RAILWAY BY-LAW PASSES COUNCIL BY AN OVERWHELMING MAJORITY

When it came to a vote, the Mayor and Aldermen Hess and Minshall Alone Opposed It - City Solicitor Henderson Gave Frank Statement to the Council on Whole Matter and Told Aldermen He Would Assume No Further Responsibility.

THE VOTE

Bragg-Dowling - That the by-law be passed.
Yes - Ald. Ward, Freeborn, Jennings, Pitcher, Harp, Ballantyne, Mellen, Wiley, Welsh, Dowling, 10.
Nays - Mayor Bowby, Ald. Hess and Minshall.
Ald. Bragg and Ald. A. O. Secord did not vote.

The opposition to the Railway By-law collapsed last night at the Special Meeting of the Council to consider the matter. When it came to actual voting the Mayor and Aldermen Hess and Minshall stood out, a lonely show, against an overwhelming number of yeas, amounting to ten. Ald. Bragg, who moved the third reading, did not vote, since, though opposed to the by-law he thought the will of the people as shown at the polls should be carried out. Ald. A. O. Secord declared himself in a similar strain and also refrained from voting. The only absentee from the meeting was Ald. P. H. Secord who is on a vacation to the Southern States. It is understood he favored the by-law. The meeting lasted an hour and a great deal was said in that time. Most of the aldermen expressed their views while City Solicitor Henderson, who appeared in khaki as head of the new service, told the council quite frankly that the running of the road under present conditions put the city constantly under danger of a wreck, and that the council would have to assume the responsibility as he washed his hands of the whole affair. He told the council they should retain the road it was their "bounden duty" to repair it immediately, and cease operating it until it was in repair. Possibly the effect of his statement to the council can best be summed up in the words of Ald. Wiley in closing the debate. "In face of the facts given by the city solicitor we should get rid of the road."

The opposition was led by the Mayor who made a vigorous speech against the proposal and in fact, the only one, as Ald. Hess did not speak except to ask a question, while Ald. Minshall only explained briefly he was for the by-law until the meeting was over. The Mayor's speech was so full of feeling of another alderman, this time Ald. Dowling, and at one time it looked as if the chairman of the Finance committee was going to appeal to the council to protect him from being interrupted by the Mayor, while he had the floor. However, the matter was smoothed over by the city solicitor, Henderson exchanged compliments, but otherwise the whole affair was very peaceful. Railway Commissioners Turnbull and Calbeck were present taking in the debate.

WHY THE SPECIAL SESSION
After City Clerk, Col. Leonard had stated that the object of the meeting was to consider the third reading of the railway by-law, Ald. Ward rose to enquire why a special meeting had been called at all. The matter had been laid over for two weeks and now there appeared to be quite a rush to get the thing settled.

"I had no hand or part in it," said the Mayor.
Ald. Ward proceeded to say that the matter of ascertaining the legality of the by-law was why it was left over, so that the aldermen would have time to find out about it. He could not quite understand why a special meeting was called.

THE EXPLANATION
The Mayor explained for the benefit of Ald. Ward that Mr. Henderson had solicited the chairman of the railway committee to call a meeting of the committee so that he could put

Landwehr to Lausanne

123rd Battalion There to Stop Any Further Disturbances.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Paris, Jan. 29.—A battalion of the 123rd landwehr has been sent to Lausanne at the request of the state council of the canton of Vaud, Camille De Coppet, president of the Swiss federal council, has been delegated by the federal council to proceed to Lausanne to discuss the situation which has arisen in that city as a result of the hostile demonstration during which the German flag was raised by the German consul, on the occasion of Emperor William's birthday on January 27, was torn down by a crowd of the city council in this regard with the state council of Vaud.

The city of Lausanne is now calm. The landwehr soldiers on arrival were greeted with cheers for the Swiss army and cries of "down with spies." The Lausanne city council has issued an appeal to the inhabitants to live up to their traditions of orderliness and decorous conduct.

NO ULTIMATUM TO GERMANY

Secretary Lansing States Lusitania Affair Stands As It Did.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Secretary of State Lansing today denied publication of a new draft of the United States proposed agreement which embodied a definite answer on whether it intends to disavow the sinking of the Lusitania.

