EMANCIPATION DAY.—The colored people of Windsor, Ontario, have already made preparations for a grand celebration of the 85th anniversary of "Emancipation Day," 1st of August past, to take place at Chatham.

ACCIDENT BY POISON.—A correspondent says: A small child of Mr. Wm. Beer's, from the effects of drinking fish poison.

Mothers should be careful about keeping this poison standing around in reach of children.

THE HIGHLANDER.—We have seen No. 8 of a new weekly paper bearing this title, and published in Inverness, Scotland.
It is a well printed and well written paper of sixteen pages and its contents will no doubt interest our readers. It is now published in Canada. We notice some Galic

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Mr. Shaw, mason, was "pointing" the stonework on the upper story of Raymond's new factory this morning about ten, when the scaffolding upon which he stood gave way.
He fell it going, and made a spring, landing upon the ground some eighteen feet below. His arm was broken, his ankle sprained, and his head cut. His son, who was working with him, escaped by sleeping on a safe plank. He was carried to Dr. McGregor's surgery, his hurts were attended to, and he was removed to his home on the Waterloo Road. Mr.
Shaw has been particularly unfortunate, as it is not long since he sustained a similar accident and was not expected to recover.

FAY'S DARK SEANCE.—The lovers of mystery and dark doings, ledgerheads and phantasms are promised a treat by Messrs. Wm. Fay and Harcourt, who give an entertainment in our Town Hall the day after to-morrow—Friday, August 1.
Mr. Fay, whilst tightly bound with ropes, produces most extraordinary manifestations—musical instruments play and which about the room—they can, in fact, be seen although in the dark, because of their being imbued with phosphorescent oil —hands touch the faces and bodies of the spectators, loud noises and raps, etc., are heard, and this under circumstances where the assistance of confederates or mechanical aids is impossible. Mr. Harcourt is well spoken of as a good juggler.

The East Ward Canvassers.
To the Editor of the Mercury.
Sir,—As the Herald sticks to its assertion that Mr. Davidson did not begin to canvass before Mr. McCrae, I will give the proof I promised I would of its untruthfulness.
Mr. McCrae was announced as a candidate on Thursday, July 10, and commenced his canvass on the 11th.
On Monday, the 7th, Mr. Bell's resignation was accepted, and on the day following Mr. James Glover was canvassed for by Mr. Davidson himself. The morning previous to the Returning Officer issuing the bills, the two Messrs.
Hoopers were canvassed by Mr. Davidson.
Several days previous to the departure of Mr. Hefferan for the old country on the 10th inst., he and Mr. Davidson together canvassed Messrs. Murphy, Goggins and Gibbs. The gentleman's names will confirm these statements on enquiry.
These are only a few instances out of many, but are quite enough to show that the Herald's assertions are totally untrue.
Yours truly,
THE EAST WARD ELECTOR.
Guelph, July 29, 1874.

Every reader of THE ALBION for August is sure to be charmed with its beautiful and reasonable illustrations, as well as pleased with its fresh and piquant literary contents. A magnificent full page magazine view opens the number, from the pen of Mr. F. H. de Haan, N. one of our great painters of water scenes. It is a truthful sketch of what may be seen almost any day on Long Island Sound.
Mr. F. T. Vance, who has made the region a study, contributes a series of original pictures of the grand Adirondack mountains and lakes, which are very timely, as that region is now full of pleasure seekers. There is an immense variety of other instructive reading, and some very magnificent illustrations in this number. It is well worth the money.
Subscription price $5, including chromos "Village Belle" and "Crossing the Moors." James Sutton & Co., publishers, 58 Maiden Lane, New York.

A PICKPOCKET HOOKED.—At New York on Friday evening a police brought to the station a freshly dressed young man, arrested on a Broadway car while in the act of picking the sergeant's pocket. The young man says he was returning from a fishing excursion and had two treasured fly-hooks in his vest pocket, when of a sudden he felt a pull, and, looking down, found his pockets empty. He was caught by the fish-hooks. Being an old fisherman he allowed his fish to play for some minutes, to the great amusement of the rest on board. The sergeant's big fish was locked up.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES

Boiler Explosion.
Abolition of Slavery in Cuba.
The Ashantee War.
More Fighting in Spain.

