Rumor of Agreement in Responsibility for British Interests in Mediterranean

MALTA CONFERENCE RESULT

Change in Policy Decided on, Positions to be Strengthened and Modern Battleships to Replace Squadron—A View of the Politics in It

(Canadian Press)

London, June 10—The Daily Mail says it has reason to believe that as a result of the recent conference at Malta, in which Premier Asquith, Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill and General Kitchener took part some arrangement will be made with France in sharing with Great Britain the responsibility for the protection of British interests in the Mediterranean.

They decided that, owing to the necessity of concentrating Britain's naval strength in the North Sea, her naval and military policy in the Mediterranean must be changed and the positions in these waters strengthened.

The plan proposed is still to be considered by the imperial defense committee, but the Daily Mail has reason to believe that the new scheme is as follows: The weak squadron of four old armored cruisers, which at present does duty for the British navy in the Mediterranean, is to be strengthened by battleships of modern type. Some arrangements will be made with France to share with Great Britain the responsibility for the defense of British interests in the limits of this division of responsibility, says the Daily Mail, is still to be made known.

The exact nature of limits of this division of responsibility, says the Daily Mail, is still to be made known.

It is believed, however, that any radical change in the entente between the two countries into formal alliance is contemplated.

Whatever may be its character, it is obvious that any scheme based upon divided responsibility for the defense of British interests in the Mediterranean, which most important charges in the imperial defense will involve much criticism.

In the opinion of many authorities, such a scheme of divided responsibility is inadvisable, especially when the Mediterranean is so important a theatre of the world's struggle in Tripoli.

The Italian government may have no present intention of keeping any of these islands, but when the time comes for evacuating them, popular opinion in Italy may make it difficult for them to withdraw.

W. T. STEAD ESTATE IS ENTERED AT $65,000

The commissioners were unable to promise but promised to see what could be done about placing two catch basins and a fire hydrant on the street.

BARBAROUS ACTS IN CITY STREETS

Chinese Blown to Pieces by Executioners Under Martial Law and Remains Scattered for Animals to Eat

Hong Kong, June 10—The Chinese assembly at Canton has denounced the action of the governor of Canton in putting martial law into effect. According to dispatches received here, the brutality that has occurred in the various cities is of a horrible nature. Executioners are taking place daily at Wu Chow, where men are being shot on the slightest pretext, the government troops firing volleys at them from a distance of only five yards.

Chinese merchants are strongly advocating the raising of a patriotic subscription instead of a foreign loan. Executioners were with them on the subject.

over the streets, where they are left for the pigs and dogs to devour.

The horrors are so appalling, that the details are indescribable. Secret meetings have been held by the citizens of Wu Chow, to plan vengeance on the official executioners. A force of 1,000 soldiers is stationed in the city, but piracy is an every day occurrence.

LIBERALS ARE WINNING IN KENT COUNTY

Another Conservative Kow-Tow to the Capitalists Is Told Of

CANDIDATES GAIN STEADILY

All Making a Fine Impression—Why Doctor Bourque is Running Again—No Hustings Speeches in Dorchester—Moncton Meeting Tomorrow Night

(Special to Times)

Moncton, N. B., June 10—The Liberals of Kent are putting up a great fight and enthusiastic meetings are being addressed in various parts of the county by the opposition candidates and others.

On Saturday afternoon the candidates, Hon. O. J. Lablache, M. H. McNeil, Clifford Atkinson and Stephen Bourque, addressed a meeting in Barnes Hall, Dorchester. It was attended by many. Addresses were also delivered by A. F. Levesque, ex-M. P., P. H. Lablache of Westchester and L. Roy, ex-M. P. of Leticia, Que., who is spending a few days in Kent.

On Sunday, after morning service, Mr. Roy addressed a meeting in Burdock, making an appeal to the Liberals to unite in defence of a great cause.

At Coaticook the three Liberal candidates and Mr. Lablache addressed the people of that section and met with a great reception. The candidates spoke briefly and addressed were also given by Councillor Phileas Melancon of St. Paul, Mr. Lablache and Mr. Roy.

A sensation was created when the speakers expressed the scheme proposed by the Conservatives to "lessen the oyster and quabber beds to rich corporations. Mr. Lablache said that under the old government the same capitalists had made the same proposition, but they were turned down. Now that the friends of capitalism are in power at Ottawa, they are renewing demands and everything pointed to their being successful in the Fleming government was abandoned.

He said that this was in line with the policy already enforced by the present government in leasing the rich mines in Gloucester county to a wealthy corporation for eighty years with a royalty of only five cents a ton.

