Till the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold.

The programme at the Crescent Picture Palace last night was a revelation to the many that witnessed the big five pictures and the selection rendered by Mr. David Parks, the popular baritone. The same bill will be repeated this afternoon and night on Monday and Tuesday night, the picture bill will be the strongest seen since the opening of the Crescent, and Mr. Parks has acceded to the request of his many admirers and patrons of the Palace and will render Ernest Ball's famous song, "Till the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold," which it will be remembered, proved a big hit in St. John's a short while ago. Look out for the big bill for Monday and Tuesday afternoons and evenings.

Presentation to Mrs. Rossley.

Last night there was a good house at Rossley's Theatre, and one and all declared Jack and the Bean Stalk one of the very funniest pantomimes ever seen. A surprise was given the wife of St. John's favorite comedian, for a party of our prominent citizens presented Mrs. Rossley with a magnificent solid gold pendant and chain, the pendant being set with five large diamonds and many beautiful pearls, in recognition of her work, which has been so highly appreciated. Mrs. Rossley was wholly taken by surprise at so valuable a gift, and thanks the donors now which she could not do when the gift was made. It is valuable and beautiful and will be treasured by Mrs. Rossley through life. It is the action and not the value that endears it to her. On Monday the pantomime is Blue Beard, and one that will give more pleasure than any of the others. In preparation a great Scotch pantomime.

Week of Prayer.

The topic at last night's meetings at Wesley and Cochrane Street Church was "The Home, the School, and the College." Rev. Dr. Curtis was the speaker at Wesley Church, and the Rev. Mr. Sutherland at Cochrane Street Church. The service at Cochrane Street Church was conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Whitmarsh, who was assisted by Revs. Dr. Fenwick and Mr. Thomas. The address was delivered by the Rev. Mr. Sutherland, who began by quoting the old familiar lines of "Home Sweet Home," and went on to explain the true meaning of the word home. He showed how many of the world's successful men owed much to their home training. He also spoke of the school and college, showing that both were only a fuller development of home training. The address was an interesting one, and was greatly appreciated by those present. The usual service of song closed the proceedings.

Million Pound Notes in the Bank of England.

The greatest bank in the world—the Bank of England—is known as the "Old Lady of Threadneedle Street." The bank has issued millions of pounds in notes, and if each could speak what tales of history could be told. For instance, there is reserved in the Bank of England a 5-pound note, with these words written upon it: "If this note is handed into the hands of John Dear of Highbury, near Carlisle, his brother Andrew is a prisoner in Algiers." This note was copied into a Carlisle newspaper and John Dear thus became aware of the whereabouts of his long-lost brother.

child's family, another is owned by Messrs. Coutts, the famous banker and the fourth is in the hands of the descendants of Samuel Rogers, the poet.

The printing is done on the bank premises. The notes are printed in pairs and dried. Stock notes of different values from 5 to 1,000 pounds sterling are kept in iron safes in one large room, and the average value of the stock is between 50,000,000 and 90,000,000 pounds sterling. More than 80,000 notes of various values are paid into the bank every day. On their return the notes are sorted, first into their respective values, then according to their dates and finally into their numerical order. Every note has a place of its own in the bank registers, and immediately the notes are sorted their return is registered.

Watch for Foreigners.
Special examining clerks devote their attention to detecting forgeries. Of late years, there have not been many cases of forged notes, but during the eighteenth and early part of the nineteenth centuries, the banks suffered severe losses from counterfeit notes. The story of the first recorded forgery forms a unique chapter in the book of romance. A certain linen draper, named Vaughan, was passionately in love with a fair maiden, whose father was a man of considerable wealth. The love sick swain knew that the quickest way to win the girl was to give some proof that he was a man of means. To this end he employed several men to engrave for him a Bank of England note for 20 pounds. When 12 of the notes had been worked off he presented them to the fair lady. Unluckily the imposture was soon discovered and poor Vaughan was hanged.—Indianapolis News.

Million Pound Note.
The greatest amount for which a Bank of England note has been issued is 1,000,000 pounds sterling. There are only four of these 1,000,000 pound notes in existence. One is preserved in the library of the bank, another in the possession of the Rothsing the interior of an old barn ready for them. Another few yards might bring them to what will look like an underground sewer on the screen, whilst over in the far corner scenery is arranged to depict Bad Bill's garage.

Such a large floor space being available, all the "interior" scenes in a photoplay can be taken in the course of a single afternoon.