At the state department it was declared that the Lusitania negotiations remain just where they stood early in the week when Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, transmitted to Berlin a new draft of the proposed agreement which embodied all the points for which the United States contends.

There could be no new move officially declared, until the German foreign office had passed upon it. The new draft was made by Count Von Bernstorff, immediately after a conference with Secretary Lansing, and many shall disavow the destruction of the ship, and acknowledge as a matter of law the rights of the neutrals who were lost. On this point the state department officials declared.

Secretary Lansing merely flatly denied that any date had been set as the limit for Germany's reply. "Do state department officials declared they had no indication of when they would hear from Berlin."

ADVANCE ON SUEZ WITHOUT DELAY IS WHAT TURKS AND GERMAN WANT

One For All, All For One

Henceforth Replies to U. S. on Blockade in Name of Allies.

New York, Jan. 29.—The London correspondent of The New York Herald cables this morning as follows:
"I am in a position to state that henceforth in all matters, including the blockade, the seizure of contraband mails, the submarine policy and other moot questions, replies to notes from the United States and other neutrals will be in the name of all the allies, including even Belgium, Serbia and Montenegro, that France, Russia and Italy and Great Britain accept full and joint responsibility for all war measures, and that the motto of the allies from now until the end of the war will be that of the three guardsmen, 'one for all, all for one.'"

Jules H. Ford, an international swimmer, better known as "Doc Waterbury," pleaded guilty to grand larceny in New York.

Three Objectives of Hun-Islam Alliance are Persia, the Caucasus and Egypt - Hun Officers Don Civilian Clothes in Constantinople so as Not to Offend Natives - Germany Teaching Turks Points on Modern Farming.

London, Jan. 29.—All Turkish as well as German sentiment is for an immediate advance on the Suez canal to-day in describing further impressions gained on his trip to the Balkans. Owing to his dark complexion and because of his perfect knowledge of the German language, which are the mediums of communication between the German and French, which are the mediums of communication between the Persians and the Turks.

The correspondent says the three Turco-German objectives are Persia, the Caucasus and Egypt. Regarding the advance of the British toward Baghdad, a prominent Turk is quoted as having said to the correspondent: "We were very frightened when we heard the British were coming, as our defences were in bad condition and contained only a few old guns. But when spies told us that General Townshend's force was small we took courage and held it in check until reinforcements arrived. Now, thanks to their reinforcements are too late." A German interviewed said the inactivity of the entente allies in the west had enabled the Germans to menace the lines of communication to the India. As a curious instance of the diplomacy of the Germans, the correspondent relates the appearance of officers in the streets of Constantinople in civilian clothes, when ordinarily they never leave their uniforms. On German officer explained this fact by saying, "we do not want the Galata bridge to look like Unter Den Linden all the time." The correspondent says he saw three hundred French prisoners at Konieh, Asia Minor, who were totally neglected. They had little food, he described as filthy beyond description. The lack of food was due to a general food shortage. Germans, says the correspondent, are everywhere speeding up the Turkish railway system, and are commencing to teach these Turkish farmers and who had come to the train to hear the latest gossip. The correspondent also met German commercial men, engineers and military officers at every turn bent on Germanizing Turkey. The railways in Turkey are described as good but slow. Everywhere the correspondent saw long trains filled with new railway telephones and bridge materials and numbers of great locomotives, which were said to be destined for the new line to the Suez canal.

"Certainly," says the correspondent, "the Germans have spurred the Turks to enormous activity along military and industrial lines."

EVOLUTION OF BRITAIN'S TORPEDO BOAT DESTROYER

THREE STAGES IN THE EVOLUTION OF THE T.B.D. SPECIAL DRAWING FROM THE SPHERE
Above are shown three stages in the evolution of the British torpedo boat destroyer. In the first place, these boats were created to counter the menace of the large torpedo boat which Germany was feverishly constructing at the time of the building of England's first torpedo boat destroyer. From this the destroyer rapidly grew in size and the time of the building of England's first torpedo boat destroyer. PROGRESS OF EVENTS CHANGES WILSON'S VIEWS

His Speech in New York a Warning to His Countrymen.
VIEWS OF BRITISH PRESS
Impossible That His Words Are Merely Rhetorical.

