to be grafted into the greedy pockets of the lumber kings or that they did not have the moral courage to collect it.

Another successful meeting was held this evening when J. B. Hachey addressed a large gathering at St. Theresa. At this meeting the tone of victory prevailed strong foretelling the glorious victory in store for the government candidates on Monday. Mr. Hachey's address was greeted with prolonged cheers.

Tracadie was the scene of another successful meeting which was addressed by Hon. J. A. Murray, A. J. Witzel, F. S. Robitoux and Mr. McNaughton.

All of these speakers dealt with the excellent results of the capable administration of the Flemming government which when compared with the loose and reckless expenditures of the old government, showed up in a thorough manner the grafting system which was in force during the Pugsley-Robinson regime. The speakers dealt with the dishonest manner in which the old government handled the people's money, clearly showing by comparing results the honesty and integrity of the Flemming administration. These speeches were greeted with resounding cheers which conclusively showed that the old regime of graft and dishonest methods of government will return no more to this county.

The government also scored another point on the opposition at Salmon Beach and Canobie when Colonel Sheridan and A. J. H. Stewart addressed the meeting at both these places. In their addresses the speakers proved the fallacy of the Pugsley-Robinson government, showing by comparison how ably and well the Flemming administration has handled the people's affairs.

A Celebration at St. Martins

Victory of Baxter and Carson Celebrated by Supporters of Honest Government, on Saturday Night.

The town of Saint Martins-by-the-sea was in gala attire on Saturday night when the elated friends and supporters of honest government, led by Premier Flemming, met at the town hall to celebrate the victory of John B. Baxter, K. C. M. P. P., elect, and Warden Thomas B. Carson, M. P. P., elect, over Messrs. Allister, F. Fyfe, C. M. P. P., and Amadore Anderson the defeated opposition candidates.

Long before eight o'clock, the hour set for the meeting, over a hundred electors paraded the street cheering Messrs. Flemming, Baxter and Carson. Shortly after eight o'clock the crowd surged into the club rooms and it was at once evident that a larger meeting place would have to be procured. The large and spacious room in the Temperance building, just across the street from the club room, was hired and the enthusiastic crowd rapidly filled the building. Shortly before nine, however, Warden Carson arrived and was carried along the street amid the cheers of the crowd.

Capt. Robert Carson was elected chairman of the meeting and after passing around the cigars donated by Mr. Baxter, called upon Sam Osborne, Sr., for a few remarks. Mr. Osborne congratulated the party on their great victory and spoke in glowing terms of the work done by the polls by Robert Connelly. The speaker challenged E. S. Carter to meet him in a joint debate on the bridge policy of the government. Amid prolonged cheers, Mr. Osborne said that he was even prepared to meet the new leader of the opposition in the public platform to discuss the record of the Flemming government.

Julius P. Mosher was the next speaker and on arising was cheered time and time again. In one of the best speeches ever heard in the parish he reviewed the record of the government which had just won a signal victory at the polls on Thursday last referring to Mr. Carson, the speaker said that this was the second time in the history of the county that a native born citizen of St. Martins was elected to represent the county at Fredericton, Mr. James Rourke, ex-M. P. P., being the first.

Speaking of Mr. Baxter, Mr. Mosher stated amid the wildest cheers, that the county had a member of Dominion cabinet material, and said the speaker: "mark my words, gentlemen, John B. M. Baxter will be our next representative at Ottawa." (Cheers.) Continuing, Mr. Mosher said: "I feel proud today that we have beaten Mr. Bentley in St. Martins, and this parish has at last come to her own."

G. Earle Logan was the next speaker and was received with cheers. Mr. Logan said that the following item might have appeared in the truthful Telegraph the morning after the election: "Lost, St. John county, finder will confer a favor by leaving same with the undersigned. (Signed) W. E. P." The speaker thanked the electors of St. Martins on behalf of his partner, Mr. Baxter. Mr. Logan spoke in glowing terms of Warden Carson and claimed that Baxter and Carson would be the hardest combination to trim at Fredericton when the interests of the county were involved.

Referring to the mis-statement of the ex-member, Mr. Bentley, at the Ben Leonard smother on the Thursday before the election, when that gentleman saw fit to disregard the truth when he said that Mr. Baxter had sent a man to him to arrange a saw-off, Mr. Logan said amid cheers, that perhaps Mr. Bentley would have been pleased himself to arrange a saw-off so that he could have been leader of the opposition.

Warden T. B. Carson, M. P. P., elect, was the next speaker, and it was several minutes before he could be heard. He briefly thanked the electors of his native parish for their vote and promised to do all he could for the county, in conclusion he said: "Really, my friends I thank you." (Cheers and laughter.)

The significance of these smokers will be appreciated by the electors of St. Martins.

Robert Connelly was the next speaker and on arising was enthusiastically received. "Well," said Mr. Connelly, "thank goodness I am at last in my own camp." (Applause.) Said Mr. Connelly: "I have always been a supporter of this party and it was only when Mr. Pugsley promised to do certain things for this county that I supported him, but I found that Mr. Pugsley was a stranger to the truth and I am glad, gentlemen, to get back with you." (Cheers.) The speaker then eulogized Messrs. Baxter and Carson and said: "If these two men don't do good then we will even have to go back to Mr. Bentley."

Squire Rourke was the last speaker and briefly congratulated the county on its choice.

It was moved by John Moore seconded by Roy Fowkes and carried amid cheers, that a vote of thanks be tendered Robert Connelly for the great work done on election day. Mr. Connelly briefly replied and stated that he would be with Messrs. Baxter and Carson through thick and thin.

THE TIMES' ATTACK ON MR. HAZEN.