REFUSED NOTHING.

One of the most powerful men on the exhibition side of pictures in this country is Edward Laurellard, director of a big circuit of theatres known as Electric Palaces, Ltd. In company with a Mr. Sedger he opened a little shop at Shepherd's Bush many years ago and commenced showing pictures there. Box-office takings the first week amounted to £16-16s. 14d.

The first evening a dirty little urchin timidly walked to the ticket window and tendered a farthing. "Please I want to see the animated pictures," he pleaded. The money-taker was about to turn the child away when Mr. Laurellard interposed.

"Never refuse anything," he said, and he took the farthing. The youngster was the only person to come to that performance, and he sat in the shop alone whilst the pictures were shown. His coin now has an honored position on Mr. Laurellard's watch-chain.

Out of that tiny shop at Shepherd's Bush, blossomed such elaborate picture theatres as the New Gallery Kinema, Brixton Palladium, and many popular halls.

WHAT FILMS COST TO HIRE.

The price paid by picture palaces for the hire of films varies very considerably. In a little country town where the theatre is untroubled by competition the manager may get his pictures for a price as low as five shillings per thousand feet per week. They would be very old and scratched pictures, known in the trade as "rainstorms."

Assuming that this theatre showed the usual 6,000 feet, the programme costs only 30 shillings.

Contrast this with a high-class theatre suffering from acute competition. The latter's programme will consist of 4,000 feet of "first-run" films (pictures that have never been shown before) at £6 per thousand and a three-reel "exclusive" picture (cannot be obtained by any rival hall) which costs £25. Thus the bill for 'em hire amounts to nearly £50 per week.

In some cases—"The Battle of Waterloo" for instance—an "exclusive" film will cost £200 for one week's hire.

As films grow old they can be hired cheaper, and the average price for a programme would probably work out at £25 per week.

MISS ALICE JOYCE.

Miss Alice Joyce, who shares with Miss Asta Nilesen the distinction of being the world's most popular picture actress, had never done any acting until she posed before the camera. She was formerly an artist's model working for such painters of prettiness as Mr. Harrison Fisher and others. In real life her tastes are modest and domestic: she is a good cook and makes her own dresses. Many of the costumes she wears in photoplays are created by her own hands.

Her first picture performance was such a difficult one—she had to ride a horse along a railway track—that she almost decided to refuse the position. One of her pet aversions is kissing before the camera. She never kisses in photoplays.

The Old Cry.

The statesman, when campaigning, takes hold of every chance to do some loud complaining about extravagance. "The men in power," he hollers, "still keep y o u r shoulders bent! It costs a billion dollars to run this government! The cost goes on increasing, we hear him wildly shout; "their sins will be unceasing until we turn them out!" We cried our Johns in anger, and say: "We'll crush this sin!" "We'll drive those kates to Bangor, and put some good men in!" Then to the polls we tetter, to put the skates to rout; to make our country sester we vote the rascals out. And still our trouble waxes until our hearts are sore; we have to pay more taxes than e'er we paid before. The statesman who assured us that we were being robbed, who to white anger lured us and saw that we were jobbed, now basks in ease and plenty, no trades now he vents; while we still look like twenty or twenty-seven cents.

Naples.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Stowah."

Naples is the Cinderella of history. For centuries she has sat, dirty and neglected by society, in the ashes, at the foot of Vesuvius, while Rome and Florence, her rich and powerful sisters, have strutted regally through literature, getting all the headlines and entertaining royalty in vast losses. Naples is 2,500 years old, and has done the housework for the family in all this time, while Rome has enjoyed herself. In all these 2,500 years Naples hasn't had enough fun to occupy two pages of history. But the fairy godmother is now helping her out. She has cleaned her up, decorated her and has called attention, through the steamboat literature and a few kind-hearted poets, to Pompeii, the Bay of Naples and other well known points of interest. In consequence, shiploads of tourists arrive in Naples every week, and she is getting into society at last.

There was once a saying "See Naples and die." This is no longer necessary, because some years ago the city built a new water works and sewer system, thus driving out cholera and ruining several undertakers. The city is now healthy, but it can still be detected at a great distance with the eyes shut, particularly in warm weather. The street cleaning department is always a year or two behind in Naples.

