NEW LAW TO DEAL WITH MILITANTS

Home Secretary's Bill Given Second Reading in House

LABOR AMENDMENT BEATEN

Sir Gilbert Parker Voted With Government—Large Majority For Bill—Mrs. Emmerson Pressing Case of Daughter, Who is on Hunger Strike

(Canadian Press)

London, April 3—James Keir Hardie, labor leader, in the House of Commons yesterday moved the rejection of the bill of Hon. Reginald McKenna to deal with suffragettes who resort to the hunger strike.

Lord Robert Cecil, Unionist, opposed the bill on the ground that it would not get rid of forcible feeding. Asked what his remedy would be, Lord Robert replied, "deportation," but when questioned as to how he would prevent the women from going on hunger strikes during the voyage he gave no explanation.

Viscount Wolmer, Unionist member of the House of Commons, supported the bill because he wished the home secretary to be given sufficient power to enforce sentence against law-breakers.

Mr. Hardie's motion to reject the bill was defeated by a vote of 335 to 98 and the second reading of the bill was then carried, the vote standing 296 to 43.

A letter from Mrs. Emmerson of Detroit, Mich., was handed by Josiah Wedgwood, liberal member of parliament, to Reginald McKenna, the British home secretary, today. It demanded permission for Mrs. Emmerson within a few days to examine the condition of her daughter, Miss Zelle Emmerson, a militant suffragette, who is said to be suffering greatly from forcible feeding during a "hunger strike" in Holloway jail, where she is undergoing two months' imprisonment for window breaking.

The United States embassy, according to Mrs. Emmerson, has promised in the event of the failure of Secretary McKenna to comply, to place the matter before the British foreign office on the ground that the life of the prisoner is being endangered.

A letter from another suffragette prisoner confined in the next cell to that of Miss Emmerson, states that the release of Mrs. Emmerson within a few days is necessary to save her reason and perhaps her life.

The fellow-prisoner also asserts that Miss Emmerson by giving her neighbor a portion of her food started her "hunger strike" fourteen days before the prison doctors discovered the ruse. The writer of the letter had not declared a "hunger strike."

Plymouth, Eng., April 3—Militant suffragettes made active preparations this morning to welcome Winston Spencer Churchill, who arrived here on the admiralty yacht. The women painted their greetings in big letters on Smeaton light-house and at other points of vantage. One of them ran "Winston Spencer Churchill. No security until you give women the vote, no matter how big the navy." Another said: "To save the state from shipwreck give women the vote." Many telegraph wires in the vicinity were down.

LABOR AMENDMENT BEATEN

Chicago, April 3—C. F. Dewdney, chief of the federal department of justice here, was notified yesterday of the alleged disappearance of twenty young immigrant women on March 28, while en route here from New York.

They were a party of twenty young men and women who were said to have been left behind in a small Pennsylvania town apparently by missing their train. Fears were expressed that they have fallen victims to an organized band of "White Slavers." Officials refused to divulge the name of the town in which the young women are said to have been stranded. Dewdney will take up the matter with the immigration officers today.

WORKMEN'S BILL TO GO OVER UNTIL 1914

Toronto, April 3—Sir William Meredith's draft bill on workmen's compensation together with an interim report, was introduced in the legislature yesterday and commented on by the premier as one of the most important subjects with which the government had been engaged in recent years. It brought with it no promise of legislation before the house closes. In fact the present prospect would show that the matter will stand for a year to receive the criticism and suggestions of all interested parties and be reintroduced in 1914.

West Orange, N. J., April 3—Theodore Edison's "bully invention," a glass bottle bomb designed to sink the ships of "the enemy," smashed itself to pieces yesterday, while the fourteen-year-old son of Thomas A. Edison, was experimenting in his father's laboratory. Bits of glass were imbedded in young Edison's right hand. No permanent injury resulted.

The boy's idea was a floating bomb constructed to explode when coming in contact with another object.

"Some of your first inventions blew up, didn't they, dad?" young Edison asked.

"They did," replied his father, "but I went back at them." To this Theodore replied: "So will I." Mrs. Edison let it be known, however, that hereafter Thomas A. Edison must be present when their son experiments.

THREE YEARS FOR MRS. PANKHURST

Leader of Militant Suffragettes Gets Severe Sentence Amid Interesting Court Scene—Says She Will go on Hunger Strike

(Canadian Press)

London, April 3—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragettes, was today found guilty and sentenced to three years penal servitude, at the Old Bailey sessions, on the charge of inciting persons to commit damage. When the judge, Sir Charles Montague Lush, pronounced sentence, his speech was received with loud cries of "shame," from militant suffragettes who crowded the court and thus expressed their feelings at the severe sentence.

The jury with its verdict of guilty added a strong recommendation for mercy and to participate in the suffrage movement. The judge, in his remarks, said that the women were not to be taken into consideration as agitators, but as women who had honestly tried to do their duty as private citizens to do what they can to put an end to this state of affairs.

She then repeated her determination to end her sentence as soon as possible, saying: "I do not want to commit a crime, but I will take the desperate remedy other women have taken and I will keep it up as long as I have an ounce of strength left in me. I deliberately broke the law, not hysterically and not emotionally, but for a set and serious purpose, because I honestly believe it is the only way."

"This movement will go on whether I live or die. These women will go on until they have obtained the common rights of citizenship as they shall have over the civilized world before this movement is over."