New York, July 30.—The boiler of a three-horse machine exploded yesterday near Upper Sandusky, Ohio. One man was killed and three others badly injured.

A Malaga despatch says soldiers and insurgents had several severe fights on Sunday and Monday. The insurgents occupied the churches of San Flea, San Nicolas and San Martin, and the Plaza Mayor, which was strongly barricaded.
The troops advancing on Sunday along the Alameda suffered severely from the rebels on the Puerta del Mar and in the ciudad. After some sharp fighting there was a parley, but it came to nothing.
Fighting was resumed and still continued on Sunday. The losses were heavy, 160 men being dead already. It is reported that over 300 barricades are erected in the heart of the city.

Berlin, July 29.—Prince Bismarck has granted permission to the Good Templars to establish lodges in Prussia.

Madrid, July 29.—Senor Polanco, Minister of the Colonies, and the deputies from Porto Rico, are having conferences for the purpose of discussing the bill providing for the abolition of slavery in Cuba.

New York, July 29.—The London Times received to-day has a long editorial recommending the prompt reinforcement of the English troops on the Cape Coast of Africa engaged in war with the Ashantees. The latter are in great force, and although one of their large towns was burned recently, yet they are in such numbers as to prevent any aggressive movement towards the interior by the English troops.

Father Point, July 29.—The St. Patrick, from Glasgow, arrived at 1.15 p.m., with seven cabin and one hundred and twenty-five steerage passengers.

Local and Other Items.

The Governor-General will not come to Ottawa, it is said, in August, but will prorogue Parliament by Royal Commission.

CHURCH MATTERS.—The Chronicle says that Mr. Arch. Hunter has presented the Presbyterian Church of Durham with a handsome communion service. Rev. Mr.
Fork, the minister of the church, has been presented by the ladies of his congregation with a purse containing $65.
SACRILEGE.—During the week before last some evil disposed person entered the Presbyterian Church in Durham and robbed the missionary boxes of the Sabbath School. A suitable reward will be given to any one giving such information as will lead to the conviction of the guilty party.

FRATERNITY.—An Indian chief who was present at the Orange picnic at Winnipeg on the 12th, was immensely tickled at the pale-face mode of dancing, and expressed his satisfaction therewith by a series of "Ughs" and "Wah-wahs" whenever the "swing" chance to be executed. With his scowled nose and gold chain cap, he evidently felt himself quite at home with the Orangemen.

CREW.—Here follows one verse of the beautiful hymn, "Nearer, my God to Thee," done up in Cree by the Rev. J.
McDonal, of the Saskatchewan:
Ke-se-wog-ne-man-toom,
Ke-nah-te-in;
Ab-ye-man-ook-ke-yeam,
No-gah-we-hoon;
Ab-ye-wah-wah-gah-ga-ga,
No-gah-se-ne-gah-moon,
Ke-se-wog-ne-man-toom,
Ke-nah-te-in.

APPETITE.—At a certain season, as in spring and summer, the appetite of even the very robust is apt to fail, and the relish for meats and heavy food to wane.
This is all right enough, for animal diet in warm weather, heats the blood, tends to headache and is generally unwholesome unless sparingly used. On the other hand, fresh vegetables, berries, fruit and bread are cooling correctives and what the palate most craves. Don't be afraid to go entirely or partially without meat for a month or so.—Scribner's Monthly.

FOUR.—A little lost boy named Service, of Springfield, Manitoba, has turned up alive and well, after a ten days' sobriety on swamp water and what few strawberries the grasshoppers left for him. A half-breed discovered the little fellow some eight miles from his father's house. On seeing the man coming the boy became alarmed and concealed himself in a badger hole which for some time he had made his dormitory. On the day previous to his recovery the boy had seen his father (who had been constantly searching for him since he had been lost) passing near, and ran shouting after him, but failed to attract his attention.—Manitoba Free Press.