By special Wire to the Courier.
London, Jan. 29.—Commenting editorially on President Wilson's speech before the Railway Business Association in New York on Thursday night, The Daily Graphic says:
"The progress of events has convinced President Wilson that he cannot continue to take a limited view of the duty of his country. He has a great opportunity. If the United States decides to stand before the world as a defender of the rights of humanity it may alter the history of mankind for generations to come."

The Standard says:
"If there are any warnings to be found in his words it is to the people of America rather than to either of the belligerents. His intention is to arouse his countrymen to the fact that neither the Monroe doctrine nor any other doctrine is of material value unless the power exists behind it to enforce its principles."

Dealing with President Wilson's statement, "I cannot tell you what the international relations of the country will be tomorrow." The Daily News in its editorial says:
"Uttered by a man of the president's almost pedantic precision of speech, it is impossible to treat such words as a mere rhetorical flourish. It is dressed to only one quarter.
"The lofty language in which the whole passage is couched would be ridiculous if applied to any but the very gravest offences committed by very formidable offenders. When President Wilson says the Americans are ready to fight for vindication of character and honor he is clearly concerned with more serious issues than mail bags."

The Daily News then reviews Germany's actions with regard to the Lusitania note from the United States and what it terms Austria's similar course in her submarine warfare, and declares the result has been "to degrade, however, unjustly, in the eyes of both neutral and belligerent nations the principles on which America took her stand and the sincerity of her own belief in them."
"It is impossible," The Daily News continues, "that President Wilson does not know this and hear about it. It was always certain that he would make a strong effort to reaffirm his compromised position."
"But President Wilson is on firm ground in his declaration that these are things more important even than peace. Provocation in his case has passed the uttermost limit. If his unexemplified patience is indeed exhausted it does not lie in anybody's mouth to say it is wrong to take the action he has so strenuously sought to avoid."

ALL HOPE GIVEN UP FOR SAFETY OF S.S. APPAM
Boat Sank Probably About Sixteenth Day of January.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Jan. 29.—The mystery of the British and African Navigation Company's liner Appam, takes first place in the news of the morning papers to-day, and they all agree that the prospect that she will ever come into port may now be regarded as hopeless.
Shipping experts believe the steamer sank about the 16th of January northwest of Madeira. From the prevailing winds it is figured that the catastrophe occurred some distance north of the point where the lifeboat was found. At the London office of the Elder-Dempster Line, agents of the steamer, the belief was expressed that the total loss of life would aggregate 301—87 first class and 81 second class passengers, and 130 members of the crew.
St. Paul spent $11,000,000 on new buildings in 1915.

DUG TUNNEL WITH HANDS TO ESCAPE PRISON CAMP

These four German reservists were prisoners of war in a British detention camp at Amherst, Nova Scotia, for eighteen months. Two or three hours each night they slowly dug a tunnel underground, taking out a handful of dirt at a time and hiding it. Then, their task completed, they made their dash for freedom in the United States.

on having obtained the necessary entrance certificates, and teachers in training at the Normal schools or the Faculties of Education who also enlist for overseas service will, on application to their department on their return be admitted to one session of a Normal School or Faculty of Education the former at the beginning of the session, and the latter about the same date as that of their enlistment, with exemption from fees and with an allowance for travelling expenses and an allowance at the rate of $2 per week for board and lodging for one session.

The only condition attached is that both classes of applicants must agree to teach in the provincial schools of Ontario for at least three years after having obtained their professional certificates, or to reimburse the Department of Education at the rate of one-third of the total financial aid for each unexpired year.

Help to Make Her Dream Come True SHE is one of some Three Million Belgians who, since they refused to sell their honor to Germany, have lived on the brink of starvation. A thriving industrial people, used to life's comforts, they have been reduced to a state where they dream, not of luxuries or pleasures, but of having enough to eat! True to their character as the war has unmasked it, the Germans callously refuse to help the starving. The task of feeding them has been undertaken by Belgium's Allies and Neutral Nations, through the Belgian Relief Fund provided by voluntary contributions and administered with wonderful economy and efficiency by a neutral Commission.

