GABRIEL DUMONT CAPTURED AND RELEASED.

eneral Terry Instructed That he Has no Winnipeg Over the Indian Outrages. WINNIPEG, May 29 .- The feeling in this at the terrible atrocity. The apprenhen sion is prevalent now that the government is going to be too lenient in making an example of the perpetrators of such fearful crimes, The people of Battleford have taken the initiative in this direction, and already findividual instances are recorded where the death of relatives have been avenged by shooting the Indians, and more will follow, for settlers are determined to take the law into their own hands if tho federal authorities and Gen. Middleton de not feel equal to the emergency.

Indian Atrocities. BATTLEFORD, May 29.—Inspector Peters and 20 mounted police arrived from Gen. Strange's column, which had reached Fort Pitt. He reports fort Pitt burned. Police. man Cowan's body was found there horribly mutilated, the heart being cut out and immutilated, the heart being out out and impaled on a pole near the body. Inspector Peters was also at Frog Lake, where he discovered the bodies of the people massacred by Big Bear's Indians. A bedy, supposed to be that of Mrs. Gowanlock, was found in a well. The bodies of Father Marchand and Father Farfard were found in a cellar of a burned house much charred. They were recognized by the beads which were found in the pockets of the gowns, not altogether destroyed. The remains of Delaney, Quinn and Gilchrist were discovered in the woods near by. General Strange has sent Inspector Steele north to Strange has sent Inspector Steele north to look up Big Bear's band, His whereabouts is a matter of conjecture, and it is considered likely that he has gone north of Frog lake.

Otherwise, hostilities will continue, and we will be obliged to call to our assistance all the Indians in our neighborhood; then this spring we will get reinforcements from the States, and the final result will perhaps be the celebration of the 4th of July instead of the 1st.

Notes From the Northwest. Information from Gen. Strange takes time to reach here. At the latest advices he was at Fort Pitt, which was found in he was at Fort Pitt, which was found in ruins, the surrounding country having been thoroughly devastated. He had sent scouts out in all directions on a hunt for Big Bear's trall, but up to the 23d no news of its discovery had been brought in. The 65th battalion was eager in the hunt and ready to give the cruel chief battle. A halfbreed named Hagerman, suspected of being a spy, was arrested and incriminatory papers found upon him.

INTO THE VALLEY OF DEATH.

Gen. Grant Baptised When He Thought to be all but Bead. NEW YORK, May 29 .- During Ger Grant's illness the family were gathered around him. Dr. Shrady was sleeping in another room. In rushed Dr. Douglas and roused him with the words, "It's all over." "What," said Dr. Shrady, "Do you mean to say the man is dead?" "No, not dead, but will be in a few minutes. not dead, but will be in a few minutes. Nothing can save him." Dr. Shrady ran into the room where the general was. Dr. Newman exclaimed, "It is all over. I will baptize him." He went quickly into another room, got a silver bowl, filled it with water, dipped his hand into it and said, "I baptize you, Ulysses Simpson Grant in the name of the Fa her, Son and Holy Ghost." The general slowly raised his head and remarked, "I thank you." Then turning to his family he raised hia hand and uttered the words: "I bless you all." To Dr. Newman he observed, "Doctor, I intended to attend to this myself." Meanwhile Drs. Shrady and Douglas were consulting in the corner. The strain was consulting in the corner. The strain was intense. Dr. Douglas said, "He will die sure, he is gone, the pulse has left the wrist." Shrady replied, "I will give him brandy," and injected a syringe in each will die, "said the doctor." "Our prayers have been answered," said Dr. Newman. "I think it was the brandy," responded Or. In the senate on Friday, May 22, Hon Mr. Smith presented a number of petitions, praying that ale, porter, lager beer, light wines and cider be exempted from the operation of the Canada temperance act, and that the said act may not come into and that the said act may not come into force unless supported by a three-fifths majority of those voting. He said: I can only say, in support of those petitions, that they were not thought of until last Saturday morning, and it shows you the feeling of the country on this subject. I know a large number of the gentlemen who have signed those petitions in the several counties and cities from which they come, and I can say that more respectable petitioners have never presented in all, they are the true temperance men of our country. They are men of wealth and standing, men who have the welfare of our country at heart, and I earnestly hope that the house will give their petitions that consideration to which the standing and number of the petitioners entitle them. New York Central.

