LONDON PLEASSED

Sees End of War and Real Beginning of Rehabilitation of Europe.

(British United Press.)
London, June 11.—President Millerand of France has resigned and, in the opinion of British business men, this marks the end of the world war and the beginning of Europe's rehabilitation. Millerand and Poincare were the hub of the Bloc National, which stood firm for the continuation of the Ruhr invasion and resisted any effort to modify the original peace terms. Millerand, as President, declined to be a mere figurehead, and demanded a dominant position in the direction of foreign affairs in any French government. Hence the refusal of Herriot to accept office under him. Millerand appealed to parliament, which rebuked him; now he is gone and the decks are clear for a government by the Left with a free hand.

More Brides of June

Hoyt-Golding.

A wedding marked by simplicity was solemnized in Central Baptist church at 8 o'clock this morning, when Miss Olive Whelpley Golding, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Golding of this city, became the bride of Gerald Messenger Hoyt of Bridgetown, N. S., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt of Bridgetown. Rev. James Dunlop, pastor of Central church, performed the ceremony in the presence of immediate family relatives and several hundred friends. The young couple were unattended save for little seven-year-old Martha Golding, sister of the bride, who acted as flower girl. The bride was attired in a traveling suit of fawn with silk and ribbon hat of modish colors, fox fur, and carrying a handsome bouquet, while the little attendant wore pink organdie with apple blossom and carried a basket of pink and red sweet peas. Miss Beryl Blanch played the wedding march, and Ernest Whelpley and Walter R. Golding, cousins of the bride, acted as ushers. Miss Margaret Barker and John Hoyt of Bridgetown, signed the register with the contracting parties.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Blizard of Somerville, Mass., are the guests of Mrs. E. McManus, Peter street.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt motored to the Boston hotel, accompanied by friends, in automobile, and returned to the city on Tuesday morning after a most enjoyable sojourn. Mrs. Hoyt will spend their honeymoon in Boston, and on their return will reside at Bridgetown, N. S.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. G. E. Hoyt, mother of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Elias Hoyt, grandparents of the groom. The groom is well known here, although his present business address is Halifax.

The bride is very popular here, as was attested by the many beautiful gifts she received, including fine china, ceramics, silver, personal handwork, brass, furniture and many essential articles, as well as a generous amount in money. A happy coincidence in connection with today's ceremony is that it took place in the bride's twenty-first birthday.

The bride is married, in a handsome mahogany chest of silver complete.

McAulay-Coyte. A pretty wedding was solemnized in Holy Trinity church at 7 o'clock this morning when Rev. Francis Cronin was celebrant at nuptial mass, united in marriage Miss Alice Coyte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Coyte, and Francis James McAulay.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was costumed in a becoming dress of navy blue Canton crepe with grey hat, shoes and stockings and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was attended by her sister, Mary, who was attired in a navy blue dress with grey hat and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. Cyril McManus officiated as best man. Following the ceremony a dainty wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, 18 Long Wharf. The popular young couple were the recipients of a large number of beautiful presents, including a set of china from the City Cornet Band, of which the groom is a member, and an arm chair from the employe of T. H. Estabrook & Co., Ltd. The bride was a popular member of that staff. Mr. and Mrs. McAulay will reside at 83 Carmarthen street.

Higgins-Carrick. In St. James' church this morning at 8:15 o'clock, Rev. H. A. Coady, pastor, united in marriage Miss Winifred Stella Carrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Carrick, 299 Rockland street, to Mr. Charles W. Higgins, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Higgins, 41 Victoria street. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very lovely in a grey Pointe twill suit, grey shoes and stockings, blue and grey georgette hat, and tulle grey fur, and carrying a bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was attended by two bridesmaids, her sister, Miss Edna Carrick, who carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses, and Miss Irene O'Brien, who carried a bouquet of fox fur. The bridesmaids carried pink carnations. The groom was supported by William Corney and the best man was Walter Higgins and Fred Cowan. The groom's gift to the bridesmaids was an ivory necklace and silver bracelet, and to the best man a gold fountain pen.

As the bride entered the church, Miss Farmer, the organist, played the wedding march and during the signing of the register Leslie Bewick sang the solo "Because." After the ceremony the bride and groom were accompanied by Rev. John Pate, of First church, in the presence of Mrs. Jolice P. Macdonald, sister of the groom, and Charles Seal, who were witnesses.

Weyman-Ashton. Of interest to St. John people is the recent marriage of Robert Coppits Weyman, of Benton, Alberta, formerly of this city, to Mrs. Violet May Ashton, of Sixth Avenue, Hanna, Alberta. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Pate, of First church, in the presence of Mrs. Jolice P. Macdonald, sister of the groom, and Charles Seal, who were witnesses.

POSTAL STRIKE TALK HEARD HERE

Clerks' Association Likely to Meet When Salary Schedule Comes.

A meeting of the local Postal Clerks' Association will be held in the near future to consider fully the new schedule as announced yesterday from Ottawa, according to a report late this afternoon. The official schedule is expected today, and when it does arrive definite details regarding the meeting will be settled. The local leaders are inclined to mark time for a few days and await word of the course of action to be adopted by Upper Canadian centres, where, as here, there is a strong feeling of disappointment over the fixing of the maximum at $1,860.

In a great many cases at the local Post Office, it was said today, the new schedule means a considerable loss in pay, in some cases running as high as $175 a year, and the only ones who gain under the new provisions, it was said, are those just entering the service, the minimum having been boosted from $840 to $1,860. There is open talk of striking, but it is quite probable the local association will be guided by the Upper Canadian branches. There is hope that a compromise will be reached and proposals satisfactory to all adopted.

GIVES TREATMENT FOR ELECTRIC SHOCK. American Medical Association Hears of Method From Expert. Chicago, June 11.—The rules for first aid in cases of high voltage shock are based on the fact that the victim's lungs become paralyzed, and success in saving life depends upon keeping up artificial respiration until normal breathing is resumed, Wills MacLachlan of the National Electric Light Association, told the American Medical Association's convention today.

