Space forbids further enumeration of the many articles which I am offering at prices which are not equaled by either of the Department stores or any one else. Freight rates have been advanced 20 per cent, and this with the great advance in cost of every line of dry goods makes it imperative that you should avail yourselves of my sale as my stock is limited.

By to-day's mail I received a post card from The Belding, Paul, Corticello Co., which I have placed in my show case. It contains the information noted hereunder:

"NOTICE OF ADVANCE IN PRICE.—Upward prices of raw silk and increased cost of manufacture have necessitated a revision of our Price List."

Spool Silk 40 yards, per dozen, 63 cents. We would suggest Retail Prices, 40 yards, 8 cents each or two for 15 cents. I am selling balance of old stock, 50 yards, for 5 cents each or just one half of the suggested price. No Black.

My Store is open until October the 1st, Mondays and Tuesdays, 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Saturdays 9 a.m. until 11 p.m., OLD TIME.

My store is NOT open on Tuesday night, and is NOT open at any time on Wednesdays, Thursdays or Fridays.

Bay as the dividing line of Fundy and the district tax for the lobster fisheries, who is exceeding on the question of Digby county. He proposes section be thrown in with the exists west of Halifax, the one season to govern all Nova Scotia. His arguments a change were very feasible department officials are now at Cape Torchu, Yarmouth county, replacing the alarm system at that station. The steam engines are now in use will be displaced substituted with modern engines. A larger and more whistle will also be used to warn the mariner at a greater distance than the in use. The work will take to eight weeks to complete when done, will afford this point an alarm second along the coast, and providing with a much more efficient than he has ever before seen.

Met Again After Many Years

Boston paper: A short distance from Pittsfield, Mass., recently a sizable crowd had assembled on account of an automobile accident. Two men, more than 50 years of age, were assisting in getting things to rights when one of the men exclaimed to the other: "Hello, Bill!" After a few seconds they grasped hands heartily. It developed that this was the first time they had met since they were boys together in Nova Scotia.

THE JOY OF MOTHERHOOD

Came to this Woman after Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Restore Her Health

Ellensburg, Wash.—"After I was married I was not well for a long time and a good deal of the time was not able to go about. Our greatest desire was to have a child in our home and one day my husband came back from town with a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and wanted me to try it. I brought relief from my troubles. I improved in health so I could do my housework; we now have a little one, all of which I owe to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. O. S. JOHNSON, R. No. 3, Ellensburg, Wash.

Such women should not give up hope until they have given this wonderful medicine a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of 40 years experience is at your service.

LEMONS MAKE SKIN WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR
Make This Beauty Lotion for a Few Cents and See for Yourself.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quarter pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

Married in Kingston. BROWN—MESSENGER. On Wednesday, the 7th inst., "Maplehurst," the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Messenger, of Kingston, was the scene of a very interesting event. The occasion being the marriage of their daughter, Grace Katherine Florence to Sydney Wylie Brown, of Slater, Wyoming.

Owing to a recent bereavement in the family of the groom the wedding was a quiet one. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Herbert J. Blossie, of the Bethel church. The bride, who carried a bouquet of carnations and roses, looked very sweet in a travelling suit of Mandarin blue silk and white. Mrs. Howard Nelly, a cousin of the groom, presided at the piano. The gifts to the bride were many and beautiful. After refreshments had been served, the newly wedded couple left for Halifax en route to Montreal, Toronto, Chicago, Yellowstone National Park and other places of interest before reaching their home in Slater, Wyoming.

A Letter From Ottawa

To the Editor of the MONITOR: DEAR SIR:—Thinking of the dear old homestead today I felt like sending you a few lines for publication. I can assure you that as I peruse the different items from the different parts of the county and note what is going on, the changes that are taking place, the passing over of the many old landmarks, many of them well known to me, it makes me feel that the new and rising generation will soon be entirely unknown to me; but Father Time stays not for none of us, he ever goes relentlessly on, making his inroads upon the human family and the dear boys at the front too, I notice quite a number I knew have paid the supreme sacrifice. Sad, indeed, but surely they have gone out in a glorious cause and we believe the mercy of God will receive their Spirits where He is.

The prospects of victory are very bright just now and we trust it is the beginning of the end. There may still be some remnant of belief in Germany that the British Navy can be beaten. The submarine campaign evidently cannot deliver the goods. The output of merchant ships constructed in British and Allied and neutral countries during the three months ending June 30th, exceeded the losses from all causes by 296,696 gross tons. The rate of output is steadily increasing. A great many workers in the ship yards have had to learn the shipbuilding trade within the last year—the work of apprentices practically.

The British yards had been denuded of skilled men in the first years of the war. The American yards were started in many places without any nucleus of labor skilled in ship builder's craft to build upon.

The Huns now are confronted with the fact of the Allies' growing shipbuilding power. The British navy is bringing home to the enemy the more terrible fact that their own submarines are being blotted out in an appalling manner. The Germans deliberately adopted the policy of piracy upon the seas in the same spirit of their vandal ancestors. The foulness of their work against defenceless merchantmen has no parallel in history. The first Prussian Kaiser Gensevich, chief of the Vandals, who destroyed Carthage and sacked Rome fourteen centuries ago, found a spiritual home among the Algerian pirates, and he, like Attila, known in history as the "scourge of God," is one of the Prussian heroes of history. The British navy wiped out piracy after it had existed many centuries on the Algerian coast and the British navy is sending many of the Kaiser's pirates to meet their master's "Gott" in Vauhalla. The loss of 150 subs without accomplishing the Hun's purpose is plainly having a demoralizing effect upon them.

It is possible the German war lords may be driven to make another attempt to unloose the British navy's grip upon their throats, but it is doubtful. It is more than two years now since Jollicoe whipped them back into their lair. "Tis true the enemy may have added some new ships and they gained some from the Baltic ports. But the mistress of the seas is ever ready. At the beginning of the war our tonnage was two and a half millions, today it is eight millions, and it is safe to say nothing would thrill the British navy more than to know the Huns were sailing out to meet them. Enough for the present about the war.

Times are much the same here at the capital. The beautiful parliament buildings are about completed on the exterior and a palatial looking pile it is, far out shinning the old structure. The weather has alternated between cold and very hot by times. The crops are good with the exception of fruit. It will be better than last year but not a good one by any means. Some prospects of a fall session of Parliament when the Prime Minister returns from England.

Now, for fear of trespassing upon your valuable space, I will cease scribbling.

Yours truly, H. W. M. Ottawa, August 12, 1918.

Reduction of Sugar. The Canada Food Board has issued an order asking a reduction of the household consumption of sugar in Canada to a ration of one and one-half pounds per person per month.

Householders are also requested to use yellow sugar instead of granulated wherever possible.

The Food Board also states that all laws re holdings of sugar will be strictly enforced and the appeal is made following a conference of the International Sugar Commission and a full review of the present sugar situation.

