The Mystery of Rutledge Hall
OF
"The Cloud With a Silver Lining"

CHAPTER XVI.
What did he mean, she wondered, by saying that Stephen had his own reasons for wishing the world to believe in his guilt? What did he mean by the assertion that by marrying her Stephen had erected a barred road—

"Good-morning, Mrs. Daunt," said a pleasant voice behind her at this juncture. "Are you thinking that a southerly wind and a cloudy sky are proclaiming a hunting morning?"

Sidney turned quickly, with a little nervous start.

Mr. Milner, smiling and pleasant in his hunting costume, had come along the gallery from his room, his steps inaudible on the thick Turkey carpet.

"Good-morning," she said, giving her hand with a little smile. "I forgot that you were going to hunt to-day. Where is the meet?"

"At Cotley Hall. I thought you would go with us."

"No," she answered, with a little shake of her pretty head. "I shall not hunt this winter. Are you late, I wonder? Stephen does not like to be kept waiting on these occasions, or indeed on any other," she added, with a laugh. "I do not know any one who goes."

Stephen Daunt, also attired in hunting "pink" and faultless "tops," was in the dining-room, glancing over the morning papers, and Dolly, in a bewitching costume of seal-brown velvet, was hovering between the window and the table, and glancing impatiently at the clock now and again. At sight of Sidney she uttered a little exclamation of disappointment.

"Oh, Sidney, have you forgotten? We promised Lady Cotley we would drive over for the meet," she said eagerly; and Sidney looked over at her blankly.

"I had quite forgotten, dear," she answered hurriedly—"I really had quite forgotten."

Lloyd Milner was not so completely entranced by the charming little vision in brown velvet, with the pouting expression of disappointment on its fair face, but that he saw the cold conventional greeting which passed between Sidney and her husband—a greeting perfectly courteous, and yet as perfectly indifferent as if they were visitors at the same country-house, but had only a very slight acquaintance.

"It is the perfection of a hunting morning," Stephen said heartily, as Sidney walked to the head of the table, and began to make the tea. "You are favored, Milner."

"Yes, I was just saying to Mrs. Daunt that we had the proverbial southerly wind and cloudy sky," Milner returned, smiling. "You don't hunt, Miss Daunt?"

"No, I do not meet sometimes," Dolly answered, "but I hoped Sidney would drive me there to-day."

Sidney said nothing; her slim white fingers were moving deftly among the delicate old china and silver, and she seemed not to have heard. In reality she was wondering how she could surmount the difficulty which had suddenly arisen to hinder her going to Lymouth. She had utterly forgotten her promise to drive to Cotley; but, if Dolly did not go, she—Sidney—would have no opportunity of going to meet Frank.

"How did you sleep, Milner?" Stephen asked, as he threw aside the newspapers and came over to take his place at the table. "Well, I hope?"

"Tolerably well," said his friend, with a laugh. "Easthorpe is too new a residence to possess the distinction of a ghost, I presume?"

"I suppose so," Stephen answered carelessly. "Why do you ask?"

"Because, if it were not, I should say I heard one last night," was the reply. "Mrs. Daunt, may I send you some of this omelet?"

"What do you mean, Mr. Milner?" said Dolly eagerly. "Did you hear any sounds in the house last night?"

"Yes," he replied smilingly, glancing at the pretty, eager face. "I heard soft swift footsteps and the rustling of a woman's gown along—"

A little clatter drowned the remainder of the words. Sidney had let the sugar-tongs fall from her unsteady fingers, and they had broken one of the fragile old china cups of the costly breakfast-service. Dolly, an ardent china maniac, looked dismayed.

"Oh, Sidney, what a pity! One of those lovely old cups!"

"It was very awkward," Sidney murmured with pale lips, looking far more startled than such a small catastrophe warranted, and uneasily conscious that Lloyd Milner's sharp eyes were watching her with a keen scrutiny.

"It is not worth while getting so pale over," Stephen said kindly, glancing at the little pale face. "It is a very small misfortune and easily repaired. Why, Sidney," he added, with a smile, "you look as frightened as if you had seen Milner's ghost!"

If Lloyd Milner had thought his young mistress pale before, he was startled now by the strange, almost ghastly pallor which spread over her face. What was its cause? he wondered. Had she an absurd dread of the supernatural, or—

"Tell us something more about your ghost, Mr. Milner," Dolly broke in gaily. "I shall be frightfully jealous if Stephen and Sidney set up a ghost here when we do not possess one at Lambswold. I have always been so sorry not to have a legend or something equally delicious associated with it."

"I am afraid the Easthorpe ghost will turn out something so very prosaic that you will not envy its possessors," said the barrister calmly, eating his breakfast, yet keenly observant of Sidney under his air of indifference.

"Prosaic! How can a ghost be prosaic?" asked Dolly, laughing. "How can swift footsteps and mysterious rustlings be prosaic?"

"Perhaps the term is misapplied," the young man answered, with a smile, "for surely there is nothing prosaic in midnight rendezvous given 'au clair de la lune.'"

He was looking at Dolly as he spoke, but his keen vision took in also Sidney's pale face and drooping figure.

"The plot thickens," Dolly said, laughing, and affecting to shudder. "To soft swift footsteps and mysterious rustling robes we have to add midnight and moonlight. Pray go on, Mr. Milner; I am on thorns with curiosity."

"Do you find the position a pleasant one?" he asked, looking over at her with a smile.

"By no means. Release me from it," she pleaded, with a delicious little mouth.

"Dolly, what a chatterbox you are!" said Stephen, laughing. "Let Lloyd get his breakfast in peace."

"I will as soon as he relieves me from the agony of curiosity which prevents me from enjoying my own breakfast," she answered. "Come, Sidney, are you not curious also?"

"Devoured by curiosity," Sidney said, with a little unsteadiness in her low tones and with her eyes downcast. "But," she added in a moment, raising them suddenly and looking over at her guest with a glance of mingled entreaty and defiance, "I think Mr. Milner has drawn as largely upon his imagination as he is capable of doing at one sitting."

"No, on my honor," the young man declared laughingly, "I am dealing solely with facts this morning, Mrs. Daunt."

"Are you?" she said coldly. "Then forgive me for being skeptical as to your supernatural visitors."

"You cannot be more skeptical than I am as to their connection with the spirit world," he replied.

"Mr. Milner," put in Dolly impatiently, "pray be more explicit, I can keep my curiosity within bounds no longer."

There was a short silence. Stephen was glancing over his letters, and not paying much attention to the conversation between his sister and his friend; Sidney, her heart beating to suffocation, was dreading with a terrible dread what Milner might say next.

"It was a beautiful moonlight night," began Mr. Milner gravely, breaking the top of an egg, and speaking with great deliberation.

"Well?" Dolly said, impatiently, as he paused. "You begin like the old song—"

"'Twas a beautiful night
And the stars shone bright,
And the moon over the waters played—"

"And, if you like, I will continue in the same manner," he said.

"When a gay cavalier
To a bower drew near,
A lady to serenade—"

Dolly laughed.

"La suite a demain," she said, with a pout. "You are inventing as you go on."

"Not at all, I assure you. I am merely putting into poetical language what you are anxious to hear," he answered, quietly.

"Do you mean that any cavalier was serenading a lady in this bower?"

His feet were wet with morning dew as he came down the hill; he asked me for a plank or two, his famished crew to fill; he talked so ably that he drew a large five dollar bill. "This money will relieve my woes, as down the road I walk and goods like those enough to fill a sack; as for the coin, I don't suppose I'll ever pay it back, I know," he said, "the common skate who works this sort of game, and borrows jack, will set a date when he'll repay the same; all sorts of vows and pledges great unblushingly he'll frame. Although I am an also man, with nothing in my pack, I am a strictly honest man, my word I do not crack; as for this coin I hold and scan, I'll never pay it back." "Ods-bodikins," I made reply, "you're a refreshing sight; a bum who will not tell a lie is solace to the sight, and I'll give you a custard pie to show you my delight. For I'm tired of making loans to pilgrims out of luck, who swear by Christopher, his bones, they'll pay back every' buck, what time, in loud and solemn tones, the thirteenth hour is struck. They swear by all the gods they know, in language bold and free, that they'll return the borrowed dough next week, at half past three; and then they teeter to and fro, and think no more of me. They're fatal to my faith in man, they leave it lying flat; they follow up a vicious plan, there's no denying that; but you may ride in my sedan and wear my Sunday hat. You come and seek me in my booth and touch me with a V, and have the gall to tell the truth—that bill no more I'll see; come to my arms, oh gallant youth, you're a relief to me!"

NERVES AND FAINTING SPELLS
Sent Woman to Bed. Great Change After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sarnia, Ontario.—"After my girls were born I was a wreck. My nerves were too terrible for words and I simply could not stand or walk without pains. I suffered with fainting spells until I was no longer any good for my household duties and had to take to my bed. The doctor said I should have an operation, but I was not in a fit condition at that time. My neighbor said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' I am sure it will do you good and will save those doctor's bills." So I was advised by my husband to try it after I told him about it. I am very thankful to say that I was soon able to take a few boarders for a while as rooms were scarce at that time. My baby is 17 months old now and I have not yet had an operation, thanks to your medicine. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to a few people I know and have told them the good it has done me. I know I feel and look a different woman these last few months and I certainly would not be without a bottle of your medicine in the house. You can use this letter as you see fit, as I should be only too glad for those suffering as I have to know what it has done for me."

Mrs. ROBERT G. MACGREGOR, R. R. No. 2, Sarnia, Ontario.

A recent canvass of women users of the Vegetable Compound report 98 out of 100 received beneficial results.

Emperor Cook
INTERNATIONAL MINERS DISOWN HIM.

The Committee of the International Federation of Miners met in Brussels recently under the presidency of Mr. Herbert Smith. After a long discussion the following resolution was passed:

"The committee has taken note of the declaration attributed to Mr. Cook in Berlin and Essen, according to which German Socialists lack the international spirit. The committee declines all responsibility for these declarations and if they are true, disavows them. The matter will be further discussed at a meeting in the near future."

The British members of the committee stated that the British Miners' Federation would prevent such quantities of Welsh anthracite coal from being sent to Canada and the West of the United States as would compromise the success of the strike of American miners. The British delegate also said that it was only an armistice that had been concluded between coal owners and miners in Britain.

Emperor Cook, the Communist secretary of the British Miners' Federation, attended a mass meeting under Communist auspices in Berlin on August 30, and said, among other things: "Germany is establishing cordial conditions of labour. We do not fear India or China, but we do fear Germany, because German workers accept low conditions of labour. Britain regards

Spent $990,000 in Five Years
Extreme Luxury of a Couple Who Lived in New York, Now Separated.
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Arguing for alimony of $60,000 a year for Mrs. Ida May Symington, whose husband, Thomas H. Symington, used her unsuccessfully for divorce, says Max D. Steur, attorney for Mrs. Symington, yesterday, said in the Supreme Court the couple during the five years of their married life spent a total of $990,000. He maintained that Mrs. Symington, having become accustomed to such luxuries, required sixty thousand dollars a year for reasonable expenses.