Everything points to a sweeping victory in Kent for the opposition ticket, Hon. O. J. Lablache, veteran politician, is arousing great enthusiasm by his fervid speeches in both French and English. Mr. Atkinson is winning many friends by his clear cut speeches and Councillor Bourque, is a very fluent speaker in both languages and will make a fine representative.

It is said in Kent that Doctor Bourque would not be a candidate in this contest if Mr. Roy had not been promised the appointment of Indian commissioner, a position held by Archibald Irving.

It is understood that both parties have arranged to abolish hustings speeches at Dorchester nomination day. The proceedings will be simply formal.

Hon. H. R. Emerson and Mayor Robson, city candidate, will address a public meeting in the opposition in interest in the Grand Opera House here tomorrow evening.

Former Stage Beauty Out of Work and Discouraged According to Note Found in Her Handbag in Central Park

New York, June 10—May Yohe, former wife of Lord Francis Hope, and one time secretary of the famous Hope diamonds, has been missing since last Thursday. Her friends were not alarmed until her handbag, picked up in Central Park on Saturday, was found to contain a letter to her maid, lamenting that she could not get a theatrical engagement and concluding with the words: "I am discouraged and do not know which way to turn."

The handbag also disclosed a photograph of May Yohe standing on the deck of the Oceanic. On one side stood Putnam Bradlee Strong, and on the other Lord Francis Hope, her second and first husbands. On the back of this photograph was written in pencil the name "May," "Bradlee," "Francis," and below that, "The first and last editions."

The former beauty has not prospered in later years, and has been doing parts in moving picture shows. Detectives have been assigned to search for her.

King, Queen and Princess To Church in Storm so Heavy That No People Are Out to See Them—Miss Malecka Pardoned

(Canadian Press)

London, June 10—Rumors have been current concerning the king's health and prove to have some foundation. For several months His Majesty has suffered from a slight form of dyspepsia. Careful dieting is gradually overcoming the trouble, however, and the sovereign is very strict in his observance of the rules laid down by his physicians.

New York, June 10—A cable from London says: "In the most severe thunderstorm of this season, King George, Queen Mary and Princess Mary drove to St. Paul's cathedral yesterday, without military escort, to attend the hospital Sunday services. For perhaps the first time in a British reign, hardly a soul was in the streets to see the king and queen pass, the drenching rain driving everybody to shelter, but inside the cathedral there was a brilliant congregation. Every man and all the available standing room was occupied long before the royal family arrived."

London, June 10—The Chronicle's War correspondent telegraphs that the Czar has pardoned Miss Malecka on condition that she leaves Russia immediately. She is not permitted to return. The high court decided to return the 25,000 roubles bail raised in England. Miss Malecka, overjoyed at the news of her release, declared: "Long live England!" She felt she owed her freedom to the British press, especially the Chronicle, which had conducted a vigorous campaign on her behalf.

Find Chief Diversion in Funerals and Pig Hunting—Seven Hundred Englishmen Keep The Million of Savages There In Order

(Times Special Correspondence)

London, May 29.—There are many regions in King George's empire where it is no fun to be a white man, but Papua—the British division of the island of New Guinea—is about "the limit" according to an official report just published which is more interesting than most of the novels published nowadays. It rather recalls one of those "When the Red Gods Call," which was all about this little-known region.

In Papua, about 700 English officials are responsible for the welfare and good behavior of some half a million natives who, when the British first came, were perpetually at war, and among whom cannibalism and piracy were rampant. Since then the whole territory has been divided into districts, each under a resident magistrate, whose job is about as far from being a sinecure as any that one could imagine. Their periodical tours of inspection become expeditions and perilous expeditions—one of the magistrates tells calmly, how he swam a stream full of crocodiles in order to remove the dwellers of a village on the other side—who were not burying their dead deep enough—and they must, according to the native magister, be capable of fighting all difficulties, and expounding all wisdom.

NO WORD OF MISSING MAN

Frederick J. Flaherty Has Not Been Seen Since Saturday Night

Friends today discussed the mysterious absence of Frederick J. Flaherty, a well known young man, from his home in Charles street where his widowed mother was anxiously awaiting news of him. Since Saturday night at half past ten o'clock when he left one of his chimneys at a gold watch and a locked envelope with him, he has not been seen, so far as can be learned.

It is about twenty-seven years of age and has been in poor health for several months. He was for some time in the employ of William Duley, the often spoke of going to Boston, where a brother resides.

Mr. Flaherty, his brother, and several friends made diligent enquiries yesterday concerning him, but no news of his whereabouts was learned.

When last seen after being shaved in a barber shop in Union street, he wore a navy blue suit, black necktie and a black derby hat. He wore intricate spectacles and a gold watch and a locked envelope with his initials in raised letters. Any news of his whereabouts would be gratefully appreciated by his friends.