As to fines for hoarding, etc., the penalties are very heavy, sometimes even cancellation of licenses of manufacturers. For infraction of the sugar regulations the maximum fine is $1000, the minimum $100, or three months imprisonment, or both fine and imprisonment.

Under the new regulations no manufacturer is allowed to make sugar icing.

SIR WILFRED LAURIER AND H. PRICE WEBBER

Liberal Chief and Veteran Actor Greet Each Other En Route To Sherbrooke.

[Sherbrooke (Quebec) Daily Record] On Wednesday last, on the Montreal and Sherbrooke train, Sir Wilfred Laurier was a passenger, and at Foster Station H. Price Webber got on board and spoke to the Liberal chieftan, who was delighted to meet Mr. Webber.

"I used to work in the same printing office in Halifax with Hon. W. S. Fielding," said Mr. Webber to Sir Wilfred, at the same time showing a letter he had received lately from Mr. Fielding.

Sir Wilfred read the letter, which spoke of old associations, and said, Mr. Fielding was an exceptionally fine man and a credit to Canada.

"I have heard it said you resemble me," said Sir Wilfred to Mr. Webber. "Only in appearance, Sir Wilfred," answered Price, "not in ability. There never will be but one Sir Wilfred Laurier in Canadian history. I may truly say that all admire your great qualities of statesmanship and your fine personal character."

"You are quite a courtier, Mr. Webber," Sir Wilfred replied, with his pleasant smile. "Oh, no, Sir Wilfred; only a truthful man, and one who can appreciate your greatness. All Canadians will acknowledge this," said Mr. Webber.

Sir Wilfred remarked that he hoped Mr. Webber would have the best of luck in his professional career, and shook hands with Price, who continued on his journey to Sherbrooke, where he appeared at His Majesty's last night.

Sir Wilfred was looking very well indeed, and will stop a few days visiting friends in Magog, and all will wish him the best of health and strength to attend to his many arduous duties. THEATRE CROWDED TO GREET PRICE WEBBER

H. Price Webber's hold upon the good will of the public was demonstrated last night, when a crowded house greeted him and his company at His Majesty's Theatre.

The play, "The Female Detective," was well presented, with Mrs. Webber (Edwina Grey) in the leading role. Liberal applause demonstrated the appreciation of the audience.

Mr. Webber, in a short speech between acts, thanked the people of Sherbrooke for their patronage. He reminded the people before him that forty years had passed since he began coming to Sherbrooke, playing first in the old City Hall. He had appeared before many fine audiences, and it was a matter of much satisfaction to him to meet so many on this occasion. He felt his enjoyment of public good-will was due to a great extent that he had always put on a clean show, with nothing in it to cause offence to anyone.

Another Fatal Auto Accident W. H. T. Fenety, theatrical manager at Fredericton, N. B., and wife were drowned on Tuesday when the automobile Mr. Fenety was driving plunged through the open draw in the Oromocto River and sank in sixteen feet of water. Mr. Fenety's body was recovered in half an hour, but use of the pulmotor failed to restore life. Mrs. Fenety's body was later recovered. The car was located and raised. Mr. Fenety was a brother of Mrs. C. G. D. Roberts, the well known Canadian author now living in Ottawa.

THE HOME PAPER

It is admitted by everyone that no community could prosper without a local newspaper. How would the churches, the lodges, the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., the farmers' societies and a dozen other organizations, in fact anything for the good of the community, make their wants known among the general public without the aid of the local newspaper?

When a merchant, who got $2.00 worth of job printing in St. John or Truro in order to save 15 cents, sent in a regular advertising notice which he considered should be inserted free of cost, can anyone blame the editor, or consider him anyone when he simply asked the merchant over the phone to send the advertisement to St. John or Truro, as he knew they would be pleased (?) to put it in type in their job offices free of charge; but the merchant, for some reason, was not granted the favor.

It pays to patronize the local paper.

PAID THE SUPREME SACRIFICE

Acting Sergt.-Major H. T. MacKenzie, of Bridgetown, Dies of Wounds.

The flag on the MONITOR building was immediately placed at half mast Friday morning when it was learned that Major MacKenzie's brother, Acting Sergt.-Major Harry T. MacKenzie had died from wounds in the South Africa General Hospital, at Abberville, Fance, Aug. 12th, from the effects of a gun shot wound in the knee. The deceased was a member of the firm of MacKenzie, Crowe & Co., and a son of the late Wm. H. MacKenzie, of this town.

A special program of sports was held in Middleton, last Wednesday which was well attended, the gross receipts amounting to $700.00, the net proceeds of which was presented to the Red Cross. The horse racing consisted of a three-minute class, a two-thirty, and a free-for-all. This part of the program was well carried out, with the exception of the last two heats in the three-minute class, in which it was thought by the spectators that some of the horses, at least, were not driven as fast as they might have been.

FATAL ACCIDENT

While her son was out working in Mr. y field, Mrs. Seraph Stone was guest to death while cooking dinner Dr. seven o'clock Monday morning, noticed smoke coming from week for ten windows and arrived in Little extinguish the fire, but too guest of his mother's life. The Mrs. of the accident is unknown.

An Old Time Printer

The editor had a pleasant call Saturday from Mr. Robert W. Kelly, who resides with his son, Thomas Kelly, Bridgeport's well-known ice dealer. Mr. Robert Kelly, now in his 88th year, was a printer 60 years ago. He was an apprentice three years in Halifax on The Posty, a paper published by late Mr. Crosskill, in that city. He afterwards worked four years in Montreal. Later, Mr. Kelly left the printing business to engage in lumbering, moving to Annapolis County many years ago. He still remembers "the case" and can stick type, but the operating of the modern linotype machines and cylinder presses, especially those of the two-color type, are unknown to him. He appears, however, to be much interested in the rapid progress of the printing business.

Successful Garden Party

The Eureka Hall girls, Windsor, held a garden party and musical fete on their lawn quite recently. $800, clear of expenses, was realized, which was given for Red Cross purposes. Miss Dorothy Greene, of West Parade, was one of the young ladies who assisted in this patriotic entertainment.

Local Happenings

Saturday the D. A. R. carried the heaviest traffic that it has during the entire season. Mr. J. Albert Robbins has sold his farm at Bear River and purchased the Capt. Corning place at Smith's Cove.

For want of space the new schedule of electric light rates was crowded out of this issue. It will appear next week.

The Baptist Woman's Missionary Aid Society will be held in the vestry of the church, Tuesday evening, September 3rd.

We have received correspondence in reference to our schools, which, for want of space, has been held over until next week.

There will be no meeting of the Centrelea Red Cross this week. The next meeting will be Friday, Sept. 6th, at Mrs. Edward Messengers's.

The Bridgetown schools opened on Monday with a good staff of teachers. We wish them every success in the important work in which they are engaged.

The garden party held on the Rectory grounds at Clementsport on Wednesday afternoon, was a very successful affair, the sum of $453.98 being realized.