"There is no politics in this," remarks the Times hypocritically, at the close of a lengthy and grossly untruthful review of a volume entitled Canada, Her Natural Resources, Navigation, Principal Steamer Lines and Transcontinental Railways, which was published in May last from the Government Printing Bureau at Ottawa under instructions from Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fisheries. There are two classes of liars in this world—the liar who states openly that which is untrue, and the liar who indulges in the equally vicious habit of suppressing the truth and then drawing false conclusions. In the recent campaign the Times demonstrated its proficiency in the first mentioned class by disseminating statements which the great majority of the electors who had followed the trend of political events knew to be false and treated accordingly. The "review" under notice betrays the Times of being equally proficient as the insidious liar attempting to conceal the real purpose by resorting to hypocrisy and cant. This is plain speaking and is not a wit more than the Pugsley organ deserves.

The impression the Times seeks to convey in its criticism of this book is that Mr. Hazen, under whose authority it was prepared and issued, has permitted New Brunswick, and particularly the fisheries, which was published in May last from the Government Printing Bureau at Ottawa under instructions from Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, to be misrepresented and ignored. It says the rest of Canada, outside of New Brunswick, fares well at the hands of the compiler of this book. And again: "It is the old story. A Tory Government is in power at Ottawa, and St. John must fight for its own hand." It will be at once observed how much truth there is in the high-minded and ingenious statement which follows: "This is not politics in this."

Before dealing with the criticism of the Times it is necessary to give a brief explanation as to the scope and value of this volume. The book was compiled by Mr. W. W. Stumbles, an officer of the department, and his staff, under instructions from the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, given in March last. It was intended to be a sketch of Canada for the use of the Representatives, Delegates and Members of the XIIIth Congress of the Permanent International Association of Navigation Congresses held in May at Philadelphia, also to give a succinct account of the nature, purposes and methods of the Association to the general public. The book is also for distribution in Canada and other countries. It numbers 287 pages and is replete with maps and illustrations showing the natural resources, channels of navigation, railway transportation facilities and many other features of interest. The International Association of Navigation Congresses held in May at Philadelphia, also to give a succinct account of the nature, purposes and methods of the Association to the general public. The book is also for distribution in Canada and other countries. It numbers 287 pages and is replete with maps and illustrations showing the natural resources, channels of navigation, railway transportation facilities and many other features of interest.

Coming now to the trumped up charge that this Province is neglected, we find on pages 84, 85 and 86 an extended description of the rivers of New Brunswick. The St. John, its tributaries and lakes are referred to in detail. "The St. John river," says this work which the Times would condemn, "is famed for its beauty and on this account offers exceptional attractions to tourists who find steamers plying between St. John and Fredericton with excellent accommodation." The Miramichi and the extensive lumbering operations on the North Shore are given a prominent place. Chatham and Newcastle are mentioned as important lumber ports and other instructive detail is supplied.

Under the head of Maritime Navigation the importance of the fisheries of New Brunswick is mentioned. Tides and currents, including a description of the Moncton "bore" are explained in technical detail. Aids to navigation around the coast are enumerated and the automatic buoys in the adjacent waters described. The International Railway with the localities it serves in New Brunswick receives extended notice. Fredericton, Moncton, Sussex and other centres are featured. The route of the Grand Trunk Pacific from Moncton westward is fully set out, and the same attention is paid to the Canadian Pacific Short Line from St. John to Montreal.

In this section steamship lines plying between St. John and Boston and St. John and the West Indies are given considerable space. Large pictures of the Governor Cobb and other vessels, including a Pickford and Black steamer, are on these pages. All the steamship lines of the Maritime Provinces are mentioned. These and other features of interest in New Brunswick occupy many pages, but enough have been enumerated to show the worthless and contemptible nature of the charge made by the Times that Mr. Hazen, who authorized this book to be prepared, had neglected New Brunswick.

In directing its attack against Mr. Hazen the Times devotes special attention to three small paragraphs, picked out from different pages of this book, and gives them prominence as instances in which St. John is "betrayed." The first quotation deals with a statement that "the Bay of Fundy is deep and anchorage at high water is difficult. Fog is frequent and prolonged; on this account navigation is difficult, particularly to strange mariners." The Times professes to be horrified that Mr. Hazen should allow such a statement to appear. Everyone knows that there are fogs in the Bay of Fundy, and as this work is an expert report of conditions as at times they exist, the fact is so set forth.

The Times omits the sentences which follow for reasons which will be apparent. It is stated: "The Bay is never frozen over owing to the great rise and fall of the tide. Winter navigation is, therefore, kept up, and St. John on the northern side of the Bay is the main winter port for ocean liners which carry passengers and freight to and from Canada and European ports." Having omitted this paragraph, which clearly states that the ports to St. John is free from ice, the Times derives much satisfaction from the following which is published elsewhere in the book under the heading: "Ice Conditions in Canadian-Eastern Waters":

"The deep water harbors on the Atlantic coast and Bay of Fundy are open all the year round, but floating ice from the northern waters and from the northern part of the Gulf of St. Lawrence sometimes obstructs and entirely blocks navigation until a change of wind allows passage."

harbor is "free from ice all the year round." This paragraph clearly, has special reference to the harbors on the Atlantic coast from Yarmouth to Cape Breton and at the head of the Bay. St. John is not even mentioned for the obvious reason that it is "free from ice all the year round."

The third quotation by the Times sums up in a few lines the number of localities in which dredging has been done during the last 33 years: "In the waters within the coast line and harbors, bars and coves in Nova Scotia, dredging has been done during a period of 33 years, in 112 localities. In New Brunswick the same kind of work has been done in the same period, in 111 localities."

No explanation is offered for this quotation and it is difficult to see what Mr. Hazen committed by having this statement included. Possibly the Times takes this reference to localities as a personal reminder of the Gasperaux dredging scandal, with which it was intimately connected. The Times professes to have discovered a great omission. There is no reference to a dry dock at St. John. It admits that there is a statement that $7,000,000 will be spent on harbor improvement but the omission of all reference to a dry dock it regards as an outrage. Those who are familiar with the negotiations at Ottawa will understand that at the time the order for this book was given various matters, particularly in relation to the proposed dry dock at St. John, were under consideration. The contact was not signed. The dock will be built, but any definite statement at the time would have been premature. The writer in this volume states: "Preparations have already been commenced for a plan of harbor extension on a scale involving the expenditure of $7,000,000." If a second edition of this work is published it would, of course, be brought up to date.