"It would strain the ordinary man's imagination to grasp the extreme luxury in which the couple lived," said Justice Wasservogel reserved decision.

The delegates arrived promptly on the hour in automobiles, led by Austin Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, who was followed in turn by the Italian, French and German delegates. M. Vanderveelde, of Belgium, spurred the luxury of a motor car and arrived democratically on foot. Cordons of police held back the crowds about the entrance of the palace.

No Liberal Candidate to Oppose Meighen

PROGRESSIVE CANDIDATE IN THE FIELD.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 2.—(By Canadian Press)—Liberals of the Portage La Prairie federal constituency met in convention here last night and decided not to nominate a candidate to contest the constituency against Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader. The convention decided to support the candidacy of Harry Leader, Progressive candidate, who defeated Mr. Meighen in 1921.

The resolution passed by the convention referred to the "accord with the Liberal views on the tariff," contained in the Progressive platform and stated it was "imperative" that the two low tariff factions in the constituency be united and declared the convention had decided to "unite our forces with those against the high tariff party."

Price of Milk

Editor, Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—In last evening's Telegram you published a letter from an "Unwilling Victim" on the price of milk. As one who sells milk I would like to ask the writer if a milkman has to work for the good of his health. First you have to pay $3.50 a sack for cornmeal, $2.50 for bran; then there is hay, a man's time, bottles, stoppers, wear and tear of horse and wagon. Then take a man with 12 cows: one with the other they don't average two gallons of milk a day; so there is less profit in milk than the writer tries to make the public believe. I would like to see the writer going from door to door in the winter time, in frost and cold, for nine or ten cents a pint. There is nothing about what people have to pay for but boots and dry goods, it is all about the price of milk. The best way for the writer or any one who thinks they are paying too much for milk is to stop drinking it, as there seems to be a big demand for milk at present.

Thanking you for space, Mr. Editor,

Yours truly,
PRICE OF MILK.

Famous Derby Romances

More fortunes have been lost than won on the Epsom course, I suppose the record loss on a race was when Signorietta won the Derby—and the Oaks—in 1908. The horse, a rank outsider, was owned by the Italian millionaire, Chevalier Ginestelli. He started 100 to 1.

The crowd expected the King's colt, Perinotto's son Ferrer, to win, but the Italian's horse romped home, winning by a couple of lengths. It is an odd fact that Signorietta drew 13 in both the Derby and the Oaks.

One of the biggest sums ever won over the Derby was that which fell into the lap of a girl who was not even on the course. This was Miss Thomas, the Liverpool insurance office clerk, who in 1923 bought a Calcutta Sweep ticket for 1s. 4d., and won the first prize of £114,000.

A very lucky man was the boxer, bookmaker, racehorse owner, John Gully, better known as "The Gamble Chicken," from his prize ring exploits. In 1832 he won both Derby and St. Ledger, winning over £100,000 in the two races. Fifteen years before he had been earning a miserable living as a prize-fighter. He won the Derby again in 1846, and the Oaks as well, and ten years later he again won the Derby, besides carrying off the Two Thousand Guineas.

When Lord Chaplin, as Mr. Chaplin of Blankney, won the sensational Derby, of 1836, with his famous colt Hermit, he won a fortune and ruined a rival. The story runs like some incredible stage melodrama.

The young and dashing Harry Chaplin, a great "buck" sportsman, and man-about-town and an intimate friend of King Edward's, then Prince of Wales, was betrothed to the lovely young daughter of Lord Anglesea, Lady Florence Paget.

But the lady was fickle. After becoming affianced, she lost her heart to the handsome young Marquis of Hastings, and one day, shortly before the wedding day, as Mr. Chaplin and his bride-to-be walked down Regent Street on a shopping expedition together, Lady Florence, explaining she had to go into Swan & Edgar's to arrange for an alteration to her trousseau, left Mr. Chaplin on the pavement.

He waited patiently, but she did not return. Where had she gone? She had eloped with the Marquis! On the Piccadilly side of the shop he awaited her with a carriage, and within an hour she was his Marchioness.

The jilted Harry Chaplin felt himself to be the butt of the town. He conceived a black hate of Lord Hastings—and the Marquis returned his loathing with interest.

Four years later came the Derby of 1866, with Chaplin's colt Hermit, as hot favorite. For three months the trainer slept in the box, fearing foul play; but a fortnight before the great day the horse broke a blood vessel and the betting odds fell away.

No one believed the horse could recover in time. But it was placed on a low diet and nursed, and on race day passed with the rest in the paddock. Snow was falling. No one put a penny on Hermit on the course; Chaplin said nothing. Only he and his trainer and stable manager knew what the colt could do.

The horse got away, after a series of hot starts and amid terrific excitement. Hermit passed the favorite, The Palmer, beyond Tottenham Corner, and came down the straight an easy winner.

Chaplin won £140,000 and two side bets of £30,000 each, whilst his manager won £65,000. The Marquis of Hastings, who had betted against Hermit to the limit, lost £103,000, and was virtually ruined. A year or two later the Marquis committed suicide, and his young widow, then only 24, married another racing man, Sir George Chetwynd.

Do you want a round trip to New York for two or $1000? Round trip to Halifax for two or $250? Trip to Corner Brook or $100? Seventy Five Dollars, Fifty Dollars, Twenty Five Dollars? See ad. this issue.—oct1,31,1925

New Zealand and the British Navy

Proposal to Contribute Another Battle Cruiser Not Favored by Premier. LONDON, Sept. 25.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Christ Church, New Zealand, says the New Zealand Navy League is urging the Government to contribute a third battle cruiser to the British navy.

Premier J. G. Coates, in reply, says that New Zealand's navy defence has increased this year from 8 to 10 shillings, according to the correspondent of the Daily Mail, and that personally he thinks a steady development like this is better than precipitate action, such as the Navy League urges. He points out that constant charges are being made in naval defence, and be-

Newfoundland Delegates in Boston

(Nfld. Weekly.) The Newfoundland delegates to the Inter-Parliamentary Union to be held in Washington, D.C., arrived on Monday morning on the S.S. Newfoundland. The party consisted of Hon. W. S. Monroe, Prime Minister of Newfoundland, Hon. W. J. Higgins, K.C., Minister of Justice, Hon. C. J. Fox, Speaker of the House of Assembly, Hon. A. B. Morine, Legislative Council and Hon. R. K. Bishop, Legislative Council.

As the invitation to the Conference was extended to the members selected and a member of their immediate families, Mrs. Monroe, Mrs. Higgins, Mrs. Morine and Mr. Claud Fraser, nephew of Sir P. T. McGrath, accompanied them.

The remaining member of the delegation, Sir P. T. McGrath, President of the Legislative Council, had preceded the party and had accompanied some of the members of the British Parliamentary Delegates, who recently visited Newfoundland, to Ottawa and Montreal, and arrived in Boston on Sunday morning.

On the arrival of the S.S. Newfoundland at Charlestown, the party was met by Sir Patrick McGrath and Mr. R. H. Tait, of the "Weekly," and on the pier were many Newfoundland residents of Boston and Greater Boston to welcome their distinguished countrymen.

Besides the Conference Delegates, there were on board the S.S. Newfoundland many passengers from the homeland and elsewhere making the round trip or paying a visit to different parts of the U.S., and their friends and relatives, also, were at the pier to meet them.

After the necessary formalities in landing had been completed, the party went to their respective hotels.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe and Mr. and Mrs. Morine remained in Boston only a few hours and proceeded in the afternoon by motor to New York. Hon. R. K. Bishop also left for New York by train during the afternoon. The remainder of the party stayed at the Copley Plaza, where during their stay they received many callers.

On Tuesday and Wednesday they visited the points of interest around the city and were entertained by their friends.

On Wednesday morning in company with Mr. R. H. Tait, they were received at the State House by the Lt.-Governor, Frank G. Allen, in the absence of Governor Alvin T. Fuller, who tendered to them on behalf of the Executive of the State of Massachusetts, a hearty welcome. The Lt.-Governor discussed with them many questions relating to the welfare of Newfoundland and was glad to learn of the progress of affairs in the homeland. The delegates were very appreciative of the courtesy and kind welcome extended by the Lt.-Governor, who presented to each member on departure an autographed copy of the history and description of the State House.

Having left the executive offices they proceeded to the City Hall, where they paid their respects to the Mayor and Council of the City of Boston.

Owing to his recent indisposition, Mayor Curley was unable to be present, but Acting Mayor James Moriarty and Councilors James A. Watson and William J. Walsh, welcomed the Newfoundland representatives, and expressed great pleasure in meeting them and wished them a happy sojourn in the hub and in the other points of destination.

Acting Mayor Moriarty followed the example of the Lt.-Governor and presented to each member an autographed copy of the book written to commemorate the 100th Anniversary of the City of Boston.

Sir Patrick McGrath and Hon. Messrs. Higgins and Fox were loud in their praises of the courteous reception given to them at the two principal offices of the State, especially in view of the fact that their visit was arranged at such short notice.

A call was then made on a well known and loyal Newfoundlandier in Boston, Mr. Maurice M. Devine, and the party returned to their hotel.

In the evening a banquet was tendered to our distinguished countrymen by the Newfoundland residents of Boston and vicinity.

On Thursday morning they left by the Grey Line Motor Bus to New York via the Shore Highway in order to enjoy the beautiful scenery along the route. Mrs. W. J. Higgins and Mr. Claude Fraser accompanied them.

Each member of the party desired to state through the columns of the "Weekly" that he regretted he was unable, owing to the demands on his time, to fulfil many engagements anticipated or partly promised and to meet many old friends and acquaintances.

They wish to express through these columns how deeply they enjoyed their visit to Boston and with what pleasure they availed of the opportunity to renew old acquaintances and to meet new friends.

The Newfoundlanders in Boston regret that circumstances made it impossible for the Prime Minister and Hon. A. B. Morine and R. K. Bishop to remain with us longer in the city and to be greeted in the same way as their colleagues.

