SOME VERY STIFF FIGHTING

British and Boers Come Together at Moedwell—The Latter Driven Off After Two Hours of Hard Fighting—Boers Lost Very Heavily—Col. Kekewich Wounded.

London, Oct. 2.—Reports received at the war office give details of casualties resulting from attacks by Boer guerrillas.

A heavy force of Boers made an attack on Col. Kekewich's camp at Moedwell.

The Boers were under command of Commandants Delarey and Kemp and made a vigorous onset. The fighting continued for a period of two hours, at the end of which time our troops succeeded in beating the enemy off. The Boers had fourteen officers and 115 men killed and wounded. Thirty-one British troops and two officers were killed. Among the wounded was Col. Kekewich, the commander of the British force.

became waterlogged in Saginaw bay on Sunday, has been rescued by a fishing tug off Lyal island. He was lashed to a raft and was unconscious.

Three companions who went with him when the Jupiter was abandoned are believed to have been drowned. Captain Tanson, his wife and child, and one of the crew from the Jupiter were picked up on Wednesday.

TROUBLE OVER HAY

Harvester Louis Vogel Sues August Folk for Wages.

Thirteen years will have passed on November 8th since the hanging of the Haymarket rioters in Chicago, yet the hay market was mentioned in police court this morning when Louis Vogel was suing August Folk for $187 alleged to be due for cutting "hay oop da river." August disputed the account, admitting only $167. Each man represented his own side of the case, and as both speak a sort of gun-arabic language and both insisted on speaking at the same time a babble of voices ensued which would make an afternoon party where good women sew for the suffering poor ashamed of itself. The magistrate held them to the case as much as circumstance would permit, and after hearing each side decided that as there was but $20 between them he would split the difference. Judgment was therefore given for $177 payable in five days. Folk insisted on trying the case after it was decided and at length grew somewhat insolent, when he was given some advice that he will doubtless heed in future.

LOST FROM GLACIER TRAIL

Rowell Bellei Left Pack Train Two Weeks Ago to Go Ahead and Has Not Since Been Heard From—News Reached Dawson Last Night—Disappearance a Mystery.

News of the disappearance of a young man by the name of Rowell Ballie (or Belleau) was received in Dawson yesterday when some packers returned from Glacier creek. The young man left Dawson with the packers on their outward trip two weeks ago and as he wished to go faster than the pack train he struck out ahead. When the packers reached the settlement at Glacier, for which place the young man was headed, they were surprised to learn that he had not arrived nor did he show up during the time the packers remained there preparatory to starting on the return trip. Enquiry from persons met along the trail failed to elicit any information regarding the missing man. The packers say there are no trails leading off from the main one and that it would be next to impossible for the man to miss the well-traveled trail. They fear the young fellow may have met with foul play. It is likely that the police will take charge of the affair and that a searching party will be sent out, in which event the fact that snow has fallen and more will probably fall very soon will render anything like a close search very difficult. The missing man is a Frenchman or French-Canadian.

SHAMROCK IS LIGHTENING

New York, Oct. 2.—Sir Thos. Lip-ton has given instructions to have the ballast in Shamrock reduced in order to avoid the time allowance which under the present measurements is allowed Columbia.

It has been agreed that hereafter a race will occur each day until the contest is finished. The request for this change in the program came from the Columbia, and has been accepted.

Hot La Crosse.

Vancouver, Oct. 2.—A hot lacrosse match was played in this city yesterday between the Y. M. C. A. team of Vancouver and the New Westminster team. Five men including Aftchie McNaughton, one of the best known players of the coast, were seriously injured. McNaughton in a fight with Gifford was disfigured for life.

PULL DICK PULL DEVIL

One Man Builds Up While Another Tears Down.

An amusing scene, which attracted quite a large crowd of spectators, was enacted on the beach back of Boyle's wharf this afternoon. There is a large pile of wood on the beach which Mr. Mathieson of the water works purchased a short time ago.

Mr. Mathieson sent a teamster to haul the wood from the beach to the power house, when it was discovered that there was a bill against it by the Boyle Wharf Company. A settlement of the account was demanded by Mr. Boyle before he would allow the wood to be removed. Mr. Mathieson offered a compromise which Mr. Boyle could not accept. Mr. Boyle then offered a compromise which Mr. Mathieson could not see his way clear to accept, and then all compromises were declared off by both parties.