BETTER FIRE PROTECTION

It is understood that the object of the Fire Underwriters' Association in petitioning the city for better protection is to more fully safeguard their interests in matters generally pertaining to the fire by laws. It is now approaching the season of fires, the house-cleaning months, and this as well as the fact that the members of the association feel that several fires of recent date have been incendiary, has induced them to ask the city to take action. The matter of conduit pipes will be another feature to be considered, and the whole subject of protection will be thoroughly gone into with the commissioners.

WATER AT FREDERICTON HIGHER, ICE HOLDING

Still Solid Above Grand Falls and Teams Crossed Yesterday—The Lumbermen

(Special to Times)

Fredricton, N. B., April 3—The water in the river here has risen a few inches today, but the ice along the shores and just at Springhill still holds. The weather, although fine, continues quite cold.

The ice still is solid above Grand Falls and yesterday teams were crossing at Edmundston and St. Basile. It is expected that driving operations will begin about ten days earlier than last year.

The cut of bank logs along the river will be much smaller than last year. Many lumbermen curtailed their operations on account of the unsatisfactory state of the market early in winter and others found it more profitable to get out sleepers on the Valley Railway.

The ice in the Taxis river has broken up and it is expected that the Miramichi Lumber Company will begin driving operations next week. Their cut on the Taxis and branches totals about eight million feet.

The tug Annie Currier will make a trip to the city tomorrow from Grand Falls. Telephone communication between the city and St. Mary's, interrupted by the ice on the bridge, has been restored.

Upwards of $3,500 was realized at sale of chowen land timber berles on the Miramichi, at the Crown Lands office yesterday.

The Balhouse Lumber Company bid in two square miles at $21 a square mile. D. Champoux, of Campbellton, bid in six miles at $60 a mile, and ten miles at $11 a mile; J. L. Wires, of Campbellton, bid in two square miles at $40 a mile.

Alm. E. G. Hobbs, Alm. W. G. Clark, Alm. E. Rogers, Alm. F. W. Porter of this city, and F. D. Swin, M. L. A., of Deakston, are applying for incorporation as the Fredericton Steamship Company, limited, with $5,000 capitalization to operate the steamer Hampested.

FIRE LOSSES IN THE DOMINION SMALLER

The March Record—Deaths Numbered Twenty Two

Toronto, April 3—The Monetary Times estimate of Canada's fire losses during March is $1,710,774 compared with $2,291,414 for March 1912. There are enumerated nineteen fires in which the loss was more than $100,000. The largest were the cathedral in Charlottetown, $300,000; business block in Edmonton, $100,000; business blocks in Montreal, $100,000; mailing plant in Palmerston, Ont., $100,000.

Twenty-two persons lost their lives through fire during last month and in the first three months of the present year fifty-seven perished from this cause, compared with sixty-two for the same period last year.

McLeod worked very hard, getting two singles, a pass and was robbed of a long hit by Lile's great catch.

He scored three runs. McLeod wants his release so that he can go back to St. John to manage a team in the N. B. and Maine League this season.

Young Farmer Under Influence of Religious Mania

SKILFUL AS A SURGEON

Unable to Get to Church, Because of Roads, He Pokes Over Bible and Then Mutilates Himself—is on Way to Recovery

(Canadian Press)

Halliburton, Ont., April 3—Raymond L. E. Boutellier, a young farmer, while suffering from religious mania, amputated his left hand with a knife a few days ago. He is rapidly recovering from his injury. E. Boutellier is the son of a farmer living about six miles south of Halliburton on the shore of Lake Ousego, on a side road in a lonely district practically cut off from civilization.

On Easter morning the young man, being unable to go into Halliburton to church, on account of the impassable state of the roads, spent the morning going over his Bible. He appears to have been dwelling upon the gospel narrative of the "sermon on the mount," when Christ in figurative language warns the disciples and those others to whom he was speaking of the danger of harboring any form of sin in the world. "It is profitable for thee that one of these members to perish and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell."

Boutellier, Sr., heard himself called and going out into the shed, heard his son say, "I've cut my hand."

To his horror Mr. Boutellier saw his son with his left arm resting upon a flat board which he had placed in a corner of the shed while his right held an ordinary pen-knife with which he had completely severed the left hand at the wrist, disjuncting it as perfectly as a skillful carver disjuncts a foot.

Hints on Dressing the Hair

A FEW words about dressing your hair to suit the lines of your face.

If you are the woman past fifty and the lines of your face are severe and hard, see to it that your hair has a deep wave and that it is arranged in a loose, fluffy pompadour, extending all around the head.

You may say that the pompadour is "out" but this is where you decide yourself. The pompadour will never go entirely out of fashion as no other method of arranging the hair is so generally becoming to matrons past their youth.

The thin-faced woman of thirty, with but few exceptions, should refrain from dressing her hair low. She may elect to part her hair in front, or on the side, if the flat but fluffy pompadour does not please her fancy, and all will be well, but just as soon as she coils her hair on the nape of the neck, she looks older than she really is.

How should the Young Person dress her crown of glory? Really, almost any way is apt to be becoming to "Teens and Twenties." Of course it is decidedly better for the young girl to arrange her hair simply. There are many pretty ways of dressing the hair this morning so there will be no difficulty as to this.