Think Highly of Yourself

Whatever happens, you have to live with yourself. And no other thing matters so much to your success and happiness as the basic fact—what you are. Whether you are a great person or only a very small person—no matter. You are important to yourself; and you can never hold up any sort of worthwhile life unless you begin with yourself. This seems simple and self-evident enough, but how rare it is to see a man who is really the Master of his own affairs! If a man has no self-respect his success will be a misfortune and his happiness a mirage. Next he must have self-control and he must deliberately pursue a policy and ask: "What is the greatest thing in this shop?" and the answer is: "The Manager himself." Once in awhile, don't follow the crowd. Go the other way. Let the crowd jeer you and pelt you, as a crowd always does. Own yourself, as Marcus Aurelius did—as Darwin did—as every worthwhile man has always done. Even though you may never be rich—even though you may never be known outside of your own little circle—you can still have Character. You can still have Independence. You can still say: "I am the Captain of my soul!"—Herbert N. Casson, in Forbes Magazine (N.Y.)

The Repudiation of Communism by Labor

The following account of an interview with the former leader of the British Labour Party in connection with the Liverpool conference indicates clearly the cleavage which has taken place in its ranks and the blow which has been given to the communists by their former associates:

Explaining his opposition to the communists at the parliamentary Labour party conference in Liverpool, J. Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader and former premier, is quoted in an interview as declaring "I opposed the communists at the Labor party conference because I am not a revolutionary. I don't believe in revolution. The vote against the admission of Communists to the Labor party was an indication of the sanity of the trades union movement."

"Socialism and communism are two different things. The socialist party aims at getting to its object by constitutional methods. Many electors were only awaiting assurance that the socialist party was opposed to communism. The conference has given that assurance, and the decision will be received with satisfaction throughout the country."

"I don't want the support of the Communist party and I am not moved by their abuse. The Labor party can carry its own burdens without their assistance."

The sentiment of Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, which is fully in accord with the views expressed both privately and in public by the Labour members who visited here recently, will remove many misgivings and tend to reassure the public of the party's ultimate aims. Labour has repudiated the principles of communism and has declared its loyal adherence to the constitution.

In no small measure the industrial depression in Great Britain can be traced to the political unrest which has kept the affairs of the country in a state of turmoil ever since the war ended. The problems which arose were numerous, and as they could not be solved immediately various expedients were resorted to, and these in time added to the difficulties. A labour party was eventually elected, but because it had no administrative experience, because it was dependent on the support of another party for its very existence, and because it was regarded with distrust owing to the extreme views of one of its factions it was doomed to failure from the first. It must, however, be said that during the short time that the party was in power, the country was made to realize that if its methods of dealing with public questions differed somewhat from those previously followed, its guiding principles were as sound and its loyalty to the Crown and the Empire as sincere as those of any other administration.

At present there appears to be a growing opposition to the policy followed in industrial, financial and foreign affairs by the Baldwin Government. Unemployment, a question which it was hoped would be made the first object of attention when the Conservatives assumed office, is increasing; the budget of the Chancellor of the Exchequer is causing considerable irritation particularly in the steel, shipbuilding, and silk industries; the debt settlement with France is considered most unsatisfactory, and that feeling is aggravated by the temporary arrangement made by Finance Minister Caillaux with Washington. Further, the public are incensed by the commitments of the country in the Mosul region, and by the tardiness which marks the settlement of the vexed European question. It is not surprising, therefore, that already there are rumours of another appeal to the electorates within a short time.

In the event of such an appeal, the Labour Party, purged of its extremists, dissociated from the section which finds in Moscow its inspiration and its funds, and identified with a clearly defined policy, would undoubtedly meet with a strong measure of support. There can be no mistaking the seriousness of purpose of the real Labour leaders, and there is no occasion to doubt their ability to administer the affairs of the country with statesmanship and integrity. Inclined while in opposition to be sectional in their views, they quickly realized during their tenure of office that a policy directed by such sentiments would be disastrous, with the result that the apprehensions of the public were dispelled and its confidence gained.

THE SOUND AND ONLY BASIS OF INDUSTRY There is just one condition on which men can secure employment and a living, nourishing, profitable wage for whatever they contribute to the enterprise, be it labour or capital, and that condition is that someone make a profit by it. That is the sound basis for the distribution of wealth, and the only one. It cannot be done by public ownership; it cannot be done by socialism. When you deny the right to a profit you deny the right of a reward to thrift and industry.—Calvin Coolidge.

Headstones for War Graves The first shipment, numbering seventy-five, of headstones, being sent out by the War Graves Commission, through Padre Nangle, for erection in the local cemeteries over the graves of the men of "Our's" will leave England by S.S. Newfoundland, on the 13th inst.

Not in Accordance With Facts Some of the particulars given in connection with the unfortunate case of G. Holwell, who came across by the express from Port aux Basques yesterday, are altogether at variance with facts, although obtained from a seemingly reliable source, and we therefore hasten to correct them. Mr. Holwell for the past two years has been working as a pressman in Sydney and regularly sent home to his aged mother money for support. It therefore came as a surprise to the family when a message was received stating that he was returning home and required money for the passage. This was cabled on Saturday and a message stated that he had left but gave no intimation of the cause of his return. It is impossible to account for his being without funds or a ticket unless he was victimized by someone who took advantage of his condition, as it has been found since his arrival that he is mentally afflicted. It is hoped, however, that the trouble is only of a temporary nature and that his recovery will result from rest and quiet.

New Dock Half Completed

SPLENDID PROGRESS BEING MADE.

Construction work on the new Dry Dock is proceeding steadily, and within the course of another week over half of it will have been completed. As it appears at present it gives one a pretty fair idea as to what it will really look like when finished. At the eastern end of the dock all old timber is being speedily removed, while the work of blasting, which is carried on during meal hours every day, is proving very satisfactory. Messrs. W. I. Bishop and Company, the contractors, have upwards of 700 men employed on the job, working day and night with no let up in the scene of operation. Day by day the huge structure is gradually nearing completion, and it is expected by the end of the year that the work will be well in hand.

The splendid progress of the work to date can be better realized when it is stated that over 14,500 cubic yards of construction have already been accomplished. The equipment, machinery and other devices, brought here by the contractors, are in a great measure responsible for the progress made, and there has been a big saving in time and labor under the system adopted. We are also given to understand from Mr. Bishop that the job, when completed, will be below the estimated cost.

It is the intention of the company to carry on the operations during the winter months. No matter how severe the weather may be, the concrete will set, as before being placed the materials will be heated as they go through the mixing machine. The concrete plant is a huge structure. It is lodged on rails on the floor of the dock, and is very easily moved along according as the work proceeds. All the work is done from the inside, with two men in charge of the mixing machines, and a third man for supplying the water. The rock and sand are brought in cart loads down one side of the dock and across a temporary bridge to the plant where the material is deposited in bins, five in number, and fed to the mixing machine below. The material when ready for use is then distributed by means of shuttles, one on either side of the dock, and conveyed to all parts of the work.

Under this system two hundred and fifty yards of construction is finished each day, although the amount varies somewhat according to the nature of the work. To keep up with this end of the operation, upwards of twenty teamsters are engaged hauling rock day and night from the Quarry. The average amount of rock hauled per day is 480 cubic yards. Sand is being brought into the city daily from Trepassy by rail, and deposited at the western end of the shed. The sand and rock are as good as any obtainable anywhere; the rock especially is of a very high grade and best suited for this form of construction.

The floor of the dock is of solid concrete, with a thickness of 7 feet 6 inches, while the height of the walls is 36 feet. The walls are broken into four steps or axtars, to facilitate the docking and shoring of boats. The width of the dock in the bottom from wall to wall is seventy feet, which is wide enough to accommodate vessels of the most modern type. When the entrance to the dock is completed it will be eighteen inches lower than formerly, while the depth will be 23 ft. 6 in. The cofferdam has been placed in position about 100 feet from the gate entrance. The crib, from the rear to the gate, measures 70 feet. This in itself is a splendid piece of work, and although the job is not yet completed, the water has dropped about eight feet. The gate is now being made to order in England, and will be something similar in size and shape as the present one.

The work at the Quarry on the Southside, where all the rock is being taken out and crushed, goes on daily without the slightest interruption. A large number of men are employed by the day, but only a few men are kept on at night. These are the drillers. The blasters work by day, and the rock is then conveyed down the slope by small trolley cars and dropped on a platform in front of the crushers, where it is soon ground up, and conveyed by horse-drawn boxcars to the scene of operation.

The management speak very highly of the good value given by the large number of men employed and of the fine spirit which is shown on all sides.

PEPYS BEHIND THE SCENES

October 5th.—Waked very betimes by the sound of the wind, blowing a great gale, so that the house shakes with it, and doors and windows bang everywhere. Indeed, I cannot sleep with the banging of them and needs must wander about the house, fastening them up, and shivering all the while with the cold. So back to bed again and do oversee myself, so that I am more than an hour late for the office, to my great discontent, having much work there. Talking this day with Mr. Brewster, a very respectable and sensible citizen, who would persuade me that I be a candidate for the City Council, he pleasantly declaring that I should be the worst to offer myself, being 1 to 2 others, mighty strange men, offering themselves. That he meant this for a compliment, I do not doubt, but the matter not much to my liking nor shall I think more of it. I do hear rumors of a Municipal party being formed, to contest the election, and will organize and work as a single unit, but the truth of this I cannot vouch for. Little news this night, and I about business, having much to complete about my wife would have me go abroad with her for bridge, which is a thing I do now have little time for.

No further particulars have been received. The Svaleen is 100 tons and was bound to Fogo in charge of one of the local pilots. The crew are reported safe. The cargo is covered by insurance.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES

AUSPICIOUS START OF SECURITY CONFERENCE. LOCARANO, Switzerland, Oct. 6.

Europe to-day made what looks like an encouraging start on political reconstruction, based on the burial of the past and of all hatred engendered by the Great War and a determination to build a new one of absolute equality and right. For the first time since the war Germany sat at the council table free and untrammelled. With amazing speed the Germans and the Allies at the opening of the security conference agreed to a considerable number of articles of the draft act, which is designed to insure the permanent peace of Europe by arbitration of disputes and by the settling up of military guarantees for maintaining peace in the event of military aggression by any of the signatories.

U. S. CONSIDERING CZECHOSLOVAKIA DEBT.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. With only a week-end respite after the departure of the French, the United States Debt Commission met to-day to consider the funding of the Czechoslovakia debt. During the day the Treasury received advice stating that the Italian Commission will probably be here before the month ends.

TWO LIVES LOST AT LEVEL CROSSING.

GENEVA, N.Y., Oct. 6. Two troopers were killed and the lives of 800 passengers were endangered on the crack Black Diamond express on the Lehigh Valley railroad shortly after six o'clock to-night, when the train crashed into the troopers' automobile on an outlying crossing.

WRONG S.O.S. CALL SENDS STEAMER ON WILD GOOSE CHASE.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Oct. 6. Coastguard patrol boat O.J.101 was picked up by O.G.163 late to-night and is steaming toward Atlantic City under her own power. She sprung a leak about 37 miles east by south of Absecon and the radio operator, fearing it was sinking, inadvertently gave the wrong position in an S.O.S. call sent out. As a result seven steamers combed the Atlantic in vain.