Mr. Mathieson then sent his men down to the wood to load it into their wagon, but Mr. Boyle checked them in that attempt by throwing the logs off as fast as they would put it on. An officer of the peace was standing close by watching to see that the peace was not disturbed. Both sides, seeing that neither was willing to allow the advantage to the other, a truce was declared. Mr. Mathieson called his teamster away, leaving Mr. Boyle in complete mastery of the field.

The whole affair was carried on quietly, without any demonstrations of violence and without engendering any angry feelings between the parties interested. But it was all very amusing to those who witnessed it.

Cabin Robbed.

A young man by the name of Sherlock who is employed at the News office as pressman, reports a visit during his absence from his cabin of thieves who entered and ransacked his buidoir, stealing some of his wearing apparel and leaving things in a topsy-turvy condition. The cabin is on Third avenue, near First street.

His Friend's Remains.

Mr. McBride, a Sulphur miner, will leave on the Clifford Sifton today for San Francisco, California, to which place he will take the remains of his friend John Quigley, who died here of typhoid fever on August 2nd of 1898, more than two years ago. Brimston & Stewart prepared the body for shipment.

Kelly-Caribou twenty round-go starts promptly at 9 o'clock. Don't miss it. New Savoy theatre Friday night.

SUPT. CREAN IS CONFIDENT

That Line to the Outside Will Be Open All Winter

Every Provision Has Been Made to Keep the Through Wire in Repair—Stations Established.

The arrival in Dawson of Superintendent Crean of the Dominion telegraph line brings to mind again the fact that Dawson is now in direct telegraphic communication with the outside world.

Mr. Crean has during the past summer been actively engaged between White Horse and Bennett looking after the interests of the line in the upper district, but expects shortly to proceed to Vancouver, in which city he will be permanently located for the winter.

It is the opinion of the superintendent that the through line will be in operation all winter long without the occurrence of any serious difficulties. Last winter communication was maintained as far as Echo Lake, a point fifty miles south of Telegraph Lake.

During the past summer posts have been established along the entire route of the line at intervals of about forty miles.

These posts have all been thoroughly provisioned and are in charge of two men. It is the expectation that they will be maintained throughout the winter, and if any breaks occur they will be easily located.

"Some trouble is anticipated," said Mr. Crean in discussing the matter with a Nugget representative, "by reason of the heavy snow falls which are bound to occur in the country through which the line runs. I am of the opinion, however, that the means which we have taken to insure a constant patrol of the line will serve to prevent any serious delays in re-opening communication when breakdowns occur. You may rest assured that everything that is within the power of the government to do will be done to maintain through communication all winter long."

Mr. Crean has been engaged today with Local Manager Clegg, inspecting the Dawson offices, and will leave tomorrow or the next day for the outside.

A hot go at new Savoy Friday night. Kelly of Nome vs. Caribou of Dawson. Twenty rounds—$1, $2, and $3.

The Pacific Cold Storage Co. has perfectly insulated chambers regulated by steam and offers the finest warm storage in Dawson.

BUILDING OF HALL

Was Discussed by Arctic Brothers Last Night.

The question of building a fraternity hall by the Arctic Brotherhood has passed from a phase of discussion into a determined purpose.

There was a goodly attendance at the camp last night and the matter received a thorough discussion and the members have taken active hold of the work.

It was decided to raise the money for building the hall by issuing coupons to members payable after six months at dues or redeemable in cash after one year. This is the method used by the Skagway camp and worked most successfully. Dr. Edwards was appointed a committee of one to see the members of the camp with a view to ascertaining the amount which can be raised on the coupons. A canvas of the members present at last night's meeting showed their willingness to take up the coupons and a considerable amount was subscribed.

A special meeting of the camp has been called for Saturday night at 8:30, at the Board of Trade rooms, at which bids will be received for the erection of the building on the plan submitted by Skilling. Two separate bids must be presented—one for the lumber and the other for the balance of the material and labor. Any other architects wishing to submit plans of their own are requested to submit them with bids Saturday night. Every member of the camp is urged to be present at the special meeting at the Board of Trade rooms in the Northern Commercial Co.'s office building on Saturday night at 8:30.