New York Tribune, quoted by the Sun. John Fitch, the former registrar of bank ruptcy, asked me if I realized how much ruptcy, asked me if I realized how much the railroad depression was costing the country. "Wny," said he, "it is cutting off incomes, shutting up shops and stores, cutting down wages, turning off hands in every direction. My father left me enough New York Central stock to furnish me a competencey. But see where the dividends have fallen to! I went up to Albany the other day. The distance is 143 miles and the fare is $1.65—little more than a cent a mile. Think of it! A cable despatch says that the Marquis of Salisbury is endeavoring to induce Lord Randolph Churchill to withdraw from his alliance with the home rulers and radicals, and follow Sir Stafford Northcote's lead.

Stafford if he would only lead somewhere; but he was tired of the waiting policy.

Does it ever strike Mr. Blake that the Canadian opposition, as well as the British opposition, is getting tired of waiting, waiting — everlastingly waiting — for a policy? An opposition is certainly not bound to have a policy, in the governmental sense of the word, But it is bound to have a policy for its animal sense of the word. But it is bound to have a policy for its animal sense of the word. But it is bound to have a policy for its animal sense of the word. But it is bound to have a policy for its animal sense of the word. But it is bound to have a policy for its animal sense of the word. But it is bound to have a policy for its animal sense of the word. But it is bound to have a policy for its animal sense of the word. But it is bound to have a policy for its animal sense of the word. But it is bound to have a policy for its animal sense of the word. But it is bound to have a policy for its animal sense of the word. But it is bound to have a policy for its animal sense of the word of the grave facing inwards, and during the burial service each soldier rested his hands and head on the butt of his rifle, the muzzle resting on his foot, and after the interment the final volleys were fired right over the grave—the men, as before, facing inwards. This, if I mistake not, is yet the true military formula, and if so it was sadly departed from last Wednesday May 29. some reason to show for its existence a distinctive ground upon which it can appeal to the common sense of the country, and demand a change of the committee appointed by parliament to

Apropos of all this, let us quote from the Montreal Gazette's Ottawa correspondence:

It has been supposed that Mr. Blake's absence from his seat for the past month was que to ill health but this explanation will no lenger hold good, his organ here this evening (May 27) announcing that "Hon. Ed. Blake is seldem in the house and devotes his time in his private room in preparing matter to support the series of resolutions defining the liberal platform, which will probably find the light before the session closes."

A most interesting DAVID DEXTER, ESQ., question with regard to Mr. Blake's policy would be this: To what extent will he nt accomplished facts—the great change in Canada's position wring the last six years—as un fait accompli? On his answer to this much depends. If he takes to his bosom the counsel of Cartwright, and Mills, and Charlton, he is fated to remain in the same old ditch and to die there. A present fact is, that the opposi-Blake himself has tired of the policy of Buried on the Field of Honor. We can appreciate the motives which have induced the relatives and townsmen of a number of those slain in the Saskatchewan rebellion to bring the bodies home for burial. But here is how Thucydides, the historian of the Pelopennesian wars tells us the Greeks buried their soldiers killed in battle: To the course of this winter the Athenians accordance with the custom of their fore fathers, buried at the public expense those who had fallen in the war, after the following manner. Having erected a tent, they lay out the bones of the dead three days before, and each one brings to his relative whatever funeral offering he pleases. When the funeral procession takes place, cars convey coffins of cypress wood, one for each tribe: in which are isld the bones of every man according to the tribe to which he belongs; and one empty bier is carried spread in honor of the missing, whose bodies could not be found to be taken up. They then lay them in the public sepulchre, which is in the fairest suburbo of the eity, and in which they alw ys bury those who have fallen in the war (except, at least, those who fell at Marathon; but to them, as they considered their valor distinguished above that of all others, they gave a burial on the Canada's Northwest rebellion dies hard in the New York papers. The Sun of Thursday elevates Dumont and Big Bear to the dignity of rebel chiefs who are still powerful, and who may yet fight the dominion to the extent of all she is worth, .'The Indian rising may have just begun," says our luminous contemporary, who "shines for all." I am just recently from the heapital, and by what I have seen and experienced, I marvel that so little is known as to how the institution is consucted. I have known cases where people have waited till they are more dead than alive before consenting to go to the hospital, and all on account of prejudice and ignorance. My case was a serious one (or three times an hour night and day, which was faithfully done for five days and nights. Such was the unremitting attention, and with every other needed appliance, for less than $3 per week. During these five days and nights I was watched and fed like a child. I had a difficulty in believing that my run-down and dilapidated body could be worth so much tender care and sympathy from the hands of the untiring nurses. It is as Lieut. Morrow puts it: "It passesth conception." With many and sincere thanks, I propose three cheers for the doctors, and certainly no tess for the nurses, and "may God bless them all."