Next Monday being Labor Day, the MONITOR Office will be closed. Correspondents and advertisers are requested to send in their copy a day earlier than usual.

A Bridgetown and a Weymouth auto collided on the Digby road near the fertilizer plant Sunday afternoon, the latter car being badly wrecked. Fortunately no one was injured.

The victorious advance of the Allied forces continues. Everywhere the enemy is being thrust back. He is now fighting with his back to the wall, and the wall is getting weaker and weaker.

The Rev. E. Underwood desires to acknowledge the receipt of $5.25 from Miss Ellen Bent, of Young's Cove, proceeds of a pie social on behalf of the Red Cross. This sum is being sent forward through the Bank of Nova Scotia.

The farmers' annual picnic was held at Lawrencetown yesterday. Those present report a pleasant outing in our sister town, which is one of the most progressive in the Annapolis Valley.

The Yarmouth County exhibition, which takes place Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 2nd, 3rd and 4th, should receive a large patronage from the Annapolis Valley, as the show is always a good one.

We wish to call particular attention to the Aylesford Speedway Labor Day races advertised in another column. The Aylesford races are always good and will probably be attended by a large number from Bridgetown.

A Memorial Service will be held in the Bridgetown Baptist Church next Sunday evening for Sergt.-Major Harry T. MacKenzie and Pte. Herman Avard Hyson, both of whom have paid the supreme sacrifice as noted elsewhere in our columns.

The Lawrencetown School Exhibition will be held in that town Sept. 18th, and the exhibition in Bridgetown on the 19th. The teachers of the surrounding schools intending to take part in the Bridgetown exhibition should communicate at once with Mr. R. E. Thurber, Principal, for further information.

The proprietors of the Primrose Theatre have been unable to obtain the title of the pictures in time for an advertisement in to-day's MONITOR, but we can assure the public that the program will be a good one and that the management should be greeted with a full house.

The second degree team from Crescent Lodge is expected to confer that degree in Middleton next Monday evening. A full attendance is therefore required at the Bridgetown Lodge to-morrow (Thursday) evening for practice and to complete arrangements for transportation.

Sports in Middleton

A special program of sports was held in Middleton, last Wednesday which was well attended, the gross receipts amounting to $700.00, the net proceeds of which was presented to the Red Cross. The horse racing consisted of a three-minute class, a two-thirty, and a free-for-all. This part of the program was well carried out, with the exception of the last two heats in the three-minute class, in which it was thought by the spectators that some of the horses, at least, were not driven as fast as they might have been.

Middleton defeated Berwick in a base ball game in the morning, and defeated Annapolis in the evening. The Red Cross ladies served lunch in the school building.

A special program of pictures in the Princess Theatre, which was packed to the doors, closed a very successful day's entertainment which was a credit to the members of the managing committee and to the enterprising citizens of our sister town.

OBITUARY

Pte. Herman Avard Hyson, 35th N. S. Battalion, C. E. F.

As we were about to go to press on Wednesday last, official notification was received from the Director of Records, Ottawa, that Pte. Herman Avard Hyson, (infantry), had been officially reported killed in action on August 9th.

Herman Hyson, as he was generally known, was the son of the late Jasper Hyson, and Mrs. Hyson, and was born at Granville Ferry some twenty-three years ago. With his parents and other members of the family, he came to Bridgetown 13 years since, and growing up into young manhood in our midst was well known. He enlisted in the Canadian Expeditionary Force on September 11th, 1915, joining the 64th Battalion, which was then in camp at Sussex, N. B. He joined this Battalion in order to be with his brother Hansel, who had enlisted soon after the war broke out. When winter set in the 64th was moved to Halifax, where they remained until the following Spring, when they went to England. They had not been there long when Herman was drafted to the 25th Nova Scotia Battalion and sent to France. With the famous 25th in France he saw much fighting until Aug. 19, 1917, when he was severely wounded and returned to England. So much was he shaken up that it was not until April of this year that he returned to France and again to the Nova Scotia Battalion. All went well with him until the fatal August 9th, when he was killed in action. As yet no further particulars have come to hand, but we desire at once to extend our sympathy (and in this we know we voice the feeling of all our fellow citizens) to the widowed mother, the six brothers, and the two small sisters who survive him. It will be remembered that Pte. Hyson's father died in the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, about a year ago. Also that two of the brothers (Hansel and Kempton) have been members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force and seen service at the front.

Next Monday being Labor Day, the MONITOR Office will be closed. Correspondents and advertisers are requested to send in their copy a day earlier than usual.

A Bridgetown and a Weymouth auto collided on the Digby road near the fertilizer plant Sunday afternoon, the latter car being badly wrecked. Fortunately no one was injured.

We wish to call particular attention to the Aylesford Speedway Labor Day races advertised in another column. The Aylesford races are always good and will probably be attended by a large number from Bridgetown.

A Memorial Service will be held in the Bridgetown Baptist Church next Sunday evening for Sergt.-Major Harry T. MacKenzie and Pte. Herman Avard Hyson, both of whom have paid the supreme sacrifice as noted elsewhere in our columns.

The Lawrencetown School Exhibition will be held in that town Sept. 18th, and the exhibition in Bridgetown on the 19th. The teachers of the surrounding schools intending to take part in the Bridgetown exhibition should communicate at once with Mr. R. E. Thurber, Principal, for further information.

The proprietors of the Primrose Theatre have been unable to obtain the title of the pictures in time for an advertisement in to-day's MONITOR, but we can assure the public that the program will be a good one and that the management should be greeted with a full house.

The second degree team from Crescent Lodge is expected to confer that degree in Middleton next Monday evening. A full attendance is therefore required at the Bridgetown Lodge to-morrow (Thursday) evening for practice and to complete arrangements for transportation.