"Since cases are on record of lives saved after three and one-half hours of artificial respiration, four hours of effort are recommended before artificial respiration is given up," he said. "The rules are as follows: 'The victim is cleared from the current, either by shutting off the current, or pulling him away with the aid of rubber gloves, dry clothing, or sticks of wood, to serve as non-conductors. 'If it is necessary to cut the wire, a hatchet or implement with a wooden handle should be used, and the operator should turn his face away to avoid the flash. The patient is then laid face down on a mat or rug, and the other supporting his face so that the mouth and nose are free for breathing. Artificial respiration should be begun as soon as possible. If the victim must be watched, and if he stops, artificial respiration should be resumed. The hand pressure method is that in which the man applying first aid straddles the patient and presses both hands on the small of the victim's back, raising the pressure rhythmically every two or three seconds, and imitating his own breathing as much as possible.'"

Chicago, June 11.—Rejuvenation by transplantation of any kind of glands was branded as mythology before the surgery section of the American Medical Association, by Dr. Clarence A. McWilliams, New York surgeon, in an address today. The speaker considered the subject in relation to skin grafts or grafts of internal organs from one creature to another.

In numerous instances I can point out where the uniform result is the disappearance of the grafted tissues," Dr. McWilliams asserted. "There are unknown species, even, there are unknown biological differences that prevent the survival of the transplanted arteries. Reported successes would indicate that these grafted organs 'seem to take,' but they suddenly disappear, in a few weeks at the most."

USES A NECKTIE TO END HIS LIFE

Baltimore Hotel Man Strangles Himself in New York Hostelery.

New York, June 11—Alexander W. Bendroth, a Baltimore hotel man, committed suicide by strangling himself in his room at the Felix Portland Hotel, 3 West forty-seventh street. He had made a slip noose of a heavy black knitted tie. He had bound this around a bedpost a foot from the floor, and after fastening it about his neck, had fallen away from the bed and let his own weight smother him. Domestic troubles were believed to be responsible. He had a wife and a 4-year-old son and a 6-year-old girl. He was 37 years old.

Martin Burke and John Coleman, hotel men also living at the hotel, said Bendroth had registered there earlier in the day. He had spent some time with them about noon, they said, and had told them he was despondent. Without warning he rushed for a window and was about to jump out to the street, seven floors below, they said, when they restrained him. They finally persuaded him to go to bed in his own room.

When Bendroth failed to keep a dinner appointment last evening Burke and Coleman went to his room. There was no answer to their knock, and the door finally was opened by Harry Morse, the manager of the hotel, and Bendroth was found seated on the floor, his body swung from the bed by the length of the noosed tie. The police found a note addressed to "Marty," apparently Burke, which read: "For God's sake, don't let my wife know this. My mother's address is 834 Golden avenue, Los Angeles. My sister's address is Arcade Building, St. Louis, Mo. Forgive me, dear pal." Bendroth's effects contained numerous emblems of the order of Elks, of which he apparently was a member; a small pocket Bible, jewelry and cash. A picture of an attractive woman and a young boy was in a satchel flap, a gold wedding ring was on his keyring. Bendroth's address in Baltimore was 819 St. Paul avenue, according to his friends, who said that his family was prominent in California. Newspaper clippings in a wallet revealed that his daughter, Geneva, had won the title of champion toe dancer of California last December and that she had appeared on the programme of the Elks convention at Wilton, Del., Feb. 12, 1923.

STATION SHEET IS BEING CONSIDERED

First Draft is Presented to Methodist Conference at Sackville.

Sackville, N. B., June 10—At its first session this evening the Ministerial session of the N. B. and P. E. I. Methodist conference completed much routine business in considering and getting on the record the relation which ministers and probationers are to sustain to the conference during coming year; superannuation or continuation in the active work for ministers and college or circuit work for probationers were among the matters dealt with. President Styles called the ministerial conference to order. Sessions are being held in the auditorium of the Methodist church. Conference was initiated with an inspiring half hour of worship led by the president. Secretary Holmes read the scriptures and prayer was offered by Rev. H. Harrison, of Long Beach; John B. Gough, of Hillsboro; W. J. Kirby, of Moncton, and H. A. Goodwin, of St. John. The session was constituted by the calling of the roll.

KING HAS TROUBLE WITH BALKY HORSE

Aldershot, England, June 10—The excellent horsemanship of King George got him out of a tight place this afternoon and saved him from a possible mishap. As the King was leaving the parade grounds on his charger, after reviewing the troops, the horse became frightened at the cheering crowds. The animal "bucked" and nearly collided with a horse ridden by the Duke of Connaught beside the Queen's carriage. The King made a second attempt to force his horse to accompany the procession, but the animal, terrified, plunged into its royal rider was forced to turn back and ride home along a quiet route. Herring flower is used quite extensively in Norway.

THE MARITIMES

Editorials that are both stimulating and practical in dealing with Maritime Province conditions are republished on this page today, one from The Telegraph-Journal, and another from the London Free Press.

The Free Press, which deals with the Maritime situation in a candid and friendly spirit, suggests that our people should spend less time in seeking a political cure for the disadvantages confronting them, and should organize a tour of representative men of all our industries to visit the other parts of Canada, place our needs and views before them, extend their knowledge of our resources, convince them of the justice of our case and, above all, get them to buy our goods and to route their traffic through Maritime ports.

In these, as in other lines of action and advance for the Maritimes, we must agree upon the essentials of the campaign, we must unite, and we must keep hammering. We must regard our difficulties merely as a spur to more determined effort. Success comes to some by accident, but to most it comes only when they have done all that is humanly possible to command it.

THE NEXT TEST

Saskatchewan is the next province to have a plebiscite on the prohibition question. Its people are to vote on July 16, and will then make their choice between "prohibition as it now have it," or the sale of liquor for beverage purposes under a system of government control.

For a long time the Provincial Government has been disposed to resist the demand for a plebiscite, but at the last session of the Legislature it yielded upon considering a petition containing more than 80,000 signatures and demanding that the matter be submitted directly to the people. At first when the question was raised, although there was a substantial petition from those opposing the present law, the Government declined to change that law until a vote had been taken upon it, and maintained that there was not at that time—the winter of 1922-23—sufficient evidence of any popular desire for a change.