The worst feature of this attack on Mr. Hazen lies in the fact that the Times deliberately omits any extended reference to lengthy and exceptionally able articles in this volume dealing with the port of St. John. It refers cynically to a few of the subjects touched upon but the detailed statements giving the number of wharves, depth of water, the different lines of ocean steamers using this port and many other features dealing with the commercial activity of this city are passed over in silence. There are several pages in this book exclusive of illustrations, devoted to St. John, the city Mr. Hazen has betrayed!

And the Times thinks the Board of Trade should arise in wrathful protest and that "Hon. Mr. Hazen should be called to account." If the Board of Trade passed a resolution censuring the Times for publishing misleading and untruthful statements regarding a volume which gives St. John and New Brunswick one of the best advertisements that has ever been published, it would be more to the point. In any event in the eyes of the people of this city this contemptible attack on Mr. Hazen will meet with the condemnation it deserves.

HON. GEORGE PERLEY.

Some of the less respectable among the Liberal organs are commenting adversely over the fact that Hon. George Perley, who will act as Premier during Mr. Borden's absence, was born in the United States. They also sneer at him because he voted against Reciprocity. Such rubbish is heartily condemned by the Free Press, the Ottawa Liberal newspaper, which says: "That is not playing the game fairly. It is true that Mr. Perley was born in New Hampshire, but he came to Canada with his parents when a child, spent all his life in Ottawa, except when he went to school and university in the United States, but he was educated at the Ottawa Grammar School in the first place, and his interests have always been in Canada and Ottawa. "The possession of a degree from Harvard University does not make him an American any more than it does a dozen of other public men. Mr. Perley probably does not gain more personally in a financial way by the adoption of the Reciprocity Agreement than any public man in Canada, but he put his financial interests aside for what he believed to be the interests of the country, and whether Liberals agree with him or not in the view he took on that Agreement, they must at least respect his honor and pay tribute to his deep-seated loyalty to "Canada and the Empire."

ENGLISH OPINIONS OF ROOSEVELT.

It would seem that the London Daily News is intimately acquainted with the shortcomings of Colonel Roosevelt. In commenting upon the convention at Chicago, the News says: "Roosevelt converts every political struggle into a personal affair. His own ego chases away such paltry matters as principles. It is always a bad thing for a nation to be asked to vote on personality instead of principle, for personality is an appeal to passion and not to principle and appeal to passion. To English eyes, at least, Roosevelt's personality is not inspiring—energetic energy without concentration, unlimited rhetoric without conviction, fierce enthusiasms which never breed action, insatiable appetite for commensalities and no real thinking."

In seeing Roosevelt as others see him, the people of the United States have been decidedly indifferent to the failings of the former President. That indifference has been responsible for a movement which, notwithstanding the nomination of Mr. Taft, will seriously imperil the strength of the Republican party.

On another page of The Standard will be found much interesting and instructive comment by leading Canadian Journals in all parts of the Dominion on the recent elections. The most significant feature of these articles is the unanimity of opinion that New Brunswick is finally delivered from the baneful influence of Pugsleyism. The result is regarded as a death-blow to Mr. Pugsley's political career in the Province. The fact that the people were justified in returning the Flemming Government to power on their record of honest and progressive administration of provincial affairs is universally recognized.

Current Comment

(Ottawa Citizen.)

Taken by and large, the advantage would seem to be with Great Britain and her unwritten constitution as against her overseas progeny who thought it the part of wisdom to reduce their federal contracts to writing. The United States as a nation are today conducting the practical business of government in many essentials in direct contravention of the principles sanctified in their constitution; and in Canada we are enduring the repressive effects of constitutional enactments which, framed in wisdom of even a later day, are sadly out of joint with the times.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)

A speaker in the Toronto Methodist Conference told of a minister receiving a salary of $290 a year, who was raising a family of five children. Such a condition, if true, ought to be a strong argument for less missionary work abroad and more Christianizing at home.

The first "Back to Canada" train will start on Monday with a contingent of New Englanders. Though their departure be late, they will receive a hearty welcome and find a country where their brains and energy can achieve all they deserve.

FREDERICTON BALL PLAYERS' NARROW ESCAPE

Fredericton, June 23.—The Fredericton club almost lost four of its ball players on Saturday morning, when a canoe containing Larry Cooley, Jimmy Murray, Stanley Bates and Jimmy Fay was upset about the middle of the St. John River at the west end of the city.

The players had a narrow escape, Bates being unable to swim, while the others were handicapped in their efforts to swim by their clothes. However, their voices were unimpaired and they yelled loud and long for help. St. John River Log Driving Company's tugboat Randolph went to their assistance and then rescued the players were pretty well exhausted.

All four, however, were all right to attend practice this afternoon at Scully's Grove, when the local fans who gathered had their first chance to see Rube Cram, the Brown University pitcher for Brown University next year, both in Conselman and Warner, this year's veterans at Brown, having been sold to Pittsburgh.

OLYMPIC ENTRIES GREATER

Stockholm, June 23.—The number of entries for the Olympic games is greater than on any previous occasion. Seventeen heats and two qualifying rounds will be necessary to reduce the field of 95 entered for the 100 metre dash to the six men entitled to compete in the final.

One hundred men are entered for the 200 metre dash; 28 will contest in the 400 metre event and 72 in the 800 metres.
For the 1200 metres, 88 men are entered, and for the 500 metres 80. The 10,000 metres run has attracted 82. The classic Marathon will bring together 72 contenders. Nine nations will be represented in the 3000 metre team race, while teams representing the United States, Russia, Italy, Hungary, England, Canada, Germany, Austria, France and Sweden will match speed and staying power in the 1600 metres relay. The relay dash of 400 metres will have teams competing from the United States, Hungary, Austria, Germany, Bohemia, England, Russia, Norway, Canada, France, Italy and Sweden. The entries for the field event, which is imposing list of entries has attracted 63 competitors and the same event with two hands, 27. Only 23 men will try the hammer throw, seven of these being members of the American team and 12 representing Sweden. This imposing list of entries has surpassed all expectations and the arrangement of seats is taxing the committee to the utmost. It is intended, however, to extend the time allotted for the programme, so that conflicts may be avoided.