NEW REAL ESTATE FIRM A new firm of real estate dealers and brokers, Keirstead, McCreese & Innis are commencing business in this city, and are already undertaking some large operations. At present their office is in the Robinson building, but after May 1 they will occupy offices on the ground floor at 75 Dock street.

The head of the firm is J. W. Keirstead, ex-alderman, who gave up a profitable insurance business a short time ago to engage in the real estate business. With him will be associated C. J. McCreese, formerly of Chatham, N. B., who was a class-mate of Mr. Keirstead's at Acadia and, after further study at Harvard, engaged in teaching. Later he took up insurance, promoted a tax company and then entered the real estate business. M. B. Innis, the third member of the firm, has been the proprietor and principal of the C. P. R. School of Telegraphy in this city, and will graduate this year from King's College Law School.

The new firm has purchased the charter of Investment Securities, Ltd. and when the capital of the company has been increased to $100,000 they operate under the charter of that company. They will make a specialty of acreage propositions, holding property in specialties for sale either in blocks or in building lots.

They have already handled several syndicates, and the success of these led to the formation of the partnership. One of these was a Millerville property, which they held for six months and then sold at an advance of sixty per cent. Another is a western proposition, for half which they have received an offer at an advance of 62 1/2 per cent.

The largest undertaking which they have on hand at present is a quarter section on the outskirts of Regina, which they are syndicating at $210,000 in $2,000 shares. A large amount has already been taken up, chiefly in blocks of $12,500, by some prominent business men of the province. This is one of the largest western lands syndicates ever formed in the maritime provinces. The resale of the property in building lots at a substantial advance will commence on April 20.

AT THE MOTOR SHOW Have you heard the "Maritime Singer March" Jones' Orchestra played it at the motor show last evening and like the "Maritime Singer Six" it is "the right kind of music. The Glad band which will be in attendance tonight will repeat it.

The five passenger touring car exhibited by the Maritime Motor Company for the first time today attracted a lot of attention. The company's slogan "the car for Canada" seems very fittingly chosen for the "Maritime Singer Six" (as it is called) gives an impression of power and sturdiness. The graceful lines of the body combined with the deep-cushioned seats, would seem to be the last word in automobile luxury.

MODERN RIP IN LONDON TOWN Bookworm's Forty Years as Guildhall Records Clerk

OBJECTS TO WAKING UP Will Have to Resign and Sorry For It—Says His Knowledge of Human Activities Stops at 15th Century

(Times Special Correspondence) London, March 19—In a few weeks now a modern Rip van Winkle who for the last thirty-seven years has been living in the Middle Ages will have, to his own disgust, to emerge into the twentieth century, of which he declares with something like pride, he knows nothing and wishes to know nothing more. It is a sunless room, where a fire is kept burning the whole year, and on all sides are dingy bookshelves from which the dust of seven centuries has been wiped and which are crammed with records in Latin, Norman-French and old English, telling of the doings of the city fathers as far back as 1275. Some of these tomes are so big that they can be moved conveniently only in a wheelbarrow, and all of them are such dull reading that you would think that no human being could read them from the offices alone for forty years and have any humanity left in him.

But Doctor Sharpe, a short man with a white beard, and kindly eyes that twinkle behind gold-rimmed spectacles, has lots of humanity left in him, and fun, too. He was a humorist, apparently, when he entered the Guildhall, in 1876, after having been first a law-student, then a senior assistant in the manuscript department of the British Museum, and then a barrister of the Inner Temple, and a humorist he remains today, for he has been able to find food for mirth even in the dull chronicles of the city archives, apparently, in interest in the affairs of today, he said, yesterday, "of anything that has happened after the 15th century. People are often fond of asking me something that happened in the 19th century. As if I know nothing whatever!"

He is emphatically not "looking forward" to his retirement, he said, and he has to discover what king is ruling over England. Even after he leaves the Guildhall in fact he is to spend as much of his time as possible in the past and will begin by condensing a big book called "London and the Kingdom," which he compiled from the city archives some eighteen years ago, into a form suitable for school.

He has the details of the city's unique administration at his fingers' ends, and these happened to be one feature thereof about which he has been particularly ardent information. Who are the city's "ale-consumers" and what do they do? Is the annual budget of the city corporation mentioned in any of the official "ale-consumers," who draw a salary of ten pounds per annum, but up to this time no one ever has been discovered who knew who the said "ale-consumers" were or where they carried on their industry of "consuming."

So I put the question to Doctor Sharpe and hardly had I finished speaking than he was on his feet and was rushing to a volume down from an upper-shelf, after which, in less than two seconds, he had found the right page and indicated with a bony finger, a paragraph dealing with ale-consumers. Then he abruptly disappeared, only to return in a few minutes carrying in his arms a big book in manuscript, again found and pointed out a paragraph, and rushed into his strongroom to return with a still more gigantic book, also with something about ale-consumers.

Thus I learned the story of these extraordinary officials, and a highly amusing one it proved to be. It seems that once upon a time the paternal government of the city fixed the price at which beer should be sold, and what was more important—saw that it was of pure quality, and not "sophisticated." For the latter purpose four officials were empowered to enter any public house within the city boundaries and taste the ale. For this they were paid $50 a year. But the remarkable thing is that these ale-consumers are still appointed and still paid their "ancient salaries." It is good to keep up picturesque old customs, but why four men should be paid $50 each for duties that disappeared long ago is not easily explained. "Apparently," remarked the doctor, "these good men can, to this day, go into any bar in the city and demand a glass of ale for nothing."