A seaman, belonging to Liverpool, charged with deserting S.S. Sachem, was given in charge of a friend of his until the arrival of the ship. The charge of desertion was dismissed.

Will Probably Proceed to Halifax

Up to noon hour the Furness Withy Co. received no word from the Sticklestead, reported yesterday as 300 miles off port with her tall shaft broken, but it is probable that the ship will be picked up by a passing ship and towed to Halifax. Yesterday the Sticklestead requested quotation on towage either to here or Halifax and the Furness Withy Co. asked the Railway Management for an offer. This was sent early yesterday afternoon but no reply accepting the offer has been received.

Prospero Gone to Assistance of S.S. Ellerdale

Latest advices from S.S. Ellerdale reported in distress yesterday at Bradore Bay, state the ship is in a very serious condition with the water going in No. 1 and 2 holds. The Prospero left Twillingate at 10.30 this morning proceeding to her assistance and will reach there some time to-night. The Ellerdale left Montreal on September 29th, bound to Liverpool with a full load of grain. Last evening the Railway Management received a message from Capt. Kean, of the S.S. Prospero, then at Twillingate, stating that an S.O.S. call from S.S. Ellerdale had been picked up, asking for assistance. The ship reported making water fast and heading toward Hare Bay. It was too risky for the Prospero to leave Twillingate on receipt of the message, owing to a heavy storm, but the disabled ship was kept in touch with all night.

This morning the Captain of the Ellerdale reported to the Prospector that the ship's condition was very serious and it was hoped that the Prospero was making towards him. Capt. Kean landed his southbound passengers at Twillingate immediately and proceeded to the position given at 10.30 a.m. Nothing further had been received up to press hour. The Sagona, which left port at 9.30 this morning to relieve the Home at Lewisporte, will probably call at Twillingate to take the Prospero's passengers. A message was also received from S.S. Ellerdale this morning by Bowring Bros., the agents, reporting that the ship was heavily laden with a cargo of grain, and that the water had increased considerably in No. 1 and 2 holds. In a previous message to the same firm, the captain stated the ship struck the bottom of Bradore Bay, but could not ascertain the extent of damages caused.

LATEST FROM ELLERDALE.

The Marconi Company received a message from Operator Walsh at Fogo this morning stating S. S. Ellerdale sent out S. O. S. call from position 53.30 N., 64 W., steering north 55 west. Endeavouring to make Hare Bay; making water fast. Prospero in communication with Ellerdale and ready to proceed to her assistance if required.

Pigeon Swallowed Whole by Pelican

LONDON, Sept. 25.—While visitors to St. James' Park were throwing bread to a pelican, a pigeon grabbed one of the morsels. The pelican, with great flappings of the wings, snapped at the interloper, which he actually swallowed alive.

The larger bird was in obvious difficulties as the pigeon passed through his gullet, but he eventually entered the water and calmly swam away.

Blue Puttee Annual Re-union

After eleven years—the remnants of the First Five Hundred, historically known as "The Blue Puttees"—assembled to celebrate the anniversary of the sailing of the "Florizel" on Oct. 4th, 1914—at Donovan's last night.

If good cheer, happy smiling faces, and good fellowship, can be taken to signify cordiality, then indeed those responsible for last night's re-union can look back with pleasure and gratification upon the huge social success achieved.

The chair was occupied by Lieut.-Col. L. Paterson, O.B.E., who, in his usual able manner, and with his genial personality, managed the programme to the great pleasure of all. The tables were tastefully decorated and the menu served was all that could be desired and handled by the capable staff in the usual Donovan's style.

The menu cards were specially prepared by the Evening Telegram, being printed in blue, the front cover tastefully designed and embossed, and reflects great credit on our local printers.

The following messages were read: From Mr. B. Butler, Corner Brook:—"Please convey my best wishes to Blue Puttees. Regret unavoidable absence. Please grant leave."

From George T. Carty, A Company, St. George's:—"Dear John, sorry I cannot be with you to-night. Regards to the boys. Hope all have a good time."

From ex-Corpl. M. Vall, St. Mary's:—"Success to re-union to-night. Sorry cannot be with you."

Upon the roll being called by Capt. G. G. Byrne, M.C., the following 52 answered as present:—

P. Mansfield 51, J. Robinson 480, W. Kearney 55, J. W. March, W. Taylor 111, R. Tilly 21, M. Godden 615, J. Nicholls 336, R. Sheppard 473, A. Smith 378, W. Roberts 368, A. Mullett 457, W. F. Lieut.-Col. W. F. Rendell, C.B.E., on behalf of the Committee, moved a hearty vote of thanks to Lieut. R. B. Herder, for his generous and dignified handling of the menu cards and receipted advertising bills. The rousing cheer and the singing of "He's a Jolly good fellow," signified the gratitude and esteem of the boys.

The menu was as follows:— Grape Fruit—Pleasantville. Skilley—La Florizel. Fish—Prime Devonport Naped. Roast—Market Lavington. Vegetables—Pond Farm Potatoes. Fort George Green Peas, Nairn Turnips.

Sweets—Cannon Gait Plum Pudding with Lethal Walk Sauce. Fruit—Apples, a gift at 50c. per doz., Oranges, Cromarty, Bananas, Ardersier, Nuts, "We had some," Tea—Lark Hill. Coffee—Bustard.

Toast List. The King—Prop., Lieut.-Col. Paterson, O.B.E.; resp. National Anthem. Absent Comrades—Capt. H. McNeil, O.B.E.; Silent Toast.

Songs were sung by Sergt. Morrissey, Major March, M.C., C. de G. Lieut. Herder, P. Mansfield and R. Sheppard. Sergt. E. Fox presided at the piano and the old regimental songs were sung very heartily. The chairman made reference to Comrade A. Goopie, who is very ill. The meeting expressed their sympathy for their old friend. The gathering terminated at midnight with the singing of the National Anthem and the party returned to town, voting the 1925 re-union the best yet.

The toast of Captain H. McNeil, O. B.E., to "Absent Comrades" is reproduced.

"To-night's orders have detailed me to toast 'Absent Comrades' and as I cannot even pretend to be an after dinner speaker I am sure you will look upon my effort with tolerance and pardon any short comings on my part.

To-night's gathering, representing the re-union of the First Contingent of the Newfoundland Regiment with 52 members answering the roll call, which originally—eleven years ago—consisted of 540 all ranks, compels each and every one of us to pause for a moment and think of our "Absent Comrades"; 488 absent. Some of them we shall meet again possibly to-morrow or next day and others are waiting to meet us "when the roll is called up yonder."

Comrades. Not a man of us here to-night cannot recall to mind some absent comrade—a brother—a cousin—a pal—who was one of "our comrades"—the old "Blue Puttees"—the nucleus of the Battalion that earned for itself the title "Royal"—the praise of the words, "better than our best"—and more decorations than our first line transport could haul—although we did not get them.

Amongst our Absent Comrades to-night we also place all our Comrades of C. D. E. F. G. H. and W. and Y. Companies that comprised our own Regiment as well as the 28th Brigade, the 29th Division and in the latter stages of the Campaign the 9th Division.

How many Comrades did we make overseas who can be termed "Absent" to-night but who, by their hospitality and various acts of good fellowship extended to us during our period away from home earned for themselves our gratitude and remembrance especially on an occasion such as this?

Call them back to your minds—"You millionaire soldiers"—Friends in Market Lavington—Devizes, Salisbury, Fort George, Inverness, Nairn, Edinburgh, Leith, London, and afterwards in Ayr and Winchester.

Will any of us even forget the cordial hospitality and welcome extended to us after the 28th Brigade of Salisbury Plains on that morning in December 1914 when we arrived at Port George—the Depot of the Seaforth Highlanders and the many friends we made there amongst the old "dog-outs" who were always willing to help us out in every way they could.

And as soldiers we needed help as we were certainly green—green enough to buy apples at fifty cents a dozen which were intended to be a gift for us and sent aboard the Florizel by some patriotic friends at home.

Each one of us can call to mind some friends in Nairn and Inverness who are deserving of our remembrance as we know they will never forget us.

How many friends have we left behind in Great Britain, Egypt, France and Belgium who introduced themselves by asking what NPLD meant—next question invariably was—"You are 'Light Dragons'?"—"Oh Newfoundland—yes—that is out in Western Canada" or "near New Zealand?"

The explanation given as to who we were, what we were, and where we came from invariably sufficed to break the ice and in many cases resulted in the forging of links of friendship which are still holding firm, some of them today being strengthened by "silken bonds of matrimony."

This is really a small world and we may any day meet again some of those "Absent Comrades."

However, there are many of our pals absent to-night whom we shall not meet again in this world. On every battle-front on which the Royal Newfoundland Regiment saw action some "Blue Puttees" lie sleeping. Others who came safely through the Campaign have since passed on and still others have died long after hostilities ceased from the effects of illness and wounds contracted during those strenuous days.

"Lo! some we loved, the loveliest and best. "That time and fate of all their vintages past. "Have drunk their cup a round or two before. "And one by one crept silently to rest."

Comrades—It is our duty to see that the principles for which these "Absent Comrades" fought and died are maintained in our country. We must not let their sacrifice be treated as a "sine days" wonder, and we must always remember that in passing they flung the torch to us to hold aloft and to carry on.

Two years ago at a Sergeant's Mess Dinner I made the statement that our War Memorials in this country were not receiving the respect to which they are entitled and I am sorry to say that I can make the same statement to-day without fear of contradiction. Our people as a whole will pass by our National War Memorial on the "Beach" without even a thought as to what it represents.

I will ask you all gentlemen—Blue Puttees—to keep the memory of our "Absent Comrades" green by seeing that all your friends and comrades raise their hats when passing the War Memorials in this country.

I am sure we are all grateful to know that at last some action is about to be taken to beautify the surroundings of our National Memorial and I am confident that the people of our country are only too willing to look upon that spot as sacred and are

"Dulcy" a Unique and Most Successful Comedy

"Dulcy" is just a whirlwind of seemingly hopeless predicaments for all who come in contact with the perfectly well meaning, perfectly irresponsible, and at the same time perfectly irresistible wife of a business man.

Owing to her anxiety to make every-one happy she manages in one week-end to ruin her husband, to arrange the elopement of a charming girl with a scenario of dubious youth and equally dubious reputation, to involve the young wife of an aged and crusty husband in an intrigue with a lunatic, and of course, when everything turns out, perfectly all right she is the only person who is not in the least surprised because after all it was just what she had been planning.

"Dulcy" is the name of the play because Dulcy is the play. The others are just her friends and relations who are all tangled up by her surprises, driven to desperation by her secrets, and bewitched by her bubbling vivacity and loveliness.