Seven houses were burned down in Toronto early this (Wednesday) morning, at the corner of Duke and Sherbourne streets.
Beginning at the rear of the premises, the flames shot upwards with amazing rapidity. Vast volumes of fire and smoke belched forth, the reflection from which was visible from every part of the city.
The view presented down King-street was an awfully grand one. Mr. O'Dea, Mr.
White, Messrs. Peacock & Armstrong were among the losers. Four wooden houses, etc., were completely destroyed, whilst three brick houses were gutted and the roofs burned.

A young woman, an English immigrant, was arrested in Montreal under peculiar circumstances. It appears that she married some fourteen days ago, in England, a young man about her own age. And took passage on one of Allan's steamers. In the course of the trip across she became enamoured of a passenger, with whom she quietly left her husband on her arrival, carrying off with her a $600 cheque belonging to her husband.
On the latter meeting her in Montreal the matter was amicably settled, and it was not known what has become of the Lothario.

Examining of Public School Teachers.

The half-yearly examination of Public School teachers for the County of Wellington, which commenced in the Drill shed on the 14th inst., concluded on Saturday last. Twenty-three sent in applications for second class certificates, but only nineteen presented themselves, and one of the latter was obliged to withdraw, owing to the severe sickness and death of a sister. Only seven of the nineteen were successful in obtaining a sufficient number of marks in arithmetic and grammar to enable them to obtain second class certificates. One of these obtained an "A" certificate, namely, Jno.
Robinson, and the others—Michael Brimmer, Richard H. Knowles, John S.
Leighton, W. J. McAnlay, Donald Mc-Donald, and David Nairn,—obtained "B" certificates. Of the remainder, William Bruce, Minnie E. Creighton, Joseph
Leighton, Donald McLeay, Annie Mc-Naughton, Francis G. Galt, John S.
Robinson, and the others—Michael Brim-
mer, Richard H. Knowles, John S.
Leighton, W. J. McAnlay, Donald Mc-Donald, and David Nairn,—obtained "B" certificates. Of the remainder, William Bruce, Minnie E. Creighton, Joseph
Leighton, Donald McLeay, Annie Mc-Naughton, Francis G. Galt, John S.
Robinson, and the others—Michael Brim-
mer, Richard H. Knowles, John S.
Leighton, W. J. McAnlay, Donald Mc-Donald, and David Nairn,—obtained "B" certificates.

We may state that candidates who have previously obtained third class certificates from the Board do not obtain them according to the regulations of the Board of Public Instruction.

The Board of Examiners are engaged with the papers for third class certificates, but have not as yet proceeded so far as to be able to say who shall be successful and who unsuccessful.

portionately, that shall be performed in

An Imperial Wedding.

The London Daily Telegraph of July 12 says:—It is pleasant when the scent of orange-blossoms is wafted over the members flowerless fields of politics; and such is the case this morning. We announce the fact that a marriage has been arranged between His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh, and the Grand Duchess Maria Alexandrowna, the only daughter of the Czar of Russia. The intelligence which the royal family and the whole English nation with general satisfaction: for to the natural sympathy which all weddings awaken is here added the exalted fortunes of the betrothed pair, the interest attaching to the land and lineage of the bride. Between the people of this country and the royal family of the reigning dynasty there exists a very close and exceptional sympathy. As was shown on the occasion of the Prince of Wales' illness, the personal fortunes of the members of the reigning dynasty come home very closely to English hearts; and we may say, without exaggeration, that the marriage of any one of our royal princes or princesses excites much the same interest throughout the length and breadth of our world-wide Empire as would be caused to any private household by a like event affecting one of its inmates. As our sailor prince—as a member of the profession which all Englishmen love and honor—the Duke of Edinburgh has a special hold on our national affections.
With us there is an old-fashioned prejudice in favor of young men assuming the duties of married life, and becoming heads of families while still in their full vigor and prime. The late Duke of Lincoln expressed a genuine Anglo-Saxon sentiment when, on receiving from Lord Lyons the official announcement of the Prince of Wales' marriage, he rejoined with the genial remark, "Go thou and do likewise." The Duke of Edinburgh is now within a few months of entering his thirtieth year; the Princess whom he is about to be conferred upon him is some ten years his junior, and is reported to be possessed of great personal attractions and intelligence. The approaching union, it may be fairly said, offers every reasonable prospect of happiness. The Princess is given to understand, will retain the faith—that of the Orthodox Greek Church—in which she has been born and bred; but her children of the royal pair, if their union should be blessed with offspring, will, it is stated, be brought up in the Protestant creed of this country.