The speaker of the House of Commons, like certain ministers of state, judges of the high court, and officers of the royal household, annually receives a "piece of livery cloth" from the city corporation, and Doctor Sharpe was asked kindly to explain the origin of this custom.

The venerable clerk of the city records chuckled. Then he announced that the city spends more than $500 a year on bestowing these pieces of cloth. No one seems to know exactly what happens to the cloth. One theory is that the recipients exchange it with their tailor for cloth that can be made into an ordinary suit, every year the cloth is gravely sent to several men in high places, who as gravely acknowledge its receipt.

The origin of the custom is rather interesting. "Ivory" said Doctor Sharpe, "the term 'livery' carries us back to feudal times, when it was the custom for powerful barons to be clothed in a series of state robes extending down to the reign of Henry VII.

"None of these statutes, however, affected the wearing of liveries by the mayor, sheriffs, or aldermen of the city or by members of guilds or fraternities founded for an honest purpose. The high officers of the city continued, therefore, to wear their respective livery gowns, and to grant them to their subordinates. The custom was extended in course of time, about which he has been particularly ardent information. Who are the city's 'ale-consumers' and what do they do? Is the annual budget of the city corporation mentioned in any of the official 'ale-consumers,' who draw a salary of ten pounds per annum, but up to this time no one ever has been discovered who knew who the said 'ale-consumers' were or where they carried on their industry of 'consuming.'

CANADIAN CLUB DINNER IN LONDON Some Remarks About Battleships and Financial Operations

London, April 3—Sir F. Williams Taylor, chairman at last night's Canadian Club dinner, on his right the Earl of Bessborough, on his left the Prince of Wales, and between them, Admiral Sir Charles Drury, Major General Sir John Hanbury Williams, Capt. The Hon. Sir Arthur Lawley, Charles Meredith, Viscount Milner, James Redmond, Sir Felix Stanger, Colonel Sir Edward Wood and the Hon. Robert White.

Sir Williams Taylor spoke briefly but earnestly regarding Canada's credit in London.

"The dominion is almost entirely dependent for fresh capital upon this country, yet it is impelled to say the opposite still existing among the high positions in Canada is quite surprising. Some of my countrymen go forth to gather money, thinking it falls from heaven. The present Canadian government is intent on presenting a considerable sum for the construction of Dreadnoughts. You ought to know that, sooner or later, that money must be borrowed here."

"Much criticism has been levelled, quite naturally, against certain phases of Canadian borrowing. Let Canadians be true to themselves, remembering that the maintenance of Canada's credit in the London market is of the greatest importance. Some of my countrymen go forth to gather money, thinking it falls from heaven. The present Canadian government is intent on presenting a considerable sum for the construction of Dreadnoughts. You ought to know that, sooner or later, that money must be borrowed here."

A big industry has grown up in some localities in the United States in the "cat-tails" that cover swamps. These are used not only for chair bottoms, but for calling the joints of barrels and for the manufacture of a strong, flexible and waterproof paper and for lining boxes and barrels. Big paper mills are growing up on the areas which have been waste lands until the last few years.

I shall pass through this world but once. If, therefore, there be any kindness I can show or any good thing I can do to any fellow human being, let me do it now! Let me not defer, nor neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again. — Thomas Carlyle

AN EXAMPLE FOR ST. JOHN. The Times desires to direct the attention of the board of trade, the board of school trustees, the city council, and all those who are interested in the greater efficiency of the average citizen, to the letter of Mr. W. S. Fisher in today's issue, describing the work of the technical evening schools of Calgary.

It is worthy of note in the first place that Calgary owes its progressive policy in this important matter very largely to a man who went there from New Brunswick, Mr. T. B. Kidder, whose educational work in this province was of so much value, but who was offered more encouragement and support in the western province, and is now engaged there in work which is at least as greatly needed in New Brunswick as in Alberta.

The second point to be noted in this letter is that the citizens of Calgary make use of their school buildings. They do not believe that these structures should be idle when there is need of them for educational purposes, and whatever changes were needed in the assembly rooms or other rooms were made to meet a temporary condition, so far as technical instruction is concerned, for it is the intention of the school board to have a special building erected for this purpose.

It will be observed from the enumeration of the different classes of study in Mr. Fisher's letter that the whole purpose of this work is intensely practical, and of a sort to make the students better able to earn a livelihood. Provision is also made for teaching foreign born citizens the English language, and they take advantage of the opportunity with an eagerness which ought to be an example to many of the native born, who are neglecting opportunities to improve themselves and to qualify themselves for better citizenship.

There seems to be a prospect that the deadlock at Ottawa will be renewed. The opposition have enabled the government to get supply so that the business of the country may be carried on while the naval issue is being fought out.

Touching the matter of agriculture in Germany, Bradstreet's says: "The figures compiled by the Dresden Bank show that the population engaged in agriculture has decreased from 42 to 28 per cent., while the population engaged in industry and mining has increased from 35.5 to 42.8 per cent."

CUTTER WOODBURY IN ST. MARY'S BAY TO TRY FLOAT THE QUICKSTEP. Digby, N. S., April 3.—(Special)—The United States revenue cutter Woodbury, is in St. Mary's Bay standing by the wrecked schooner "Quickstep," and will endeavor to float her either today or tomorrow.