CHILD WELFARE

As a general rule healthy normal children should not be gratuitously educated in charitable institutions. Only the sick, the defective, the feeble-minded should be thus cared for.

One of the most pressing needs in the work of child protection is the better care of defective children of destitute parents, and that if there were some adequate method of helping these dejected or widowed mothers their children would grow up in a normal way to become useful and industrious citizens, adding by their labor to the wealth of the community rather than becoming a repulsive addition to the dependent classes.

If only the general public could understand these needs as the practical workers in the children's cause do, the remedy would soon be offering.

ROCKEFELLER AND THE OLD HORSE

Tarrytown, N. Y., June 10.—A new minister occupied the pulpit in the First Baptist church yesterday, the regular pastor being away. He made a plea for superannuated ministers and told a story about an old horse named Jack that had served his master thirty years but was sold to make way for new blood. In parting with him the master said: "You have been a good old horse jack, but now you're a horse."

After the service John D. Rockefeller remarked: "I have been sympathy with that horse because of his name and also because I am a 'horse man'."

BRITISH BUSINESS MEN IN MONCTON

Moncton, N. B., June 10.—(Special)—A special train, conveying a group of British capitalists, on tour through Dominion, arrived in Moncton today and left for Hillsboro, where they will be entertained by C. J. O'Brien. They will also visit the oil and gas wells and Moncton industries. A lava party will be given this evening at the Hotel Moncton. Mr. J. A. Squary will also be brilliantly lighted with natural gas.

Wife (looking up from paper)—"What was Hobson's remark?"
Husband—"Mrs. Hobson, I suppose."

CONDENSED DESPATCHES

Boston, June 10.—An automobile containing six men went over an embankment into the Charles River early today, and thus far the police have been unable to account for but one of the number. This man, Gerald Whalen, of Roxbury, said that the others made their escape before the car took its plunge and then disappeared.

Williams, Iowa, June 10.—Six members of the family of J. B. Moore, and two women, whose identity was not known to neighbors, were murdered in the Moore home early today.

New York, June 10.—The American Olympic team may be cut down unless the funds are materially increased.

WHAT HE SAID.
Maud: "Tell me, did you say 'No'?" Did he say, "Take her, my boy? Tell me, what did father say?"
Edward: "He simply looked up from his work, said, 'Thank goodness!' and went on writing." —Lester.

JUST TWINS.
They were delightful children. Their mother's only joy, and so well behaved. Nicely spoken, too.
The stranger had come in to tea, and the children were trotted forth.
"And what is your name?" asked the victor of the little boy.
"John William Waters?" came the prompt reply.
"And what is yours?" the little girl was asked.
"Phyllis Evelyn Waters?" was the equally quick response.
"Ah, I see," remarked the guest pleasantly, "that you're brother and sister."
The children looked at each other, then glanced at their interlocutor.
"Oh, no," they replied, scornfully in chorus, "we're only twins!"

MR. COPP'S SUCCESS

As the campaign progresses the Liberal party are more and more highly pleased with the vigor and success of Mr. Copp's leadership. He is not sparing himself in his campaign, and wherever he has gone through the province there has been a hearty response to his appeal for strong standard bearers to uphold the Liberal cause.

THE OUTLOOK

We are now entering upon what is practically the last week of the provincial campaign, and the outstanding fact is accepted everywhere without dispute is that the opposition cause has made extraordinary progress in every part of New Brunswick since the date of the elections were fixed, and that the defeat of the government is now expected by political observers.

Westmorland, Kent, Northumberland, Westmorland, Gloucester, Victoria and Madawaska return twenty-two members to the Legislature, and the outlook today is that all of those seats will be carried by the opposition. It is admitted that the opposition will carry Queens and Albert and that they have the best of the argument in St. John City and County, and in Kings and in several other constituencies, so that the political forecasters who are estimating the composition of the next Legislature are fully justified in their opinion that Mr. Copp will be Premier, with a comfortable majority at his back.

Day by day the reports coming in from the various constituencies are of increasing cheerfulness. Notwithstanding the fact that the Conservative governments, local and federal, have large resources, and are using them without stint, it becomes plain that the general sentiment of the province is distinctly hostile to the Flemming administration. Besides, the government campaign has gone badly. Mr. Flemming, in addition to the unsatisfactory condition of the provincial finances, made a great mistake in appealing to the country before he had promulgated any really effective programme of constructive legislation.

Mr. Copp will be Premier, with a comfortable majority at his back. Day by day the reports coming in from the various constituencies are of increasing cheerfulness. Notwithstanding the fact that the Conservative governments, local and federal, have large resources, and are using them without stint, it becomes plain that the general sentiment of the province is distinctly hostile to the Flemming administration.