The coal mines of the N. A. T. & T. Co. at Cliff creek have been closed down for the season and the men discharged. The coal taken out this season has been the best yet produced from the Cliff creek deposit, the drifts now all being below the frost line. The steamer Lightning has been busily engaged during the past two months transporting the winter supply to the city, and the company's bunkers near the foot of Sixth street are packed high with 3000 tons of the black diamonds. As depth has been attained on the vein the quality of the coal has steadily improved and now it compares favorably with many of the bituminous coals on the outside.

Daily Stage to Hunker.

On and after October 1st, 1901, the Orr & Tukey Co. Ltd., will run a daily four-horse stage, Sundays included, to upper Hunker, leaving Grand Roadhouse, 6 below, at 8:30 a. m. Returning leave Dawson at 2 p. m., arriving at Gold Bottom at 6 p. m.

COMING AND GOING.

Jewell Fowle, proprietor of the Gold Run hotel at Caribou, is in Dawson today on business.

During the long court vacation the office hours of the clerk of the court will be from 10 to 1 o'clock.

Mr. Henry Bleecker, of the firm of Bleecker & de Journal, expects to leave Friday on an extensive trip to the outside, embracing the principal Pacific coast cities. He will return over the ice in January.

F. A. H. Fysh left this afternoon on a three months' vacation to the outside.

J. F. McDonald, wife and daughter, were passengers for the outside today on the Sifton.

George Vernon, late proprietor of the Hotel Flannery, was a passenger for White Horse today on the Sifton.

C. J. Mulkey, the broker, has gone outside on a visit.

A. C. Ritchie, who has had charge of the summer work on 56 below, Hunker, was a passenger for the outside today.

Mr. Walter Wensky, German Consul, and Mr. Victor Schreyer, a Parisian capitalist, left on the Columbia this afternoon on an extensive European tour.

Mrs. E. C. Stahl left on the Sifton this afternoon on a visit to her old home in Chicago. The fore part of the winter Mrs. Stahl will spend in Hot Springs, Ark., in search of health, the latter part with relatives in New Orleans.

Ed. Brant, a sour dough of '97, and for a long time employed as an engineer in the Nugget office, left this afternoon to spend the fore part of the winter under the paternal roof at Ellensburg, Wash. He expects to return to Dawson in February.

ALONG THE WATER FRONT.

The Nora is hourly expected and will probably return up river tomorrow.

The Columbian left this afternoon at 2 o'clock with 91 passengers.

The Whitehorse is expected this evening.

Word was received from Eagle this morning that the Susie and Sarah with one of the Isom's barges in tow had passed up at an early hour.

The Isom with two of her barges passed Fortymile at noon yesterday and is expected in sometime this evening.

The Clifford Sifton again demonstrated her great popularity by leaving this afternoon with every berth full and but few of the standees unoccupied. She carried 109 passengers and could have disposed of half again as many first-class tickets had she had accommodations for them. The Sifton will make but one more trip this season and will probably winter at the upper end of the run.

Another Lost Man.

Information is wanted as to the whereabouts of Horace L. Roberts of Dunbar, New York. His parents have not heard from him for a year, and the presumption is that he is now in the Koyukuk country. ### A POINT TO BE CONSIDERED.

The census commissioner has stated that in his opinion the completed returns will give the territory a bona fide permanent population of 20,000 people. That is to say there are now that many people who consider this territory to be their home and who have taken up their residences here with a view of making the same permanent. In the opinion of this paper these figures, if they are borne out by results, and we have no doubt that such will be the case, furnish evidence of a most remarkable nature as to the firmness of the foundation upon which the town of Dawson has been built. It must be remembered that a population of 20,000 people represents a great deal more under conditions such as exist in this territory than would be the case under ordinary circumstances.

The great majority of our population are able bodied men who through one means or another are doing sufficient not only for their own support but for the maintenance of a family as well.

We are of the opinion that a conservative statement would place the number of people who are supported directly from this territory at twice the actual population. In other words, the territory is capable at the present time of sustaining a population of 40,000 people, and probably does sustain nearly that many—it being a well known fact that hundreds of men have left their families on the outside and make provision for them from their earnings in this territory.