It is questionable whether the Casino ever witnessed a comedy quite like the performance given last night by the Harkins Players. It cannot be described as a screaming farce or by any term of that kind, for in fact, it verged at times on the tragic, but even those scenes strongly appealed to the humour of the crowded audience, not one of whom but appreciated fully the clever wit of the dramatist and the skill of the artists in interpreting it.

Of Miss Violet Deane as Dulcy, the wife of Gordon Smith, (Joseph Selman), it must be said that great as have been her successes in previous performances, she exceeded herself last night. She was never silent for a minute, and the more she talked the more hopelessly did she tangle things up. She was full of secrets which she confided to everyone, full of surprises, better described as shocks, that everyone dreaded, although they were all intended to make her friends happy. The character is one calling for the highest skill in vocal and facial expression and in gesture, in all of which Miss Deane excels.

Joseph Selman as the distracted husband whose business is tottering because of his wife's insisting on taking a part in it, and whose house is in a turmoil because of her desire to please, scores another great success by his very human impersonation of the character.

James A. Bliss who has made such a good impression in minor roles gave a splendid impersonation of the crusty jealous elderly husband of a charming young wife Mrs. Forbes, a part taken by Miss Mary Zepp. The latter acted and spoke her embarrassment at being detected in the act of carrying on a flirtation with Schuyler Van Dyck, (Mr. George Rogers), who believes himself to be fabulously wealthy, but turns out to be a harmless lunatic.

A most charming part was played by Miss Doris Haslett, who, as Angela, the daughter of C. Roger Forbes, is encouraged by Dulcy to elope with the scenario, but who to everyone's surprise returns the next day married to William Parker, Dulcy's brother. The latter role was taken by Fred Nelson and the former by Joseph Demler. James T. Morey as an advertising enthusiast, Rex Benware, as the guardian of Van Dyck and Miss Du Bois as one of Dulcy's proteges from a prison had minor roles but played them most effectively. By no means the least effective feature of the play were the magnificent costumes worn in the different acts by the ladies. To attempt a description is impossible; they must be seen to be appreciated, and the same may be said of the scenic effects in the arrangement of which Messrs. Jas. Morey and George Rogers show rare artistic taste.

Dulcy will be repeated this evening and to-morrow, and judging from the splendid house last night, and the great reception it was given there is certain to be a big demand for seats.

prepared to make any sacrifice to keep it so.

May we not consider that these Comrades who are absent to-night are with us in spirit? I think those words of that immortal Persian Philosopher, Omar Khayyam expresses their desire.

"And when thyself with shining foot shall pass "Among the guests star scattered on the grass "And in the joyous errand reach the spot where I made one "Turn down an empty glass."

Mr. Chairman and Comrades I ask you to charge your glasses—rise and drink with me to the toast "Absent Comrades" and to then stand in silence with bowed heads for the space of one minute in grateful remembrance of our Comrades whose fitting epitaph is—

"Simple service—simply given "To our best friend "In their common need."

Mrs. A. McD. Wilson will be "At Home" on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, Oct. 7th and 8th, from 3 to 5, at 4 Devon Row. sept5,21

(From Halifax Chronicle, Oct. 2nd.) UNITED STATES RUBBER COMPANY. Sales to September 1, $23,000,000 Ahead of Last Year—Strong Earning Power.

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—For the eight months ending August 31, gross sales of United States Rubber were about $23,000,000 ahead of the same period last year. As illustrative of the manner in which sales have been booming through the summer the increase in July and August alone was $3,000,000, or more than half the approximate $115,000,000 gain in the first six months.

For the full year the big rubber system is certain to push its volume well over $200,000,000 for the first time since 1920, when it hung up its record of $255,000,000. It did $92,000,000 the first six months and the second half year, augmented by footwear business, is invariably ahead of the first. While tire sales will from November 1 taper off somewhat by reason of the abandonment by 95 per cent of the rubber companies of the "spring dating" custom the reduction will hardly be sufficient to pull the combined volume of all departments under $200,000,000.

In common with all of the big producers United States Rubber undoubtedly welcomes the passing of "spring dating" campaigns as just recently agreed upon at the Akron meeting. This policy was originally designed as a winter sales stimulant to aid in evening up production but resulted in needless credit extension to a host of small dealers throughout the country, many of whom in the warm sections of the South and the Pacific Coast were under no necessity of stocking up in the winter against a spring demand. They were enabled to sell their goods all through the winter without having to pay until the late spring or early summer. An unhealthy practice thus finally departs with the better co-operating now, obtained in the industry.

In the first half year United States Rubber earned $4.03 a share for its $10,000 shares of common stock. Although much depends upon footwear business, which in turn depends upon the arrival date and length of stay of real winter weather, the second half should run well ahead of the first with a balance of from $5 to $5.30 a share. This would mean a balance of between $9 and $9.50 a share for the common exclusive of an equity of at least $10 a share in the Plantations Company.

Successful Sale and Concert
AT SYNOD HALL.

At the Synod Hall yesterday afternoon the ladies of the Industrial Home Association held a most successful sale. Mrs. D. Johnston, the President, in a brief address declared the sale open. After outlining the various activities of the association she stated that the immediate object of the sale was the establishment of a laundry in connection with the Industrial Home. The affair opened at 3.30 p.m. There was a large attendance and sales were brisk. The afternoon and meat teas were well patronized and from this source alone the receipts were very gratifying. Lady Allardice, who is one of the most active workers in the Society, addressed the gathering at some length. After pointing out its aims and objects she concluded by making an earnest appeal for all present to support the good work. A most enjoyable concert followed at 8 o'clock in which the following artists took part: Mrs. Alec Mews, Mrs. Boone, Mrs. C. F. Garland, Mrs. Ferguson and Adj. and Mrs. Smith, S.A. Mrs. Dunfield and Mrs. Foster, who were to have given musical selections, were unavoidably absent, as was also Mrs. (Justice) Johnson, who was to have given an address. The item by Adj. and Mrs. Smith, the singing in Hindustani of "Pass Me Not, O Loving Saviour," proved very interesting. At the conclusion of the concert the remaining vegetables, etc., were disposed of. The sale was in every way successful and the proceeds were satisfactory.

Jackie Coogan Scores New Triumph
In His Latest Film "The Rag Man," At The Nickel.

With each succeeding revelation of the genius of Jackie Coogan the conviction is strengthened that there is but one Jackie Coogan in the world, and that there never has been another. Not only in the personal appeal of the child, as a child is Jackie a spiritual benefaction to the race; he is in this acting art nothing less than what David Warfield proclaimed him—a master!

This was all demonstrated yesterday to an adoring audience at the Nickel Theatre, when Jackie in his latest Metro-Goldwyn picture, "The Rag Man," filled the house. One might have thought that in one picture or another, the full length portrait of Jackie, the genius, has been revealed; but yesterday's performance revealed the folly of guessing at the infinitude of Jackie's gifts, for new ones were disclosed in abundance.

The story relates the adventures of little Tim Kelly after he has lost his home in a New York orphan asylum that is seen to burn to the ground. Tim Kelly is registered as among those that perished in the flames and Tim is well satisfied to be considered a "dead one," for he finds himself a home and a job with old Max Ginsberg, who begins by befriending the boy and ends by being befriended by him.

The race up Hester Street was a comedy sensation, and the way Jackie is "discovered" by the junk dealer, old Ginsberg, is too ingenious and amusing to reveal, for the surprise is a delight that ought not to be robbed of its novelty.

An excellent cast reveals the good judgment of Jack Coogan, Sr., who supervised the production, and who has seen to it that every role is capably presented. Robert Edson, Lydia Yeamans Titus and William Conklin achieve individual and collective success, while Max Davidson, as the junk man, has never done so fine a characterization in all the fourteen years of his picture career.

Majestic Theatre
Pony Contest

ATTRACTS LARGE AUDIENCE.

So much interest has been caused by the announcement that the Majestic Theatre are giving away, entirely free to some boy or girl in St. John's, or vicinity, a genuine Shetland pony, at the Majestic Theatre, has been swamped with inquiries as to how this pony may be obtained, and the following details are to aid the children and their parents to secure this handsome pony. Ever since any person attends the Majestic Theatre they will receive a vote equivalent to their admission ticket. In addition to this votes may be secured by purchasing at the stores of the local merchants who will display a peculiarly shaped banner, the system being that when you purchase goods at these stores you will be handed a vote equivalent to the amount of your purchase up to $1.00. Every sale above $1.00 may be accompanied by a larger numbered ticket, which can only be procured at the Majestic Theatre. These tickets when taken to the merchants will entitle the purchaser to a thousand votes for each $1.00 purchase.

In passing it might be worthy to note that there is no gamble of any sort connected with this contest. The voting is just as accurate, and is checked over just the same for example, the votes for any of the current elections. It is a bonified opportunity for the boy or girl who makes the attempt to secure this handsome pony free, and in addition to this to secure one of the many prizes which will be offered by the local merchants. St. John's is thoroughly excited over the balloons which will be released from the Majestic Theatre, to-morrow (Wednesday); and the management of this theatre promises many other interesting campaigns, which will be announced later. In the meantime, if the merchants in St. John's who wish to display Majestic Theatre Pony Contest banner, by ringing $14 they can have the system thoroughly explained to them without any obligation on their part to enter the contest. The managers of the Majestic Theatre have already made arrangements for a special series of pictures which shall be shown during the period of the contest. We hope that the contest will be as successful as it has been in the other twenty-eight cities which have had this contest.

More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

It describes exactly the usage for which the new Goodyear HEAVY DUTY Cord Tire, for passenger cars, buses and trucks, is designed

HOW ABOUT YOU--do you drive a sizeable car, and as if you really enjoyed it?

Is any part of your travelling off the asphalt and concrete, where the going is sometimes heavy and rough?

Would you like to have tire equipment under you that you can safely forget about, no matter how punishing the route?

Then you're one of the throttle-conscious fellows who should be riding the new Goodyear HEAVY DUTY Cord Tire.

It's no ordinary tire--being perhaps needlessly good for ordinary service.

Through and through, in carcass, sidewall and tread, it's built for day-in-and-day-out, take-it-as-it-comes, heavy-duty usage.

Its tough sinewy body is made of SUPERTWIST, the celebrated new

And when it comes to truck tires--

Goodyear leadership is not limited to passenger car tires only; it includes truck tires as well.

For every hauling condition, for every requirement of service, road and load, there is a right Goodyear Truck Tire--in each case designed and built to be the best truck tire for the job.

Your Goodyear Truck Tire Dealer will advise you what type is the right equipment for you: whether the All-Weather Tread Heavy Duty Cushion, for heavy trucking; the All-Weather Tread Pneumatic Cushion, for lighter work; or the heavy Duty Pneumatic Truck Tire, for all service where pneumatic equipment is practical and desirable.