On Saturday Mr. Hardy went by train to Yarmouth, while Messrs. Smith and Tupper came by auto to Bridgetown, taking dinner with Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Tupper, after which Mr. Smith proceeded by auto to Kentville to visit his daughter, Mrs. Lawson Hardy. Mr. Tupper remains the guest of his brother for a few days. Telephone Bulletin: Miss Ida M. Buckler spent her annual holiday at her home in the city, making preparations for an important event to take place at Edmonton, Alberta, in the near future. She is to be married to Melvern Blackburn, a former manager of Wolfville exchange under the Valley Telephone Co. and subsequently the Nova Scotia Telephone Co. Mr. Blackburn is now employed with the Government telephone system in Edmonton. Miss Buckler entered the service of the Valley Telephone Co. at Annapolis in January, 1905. In September, 1914, she was transferred to the staff of the Revenue Department at Halifax. Miss Buckler came to Halifax backed by words of praise from district superintendent Freeman for her good work at Annapolis, and she has well sustained her reputation. She will be much missed by her associates at the Revenue Department and her place on the staff will not be easy to fill. A very interesting event took place at 5 p.m., on August 28th, when the manager on behalf of the staff presented Miss Buckler with a beautiful cabinet of silver, and congratulatory and hearty good wishes from all. Miss Buckler expressed her thanks in appropriate words, and said she regretted her inability to make a speech fitting the occasion. Married in Bedford, N. S. ROBBINS—BLAKENEY. A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Blakeney, Bedford, Wednesday morning, when their daughter, Bernice Helen, was united in marriage to Rev. Clyde Whitman Robbins, pastor of the Baptist Church at Digby. Rev. W. A. Robbins, a cousin of the groom, officiated. Both were unattended and only the immediate relatives of both families were present. The bride looked lovely in a travelling suit of brown with hat to correspond. Her bouquet was of pink roses with shower of sweet peas. Following a dainty wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Robbins left by motor for a trip through the province, passing through Bridgetown Thursday afternoon. They will spend a few weeks at Chebogue Point, Yarmouth County, before returning to Digby. The collection of gifts was large and very beautiful. The bride has for many years been connected with the Nova Scotia Young People's Association and for the past year has been most successful as Field Secretary of the Association. Mr. Robbins is one of the most popular young clergymen in the Baptist denomination. They will have the best wishes of a host of friends throughout the Province. Casualties The following are among the casualties reported since our last issue: WOUNDED—Lieut. R. B. Viets, Kenneth Cary, A. Hazelton, J. D. Chisholm, A. D. Wilson, Sydney R. Butler, S. THE FACTOR IN THE FIGHT

[By Rev. Ira Dwight Lytle in the Christian Herald]

There may be many factors entering into the scheme of things, as we see it; but generally there is one big thing that takes the place, and the others are, in many cases, simple by-products. Often, if we succeed, we can look back and determine the factor; but if we fail to succeed, either the failure disheartens us, or we are so busy seeking success along other lines that we hardly take into consideration that there was an "element, circumstance, or influence" somewhere that brought about the failure, which had it been determined, and dealt with, would have spelled success.

And so there is a big factor in the fight. Do you ask, "What fight?" Why there is only one fight. All the world's battles of the past were but mere skirmishes compared with the fight that is now on. It is not our intention to enter into the prophetic significance of the world war; but I think we can very properly say it is not an accident. When the word was flashed around the world, that August morning, that Great Britain had declared war on the Central Powers, there were many people to whom this announcement seemed like a voice speaking out of the Infinite. To some it meant the end; to others the beginning. But, like all other occurrences, there was and is a factor. And this factor has as much to do with the ending of this conflict as with its beginning. It was the failure of the nations to determine this factor that brought about the war, and it is the failure of the participants to recognize this same factor that prolongs the war.

To go back to the beginning. There have been the usual charges and counter-charges by the militant parties. We say, and probably shall continue to say, the Kaiser was responsible. That is as far back, perhaps, as we can see; but might it not be that the Kaiser himself is a result rather than a cause? Would it not be well for us to remember that back of the Kaiser and his Kultur, back of the unrest in many parts of the world, back of the terrible chaos in Russia, back of the blood that has drenched the sod of Europe these four years; yes, back of all the trouble and distress, the warfare and famine, the sadness and suffering which this old world has ever known, there is one big factor, which if determined and reckoned with, means success; if not reckoned with, it means disaster. And this one big factor is the spiritual; in other words, it is God.

Lets us go back and see what the history of the past has to say in the matter. What gave the Hebrew people the prominence they enjoyed among the nations of the earth? We say they were the chosen nation; but that does not take us very far when it comes to determining the factor. And their being the chosen people does not mean that God placed his hand upon them in an arbitrary manner, while disregarding the other nations of the earth; but it does indicate that they had a capacity or fitness for the special work for the One Living and True God. You may say that God gave this capacity or fitness, and so in the last analysis it was an arbitrary choice on the part of God; but we must not lose sight of the fact that capacity or fitness does not preclude an exercise of the will. Those people could have done just what they did hundreds of years later; they could have said, "no" to God. Instead of this, the big, all important factor in every phase of their national life was the spiritual. Everything was brought into subordination to this. We find the whole web of Hebrew life woven about one central thought, the tabernacle, which represented the spiritual worship of Jehovah. What was the result? Any Bible student can answer this question. In fact, we may get the answer from secular history, if we wish. As long as these people recognized God as the Alpha and Omega of their life—while their life, instead of being "shaped after" the spiritual, was spiritual—they had success. It was the working out of the old covenant promise, "I will be unto you a God, and you shall be unto me a people." Their spirituality was not the result of their being chosen of God; God chose them because they were spiritual. Then, when they transgressed his laws, allowing the spiritual factor to sink out of sight, their troubles were many, and God reminded them again and again of the definite relationship between these things. The big factor in the life of the Hebrew was the spiritual.

If the Hebrews were the spiritual people among the nations of the earth the prophets were the spiritual class among the Hebrews. They were the wheel within the wheel. There are no old Testament writings that rise so high as the writings of the prophets. To them God was life, and life was God. How quick they were to trace the troubles of the nation back to the disregard of God's claims! Isaiah tells them that they were insulting God by offering sacrifices, and keeping holy days, and attending the solemn assembly. Why? The same answer:

God was being left out. They went on and made their plans for the future; but the prophet told them they would be cut short, and they were. Write down through the writings of these men of God it was ever the same. Malachi in a word tells them the secret of all their individual and national troubles. Flocks and herds roamed on the hillside; but the increase was nil. Through years of carelessness, they had even forgotten that there might be a connection between these losses and their failure to pay their homage to Jehovah; and so we hear the prophet charge them with having robbed God. The prophets saw that the whole trouble with the people was simply that they failed to count God into the scheme of living.

And when, centuries later, these people had sunk so far into formalism that their very sense of the spiritual had become atrophied, John the Baptist and Jesus came upon the scene with the message that has ever been the hope of the world; seek first the things of the Spirit. When they flocked to the Jordan to be baptized, he told them they were not getting started right, indicating that even though they could trace their lineage back to Abraham, this would not be sufficient, as they still might be destitute of the moral sense. Jesus takes up the message of John, and almost the first thing he says to them is: "Repent, for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand." This call to repentance was the call to turn about and get a spiritual view of life. By this time the people were materialists of the rankest sort. They interpreted life in perishable terms; Jesus interpreted it in terms of the spirit. To these people, God was an absentee, who had set the universe in motion and relegated himself to a throne "somewhere in heaven;" to Jesus he was the Ever-present Father. They felt that God, if he had any interest in them at all, was not interested in the small things; but Jesus taught that He was so intimately interested in them that even the very hairs of their heads were numbered. He sought to bring them to the mount of transfiguration, where they might see God and understand life in its true meaning; but they refused to walk this way with Him, even when he pointed out to them that their refusal meant national ruin. One of the saddest hours in the life of Jesus was, when he wept over Jerusalem, the city of his hopes and his love. "How oft would I have gathered thee together!" The pathos of these words cannot perhaps be understood by us; but enough is expressed to show that the great longing of his life was to lift them up to that higher ground, where they could dominate in the true sense, because they were dominated by the spiritual. They had left out the big factor, the spiritual.

