

GREAT GAINS IN MEDICINE IN LATE YEARS

Celebration by Medical Society of London Unfolds Advances Made.

London, May 18.—(By mail)—The Medical Society of London, which has just celebrated the 160th year of its existence, is the oldest body of its kind in England, comments The London Times.

When it was founded in 1773, by Dr. John Cookley Lettsom, medicine had not emerged from the dark ages. In those days surgery was scarcely more than a name. The operating theatre was an object of universal dread, there were no anaesthetics—as we now understand that word—no antiseptics, no bacteriologists. The sanitation of our country was primitive in the extreme, water supplies were more often contaminated than pure, drainage scarcely existed, food was often unfit for consumption. Vaccination had not been thought of, and smallpox and other infectious fevers raged in the land practically unchecked. The doctor's chief weapons were emetics, purges and blood-letting.

The society held its first meeting in Lettsom's house in Sambrook Court, Basinghall street, but soon thereafter moved to Crane Court, Fleet street. This area was then as much frequented by doctors as is Cavendish Square today. At the same period an older society, which has long since passed out of existence, was meeting regularly at the Mitre Tavern to "collect and publish medical observations." Its last president was Dr. William Hunter.

In 1788 Dr. Lettsom presented the society with a freehold house in Bolt Court, Fleet street, where it remained for forty-two years. Fleet street was then the Harley street of a hundred years ago—a fact not without its irony. The society had a difficult time at first, for in those days the enthusiasm for medical progress which we now witnessing was not in evidence. Its income during the first year of existence was only £73, and this sum diminished later to £22. Even in 1813 only £28 was subscribed. Moreover, a rival body challenged its supremacy. This ill-fated association, known as the Society of Physicians, was founded in 1784 for the express purpose of bringing pressure to bear on the Royal College of Physicians. That august body was suspected of "modernist" tendencies, and had actually proposed that candidates should be admitted to the Licentiate after an examination conducted, not in Latin, but in English! This revolutionary step, it seems to have been felt by the physicians of 1784, would undermine the foundations of medical science and admit to the calling men of an "inferior type." The members of this "Old Guard" of medievalism were all themselves licentiates of the College of Physicians. They met once a fortnight at the old Slaughter Coffee House, and once a quarter they dined at the Crown and Anchor Tavern in the Strand. But modernism triumphed over medievalism, and in 1783 the society ceased to exist.

The medical society appears to have kept itself free of oppressive tendencies. But it had one rather dangerous period in its early youth, when Dr. James Sims remained its president for twenty-two years. The desire to be ruled by this excellent physician was not universal, or perhaps some younger men had grown tired of his dominance. In any case, in 1805 a secession of members occurred and the Medico-Chirurgical Society, now the Royal Society of Medicine, was formed. In 1880 the society moved to St. George's, Hanover Square, and the street era of medicine closed forever. The flood of new knowledge was at that time setting in strongly and the minds of all physicians were bent on progress. The membership of the society, which had been restricted to thirty physicians, thirty surgeons and thirty general practitioners ("apothecaries"), had been widely extended.

Red Driver Ants March On House Of Stone Walls

Vast Armies of Saifu Resist Fire, Acid and Water Employed to Check Their Deadly Advance.

London, May 20.—(By mail)—By the courtesy of the secretary of the Entomological Society, The London Daily News is able to quote the following description of the horrors of an ant raid in Tanganyika territory.

Mr. Loveridge, the writer of a letter on the subject, has a house near Kilosa, and on July 9 he discovered that he was being raided by Saifu, or red driver ants.

"These ants are raiders, they seek their prey by scent, as they are entirely blind. The soldier of the species is distinguished by its enormous square head and powerful jaws. "At 8 a. m.," writes Mr. Loveridge, "we were being invaded by Saifu, who were entering the stonework base of the house at half a dozen different points."

"Beetles were flying before the advancing host with one or more of the red furies attached to their hind legs. Wretched crickets and small grasshoppers were being dragged off, feebly one by one, or two legs that remained to them. My pet jumping spiders cleared for their lives with prodigious leaps."

"Soldier sentries were stationed at intervals along the line of the column, waiting with the forepart of the body raised and widely open jaws for any disturbers."

Mr. Loveridge swept back the columns in heaps, cremated them with paraffin, put paper soaked with prussic acid in their holes, and believed that he had stopped the raid.

But at 9 p. m. that evening he became conscious of a strange noise. The white-washed walls of his bedroom were a moving mass of ants; the sound was made by the feet of the countless multitude.

The raid continued the next day, and at 8 p. m. a stream of ants, six or eight inches wide, was seen going straight up the verandah wall beneath the roof.

In spite of his placing the legs of his bedsteads in pans of water, the ants reached him. They threw a bridge composed of living ants across the water-pans, over which the infantry columns crossed.

The invaders attacked the pet crocodiles, the tortoises, and a nest of young rats. "It made me shudder," says the writer, "to think of the awful death scores of small creatures were dying." He himself was driven from the house by ants swarming up his legs.

The soft-shelled land tortoises suffered badly, one having its eyelids eaten. Hot ashes, cyanide powder, meat baits, and fire were employed against the horde, but on July 7 the besieged were horrified to see ants arriving in countless thousands in every direction from east and south. Thirty steady streams were moving on the house.

Grass was fired in their tracks, and they were driven underground.

By 10 p. m. the raid was over. Not a single saifu was found in the house, though they could be heard in the dry grass thirty feet away.

"The discipline and organization of the army," says Mr. Loveridge, "were beyond reproach."

HARVARD STUDENT SHACKLED TO BED

Yens Drags Foot of it to the Police Station by Handcuffs.

Boston, June 12.—All was quiet early one morning in station 1, Brattle square, Cambridge. Lt. Patrick F. Murray sat at the desk and from time to time rubbed his eyes with the back of his hand.

Suddenly he sat bolt upright. Something was coming clanking up the steps of the station house. It progressed slowly and clank hesitantly louder than words that progress up the steps was difficult. Finally, with the loudest clank of all, the door was pushed open, and a youth backed across the floor pulling a rattling, clanking mass after him.

Yens said that three other Harvard men had locked him to the bed in a room in Randolph hall. Their names, he said, were John McKittrick and B. F. Manierre, both of 70 Randolph hall, and George B. Carpenter of 45 Winthrop street, Cambridge.

Undergraduates say McKittrick, Manierre and Carpenter made an engagement for last Sunday to go to the South station and say good-by to three South College girls who had been visiting in Boston. Yens heard of their plans and invited the girls to return to Northampton in his automobile. They accepted.

CONVICTED BOOTLEGGER SERVES TERM BY PROXY.

Washington, June 12.—Reports that a convicted bootlegger, recently served by proxy his four weeks' term in a jail near here in Maryland have resulted in a department of justice inquiry into the local enforcement of the federal prohibition law in parts of that state.

According to the story reaching the department a substitute not only was committed to the jail, but was given unusual liberties.

It is a Fact--

That many persons continue to wear old lenses long after they should be changed and that many a person is right now suffering the penalty for neglected eye strain that a thorough examination of the eyes would reveal.

Every investigation of this subject that has ever been made has indicated that a large percentage of those who would be wonderfully more comfortable and better off in every way if their ocular defects were corrected, do not even suspect that the lack of proper glasses is at the bottom of their trouble.

PASTEURIZED MILK

The investigation by experts has shown that any fault in any of the milk pasteurized in this city is not due to pasteurization, but to the condition of some of the milk, in regard to acidity, when it arrives at the pasteurizing plants. In other words, pasteurization has been condemned for that for which it was not responsible. Those who signed petitions against pasteurization should now sign one in favor of having only milk of a right degree of acidity delivered by those who supply the raw milk. The pasteurization plants are found to be perfectly equipped for their purpose. They are as good as those in other cities where nobody questions the wisdom of using pasteurized milk or makes any outcry against it.

(Bliss Carman.) Over the hills of April With soft winds hand in hand, Impassionate and dreamy-eyed, Spring leads her saraband. Her garments float and gather And swirl along the plain, Her headgear is the golden sun, Her cloak the silver rain.

With color and with music, With perfume and with pomp, By meadow and upland, Through pasture, wood and swamp, With promise and enchantment Leading her mystic mine She comes to lure the world anew With joy as old as time.

Quick lifts the marshy chorus To transport, trill on trill; There's not a rod of stony ground Unanswered on the hill. The brook and little rivulets Dance down their wild ravines, And children in the city squares Keep time to tambourines.

The bluebird in the orchard Is lyrical for her, The starling with his meadow pipe Sets all the wood astir. The hooded white spring beauties Are curtsying in the breeze, The blue hyacinths are out Under the chestnut trees.