These facts should be brought to the attention of the government when the census returns are made. In respect to actual production and amount of business transacted, the Yukon territory is easily on a par with other communities having twice our population.

AGRICULTURE IN ALASKA.

More than ordinary interest attaches to the interview in yesterday's Post-Intelligencer with Mr. George Stowell of the United States land office in Sitka. He is convinced that the soil of Alaska will some day produce vegetables and grains in sufficient quantities to support a considerable population, and the agricultural development of that country with attendant interests, stock-raising in particular, will be little short of astounding.

Mr. Stowell's opinion on this subject has all the weight of authority. He has been in the government service for years and has become expert in matters pertaining to lands. He has made a careful study of conditions on the Alaska peninsula, adding to his store of knowledge by interviews with prospectors who have penetrated into the country between Cook inlet and Bristol bay; and he has conducted a successful garden on his own account at Sitka. He knows what the soil of Alaska will do, if a way is opened for homesteaders. "We had as fine vegetables, taken on the average," says he, "as can be produced in the states of Washington or Oregon," and again, "for years at different points along the lower Yukon river, vegetables and cereals have been raised successfully."

NO ANARCHIST NEED APPLY

To Judge Tallman of Seattle for Citizenship Papers.

"Any foreigner or alien applying to my court for citizenship papers who in any way acknowledges that he favors anarchism, is friendly to anarchists, or has any leaning towards anarchistic beliefs will be denied citizenship by me."

Thus Judge Boyd J. Tallman, of the probate department of the King county superior court, yesterday took the first judicial stand towards anarchism and anarchists in the United States. The situation arose through the application of three foreigners, Leonard Abrahamson, Peter Hoydstat and Benjamin Oleson, for citizenship papers. They were all of Swedish birth, and in the end convinced Judge Tallman that they were not to be connected in any way with anarchists, nor did they profess anything but the most profound horror at the assassination of governmental heads, for which purpose such societies were organized.

Their application for citizenship was heard by Judge Tallman without the least warning to the spectators and lawyers present that anything outside of the usual stereotyped form of examination was intended. The usual quiet of the court room, however, was then disturbed by the question:

"Are you an anarchist, have you ever been connected with any anarchistic bodies, or do you have any sympathy with the doctrines propounded by such bodies against constituted government and the vested rulers of such governments?"

The three applicants returned a negative reply. After further questioning, they satisfied Judge Tallman that they were not connected in any way with anarchistic doings. Then they were granted the desired citizenship papers. The thorough questioning to which Judge Tallman had subjected them in regard to anarchism aroused considerable comment, all of which was highly complimentary.

In an interview, Judge Tallman explained his action by stating that it was a method he would follow hereafter while on the bench. This is the first time in the history of the King county court, at least, that a presiding judge has questioned intending alien citizens with a view to determining whether they believed in anarchism. Such questioning is not prescribed by the regular forms, and so far as known Judge Tallman's course stands unique and alone in the history of legal jurisprudence.

Judge Tallman's explanation of his motives for inaugurating such a procedure, however, coming directly after the murder of President McKinley by anarchist Leon Czolgosz, is generally commended by all of the legal fraternity in this city. The situation was quite generally discussed yesterday by those who were made familiar with the facts in the case.

"I don't know as the exact wording of the law would uphold such a course," said one, in talking over the matter in its legal bearing, "but I am certain that all American citizens and those who abhor such dastardly murders of rulers will commend Judge Tallman's course. The matter is brought to us in the United States by the recent assassination of our chief executive, and I think there is not a man, woman or child old enough to comprehend the situation in its true light who will not gladly uphold such procedure. If every official in the United States followed the example set by Judge Tallman the question of ridding our free country from anarchists and every one who believed in such principles will be made much easier. Of course, this will not remove those at present within our borders, but it will stop the entrance of many who would otherwise be admitted to the rights of American citizens. A good scheme to blot out the present existence of anarchistic assassination societies in

ANOTHER FISH STORY

Told a Nugget Reporter by a Forks Stage Driver.

Mr. Charles Nichol, a stage driver whose credulity is only exceeded by his ability to narrate events just as they happen, called to a Nugget reporter from his seat on the stage yesterday afternoon, on his return from the Forks, and said, "Say, I have a big story for you, call at the office in 30 minutes."