The great Reformation is another of the outstanding illustrations of the spiritual as the dominating factor. If the early Catholic Church had any spirituality, it had become a dead letter. The church had become the instrument of man to further his aims and ends. Corruption was rampant. Many of the men who bore the vessels of the Lord were men whose corrupt lives were lived in such open and flagrant violation of the principles of righteousness that God existed only in their ritual. The Reformation may mean many things, but one thing is written all over the movement: It is the spiritual in the ascendancy. It is the great movement left many things to be desired; but life has certainly been sweeter and religion has meant more for the world, since the priest on the steps of the Roman church shouted: "The just shall live by faith!" Here was the champion of the spiritual, inaugurating his ultimatum.

And now for the factor in the fight. Where do we stand today, after four years of the bitterest warfare the world has ever known? Millions of men are in arms, and millions have been slain. Widows and orphans by countless thousands think day and night of lonely mounds "somewhere in France," where the ones who meant more to them than life itself, have been laid away to rest. And now the war lords tell us that there may be years more of this slaughter that has almost threatened civilization itself. Why is it? Have you never asked yourself in the quiet of the night why all this has taken place? Four years of world war! Think of it! Thousands of men falling daily! Churches being destroyed, art treasures stolen and reckoned as the legitimate spoils of war!

Peace there will doubtless be some day. The nations cannot keep this up indefinitely. Fighting on such a gigantic scale cannot continue much longer; but unless the world hears the message of God, and reckons in the greatest factor the ages have ever had to consider, it will only be an armistice, not a real peace.

Battleships and standing armies will not make the world safe for democracy. These things have had their day. The only thing that can save the world now, and safeguard it for the future, is a recognition of the spiritual. The old ultimatum, "The Nation or people that will not serve imate fruits of conquest! Miles and miles of the fairest portion of God's good earth uprooted until it looks like a field where swine are herded! Millions of dollars going up in smoke of the battle every hour of the day and night! Think of it again, and yet again! What does it all mean? Who is responsible for it? Will the crushing of Prussian militarism solve this world problem? Our head grows dizzy, and we seem almost stupefied when we stop for a moment to think of these things.

But a far-reaching and very pertinent question just now is this: Do we even understand this cataclysm? Here and there are a few who, perhaps, may be able to see back of the immediate causes, and so get nearer to the real meaning; but have men ever understood any of the great world events? What did the years of plague mean to England? Did men understand the real meaning of the Reformation? Has the full significance of the French revolution ever dawned upon any of us?

We hear a lot of talk about reading between the lines. In this present war God is writing. And one of the things that he has written big and bold, like the handwriting on the wall, is the charge that fits Britain and Teuton, Frank and Roman, alike. And that charge may be put in the words: "The World by Wisdom knew not God!"

Way back of all the immediate causes of this conflict there is that "element, circumstance, or influence" the world had lost its sense of the relationship to God. Materialism was the bright star. It was not that we had counted God out. We had not recognized Him at all; we failed to count in the spiritual factor, and history is repeating itself in the bloodshed and sorrow and sufferings of mankind.

The only way for the world to be made safe for democracy is for the world to come back to God—count in the spiritual in the scheme of world life. The question as to when the war will cease cannot be answered by any man. Only a conditional approximation can be given, and that is, that the war will cease and the world be made safe when the world itself has been conquered by God. This old world does not belong to the Kaiser, or Great Britain, or France, or any combination of nations; it is God's peculiar property, and is spiritual because God is Spirit. God's purpose is a spiritual purpose.

Materialism in one form or another has blocked the path of progress and discouraged the people of God and created pessimists. Some tell us the world is growing better, others that it is growing worse. But whether the world is better or worse is not the big question just at present. There is another matter that we should weigh carefully, and it is simply this: God is somewhere in this fight! We may disregard a factor, but that does not put the factor out of existence. Otherwise Germany would have annihilated God with her heresy and militarism long ago.

God is in this fight! I am taking this great conflict as another sentence in the message of God. He is speaking as he has spoken before, only more loudly. He wants to be heard, and will no doubt continue to speak until the world hears and stands ready to say, "We delight to do thy will, O Lord."

Peace there will doubtless be some day. The nations cannot keep this up indefinitely. Fighting on such a gigantic scale cannot continue much longer; but unless the world hears the message of God, and reckons in the greatest factor the ages have ever had to consider, it will only be an armistice, not a real peace. Battleships and standing armies will not make the world safe for democracy. These things have had their day. God shall perish." is just as true today as it ever has been. The five great empires' antiquity were great in all things but the one thing needful—they lacked God. Today their history is all that remains, for they are but names traced in the dust of their dead. And the same God who thus dealt with these nations of the past is the God who deals with nations today. It is not an arbitrary setting up of one nation and the casting down of another. Far from it. A nation, just as truly as an individual, decides its own destiny. What the nation becomes as the result of this war depends entirely upon how they treat the spiritual factor in the fight.

Cincinnati Man Discovers Drug That Loosens Corns So They Lift Out
Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezons, the recent discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

A quarter of an ounce costs very little at any store which handles drugs but this is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus. You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn or toughened callus and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn or callus is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. Its a sticky substance, which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

Scraps About the Scrap
A victory a day keeps the Germans away. We thought of calling him the Half-crown Prince, but half a crown is worth more than thirty cents. A correspondent suggests that the German drives may be merely a trick of the Kaiser to make the population of Germany fit the food supply. History repeats itself, and the particular bit of history we hope to see repeated soon is that recorded by Julius Caesar, to wit: "The Germans turned and ran, nor did they stop until they had crossed the Rhine."

Judging from the following notice in The Scotsman, Great Britain must be in terrible straits for recruits for her army: "Craik—On the 23rd inst., the wife of Corpl. A. Craik, a son (on active service)."

The Able Men in 1867.

To the Antigonish Casket we are indebted for the following interesting article on Reminiscences of the Public Men of 1867.