Goodyear Means Good Wear

Goodyear cord fabric of superior elasticity and endurance.

It's an extra-heavy body, made that way to insure extreme protection against stone bruise, carcass breaking and the shocks of rough roads.

The tread on this new HEAVY DUTY Goodyear is a thick, deep-cut, full All-Weather, combining maximum traction with long slow wear.

Even the sturdy sidewalls are additionally reinforced against rut-wear by stout concentric rubber ribs.

Yes, it's a HEAVY DUTY tire throughout--costing a little more, naturally.

But if you drive a big or heavy car, or follow a hard route, it's the cheapest tire to buy in the end.

To repeat, how about you--can you use this extra spunk and stamina?

If you can, this new HEAVY DUTY Goodyear is the greatest tire buy you ever made.

Do Men Buy Style ?

YES---Certainly. But they buy one of two kinds. One kind concerns just so many buttons---certain lines and curves---call it Mathematical Style if you wish. The other kind is the style of gracefulness---it concerns itself not so much with inches and numbers of buttons---it is the style of good fit, of grace, it is an air of correctness. This is what make and enables you to dress well at half you were asked to pay last year.

New Stamps to be Issued in Canada

One of Eight-Cent Denomination, Others Series of Historical Variety.
OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—A new Canadian stamp of 8 cents denomination will go into use to-morrow, following a decision reached at the recent international postal conference, held at Stockholm, to the effect that the postage rate on letters between countries of the union should be reduced from 10 to 8 cents.
This stamp is of the same design as the other Canadian postage stamps, having on its face a portrait of His Majesty, the King, and according to the regulations of the convention, will be blue in color.

The post office department is also about to issue the first of a series of Canadian historical stamps. The new issue will be three in number, one containing the portrait of Thomas D'Arcy McGee, and a third containing the portraits of Sir Wilfred Laurier and Sir John MacDonal. These stamps will be intended for domestic use only but will be valid for payment of postage to other countries as well.
In addition to their educational value from a Canadian standpoint, they are also likely to be widely sought and highly valued by stamp collectors in different parts of the world.

Little Jack Rabbit
by David Cory
As soon as Uncle Lucky, Little Jack Rabbit and Old Mr. Dog were once more in the Lucymobile, the old gentleman rabbit turned down Lettuce Avenue until he came to the Three-in-One Cent Store. "Now I'm going to buy you a new collar," he said, turning to Old Mr. Dog. "You must look neat and trim now that you are a celebrated author. Come in with me and choose one."

So into that famous shop went all three, the old gentleman rabbit, Old Mr. Dog and the little rabbit. Behind the counter stood a pretty little hen, a redcoral comb on the top of her head, and a calico apron over her white feather gown.
"Show me a leather collar with brass buttons," cried Uncle Lucky. "A nice, wide collar. Maybe I should have asked for one studded with big brass headed tacks."

"Here's a regular bulldog collar," suggested the pretty little hen saleslady. She knew what Uncle Lucky wanted, all right.
Well, when Old Mr. Dog tried it on, he was delighted. It fitted perfectly and was most becoming. "There, now you look ten years younger," laughed nice Uncle Lucky. "I'm going to take you home with me. It will do you good to play a game of pinochle. Do you like cards?"

Of course Old Mr. Dog did. And with a happy bark he jumped into the Lucymobile. Then home sped dear Uncle Lucky to his red-shingled house on the corner of Lettuce Avenue and Carrot Street.
"Better call up your mother," he advised, turning to his bunny nephew as he opened the front door. "Tell her we won't be back to lunch as Mr. Dog is to spend the day with me."
Then dear Uncle led Old Mr. Dog into the sitting room and made him rest in the easy chair. All of a sudden the front door bell went tinkle, tinkle. There on the front porch stood the Yellow Dog Tramp, his old straw hat on the back of his head and a hickory stick in his right paw.
"Come in, come in," invited dear Uncle Lucky. "You will find an old comrade in the sitting room. Well sir, Old Mr. Dog was delighted to see the Yellow Dog Tramp. They had been good friends when pups down on the farm in Maine.
"Sing a song," suggested the old gentleman rabbit, sitting down before the piano and, running his paw over the keys, he looked at the two happy dogs:

NEW GLASGOW, Sept. 25.—One of the most spectacular fires which has occurred here for some time took place this evening when the steamer Dieuze, 1159 tons, caught fire about four-thirty, while anchored in Pictou Harbour. The fire, which apparently started in the ship's galley, spread with great rapidity, and the flames mounting upwards, illuminated the sky and could be seen for a radius of many miles.
To-night the boat is a total wreck. It is understood to have been owned in Sydney, and had been engaged in carrying coal from the pier of the Intercolonial Coal Mining Company in Pictou Harbor, to Charlottetown, for the Prince Edward Island Railway.
Chequered Career.
It was a wooden hull built during the war, sold to the French Government and resold to Sydney parties.
The vessel has had a chequered career, five months of which were spent on rum row. She had recently been chartered to carry pulpwood from Gushoro to an American port. Recently the steamer was engaged in carrying produce from Prince Edward Island to Newfoundland. During September the ship was held up twice by the men for back wages.
When the fire broke out the only man on board was Captain Gray, of Abercrombie, a Pictou mariner. The watchman had gone on shore to purchase provisions. Capt. Gray first noticed the fire in the vicinity of the ship's galley. He gave the alarm by shouting to those on shore, but so quickly did the flames spread along the deck that he was unable to put one of the lifeboats over the side of the vessel before they, too, were enveloped in the fiery blast that was by this time sweeping from stem to stern.
Rescue Effected.
One of the watchers on shore, realizing that Captain Gray was in dire peril, put off in his motor boat and after some difficulty he succeeded in taking the captain off. Captain Gray lost all his personal belongings, including his nautical instruments. The steamer was burned to the water's edge. The anchor chain will have to be sawn through to release the charred and smoking remains of the craft from the channel.
The steamer was insured for $5,000, but, by a strange and unfortunate coincidence, the policy lapsed yesterday, and had not been renewed.

THE BOSS PAYS A COMPLIMENT.

"Here's a task that's hard to do, And I'm giving it to you," Said the boss one Monday morning To a youth upon the floor.
And the youngster turned his head, "Why to me?" he slowly said, "Let the hard job go to someone Who has done such work before."
"How have I offended you, That you give me this to do? Why should I be made to labor At a job I fear and dread? No one else about the place Has some irksome tasks to face. There are lots of easy duties, But you give me this instead!"
Said the boss: "Boy don't complain At a little extra pain, Never whimper, never grumble At the task that's hard to do. Do not think that you're misused, Being punished or abused. Take the tough job with a chuckle, It's a compliment to you."

"Now you mutter, and it's true, This is difficult to do. 'Twill require long hours of patience, Strength and courage you will need. And you wonder why I ask You to tackle such a task. Well, it's just because I've watched you And I think you can succeed."

Henry Gray Resigns

SURGEON-IN-CHIEF OF THE ROYAL VICTORIA HOSPITAL
 Exchange of Letters With Sir Arthur Currie.

MONTREAL, Sept. 29.—Sir Henry Gray, K. B. E., Surgeon-in-Chief of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, resigned his position last evening. His resignation, which was published in the Montreal press this morning, is an exchange of letters between Sir Henry and Sir Arthur Currie, Principal of McGill University. Sir Henry expresses regret against "a campaign of vilification which was instituted at an early stage and carried on with a but sinister virulence" against him. He recalls the circumstances under which he was appointed to give the annual lectures to McGill students and the agreement arrived at some time ago that all arrangements for the holding of clinical surgery in the Royal Victoria Hospital should be subject to him as Surgeon-in-Chief. Sir Henry charges breach of faith "such attempts to evade what had been agreed to in connection with the carrying out of the compact."

Sir Arthur Currie's letter, to which Henry's is a reply, mentions "the important difficulties which arose in the various circles following your appointment as surgeon-in-chief of the Royal Victoria Hospital," declaring that he had created an atmosphere of "unpleasantness" and referring to a "serious letter of Sir Henry that McGill men were divided against him. Sir Henry declares that he cannot tolerate the state of affairs, and he points to the need of maintaining an esprit de corps in McGill. He expresses appreciation for the assistance rendered by Henry to McGill University, and suggesting that the relations between Sir Henry and McGill terminate. Sir Henry assures Sir Henry that he is not affected by personal feeling. The postscript to Sir Henry Gray's reply is as follows:

"Since this letter was written, evil effects of your actions have already become evident in the shape of a letter from the Governors of the Royal Victoria Hospital, asking me to hand my resignation as Surgeon-in-Chief. Before I sent copies of our correspondence to the press."

Sir Henry Gray is an Aberdeen (Scotland) surgeon, and was appointed to the position from which he has resigned at the Royal Victoria Hospital in 1923.—Canadian Recorder, Sept. 29.

Home of Douglas Fairbanks

THE SCENE OF A BURGLARY.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—Terror stalked the Fairbanks' mansion in Beverly Hills, Wednesday night. It has become known, and after running the scene from prowlers to burglars and a murderous attack on a night watchman, ended in comedy, when Douglas Fairbanks ambushed Mary Pickford's pet dog and almost shot it to death.

With Douglas Fairbanks and his wife, Mary Pickford, at home, and in bed following a hard day on the Pickford-Fairbanks lot in Hollywood, the trouble started at about eleven o'clock at night. It began with prowlers creeping to the side of the Fairbanks home and awakening Mary. Leaping from her bed, Miss Pickford switched on all the lights in the upper story of the mansion and called to the guards. A search of the house and grounds was made at once, but no intruders were discovered.

Hardly was the household in darkness again when a cook discovered that the servants' quarters, some distance from the main dwelling, had been robbed. Police Sergeant Biddy on guard at the home was called and made an investigation. He discovered that a watch, some other bits of jewelry and a quantity of clothing had been taken. The house was again in an uproar.

Several hours of quiet then settled upon the Fairbanks mansion and everyone but Antonio Varela, special night watchman, was asleep. Making his rounds Varela discovered a rear door of the main house open and began an investigation. Around the house with a flashlight clutched in one hand, and his revolver in the other, he came to the covered automobile driveway when he heard a strange scraping sound beside the porte cochere door. Flooding the doorway with light from his flashlight, Varela saw a man crouched there working at the lock. He shouted to him to stand away from the door and throw up his hands. Without turning as he spoke, the intruder sprang from the driveway, and leaping a small wall, rushed away into the darkness. Then the real trouble began. Just as Varela began to fire at the fleeing figure a bullet struck his flashlight from his hand and left him in darkness. Two other shots were fired, one by Varela and one by the intruder.

Before the echo of the battle had died away, Douglas Fairbanks, armed with a revolver and wearing only a pair of trousers, rushed into the grounds of his home and with Officer Biby and Varela began a search of the massed shrubbery and outbuildings.