Always on the alert for news items the reporter was at the place at the time designated and found Mr. Nichol awaiting him. "Well," said the reporter, "here I am all attention, now for the big scoop."

"You shall have the exclusive story, and if it don't make a sensation then I will consider myself very much mistaken," replied Mr. Nichol, but as he said it the reporter saw him chuckle quietly to himself and thought he smelled a mouse and was rather expecting what followed.

"On my way down this afternoon," Mr. Nichol began, "I saw a crowd of men standing in a group on 46 below on Bonanza, and I could see them going through the most frantic gesticulations when I was a mile or more away."

"They seemed to be in a state of great excitement, as if one of their numbers had fallen into the creek or something equally as sad had befallen them, and thinking that perhaps I might be of service I whipped up my horses and had them going at a break-neck speed in a second."

"Notwithstanding the valient endeavors of my steeds I was too late to be of service, as the evil deed was finished by the time I arrived. Just as I pulled up my horses one of the men stooped and picked up the remains of a huge fish which they had been throwing stones at for at least 30 minutes before one of them by an accidental shot hit it on the head, which made it turn a flip flop in the water and come to the surface 'belly up.'"

"The fish weighed not less than 200 pounds," continued the narrator, "and I think is called a halibut. That is the largest fish and the only one of that specie ever caught in this country. Various theories have been advanced to account for the presence of that particular fish in that particular place, but it was finally given up as a bad job and the conclusion reached that it had just grown there."

Only best brands of case goods served. Drinks and cigars 25c. Pete McDonald, Bank saloon.

Were Brought to Victoria by Str. Empress of India.

Conditions Very Bad in Land of the Poppy - But Little Trade is Now Going On - Heavy Rains.

Advice received from China by R. M. S. Empress of India yesterday... The British failed him in former emergencies.

The correspondent adds: "The old strap is in a peculiarly odious position... The English interpreter for the moment is young Tseng, the son of the late Marquis and the grandson of the famous Tseng Kwo-fan."

I have some reason for supposing that the re-occupation of the summer palace by the British last week, a very unexpected and indeed sensational step, was the direct 'reproof' for a most discourteous, if not insulting, letter sent by the old man to Sir Ernest Satow.

Things political are moving in North China, but the motion is so slow that one has to take long intervals to detect it at all. The troops are steadily going away and the China expeditionary force is rapidly approximating to the size which will enable it to hold Tien Tsin, Shan-haikwan, and the lines of communication with the capital and Paoingtu, some 20,000 in all.

There is infinite talk of the return of the court, and indeed the actual itinerary has been published, and detailed orders issued to the local authorities with regard to the provisions of boats and carts. The present scheme is that a start be made from Hsian about the 1st of September, the arrival in Honan will be sometime about the middle of the eighth moon, here the autumn festival will be observed. Boats will be taken at Weihsuei, and the journey will thence be by water as far as Pechow in Shantung. From this place an overland journey is proposed as far as Paoingtu, the provincial capital of Chihli, when the final stage will be made by train. This is a deviation from the original plan, and has been made to secure the greater comfort of boat travel.

Li Hung Chang already talks of going to Paoingtu in a few days, from which spot he will notify the court which he has come to meet it, but it is anticipated that he will at once be demanded either to stay there or return to Peking, as at his advanced age he must not undergo unnecessary fatigue.

It is understood that the crown advocate, H. P. Wilkinson, is making rapid progress with the private claims in Peking, and that we are to have him in a week or two in Tien Tsin. The claimants who have been interviewed by the learned gentleman are said to be much impressed with his fairness and by the procedure. In Tien Tsin he will have very difficult problems to solve. The trade system, regular, large sums are advanced to the compradors by the merchants; the former send men up into Kokoner with bullocks to buy produce, which begins to appear at the seaboard some twelve to twenty months afterwards. The questions to be solved are: Whose money is it? On whom does the responsibility lie if it miscarries? One thing is pretty certain, all that of the Chinese and these latter find no redress at the hands of their own folk, the trade of our port will receive a blow from which it will find difficulty to recover.