The maple buds make clamor, Viburnum makes a doleful boom, The daffodils and tulips Are risen from the tomb. The lances of Narcissus Have pierced the wintry mould; The crocuses seem parading Through veils of greening gold.

O heart, hear then the summons, Put every grief away, When all the motley masques of earth Are glad upon a day, Alack, that any mortal should be Should less than gladness bring Into the choral joy that sounds— The saraband of spring!

IN LIGHTER VEIN. That haste makes waste is an adage a large part of the chauffers have never learned. As the bridegrooms say: "June brides, we who are about to play second fiddle, salute you."

Breaking It to Father. "You have a nerve to suggest my taking you into partnership. What's the idea?" "Wouldn't you rather have your daughter marry your partner than your clerk?"—Judge.

Some Husbands Are So Mean. "Hubby, today a fortune-teller told me I was going to Florida for my birthday present." "She just made a slight miscalculation. Here are some oranges for you. Florida is not going to you."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Told No Lie. Mrs. Esc (returning from call)—How could you be so extravagant in your praise of that girl's wretched daubs? You told her that Whistler could do no better. Mr. Esc—Well, he couldn't. Whistler is dead.—Boston Transcript.

SHIP SALVAGE EQUIPMENT

It is most probable that the first ship salvage operation was taken in hand very shortly after the first ship was launched, and therefore even a most scanty review of the history of our subject would prove a colossal task. It is, however, only within the last twenty or thirty years that the subject has received any real scientific significance, and, in fact, it is only in the progress made during this period that the progress made during this period has been phenomenal, and ship salvage can now claim to be one of the scientific branches of practical engineering.

Of all modern inventions the petrol engine is undoubtedly the most important on the ship salver's point of view, and its development into a reliable power producer has solved many of his worst problems and placed into his hands a machine which is extremely light, readily portable, and which in combination with air compressors, centrifugal pumps and dynamos can claim to have supplied the majority of his wants. Next in importance is probably the development of satisfactory submarine electric centrifugal pumps, which can be readily driven from an electric alternator and petrol engine.

Formerly, it was necessary to employ steam-driven machinery, which was itself heavy, and also involved the provision of considerable boiler power and its consequent weight. Moreover, there was the disadvantage of hot steam pipes lying about the wreck, radiation and leakage losses were enormous, much valuable time was wasted working in the vicinity. The present day salver's equipment is entirely free from steam-driven auxiliaries.

Pneumatic tools, such as hammers, chippers and drills, adapted for underwater work, have also been developed, and these are capable of execution in a mere fraction of the time formerly required; whilst in the last few years the development of under-water oxy-acetylene burners. These have already reached a stage where they are used by an experienced diver, who can be profitably and usefully employed for the work of cutting away small portions of structure preparatory to attaching and after the main portion of the damaged plating etc., has been removed by galleons or some other suitable blasting agent.

Happy summer tools have been successfully introduced as a useful adjunct to the diver's outfit, and enables reports to be made and instructions to be given without the loss of time formerly involved in coming to the surface. This factor is of far greater importance than would appear at first sight, for it must be remembered that when working at any appreciable depth the water must ascend and descend very slowly, so that his system can gradually become adapted to the varying pressure conditions. If this is not done serious illness, or even death, may result.—Engineering (London).

DEFENSE OF EDUCATION.

(Walter Lippman in May Century.) When a man of science announces that 70,000,000 of Americans have little or no brains and that education for them is a waste of money, it is perhaps time to see whether it is possible to say a word in defense of education. For 70,000,000 is probably a predestined and irrevocable failure. Even eugenics, which is one of the most promising, for you cannot breed a more intelligent race out of people who have little or no brains to transmit to their children.

The whole of the education of the masses is a question of whether the mental tests measure what a man can learn or what he can do with his own hands. The American people. Let us see how well the claim fits some of their own data. There is no reason to lose confidence. The facts, when compelling forces are brought to bear, show that there are good schools, opportunity, health and wealth, there will be found great ability in the nation. Education works for each of 41 states is found, says Mr. Alexander, from the rankings for 1 per cent of the population owning of farms, average wage for farm labor, literary and Ayres' school indices and the correlation of this combined rank with the ranking of the alpha army tests, the resulting co-efficient is 89 out of a possible 100.

That is plenty high enough to justify the doctrine of the predestined incapacity of an overwhelming majority of the nation. INVENTOR OF EXPLOSIVES FINDS JAZZ TOO NOISY. Hudson Maxim Wants Dance Hall Near His Home Closed So He Can Sleep Peacefully. New York, June 13.—The ears of Hudson Maxim having served him well in the experiments he has devoted to the perfection of his invention, he has decided to be protected from the noise of a jazz band in a dance hall adjoining the Maxim estate on the banks of the River Styx, near Lake Hopalong.

MUSICAL HUMOR.

I do not in the least object to a little music or a song or two in a play, but when a particular character is called upon by the dramatist to sing songs in the wings as part of the story and disturb the dramatic action by chortling to the audience from the stage, as rushing into the plot, or the slightest provocation, to sentimentalize over the ivoaries, I can only utter a sigh of regret and issue a decree of banishment of all such fripperies to the moor, Mr. Kreidler, and regards that term as dignified as "violinist." Well, there are fiddlers and there are violinists. Sometimes, playing his short pieces to please the mob, Mr. Kreidler is indeed a fiddler.—New Music Review.

Caruso did not invent the operatic job. Those of long memory recall lachrymose tenors before his time. Why tenors, virtually alone of operatic singers, should find it necessary to play the audience in emotional phrases, is one of those puzzling questions that seem to be answerable only by regarding them as a type apart.—Musical America.

There are doubtless many people who feel that their enjoyment of a concert would be enhanced if the lights in the auditorium were lowered. Lower the lights!—Swell Stokes. I am completely at one with Mr. Sewell Stokes in his suggestion for lowering the lights. I attribute the insomnia from which I frequently suffer at concerts to the excess of light—and, of course, the noise.—Ernest Newman.

Abroad, if you are to know the leaders of musical thought, you are bound to meet them; for there a man must have more qualifications for talking about music than that of having started as a working journalist—or perhaps a printer's devil. Remember that critics in England are not so much concerned with their own earnings as to keep body and soul together.—Ursula Greville.

It is my earnest hope that musical criticism plays no part in the newspapers patronized by those who make the real heart of the "Old Vic"—Dame Edith Smyth, in the "Old Vic" Magazine.

APPLE BLOSSOM SUNDAY.

(The Bellman in Halifax Chronicle.) The orchard lands of Long Ago! O drowsy winds, awake, and blow the sweet perfume of blossom back to me. And all the buds that used to be! Blow back along the grassy ways Of truant feet, and lift the haze Of happy summer from the trees That trail their tresses in the seas Of grain that float and overflow The orchard lands of Long Ago!

Once more the Heavenly Power makes all things new. Apple blossom Sunday has arrived at the institution in Nova Scotia, and a beautiful idea lies behind it. Can any land match the scene of enchanting loveliness in our Annapolis Valley when the buds of orchards are in bloom? To see it once is the sight of a lifetime. Who can celebrate in words the wonderful wealth of bloom in that Edenic region where dollars grow on trees?

Why does the sight of a tree in blossom always give one a thrill of special delight? Even if one visits the orchard a week too soon for the fullowering, he is richly rewarded by the exquisite sight of the pink buds amidst the soft green of the opening leaves, and the leaves expanding together.

Alfred Noyes wrote of the "May Tree," which the lawshorn. But those who have seen both will celebrate with sweetest song the "June Tree" and observe with grateful delight "Apple Blossom Sunday."