Naples put its best foot forward, like Chicago and Rio Janeiro, which are most beautiful from the water front. The bay of Naples is one of the world's largest works of art, and the city begins, six stories high at the water's edge. The rich live in palaces, hotels, and villas in Naples, and the poor live in a peculiar homemade sort of skyscraper, six or eight stories high, and so densely populated with people that there is scarcely room for the classic and ubiquitous Italian flea. The streets which run between these skyscrapers are so narrow that one mess of garlic, being cooked for dinner, is able to flavor the houses on both sides.

Naples has 600,000 people most of whom are saving up to move to America. Its chief industries are manufacturing, gold mining among tourists, and producing organ grinders and black hand leaders for export. It is very beautiful in spots, and is so earnestly enlarging the spots that it may yet be able to patronize Florence and Naples.

Granulation of the Eyelids is Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment—Scores of Uses for the Great Soothing, Healing Ointment.

Most people know Dr. Chase's Ointment best as a cure for eczema and itching piles. Nor is this to be wondered at when you think of the remarkable record made in this class of cures.
But there are scores of other uses for this ointment, which are only discovered when it is kept constantly at hand.
Mrs. Martin, 18 Carroll street, Toronto, formerly of Rowensville, Ont., writes: "We have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for years, and found it invaluable in treating skin irritations and all sorts of burns and wounds. In fact, we would not be without it in the house. It is a most excellent treatment for granulated eyelids, from which I suffered without finding anything to help me."
Wherever there is itching of the skin or a sore that refuses to heal you can use Dr. Chase's Ointment with full assurance that it will prove entirely satisfactory. 60 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanston Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

THEY DON'T MOVE.

There are 16 little pictures—each 1 1/2 wide by 3/4 inch deep—on every foot of film. An average picture programme comprises 6,000 feet. Therefore every time you sit in a full performance at a palladium you see no fewer than 96,000 distinct pictures.

PICTURE-ACTING PREFERRED.

When an actor or actress from the popular stage obtains a good position in a picture firm he or she rarely hesitates to get back to the footlights. Several attempts have been made in America to induce well-known actors to return to spoken plays, but almost all have failed without success. Harry Fleckford left pictures and formed in public for a brief period, though critics gave flattering notices and audiences applauded vigorously. The little actress came back to camera when the run of the play ended, and she has since refused other offers.

The reason why artists prefer picture work is that of performing for the camera is much less tiring than intimate acting, although, of course, picture acting is considerably more risky. The work is varied; it permits them to have the evenings for their amusement, and, the greatest

BRITAIN'S BIGGEST STUDIO.

The biggest picture-making studio in this country is a skating rink at Walthamstow that has outlived its original purpose. Scenery for eight different indoor "settings" can be arranged on the floor at the same time. When the artistes have done their business in the supposed oak-paneled dining-room they move along a few yards and find a scene represent-

Ten Strong Reasons why you should Buy Your Furniture FROM THE C. L. MARCH CO., LIMITED, Corner of Water and Springdale Streets.

- 1st—We produce our own lumber which goes into the Furniture and saves considerable cost.
- 2nd—We have the Surface Oak finish for our Furniture, which is the only thing of its kind in the country.
- 3rd—We import our own Coverings for our Parlour Suites, thus saving two duties, as most all the imported Suites come from Canada and the United States, and they have to import their coverings from France or some of the European countries, and pay duty into Canada or the States. We avoid the second duty by getting the Covering ourselves and having the frames made here.
- 4th—We have our Springs made from the wire by the only Weaver in the country; also the Oxford or Copper Wire Spring by machines too.
- 5th—We have our Mattresses made by machinery in our own building, the only machine of its kind in the country. It can produce 50 against 10 by hand, thus saving considerable in cost.
- 6th—We are producing the Excelsior or Wood Fibre and cutting the cost in two, which will mean considerable saving in the making of Mattresses.
- 7th—We are also Selling Agents for the celebrated Ideal Beds and Springs, and sell at factory price.
- 8th—We also have the COMBINATION LATH and SPRING BED, the only thing of its kind in the country.
- 9th—Having the factory in the same building, we can handle all sizes all repairing; in fact you can choose your own Coverings for Parlour Suites, Mattresses, etc., and have it made to order.
- 10th—Our motto (last but not least) is to sell at the lowest possible prices, and despite the serious advance in prices all round, we are, where possible, reducing the prices, WHICH SHOULD APPEAL TO EVERY HOUSEKEEPER when in need of Furniture and Furnishings, as we now by arrangement work from the "Tree to the Home," thus cutting out all middlemen's profits.