From the Fairbanks grounds to the surrounding hills covered with low brush the hunt went, and far from the house Fairbanks heard someone creeping through the brush. With revolver at cock the actor crouched in the brush waiting. In the darkness he was unable to see anything so, leaping at the spot where he believed the burglar to be concealed, Fairbanks sprawled over "Zorro," Mary Pickford's pet dog.

"After that I quit and went back to bed," declared Fairbanks. A master key was discovered by the police sticking in the door where the shooting took place. An investigation showed that the key would not open the lock, but had been stuck in the keyhole as if an attempt had been made to use it.

Use Brown Bread for Hard Work
 INDUSTRIAL DISTRICTS IN BRITAIN ARE FORSAKING WHITE LOAF.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The industrial districts are forsaking bread made with white flour and putting their trust in wholemeal bread. This fact is a clear indication of the nutritive value of flour that contains all the wheat.

"Extraordinary reports are coming from our salesmen in the mining areas," said a prominent miller to a press representative. "South Wales, in particular, has gone over to wholemeal bread, and the allegiance is permanent as far as we can see. The extremely hard work of the miners makes great demands on their reserve of strength, and they have found in wholemeal flour all the natural elements that rebuild the body."

Athletes, too, are finding that wholemeal flour has better sustaining properties than ordinary white flour. Striking testimony to the value of wholemeal bread, more especially as it affects the teeth, has been given over and over again by medical men and dentists.

Sir Harry Baldwin, the King's surgeon dentist, has drawn attention to the dangers that lurk in white bread. "The great increase in dental decay," he asserts, "is enormously due to the use of white bread, first because it forms a pulp which sticks to the teeth and induces fermentation, and secondly because it lacks the necessary ingredients for proper development of the jaws and teeth."

Placentia Notes

On Sunday Messrs. McNeil and Knowling returned from the Ship Cove bays with full game bags. They report birds plentiful but weather wet and stormy.

On Monday Messrs. Job and Hutchings arrived from Gooseberry and were most successful. They also report weather bad and birds plentiful. On Thursday the Revenue cutter, Capt. John Murphy and Inspector of Customs Collins on board arrived for stores after an extensive cruise in sunshine and storm around Placentia Bay, but strange to say without capturing a single smuggler. In fact we have not heard of any smuggling since this cruiser took up the service.

Over forty Bay boats came in this evening from Point Verde fishing grounds with from 3 to 6 qts. each. Herring and squid are here in abundance. Two Ship Cove motor boats came in to-day for salt which arrived by rail.

Friday.—Wind North, fresh; too stormy for the boats to get on the fishing grounds. Saturday.—Fr. McGrath arrived by train on a visit to Rev. Fr. O'Flaherty, also Mr. Ellis of Ellis & Co. on a shooting trip to Ship Cove. Mr. Frank and Mrs. Murphy arrived this p.m. after spending the past few months at Corner Brook. They are looking well after their trip.

From time to time we hear the cry about the fishery. Facts speak for themselves as to how the fishermen are encouraged to go fishing, as during the week we had motor boats from Ship Cove and Patrick's Cove in for salt which arrived here by train. As the boats can only come after it on a fine day it means a loss of from 4 to 8 qts. of fish, which means in turn pretty expensive salt after paying railway charges, etc.—COR Placentia, Oct. 1, 1925.

Murphy's TALK ON TEA!

There's nothing so refreshing as a cup of tea. We mean GOOD TEA. It is still the favourite drink among the ladies as it was in the days of our grandmothers.

Tea fifty shillings a pound, now sells for Eighty, Seventy and Fifty cents a pound. Truth is stranger than fiction. We'll prove it if you don't believe it. "In 1669, in the reign of Charles II, the East India Company gave the first order for tea. It consisted only of two carnieters weighing 143 lbs. and was sold at fifty shillings a lb."

WE SELL TEA

for Eighty, Seventy and Fifty-five cents a lb. the latter is a good quality tea—10 lbs. for five dollars. We will sell you ten lbs. of sugar for 55 cents, providing you purchase a lb. of any of the following brands of tea: Easterbrook's Orange Pekoe, Blue Bird, Salada, Armada, Luxura and other brands of loose tea or groceries equivalent in value.

WE DON'T RECOMMEND

as a cure for all ills, as Thomas Garway did for his tea which he sold in London in 1660, but we will guarantee it to be "Better than the Best" that we can offer you.

RUNNERS SHOWING UP WELL.

The runners for Halifax had another good workout last night, when splendid time was made from Brookfield to the C.L.B. Armoury. Mr. J. Brown, the grocer, arranged a room for the disposal of the athletes at Brookfield, while Lieut.-Col. Rendell had the officers' room at the Armoury well heated for the boys on their arrival. The team will rest up to-night.

EXCITING SOCCER GAME AT GRAND FALLS.

Foundry Defeats Pattern Makers. Friday night saw the last game of the series played between the Machine Shop and the combined Foundry and Pattern Shop team, for the Department Cup. The spectators were raised to the highest pitch of excitement by the splendid play of both teams, more particularly the Foundry, of whom the star artistes were W. Davis at half back, and G. Sheppard in goal. The game ended, after four extra periods, with a score of two to one, in favor of the Foundry. Owing to the speed at which the game was played the referee had a hard task in controlling the players, some of whom were rather prone to argument. Mr. LeMee, the foreman of the Machine Shop, suffered such a shock from the defeat of his team, that he had to leave for the Humber in order to recuperate. The losing of the game has broken the hearts of the Machine Shop team, as they have to pay for the supper the losers agreed to stand. The line-ups are as follows:—

Foundry & Pattern Shop—G. Sheppard, goal; A. G. Hay, Ed. Raines, backs; W. Davis, H. Shaw, L. Bartie, halves; T. Pond, H. Davis, H. Colbourne, W. Tulley, F. Davis. Machine Shop—C. Grace, goal; P. Alward, N. Simpson, backs; M. Power, J. Hannaford, J. Bartie, halves; R. Simpson, E. Ireland, W. Simpson, P. Byrnes, J. Cahin, forwards. Grand Falls, Oct. 3, 1925.

DANNY KRAMER BEATEN.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—Lew Mayrs, Baltimore, was awarded the referee's decision over Danny Kramer, Phila., after the judges had disagreed. The bout went ten rounds and was fast and hard-fought throughout. Mayrs weighed 130½ and Kramer 128½ lbs.

MILLIGAN STARTS WELL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Tommy Milligan, of Scotland, British welter-weight and middleweight champion, last night won a 10-round judges' decision over Morris Schiaffler, of Omaha, at the Queensboro Stadium. Milligan weighed 158; Schiaffler 155. Milligan, making his first American appearance, battered his way to a decisive advantage in the first three rounds, dropping the rugged westerner in the first without a count and driving him across the ring to the ropes with a straight left in the third. He showed a fine performance.

In the semi-final Jack Zivic, of Pittsburgh, received the decision over Paul Doyle, of New York, in 19 rounds. Billy Humphries, English feather-weight, gained a four-round decision over Irving Shapiro, of New York.

OCTOBER 7th SET FOR FIRST GAME OF WORLD SERIES.

The opening game of the World's Baseball Series, between Pittsburgh, of the National League and Washington, of the American League, takes place on Wednesday next, Oct. 7th. The second game will be played on the 8th, and the next three in Washington, Oct. 9th, 10th and 11th, giving Washington the Sunday game, and the sixth and seventh games if they are necessary, in Pittsburgh, Oct. 12th and 13th.

In the event rain interfered with a game, the contest will be played in the city where it was postponed before the teams move on to the other city. If a tie game occurs and the series is not decided after the seventh game, the teams will play off the tie in the city where it occurred. All games will start at 2 p.m.

Former World's Series prices will prevail, it is announced. Box seats will be sold at $6.00; reserved seats, $5.00; general admission, $3.30; and bleachers' seats, $1.10.

The umpires who will officiate will be announced by John A. Heydler, President of the National League, and Ben Johnson, President of the American League.

A REMINISCENCE OF "W.G."

There was a letter of delightful reminiscence, signed A. M. Bremmer, in the Times recently. The writer talked with Surrey players who had just taken part in the match in 1866, Gents vs. Players of the South, when "W.G.", a lad of 17, made 173 not out. Two years later the writer ran off the same mark with "W.G." in a 150 yards sprint at Blackheath. He was then a cricket hero, tall, thin, and a slight down showing on his face. Neither won. Those who frequent the dusty-purplish of the law will identify the writer as a Bencher of the Inner Temple, to whom the intricacies of income-tax law are alleged to present fewer problems than the first chapter of Genesis did to the late silver-tongued orator of Nebraska. He is still tall and thin; perhaps bent, but not with age, as who would not be who has written opinions for over half a century. Wherefore, when he adds a talk with the late Hon. Alfred Lyttelton, Eton, Cambridge, and All-England-wicket-keeper, you may take it he is accuracy personified. They were talking about the growing practice of batsmen to leave off-balls alone, and Lyttelton, referring to his early days, said, "In those days you were glad to get a ball off the wicket, as it gave a chance of getting some runs, and if such chances were neglected you got a shorter and down went the wicket." Grace, too, refers to the shooters in the old days at Lords. You had to go out to the balls off the wicket and drive or cut, and so you made runs more quickly. The Grand Old Man of Cricket has come into the limelight, and as to his bowling, the late Mr. A. G. Steel, in his book on Cricket in the Badminton, says half the trouble of the Old Man's bowling to see where the ball was coming from when this massive bearded man with his flapping shirt-sleeve went on.

U.S. AND CANADA SEEK CHECKER CHAMPIONSHIP.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 12.—A.P.J.—Canadian and American checker teams are conducting a tournament, alternating between this city and New Bedford, to determine the championship of North America.

The Canadians won two out of three games in Fall River, yesterday, while at New Bedford, the Americans won four points and the Canadians two.

The Caron Cup goes with the championship, which was won by the United States in 1923 and 1924.

NEW ATHLETIC RECORD.

The feature of Pittichry games recently was the great throw by R. Starkey with the 28-lb. ball, breaking the world's record with 74 ft. 3 in.—3 feet beyond the distance on the same ground two years ago by J. H. Maitland.

Throwing the 56-lb. weight, J. Nicholson, Dundee, did 34 ft. being one inch less than A. A. Cameron's world's record, made at these sports.

At Tain, J. Maitland, Deskford, attempted without success to lower the record throw of 138 ft. made by Kenneth MacRae at Tain in 1890. Maitland's best throw being 10 ft. short of the record.

RINGSIDE NOTES.

Lightweight Decision. DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 26.—Phil McGraw, Detroit lightweight, won the judges' decision over Luis Vicentini, Chilean lightweight, in a ten round bout here last night. McGraw led all the way except in the last round.