Science has known all the trees, from the cedar tree that is in Lebanon even unto the hyssop that springs out of the wall, in speaking of the incomparable excellence of his Lord, said:—"As the apple tree among the trees of the wood, so is my beloved among the sons of men. We often find God in a specially attractive sense among the flowers. It was in a garden that God first talked with man, loved him and came with him in a garden amid the apple blossoms, too, Christ rose from the tomb. And in John's Revelation of the return of Eden's lost apple blossom: "And on this side of the river and on that was the tree of life, bearing twelve crops of fruit, and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations."

patients had to run the gauntlet of the apothecaries, of whom it was written: "From flies a random recipe they take, and many deaths from one prescription make." THEIR FIRST "MOVIES" (Glasgow Herald.) The St. Kildians endure their first cinema show for ten minutes, ten rose in a body and rushed from the tiny schoolroom, leaving the operator turning the handle and vainly shouting to them to wait for the comedy (says the special correspondent of the "Daily Express") at Loch Bòsdaile. It was not easy to persuade them to go to the show. Word passed round that Sassenachs with queer machinations meant no good. Old M'Intyre M'Diomedunull (Margaret Macdonald) sat at her door brandishing a thick stick at the young folk who timidly entered their way down the steep street to the school, darting into cottages as film camera men tried to make them targets. All the old people refused to go, but the children and young women of St. Kilda were sufficient to fill the schoolroom, which is 16 feet by 12 feet. The yelled in Gaelic as they clamored over the two narrow forms. Four boys held tweed rugs over the windows to block out the light. A dozen dogs added to the babel. Boys perched on the shoulders of others hid the teacher's pictures of a lion, a tiger, a horse, and five Cameron Highlanders. The first film was of the Cup Final. It made the youngest shriek with laughter, but left the others cold. The next was Sauchiehall street, Glasgow. It roused no enthusiasm, but only bewilderment. The audience chattered like a school of sea-birds. Then came the first interruption. Neil M'Kinnon, bearded and seventy, opened the door, dimming the picture, and thundered the Gaelic name "Iain." A boy opposite replied. A torrent of words poured between them. Both went out with angry, anxious faces. The babe died down, and Mr. Cameron, the missionary, explained that Mr. M'Kinnon's shriek had wandered too near the cliff brink and that the boy must climb the mountains to save them. Then the end came. The children began to scream at a picture of a rail. Woman Explorer Says Wild Days In Borneo Have Gone

Exhibits Parangs With Hair Still Clinging to Steel as Evidence That Headmen Were Formerly Active.

London, May 18 (By Mail)—Mrs. Charlotte Cameron, woman explorer, who has just returned to London after eighteen months in Java, Sumatra, North Borneo and the Philippines, told an interesting tale of her adventures to a "Star" reporter.

"These," she exclaimed, unsheathing two formidable looking weapons from their scabbards, "are the parangs used by the head hunters of Sarawak, in Borneo. In the old days the natives slashed off the heads of their own people without much discrimination, though they never touched a white head, and here you see the human hair clinging to the steel."

"The old ferocious days in Borneo (all north of the equator is British and all south Dutch) have gone, though you still see and hear the wild men on the roadside. The Dyaks are splendid natives. They wear huge feathers of the hornbills as headdress, and the women are clad in corsets of fiber covered with brass rings. The race is light copper colored, I saw one huge snake, which had just swallowed a young deer."

Mrs. Cameron has brought home some lovely specimens of batik work and sarongs. A sarong is a brilliant colored silk cloth. There are not so many of them made nowadays; it is a pre-civilization industry, but it shows what exquisite work was widely made in semi-barbaric times. Mrs. Cameron talked of the Dyaks blowing their poisoned arrows 300 yards from their tubes with the most deadly accuracy; of Mount Kinabalu, the towering mountain in Borneo, named after the Chinese word "willow," in whose arms, the natives believe, is paradise after death; of insects as big as rats, and far bolder; of the mangosteens, the pink native fruit, which cannot be sent abroad in cold storage; and of the durian, the fish-fruit, which she described as resembling "a decayed mustard being poured through a gas pipe with a flash of onion and cayenne pepper in it."

Six In Shack And In Sad Condition

Children's Aid Discovery Near Sydney—Family Dressed in Pieces of Old Blankets.

Sydney, N. S., June 13.—Sad conditions were revealed by officials of the Children's Aid and Judge Duncan Finlayson, in a shack on French road, some miles from the city on Monday. A father, mother and four children were living in a 14 by 14 shack, the one room serving for all purposes. The father had been sick and unable to work for months and the mother had been carrying on alone all winter. The investigators learned that a child of five had started during the winter for a neighbor's house, and had not been seen since. It is presumed it perished in the snow. For clothes they were wearing pieces of an old blanket, rudely sewed up, leaving holes for the arms and legs. The people and building were in a state of indescribable filth and the whole place crawling with vermin.

The father has been sent to a hospital, and A. J. Mackay, of the Children's Aid, has provided shelter and supplies for the mother and children.

Local Council of Women Consider National Agenda

A meeting of the Local Council of Women was held yesterday afternoon with Mrs. R. J. Hooper presiding in place of Mrs. E. A. Smith, the president.

The agenda paper of the National Council meeting was read and the local delegates were given instructions as to how to vote on the different questions.

A hearty welcome was extended to Mrs. Hooper on her return from England by Miss Grace W. Leavitt on behalf of the Council.

As Mrs. A. W. Estey and Miss Grace Leavitt, appointed delegates, were unable to attend the national meeting, Mrs. A. C. D. Wilson and Mrs. J. D. Seely were appointed to fill their places.

These nominations were made to instruct delegates. The programme for the national annual meeting was read.

Dr. Harding on Milk Situation. Dr. H. A. Harding, of Detroit, milk expert, was admitted. He said he had been puzzled to know what all the trouble was about over milk in St. John.

The milk supply compared favorably with that of any city. A few cans were rejected each day and milk was natural. The St. John pasteurization plant which he had inspected was new, carefully kept and well managed.

The reasons for not taking milk raw were the same as those for not eating raw meat. He explained the process of pasteurization. Those who thought they could tell the difference between the same milk pasteurized and unpasteurized by taste, he said, were "kidding" themselves.

He passed around temperature charts which recorded the temperature of the milk pasteurized in the St. John plant since it was first opened, showing the plant was running properly. The then operating plant, he said, were familiar with the work and had considerable experience, and were also carrying out their duties in a clean and competent way.

His tests of the milk had shown that Friday's milk was sweet on Monday. He said some confusion had arisen by the use of the word "sour" for any unusual taste in milk. Pasteurization would lessen flavors due to insubstantial feeding of cattle but would not do away with these flavors. An appearance of a decrease of cream would be due to a slight raising of the pasteur-

Do you CLOSE YOUR EARS when you shave?

"Of course not!" you answer. But every scrape of your razor is its request to you for Colgate's "HANDY GRIP" Shaving Stick; every pull of your beard means that the hairs are asking too;

a smarting face is the plea of your skin. "Please use Colgate's." Do you shut your ears to these petitions? Colgate's "Handy Grip" gives you a quick, fragrant lather which holds the hairs of the beard upright and softens them at the base, where the razor's work is done.

It leaves the face cool and refreshed. The "Handy Grip" lasts for years. "Refills," threaded to fit it, cost you the price of the soap alone. There is no waste.

ization temperature which was done at the plant to make sure the process was effective when complaints of milk souring were made.

Replying to Mrs. Hooper's inquiry about how milk could be kept in hot weather, Dr. Harding said all that was necessary was to keep it as cool as possible. He said he had never known such a situation to arise when pasteurization was inaugurated elsewhere but similar conditions were usual when there was a milk drivers' strike or other trouble. He believed the trouble in St. John was part of a fit of nerves and part a business struggle.

Members present, including Mrs. A. C. D. Wilson and Mrs. A. W. Estey, spoke of their entire satisfaction with pasteurized milk, which they had used for two years. Mrs. Hope Thompson asked if it was not best to keep the milk of each cow separate. Dr. Harding said greater uniformity was obtained by blending milk. Dr. Harding was thanked for his address. He had been introduced by Dr. William Warwick.

National Council Resolutions. The majority of resolutions to come before the annual meeting of the National Council were concurred in. Reduction of the number of delegates from local councils from six to four was not approved.

Arrangements for delegates' traveling expenses were discussed. Arrangements were made for having Mrs. E. A. Young's resolution forwarded to the National Council. The resolution refers to the endorsement of the action of the Great War Veterans in their endeavor to have the recommendition of the Royal Commission on Soldiers' Pensions carried out.

The eleventh annual meeting of the New Brunswick Women's Institute was concluded yesterday afternoon in Fredericton. An invitation from St. John for the 1924 annual session was received and will be considered.

Resolutions were passed as follows: 1. That if there be no children nor any legal representative of them, then the whole of such real and personal property of the husband be allowed the widow during her lifetime and at her death to the husband's next of kin.

2. Whereas it is reported that several vendors appointed by the Government have been found guilty of violations of the prohibitory law, and have been allowed to continue as vendors after payment of stated fine contrary to the proper enforcement of the act, therefore Resolved that this Women's Institute respectfully urge upon the Government the cancellation of vendorships or licenses to all such violators.

3. Whereas, moving pictures are a great means of education and have a great influence for good or evil on the minds and morals of children, especially being prone to imitate what they see, and many pictures shown depict crime, proceedings of burglars and laxity of morals, therefore Resolved that the members of the Women's Institute do all in their power to favor only educational pictures and clean humor for children, also a purer, saner standard for serials now in session recommended to the Government the need of a residence for female students at the Normal school.