BILLY QUEAL WON BIG RACE AT TORONTO

Toronto, June 22.—Queal, the Yankee champion, won the five mile professional championship race at the Island stadium Saturday night, with a time of 14.40. Wood and Tom Longboat third. They were the only starters. Shiruba ankle, injured two weeks ago, having failed to heel, while Al Rainsie broke down in training last week, and Swanberg, the Swede, withdrew.

Wood led for the first mile, which was run in 4.42. Queal set the pace for the second mile; time 9.33 and kept up the terrific grind until the third mile; time 14.40. Wood and Longboat were right at his heels, and Wood took the lead for the fourth, but his three sprints failed to shake off the others. The four miles were run in 13.22. The last mile was slower, as the racers were watching each other. In the last lap Longboat found the pace too hot and stopped in the back stretch. Queal caught Wood at the head of the stretch, but twenty yards from the tape he was seized with a cramp and faltered, but stayed off Wood and won in 24.39-2.5, the fastest ever run in America. Queal was carried off exhausted. Wood could barely stagger, while Longboat was overcome by nausea. The 10 mile team race was won easily by the Indian team, Red Hawk and Allan Hawk. The Irish-Canadian team, Meadows and O'Brien, narrowly beat out the Toronto team, Selien and Roe for second.

PRESS COMMENTS ON THE ELECTION FROM ALL PARTS OF THE DOMINION

Warm Congratulations for Premier Fleming in Canadian Newspaper Columns—End of Pugsleyism is General Verdict—Appreciation of Record of Local Government.

PUGSLEY'S INFLUENCE GONE

(Montreal Gazette, Con.)
The general result was expected but is somewhat more emphatic than most had anticipated. The story is a repetition of what has been several times told in Canadian politics. New Brunswick's administrative affairs were for twenty-five years under the control of one party, or rather one group of men, who, by repeated electoral successes and successful manipulations of men, came to think that it did not matter how they acted or what they did. They went too far, and in the election of four years ago they were thrown out by the people. Mr. Hazen, who is now a member of the federal administration, and who had led the Opposition, formed a new government, whose members set themselves to the task of improving the provincial situation. They found that they had much to do. A new and better order was established.

Independent Liberal Support.
The more independent of the Liberal newspapers of the province saw the improvement and gave the ministers credit for the good work they had done, and evidently the more independent of the Liberals of the province did the same thing. Probably also, some things done in the interest of the Liberal opposition helped to bring about the result noted.

The narrowness and the meanness that marked some of the arguments and appeals of opposition critics were of a character that most people thought Canada had outgrown. "They were actually calculated to reveal me who had any breadth of view or idea of manliness. They probably did." Mr. Fleming, who last year succeeded to the premiership on Mr. Hazen's retirement, has achieved a triumph in his complete rejection of the narrowness and meanness of the Liberal opposition. He is learning that in connection with the governmental administration of their affairs the work which in character and results most nearly approaches that of an efficiently managed business institution is that which is of greatest public benefit, and that which should be encouraged.

Pugsley's Baneful Influence.
Naturally the outcome of the election will have some effect on federal politics. The leaders of the Liberal party at Ottawa have been looking to the provinces for signs that would encourage them in hoping that they will soon be restored to power in the Dominion. They will find none in New Brunswick this year. Mr. Pugsley and his associates were concerned in the content, and made some remarkably inaccurate predictions as to what the result would be. They, also, will lose, and it will be well. Mr. Pugsley is a man about whose ability there is no question. He also has personal qualities that add to his strength as a public man and a parliamentarian. He represents too many unwholesome ideas and practices, however, and as his influence goes down the standard of public life is likely to go up. As leading representative of the federal opposition in New Brunswick and a participant in the campaign he will suffer by his party's overthrow in the provincial field, and no one outside of the party needs to care. The Laurier star is still sinking in the East.

PUGSLEY SECTION RESPONSIBLE

(Quebec Chronicle.)
The verdict of the New Brunswickers makes it plain that they considered the opposition campaign to be as shameless as it was trivial and ridiculous. The sweep in New Brunswick is about on a par with the recent result in British Columbia. Following, as it does, on the heels of the Laurier banquet, it shows the holowness of the liberal boasting that was so much in evidence on that occasion. The defeat of Mr. Pugsley's figurehead, Mr. Copp, is significant. Had the liberal party in the Maritime Province dissociated itself from the Pugsley section, the probability is that it would have made a better showing. The idea of any party laying claim to all the virtues when it is betrayed by such influences is preposterous, and the electorate evidently took this view of the situation.

A disgraceful feature of these elections was the way in which the Laurierites, through the agency of the apostle of race hatred, Le Soleil, and certain Quebec politicians, raised the race and religious cry. This will be a lesson to them. The liberals who hope to return to power by inflaming Quebec against the other provinces may learn in time that they are doing Quebec inestimable harm.

MAKING IT UNANIMOUS.

(Montreal Star.)
Our provinces have fallen into the habit of "making it unanimous" for the government; and New Brunswick has "got the habit." Where the only issues are those of administration, this is very natural; though, as was pointed out before, it is always a wise thing for a people to provide themselves with an effective opposition. The best administrators will be all the better for a little close watching and sharp criticism. So long, however, as people feel that a government is likely to show "warm sympathy" upon its friends and opponents, this tendency to vote for the "sure winners" will last. The Fleming administration in New Brunswick has been giving the citizens of that fine and promising province good government, and their return to power was certain. Nominally, it is Coalition Government; but from the day when Mr. Blair went to Ottawa, the nature of the coalition has been largely one party. Under Mr. Blair's successors, it is liberal; and now it is conservative.

A MINISTRY OF ABILITY.