What's the Use of Palliating Corns? Why merely pare them, when they quickly grow again? Why use old-time methods—liquids, plasters—just for brief relief. A chemist has evolved a way to end a corn completely. It is used in Blue-jay plasters. Blue-jay stops the pain at once, just like other methods. But it also ends the corn. Within 48 hours the entire corn loosens and comes out. No pain, no soreness. The treatment is complete and final. It seems too good to be true. But every month a million corns are taken out in that way. Try it on one of yours. At the picture is the soft B & B wax. It loosens the corn. B stops the pain and keeps the wax from spreading. C wears around the toe. It is narrowed to be comfortable. D is rubber adhesive to favour the plaster on. Blue-jay Corn Plasters. Sold by Druggists—15c and 25c per package. Sample Mailed Free. Also Blue-jay Bunions Plasters. (28) Bauer & Black, Chicago & New York, Makers of Surgical Dressings, etc.

DO NOT WANT ENGLAND TO LOSE HER RADIUM SUPPLY

Japan Bids For it and Hospital Doctors Say it Should Not be Sold Out of Country

London, April 3.—While the great London hospitals which employ radium for the treatment of cancer and other diseases are making pitiful appeals for adequate supplies of the beneficent element, the country is now threatened with the loss of practically all the available radium not actually in constant use.

These supplies consist of 500 milligrammes, now lying idle in a London safe. Japan is now applying for this radium for purposes undisclosed. Unless some one comes forward with the means to purchase it, there is general apprehension that the radium, with an additional 300 milligrammes that will be ready soon, will go abroad. All that is wanted is a sum of between $40,000 and $50,000.

Dr. Leonard Barkley, the director of the Cancer Research Laboratories of the Middlesex Hospital, says:—"The great majority of our unfortunate patients have to die simply because we do not possess sufficient radium to relieve their pain, if not, in a good proportion of cases, to effect a probable cure."

"Owing to the small amount of radium at our disposal our energies on behalf of our patients are painfully restricted. In the other hand, it would be difficult to overstate the benefit that would be derived by many sufferers from pain and inoperable cancer if 500 milligrammes were forthcoming. But I believe we could easily use 1,000 milligrammes every hour of the twenty-four. All we need is the radium, or the money to purchase it without delay."

"The radium ought certainly not to be allowed to leave the country. The government might even buy it and loan it to the hospitals. As a pure investment it would be a security that virtually does not depreciate, because more than 1,000 years would elapse before its powers fell to 50 per cent. of the original."

The 500 milligrammes referred to are at the present moment lying in the safe of the British Radium Corporation.

"The radium is not actually purchased yet by Japan," said one of the directors, "and if any British committee is formed to obtain it, as well as further supplies, for hospital use, I am sure the directors would be only too delighted to grant every possible facility. We have been selling our radium at $100 a milligramme, but if it were designed for hospital purposes I have no doubt, a substantial reduction would be made."

PRINCE TO LEARN TO FARM IN ENGLAND

Copenhagen, April 3.—Prince Erik of Denmark, the third son of Prince Waldemar, and nephew of Queen Alexandra, is going to England to make a prolonged stay at a farm near Oxford, where he will continue his agricultural training. He has been studying practical farming in Denmark, and it is with the idea of further enlarging his experience that he now proposes to study the methods and routine of an English model farm.

Send at Once for Free Trial Package

London, April 3.—John E. Redmond, M. P., the Bishop of Raphoe, and John Fitzgibbon, M. P., trustees of the home rule fund, have issued an appeal for funds in support of the home rule movement, in the course of which they say:

"When issuing the appeal last year we stated that, although none of the funds would be needed for the support of the Nationalist party in the House of Commons, the main purpose for which the national fund had been used in the past still remained, and in face of a perfect temper of fault-finding and prophecies of evil we ventured to affirm that 'the great cause of national self-government was within measurable distance of victory.'"

"That statement has been fully vindicated. A home rule bill—the best ever offered to Ireland—has not only been drafted and introduced, but has emerged triumphantly from ten months of criticism, inside and outside parliament, has passed through all its stages in the House of Commons by steadily increasing majorities, and under the operation of the Parliament Act will, in May, 1914, at the latest, become law in spite of anything the House of Lords can do."

LOST HIS MONEY IN SPECULATION, SHOT CHILDREN AND SELF

Paris, April 3.—A sculptor named Barber, aged fifty-three, of Saint Just near Lyons, recently embarked his whole fortune—about $7,000—in a share speculation. When he saw a considerable profit on his deal his wife counselled him to sell out, but he hung on for more, and lost all.

The other night at dinner he asked his wife to get him some tobacco. She went out, taking with her her eldest child, a boy by a previous marriage.

When she had gone Barber, after carefully closing the shutters and locking the door, shot his own children, a girl of four and a boy of five. He then sat down in a chair and blew out his brains. The girl's mother's wife is so prostrated by shock that she is not likely to recover.

MEASLES CASES 45 LAST MONTH

Two Deaths From This Disease In St. John

HEALTH OFFICER'S REPORT

March Death Rate Was Higher Than in That Month Last Year - Sanitary Hints, Including Advice for Early War on House Fly

The St. John health officer's bulletin for March is as follows:- The following cases of contagious disease were reported from the city during the month.

The table which follows gives the usual particulars of the mortality for the month.