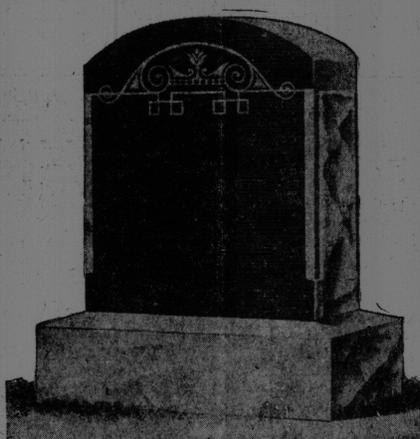

4. That the laws relating to the wife's interest in property and real estate be looked into the amended so as to include her interest in lumber lands or so-called wild lands.

5. That the right to vote at school meetings be given to wives of ratepayers, also that women be eligible to act as trustees on all school boards. In connection with this resolution it was decided that delegates carry it to all institutes and arrange for petitions which, after signing, are to be sent to the advisory board to go before the Legislature at the next session.

Oppose Home Study. The following resolutions were laid on the table: 1. Whereas Women's Institutes all over New Brunswick standing behind the health movement, which is included in the programme of home-making, and Whereas, they are of the opinion that home studies are menacing to the health of the children of the province, therefore, be it Resolved, that this convention petition the Minister of Health to take the matter up with the Board of Education to the end of reforming this abuse.

2. Whereas the forest wealth of this province is being destroyed by fire every year, and the loss by fire in New Brunswick is, according to population, greater than in any other part of the world, and as the daily papers are constantly reporting fires largely due to carelessness, therefore, be it Resolved that the investigation concerning the origin of such fires be made by the Government instead of being left to private individuals, also that those found guilty be severely punished.

3. That the matter of paying the annual fee $500 to the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada was discussed. The New Brunswick Institute never has obtained sufficient money to make this annual payment but a grant of $500 was available from the province. It was decided that that amount should be applied, after signing, are to be sent to the advisory board to go before the Legislature at the next session.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS Sufferers From Indigestion or Stomach Trouble CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach," says a well known authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis accompanied by dangerous stomach ulcers. Don't dose an acid stomach with pepsin or artificial digestants that only give temporary relief from pain by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines.

Instead, neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little hot water and Bismarck Magnesia and not only will the pain vanish but your meals will digest naturally. There is nothing better than Bismarck Magnesia to sweeten and settle an acid stomach. It soaks up the harmful excess acid much as a sponge or blotting paper might and your stomach acts and feels fine in just a few minutes. Bismarck Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable drugist in either powder or tablet form. It is safe, reliable, easy and pleasant to use, is not a laxative and is not at all expensive.

Britain Warned
Of Big Increase
In Weak Minded

Nearly 300 P. C. Between 1859 and 1914, Doctor Says, While Population Was Less Than Doubled.

London, June 8. (By Mail).—"On January 1, 1859, there were, in England and Wales, 36,672 insane persons under care," writes Dr. Harry Roberts in "The Cardiff Times and South Wales Weekly News."

"On January 1, 1914, this number had grown to 140,287, an increase of nearly 300 per cent. Yet during that period the population of England and Wales increased by less than 90 per cent. It is said that between 1874 and 1896 the rate of mentally defectives to ordinary people more than doubled in this country; and there is, at the present time, no slackening in this rate of increase.

"It is not only our asylums in which the feeble-minded are to be found. They constitute also a large proportion of the convict inmates of prisons. And, to quote the last annual report of the Board of Control, the large majority of able-bodied adults whom we see in poor-law institutions are residing there because of their mental condition, and some of them might and should be certified."

"Many others are defectives of the type who, in their own interests and in that of the community, are in urgent need of the protection afforded by the Mental Deficiency Act, and ought not to be allowed to take their discharge. Among them are to be found many feeble-minded women of child-bearing age, the advisability of whose detention is unquestioned.

"It is, in any case, beyond dispute that there is a steadily increasing force of disintegration calculated, in the long run, to bring about the decay of the whole unless means are found to arrest it. For it is certain that nothing in the way of environmental improvements, education, the treatment of physical disease, or any other of the means of the curative conditions of human life will ultimately serve us if the actual racial stock itself is allowed to deteriorate.

Truth Known to Stockmen.
"Every stockbreeder and every gardener knows how true this is in the department of life with which he is concerned. It is equally true of the human stock.

"The one outstanding fact about feeble-mindedness is its hereditary character. It is said that a normal child has never been known to be born of two feeble-minded parents; and Tredgold, who made careful investigation into an enormous number of feeble-minded hereditaries, found ancestral influence in over 82 per cent. of all his cases. In one family investigated by Godden, 119 individuals were found to be feeble-minded and only forty-two were found to be normal.

Explained by Heredity.
"Heredity, then, is the one great explaining cause of feeble-mindedness. Sporadic cases may arise in which the heredity element is not obvious, but these form a mere fraction of the whole. It is only within comparatively recent years that lunatics, idiots and mentally deficient persons generally were taken care of, guarded, and, where possible, again turned loose on society. Formerly lunatics rarely recovered their life.

"Every reader must see that society is thus faced with a very serious problem. It is one which no responsible person can honestly brush aside. On the solution of the problem, it is probable that the whole future of civilization depends."

THE EMPLOYMENT OFFICE MAY BE CONTINUED HERE

Mayor Fisher has received a letter from Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, in which he said that the employment office here might be kept open provided the local Government accepted the same terms in this respect as the other Governments in the Dominion. The matter will come up at the meeting of the Government in Fredericton today. E. G. M. Quirk, representative of the federal department was in the city yesterday conferring with local officials. He will investigate conditions in Minto and also confer with Premier Veniot.

MILLION FOR HEIRS OF "ACE" IF HE'S KILLED WHILE FLYING

New York, June 13.—Capt. "Eddie" Rickenbacker has concluded arrangements with Lloyds of London to take a $1,000,000 policy to cover accident or death only in the case of flying.
Efforts had repeatedly been made to obtain an insurance policy for $1,000,000 on his life from an American company but without success.
A large policy has always been carried on his life, but the insurance companies always inserted a proviso that nullified the policy if he were killed or injured while flying.

J. H. Conlon, of St. Anne de Belleveue and formerly of St. John, was elected secretary-treasurer yesterday at the annual meeting of the Canadian Fisheries Association in Montreal. Among the committee members were J. C. Robichaud, of Gloucester, F. P. Logie, of Loggieville, and Lewis Connors, of Black's Harbor.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Much Interest Being Shown in the Large Number of Women Safely Carried Through the Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The Following Letters Are Impressive

Owing to modern methods of living, few women approach this perfectly natural change without experiencing very annoying and often painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, nervousness, headaches, melancholia and irritability are only a few of the symptoms incident to this trying period of a woman's life, and the following letters prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to overcome these abnormal conditions.

"Fisherville, Ky.—"For several months I was under the doctor's care as he said my nervousness, chills, hot flashes and weakness was caused by the Change of Life, but I did not seem to get any better. I was not able to work and spent most of my time in bed. A friend called to see me and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I cannot tell you how much good the medicine did me, as I had such a hard time before taking it. I can only advise every woman passing through the Change of Life to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it did so much for me."—Mrs. EDWARD B. NEAL, Star Route, Fisherville, Ky.

A Michigan Woman Helped
Ionia, Mich.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and had been under the doctor's care without any relief. A friend in Lansing, Mich., asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I feel fifty per cent better already. If any one in this condition doubts the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help them I will gladly answer their letters."—Mrs. MAX W. HARR, 537 N. Jefferson Street, Ionia, Mich.

A New York Woman Helped
Syracuse, N. Y.—"I was used up with nervousness, weakness and hot flashes so I could hardly keep around, and could not get out much on account of those awful prickly feelings. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helping another woman with symptoms like mine. My husband got some for me, and after taking it five months I can get around and even do my housework, washing and ironing included, and my friends can see what a change it has made in me."—Mrs. SIDNEY HUMPHREY, 236 1/2 Burnet Avenue, Syracuse, N. Y.

LITTLEST STATE AND ARMY OF 12 JOIN WITH SWISS

Principality of Liechtenstein Enters Into Postal and Customs Union.

Geneva, June 13.—Situating between Switzerland and Austria is the little principality of Liechtenstein, which enjoys an idyllic existence and is the smallest state in the world. With its 11,000 inhabitants, this tiny territory and the little Austrian province of Vorarlberg have now entered into a customs union with the Swiss Republic. Prior to the war Liechtenstein, in spite of the strong antipathy of its people toward the Hapsburgs, was united with the Austrian monarchy by union of customs, post and currency. During the war the diminutive principality, with its "armed power" of twelve field watchmen, remained neutral. In 1920 the principality amalgamated its postal administration with that of Switzerland.