The Peking river conservancy is now a going concern, and the cesstion of the rainy season in another two or three weeks will see the work begun. At first the straightening of the channel will be taken in hand; this is to be done by cuttings, a couple of miles of which in various localities will reduce the distance to Taku by seven or eight miles, by giving some of the acute bends a greater radius of curvature. The bar will not be attacked at present, though there is no doubt that it is after all the supreme crux in the question of the navigation of the metropolitan stream; it will ultimately have to be undertaken by permanent dredging operations. In former years good bar meant bad river, and vice versa; it is only in the past decade that both have gone wrong simultaneously.

"We have had the heaviest rains of five years, and, indeed, if we have any more we are pretty sure to be flooded. Happily or unhappily, it will not affect the trade for the sole reason that there is little trade to be affected."

"W. Pethick, the distinguished American sinologue, who has for many years been Li Hung Chang's foreign adviser and fidus Achates, is in a state of health far from reassuring to his many friends; he has had to leave the capital for Chefoo."

A Shanhaikwan dispatch says: "The Russians have been pushing on with the Manchurian railway since occupying the country and have made good progress. The whole line between Tetsurei and Harbin will be completed in September; but most of the bridges are merely temporary ones."

A Tokio dispatch of August 18th states that a party who has just returned from Shanhaikwan states that Russia is concentrating such a number of troops at Shanhaikwan that they outnumber the Japanese, British and French troops combined. A colonel is in command of the Russian troops. The railway between Peking and Shanhaikwan, which is under British control, is strictly guarded by armed men. The station master and assistants at the stations were chosen from the officers and men of the force, and they will remain even after the withdrawal of the allied troops. It is reported that the French minister has approached the Korean government privately with the object of obtaining a coaling station and a site for a hospital on the Korean coast. Chinchokro is reported to be the place desired by France.—Victoria Times, Sept. 24.

Sandals Worn in England. "Have all of your young girls of the 'sweet 16' period," writes Julius Ralph from London to the Brooklyn Eagle, "got their sandals on, and do you see them everywhere, at seashore and in town, tramping about without stockings and with their ivory insteps and blushing little rosy toes exposed to the sun and the air and the popular gaze?"

"No? Well, this must be a sensation for next year, then, because it grows here apace, and is considered quite the only way to save the beauty of the feet of the English misses. The sandals are genuine ones of the Roman pattern—a sole of leather and a set of straps or bands, two crossing the top of the foot and one over the instep. The purpose of the sandal is to prevent the cramping of the toes and to keep the pores of the feet open and the skin healthy. Stockings are discarded to avoid the damage done by every form of garter yet devised, and for coolness and health."

"The new fashion applies to all girl children of the ages during which they are entirely under maternal control—which is to say, from babyhood to 18 years of age. The dresses of some of the aristocratic young misses who go about in sandals are quite long—that length which needs but one more change to mark the stage of maturity and of the so-called 'putting up of the hair,' which has theretofore been worn long and loose and free. The first sight of a tall, well-developed English girl in bare legs and practically bare feet is certainly very surprising, but one gets used to it even as our fathers got used to crinoline, and after one has seen hundreds of girls in this new dress, it is even possible to find and admire beauty in the prettily made sandals and in the effect of the russet straps criss-crossed over the rosy feet."

"This fashion has not been introduced upon the Continent, but in all the Continental countries mothers are now dressing both their boys and girls in low shoes, socks, and leaving their legs bare. This was once an English custom, and was destroyed by the doctors on the ground that it was injurious to the children's health. Of course, this is even more true of the sandal fashion—if it is true at all—but the fashion has not yet gone to doctors."—London Indicator.

REGARDING MARRIAGE

Editor of Ladies' Home Journal Deals With Subject.

Mr. Edward Bok, editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, thus deals with the question of marriage in his new book, "Successwarh," which is about to be published by the Doubleday and McClure Company, of New York.

Necessarily, the question of marriage of a young man is an important one—perhaps the most important one that is given him to solve when he reaches a marriageable age.

The first point to present in this question of marriage is the principle of it, that it is unquestionable for the good of almost every young man that he shall marry.

There are not two sides to this for the great majority of young men. Of course, there are reasons why a man in some special instance should choose to lead a single life; in fact, there are excellent reasons why it is that some men should.