A man fell overboard from the steamer Bohemian, when near Caughnawaga, last Friday; and now one of the passengers on board blames the Captain for not having stopped the steamer and sent a boat to the rescue of the man, who was seen swimming in the ship's wake for some time.

The Niagara Falls train of the Erie Railway, and the passenger train of the Buffalo, New York and Philadelphia line came into collision on Tuesday afternoon, causing probably fatal injuries to two passengers, and injured some ten or twelve others less severely.

Harristown Correspondence.

There has been considerable dearth in business of late, owing to the farmers being busy with the hay, which is now all in, and though in most cases light is better than was expected. The fall wheat harvest has commenced and is surpassing the most sanguine expectations, it being long straw, good grain, and well filled. The first barley cut this year is on the farm of Capt. Miles Estenham.
It was cut on the 28th inst., and is a first-class crop. Spring grain of all kinds has a very promising appearance—in fact everything bids fair to make this season one of prosperity for farmers and business men.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs.

that they have arrived safe in their na-

Guelph Evening Mercury

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JULY 30, 1873

Let's have no Burking.

The movement for petitioning the Governor General against the Pacific scandal is becoming general throughout the country, and prominent Conservatives are joining in it, for it is felt that the Parliament of the nation is the proper authority to deal with these most disgraceful transactions, and that the free action of our representatives must not be hindered. A number of blank forms of petition are now here, and will soon be distributed for signature throughout the county. They can be obtained of the county members, and of other prominent Reformers, and at the Mercury office. Let Reformers be up and doing, and get these petitions extensively signed; no time is to be lost, for they should reach Ottawa on the 10th August.

We ask all honest men, whether Reformers or Conservatives—Do you think that the evidence published is strong enough to form reasonable ground for an enquiry as to the innocence or guilt of the Ministry? Surely none can doubt this. Then, ought the conducting of that enquiry to be left in the hands of the accused persons or of the people's representatives? The answer to this is plain; and it is equally plain that if Parliament is prorogued without discussion, the people's representatives will not have the enquiry left in their hands. The excuses given for banking discussion are of the flimsiest description. Ministers have had ample time to prepare their defence, and it is most undesirable that this scandal should be left in suspense for an indefinite period, as it will be if the House is prorogued. All honest loyal Canadians desire that the scandal should be immediately and thoroughly investigated: let every one, therefore, whatever his politics, sign the petitions.

The Credit Valley Railway.

To-morrow the voting takes place upon the Credit Valley By-Law in the townships of Erin, East and West Garafraxa, Pilkington, Nichol, and the villages of Orangeville, Fergus and Elora. The inhabitants of that section have had the question placed before them most fully in all its aspects, and no doubt have thoroughly considered the question and made up their minds whether or not it is desirable to adopt the scheme proposed by the Credit Valley interest. Their decision has only now to be placed on record, and it is to be hoped that there will be a good majority either on one side or the other, so that the wish of the municipalities be unmistakably expressed, and the question be set at rest.

Impartial Testimony.