"John Bull Number"

It is significant of the feeling which exists among the thinking portion of the people of the United States at this time, with regard to the position of Great Britain in this war, that New York Life should issue a special edition under the title of the heading quoted above. Here is the opening poem:

"John Bullkins, my jo, John, When all is said and done, I've sometimes thought you right John, And often thought you wrong, We've had our little tiffs John; Yet, whether friend or foe, I've nursed a high regard for you John Bullkins, my jo."

The leading article says in part as follows:—"The backbone of the United States is made up precisely of the same materials as the backbone of the British Empire. It's English, Irish and Scotch."

Campaigning Will Be Active in the Spring

With the nearer approach of spring indications are multiplying of preparations for active campaigning on the various fronts. Such actual fighting, as is going on, however, while important, as that in France and Belgium, is apparently not indicative of the beginning as yet of any operations on a large scale.

Possibility of Revolution Breaking Out in Greece

The situation in the Balkans continues to excite marked interest, and there is increasing attention being given to developments in connection with Greece. The allies, for their part, have made a new move in making a landing on the Karaburun peninsula, near the head of the Gulf of Saloniki, occupying the Greek fort there. The move seems to have been dictated by strategic reason, it being considered undesirable by the Entente forces to have the position in other hands than their own.

The situation in the Balkans continues to excite marked interest, and there is increasing attention being given to developments in connection with Greece. The allies, for their part, have made a new move in making a landing on the Karaburun peninsula, near the head of the Gulf of Saloniki, occupying the Greek fort there.

LOSS OF LIFE HEAVY AT SAN DIEGO FLOOD

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 28.—The Coroner's early confirmed estimates that had placed the loss of life at 50 by the flood Thursday when the lower dam of the San Diego water system broke, are being revised.

Coroner Places It at 50, and Many Bodies Washed to Sea

When the lower dam of the Southern California mountain water company broke late Thursday, it released a flood of eleven billion gallons of water into the populous valley lying just south of here, devastating an area fifteen miles long and two miles wide. The property damage, it is believed, will reach $1,000,000.

Another Dam Near Breaking

Another dam continues to-day near the breaking point, threatening additional ruin to the valley. Scores of persons are reported missing, and it is believed that a number of bodies were carried out to sea.

Railway By-law

white elephant. Why was it a white elephant because it had been made one. If repaired, the question of it paying or not paying would drop out of sight.

NOT EVEN JUNK PRICE

Then there was the matter of municipal ownership. We should not get out of touch with the Hydro Radial. It would be the worst of policy to get rid of the possession of the railway. Furthermore, the price was not enough. It was not even the junk price. And what did the L. E. and N. get in return? The entrance to Galt and the entrance to Paris.

MR. HENDERSON'S ADDRESS

Mr. Henderson then addressed the council, explaining why he had asked for a special meeting. The way the matter had been left over at the last council meeting was not a safe way. Whether the road were sold or not, the evidence was overwhelming that it should be operated in its present condition.

TWO COURSES OPEN

There were two courses open: to sell the road, or put it in repair. How much it would cost to repair it, was a matter of some difference of opinion. But everybody knew the road had been built as cheaply as possible. It followed an hill and down dale the contour of the ground. Some parts of the right of way were private, other parts were of the city and other road bed was of the city and other parts were not in good condition and there was no ballast.

THE BOUNDEN DUTY

If the city continued to operate the line he wished the Council to assume the responsibility. There were two courses open as to what should be done. One was to sell. The other was to retain the road, and to do so was the bounden duty of the city. It was not a matter of choice, it was a matter of duty. It was not a matter of choice, it was a matter of duty.

BETTER THAN FRANCHISE

Mr. Henderson explained the city had had not. Part of the road was a private right of way. Part of it was in Galt. He did not think it would be better for the city to take over the cars in Galt, but it was under contract to take electric power in Galt for the railway from the Hydro Radial. It would have to go to commission, and pay for the road stopped running. As for Paris, the best franchise they had there—and it was really better than an accident giving by-law discovered by accident giving the original owners of the road rights to build on Paris streets—was that fact that the road was there and had been there for years, and the town had acquiesced in its operation and building and could not now object, since there was no date on which the franchise terminated. It might terminate if the road stopped operating.