(Montreal Herald, Lib.)
The elections in New Brunswick have resulted as most people expected in the return of the Fleming government. The issues which were fought were purely local, and the decision which they have registered is not of much significance outside New Brunswick. Mr. Copp has not only suffered a party defeat but a personal one in his own constituency. His fight against the Pugsley ministry, a ministry of ability including men of much more experience in political affairs with the prestige of a federal government to support them, was, however, expected that on a couple of issues there would be a gain of some seats to the opposition. That there was not is not only due to the ability of Mr. Fleming but to the shrewdness of the people who believe in a close alliance between the provincial and federal governments.

The desire for that alliance is shown clearly by the result in St. John City. That constituency last September returned a liberal in the person of the Hon. Mr. Pugsley to the federal parliament, but returned a full conservative ticket to the provincial house. The Hon. John Morrissey, too, who was one of the successful Fleming candidates in Northumberland county and is a member of the Fleming government, supported Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the general election.

It needs something like an earthquake to overturn a government in the Maritime Provinces, more especially when that government is building a railway. The people there are canny in their politics and like to keep close to the party in power.

RACE CRY FAILED.

(L'Evenement, Con.)
The result of the elections in New Brunswick shows that there is a powerful current in favor of the principles of Conservation everywhere except in the Province of Quebec. The elections are grateful to Mr. Fleming's party for having put an end to the era of extravagance and scandals which flourished in the time of Mr. Pugsley. We are particularly happy to learn that the appeals to prejudice and the race cry have not succeeded in making our Acadian patriots forget their duty.

ENDS THE PUGSLEY DOMINATION.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)
This overwhelming endorsement of the past Conservative administration to hold office in 25 years completes the discomfiture of the Pugsley influence in provincial affairs. Four years ago the voters turned the Robinson government's majority of 28 into a Hazen majority of 24. Liberals joined hands freely with Conservatives to overthrow that government and end the Pugsley domination. Throughout this campaign Mr. Pugsley was an energetic campaigner for Leader Copp. Besides the ex-minister of public works, Hon. Mr. Emmerson, Mr. Carvell, M.P., and other Ottawa political lights worked strenuously on opposition platforms to revive the old-time party strength and rehabilitate themselves provincially. But they were burdened with the incubus of their own discredit. Deprived of accustomed power as the dispensers of patronage, and of contracts, they proved ineffective campaigners. The opposition imported from Quebec French speakers to appeal on behalf of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, for the votes of the Acadians. Everything possible was done to recover prestige for Laurierism and to make believe that it was again in the ascendant.

The opposition leader, Mr. Copp, played for votes with a platform more spectacular than convincing. He declared for cheap rural telephones, and hydro-electric development to give power at cost to manufacturers and farmers, and other beneficent projects that would entail a huge and needless expenditure. His main criticism of the government was that it was too liberal in its expenditure. In one breath he cried about too much extravagance, and in the next urged unprecedented expenditure. But the mirage deceived few voters. They were satisfied that true progress must begin with the most necessary things, and that the Fleming government was doing those things to the utmost of the provincial resources.

DEATH-BLOW TO PUGSLEYISM.

(Toronto News.)
The particular significance of yesterday's result in New Brunswick is that it gives the death-blow to Pugsleyism and all its corrupt hopes. The Blue Nose Province has given Mr. Fleming carte blanche to continue the good government instituted by the Hazen Ministry. As Mr. O. S. Crockett, M. P., told the Toronto Canadian Club recently, New Brunswick is just beginning to come into its own, and no interference with the beneficent operations of the National Policy is desired. For that reason yesterday's sweep may be regarded as in a sense a fresh vindication of the Borden Government and its handling of public affairs. Clearly the sentiments of the electorate are still adverse to Laurier-Fleming ideals, and there is hope that even Saskatchewan may line up with Ontario, British Columbia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, and Manitoba in support of a united Confederation.

SIGNIFICANT.

(Toronto World, Con.)
Premier Fleming's sweeping victory in New Brunswick is significant. When Mr. Hazen carried the province in 1908 he fell heir to all the evils which had accumulated under the long Blair-Emmerson-Tweedie-Pugsley regime. While the battle was largely fought and won on provincial issues,

It will also be regarded as an expression of confidence in the Federal administration as represented by the Conservative leaders in New Brunswick. Had the result been different, a great deal would have been claimed for it by the liberal press as indicating a drift of opinion in the Maritime Provinces against the Borden Government.

VICTORY DESERVED.

(Toronto Telegram.)
Quebec's provincial election was the Caesar to which the continentalists appealed for support to their hopes of a Laurier restoration, and into the Caesar of a New Brunswick election the continentalists must go and have their chances of a Laurier restoration weighed in the balance of the New Brunswick results.
The moral foundations of New Brunswick Liberalism must have been destroyed under Sir Wilfrid Laurier. New Brunswick Liberalism was held together by the cohesive power of public plunder. When the foundations were destroyed, the unrighteous went down in the disaster that yesterday left the adherents of Laurierism without a witness in the New Brunswick legislature.

FRUITS OF PROGRESSIVE POLICY.

(Hamilton Spectator.)
The victory of the Fleming administration in New Brunswick is even more sweeping than was anticipated. And now that constructive programme may proceed which will make that interesting province one of the most flourishing in the Dominion. It should have been so long since. The lethargy of ages is disappearing.
The St. John valley will soon be threaded by a railway which will bring the pulse of a broader life into a fertile but comparatively neglected region. The ready-made farms to be provided by the government will set many a settler on the way to a competence with a minimum of the discomfort of "roughing it in the bush." Forest wealth will be turned to account for the benefit of a main industry. The mineral deposits of the north and northeast counties will be developed. The city of St. John will become a center of transportation and ship building.

PEOPLE WELL SATISFIED.

(Hamilton Herald, Ont.)
New Brunswick people appear to be well satisfied with the sort of government they have been getting under Mr. Hazen and his successor, Premier Fleming. In the provincial elections yesterday the Fleming government secured 40 of the 48 seats in the legislature. Only two Liberals were elected, and the leader of the opposition swept the green, only one lone Liberal from Madawaska, having been returned. Nova Scotia will be the next to fall into line for progressive government.

A GOOD ROADS POLICY.