When a young man deliberately lays out for himself a single life based upon any other reason than the strongest physical and mental reasons, he makes the mistake of his lifetime.

If a young man refuses to marry because of lack of faith in womanhood, or a distrust of the existence of those qualities generally attributed to woman, he errs, and he errs fatally.

There can be no disputing the fact that a man's life is never complete in its fullest happiness until that life is made whole and complete by the love of a true woman. The absence of a wife from home has demonstrated to many a man how large and important a part she is of it, and of him. The right kind of a wife knows better what is essential to her husband's comfort than he does himself—far better.

It is an unfortunate fact that some men never get to a point where they understand woman. And yet to know woman, to properly understand her best motives, is the deepest lesson that life can teach a man.

Every man with a fair mind who clasps a good woman to his breast and calls her mother, wife or sister, will understand the import of these words. How a man can be a hater of woman is hard to conceive when through her so much can be added to his life.

Of the wisdom of marriage itself there can be question. The knotty little problems which enter into it are another matter. Some of them find expression in the choice of the right girl.

And here, naturally, is a question which no one can decide for another. It is a man's heart which directs him to the woman whom he wants for his wife, never the finger of the adviser. "Love pointed surely" is an old proverb, and it is true today as upon the day it was written.

Many a young man, however, stands undecided on this question of marriage. He believes that the only holy marriage, the only marriage from which can spring happiness, is that born of love. The girl with whom such a marriage is possible is perhaps within his eye.

He loves her, he feels, and yet he hesitates. Why he hesitates he cannot sometimes explain. Sometimes there is another girl in the case, whom he acknowledges to himself he does not love quite so well, and yet he feels that she would bring him something that the other girl does not—a certain social advancement, perhaps a furtherance of his business interests or an advancement of one kind or another.

To marry a girl for her money is the most contemptuous act of which a man can be capable. It dwarfs him

GARDNER NOT GUILTY

Of Trespassing on Joe Boyle's Concession.

Judgment was rendered this morning by Magistrate Macaulay in the case heard yesterday in which J. D. Gardner was charged by August Nelson of the Yukon-Quartz Creek Syndicate, with having committed trespass on the syndicate's property, known as Joe Boyle's concession, by tearing down a fence. The evidence went to show that the fence was not on the private property but was on the public highway, in view of finding the case was dismissed, the costs being charged to plaintiff. Had it been proven that the fence had been located on the property of Boyle the court stated that a verdict of guilty would have been rendered.

ANOTHER NEW CREEK

Is Three Miles Below Henderson on Right Limit.

Another new discovery has been recorded in the gold commissioner's office, the locators being John McGillivray and George Morrison, both old-timers, and the creek a tributary of the Yukon entering the right limit about three miles below Henderson. The discoverers sank one hole on their claim, but failed to reach bedrock. In the overlying gravel, however, sufficient heavy colors were found to warrant the belief that they had something good, and they intend immediately to return and do some extensive prospecting. A heavy layer of muck covers the gravel and it is thought bedrock will be found to be about 20 feet deep.

AMUSEMENTS ON THIS WEEK

Two Theatres Presenting Good Entertainments

"The Little Minister" at the Standard and "Jack O' Diamonds" at the Savoy.

The Standard theater was crowded to its very doors Monday night and not even standing room was left by the time the curtain went up on the first act of "The Little Minister," the play which is being produced this week.

This play is without question one of the prettiest and most artistic plays on the American stage. It is a dramatization of J. M. Barrie's great book of the same title and is given a production which does not only reflect great credit to the theater but to every member of the cast and is a pleasure to all who witness it.

The story of the play is too well known to need repeating, here. A glance over the personnel of the cast however, may give an idea of the immensity of the task which was undertaken to give the play a proper production and is herewith printed in full:

Rev. Gavin Dishart, Mr. Cummings; Cape of the 87th, Robt. Lawrence; Lang Tammas, Hendry Mund, Peter Tosh, auld Licht Kirk elders,
All T. Layne, Charles Moran, H. F.
Cummings; Wearyward, the village policeman, Wm. Mullen; Lord Rintoul, Habbie's guarbair, W. Van Dyke; Robert Dow, a ne'er do well, Patrick sheriff Riach, a very canny Scot, Fred C. Lewis; Mr. Ogilvy, Dominie of Glengubhart, Wm. Baxter; Sergt.
Kelly, of the 78th, John Ryan; Sanders Webster a vainglorious boaster, Fred Warren; Wild Lindsay, king of the gypsies, Harry Tyler; Lady Babbie, the "Egyptian," Lucy Lovell, Nannie Webster, who dreads the poorhouse, Daisy D'Avra; Jean Baxter, a servant at the "manse," Mammie Holden, Julia, a servant at Rinton's, Daisy Dixon.