Former Champion Knocked Out. BAYONNE, N.J., Sept. 26.—Johnny Buff, former world's flyweight and bantamweight champion, was knocked out in the fifth round by Johnny Breslin, of New York, at the Bayonne Stadium here last evening. Buff, a shell of his former self, was no match at all for his sturdy rival. Both weighed 113 pounds.

Carpentier Coming.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Georges Carpentier will make another trip to this country. Jack Curley, his American representative, announced that he had accepted an offer of $40,000 for a match between Carpentier and Sailor Huffman, to be fought in Los Angeles some time before the first of the year. Carpentier has made no other plans, but on the strength of this match he and his manager, Deschamps, will sail from France within the next fortnight.

Dempsey And Willis To Fight In 1926.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 28.—Jack Dempsey and Harry Willis will sign articles for a match in 1926, before tomorrow morning, according to an announcement to-night by Bob Roy Benton, Dempsey's secretary. The announcement was made at the conclusion of a five-hour conference attended by Dempsey, Benton, Paddy Mulhins, Willis' Manager, and members of the local syndicate which is financing the fight. This group is headed by Andrew Weisber, local hotel man.

Benton did not make public any of the details of the proposed match. Dempsey and Willis are remaining here to-night.

Axe Still Busy on British Fleet

"IRON DUKE" BATTLESHIP CLASS "LATEST VICTIMS OF ECONOMY."

LONDON, Sept. 25.—A drastic reduction in the strength of the Battle Fleet may be foreshadowed in an Admiralty Order which directs the Benbow to be paid off on the completion of her re-fit, and re-commissioned with only half of her present crew, the balance to be made up with boys.

This vessel is one of the quartet of Iron Duke battleships which form the Third Battle Squadron of the Mediterranean Fleet.

The order states the future service of the Benbow is under consideration. In naval circles the view is held that these four ships are to be withdrawn from active commission and delegated to the Reserve when the four ships comprising the "King George V." class are scrapped in 1927. On completion of the Nelson and Rodney, the Iron Dukes will be the oldest battleships left in the Navy. They are, nevertheless, more powerful than any Dreadnoughts possessed by France or Italy.

It is believed that the squadron of four "Queen Elizabeths" (battleships of 25 knots speed, armed with 15in. guns) would be sufficient to maintain British supremacy in the Mediterranean. Consequently the "Iron Dukes" may be brought home, or kept in reserve at Malta.

Only 14 capital ships would then be left in full commission, including two or more undergoing re-fit, and three or four separately detached from the Fleet. This would be the smallest fleet that Great Britain has had in commission for a century or more.

The Size of Rain

A weather expert once set out upon the laborious task of measuring the dimensions of raindrops, and he found that the largest were about one-sixth of an inch and the smallest one-fifth-hundredth of an inch in diameter.

An interesting fact which he also discovered was that raindrops are larger in summer than in winter, and larger in hot than in cold climates.

At the moment of condensation of the water vapor to the liquid state, great numbers of extremely small drops are formed close together. As they fall they merge, and thus what we call raindrops are formed. The size of the drop when it reaches the earth depends upon the height from which it has fallen.

Now in summer the air is warmer than in winter, and, therefore, clouds are formed at a greater height, where conditions are favorable for rapid condensation.

Longer Skirts

Tax on Silk Stockings May Cause a Change in Present Dress Style. LEEDS, England, Sept. 28.—Britain's tax on silk stockings may have a tendency to bring about a lengthening of skirts. The Yorkshire manufacturers have been deliberating on proposals to make longer hosiery thread the quantity of silk per pair. Glimpses of the cotton top would be unattractive, it is believed, among members of the trade, and so on that account skirts would have to be longer.

Is Britain Going to the Dogs?

THE PENALTY OF SQUANDERMANIA AND A FREE HAND TO POLITICIANS—WHAT FRANCE CAN TEACH US.

(By SCRUTATOR.)

Is Britain really going to the dogs? I am not asking the question, as many people of many generations have asked it, because my pet political or social idea is under a cloud, or because Hodge fails to kow-tow to the square, or because people no longer believe in the Athanasian creed. The position of to-day is much more serious than a mere change in thought or social habit. It is one of deep economic significance. If we fail to produce enough wealth to keep ourselves in comfort and to maintain our land and sea defences in a state of efficiency, we shall certainly be going to the dogs. There is not the slightest doubt that at present we are drifting towards the rocks, and there is equally no doubt that there is an entire absence of effective effort to pull against the current. As a nation we are moving slowly towards the rapids of bankruptcy. There are warning voices in plenty from the captains of industry and others, but the men at the oars are resting and sleeping on them, and those in nominal command display nothing but a plentiful deal of incompetency and ineffectiveness.

Another Black Winter.

We are facing another winter that threatens hardship and misery to tens of thousands. During the past twelve months we have lost instead of gaining ground. We have about 290,000 more persons unemployed than in September, 1924. The worst of it is that a large proportion of this enforced idleness is in those staple trades which provide the exports with which we pay the outside world for the food and raw materials, without which our millions cannot live.

A fifth of our coal miners, nearly half of our shipyard hands, a quarter of our steel and iron workers, and a large number of our textile workers are idle and living miserably on the dole in one form or another. What a waste! What a waste of wealth, of mankind, and of opportunity! What is one to say of the mentality, individual and collective, that is capable of producing and perpetuating such a state of things? One word only fits exactly—Bedlamism. Beyond doubt, we are Bedlamites because:

"We are idle when work is more needed than ever in our industry, because we squander when economy is a life and death matter, because a large section of our people are clamouring for the moon instead of digging for it, and because we are indifferent to politics when policy means either salvation or damnation."

Too much dole has made us mad.

Lessons From France.

I am just back from a short holiday in France. France has no problem of unemployment, no 'cat' canny, and no dole; and living there is cheap and good. Life as a whole is a more joyous thing than with us, though, of course, it is not devoid of its sorrows and difficulties. On inquiry, I found that trade unionism there has not destroyed the sense of individual responsibility, or discouraged personal effort, or taught the workers to demand the impossible, and in the alternative to 'rely on the State. Jacques knows that if he does not exert himself and accept the hard facts of his environment he will get left. He works, and makes the best of his life, and the result is that the nation is fast recovering from the disasters of the war. Another thing I discovered was that the French people refuse to be unduly taxed for the benefit of bureaucracy or anybody else. Their Parliamentary system enables public opinion to assert itself with great rapidity to the frequent undoing of the Ministries. In France a spendthrift Government would not last a week. In addition, France has the priceless advantage of having got rid of a voracious and tyrannical landlordism. To a large extent the workers work for themselves and refuse to pay toll to landlord or bureaucrat.

Black Spot Of Europe.

France is prosperous because her people are working and making wealth, instead of idling and wasting the wealth made by others. Other continental countries are following the example of France rather than ours. Very soon, at the present rate, Britain will be the Black Spot of Europe, and it is quite possible that before long continental countries will be saying that their export trade is dead because of the poverty of their old customer, Great Britain. Europe generally is well on the way to recovery, but she will never pay more than the world market price for our goods. The sooner we thoroughly recognize that fact the better. We must find a way of producing more cheaply. One way of helping in that direction is to lower cost of government, and the other is to increase output. We must pay day in all our big industries. The combined goodwill of the Government and of the masses of workers could accomplish a beneficial economic revolution in six or twelve months. Without it the prospect is gloomy indeed.

Action, Not Inquiry.

I see that Mr. Baldwin is being urged to appoint another Royal Commission—this time to inquire into the state of British trade. No such inquiry is needed. It is action, not investigation, that is needed. We want the Geddes axe again. The departments should be rationed, strictly in accordance with what the nation can afford. The dole should be gradually abolished, subsidies should be disallowed, and the tariff joke should be laughed out of court. So far every action of the present Government has been wrong. Tariffs do not increase employment. Dole and subsidies are so many steps to eventual disaster. If we are sane we shall accept again the oldest known economic principle—"by the sweat of thy brow shalt thou eat bread." Small privileged classes have succeeded in escaping the curse of productive labour, but for a nation, or any considerable proportion of it, to attempt evasion would spell suicide. Not inquiry by Royal Commission, but industry and economy we need, and the sooner we and our governors get on with that job the sooner will we and the world recover our economic health.

During the month of October our Store at 321 Water Street will be open for business until 9.30 p.m. each business day. This will give the general public added opportunity to purchase the Wall Paper for which we have such an enviable reputation. REMEMBER, "TEMPLETON'S" for values in WALL PAPER." oct.31.eod

Increased Value of Tanks Shown

Expected to Prevent Future States in Future Fighting.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The increased value of tanks, armored cars and aircraft as fighting weapons and the important effect they are expected to have on future warfare have been the outstanding impressions gained so far from the British army manoeuvres in Whitehall.

The new uses of tanks and aircraft have become apparent in the final stages of the manoeuvres, which have developed into a pitched battle. The tanks and airplanes have inflicted heavy losses against the infantry and cavalry and in the opinion of some experts, these weapons may prevent future stalemates in trench fighting, such as were experienced on the Western Front during the late war.

Armored cars roaring down the roads, tanks crashing through fields and hedges and airplanes swooping down to within a few yards from the earth, have demoralized and heavily punished the infantry and cavalry forces. These attacks were made in the form of speedy raids. On other occasions, pointblank battles were fought between opposing sections of tanks.

Two armored cars of the Westland army, in a long dash across the enemy lines, succeeded in cutting all communications. The manoeuvre was considered an excellent bit of war play, and the non-commissioned officers who executed it won congratulations from Field Marshal Earl Haig.

Wheat Crop Over 400,000,000 Bushels

Threshing is Well Over in the West and Grain is Grading High.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 29.—Canadian National Railway loadings of grain on Tuesday were ahead of the quantity marketed at Canadian Pacific Railway points. Of the total marketings of 6,079,000 bushels, the Canadian National secured 3,344,000 bushels. The Canadian Pacific unloaded 11,476 cars at Fort William on Tuesday, a record for the company. Shipments from head of lakes reached the highest for the season on Monday, 4,838,000 bushels.

Ninety per cent of Manitoba's crop has been threshed and not one crop failure, is the report issued by the Department of Agriculture for Manitoba. Wheat is averaging twenty bushels to the acre. Half of the threshing is finished in Saskatchewan, and two-thirds in Alberta.

Total yield from all returns sent in to Governments of these Provinces and to wheat pools shows the total Western Canada wheat crop to be well over four hundred million bushels.

Milligan Wins Over Schaffer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Tommy Milligan, of Scotland, British welterweight and middleweight champion, to-night won a 10-round judges' decision over Morris Schaffer, of Cuba, at the Queensboro stadium. Milligan weighed 152, Schaffer, 155.