Those who answer this question in the negative are expected to answer the second question, which is this:— "If a liquor system under government control be established, which of the following do you favor: (a) Sale by government vendors in sealed packages of all spirituous and malt liquors, or (b) Sale by government vendors in sealed packages of all spirituous and malt liquors, and also sale of beer in licensed premises."

THE GERMAN WAY

The bill to appropriate $10,000,000 for the relief of German women and children was killed by the American Senate on the ground that Germany is well able to look after its own people. This decision constitutes a sweeping indictment of German good faith. This appropriation was favored by the House of Representatives last winter after repeated representations were made that German women and children were suffering greatly from food shortage, and that the German Government and the German people were unable to deal with the situation and so felt it necessary to call upon other nations for financial relief.

House had not had the benefit. An American committee which made an investigation of German credit resources reported that Germany had in foreign deposits a total of $1,687,000,000. At the same time German purchases of raw material in the United States, paid for in gold, had been running into immense figures, and clearly indicated that the Germans were consulting their own pockets rather than their own consciences when they asked the American taxpayers to send them $10,000,000 to relieve semi-starvation. The American newspapers were filled with letters telling of the extraordinary extent of German tourist travel in Italy and other countries, and of the astonishing expenditures of such tourists for luxuries. The German Government was forced to take note of the fact that the wealth of many Germans was thus being advertised to the world at large, and it introduced a tourist tax. As time passed Congress became convinced that Germany had, and still has, abundant means of caring for any of its population which might be suffering from lack of food, and the decision of the Senate is therefore regarded as fully justified. It is now realized that when the House of Representatives passed the relief measure it did so because of what was afterwards shown to be gross misrepresentation.

The whole incident is a reminder of an ugly side of the German character, that even as the Germans were charged during the war with sometimes placing a screen of women and children prisoners between them and the Allies' fire, so in peace time they have not hesitated to advance their own women and children in making a plea for charity, although they themselves could have relieved any existing hardship.

The Senate's vote stamps the German appeal as both dishonest and disgraceful.

IMMIGRATION CHANGES

President Beatty of the C. P. R. in the course of his western tour expressed the view that the number of immigrants reaching Canada this year will probably amount to 200,000, and he says their arrival will have a considerable effect in increasing the material prosperity of the Dominion as a whole. He points out that about eighty-five per cent. of the people the Canadian Pacific is bringing to Canada at present are going to the West, the majority to the Prairie Provinces, and that about ninety per cent. of them propose to engage in agriculture.

The President of the C. P. R. is a high authority on immigration prospects, and if 200,000 immigrants come this year it is altogether probable that next year's influx will be very much larger. The drastic changes in the new United States immigration law will have some effect upon Canada and now seems probable that within a few years this country will be receiving more immigrants than the Republic. Canada will be affected in more than one way by the American restrictions upon immigrants, which will introduce a new situation. For example, under the new American regulations which go into force on July 1, it is expected that immigration from Europe will be kept down to about 100,000 a year, and that three years hence the entire European quota will be limited to 100,000, admission being confined to two per cent. of the foreign born of each nationality living in the United States in 1920, with some extra provision for wives and children of those who have become American citizens.

Of course American immigration is greatly restricted already, as compared with former years, but the flow is to be still more limited for a long time to come. There is, however, no limit upon the number of Canadians entering the United States under the new law, although the people of Great Britain come under the regulations. Scandinavians and other desirable settlers, many of whom will naturally turn to this country upon being denied admission to the Republic. From other countries more may wish to come than it will be wise to accept, and Canada will continue to select with reasonable care, having learned that considerable discrimination is necessary. The United States went too fast and too far in receiving all sorts of immigrants, and we have learned something by the experience of our neighbors.

In 1907 the United States received 1,285,000 immigrants. Under the new regulations, so far as people from Europe are concerned, American immigration will be almost as small as it was from all sources in 1846, when the number admitted was 154,416. From 1846 forward the increase was very rapid, and in 1854 the number admitted was 427,000. Immigration was checked by the Civil War, but by 1873 it was again approaching half a million. In 1923 the number was 822,000, and the cry for restriction became loud and insistent. It was found that the country would not assimilate any such number yearly, and that its cities were being filled with

"Get Together and Get Busy"

A HINT TO THE MARITIME PROVINCES.

(London Free Press)

From time to time there come rumors from the Maritime Provinces of a movement for secession from the Dominion. This agitation is not depicted; the number of people who want to withdraw from Confederation is comparatively small, but there is no doubt that there is a great deal of dissatisfaction in the three provinces by the sea, and that the question is being seriously asked, "What has Confederation done for us?" For the citizens of the rest of Canada to ignore or to sneer at the sentiment is to adopt an ostrich-like attitude. The problem of the grievances of the Maritime Provinces must be faced fairly and squarely and not shirked.

The Maritime Provinces entered the Dominion in 1867 in a very doubtful mood as to the benefits of union with Quebec and Ontario. Now, after nearly sixty years, they are taking stock and are none too certain that the balance has been a profitable one for them. They are isolated from the rest of Canada by their geographical position. The American newspapers were filled with letters telling of the extraordinary extent of German tourist travel in Italy and other countries, and of the astonishing expenditures of such tourists for luxuries.

As time passed Congress became convinced that Germany had, and still has, abundant means of caring for any of its population which might be suffering from lack of food, and the decision of the Senate is therefore regarded as fully justified. It is now realized that when the House of Representatives passed the relief measure it did so because of what was afterwards shown to be gross misrepresentation.

The whole incident is a reminder of an ugly side of the German character, that even as the Germans were charged during the war with sometimes placing a screen of women and children prisoners between them and the Allies' fire, so in peace time they have not hesitated to advance their own women and children in making a plea for charity, although they themselves could have relieved any existing hardship.

The Senate's vote stamps the German appeal as both dishonest and disgraceful.