Special mention could be given every member of the cast but space will not permit, but attention must be called to the excellence of Ralph E. Cummings in his character of the Rev. Gavin Dishart; All T. Layne as

Lang Tammas; Wm. Mullen in his impersonation of Wearyward, and Lucy Lovell as Lady Babbie the Egyptian.

The scenic effects are the most pretentious of any yet seen in connection with a play given in Dawson, especially "the old mill in Windy Goul" in the first act, and "the well at Cobban wood" and "Cobban wood at night" in the third act. The play is in four acts with nine scenes and its entirety is as fine a production as Dawson will see for some time to come.

The four act drama "Jack-o' Diamonds," which is being presented to the patrons of the Savoy theater by Harry Sedley, supported by the Savoy Stock Company, is a strong play and drew a good house Monday night, and it is sure to do for the three nights it is to be presented.

Harry Sedley assumes the character of Jack o' Diamonds, a gambler, and carries his part in his usual artistic manner. He is ably supported by Jack Williams as Willard Graham, a false friend; Billy Evans as Daniel Peabody, known as Denver Dan; Dick Thorne as Frank Popham, one of Graham's victims; Fred Breen as Pedro Saches, a greaser; George Din-more as Jake Miller, landlord of the Casa del Oro; Leota Howad as Annie Dennison; Helen Jewell as Cordelia
Dennison, Annie's aunt; and Edith Bate as Leonie Diamond, Jack's daughter. The synopsis of the play is as follows:

Act 1—The hotel at St. Augustine, Florida. The story of the baby. A false friend.

Act 2—Jack Diamond's home. Dan proposes to Cordelia. The snake in the grass. Jack's departure for Texas, and the result. "Gone with that man!"

Act 3—Mexicana, New Mexico.
Eighteen years later. Only a tramp, Col. Jackson. The meeting. "My God, my own child!" "You're the man I want!"

Act 4—Popham's resolve. Danny and Cordelia. The duel between Jack and Graham. Popham's revenge.
Forgiven at last.

Commencing with Thursday night and continuing the balance of the week the "Black Flag" will be produced, during which Miss Leota Howard will appear in the fire dance.

A second and a last concert of the little Schramm sisters will be given Sunday night at this theater and is an event which will be looked forward to with great pleasure.

Fresh Looney's candies. Kelly &

ANOTHER BRAND

On Tap Which Causes Victim to Sleep on His Feet.

Of the various brands of Dawson
"oil of joy" there seems to be no end. Only yesterday a new brand developed the effects of which are somewhat peculiar in that its imbibers lean against the sides of buildings to woo nature's sweet restorer. It might be properly termed the "leaning" variety of the slumber brand.

John McGregor was the first one to experiment after the new brew was put on tap, and that it is a producer of a next-morning-taste was evidenced by the way John worked his lips when he faced Magistrate Macaulay this morning. It is also a memory eradicator, as John's thinker began to slip cogs as soon as he received his cargo and not until this morning was he aware of his condition. In view of the fact that John is a newcomer and not "next" on Dawson liquids he was dismissed with a warning.

W. Mullen, not the actor who wears crushed pumpkin-colored wigs and says "real cunning" things, had gone up against the same bottle as Mc-Gregor with the result that he took a "lean" and went to sleep, and when awakened by an officer and told to move on he went only a short distance before taking another "lean" and drifting into dreamland while the snow, emblematic of all that is pure, fell silently upon him. Again did the magistrate look with compassion on the man before him with the result that the fellow was dismissed and warned to be more careful in future.

and others at the mouth of Stewart river, Manager Edgar A. Mizner will take one of the last steamers up the river en route to the Yukon, where
