We remarked some time ago on the impo- [well as the attention which the members of licy of the existing hindrances in the way of "foreigners" (Americans) purchasing real estate in Upper Canada. We subjoin a minute of part of the proceedings of the Assembly of that Province on the 12th inst., in appears in the journals, as having been re-

"Mr. Prince rose (pursuant to a notice he lately gave) to move for leave to bring in a Bill for the relief of aliens or foreigners, and to confer on them certain fights and privileges. The hon, and learned gentlemen said, that the Bill he then held in his hand, previded that it should be lawful for foreigners to purchase land and other real setate within this Province;—to hold scientionally believed, that to far from such as measure having a dangerous tendency, or a ton-dency projudicial to the Colony—it would be highly beneficial, and would carry industry accapital into the bosoms of our forests. It should, therefore, presevere in the measure, and would not, upon the coemion of latroducing is like as not unfrequently dency discuss the subject further, but would simply move for leave

We cordially concur in opinion with the hon, mover, Mr. PRINCE, that such a measure would be highly beneficial to the Colony, the public an outline of the debate. We know, however, that strong oppositio will be made to it. The same party, the loyal pan excellence, who with an arrugance only equalled by their insolence and ignorance, strive to affix the charge of disaffection to their antagonists, will doubtless oppose this measure. Let them !- they will merely afford an additional proof that they are of those in politics, who, as was observed of the Bourbons by Napoleon, and of the Church and State party in our own "home" by the Duke of Sussex, "can learn nothing from the push.

The aggregate result of appeals from the judgments of the Court of King's Bench for this District, as shewn in the decisions o the Provincial Court of Appeals, which terninated its session on the 20th instant, has created astoniahment, we might safely add gaged or likely to be engaged in the presecu-

Twelve, as we see by the Quebec papers, out of fourteen judgments rendered by the Court of King's Bench for this District (a Court, let it be remarked, composed of the Chief Justice, the Hon Jas Reip, the Hons. GRORGE PRES, J. R. ROLLAND and SAML. Gala, Puisne Judges) have been reversed in appeal and by whom ! The Honorable J. Sawatz. County, a many-headed pluralist, and the Judge of a recently constituted Court—that of Escheats—in which judicial duties have saldom, if ever, been performed, and which exists only in an annual Almanac, published, or not published, by authority.

By a tribunal thus strangely constituted, the judgments of the men who fill the Judicial Bench of Montreal are revised; and it will therefore axeite little surprise that generally specting three cases out of four are re-been explained at length.

This way of discharging the duties of the judicial office, we hesitate not to assert, is strikingly in contrast with the conduct of the Provincial Court of Appeals.

The Christman Holly.

The Christmas Holly.

The holly! the holly! oh, twins it with bay—
Come give the holly a song;
For it helps to drive stern Winter away.
With his garment so sombre and long.

It peops through the trees with its berries of red,
And its leaves of burnish'd green,
When the flowers and fruits have long been deed, And not even the daisy is seen.
Then sing to the holly, the Christmas holly,
That hangs over peasant and king;
While we lough and carouse neath its glit'ring
To the Christmas holly we'll sing.

The gale may whistle, and frost may come The gale may whistle, and freetmay bome. To fetter the gurging rill;
The woods may be bare, and the warblers du. But the holly is beautiful still.
In the rewe and light of princely halls.
The bright holly-branch is found;
And its shadow falls on the lowliest walls,
While the brinning born goes round.
Then shink to the holly, &c.

The jvy lives long, but its home must be Where gaves and ruins are opened; There's beauty about the cypress two, But it dominion near the dead; The latter the warrior's frow may wreat But it tolks of near and blood; I sing the holly, and who can breathe Aught of that that is not good? Then sing to the holly, die.