The death of Dr. Hugh Cameron former Federal member, for Inverness and the reminder that Judge A. W. Savery, once M.P. for Digby, still lives, recalls the fact that no more able body of men ever went to the Parliament of Canada from any one of the Provinces than the eighteen representatives who were elected to the first Parliament of the Dominion from Nova Scotia on the eighth of September, 1867. The two giants, of course, were Joseph Howe, from Hants, the leader of the Anti-Confederates, and Charles Tupper, from Cumberland, the latter being the one man who had been returned as a supporter of the Union. Two big men had fallen by the electoral wayside, Jim McDonald, in Pictou, afterwards Minister of Justice in Sir John MacDonald's National Policy Administration, and Adams George Archibald in Colchester, was later on returned to Ottawa, was appointed Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia, in the same capacity, where he publically thanked Reil for heading off a Fenian invasion with four hundred followers, and gave him a little keepsake of 600 pounds into the bargain. Colchester's first M.P. in the new Parliament was A. Woodbury McLean who came out of his shipyard at Great Village, defeated the brilliant Archibald, accepted the situation with Joe Howe after repeal had been a failure, became Finance Minister in a Tory Government, and his bechere of protection was considered one of the finest products of the great National Policy Campaign. The man who defeated J. S. McDonald, of Pictou, was another shipbuilder, J. W. Carmichael, who entertained Blake and Laurier during their Nova Scotia tour in 1881, and who remained as long as he lived a close personal friend of the present Liberal leader. The other county to send two members to Ottawa in the first parliament was Halifax which sent Alfred G. Jones and Patrick Power, the first an old Johnstone Tory before Confederation, and the second named a Joe Howe Liberal, and the respected father of the present Senator Lawrence G. Power. Hon. A. G. Jones was a West India merchant, a born aristocrat who wore black kid gloves, as he looked over his fish piles, and was one of the ablest men in the MacKenzie Cabinet, holding the portfolio of Militia and Defence. Patrick Power although a very strong party man, kicked over the traces and voted with Sir John Macdonald when the Washington Treaty came before Parliament for ratification although Mr. Jones, his colleague, opposed the measure. When Hon. W. B. Vail was taken into the Cabinet, after having carried on the Annapolis Government in the Lowes House for many years, and was defeated in Digby at his second election, Alfred G. Jones took his place, and it was on that occasion that the able and eloquent merchant was almost enough for the Cumberland war horse at a famous debate in the Halifax Drill Hall, the night of Vail's crushing defeat in the County of Digby.

A very clever man also went to Ottawa from Lunenburg, when the first Canadian Parliament was called, in person of E. M. McDonald, the uncle of the present day 'E. M.' and quite as eloquent and able in debate, both on the platform, and on the floors of Parliament. Annapolis sent at the same time W. H. Ray whose dancing lessons at the Capital, were the theme of some very witty letters written by Martin J. Griffin, then in press gallery for the Halifax Herald. The neighboring County of Kings sent L. de V. Chipman, a comparatively able man, who was cutoff in his prime by smallpox although Dr. Tupper, who was a very able practitioner in his time, tried his best to save him. Shelburne, which has been united to Queens for Federal electoral purpose, was represented in that particular Parliament by the Hon. Thomas Coffin, a retired master mariner, becoming a member of the Liberal Cabinet when Alexander McKenzie came to power in 1874 or seven years following Confederation. Another very brilliant man, whom the anti-Confederates sent to Ottawa in 1867 was Hugh McDonald, of Antigonish who later on became a Conservative Cabinet Minister, with portfolio of Militia and Defence while W. Ross was dejected from Victoria, and he also entered the McKenzie Cabinet, making way later for his successor by becoming Collector of Customs of the port of Halifax, the position having been previously held by E. M. McDonald. Stewart Campbell, of Guysboro, was also another capable representative from Nova Scotia, he being also first sent as a pronounced anti-Confederate, as was Frank Killam, from Yarmouth. Dr. Hugh Cameron, who came up to Ottawa from the County of Inverness in 1867, was a steady Scotch Catholic, and having taken his M. D. from an American University, he served as a surgeon in the Northern Army during the Civil War, and returning to Nova Scotia at the close of the conflict, was invited by Howe to contest Inverness, although a native of Antigonish County and a graduate of St. Francis Xavier. Although the great repeal battle was fought over again when Joe Howe accepted the situation and entered Sir John's Cabinet as Secretary of State, in 1869, the great orator was practically followed in his political transition by McLean, of Colchester; McDonald, of Lunenburg; McDonald, of Antigonish; Cameron, of Inverness, McKeagney, of Cape Breton, and when Tupper entered the Government after Howe's death, the old anti-Confederate party, which Howe had led into the Commons, after the election of 1867, the once solid phalanx, was soon a thing of the past. Chipman of Kings, had gone over; Ray of Annapolis was accepted by Tupper as a government candidate in Annapolis; the eloquent 'Jim' McDonald had come back in time to make the ever remembered speech on the Pacific Scandal Debate; Jones and Power were in turn defeated in Halifax, and once more Tupper had a majority of his countrymen at his back before the old Government fell in 1873. It was, indeed a powerful and brilliant galaxy that entered the House of Commons from Nova Scotia at the first Parliament following the Union. — Montreal Gazette.

The Poilu.

Everybody knows that the French soldier is called "Poilu" in the same way that the British is called "Tommy" and the American "Sammy" yet it is not generally known how the name arose. The name means "whiskers" simply this and nothing more. In the early period of the war, after the Battle of the Marne, the garrison of Paris and other divisions by thousand returned from the tremendous fight, and as a result of long days and night of incessant activity, shaving was out of the question, and the heroes marched through the streets with many days, in some cases many weeks growth upon their faces. An American eye-witness thus describes the scene.

"The soldiers from the Marne came into Paris entirely surrounded by whiskers—black whiskers that would have made Blackbeard the Pirate commit suicide, walking his own plank out of sheer envy; blonde whiskers that might have adorned the cheek of a Viking; brown whiskers that recalled thickbearded evangelist portrait; red whiskers, like the sunset behind the Arched Triumph. When a Parisian greeted a friend from the trenches he felt that the soldier's eye peeped out of an ambush of hair. The nose was concealed in the bearded face like a cannon hidden from aircraft. Only the tips of the ears emerged from the hairy jungle."

As the squads of bearded men passed up the streets everyone seemed to exclaim in accord, "less Poilu less Poilus—the whiskers: the whiskers. The name sticks, and ever since that time the French soldiers have been "Monsieur Poilu," or Mr. Whisker, or to put the word in English slang shaggy. The word applied at first in sort of a good natured decision has become one of endearment and admiration, having a deeper meaning in the heart of France than has ever "Tommy" in the heart of England.

Would Make a Noise in Some Places

It is claimed that a novel contribution basket for churches has been invented by a Minnesota man. If a person drops in a quarter or more in the box, there is silence; if he drops a dime in, a bell rings, a nickel sounds a whistle, and a penny fires a blank cartridge. If one pretends to be asleep when the box is passed, it awakens him with a watchman's rattle, and a kodak takes his picture.