Table with columns for Disease, 1913, 1912, and 3 yrs. Aver. showing measles and typhoid cases.

Notifiable Diseases: Diph., Measles, Typhoid, etc.

Table of Notifiable Diseases with columns for Age, Sex, and other details.

Deaths from intestinal diseases under five years of age - Last year, 9.

Sanitary Hints: Young children, say under ten, should not be taken to crowded public assemblages.

New York, April 3.-Americans in London steady and strong. Union Pacific up 1/4; C. P. R. 28 1/2; Bank of England rate unchanged; consols 74 1/2, unchanged.

Berlin reports money, a little falling and outsiders purchasing stocks. Rock Island rises for February gross increase $102,000, net decrease, $102,700.

Money conditions should improve from this time on, not that we shall have very cheap money at present, but a distinct tendency towards betterment.

The better money situation produces a good impression and investment buying moderate, but there is rather more disposition to do something by the speculative element.

GOT BY FRAUD, SAYS T. M. HEALY

Irish M. P.'s New Book May Re-open Case

LOUGH NEAGH FISHERIES

Story Goes Back Several Hundred Year Ago, and There is Allegation of Forgery in Connection With Title to Valuable Waters

(Times' Special Correspondence)

Dublin, March 20.-Much forgotten Irish history is recalled in a book "Stolen Waters," which has just been published by T. M. Healy, M.P., and which tells the story of the legal theft of the Lough Neagh fisheries from the native fishermen who live on its banks.

Lough Neagh covers an area of 100,000 acres. It is the longest sheet of fresh water in the world, and it is bordered by five Irish counties. It is fed by thirteen rivers and drained by only one, -the Ban--and its fisheries are immensely valuable.

Nearly all the eels eaten in the United Kingdom, for instance, are caught at Toome Bridge, where the Ban leaves the lough on its way to the sea, and in the lough itself thousands of tons of other edible fish are caught annually.

For many centuries the lough has supported a race of handy fishermen who fished its waters without let or hindrance. A few years ago, however, Captain O'Neill, who does not belong to the real O'Neill family, but who is descended from the Chichester who was Lord Deputy of Ireland in the time of James I., and who secured to himself a large share of the lough on his way to the sea, and in the lough itself thousands of tons of other edible fish are caught annually.

When Chichester was Lord Deputy of Ireland James I. was busy driving the Irish lords from their soil and supplanting them by his English and Scottish favorites.

In the disturbed state of the country in 1604 and the following years there occurred a number of disputes about title. Irish lords who were deprived of their lands afterwards made submission and received patents. Sometimes two patents covered the same lands and often one overlapped another.

The story of Lough Neagh, as told by Mr. Healy, is that Chichester issued a patent bearing the great seal, but which had never been passed by the London committee, to one James Hamilton conveying to him the ownership of Lough Neagh and the Ban. Hamilton transferred this patent to a man named Bassett, Chichester's nephew. A few years later there was a scandal over the issue of defective patents.

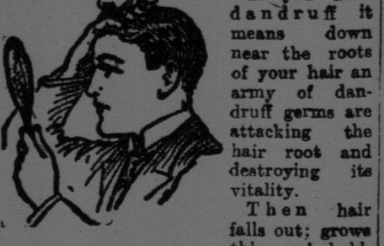

In spite of all these proceedings no effort ever was made to enforce the fishing rights of the native fishermen.

Charles I. in 1623 a license to fish Lough Neagh and the Ban. Surely if he were the owner it was not necessary to obtain permission to use his own property.

The case is regarded as being made still stronger by what happened in 1640 when Lord Strafford became lord deputy and, finding the fish in the title, forced the Chichesters to surrender the lough and river and gave them a new patent for the rest of their estates, but in 1661, the Chichester of the day having become Marquis of Donegal, who, by the way, had not enrolled the new patent which would have shown clearly the fraud perpetrated, induced Charles II. to re-grant to him the fisheries by representing that he had turned them over to raise money for Charles I. It was on this last document, said to have been obtained by fraud, that the House of Lords decided against the fishermen.

The first attempt to oust the fishermen was made in 1874 when the House of Lords decided that, as the waters of inland lakes were not vested in the king, Charles II's grant was void. Now, however, the same tribunal has taken another view and decided against the fishermen on the validity of the documents which Mr. Healy contends were based on forgery and fraud. It is likely that an attempt will be made to re-open the case in the light of the new evidence.

FROM ALL OVER THE GREAT WEST

Come Reports From Women of Dodd's Kidney Pills

Telling of Renewed Health and Fresh Vigor Through Using the Great Canadian Remedy

Overland, Sask., April 2.-[Special]-From all over this great west are coming statements from women who have found renewed health and fresh vigor through using Dodd's Kidney Pills and in this growing community evidence is not lacking that the great Canadian remedy is daily gaining friends among those on whom the burdens of life fall most heavily.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills did me a great deal of good. I tried two other kinds of medicines before using them, but it was Dodd's Kidney Pills that benefited me." Women's health depends on the kidneys. If the kidneys are not right the result is weakness and weariness and a burden of pain almost too great to bear.