THREE QUESTIONS

Ald. Wiley asked if the city had a franchise in Galt. The city had, was the reply of the city solicitor. Galt could not stop the city from running its cars there.

Mayor Bowley explained his opposition to the by-law in a vigorous speech. For the last six months, he stated, only one man was taking care of the road between Galt and Paris. A more flagrant case of neglect by the Board of Commissioners could not be found. The road was in such a condition that passengers would not ride upon it. Then they said it was a

ALLIES ONLY BEGINNING SAYS LLOYD GEORGE. By Spring Britain Will Have Four Million in the Field.

Paris, Jan. 29. -The Paris newspapers publish further excerpts from the interview yesterday of David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, with the London correspondent of the Milan Secolo, in which the minister was quoted as saying that the allies are only just beginning and that they are gaining now while Germany is weakening. The excerpts follow:

"We have at present 3,000,000 men under arms," said Mr. Lloyd George, according to the interviewer, "and by spring we shall have 4,000,000 of soldiers, solid, fit and well equipped."

"This is not a democratic war. If it was not I should have nothing to do with it. I was opposed to the last war that England engaged in but in the present war, the future of democracy in the whole world is involved. It is a final struggle between military autocracy and political liberty; a high-stakes conflict, but one wherein we are victorious."

"I foresee no difficulty in continuing the central empires have lost their chance of victory and they know it. Great Britain is better for this war to such a point that, if there is a general election not a single anti-war member would be elected."

"I foresee no difficulty in continuing the compulsory service. No fewer than 6,000,000 men came forward to enlist for the railroads and for the mines. About 380,000 men were affected by the compulsory service measure, but this number is diminishing through daily attestations."

"Do not be under any misapprehension," Mr. Lloyd-George is further quoted as saying, "Great Britain is determined to push the war to the end. We may make mistakes, but we never make a mistake in our determination to give in. It was British stubbornness which years of war. Our allies were overthrown by Napoleon after he fell away one by one, and England alone held on. This time our allies are as staunch and resolute as we are."

INSINUATIONS REFUTED FROM HIS OWN SIDE. Liberal Member Contradicts Charges of F. B. Carvell.

Ottawa, Jan. 29. -Another witness took the stand to-day to disprove the Carvell charges. This witness was a Liberal, Mr. Archie McCoig, the member for West Kent.

Each day sees the discomfiture of F. B. Carvell increased. Not one of his statements has been proved true, and he has been placed in command of battalions in his own country.

Mr. McCoig, speaking in the debate on the address in the Commons yesterday, declared pointedly that governmental considerations had not governed the granting of commissions in his siding. He cited cases of Liberals who had been placed in command of battalions in his own country.

Club Checks Are Newest Spring SUITINGS!

They always suggest Spring, these small black-and-white checks, with their soft, cool, gray effect, and they are very general favorites for warm weather tailored suits.

Nothing more chic, nothing more durable and nothing so becoming as the old time favored black-and-white check set forth by Dame Fashion for smart tailored suits to be worn by correct dressers this Spring.

New Lingerie Blouses Foretell Warmer Days. Also the fact that many women have tired of heavier waists and are donning the more dainty lingerie kinds.

FOUR SOLDIERS Are Accorded a Pleasant Time at "Seven Acres." A very pleasant gathering took place last evening at "Seven Acres," the home of Miss E. M. Linscott, when four soldiers were royally entertained who have been members of the Bellevue Mission from its inception. Pte. W. Alan Bell, Herbert Fischer, Gordon Fisher, 125th Battalion, and William Nock of the 42nd Battery, on behalf of the friends of the Mission, who had gathered for the memorable occasion, each man was presented with an air pillow and a money belt. Miss Hargreaves gave a fitting address, dwelling upon the nobility of the step they had taken in joining the colors and urging them also to continue to fight for the colors of righteousness.

