MYSTERY SOLVED

Suspicion Rests on One Whom the Murdered Man Had Once Rivalled in Love—They Quarrelled the Day Before the Murder.

MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—A special received here from Valleyfield says: "The tragic death of Theodore Myer, of St. Barbe, is no longer shrouded in mystery. The authorities have ascertained most of the facts connected with his death and their enquiries have strongly pointed to the fact that an arrest is expected to take place at any moment."

Last night Coroner Demers, of St. Martin; Crown Prosecutor Elliott, of Beauport; and Chief of Police Parrier, of Valleyfield, drove to St. Barbe. The inquest was formally opened and the jury empaneled, after which an adjournment was made.

St. Barbe is a small hamlet, but when the correspondent arrived there Demers's hotel, kept by a brother-in-law of the murdered man, was crowded with people. It was almost impossible for the officials of the Crown to gain admittance. The proceedings were formal, and lasted of half an hour the party were on the way back to Valleyfield with the exception of Crown Prosecutor Elliott, who, it is believed, remained to take the steps necessary for an arrest of St. Barbe, and in fact the people for many miles around, are considerably excited over the tragedy, but they do not differ to any extent from the statement already published. Myer, it seems, was driving to Dundas to see his father-in-law and on reaching Dupont's hotel at Casaville, was informed by a relative that his journey would be useless as his father-in-law was away. Myer then accepted an invitation to join a card party. They had not been playing many minutes before a man named Corry, who had been invited to the party to drink with him. Several of the crowd did but Myer took a cigar.

"The deceased and Corry, it transpires, once loved the same person, the one that lost a leg in the war. Corry was the father of six little ones. The two men were supposed to talk over old times and Corry was very friendly. Myer, however, was very jealous and after some words were exchanged, he and Corry departed separately for home, and Myer did not leave within a few minutes of each other. The story of Corry's departure appears to be that he had been invited to a party at home and had already been told."

The deed of the assassin was witnessed by no one and the evidence against the suspected man is almost entirely circumstantial. Crown prosecutor Elliott came back at noon from St. Barbe and has gone on an important journey."

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—A special from St. Barbe, Que., says: "The suspected murderer of Theodore Myer of St. Barbe has been arrested. He was taken on a farm near the scene of the tragedy by Chief of Police Parrier. Three very important witnesses for the crown have been found."

Mass was conducted at the residence of the deceased by the parish priest. Two hundred farmers and a number of the scene was a pathetic one. There is a strong feeling of dissatisfaction among the people of the district generally, complaining of the way the administration of justice has been for a number of years and it is anticipated that they will not be satisfied with the result of the trial. The relatives and friends of the murdered man are complaining in strong terms of unnecessary delay in holding the trial. ## BIG BLAZE AT OTTAWA

Booth's Lumber Yards in the Suburbs Swept by Fire.

OTTAWA, Aug. 27.—A big conflagration visited Ottawa yesterday afternoon. A fire alarm came from Rochester, on the west side of the city, while about the same time an alarm was sounded from New Edinburgh in the opposite direction, on the east side of the city. A very small blaze in the New Edinburgh direction was extinguished with a few pails of water. The fire in Rochester started in the piles of lumber belonging to John R. Booth. It was with some difficulty that the brigade got to work owing to the length of hose required and the scarcity of the necessary fire protection in the way of hydrants at this point. As a consequence the fire spread rapidly and soon got entirely beyond control of the city brigade, which was assisted by the Union Fire Brigade, an organization belonging to the Chaudiere lumbermen.

Authorities on the Track of the Assassin of the St. Barbe Farmer.
RESULT OF AN OLD QUARREL

Suspicion Rests on One Whom the Murdered Man Had Once Rivalled in Love—They Quarrelled the Day Before the Murder.

MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—A special received here from Valleyfield says: "A tragic death of Theodore Myer, of St. Barbe, is no longer shrouded in mystery. "Last night Coroner Demers, of St. Barbe, in Crown Prosecutor Elliott, of Valleyfield, and Chief of Police of Valleyfield, drove to St. Barbe. The inquest was formally opened and the jury empaneled, after which an adjournment was made."

"St. Barbe is a small hamlet, but when the correspondent arrived there, Deane's death of the district generally, complaining of the way the administration of justice has been for a number of years and is now conducted. They say the process is too tedious and expensive and that criminals are given ample time to escape before they are taken by the authorities. The relatives and friends of the murdered man are complaining in strong terms of the delay in holding the inquest, and nothing apparently having been done, and several times the coroner has been in attendance here, as there was no drum or bell and the murderer actually took place some two miles from Cassville."

BIG BLAZE AT WITAWA
Booth's Lumber Yards in the Suburbs Swept by Fire.
LOADED LUMBER CARS BURNED

A Public School and a Railway Bridge Also Fell Prey to the Flames—The Total Loss a Heavy One—The Fire Believed to be Incendiary.