The following remarks on the great scandal are of considerable value, as coming from a commercial journal of high standing, and which is entirely neutral in politics—the Monetary Times, published in Toronto:

"It would be useless to deny that the evidence supplied in these documents is most direct; and whether they substantiate the charges of Mr. Huntington or not, they will at least convince the reading public that the leaders of the Government had a corrupt understanding with Sir Hugh Allan to supply funds with which to carry the election. And few will find it possible to escape the conclusion that the quid pro quo for these disbursements was the Pacific Railway contract. It is with regret and with a sense of humiliation that we feel compelled to admit so much."

Two Blacks Won't Make One White.

If anything were calculated to aggravate the disgrace which the Pacific Scandal has brought upon the Dominion, it is the fact that the Government, instead of trying to redeem their character by either disproving the charges against them, or which is the next best thing, vacating their seat, are through their accredited organs industriously at work throwing mud at Mr McMullen, evidently thinking that by a certain amount of exertion in this line they will succeed in making the public oblivious of their own rascality. What is Mr. McMullen that the people of Canada should care for his antecedents? All they certainly know about him is as the trusted friend and associate of Sir Hugh Allan in a scheme to build a Pacific Railway—one on whom the latter relied to assist him in procuring money and capital to forward his designs. In playing his "games" Sir Hugh finds his friends no longer of use or advantage, and, the two falling out, Mr. McMullen tears asunder the veil, exposes to the gaze of Canada and that of the world the corruption of her rulers and representatives in all its naked hideousness. That is all of Mr. McMullen the people of Canada care or are interested to know; and the Government organs may continue to fling at him as much garbage from the kennels of Chicago as they please, but it will make their clients no whiter nor diminish by a feather a weight the exceeding gravity of the charge against them. The people of Canada, or at least the wiser part, will only see in this policy an outpouring of rage by a gang of robbers against one of their number who has turned Queen's evidence and exposed their nefarious deeds. All the splurges of the accused party will not avail them in face of these fatal documents asking for and acknowledging the receipt of corruption money, and whose genuineness none of their defenders have had the hardihood to deny.—Witness.

A meeting of Reformers was held at Ottawa on Monday evening, where resolutions were carried declaring it advisable to get up a petition to the Governor-General praying that Parliament be not prorogued in August, but that the investigation into the Pacific fraud be prosecuted without delay. The gathering was large and influential, and on Tuesday the number of names attached to the petition exceeded all expectations.

CHAPTER XXX.
THE ENCAMPMENT OF THE CHEROKEES—A JOYOUS MEETING—THE SETTLEMENT—DANGER.

While Philip, with his hands still laid fondly on Jim's naked shoulder, was giving the latter this information, the trapper was explaining to the Indians the meaning of the scene they had just witnessed, and which, as he had guessed, did not exalt Philip in their eyes. They received his explanation with cold gravity, and when Thunder Cloud learned that it was the custom of the white braves to conduct themselves in like circumstances, he smiled with an air of lofty superiority, and he and his warriors turned aside to resume the council which had been interrupted.

The three whites seized the opportunity to retire into an empty hut where, free from observation, they could conduct themselves as they pleased. Here, after a little further extravagant manifestation, Philip recovered comparative equanimity of feeling, and began to laugh heartily at the transformation under which Jim had passed during their separation.

The latter, thus reminded of his reddened complexion, got water and sand, and, baring the upper part of his body, began to scrub it vigorously in the hope of bringing back the whiteness. The operation was a painful one, but Jim's anxiety to recover his natural colour made him bear the pain, and persevere in his efforts till a manifest difference of hue was effected, and taken given that in time, with repeated scrubbing at convenient intervals, his skin would be freed from the darkened tinge.

Nothing, however, could at present be found as a substitute for his Indian dress. When they reached the settlements he would no doubt procure garments suitable for a white man, but meanwhile he must still retain the garb of the redskin, a privation to which he resigned himself with great good humour.

All three were now gay, high-spirited, and hopeful. Their personal difficulties and dangers being past, and having the near prospect of accomplishing their mission, they became buoyant and exhilarated, entering into each other with the narrative of their separate adventures, till the news came to them that the encampment was breaking up.