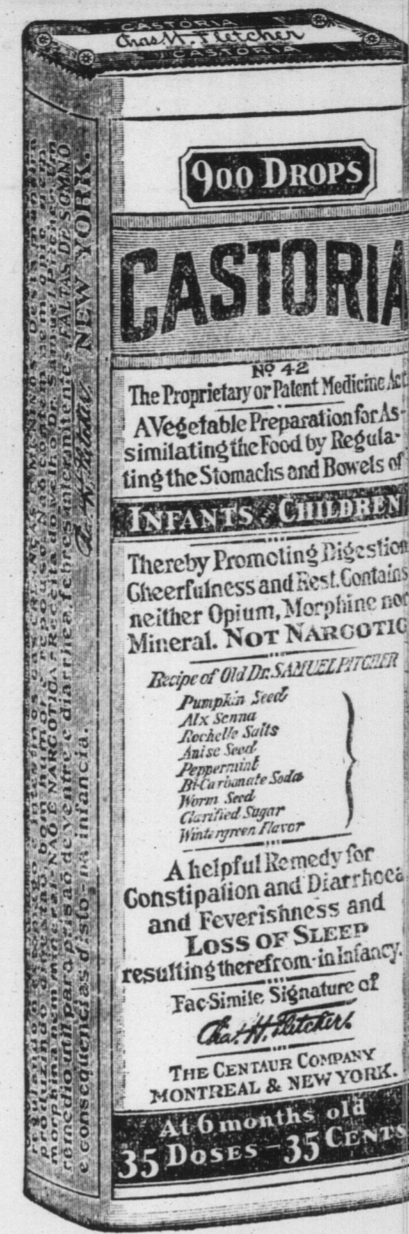

A Smart Lunenburg Boy

The Lunenburg News states that master Murray B. Emeneau, a pupil in the academy—14 years old, made the following points at the Provincial examinations, grade C: Latin, geometry and algebra, 100 each; German 99; history, English and physics, 88 each; arithmetic, 84; Greek 70; 10 subjects, totalling 910, and concludes by saying that his record doubt unequalled in the Province, if not in the Dominion.

Worth Only 45 Cents

Declaring eggs were not worth sixty cents a dozen, one farmer at the Fredericton market Saturday, sold his at forty-five, much to the disgust of the market sellers. According to the Gleaner, "there was some skidding in the egg market Saturday." Not all went down to the forty-five cent limit, but no one had the face to say sixty.

We are sorry to report the death of Mr. Fred W. Thorne, which occurred on Sunday morning, Aug. 25th. The deceased had been falling in health for several years, but so gradual was his decline that the news of his death on Sunday was a shock to the whole community. Mr. Thorne was born on Digby Neck and settled here 24 years ago. Up to about 10 years ago he was a merchant here, then he settled down to a little farming. He was much interested in the affairs of his church, and will be missed very much in the village. He is 73 years of age and leaves a widow, one brother, Richard, of Digby, and a half brother, Charles Reid, of Yarmouth, and one sister living in the United States.

Mrs. Fannie Gibson has been officially notified that her son, Pte. Ernest Gibson, was admitted to No. 3 Australian General Hospital at Aberville, France, on Aug. 10th, with gun shot wound in the abdomen. He has surely done his share; first had enteric fever in the summer of 1916, wounded on Oct. 20, 1917, at Paschendale, and now (no further word received). We hope that from this, too, he may recover.

Lachute, Que., 25th Sept. 1908. Minard's Liniment Co., Limited. Gentlemen,—Ever since coming home from the Boer war I have been bothered with running fever sores on my legs. I tried many medicines and treatments; also doctored continuously for the blood, but got no permanent relief, till last winter when my mother got me to try MINARD'S LINIMENT. The effect of which was almost magical. Two bottles completely cured me and I have worked every working day since.

Yours gratefully,
JOHN WALSH.

DEATH OF A WELL-KNOWN LUMBER KING AT WEYMOUTH.

Emile Stehelin, a Native of Alsace, Passes Away—Has Six Sons in Service of Allies.

Emile Stehelin, a resident of Weymouth for 22 years, died last week. Mr. Stehelin was born in Alsace in 1837, when that province was part of France, and moved after the occupancy of the territory by the Germans, to Gisors in France proper, coming to this country later, where he has since been largely engaged in the lumber trade. Mr. Stehelin predeceased her husband in 1910.

Six of late Mr. Stehelin's sons are in the allied service: Emile, major, No. 2 Canadian Forestry battalion; Charles, lieutenant in the 9th French Cuirassiers; Roger, formerly a captain in the United States merchant marine, superintendent of an American embarkation base; Paul, interpreter with the 3rd Canadian artillery brigade; Maurice, lieutenant attached to the British and Canadian recruiting mission under Major General White, New York; and Bernard, interpreter with the 3rd Canadian infantry brigade. At home: Louis is manager of the lumber business; another son, John, is in business in New York city. Three daughters survive, Germaine, wife of Capt. J. N. Kay, New York; and the Misses Therman and Simone at home.

GUIDES' SPORTS AT YARMOUTH

The Whole Tournament Well Attended and a Big Success.

The Guides' Tournament held at Yarmouth last Thursday and Friday was one of the most successful in the history of the Nova Scotia Guides' Association. The program was a good one and the various events keenly contested. Among the prize winners were Sheriff Smith, of Digby, and several others from Digby and Annapolis counties.

Mr. A. J. Burns, of Bridgetown, was there in the interests of Rod and Gun, Canada's popular sporting magazine, and distributed hundreds of copies, which should be the means of increasing the publication's already large circulation in the Maritime Provinces.

MARINE NEWS

H. B. Hayden, wholesale fish dealer, Digby, shipped 75,000 lbs. salt hake and cod to Gloucester via schr. Swan, Capt. Morrill.

Mr. Reginald Benson, of Bear River, was master builder of the War Fundy, a 2500 ton wooden steamship launched in St. John last Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. George J. Mosher shipped on the 12th, a very handsome and well made ship's steering wheel to Capt. L. F. Barkhouse, Westport, St. Mary's Bay, Digby Co., N. S.

A motor boat reported stolen from Parker's Cove, Wednesday night, was picked up about a mile up the shore. Some one had evidently untied her from her moorings and let her go adrift.

A Bellevue's Cove correspondent writes: The weir season is about over and the owners report very poor catches. Boats fishing are practically finished and fish is scarce. Men are going to the shipyards.

Maritime Fish Corporation arrivals at Digby: Per schr. Cora Gertie, salt pollock, 15,004 lbs.; salt hake, 4,691 lbs. Other sources: fresh haddock, 29,230 lbs.; fresh hake, 58,786 lbs.; fresh cod, 4,952 lbs.; fresh cod, 4,952 lbs.

Schr. Emma Bellevue, which has been sold in Newfoundland, is now in St. Mary's Bay ready to sail for Barbadoes, where she will load molasses for St. John, N. B. Capt. Raymond Comeau continues in command.

The new stern schooner Louis Theriault recently launched at Bellevue's Cove, was towed down St. Mary's Bay yesterday morning en route for St. John, where we understand she has been purchased by Mr. Sidney Jones for service in Australia.

The schooner Scotia Bell, which was built by Thomas German, at Meteghan for Capt. J. E. Gaskell, North Head, Grand Manan, and which had been held on the stocks since early spring awaiting the arrival of anchors and chains, was successfully launched Saturday afternoon. She has been sold to the French government.