(Ottawa Journal.)
Ottawa City Council can find a lesson in the New Brunswick election. A good roads policy makes for popularity; so does good transportation.

THE DAY OF RECKONING.

(Yarmouth Times, N. S.)
Premier Fleming has swept the province from north and south, east and west. Only two Liberals were returned. They are saying today that we only have escaped to tell the tale, and a sad tale it is for Liberalism. All the Liberal candidates in St. John city and county lost their deposits, but one, and doubtless he is thankful that he saved his money. Probably he is a wiser and thankful man. The full returns show that forty-two Conservatives and two Liberals and two Independents were elected. The conservative majorities were astonishingly large but we refrain from commenting on them.

In the light of these results one finds the reading of the St. John Liberal press on Wednesday last highly amusing. Here are a few of the marvelous things the St. John Evening Times had to say in its Wednesday issue. We quote a few: "Campaign ends with certainty of victory;" "Death knell of inefficient dishonest Conservative government is sounded;" "Six Liberal seats in St. John city and county assured;" "Copp and his Liberal followers will sweep the province from shore to shore;" "Well we hope that the St. John Times has got its satisfy for publishing such rot. The result of the New Brunswick Liberal press was to elect two Liberals. As the old saying has it—since Lizzie Withers was full of splinters, had twenty doctors causing quivers, I don't think I ever auto anymore. We presume that the feeling of the prophets of Baal in our sister province.

The return of the Fleming Government was assured from the first. The Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries, left a splendid record behind him when he entered the federal cabinet. His successor took up a work already planned by an able administrator. Premier Fleming has shown himself to be the right man in the right place. He has easily put to flight the enemies that beset him, and no man could possibly have a more flattering testimonial to public confidence and esteem than the premier of New Brunswick received yesterday at the hands of the electors.

The mills of the gods grind slowly, but they grind exceeding small. So has it come to pass in our sister province. The liberals are reaping now the fruits of the seeds planted by such men as Hon. Wm. Pugsley, and L. J. Tweedie. These men went a warfare not at their own charges, but at the expense of the liberal party, and the day of reckoning has come.

ADVICE TO THE GRITS.

(Amherst News.)
It is all over but the shouting. There are not as many grits left in New Brunswick as there were right-o-men in Sodom. Horse foot and artillery went down in a smashing defeat yesterday. The opposition was not defeated. It was simply annihilated. It met its Waterloo, its Bull Run and its Sedan all at once. We never for a moment anticipated the defeat of the Fleming government, but we really thought that there was a genuine fight going on in New Brunswick, and that it might be possible for the Liberal forces to hold their own, but they did not hold anything except a pair of two spots in one of the "way back" counties of the province.
How the grits could persuade them selves into the idea that they had a show of winning is past our ken. In the first place there is a tendency in all the provinces to hold on to any fairly decent government. The Liberals had over a quarter of a century in Ontario. They have had thirty years in Nova Scotia. They have had twenty years in Prince Edward Island, and they have had a long period of power in Quebec. They were in office for a good many years in New Brunswick.

To the grits of New Brunswick we heartily commend a careful study of Robert Service's philosophical poem "Grit," the opening stanza of which reads:
"If you're up against a bruiser and you're getting knocked about
Grit
If you're feeling pretty groggy and you're licked beyond a doubt
Grit
Don't let him see you're finking; let him know with every clink
Grit
Though your face is battered to a pulp, your blooming heart is stout."
Just stand upon your pins until the beggar knocks you out and you're and you're

NOVA SCOTIA NEXT.

(Windsor Tribune, N. S.)
Yesterday, in the provincial elections in Nova Scotia, the opposition swept the green, only one lone Liberal from Madawaska, having been returned. Nova Scotia will be the next to fall into line for progressive government.

ANOTHER LANDSLIDE.

(Sydney Post, C. B.)
The provincial elections held in New Brunswick resulted in an overwhelming triumph for the Fleming government. The returns indicate that only two Liberals survived the great Conservative landslide which swept the province from end to end. Premier Fleming's party will number at least 42 and probably 46 in a house of 48 members. Such a smashing party victory is without precedent in the political history of New Brunswick, and but few parallels can be found for it in any of the other provinces of Canada.
The almost unanimous endorsement which the Fleming government has thus received from the electors of New Brunswick is a fitting reward for

Keeps the Skin Clear and Soft

Humors of the skin are especially present in the spring. There is nothing more annoying than to have eruptions breaking out to mar the beauty of the complexion.
Internal treatments are slow and unsatisfactory in results, but you can depend on Dr. Chase's Ointment to heal up the sores and bring lasting relief. Unlike pore-clogging powders Dr. Chase's Ointment cleans out the pores of the skin and makes it soft, smooth and healthy. It is a food for the skin, and a beautifier of the greatest value.
Eczema, salt rheum, psoriasis, chafing and all forms of itching skin disease soon yield to the soothing, healing influence of this well-known ointment. It is indispensable in the home where there are babies and young children.

four years of clean, able and progressive administration. Mr. Fleming not only has a good record as a public administrator to ensure him success at the polls. He had also the advantage of the Liberal-Conservative wave which started last September, and has been since sweeping over the country with steadily increasing force.
Judging by the cheerfulness and apparent optimism with which the New Brunswick Liberals went into the fight, they had not yet learned to appreciate what it means to try to make headway against the tide. However, they will no doubt learn to understand it more fully in the course of the next ten or fifteen years.

AN UTTER ROUT.

(Winnipeg Telegram.)
The liberal opposition in New Brunswick came out of yesterday's election forlorn remnants of a once strong and vigorous party. It was more than defeat; it was an utter rout, which, so far as the opposition in the legislature is concerned, means virtual extinction. The result is flattering to Premier Fleming and his government, yet it was nothing more than just recognition of the services they have rendered their province.

HONEST GOVERNMENT RECOGNIZED.

(Vancouver Province, Con.)
While this is a party victory, it is also a recognition of the capable and upright administration organized by Mr. Hazen four years ago and continued by Mr. Fleming after Mr. Hazen took office at Ottawa. This ministry found the affairs of the province in bad shape. The previous government had cheerfully disregarded business principles and in other ways deceived the people.