On the other hand, Mr. Copp's appeal to the electorate brought to their attention really progressive and constructive policies calculated to bring about an immediate change for the better in the condition of many of our leading occupations, and to give the province a distinct impetus toward additional comfort and prosperity.

The government from the first has been on the defensive. Its wild efforts to distract attention from its own record, and have the jury consider only the record of the old government, has everywhere proved to be a miserable failure. The people at large have come to realize that after four years of power the Flemming administration has recklessly wasted money by partisan expenditures, without effecting any reasonable improvement in the public service.

Today there is a growing impression that New Brunswick on June 20 will follow the example of Quebec in giving the Liberals a most welcome and significant victory.

THE CITY AND THE CHILD

The city of London, Ont., is taking up the playground question in earnest. Dr. Curtis of Philadelphia, an authority on the movement, has been engaged by the local Playground Association to visit the city this week and deliver addresses daily from Thursday until next Monday.

A vote for the Liberal candidates in this campaign will be a vote for progressive government and for a real forward movement in New Brunswick.

C. P. R. KEEPS AN EYE ON EMPLOYEES

Rewards For The Faithful And Vigilant; Punishment For Negligent

RECORDS ARE KEPT

Some Samples of Acts Which Brought Merit Marks and Others Which Resulted in Dismissals or Lowering of the Standing

The extreme vigilance of the C. P. R. in safeguarding the lives of the passengers entrusted to their care, to say nothing of the valuable freight and merchandise which they carry is illustrated by their elaborate system of keeping check on every employe, rewarding those who show special vigilance in the performance of their duties and punishing any who are negligent. This is done by a system of merit and demerit marks which are recorded in a card filing system which shows the complete record of every man in the employ from the time he is employed to the time he leaves. Promotion and increases in salary are given according to this record and there is every inducement to a man to keep his record as clear as possible on the debit side and pile up as many credits as he can.

The marks against each man are published each month in an educational bulletin and their publication serves as a stimulus to others to secure merits and avoid demerits. The scope of the work and the variety of details which count in a man's record are shown in this list. In a recent number of the bulletin merits were granted different employes for: Discovering broken axle on car and notifying yard foreman, discovering brake beams dragging, vigilance in discovering broken trap rod, discovering broken brake beams, discovering broken arch bar, repairing telegraph wire in case of emergency, vigilance in discovering broken journal, vigilance in discovering two oil box bolts stripped so that nuts would not hold, removing car made to move and for discovering broken rail and reporting same promptly to section foreman.

Eleven men were dismissed for failure to protect rear of train, resulting in rear end collision, violation Rule 90, previous record unsatisfactory, violation Rule G (against use of intoxicants), desertion, insubordination, negligence.

Demerit marks were placed against other men for the following causes:—Falling to repair boxes on engine, error in routing, failure to answer correspondence promptly, neglecting to stop car for renumbering, failing to register watch, neglecting book variations of watch, running engine with defective ashpan and not reporting same, neglecting to make running test of air brake after leaving terminal, losing brake head off right front-brake beam, and slipping driving brake until flange of wheel destroyed, breaking an engine, smoking in office of roundhouse, allowing right hand bag on engine to freeze, failure to keep sharp lookout, resulting in collision, improper handling of engine resulting in tube leakage, backing into wall of roundhouse, faulty workmanship on engine, neglecting to carry out watch inspection regulations, untidiness in bunk room, neglecting to properly secure car set off train, resulting in same starting and running into forward portion of train, backing engine through split switch, responsibility in connection with train running through "Y" switch without same being turned, careless inspection, allowing push car to be struck by train, responsibility in connection with forty minutes detention to passenger train, neglecting to call operator in accordance with instructions, resulting in detention to fast freight, looking sick after being called for duty, removing clinker hook from engine after being told not to do so, passing defective wheel, neglecting to properly secure combination car in siding, resulting in same running out and crossing van, failing to repeat signals promptly while switching, resulting in damage to rolling stock; running too close on time of passenger train, resulting in rear end collision, responsibility in connection with one extra pitching into another, careless switching, resulting in derailment of car; allowing defective rail to remain in track, causing a derailment; failure to notify engineer of train of ice on track, resulting in derailment; responsibility in connection with allowing his engine to cross a trestle of extra and for allowing water to accumulate over rail, which afterwards froze, causing a derailment.

THE WHY AND WHEREFORE

In all large factories a rigid system of inspection prevails so that any shoe going through the works that becomes soiled or defaced is not shipped out but cast aside and sold as factory damaged. In many cases the defect is so slight as to be invisible.