Wark, Wark, the Bogs do Bark. Editor World: There is a good deal of peculation in the city regarding the figure our volunteers will cut on their returnSome would have them come all tattered and torn as they have appeared on service while others, and those are mainly of the gentle sex, would have them get into new uniforms at Winnipeg, be shampooed and shaven and return odorous of prairie flowers and Indian hay. I think, however, the general public will prefer seeing their worn war gear though it may be necessary to execute certain repairs to save some of them from the reproson directed against the proverbial Highlander. A day's halt at Winnipeg may be sufficient to make them decently presentable, and that ought to be accorded.

May 29. our volunteers will cut on their return.

and we might also say—time and pain as well, in our advice to good housekeepers and ladies generally. The great necessity existing always to have a perfectly safe remedy convenient for the relief and prompt cure of the ailments peculiar to woman—functional firegularity, constant pains, and all the symptoms attendant upon uterine disorders—induces us to recommend strongly and unqualifiedly Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" —woman's best friend. It will save money.

Tatarrh—A New Treatment.

Perhaps the most extraordinary success that has been achieved in modern science has been attained by the Dixon treatment for catarrh. Out of 2000 patients treated during the past six months, fully ninety per cent, have been cured of this stubbor malady. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent. of the patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner a e benefitted, while the patient presenting themselves to the regular practitioner a ebenefitted, while the patient mode generally believed by the most scientific men that the disease is due to the presence of livir g parasites in the tissues, Mr. Dixon at once adapted his oure to their extermination; this accomplished, the catarrh is practical y cured, and the permanency is unquestioned, as cures effected by him four years ago are cures still. No one eige has ever attempted to cure catarrh in this manner, and no other treatment has ever cured catarrh. The application of the remedy is sim le and can be done athome, and the present season of the year is the most faverable for a speedy and permanet cure, the m jority of cases being cured at one treatment. Sufferers should correspond with Messrs. A. H. Dixon & Son, 305 King street west, "oronto, Canada, and enclose stamp for their treatise on catarrh.—Montreal Star. 46 stronger than it was on Monday last, when the Caughnawagas were their opponents. On that occasion C. A. MoHenry, W. H. Hubbell, J. Drynan and W. Blight were absent. To day they will be present and unless we are very much mistaken will make considerable difference in the strength and ability of the twelve, which will also comprise J. S. Garvin, Tarte Stowe, Robinson, Dixon, Eckhardt, S. Martin, Sewell, with Hardy and Meharg as spare men and Major R. B. Hamilton as field captain. The Montreal team will be the strongest the club can put forth and, therefore, the match will be a fair test of the respective clubs and will give a pretty good indication of what may be expected during the season. It is true that Watty Bonnell with his great turn of speed/will be absent from the heme team, but he is a little short of work, and rather than risk his reputation he preferred to wait until the match against the Ontarios this day week, when he hopes to have put in six days of good practice, and to pick up the ball with expedition and fly over the field at the rate of about a mile in three minutes, or to send the rubber full across the field with the speed of the wind.