FRENCH REVENUES SHOW INCREASE WITHIN YEAR

Paris, June 13.—Recent treasury statistics show that the revenue from indirect taxes and government monopolies rose in April last to 1,549,000,000 francs, which was 170,000,000 in excess of the budget estimates, and an increase of 169,000,000 over revenue from similar sources in April, 1922. In the first four months of 1923 there was an excess of revenue over budget estimates of 428,000,000 francs, and an increase of 606,000,000, compared with the first four months of 1922.

QUANT CUSTOM STILL SURVIVES

London Parish Clergy Climb and Row to "Beat the Bounds."

London, June 13.—A quaint ceremony took place recently in the Parish of St. Clement Danes, which extends round and about Fleet street and the Thames Embankment, when the rector, church warden and choir boys of the church beat the bounds of their parish. Every year since the days of Queen Elizabeth this beating of the bounds has taken place, though in the sixteenth century the boundary marks numbered sixty, today they have dwindled to thirty, and many of these are in almost inaccessible places. The choir boys carry peeled willow wands and start their round from the Temple Bar. One boundary mark lies right behind one of the city banks, and to get at it the whole party has to go through the building and out in a narrow railed space at the back where the boys solemnly thrash the walls with their wands. To get at their next mark they have to climb the stairs of an insurance building, open a back window, and with two wands tied together strike the wall of the building opposite. Their subsequent journeyings include thrashing part of the big ballroom of the Hotel Cecil, under which is one of their boundaries, embarking in three rowboats in order to whack the Thames, the southernmost boundary being in the middle of the river, and climbing ladders at the back of the Lyceum Theatre stage in order to get at a certain mark on the wall revealing yet another boundary.

The previous evening a box supper, so called because beautiful old silver snuff boxes are brought out for the use of the company, is held and at this affair the church warden smoke the curious old church warden pipes, and the chairman keeps order with an old gavel made of boxwood, and banded with silver, which was made in 1378 for the institution of the supper. The war was the only factor powerful enough to interrupt the holding of the box supper. This year for the first time women were invited, a tribute to the changed spirit of the times.

WATER WORKS NOTES The water department has started work on the removal of the leader at the Little River reservoir and replacing it with pipe connections. Work on the new main in West St. John cannot be commenced until the pipe ordered arrives from the Old Country. The Canada Lock Joint Pipe Co. has a crew of men putting concrete jacketing around some of the joints in the new 86-inch concrete water main to Spruce Lake, where excessive leakage has been detected.

HARBOR DEPARTMENT WORK Several crews of the city harbor department staff are engaged in repair and construction work about the wharves and sheds on both sides of the harbor.

Although this work is being done at low tide only, it is going along well. New sills and flooring are being put down in the Pettigill wharf shed, and another gang is rebuilding the crib-work backing up the north wing of the West Side ferry bank.

THREE LICENSED BY UTILITIES AT SESSION HERE

First Under the Blue Sky Law—Several Applications Held Up for Proper Papers.

Licenses to do business under the Sales Security Act—New Brunswick's Blue Sky Law—were issued yesterday by the Board of Public Utilities in session here to the brokerage firms of J. M. Robinson & Sons, Ltd., Eastern Securities Corporation, Ltd., Royal Securities Corporation, Ltd., and Thomas, Armstrong & Bell. These were the only ones of nine or ten applicants which furnished complete sworn information as to their organizations.

Other applications were referred back for the affidavits required by the act, including those of E. E. Brown & Co., handling securities of the Purty Ice Cream Co., Ltd., represented by J. H. A. L. Fairweather, Maxwell MacRae, manager for the Credit Alliance Corporation, represented by J. B. Dever and Newcombe & Winchester Co., Ltd., handling securities of the Hartmann Process, represented by C. J. Mersereau, of Powell & Mersereau.

J. D. P. Lewis, acting chairman, ruled that persons or firms placing the securities of only one company on the market, would come under part one of the act, which subjected their business to the scrutiny of the utilities commission, and not under part two which applies to brokers selling listed stocks and bonds and industrial securities, which are not required to be investigated by the commission.

Forms on which the required information was to be supplied were furnished to those applicants whose cases were not definitely decided upon.

Upon each of the certificates given to persons or firms passing the scrutiny of the board is inscribed the statement—"The Board of Public Utilities in no wise recommends the said securities."

KILLS WIFE AND WOUNDS TWO OF HIS DAUGHTERS

Pistol in Hand, Maurice Arnold Flees to Wood.

Police Patrol Pursue and Capture the Fugitive—Liquor Blamed for Sunday Evening Tragedy in Quiet Town.

Ashland, Mass., June 12.—Because, he says, he continually "nagged" him, Maurice Arnold, 45, a brick mason, on Sunday evening shot and killed his wife, probably fatally wounded a 19-year-old daughter, and less seriously wounded another daughter, 11 years old. The shooting took place in the rear yard of their home on Forest street.

Arnold was locked up in the Framingham police station charged with murder. He expressed no regret at having killed his wife, claiming it was justified. He said he had threatened her several times previously. The man did say, however, that he was sorry he shot his daughters.

Ascribe Crime to Liquor. Mrs. Arnold was shot through the chest and died instantly. Regina Arnold, who is 19, is at the Framingham Hospital with a bullet wound in her abdomen and is not expected to live through the night. Evelyn, 11, also at the hospital, has wounds in her right shoulder and right hand. Her condition is not considered serious.

Mrs. Arnold and Regina and Evelyn were in the rear yard at their home at 8:30 when Arnold arrived under the influence of liquor, according to the report to the police. He had been away from home for a few hours. He engaged in an argument with his wife and soon whipped out a revolver and fired point-blank into her body. It is alleged, however, that he fired and died instantly.

He then turned the revolver on Regina and fired, the bullet piercing her abdomen, and as she was falling to the ground he fired at her again, but it missed its mark. Evelyn was frightened to a degree where she could not move. Her father fired two shots at her, one striking her in the right shoulder and the other her right hand.

Arnold took flight at the sight of the three members of his family lying prostrate on the ground, and ran into the house. Neighbors, hearing the shots, rushed into the yard. As they neared the rear door, he appeared and tried to kill them with threats. As he drove them away he ran toward the woods.

Caught by State Patrol. Fear for their own lives kept the several neighbors from following, but police was notified, and when he appeared he found that Arnold had made a successful escape. He notified Lt. Charles P. Beaupre of the state police patrol, who detailed three motorcycle patrolmen to go to the scene and take up the trail from the Arnold home.

It was 8:45 when they arrived—three-quarters of an hour after the shooting—and they were given an idea of the general direction which Arnold took.

Penetrating well into the woodland, and not having seen anything of the fugitive, they dismounted from their wheels, and proceeded on foot, beating the brush.

Finally Sergt. Howard M. Whittemore and Patrolman Charles A. Barrows were startled by a rustle in a clump of bushes and the sudden appearance of an outstretched arm and a hand gripping the curbing.

Sergt. Whittemore lunged forward and fell upon the clump of bushes. Arnold was there and the sergeant wrestled the revolver from him before dragging him into the open.

This was in the vicinity of Megonk Hill, a short distance from the Arnold home.

The capture of Arnold was made 25 minutes after the state officers had arrived at the scene of the tragedy.

The prisoner was taken to Framingham, where he was held.

Among the eight other Arnold children are two grown-up sons, Francis and John, and two smaller sons, Arvid and Fred, and two young girls, Ardel and Margaret.

PREPARE FOR PAVING. In anticipation of the paving of Market Square, a crew from the Public Works Department this morning was engaged in moving back the curbing and setting up a 45-caliber revolver.

The paving work is being done in two sections. The first section is the area between the curbing and the sidewalk. The second section is the area between the sidewalk and the street.

MOTHER, FATHER, SISTER AND BROTHERS.

Zita, Living On Bread Of Charity, Begg Home In Austria For Family

CROWN PRINCE OTTO, THE "PRINCE WITHOUT A THRONE," AND HIS EXILED MOTHER AND HER FAMILY.

Madrid, June 12.—What is to become of the modern "L'Aiglon," Otto of Austria? The little prince, who a short time ago was one of the most important figures in European royalty, today is living on the charity of his kinsman, the King of Spain.

Following the unsuccessful attempt of Emperor Karl of Austria to regain the throne, at the instigation of the Empress Zita and at his subsequent death, young Otto and his numerous brothers and sisters have not only been exiles, but are in actual want.

Trying to feed and clothe their children has driven Zita to demand of the Austrian Government her huge estates, which she claims she is entitled to by right of inheritance. The Government, however, is loath to admit the exiled empress and her family to Austria again even on the humblest terms, because of Zita's well-known monarchial leanings.