The President of the C. P. R. in the course of his western tour expressed the view that the number of immigrants reaching Canada this year will probably amount to 200,000, and he says their arrival will have a considerable effect in increasing the material prosperity of the Dominion as a whole.

He points out that about eighty-five per cent. of the people the Canadian Pacific is bringing to Canada at present are going to the West, the majority to the Prairie Provinces, and that about ninety per cent. of them propose to engage in agriculture.

The President of the C. P. R. is a high authority on immigration prospects, and if 200,000 immigrants come this year it is altogether probable that next year's influx will be very much larger. The drastic changes in the new United States immigration law will have some effect upon Canada and now seems probable that within a few years this country will be receiving more immigrants than the Republic.

Canada will be affected in more than one way by the American restrictions upon immigrants, which will introduce a new situation. For example, under the new American regulations which go into force on July 1, it is expected that immigration from Europe will be kept down to about 100,000 a year, and that three years hence the entire European quota will be limited to 100,000, admission being confined to two per cent. of the foreign born of each nationality living in the United States in 1920, with some extra provision for wives and children of those who have become American citizens.

Of course American immigration is greatly restricted already, as compared with former years, but the flow is to be still more limited for a long time to come. There is, however, no limit upon the number of Canadians entering the United States under the new law, although the people of Great Britain come under the regulations. Scandinavians and other desirable settlers, many of whom will naturally turn to this country upon being denied admission to the Republic. From other countries more may wish to come than it will be wise to accept, and Canada will continue to select with reasonable care, having learned that considerable discrimination is necessary. The United States went too fast and too far in receiving all sorts of immigrants, and we have learned something by the experience of our neighbors.

GET TOGETHER AND BUSY

(Telegraph-Journal)

There is a fair summary of the Maritime situation and a sound suggestion for its improvement in an article reprinted in another column from the London (Ontario) Free Press, one of the sanest and ablest newspapers in Canada.

Frankly recognizing Maritime difficulties and conceding the justice of basic Maritime claims upon the Canadian fellowship, the Free Press, with the bluntness of a candid friend, warns us to QUIT OUR WHINING TO THE INDIFFERENT GODS OF POLITICAL GOVERNMENTS AND GET AFTER BUSINESS OURSELVES ON OUR OWN FEET AND WITH OUR OWN TWO PISTOLS.

"The Free Press would throw out the suggestion that the Maritime Provinces that instead of cursing politicians and political parties and spending their time and energies in fruitless useless jibes to Ottawa they organize a tour of representative men of our industries to visit the rest of Canada in order to place before them their views and to extend knowledge of the resources and needs of the three Maritime Provinces."

Good medicine this! Not a quack, but a cure-all, but a tried and proven old-fashioned remedy. This journal has prescribed it previously and warmly endorses it now. Here it is in plain English: "STOP SQUABBLING AND GET BUSY."

"Maritime rights!" Of course we have rights which have been and are being brutally ignored; but who cares except ourselves? The gods of politics are dumb to claims that are not backed by compulsion. Their justice is based, not on past pledges or abstract right, but on the prospect of favors to come. Our prayers for them are wasted and always have been wasted.

MARITIME RIGHTS IN THIS CONNECTION ARE JUST EXACTLY WHAT MARITIME POLK CAN GET AND HAVE AND HOLD. And what they get will be determined by the extent they can get together. So long as they divide their energies in provincial rivalries and political squabbles, so long will the interests which profit by their depression continue to grin at their helplessness.

What the Maritimes are isolated geographically; that their nearest market is New England; and that this geographical disadvantage is intensified by the transportation system which permits the National Railway, which we helped to build and help to maintain, to neglect its Canadian harbors and do the bulk of its business through a foreign port—these things are obvious on the face of the matter.

WE MUST HAVE ONE OF THEM OR WE GO BROKE. Beyond that we need, of course, more thought and effort for local development, more provision for the attraction of new population and the retention of the people we have who are drifting away year by year to the lure of the West. We must look to green fields that are being brought under the plow. There is an active agitation in favor of the halting of this coal from Alberta by the National Railways at less than cost. Why? Because Alberta advertised and sent its representatives down to Ontario to preach Alberta coal and sold the idea just as any progressive firm sells any other product.

What has something to sell in the same market—the idea that the Maritimes are a part of Canada; want to be a part of Canada; have useful products and good ports and profitable markets for the rest of Canada; and all at a fair and just and in falling his bid off and the back of his head struck the sharp edge of the door. First aid was given by members of the depot staff, who were attended to by Dr. D. C. Malcolm and then removed to his home. Four stitches were necessary in order to close the wound. It is expected that Mr. Kelly will be absent from the depot for three or four days.

colony of foreigners who did not learn to speak English or to understand American institutions or customs, but adhered to the ways of their native land. A feature of the new American law is that a great share of the examination of immigrants will be carried on at the ports of embarkation, and it is expected that a great many of the units will be weeded out there, instead of being brought across the water, subjected to disappointment, loss and sometimes suffering, and then sent back again. The enforced resignation of Millerand should result in giving France a new ministry which will be able to carry on. The European stage waits for France, and there is grave need for an administration that will be able to speak for the country with a hedging in Europe must wait. Paris, however, evidently believes a stable ministry will soon be formed.

NOW COMETH JUNE

(London Free Press)

Now cometh June, in silver shoon, Across the meadowlands; Her eyes are blue, her kirtle, too, And blossoms bless her hands.

With cheeks aglow, she singeth—O, A gladness sweet refrain— As bells that ring as linnets sing, And rivers after rain.

Now smilth June, and fairies tune The harps of summertime, The feast is spread, the grace is said: So, bard, look to thy rhyme.

Wood by the sun, and fairly won, Has come the maiden June, And she will stay, and not away, Till past the honeymoon.

MURDER CHARGE MAY BE RESULT

Divorce Action Revives Case of Baby Killed in Portland, Maine.

Portland, Me., June 11.—If a murder charge on which his girl wife bases her divorce plea can be substantiated, Kenneth Ross MacLean, former Bowdoin College athlete, will have to stand trial here for suffocating his infant daughter, whose paternity he was unwilling to acknowledge publicly while he was a student at Bowdoin.