WITAWA, Aug. 27.—A big conflagration of Ottawa yesterday afternoon. A fire alarm came from Rochester, on the west side of the city, while about the main line an alarm was sounded from New Edinburgh in the opposite direction, on the east side of the city. A very small blaze in the New Edinburgh direction was extinguished with a few pails of water. But a portion of the brigade was detained from reaching the Rochester fire until it was well under way.

The fire in Rochester started in the piles of lumber belonging to John E. Booth's lumber yard, which is situated on the west side of the city, and it is believed that the brigade got to work owing to the length of time required and the scarcity of the necessary fire protection in the way of hydrants at this point. As a consequence the fire spread rapidly and soon got entirely beyond control of the city brigade which was assisted by the Union Fire Brigade, an organization belonging to the Ottawa lumbermen.

The fire was extending towards the city until six o'clock when the wind changed and it then proceeded north and south. Had this not fortunately occurred the whole of Rochester would have been a risk of being burned. As it was the loss was heavy.

The territory covered by the fire was about ten acres. There is between six and eight million feet of lumber on this belonging to Mr. Booth which was valued at about $150,000. Besides this there were six rail cars loaded with lumber belonging to the Export Lumber Company. Then there was the Cedar Street public school which was burned to the ground and which will be a loss of about $3,000. There was only one small dwelling house near the fire which was not destroyed. It is generally believed that the fire was the work of an incendiary. It was after six o'clock before the brigade had it entirely under control. Mr. Booth was on the scene from the first and worked until the last.

Civil Servants Dismissed.
Mr. Parent, Chief Engineer, Mr. Kennedy, Superintendent, Mr. McCann, Chief Engineer, Mr. G. W. Brown, Chief Engineer of the Lachine Canal, have all been dismissed. Messrs. Kennedy and Parent were dismissed for a long time. This is a result of their share in the Curran bridge affair. No one has been appointed to take their places.

Helen Woodburn Jarvis, of the city of Toronto, has applied for divorce from her husband, George Hamilton Jarvis, barrister, formerly of Toronto, but now of Detroit, on the ground of adultery, desertion and bigamy.

NEWCASTLE, N. S., Aug. 23.—A disastrous fire occurred about one mile west of this place yesterday when the barn, stable, outbuildings, and large brick mansion of the late Col. The Niagara Canal.

As the United States would not enjoy the canal in the event of war with any great power, the canal must be cut by Americans or not at all."

A PLAY TO MAKE TALK.

A WIFE AND CHILD STAKED ON THE TURN OF A CARD.

That Powerful New Drama, "The Masqueraders"—Love and Honor Against $1,000,000—A Scene of Thrills That None Who Witness Can Ever Forget.

"The Masqueraders" is the name of the most recent drama performed at St. James' Theatre, London, and it is a big thing dramatically.

The author is Henry Archer Jones, and his play has now been running three months with no signs of waning interest.

"The Masqueraders" is the name of the most recent drama performed at St. James' Theatre, London, and it is a big thing dramatically.

"The Masqueraders," said an English dramatic critic who saw it at the St. James, "is daring and unconventional."

But, to the story. Here it is: Dulcie Landon is a beautiful girl, and she and her husband are engaged in the performance of her duties on the occasion of a hunt ball given in the assembly rooms of that place of entertainment.

In the second act we see Dulcie entertaining her friends. She is evidently leading an unhappy life; her husband and seems to derive no comfort from the acquaintance of the smart society with whom she is surrounded.

The Umbrella Told Their Secret. A young couple were stopping at one of the leading hotels, and trying to pass off for people who had been married for years.

But she came very near betraying herself when she asked him if he ate sugar on his sliced tomatoes.

MR. AND MRS. BOWSER. DETAILING THE ASTONISHMENT OF THE VERY GOOD LADY.

They Had Discussed Woman Suffrage and Had Come to an Anticlimactic Understanding Without Consulting a Lawyer—Bowler Draws the Lines at Politics.

"Well, this is a curious case," exclaimed Mr. Bowser as he looked up from his paper this evening after a long interval of silence.

"What is it, dear?" sleepily queried Mrs. Bowser.

"Why, a husband in Ohio applies for a divorce because his wife writes on having opinions of her own about things."

"Where did that opinion differ?" "On almost every question, it seems. It is one of those sort of husbands who

"What will do?" marry a woman for a "wait for slave, and she is expected to believe the world is fast just because he does."

"Yes, there are such husbands," quietly replied Mrs. Bowser.

"In the first place," he continued, "the paper said, 'the ordinarily intelligent woman may be credited with intelligent just as sound and reasonable opinions as the ordinarily intelligent man.'"

"And marriage does not make a man an owner and master, but only a husband."

"That is true."

"He has no more right to expect the wife to surrender her opinions than she has for him to do the same."

"Yes, she would."