THE ONLY PARALLEL.

(Truro Citizen.)
About the only parallel which Canadian political history affords for Thursday's doings in New Brunswick is the sweep which Sir Richard McBride made in British Columbia at the last elections.

EXPECTED AND UNEXPECTED

(Truro News.)
The expected, independent of the assertions of a few outrageously lying party newspapers, happened in New Brunswick on the 20th when Premier Fleming was returned to power; but the unexpected, when the Liberal contingent in the legislature was cut down from thirteen to probably two.

Home For Incubables. The monthly meeting of the women's aid committee of the Home for Incubables will be held at the home this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Work on the New Army. Good progress is being made with the work on the army, and the walls have been raised to the height of one story.

Band Concert Tonight. The Carleton Cornet Band will play a concert tonight on Tilly Square, West End. The band has prepared a choice programme for the occasion. This will be the first open air concert of the season to be held on the West Side.

New Official May Be Appointed. It is expected that the local government at its meeting today will appoint a superintendent of immigration to succeed A. B. Wilnot, who goes to Fredericton on July 1st, to assume the position of Dominion immigration agent for New Brunswick.

Sparks-Calvin. Rev. B. H. Nobles was the officiating clergyman at an interesting event on Saturday evening when Lemuel Sparks was united in marriage to Miss Bertina Calvin. The ceremony took place at the new home of the happy couple on Metcalf street. Fred Morrow officiated as groomsmen while Miss Doris Calvin, two nieces of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. The happy couple received many handsome presents.

Died in the Hospital. The death occurred on Saturday afternoon at the Public Hospital of Otto S. Bacon, son of Nelson Bacon, of 47 Millidge Avenue, in the 11th year of his age. The deceased was hurt in the eye by a stick some days ago and after an operation had been performed meningitis set in from which death occurred. A service was held last evening at his father's home. The remains will be taken to Brown's Place for interment today.

Circus Passed Through. The Union depot was thronged with crowds of curious people last evening when the circus train carrying Colonel Frances Ferrar's large show stopped for a short time on its journey from Bangor to Moncton. When the train stopped hungry circus people to the number of two hundred swarmed into the nearest restaurants to the delight of the owners. This circus after playing in Moncton will go to Halifax returning here for Old Home Week.

Police Reports. Saturday night, Kilpatrick was called into a Brook street house to quell a disturbance and on Saturday night Officer Ross was called to a house on Harding street to quell a disturbance. A sum of money was found on the ferry steamer Saturday by Fred Menzies, who handed it to Policeman Clark, and the owner can receive the same on application to the officer. Policeman Sullivan on Saturday found a chauffeur's badge on Charlotte street, and the owner can receive the same on application at the central police station.

Main Street Baptist Picnic. The members of Main street Baptist Sunday school held their annual picnic at Robesay on Saturday. The weather was ideal and the children and their friends turned out in large crowds to enjoy the day. During the day races were held for the children and suitable prizes awarded. The young men of the church engaged in a friendly game of baseball during the afternoon. Those not interested in races and baseball, spent a pleasant day along the sands, where so that everybody enjoyed themselves. The picnic was one of the most successful held by the Sunday school in recent years.

Labor Official Coming Here. President Waters of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada who has been engaged in organizing work in Nova Scotia is expected in the city in a day or so. He was in Moncton Saturday and this morning goes to Hillsboro to form a union of workers there. He will probably arrive here tomorrow and spend some days in the city assisting the local unions in enlarging their membership. Mr. Waters has had an interesting time in Cape Breton where he has been the object of much solicitude on the part of the detectives of the big corporations there.

No Great Labor Demand. There is no great demand for labor as yet in connection with the work of Courtenay Bay. Owing to the arrival of the big steam shovel for excavation work at the dry dock, it is understood some of the men will be laid off this week to wait for further developments when their services may be required. Labor saving machinery is to be used on work as far as possible and quite a number of men who have come here in the expectation of getting work at Courtenay Bay have been disappointed. At the same time there seems to be a fair demand for unskilled labor about the city as quite a number of men have recently come here from the State of Maine and found jobs without any trouble.

SERVICES IN HONOR OF ST. JOHN'S DAY

Eloquent Sermon by Rev. Fr. Conyers, in Mission Church—Civic Representatives Present by Invitation.

A special service in honor of St. John the Baptist was held in the Mission Church of St. John Baptist in the City of St. John in the County of St. John last evening. Rev. Father Conyers preached an appropriate and interesting sermon. He pointed out that St. John's Day had been marked by several interesting events in the history of Canada. It was generally held that it was on St. John's Day in 1497 that John Cabot had discovered Canada. St. John's day in 1610 marked the beginning of the settlement in Canada. St. John's day in 1610 marked the beginning of the settlement in Canada. St. John's day in 1610 marked the beginning of the settlement in Canada.

Continuing the speaker said the thoughts suggested by the occasion would naturally have to do with the Mission church as a religious organization, and with the city of St. John as a social organization. He pointed out that in his revelations St. John pictured heaven as a church with symbolical features and also as a city, and what it stands for in our life.

It was our duty, he said, to see that St. John has no conditions that prevent his people forming the habits that will fit them for life. In high heaven. The city was different from the country in that it brings men in close union and connection and forces certain social duties and privileges upon them. It was therefore a secondary duty of religious men to make the city such that its conditions would facilitate a life of holiness, and remove hindrances to good citizenship, independence, self interest and party spirit. Indolence prevents us making a study of civic problems, or a personal examination of civic conditions. It knows nothing, for instance, of the poverty existing in St. John. Within a hundred yards of the church you could find God's poor, whose poverty is sanctified by Christ's saying, "Blessed is the poor," and you may also find the Devil's poor, those who are in poverty because of their sins.