This was the declaration made by County Prosecutor Ralph M. Ingalls when asked what he was going to do about a murder charge which MacLean's estranged wife had made in her libel for divorce, filed in the courts at Tacoma, Washington.

"If the evidence is forthcoming," said he, "I will present it to the grand jury and in case the grand jury reports an indictment, I will bring MacLean here for trial.

"In the meantime, I shall take immediate steps to get in touch with the participants in the divorce proceedings. I am prepared to go the whole journey in this case and will send a personal representative to Tacoma to investigate and hear the evidence.

"The grand jury failed to indict Mrs. MacLean in February. She assumed the blame for the child's death. This is the first intimation of her husband's being guilty. If there is any foundation which Mrs. MacLean is reported to have made against her husband in her divorce suit, whoever was responsible for the child's death will be brought here and prosecuted fully and completely."

Arrested in February. MacLean and his wife attracted wide attention here last February when they were arrested following an attempt by the wife to have her baby buried from a local undertaking establishment. Mrs. MacLean at that time said in an alleged confession to Mrs. Roberts Reed, state agent for the protection of children, that she had smothered the child herself, following a quarrel with her student husband.

She said that she and MacLean were married in Tacoma in 1922 while they were attending high school together. A year later a baby girl was born. MacLean, who is the son of a wealthy merchant, the proprietor of a chain of grocery stores, had come east to Bowdoin before the child was born. They had kept the marriage secret because MacLean's parents were opposed to the bride, who was a poor girl. She, however, had told her parents and with their consent she came east in February with her baby to show it to her husband, who had never seen the child. She had made the journey at great personal sacrifice.

She arrived in Brunswick on Feb. 25 and secured a room at the Eagle Hotel, where MacLean called on her. He also called the next night, but before he left there was a stormy scene. The next morning she said she became desperate over her plight. She had only about $22 to take her home with her baby. He had told her not to speak to him in public and she did not know what to do.

Buried Babe in Snow. Beside herself with grief, she told Mrs. Reed that she went to the bed where her baby was sleeping and held a pillow over its mouth until it was dead. Then wrapping it up in a blanket, she took it to Mere Brook and dug a little grave for it in the snow, where she buried it and went away. But she was disturbed and came back and took the lifeless little body back to the hotel and then to the college campus, where she tried to see her husband. Falling in this, she took a trolley car and came to Portland, where she wandered about in a daze for several hours, finally stopping at Flaherty's undertaking establishment, where she requested burial for the child.

Owing to her mental condition, the police were called and she was taken into custody. Her statements resulted in the arrest of her student husband. Feeling ran high in Brunswick when the details of her story were told. MacLean, however, was not indicted, as the grand jury refused to indict his wife. Both were released and returned to Tacoma in the care of relatives.

Nothing more was heard from them until the report reached here from Tacoma that Mrs. MacLean, who is only 19 years old, had instituted divorce proceedings against her husband and a suit for alienation of affections against his wealthy parents.

"Confidence men" are not confined to the larger cities, if the report made at the police station is true, says the Moncton Transcript. It appears that a resident of Moncton met a man who gave his name as Sparkie. With his ingratiating manner, the stranger soon won the Monctonian's confidence and not long afterwards they took a room together in a Main street lodging house.

Then comes the tragedy of it all. While they were peacefully sleeping, or at least the local man was, the stranger, careless of ruining the impression of being a "good fellow," which he craved, rose in the chill hours of the morning and departed with the total wealth of his new friend, $28 which was in a purse. He left the latter. The complaint was laid and now the officers search for a man, short, dark and forty with steel plates on the toes of his boots.

SPORT NEWS GLEANED FROM WORLD'S CENTRES

CAMP DISCIPLINE AT M'GILL STADIUM FOR THE ATHLETES IS QUITE STRICT

"Beef" Malcolm is doing 40 Feet and Better Consistently, According to Letter From Him Today—Ross Cameron Already has Done 21 Feet—"Not Like Kennedy's," Says "Beef."

"Beef" Malcolm, St. John's great shot putter, is having no trouble doing 40 feet and better at the McGill Stadium where he now is in training for the final Olympic tests there on June 17 and 18 next, according to a letter received from the genial St. John boy this morning. He has a new shot. It is a lead one with brass covering and is about the size of the 12-pound iron and is the required weight. His letter, which is full of interesting notes, in part says:

"We arrived Sunday night, feeling pretty tired after our 22-hour journey. "Phil" MacDonald met us at the train and escorted us to the Stadium. He is almost as brown as "Barney" Francis. There are about 33 here now and I am not sure if any more are coming. None of the Quebec boys are here but I believe they are in training elsewhere. Tom Phipps and I are the only shot putters here although there are a few other men here. They say there are two more coming here but from where, I don't know.

"Cyril Coaffe is track captain and leads us in the warm-up. We have to run just as fast as we can and poor old Tom can hardly keep up the gait. I guess we must have done the 440 in 62 seconds this afternoon. We are at the McGill Stadium and I am sleeping in a box-shaped affair with a little thin mattress on which to lay. I might as well be on the board floor. Some have two army blankets, no sheets. Some difference from the Kennedy House at Gosheway. I miss the old bunch there. They were a great bunch. The food here is way below what we got there. Bacon and toast and coffee for breakfast, cold ham, potatoes, toast and ice cream for dinner and goodness knows what for supper. I am writing you my advice and am in a big hurry.

"Today was a scorcher. Ross Cameron, of Pictou, apparently has recovered from his staleness as he did 21 feet in his first jump. We are sleeping here in three rooms—17 men in our room."

Training Regulations
Malcolm also enclosed a copy of the training programme, which makes interesting reading. It is as follows:

1. The athletes are respectfully requested to refrain from making a noise while fellow athletes are sleeping.
2. Every athlete must be in bed every night by 10 p.m.
3. Every fellow will be called at 7 a.m. every morning and must report at once to field for physical exercise. Should it be wet and weathered conditions such that they cannot go out doors, the exercises will be performed inside.