The former empress has never become reconciled to her descent from the throne, and demands of the few faithful retainers who accompany her and her family, the same obscurity and ceremony employed in the royal court.

Crown Prince Otto has, since this picture was taken, acquired another small brother, bringing the position of the Emperor's posthumous child was born, it was clothed in garments made for it by people of the town. No country dares harbor the royal exiles except monarchial Spain, where they now live in a humble cottage upon the charity of King Alfonso.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah McCarthy, 128 Broad street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Gladys Kathlyn, to Edward William Comeau, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Comeau of Somerville, Mass., former of Yarmouth, N. S., the marriage to take place on June 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Smith of Peterborough, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lillian Ruth, to Maurice Samuel Withrow of Chatham, N. B., the wedding to take place in the near future.

DIED TODAY. The death of Frederick John Francis Ferguson occurred this morning at his home, 210 Waterloo street, following an illness of about two weeks. He was recently employed by the Canadian National Railways in the shops at Moncton. He was the youngest son of Mrs. Elizabeth and the late Archibald Ferguson and leaves his mother, one brother, Leonard C. G., of British Columbia, an двоjo sisters, Mrs. Robert E. Huntley, of Scituate, Mass., and Miss Eileen, at home.

RECIPE ENJOINED. There was a very good attendance last night at a recital given in the school room of Queen Square Methodist church by some of the pupils of Mrs. J. C. Rayworth, assisted by Mrs. H. H. MacMichael, violinist; Miss Laura Fanjoy, reader, and Miss Dorothy Nice, of Mount Allison Ladies' College, pianist. A silver collection was taken for church purposes. Trojans' Manager Suspended Today

Action Follows Report that He Used Player Without Permission of A. A. U. of C.—Barred From Action Until June 22.

The local registration committee of the Maritime Province branch of the A. A. U. of C., announced this morning that Walter K. Tolson, manager of the Trojans baseball team in the City Senior League, had been suspended until Thursday, June 21. Until that date he will not be eligible to direct his team at play in any way either from the bench or elsewhere.

This action was the result of a meeting of the provincial committee held at the request of the Trojans. The reason given for the suspension was that Manager Golding had used a player without permission of the union. A bulletin covering this suspension will be issued immediately.

Premier Veniot To The War Veterans

Fredericton, N. B., June 12.—"Unless the veterans of the Great War unless the government can be persuaded to give in the best interests of those who may be speaking without the authority of the G. W. V. A.," said Premier P. J. Veniot during response to a toast a dinner tendered in honor of the visiting delegates to the annual meeting of the provincial command of the G. W. V. A. here last evening.

The Premier said that he appreciated the value of the G. W. V. A. and hoped that its activities would expand. He expressed his willingness to do all he could to assist the association and the veterans. Applicants, however, must have authority and not come to him with requests with no support but their own.

The Provincial Command was proposed by Major J. S. Scott of Fredericton and Major H. Priestman of McAdam responded. The service was responded to by Col. N. P. McLeod of St. John, G. H. L. Cockburn, and H. B. Tippet, C. R. Hawkins proposed the City of Fredericton and Ald. J. B. Dickson responded. The toast to the ladies was replied to by Captain Smith of St. Stephen and Col. Sterling of Fredericton.

After the establishment by means of a fight with the store and proceeded to rip off the outside sheets with their "can opener." Here they got $917.93.

These thieves entered the cellar of those premises and tried to tunnel through the wall to the drug store, but their efforts were thwarted by a brick wall, which they could not readily penetrate. They returned to the street floor again and from the rear of the hat shop they dug their way through the wall to the drug store.

They had broken through the wall, which is about eighteen inches thick, they encountered shelves lined with bottles of medicine. They carefully removed the bottles and placed them on the floor of the hat shop.

With these obstacles out of the way, they crawled through into the drug store and made their way to the safe and rolled it into the back of the shop. Once this safe was "cracked" they got $1,000 in bills and change, leaving the securities. They then left the premises. Yet the police are puzzled as to how they did it out because none of the exits was unlocked. Inspector Claffin is working on the down-town breaks.

One of the thieves apparently cut his hand because one of the gloves left behind was covered with blood. There is a belief also that one of the thieves was also a cop of rope found, which it is believed was used to cut the safe open and get $194 in cash and $89.50 in checks.

French Soldiers Killed; Germans Are Penalized

Dusseldorf, June 12.—The killing of three French soldiers in Gelsenkirchen and two in Dortmund, within the last few days has convinced the French military authorities that an organized effort has been launched by the Germans to carry on night attacks against the forces of occupation. Hence, drastic measures have been taken against the two municipalities concerned.

It was one of the measures—the restriction of street trading after midnight on the evening that led to the shooting of nine Germans Sunday night when a French patrol was compelled to clear the streets was disregarded. Six of the Germans died from wounds received.

In addition to arresting three German officials who are to be held as hostages, it was announced that no more permits would be granted Gelsenkirchen to leave the occupied region.

At Dortmund it was announced by the French that 30,000,000 marks in German currency had been seized as another penalty in the Reichsbank as the killing of the two French non-commissioned officers.

British-Russian Incident Ended

London, June 12.—The British reply to the last Russian note states that the Soviet Government, having "complicated with the present condition of the demands put forward by His Majesty's Government, this correspondence may now be brought to a conclusion."

CUT SAFES WITH A "CAN-OPENER," GET $4,000 LOOT

Yeggs Tunnel Through a Thick Wall in Boston.

Wear Gloves and Leave No Clues—Rifle Several Stores With Police Near—Steal Nothing But Cash.

Boston, June 12.—A gang of safe burglars, using the huge metal cutters known to professionals as a "can opener," forced entrance into three Boston stores between the closing hour Saturday night and early Sunday morning, ripped open and rifled the safes and escaped with $3,986.60. In one instance the thieves tunneled through a wall to get from one store to the next.

The thieves worked with gloved hands so as to leave no trace of their identity. Careful examination of the premises at three places revealed only one finger print mark on a cash drawer in the safe. It is proved to be that of a person other than an employe at the store, it will be the only clue for the police to work on. Inspector James Claffin will place every employe of this particular store having access to the cash drawer finger-printed.

Spurn Securities. In order further to prevent detection, the thieves spurned negotiable securities taken in one safe. Except for some checks taken from one store, they gathered in cash only.

The places visited were the Truly Warner Hat Company's shop at 299 Washington street, the Liggett drug store, next door, and the grocery store of Morris Weiner at 1075 Elm Hill avenue, Mattapan.

At the hat shop the thieves got $917.93; at Liggett's they obtained $1,200, and at the grocery they took $194 in cash and $388.45 in checks. In the drug store they left behind valuable securities.

The "can opener" are heavy sharp steel instruments, which rip the plates from their place on the safe. Once inside the outer sheets, the work of opening a safe is comparatively easy. Thieves can use this instrument without attracting attention; no explosives are needed.

It appears that they went to the second floor of the hat shop, which is a combination sales and stock room and after searching that place and not finding anything they wanted there, they went to the street floor. After the establishment by means of a fight with the store and proceeded to rip off the outside sheets with their "can opener." Here they got $917.93.

These thieves entered the cellar of those premises and tried to tunnel through the wall to the drug store, but their efforts were thwarted by a brick wall, which they could not readily penetrate. With these obstacles out of the way, they crawled through into the drug store and made their way to the safe and rolled it into the back of the shop. A MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE WITH ITS ENDING

Miss Donley, Well Known Amherst Girl, Made a Temporary Disappearance While Suffering from Mental Aberration.

(Amherst News.)

Great excitement was created in Amherst on Saturday and Sunday morning, when Miss Dorothy Donley, age 19, daughter of Mr. Harry Donley, disappeared from her home on Dale Street. The circumstances surrounding the case were most peculiar. The young lady's clothes were accounted for—but the furniture and floors of the house were covered with blood stains. Twenty dollars in cash, a club bag, and a watch were missing—and foul play was feared, despite the fact that neighbors living nearby had heard no disturbance. Furthermore a printed note was left on the kitchen table bearing the words in large letters "What I Want I Take." The blood-stained appearance of the house was most alarming. She had been left alone for the evening by her grand mother, and her uncle, Mr. James Stuart. On their return to the house they found the electric lights all burning, and the interior of the residence greatly upset. They immediately informed the police and search parties were organized to tour along the creek banks, the roads, and byways, seeking traces of foul play. Saturday night, Sunday morning and Sunday afternoon, the excitement continued. Various stories were heard—the majority of them being entirely untrue. At 8 o'clock in the afternoon Crown Prosecutor James A. Hanway received an intimation from a private source that the girl was in town. A few minutes later they ascertained that a strange woman had registered on Saturday night at the Victoria Hotel. There she was found. She had dressed in her grandmother's clothes, worn a pair of spectacles, and partially dyed her auburn hair, and to complete her disguise, covered it with a white towel. Before leaving her home on Dale street, she had inflicted a slight gash on her wrist with a safety razor blade, and from this wound, the blood had been thrown around the rooms of the residence.