W. S. FISHER, IN CALGARY, SEES GREAT WORK BEING DONE AND URGES ST. JOHN TO FOLLOW SUIT

School Rooms Given Over for Technical Education Pending Erection of Building—Thirty Classes, Marked Interest and Good Results

Calgary, Alb., March 27. Editor Times:—I have been spending a day or two in this city and have had such an interesting experience in connection with a matter in which you also are greatly interested, that I cannot refrain from writing you. Last evening I had the pleasure of going the rounds of Calgary's evening technical schools with the director, T. B. Kidner, whom you will of course remember in connection with manual training and household science in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Truly, it was a revelation to me for it is only a year and a half ago that the work was started and over one thousand enrollments have been made in the various classes this winter. The classes opened for the session in October and close for the session on Friday next.

Perhaps one of the most striking features is that this large scheme, involving the employment of nearly thirty instructors, has been carried out in the ordinary school buildings of the city. The school board is preparing for the erection of a large technical school, but decided, wisely, I think, not to wait for that, but to go ahead with what rooms could be adapted for the purpose in the present school. An assembly hall in the Central school was equipped with sixty drafting tables for the building trades and a basement room in the High School for the engineering branches and each of these has been occupied, for five evenings weekly, with large groups of earnest students, ranging from apprentices to foremen. I had the pleasure of inspecting the work of the several classes in the building trades and it was wonderful to see what had been accomplished.

The new process by which RED ROSE COFFEE is prepared crushes the fragrant, fresh-roasted bean into even little grains, removes all dust and the yellow chaff that makes other coffees bitter so that in a few minutes the boiling water extracts this coffee's full, rich flavor, and it pours out bright, clear—with-out being "settled"—nice to see and fine to drink. Get a tin of Red Rose and do as the simple directions say. You will be captivated by ESTABROOK'S RED ROSE COFFEE.

WHAT IS LIKELY IN TARIFF CHANGES IN THE UNITED STATES

Washington, April 2.—President Wilson was tonight face to face with the most serious phases of tariff revision. With the work of the house ways and means committee before him and extra sessions of congress only a few days off, the president had proceeded deep enough in his study of the tariff bill to realize that before the Democratic caucus met he would have to take a definite stand. It was admitted at the White House that he would do so "in a day or two."

ON OVERDOING IT

"The tendency of the age," says a modern philosopher, "is to overdo everything." The same thought has occurred to the writer many scores of times, when, after reviewing a very moderate allowance of some sauce, he has been left with a palate apparently given over to an endless stinging and burning sensation, calculated to make a man forego the use of any sauce whatever.

Mr. Wilson will study further into the sugar matter, as he is undecided which would be better, a reduction of 25 per cent, as manufacturers would agree to, or the complete wiping out of duty. The president, it is also known, believes in sweeping reduction in woolen duties, but whether it includes a total removal or not is not ascertained.

We have it from the manufacturers, the Midland Vinegar Company of England, the largest malt vinegar brewers in the world, that this most truly welcome addition to our table is compounded from the choicest Oriental fruits and spices blended with pure malt vinegar by "a secret process."

PRESENTATIONS

Several pleasing events in the nature of presentations took place in the city yesterday. Mrs. Walter B. Brown, who will soon leave for Montreal to make her home, was tendered a farewell at a gathering held in her honor at the home of Mrs. Colly Smith, West End. About fifty were in attendance and in their behalf, Mrs. Smith presented to Mrs. Brown a valuable amethyst necklace, accompanied by an address.

White Oak, Ont.—"At Change of Life when doctors could do no more and I was given up by my friends, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound came to the front and did wonders for me. I recommend your Compound highly and do all I can to advertise it as a genuine woman's medicine."—Mrs. SYLVESTER MARSH, White Oak, Ontario.

The Case of Mrs. Kirlin. Circleville, Ohio.—"I can truthfully say that I never had anything do me so much good during Change of Life as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound. Before I had taken one half a bottle of it I began to feel better, and I have continued taking it. My health is better than it has been for several years. If all women would take it they would escape untold pain and misery at this time of life."—Mrs. ALICE KIRLIN, 853 W. Mill St., Circleville, Ohio.

Ottawa, April 2.—The bill providing for Canada's adherence to the treaty made between Great Britain and Japan passed tonight. The discussion on the naval bill is to be resumed tomorrow. The Gleaner says—Some important developments are expected in the baseball situation in Fredericton within the next twenty-four hours. That the formal notification to Manager Bob Ganley to proceed with the signing of the Fredericton team will go forward without delay is the statement that is now made by those who should know. Manager Ganley has the players lined up but has not had any contracts formally signed. One thing can be definitely said and that is that Fredericton is absolutely sure of baseball now.

SIR CHARLES' WARNING TO MR. BORDEN

"I am glad to learn you have resolved to maintain the patriotic attitude of the Conservative party assumed last session. A few years ago, when Canada was struggling to open up for British settlement the great granary of the world, a few gentlemen here raised the question of a Canadian contribution to the Imperial Navy. I joined issue with them and was sustained by the press and public opinion. . . . The demand which will soon be made by some that Canada should contribute to the Imperial Navy in proportion to population, I regard as preposterous and dangerous. I read with pleasure the resolution passed unanimously by the House of Commons which pledges Parliament to proceed vigorously with the construction of the Canadian Navy and to support England in every emergency. . . . I cannot understand the demand for Dreadnoughts in the face of the fact that the Admiralty and the British government have determined that it was not the best mode of maintaining the security of the Empire and arranged with Canada and Australia (the latter of whom had offered one or two Dreadnoughts) for the construction of local navies to keep open the trade routes in case of war. . . . I cannot avoid thinking that a fearful responsibility will rest upon those who disturb or destroy the compact entered into on this vitally important question."—SIR CHARLES TUPPER.