4. Athletes must report regularly at the training table. Arrangements have been made for breakfast at 8 a.m. at the Y. M. C. A., 127 Drummond street, all are asked to note that it takes about 20 minutes to get to the Y. M. C. A. BE PROMPT. Lunch hour 12:30 p.m. Dinner hour, 6:00 p.m.
5. No athlete may leave camp at any time without first receiving permission from the coach, or in his absence, from the track captain.
6. The track captain is Cyril Coaffe of Winnipeg, whose wishes are to be respected.

7. Training tables will be given each athlete, the working of which begins at 10:30 a.m. and finishes at 11:45 a.m., work begins in the afternoon at 8:00 and finishes at 4:30, the bal-

BEAR SPIES PENN OARSMAN IN FOREST AND GIVES CHASE Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 11.—A. S. Goetz, No. 5 in the Penn varsity eight, went for a walk a few hours ago and was gone for three hours and Coach Jim Rice began organizing a searching party when Goetz was seen to break from the edge of the woods, hitting a stroke that was well above forty. For five minutes after he reached the shore he was inarticulate and then he explained that in the rowing through the forest he had lost and ran upon a bear. The bear looked aerially at Goetz, and then started for him. The race was on and the oarman, who had been wearing a suit, until he reached the crew house. All the men started to venture to confine their stroll to the town of Highlands where the mountain base are afraid to venture because of the policeman and two electric lights on Main street.

1. When a pitcher is announced in the lineup he must pitch until at least one batsman is retired or reaches first. 2. If the umpire is hit by a fairly batted ball on which no play is made the batsman is entitled to first base but no runners can advance unless forced to make room for the batsman. 3. If the umpire is hit by a thrown ball, the ball is considered in play.

MISS HELEN WILLS IS PLAYING WELL

Young Tennis Star Attracts Attention by Her Masterful Game.

Reports from England of the performances of Miss Helen Wills, the American women's tennis champion, are a source of much satisfaction to followers of the game in this country. Her latest achievement of holding one of the top ranking players of England on even terms for a long set is indicative of the calibre of tennis the youthful California girl is playing. There are few women players who can make any sort of a showing against even a second-class player of the men's ranks.

Miss Wills' game is characterized by a masculinity that has been achieved by many players of her sex. Mary K. Browne, who resigned supreme from 1912 through 1914, is the only woman short-court player stands out to compare with Miss Wills.

In Europe, Mile Lenglen, of course, is the classic example of a woman who has so patterned her game after the men that she finds herself almost as much at home against masculine players as she does against those of her own sex. Because there are few women in Europe who are capable of meeting her on anything near an equal footing, Mile Lenglen plays frequently against men and so becomes all the more effective in tournament play.

Wills, too, has been patterning her game closely on the men's with what success her latest performance in England indicates.

It did not need this feat of the American champion to reveal to tennis followers in this country the strength of her game. This was known from her practice matches at Forest Hills before sailing, in which she showed considerable improvement over last year, when she wrested the title from Mrs. Mallory. The significance of her showing against the English player lies in the fact that Miss Wills has maintained her best playing form in spite of her ocean voyage and the fact that she is playing on foreign soil and under strange conditions.

In view of the disappointing play of the English women players here last summer, it was generally believed that it was almost impossible for a visiting woman player to adapt herself to foreign conditions. Miss Wills, with her youth and great physical strength, evidently has overcome one of the big obstacles in the path of her winning the English championship at Wimbledon. It need not be said that Mile Lenglen is the biggest obstacle.

MONCTONS BAT WAY TO VICTORY

Pole Out Thirteen Hits and Defeat Vets by a Score of 7 to 3.

Moncton, by timely and frequent hitting, sent the Veterans home from the East End grounds last evening with a 7 to 3 defeat tag. Some of the Vets helped Moncton to victory by a succession of errors, one by Ramsey and two by McGowan on many chances in one inning helping Moncton to three scores.

Stick work merited the game for the visitors, however, for they hammered 13 safe ones from Tippetts' delivery, while the best the locals could do was seven. The Moncton team gave a nice field exhibition as well. Leader, their twirler, pitched a heady game, using that reliable asset known as "the strike out" to eight, but the local bats were not able to break the Moncton defence and get any more than seven. WINS ENGLISH FENCING TITLE

C. H. Biscoe, London Veteran, is the New Epic Champion.

C. H. Biscoe of Salle Bertrand, London, is the new epic champion of the Amateur Fencing Association of England. His triumph is the outcome of years of constant endeavor in which his enthusiasm has never failed. A prominent member of the Amateur Fencing Association, he has done much to further the sport in Great Britain. In the final pool Biscoe's score was nine victories and one defeat, while M. D. V. Holt of the London Fencing Club, was second, with eight victories and two defeats. In the meeting between these two in the eighth round Biscoe won. In the closing stages, when a tie seemed probable for the title, Major London Whitehouse of the Royal Automobile Club practically settled the outcome with an agile lead at Holt which was little short of sensational. An acrobatic feat the critics called it, the point landing on the mask. Biscoe then captured the championship by easily defeating Campbell Gary of the Royal Automobile Club. Gary finished third in the tournament, with six victories and four defeats. The final pool of twelve was held on the west covered court of the Queen's Club after the semi-finals had been decided in the gardens of Lincoln's Inn. The covered court proved an excellent venue for in contradistinction to the gravel terrain of Lincoln's Inn, the tennis court assured a firm foothold by its wooden and resilient flooring. The critics called it fencing de luxe, although the conditions were somewhat artificial for modern duelling. Nevertheless, it was considered an enterprising step to hold the championship final at such a well-known centre of

REPORTS AT Y.W.C.A. ANNUAL OPTIMISTIC

Local Association Reorganized—Mrs. McAvity Tells of Meetings Abroad.

Reports at the annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association yesterday told of the successful reorganization of the association activities, the bright outlook for the advancement of work during the coming year and for future prosperity.

Mrs. R. C. Cruikshank presided and a special feature of the meeting was the inspirational address given by Mrs. John A. McAvity, who told of her attendance at the training course in New York, at the World's Y. W. C. A. convention in Washington and at the Canadian biennial Y. W. C. A. conference in Preston, Ont.