Taken from the hotel to the house she would give no genuine explanation of her actions in alarming the town of Amherst. Various medical men on investigating the case declared that the girl was suffering from an attack of mental aberration, and could not be held responsible for her flighty actions of Saturday evening.

Other stories, created by vicious minded people, according to James A.

Hanway, K. C., and directed against the character of the girl, are untrue. Miss Donley has been one of the leading athletic girls of the town. She has taken a leading part in local tennis and basketball, and only last summer was in the finals of the town tennis championship. She has been invariably bright and cheerful, possessing a splendid reputation. Her people can ascribe no reasonable motive for her actions, other than mental aberration, and the medical authorities quite agreed upon this point.

Miss Donley is a member of St. Stephen's Presbyterian Church, prominent in missions and respected by co-church workers.

FOREST FIRE PERIL

To the Editor of The Times: Sir—Canadians have only Providence to thank for the fact that the outbreak of fires in Northern Ontario, Northern Quebec and in New Brunswick did not make a clean sweep of the forest growths in those districts. No human agency could have brought the relief which came with the providential downpour of rain. But the menace is still with us and will be until the authorities adopt much more drastic means for forest protection than they have yet done and until the public is educated to the point of regarding the forests as real wealth and treating them as such. As things are, fires are likely to recur at any time and to wipe out practically all of the timber our pulp and paper industry now depends upon for its existence, except, perhaps, the very limited wood growing on the farm lots. We must not lose sight of the fact that notwithstanding the appalling losses that Canada has suffered from forest fires in the past, today we have the added menace of two hundred million cords of dead, dry budworm killed trees that are blowing down and piling up, forming an interminable mass of dry kindling tinder merely awaiting a period of drought and the dropping of a match or cigarette stub. The heavy losses already sustained this season emphasize the necessity for using every available means for conserving our remaining supply of timber, and should cause the Government at Ottawa to stop temporizing with the question of stopping the exploitation of our unmanufactured wood for the benefit of foreign countries. No other country placed as Canada is would permit what amounts to the life blood of her industries to be cut down and shipped out of the country as we are doing. It is encouraging to note, from the discussions which have taken place in Parliament of late, that the members, regardless of party, are becoming alive to the situation and have expressed the view that there should be no further delay. It is sincerely to be hoped that the Government, before the season is over, will introduce a law which will give the desired relief and thereby postpone if not permanently avoid the crisis that is bound to overtake our wood-using industries if present practices are permitted to go un-molested.

HOLD BURIAL SERVICE 210 UNIDENTIFIED DEAD.

New York, June 13—A burial service, believed to be the first of its kind, was held on Sunday at an undertaking establishment for 210 persons who died in New York between 1808 and 1922, whose cremated remains were not claimed by either relatives or friends. All of the ashes will be buried Tuesday in one grave.

MADE TO GIVE BLOOD TO HIS WIFE HE TRIED TO MURDER.

Chicago, June 13—In what was termed by the police to be an unparalleled case of retributive justice, a husband who had attempted to kill his wife was forcibly held and unwillingly made to give his blood to save the life he had tried to take.

It was announced that an immediate blood transfusion would be necessary to save Mrs. Marty.

As a call for volunteers was about to be sent out detectives arrived with Marty. They forcibly carried him to the operating room, two quick incisions made and the transfusion completed. Mrs. Marty will live, the doctors said.

Under the old Hindu divorce law husbands were supposed to leave wives who spoke unkindly to them.

Worth Its Price

"We have cheaper teas, madam, but I think you'll find 'KING COLE' is worth its price." So said a wise grocer recently to a questioning customer. He was there not merely to serve her, but to serve her well. He might please her purse with the cheaper article but her final judgment of his service would be on the quality of the tea supplied. He wanted a satisfied customer.

This was one of the many merchants using "KING COLE TEA" in their own homes, and so he could say with sincerity: "It is worth the price."

Mrs. Walter A. Harrison, Mrs. Harold Partridge and Miss Frances Stetson, members of the local committee of the Labrador Medical Missions, met yesterday afternoon at Mrs. James F. Robertson's garage to receive contributions. New Brunswick will be represented among Dr. Grenfell's assistants by a friend to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. After taking a vial of them I have found wonderful relief, and would advise all those who are constipated to give them a trial, for I feel sure they will also receive the same benefit I did.

Price 25c a vial at all dealers as mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto.

Bradstreet's Reports Show Betterment Last Week Both in Regard to Industry and Commerce.

(Bradstreet's Circular.)

Retail trade, jobbing distribution of summer goods and crop reports have shown betterment this week, being aided by the arrival of long belated seasonal weather. Aiding the growth of more cheerful feeling due to this cause, is also the continuance of the slightly more optimistic sentiment visible in recent weeks in large primary and industrial lines.

PROSPECTS FOR EXCELLENT CROPS

Aid to Business. A Better Feeling General Now in Trade Circles.

Effect Should be to Lengthen the Period of Industrial Activity if Wage Demands Reasonable. (Financial Post.) "Business in all kinds has revived and there is a markedly different feeling all along the line," says a report to the Financial Post on conditions in Calgary. This is a reflection of the crop prospects in Alberta, where, according to reliable advice, hail is the only thing which can now prevent a harvest to equal the bumper yield of 1915.

LOCAL NEWS

Says It Is A World's Record For Speed

The Ground Pulp Mill in Bathurst Completed in Eight Months. (Bathurst Northern Light.) Eight months after the first sod was turned, the Bathurst Company, Limited, had its ground wood pulp mill operating yesterday, thus registering a world's record in the construction and installation of an industrial enterprise of this kind. This in itself would be an achievement calling for more than passing attention, but when it is recalled that the work of construction was commenced and carried on through the fall and winter as well as even through the summer, the accomplishment approaches the remarkable.

BIG INCREASE IN AUTOS IN QUEBEC

Over 20 Per Cent More Licenses Than Last Year in Province. Quebec, June 13—A record year for automobiles was forecast by Emile Joncas, director of the automobile branch, in announcing that there had been 8,200 automobile licenses issued in the city of Quebec this year as compared with 2,886 in the whole season last year. In Montreal the number of cars registered reached 25,900 as compared with 21,774 for the whole season last year. Judging by those figures there will be over 15,000 licenses issued in the province, while there were 12,000 last year, which will be an increase of over 20 per cent. The season started very late, but in the last ten days the automobile registering offices have been absolutely invaded by people applying for licenses, and many additional men have been placed on the job.

Work Impaired For Lack of Funds

Many Demands on Anti-Tuberculosis Society, But Money Scarce.

Scarcity of funds received considerable attention yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the St. John Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, held at the Health Centre, with E. L. Rising in the chair. A total of 409 patients were on the lists of the society in May. Examinations were carried out by doctors, twenty-three Dr. A. E. Logie, eight Dr. H. A. Ferris and assistants, seventy-one. The committee in charge of funds reported that there were a great many demands and not enough money to meet them. As the next regular meeting will not be held until October, an executive committee, composed of Mrs. Arthur Bowman, Mrs. Daniel Mullin and Mrs. Busby was appointed to deal with any matters that might arise in the meantime.

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

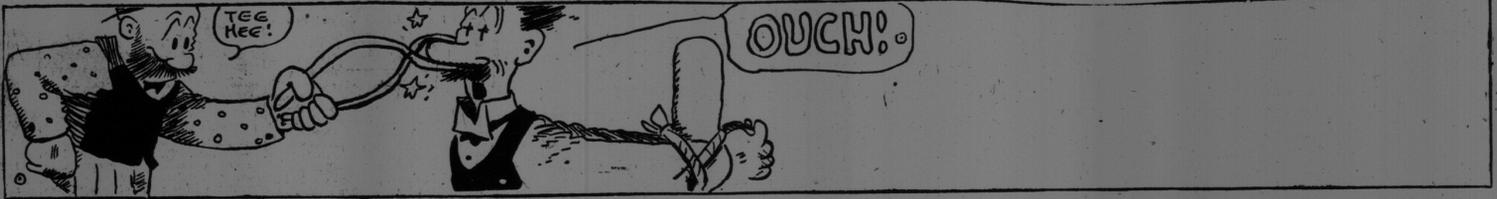

(McDougall & Cowans.) New York, June 13.—Most of the news yesterday was of a favorable character and the market went down. At the close the room was very much puzzled how to explain the situation. Possibly one reason is that the professional element is heartily inclined owing to the lack of outside buying. The public is wholly apathetic and there is nothing in the immediate future which is likely to change this attitude. In regard to the N. Y. C. dividend general opinion at the close yesterday was that there would be no advance at all or that it would be advanced to seven per cent. The advocates of seven per cent. rate base their opinion on the fact that should the seven per cent. dividend be declared, conversion of the bonds will at once come into operation. Reports from the oil fields are unchanged, over-production continues. Unfavorable conditions are said to exist in the sugar trade. An attempt made during the last hour to market a fair block of N. Y. C. found the market unpleasantly narrow.