Our Grosse Coques correspondent writes: Schr. Mollie and Melba, built by Amos Blinn for J. E. Gaskill, of Grand Manan, was launched on Monday the 26th August. In the same yard in place of one launched June 26th (the "Maid of Brazil") there is another partly celled which will be about 450 tons, under supervision of Captain Omer Blin.

Cap. B. N. Melanson, has a big crew of men at work in his shipyard at Gilbert's Cove, Digby Co. There is building on the stocks, a tern schooner of 250 tons net. When finished she will be one of the finest crafts turned out of the yards there. Her fine lines and the splendid workmanship, which is going into her will class her as A-1. She will be ready for launching in November.

The Ford plant at Detroit is now turning out one complete submarine every two days. They are built under the same methods as the Ford car. Every group of workmen has a certain work to do and the ships are built on cars—the largest in the world—and moved from one group to another as the work progresses. It takes 10 days to complete each vessel, and that number are under construction continually.

Captain Footie, of New York, is on a visit to Yarmouth, his former home town. He was master of the Margarat Rouse, which was torpedoed last year off Monte Carlo. The vessel was formerly the barkentine Herbert Fuller, better known in Halifax as the "Murder Ship," when she was brought into port with her master, Captain Nash, his wife and the second mate dead, the three having been murdered. Schr. Mayflower, Capt. J. V. Marsters, arrived here Wednesday with hard coal from New York, for J. H. Longmire & Sons. She sailed for Parrsboro, Monday, having been towed up the river by star. Valinda, Capt. E. H. Lewis. Messrs. J. H. Longmire & Sons have sold the Mayflower to B. L. Tucker, of Parrsboro. This vessel was built at Lower Selma in 1906, registers 132 tons, and sails from Meteghan, Halifax County.

Captain G. A. Salery, of Toronto, and Adams B. MacKay, of Hamilton, Ont., have been in Nova Scotia on a vessel purchasing trip. At Canning they bought the four-masted schooner General George C. Hogg. The four-masted schooner Letitia MacKay, built at Meteghan, and Adams B. MacKay, built at Parrsboro are owned by them as are the tern schooners Alfreda Hedley and Rothesay, the latter built at Bellevue's Cove, Digby, in 1904. Before leaving the province they went to Apple River and closed a deal with C. T. White and sons and now they are the owners of the tern schooners Vincent A. White and Meredith A. White, launched two weeks ago at Alma, N. B. They also have a vessel on the stocks at Rexton, N. B.

Shipbuilding at Meteghan continues to boom and present prospects promise a fall and winter quite as busy as any since the present shipbuilding operations at that place commenced. The schooner which is being built in Mr. John F. Deveau's yard for the Messrs. Ritcey and others, of LaHave, is so far advanced that it is now expected to launch her in about a month. The vessel will be rigged and fully equipped for sea before she is launched. She is splendidly built, modernly fitted, and the quarters for her officers and crew are elaborately finished, lacking nothing for their comfort and convenience. Mr. Deveau, besides the construction of the vessel, has the large three-masted schr. Harold B. Cousins, hauled out on his marine slip for extensive repairs. The Cousins was recently purchased from her St. John owner by a Spanish shipping firm of New York, who, before the work now going on commences, will have the vessel practically rebuilt and released. Mr. Fidele Santamaria, representing her new owners, was in Yarmouth last week with Mr. Deveau.

Mrs. Charles Wilson and family, who have been visiting at Brighton, returned to their home in Edmonton, Alberta, on Tuesday last, accompanied by Mrs. Edgar Jones and Miss Pearl Lambertson.

A very successful concert was given in the Bijou Dream Theatre on Thursday evening under the auspices of the Young Women's Patriotic Association. The hall was filled and a good sum was realized which will be used to send boxes to the boys overseas.

Our Grosse Coques correspondent writes: On Sunday, John C. Melanson, of this village, had a telegram advising that his son, Pte. Benoit Melanson, had been killed in action. Pte. Melanson enlisted at the beginning of the war, and was only 20 years of age.

Miss Alice Warner, of the delivery department of the Waltham Watch Co., and daughter of Mrs. Herbert Warner, of Waltham, has resigned her position as stenographer of that department to accept a position in the office of the Ames machine shop. She was presented with a pendant and chain and a handsome bouquet of roses by her fellow-workers.

Telephone Bulletin: Owing to the sale of the property in which our central office was situated at Saulnierville, we had to find new quarters for it. We secured a suitable house not far from our old location and moved into it on August 10th. Recent and prospective growth, arising to a large extent out of the development of shipbuilding along the shore, necessitated the use of a larger switchboard than the one in use in the vacated premises and we installed a 15-line board.

St. John Telegraph: Mrs. Heber Lour Lodge, Digby, returned home on Wednesday, Mrs. J. F. Fraser, Mrs. Wetmore Merritt and Mrs. Harding have returned home after a week spent at Smith's Cove, N. S. Rural Deacony Meeting at Weymouth

The clergy of the Rural Deacony of Annapolis met in chapter at Weymouth on 25th day of August last. Those present were: the Rev. W. Driffield, Rural Dean; E. Underwood, secretary; Dr. Ball, J. Reeks, M. Taylor and W. S. H. Morris; member of the Deacony, Dr. Boyle and Canon V. Harris were valued visitors, and Mr. Leggo was welcomed as a new member of the Deacony.

After the opening prayers the Rev. Canon Harris addressed the chapter on the work of the Diocesan Mission Board of the Archbishop's Fund.

The usual reading and translation of Greek Testament led up to an all devotional paper by W. S. H. Morris. Two other papers were read, one "The Revision of the Prayer Book" by Rev. Canon Vroom, and one on "Conscience" by the Rev. Dean, while H. L. Jones, Esq., of Weymouth, the Deacony representative of the Board of Governors, of Kings College, gave a full and interesting report on the work and affairs of the institution.

The financial necessary arrangements were transacted, including arrangements for the next meeting, probably at Annapolis Royal in November.

The official Deacony service took place at the Parish Church on Tuesday morning, when the Rural Dean and his staff, including the Rev. Canon Vroom, gave a sermon and a beautiful sermon ad clerum was preached by Rev. Mr. Leggo, of Granville Ferry.

Evenson was said in St. Peter's Church on Monday and in St. Thomas on Tuesday, the Rural Dean presiding at the former service and Mr. Leggo at the latter.

The clergy dined at the Rectory on kind invitation of the Rector and the Taylor and took tea as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jones.

Deacony meetings at hospitable homes are always enjoyable matters and this was no exception, and the purpose of the gathering was enhanced by perfect weather.

SAVE FOOD

In a time needing food economy many people are not getting all the nourishment they might from their food. It is not how much you eat, but much you assimilate that does you good.

The addition of a small teaspoonful of Bovril to the diet as a peptogenic before meals leads to more thorough digestion and assimilation and thus saves food, for you need less.