Every department of the local association was shown to have done good work during the year just closed and while finances were a serious problem it was felt that the St. John association had no greater financial burden than its fellow organizations and that under its new arrangements it would go ahead successfully.

Mrs. E. C. Weyman led the opening devotion. Mrs. R. C. Cruikshank, as vice-president, spoke of the need of work for girls in St. John and told of what had been accomplished by the Y. W. C. A. in face of great difficulty.

The Travelers' Aid report was given by Mrs. A. W. Estey in the absence of Mrs. James F. Robertson. The work of this department under Miss Hoyt and her two assistants, Mrs. Forbes and Miss Kink, included attendance at 2264 trains and 240 boats, sheltering 1482 at the Transit Home, assisting 1222 at the station and finding employment for 42. Nine of the British immigrant girls cared for by the Hostel remained in St. John; two, however, had later gone to Montreal. Follow-up work had been carried on for these British girls. Many pitiful cases were cared for by the department workers. The Dominion grant for the hostel had helped the finances greatly.

Physical Department. The physical department report, read by Mrs. T. H. Sommerville in the absence of Mrs. A. E. Logan, the pupils in gymnasium classes numbered 34 and health exercises were stressed. Basketball games were entered into with zest and many money-raising efforts were carried out. Mrs. Sommerville had a word of praise for the wonderful work of the gymnasium under Miss G. Richards.

Miss Alice Rising, reporting for the educational department, told of the success in conducting a kindergarten which had a total enrollment of 30. Obtaining teachers was difficult. The religious instruction committee report, given by Mrs. Alfred Morrisey, told of prayer services after supper in the residence and special services during the week of the industrial clubs and discussions at board meetings were especially helpful.

Mrs. A. W. Estey, for the girls' work, reported splendid progress in the early part of the year under Miss Jennie Fleming. When Mrs. Estey took charge in January a girls' council was formed and proved invaluable. An all-round programme was given for the girls. They had enjoyed many treats. The Loyalty Club, although small in numbers, was flourishing. The Junior Boosters numbered 80 and the Senior Boosters were not many less. Some of the Boosters were to go to summer camp if proper clothing could be secured for them. Next week would close the season for the clubs. Mrs. Estey made an earnest appeal for proper training for the young lives of the industrial club members who were greatly handicapped by circumstances. Her report was applauded and a tribute of praise was given Mrs. Estey.

Mrs. John A. McAvity, for the membership committee, reported 468 paid-up members, and said the work of the committee would be pushed next year. Miss Louise Parks, for the property committee, told of the move from King street residence to the King street east residence, and thanks were extended Miss Parks, Miss C. O. McGivern, Mrs. W. Angus, Miss Pauline Baird and Miss Julia Pirie, who worked so hard in having the residence property moved.

Finance Report. Miss Pirie gave the financial report which included the following statements: Cash on hand, for change and in the

ST. JOHN MAN IS IN BIG PHOTOPLAY

Charles H. Henderson Plays Role of Priest in "The Big Brother."

Still another of St. John's own has gained prominence in the public eye. This time it is Charles H. Henderson, who is appearing in the late Paramount film success, "The Big Brother," in which he plays the role of priest in the New York slum districts, supporting Tom Moore and Edith Roberts. Mr. Henderson is married to a daughter of the late Bandmaster F. H. Jones of the old 62nd Fusiliers' Band, and is a brother of Mrs. William Clark. He is an annual visitor to this city and will be here in a short while for a well-earned vacation.

Of late the former St. John man has been appearing a great deal in important moving picture productions, being considered a remarkably fine type for clerical roles, men of big business and distinction. However, the movie is merely a sideline with Mr. Henderson. His forte is stage playing, in which he is almost constantly engaged in metropolitan circles.

Last season he appeared in "The Nervous Wreck," and managed the stage both for the New York and Chicago runs. At present he is with Mrs. Leslie Carter in an ultra vaudeville sketch.

The "Big Brother" photoplay is internationally commended by Rotary as exemplifying their ideal of big brotherliness towards the less privileged boys of this continent.

Moncton, June 10.—Fire that broke out about 9 o'clock here this evening in the W. S. Smith wooden building adjoining the Peter McSweeney Company brick block, spread to the Maritime Press Building adjoining and caused a loss of $18,000 or $20,000. The loss is mostly covered by insurance.

The Old Oak Tea Rooms in the Smith building suffered probably $1,000 damage. A. M. TRAVIS GOES TO HIGHER COURT

Testifies in Fire Case—Says He Thought of Jumping Over Wharf.

After a preliminary hearing today John Travis, arrested on suspicion of setting a fire in the home of Mrs. Lillian Vaughan, 124 Mill street, last Friday night was sent up for trial by Police Magistrate Henderson.

D. Mullin, K. C., who appeared on behalf of the prosecution, called Mrs. Lillian Vaughan as the first witness. She told of hearing an alarm for fire about 10:30 o'clock at night and of going to the street to find out where it was. When she returned to her home she found the kitchen full of smoke and she hurried around to the rear and on entering the back hall saw a man on the stairs. He had in his hand a coat which was afire and he was putting it down between the stairs and a partition. He saw her coming and told her to get out.

She asked him what he was doing and when he did not answer she rushed up the stairs and threw him down. It was so dark, she said, that she could not discern his features, but she saw his hands and a peak cap. The man, she said, was about the same build as the defendant and had about the same appearance. She considered the prisoner corresponding to many ways with the man she threw down the stairs. She said she had smelt liquor on him. In answer to a question by Mr. Mullin she said members of the accused's family had interviewed her after the arrest had been made.

Cross-questioned by the defendant the witness said she did not say he was not the man when brought before her on the night of the fire, but said he resembled the man. In answer to another question she said she should have dashed the man's brains out instead of only throwing him down the stairs.