This was welcome intelligence to the two travellers, for a few hours' march would bring them to the settlements and to the man they had journeyed so far to find. That very evening perhaps they would learn from Jerry just the marriage place of Annabel's parents, and thus be furnished with the means of removing the stain which had been sought to cast upon their memory. Then Rockstone would be hers without let or hindrance; but, most precious thought of all, Philip would receive her dear self for his wife, and their deep true love be crowned with happiness.

These and such like were the delightful thoughts which Philip indulged as the party threaded the mazes of the forest during the sultry hours of that autumn afternoon. On the eve of the crisis of their enterprise he was naturally subject to a little excitement, and this was increased by the knowledge that the hostile party were also making their way to the settlement for the purpose of frustrating his object. Everything depended on themselves and their Cherokee allies getting there first. Should the Chickasaws gain the spot before them, farewell to hope, for immediately the settlements would be reduced to ashes, and Jerry and his companions in all probability killed. It was the fear of such a possibility that incited them to push vigorously forward, and take no rest till the near neighbourhood of the settlement was reached, when scouts could be sent out while the party rested to reconnoitre and learn if the war party of Chickasaws had appeared in the vicinity.

Towards sunset they came to the end of a long valley which winded by the base of some considerable hills. With the characteristic stealth and silence of Indians, they had travelled miles after mile, the soft footfalls of their moccasins eddying being nearly the only sounds sent forth as they passed along. Such steady, gliding, cat-like motion is favourable to the endurance of much fatigue. It was not, therefore, from a feeling of exhaustion on his own part or that of his followers that, at the top of the valley, Thunder Cloud order a halt to be made. The march might have been continued several hours longer—even the three white men felt fresh and vigorous still—but the instinctive cunning and caution of his race prompted the course. On the other side of the hill which rose in front toward the broad Kentucky river, and at its base was the settlement for which they were bound. Before passing through the defile, which formed the easiest path to the river from that part, it was important that the chief should learn what was the state of matters on the other side. He would not show his force or give token of their presence till he knew what about the Chickasaws. His purpose, therefore, was to rest his men in that secluded spot, and send a scout to the top of the ridge to reconnoitre and report.

On Tuesday morning a little boy named John Bradley was drowned in the Gatineau river.

DR. WHEELER'S COMPOUND ELIXIR OF PHOSPHATES AND CALSAYA.
Sandy Creek, Aug. 21st, 1872.
The Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calsaya prepared by you I have been for two years using laboriously in my practice, and I assure you that in my judgment there is no preparation of its kind that can compare with it where it is applicable. With feeble, anemic women, of whom there are so many, and in cases convalescing from prostrating diseases I should hardly know how to get along without it. In Dyspepsia it acts like a charm—in fact in any of the long list of exhaustive diseases it is THE REMEDY.

BASEBALL.
PROFESSIONAL GAMES.
The fifth game of the championship series between the Brooklyn Atlantics and the Baltimore Orioles was played on Monday at the Union Grounds in the presence of about 600 spectators. The game was exciting and some splendid hits on the 9th innings saved the Atlantics from a whitewash. McVey made some splendid catching, and Force hit his third in superb style. Baltimore 1. The following are the scores:

LOCALS.
The Herald yesterday says we get all our base ball locals from the New York World and the scissors. Our readers will be able to judge the veracity of that statement by the following:
There was no business of any importance done at the Maple Leaf meeting last night, on account of the absence of several important members.
We have been informed by the secretary of the Union (Mr. Geo. Hadden) that he has received a challenge from the Secretary of the London Rowers to play in Guelph for the junior championship on Thursday, the 7th of Aug. By advt. it will be seen that a meeting has been called for Friday evening, at which all must be present. The Secretary has accepted the challenge, and expects every man to do his duty. We hope they will secure the Maple Leaf ground, and have a good day for the game.
A very exciting match was played at Kingston yesterday between the St. Lawrence Club Kings and the St. Lawrence Club Strivers, resulting in a victory for the former, the score being 23 to 14. The game was well contested, the St. Lawrence Club striving hard to retain the laurels gained over the MAPLE LEAF of Guelph, while the Kings fought well to gain the victory. The utmost good feeling prevailed.
The Montreal and Carleton Place are going to have a game on Saturday. They are both getting ready for battle.
A keenly-contested game came off on Monday between the Marlborough and Mount Forest clubs, resulting in a victory for the former, the score standing 31 to 25.
Our Aston correspondent writes:
A sleepy one-sided game of base ball was played in Aston, between the Erin Village club and the Victoria of Aston. The play on the part of the "Vics" was not up to their usual standard. They made a score of 64 to Erin 28, however, the heat was very oppressive, which perhaps accounts for it. The men of Erin will have to practice a little more before they can handle the champions of Halton who want some good club to come along and put them on their mettle.
THE SCORE:
Aston..... 64
Erin..... 28
A correspondent sends us the following fuller account of the match played in Georgetown on Saturday between the Reformers and Conservatives than the one published in THE EVENING MERCURY of yesterday:
On Saturday afternoon last a most interesting game of base ball was played in Georgetown between the Reformers and Conservatives of that town. It was considered to be the best of the kind ever witnessed in Georgetown. The Reformers were under the captainship of Jas. Young, Esq., the Conservatives under that of William Godfrey, Esq. The playing was sharp all through; but the fielding of the Reformers was exceedingly so, and although our CONSERVATIVE friends contested the game worthily the Reformers won by 4 runs, laying four white-washes to the charge of their opponents. The score was 22 to 18. A rematch is anticipated on Friday, 1st August; a holiday being given by the authorities. A lively time is expected.
CRICKET.
A splendid game was played in Port Hope yesterday afternoon between the Toronto and Port Hope clubs. Owing to a rain storm the match was drawn, only three innings having been played. Toronto won the toss and took the bat, retiring for 47, Heward being the only man who succeeded in getting double figures, 16. Port Hope only got 16. The Toronto team were put out for 28 on their second innings, thus leaving Port Hope 57 to make to win. The fielding on both sides was unusually fine.
LACROSSE.
Practice game on the Fair Ground this afternoon. Meeting to-night at Parker's.
That News.
Our attention was called yesterday to an article in our town contemporary about a "monopoly" in base ball news. Now, if we do publish the American Championship games, it is because we have been asked to do so by some of the lovers of the game in New York; but the columns of the New York World or the Tribune have never been clipped by us to secure this knowledge—we get them through a reliable paper the morning it is published (not an old one), and in several cases have had an account despatched to us from the field of the game. This, our friend of the Herald never knew before; and neither does he know now the (did) paper we get them from—so he needn't insinuate. How much did that last base ball tournament cost you, friend? Were the "enterprises" in asking a gentleman to correspond, finding him paper and a few three cent stamps for postage we can't see. We have paid more for ONE SINGLE base ball despatch than our contemporary has altogether this season.
And now, about those base ball scores, "Were they or were they not ordered to be sent to us after you had put them in type?" We have been informed that they were, and how is it we didn't get them? Our friends of the MAPLE LEAF, as well as all the other local base ball clubs, have always had our columns at their disposal if they wished, to publish any little item of news affecting their interests, and it is their fault, not ours, if they don't take advantage of it.

Few people unacquainted with physiological chemistry are aware of the quantity of iron in the blood, but all should know the importance of keeping up the supply, for debility, disease and death are sure to follow when the quantity becomes too much reduced. The Ferriquin Syrup (a protoxide of Iron) supplies this vital element, and has cured many chronic diseases.

Iron in the Blood
PERUVIAN SYRUP
MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.
The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated as food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damage, and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.
This is the secret of its wonderful success in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhoea, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.
Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.
See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass. Pamphlets Free.