A BUDGET OF NEWS FOR THOSE INTERESTED IN LABOR IN THE WORLD OF LABOR GLEANED FROM THE EXCHANGES AND OTHER SOURCES

ONTARIO COMPENSATION ACT

Asserts the British Columbia Federationist, Which Urges Organized Labor to Centre its Energies on the One Object of Securing a Similar Measure for the Pacific Province.

But the number and merit of the questions included in the list, did not result in moving the government.

We believe the time has come when the labor movement of British Columbia might very well pick out one question and concentrate all its time and effort on trying to make it law.

The workers of Ontario for years did the same as their fellows in British Columbia have done up to now.

Journalist Barbara is working hard and sparing no efforts in an attempt to have a progressive sanitation and labor law placed on the statute books of the Province of Manitoba.

Journalist Barbara is working hard and sparing no efforts in an attempt to have a progressive sanitation and labor law placed on the statute books of the Province of Manitoba.

The Workmen's Compensation Act of Ontario is based upon the principle that industry should be made to bear the burden of the deaths and disabilities inflicted on workmen by it.

In laying down the scales of compensation almost every exigency seems to have been provided for. It is impossible to deal with them all here, but representative examples are as follows:

Where a widow or invalid husband is the sole dependent they receive $40 per month as long as they remain married. Where the dependants are a widow, or an invalid husband, and one or more children, a monthly payment of $40 and $5 for each child under 16 years is paid.

Where a dependent is injured, but not permanently disabled, the compensation for life is 65 per cent of the difference between his earning capacity afterwards. Similar rates and scales, too many to enumerate here, are provided for well nigh every contingency which may arise.

To some it might appear at first glance that the law was chiefly intended to indemnify those injured, or the dependants of the killed. That is not the case. Underlying the whole act is the idea and intent of making compensation for injury and death of workers so expensive to employers that every effort will be made to reduce accidents to a minimum.

The Halifax Typographical Union is negotiating a new wage scale with the employers. The old scale calls for Handmen, $16 and $18 per week; machine men, $18 and $20 per week.

The only countries in the world that grow more wheat than Canada are the United States and Russia, so we occupy the third place in the wheat producing countries of the world.

As the result of a strike in the Nova Scotia steel plant, the employees have received an increase in wages, shorter hours, and an agreement that there will be no attempt to reduce wages during the war.

A new Federal Labor Union, affiliated with the A.F. and L., has been started in Glasgow, N.S. Organized labor in the district is making rapid headway, and things are in good shape.

The building trades are very active in Quebec, it being one of the busiest winters in the history of the Ancient Capital, and in all the crafts the organized workers are receiving higher wages and enjoying far better conditions of labor than the non-union element.

A delegation representing the organized workers of Manitoba, executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada recently and laid before the Provincial Premier and the following request being passed during the recent session.

Difficulties and disputes as to seats have often given rise to acute feeling in the House of Commons, as, for instance, in the Parliament of 1886-1892, when Mr. Chamberlain and the other leaders of the Liberal Unionists insisted on occupying seats on the Front Opposition Bench.

More recently—namely, just three years ago—quite a scene was caused by a regular physical tussle which took place between two members.

This serves to recall the fact that so far as Parliamentary law goes not even the Prime Minister has an actual right to any definite place in the House. Indeed, it is on record that in the first reformed House of Commons, Cobbett took possession of the accustomed seat of the leader of the Tory party, Sir Robert Peel, and that nothing could be done to evict the intruder.

Various facts in support of the theory that all metals are naturally of the color of platinum in a Russian chemical journal. The yellow tint of certain metals, such as calcium, is due to traces of lead.

The dust which flies about the rooms in bakeries and wood turneries is healthful and, according to some people, fattening.

Parliamentary chronicles have called attention to the fact that Lord Morley has recently taken his seat in the House of Lords on the Front Opposition Bench.

That staunch stickler for the Parliamentary proprieties, Mr. Gladstone, once dealt in writing with a very curious question of the proper place for retired ministers.