THREE ENGINEERS IN CITY

Chief is to Come Tonight and Then Surveys at Once For The New Car Routes—Matter of Use of City Streets

Three engineers, Messrs. Whitney, Robertson and Young, have arrived in the city to assist with the surveys for the lines of the New Brunswick Suburban Railway Company. J. A. Jones, who is to be in charge of the work, will arrive this evening and may bring additional assistants with him. Tomorrow will be devoted to laying out the work and the actual work of surveying will be commenced immediately. The first surveys made will be those for the Millidgeville, Spruce Lake and Rothesay lines and the others will be undertaken later.

The organization meeting of the Suburban Company will be held on Saturday, the business having been carried on to this point by the provisional directors. One of the first matters of business which will be taken up is the arrangement of a conference with the city commissioners to discuss the terms on which the company may use the city streets where required. The section where this question will arise will be at the commencement of the suburban line to Millidgeville which will start out Adelaide street. Whether the line will continue on the present road or whether it will take a cut through new country will depend on the result of the surveys.

NONTREAL, TOO, HAD IT ROUGH

C. P. R. Liner Docks at Sand Point; Shifts to Pettingill

SEASON NEARLY OVER

List of Sailings of the Various Lines Before Winter Port Activities Shall Cease Until Next Fall

The genial Captain McNeill and his good ship Montreal, of the C. P. R. line, arrived from London and Antwerp. The Montreal reached the wharf last night and she landed her passengers, 377 in number, at 9:30 o'clock this morning at Sand Point. About 11 o'clock she shifted to the Pettingill wharf, where she will discharge her freight. Included in her cargo is about 300 tons of glassware for city merchants, the usual spring consignment. The Montreal had an unusually rough trip across the Atlantic, encountering heavy westerly and south-westerly gales and high seas all the way across. Captain McNeill said he had never experienced such stormy weather on the Atlantic as he had this winter. The steamer left Antwerp on March 19. On the 23rd she was compelled to leave to for about twelve hours on account of the wind, which was blowing a hurricane at the time. The vessel was then about in mid-Atlantic, latitude 47 north and longitude 38 west. She sustained some damage to her deck fittings during the blow. The Borgoe Head, which is expected to arrive today, will be the last of the Head liners here this winter. Two more Manchester steamers, the Manchester Commerce and the Manchester Shipper, will land cargo at this port and load again for Manchester and the Manchester Importer, which is now on the way to St. John, will discharge here and then leave for Philadelphia to load for Manchester. A monthly service will be run from Manchester to St. John during the summer, but the steamer will load at Philadelphia on the return passage.

Steamers Victorian, Corsican and Virginia from Liverpool, and the Sicilian from London, will complete the Allan line sailings to St. John for this season.

For the C. P. R., the Empress of Britain, Lake Manitoba and Mount Royal will each make one more trip here, and it is not yet decided whether or not the Empress of Ireland, which will sail from here tomorrow, will return to this port or make the return voyage to Quebec.

The Donaldson line will have three more steamers land passengers and freight at this port, the Letitia, Cassandra and Atlanta. The Cassandra, which is now laid up for repairs in Glasgow, on account of damage sustained while prepping to sail for this port, is expected to be about a week, and this will wind up the Donaldson line sailings here this year.

Another experiment in dust laying is being made by the road engineer this morning about 9 o'clock for Manchester, with a full cargo of grain, dead and provisions.

MR. AGAR HAS MORE IN MIND FOR THE STREETS THIS SUMMER

Removing Objectionable Feature of The Oil Sprinkling—Another Experiment Also

Tenders for asphalt and road oil were opened by the city commissioners today but the contracts were not awarded, pending some tests of the samples by the road engineer. Some new brands of asphalt have been submitted this year and the engineer will make tests of their suitability.

The use of road oil in the streets this year will not give the same cause for complaints as in other years. When the oil is placed the oil cart will be followed by sand sprinklers which will spread a thin coating of sand, enough to absorb the oil and remove its objectionable features without destroying its usefulness.

Another experiment in dust laying is also to be made by the road engineer this summer. This will be the use of calcium chloride in the streets. It is expected to keep the streets damp for several weeks, under favorable weather conditions.

Smart Clothes For Young Men

AND MEN WHO WANT TO LOOK YOUNG.

No matter how old a man is, if he is still active in business affairs, he doesn't want to appear old, he doesn't want to dress like a budding college youth, but he wants clothes with the style and smartness which show that he keeps in touch with new ideas.

It means no departure from dignity in appearance for an elderly man to wear clothes that express fashion's latest ideas, that impart a young manish air. It adds immensely to the good impression one is anxious to make to be so dressed, for after all clothes do count in sizing up a man. And then, there's a good psychological reason why elderly men should wear smart styles—you feel younger when you look younger.

We have the clothes that fill the bill exactly; superbly tailored garments of faultless style and assured durability, cut on young manish lines, yet lacking nothing in dignity.

For the man young in years as well as spirit, we've the sprightliest line ever shown anywhere. Dashing, lively styles in such a great variety of patterns and color effects that any young fellow will be delighted to choose his spring togs from the collection.

And remember you buy directly of the makers when you buy at Oak Hall, and you save money on every purchase.