Buying Advertising Space Means Buying A Market. Cautious merchants buy advertising space the same as they do merchandise or goods in trade—with a microscope in their hand. "What do I get for the expenditure?" is the paramount question in the present day merchant's mind. Stunts, schemes, fictitious and proof lacking circulation claims have no attraction for the keen space buyer. That's why the Daily Telegraph and The Evening Times-Star represent solid and steady growth in advertising volume—because they can satisfy the most exacting demands made by local or national space users as to the real condition of their circulation. The membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations—the A. B. C.—of The Telegraph and Times-Star ensures accurate and trustworthy circulation statements. The A. B. C. is Your Safeguard. The A. B. QUEBEC I. O. D. E. ORGANIZATION WILL SOON BE COMPLETE

Choice of Headquarters Alone Remains to Finish Provincial Organization, Secretary Tells Annual Meeting.

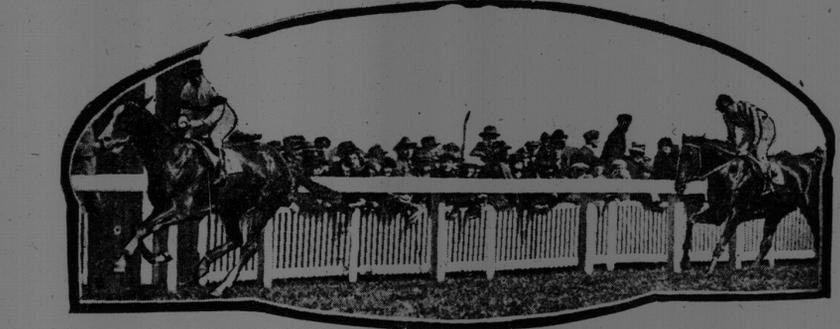

(Canadian Press)

Quebec, June 12.—To complete provincial organization in Quebec in connection with the work of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire all that is needed is to arrive at a decision regarding the location of provincial headquarters. This was the statement here this afternoon of Mrs. A. H. Malcolmson, national organizing secretary, who presented her report to the afternoon session of the annual meeting of the organization in session here.

"It is hoped," said Mrs. Malcolmson, "that early in the autumn the provincial chapter of Quebec will formally assume her place with her sister chapters of the other provinces." This will complete provincial organization in Canada for some time, at least until the number of chapters in Prince Edward Island has increased enough to warrant extension there. She added that at the request of the chapters in the city of Quebec, primary chapters in the province were again organized this year in regard to their desire for provincial organization. More than the necessary two-thirds majority vote favorable to such action had been received, and not one vote in opposition had been registered. During the year, an increase of one over last year. The organizing secretary spoke of her trip through the western provinces and highly praised the work done in that part of the Dominion.

"The I. O. D. E. has special reason to rejoice," she said, "that in western Canada, a country in the making there exist today so many groups of loyal women resolved to make and keep their part of Canada British. We must appreciate the great effort that is being made there by our members to combat the forces that make for disloyalty and disorder, an effort that is most necessary in the mixture of nationalities existing there."

The treasurer's statement for the year showed receipts of $387,116.88 against disbursements of $374,686.60. Much of the time of the afternoon meeting was taken up with reports from provincial chapters, four of which were given before the meeting adjourned. They were British Columbia, Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. A chapter in Winnipeg was referred to. It is composed of Icelandic women who brought out a book at a cost of $10,000 dealing with the 15,000 men of Icelandic origin who served in the war. The report of the Quebec municipal chapter showed receipts for the year of $11,942.37 with a detailed account of educational work done. The work of

158,000,000 TONS OF COAL YEARLY COULD BE SAVED; HE SAYS

Chairman of United States Power Commission Says Utilizing Power of Niagara and St. Lawrence Would Effect Great Saving.

(Canadian Press)

Bethlehem, Pa., June 12.—A saving of 158,000,000 tons of coal annually was possible by utilization of the power now going to waste in the Niagara and St. Lawrence rivers, William S. Murray, chairman of the Superior Power Survey Commission of the United States Geological Survey, declared today in an address at the fifty-fifth commencement of Lehigh University. He pictured a new electrical era in which power would be distributed to public utilities through great central companies.

"God protect the prosperity of our country if we do not fight to the last drop of our blood these political propagandists who, under the guise of that misleading term 'public ownership' or 'power at cost,' advocate that we turn over the electric utilities of the nation to the Government," Mr. Murray said. "The fourth stage of electric utility expansion is ahead. The electric utilities will go out of the power production business and receive wholesale electric energy from the great power companies which will be entirely outside of their corporate existence, thus leaving the function of the electric utilities only to distribute the energy so received to the customers within their franchised territorial limits."

The French engineer and former Premier, has raised the question, "How long do the 'immortals' live?" De Freycinet was a member of the French Academy for thirty-three years.

The record for long life goes to the nephew of Cornelia, Bertrand Fontenelle, scientist, philosopher, poet and dramatist. He was born in 1687 and died in 1757, lacking but one month of living a full hundred years. He was a member of the French Academy for sixty-six years, elected at the age of thirty-four, after being refused four times previously.

The honor for holding membership in the French Academy longer than any one else goes to Marshal Richelieu, grandnephew of the famous cardinal. He was elected in 1720, at the age of twenty-four, and died in 1788, at the age of ninety-two, thus being an immortal for sixty-eight years.

WILLING TO PROBE TREATMENT GIVEN CREW OF MARVALE

President of Board of Trade Says if Any Complaint Received Regarding Way Wrecked Seamen Were Treated, He Will Start Inquiry.

(Canadian Press)

London, June 12.—The sinking of the C. P. R. steamer Marvale off the coast of Newfoundland on May 20 was the subject at question time in the House of Commons today of a query put by B. Shinwell, labor member for East Linnithgow, Scotland. "Mr. Shinwell wanted to know whether the President of the Board of Trade, Sir Philip Lloyd-Greame, was aware that the crew of the Marvale were paid their wages only up to the day of the wreck, that the crew had lost all their effects and that they had complained of their treatment while homeward bound to England on the Canadian Pacific liner Melita.

treatment after they were taken aboard the Melita. Sir Philip Lloyd-Greame replied that under the present law the payment of wages terminated on the loss of the vessel and the Government had no power to require the owners of the Marvale to pay compensation to the crew. No complaints had been received with regard to the treatment of the crew, he said, but if the member for East Linnithgow would forward any complaint he would have it investigated.

DECIDES DATE IN WILL WAS ERROR

Woodstock, N. B., June 12.—T. M. Jones, judge of probate, gave judgment today in the matter of the will of the late Willard L. Carr. He held the will to have been duly executed after the marriage of the said W. L. Carr to Miss Pauline Balloch. He held in effect that the date 1921, which appeared in the will, was a clerical error and that as a matter of fact the will was executed in 1922. This was according to the evidence of the proctor, A. B. Connell, K. C., who drew the will, and of his son, E. K. Connell, who, with his father, was a witness to the will. The will disposed of an estate of $108,000. Two little boys named Dickinson and Williams got hold of some dynamite caps today and one exploded with the result that the Williams boy will probably lose the ends of his fingers on one hand. The other lad was badly injured in the neck. The Williams boy was taken to the Fisher Memorial Hospital.

The driver of the car was completely concussed by witnesses of the fatality.

ANCIENT ARSENAL BURNS; STEAM SHROUDS SAMBRE

Building Constructed at Maubeuge in Time of Vauban—Loss is Heavy.

Paris, June 13.—Fire recently destroyed the old arsenal at Maubeuge, on the shore of the Sambre. The building was one of the many constructed at the time of Vauban. It contained many steel hammers, cannon and accoutrements. The heat from the flames was so intense that the waters of the Sambre were covered with steam. No one was injured. Firemen and soldiers were able to save some cannon and caissons. The damage was estimated at $1,000,000. It is believed that the fire was caused by a short circuit.