All of us, said the preacher, were responsible for the surroundings which made for sin and poverty. One afternoon on Boston common, where every theory under the sun is preached, an anarchist pointing to me said: "There goes one of the black robed allies of the police tyranny." Was there not a certain measure of truth in the statement that clergymen are allies of the police. The police try to stop stealing and other crimes by arrest and force. We try to convert men and use the power of conscience to keep them in the right path. In conclusion the preacher pointed out that everybody should know something about his city, and that those in authority are responsible for the good order and peace of the community, should have the support of public opinion in all their actions directed towards the good of the city. Representatives of the city were present at the service by special invitation.

FUSILIERS HEARD SOME GOOD ADVICE

Annual Church Parade of 62nd Regiment Yesterday—Rev. E. B. Hooper Preached Practical Sermon to Men.

The annual church parade of the 62nd St. John Fusiliers was held yesterday morning when the regiment, under command of Lt. Col. J. L. McAvity marched to St. Paul's church where the regimental chaplain, Rev. E. B. Hooper, preached the sermon from the text, "Many members yet but one body."

In opening his sermon Rev. Mr. Hooper spoke of the pleasure it gave him to address the regiment and cordially welcomed them to the church where for a few brief moments he could speak to them in the name of the common Lord and Master. Continuing the speaker said he looked back with much pleasure and satisfaction to the splendid service on the 11th of June a year ago when he had spoken to them on the inspiration which the color of their uniform is to them and said that the red coated regiments of British Infantry had largely contributed to the extending and strengthening of the British Empire.

Rev. Mr. Hooper then spoke to the regiment on the good record which they made for themselves in Boston and went on to say he felt sure they would keep up the good work while at Camp Sussex during the present training season. In military as well as in religious life the words of the text must be borne in mind, so in a regiment the highest state of efficiency and conduct can only be reached when each officer and man comprising the regiment has attained to that high standard himself. Side by side with these qualifications there must be regimental pride or these high standards will never be reached. In many of the greatest battles of the British Empire it was the pride of the regiments that saved the day for England. Therefore have a great pride in the fact as near as possible the crack regiment of Canada.

Rev. Mr. Hooper then complimented the regiment on the showing which they made on the occasion of their march out during the past week and said that it was the best marching he had seen in the city. In closing, Rev. Mr. Hooper spoke of the necessity of faithfully obeying all orders and said he expected to hear that they had been complimented for their good work at Sussex by the general officer commanding.

SHOULD A CHRISTIAN GO TO THEATRE?

Rev. Mr. Mahood Contends that Answer Rests Entirely with the Individual Rather than His Church.

Rev. H. S. Mahood preached an interesting sermon in the Congregational church last evening when he discussed on "Should a Christian go to the theatre?" In opening the address Rev. Mr. Mahood pointed out that there was strong argument for both sides of the question and went on to deal thoroughly with each phase.

The instinct to play, said the speaker, is God given; this is proved by the children who just as soon as they learn to talk play house and take sides if a war happens to be in progress. Continuing, Rev. Mr. Mahood said plays such as Shakespeare's are a great aid in the work of the church as they make the world vastly richer and grander. In the early ages the stage was closely connected with the church, both going forth hand in hand to the task of saving humanity. In 67 A. D. the theatres were considered a part of the church, a condition which continued up till 77 A. D. when certain deparures were made in the character of the stage which caused the alliance to be broken. Since that time the church and stage have been widely separated.

When taking up the negative side of the question, Rev. Mr. Mahood pointed out that never in the history of the stage had the standard of the theatres been so high as the old Grecian days but if these plays were reproduced they would receive very small patronage. Continuing, Rev. Mr. Mahood stated that all the old writers had written articles condemning the theatres. He further said that many of the old actors had refused to allow their children to take up their profession. Continuing the speaker said if any person desired to go to a theatre, it rested with that person's conscience. If any man can go to a theatre feeling it is right to do so, the theatre will not do that man any harm. A matter of this kind must be settled by the man alone because only his conscience is concerned. In closing the speaker pointed out that if the people kept their hearts clean and honest the earth would be turned into a heavenly one and that would not be necessary to worry about the after life.

TRINITY PICNIC WAS ENJOYABLE

Train Loads of Happy Children Spent Pleasant Day at Westfield Beach—Results of the Sports.

The Trinity church Sunday school picnic was held last Saturday when crowds of happy youngsters thoroughly enjoyed a day in the country at Westfield Beach. The train left the city at 9:30 bearing hundreds of kiddies whose faces shone with joy, anticipating the good time to come. Nor were they disappointed, as during the whole day games and sports followed one another in quick succession. At one o'clock another train left the city taking all who could not go by the first train. When this train arrived at the good time grounds luncheon was served, after which the sports were held. During the afternoon two baseball games were played, one between the Trinity Scout Troop and the St. James Scout Troop, and the other between the M. R. A. team and the Y. M. A. of the church.

In the first game the St. James' boys won by a score of 7 to 1, after a hotly contested fight. The batteries were: St. James, Murray and Scott; Trinity, Smith and Shaw. The second game was won by the M. R. A. team by a score of 10 to 3. The batteries were: for the winners, Morrissey and Cooper, and for the losers, Smith and Jones. The games were greatly enjoyed by those present, supper being served at the close of the day. The chairs and tables per baskets were packed, the return train arriving in town at about 5 o'clock.

ANGLIN SEAT SALE OPENS THIS MORNING

At 8:30 this morning, the seat sale for the Margaret Anglin performance, July 1st, 2nd and 3rd, with holiday matinee, Monday, will begin. White Lingerie Dresses. Everyone telling P. A. Dykeman and Co., that they are showing the prettiest white lingerie dresses that are shown in any store in St. John makes them enthusiastic over that stock. The reason of it is that a large lot of the dresses were purchased from a New York house at a big reduction in the price. They are a good and trim style with time taking ideas which would make one think the dresses are worth double what they are priced, from $2.98 to $16. The ones that are most popular are those priced $5.25 and $6.39. The latter being made from allover Hamburg of very fine quality, while the former is made from a Swiss embroidery with a wide Swiss embroidery flourish and the waist made from the same embroidery, the yoke being very finely tucked of sheer Swiss lawn.