Take one or two Cascarets at night and enjoy the neatest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. Wake up, feeling grand, your head will be clear, your tongue clean, breath sweet, stomach regulated and your liver and thirty feet of bowels active. Get a box at any drug store now and get straightened up by morning. Stop the headache, biliousness, bad colds and bad days. Feel fit and ready for work or play. Cascarets do not gripe, sicken or inconvenience you the next day like salts, pills or calomel. They're fine.
Mothers should give a whole Cascaret any time to cross, sick, bilious or teething children because it will act thoroughly and can not injure.

PAPER SHIRTS FOR SOLDIERS.
Paper shirts are being supplied to the Russian Army by a company in Yokohama, "Kabiko," as paper clothing is called in Japan, is made of Japanese paper manufactured from mulberry bark. The paper has little size and is soft and warm. It is very strong, and at the same time very flexible, and after being worn a few hours it offers no more interference to perspiration than ordinary cotton clothing. After becoming wet the material is so strong that it can be torn only with difficulty. In the manufacture of these garments, after being cut to pattern, the seams are sewn together and hemmed. The buttonholes are reinforced with linen or some other fabric. The material is not washable.

SHARP ATTACK REPULSED
Dangerous Condition Relieved Just In Time By "Fruit-a-tives"

For two years, I was a victim of Acute Indigestion and Gas In The Stomach. It afterwards attacked my Heart, and I had pains all over the body, so I could hardly move around. I tried all kinds of medicines but none of them did me any good. At last, I acted on the advice of a friend, I decided to try "Fruit-a-tives". I bought the first box last June, and now I am well, after using only three boxes. I recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to anyone suffering from Indigestion, no matter how acute." FRED J. CAVEEN.
Simple Indigestion often leads to Heart Attacks, Catarrh of the Stomach and constant distress of mind and body. If you are bothered with any Stomach Trouble, and especially if Constipation troubles you, take "Fruit-a-tives."
50c a box, 3 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

ten the Soldier, Waiting for Order to Advance
Drama Within His Breast, Writing the "War Style"

(Special Illustration) PAULUS Jan. 29
In the first volume of the series, the author has given a complete picture of the soldier in modern warfare. It is a book that will be read by all who are interested in the war. The author has written in a simple, direct, and powerful style. The book is a masterpiece of military journalism. It is a book that should be read by every soldier and every citizen.

THE HUN OF ATRACAT

"Outside is the beautiful dawn; the pink for I am very sky already is humming with air craft, the morning non shot is to be heard. The men are now, frequently, them says to me, 'So it is to-day.' 'Nothing is left after what our artillery men have been doing. I open it. 'You will see presently, my boy.' I offer some to overlook a single machine gun in a tall extra corner and you would see what you would see. 'And now set on top of your coffee. But that is not more serious, our business; that belongs to the artillery.' 'Confidential, men and there they are beginning to fire.' I read at a thirty-five or again. 'The thunderous tones of two heavy 'I hand it to a village have broken the silence, thirty-five in the heavy projectiles are passing over breakfast. 'Yes, pausing, and then their mill is full, once more. But presently, two clouds of dust come up, been agreed."

FRENCH LIEUTENANT DESCRIBES THE COURAGE OF BATTLE HOUR OF WAR'S GREATEST ANGUISH COMES JUST BEFORE THE CHARGE

the Soldier, Waiting for Order to Advance, Must Triumph Over Himself in a Mute Drama Within His Breast, Writes "Lieutenant X," Originator of the "War Style" of Literature.

FRENCH SOLDIERS ON A PIER IN SALONIKA

FROM THE SPHERE

Special Dispatch. PARIS, Jan. 29. There is one hour of supreme anguish in the actual assault on the trench. The hour which precedes the charge is the most terrible...

In fan shape on the thin line of the rear, the breaking of the German trenches, like the breaking of the combat on the rocks. A little short, they will have to begin again. Two other shots are fired, a little too much to the right. They are big shots, those, probably 20 centimetres.

Some of the men chat with the obvious intention of not taking seriously the risk that they are going to run. Others, however, are silent. They are waiting for the order to advance. They are waiting for the order to advance. They are waiting for the order to advance.

Perfect Control is Rare. It must be admitted that infinitely rare are the cases of those who arrive at perfect control of themselves. During the last seven months I have never seen...