Saw Man Running. Horace C. Garland was the next witness summoned. He told of being near the Union Station on the night of the fire and on hearing No. 102 ring in. He hurried around to the front of the station and saw a man running away from the box. He was wearing a dark grey suit and was carrying a cap in his hand. He followed the man and saw him disappear in Bond's alley. He continued into the alley, but lost track of him in the dark. He told of running to the Hygienic Bakery building to see if it was afire and of returning and seeing a coat smouldering near one of the buildings. He saw a man leave Bond's alley and turn into Springer's alley. He was running at the time and it appeared as if one of his pockets was afire.

He called out "Hey, your pocket is on fire" but the man continued on and said no attention to him. He crossed Mill street and went in the direction of the C. P. R. freight sheds. The witness did not notice what the man looked like but when he reached the light near Mill street he saw he was wearing light clothes. In answer to a question by the prosecuting attorney he said he had known John Travis for some years. He said the man he saw running from the box resembled another man of the same name. Cross questioned by the defendant he said the man he saw running away from the box seemed stout.

Fire Marshal Called. Fire Marshal Hugh H. McEldan was then sworn. He told about going to investigate the cause of the fire and of a search for the defendant. He said he visited his home and later located him in a house in Drury Lane. He said when Travis was arrested he acted like a man under the influence of liquor. He had scratches on the back of his left hand and a lump about the quarter the size of an egg on the back of his head. The prisoner had made a remark that he had a taste with a woman, but he refused to tell anything about it when questioned.

In answer to a question put by the defendant the witness acknowledged that he had suspected him of setting a fire in the Ogilvie building. He said he was not hounding him, but that his past record was suspicious of him. Charles Robinson and Detective Bid-descombe were then sworn and told about circumstances leading up to the arrest.

Travis Testifies. As this ended the case for the prosecution the defendant asked to be sworn. He said he left home on the night in question about 6:30 o'clock and went up to Union street where he met some friends. He said he hung around until about 9:10 o'clock and then went to the Imperial Theatre, left about 10:15 or 10:20 and went to King Square where he sat opposite the Park Hotel. He said he remained there for 15 or 20 minutes and heard No. 102 ring in. He also heard the second alarm. He said he asked a colored girl the time and was informed it was 10:35. He and then went to George street and down to Mrs. Bass'. Later he went to Mrs. Boves' home and walked in. He was advised not to go home for they were looking for him on account of the fire. He said he was innocent and said he would go home.

When he arrived he said he told of his movements and later became excited and ran away. He said he went down Gibbon's wharf and intended throwing himself overboard, but he thought of his children. He said he sustained the scratches on his hand from a hammer on the wharf. He said that he had been drinking beer that night but was capable of looking after himself.

Magistrate Henderson said he considered that the evidence was sufficiently strong to send him up for trial.

There was a fire in the walls of the former Vendone Hotel building, the upper floors of which are vacant and the lower floor occupied by the plumbing shop of T. P. Kane and a restaurant conducted by Thomas Short.

The fire was believed to have started from an overhauled stove pipe in the restaurant. It was first noticed by Mrs. Campbell, who is employed there. She heard a crackling and, seeing the flames, ran out to the street and asked a man passing to send in an alarm. It was not found necessary to turn on the water but a considerable amount of cutting had to be done; then the chemical was used. The building is owned by Thomas Nagle. The damage was slight.

OPTICIANS FAVOR CANADIAN COLLEGE

Pass Resolution at Annual Meeting Today—Maritime Session Closes.

A resolution in support of the proposed all-Canadian optometric college was passed by the N. B. Optometrical Society at their annual meeting, which opened here this morning as part of the third annual Maritime Optometric Convention. The meeting will be continued this afternoon, when officers will be elected.

The N. B. Society heard reports of the president, A. A. Shute of Fredericton, and the secretary, Eli Boyaner of St. John. The session adjourned for a period and was followed by an interesting and amusing lecture on the psychology of optical illusions by Dr. Frederic A. Wolf of New York, which was greatly appreciated.

The maritime convention will come to an end this afternoon with the lecture by Dr. Wolf on "Hygiene for the Optometrist," on which subject the doctor is considered an authority and on which he has published a text-book.

A meeting of the N. B. Council and board of examiners is scheduled for this evening. It was said today that the present convention was by far the most successful ever held in the Maritime Provinces.

SCENE ANIMATED AS DINGLEY LEAVES

Showers of confetti, and tooting of horns, were features of the sailing of the Governor Dingley for Boston via Eastport and Lunenburg this morning. The wharf was bright with color. The animated scene resulted from two weddings and the sailing of the principals to the States on their honeymoon trips. The bride couples were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald M. Hoyt and Myriam of Lunenburg, and Charles W. Higgins. Their popularity was shown by the large number of friends who had assembled to wish them future happiness and success and bon voyage.

Upwards of 100 people left on the large liner for the States. Among them were Mrs. Mary Staloney of Main street, and her daughter Mrs. Urban Pierce and Misses Winifred and Gertrude Nixon, who were enroute to New York.

Efforts are being made by the War Vets, it is understood to secure the services of Dever, "Jed" Doherty and "Barney" Mooney of the disbanded Shamrocks team. If the Vets can secure these scouts, it is said to be probable that some outsiders on the Vets team will be let go and thus reduce expenses. A general meeting of the association has been called for Thursday evening of this week.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well, sir," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to 'The Times' reporter, "I've been listening last night to a gal singin' an' an' orchestra playin'—ain't much on this here jazz—or on that there screedin' they call high class singin'—but when a sweet-faced gal with a voice that gits right down into your heart is on the platform—I want to git the lowest whisper as well as the highest—so's you almost got to strain your ear to ketch the harmony that seems to go right through you—I don't want no folks settin' near me to start talkin' about what they done in the stores—or what they done yesterday. As fer Hauner—she kin git a lot more than I kin out of music—fer she's a woman. I seen 'er wipin' 'er eyes once or twice—jist from reel enjoyment of the singin' an' the playin'." The orchestra led to throw in some noise fer them that likes it—but that ain't what I'll remember when I'm workin' in the field. I'll be that gal an' her voice—an' them faint drawy notes—that jist seemed to draw you after 'em as they floated away like the whisper of 'er wind in the tops of the trees—ye, ai—"