"The idea of an old bachelor brooding his wife like that! Let's see. In his complaint he alleges that she wilfully and maliciously insinuates that a woman should have the right to vote."

"How could he?" asked Mrs. Bowser.

"Why, he could have called upon a thousand reasons. Of course no woman should have the right to vote."

"But I think they should all have that right."

It was exactly five months from the day we left New York to the day when we returned.

Beauty as defined by Delaney, is complexity. Provided there is harmony in all the parts.

New Young Lady Dead of a Terrible Malady When Near the Brink of the Grave.

The large, pretentious brick residence at 810 Miami avenue, in this city, is the home of the heroine of this interesting story.

"Four years ago," she said, "I was a sufferer all the time, and never thought of being as healthy as I am to-day. Why at that time, I was such a scrawny, puny little fellow, pale and emaciated by an ailment peculiar to women, that my father and mother gave me up to die."

The local practitioner for I was at that time living at Scotland, Brant Co., Ont., said it was only a matter of days when I would be laid away in the churchyard, and as I was such a sufferer I cared not whether I lived or died; in fact, I think I would have preferred the latter.

Judging from reports the present season is such as to leave the average farmer very little to kick about. Hay has been an average crop, grain is turning out well, corn and roots promise a splendid yield, butter sells at 25c per pound and cheese at 10c.

The printers and barbers of Gananoque played their second game of baseball on Monday, and the printers again came out victorious, the score standing 28 to 19. It must have been a good game, as printers wouldn't play a poor game, but wasn't it just a little hard on the score!

Last week the Chief questioned a pair of pack-peddlars as to their right to dispose of merchandise in Athens, and was shown a paper, purporting to be a costly license, signed by Reeve Buchanan, of Kempsville. Messrs. R. & K. opened up their kiln of brick and drain tile last week and found the quality of both to be very fine. The wide-spread influence in educational matters exerted by Athens high school is clearly shown by the following reference to the work of a young graduate of the institution. The Delaware (Man.) Times says: Montefiore school sent up three candidates to write for third-class certificates at Boisvineau recently, all of whom succeeded in passing.

Mr. H. Haladay, the teacher at Montefiore school, is to be congratulated upon this successful showing.

On Sunday afternoon, from some unknown cause, fire started on H. H. Arnold's island at Charleston lake and completely denuded it. This island, though small, was one of the prettiest in the lake and was a favorite lunching place for the picnic parties. The cause of the wind on Sunday was such as precludes the possibility of a spark being carried to the island from the big fires on the main-land, so it seems highly probable that the island was destroyed through the carelessness of some picnic party.

Next week we will commence a story of thrilling interest entitled "A Terrible Secret" by a popular author. We have read the advance sheets and unhesitatingly pronounce it one of the best we have ever perused. No better present than the Reporter containing "A Terrible Secret" could be sent to a friend. Remember only 25c to Jan. 1st, '95. We will print a few extra copies weekly, commencing with next issue, so that we can supply new subscribers with back numbers containing the opening chapters of our new story.

The annual harvest dinner in connection with Christ Church, Athens, took place in Taplin's grove on Wednesday last, and was in every respect successful. The best of good feeling seemed to animate all present, which kindly spirit was no where more clearly manifested than when the large attendance found themselves seated before the tables laden with an abundance of the very best that the culinary skill of the ladies could provide. After dinner, addresses were delivered by Dr. Giles, Prof. Johnson, Rev. Messrs. Young, Moore, French, and R. P. Grant, Rural Deacons D. W. G. Grant, of Lign, presided. The weather was highly propitious and every feature of the event was enjoyed by all. The proceeds netted the handsome sum of $165.

ATHENS MINERAL SPRINGS. Renewal of Interest—The Springs to be Pumped Out and Piped—The Marl Bed.

For some time past there has been a feeling among a large number of the citizens of Athens and vicinity that steps should be taken to develop our mineral springs.

As most of our readers are aware, these springs, three in number, are situated on the property of E. C. Aguire, Esq., about 80 rods south of main st.

About 30 years ago P. W. Strong, then a resident of the village, endeavored to secure the right to develop these springs and offered to lease the land in the vicinity and to pump and lay a sidewalk from the springs to the ledge a few feet distant.

The whole matter was freely discussed and it was decided to at once circulate a subscription list to raise money to carry out the proposed tests, build platform and sidewalks from the high land to the springs, and thus test the question of their being worth spending more money in opening them up for the benefit of the public.

It will only require a small outlay to carry out the proposed improvements, and if we have no doubt, it would be the best investment that the village could possibly make to those requiring the benefit of the health giving waters of the Athen's Mineral Springs.

The cut at the head of this article is from a photo taken by the Reporter's Kodak last fall for the Christmas number, and represents a group of young people standing around the largest, or principal spring.

A few days ago Mr. Strong was in the village and, in conversation with Reeve Lamb, suggested that an effort
